TWO WEEKS' REVIVAL CAMPAIGN OPENS SECOND SUNDAY IN APRIL

Bob Weatherly, principal of the Jericho school, was happy Saturday when in town. He has been re-elected to his present job and "there is a raise in the envelope." We congratulate you, Professor. On top of that, Mr. Weatherly says his school district has paid cash on its vouchers all along. Which also is something in this day of vouchers!

That rain of Sunday was a boon to this whole section. Many towns in the Panhandle and plains country report snow of from two to nine inches in depth. Tulsa reported nine inches. Plainview reported it began snowing there on Saturday night and continued all day Sunday.

Clarendon folks will miss Rev. B. N. Shepherd. He leaves next week for Lubbock where he will live. He has been made missionary for 21 counties of the South Plains area. Not only his congregation at the First Baptist church will miss him but the entire citizenship will miss his services in a general way for the community. He has been here four years and four months, during which period he has made himself an integral part of the community as well as its church life.

Much publicity has been given Clarendon and Donley County by wide publication of the story of the one-pupil school in the Bairfield district of which Miss Zell Rodgers is the teacher. Miss Rodgers has already gotten numerous letters from here, there and everywhere as a result of the publicity. One feature of the publicity is that the United Press "found out" at last there was such a story and wired last Friday for 200 words to be sent them immediately by telegraph.

The Associated Press also got the story. The story also was picked up by several neighboring papers last week. The Denver Post, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Star Telegram and Record-News all carried pictures of Ida Mae Wiedman, the pupil, and her teacher.

METHODISTS BEGIN REVIVAL APRIL 8TH

TWO WEEKS' REVIVAL CAMPAIGN OPENS SECOND SUNDAY IN APRIL

A two week's revival meeting will begin at the Methodist Church, Sunday, April 8th, with Rev. Frank M. Neal, well-known West Texas Evangelist, doing the preaching, according to announcement some weeks ago by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Bowen.

REV. FRANK M. NEAL

Morning and evening services will be held on schedules to be announced later and the singing will be in charge of Robert Watkins, song-leader of Hedley, who has established quite a reputation as an evangelistic worker.

Rev. Neal, who lives in Amarillo, is one of the most forceful evangelical preachers in the Panhandle, is well-known here, and will be remembered as having conducted a very successful revival here some twelve years ago.

The Christian people of the community regardless of church affiliation are invited to join in the effort of quickened spiritual life in the town, and for invitation to the lost to come to Christ, says Rev. Bowen.

CWA Work Ends; Only Relief Aid Until April 16th

Registration for CCC Camp recruits are now being taken, time for registering closing Saturday at noon.

The following statement was issued by Relief Director Baker today: CWA work which terminates Thursday night at midnight, contrary to previous reports, will not be supplemented by a work relief program until April 16th; and at this time no definite instructions have been received covering any work relief program. During that time no work will be in operation; and direct relief for absolute necessities ONLY will be issued.

REV. B. N. SHEPHERD

Registration for CCC Camp recruits are now being taken, time for registering closing Saturday at noon. No registrations or applications will be taken after that time, and only those who are strictly eligible for relief will be considered. It is expected that Donley County will be allowed to send 61 nth CCC call.

Money has been received to purchase garden seed which will be issued to those on relief rolls who have places for gardens.

and serious loss to our congregation. He has been one of the most ardent workers we have ever known in our pastors in former years. He has the unanimous co-operation of every member of the church, with the co-operative support of all in all his work.

Rev. Shepherd has done an invaluable piece of service to the whole community in personally getting the Boy Scout movement revived here after it had died a natural death due to commercialism of former outside leaders. Brother Shepherd quietly started a troop in our church, using two of our young men for the work. Now there are two troops in town and likely will be a third soon.

The church wishes Brother Shepherd and his family the best success and happiness possible in their new work.

Entertainment will be provided for the ladies during the business session which starts at 6. The banquet is set for 7:30 at the Antro Hotel dining room.

Approximately 200 persons are expected to attend the Spring group meeting of District 10 of the Lions clubs in Clarendon Thursday afternoon and night of next week.

President T. D. Nored of the local club reports everything will be ready for entertaining of the second vice-president of Lions International, R. J. Osenbaugh of Denver, and several scores of Lions and their wives from five or six adjoining clubs.

Clubs in this district include: McLean, Pampa, Miami and Claude. These clubs will send large delegations. Delegations also are expected from Amarillo, Childress, Panhandle and other points.

Otis had been at the filling station only a few minutes before the two hi-jackers came along."

Orbie reported to Sheriff Pierce at once. The sheriff rode out to the Knight's corner and tried to see whether or not the hi-jackers' car had turned back toward town after letting Mayo out. But the rain-soaked ground showed little trace.

Sheriff Pierce Monday gave out a statement to the press in which he declared the description given by young Mayo whole indicate one of the two hi-jackers might be the escaped convict Bybee and his pal in the escape last week from a Crockett, Texas jail. Police and Sheriff's depart-

Resigns

Announcement was made last Sunday by Rev. B. N. Shepherd of his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist church of Clarendon, effective at once.

Rev. Shepherd has been doing a fine job at fulfilling the pastoral duties of his church for four years and four months. His resignation came as a surprise to the community of which he has made himself a very much worthwhile citizen.

City Dads Stand For Re-Election Tuesday, Apr. 3rd

The elections are coming up for local voters next week.

The City of Clarendon will elect two men to the City Council. The city election is next Tuesday, April 3rd. The other election is for trustees on Saturday, April 7. All school districts in Donley County will hold trustee elections.

In the city commissioner election, both the old commissioners have announced for re-election. They are A. L. Chase and Joe Holland. They are being opposed by Tom Connally and Harry C. Brumley.

Much interest is being manifested in the city race. It is expected a big vote will be recorded.

Ernest Pope spent the past week in Memphis.

THREE MILES TO CITY LIMITS TO BE READY SOON

MAINTENANCE FOREMAN ANNOUNCES NEW ROAD READY FOR PUBLIC

Highway 5 is gradually coming into its own! Announcement was made this morning by Maintenance Foreman Y. A. Rankin of the State Highway department that 12 miles of the new highway, from Goodnight south to Martin, has been opened to travel.

"The six miles of roadway, from Martin to Clarendon, will be open in about three weeks' time", added Mr. Rankin.

New concrete culverts have been placed all along this part of the new highway and the road-bed built up.

A total of $36,000 has been spent on the 12 miles since last November when the contract was let. Local labor has been used on the Donley county section of the new highway.

FATALLY HURT, DAD SENDS SONS ON TO HOSPITAL

CLAUDE HILL SUCCUMBS BEFORE REACHING SHAMROCK

"Take the boys on to town; they are hurt," Claude Hill told the first motorist to stop at the scene of his fatal accident two miles out of Shamrock last Thursday night.

Hill and his two sons, Omel and Clarence, were on their way into Shamrock and were topping a hill when a car from the opposite direction, coming out from behind a truck, collided with them.

The two sons were carried on, while Mr. Hill, his head in a daze from a blow on his skull, waited at the scene. Then someone noticed he was very weak on his feet.

"Here, get in this car and let's get to town," said the other man, whose name is not known. "We better get you to town."

On the way into town, Mr. Hill breathed his last. His skull is said to have been fractured. His son, Clarence, had a dislocated hip and broken ankle. The other son, Omel, is said to have suffered only minor bruises. Both sons were able to attend their father's funeral the next afternoon at Hedley.

Services were held at the Baptist church in Hedley Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Rev. A. B. Hendricks, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. A large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends attended the services. Burial was at Hedley.

Mr. Hill is survived by his wife in addition to the two sons; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Bier and Mrs. Annie Lee Parker; three brothers, Bill Tom Hill, Dudley Hill and Omel Hill, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hill of this city.

Deceased was well known in Donley County, having lived here many years.

EASTER PROGRAM AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

ENTHUSIASM SOMETIMES OVERSTATES

Recently this writer heard an able professional man make the statement that the service clubs of today were doing more charity work than all the churches combined.

The truth is that the churches give very little publicity to the vast amount of aid given the sick, the hungry and the needy, and where the charity of the service clubs of the nation would run into hundreds of thousands, the sums expended by the churches totals many millions.

The intimate truth of the whole matter is that the service club is a by-product of the church, and its members are largely the laymen of the various churches. There would be no service clubs today without the church.

Let us claim all rightful credit belonging to the service club, but let us not fail to render proper and just tribute to the church—the foundation of all charitable and helpful impulses in the world today.

A DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

Odos Caraway, citizen of Clarendon, received a thrill last week only rarely possible to one who has given freely of his time and money to civic enterprises. "Ode," as his townsmen call him, is one of those fellows whom you can find in most towns who go and do those things that seem to need doing. They know when they are doing a civic service that they are likely to have stinging things said about them. But they are big enough to know that certain things need doing and that there are only a few who are unselfish enough to give their time. So they quietly get in the collar, expecting brickbats as rewards.

But Clarendon men, seventy of them and including practically every active business man in that city, pulled off a surprise banquet in Caraway's honor last week and conferred on him the title of "Clarendon's Most Useful Citizen in 1933." Generous tribute was paid to him and it is more than likely that he was given the greatest surprise of his entire life. But this writer knows that "Ode" deserved all of it.

And did it warm his heart? It was our privilege to talk to him for a few minutes in Childress last week, and he was still walking on clouds. And what citizen, who has been "damned with faint praise," would not feel the same way. It was a fine, broad gauged, magnanimous thing to do. Clarendon business men should feel grateful to the man, whoever he is, who suggested honoring a useful citizen.—Fred A. Story, in Childress News.

COLLECT—DON'T CREATE NEW TAXES

"Junior Chambers of Commerce of Texas sponsored beginning March 19 'Delinquent Tax Week,' in which an effort is made to educate the public to the need of squaring old accounts with the collector. Utilizing the slogan that a paid tax does not breed other taxes, the Junior Chambers point out that there is some 120 million dollars in real and personal property delinquent in the many tax assessing units of the State that, if this is paid in, there will be no necessity of finding new methods of raising tax revenue.

"There is no individual incentive of course to save tax money by paying old tax accounts prior to April 1, when the penalty and interest forborene by legislative enactment will again run on this class of debt. The chamber's campaign ties in neatly with this immediate economic appeal.

"This public service is a real one and will be appreciated by the good tax payers who meet their bills but have to bear added burdens because of delinquents. In addition, it is a sharp notice served on official tax collectors that the young business man of Texas will have no further patience with the man who does not make every effort under the law to bring in tax money.

"Constitutionally and by belief ours is a nation of equal taxation. In practice it is far from it. There is no equal taxation where one man pays his bill and another is allowed to let his remain on the books. The best service that good citizenship can render Texas is to make tax delinquency an obsolete term. The Jr. Chambers of Commerce are taking the lead in that vital reform, with their graphic urge: 'Collect—don't create new taxes!'"—Dallas News.

A bad cold is both affirmative and negative. Sometimes the eyes have it and sometimes the nose. —Nixon News.

No matter how much Bre'er Roosevelt takes out of it, us it is still an appreciated dollar.—Dallas News.

MONEY SPEAKS FOR BOOZE

Willis J. Abbott, writing in the Christian Science Monitor, quotes from a private letter: "Reputation and booze are not good foundations upon which to build an economic structure. The brewers have gotten more than $600,000,000 of the people's money since last spring. Of course, the retailers got more than that. It is no wonder that my renter could not get more than 1 cent a pound for prime young fat beef. The packers told him that they could not sell what they had on hand. The people cannot spend their money for beer and then buy beef with it."

Mr. Abbott's comment closes with this paragraph: "Importing millions of dollars' worth of wines or whiskeys from foreign countries to sell to our people here doesn't add one dollar to the amount of money in the United States that can be spent. It simply takes a great deal away from our people, either to be transmitted to the foreign lands from which the liquors come, or used to pay taxes. In either event, there is just that much less to spend on American products. If this conclusion isn't absolutely logical, I am unable to see the flaw in it."

WHO PAID FOR THE COST OF THE PLOW-UP?

The total cost of the plow-up cotton campaign was paid by foreign rations, through the increased price of the cotton we will export to them. For each of the two preceding years we have exported more than 8,000,000 bales and it is safe to predict we will export 8,000,000 bales during the year 1933-34.

No one believes that if we had made 17,500,000 bales in 1933, as we would have, had no cotton been plowed up, cotton would have brought more than 5½ cents a pound. If the 8,000,000 bales exported sold for an average of 9.5 cents a pound, then the gain was 4 cents a pound, or $20 a bale, making a gain on the exports alone of $160,000,000, which was the total cost of the plow-up campaign.

It is therefore a waste of time and sympathy to concern ourselves with the great cost to the government—or the nation as a whole. From this broader economic consideration the discussion as to who pays the processing tax or any other cost of reducing cotton production also becomes largely academic. The same principles will also apply to the cotton reduction campaign of 1934. The foreign nations who take 8,000,000 bales of our cotton because they must to supply their needs, will pay the costs to this country.—Progressive Farmer.

In speaking of spring clean-ups, the Clarendon News suggests that there should also be Moral Clean-ups. "When thoughts of our citizenship are turned to removal of trash and debris in the annual spring Clean-Up of the community, why not a general movement for the moral clean-up of our town, as well?" asks the Clarendon editor. For one thing, it is far easier to remove tin cans and trash from the alleys than it is to get rid of moral dirt. It takes more real grit to make a clean moral town than to pick up filth and cart it out to the city dump. Tin cans and alley filth can not kick back, and moral filth can, and that is why moral filth is tolerated. It is so easy to let the old world drift along, regardless of consequences. Unsanitary conditions breed disease. Nonsanitary moral conditions breed disease. Both are detrimental to the welfare of the community.—Higgins News.

Authentic Diary of a Clarendon World War Veteran

Editor's note—This is the beginning of an authentic diary, one of the very, very few ever kept by an American soldier in the late World War. This man enlisted at Wichita Falls, trained with the Fifth Engineers of the Seventh Division at Corpus Christi 60 days, from May 20 to July 20, 1918. Outfit reached Camp Merritt, New Jersey, July 25th. Left there on the 28th.

Aug 14 and 15—Unloading ship in Brest harbor. See many German prisoners.

Aug. 17—Took down tents. Marched back to Brest. Not much to eat. 10 p. m.—Worked part of night and lay on ground remainder. No place to sleep.

Aug. 18—Sunrise. Entrained at Brest for the interior of France. All day Sunday over rolling hilly country. Light soil. Forty men to the small French box car. Too crowded to sleep at night.

Aug. 19,—11 a. m. in Orleans. Some nice wheat fields for France. Land very light-looking, whitish color. Orleans a very nice town. We passed through. I thought of one of its great citizens of many years back, "Joan of Arc." After saving her country, she was thrown in prison, condemned to death and burned at the stake.

Aug. 20th—Arrived at Aisy, France, a small town of some four or five hundred citizens before the War, in the foothills of the Alps. Here is where we were to finish our training before going to the front. Nice stream, some beautiful timber, very rocky soil. Sleeping in horse stalls and pig pens. Here we had a little straw to put under our blankets. On the 20th we had our first bath since July 28th, except the cold ocean water shot to us on top deck of ship that almost froze us stiff when it hit.

Aug. 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, and 27th—drills and details, drills and details, one after the other.

Aug. 28th—Hike over rough country.

Aug. 29th—drill.

Aug. 30th—march, hiked 16 miles in half a day. Getting scarcely half enough to eat. Hungry day and night. Stealing when we can find it. Captain cursed me out a number of times today while on the hike.

Aug. 31—Drill.

Sept. 1st—Digging ditches as punishment for bad condition of our rifles.

Sept. 2nd and 3rd.—Routine drill.

Sept. 4th—Rained for first time since we arrived in France. Drill and work in rain each day.

Sept. 5th through the 12th—Rained every day.

Sept. 13th—Rain ceased. The 14th and 15th—nice weather.

Sept. 16th—Rainy.

Sept. 17th—First letter from home since we left the United States.

Sept. 18th through the 21st—Mostly rainy weather, continued drill and detail work.

Sept. 22nd—The second church service since we arrived in France.

Sept. 23rd through the 26th—Hard drills, skirmishes through woods over hills. Drill attacks and special engineering drills.

Sept. 26th—Drills suspended to leave Aisy. Sept. 27th—Leave city at 8 a. m. March with heavy packs about five miles pitched tents in Nuits, France, about 1 a. m. Loaded train cars far into the night. Awfully dark night—no light except wood fires. Finish loading and soldiers fill French box cars.

Sept. 28th—On train, going to Front. 36 men in our small car. Very rolling landscape and small mountains. Some parts there is scarcely any timber. Arrived at Chaligny, France about 5 p. m. Ate supper hurriedly. Began our march to the front at night. Hiked all night, dark and rainy, until about 3 a. m. of the morning of the 29th when we pitched tents in an old field, in the wet wheat, where we slept until day-break. Ate breakfast and left on march about 10 a. m. with heavy packs. Hiked about one mile to some concrete barracks for remainder of the day to stay under cover from airplanes. Battle had been fought here but the barracks were not injured very much. Left with heavy pack on march at 8 p. m. Hiked until about 3 a. m. Dark and rainy night. Hike was awfully hard. Many a buddy fell out. Just couldn't make it. I had given up for the first time. Here I felt compelled to stop. Orders came to fall out and find a place to sleep. We laid our blankets in horse-stalls, pig-pens, or any place we could find for we were tired to the bone. This was in Minorville, France. A small town that had been wrecked some by the war.

I can never forget this night's march. During our hike this dark rainy night we were lost a couple of times. There were no lights to be seen any place, not even from a cigaret. We met trucks and ambulances all through the night. No lights and awfully dark, sometimes they would hit a buddy and knock him out to be picked up sometime the next day, I suppose.

This night I marched just behind a young soldier almost too young and indeed too frail physically for such hikes. When we had orders to fall out for the few minutes rest, this poor fellow would not try to hunt a convenient place to sit or lie—he would just flop back and all down in the mud and water—it made no difference to him.

All through the night we could see the reflections from the constant artillery fire and signal lights. I cannot describe to you fully—you must see it to know. Anyway, it then began to dawn upon all that hell was not far away. Crossed a good-sized river. Boys falling out all night. During the night we passed two hospitals.

September 30th—In Minorville, France, tired and footsore. This was Sunday, resting in camp.

Oct. 1st—Big frost killed most everything green.

Oct. 1st, 2nd, and 3rd—Gas drill.

Oct. 4th and 5th—Looking over old trench system, where soldiers had been.

Oct. 6th and 7th—Drill in rain. Gas and wire entanglement drills.

Oct. 8th—"B" Company, Seventh Division, left Minorville for the last march to the front. After marching for part of the night, stopped for a rest. And the Germans dropped shells among us, killing Private Jester and wounding six more men, Corporal Grigsby, Corporal Bryna, Private Elder, Private Verkin, Private Colburn and Private Larsen. Grigsby and Bryan died of their wounds.

Eight of us placed on ration detail on the 9th and 10th at Minorville.

Oct. 11th—Left Minorville for another ration dump. Rode on wagon. Co. "B" was at the front. We arrived at St. Pierre at 7:30 p. m. on the ration detail. Supplies were on narrow gauge railroad. Slept in old dirty dug-outs. Awful place.

Oct. 12th to 14th—On ration detail in small valley. No town near us here. We could hear the German shells come over and hit some two miles from us. The lieutenant in charge began to get nervous and changed to a yellow color. For his benefit I will not call his name. Our captain was not at the front.

Oct. 15th—Left this place for Co. B on the front. Arrived on the real front at 2 p. m. Near

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from unwise dosing with harsh cathartics may cause bowel strain, and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be safely relieved in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.

Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Member N. R. A.

HOW MUCH LAND TO "LIVE AT HOME?"

Permitted by cotton and wheat acreage reduction contracts to use Government rented acres to produce food and feed for family and workstock, if other land is not available or is not enough for this purpose, scores of thousands of Texas farmers are puzzled about how much land this will be.

As outlined in the Texas A and M College Extension Service living-at-home demonstration, an average of 25 acres would be required for this purpose if the family has five members and the workstock consists of two animals. From the following list of animal feed requirements, however, every farmer can figure out the problem for himself.

For each horse or mule allow 50 bushels of corn or similar grain, 2 tons of hay and 1 acre of improved pasture, such as sudan grass. For each dairy cow allow 25 bushels of corn or similar grain, 2 tons of hay and 1 acre of improved pasture. For each head of beef cattle provide 10 bushels of corn or similar grain, 1 ton of hay and 1 acre of improved pasture. For each hog raised provide 14 bushels of corn or similar grain and one-eighth acre of improved pasture. For each sheep provide 2 bushels of corn or similar grain, 120 pounds of hay and one-fourth acre of improved pasture. For each hen allow 1 bushel of corn or similar grain, and for each turkey raised one and one-half bushel of corn or similar grain.

If a farmer is providing for four horses, two dairy cows, 50 hens, and is fattening a beef steer, two hogs and two sheep, he would need 342 bushels of corn or grain sorghums or similar grain, about 13 tons of hay, and about 8 acres of improved pasture, if he is to have plenty of feed. At the rate of 20 bushels of corn per acre and two tons of hay per acre this would require 17 acres of corn or grain, 7 acres of hay and 8 acres of pasture, a total of 32 acres. In addition, for home food supply, an extra 3 acres would be required for garden, orchard and peas, melons, potatoes and cane for syrup.

If the farmer in this case has provided none of these requirements in the past he will be permitted by cotton or wheat contracts to take 35 rented acres for this purpose. If he has previously had only 20 acres available for this living at home he will be permitted to take 15 rented acres to complete the 35 acres needed. If he has previously had 35 acres for living at home, and needs no additional land for the purpose, the contracts do not permit him to take any rented acres at all for home use.

In this latter case the farmer might plant rented acres to permanent pasture or to soil erosion prevention crops, or to cover crops to turn under for soil enrichment, or to trees.

FARM RECORD BOOK TO BE SUPPLIED TO CONTRACT SIGNERS

New farm record books furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to farmers who have signed acreage reduction contracts will soon be available on application to county agents, according to the Texas A and M College Extension Ser-

Italy Takes Lead

Italy was the first foreign government to announce that it would participate in the new 1934 Chicago World's Fair. Its building at the '38 Exposition, shown here, will be augmented by two large new additions to be built for this summer.

The first object of supplying these account books is to enable farmers to keep production records needed in contracts signed with the Government, but the books have many other uses. By keeping records farmers are enabled to know better the strong and weak points in their business, and to make changes which will make them more money.

Production records will also prove valuable in making applications for production credit through the new production credit associations.

Extension Service workers aided in the regular farm demonstration the book will be a great boon to many farmers are conducting in connection with agricultural readjustment.

WORK OF THE COUNTY TEACHERS

(By Earl D. Jones)

Right conduct and good citizenship are the product of right thinking, and feeling. Correct moral habits are built up through particular responses to particular social situations. The function of the school is to furnish adequate social situations, and then to motivate pupil activities that natural, willing, cheerful, spontaneous responses will be the result. The teacher may use force in bringing about these responses, but any teacher that understands the laws of learning and of human growth and development will see that her main function is to secure willing response to right motives.

The dominant aim of moral education according to most writers of educational statistics, is the development of proper attitudes, giving rise to worthy conduct. In general, State courses in education are against formal instruction in morals at school. The most effective way of training children in manners and morals is through the regular lessons and in connection with all school activities.

The teacher should always bear in mind these following things:

1. Try to cultivate a sense of moral obligation and duty.
2. Try to cultivate law-abiding and law-respecting citizens.
3. Endeavor to arouse high moral ideals.
4. Endeavor to kindle ambition and at the same time instill confidence.
5. Endeavor to develop a moral character in each and every child.

Since we are living in an epoch of codes; A Normal Code for Youth was treated upon recently in Collier's Magazine. The code grew out of a canvass of representatives of the largest religious denominations, and educational, industrial, civic, and social leaders:

If I Want To Be a Happy Useful Citizen, I must Have: Courage and hope; I must be brave. This means I must be brave enough to control what I think, and what I say, and what I do, and I must always be hopeful because hope is power for improvement. Wisdom: I must act wisely. In school, at home, playing, working, reading, or talking, I must learn how to choose the good and how to avoid the bad. Industry and Good Habits: I must make my character strong. My character is what I am, if not in the eyes of others, then in the eyes of my own conscience. Good thoughts in my mind will keep out bad thoughts. When I am busy doing good I shall have no time to do evil. I can build my character by training myself in good habits.

Knowledge and Usefulness: I must make my mind strong. The better I know myself, my fellows, and the world about me, the happier and more useful I shall be. I must always welcome useful knowledge in school, at home, everywhere. Truth and Honesty: I must be faithful and honest. I must know what is true in order to do what is right; I must tell the truth without fear. I must be honest in all my dealings and in all of my thoughts. I cannot have self-respect unless I am honest.

Healthfulness and Cleanliness: I must make my body strong. My eyes, my teeth my heart, my whole body must be healthy so that my mind can work properly. I must keep physically and morally clean.

Helpfulness and Unselfishness: I must use my strength to help others who need help. If I am strong I can help others, I can be kind, I can forgive those who hurt me, and I can help and protect the weak, the suffering, the young, the old, and the dumb animals.

Charity: I must love. I must love God, who created not only this earth, but also all men of all races, nations, and creeds, who are my brothers. I must love my parents, my home, my neighbors, my country, and be loyal to all these.

Humility and Reverence: I must know that there are always more things that I can learn. What I may know is small compared to what can be known. I must respect all who have wisdom, and have reverence for all that is good. And I must know how and whom to obey.

Faith and Responsibility: I must do all these things because I am accountable to God and to humanity for how I live and how I can help my fellow man, and for the extent to which my fellows may trust and depend upon me.

INVESTIGATE BEFORE TAKING THESE COURSES

Washington, D. C., March 28.—The United States Civil Service Commission points out the advisability of making full investigation of the prospect of examinations for an appointments to the classified civil service of the United States before signing a contract for instruction by a civil-service coaching school.

Under present conditions appointment prospects are not of the best and examinations are few in comparison with those held under normal conditions, the Commission says.

It says that there is reason to believe that agent of some coaching schools encourage clients to pay for training for examinations which are not likely to be held for a long time.

Information regarding pending examinations may be obtained from the Secretary of the Board of United States Civil Service Examiners at the post office in any city which has a post office of the first or the second class,

SALLY RAND IN FAMOUS FAN DANCE HERE MONDAY

"Bolero", which will be shown at the Pastime Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, brings the first screen presentation of the sensational fan dance created by Sally Rand. Miss Rand proves that she is in step with the season's styles by displaying her charms in an ostrich ensemble.

"Bolero" tells the life story of a world famous dancer's climb to success. In his ruthless rise he discards his beautiful dancing partners one after another, as each outlives her ability to attract attention. George Raft plays the part of the dancer, Carole Lombard as the only woman he loves, Frances Drake as one of his partners and Sally Rand does her famous fan dance. "Bolero" introduces several new dance sets to the music of Maurice Ravel's world famous "Bolero". George Raft and Carole Lombard present the "Raftero" tango, which promises to be very popular in ballrooms throughout the country.

Mrs. L. L. Wallace and baby daughter of Amarillo spent the past week as guests of Misses Ina and Lula Naylor.

WHAT I BELIEVE

There are many lessons that Easter brings to the remembrance of those who believe in the resurrection of Christ from the tomb. This season of the year demands that we check up on what we believe.

I believe that man has a transient body and an eternal soul. I believe in the brevity of death and in the endlessness of life.

I believe that the risen Christ is the visible witness to the sublime truth that the grave has no victory and death no sting.

I believe that immortality becomes a necessity to any man who seriously sets himself to become like Christ.

I believe that everlasting life flows from the fatherhood of God as the stream flows from the spring.

I believe that he whose mercies are new and every morning and fresh every evening; who brings into every epoch of my life a new surprise and makes in every experience a new disclosure of his love; who sweetens gladness with gratitude and sorrow with comfort; who makes every year better than the year preceding and every experience an evidence of his skill in gift-giving, has for me a future of glad surprise which I would not forecast if I could.

I believe that death is only pushing aside the portiere and the passing from one room to another; that Paradise is not a distant country, but only the other room.

I believe that the dead possess a more splendid equipment for a larger life of divine service than was possible for them on earth—a life in which I shall in due time join them if I am counted worthy of their fellowship in eternal life.

I believe in holding daily life under the quiet life of eternity and pasturing our thoughts in the amazing love of God.

I believe that life is ever lord of death and olive never can lose its own.

I believe all will be blessed with eternal life, who keep Christ's commands.—W. E. Ferrell, Minister First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

W. A. Clark Jr. returned Sunday night from a trip into New Mexico during which he contacted the snowstorm over the week-end. His many friends never feared but what he could get through any sort of storm as he is a very resourceful fellow.

Houston, Texas, March 28.—All but approximately $5,000,000 of the present $26,000,000 NRA road building program for Texas is now under contract, and unless Congress sets aside added funds for highways in the new public works appropriation, tens of thousands of Texans will be thrown out of work this autumn and the state's hope for adequate main roads for its Centennial will be blasted.

City Library Open Monday Afternoon

Each Monday afternoon the Clarendon City Library will be open for its patrons during the months of April and May, according to an order passed by the Library Board in session Tuesday afternoon at the Mayor's office.

This means that the Library will be open four afternoons a week instead of three under the present week, and is in answer to the insistent demands of the patrons of the library, who have taken out more books in the past three months than in any previous period in the history of the institution, according to Mrs. C. A. Burton, librarian.

Some eighty volumes have been added to the shelves of the library in the past few weeks.

Methodists Elect District Delegates

Presiding Elder M. M. Bravers preached at the local Methodist Church Sunday evening and held the second Quarterly Conference at the conclusion of the sermon. Reports from the pastor, Rev. E. B. Bowen, Sunday school superintendent J. R. Porter, President of the Missionary Society, Mrs. Carl Bennett, Jr., and Secretary of the board of stewards, Homer McElvany were heard.

When the name of Rev. C. B. Ingram was called, Judge J. R. Porter offered a resolution of respect and a memorial to his life and work which was adopted and a copy of which was ordered transmitted to the widow, Mrs. C. B. Ingram.

Delegates elected to represent the church at the annual District Conference at Shamrock, April 23-24, were J. H. Hurn, W. T. Hayter, G. L. Boykin and W. A. Armstrong.

DRAMATIC READING, THE HEALER

The concluding meeting of the Special Services during this Holy Week at the Presbyterian Church will be held Friday night, taking the form of a reading by Mrs. R. S. McKee of Margaret Sangster's story, "The Healer." This will be interspersed with special music appropriate to the story.

Tonight, Rev. E. B. Bowen, of the Methodist church, will preach on the subject, "The Master Man."

These meetings are causing comment because of the quiet earnestness of the sermons, the earnestness of the congregation, and the enjoyable singing, led by L. H. Earthman. W. E. Ferrell spoke Tuesday night to a good congregation, and the pastor the other evenings.

CITIZENS START MOVE TO IMPOUND STRAY COWS

Since there has been so many cows allowed to run loose at night in the city limits, annoying those who are trying to get lawns and gardens started, there is a movement among citizens to have all such animals locked up in the pound and especial attention will be given those who turn their cows out at night and rush out after them about day-break.

A few pound fees should be sufficient to end this annoyance.

PURYEAR VISITS CITY WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

John Puryear of Wellington, member of the Legislature from this district, was in Clarendon Wednesday renewing acquaintances and meeting the voters in his face for re-election.

Mr. Puryear says he has just recovered from an attack of the flu, contracted about the time the special session closed a few weeks ago.

He expects to be in Donley county on several visits before the July primary.

Society

ALPHA DELTA PSI

The Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society met last Wednesday evening at seven-thirty. The program was opened with a talk by Thayer Acord on scientific inventions. Bob Goodson then read the Society's new Constitution to the members. Bob also gave a talk on the History of Signaling. At the conclusion of the program, the group practiced the Alpha Delta song for a short while before adjourning.

Kicuawa Camp Fire

The Kicuawa Camp Fire Troop met at their regular meeting place last Wednesday after school. They discussed plans for their hook book, which they intend to publish later on. They will have an Easter egg hunt next Saturday for their little sisters. The troop will meet again Wednesday directly after school.

Abahahanta Camp Fire

The Abahahanta Camp Fire Troop met Tuesday at the home of Emma Lee Johnson for a short business session. The president called the house to order, and a round table discussion was held on a few minor matters. Delicious refreshments were served, and the meeting adjourned until the following Tuesday at the Watson home.

Palodurans Have Picnic At Gunboat

Spring is here! The Palo Durans were held prisoners in its spell and took steps to remedy the situation. Accordingly they went on a picnic to Gunboat on the day of Spring's arrival—March 21st.

JUNIOR CLASS TO HAVE RECREATION FRIDAY

After studying hard for their parts in the League Meet, the Juniors have decided to have a little recreation and blow the cobwebs out of their heads. They voted for a picnic Friday, and remembering the time when they were infants also, they invited the Sophomores to go with them. Everyone is expecting to have a grand time and hopes for a nice warm day; however, the weather is getting to where it cannot be depended upon to act as the calendar says it should. Just last week the Junior girls were wearing their summer dresses and white shoes and now they have had to drag out the old moth-eaten overcoat again, but as was being said, let's everyone hope for a grand day.

SCOUT NEWS

(By the Scout Scribe)
During the Interscholastic League activities, I think everyone got an idea of scouting. The much talked of new troop directing the contestants to their rooms, giving information concerning the time each event, and acting as ushers for every event held in the auditorium. Especially have I been asked to express the gratitude of those in charge of the different events for the services rendered them by the Boy Scouts.

Rev. W. E. Ferrell Takes Proverb's Text

Developing the text, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine," Rev. W. E. Ferrell spoke at the regular assembly period Monday afternoon.

Mr. Ferrell, explained this text, stated that there are many different ways of obtaining health and happiness, the two main objectives of life, but a good spirit would make us more companionable and enable us to spread more sunshine and cheer than anything else. The speaker also said that a Christian life is the happiest of all, and that to really enjoy life we must live a true, unselfish, Christian one.

In conclusion Mr. Ferrell gave three excellent ways to secure happiness. First, count your blessings. We have a great many more blessings than sorrows. Second, learn to trust the other fellow; and third, live close to Christ.

JUNIOR HIGH REPORT

Hooryay for Junior High! We came through the county meet with a bang! We are all proud of the students who participated in the events of the county meet, more than proud of those who won. Both the boys and the girls playground ball teams won, and it was reported that good sportsmanship was used throughout all games. That is something to be more than proud of, because good sportsmanship is worth more than all the games you can win.

The volley ball team did very well although they didn't win. They couldn't beat Hedley, but they did give them an awful scare.

In declamations for the Junior boys, Raymond Hay won, and Ethlyn Drennan won for the Junior girls in the county. We are very proud of these two declaiming students and hope they enter declamations again next year.

For the spelling contest, Jane Kerbow and Phoebe Ann Buntin win is the county meet.

We also came out first in essay writing. Jane Kerbow carried away the honors for Juniors has at last been organized and I predict a full troop at the next meeting. Mr. H. L. Brady will be the Scoutmaster of the new troop and Dr. A. W. Hicks will be assistant. A number of Scouts of the old troop wish to transfer. This is entirely a matter of personal choice.

This Friday, the regular Court of Honor will be held and all Scouts coming should turn in their blanks before then.

C. H. S. Wins Many Awards At Meet

In the Interscholastic Meet that was held Friday and Saturday, Clarendon was well represented among those to receive awards. Beatrice Gorman won in the essay contest for Class A. In Class B Jean McDonald won first place. George Chamberlain and Robert Nichols received the laurels as the best debating team for Class A boys. Wylie Buchanan won first place in declaiming. The Ward School Junior declaiming contest for girls was won by Ethlyn Drennan. Raymond Hay gained distinction in the Ward Boys' declaiming. Peggy Jean Webb, Sub-Junior declaimer carried off the awards in that group. As tennis players, Lovie Beavers, Wilma Dee Smith, and Sarah Virginia McGowan proved to be the best girl players in the county. In typing, there was no competition, so Clarendon will send her typers to the District Meet along with the many other winners from our school.

Miss Annie Ruth Mitchell of Hedley was a guest of Mrs. Byrum Haile during the interscholastic meet Friday and Saturday.

and Jeanne McDonald for the eighth grade Juniors.

It seems like everybody and everything was with us Friday and Saturday but the weather. The track meet which was scheduled was postponed because the weather was so bad. We hope we come out as well in it as we did in the other events in which we entered.

The Kids From Junior High When the big folks at High, Speak with us, it's with a sigh, They say "You know her or him?" And they say it with a grin, Oh, they're those little kids from Junior High. Just watch those kids from Junior High, How they can win, when When they try, They showed they couldn't Be beat, When they entered the County Meet, And brought home all the Honors that were there, For spelling and essay writing, And declaiming, they won fighting. And in playground ball they Had the highest score. We little kids from Junior High are full of pep, And we'll win and won't give Up, you bet!

History Of C. J. C.

In the summer of 1927, the Clarendon Public Schools purchased the Clarendon Methodist College buildings at a cost of $42,000. H. T. Burton was hired as Dean to get out a catalogue and to canvass this part of the state for new students. However, those concerned soon found out this was to no avail and that the junior college could count only upon Clarendon and vicinity for its enrollment.

Just as the Junior College was preparing to open its doors, a bill was passed that made it impossible for Clarendon to have a Junior College. Ozro Cox of Ozro fame from Ozro, Texas, and collaborators were writing a new Junior College bill. This bill stated that no city, district, or county was to be allowed to establish a Junior College unless they had 500 scholastics in high school and a property valuation of $12,000,000. Mr. J. R. Porter was sent to Austin by the school board to try to induce the writers of this bill to change it so that this town might continue with her plans for a Junior College. By his ingenuity, Mr. Porter persuaded the writers of the bill to include a clause that stated that the bill did not affect a college which had been established prior to 1898, the date when Clarendon College was established. Not realizing the importance of this clause and, in fact, thinking it had no importance at all, the writers of the bill allowed Mr. Porter the privilege of making this alteration on the bill. Therefore, Clarendon Junior College was made possible by this clever political engineering. If for any reason Clarendon College would be closed, her doors could never be opened again.

On September 5, 1927, Clarendon Junior College opened with an enrollment of 51. Three days later, Mr. Paul Morgan resigned and H. T. Burton was appointed as superintendent of the public school. L. B. Cooper was elected as Dean and held the position until five years ago when Dean Clark assumed his responsibilities. The growth of the college has not been great but has been one of slow and steady progress. In 1928, the enrollment was 64; in 1929, 66; in 1930, 71; in 1931, 74; in 1932, 74; and in 1933, 87. ### AFTER GOSSIP ENDS, WHAT?

Have we exaggerated gossip's injury, mocked its presence, or laughed it off the campus? Have we made any movement to stop that biting conversation that eventually finds its way into nearly every group of students on the campus?

When gossip leaves, something must take its place, and we must hurry on to correct what we believe to be misguided conversation. People must have something to talk about, and when they realize that it doesn't pay to engage in such petty grievances and worthless conversation, something bigger, finer must be substituted. That's progress.

To discuss the harm of gossip would be repeating something with which each person is familiar, but to go one step further and guide conversation into grooves of intelligent discussions is even better.

Bring in lively discussions by enthusiasm in all that is going on about you. Arouse interest through a conflict of opinions, or ask questions that demand answers. Argue your point tactfully but admit that you might be wrong. Stimulate interest in reading material by discussing a new book. Talk of anything except another person who has committed something contrary to your sense of good taste. Summarize in a few words: discussion, not gossip, leads enchantment because only the malicious ones gossip, whereas any intelligent person can learn to converse. It puts less wear and tear on the conscience too.

Gossip in older people can be overlooked more easily than in students. Students have no way of telling what they will do before they reach old age—probably the same things for which they are condemning others. Too, the gossipier forgets to put himself the same circumstances of those about which he finds cause to converse. Students should think of the old saying: "There's so much good in the worst of us, and so much bad in the best of us, that it hardly behoves any of us, to talk about the rest of us."

The question of a College Day has been raised, and the point that is being contested most is whether or not the students will use the day for a college or for some purpose of their own. Heretofore, the students have been granted a college day, but only about one half of the students have participated in its activities. This year, the amount assessed each student for the lunch will not be great because several dollars above expenses of the banquet have been put in the treasury for College Day.

If we are allowed a day for this event, why should we use it for some other purpose? Whether the College is given a holiday hereafter will be determined by the attitude of the students. If we do not intend to make it a real college day, why not just call it a holiday and let each student engage in whatever amusement suits him?

The Boy Scouts contributed services during the track meet that were invaluable. Their informal booth was established in the hall and boys were stationed throughout the building to help any way that they were needed. Their tasks which they performed during the day included

A young tailor of my acquaintance has turned philosopher. He says, "A stingy person may be sensible but he's not so well thought of."

Every once in a while your old columnist gets a thrill. Monday night it came from the preview of "Bolero."

From a recent sociological survey by students of the class we gather the fact that the only interest the parents of this town have in a beneficial outlet for leisure hours is that one stay at home where one may sit and twiddle the well-known thumbs.

That's a serious matter, too, if you will allow the old columnist to get serious. Unless some way for the spending of the leisure time is devised, the parents are liable to wake some time to find their children in trouble because they devised a means of spending leisure time themselves.

I shall probably be the target for criticism and sarcastic remarks, but I am a free person and I defy anyone to deprive me of the freedom of the press. So what?

Scene Will Change at 1934 Fair

As the visitor travels up the Avenue of Flags from the north entrance of A Century of Progress at Chicago, which again opens on June 1 of this year, he is impressed with the magnificent entrance to the building just ahead. It is the north entrance of the Hall of Science.

A ramp leads up to it, and this ramp is bordered by symmetrical pine trees. A special effort has been made to make this entrance even more attractive for the 1934 Exposition, and it will be so radically different that visitors of 1933 returning this year will hardly recognize it.

School Notes

By SLOAN BAKER

Judge Hubert P. Day, Scout Master, and Bob Goodson, Assistant Scout Master should be complimented for the training which has been given Troop 37 in courtesy and obedience.

Senior Patrol Leader Harold McDaniels assigned individual Scouts to the different league directors last Friday and Saturday at the Interscholastic League Meet.

These Scouts aided in every way possible to carry the events through with promptness.

There have been many comments as to the aid that the Scouts gave all through the two days.

A "Thousand Good Turns" should be registered in the records of Troop 37 for these days of helpfulness in making the Interscholastic League Meet a success.

The Director General will always know he can depend on the Clarendon Scouts to deliver the goods.

Donley County has two one-hundred percent spellers in the persons of Bernice Self of Lelia Lake and Dorris Mrie Everett of Hedley.

Mr. Howard of Lelia Lake bought these two young ladies dimer Saturday at the O. K. Cafe as a reward for winning. The State Interscholastic League will send them State Certificates of Excellency.

Miss Hesse Holland of Lelia Lake visited friends during the League Meet Saturday.

Postpone Trial Of Shoffitt To Tuesday, Apr. 3

Trial of Dr. G. W. Shoffitt, charged with attempt to murder on two counts, will go to trial at 9 o'clock next Tuesday, April 3.

Shoffitt appeared in court last Monday morning when his case was called and asked for a postponement on the grounds that his attorney, E. T. Miller, was tied up in a trial at Amarillo this week.

Judge A. J. Fires set the new date for his trial. The defendant was then led back to his cell in the county jail.

EASTER PROGRAM AT NAZARINE CHURCH

An Easter program will be given at the Church of the Nazarine at the Denver Hotel, Sunday evening, April 1st.

This program will consist of readings, plays, songs, and pantomimes. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Holland has taught in Donley county schools but is taking a holiday from school work at present.

The attendance of school patrons at the Interscholastic League Meet shows that there is much interest in League work.

We will try to have a one hundred per cent participation in the League next year as well as a hundred percent membership.

There is no better way to put our school training in action than by participation in the League Contests.

The size of the school does not bar one from having winners.

Remember the one-act play and the Choral singing contest is to be held next Friday evening.

McLean High School furnished judges for the declamation contests last Friday night.

These judges, A. R. McHenry, John Harding and Miss Vera Cummings rendered prompt and fair decisions.

G. L. Boykin, Dennis P. Smith and R. E. Drennan will judge the Interscholastic League Contests for McLean next Friday and Saturday.

George Carter is a new citizen of Clarendon. He and Mrs. Carter moved here from Memphis last week.

Mr. Carter will be with Thompson Bros., dealers in Kelvintators. The branch firm here is managed by H. L. Brady, with whom Mr. Carter is connected.

Frank White made a business trip to Shamrock the first of the week.

the new Boy Scout troop being sponsored by the Methodist church, reports a total of 22 boys enrolled at the first meeting of the troop. Dr. A. W. Hicks is the assistant scoutmaster.

Secretary G. L. Boykin of the C. of C. says it is his opinion there was plenty of moisture fell last week-end in Donley County to plant on as well as put up the rest of the land. We believe that is a safe estimate.

Here's what an exchange says of the guy who always is beefing about something like the buck private in the Army:
"A knocker is a two-legged animal with a corkscrew soul, and a mire-soaked bean, and a combination of jelly and glue. Where other men have their hearts, he carries a tumor of decayed principle. When the knocker comes down the street, honest men turn their backs, the angles in Heaven weep, and the devil shuts the door of hell to keep him out. Beware of the knocker; he saws wood with a hammer."

"Cy" Richardson came to town Wednesday. Cy is one of the well-known citizens of the Hedley community. Whenever that man can't make you laugh, well it is not in you. You're past redemption. Mr. Richardson brought along some of those famous cured hams for which he has become famous through 30 years of putting up good meat for the trade. He also imparted the information he has a "few fine pork sausages yet."

ments in this section had been warned over the week-end to be on the lookout for Bybee as he had hijacked a man near Fort Worth Friday night.
"It looks like small stuff for a man like Bybee but then the convict might have needed some small change," says Sheriff Guy Pierce.
Orbie Mayo reported to the Sheriff that between $15 and $20, nearer $20, was taken by the hijackers.
"This is the first robbery with firearms in Donley county in several years," the sheriff told the News.

This same filling station, however, was broken into and burglarized some time ago. Orbie Mayo says he sleeps in the place every night now after closing up about 10 or 11, depending on his trade.

No trace of the hijackers had been located up to press time.

T. D. Nored and Mrs. Nored were called to Wellington Wednesday as account of the sudden death of a niece of Mrs. Nored's.

U. J. Boston was in Shamrock Wednesday afternoon on business.

COURT BUSY ON TWO DAYS, THEN TAKES RECESS

TWO SUSPENDED SENTENCES DOLED OUT; ONE VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL

District court was busy for two days this week and then recessed until next Monday morning.
Two pleas of guilty resulted in two suspended sentences being meted out by Judge A. J. Fires, while one defendant was given an instructed verdict.

L. C. Bledsoe, charged with burglary, was given a 5-year suspended sentence by Judge Fires after the man pleaded guilty of breaking into the Pastime Theatre several weeks ago. He waived the right of a jury.

C. R. Gamblin, after his case had progressed for half a day, changed a plea of not guilty to guilty and accepted a suspended sentence of three years. He was charged with embezzlement in connection with recent employment with an oil company.

Trial of Dr. G. W. Shoffitt, charged with attempt to murder on two counts in connection with a gun battle in which he engaged Sheriff Pierce and Deputy Sheriff Wright last Dec. 31, will go to trial next Tuesday morning. His case, set for last Monday, was postponed on the defendant's plea that his attorney, E. T. (Dusty) Miller of Amarillo, was unable to be present, due to being involved in the Crutchfield case at Amarillo this week.

Shoffitt was led back to his cell in the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Wright, who lost his left eye in the gun battle with the defendant.

The defendant claims to commune with the spirit of the late noted outlaw, Sam Bass, according to his own statements, as well as the record in his trial on a bootlegging charge last October.

Milo Dotson, charged with disposition of mortgaged property, also will face trial Tuesday. Clayton Head, charged with sale of whiskey, likewise will have his case called for trial Tuesday if the court gets to it.

A civil case is set for trial Monday.

District Attorney John Deaver is being assisted in the prosecution by County Attorney R. Y. King.

Mrs. Bill Eikman of Childress received an instructive verdict of not guilty when a Childress football player "lost his memory" when called on to testify in a liquor case against the Childress woman.

Incidentally, District Attorney John Deaver declared that "out of a number of football players from Childress called in several liquor cases there recently only two refused to 'come clean' and tell the straight of alleged whiskey purchases made by them at various times."

Stolen Car Is Left In Ditch; Driver Escapes

Members of the Sheriff's office were busy today making an intensive search of the Martin community and the whole county for the person or persons who abandoned a stolen sedan at Martin, at this end of the new roadway sometime before day-break early today.

The sedan was lying on its back when residents of the neighborhood awakened this morning. Tracks leading away from it indicated two men and a woman were likely the occupants, says Sheriff Guy Pierce.

"We also found several empty beer bottles and an empty whisky flask in the wrecked car," the officer said. "No blood was seen near it so we have no way of knowing if the occupants were hurt when it overturned."

An Amarillo banker is the owner of the car. He phoned Sheriff Pierce to have it hauled into Clarendon. It is now at the Palmer Motor Company garage. The car was stolen from its owner Thursday night.
