TEXAS WILL VOTE ON AMENDMENTS AUGUST 24

American Hearts Are Sad—

Two of America's foremost citizens are gone. Will Rogers, "Ambassador of Good Will" and Wiley Post, one of the nation's first-ranking airmen, met an untimely death when their plane crashed in Alaska.

American hearts are sad. Rogers was without doubt one of the most loved men that has ever lived. He had endeared himself in the hearts of his fellow men as few are able to do. His dry humor, his brilliant shafts of wit, his ability as an actor and entertainer had gained for him the admiration of the nation. One of America's greatest characters is gone, and American hearts are sad.

Wiley Post was one of the greatest flyers in the game. Twice he had circled the globe in his famous "Winnie Mae", once alone. His former flying instructors have stated that he was one of the most efficient pilots in the air. He was continually striving to make aviation safer, and to further its development. Truly, American hearts are sad.

Adios, Will! So long, Wiley! May peace—and the rich rewards that you have earned—be with you. May all your flights be smooth, and—happy landings!

Trades Day—

A news item in this issue states that Chamber of Commerce officials are planning a trades day program for Clarendon.

The little South Texas town from which the skipper of this department hails was in the "big middle" of such a campaign upon our departure. The program there was highly successful and the majority of business men were elated over the results. A sound plan was devised and put into operation, and within a few weeks adequate proof was evidenced that the stream of local money which had been going out of town had been curbed—almost stopped.

The plan that was used was self-perpetuating, and was based upon a cost of less than one percent of gross sales to the merchants participating. The plan, so far as we were able to discover after close contact, was fool-proof, the cost was nominal and the results were excellent. Such a program would undoubtedly prove of great benefit here, both to the business men and to the rural residents of the trade territory.

Personally, I believe that one of the greatest mistakes that was made in the trades day campaign which was put on here last year was the fact that it was on a week day. In a town that caters largely to rural trade, it is difficult—almost impossible, in fact—to have two "Saturdays" a week. Also, it is more or less unfair to the residents of the rural communities, many of whom find it very inconvenient to come to town on week days. Too, if the surrounding towns have their trades day on Saturday, they will attract many of the customers who would patronize Clarendon stores on Saturday if trades day here came on that day. True, many of them will come in on a week day to attend, but few of them will do any buying, as most of their buying is done on Saturday, a habit which will never be changed.

This department believes that a campaign similar to the one referred to above will prove highly beneficial to the town. It will be of benefit, no matter what day is selected, but I believe that it will be of far greater benefit if Saturday is chosen than if it is staged on a week day.

And That's NEWS—

MRS. ROGERS ASKS SIMPLE SERVICES FOR HER HUSBAND

FORTY ARMY FLYERS TO ACT AS MILITARY GUARD FOR BODY OF NOTED ACTOR-FLYER WHILE THOUSANDS PAY SILENT TRIBUTE.

Forty army flyers from March field will compose a guard of honor to be stationed around the casket of Will Rogers as thousands pay silent tribute to the famous actor and writer this morning, according to Associated Press reports Wednesday.

Final details of the funeral services in Forest Lawn Memorial Park await the arrival of Mrs. Rogers and her three children from the East Wednesday, but Oscar Lawlor, Beverly Hills lawyer and close friend of the family, disclosed Tuesday the private service would be simple and brief.

Lawlor said Mrs. Rogers had requested the service be limited to the singing of one hymn, one solo and a brief eulogy by the Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Sr., associate pastor of the First Baptist Church of Glendale, Cal.

Rogers' body, brought with that of Wiley Post, famed aerial explorer whose plane crashed last Thursday, was placed in a simple bronze casket and taken to the

RURAL SCHOOLS OF DONLEY COUNTY TO OPEN ON AUGUST 26

MANY SCHOOLS OF DONLEY COUNTY ARE IMPROVED AND STANDARDIZED.

Monday will mark the opening of many of Donley's rural schools, according to County Superintendent Sloan Baker.

This year will mark a forward step in the history of Donley County schools, officials believe. New buses have been purchased, bus routes outlined, and many schools in the county standardized.

Many of the schools have made definite steps toward improving the school buildings. Sunnyview having just completed remodeling the school house by building a new stage and stuccoing the exterior.

The Hudgins community school house has been made larger and awaits the opening day on August 26 with many new interior improvements.

LOCAL BUSINESS MAN DIES TUESDAY

Coming as a shock to the people of Clarendon Tuesday evening at 9:30 o'clock was the sudden death of Joseph LaFayette Tims, 60, business man of this city.

Mr. Tims was returning from services at the First Baptist Church when he suffered a heart attack in front of Norwood Drug Store and lived only a short time.

Joseph LaFayette Tims was born March 9, 1875 in Meridan, Mississippi. In 1897, he was married.

Trades Day for Clarendon Is Planned by C. of C. Officials

Plans are being made this week by Chamber of Commerce officials to institute a trades extension program here. W. E. Ray, president, and J. M. Hill, secretary, have been busy contacting local business men this week in an effort to obtain a general consensus of opinion on the matter.

No definite plan has been decided upon, but the Chamber of Commerce officials report that the general opinion among the business men is that some action should be taken to attract more trade to the town.

A similar program was undertaken here last year, and was

OLD SETTLERS ATTEND TATE GROVE PICNIC

185 OLD SETTLERS REGISTER: VARIED PROGRAM DURING THE ENTIRE DAY.

Approximately 1,100 persons attended the Fifth Annual Old Settlers' Picnic and Reunion Friday at Tate Grove, northeast of Hedley, and 185 registered as having lived in Donley County for 20 years.

At the business meeting at 11 o'clock a. m. all officers were re-elected, W. T. Rainey being president, M. W. Mosley first vice president, and Elia Colwell, secretary. All officers are residents of Hedley.

Everyone brought well-filled lunch baskets and the dinner which was participated in by over 1,000 persons was served from long tables built under the trees.

The morning program started at 10 o'clock and E. H. Watt, program chairman of Giles, called the large group to order. Reverend Reavis of Clarendon led in prayer and Chairman Watt spoke briefly on the organization and its history.

Dr. B. L. Jenkins of Clarendon delivered a very interesting talk, speaking at length of the hospitality of former days in this county and recalling many pleasant incidents that happened in the earlier days of history of Donley County.

The Clarendon Band, under the direction of Gas Stephenson, was present and entertained at intervals throughout the day with varied selections. Vieing for honors on the program with the Clarendon Municipal Band was the string band, presented by M. W. Mosley. The boys composing the string band issued rollicking tune of old, as the old settlers restrained themselves by keeping time with their feet.

Les Hawkins, commissioner from precinct 4, found restraining impossible, so the crowd witnessed a jig as the improvised platform where the program was rendered furnished a stage for the jigging county commissioner.

A quartette, Joe Crawford, Les Hawkins, Bud Heffner, and Mr. Davis, were favorites among the singers and rendered songs in keeping with the spirit of the day's program.

Judge Lowe addressed the group as follows:

"In welcoming you here this morning, especially those of you who have invested twenty or more years of your life in this county, (Continued on Page Four)

COACH KERBY ISSUES CALL FOR 1935 HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDEES.

The 1935 Broncho football workouts will start on Monday, August 26th, according to J. L. Kerby, coach.

"All boys who desire to come out for the 1935 squad are being invited to report at the dressing room at 9 o'clock Monday morning," Kerby stated. "Even though you may not be able to come out all week, make an effort to be present on Monday, as we desire to schedule your medical examination, which is necessary for every candidate, and also give you definite instructions for the coming season."

TWISTER DAMAGES FARM BUILDINGS

A small twister, coming between 8:30 and 9 o'clock p. m. Friday, did considerable damage on the P. F. Weidman farm, nine miles southwest of town, and left in its wake minor damages on the Chas. Bairfield place.

The twister completely demolished a barn belonging to Mr. Weidman and the loss was estimated to be $500. The barn was scattered over the Bairfield farm, Mr. Weidman stated.

On the Bairfield farm, a portion of the corral fence was blown down and a portion of a shed, making the loss small in comparison to the loss on the Weidman farm.

A terrific electrical storm and a one-half inch rain followed the strong wind, according to Mr. Weidman.

T R C CONTINUES OPERATION HERE

S. H. Haile of Pampa, district administrator of the Texas Relief Commission for District 16A, comprised of 10 Panhandle counties, this week informed The News that information given out by the local relief office to the effect that the office had been temporarily closed was erroneous.

Last Thursday's issue of The News carried a story which stated that the local relief office had been closed, information to this effect being supplied by employees of the local office. Mr. Haile states that this was incorrect; that work was temporarily suspended due to lack of funds but that the office was not closed.

Miss Betty Walker, formerly connected with the local office, has been transferred to Pampa and is in the accounting department of the relief office there.

Clifford Davis, former administrator here, is now connected with the Works Progress Administration in Amarillo.

H. G. Tatum has been placed in charge of the local office, Haile said, and Mrs. Oleta Chenault and Mrs. Jerome Stocking are still connected with the local office.

"Relief work was temporarily suspended in Clarendon pending the arrival of funds to continue the work now in progress," Haile said. "The office has not been closed, and relief work will be (Continued on Page Four)

ROGERS WRITES TO BRASWELL AFTER JANUARY VISIT HERE

VICTIM OF AIR CRASH USES TYPICAL ROGERS STYLE IN LETTER TO FORMER CLARENDON PUBLISHER AFTER VISIT TO JA RANCH EARLY THIS YEAR.

Will Rogers, famous cowboy-actor-writer of Claremore, Oklahoma, who was killed in an airplane accident last Thursday night when the plane in which he was flying with Wiley Post crashed to earth near Point Barrow, Alaska, was a visitor in Clarendon January 23, 1935. It was not generally known that he was coming to Clarendon, but Sam M. Braswell, former publisher of The News, and a few other local men heard that he was coming, and were on hand to meet the airplane in which he was flying when it landed here. Rogers made a visit to the JA Ranch while here, and after his return to Beverly Hills, California, Mr. Braswell received the following communication from him, written in typical Rogers style:

"Dear Mr. Braswell:

"I got your nice letter, also your very flattering write-up of my trip, and many thanks. I didn't want you newspaper guys to get the idea I was dodging you around the ranch, but to be honest with you I did come out there to see cows and cowboys and I could do without the editors for a day or so, but you were all darn considerable.

"I did have a good time, but like everything else I rush through I didn't have half time enough. That's a great place, and they are fine people. I was in hopes that Ewing would buy it and I would get him to let me gnaw off a calf stealing interest in it.

"But I am so tickled that cattle are looking up so that folks will be able to hold their ranches, the old cow man is coming right back.

"I got a letter from Wes Knorp that I haven't answered yet. He is down at Long Beach, or has he come by now? I wanted to see him out here. You can't do nothing the way you want to out here. It's a nut house. You never get time to see the folks (Continued on Page Eight)

BYNUM NOT GUILTY OBSTRUCTING ROAD

LELIA LAKE CITIZEN GOES FREE IN COUNTY COURT ON CRIMINAL CHARGE.

On a motion by County Attorney R. Y. King an instructed verdict for acquittal for A. B. Bynum, Lelia Lake, was given a jury in county court Tuesday afternoon, by Special Judge J. S. Stallings of Claude.

Bynum was charged, in substance, with obstructing Highway No. 5 in Lelia Lake by reason of operating an automobile service station which was alleged to be eight feet over the right-of-way line on Highway 5. He was defended in the case by W. T. Link, local attorney.

MRS. R. F. MORRIS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. R. F. Morris, mother of J. H. Morris of this city and former resident of Clarendon, passed away Sunday at 10 o'clock p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hunter B. Blakeley of Staunton, Virginia, where she was visiting. Death followed an illness of three days.

Mrs. Morris, nee Mary Elizabeth Cowan was born January 20th, 1890, in McCormick County, South Carolina. In May of 1920, Mr. and Mrs. Morris came to Clarendon where they made their home until February of 1931 when they returned to the old family home in Willington, South Carolina. While there Mr. Morris was stricken and on April 21, 1932, departed this life.

County Superintendent Urges Defeat of Seventh Amendment

Sloan Baker, county school superintendent, in warning voters of the dangers of the proposed amendment to the constitution pertaining to furnishing of free text books to school children, appearing on the ballot as Amendment No. 7, to be voted on August 24, itemized the following reasons for his opposition to the amendment:

"It will increase local taxes in our district.

"It will decrease the amount of state money available for education of the children in the public free schools.

"It will make possible the pres-

PROPOSED LAW CHANGES CAUSE WIDE INTEREST

HEAVY VOTE IS EXPECTED TO BE POLLED OVER THE STATE SATURDAY.

Citizens of Donley County and every county in the state will go to the polls Saturday, August 24, to cast their vote in what promises to be the hottest amendment ballot of the state in years. Seven amendments to the Constitution will be voted upon, and greater interest has been shown in these amendments than any that have been submitted to the voters in recent years. A heavy vote is expected.

The News presents herewith a resume of each of the seven proposed amendments, and a brief explanation of each:

No. 1. Amendment giving the legislature the power to provide a system of old age assistance not to exceed $15 per month per person and to accept from the government of the United States financial aid for old age assistance. This amendment will provide for old age pensions. The total amount to be given will be $30 per month, $15 to be given by the state and $15 by the national government. Requirements: One must be 65 years of age, must have lived five years of the nine years preceding passage of the bill in Texas, and must be a bona-fide citizen.

No. 2. Amendment of Article 1, Section 15, of the State Constitution by adding to said section a provision to the effect that the legislature may provide for the temporary commitment of mentally ill persons not charged with a criminal offense by the county court without the necessity of a jury trial. This amendment seeks to do away with trial by jury of any mentally ill person and allows the county court to act as said jury to determine whether the mentally ill person shall and should be sent to a state institution. This also would give the legislature power to enact such laws as it deems necessary to govern said trials.

No. 3. Amendment to the Constitution repealing state-wide prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon and providing for local option. This is the most debated amendment of the lot, and brings up the question of repealing the prohibition laws. This bill would make legal the sale of whiskey. Through local option, however, any community would be enabled to close saloons.

No. 4. Amendment to Section 1, Article XVII, of the Constitution of Texas, providing that amendments to the Constitution may be proposed at special sessions of the legislature under certain conditions. This amendment would make it possible for the legislature to propose new amendments and submit them to the people at special sessions. At the present time new amendments may be proposed only during the regular biennial sessions. The above proposed amendment will give the legislature power to act in time of emergencies.

No. 5. Amendment authorizing the courts to place defendants on probation. This amendment would enable the courts to stay the execution of a sentence and place the defendant upon probation. At any later time the court would have the power to reimpose the sentence.

No. 6. Amendment abolishing fee system of compensating all district officers, and all county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more, and authorizing the commissioners court to determine whether county officers and precinct officers in counties of less than 20,000 population may be compensated on a fee or salary basis. This amendment would apply to all district, county and precinct officers, and would do away with the fee system of compensation in counties of over 20,000 population, and would give the commissioners court authority to decide upon the method of compensation in counties of less than 20,000 population.

TEXAS PRESS OPPOSES AMENDMENTS

A rising tide of opposition to proposed amendments to the constitution is sweeping across the state with such force that it may engulf the entire state. So diversified in character and so broad in scope are these suggested constitutional changes that public opinion has been slow in forming, but the vigilant press has raised its editorial voice in warning and skepticism in the public mind has given way to apprehension and even to alarm.

Typical of the attitude of most newspapers in this comment from the Tyler Journal and the Troup Banner "The more we study the seven proposed constitutional amendments the more we are inclined to vote against every one of them. They are obscure, poorly worded, uncertain in their wording in many instances. They propose to give us certain things that we are in favor of—but, along with those things, we have to take other things that we don't want. It ought to be 'against the law' for the legislature to submit more than one single proposition in any proposed constitutional amendment. Take that one about textbooks, for example. If you favor free textbooks for sectarian schools as proposed, you have got to submit to a different way of apportioning the state school funds. No wonder so many proposed constitutional amendments of high merit get 'swatted.' They nearly always have a joker, or some other little slick trick slipped into them that will open the way for the politician and the legislative political log roller."

A great many newspapers are saying, "take that one about textbooks, for example." One of the curious developments of the past two weeks in the manner in which the perennially controversial prohibition question has been relegated to second place in public interest. An apparently harmless amendment which begins, "for or against the amendment to the constitution of the state of Texas permitting the furnishing of free textbooks to each child of scholastic age attending any school in this state," has come to transcend the repeal issue in importance. The Mission Times considers it "undoubtedly the most dangerous" of the entire group, declaring that "the fundamental on which the American government rests today is separation of church and state, and turning to the more subtle danger involved in the proposal: 'If this amendment were passed the present method of distributing the available school fund would be changed. The per capita apportionment method of equitable distribution as now written into the constitution would be taken out and the method would be determined by the legislature. Thus the important matter of equitable apportionment of the school fund would be made a political football to be kicked about and changed at will, according to which political faction has the more power.'"

The Greenville Banner comments tersely on the proposal: "By private schools or parochial insinuating public moneys into institutions, are we not only turning back into the church-and-state trend we fought against hundreds of years ago in establishing these United States, but also endangering the public schools we prize so highly?" And the Ward County News calls it "a pretty smooth scheme" and opposes it heartily: "As we see the above amendment it is a pretty smooth scheme to provide textbooks free to all the schools, private as well as public, at the expense of the taxpayer. If the private patrons are able to keep up their private schools they certainly ought to be able to buy textbooks for their pupils and not add an additional burden to taxpayers already heavily loaded."

Arousing only desultory comment is the repeal question and it is likely to be superceded by the deceptive old age pension amendment as public interests wax hotter.

The idea of protecting the aged against the vicissitudes of life is one to inspire humanitarian sympathy but that too can be dangerous when politically administered is pointed out by the press. The "Rambler" columnist of the New Braunfels Herald recognizes the appeal of the principal involved when he prefaces his opposition with the statement, "at the risk of severe criticism for a seeming lack of feeling for the aged unfortunates, Rambler will be forced to vote against this proposal."

But, indeed, the articulate press is generally in opposition. The Bonham Favorite declares in straight forward fashion: "Somehow we hesitate about voting to pay a man a fifteen dollars a month pension just because he is 65 years old and owns a good blackland farm and a lot of government bonds. What's the use of making the young pay a pension to the old who already have plenty?"

The fallacy which the Favorite detects is that the amendment, loosely drawn, does not restrict the payment of pensions to the indigent but lists as eligible to be pensioned everyone over 65 years of age. This would inject questions of public charity into the vagaries of politics. The Ferguson Forum is campaigning militantly against the amendment, and the "Echo" columnist of the Sulphur Springs News-Telegram, confessing intimately that "the Echo man and Governor Jim are sleeping in the same bed in the campaign against old age pensions," has this to say: "No millionaire around this old town will ever get an old age pension, unless they do so over the dead bodies of Jim Ferguson and the Echo man. The government does not owe these fellows anything, and in the language of the lamented Governor Jim Hogg: 'By gatlins, they are not going to get it.' We are for the down and out, regardless of age, but not for these guys."

The Pittsburgh Gazette, adding its voice to the chorus against the amendment, believes the movement for old age pensions "is another beautiful dream that may end in a financial nightmare." And Austin Callan discusses the question humanly in a column published in many Texas papers: "I'm not in favor of soaking innocent taxpayers for my hard luck in getting bent and bald . . . I don't hold the government responsible for my age any more than for my crops. Both seem to come naturally like cutting teeth or falling in love. Not a penny ought to be subtracted from a working man's wage or a producer's profit on his whipoorwill peas to compensate us for just chalking up a lot of mileage. . . . Old age pensions will not only have a tendency to discourage thrift in one's earning years but they will place an extra burden upon a government already busy watching politicians and running down bootleggers."

Already wary of many misleading proposals submitted to the public in the form of constitutional amendments, the press shows little sympathy for the proposal to empower the legislature to submit amendments in called sessions as well as regular sessions. The Cleburne Times-Review says trenchantly: "Personally we can see several objections to the legislature having authority to present amendments at called sessions, the chief one being that this power might result in too many called sessions. As things now stand the legislature is in session entirely too much and there's no use giving it the incentive to increase the time the taxpayers kick in ten bucks a day. Changing the constitution requires deliberate thought. It is not a thing to kick about at the whims and fancies of everybody. We think waiting until a regular session of the legislature should give sufficient time to iron out all flaws and special interests being submitted changes to our people."

The sum and substance of all this widespread criticism is expressing increasing opposition to the slate of seven amendments to be voted on August 24th, and it is likely that its opposition reflects a similar attitude held by the people generally. Most of the newspapers discuss the proposals separately—and they are so divergent in character that they perhaps should be discussed separately—yet most of the amendments reflect a common fallacy of much significance. The textbook amendment undermines constitutional safeguards against the hazards of practical politics by removing from the constitution the method of distributing school funds and throwing it into the arena of politics. The old age pension proposal would have a similar effect by decreeing all persons over 65 eligible for pensions without limiting pension payments to those actually in need. And the amendment to permit the legislature to submit constitution bare to the ravages of selfish politics. Consequently it is not too extreme to say that Texas confronts a real danger from more than one source through the insidious tendency to erode constitutional safeguards against political trial and error.

It is this fundamental objection which may prove to be of determining significance. In this era of unrest and change the spirit is growing among the people to protect the constitutions of the state and nation against the hazards of experiment and undefined objectives. And it is not surprising that even proposals which may be desirable in principle are being strenuously resisted because some loose construction threatens to release constitutional principals to the manipulations of practical politics.—Dale Miller in The Texas Weekly.

Amendments Are Explained By Mann

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7
 Free Text Books for Private and Parochial Schools

The Texas Constitution at the present time provides that the state is without authority to furnish free text books to other than public schools. Proposed amendment number seven on the ballot for the August 24th election would permit the state to supply free textbooks to all schools, private and parochial. Such textbooks, it is proposed, to be the same as used in the public schools.

Advocates of this amendment state that this would entail no additional expense because the state now purchases more books than are necessary. However, this point is merely one of the claims made and has not been substantiated by the secretary of state. Advocates point out that they pay taxes to support public schools but that if they choose to send their children to private or parochial schools the least the state can do is to supply the textbooks free.

Probably the most important and less publicized provisions of this amendment is the fact that it proposes to rewrite Section 5 of article seven of the constitution so as to permit the appointment of school funds on some other basis than scholastic population.

For many years there has been

DRY INK

By E. D. LANDRETH

Number 5
 Next Saturday is election day. There will be seven proposed amendments to the state constitution on which we shall vote. On your ballot the proposed amendment having to do with prohibition repeal will be No. 3. The exact words that will appear on your ballots as follows:

FOR the amendment to the state constitution repealing state-wide prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon and providing for local option.

AGAINST the amendment to the state constitution repealing state-wide prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon and providing for local option.

The wording may easily be confusing. Just remember that if you are a dry and desire to vote against whiskey, scratch the first part out and leave the last part where it says "Against the amendment."

Don't let the clause about prohibiting the open saloon deceive you. It seems to have been slipped in here for that purpose, but every thinking voter knows that if we repeal our prohibition laws next Saturday, there will be nothing to prohibit any drug store, grocery store, hot-dog stand, restaurant, or any individual person becoming a seller of hard liquor for there will be no law with penalty on our statutes restraining the seller of liquor. The sale of liquor is what made the old time saloon, and that's what will make the new saloon whether it is called that or not. So let us get out and vote next Saturday. Remember that this election may be won by a small majority either by wets or dries. If you should fail to vote, and the wets should win by a small majority, you would indeed have something to regret. So let us vote, and vote dry, so that we shall never have occasion to be ashamed when our children or our neighbor's children ask us what we did for their safety and welfare. Remember, scratch the part, "For the amendment," and leave the last part, "Against the amendment."

May I thank the Clarendon papers for having so kindly carried these articles, and if you chance they have helped anyone, I shall be happy.

considerable agitation in certain quarters to abolish the "school census" or scholastic population system of apportioning school funds and substitute in lieu thereof the "average attendance" basis or some other basis. The legislature would determine just how this was to be done, if this amendment is adopted.

If adopted this proposed amendment number seven would mean, in effect: (1) that the state would furnish free textbooks to pupils in all the schools of Texas; and (2) that a new basis for apportioning school funds other than the scholastic census basis, could be set up.

BILL BEECHLER

OFFICIALS EXTEND INVITATION TO DONLEY COUNTY CITIZENS TO ATTEND FAIR.

Bill Beechler, one of the vice presidents of the Tri-State Fair and good will ambassador from Amarillo, and Mason King of the Amarillo News-Globe, another Tri-State Fair "evangelist" were here last Thursday.

They brought a special invitation to Donley County to attend the Tri-State Fair, September 14-21, which year will be the largest exposition in Texas.

"Cash prizes for the largest delegations visiting the exposition with bands have been increased this year," said Mr. Beechler. "On one day last year there were 12 delegations and nine bands at the fair."

Beechler, manager of the Cunningham Floral Company, who for many years has served as chairman of the fair's reception committee, believes there will be more entries and larger crowds this year. "There will be no fair at Dallas this year and the Tri-State Exposition will be about the only attraction of its kind this fall."

Mason King, who is director of racing, called attention to the opening date of the fall meet.

"With more, better entries and larger purses, the Tri-State Fair racing meet will open one day earlier—Friday, September 13," he said. "Daily races with legalized wagering have become the major attraction at the fair. Thousands of turf fans from all over the Southwest pack into the grandstand daily to see the sport of kings."

"Of course, there will be a wide variety of other entertainments," he continued. "The largest midway attraction in the United States will be there, direct from an engagement in Detroit."

Both visitors declared there will be full entries in every department.

Wibbur C. Hawk again this year heads the fair association, which is guaranteeing payment in full of more than $15,000 in cash premiums.

O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager, has reported heavy demand for catalogues and concession space.

EXTRA PRIZES FOR 4-H MEAT ANIMAL SHOW WINNERS

Four-H club boys and girls in meat animal projects in Donley County again are eligible to compete for the splendid county, state, sectional and national awards given in the sixth annual meat animal contest sponsored by Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago meat packer and chairman of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

These prizes supplement handsomely those offered in the year's livestock exhibitions for 4-H animals and are an extra incentive to club members to complete their projects in the best possible manner.

County winners, who are to be chosen by extension agents, receive a beautiful embossed gold medal, while state champions win a 17-jewel gold watch on which their name is engraved. Four sectional winners each receive a trip with all expenses to the forthcoming National Club Congress.

Mrs. Heckel Stark left for Los Angeles, California, Saturday where she will visit her mother, Mrs. Patten and attend a reunion of her brothers and sisters. Mrs. Stark will visit Long Beach, Bellflower, Catalina Island, Pasadena, and the fair at San Diego before returning to Clarendon on September 7.

MULKEY BUILDING A NEW THEATRE

BOSHER BUILDING IS BEING REMODELED TO HOUSE NEW "COZY" THEATRE.

History repeats itself, for the "Cozy" the third picture show to be in the Boshier Building is under construction, with the building being remodeled at the present time.

Homer Mulkey, owner of the Pastime Theatre, is establishing his new motion picture house in a building which has housed two shows in the early days, a saloon, grocery store, rooming house, and many other businesses.

The front of the building was torn away this week and a stucco front, modernistic, and effectively decorated with green glass will replace the old one.

The show will seat approximately 350 people and a balcony will be reserved for the colored.

Equipment which was replaced recently by new in the Pastime Theatre will be used in the "Cozy." The interior will be covered with sound board.

The picture house will show good Class B films and Westerns, together with serials.

to be held in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition the first week in December. Three cash college scholarships of $300, $200 and $100 go to national winners. Contestants are required to fill out forms available from the county agent.

Three $300 cash scholarships also are provided by Mr. Wilson for livestock club members showing in the 4-H International Show in connection with their meat animal projects. Scholarship awards are announced after the show.

CHURCH CHATS

"THE FATE OF THOSE WHO REJECT THE GOSPEL"

It is God's invariable rule of proceeding to deal with His creatures, in some measure, as they deal with Him. Hence we are told that, with the upright, He shows Himself upright; with the merciful, He will show Himself merciful; and with the forward, He will show Himself forward. When, therefore, persons come to Him with a pretended desire to know their duty, but in reality, with a view to find some excuse or justification for their errors and sins, He will suffer them, as a punishment to find something which will harden them in their wickedness. Thus He will suffer the obstinate believer in universal salvation, to deceive himself with delusive dreams, till he wakes in torments. He will suffer the proud, self-righteous opposer of His Gospel, to trust in his moral duties, till it is too late to discover his mistake. He will suffer the self-deceived hypocrite to please himself with his false hopes of Heaven, till he finds the door forever shut against him.

All these persons did, in effect, wish to be deceived: they hated the light, shut their eyes, and would not come to it; they learned to their understandings, instead of trusting to the Lord; they never prayed to Him to keep them from self-deception and from false paths; they chose to believe Satan rather than God, and therefore are justly left to feel the effects of it. The Bible is God's inspired word. Without the Bible, the world's history is incomplete. Without it nothing would be known of a Saviour. It presents Him to us as our Saviour, "the way the truth and the life." The Bible reveals God's will to mankind. It recognizes the right of human will, that power by which we can look into the face of God and say, "I will or I will not." God's plan of salvation has been revealed to us in the Bible and we can accept it or reject it. There is blood enough in the fountain opened for the unclean to save all the world, but there is not enough to save the unwilling.

FEW BANKS CLOSE UNDER F. D. I. C.

GRATIFYING RESULTS SEEN BY REPORT FOR FIRST 18 MONTHS SAYS CROWLEY.

Washington.—Prompt start of payment of depositors of closed insured banks; only 19 closings out of a membership of 14,000 banks; an excess of income over outgo of more than four million dollars, are some of the features of the report of the federal deposit insurance corporation for its first 18 months of operation.

The FDIC also reports that all banks which it was insuring on June 30, 1935, are to be credited on the corporation books with 100 per cent of the amount they have paid for insurance of an estimated $18,000,000,000 of their deposits. The total credit for all insured banks amounts to $41,461,326.

Complete protection of the funds of 99 per cent of 26,000 depositors in the 19 closed insured banks is revealed by the FDIC. Total insured deposits were $2,760,000. In each of the closings payment was begun within an average of eight days.

Chairman Leo T. Crowley of the FDIC board of directors, in making the report public, said: "It is gratifying to be able to report so few closings of insured banks. It constitutes real evidence of the soundness of the reconstruction program begun two years ago which was made possible through the cooperation of insured banks with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and other federal and state authorities in trying to get banks back on a firm operating basis."

Outside the insurance fund there were 51 failures of banks, involving total deposits of more than $35,000,000 during the 18 months covered by the FDIC report.

The insurance corporation's income from September 21, 1933, the date of its inception, to June 30, 1934, after deducting deposit insurance losses and operating expenses, amounted to approximately four and a quarter million dollars. It estimates that its operating expenses for the current year will be less than fourteen one thousandths of one per cent of its potential liabilities for insured deposits.

Local Business Man—

ried to Miss Carma Lively in Houston County. Thirty-four years ago Mrs. Tims passed away and he was married in 1902 to Miss Cora Buckalew in Anderson County.

Since 1916, Mr. Tims had been engaged in the grocery business, the greater part of this time being spent in Donley County where he moved in 1913. For sixteen years, he operated the Tims Grocery at Hedley, for one year at Goodnight, two at Ashtola, and over a year ago, he moved his stock to Clarendon where he established his business.

Mr. Tims was a devout Christian, and his deeds of charity and kindness endeared him to the hearts of many. In 1895, he united with the Baptist Church, having untiringly served that faith since.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Clarendon First Baptist Church. Reverend M. E. Wells, pastor of the Hedley Baptist Church, and Reverend J. Perry King, pastor of the local Baptist Church, were in charge of the services.

Pallbearers were C. E. Johnson, Hedley; Robert E. Miller, Hedley; G. M. James, Goodnight; Melvin Cook, Clarendon; H. P. Clemmons, Dimmitt.

Interment was made in the Rowe Cemetery of Hedley.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, H. C. Tims of Goodnight and L. L. Tims of Amarillo; and three grandchildren, Carmalett, H. C., Jr., Goodnight, and Buddy Lee of Amarillo.

you are called in today to receive a portion of the dividend due you for such an investment. The dividend you will receive is not measured in dollars and cents but is measured in love and good will for your neighbors. That days work that you have given to some sick friend or the night that you may have sat by the bed side of a sick neighbor can be repaid today in a few words of thankfulness. Tell that neighbor that you love him, if you do, and his heart will swell to overflowing with joy.

"My friends I am inclined to believe that in the busy swirl of today that our minds become so occupied that we neglect many of the things that really makes life worth living. It does no harm to take time to express to your friends your appreciation of their friendship. When kindly words are thus spoken in sincerity it really causes the heart to beat just a little faster and the hand grasp just a little warmer. Do not be afraid to render a favor or service to your neighbor for fear you will not be rewarded for it, for I am thoroughly convinced that if such a favor or service is rendered unselfishly your reward will come, not in the way of measurements in money but in peaceful satisfaction."

ASTOUNDING "LIFT" IN SINCLAIR H-C, Local Motorists Tell Sinclair Dealers

When you buy gasoline you buy liquid power. And power is measured by engineers in terms of lifting. A single gallon of Sinclair H-C Gasoline has the potential energy to lift 99 million pounds one foot. Putting that into a power picture we say one gallon of H-C could lift a 40-ton Brontosaurus 1/4 mile.

In automobile road tests Sinclair H-C Gasoline gave 15% to 20% more smooth power and from 1 to 3 more miles per gallon—compared to 12 other well-known gasolines!

Your neighborhood Sinclair dealer will tell you what local motorists are saying about H-C's astounding "lift"—what it means in extra power for their cars. Ask him!

Your correspondent was unable to attend Sunday School this week because of an infection on my left limb. However I want to thank the folks for telephoning the news items to me so they would reach the paper on time. They reported 55 in Sunday school. We are very proud of these fine folks that will keep on coming even if ol' man weather reports "no rain."

The lesson Sunday was dealing with Mary and Martha, with Jesus as their guest. Just how many Marys and Marthas do we have today? Is true hospitality to be overlooked in this age? Not for every day more people are welcoming Christ into their homes and daily lives and thus if they have the true Christian love in their hearts they will have that ever-pleasant and homely atmosphere in which guests love to frequent.

If we women of today can only find time in our busy "rush" what would we ever do without this work? To entertain the Master as we should our lives would become so full of love that we will not hesitate to welcome His teachings more and more.

Let us all try to use the example set before us in the vivid picture of Mary and Martha.

CORN-HOG ADVISORY COMMITTEE ELECTS OFFICERS, PLANS WORK

J. P. Strader Elected Chairman; J. S. Sharp, Vice Chairman; S. M. Ainsworth, Sec.-Treas.

The Texas Corn-Hog Advisory Committee, being the duly elected representatives of about 38,000 Texas Corn-Hog producers in 225 counties, while in session at the farmer's short course at Texas A. & M. College, issued the following statements:

We wish to go on record commending the National Administration for its untiring effort to give the farmer an opportunity to receive parity prices for the commodities he produces and markets, and to give the producers of agricultural commodities a protection similar to that which has been given manufacturers and other commercial interests. Texas farmers are keenly aware of the fact that this is an unprecedented consideration given them.

We insist upon the continuation of agricultural adjustment programs and processing taxes, without which Texas farmers and other Texas business would suffer.

We express the determination of Texas farmers to hold out adjustment programs regardless of attacks made on them, and serve notice that we shall insist upon some kind of farm programs no matter what legal difficulty may arise in connection with the present one.

We heartily endorse, and are ready to assist the Texas agricultural association in its effort to expose the unconstitutionality of high protective industrial tariffs which have been of great damage to the majority interests of farmers, and we call on all the people of Texas to assist us in our struggle for a fair deal which is of great importance to the people in all occupations just as well as to those engaged in farming.

We wish to commend and endorse the corn and hog section of the agricultural adjustment administration in Washington for the splendid way they have carried out the program in Texas and the manner in which they have helped the corn-hog contract signers of Texas to meet each problem that has come up in carrying out the program.

We want to express the appreciation of the farmers we represent, to the extension service of the Texas A. & M. College for the capable way the program has been handled and the fair, impartial decisions that have come from the officials in charge.

We endorse the actions of the members of the present corn-hog review board and the way they have handled the job of allotment that has been their duty. The board has been fair and just in all its decisions and rulings, and contract signers appreciate its impartial allotments.

This committee feels that the Corn-Hog program has been efficiently and fairly carried on in Texas. The county agents, all corn-hog committeemen and others connected with the program have worked hard in putting it over. The contract signers have been harmonious and have cooperated with the officials, and this committee wants to express its appreciation to all connected with the program for the manner in which it has been handled.

Signed:
J. P. Strader, Canadian, Texas, Chairman
J. S. Sharp, Paris, Texas

$1,990,958 In ERA Funds Alloted For 1936 Shelterbelt Program

There has been allotted $1,990,958 from the Emergency Relief Appropriation funds to carry on the 1936 shelterbelt program, Director Paul H. Roberts announced recently. With this allotment, it is planned to plant about 1400 miles of shelterbelt strips and 6400 acres of farmstead planting.

This allotment of ERA funds, it is estimated, will furnish approximately 700,000 man days of labor during the fiscal year of 1936. With the exception of a limited number of technical supervisory and facilitating personnel, employment will be from the Federal relief rolls and from the nearest available source to the locations where the work is to be done. The relief labor will be paid semi-monthly, at wages prescribed by the Federal Relief Administrator for the locality in which the men are working. The maximum period of employment will be during the spring planting, but there will be considerable employment during the fall and winter in the nurseries, and for ground preparation, fencing and other incidental work.

The state directors will be in direct charge of the work in their respective states. They have been authorized to start acquiring land for planting under a cooperative arrangement made with A. A. A. administrator, to use lands included in crop reduction contracts

Cowboy Finds Rusty Gun Near Clarendon

"Did the pioneer die with his hand on the trigger or did he lose his gun while riding?" Localites have asked this week who have viewed the 63 year old .45 pistol found recently by Ed Mahaffey during a roundup on the Allen Creek Camp.

Riding past the spot where the pistol was found on August 2, Mr. Mahaffey noticed the butt protruding from the ground and returned later to unearth it, only to have the rust-eaten handle fall off.

The pistol was made in 1872 and the barrel is full, the cartridges turned green with rust. For the past week, the old pistol has been on display at the Box-Ton Confectionery.

Will Conduct The FREE

Electric Cooking School

of the

West Texas Utilities Company

AUGUST 22 - 23

The housewives and husbands of Clarendon and all surrounding towns are cordially invited to attend a FREE cooking school sponsored by the West Texas Utilities on the dates of August 22-23.

The cooking school will bring suggestions and methods to relieve long hours of work. This is not a matter of learning how to cook or how to do housework; but the use of short cuts with appliances and tested methods to reduce time and labor. Many women feel that "Mother's house-keeping and cookery, the best in the world, are good enough today," but mothers in those old days yearned, too, for new ideas and simpler methods.

Plan now to attend every session. You are sure to enjoy and profit by the valuable experience as exhibited in the demonstrations conducted by Miss Johnson.

A WANT AD IN THE NEWS WILL BRING RESULTS

Williams Tells

 about hitch-hikers robbing kindly souls who have picked them up on the highways until it is hardly considered news any more.
 However, Hollis Leathers comes in with a tale this week about a young man who was hitch-hiking from Waco to Clarendon recently. It seems the young man was picked up by a couple of prosperous looking men near Fort Worth. After traveling a few miles, the car was stopped. The men extracted from the hitch-hiker the sum of two bucks, and ejected him from the car.
 Another case of reversed procedure. The man bit the dog. And that's NEWS.

Thank You
 This department wishes to thank the many people of the county who were so liberal with their praise of the extra edition of The News which was published last Friday, telling of the death of Will Rogers and Wiley Post. We were rather proud of that extra, too. It was on the street fully four hours before any other newspaper carrying the news of this great tragedy arrived in the county. Several hundred copies were sold here and in Hedley and Lelia Lake.

 The edition was published, at considerable expense, as a gesture of service to the community. We believe it to be the duty of a newspaper to do all within its power to keep the citizens of the community informed upon occasions of such wide interest as was the death of Post and Rogers.

Rogers Writes

 "Give all the JA bunch my best, I want to come there some time at branding time. I can miss a calf more ways than anybody. Tell Wesley Knorp to drop me a line I want to hear from him. I always wanted to be on a big outfit where they still run a wagon, and I will, I expect, wind up with a California dairy, and run a wagon to town with the milk.
 "I got my own home ranch here at Santa Monica pretty well stocked before stuff got so high. I got six roping calves and ten roping goats and a remother of twenty top horses to work em on.
 "Well hope to see you all again."
