Working time on the project is expected to take about 210 days. The project will be handled and financed through the NRWR set-up, one of the divisions of the Federal relief administration.

It is fully expected that work may be started within 20 days time.

Destruction Of Old Walsh Home Recalls Story of Cow Man

Workers on the CWA payroll are demolishing the famous old Dick Walsh home on Second street this week to open up right-of-way leading to the highway.

This old house was erected about 1906, according to Mr. W. H. Patrick, president of the First National Bank, life-long friend of the late well-known cow man. The home was sold by Mr. Walsh about 1912 to Mrs. Adair. It is a two-story 8-room house and was known as the town house for the ranch people.

Mr. Patrick recalls that Mr. Walsh left here about 1914 to go to Brazil where he inspected property in the Matto Grosso province for a British company, later going to Rhodesia in Africa on a similar mission.

He died of apoplexy while on his annual trips to Rhodesia in 1921 at the age of 56. His salary was $10,000 and all expenses while working for the British syndicate in Africa.

WEATHER MAN HAS RAIN IN HIS BAG

A total of .08 of an inch of precipitation had fallen in Clarendon up to noon Thursday, commencing about midnight Wednesday night, according to Weather Observer Joe Goldston. Farmers and business men alike hope for more moisture before the spell ends. Forecasts from Amarillo indicate fair weather for Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Barcus Antrobus were Amarillo visitors Tuesday.

Button! Button Who's Got It?

Ever hear the game "Button, Button, Who's Got the Button?" Well, the women who are employed at the CWA Sewing Room are playing that game this week. They have cloth for shirts but no buttons and they are asking that everyone who has a "Button Box" at home donate as many shirt buttons as possible to this cause.

The sewing room is open every afternoon in the week and the gift will be most appreciated.

HERMESMEYER IS NAMED HEAD OF CORN-HOG BODY

ORGANIZATION FORMED AT MEET HELD AT COURT
LAST SATURDAY

At a meeting last Saturday afternoon at the Court House, attended by some 150 farmers from all sections of Donley County, the organization to be known as the "Donley County Corn-Hog Reduction association," was perfected.

The crowd was called to order by County Agent Broun, after which he explained the purpose of the meeting. This is to comply with the Government plan for reduction of both hog and corn crops. At the same time, members of the association will receive pay from the Government to the extent of reduction of either or both crops.

John Hermesmeier of Jericho was named president, with Ed Kinslow of Hedley as vice-president, Burt Mayfield of Clarendon as secretary and A. E. Tidrow of Naylor route as treasurer. These officers were elected at a meeting of precinct committeemen, the latter being selected at the general meeting. These committeemen are: Commissioners' Precinct No. 1, John Hermesmeier, chairman, D. E. Randall and Sid Harris, Commissioners' Precinct No. 2, Burt Mayfield, chairman, Walter Lowe and R. Wiedman; Precinct No. 3, Ed Kinslow, chairman, Claude Bain and Elby Ballew; and Precinct No. 4, A. E. Tidrow, chairman, Marvin Hall and H. S. Mahaffey.

BANKHEAD BILL EXPECTED TO BE MADE INTO LAW

WOULD PROVIDE TAX OF 12¢
A POUND ON EXCESS
CROP AT THE GIN

Officials heading up the cotton acreage reduction program in Texas expect to pass the five million acre mark by Saturday night, according to H. H. Williamson of College Station.

Thus it appears that Texas farmers are really getting in line to put over the program in a big way this state.

At the same time, reports from Washington Thursday morning indicated the compulsory cotton acreage slash bill is sure to pass in Congress. It is known as the Bankhead Bill, Senator Bankhead of Alabama being author of it. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has finally given his approval to the bill, according to Washly dispatches.

Under the bankhead bill, cotton to be marketed in the 1934-35 season will be limited to 9 million bales. Under the measure the Secretary of Agriculture will be required to appraise the several cotton states the number of standard bales of 500-pound weight that may be exempt from the tax provided in the bill. Cotton in excess of the allotments would be virtually forced off the market by a tax of 12 cents a pound at the time it is ginned. Each farm will be allotted a quota that will be free from the 12-cent tax.

While it is not official, a prominent Wichita Falls leader, on his return from Washington a few days ago, predicted the compulsory law and added as his belief that those farmers failing to sign the voluntary reduction program would not benefit from rental and parity payments.

CONFERENCE BASKETBALL GAME AT HEDLEY FRIDAY

The Hedley High School Basketball teams, both boys and girls, are the Champions of Donley County. Friday night, Feb. 9th, beginning at 7:30 o'clock at the Hedley High School Gym, will be played the first Conference game of the season, when both teams will play the champions of Carson County, the Panhandle Basketball team.

This will be an unusually good game from all angles, for when two champion teams play it good, but when four champion teams play—that's something!

Mothers And Daughters Banquet Scheduled For Next Tuesday Night

Mrs. Warner has many friends in Clarendon and it is indeed a pleasure to have her on this occasion as her talks are always worthwhile and interesting.

CROP CONTRACTS NOW NUMBER 638 BROUN ANNOUNCES

MORE BEING RECEIVED DAILY
AS TIME EXTENDED TO THE 15TH OF FEBRUARY

A total of 21,000 acres, involved in 638 contracts by individual cotton growers of Donley County, has been rendered to the Government, according to a report Tuesday afternoon by County Agent Broun.

This represents between 35 and 45 percent of the average 5-year acreage planted in cotton by these 638 farmers of the county. "This is pretty nice" was the only comment of the county agent as he glanced at the great stack of contracts. "And we are getting several more every day, the time for signing of the contracts having been extended to February 15th. We ought to get several thousand more acres during the days intervening between now and the 15th."

C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, who is a candidate for the office of Governor of the State of Texas in the July Primary, was a Clarendon visitor Tuesday.

Cripple Children's Council Report

In the annual report, just recently made by the officials of the "Crippled Children's Council, Inc." at Amarillo, it is shown that 32 new cases were handled in 1933, with 115 cases up for re-observation.

A recapitulation of other cases shows: X-rays, 31 photographs, 28; anesthetic, 16; operations, 26; casts, 32; new braces, 6; braces repaired, 5; hospital days, 154; house visits, 19; non-orthopedic cases, 2; dressings, 80. physiotherapy treatments, 60.

From January 1, 1933, to Sept. 1, 1933, a clinic was maintained. Cash on hand at the first of last year was $406.61. Total receipts for the year, including old balance, was $1973.40. Total disbursements for the year was $1618.06, leaving a cash balance on hand December 31 of $355.34.

Many Clarendon people are interested in this work and have contributed to it.

Prevent Diphtheria In Donley County

The State Health Department in its fight against communicable diseases has issued a recent bulletin of warning and at the same time offered suggestions as means of prevention. The Bulletin reads:

Diphtheria is a dangerous disease. Most of the cases and deaths occur in children under 10 years of age. There were 812 deaths from diphtheria in Texas in 1932.

"There is a method for preventing diphtheria which is harmless and of proven worth. It consists of one injection of toxoid. This injection will produce a lasting protection against diphtheria. Thousands of children have been protected in this way. There are no harmful after effects."

"Every child from 6 months to 12 years of age needs this protection. This can be obtained from your doctor."

BRICE YOUTH'S PAINTINGS ARE MARVEL TO ALL

YOUNG MAN HAS HAD NO
KIND OF TRAINING; HIS WORK EXCITES COMMENT

Visitors to the office of The News this week have had an opportunity to view a couple of the paintings done by Elba Heckle Murff, an 18-year old youth of the Brice community.

These paintings have aroused much interest in Clarendon because of the ability shown by the young man. The youth has had no training whatever along this line, and his education has been very limited.

One of the Murff paintings also is hanging in the lobby of the Pastime Theatre. It is a picture of the late Sam Burton, coach at Canyon. One of the paintings in The News office is of Miss Ruth Hartzog of Clarendon while the other is a scene of the sea.

The shadows and lights on these paintings are done in a marvelous manner, according to those who know about these matters. To the ordinary person they appear almost perfectly done.

The training that this young man should have and deserves would be a most worthy project for some club or organization to undertake and put over.

O. C. Watson, who is director of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association, attended the convention held in Amarillo the forepart of the week. Mrs. Watson and family joined him for the banquet Monday evening.

OPTION CHECKS RECEIVED HERE

COUNTY AGENT SAYS GROW-ERS MUST COME IN AND SIGN UP FOR MONEY

County Agent T. R. Broun Monday received 182 checks on the United States treasury, totalling $40,286.32, to be handed out this week as fast as cotton farmers of the county come into his office and sign the necessary papers.

A ruling by the Agriculture department at Washington prevents publication of the names of those receiving these option checks so those expecting them must come to the office at City Hall to learn whether or not they are on the fortunate list.

This amount of money at this time will enable scores of farmers to buy supplies, pay on current debts and also provide for running expenses through the Spring months. "Come and get 'em" is Mr. Broun's announcement.

ZEKE SEZ

It was a pleasure to be a guest of the Clarendon Lions Club Tuesday at noon. Lion Tail Twister Homer Mulkey sat next us and kept us out of trouble. These Lions do roar, sometimes Lion Drennan had charge of the program and led the group in several lusty songs. "Boss" Lion Nored held the reins. All were present except Freddie, O. C. Ralph, Elbert, and Sam. That weekly bulletin, edited by Lion Ferrell, is a gem, particularly the poetry section.

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Post Tuesday night, Post Commander Boykin announced several plans of the post, including a social at their next regular meeting night and a smoker later on for the members.

The Legion Hall is the finest of its kind we have ever seen anywhere in Texas, barring none. And we learn it is the permanent property of the post, insuring a meeting place and lodge rooms always during the life of the membership. Among those present we spied G. G. Reeves, who modestly admitted he is president of the county teachers-trustees group and that they plan a big get-together on the night of the 16th instant. There are some real domino players up there, including Buddy Fish.

T. M. Shaver, we learn, is one of the old hard-boiled war-time "M.P.'s." Too bad, buddy, but we believe you have lost most of that hard-boiled attitude as you appeared genteel and courteous, as much so as any "Q.M." shave-tail, when we met you Monday. However, when the boys went over there, M.P.'s, shave-tails, B.A.P.'s, etc. all looked alike and were all buddies. It was a common bond over there.

By the bye, we met at least four brothers in one business here the other morning—the Bain boys—at the O. K. Cafe, near the Post Office. And they all admit "nary one" is the boss. All work on the job and are putting it over in great style.

Allan Bryan, we learn, is enjoying the comforts and conveniences of a new home. Congrats.

There is that man Bartlett, down at Bartlett's well-known grocery. He is a marvel. He is both a photographer and a groceryman, making a success of both. Howja do it?

There is a man by the name of "Mack" around that federal

BOY SCOUT WEEK—A REMINDER

Over the nation begins a celebration this week of the Boy Scout movement, and as one of the really important weeks of the calendar, it should bring us a reminder of the purposes of Scouting and its contributions to good citizenship.

In all the criminal records of the nation there has been no instance of a boy well grounded in Scouting having become a criminal, and had Scouting been general two decades ago criminality today would be much less.

In this connection, it ought to bring more interest and support of the Boy Scout movement here in Clarendon, because too few boys are being reached in this community by so good and preventive activity.

The News is going to say something here that isn't pleasant, but what we believe is absolutely truth—Unless the parents, the churches, the schools join forces in an effort to surround the boys and girls of this community with more wholesome influences, exerting upon them stronger teachings of religion and citizenship, we are going to be startled some morning with the realization that we have allowed a lawless and criminal influence to possess them—and the fault will be more ours than theirs.

Scouting is the non-sectarian, all-sectarian avenue of approach to this important question of training the young in the ways of clean minds, strong bodies and straight morals—the foundations now and ever of good citizenship.

Let us give thought, time and money to Scouting—it will save us and the Nation sorrow, embarrassment and money in the years to come.

BOLD BAD MEN ARE GETTING THEIRS

Within the past few weeks there have been more gangsters killed by rival gangs, by officers, sentenced to life terms and in custody awaiting trial than in any other similar period in history, although it must be admitted that there have been more bad men for the officers to work on than in any other period.

There is a general feeling getting round over the nation that drastic action must be taken to end racketeering, and bring to justice the "bad men," and many quiet, unheard local officers have been the means of arrest of these bandits, where famous officers and detectives have failed. It has been in some cases ludicrous how easy arrests have been accomplished of the boldest and worst criminals, and proves again the adage that "guilt makes cowards of us all."

Bold bad men are getting theirs, and we would be very hopeful of the future law and order of the nation, were it not for the oceans of liquor that an unthinking people have unloosed in many states, which can only mean a new crop of criminals and a greatly increased crime ratio.

The nation will rid itself of this condition after the lesson has been learned all over again, but we have many weary, sad years ahead of us. It will be the same in Texas unless our best elements of citizenship assert themselves and maintain our constitutional prohibition and the Dean law.

THOSE CONVENTIONS

A Panhandle business man just returned from his regional convention, said that the main banquet event of the two-day affair was almost broken up by the rowdy, uncouth, boisterousness of the drinking element—most of them men who in their own home towns never allowed themselves to be seen intoxicated. This gentleman further said that some members of the official family of the convention drank so much that they were unable to attend to the business of the meeting.

Since repeal, many feel that they have full permission and legal sanction for making hogs of themselves, and such fellows are a nuisance in any meeting or convention. This, to our mind, is the greatest argument against weakening in any degree our laws against liquor.

What The News would like to see, however, is a determination on the part of working members of all conventions to weed out of official connection every man who doesn't think enough of himself, his profession or vocation, or his organization to keep himself in trim for business and to refrain from acting the hog and the boor under any condition.

Happily these hogs are not in the majority—the better element holds the balance of power—and they ought to use it for decency and for the good of whatever order they belong to.

DOWN ON THE FARM IN 1934

The farmer is justified in looking forward with optimism as the new year opens.

The last report of prices shows that substantial advances have been made in the prices received for basic agricultural products. Strikes and turbulence which recently marked many farm areas have abated. There is reason to believe that the farmer is realizing that you cannot transform economic law with a piece of legislation, no matter how well conceived and administered.

During 1934, and in the years to follow, the influence of the farm cooperative will grow steadily stronger. Unbiased authorities agree to that. The farm cooperatives have been extraordinarily successful in the face of extraordinary depression. Without cooperatives prices would have been lower and markets more chaotic. They have acted in the capacity of educators among their members, the general public, and government officials. They have been untiring in their work, and unswerving in their efforts, to better the farmer's lot and render service to consumers.

This year they will grow stronger still. They will enlist more members, be more thoroughly appreciated and understood. And, unless all indicators are wrong, they are on the verge of a period of great achievement that will revolutionize conditions down on the farm.

WHEN POLITICS TAKES COMMAND

When government goes into a business, politics takes command. Red tape replaces capability. Favoritism hampers efficiency. The bureaucrat gets the jobs—the public officials get the fun—the taxpayers get the bill.

That is a severe indictment, but experience seems to justify it. The private business executive must produce results or get out. The public business executive has no financial interest at stake. If he doesn't go in for personal graft he is safe. He doesn't have to make both ends meet—the public treasury will pay the deficits he creates. He is immune to taxes, to ordinary competition, to all the things that keep private business men on their toes. He is often free to adopt strange and mysterious bookkeeping methods which dim the real results of operation. And he is completely divorced from realities so far as usual business methods are concerned.

In a good many hundreds of years of "government in business," no one has been able to figure out how to divorce it from politics and put it on a "business" basis.

FORMER PANHANDLE EDITOR HONORED

L. P. Loomis, former Panhandle newspaper man, evidently maintains his high standard in newspaper making up at Torrington, Wyoming, even as he did over at Canadian in years past and gone. Newspaper friends over the Panhandle will be happy to learn that he was accorded the highest honors when his Torrington Telegram was named first of the publications in the North Platte Valley.

Editor Loomis is a most conscientious worker and his friends here applaud the honors he continues to win.

MARTIN

(By Mrs. Jim Baker)

The county singing convention held at Martin Sunday afternoon was a wonderful success. We feel that Mr. Kavanaugh was responsible for our having the convention here and we wish to express our gratitude to him. We also wish to thank Mr. Earthman for the little "Welcome" song that he composed for Martin. Mr. Earthman is always doing nice things for Martin. There was a large crowd out, far more than the auditorium could accommodate and the singing was very good indeed. Mr. J. D. Wilson, Superintendent of Rural Schools of Collingsworth county, gave in interesting talk on community work, which added variety to the program. Martin's honor roll for the Fourth Month as follows: First Grade—Charlie Spier, Helen Bullman. Second Grade—Josie Davis. Third Grade—Bennie Spier, Jimmy Goodman, John Murray Peabody, Bobbie Marshall. ASHTOLA

(By Treva Carper)

The attendance at Sunday School was quite a bit better than the Sunday before. We wish to encourage everybody to come. We need you at church, and you need us. Grace Hardie spent the week-end with Frances Fowler. Athlyn Drennan is improving fast. The Pirates of Ashtola are working out a play to be presented real soon. Everyone is working hard for the coming event, county meet, which will be the 16th and 17th of March at Clarendon. Everyone is to participate in this event. J. L. Tuna made a business trip to Amarillo Friday. Norris Dewey and Jerel Hatley attended church Sunday night at Clarendon. The farm mechanics boys have made themselves a work shop on the east side of the school building. The basketball boys went to Chamberlain Saturday afternoon. Grace Hardie is entering declamation at Clarendon this year. We wish her great success. She won first place for Ashtola in 1932 and second at district in Canyon.

the library, and that many of them, such as reference books, histories, etc. are never checked out, then one realizes how steadily some of the books are used. The long evenings have meant that the men and older boys are having time to read, and that means that Western stories are much in demand. A favorite writer of this type of stories is William McLeod Raine. He was born in London in 1871, and came to the United States when ten years of age. After graduating from Oberlin College, he entered the newspaper world, working with several newspapers and magazines, all in the West. During these years he was gathering material for the stories which have made his name so well known to all lovers of Western stories. His home is in Denver, Colorado.

One of our latest accessions of his books is "The Highgrader"—a mining story, the scene of a Colorado mine. A group of aristocratic and wealthy English people, some of whom have mining interests in Colorado, have accepted the invitations of a newly rich Chicago millionaire to visit with him in the midst of his large mining interest. The background which Mr. Raine has from his English birth and ancestry makes it possible for him to depict very strikingly the contrast between English customs, habits and ideals, and those of the Western mines. In the party are two English girls—one a dazzling beauty who has come to make a wealthy marriage in this land of gold, the other a clear eyed, clear thinking, best type of English girl with the ideals and traditions of a family of good breeding behind her. The "Highgrader" is a mixture of devil-may-care adventure and the finest type of western ideals and loyalty. His adventurous father had come from England and had married a vivid high spirited western girl, and the son combined the characteristics of the two. A quickly traced relationship between himself and a young officer and his sister in the English party adds interest to the story. His views on property and on the strength between capital and labor were radical—and that accounted for the fact that he was a "highgrader"—a go-between for the miners, disposing of their ore which they salvaged from their work in the mines, feeling they had a right to more than the meager wages received for their piteous work from the plutocratic owners. But the clear thinking English girl could not see that two wrongs made a right, and the clash of wifes is interesting. There is adventure a-plenty—dangers which bring into strong relief hidden characteristics—and a most happy ending. William McLeod Raine has written some two dozen stories, and we have about half of them on our shelves in our section set apart for Westeners.

Did You Know?

By Fred Hardie

Editor's Note:—In this column the views expressed are those of the author's and do not reflect the editorial opinion of the News editor. It is published solely as a news item.

That we hear a great deal about gold and that although the gold barons are often in the limelight nothing is said of the fellow who locates the gold or the old grisley hard rock miner who digs it out of the earth. Let me state that the hard rock miners as a class are the most honest people on earth.

That America is the second largest gold producing country in the world with 21 and one-half per cent. South America produces 22 per cent and Australia and Asia 17 per cent.

That I have been in the following gold mining camps when the trail was being blazed into them, Cripple Creek, Colorado; Tonopah, Goldfield, Royle, and Bullfrog, Nevada; Oatman and Goldroads, Arizona. All mother lodes and bonanzas.

That I am personally acquainted with the discoverers of these properties. None of them were geologists or mining engineers. Most of these mines when offered for sale were passed on by mining experts as worthless, especially the Oatman, Arizona, property. They were only in the prospect stage when passed on by supposed to be experts which shows that it quizzes no wonderful amount of ability to be a successful prospector for gold.

These are the people who discovered the mines I have mentioned: Cripple Creek was discovered by a railway bridge carpenter named Stratton; Searchlight, Nevada by a San Francisco hack driver; the Tom Reed mine at Oatman, Arizona by a section foreman; the Great Eastern mine also in the Oatman district by Joe Severn, a blacksmith. Tonopah, Nevada was discovered by two prospectors grubstaked by a Reno Hotel man named Golden. The Mohawk mine at Goldfield was discovered by two prospectors and bought as a claim by George Wingfield, a saloon man. While working as a horse cuffer for a freighter an eighteen-year-old boy discovered the Little Florence Mine. He used to prospect while walking by the side of the road en-route from Tonopah to Goldfield. Picture gold was in his claim almost at the surface. When Wingfield bought the claim he asked the kid what he was going to do with the money, and he replied "I am going back home and marry little Florence," thus the name of the Little Florence mine. The Goldroads mine near Kingman, Ariz., was found by a Mexican prospector who was grubstaked by Henry Loving, a saloon man of Kingman. Loving developed the property, became rich, ran for State Senator and of course was elected. He is a fine old scout and ran his saloon until the noble experiment took it over.

That it requires lots of hardships, labor, and self sacrifice to be a prospector. Gold is found in rough mountain country usually far distant from habitation. When you think you are at the right spot you go to work sinking a shaft as you would in digging a water well, only the shaft is larger and the machinery for this is a pick and shovel, a steel drill and hammer. Dynamite is used for blasting, and all rock and much must be drawn out by a hand windlass. You may go two or three hundred feet and not strike pay dirt and if you do strike the pay streak your troubles have just begun for you are broke as is the fellow who is grubstaking you and you are compelled to lease or sell the property. In most cases they sell. Joe Severn sold the Great Eastern for $200,000.00 to Flood. The Goldfield property of Wingfield's was leased for a year then the Nixon-Wingfield interests operated it. The Tom Reed mine at Oatman was bought by a stock company, the section foreman retaining 51 per cent of the stock. Loving put the Goldroads property on the stock market and raised money for developing it. The Comstock mine of Virginia City, Nevada was the greatest producer of gold in America. It was a great factor in winning the Civil War as it furnished millions in gold for the United States. During the war it made the fortunes of the Floods, the Spreckles, the Hursts and the Fairs. When gold is milled the amalgam of bullion is sent to the mint, usually Denver or San Francisco.

That Alaska is a big producer of gold. Placer mining gold is found there in streams and is washed out with a cradle, separated from the sand—this is what we call gold dust. Well this is enough on the subject of production, now we will try to show how they have been stealing it since the days of the Golden Calf. The money sharks lay for the finished product. Tom Lawson in his two articles, "Frenzied Finance" and "Big Business and the Bench" explained this steal thoroughly. It was written some twenty years ago. The Senate investigation now going on shows that one banker's salary was increased from $175,000.00 to $200,000.00 a year. Securities of one investment trust carrying no vote were sold to the public for twenty-five million dollars. The investment company handling this issue retained most of the common stock which gave control of the trust with an investment of five million dollars. A member of this same firm unloaded onto the public the common stock of an investment trust at a profit of $6,843,880.00 in the stock thus sold the firm had an investment of only $24,110.00, all legal. Something is wrong with such a system of legal thievery. They call it business. One New York banker got a salary of $75,000.00, $25,000.00 a year from an affiliate, and $1,160,000.00 as a bonus. The president of one life insurance company received $200,000.00 a year salary, etc.

The Wheeler Remonitization of Silver bill came up Saturday and was defeated by two votes. The Administration money bill passed. If the bill had carried and they would have taken the supply of money and grubstake every sound dough miner to a pack and burro for prospecting for gold and silver the money question would have been settled and worthwhile work for thousands

FORMER CLARENDON MAN INJURED IN CAR WRECK

George Taylor, Pampa automobile salesman is confined to the Northwest Hospital in Amarillo suffering from severe injuries received when he was thrown through the top of his car when it overturned on the Panhandle Highway about 20 miles east of Amarillo. He was found lying 23 feet away from the car and in a wheat field.

Mr. Taylor's injuries include lacerations, bruises and a dislocated shoulder. He will be confined to the hospital for several days. This morning the doctors are planning to operate on his shoulder.

Noval Roberts of Panhandle, who was with him, was only slightly injured.

The machine overturned when it struck the soft shoulder on the side of the road as Taylor drove around another car.

PNEUMONIA THREAT SEASONAL DISEASE

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 29.—Pneumonia is a seasonal disease, in that the incident and mortality is much increased during wet, cold weather, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. It is more prevalent and serious in towns where contacts with people is more common. Pneumonia is always dangerous but it is especially so to persons in a rundown condition. This accounts for the number of cases following illness with some other disease.

The germs that cause pneumonia are spread by careless coughers, sneezers, spitters, and the things that they thus infect. The first symptoms are usually a severe chill and fever, a very sick feeling, loss of appetite, rapid breathing and a heavy sensation in the chest. Sometimes coughing brings up blood from the inflamed lungs. Any of these signs should be the signal for going to bed at once and sending for your doctor.

The familiar rules of the prevention of other respiratory diseases apply to pneumonia. These rules should become personal habits and not be put on or off at times of prevalence or absence of disease. Persons should avoid careless coughers and sneezers, even if you have to be rude. Wash your hands thoroughly before each meal. Keep your hands of men opened up. As it is the whole thing will be cooked up and reheated four years hence.

History shows that gold was discovered twenty centuries before Christ. Men have stolen, killed, and sold their honor for gold. Al Capone tried to steal some gold, he got caught, Andy was within the law, that is the gold situation from the raw product to the thief.

I have tried to give you a little information on gold, in doing so have not intended any reflection on the honest bankers. Nor do I think that all men in public life underestimate honesty or have a price tag on them. But when the big shots take the public for a ride they take these boys along with the public.

That it is my belief that we will never have a perfect man-made government, but when that Old Gentleman above calls for an audit and a balance sheet of the affairs of the world, Wall Street, the Insulls, the Capones and all racketeers in and out of business, will find that their income tax to their god is more than the entire output of all the gold of the world.
Barnum was right.

pencils, money and other such things away from your mouth and nose. Get plenty of fresh air day and night. Exercise and eat in moderation and wear suitable clothing for the weather.

Pneumonia ranks second as a cause of death in Texas, in 1932 almost six thousand persons died of this disease. It should be remembered that contagious and infectious diseases cannot be decreased or eliminated without the cooperation of the people and that means that people who are sick with contagious or infectious disease should be isolated and visited as little as possible by relatives and friends.

FORMER CLARENDON LADY MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

Friday night of last week a fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Mrs. Cullom H. Booth in Fort Worth and claimed as its victims, Mrs. Booth and a friend, Mrs. Williams, who was spending the night with her.

Mrs. Booth was the former Miss Claire Eddins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eddins, who were pioneer residents of Clarendon and Donley County, coming here in 1888. She attended the Clarendon Public Schools and graduated from the College, later marrying Rev. Cullom H. Booth, who was Presiding Elder of the Fort Worth District at the time of his death two years ago.

Many Clarendon friends of the family extend their sympathy at the loss of this good Christian woman. She is survived by a brother and her mother, who resides at 926 W. Elsmere, San Antonio.

Paul Teineart's herd of dairy cows have doubled their milk production since November when he started feeding them ensilage from a trench silo, one of 34 such silos filled in Fayette county last summer, according to the county agent.

Mrs. Roy Matthews intends to have a home that cakes furnished. She makes them in her Hopkins county farm home and sells them through the local home demonstration club market. Saturday before Christmas she filled orders for 18.

Elizabeth Kemp To Wed March 1st

One of the most attractive parties of the week was the Buffet Supper and dance given by Mrs. G. G. Kemp Monday evening, announcing the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth to Sam Cauthen of this city.

Pink and white was the color combination used in the pretty table decorations. A bouquet of sweetpeas of the pastel shades centered the table, while tall pink tapers in silver holders burned on each side. At the tables when the guests were seated there were unique place-cards with a miniature bride and groom and the inscription "Elizabeth and Sam—March 1st."

After the delectable supper, dancing was enjoyed by the following group: Misses Elizabeth Kemp, the honoree, Jean Bourland, Carroll Holder, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Pauline Sanford, Eunice Johnson, Joyce Link.

Messrs Sam Cauthen, Mike Stricklin, Bill Word, Fred Bourland, J. R. Bartlett, Glenn Allison, Alfred McMurtry, Johnnie Blocker, Carroll Hudson, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Haile.

Dinner-Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. Selden Bagby were cordial host and hostess Saturday evening when they entertained their Dinner-Bridge Club with a lovely party at their home.

Book Club Review Proves Interesting

When members of the 1928 Book Club gathered in the club room Tuesday afternoon, they heard a most interesting book review by Mary Thornberry, "Enchanted Ground", one of the popular Temple Bailey novels was delightfully told by Mrs. Thornberry, following which she led a discussion about this much-talked novel.

Dewey Clifford, leader for the many of the author's life.

In the business meeting, plans for the annual party given by the club for their husbands and friends were discussed and Feb. 20th was the date decided on. This party is to be given at the home of Mildred Martin. The club also voted to donate to the stove fund for the club room.

At the conclusion of the study, dainty refreshments carrying out the Valentine motif were served by the hostesses, Zell Tomb and Thelma Bairfield.

Mrs. Ben Tom Prewitt was guest for the afternoon.

Forty-Two Club

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Galloway were genial host and hostess to members of their Forty-Two Club and a few friends when they entertained with a lovely party at their home, Thursday evening.

Clarendon Girl Weds Ranchman

News has been received of the marriage of Miss Kate Talley to Ed Watters of Tascosa, on Tuesday, January 30th.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Talley of this city and at the time of her marriage was teaching in the Tascosa High School. She is a graduate of Clarendon High School and College, and last summer received her Masters degree from W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon.

Mr. Watters is engaged in the ranching business near Tascosa, where the young couple will make their home.

CONOCO BROADCASTS TO AID LOCAL TOURIST BUSINESS

General business in Clarendon should benefit this year from an increase in tourist traffic which is expected to result from a series of unusual radio broadcasts by Continental Oil Company, sponsor of the Conoco Travel Bureau, beginning Wednesday night, February 14.

Figures just released show that the Conoco Travel Bureau during 1933 routed a total of 48,775 tourists groups to and through Texas, many of whom were visitors in Clarendon.

Conoco's radio programs this year, while including some comedy and a wide variety of music, both vocal and instrumental, will feature dramatized vacation tours to outstanding scenic and pleasure resorts throughout America. Towns visited by these radio motorists will be described, thereby receiving some valuable tourist publicity, as the broadcast will go over 27 N.B.C. stations.

The February 14 program, 8:30 to 9 p. m., Mountain Standard Time; 9:30 to 10, Central Standard Time, and 10:30 to 11, Eastern Standard Time, will enact a thrilling trip from Wichita, Kansas, to the Southern Colorado Rockies, and will also include a talk by Tony Sarg, internationally famous artist who created the funny illustrations for the Conoco Bronze Gasoline advertisements now appearing in this newspaper.

In promoting vacation travel the Conoco Travel Bureau is making a definite contribution to improvement of general business conditions. This is proved by a survey just completed, showing that the average Conoco Travel Bureau vacation tourist spends $250 and travels 3,400 miles, and that the sum he spends is parceled out in towns along his route in this manner: Miscellaneous retail purchases, 25 per cent; restaurants, 21 per cent; hotels and cottage camps, 20 per cent; transportation, 20 per cent; amusements, 8 per cent; confectionery, 6 per cent.

BAPTIST GROUP

There were twenty-one present at the Walton Moore Union when it met Sunday evening, at the First Baptist Church.

Leota Ramps, Elene Marshall, and Florine Goodson were welcomed in as new members; and Bro. Shephard, Chester Mayo, and Christine Lamkin were visitors for the evening.

The program was very interesting and Bro. Shephard gave a splendid little talk at the close. Next Sunday evening there will be a tour over the country. If you would care to go, be at the parlors of the Baptist Church at 6:30.

James Truslow Adams calls the period between 1920 and 1930 "The Mad Decade." Please, mister won't you tell us how to go crazy again?—Corsicana Sun.

CHURCHES

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR THE CHURCH

"Christ also loved the church, and gave Himself for it." Eph. 5:25.

The Church of Christ, has for its definite purpose the salvation of souls. It is not like any other organization in the world and there is no other organization than can do the work of the church, lodges, clubs, and other orders can do a great work but there is no substitute for the church.

I. The church is the medium through which the creator asserts His sovereign majesty to man. The church is no accident as some cynics would have us to believe. The story of the church was written by the prophets many years before it was established. The New Testament sets forth the facts concerning its beginning and its purpose and program.

II. Jesus loved the church and gave His life that it might be established and perfected. He was Himself a devoted participant in the synagogue worship, and He knew all about its imperfections. The greatest parables He gave were directed toward the church. He was revealing a better program, better purpose, than the old Hebrew law and program, and when He finished with it, it was perfect.

III. The best people in the world are affiliated with the church. This is a broad affirmation, and is made advisedly. We know that a multitude of good people do not belong to the church, but their neutrality has curbed their usefulness in the world. We become members of the church by obedience to the commands of the New Testament, and God will not be satisfied with anything less. No lodge, club, or organization can give to its members the gift of eternal life, nor are they substitutes for the Church and its program. God established the church for this work.

IV. The church is the unlimited source of life's greatest asset—service. The church is the university for training of world's leadership. The church believes in deeds. It believes in preparing people to perform tasks.

V. The church of God is the greatest outstanding institution in the world. It is the mother of many great institutions that are doing great works, but there is no substitute for the church, nor is there any excuse for not being a member of it. God has left us without excuse.—W. E. Perrell, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

School Notes

By SLOAN BAKER,

George H. Fern, Director of Industrial Education in Texas and State Supervisor of Relief for unemployed Teachers endorses the school program in Donley county. There are four different classes being conducted in Donley county by unemployed teachers, Mrs. Stella G. Jones, Hedley, Art class; Miss Alice Bishop, Hedley, Spanish class; Miss Helen Goldston, Ashtola, Sewing class; Mrs. Maurine Lackey, Clarendon, Kindergarten.

Librarians, stenographers and clerks do not receive money from the Teacher's Relief Fund, but are under the Civil Works Administration. Teachers receive pay from the T. Fund which is a Federal Fund for teachers.

The Donley County schools held meetings in honor of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's fifty-second birthday Tuesday night. The children of the schools are sending donations to the Warm Springs Foundation for crippled children. The endowment of this Warm Springs Foundation is a birthday gift of the American people to Mr. Roosevelt. The children of Donley county are glad they have an opportunity to have a part in the gift to their President.

Facts collected by the Federal Office of Education, National Education Association, and other agencies show that the extent of the emergency in education. More than 1,300 rural schools, it is estimated on the basis of recent reports, are closed. More than 100,000 children are being denied that fundamental right of an American citizen—an education.

Estimates of the number of teachers unemployed run as high as 200,000.

The National Education Association, the American Legion, the Parent-Teacher Associations and the Federal Office of Education in the United States have adopted the slogan S. O. S., "Save Our Schools." The American Federation of Labor has called for support of the schools and brands kindergartens, especially as a "form of Tragic Waste."

These organizations jointly call upon all citizens and all organizations to look to their schools. We must be vigilant lest our generation make innocent children pay for our follies that brought the depression down upon us.

The Donley County Board of Trustees consisting of W. M. Pickering, H. T. Burton, Claud Nash, Edwin Bale, and W. A. Poovey, Chairman, met in regular session last Saturday at two o'clock in the County Superintendent's office. The Board endorsed the Teachers' Relief School Work which had already been approved by George H. Fern. There was a unanimous vote cast for the requirement of a seventh grade standardized test in the county schools. A library purchasing committee and a school supplies purchasing committee, Edwin Bale, O. L. Jacobs, Gordon Gatewood and the County Superintendent comprise the school supplies purchasing committee. A library committee will be appointed later. A county circulating library plan was endorsed by the Board. The Board voted to assist in every way possible the Survey of our Donley county schools under the supervision of H. S. Alves, Assistant State Superintendent, who is directing research in forty Texas counties.

Bryan Dickson, Deputy State Superintendent will be in Donley county Feb. 14, 15, and 16. He will speak at the T. T. Banquet Friday night.

The rural interscholastic league meet to be held two weeks before the county meet will be called off on account of an epidemic of measles in a number of the Rural Districts. The county interscholastic league meet will be held March 16th and 17th.

The principals and teachers of the county should plan to attend the school meeting in Amarillo the 17th of Feb. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent, will speak at this meeting.

The Methodist women will serve a turkey dinner to the T. T. organization Friday, Feb. 16th at 7:30 in the girls' dormitory in Clarendon. All Trustees, teachers and patrons interested in their schools should be present.

The Coaches' Basketball team finished a season of basketball Tuesday by a loss to the Clarendon All Stars. Elbert Bowen, a coach, playing with the All Stars really won the game for them. Dave Waldron, Sid Thomas, Sloan Baker, Joe Baten, Frank Behringer, Dennis Smith, and Clarence Jackson starred for the coaches.

Ashtola Senior boys won over the Chamberlain boys in a fast game Tuesday in Junior High Gym by a score of 33 to 10.

CRITICISM AS A GUIDE TO IMPROVEMENT

There is a reason when you dislike a person. When you dislike someone, you cannot see how that person could be of any help to you. You dislike him because he has faults; surely, you think, you could like no one whose faults were so easily detected. Yet, could you examine yourself, more than probably you should be shocked to find the same faults in your own mechanism. You are so critical of others that you cannot detect your own faults.

A detailed study of your enemies would show you what you dislike in them. Then, eliminate those traits from your own behavior. However, while you are improving, do not be critical of others. They also are striving for the same perfection as you. While self-help is the best thing, cooperation is the next. Tactfully improve each other first, gain further improvement by cooperation.

WORK TO WIN

Everyone who has entered debate this year cannot represent the school in the county meet; everyone who has entered track, tennis, or any of the literary divisions cannot be chosen as a winner. Few people are winners, but many people are quite proficient in a subject.

The extra-curriculum projects such as interscholastic league work are intended to instruct students in subjects that are taught outside of the school. When one enters essay writing or any other division of the league work, he should enter with the view in mind to learn as much of that subject as he can. Work to win so that you may derive as much benefit as the winner, but remember, few are winners but many may become quite proficient in a subject.

The interscholastic league will meet in Clarendon March 16 and 17. A rural meet will be held during the 2nd and 3rd.

The students should start now planning how they shall act as hosts to the visiting schools. They should remember that they are the hosts and the visiting schools should be treated as visitors should in their home.

Superintendent Burton has suggested that we select a group of students to act as a reception committee for both meets. It will be the duty of his committee to show the visitors to their rooms and make them feel they are welcome. During these two meets, the students should throw off their cloak of cold reserve by which many outsiders have known us and show the visiting schools that Clarendon High is one of the best in the state and the student body is the most hospitable and enthusiastic.

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE WORK BEGUN

Everyone is taking great interest in the Interscholastic League work. The Junior High School has started baseball, track, tennis, and volley ball, and the pupils are all showing up well. We are going to start declamation and spelling soon and hope to have several entering these contests.

Society

Kicuawa Camp Fire Troop

The Kicuawa Camp Fire Troop met in the basement of the Jr. High School last Wednesday for a general meeting. Mrs. Ralph Kerbow gave a very enjoyable and instructive talk on thrift to the group. The thrift charts are things which require time, trouble and worry, but must be done for a girl to take rank.

The girls taking Woodgatherers Rank must keep a Thrift chart for one month. The girls taking Firemakers Rank must keep the chart for two months, but the Torchbearers rank requires that each girl keep the thrift chart for three consecutive months.

The girls will meet in the girls' dormitory at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting. All members are urged to be present.

Abohanta Camp Fire Troop

The Abohanta Camp Fire Troop met Tuesday at the room of Grace Hardie. A short business session was held in which a market was planned. Gracie then entertained the group by reading some notes received by a few of the girls. Refreshments were served to a large group and the meeting was adjourned until the following Tuesday.

The entire Camp Fire organization enjoyed a talk on thrift given by Mrs. Ralph Kerbow, Wednesday, at Junior High.

The troop was entertained Friday night by Margaret Kelly and Frances Fowler at the home of the former.

Notes From A Convenient Cuff

(By the Inquiring Reporter)

These warm days make me yearn to get my pipe and gun and just meander around for days on end. I have never wanted one thing in my life as bad as a chance to get outdoors and stay. I just know there are cans, posts, rabbits, and bottles by the dozens waiting for me to shoot them. The tennis courts are getting their share of the fair sex and I hear the thud of rackets hitting balls a great deal now. There are just two things I like to do in the summer time and staying outside is both of them.

I saw the leaping celluloid, "One Sunday Afternoon," this past week and have been laughing ever since at the inane pranks they pulled. Those shirts somehow remind me of the more popular tab collared shirt with the broad English stripe which are very popular now.

This glittering musicale, "Flying Down to Rio," has caught my fancy, and I shall never rest easy until our genial gentleman whose theatre is so well attended brings it to us. This week's bill includes Connie Bennett's, "Bed of Roses," around which so much scandal is centered. Also I am anxious to see the German Musicales, "I Am Suzanne," which is to be a future feature.

Next week's entertainment bill will be climaxed by the Valentine dance on Old St. Valentine's Day. For the benefit of the mildly curious "Humpty" Hampton and the floor show will be featured. As an afterthought, we might get the tall handsome man from the notions counter to sing for us; anyway, I predict a large crowd of the semi-inebriated (half cock-eyed to youse) and a big time.

Something not to read: "Dial," one of the most morbidly depressing publications ever written.

JUNIOR HIGH TO PRESENT PLAY

A play will be presented at the College Auditorium, Friday evening, February 9th, by the Junior High students. The title of the play is "Too Many Maskers".

The cast will be composed of Frances Fowler, Zella Ruth Nored, Gene Teat, James Bartlett, Ralph Grady, Ethlyn Drennan, Jane Kerbow, Homer Tucker, J. D. Swift, Opal Chilton, Jo Word, Charlie Murphy, Jelly McGowen, Sloan Hugh Baker, and John M. Bass.

The purpose of presenting this play is to raise money to buy playground equipment for the Junior High. The price of admission is only ten cents for children, and fifteen cents for adults. Let's forget the depression for one evening and come to the play and enjoy a good evening's entertainment. You are sure to get more than your money's worth.

Senior Report

The Seniors had a class meeting Wednesday, February 31, to select their class announcement. A plain white panel was chosen, quite a distinctive announcement.

The most dignified class in high school is about to forget dignity for action. With the interscholastic league competition in full swing and the classic dramatic production of the year just launched, poise, carriage and composure, must be forsaken for industry and initiative.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophs. are still here although you haven't been hearing anything from them. All members of the class are quite enthusiastic over Interscholastic League work which has recently started. They are deep in the mysteries of adverbs in English and are having lots of fun doing graphs in algebra.

Almost everyone is going in for either tennis, track, or volley ball but there are those who are more intelligent, and are taking other subjects.

South Ward Report

In the second grade everyone is learning to be actors and actresses. Every week a story is read and dramatized without the teacher's help on any part. Leonard Wilson was the director last week. They are also very charming artists, for they have made clocks out of paper plates with sycamore balls on them for pendulums. The Eskimo work is still going on and is very successful.

Miss Fox's second grade pupils are studying the ten health rules, so when they grow older they will be big and strong and healthy men and women. They have also been working on their spelling. They have improved so much that now nearly everyone in the room makes a hundred.

The third grade are studying Japan and making articles and different things you would find in Japan if you were to go there.

The good citizenship Club met Tuesday. The subject was "Thrift". Judge Porter gave a very interesting talk on thrift. There were two poems read by Marilyn Sawyer and Mabry Kimbriel.

A play was also given by twelve third grade students which was very good and interesting.

These pupils have also been studying birds. They gave an exhibit Thursday, and invited their mothers to show them what they had been doing and how well they had been progressing.

Scouts To Harding Ranch Sunday

Early Sunday morning twenty-five boys were ready to go to Harding's Ranch. The trip there would have frozen an Eskimo. After the entrance fee was paid we dashed, and that is the word, for the first stop was at the Devil's Kitchen. One Scout left his coat there and was relieved of having to bring it home. When everyone had become hungry, we ate our dinner. That is, some ate their dinners, while others found that their dinners had been lost. However, everyone had enough to eat. After lunch the Scout's Prayer was read and a talk was given.

During the evening some of the younger Scouts found a very large ledge, and under the rocks there were bones of two rather well preserved buffaloes. The Scoutmaster got the teeth; maybe he is going to save them until he gets older. While pulling thorns out of a tenderfoot we found a steel shell with the number 57 on the side. While some of the boys were cutting across, they found a number of the shells and heads. It was decided that the cliff had broken off on the buffaloes while they were fighting, but there were many opinions, and little proof about the shells.

We hope that none of the boys parents regretted letting their sons go hiking on Sunday—the Scouts don't.

From the above you will gather that the hike was similar to your regular summer trip.

SKELETONS

Some students of the Biology class, after long consideration, have decided that medical departments everywhere should have some of the skeletons which have been drawn in class recently. At least it is certain that heretofore there have been no such drawings.

Vera Oakley, searching desperately for consolation, said, "What if we had to draw them actual size?" We'll bite—what? Here are the teacher's bright remarks about Eloise's skeleton:

1. It looks like a frog.
2. If it had a frog's head, it would look like a rabbit.
3. If it had a rabbit's head it would look like—well, it wouldn't do to say in class.

John Howard Gilbert, misunderstanding the assignment, drew his own skeleton. It cannot be described yet because of the lack of a microscope. Harold Gattis drew his head and the drawing is being used as that of a stool (a big block head serves fine). Tech, tech, what are these modern skeletons coming to?

LA SALAMANCA

La Salamanca is planning a very interesting program on Mexico for their next regular meeting on Friday, February 10. The club plans to have a general

STUDENTS HEAR INSURANCE TALK

Insurance was the subject discussed by Mr. W. M. Patman in a brief but instructive talk to the high school students Monday afternoon at Assembly.

First, Mr. Patman gave a few statistics showing the value of education in increasing a person's earning power. He next told of how the insurance business was the only commercial enterprise that had been able to keep going through the depression and still maintain its high standard of business with the public. He further added that the insurance companies were a great help to the people during the depression through loans that were made on policies. In closing, Mr. Patman advised that every young person should secure an insurance policy especially an income policy as it is one of the best investments available.

Junior Report

Almost all of the Junior girls are kept busy nowadays discussing that much looked forward to occasion, the Junior and Senior Banquet. Whoever originated the idea must have done so in order to please the ladies. Evry girl, I think, is planning to be the best dressed there. Each one has described, in full, her costume for the event, and has expressed the hope that so and so would take her. After all the planning, let's hope it's a great success.

The Juniors have entered quite seriously, excepting a few, into the Interscholastic League Work. They hope to win in several of the contests in which they are well represented.

American Literature seems to be getting us 'own. The stuff is so hard that it seems rater appropriate that our outside reading should be done in "Payne." One seldom sees a Junior without a "Payne."

meeting soon, and all of the public is invited to attend. The date will be announced later.

Students in the club sincerely believe they have learned a great deal more Spanish since they have organized this club as it causes them to take more interest in their work.

Palodurans Honor Rival Society Group

Members of the Alpha Delta Psi will long remember how royally they were entertained by the Palo Durans at Mike Stricklin's home Wednesday evening, January 31.

Everyone who attended was occupied with his favorite division as long as he wished. Dancing to radio music was preferred by some, several decks of cards were put to use, and dominoes and checkers became a part of the merry amusements. Climaxing a perfect party came colorful refreshments in purple and yellow that were served by Palo Duran hostesses. There were about thirty-five members of both societies and a few guests present who report that the affair was an entertainment that should appear in history—it certainly shall be recorded in the Delta Book as a memorable occasion.

The crime wave seems to be waning again—and prohibition isn't to be assigned as the cause, either.—Bonham Favorite.

SCOUT NEWS

Last Friday night the Boy Scouts had their regular meeting. The scouts received their certificates, and the tenderfoots were awarded their tenderfoot badges.

The good turns were then reported. During the past four weeks the patrols have been engaged in a contest as to who could do the most good turns. Friday night the four weeks were up, the good turns were counted, and the second patrol won with a total of two hundred and four good turns. They were awarded a patrol flag.

Plans were then made for a trip to Harding's Ranch on the following Sunday. After attending to the business of the troop, there were several good boxing matches. The meeting then came to a close as the Scout Benediction was given. All Scouts are urged to be present at the next meeting as they will go to Pampa Feb. 10, to receive the "Roosevelt Award," and Roosevelt instructions.

tire store who really knows rubber. His full name, we learn, is McElvany, and he is another who went over there.

Talk about your well-posted men There's Fred Rathjen. There's a mas who knows more history than half a dozen, or three dozen of us ordinary mortals. And he keeps continually abreast of the times. We find in talking with him.

Cotton burrs, 25 cents per 100! Stump us, we'll have to admit we're still learning. First time we ever heard of the old cotton burr having any sort of value outside of being good fuel. But that sign is found in the Thomas Mill and Feed store. Yes, we have spent some five years, altogether, in West Texas, where the unusual always bobs up and unusual feats are accomplished.

In the first few days in Clarendon, it has been our pleasure to meet many fine folks. Our young son has a flare for chefs and declares he is going to be one when he "gets big." So he marched forthwith to the kitchen at Caraway's Cafe and Bakery and announced his name to Homer Osborne, the fried cook chef. Mr. Osborne has two fine lads of his own, so took the young son in hand promptly. Incidentally, Tom Tinkle, we learn, is the dinner chef at Caraway's. Jack Goldston, the manager, is the true host when it comes to caring for the patrons.

Found out W. O. Hommel is one of the boys who "went over there" in the stirring days of '18. He knows all about cooties, we bet. The chow-line behind the lines was only one of the features of life in those days. But front-line trenches kept many buddies away from the chow-line for days at a time. Incidentally, Ollie says the local post is the best in the state, from standpoint of interest and membership. Says he expects always to keep his membership paid up. Firestone tires is his specialty. Frank Hommel has Sinclair as a hobby.

The writer received first impression of Clarendon, in a busy state, on last Saturday afternoon. The crowds jammed all stores along main street, equal to a busy fall Saturday. The warm sunshins accentuated the cheery countenances evident on the faces of one and all.

That meeting of some 150 farmers in the district court room at 2 o'clock Saturday was alive with discussion—folks discussing the proposed reduction in corn and hog production for Donley County in 1934. County Agent Broun sounded the keynote of the occasion when he said: "We didn't wish to get into this hog and corn movement before we completed the cotton reduction program. In fact, we were given orders not to call any meetings like this before the end of January. If you fellows can qualify now, in accordance with the requirements set out by the Government, we are ready to go into such an organization. This will be known as the 'Donley County Hog-Corn Reduction.' We learned, from our experience of last summer with the cotton reduction campaign, that we do not need many committees. In fact, we have been ordered to keep down the committee personnel as low as possible."

Accordingly, the crowd was divided into four groups, to conform with the four county commissioners' precincts, with a chairman in each precinct. The four chairmen will act as the board of directors of the association. Each precinct chairman will be assisted by two committees. This is a sensible procedure, it appears to the writer, as it is more economical than the plan used last summer when a committee was selected for each community. There is some hope (and sign) that Uncle Sam has begun to lighten up a little as far as the cost of carrying on is concerned. This ought to be of interest to all tax-payers and will doubtless meet their universal approval.

In the act of getting our ONLY pair of trousers mended, we ran into Carl Parsons, one of the master tailors of town. Carl fixed us up in gold style while we "stood in the barrel." Eh, Carl?

Incidentally, G. G. Reeves almost found out just how popular he may be with the voters of Precinct No. 2, where he is a candidate for commissioner. His name was submitted for election as one of the committees but he quickly cut that short by informing the group he is a candidate for public office.

Among those in the crowd was Pitt Holly, prominent farmer of the Ashtola country. Mr. Holly informed us he is strong for reduction of all crops and has reduced his cotton acreage to the extent that "it begins to look like a minimum."

Gordon Gatewood, principal of Goldston School, was among the Onlookers. Mr. Gatewood is enthusiastic over the success of the "Goldston Literary Society". The group put over, in a big way a production, "Civil Service," on last Friday night. Mrs. Howard Rhodes, an experienced director, deserves a lot of the credit, Mr. Gatewood said.

Judge Sam Lowe was among the hog-corn group. Someone suggested the judge should stand on the sidelines in a program of this nature. Not knowing Hizoner very well yet, we are willing to wager he knows a lot about raising porkers.

In that meeting Saturday afternoon, as a result of a count, it was found there were only four persons from Commissioners' Precinct No. 4. Where were the other hog-corn men of that section, County Agent Broun says there are some good big farmers in that precinct. While only 20 answered for Precinct No. 1, 25 for Precinct No. 2, and 23 for Precinct No. 3, there were twice as many or more in each group when it came to voting for the committeemen.

We see where C. C. McDonald told them in Amarillo Sunday he "is going to be the next governor." Well, that is refreshing news. No other person would be foolish enough to predict McDonald as our next governor.

Jimmy Alfred appears to be getting ready for a real battle to the finish in the gubernatorial race. That's the Wichita that will get somewhere before the race is over.

Met "Abe" Mulkey, the popular "snow man" of Clarendon for the last quarter of a century, and made the mistake of guessing he had spent years on Broadway. Really now, don't you think he has all the appearance of an old timer from the East? We bet one thing. That is, Mr. Mulkey knows his pictures.

Manager Nored of the local office of the West Texas Utilities was the first man in Clarendon to buy us a Coca Cola. Here's wishing, brother.

Frank White of the Purina feed store had a very busy appearance Saturday afternoon as he waited on customers.

Manager George Ragland of the Shamburger Lumber Yard informs us he has been in Clarendon a whole month already, and already feels very much at home. In fact, he likes it so well here wonders why he didn't come sooner.

"Our policies are registered and securities equal in value to the legal reserve hereon are deposited with the commissioner of insurance of the State of Texas," reads a clause in the big ad carried last week by the Southwestern Life Insurance Company for their popular local agent, W. M. Patman. We met Mr. Patman Saturday morning. We congratulated Mr. Patman not only on his company but also on the fact that now is the best time in years to write insurance because so many persons have lost their policies during the recent (?) depression. If you lost your Policy and are more or less disgusted with life insurance just remember this: you did have that much protection while the life of the policy lasted. And NOW is the time to start another policy. "I asked one

Lions District Meet At Lubbock, Texas

COLORADO, Texas. Annual convention of Lions International, District 2-T of Texas, to open here Monday, April 23, for a session of two days, will attract several hundred members of the service organization. Clubs at Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Pampa, Clarendon, El Paso, Hamlin and other cities in the district have already announced that representative delegations would attend.

Message received here today from Del W. Harrington of El Paso, district governor, expressed keen optimism in prospect for a successful convention. Harrington is to arrive in Colorado in advance of the convention opening for final conferences with committees from the host club as to plans for entertaining visitors.

An active membership of not less than 100 by time for the convention to open is the goal announced by officials of the host club. Already there are 86 Colorado business and professional men listed on member roster and applications from four others pend consideration at the weekly luncheon meeting Friday at noon.

Every social and civic organization in the city, including the chamber of commerce and country club, are lending full cooperation to President Joe B. Mills and his corps of convention committeemen in plans for the meeting. Among features on the program will be a special service in auditorium of a local church Sunday evening before opening of the executive session.

The Plainview Club has entered formal application for the 1935 convention and others of the larger clubs in West Texas are expected to announce as candidates for that honor within the next few days. The Plainview club plans sending fifty Lions to the annual conclave.

"I have every reason to believe that the annual convention in Colorado next April will develop into the largest and most
