Donley Co. Votes Straight "Dry" Ticket

"DONLEY COUNTY HAS NO HOG SURPLUS," SAYS COUNTY AGENT

BONDS RECEIVED LARGE MAJORITY

VOTE ON LOCAL OPTION BEER WAS 372 FOR, WITH 670 AGAINST

First voted dry in April, 1904, according to old files of The Clarendon News, Donley county again voted last Saturday to stay dry by the substantial figures of 670 against local sale of 3.2 beer, and 372 for its sale. The heaviest vote was cast on this ballot, 1042 votes being counted.

Next in importance to the voters, according to the number of votes cast, was the repeal of the 18th amendment, 372 votidg for it, and 662 against it. Apparently there were eight voters who preferred not to oppose the repeal of the 18th amendment, but did not want 3.2 beer sold in Donley county.

The State amendment, legalizing 3.2 beer in Texas, was likewise not favored by the majority of the voters, 419 voting for the amendment and 602 against it.

Of the three other issues on which ballots were cast, the $20,000,000 relief bond issue received 735 votes for, and 282 against; the Home Rule amendment, 623 for, and 256 against; the $3,000 Homestead exemption from taxation, 782 for and 217 against. How the precincts voted on all questions will be found in this issue of The News.

The streets of Clarendon were thronged Saturday afternoon with a good-natured crowd, nothing occurring to reflect any ill-temper over any issue before the voters. Late in the afternoon the block between the Rexall drug store and the First National Bank was roped off by city marshal T. M. Pyle in order to provide space in front of the oig blackboard on which election returns were to be posted.

Telephone reports were received at the Bryan Clothing Company's store, and after being announced through the public address amplifier system of the Eanes Radio station, were put on the blackboard.

Through the co-operation of election judges throughout the country nearly 1000 votes were reported by 9:00 p. m. and all the issues definitely decided. Many of the crowd waited down-town for the only radio bulletin on the results in the state, which was announced by the Texas Election Bureau at 10 o'clock, and which indicated that Texas as a whole was voting wet and that the amendments would all carry.

P. A. Buntin Growing Kentucky Tobacco

A week ago P. A. Buntin obtained about fifteen tobacco plants while on a trip to Kentucky, and planted them in his fertile and sub-irrigated garden. He lost only one or two plants and the survivors have made a remarkable growth. From the day they were planted they grew thriftily and now stand over three feet high, with broad, glossy, fine-grained leaves that give promise of producing as fine a quality of tobacco leaf as can be produced in Kentucky. Many of Mr. Buntin's friends have called at his home to see the unusual sight of Kentucky tobacco growing in Panhandle soil.

PORTER PLEASED AT NRA SUPPORT

FINDS CITIZENS EAGER TO DO THEIR PART IN EVERY POSSIBLE WAY

"My contacts with the citizens of Clarendon on their NRA program have convinced me of their sincere desire to comply with its purposes just as far as is possible," said J. R. Porter, chairman of the central committee, to a representative of The News. "I think I am staying within the actual facts when I say that about the past two weeks has been given to conferences with puzzled employers who really want to do the right thing by the NRA," he said.

"The attitude of the people of Clarendon, which may be taken as a cross-section of typical American citizenship, pays high tribute to their good sense and innate intelligence," he continued. "The administration of the NRA calls for much that sounds like a reversal of all that Americans have become accustomed to, but they are taking to the new order of things in a patriotic manner that makes one who comes into contact with it, as I have, feel again the war-time spirit that swept the American people to victory in 1918."

Mr. Porter was positive in the opinion that the spirit of NRA is already making itself felt in Clarendon, as evidenced by the fact that, even before the actual setting of the seasonal fall business, several employers have added new names to their pay-rolls in addition to the adjustment of working hours. The first signs of the opening of fall business, it is confidently believed, will be accompanied by extensive re-employment of many who have been laid off during the dull business months.

FAIR WILL STAGE COWBOY CONTEST

SOUTHWESTERN CHAMPION- SHIP EVENTS TO BE HELD DURING 1933 EXPOSITION

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 30.—The Southwestern Champion Cowboy Contest will be staged here at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7 to 22, when the best cow hands in the entire country as well as many others from the Southwest will compete for the $7,000 in cash purses and the silver mounted saddle trophies. It has been announced here by Otto Herold, president of the exposition.

The Southwestern Champion Cowboy Contest will be produced and presented in the Livestock Arena by Mike Banes of Chicago, one of the best known rodeo producers in the entire country, who has named his managers for the show—Joe R. Greer and Candy Hammer. These two managers are widely known both as rodeo contestants and managers. Barnes produced the rodeo contest held at the 1930 and 1931 expositions of the State Fair of Texas.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN HERE ON MONDAY

SUPT. BURTON IS LOOKING FOR ENROLLMENT LARGE AS LAST YEAR

Clarendon's public school system, comprised of its Junior College and High School and lower grades, will begin its 1933-34 session next Monday morning, Sept. 4th.

Supt. H. T. Burton states that all indications point to an enrollment equal to last year in all departments, with the probability that the College enrollment will surpass last year's, when a new big mark of 85 enrollments was reached. Enrollments in the other departments were: High school, 200; Junior High, 208; South Ward, 361. This makes a grand total for all departments of 854.

"We are having to open the schools this year with a greater amount of faith than ever before," said Supt. Burton. "We have no accurate way of knowing how much money will be available for the operation of the schools, and how long the schools will be able to operate is going to depend on how the taxpayers meet taxes that are already due and will soon come due. We are going to do everything in our power to make the money go as far as it will," he said.

A general meeting has been called at the college building at 9 a. m. Saturday when assignments will be given to the teachers.

All schools will open Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock. Teachers of the South Ward and Junior High schools will be in their rooms to classify pupils.

Seniors will be classified at the College building, in Room 13, beginning at 9:00 a. m. and lasting until 12:00 o'clock. Chapel will be held in the College auditorium at 10 a. m.

Juniors will be classified Monday, beginning at 1:00 p. m., in Room 13, and Sophomores will be classified from the same hour in Room 10.

Regular school work will begin in all departments Tuesday morning at 9:00 a. m.

COTTON CHECKS TO COME IN BATCHES

COUNTY AGNET RECEIVES ADVICE ON LOSS OR MIS- USE OF CHECKS

Warning against photographing or in any other manner reproducing the cotton checks which Donley county farmers so earnestly yearn to look upon is contained in a communication received this week by County Agent T. R. Broun from the paying unit of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Asked if he had any "inside" information on when the cotton checks would begin to come in, Mr. Broun expressed regret that he did not have such information. "They should begin to come any day now," he said.

The paying unit's letter states that "Consignments of checks will be sent you from time to time, for delivery to producers who have complied with the terms of their contracts with the Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The cotton option contracts for those producers who have elected to receive this form of benefit will be sent you at a later date.

"Any checks that cannot be delivered within 15 days, should be returned by registered mail to Washington, setting forth in statement form the reasons why delivery could not be made.

"In the event that a payee alleges the loss, destruction or (Continued on Page Eight)

School Bus Aid Plan Explained

A. A. Bullock, Chief Supervisor of Rural Schools, gives the following explanation of the transportation provisions of the Rural Aid Laws. No transportation aid will be paid within the district except on children riding a regular school bus operated by a driver who is bonded and who meets the state law concerning bus drivers.

Any children living more than two miles from their school in a district where such bonded transportation is provided by the board of trustees, will be entitled to transportation aid of not more than $1.00 per pupil per month, provided that high school children living in outlying original districts of a consolidated district will be entitled not to exceed $2 per month for all children transported more than two miles. A transfer may not receive transportation aid if the grade to which he belongs is taught in his home district.

BOY SCOUTS ON ANNUAL CAMP

OVER SCORE ENJOY FOUR DAY CAMP AT BEAUTI- FUL WORD RANCH

Over twenty Clarendon Boy Scouts pitched tents last Monday in a beautiful grove on the Word ranch, southeast of Clarendon, for their annual camp. They were accompanied by Scoutmaster S. L. Tidwell and Fred Russell, both of whom stayed with them until Tuesday afternoon. R. E. Drennan was at the camp with them every day. Tuesday night Lee Vaughn and R. A. Hay were at the camp, and Hubert Day on Wednesday night. Rev. B. N. Shepherd went to the camp today.

Camp activities have included construction of a fence around the camp site, cleaning off camp ground, gravelling spring, digging pit for all garbage and preparing location for "stunt night." Baseball and other games, fishing and swimming have provided days filled with the sort of fun that all boys enjoy most. The little stream has provided fine strings of big perch to add zest to the meals. Several of the boys are excellent cooks.

Tonight (Thursday) will be stunt night at the camp, and the Scouts invite all their friends to come out to the camp and enjoy the stunts which will be presented. Visitors are requested to go (Continued on Page Eight)

URGES SWAPS OF PIGS AND FEED

BROUN INSISTS HOME CON- SUMPTION WILL REQUIRE ALL HOGS ON HAND

"I am convinced that normal home consumption requirements in Donley county will make it unwise for farmers to ship pigs to the packing house centers on the emergency hog marketing program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture," says County Agent T. R. Broun. "I am in complete accord with the plan wherever a local surplus exists and do not want any comment I make to be construed as any opposition to the marketing plan.

"We have an excellent prospect now, since the recent rains, of making an abundant feed crop. And we shall have the usual situation of farmers with more feed than they need and other farmers with more hogs than they have feed for. Nevertheless, the total hog population of the county will, in my opinion, not provide any more meat than will be needed locally. It seems wise to me, therefore, to suggest that farmers with surplus of either pigs or feed should get together and balance their surplus and at the same time help in a live-at-home program for the entire county.

"I shall be glad to act as a sort of clearing house for information as to who has pigs or feed to exchange. And I strongly believe that all farmers who make such arrangements NOW will be able to cash out for a nice profit in March, when the peak price on hogs may be expected. The emergency marketing plan proposes to remove a maximum of 4 million healthy normal pigs between 25 and 100 pounds in weight, and 1 million sows soon to farrow. If I felt that Donley county had any surplus above its own requirements, I should urge disposal of it under the plan. But my sincere judgment is that conservation of both homegrown feeds and homegrown meat that is needed at home is the best course for Donley county," Mr. Broun said.

Farmers who intend, however, to ship either pigs or sows to market should not do so until they have received shipping instructions from the commission firm or packer to whom they intend to ship. Any other course, according to Mr. Broun, is likely to result in excessive charges incident to holding them over until the packing plants can take care of them.

Clarendon's Part In The NRA Program

The NRA plan is designed to put five million men back on payrolls in a short time.

When this is done 20,000,000 people (assuming four to each wage earner's family) will suddenly be placed in position to buy the normal necessities of life. That means that the total trade volume of the nation will, upon the complete acceptance of this plan, be lifted by from 10 to 20 percent.

Clarendon will have a definite share in this increased prosperity to the extent that it participates in the plan, so there is a responsibility on every citizen here to cooperate to the utmost to make this gigantic national plan a complete success. Every EMPLOYER and every CONSUMER has a definite responsibility to assume.

THE EMPLOYER'S RESPONSIBILITY:

NRA calls upon every employer to shorten hours of labor, so as to make room for more employees.

Each industry will before long adopt its own code which will fix the increased labor obligations to be assumed by all firms associated with that particular industry. Until that time all employers are asked to sign the President's Agreement and to meet the hours and wages established in that Agreement. This Agreement is sometimes referred to as the Blanket Code.

The success of NRA therefore calls for the cooperation of EVERY EMPLOYER.

It is to the Employers self-interest to do this. Why? Because more people working, with bigger payrolls, will increase the market for his goods. Every dollar spent by an Employer now for increased payroll will return many fold as business flows from a consuming public, once more able to buy to supply its unfilled needs.

So EVERY EMPLOYER SHOULD SIGN THE PRESIDENT'S AGREEMENT AT ONCE.

THE CONSUMER'S RESPONSIBILITY:

Every individual, man and woman, who buys anything, owes it to himself and his community and to the nation, to buy only from those Employers who have taken the increased burden of increasing payrolls to bring back prosperity. This is to the self-interest of the consumer because no citizen can fail to share in this added prosperity. It will reflect itself in increased values for everything he owns. It will make his present position more secure by reversing the process of deflation.

So EVERY CONSUMER SHOULD SIGN THE CONSUMER'S PLEDGE, which commits him to do his part in this great national economic experiment.

The duty of every citizen of Clarendon is therefore plain. The President has said.

"On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this Nation-wide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society and of the Nation itself that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could even hope to bring about. Clarendon must do its part in this great plan. It has never failed when the nation called and it will not fail now.

Dr. George Stocking Is Called To Washington On Statistical Service

The many friends of Dr. George W. Stocking, son of Mrs. J. D. Stocking of this city, will be interested in the news that he has been invited by the secretaries of the Departments of Agriculture, Labor, Interior and Commerce to become a member of a special committee which will make a study of the interrelation and co-ordination of the statistical work of the various governmental bureaus.

Dr. Stocking joined the faculty of the University of Texas in 1925 and is a professor of economics, is a member of many social science organizations, chief of which is the Southern regional committee of the Social Science Research Council, and has written several books on various phases of economics and social science.

A recent honor that has come to him was his selection as one of the consulting editors for the proposed Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences. He has traveled extensively under the terms of research scholarships in economics.

On July 17th he was called to Washington to begin his work as economic adviser to Labor in the foundation of the labor provision of the Code of Fair Competition for the oil industry. Recently he received the invitation to join the staff of the Committee on Government Statistics, a committee sponsored by the American Statistical Association and the Social Science Research Council.

Dr. Stocking has asked for a year's leave of absence from the University of Texas and is making arrangements to move his family to Washington. These are signal honors which have come to a former Clarendon boy and his friends feel justifiable pride in the place which is thus accorded him in the councils of the scientists who are collaborating in working out the nation's economic problems.

How To Figure Application Of Wheat Allotment Plan to Your Farm

COLLEGE STATION — Just how the individual Texas farmer may figure for himself on what terms he may cooperate with the Government in the domestic allotment plan for wheat is described in material just received by the Extension Service from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington.

Suppose you live in a county where the county five-year average of wheat production just equals the county three-year average production, that you raised 1000 bushels from 60 acres in 1930, 1500 bushels from 65 acres in 1931, and 800 bushels from 55 acres in 1932. Your average production for these years was 1100 bushels and your average acres 60. Your domestic allotment would be 54 per cent of the 1100 bushels or 594 bushels, and this would be your allotment for this year and 1934 and 1935 without change. On this 594 bushels you would be paid by the Government in the form of an extra premium not less than 28 cents per bushel nor more than 30 cents per bushel, less the expense of local administration. You would receive from $168.32 to $178.20, less local administration cost, $118.80 soon after September 1st and the balance about June 1st, 1934. The cost of local administration by county wheat production control association is estimated at 2 cents per bushel or $11.98.

You would be free to sell your wheat crop when, where and to whom you pleased. If you have already sold your 1933 crop that would not matter. Your 1933 crop, however, must have totalled at least your allotment or '94 bushels, or the amount seeded in the fall of 1932 must have been enough at average yields to have produced at least this amount. In return for these payments (Continued on Page Eight)

WHAT DO WE MEAN, "RECOVERY?"

What limit in definition can be placed upon this word we hear a dozen times a day—"Recovery"? The answer approximates a picture of conditions that will obtain when success crowns the President's reemployment program.

Recovery as it relates to business is not difficult to comprehend. Under the mighty reign of what we believe was prosperity we loaned seven billions a year abroad to finance our sales of half that sum, and as we stopped lending so we stopped selling, and now we start from taw. So we require business recovery, and it depends upon absorption of about one-fourth as many workers as are now employed. Shrewd business executives, small and large, believe that reemployment on that basis will be sound investment; that with the inevitable increase in buying power, credit will do what it always has done, move along with employment. In that case credit will be available.

But after relief from the horror of the 4 years, it is the recovery of economic security that will count even more with the average man; the recovery of material well-being; a more lasting assurance to the employer, whose old embarrassing problem of cost and distribution will be solved through cooperation; to the worker; to the housewife, of whom in these last perilous years we have lost sight entirely. This sort of recovery it is evident the President has had in mind—recovery of what a man and a woman has a right to call his soul.

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM

The great virtues of the American system of government—as distinct from those prevailing in a great many other powers—are nicely exemplified by the recent troubles in Cuba.

We have had revolutions in America—and more lately than is usually realized. We had one when Wilson defeated Taft and Roosevelt, and came to office with an almost entirely different viewpoint toward government than those of his immediate predecessors. We had one last November, when two irreconcilable philosophies opposed each other, and the new one triumphed. But these revolutions were obviously very different from those of the Cuban type—no form of government is so amenable as ours to orderly and decisive change, without disturbance and without violence, when the mass of the people desire it.

When the opposing factions met in Cuba there was bloodshed and chaos and sabotage followed by martial law. The same thing happened in Russia and in Italy and Germany. It happened in Spain and Mexico. Dictatorships, whether by a king or a commoner who lifted himself by his own bootstraps, must be achieved by violence, and then must end by violence. Of the great powers, England and America are the outstanding examples of governments where the old order can be changed by due process of law, and where force of arms is never contemplated.

That is a fine testimonial to those who framed the Constitution with its fundamental principles of our system. They saw far ahead—farther ahead than we usually realize. And that is the best argument against those who would subject those principles to any short-sighted overhauling.

AN OPPORTUNITY IS OFFERED

It is a significant fact that recent reports from all parts of the country show growing increases in residential construction.

The meaning of that is clear. The three-year construction doldrum—in which home building was close to the non-existent point—has reached its end. The nation, instead of having an oversupply of homes, actually has a shortage, placed by various observers at around 500,000. Factories are opening up, men are going back to work, families are enlarging their budgets. And home-building always comes high on the list at such times.

Residential construction and maintenance, on a nationwide scale, is going to be an important factor in speeding recovery. And the wise property-owner will see the handwriting on the wall. Higher prices for materials and supplies of all kinds are going to be here before we know it. The cost indexes have started up now—and they're moving fast. The long era of bargains is nearing its end. It really is the last chance to buy at depression prices.

So the property-owner has a double opportunity—to build and repair before costs sky-rocket, and to do his bit in promoting recovery by spending money for labor and supplies. Don't let that opportunity pass!

A famous government bureau officially died the other day. It was the Shipping Board which, with its subsidiaries, received the most sum of $3,890,000,000 in appropriations during its life, a total book value of $288,000,000 at last report. Its functions—what are left of them—were transferred to the Department of Commerce.

JUST A DOZEN YEARS AGO

U. S. Marine Corps Will Fill Vacancies

During the month of September there will be a few openings for young men in the United States Marine Corps, provided that they have the necessary qualifications, mental and moral, and can pass the rigid physical examination required of all men enlisted in this branch of the service.

Any young man graduate from a high school, who is interested, should write Major P. D. Cornell, officer in charge of recruiting, District of New Orleans, 535 St. Charles Street, New Orleans, La., who will furnish full information regarding the service and the duties of a marine, ashore, afloat and in the air, in this, and in foreign countries. The rigid requirements for enlistment also will be explained in detail, for this branch of the military and naval service which is recognized here and abroad as one of the finest in the world, and is the most difficult to enter due to its high educational, moral and physical standards.

Donley County Lived Strictly Off The Land During Years Of Depression; Good Times Near

(Editor's Note: The story printed below under a Clarendon date line was the first of a series of stories released by the Associated Press in the United States of towns and communities who have made unusual progress in fighting through the depression. The story about Clarendon was written by Harry Montgomery, AP staff writer at Amarillo, and was based on information furnished through the Clarendon News and Secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce. Carried by AP papers throughout the nation Clarendon and Donley County should gain much favorable publicity therefore.)

CLARENDON, Aug. 18.—"We realized that the depression was upon us, but we resolved to go on living in spite of it."

Thus residents of Clarendon, agricultural community of less than 3,000 population in the Texas panhandle, described the attitude they assumed toward strained economic conditions as far back as 1930, with the result that they weathered the storm and are out ahead now with prosperity banners flying. The program was one of cooperation between town and country. No outside help was needed.

Depending solely upon agriculture Clarendon's plan necessarily looked to the soil for support. Food, as usual topped the list of necessities. Clarendon's farming territory produced an over-supply of fruits, vegetables, and melons. Home pantries were filled to the bursting point with canned foods valued at $38,000 in 1930, and $40,000 in 1931, before many communities realized the depression had started. Local merchants sold only Donley county produce. With the surplus, bartering was inaugurated in the panhandle.

Bartering System Successful Advertisements offering to sell or barter were inserted in newspapers in 15 other communities which were known to have an abundance of produce which Clarendon needed. Wheat to be ground into flour and feed for livestock were the principal products sought. The response was amazing.

Banks and farm agents worked out a balanced farm program which provided that farmers who obtained loans from the banks should keep a year's supply of food and a two year's supply of feed for livestock on hand from year to year. This program resulted in loans to farmers being cut from 50 to 75 per cent while the depression was at the lowest swing.

No federal loans of any kind were asked by farmers until 1932, and then only 33 farmers who had not followed the balanced plan obtained feed and seed loans. A year of drouth in 1932 increased the number to 72 this year, and necessitated 90 regional agriculture credit loans.

Bank Burden Eased This type of program eased the burden of the city's banks. The city's affairs are in better condition than at the outset of the depression. No bond issues were voted. The county's highways are to be paved by the state this fall.

Education and recreation were not forgotten. A municipal junior college was established to take over the plant of a senior church school which was abandoned. Nine independent school districts voted to support the college and their high school graduates are offered the advantages of two years of college work with free tuition.

Clarendon has not experienced the decrease in population which has come to most towns in the last year or two. Its farm population actually has increased. Hitching racks have replaced used cars on vacant lots. Prospects of a bumper crop and good prices, coupled with already well-filled pantries and feed bins, bespeak the return of prosperity to Clarendon this fall.

LIONS CLUB HAS VARIETY PROGRAM

SINGING, PIANO SOLOS AND ADDRESS MAKE UP GOOD PROGRAM

Members of the Lions club enjoyed a program of varied interest at the regular Tuesday luncheon, which was attended by nearly thirty Lions. The luncheon hour started with a short session of singing, led by Fred Story, with Miss Rhoda Wiedman at the piano, as visiting accompanist.

After the luncheon, Chas. Garrison, brother of George and Monty Garrison, was introduced to the club. Mr. Garrison is a pianist of natural talent and his selections were highly enjoyed by the club members and guests. He played an old favorite first, "Paul Revere's Ride," which followed by another, "St. Louis Blues." As an encore number he played "Shanty."

ON TEXAS FARMS
By
H. W. Darrow
Extension Service Editor

The money spent for terraces two years ago is now giving the greatest return of any investment made on the farm. Victor Schmidt of New Ulm, Austin county, tells the county agent. He plans to terrace the rest of his farm this winter.

A well organized pantry cut the weekly grocery bill from $5 to $1.75 for Mrs. B. L. Whately, Jones county home demonstration club woman. She says sales of canned products paid the entire cost of her pantry.

Use of pure white gasoline injected by syringe into the crop of turkeys afflicted with worms is reported successful in a number of South Texas counties this year. The county agent in Colorado county uses 1 teaspoonful of gasoline. Marcus Schindler of Eagle Lake tried the method on 108 poult and got results without losing a bird. Another man tried it the wrong way by using a teaspoon without the aid of tube, syringe or long-necked funnel, and the dose went into the windpipe. His turkey was dead in 2 minutes.

The first car of cooperatively sold hogs by the Travis County Hog Shipping Association since October went out recently. The association has created a better price in Austin for hogs than either Houston or Fort Worth, it is said.

Pecans may be canned at home by use of a steam pressure cooker, Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, home demonstration agent in Rannels county, demonstrated for the pecan growers' association meeting in Ballinger last spring. The method may be obtained from local county home demonstration agents.

Harrison county farmers who grew tomatoes this year as a new enterprise organized by vocational agriculture teacher and county agent through a county truck growers association are well pleased with the venture and plan to continue next year. Average cost of production is reported at $20 per acre and the price received for greenwraps from one to three cents per pound.

Maybe the reason there are more widows than widowers is that the women linger on to have the last word.

HAS BEEN FIREFIGHTER IN CLARENDON SINCE 1904

The other day a News reporter happened to be in the City office when James Trent was present. Mrs. Mae Shaver, city secretary, mentioned reading in a newspaper about some man who had been a member of his local fire department for a number of years that was believed to be a record, in West Texas at least. "You've been a firefighter longer than that, haven't you, Mr. Trent?" she asked.

"Yes, I have," he replied. "I've been to pretty nearly every fire that has occurred in Clarendon since 1904. I'll never forget the first fire I fought in Clarendon," he said with a reminiscent smile. "It was a wooden building in the same block with the Citizens State Bank, that stood on the corner where the Farmers State Bank now is. The city had just completed installing nine new fire plugs and the new hose to use on them was still boxed up just as it was received."

"Seeing that the Citizens bank building was threatened by the fire, I proposed to Jim Van Horn that we get the new hose out. I had never had my hands on a piece of standard fire hose before, but we got the box open, figured out the connections pretty quick, and soon had water on the fire."

He grinned broadly as he added, "The next day the aldermen presented Jim and me with a check of $2.50 each, so that we may be called paid firemen, they said. I've often wished that I'd kept that check for $2.50 just as a curiosity—but I cashed it."

Mr. Trent has been city fire marshal for so long that few remember when he was not fire marshal. His son, Charles, has grown up in firefighting work, and the Clarendon fire department is known as one of the most efficient anywhere. Mr. Trent takes excellent care of the city's fire apparatus and co-operates with the council in keeping the cost of local fire protection at a minimum. The News believes it speaks the sentiment of the citizenship when it says that they sincerely appreciate their fire department and its splendid work.

Coach John G. Hutton, who spent the summer months at his home in Laramie, Wyoming, returned Tuesday.

Miss Mary Stocking returned home Saturday from Canyon where she has been attending summer school.

Miss Mary Katherine Hendrick of Amarillo visited her aunt, Miss Ineva Hendrick over the week-end.

Illusion is the dust the devil throws in the eyes of the foolish.

After all, flattery is the coin of the world. Men and women alike exchange it, and the person who declares he "never flatters" might as well confess himself penniless—unless he be THE exception.

Between a babbling friend and a silent foe there is small choice.

When a woman gives more attention to her dinner than to the clever man beside her, she furnishes conclusive evidence that she has more than half covered her century run.

"Who lies will steal," declares the sage. Not so; many a man will lie diligently about a woman, though he would not steal her for her weight in gold.

The difference between a saint and a hypocrite is that one lives for his religion, the other by it.

Beauty is talismanic. T prove it, send a lantern-faced "New woman" and a professional beauty upon a begging expedition among club men.

Texan Works Two Years For Soviet

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 30.—Melvin M. Rotsch of Austin, who has just returned from a stay of eighteen months in Russia and an additional six months in other countries of Central Europe, has been engaged in unusual and interesting work during his absence from America. Mr. Rotsch obtained his bachelor of architecture degree from The University of Texas in 1928 and his master of architecture from Harvard in 1930.

It was quite by chance that he found himself an employee of the Soviet Government as an architect in the department of city planning and housing. He was touring Germany when he learned that there was a demand for American architects in this character of work in Moscow. He entered Russia as a tourist and found no difficulty in obtaining employment. During his stay in that country his salary was 600 rubles a month, equivalent to $6 or $7 a month United States money. However, one was able to live fairly comfortably on that salary, Mr. Rotsch said.

Of course, no kind of luxury could be had and both the food and housing was of the simplest nature. He said that he would not advise any young man to go to Russia under the conditions that exist there with the hope that he might find employment and live even reasonably well as compared with American standards.

Hedley Boys Will Attend School Here

Sup't. H. T. Burton, of the Clarendon schools, states that arrangements are being made under which a group of 8 to 10 Hedley boys will attend the Junior College here. The boys are all graduates of Hedley High school.

Mrs. G. L. Armstrong, of Hedley, is making arrangements to rent a large residence here and will have all the Hedley boys with her in the home. She will act as "house mother" to the boys and the plan of operation will enable them to attend school at low cost for board and room. Mrs. Armstrong, who is sister-in-law to County Tax Assessor W. A. Armstrong, has a son in the group which expects to attend school here.

"The plan under consideration is a most unusual one and I hope that all arrangements may be worked out for it. We shall be very glad to have the Hedley boys here with us," said Mr. Burton. Several of the boys are said to be very promising athletes.

G. W. ANTROBUS GOING THROUGH MAYO CLINIC

A postcard from G. W. Antrobus advises that he is at Rochester, Minn., and that he is going through the Mayo Clinic there. He recently visited in Kentucky, going to Chicago to attend the World's Fair. Having been "under the weather" for some time, he decided to undergo a thorough check-up at the Mayo Brothers' institution.

The news force joins his friends in the hope that the doctors discover nothing seriously wrong with him and that he may be back among us soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morris have as their guests Mr. Morris' mother and sisters, Mrs. R. F. Morris of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Price Kennedy of Clayton, New Mexico and Mrs. Robert Ryan of Wichita Falls.

SHEPHERD HAS GOOD REVIVAL AT MORAN

Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor of First Baptist church, returned Tuesday night from Moran, where he had held a two weeks' revival meeting for the church there, of which Rev. Roy Shahan is pastor. He reported that the church received about 30 additions to its membership, and that the members stated that the revival was the best ever held in that church.

Mrs. Shepherd and daughter, Miss Gertrude, visited relatives at Stephenville, Iredell and Brady while they were away, accompanying Rev. Shepherd on the return trip.

Mrs. H. J. Edington and Mick Clark, who drove to Missouri last week to visit relatives there, returned Wednesday night. Mrs. Edington visited at Carthage, while Mick visited at Republic and Springfield. They were accompanied home by Miss Shirley West, Mrs. Edington's grand-daughter, who will make her home here with her grandparents.

PERSONALS

Mrs. O. L. Fink returned today from Ironton, Texas, where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. Floredee Brittain, who received serious injuries in an auto wreck about two weeks ago. Both bones in her right arm were broken just above the wrist and for several days it was feared that serious trouble might develop from infection. Later it was necessary to break the bones two times before a satisfactory union was effected. Mrs. Fink reports that the physicians are confident now that she will have an entirely normal arm and that she is recovering nicely.

C. J. Douglas and family returned last Thursday night from Drake, Colorado, where they spent several days at the summer homes of Dr. C. G. Stricklin and Mrs. Mollie Gray. Clyde enjoyed some wonderful fishing, he says, and is enthusiastic in his praise of the location of his friends' summer homes.

Miss Nellie Chunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Chunn of Mineral Wells, is visiting in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. R. A. Chunn. Accompanied by her uncle, R. M. Chunn, they drive to Antelope Flat Sunday afternoon to visit the family of L. B. Chunn, another uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Austin and sons, of DeQueene, Ark., visited last week-end with his mother, Mrs. W. H. Austin, and two sisters, Mrs. Rufus Dawkins and Mrs. Bryan Dawkins.

J. H. Miller left Wednesday for Frederick, Oklahoma, where he has accepted employment with the Wm. Cameron lumber company. Mr. Miller has been employed, at various times, with the Clarendon yard of the same company, and is one of the former employes whom the company is offering employment under its NRA agreement with the President.

Mrs. H. E. Westmoreland and children of Amarillo are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Connally.

Glen Allison returned last Thursday night from Lubbock where he has been attending the summer session of Texas Tech. Glen completed the work necessary to obtain his B. A. degree, and is receiving the congratulations of his friends.

ROOSEVELT AIDE LAUDS GILLETTE C. C. CAMP

Gillette, Wyo.,
August 29, 1933.
Dear Sir:
Have inclosed herewith a piece about our Camp No. 858 that I copied out of a Sheridan, Wyo., paper and would surely appreciate it if you would publish it in your paper.
Sincerely yours,
Harold Dubbs.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—Among the 1450 emergency conservation camps established by President Roosevelt and which are affording work for 300,000 of our unemployed citizens, there is one camp that is in a class by itself. With that one exception, all the camps are engaged in forestation or kindred work in our national forests, but this particular camp was established for the purpose of fighting coal fires that have for years been destroying the coal veins in the public lands in the northeastern part of Wyoming.

A dozen or more of such coal fires that are now burning in Little Thunder Basin, Wyo., made Gillette the logical place for the establishment of the camp.

One of the outstanding factors of the camp is the fact that he that contribute to the success of the camp is the fact that the superintendent and the 12 foremen who supervise the work of controlling these disastrous coal fires were selected from the various coal fields of Wyoming by reason of their long experience in coal mining and kindred problems and from the beginning the camp has had the technical advice and counsel of Mr. R. H. Alport, district mining supervisor of the United States geological survey.

Gas masks and other special equipment have been provided for the safety of the workmen and all precautionary steps have been taken to avoid accidents with the result that to date with nearly 2,000 men in shifts not a single injury has been sustained by any workman.

To date five separate and distinct coal fires have been attacked in the regular work for which the camp was organized.

Since the camp was established three emergency calls have been made upon the workmen.

With the exception of 23 local Wyoming boys, all of those enrolled at the camp are from Texas. These boys from the wide open spaces of the west immediately caught the true spirit of the emergency conservation work, and have shown a remarkable willingness to meet any emergency day or night. Consequently the most cordial relations exist among the workmen with the camp officers, superintendent and foremen as well as with the ranchers and residents in the community.

Mr. Robert Fechner, appointed by the president to direct the emergency conservation work, in commenting upon this camp said: "It is a fine example of how valuable these emergency conservation work camps can be to the federal government when intelligently directed."

Well, Mr. Braswell, as planned I will leave here on Monday, Aug. 28, on my return home to Amarillo. I may stay in Salt Lake City for a few days. I will surely stay in Denver to visit old friends pick the crumbs and get on of mine. Frank Barnhart was

Opening World's Longest Escalator

Saving a climb of 117 steps, the world's longest escalator has been installed in the new Manhattan Queens Independent Subway System, New York City, which was recently formally opened in a ceremony attended by public transportation officials. The escalator is 112 feet long and can carry 4,000 people an hour from the platform 70 feet underground to street level. The new subway stations are built so that additional escalators can be added as needed. Left to right, at the inaugural ceremony are: J. C. Knapp, Vice President, Otis Elevator Company; John Anderson Leach, Department of Transportation of Queens; Frank Ray Howe, President Queensborough Chamber of Commerce; Jere Ryan, Commissioner of Markets, and Frank X. Sullivan, Commissioner, Board of Transportation, cutting tape.

agent at Clarendon when I took my first job on the Denver in 1884. Lots of the old timers there will be glad to hear of him. I went to San Francisco yesterday and went aboard the battleship California. I saw them take a plane up with a cable and set it on the air deck. It was fired off by a spring into the air and I watched until it left sight.

I was in a store that covers two city blocks. You can get anything from thimbles to pins. I also went to see a niece of mine who works in a dry goods store where they employ 300 girls. I was in Golden Gate park, where I saw birds of all kinds. People take lunch there and the birds walk around their feet and the tables eat the crumbs out of their hands. I was standing under a tree and a squirrel got on top of my head, crawled down into my pocket, took peanut out of my pocket and ate it on my knee. You might think that it is untrue but it is a fact.

When in San Francisco I saw them at work on the new bridge across the bay. It will be four miles long in all. They will use Goat Island to build one of the big piers on. The bridge will hang on cables over big concrete piers, some of which have 100 tons of cement in them. The bridge will be a 3-decker, one for railroad tracks, another for autos and the third for foot passengers.

Childress Index, please copy. Will see you in two weeks. Yours for health and prosperity.

As you will see, some of these are simply replacing worn out copies of the same books, but most of them are new to us.

The daily press of the past week carried an interesting item to the effect that Meredith Nicholson, an Indian author, had been appointed minister to Paraguay. The article goes on to say that Nicholson began his career as a newspaper reporter, later turning to magazine articles, and to fiction. Early in life he was associated closely with such literary men as James Whitcomb Riley, General Lew Wallace and Edward Eggleston. "The House of a Thousand Candles" is his best known book. Our readers have been enjoying this as well as "Otherwise Phyllis".

In the latest copy of "Book Talk" by Lamar and Whitmore of Dallas, the statement is made that the two best sellers of the summer in their big store have been Petkin's "Life Begins at Forty" and "Anthony Adverse" by Harvey Allen—the latter a book of fiction. This has already passed the sale mark of 90,000 copies.

The new Harper prize novel is "The Fault of Angels" by Paul Horgan. It is spoken of as a witty and satiric comedy. Bess Streeter Aldrich has a new book also, "Miss Bishop" which promises to rival her "Lantern in Her Hand" in popularity. Many of us who love the latter so much have wondered if she would ever write anything else so good. And Mado de la Roche had added a fourth volume to her Jalna Saga in "The Master of Jalna"—the story of Renny Whiteoak whom we all remember so well in the other three as the Master of Jalna at forty-six, the head of a turbulent clan who revelled in internal strife, but presented an unbroken front to all the world. They are spoken of as "one of the most human, ingratiating, lovable, irritating families of fiction." The new volume by the winner a few years ago of the Atlantic Monthly Fiction Prize will be published early in September. We would like to remind our friends that if any of them have copies of any of these late books which they have read and enjoyed and are through with, we are in a state of "amiable receptivity."

and similar ones which may be authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture for 1934 and 1935 you would sign a three-year contract by which you would agree to reduce acreage as directed by the Secretary not to exceed 20 per cent. Your three-year average acreage was 60 acres, therefore you would be asked to reduce your acres this fall by not more than 12, leaving you 48 acres. You would not be compelled to sow as much as 48 acres but you would have to sow enough to produce your allotment of 594 bushels, assuming average yields. Your three-year average yield was 18.3 bushels per acre, and at this rate you would have to sow at least 32.4 acres to comply with your contract. To fulfill your contract you would have to sow and farm your wheat acreage in a workmanlike manner, and replace the retired wheat acres with no crops other than those for soil enrichment, prevention of soil erosion, food for home use, or feed for livestock to be used at home. If you perform your part of the contract the Government will pay you the extra benefits described whether you make a crop or not. The payments this fall and next spring will be made regardless of whether your 1933 crop failed or made. In this respect the plan furnishes crop insurance. To cooperate in the plan you must sign a contract in the coming campaign and cannot join as late as next year. You must abide by the contract the full three-year period (1933-34-35), and failure to live up to the contract will cause the Government to collect back advances paid. The contract attaches to the farm and not the farmer. If you move to another farm the tenant who follows you must abide by the contract. If you move to a farm where a contract is in force you must abide by it. Landlords and tenants share in benefits in exact proportion to their rental agreements. In the example given above it was assumed that you live in a county where the three-year average wheat production was the same as the average county five-year production. If you happen to live in a county where wheat acreage has been increasing and the three-year average for 1930-31-32 is higher than the county five-year average, your allotment would be reduced in proportion. On the other hand if wheat acreage has been decreasing in your county and the three-year average is lower than the five-year average your allotment would be increased in proportion. More detailed explanation of the workings of the plan, especially on how county wheat production control associations are to be organized and how they will adjust individual allotments, may be obtained from local county agents. Mrs. Robert Younger and children of Amarillo have been visiting Mrs. Younger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin this week.

CAMERON CO. ADDS THOMPSON TO FORCE Larry Thompson, of Memphis, will resume his former connection with the Wm. Cameron Lumber Co. here on Sept. 1, according to J. E. Teer, local manager. Mr. Thompson is added to the force here as a part of the company's NRA program between cost of electric service and the cost of other items of family expense soon will be for greater than at the present time. "Few customers realize that our present rate schedules are so arranged that they can increase their service several times with only a very small addition to the total bill. The problem we must meet at once is to have our customers see this important fact, and realize the comforts and conveniences this increased service will provide at very low rates." Blue Eagles were posted on the company's windows throughout the properties.

LOWE GROCERY ADDS TWO TO ITS STAFF George Bourland, who has been extra man at Lowe's Grocery store on Saturdays, has been on full time since early in August, being added to the regular force following the first NRA meeting of Clarendon merchants. Another man will be added in the meat market department next Monday, Gordon Lane being chosen for the place. He is the son of Cap Lane, manager of the market department. Dr. R. A. POWER CO. LINES WITH BLUE EAGLE PAYROLLS AND PROPERTIES IN 161 WEST TEXAS CITIES AFFECTED

ABILENE, Texas, Aug. 31.—Signing the NRA code for the 161 West Texas cities and communities in which it operates, the West Texas Utilities Company yesterday at the local postoffice pledged its support and cooperation to the program and plans of the National Industrial Recovery Act. Pledges also were signed locally in each of the towns in which the company operates. Changes in personnel and hours are being made at the present time and all provisions of the agreement will be placed in effect as rapidly as possible, it was learned. Price Campbell, president of the West Texas Utilities Company, in commenting on his company's participation in the Blue Eagle program, said: "The West Texas Utilities Company feels that the NRA program actually will increase purchasing power in an amount sufficient to stimulate general business. While this program adds a large new responsibility to our already heavy payroll, due to the hours required to give continuous service, we feel that the communities we serve desire that we try to carry this additional burden, together with the summation of the extra 3 per cent tax payments to be taken off the collective shoulders of our consumers and placed on our single shoulders. "This and other added taxes, together with the increased payroll and increased cost of supplies, creates such a very large additional burden that it can be carried only by increased income from increased consumption or increased rates. So we issue a plea to our customers to help by taking increased service, at least to the extent of the 3 per cent decrease in cost of service by which customers will benefit when we take over the payment of the tax. "Much of such service will come on the low steps of the rate schedules, and must occur quickly as we have only until the first of September before taking over this tar and the other additional burdens. "The Department of Labor reports that living costs are nearly 25 per cent above normal, or above 1913 prices, while electric rates instead of being above the normalcy line of 1913 are between 40 per cent and 50 per cent below that line—and nearly 70 per cent below average living costs. General living costs now are increasing, so the difference the Donley County Relief committee to set a force of workmen at the task of completing the wrecking of the building. Mr. Carlander advised the council that the Federal aid which is being sought would not approve the use of the walls of the first floor in a building as old as the Grammar school, and recommended its demolition down to the foundations. He approved the use of the foundations, however. Suggested plans for an auditorium were submitted by Mr. Carlander, who estimates that the proposed structure can be erected and equipped within the $15,000 cost under consideration by the council. Application for Federal aid went forward to Washington some time ago. The plan calls for utilization of the present ground plan, with an extension eastward to provide additional floor space and entrance foyer. A stage approximately 25 feet deep, full width of the auditorium, with commodious dressing rooms on either side, is provided. The plan calls for actual seating capacity, with standard spacing, for 514 persons. If Federal aid is secured for
