Clarendon College Invitation Track Meet on April 1st.

INTEREST GROWS IN TRACK MEET

RESPONSES OF COACHES INDICATE PRESENCE OF MANY GOOD SQUADS

The responses to announcements of the Clarendon College Invitation Track Meet, to be held April 1st, indicate an interest that guarantees gruelling and close contests in the various events.

A long list of premiums, including cash and useful merchandise, has already been secured from Clarendon business men, whose cheerful response to the committee's requests was gratifying. A silver cup has been offered by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce to the team scoring the greatest number of points, the cup to become the permanent property of the team which wins it three years in succession at the ANNUAL Clarendon College Invitation Track Meet.

Coach Odus L. Mitchell has advised that Pampa will send a squad of about 20 men; Coach Blair Cherry, of Amarillo, expects to be here with about 30 men; Canyon, says Coach Barkley, will send 10 or more men; Coach Jake Spann, of Hollis, Okla., expects to trot about 15 men onto the field; Dumas advises that it will send a strong team.

Other towns which have been invited, and many of whom are expected to be represented here, are: Childress, Quanah, Wellington, Shamrock, McLean, Memphis, Dalhart, Canadian, Miami, Silvertown, Panhandle, Claude, White Deer, Floydada, Tulla, Plainview, Happy, Estelline, Spearman, and Perryton.

Local entries which are expected to show up in excellent form are hurdles, dashes, weights, and jumping. Distance runners are not promising, according to local dopsters, but they may be surprised.

Entrants from the Clarendon College Track team will probably be as follows:

- Hurdles: Watson, Martin, Reavis, Hudson.
- Dashes: Reavis, Hudson, F. Holtzclaw.
- Weights: Linder, Martin, Wood and Behrens.
- Jumps: Martin, Watson, Reavis, Hudson.
- Distance Runs: B. Word, C. Word, J. D. Holtzclaw, F. Holtzclaw, Johnston, Gorman, Gattis, E. Watson.

Masons Are Invited to Memphis Meeting

T. M. Bartley, of Waco, grand commander of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templars of Texas, will visit the Memphis Commandery Wednesday evening, March 29, at 7:30 o'clock.

The above information was brought to Clarendon Wednesday by A. G. Powell, of Memphis, who is secretary of both the Blue lodge and Royal Arch Masons and recorder of the Commandery in Memphis. He urged that a large delegation of Clarendon Knights go to Memphis to hear Sir Knight Bartley, who is one of the best speakers of Texas. "If you fail to be present, you will miss a real treat," said Mr. Powell.

Notice to Masons

All Masons are urged to attend Clarendon Lodge No. 700, A. F. & A. M., Friday evening, March 24, when a series of monthly educational meetings will begin, to be held on the fourth Friday night in each month.

A very interesting program has been arranged that will be both educational and enjoyable to all members and visitors of the local lodge.

Europe is now taking nearly two-thirds of America's food exports.

Work of Jury of View Nearing Completion

The Jury of View, appointed by the Commissioner's Court to secure right-of-way for the new routing of highway No. 5 through Donley county, worked three days this week is the east end of the county, following receipt of the necessary papers from the office of the divisional engineer of the State Highway Department.

Preparation of the papers had been delayed by the serious illness of several members of the office force in Amarillo. Most of them have recovered and the work of the office is going forward rapidly.

The Jury of View made sufficient progress with the work last week to warrant the statement that its work will soon be completed. Only a few signatures to right-of-way papers have yet to be secured, and the members of the jury of view feel assured that no difficulty will arise in the early closing of their work.

Judge S. W. Lowe, W. T. Hayter, T. F. Connally and M. M. Noble went to Austin Tuesday where they will meet with the State Highway Commission members in the interest of the proposed highway construction in this county. Having other personal business to attend to in that part of the state, no expense to the county will be involved in the trip to Austin, members of the party said. Other members of the Jury of View are A. B. Bynum, of Lelia Lake, and T. C. Johnson, of Giles.

LITTLE BUSINESS IN DISTRICT COURT

ALL FORECLOSURE SUITS ARE CONTINUED TO NEXT TERM OF COURT

The continuance of all foreclosure suits to the next term left little business, except divorce cases, for the March term of District court, which opened Monday morning. Judge Fires ordered all foreclosure suits continued, pending the expiration of the moratorium declared by the State legislature.

The single criminal case, the State of Texas vs. William Miller, charged with transporting whiskey, was again continued to the next term of court.

Three divorce cases were tried, decrees being granted in the following cases: Eva Atterbury vs. Paul P. Atterbury; Mattie Marie Myers vs. Edgar M. Myers; Rosie Lane Cook vs. Clarence C. Cook. A number of other divorce cases were continued on account of lack of service of papers.

The case of M. S. Leveridge vs. Northwestern Life Insurance company, usury, was removed to the federal district court at Amarillo on the application of the defendant.

The grand jury empanelled for this term of court is as follows: W. A. Poovey, foreman; M. W. Hatley, A. E. Ransom, Jim Bible, Claude Nash, E. P. Shelton, Tom E. Naylor, D. L. Wood, Jodie H. Helm, John Chamberlain, Ed Hodges, Watt Hardin.

Five bills of indictment, felonies, were returned by the grand jury Wednesday, one of the cases being ordered transferred to the county court, by District Judge Fires, for trial as a misdemeanor. The grand jury recessed Wednesday afternoon to re-convene Wednesday, April 5th. Judge Fires has set the criminal docket for the third week of court.

J. O. Quattlebaum, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Lillian Brady and her little son, Jack, spent Friday in Clarendon, visiting Elliott V. Quattlebaum and family and attending to business.

Mrs. Lucian Bones and Mrs. Si Johnson were Amarillo visitors Tuesday.

JUDGE COLE TALKS ON WORLD PEACE

CITES HISTORY TO PROVE THAT STRIFE FOR RIGHT MEANS NATIONAL LIFE

The program of the Rotary Club's Wednesday luncheon, presided over by Dr. O. L. Jenkins, was in charge of Rotarian A. T. Cole, who is chairman of International Service committee. Judge Cole, in his characteristic and easy manner, presented a startling and interesting message.

He drew some beautiful word pictures of the great nations of past days and showed that when these nations ceased to fight for the things that were sacred and right, they went into decay and ceased to exist as mighty nations.

He cited the Chinese and Japanese situation as being a step that would mean civilization and enlightenment for the people of China, who, as a nation, have been slumbering for centuries. He declared that international, or world, peace will come when the nations of the earth unite to fight the common enemies of all and that there is enough English in all of us to make us want certain things and enough Irish to make us willing to fight for them. God is always interested in human affairs and will fight with the nations that are willing to fight to protect themselves.

R. E. Drennan announced that new shade trees were needed for the school grounds and asked for donations of any kind of tree except locust trees. This variety is being replaced in favor of more suitable kinds.

The program next week will be in charge of Miss Rhoda Wiedman, who is the club's Rotary Ann.

Mrs. Mollie Gray and Mrs. John Sims, Sr., left Tuesday for Roswell, New Mexico, where they will visit Mrs. Marion Williams, a former Clarendon resident, and attend a state meeting of the Eastern Star of New Mexico.

Houston Lions Clubs Honor Sam Braswell

The four Lions Clubs of Houston signally honored Sam M. Braswell, director of Lions International, when they tendered him a joint luncheon on Wednesday of this week, at the Texas State Hotel. The luncheon was attended by a large number of the officers and members of the Houston clubs.

Also present at the luncheon was District Governor Lyle, who introduced Mr. Braswell to the Houston Lions, after which the latter delivered an address on current matters of Lionism.

LEGION MEMBERS HEAR COMMANDER

CLARENDON AND HEDLEY POSTS SEND DELEGATION TO AMARILLO

Twelve Clarendon people and about the same number from Hedley went to Amarillo Friday to attend the convention of Panhandle members of the American Legion, honoring the visit of National Commander Louis A. Johnson.

Following his reception by State Commander Carl Nesbitt, of Mineola, assisted by officers of Hanson Post, of Amarillo, a mammoth parade was staged. In the evening Commander Johnson addressed a monster crowd in the auditorium, after which Legionnaires and their ladies enjoyed a dance and reception.

The Clarendon delegation reported a most enjoyable trip and the extension of many courtesies by their Amarillo hosts and hostesses. The Clarendon party included Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Shaver, Sloan Baker, R. Y. King, Bill Meaders, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beach, C. E. Decker, L. N. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Hommel and C. B. Morris.

Guy T. Smith returned Saturday from Oklahoma City where he visited the Veterans' Bureau.

Alpha Delta Psi Play Ready For Tonight

Hi di ho! Well, that Alpha Delta Psi play is ready for action! And is it going to be a whiz! Say, I've seen 'em practice and do they sling the "lingo." You know, that College stuff.

James Smith is really good as the college flirt, while Kenneth Brown is just too "Girl Shy" for words. Can you imagine a guy like that? However, we can't put him in a museum as he overcomes this idiosyncrasy before the play ends, with the aid of Helen Lawler, a young college girl renowned for her charm and money. And there's Oleta Camp, a movie struck "professional cleaner", who has Greta Harbo backed off the scene. Charles Walker cannot be caught off his dignity as the dean who though he knew college life. There's Nova Cook as the fiery Sylvia, and Lu McClellan, the college poet, who gets those things called "inspirations" and writes blank verse. Virginia Wisdom is excellent as Caroline. Tom's aunt; Harold Phelps is Anthony Arsdale. Tom's father; Claudine Ratcliff is Peaches Carter. Oke's present weakness; Chuck Mayo is played by J. R. Cox, and last but not least is Asma, a colored "wash lady" cleverly impersonated by Pauline Slover.

This college comedy will open for its "first run" tonight at 8:00 p. m. at the College Auditorium. Between acts the Steppin' Six, a group of chorus girls composed of Berkleve Ryan, Marjorie White, Jo Ella Stewart, Evelyn Murphy, Eleanor Morris, and Vera Noland will perform.

PATMAN TALKS ON LIVES OF TEXANS

TELLS LIONS OF INTERESTING INCIDENTS IN EARLY TEXAS HISTORY

Lion J. T. Patman was in charge of the program at the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday, his subject being "Great Men of Texas History". He introduced his subject by saying that there might be differences of opinion as to what makes a great man, citing the story of an old lady who was present at a ladies' club, where great inventors were being discussed. The old lady took out her box of snuff, and loading up her "tooth brush," said, "I don't think old man Levi P. Garrett was any slouch."

"There are so many great men of Texas history that one hardly knows where to begin and where to close," said Mr. Patman. "As I have been reading each day of late, in the Star-Telegram, of those more than 800 sturdy pioneers who came to this country in the early days, and underwent all the hardships of blazing the way for us who were to come after them, I think of them as great men, even though they did not have the opportunity to distinguish themselves in war as did some of the earlier pioneers. I still think of them as great men and we are due them a great deal of respect, at least," he continued.

Touching on the brave men who defended the Alamo and those who were with Fannin in the terrible massacre at Goliad, he mentioned as one of the bravest of the brave acts, the futile effort made by Bonham to obtain help for the besieged defenders of the Alamo. After delivering his message to Fannin, he started back to report his failure to Travis in the Alamo. His companion, John B. Smith, told him, when they observed the Alamo completely surrounded by Mexicans, that "it will be like taking our own lives to go on, for the doom of the Alamo is fixed: it is useless and foolish to go fur-

School Trustees To Be Elected April 1st

Notices have been posted calling attention to the annual election of school trustees of the Clarendon Independent School District, which will be held Saturday, April 1.

The three-year terms of two of the present board expire this year, the two trustees being Odos Caraway and O. W. Latson. It is believed in the absence of any expression to the contrary, that both of these men are willing to serve again if it is the will of the voters. The election this year will place the winners on the board for a term of three years.

In addition to the two named, other carry-over members are F. E. Chamberlain, president of the board, O. C. Watson, vice-president, W. W. Taylor, secretary, J. R. Porter and E. P. Shelton.

PHONE COMPANY ORDERED CUT SAN ANTONIO RATES

An Associated Press dispatch, under date of March 21, states that the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, of San Antonio, was ordered Monday to reduce its local rates to the 1928 level and return $2,000,000 to local subscribers.

The order was issued by Federal Judge Edwin R. Holmes in handing down his judgment in the telephone company's suit against the city of San Antonio for increased rates. The suit was won by the city in the federal district court.

NOTICE—any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

The majority of opinions on the question of legal beer in Texas seems to lean toward the belief that only by amendment to the State Constitution can beer ever be legalized. Any other course, it appears, will be beset by difficulties which would seem to make the longest way the shortest.

After all, it will be best to leave the matter to a vote of the people in the general election of 1934. By that time much of the froth and foam incident to beer legislation in the Congress will have had time to go the way of all froth and foam, and Texas will have had opportunity to observe the effects of legalized beer in other states. The News believes that the majority of the voters of Texas will not want legalized beer in their own State after they have had time to check up its effects in other states. It is glad that there are obstacles to the hysterical sweeping away of all laws against the sale of beverages about whose intoxicating qualities there seems so much of doubt.

Cutting a half-billion dollars off the expenses of United States government is going to mean that hundreds of people who expected to receive political preference at President Roosevelt's hands will be disappointed. And that will offend each one of them. Each will feel that the President did exactly the right thing in every case but his own. But the American people are expecting him to stand firm and use the special powers which the Congress has given him in balancing the budget by reduction of outgo rather than by increase of income. And they have told him so with a flood of telegrams greater than has ever descended on a Chief Executive of the United States. And they believe that he will keep faith with them.

"Keep it intact!" says the Los Angeles Times, which views with alarm "the renewal of the perennial agitation . . . of the Panhandle and other northern sections" of the State of Texas which "are saying that their influence is not of sufficient weight at Austin and they want a capital of their own where they can run things to suit themselves."

But the Times finally gets down to its real objections to a division of Texas when it refers to "the inevitable objection of the people of the whole country, whom one can visualize as shuddering at the prospect of ten Texas Senators." It applauds the voices "of those Texans who are proud of the fact that the Lone Star is of the first magnitude," adding that "when they think of those possible half-score Senators, people of other parts of the country will be glad should Texas remain, for the next fifty years at least, firmly cohesive, solidly intact, one and indivisible."

It can not be denied that the people of the Panhandle have felt for a long time that they do not have adequate representation at either Austin or Washington. And it is probable that a division will ultimately be made, unless there is brought about such reorganization of State Government as will materially reduce its cost, thus removing the taxpayer's greatest complaint.

IT MIGHT COST TAXPAYERS MUCH MORE

It can not be denied that many advantages would accrue to the people of the Panhandle if they had their own State Government set-up, particularly as to representation at Washington. There would be a deal of satisfaction in "running things to suit ourselves" with a State Capitol somewhere in the Panhandle and our own legislature. But who can doubt that such a set-up would cost the taxpayers of the Panhandle much more than they are now being taxed? And would the advantages offset the extra cost?

The proponents of such a plan should have (and may have already done so) analyzed the tax income of, for example, the proposed new state of 54 counties of the Panhandle, for the purpose of setting up a state budget. It would not be surprising to find that it would be totally inadequate for operating a state government, even on a basis of the utmost economy.

In contrast with the proposal to create smaller units of state government, there is a growing belief that Texas has far too many county governments, whose boundaries were laid out in horse-and-buggy days, when it took a day's journey to drive 25 or 30 miles to a county seat. Taxpayers are saying now that one county government could handle the affairs of four or five of the present counties, with all convenience to residents of the larger sized county, and with enormous savings to the taxpayers. It would be easier to select juries who would try cases on their real merits, uninfluenced by business relationships or bonds of friendship and acquaintance.

We find it difficult to reconcile the claims of those who would enlarge the scope of county government with the claims of the advantages of a pocket-sized State.

I would seem wise to learn more about operating a State government with economy before setting up a new establishment.

Tips on Taxes

LEGISLATIVE NEWS SERVICE OF THE TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION, AUSTIN

AUSTIN—An important factor in the tax situation is to secure legislation that will give some degree of permanence to economies effected during the present period when economy has become a matter about which there is no debate. It is obvious that conditions are propitious for changes and reforms that will extend benefits of retrenchment beyond the period of the present emergency. It is equally obvious that little will have been accomplished if the measures of economy gain approval simply as emergency matters.

To adopt measures temporary in purpose and character that are equivalent to an admission that the cost of government should return to its former high levels would be a distinct failure to make the most of the present opportunity. People are intensely tax-conscious now. They seldom are when business is at normal. For this reason, many think it would be a blunder not to capitalize on present sentiment and write into the organic law some very definite barriers to excessive government costs in future.

It is necessary to bring expenditures down to the capacity of the people to pay in order that present unbalanced condition of State and local budgets may be corrected. To stop there, however, would leave the larger task of providing proper safeguards and eliminating wasteful expenditures practically untouched. Many people are likely to be misled concerning reports of flat reductions. Such treatment should be applied only to necessary functions of government. Unnecessary services should be abolished.

Agreement is general among students of government and taxation that the most costly and possibly the most wasteful practices are to be found in local affairs. Organization of county government is notoriously conducive of waste. Constitutional and legislative requirements are largely responsible. County commissioners have only very limited control over the affairs for which they are in theory responsible.

Fees of certain officials are fixed under the constitution by State law. Ridiculously high earnings are common, and County Commissioners are powerless to make reductions. There are many needless offices, especially in counties of small population, but they cannot be abolished any more than the office of Governor. Practically, County Commissioners must levy the taxes and watch others, over whom they have little or no control, spend the money. They have responsibility without authority.

Several constitutional amendments designed to correct this condition have been introduced in the Legislature. A committee is now trying to combine them into a single measure.

There is a distinct danger that harm may result from too greatly liberalizing authority for issuing bonds and determining limits of taxation as applied to counties. The "home rule" idea sounds attractive. Yet, it has been shown that extravagance in public expenditures, rather than economy, has followed the loosening of constitutional inhibitions. It will be found that the local tax burden has become heaviest where the greatest measure of local action is permitted. This is an anomaly, but a study of the local tax map of Texas will substantially bear out the statement that taxes are least burdensome where communities have been slowest to adopt many of the modern devices.

Extreme caution must be exercised in amendments designed to reorganize county government. Elasticity of authority should be in the direction of economy. In the past two decades the tendency has been toward more expensive local government, through multiplication of services. The chief reason why Texas is in less distress today than many other States is because framers of the constitution imposed certain restraints as to powers of borrowing and taxation. Citizens should analyze county government reorganization measures and let their representatives know their wishes. The present system is archaic and wasteful; but change might prove even worse through removal of the constitutional barriers, along with those provisions which now prevent needed freedom of action.

Another proposed amendment designed to provide an automatic check on State expenditures is the one which would limit the total State taxes to $10 per year per capita.

These two suggestions constitute the attempt to work out permanent tax relief, rather than to be content with temporary measures that do not correct the fundamental cause for the terrific increase in the cost of government within the past decade. To accomplish these reforms will be no easy matter. Those who are sponsoring them will need the active support of the people.

The sales tax proposal has been revived in a measure prepared by a sub-committee of the House committee on taxation and revenue. The rates are lower than those originally proposed at the beginning of the session, but the measure is fundamentally the same.

FOUND!

...Mechanic Elder Schaffner Found the Hidden Quart... Also that Without it, Motors Show 50% to 60% Greater Wear ... So He Switched to Conoco

MECHANIC SCHAFFNER REPORTS ON DISCOVERY:

"I never did believe what Conoco Germ Processed oil would do; not until an Essex owner, with 25,000 miles on his speedometer, asked me to check his motor and put in new parts where necessary. It surely surprised me; clearance of pistons was only four 1-thousandths; of bearings only three 1-thousandths of an inch.

"This owner said he had used Conoco Germ Processed oil since the car was new. I have overhauled many another Essex at 25,000 miles, which has not used this oil, and found the wear 50% to 60% greater. Now I recommend Conoco Germ Processed Oil to my friends, and have changed to it in my own car."—Elder Schaffner, Highland, Ill.

Stop Cruel Motor Wear . . . Escape its Painful Cost

Don't Wait Another Day to Drain and Refill With Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil

To a motor, lack of lubrication is cruelty indeed. You are too "humane" to permit it, if only you knew the truth. But motors suffer in silence till costly damage is done. Then you pay . . . and pay . . . and pay.

50% of motor wear occurs in the moments following a cold start. Ordinary oil drains back into the crankcase and leaves the motor dry, till it is pumped back up again. Not so, with Conoco's hidden quart. It stays up in the motor and never drains away.

This is proved. Even with the crankcase empty, due to accident, users of this oil have driven many miles, without damage, on the "hidden quart" alone.

Isn't it smart and thrifty to have a "hidden quart" up in the parts of your motor, where you are sure it cannot fail? It is so simple to be safe! so foolhardy to be in doubt. Tend to it today. Go now, drain and refill with the "hidden-quart" oil. Do it for safety's sake.

A CLEANING HOUSE FOR USED JIG-SAW PUZZLES

R. E. Simpson, a very active and enthusiastic Mason, 307 East Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, has a novel plan of amusing convalescents in the various hospitals for crippled children and those children who live in orphanages. It is his thought that a great service could be rendered these children by making use of the current fad of jig-saw or picture puzzles.

Of course, the problem is to get the jig-saw picture puzzles, which he thinks is comparatively easy since he is willing to be the clearing house for all sets of discarded puzzles sent him by those children and others who have finished with them and would like to contribute their bit to the happiness of their less fortunate shut-in brothers and sisters in hospitals and orphanages.

Mr. Simpson says: "It will be a pleasure for me to act as this so-called 'clearing house,' and I shall greatly appreciate it if you, your family and friends will start a campaign on the collection of these discarded puzzles and send them to me for distribution. Too, if you know of any institution you would like to have remembered and will so inform me I shall be more than glad to see that they get their proportionate share of the puzzles collected."

A return of $34.42 per acre to pay for his labor and investment in working 4.3 acres of cotton land has been obtained by William Hill, Eldridge 4-H club member in Gray county. He attributes his 632 pounds of lint per acre to early plowing and use of certified seed.

"Smilin' Through" Legion Benefit

The Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion offers Clarendon people, in the benefit show, "Smilin' Through," at the Pastime Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, March 27-28, one of the most delightful stories ever presented on either stage, silent screen or talking screen.

Made famous on the stage by Jane Cowl on the silent screen by Norma Talamdige, it comes into new fame in the talking screen presentation of Norma shearer, Leslic Howard and Fredric March.

If you've forgotten the tale, it is a simon-pure love story of two generations. The aesthetic Mr. Howard loses his bride at the very altar through the mad, wild deed of the dashing, dissipated Mr. March. As years pass, he lives only for memories and for the day when he may be reunited with his love in another world.

He adopts the niece if his dead sweetheart and the girl grows to womanhood with an increasing resemblance to the girl of his dreams. Then into her life comes the son of the man he hates.

There are poignant scenes of parting when he forbids the girl to see the man she loves, and when he goes off to the wars maybe never to return. There'll be a sob in your throat and a catch in your heart when he returns. And there's even a tear in the happy ending. A wonderful film, a pleasant relief from the rattle-bang, staccato pictures of a jazz age.

Clarendon Legionnaires will appreciate your patronage at this, their benefit show at the Pastime Theatre.

School Notes

By SLOAN BAKER.

The Sales Tax is exemplified in Mississippi by the following conclusions:

- (1) The tax is exceeding estimates as a revenue producer.
- (2) There is not an excessive amount of evasion.
- (3) The cost of collection for the first eight months is 3.8 per cent.
- (4) The tax is possible of administration.
- (5) It is not an unpopular tax.
- (6) In the main the merchants shift the tax.
- (7) There is little loss to business in the state due to the tax.
- (8) The incident of the tar is primarily on the consumer.
- (9) Failure to Shift the tax is due either to the lack of co-operation among the merchants or to small sales of certain types of merchandise.
- (10) The sales tax judged by its efficiency as a revenue producer and by its reaction on business in the state at a time of great business distress has justified itself at least as an emergency measure.

Dr. O. Latham Hatcher, President of the Southern Womens Educational Alliance, in a personal letter writes:

"Something should be done, and promptly, to direct public interest and sense of responsibility specifically to unemployed rural people, who are being almost completely forgotten now in such considerable provision as is being made in cities for safeguarding morale, for further education, for training and etaining in evening and cotinuation schools.

"Of approximately forty-eight million children in the United States more than half are rural. Nineteen million, or more than half, of all the public school children are rural.

"Of all our public schools, about one hundred and fifty thousand, two-thirds or 100,00 are one room rural buildings. "They need information, counsel, and cooperation in making and carrying out educational plan."

Dean W. A. Clark's report shows that 72 students were enrolled in Clarendon Junior College for the year 1931-32. Of this number 56 were from Clarendon, 10 students were from the rural districts which belong to the Clarendon Junior College District and six were from other places. There are 75 students in Clarendon College this year, 47 are from Clarendon, 13 are from the rural districts belonging to the Clarendon College District and twelve from other places.

The Clarendon Independent School District does not charge any of the Superintendent's salary or Librarian's salary to the Junior College. Neither are any of the running expenses such as heat, light, water, janitors salary, chalk, erasers, etc., come from the Junior College Funds. By doing this the Junior College tax goes to meet the College Teacher's salary only.

There is no state aid for the College. The student pays not over $30 per year fees and deposit if subjects requiring laboratory work are taken and less if he takes no laboratory work. In times of distress, as at present, the Clarendon Junior College is meeting the emergency by furnishing educational facilities to many who would otherwise be unable to attend school.

All the County schools are working hard this week training entries for the Interscholastic Meet to be held in Clarendon this week-end.

Chester Williams, who will graduate this year from Texas Tech at Lubbock, spent the mid-term week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams, arriving Friday and returning Tuesday morning. Chester is taking a course in business administration.

The Roll Call was answered by each member telling of one of the bright spots in their life. Mrs. Don Martin, Mrs. L. D. Carlile, Mrs. Melvin Cook, and Mrs. Fred Russell appeared on the program, which included several very interesting discussions on the lives of the past presidents and the present president of the United States.

At the conclusion of the program, dainty refreshments were served to: Mesdames A. O. Yates, Don Martin, Lucian Bones, Fred Russell, Melvin Cook, Si Johnson, Blanche Oden, Joe Carlile, Johnnie Johnson, L. D. Carlile, and I. B. Pierce.

Mothers Club

Meeting at the Woman's Club Room last Friday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Buntin as hostess, the Mothers Study Club held an interesting meeting with sixteen members present.

Mrs. T. H. Ellis proved an able leader and discussed the 19th chapter of Child Psychology, that dealt with Children's Diseases. Others appearing on the program were Mrs. Eva Draffen, who gave "Choosing a Child's Companions," and "Child Tantrums," by Mrs. Clyde Douglas.

At the close of the study, a social hour and delectable refreshments were enjoyed.

The next meeting will be April 7th, at the Club Room, with Mrs. Ralph Paxson as hostess.

Irven Alderson, who suffered severe burns recently in a gasoline explosion at his home, has recovered sufficiently to be discharged Wednesday from the Adair hospital. His burns healed so satisfactorily that he will not be badly scarred from them.

Miss Mary Jo Chamberlain spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chamberlain. She is attending W. T. S. T. C. in Canyon.

Mrs. Rhea Couch Is Hostess

Mrs. Rhea Couch graciously entertained members of the 1930 Needle Club Tuesday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Clarence Whitlock, Mrs. Carlos Grisham, Mrs. Jimmie Moore, Mrs. Carl Peabody, Mrs. Ben Buck, Mrs. Alvin Landers, Mrs. Jesse Lowe, Mrs. Joe Ritter, Mrs. George Garrison, club members; and Mrs. U. Z. Patterson, guest.

Ladies Will Swap at Plant Exchange

As announced last week, arrangements have been made by Les Beaux Arts Club for a Plant and Shrub Exchange, which will be held Saturday, March 25, at the Woman's Club rooms in the City Hall.

Any lady, of the city or county, who has plants or shrubs which she would like to exchange for others, is invited to bring or send them to the club rooms by 10:00 a. m. Saturday, after which time exchanges may be made.

This gives excellent opportunity for disposal of surplus plants and shrubs and the acquisition of the surplus of other ladies. The exchange will be under the direction of Mrs. L. S. Bagby, chairman of the City Beautiful committee of the club. Any desired information about the exchange may be had by telephoning her at No. 295.

L. D. Stevenson, aged father of Gus Stevenson, who fell about three weeks ago and broke his hip, is reported to be showing little improvement.

HOLLAND DUTCH FAMILY BAND PLEASES HEARERS

The unusual spectacle of talent in tatters attracted the interest and sympathy of Clarendon citizens today when strains of more than ordinarily well-played band music drifted up Kearney street.

The music was being rendered by Jan Tuin and Children Family Band, claiming to have come from Amsterdam, Holland. Besides the father, Jan Tuin, there were six children, ranging in age from about 17 years down to a lad of about 8 years, who directed the music with his baton.

A small crowd gathered and apparently enjoyed the music, but no move was made toward a free-will offering, and soon the little family, most of whom were bare-headed and too lightly clad for the cold air of the morning, began nutting their instruments away, the father remarking without any bitterness, "I guess it's no us to stay here any longer."

Their apparent need of help enlisted the sympathy of City Marshal T. M. Pele, who overtook them as they were going back toward the railroad track, and invited them to come further up on Kearney street to play. He selected a sunny location for them, started a hat on its rounds after two or three numbers had been played and secured possibly two or three dollars for them. They showed their appreciation, quite evidently sincere, by playing a number of selections.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allmond, of Childress, visited here today with their son, Carl, who is with Bartlett's grocery store.

Miss Obie Crabtree spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. M. T. Crabtree. She is a student at Canyon.

When a Ranch Girl Crashes High Society

Imagine a girl brought up on a Western ranch, chuck-full of ranch slang and free and easy style, who is suddenly transplanted into Chicago high society, and you will have the background for "The Red-headed Step-child," a play which will be presented at the College auditorium, Friday night, March 31.

The play is being staged under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of First Methodist church, direction being in the capable hands of Mrs. U. J. Boston. The leading part is taken by Eleanor Morris, who, as Bess, the red-head, is "the horse's neigh," to borrow an expression from the play. T. D. Nored will portray the father and Mrs. Claude McGowan the stepmother. Nola Gordon, half-sister, and Bill Word, a half-brother, each have good parts.

Other members of the cast, with secondary parts, are: two matrons, Mrs. Fred Maher and Mrs. Carl Bennett, Jr.; three society girls, Jean Bourland, Pauline Sanford, Sarah Virginia McGowan. And, since no society play is worthy the name without a butler, Lawrence Hayter will do the butting in this play.

Write Friday, March 31, as "engaged" on your date book, and be on hand to enjoy a pleasant evening.

Is Compiling Old Timers' Signatures

Miss Katherine Patrick, of this city, is engaged in compiling a book of original signatures of the "Old Timers" of the entire Panhandle of Texas. When completed the very unusual collection will be presented to the new museum at Canyon which houses the relics collected by the Panhandle Historical Association.

Approximately 1,000 letters are being mailed by Miss Patrick to all "Old Timers" whose names and addresses are available, with requests for signatures on the slip of paper enclosed in the letters. The signatures will be assembled in the book. She wants only the signatures of all old timers who were living in the Panhandle prior to 1890.

Miss Patrick states that she is having a wonderful response to her letters and the signatures are coming in rapidly. Any reader of The News who can suggest names of old timers whose signatures should be in the book are requested to communicate with Miss Patrick, who is anxious to have each old timer represented in the collection. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Braswell arrived in Houston last Friday, where Mr. Braswell will go through a clinic to determine the cause of intermittent malarial trouble which has affected his health for some time. His daughter, Clarie Marie, is on the staff of the clinic as laboratory technician. They expect to be in Houston for several days.

Amazing Parallel of the Roosevelts

Both are 7th descent from Klas Mariensen van Roosevelt and both were Harvard graduates, editors of their college papers, graduates of Columbia Law School, members of New York legislature, Assistant Secretaries of the Navy (both resigned from that office), governors of New York, candidates for vice-president, each was shot at by a maniac and both became President.

SPORTS

SPORT SPUTTERS

BY O. C. WATSON, JR.

Tomorrow opens the County Meet, which will bring people from all over Donley County to Clarendon. Of course, the Track Meet Saturday will be the largest drawing card of the meet. To the Track Meet Saturday I you fans who will probably come might say that the first event starts at 1:30 p. m., therefore, you had better come early if you expect to see the best races of the afternoon. I might also mention that there will be some wonderful tennis matches played Friday morning on the college courts, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

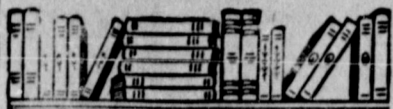

The Bronchos are again ready to go down the old lane and bring back "victory" for dear old Clarendon High which I believe they will do very easily. Unless some recent changes have been made the following boys will enter the following events:

120 yard high hurdles, Reavis, Martin, Watson.
 Pole vault, McCrary, Hudson.
 Discus throw, Martin, Behrens, McMahan.
 100 yard dash, Holtzclaw, Reavis, Hudson.
 88 yard run, Holtzclaw, Gorman, Word.
 220 yard hurdles, Reavis, Hudson, Word.
 440 yard run, Word, McCrary, Nichols, Gattis.
 Broad jump, Reavis, Watson, Martin, Bradv.
 Shot put, Linders McMahan.
 220 yard dash, Reavis, Word, Hudson.
 High jump, Martin, Watson, Mule run, Johnson.
 Javelin, Easterlian, Watson, Martin.
 Mile relay, Gorman, Hudson, Holtzclaw, McCrary.

I might also mention that this boy Martin, is showing up well in jumping practice. Friday afternoon this stalwart track star cleared the bar at 5 feet, 11 1/2 inches. Not bad for a high school boy. What do you think?

Just one week off until the meet of all meets. The Clarendon Jr. College Track Meet. The track is said to be one of the best in the Panhandle. I would like to take the opportunity to correct a statement that has been published in some of the daily papers. This meet is to be Saturday, "April 1", instead of March 31.

Out of the entries sent out some twelve have entered. Next week we expect to give you the complete information and data on this Meet. This meet is open to the World. Whether your school got an invitation or not, send in your entries at once to Frank Stocking, Clarendon Junior College. Any school is eligible for

Library Notes

By MRS. C. A. BURTON

One of our readers remarked last week that the opportunity to read "The Good Earth" had paid for her membership in the library. Pearl Buck is hard at work on her third novel of the "Good Earth" trilogy, "Sons" having been the second. She lives in New York and has done a half dozen magazine articles and one pamphlet this winter. Besides this, she does all her own work, often serving hot, home-made bread for breakfast.

At a recent Publishers' Convention Luncheon Mrs. Buck, in trying to encourage writers having trouble in placing their manuscripts said, "My Good Earth went the rounds for three years and visited twenty publishing houses before I got one publisher who would take it". The story was that eighteen of the twenty publishers who had refused this book that became such a tremendous best seller were at the luncheon. It would be interesting to know the reaction of the intelligentsia of China to the book, but so far I have seen nothing on this.

The interest in our book show extended to far-away Pittsburg, Penn., where the Clarendon News had taken its S. O. S. Call, Dr. Ruth Stocking Burton brought as a gift from herself and her husband, Joe Burton, the following books:

"Short Grass"—George W. Ogden.
 "Jinglebob"—Philip A. Rollins.
 "Wolf Song"—Ferguson.
 "Don Juan"—Ludwig Lewisohn.
 "Piracy"—Michael Arlen.
 "The Divine Lady"—E. Barrington.
 "Plumes"—Lawrence Stallings.

This expression of interest on the part of these two who still think of Clarendon as "back home", is greatly appreciated.

Phone We Deliver No. 75

English lad from an English ship who had worked on a waterfront, got a job in the big carpet mill in Yonkers, N. Y. It wasn't much of a job for wages, but it was more to his taste than washing whiskey glasses, and he did so well that he soon got a raise to eight dollars a week.

Having his evenings off, and being of a reading turn, he began to hunt the local book shop. When he came browsing, a saleswoman noted his hunger for books and gave him advice in selecting his modest purchases, lending him books that were beyond his means—introducing him to Chaucer and other great poets.

Not long since, John Masefield visited Yonkers and gave a reading at the High School. He was introduced as Poet Laureate of England who by common acclaim is the greatest living poet writing in the English tongue. And John Masefield, author of "The Everlasting Mercy", "Enslaved," and "The Dauber" was the boy from Smith's Carpet Mill whose life was changed by a taste of good literature. "The Everlasting Mercy" is the only Masefield book in our library.

MRS. BEDWELL ADVISES OF HER SAFETY FROM QUAKE

Mrs. Chas. N. Dozier received advice last week from her friend, Mrs. R. L. Bedwell, who formerly lived in this city, that "we are quite safe and well. Sorry I couldn't write sooner. Sleep in garage, keep warm and cook by camp fire in yard. Just thankful to be here."

Mrs. Bedwell, who was formerly Miss Ola Mildred Harris, moved to California with her husband some eight or ten years ago. Prior to his departure for Calif. Mr. Bedwell was in the barber business in Clarendon.

Bits Of WASHINGTON'S Current Comment

March came in like a lion. For instance, there was the quake in California. Not much need be said about that, as its details now are a matter of common knowledge.

The President's request for wide power has raised a variety of comment. Will Rogers thinks that Mr. Roosevelt has done already, shows what can really be accomplished when the country lays Congress on the shelf for a while.

The bill authorizing a salary cut and a reduction in veterans' compensation, passed by both Houses, put the poor Congressman between the upper and the nether millstones, represented on the one hand by the desires of the Executive, and on the other by what the folks at home will think, and worse still, what they may do about it.

While Congress was thinking more serious matters over, time was found for action on the wine and beer bill. Its virtues as a revenue-raiser perhaps were what carried it along to its present status.

Over in Germany, Mr. Hitler, the big-stick man of the hour, has replaced the flag of the republic with the old banner of the Kaiser's days. That is a small thing in itself, but it is a symbol of the Fatherland's current trend toward nationalism; and few countries have responded more strongly than Germany to appeals to national pride in the past.

THE ANNUAL TOLL

While deaths from automobile accidents in the United States were about 13 per cent less last year than in 1931, the total was more than 29,000. A total of more than 900,000 were injured.

Several factors contributed to the lower casualty rate last year, but to what extent each factor figured can not be determined. Car registrations were about 8 per cent less and gasoline consumption was off about 7 per cent, indicating that less miles were traveled in 1932.

But, owing to fewer replacements of old cars by new ones, it is believed that more accidents may have resulted from mechanical defects. It seems, then, that the safety warnings and the campaign of education which has been carried on by newspapers and safety councils have had a considerable effect. A marked reduction in the number of children under 15 years old who were run down in the streets is encouraging.

Statistics show that the most dangerous drivers are those between the ages of 20 and 24, thousands of whom paid with their lives for their foolish speeding and general recklessness.

More Americans have been killed in automobile accidents in the last 15 years than were killed in all the wars in the history of the United States, the total being around 325,000, while the war toll was only about 300,000 dead.

The deplorable thing about all this is that at least 90 per cent of all the automobile accidents might be prevented by the exercise of ordinary caution and common sense on the part of the drivers and pedestrians.

were jogging quietly along about our own business in 1917. It is likely that if Europe had paid her just debts, she would have had something other than war on her mind now. Yet we are better off than Europe, at that. We merely have some debts that we cannot collect. Europe is disturbed about a coming conflict at arms, which is worse than being owed money.

Passing from weighty subjects to affairs of lighter vein, it is hard to understand why the sale of jig saw puzzles kept up during the season in which income tax reports had to be made out.

John D. Rockefeller is ninety-three. Although he is no longer a man of affairs, he ought to make an entertaining neighbor. There are few who can talk first-hand about the opening of the railroad from New York to Albany, or discuss the times when the only way to get word to England was by sending a letter on a vessel that could get there in nine days.

SMELLING SALTS, QUICK!

The front office boy almost passed out Saturday morning, and would have done so if the emergency bottle of smelling salts had not been at hand. It was all an appreciative "swap column" caused by "shock" occasioned by customer, L. W. Chase, whose swap ad enabled him to make a desired trade. He fetched in a couple of dozen eggs as a sort of token. Needing the vitamins contained in 'em, we accepted 'em gratefully. And we don't want to swap 'em for anything else, either. Thanks, Mr. Chase.

Prohibition Facts By "BOZO"

"Hello, folks, I just hit town, To give you the news from all around, I'll give you the facts as they are found, For I am "Bozo" the prohibition hound."

"Bozo," the Prohibition hound, was on the job. Several of the "wise heads" were discussing the Prohibition question again.

"I tell you," said an old timer, "this Prohibition enforcement has cost our government billions of dollars."

"Bozo" scratched his head a moment and then thought of the statement made by Col. Amos W. Woodcock, director of Prohibition. The Col. had said, "The cost of enforcement from 1920 to 1931, was $284,156,524. The collections from fines and penalties and revenues from taxes on lawful and distilled and fermented liquors was $548,588,884. The net balance in favor of the government was $264,432,260. "Bozo" hopes you will consider this fact.

"Bozo" pricked up his ears again, the man was saying, "Yes, I know that beer will bring back prosperity."

"That is quite different from the statement made by Thomas Nixon Carver, Professor of Political Economy, of Harvard University," thought Bozo. He said: "To encourage the return of the saloon, or even to let up our efforts to control the drink trade will injure every legitimate industry in two ways. The average worker will have fewer dollars to spend for the products of industry, and the liquor trade will get more of these dollars which ought to go for useful industries."

"Bozo," having experienced the type of prosperity mentioned by the old timer, knows full well that dollars spent for beer are not spent for merchandise that will help men's conditions.

The man was talking again, "We all know that Prohibition has increased drinking; there is more now than there was in the good old days."

"Bozo" knew that this was not so. If the man talking even believed that he would not be talking that way. The government measured the amount of hops, corn, sugar and rye, raised and imported, subtracted the amounts used in known legal enterprises and reported the amount of raw material left would make less than a third of the former liquor consumption. Mr. Woodcock had made that report to the House Appropriation Committee. "Bozo" will be with you again next week.

DRY BATTLE IN TEXAS STARTS

SIGNS POINT TO SEVERAL "DRY" YEARS BEFORE DECISION CAN COME

(Editor's Note: The following article, reprinted from the Wichita Falls Record-News, discusses the many phases of the coming battle in Texas over legalizing the sale of beer and wine, and will be of interest to both friends and foes of beer and wines.)

Legislation to legalize beer in Texas may or may not be constitutional but a survey of expert opinion produces nothing quite so definite as the promise of a bitterly fought battle before a single schooner of suds passes over the bar.

The opinions are clearly divided. One group says the state constitution expressly forbids any sort of beverage "capable of producing intoxication" in any degree. The other side contends that legislation may define what is intoxicating just as congress is doing with the federal laws.

If the first group is correct it means Texans must sit on the dry sidelines for many years to come before even 3.2 per cent, or milder, beer can be legalized.

Is Legislature Wet?

If the second group doesn't err, real beer may be had in Texas just as soon as a majority of the legislature cares to follow in the steps of congress. And it might be well to remember that the dry forces in the statehouse at Austin have undergone no such overthrow as Washington has seen.

The driest drys say beer can't come back in Texas for many years. The wettest wets say it won't be many months.

If the present legislature does the unexpected and passes a law to conform to the federal beer bill the drys will take it to the courts. If the courts decide the legislature was within its power in defining how strong a drink may be made before it is "legally" intoxicating, the drys still could attempt to prove 3.2 per cent of 3.05 per cent beer is actually intoxicating.

So it appears that Texas brewers had just as well go slow on their promised large expenditures.

Wichitan's Views

While some legislators who are confident beer can be legalized immediately went ahead with their efforts at Austin Sunday, a "constitutional wet" in Wichita Falls might have been taking some of the wind out of their sails.

Sale of beer or wine can not be legalized in Texas without amending the present constitution, regardless of what congress does with the beer-legalizing measure now pending, according to the opinion of Judge J. T. Montgomery, veteran Wichita Falls jurist.

Questions relative to possible proposed legislation in this state, in case congress votes to legalize the sale of beer, were propounded by The Record News Sunday afternoon to Judge Montgomery for the purpose of obtaining his interpretation of the Texas constitution on the matter.

Judge Montgomery first was asked if the Texas legislature could authorize by statute the sale of beer meeting such specifications on alcoholic content as congress may authorize. He said such steps are forbidden by the present state constitution.

"No Again" "Suppose congress passes this measure, legalizing the sale of beer or fixed alcoholic content," Judge Montgomery next was asked. "If the Texas legislature then should enact legislation imposing penalties for the sale of beer above the alcoholic percentage fixed by congress, without mentioning specifically beer of lesser alcoholic content would such 'weaker' beer be legalized for sale in this state merely through the absence of direct prohibition?"

Again Judge Montgomery said no.

"In my opinion," he added, "nothing can be done in Texas to legalize the sale of intoxicating liquors without amending the constitution."

Wets Confident

Under the Hughes ratification bill plan, already approved by the Texas house, a simple majority of Texas votes in November, 1934, will determine whether Texas approves or refuses ratification to repeal of Morris Sheppard's 18th amendment to the federal constitution. Wets now claim they will have an easy time in carrying the election.

But in the zeal of a dry majority, when Texas had it, the state prohibition amendment was nailed down much harder than that.

Congress, by definition, has agreed that beer and wines of 3.2 or 3.05 alcoholic content by weight will not legally be constructed as intoxicating. Texas cannot define away its constitutional bar against any sort of beverage 'capable of producing intoxication," it is claimed. A mass of prohibition-modifying legislation is before the Texas house and senate. (To Be Continued Next Week)

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels. That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. W. B. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN A Doctor's Family Laxative

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs. When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they ther." Bonham said. "I will report the result of my mission or die in the attempt." (Smith reported this conversation after the fall of the Alamo.)

As Bonham came in sight of the Alamo, displaying the sign, a white handkerchief waving from his hat, the gates were thrown open and he rode swiftly, through the lines of Mexican bayonets and whistling bullets, into the open gates. "Such shouts and cheers went up from the Texans who greeted his safe arrival that, for the moment, the enemy ceased firing to look upon that brave man."

After paying tribute to many of the Texans who helped in shaping the destiny of Texas, Mr. Patman took up at some length the life of Sam Houston, often called the "Washington of Texas, whom he said "stands among the public men of Texas,

Gasoline Tax Evasion Made Difficult by Teeth in New Law, Effective at once

AUSTIN, Tex., March 23.—The shroud of darkness that has robbed Texas of $4,000,000 in tax revenues yearly and permitted development of a tremendous "racket" in the gasoline business has been torn away by the teeth in the new gas tax enforcement law, in the opinion of close observers at the capitol.

The bill, passed by both houses, was signed by the Governor Tuesday. It becomes effective immediately as an emergency measure, and repeals all previous legislation on the subject.

The new law makes deliberate evasion of the gasoline tax a felony, with fines of from $100 to $5,000, jail sentences of from one to six months and penitentiary terms up to two years.

It creates a motor fuel tax division under the state comptroller, with two lawyers and a full force of investigators, auditors, chemists, etc., yet at no new cost to the taxpayers, for a fraction of one percent of the gas tax is set aside to pay them. Their activities are expected to recover at least $4,000,000 a year.

The new law sets a chemical standard for gasoline. Provisions by law dealing with manufacture, transportation and marketing of gasoline are regarded as "thief-proof" as possible. Complete sets of interlocking records must be kept, from the run of crude oil until the gasoline goes into a motorist's car. They must be open to inspection at any time.

Books must also be kept on kerosene, naphtha and other tax-free fuels commonly blended with gasoline, and retailers may be checked to see if they sold such fluids under their proper names. This will be a serious check on blending the commonest form of tax evasion, by which a retailer mixes tax-free fluids with tax-paid gasoline, and collects tax on the entire amount.

The old familiar answer of "I don't know" to official questioners is now outlawed. The records must show. Every dealer must post the gas tax separately from the price of gasoline, so that a motorist with average intelligence can draw his own conclusions. And every dealer must show the name of the firm which paid the tax.

Even trucks, tank cars and all other vehicles that transport motor fuel must be ready at all times to give proof that the tax has been paid. Every truck driver must carry a manifest showing pointed out today the fact that every peace officer in Texas is

Legion Meeting Well Attended

The regular meeting of the Aubyn E. Clark Post, No. 126, American Legion, which was held Tuesday night at the Legion Hall, was well attended. Post Commander Ralph Kerbow states that about 35 or 40 members were present, and he is highly gratified over the fine interest in the regular meetings which is being shown by so many of the members.

Following the routine of regular business coming before the Post, the members engaged in a social hour. Guests whose presence was greatly appreciated were Post Commander A. L. Simmons, Adjutant Daugherty and Louis E. Thompson, Mayor of Hedley, and all members of the Legion Post at Hedley.

past and present, without a peer." He added, "as the years pass, his fame grows greater and his utterances on the burning questions agitating the country on the eve of the Civil War now seem to have been almost as prophetic as were those of the Old Testament."

Supporting this statement, he reviewed a number of incidents in the life of the great Texan which revealed his uncanny insight into the probable effect of debated courses of action. Houston served two terms as President of the Texas Republic, and after its admission to the Union, was elected Senator, his second and last term expiring in March, 1859. During the same year he was elected governor of Texas, serving his state until its legislature voted to secede from the Union—a course to which he was always bitterly opposed, and which resulted in his office being declared vacant, because he would not take an oath to support the Confederate constitution. This ended the political career of a man who was always true to his convictions, at whatever cost to him.

Mr. Patman concluded his interesting talk with the story of the life of Stephen F. Austin, a bronze tablet on whose grave calls him "The Father of Texas", for whom its capitol city is named, as the capitol city of the United States was named for "The Father of his country."

Greater Variety

Which?

We frankly admit that in a larger retail center, you will have the opportunity of a wider selection, from a greater variety of merchandise.

But . . . are you willing, Mrs. Customer, to sacrifice the privilege of an exclusive selection, for greater variety?

For example, when a large store in a metropolitan center places an order for dresses, they order three dozen in assorted sizes. Our local merchants seldom buy more than one garment of a kind.

The selection of that garment is often made with you or your next door neighbor in mind, thus affording you the opportunity of owning and wearing an exclusive garment at a popular price, and without the embarrassment of meeting your maid some morning with an exact duplicate of your dress.
