The highest appreciation of the general public is due to the members of the county and local committee in charge of the cotton acreage reduction program in Donley County.

Members of the county committee have expressed keen appreciation of the spirit which is being shown by the farmers, a large part of whom seem anxious to do their part.

Rev. E. B. Bowen, pastor of the church here, will begin a revival next Sunday for the Methodist at Panhandle, and will be absent from his pulpit for two Sundays.

ACTION DEEMED NECESSARY TO CARRY OUT COTTON REDUCTION PROGRAM

As the first move toward restoration of County Agent work in Donley County, the Commissioners' Court voted Monday an appropriation of $600 to apply, together with funds which, it is understood, will be supplied by the Extension Service of A. & M. College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

T. R. Brown, who was county agent until Oct. 1, 1932, serving in that capacity for about three years previous, was named as the choice of the court as county agent, subject to approval by the Extension Service.

NEGRO IS KILLED BY PISTOL SHOT

BILL JONES DIES FROM SHOT IN STOMACH BY TAFT CLEMONS

Bill Jones, a negro about 21 years old, died Tuesday about 1:00 p. m., shortly after being shot by Taft Clemmons, another local negro, following a fight in which Clemmons received two scalp cuts.

The killing followed a fight which started in a house in the negro settlement, continued in the yard. Clemmons sustained a deep scalp wound on the back of his head and another on his forehead.

By collecting six birdies and three pars, Joe Tom Nuckles of Chillicothe established a new nine-hole course record of 20, under par figures, at the Vernon Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday afternoon.

NUCKLES SETS COURSE RECORD

SCORE OF 29, SIX UNDER PAR AT HILLCREST CLUB IN VERNON LAST WEEK

By collecting six birdies and three pars, Joe Tom Nuckles of Chillicothe established a new nine-hole course record of 20, under par figures, at the Vernon Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday afternoon.

Nuckles came in with the 29 after taking a 37, two over par, on the first nine. The 13-hole total of 66 strokes fell short of the 18-hole record of 63, also held by Farrell, Anderson and Rogers.

Commenting the Vernon Record says: "In hanging up his record-breaking score, Nuckles, 1932 Tri-County, Chillicothe and Seymour champion, barely missed an eagle on No. 8 and a birdie two on No. 9."

COUNTY QUOTA OF 21,000 ACRES BELIEVED ASSURED BY CHECK-UP; CAMPAIGN CLOSES WEDNES.

Complete success of the cotton acreage reduction program in Donley County was forecast late Wednesday night by J. F. Ford, Emergency Agricultural Assistant, in a telegram to O. B. Martin, director of the Extension Service, College Station.

The telegram said: "Acreage reduction approved and contracts still in process of clearing 12,175 stop total assured reduction 16,256 acres stop estimated acreage to be offered on contracts still in hands of community committees 5,000 stop Donley county, Texas, will probably easily reach quota."

Contracts for the first 4,081 acres, already forwarded to Washington, were signed by 125 farmers. Other offers of acreage, now being checked by the county committee, totalling 12,175 acres, were signed by 512 farmers.

Over $200,000 Cash Over $200,000 in cash will be poured into the pockets of Donley county farmers if the cotton acreage reduction plan is declared effective by the Department of Agriculture, as now seems practically assured.

Analysis of the offers of the first 406 farmers showed an average of $330 in cash per farmer. Total acres planted by the 406 farmers, 30,915; offered to be taken out of production, 11,288 or 37.6 per cent.

Lint Claims Reasonable The county committee expressed great satisfaction over the fact that the average lint production per acre, on the 4,081 acres of offers already sent to Washington, was approximately 172 pounds per acre.

This average puts Donley county in the 150-174 pound bracket of the cash payment table, and in line with the average production for the county for the past 5-year period.

Don't Plow Up Yet Constant warnings against plowing up cotton until authorized are being made daily from Washington and from College Station.

Not only in Donley county is the acreage reduction campaign regarded as a complete success. Administrators expressed confidence Wednesday night, as reports poured into Washington from all sectors, that the Government's objective of 10,000,000 acres of cotton removed from production would undoubtedly be reached, with the possibility of surpassing BASEBALL GAME SUNDAY The Chamberlain baseball team announces that a game has been scheduled by them with the Claude team, at Claude next Sunday afternoon.

The Claude team has been defeated only one time and the Chamberlain team expects the game to be an interesting one, but are confident of their ability to win against them.

COTTON WORKERS GUESTS OF LIONS

PROGRESS OF WORK TOLD; MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE EXPRESS OPTIMISM

Three members of the County Committee of the cotton acreage reduction campaign now under way in Donley county were guests of the Clarendon Lions Club at its regular Tuesday luncheon.

Over $200,000 in cash will be poured into the pockets of Donley county farmers if the cotton acreage reduction plan is declared effective by the Department of Agriculture, as now seems practically assured.

Mr. Boykin presented some interesting facts on the progress of the campaign up to Monday night, with the explanation that the figures given are not the final figures, as an extension of time until Wednesday night had been granted.

The county committee expressed great satisfaction over the fact that the average lint production per acre, on the 4,081 acres of offers already sent to Washington, was approximately 172 pounds per acre.

He added that the committee estimated that the offers already in hand represented, in the opinion of the committee, about 60 per cent of the total number of offers expected to come in by Wednesday night.

J. G. McDougal, of Hedley, said, "I don't know what the Chamber of Commerce is paying Mr. Boykin, with whom I have not before had opportunity to come into close contact, but as I have worked with him and listened to him talk with the farmers, I have concluded that they are probably not paying him what he is worth."

LESS TAXES—NOT DIFFERENT TAXES

In addressing a group of citizens recently, Speaker O'Malley of the Nebraska legislature expressed opposition to either a sales tax or an income tax, and said that new taxes cannot solve the problem—which is simply that of finding means to make necessary, less taxes.

Tax shifting is by way of becoming the most popular legislative sport. Levies are taken off real estate—and put on investments. Personal property taxes are reduced—and an additional tax is placed against incomes. The assessor sends a new and different blank—but the check that goes back is as large or larger than before.

The principal difference between government and business is this: Business estimates how much it may reasonably expect to take in during a given period, and governs what it spends accordingly. Government estimates how much it wants to spend—and then goes out to get the revenue. As a result, in a time of declining national income, when business recession, unemployment and agricultural and industrial distress are at unprecedented levels, the budget is unbalanced, national and state indebtedness continues to rise—and new avenues of taxation are being explored.

We must choose between tax reduction and national financial ruin. "Tax strikes" in many parts of the country are indicative of the way the wind is blowing. Unless office holders voluntarily find ways to reduce the burden of government, the people will take matters in their own hands and force reduction down political throats.

(This editorial was published in a Nebraska paper. It applies, with equal force, to Texas.)

EVERYONE A TAXPAYER

The Mukwango Chief settles the discussion about who the taxpayers are.

"It strikes us that some clarification is needed as to just who and what a taxpayer is. . . . It has been amply demonstrated that we are all taxpayers, whether directly or indirectly. If we own and operate a car, we are taxpayers; if we mail letters we are taxpayers; (for if the additional one cent letter postage isn't a tax, what is it?); if we write checks, we are taxpayers. Surely, if we pay rent we are taxpayers, for the money we pay in rent helps the property owner to meet his taxes.

"So, then, we are ALL taxpayers."

"THE FARM ACT IS MORE THAN A FARM ACT"

Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, is the son of a former secretary of agriculture. Both he and his father were farm-trained men. Their agricultural journal, Wallace's Farmer, is one of the most influential farm publications. Henry A. Wallace's conception of what the Farm Act means is therefore worth knowing. He says that it is more than a Farm Act.

Quoting from his article in the Country Home: "Agriculture is not the only group which has been hurt. Consumers of whom farmers are part have also been dealt with unjustly. So have those millions who stand in the ranks of labor. . . . Agricultural production is disorganized and at war within itself. Similarly, the food distributing groups, operating largely at random, have in many instances entered upon programs of cutthroat competition. There is little hope in the present system for any of us. We must change our outlook all along the line. Farmers, manufacturers, and laborers are all in the same boat now. This is not a time to call one another names.

"The distribution system, in frontier days, was planned and orderly. The frontier farm. . . was laid out and tilled in relation to the amount of wheat or potatoes or flax that the family could consume in the course of a year. . . . But now the products of any one farm move in blind competition upon the markets with the products of six and a half million other farms; and the once simple job of distribution has developed into a complicated series of special services, confused, disintegrated, with no central plan. Rugged individualism, running wild, has reduced this rich country to desolation; and I hold that we are all accountable in part."

After pointing out the increasing gap between farm prices and raw materials and the prices paid by consumers since 1929, Mr. Wallace says, "At the close of 1932 the prices paid farmers were down 61 per cent, the prices paid by the consumer were down 36 per cent. 'Food and Tobacco Lead in Earnings' said a headline in the New York Times last spring. Such companies 'furnished nine of the fifteen greatest profit makers in a compilation than ran back to 1929.'"

"It is apparent now to everyone," he continues, "that the great corporations for their own sake must be protected from themselves. . . . These huge institutions can in the long run save themselves only by subscribing sincerely to the doctrine of a shared prosperity. . . . Whenever it becomes necessary to impose processing taxes on basic farm products and to provide the payments for farmers, we have certainly a just reason for going so. And if these business agencies try to pyramid these taxes, or pass them back to the producer, or pass them in undue measure to the consumer, we have the power and the intention to come down on them, hard. In the big concerns, at least, there plainly appears a margin which would allow them to take up a little slack," he says. Here is a direct warning to offenders and assurance to both farmer and consumer. . . .

"We shall offer all those in the distribution trades the chance of great economies for the common good and their own, if they will come together like gentlemen in trade agreements, cut straight paths through detours on the road market, eliminate unfair trade practices, reduce duplication of effort, and stop trying to cut one another's throats. We shall use the licensing power of the Act, if we have to, to enforce the agreements. The real power is not to grant the license, but to revoke it. As things are now, the better element in business finds itself too often helpless in the face of ruinous practices by a few marvericks. If even ten per cent of a trade persists in these practices, they make decency and order impossible for all. . . .

"We live in a changed world. . . . We have conquered famine. We have invented means of release from drudgery and of protection from flood and plague. We have created superabundance of goods and services, yet millions of blameless men and women have lost the savings of a lifetime; they have lost their jobs or their farms, they have lost their faith and their self-respect, and they live in the shadow of want. This is because we know as yet little about controlling the flood of plenty, and the plague of unfair distribution. The task is plain. We must learn how to live with abundance. Sometimes I think it requires stronger characters, greater hearts, and keener minds to endure abundance than it does to endure scarcity. Certainly it requires a new degree of tolerance among competing groups. We must unite and set going new measures by which this nation may live in a balanced abundance, at peace with itself."

Mr. Wallace reveals the great objective of the Farm Act. It reaches far beyond its benefits to the farmer alone. All America joins him in hoping that "the Farm Act can be operated in that spirit. A bill in itself and of itself cannot have a soul. It is up to the men in the distributing trades, and to the consuming public to furnish such aid and understanding as will provide this Farm Emergency Act, and all the industrial adjustment measures which have grown out of it, with a soul. If our present great effort to set things right is furnished within a soul fraught with bitterness, the Act and the machinery we set up will fail. If we approach it in a spirit of co-operation, it can succeed."

Held by bandits, John Clark of Boston offered to take them home with him and get them some money. John Knowles of Preston, Eng. was fined for ducking a dairy maid in a milk tank when she said he was lazy.

DAN BELL AND DAUGHTER TO CALIFORNIA SOON

A letter from Dan Bell, former Clarendon citizen, says that he and Miss Louise, his daughter, expect to leave soon for California, where they will visit several friends, some of whom formerly lived in Clarendon.

One of their friends is the daughter of Billy Golightly, "the other two Till White and Mary Lou Parks. Her father was Sam Parks, now of Electra. Mr. Parks was marshal in Clarendon when the shops were here. Parks was hard-boiled and not as courteous as "Flop Pyle." Another friend whom they will visit on their California trip is Cliff White, who received his education in Clarendon, according to Mr. Bell.

"Who can doubt God exists who sees the color of the tiniest flower? The great question is, which of us shall see Him, since only the 'pure in Heart' are admitted to His presence.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE STATISTICS RELEASED

The Bureau of the Census announces that, according to returns received, there were 981,759 marriages in the United States in 1932, as compared with 1,079,191 in 1931. These figures represent a decrease of 79,032 or 7.5 per cent. There was a decrease of 5.9 per cent from 1930 to 1931.

During 1932 there were 160,329 divorces granted in the United States, as compared with 183,664 in 1931, representing a decrease of 23,345 or 12.7 per cent, as against a decrease of 4.1 per cent from 1930 to 1931. There were 8,900 marriage annulments in 1932, as compared with 4,339 in 1931.

The estimated population of continental United States on July 1, 1932, was 124,822,000, and on July 1, 1931, 124,070,000. On the basis of these estimates, the number of marriages per 1,000 of population was 7.9 in 1932 as against 8.5 in 1931, and the number of divorces per 1,000 of population was 1.28 in 1932 as against 1.48 in 1931.

Because of numerous requests for this information, the relative number of marriages to each divorce has been computed in 1932, for the U. S. as a whole, 6.1 marriages for each divorce was reported, as against 5.8 in 1931.

In Texas, 40,192 marriages in 1932 compares with 40,512 in 1931. This indicates 2.8 marriages for each divorce per 1,000 of population.

Discovered . . . An Honest Man

A modern Diogenes, searching with his lantern in the hidden and unfrequented corners of the nation for that rare specimen of the genius homo could end his questing crusade in Childress.

W. G. Redding, working under the employ of the R. F. C. happened to be under the trees near the national highway two miles east of Childress the afternoon of July 4th when he espied a pocket-book. It contained $112.05, including a $50, a $20, three $10s, two $5s and some silver.

In spite of the fact that under the duress of the depression with its curtailed employment, life has not been easy on him and his wife, son and daughter, he promptly delivered the wallet to the officers of the work-for-unemployed. From there it was sent to the address given on an identification card enclosed. A party from Dallas stopping for a noon day lunch had dropped the money.

In a wire sent to Jerry Debenport upon finding their loss the Dallas party stated that they would offer a reward for the recovery of the lost pocketbook.—Childress Daily Index.

After convicting a man in Pontiac, Mich., of stealing pies, the jurors ate several pies introduced as evidence.

DULL HEADACHES GONE SIMPLE REMEDY DOES IT

"I SEE by the PAPERS"

Bits of news and editorial thought from nearby papers

Another Dry Editor Horace I. Trout, new editor-owner of the Childress County News, comes out flat-footed against the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, giving his reasons for his position in clean-cut phrasing. His stand is that of an overwhelming majority of Texas editors—in fact, if Texas editors had the power to decide the issue, the repeal of the Amendment would never be ratified by Texas. But let's see how Mr. Trout feels about it:

"We are opposed to repeal because nothing has been offered in Texas as a substitute to prevent the open saloon. We have seen conditions before the eighteenth amendment and since and know what we are talking about. We cannot afford to put the state back where it was prior to the amendment's adoption. We are opposed to the sale of intoxicating liquor first as a moral issue. We are opposed to it in the second place as an economic or business proposition.

The fact that the liquor interests are working hard for repeal and spending vast sums to that end and that drinking men are favoring repeal indicates further argument that we have less liquor made and sold and drunk now than if repeal is voted. The majority of the people of this county do not honestly want more liquor and its increased contaminating influence in this county. Many honest men and women will vote for repeal considering it a "loyalty to the president" issue. This editor voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Garner and we are stronger for the president now than then. We do not consider it a vote of support for the president as much as we do a vote of conscience. Mr. Roosevelt is too great a man an too good a Democrat to insist upon any citizen voting without conscientious consideration of all values in every issue. We are for the president in his major program but against liquor.

For it is a certain fact that when we vote for more liquor we are voting for devastating competition with our great dairying industry, our big soft drink industries, ice cream manufacturing, and other industries of similar nature, to say nothing of the baneful effect it would have on the business of every food store, clothing and drug store in this state.

"Faithfully Yours"

A well-known West Texan has written a large number of friends warning them against practices of his own brother, who, it is stated, is guilty of extremely sharp practices. This writer received one of the letters. The Plainview Herald received one and wrote aptly as follows:

There is a lot of manhood behind those letters. In the hope of protecting his friends and the public that fine old boy had to write many people who would probably otherwise never have known of the circumstances which so heavily bear down on the spirits of him today.

It was no pleasant thing, or no easy thing to write such a letter to friends. But it was a manly thing.—Pampa Daily News.

Miami Chief: The great fight is on in Texas to repeal the 18th Amendment and for 3.2 per cent beer. We are of the opinion that neither will pass. The people have fought too long in Texas for prohibition and there are too many drys to let it carelessly slip from under them in order to balance any budget. We, who have lived during the days of the open saloon, are not going to stand for this opening wedge of the breweries to force open saloons on us again. If there were no better reason than the car wrecks caused by intoxicated drivers we would refrain from voting for repeal, which would make it a hundred times worse. We will vote to keep the 18th amendment and to keep 3.2 beer out of our air state, in spite of the efforts now being made by some of the Democratic leaders at Washington and in Texas to repeal. We dry democrats resent this domineering spirit and will not be driven by their wet whip.

McLean News: "August 26 is the date to remember this summer. On that date we will have a chance to say whether we want the forces of evil again in the saddle in Texas with booze in power or whether we will keep our record clean in this regard."

Higgins News: "August 26, Texas stands at the cross roads. The date will spell much. How much, time will tell. Frances Willard once said that she was working for the future children of the nation. She was not working for self nor for money, nor yet for fame, but she was working for the boys and for the girls of the future. The boys who grow up clean and manly will be clean and manly men. The girls who grow up womanly will be womanly when they assume the duties of womanhood. Texas the eyes of the children are upon you."

Special Message to John McCarty: Your paper reaches us each week rolled up like a Roman candle, John. We have to use a pocketknife to get it open. And when it's cut open we need four hands to hold it so we can read it. Speak to the mailing department about it, John. (P. S.: You're not the only one whose mailing department does his subscribers wrong, John. We're pickin' on you because you're fat and good-humored and will take it standing up.)

THE SEVEN WONDERS (Kerville Mountain Sun)

Nearly everyone has heard of the seven wonders of the world, but probably few could name them and fewer could tell what became of them. Those interested in such things might clip this out for their scrap book.

The seven wonders of the world were so named by Antipater, a writer of Palestine, about 200 B. C., as follows:

The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, destroyed in 484 B. C., more than 100 years before they were listed among the wonders. The Temple of Diana at Ephesus, burned in 262 A. D.

The Statue of Zeus at Olympus, destroyed in 408.

The Colossus of Rhodes, sold for junk in 653.

The Lighthouse of Pharos at Alexandria fell in an earthquake in 1375.

The Mausoleum of Artemisia, destroyed in 1402.

The Pyramid of Cheops, the only one of the "Seven Wonders" still in existence.

Such were the seven wonders of the ancient world. Many lists of modern wonders have been made, but a recent writer selects not the perishable works of man but the discoveries and inventions which have revolutionized civilization.

He names the radio, the telephone, the airplane, the antiseptic, spectrum analysis and radium. Whether his list is the best that might be made or not, the wonders mentioned will survive as long as humanity exists, bestowing untold benefits upon man kind.

Farmers Holiday Association Meet

Milo Reno, of Des Moines, Iowa, and president of the National Farmers Holiday Association, will speak in Memphis on Friday afternoon, July 21, according to information received here from Judge L. Gough of Amarillo, chairman of the board of directors of the Texas division of the association.

Mr. Reno will make two speeches in Texas, one at Plainview and one at Memphis, it was learned. He is making a tour of the states in behalf of the association, and it is believed that Texas farmers, especially in this section of the country, will give him a good attendance.

Other papers of this district are asked by Judge Gough to give publicity to the meeting in Memphis.—Hedley Informer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brittain of Ironton, Texas are visiting Mrs. Brittain's mother, Mrs. O. L. Fink.

George Reed and daughter, Gertrude of Stratford were Clarendon visitors over the week end.

Hearing Friday On Condemnations

A hearing will be held Friday on the condemnation suits filed last week by County Attorney R. Y. King to secure right of way for Highway No. 5 from Clarendon to the Armstrong county line. Suits were filed against four property owners who have refused to accept the appraisals of the jury of view appointed to purchase right of way.

County Judge S. W. Lowe states that indications point to an early closing of right of way contracts for two portions of the highway—that from Clarendon to the Armstrong county line and from Hedley to the Hall county line. The court hopes to complete the work in time for at least these two parts of No. 5 to participate in the August lettings of contracts by the State Highway Commission. The Armstrong county part of No. 5 will be let complete next week, it is believed, as the commissioners' court in that county was able to secure right of way deeds some time ago for the entire route without any difficulty.

"FIVE GREAT THINGS"

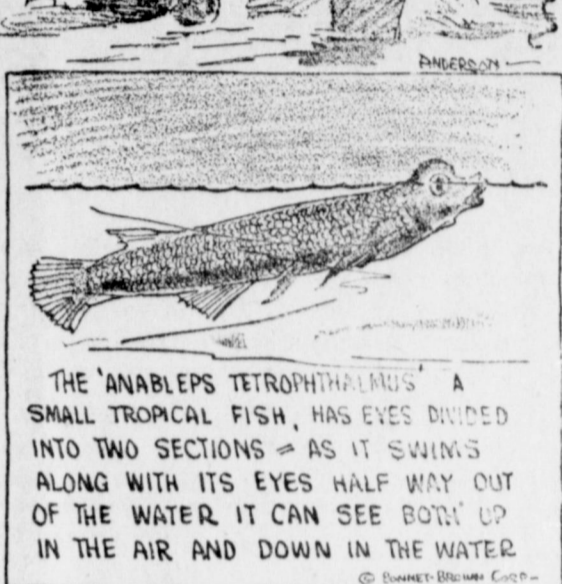

1. The greatest thing on earth is the soul of man: It's value is infinitely beyond comparison with anything else. One soul is greater than the universe. "For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Matt. 16:26) This is the divine valuation put upon man and his soul by Christ, the Master of the soul.

2. The greatest work is the salvation of the soul from sin. Salvation relieves misery and confers more happiness than all the works of all philanthropists. "And fear not them which kill the body, but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." (Matt. 10:28) "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great a salvation: which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard Him." Heb. 2:3.

3. The greatest evil is sin, issuing from the heart, the source of all suffering death. "Wherefore as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." Rom. 5:12. See also Rom. 7:24.

4. The gospel is the only remedy for sin and sorrow. Other remedies are spurious and ineffectual. "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation, to everyone that believeth,

ODD BUT TRUE

"Bishop" Hardy

Rev. G. S. Hardy, father-in-law of M. R. Allensworth who became connected recently with the Donley County State Bank of this city, is one of the noblest and best loved of the older Methodist preachers of the Northwest Texas Conference. He was licensed to preach in 1885 in the old Northwest Texas Conference whose southern boundary extended well into central Texas. When the original Conference was divided into Central and Northwest Texas conferences, he remained in the Northwest Texas conference, in which he was active until a few years ago.

He laid claims this week to being the "bishop or great-presiding-elder, at least," of the Clarendon News by reason of the fact that he was formerly the presiding elder of the fathers of three members of the Clarendon News family—Rev. J. H. Braswell, father of Sam M. Braswell, owner of The News, Rev. J. W. Story, father of Fred A. Story, managing editor, and Rev. M. M. Beavers, father of Morris Griswold Beavers, pressman and make-up man.

Bro. Hardy was presiding elder at a dinner with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Love, and family Sunday with Miss Evelyn Dunning, Mrs. Smith is visiting her sister, Mrs. Collier. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nicks of Trench, visited Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Gregg and family. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Harold, Misses Jessie and Margaret and Mr. Jimmie Swinburn surprised Mrs. Swinburn with a birthday dinner Sunday. Miss Athlyu Drennon spent Sunday with Miss Dola Ferguson.

over Rev. Braswell when the latter was at Meridian, in the Gatesville district; over Rev. J. W. Story when he was at Hereford, in the Plainview district; and over Rev. M. M. Beavers when he was at Canyon, where the later built the beautiful Methodist church now in use there.

The News family proudly acknowledges whatever claim Bro. Hardy wants to make as spiritual relationship and earnestly hopes that its policies shall always be such a to merit his approval and "official function." Unworthy indeed would they be if they failed to stand firmly for the things for which their fathers stood so firmly through all the active years of their lives—as did their beloved presiding-elder, "Brother" G. S. Hardy—loved far and wide as a Man of God.

Large advertisement for Chevrolet cars: 'STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH! —neither strong enough, nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car like CHEVROLET. Why is it that every 12-cylinder and 16-cylinder car in America has bodies of steel reinforced by hardwood? Why is it that every make of car selling for over $4000 uses bodies of exactly the same type? Why? For the same reason that Chevrolet uses it exclusively. Because every test and every experiment have definitely proved: STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH! The trouble with steel alone is that it stands just so much shock and punishment. Steel alone is also inclined to rumble and rattle. BUT—when you put the two together—a heavy, staunch steel body over tough, solid hardwood—then the hardwood reinforces the steel—and vice versa! And the result: the strongest, safest type of body, such as Fisher builds for Chevrolet. CHEVROLET MOTOR CO., DETROIT, MICH. All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan. Special equipment extra. the excellent work which is being done by all the committees gave assurance that quick action should be taken on the offer of acreage now going into Washington daily from Donley county. He was unable to give any assurance as to when the flow of money into the county would begin, but said that he believed it would start as quickly as in any county, as soon as the assigned quota was definitely reached.

At this point Mr. Boykin rose to say that Donley county offers of acreage would be considered as a "unit" by Washington completing the quota and of maintaining an average claim of lint per acre reasonably close to the 5-year average of 167 pounds per acre.

W. H. Patrick, who addressed a meeting of farmers at Hedley on the cotton deal and who has assisted greatly, as have the other bankers here, in the work of filling out blanks, expressed his approval of the progress of the work, and stressed the importance of keeping the lint production claims, in total, as close to the 5-year average as possible. He and other speakers emphasized the intention of the owners of high-producing land committees to avoid penalizing the owners of high-producing land for the benefit of owners of known low-producing land.

The meeting was in charge of Ira Merchant, president for the past year, who will be succeeded soon by the new president, T. D. Nored, who is attending the annual convention of the International Association of Lions clubs at St. Louis, Mo.

it, Texas' part of the program is 4,500,000 acres.

Officials believe now that the action of the farmers will cut cotton production from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 bales. It is also said that all of the 2,400,000 bales of spot cotton now held by the Government may be required to fill the options taken by farmers of the 16 cotton growing states.

Secretary Henry A. Wallace is highly gratified over the truly remarkable unity of action shown by the cotton farmers of the South. Nothing like it has ever before happened and it is believed to mark the beginning of a new day in agriculture.
