Way Up High—

Well, look 'way up here where we are this week, will you! Added another column to the pages of The News for a week or two, and discovered there was lots of room "at the top" for this department.

And, incidentally, it's a pretty "fur piece" to the bottom of the column. See, all the way down there. Don't know whether we'll ever get it full or not. If we run out of soap, we'll finish up with an "Advice to the Lovelorn" department.

Brought Back "The Bacon"—

Dude Gentry, Meredith Gentry and Ira Merchant returned last week from a hunting trip way off in the wilds somewhere or other—don't think they knew exactly where they were themselves—and reported that they each got a nice buck.

And, there's a rumor going the rounds that Ira practically cut down a tree with his high-powered rifle. It seems this particular tree was quite a distance away, and eral limbs protruding from the trunk gave it an appearance somewhat similar to a big buck. Of course, it's just a rumor, but it's told with conviction by several parties.

Modern Version—

If Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner," had kept on living and waited until today to have written the song, he probably would have been influenced a great deal by current newspaper headlines, as is suggested by a little poem appearing in one of our exchanges, and which we are herewith swiping and printing below.

One Was Enough—

Reading in the daily papers this week of the suspension of Tom Hickman, famous Texas Ranger, from the Ranger force, brings to mind a story told by a business man in the old home town, which is illustrative of the hough-and-ready characteristics of that hardy organization in days gone by, back in the days when the Rangers spent their time in rounding up desperate criminals, killers, robbers, etc., instead of staging raids on the corner drug store and wrecking the place while confiscating a marble machine. Here's the story:

This man was in business in a little East Texas town at the time of the incident, which was in the throes of an oil boom. Typical of the oil boom towns of this time, shacks had sprung up all over town, and hundreds of strangers were moving into town. Among these, of course, was a very rough and tough element, which continued to grow rougher and tougher until a state of almost complete lawlessness was reached.

Law abiding citizens, becoming highly alarmed over the situation, hastily wired the governor that a riot was in progress, and urged that he rush a bunch of Texas Rangers to the scene.

The governor replied that the request was being complied with, and designated the train upon which the Rangers would arrive. When the train pulled into the station, a large crowd was gathered, anxiously waiting to welcome the Rangers. To their surprise and disappointment, only one passenger alighted, a rather unimpressive man of somewhat diminutive proportions.

"Wasn't there a bunch of Texas Rangers on that train?" he was asked.

"No. Not a bunch," was the reply. "But I'm a Texas Ranger." "Did you come down here to stop this riot—alone?" "Yeah."

"But, man! We wanted a BUNCH of Rangers!" "Hell, there ain't but one riot, is there?" was the reply.

"Yes, sir! Those boys were tough in those days."

The Better of the Two—

"Pinky" Price tells the following story:

It seems that back in the old days when the great Southwest was in its infancy there was a certain federal judge who was notorious for his cruelty in handing down death sentences in cases of death sentences. Legend had it that he had sentenced 87 men to death during his 21 years on the bench.

One of the later cases to

Valuable Work Is Accomplished In County By S. C. S.

COUNTY WILL RECEIVE BENEFICIAL RESULTS FROM WORK BEING ACCOMPLISHED.

Tangible results of the benefits which can be secured by co-operating with the soil conservation service of the United States department of agriculture in their erosion demonstration projects in Donley County, can be observed by a visit to the G. W. Sexauer ranch near Hedley, according to a statement of George E. Hull, project superintendent, who was a visitor to Clarendon early this week.

Mr. Hull, accompanied by a member of his organization assigned to handling the publicity for the projects, explained that on the Sexauer place, five cattle tanks have been constructed which the co-operator says are worth a thousand dollars apiece to the value of his property. Following the tank dam construction, the crews of men will be moved to other locations where field terracing can be accomplished more efficiently because of the water control near the source which these dams provide, he said.

All of the work is being done by war veterans stationed in the CCC camp east of Memphis, and is being directed by the engineering forces of the soil conservation service. At present there are over 200 veterans engaged in the work, and progress is being made more rapidly than the original estimates called for, it was said.

The area of Donley County which falls in the region to be worked, extends within about two miles of Clarendon and includes some of the most valuable land of the section. Mr. Hull stated. But failure of any single farmer or landowner to sign a co-operation agreement, will tend to nullify the benefits which the entire county can derive, it was pointed out. Visitors are extended a cordial welcome by the government and it has been suggested that persons wishing to view the work communicate with H. M. Breedlove, county agent at Clarendon.

Mr. Pope states that the move is being taken due to other interests which will claim the undivided attention of the partners of the firm. Ernest Pope and D. B. Pope, partners in the business, and formerly in charge of the store, have been in Lubbock for the past several months where they have opened a new store.

Two companies were removed in May, 1934. The two companies now at the Park will remain until July, 1936, according to advice received this week from D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board.

CONFESSES TO ENTERING CAFE; JAIL BREAK IS THWARTED BY DONLEY COUNTY SHERIFF.

An unidentified youth who stated his name was E. M. McCoin Wednesday, after stating Monday that he was James Reagan Smith of Durant, Okla., was arrested in Claude Monday and brought to Clarendon where he was charged with burglarizing the Tom & Earl's Cafe of $50 between 3 and 4 o'clock Monday morning. He was placed in the county jail here.

The man who gave his name as Smith confessed to entering the cafe by crashing the glass in the front door and relieving the cash register of fifty dollars. The cafe, which closed at three o'clock and opened again at four a. m., was allegedly entered by Smith, who had been in the cafe an hour prior to the closing, talking with the owner, Adam Riskey.

Sheriff Guy Pierce stated Wednesday that the alleged burglar was evidently contemplating a jail break, as a long tube of paper, a brick bat, a snuff box filled with soap shavings and the heads from two full boxes of matches were found in his cell.

The youth was found in the depot here Monday at 8 a. m., after he had purchased a ticket to Claude. When he saw the officers, it was stated, he ran from the depot as Sheriff Pierce and Deputy Sheriff Marion Quisenberry, pursuing on foot, kept up a volley of shots. The pursuit continued about a quarter of a mile through the street and cold, but McCoin, under cover of darkness, evaded the officials and later made his way into Claude, Sheriff Pierce said.

McCoin, or Smith, had in his possession several valuable diamonds and watches. Pierce stated. He advised Sheriff Pierce Wednesday that he was now under indictment at Paris, Texas, for jewelry theft and had served terms in the Paul's Valley, Oklahoma, Reformatory, the Gatesville Reformatory School, and the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

McCoin constructed the long tube of paper found in his cell by using styrofoam paste and evidently obtained the wiring from the cell, Sheriff Pierce stated.

The youth waived examining trial and was brought before Justice of Peace W. A. Davis and County Attorney R. Y. King, who set his bond at $2,000. Officials stated McCoin's finger prints had been sent to the Bureau of Identification at Austin, Oklahoma City, and Washington.

The trees are to be set 10 feet apart in places low enough to insure sufficient moisture to keep the plants alive. Between each two trees, shrubs will also be set out to build up a wall of growth to break wind currents and thereby assist in controlling erosion.

1935 AAA COTTON PLANS

At the beginning of the AAA experiment in production control Secretary Wallace said: "It is a contrivance as new in the field of social relations as the first gasoline engine was in the field of mechanics—and may be correspondingly crude in its first design and performance."

There have been imperfections, as Secretary Wallace predicted, but The Progressive Farmer reflects general farm opinion when it says:—

"Enemies of production control are foolish when they propose to reject it because of incidental imperfections. Equally foolish are those advocates of production control who because they so heartily approve the general principle, refuse to admit that there are any incidental imperfections. The general plan is sound but the details can and must be improved."

"The AAA cannot long hold prices of American cotton much above the world price level and expect manufacturers to buy it. All talk about the processing tax and acreage control ruining our cotton export trade was absurd. But the 12-cent loan did check exports. The government would not turn loose cotton at less than 12 cents, and buyers would not pay 12. So the new AAA proposal to lend only 9 cents but add enough extra payments to insure co-operating growers the full equivalent of last year's 12-cent loan—this plan would have given the farmer just as good financial returns as a 12-cent loan while at the same time getting more American cotton sold and used—and thereby would have reduced the still-too-enormous surplus or carry-over of American cotton. The ten cent loan policy we hope will accomplish practically the same result."

WAR NEEDS OF PEACE

To the ultrapacifist, it does not occur that the business of the Chief of Staff of the American Army is peace. Yet it is. Still less is it apparent to the man, who frankly does not want to fight and frequently nowadays says that he will not, that the average soldier joins him in opposition to war. Probably the soldier is more emphatic about it than the civilian pacifist, for his daily training teaches him the risks of war, which have become increasingly high. Malin Craig, the talented new Chief of Staff, puts the case squarely before his country in his Armistice address, a plea for an adequate navy and an adequate army.

The only difference between the pacifist and the General is that the one is an idealist and the other practical. The first dreams that by saying there shall be no war, there will be no war. The soldier knows that war has not been obviated by any pacifist mechanism utilized by so-called civilization today. He knows that the only assurance any nation has of peace is to be powerful enough to enforce it. He recalls the destruction of China's vast ancient pacific civilization by a small horde of hardy and conscienceless Mongols. He looks at a China today overlorded by a much smaller but trained and armed island nation. He knows what happens to the other-check-turning school in international affairs.

Malin Craig no more wants to make war than does his country. In all probability there is no land on the globe that wants continued peace more earnestly than the United States. You can have peace, says Malin Craig, if your navy is as strong as the best and your land forces efficient enough and large enough to train the civilian army that we would have to produce in the event of war. This is all very tragic and very costly and very true.—Dallas News.

THE PENSION BILL

The pension bill which the Texas legislature has placed on the governor's desk is a compromise between the desire to pension everybody who had reached the age of 65 and the feeling on the part of some members that the benefits should be administered on a pauper basis. It lacks very much of being an ideal pension measure, but it is a far more satisfactory one than seemed likely, earlier in the session, to be brought to passage.

The most satisfactory feature of it is that it adopts what is called the "needs standard" as a basis for payments. In a state with so many negroes and Mexicans, the failure to provide a means for taking the standards of living of these pensioners into account would have been a very serious blunder.

The most unsatisfactory feature of it is that the way is left open for making the pension question a political plaything in 1936. We shall probably see many candidates for legislative and state offices appealing for votes by promising pension systems much more liberal than that provided.

There are many who will criticize the bill for its omission of specific provisions for raising the revenue to pay for its operation. That is a defect, but it is not as serious as some commentators regard it. If the legislature were to adjourn without enacting a revenue bill, it would virtually nullify the pension measure, but there is no reason to believe this error will be made.

The legislature has acted wisely in making a conservative approach to old age pensions. There are problems in this connection that can be solved only by the trial and error method. It is much easier to have reasonable limitations at the start, and liberalize the pension plan later, than to make it too liberal and then face the necessity of establishing restrictions.—Wichita Daily Times.

10,000 FAMILIES

A detailed questionnaire survey of a representative group of 10,000 insured families, conducted by the Northwest National Life Insurance Company, shows a rise in their average annual earning rate from $1,743 in 1933, to $2,055 in 1934.

Fifty-one per cent of the reporting families have had increases in income since the spring of '33, while only 22.8 percent have suffered declines. Twenty-six percent report no change in income. Average age of the heads of reporting families was 39 years.

Eighty-two per cent of the families own automobiles; 49 per cent own their homes, and half of these have their homes free of encumbrances.

These insured families provide representative examples of the great moderate earning class—and it augurs well for the country that they are finding the going easier. They are buying more cars, more life insurance, more of everything that is needed and enjoyed. Their increased buying power is reflected in the statistics of all the great industries, and is largely responsible for the measure of recovery we have so far achieved.

HITCH-HIKER IS MENACE AS WELL AS NUISANCE

It is impossible to drive anywhere in America today without encountering a patient droop-shouldered chap who stands by the roadside and continuously jerks his thumb across his chest.

He is the hitch-hiker, one of the strangest products of the auto age, and he is getting to be a prominent part of the American landscape. He is also getting to be an intense pain in the neck.

Just why it should be considered proper for a man to stand by the roadside and beg free transportation from total strangers is something of a mystery. If he should amble up to a pedestrian and say, "I want to take the next train to Bingville—would you mind slipping me three ninety-five?" the pedestrian would lose no time in telling him where to go, but put the pedestrian behind the wheel of a car and let the hitch-hiker make a request which amounts to precisely the same thing, and neither party sees anything especially odd about it.

But the hitch-hiker is something more than a nuisance. America is full of nuisances, anyway, and one more or less hardly makes enough difference to be worth talking about. There are times and places when the hitch-hiker is an actual menace to the public safety.

For instance, the police at Wichita, Kansas, got curious recently and took all the hitch-hikers they could find down to headquarters to be finger printed. They found that two of every five had criminal records.

For another instance: Murders of motorists by hitch-hikers have been recorded recently in Oregon, Virginia, Nebraska, New Mexico and Oklahoma. Oklahoma, as a matter of fact, ascribes more than a dozen recent killings to hitch-hikers, while Oregon has had three.

It might also be remembered that when Pretty Boy Floyd was finally hunted down and killed in Ohio he was in the process of hitch-hiking across the country.

The ordinary American is a pretty good-natured sort of person, and it is this fact that the hitch-hiker trades on. He collects a good deal of free transportation, promotes the existence of a vagabond class which does the country no good, and creates a fine opening for a lot of old-fashioned highway robbery.

As an individual, the hitch-hiker may be a likable chap. As an institution, he is getting to be pretty trying. One wonders how much longer the American motorist will put up with him.—Del Rio Evening News.

Assisting a criminal to escape the law is a crime, unless you happen to be a lawyer.

Adults who criticize children for playing would be better off if they did some playing themselves.

The difference between seeking and getting business is often in the advertising methods used.

Compliments usually make people feel good and think well of the speaker, be he truthful or not.

"Lissen, 1860 methods don't go nowadays! The world has spun around quite a few times since then! Women don't wear bustles any more! Nor do the men sport side-burners or chin whiskers! So why do business on a 'civil war time' basis? Ya' simply gotta be 'up to snuff' and ADVERTISE to get the natives hot footin' it into your store after your bargains!"

Claudette Colbert Stars In Film Coming To Pastime Wednesday

Claudette Colbert in "She Married Her Boss"—A Columbia Picture

Local Girls Answer Actress' Questions

Making preparations to attend the movie, "She Married Her Boss" in which Claudette Colbert thoroughly entertains her audience, five Clarendon business women stated their candid opinions in answering questions which Claudette Colbert meets and solves in the show here Wednesday and Thursday night at the Pastime Theatre. "Does occupation as a secretary prepare a girl for wifehood?" Miss Louise Smith was asked to which she answered, "No, I don't think it does; one does not have time to learn anything about homemaking while working all day in an office."

Very exactly, the question "should a secretary marry her boss?" was replied by Miss Helen Weidman, who stated "No. One knows too much about their boss." "Does working under a boss give you a better understanding of a man's nature than casually dating scores of them?" "Yes," replied Miss Rhoda Weidman, "you learn a man's petty whims that he does not display in society."

Prominent business women of Clarendon answered questions similar to those which confront the popular actress, Claudette Colbert, in her late film. To learn how Miss Colbert answers the questions, and to enjoy an evening packed with entertainment even better than "It Happened One Night," attend the showing of "She Married Her Boss" Wednesday or Thursday at the Pastime Theatre.

Miss Pauline Sanford was asked "Do you prefer a married or single boss?" and replied, "I prefer a married boss. They have an understanding nature and are not so subject to grinchiness." "Would you like to have your husband to be your boss?" Mrs. Helen Watson was asked. "No, I would not," she replied firmly.

Miss Kathryn Cole of Pampa visited Sunday and Monday with her mother, Mrs. A. T. Cole. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allison of McLean spent the week-end in Clarendon visiting in the home of Mrs. J. L. Allison.

ASHTOLA SCHOOL NEWS

Hallow'een night Ashtola High School presented a three-act play entitled "The Boss of the Powderhorn." The play was well attended and the characters acted their parts well. The play netted $22.85.

Ashtola moved a little closer to a perfect score card, in their efforts to become a standardized school, by the purchase of some nine beautiful pictures. The pictures were beautifully framed, part of them being in colors. The list of pictures contained the following titles: "Distinguished Member of a Humane Society" by Landseer, "Feeding the Birds," by Millet, "The Gleaners" by Millet, "Return to the Farm" by Triyon, "Stratford on Avon," "Dance of the Nymphs" by Corot, "The Lake" by Corot, and "Evening" by Dupre. These pictures were supplemented by several pictures of famous Americans.

The negro minstrel which is to be presented at Ashtola about November 29th, is well under way. Mr. Dillard reports that the characters are well suited to their parts and the voices are well above the average. It is his desire that this program be the finest thing ever presented in Ashtola, and in an attempt to bring this about he has secured permission to use part of the famous Sunshine Minstrel by the payment of a small royalty. The show will be made up along the latest lines and will afford some three hours of the most hilarious entertainment that it has ever been your good fortune to witness.

The proceeds of this show will be used to help pay for the hot lunch equipment that is being bought for the school.

We want to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Merrell for the generous donation of her time, in which she secured advertisements from Ashtola and Clarendon merchants, which enables us to have at this time 100 new song books. Not only do we thank her but we wish to thank those that were so kind to advertise.

The following books, magazines and newspapers make their appearance in our library each day, and from the looks of these periodicals they are thoroughly enjoyed. The Amarillo Daily News, The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Readers Digest, American Magazine, The Instructor, Child Life, Hygeia and National Geographic. These subscriptions have been paid for out of programs that we have put on with the exception of three which are subscribed for by the teachers.

One more year and we were lucky, having had to close school for only three weeks. At this writing practically every one is back in school and all settled down to hard work. At this early date we are looking forward to the Texas Centennial and the county school fair.

Ashtola is proud to report that its teachers are members of the Texas State Teachers Association 100 per cent, with one membership in the National Education Association.

At this writing Mr. and Mrs. Dillard and probably one or two more teachers of the Ashtola schools will go to the Texas State Teachers Association that meets at San Antonio the last of this month.

"The Night Owl" a three-act mystery play and a very popular and successful play has been chosen as the senior play.

Miss Inetha Collier, H. W. Lovel and Willard Cook have been selected as representatives to the Religious Conference at West Texas State Teachers Conference, December 12th. They will go accompanied to this conference by Mr. Dillard, and will stay for all the meetings.

We are more than glad to report the enrollment of Miss Juanita Beavers formerly of Amarillo who is a student in the eighth grade. Prospects are also looking up in the probable enrollment of some five or six additional students.

Fort Stockton's Spring-Fed Pool

Fort Stockton's spring-fed swimming pool will be the scene of a Centennial-year water carnival in which beauties west of the Pecos will take part. The section-wide event is planned as one of a series of attractions in far west Texas towns for visitors to the Texas Centennial next year. This beautiful swimming pool is fed by a group of springs producing sixty million gallons of water daily. The largest single spring produces thirty-five million gallons per day and discharging directly into the pool effects a complete change of water several times daily. The water is perfectly clear and pebbles on the bottom in seven feet of water stand out in vivid detail.

This spring was probably first seen by the white man in 1536 when the Spaniard Cabeza de Vaca passed on his long wandering journey to the west coast of Mexico. The big spring was also the site of a military post, Fort Stockton, established before the Civil War as a protection to pioneer travelers and settlers. Centennial visitors will find this section of Texas one of beauty and rich historical background.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY GIVEN FOR MISS CARAWAY THURSDAY

The engagement of Miss Julia Mae Caraway, whose marriage to Mr. Robert Land will occur in Clarendon November 24, was announced Thursday evening when Miss Mantie Graves entertained a group of the bride-elect's friends at the home of Mrs. J. T. Patman.

Unique in detail was the manner of announcement. Miss Graves conducted a love story contest in which each guest took part. Upon completion, the story revealed the engagement and the date on which the prominent local couple will be married.

"Mary Peters" Is Studied By Club

"Mary Peters" by Mary Ellen Chase was studied Friday afternoon when the members of the Pathfinder Club met at the club rooms. Mesdames Simmons Powell, Fred Bunin, and Margaret Goodner were hostesses.

A profusion of fall flowers were used by the hostesses in adorning the room.

Mrs. E. P. Shelton was leader of the program. The first and second parts of the popular book were related by Mrs. C. A. Burton, librarian, and Mrs. Shelton reviewed the third and fourth parts.

The leader conducted an interesting discussion on "Does One's Early Environment Continually Follow One Through Life."

A dainty refreshment course was served to Mrs. E. D. Landreth, guest, and to 26 club members.

Former Resident Weds Saturday

Miss Wanda Teeple of Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Teeple of Floydada, became the bride of Jess Adkins, formerly of Clarendon, in an impressive ring ceremony solemnized at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. V. Nelson of Amarillo Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The Reverend E. B. Fincher, Presbyterian pastor, officiated.

The nuptial vows were spoken in front of the fireplace, before a beautiful improvised altar of white and pink chrysanthemums. Tall white candles were placed on a table.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Claudia Morgan, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Jones at the piano, sang "At Dawning." The bridal chorus from Lohengrin played by Mrs. Jones announced the bride and groom and soft music was playing during the ceremony.

Miss Bernice Motley of Amarillo, who was maid of honor, wore a becoming sport dress of black crepe trimmed in gold with accessories to match, and a shoulder corsage of sunburst roses.

The bride was attractive wearing a pretty frock of deep purple crepe, made with full ruffled sleeves, trimmed in gold and a rose velvet bow at the neckline. She wore matching accessories of purple and carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mr. Pete Gikerson was best man.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride, groom, and minister. Miss Mary Louise Thurman of Floydada and Mrs. Bill Eddleman of Hereford presided at the punch bowl.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Adkins donned a green wool suit with black accessories and the couple left on a short trip.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Dora Adkins of Amarillo and is employed at the Dickson Drug. The couple will be at home at 1105 Van Buren Street, Amarillo, Texas.

Clarendon friends and relatives to attend the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Adkins and Mrs. Carl Pittman.

ART CLUB HONORS GUESTS WITH LOVELY SEATED TEA

The Junior Les Beaux Arts Club entertained at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the club rooms with a seated tea. Misses Cleo Brown, Mary Howren, and Mrs. O. C. Watson, Jr., were hostesses.

The Thanksgiving motif was used in appointing the lace-covered table. A large bowl of fruits surrounded by autumn leaves and winter fern made an attractive centerpiece. Green tapers in silver holders and two silver turkeys completed the clever table arrangements. Miss Brown and Mrs. Watson presided over the tea and coffee services. They were assisted in serving by Mesdames R. L. Bigger and W. C. Stewart.

Mrs. Robert S. McKeel, local authority on welfare work, and Dr. B. L. Jenkins, prominent physician of Clarendon, were guests speakers on the program. Dr. Jenkins made an interesting address on safety. The physician inaugurated his address by a discussion of traffic accidents and concluded his varied and engaging talk by a discussion of physical safety.

Mrs. McKeel introduced his topic

TIMELY HINTS AND RECIPES

TESTED AND PROVED BY DONLEY HOUSEWIVES

Mrs. B. L. Jenkins recommends:
Mock Marachino Cherries

Cut 7 cups of watermelon rind into small balls, pack measuring cup full. Soak over night in one gallon of water and one-half cup of lime. Next morning wash thoroughly, put in cold water and soak two hours. Put in cold water to cover and boil 40 minutes. Pour out in colander, drain well, pour kettle of boiling water over then drain off water. Put in syrup made of four cups sugar, two cups water, one lemon sliced, one ounce of concentrated cherry extract, one ounce fruit coloring (red). Boil over slow fire until you can pierce with fork. Put in small containers and seal.

*****

Mrs. Sam Dyer recommends—
Caramel Nut Bread

One cup butter creamed with one cup brown sugar. Add one well beaten egg, add two cups flour, put in greased pan spread to thickness of pie crust. Put over top one well beaten egg, sprinkle with one-half cup brown sugar and one cup chopped nuts, another one-half cup brown sugar and bake at 350 degrees.

*****

*****

*****

Mrs. Lester Schull suggests—
A panful of lime kept in the cupboard with jams and preserves will prevent moulding.

*****

Mrs. A. H. Baker suggests—
When making fruit pies if one will sprinkle two tablespoons of sugar in the crust, the crust will remain crisp. Egg whites will serve the same purpose but this hint saves one from breaking an egg.

CHAMBERLAIN

Filora Peabody

Old Man Weather was prompt—a gale from out of the north-west gave a nice welcome invitation for "home fires" Sunday morning. But 55 God loving people were present at Sunday school. It is such sturdy Christians as these that has made the world safe for the rest down through the ages. Some have dared and have won, others have waited by the wayside. Paul, our great disciple, left the answer for the brave and true. "You have fought a good fight."

Mrs. H. M. Reid was seriously burned on her limb and foot Sunday morning while cooking breakfast. She is reported doing very nicely.

Juanita Estes is able to be up now. We are hoping to see her out soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Duckett were at Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reid's Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ricks and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hott last Sunday.

Mrs. J. E. Duckett has been the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Green of Stratford the past few days.

Miss Ivy Dia Hinkle of Wichita Falls was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hinkle, part of last week.

Mrs. John George, mother of Mrs. Almie Skinner has been ill for the past few days.

Mrs. Ivo Peabody was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Wilson for a few days. Mrs. Peabody will accompany him back to the Schott Ranch where Mr. Peabody is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wallace and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wallace of Pampa, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Duckett Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hott and children were the luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Wilson Sunday.

Goldston Bus News

Words cannot express the frightened feeling of the Goldston kids when they came to enroll in the Clarendon school on September 2. But since then they have acquired lots of knowledge and some bravo. We are going to pass some of the latter on to you.

Elizabeth Ziegler is the main talk on our bus. One day recently she asked some of the other pupils why ranchers let their cows parade in the public road and wondering why this particular cow was wearing a ring. "Maybe," says Elizabeth, "this cow is engaged."

We wonder why Ellen Veazey is always talking about the good community of Martin. Wonder if something there holds her attraction. Well, here's hoping she has good luck.

Billy Peaden seems to be the quietest one on the bus, but from accounts he says plenty in the class room.

Lamar Stewart is noted for his bright remarks, but of course we consider the source and laugh.

We wonder what would happen if—Elizabeth Ziegler never blushed. Woodrow Bulls ever said anything.

Louise Patterson missed the bus. Raymond Clemmons didn't say, "Good-bye" to everyone as he gets off the bus.

Leona and Leota Peabody started a bus stop office. Ruth Rhodes lived at Sunnyview.

Marilyn Sawyer didn't sleep so late. Frances Peabody couldn't grin. Velma Morgan started a tin consuming plant.

Kathleen Oden was down at the road in time. Ralph Stewart wouldn't talk so much.

Bertha Mae Thomas couldn't act dignified. Johnnie Stewart didn't have to eat on the way to school.

Nelda Peabody couldn't make eyes at Raymond Clemmons. Well, if this doesn't cause too much commotion it'll be back again next week.

Lowe and Morris Speak At Chapel

The regular assembly program was held Thursday afternoon in the auditorium. After the student body had sung several songs, Mr. Drennan introduced Judge Lowe as one of the speakers for the afternoon. Judge Lowe gave an interesting address on "Remarks of a Good Student." He named as the earmarks, faithfulness and conviction. By these characteristics good students can be distinguished from others.

The pep squad, together with the rest of the student body sang several football songs and gave their yells. Mr. Drennan then introduced Mr. Morris as the next speaker. Mr. Morris told his experience as captain of the Clarendon College Bulldogs and gave suggestions to the Bronchos, following this talk, Mr. Drennan and Mr. Burton made a few announcements and dismissed the assembly.

CAMPUS DIRT

Seen about town: Dorothy Phelps heaving sighs of expectancy as Thanksgiving draws nearer. Helen Green turning down a date because she had already retired, who said that about early to bed. Arthur running around frantically begging the students to turn in their articles. Miss Headrick walking on the cutest pair of new shoes.

Orchids to Mr. Stufts for giving so many A's in chemistry and to Memphis for showing Clarendon what school spirit really is.

Memphis beat Clarendon in the game Friday night, but is that any reason why any one should be poor enough sport to run down our team and coaches?

Eloise and Anna Moores did the same by going to Memphis.

Sarah Virginia, Jolly, and Mrs. McGowan ditto by going to McLean.

Dora Lucile spent the week-end in Memphis.

LARGE NUMBER OF STUDENTS MAKE COLLEGE HONOR ROLL

WOULDN'T IT BE NICE IF WE—

Had a complexion like Virginia Williams?
Could sing like Athlyen Drennan?

Had as much fun as the fifth period physical education class?
Could enjoy eating as much as Rosalyn Bass?

Could dance like Avis Lee McElvany?
Had as good an opinion of ourself as Keith Swinburne?

Had a "digger" like Elery Watson?
Could enjoy living as much as Robert Nichols?

Could be as smart as Ardis Patman?
Were as cute as Francis Fowler?

Were as nice as Mary Frances Powell?
Had as good a personality as Letha Warren?

Could act like Sarah Virginia McGowan?
Were as well liked as "Horse" Holtzclaw?

A TO Z

Yeah, I went into a conference with myself and decided (after deep concentration) that I would not mention anything about the football game except that the Bronchos did not average last year's game; they only made it a little worse. I've always been for the Bronchos and I still am, but a little plain talk doesn't hurt anyone. Now please don't be so everlastingly cocky and let's see you beat Wheeler.

And now to change the subject, let's start off with a little poem of advice to the lovers:

My love is flew, she done me dirt,
I did not know, she was a flirt,
So those in love, let me forbid,
Let they be done, like I was did.

Norris: And are you absolutely sure that you love me?
Jimmy Lee: Heavens, do you think I'd sit here and listen to your silly talk if I didn't.

Someone gave this definition of the college man: Too honest to steal, too proud to beg, too lazy to work, and too poor to pay cash. That's why we have to give him credit.

Woodrow: Do you know how to tell a professor from a student?
Linwood: No, how?
Ask him what "it" is, and if he says it's a pronoun, he's a professor.

Wonder if "The Rambling Wreck From Texas Tech" was referring to the model T, or Harold Hams, the driver. Anyway, I know a girl with red curly hair and brown eyes that sure powdered her nose when he came to town.

And now, what happened to the Bulldogs? Have they went and gone and quit?

Avis Lee says: "A little powder, A little paint, Makes little girls look like what they ain't."

LOCAL TEACHER'S FATHER GIVES TALK OVER RADIO

Colby D. Hall, dean of T. C. U. and father of Miss Bita Mae Hall, language instructor in the local schools, spoke over the radio station WBAP Thursday night, November 7. His talk was the first of a series of programs to be presented over that station in preparation for the homecoming of T. C. U. ex-students Thanksgiving. In his speech, he gave a brief history of Texas Christian University, beginning with the coming of the French Huguenots, in the early history of Texas, and continuing to the present time.

PALO DURO

The members of the Palo Duro Society met in the dormitory Wednesday night, November 6, for the first of a series of programs on the subject of the Texas Centennial. The program topic for that evening was "The History of the Centennial Movement." Sam Barrow told something of the origin of the movement and Mary Frances Dewey gave an account of the preparations which have been made by the Centennial commission. Following this short program, the meeting, which was unusually well attended, was adjourned until the following week at which time the members were promised that they would receive their yearbooks.

SPORT SHOTS

The Broncho-Cyclone game last Friday was not the best of games; however, it was probably considered to be a good game by the Memphis team. With this remark, I believe there is no need for further comment.

Tomorrow night the McLean Tigers will play the Bronchos here, and again they will try to avenge the Bronchos for the defeat they received in 1933. Although McLean is favored to win, the game should be quite interesting as there is always a chance for an upset.

And, speaking of upsets, the Badger and Picador game headed the list here in the Panhandle. The Badgers' loss undoubtedly is accounted for by the loss of several regulars in their line-up.

The Amarillo Sandies look like another championship team this year; however they will find much competition later on.

S. M. U. and T. C. U. still remain undefeated; however, I believe the Texas Longhorns will upset the dope Saturday by handing T. C. U. their first defeat of the season by a slight margin. S. M. U. easily winning from U. C. L. A. last week, will have another easy game Saturday, when they play Arkansas, who was defeated

Bit of PHILOSOPHY

by DEAN E.V. WHITE
TEXAS STATE COLLEGE for WOMEN(CM)

The most uninteresting subject to other people is yourself.

Some people make laboratories out of themselves for wise observers.

When you surpass all the rest, try to outdo yourself.

The fellow who goes to work late usually quits early.

If you don't respect your credit, don't expect others to do it.

Some people are never right—not even when they are not wrong.

The perfect fool is one who thinks he never makes a mistake.

It is a poor excuse to be good because you have to.

Even the woodpecker uses his head in his work.

An educated person is one who tells what everyone knows in words that no one understands.

CHURCH CHATS

"COME AND HEAR"
"Come and Hear All Ye that Fear God, and I Will Declare What He Hath Done for My Soul."
Psa. 66:16

The sixty-six Psalm is a song of grace and providence. Praise is the chief topic and God's benefits and grace the main theme. The sweet singer of Israel bursts forth with a song of praise to glorify God for His many benefits and make an appeal to others to make, "O joyful noise unto the Lord." Heart adoration never fails to seek only God's glory. Sometimes in meditation, often in melody, but always in worshipful praise the chief object is to honor God. A devout life will always seek to make known God's goodness and benefits. The Christian will always strive to be a witness for Jehovah. There are so many things that can be declared and revealed concerning God's mercy.

I. There are special blessings which God has conferred on every true Christian. 1. There is the pardon of sin. 2. There is the change of heart. 3. The victory over temptations. 4. The answers to prayers. With these major blessings bestowed by the Heavenly Father upon His children for obedience to His will, the Christian can not but sing and testify

NAYLOR

(By Mrs. Richmond Bowlin)

We are having real winter, holding up farm work somewhat. Miss Nancy Steedman of Oklahoma City is house guest of her nephew, E. V. Quattlebaum and Mrs. Quattlebaum.

Blake Wood of Amarillo spent Friday night with his mother, Mrs. M. L. Wood, who accompanied him home Saturday to spend the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Eanes spent Sunday with Edwin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Eanes at Chamberlain.

Miss Letrois Scott of Clarendon spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Crites, also Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Hurst spent Sunday with the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tidrow.

Wanda Nell Bean visited Sunday with Inez Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Randel of Ashola were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Quattlebaum. Sunday school will have a Christmas tree, so get out your want-list to Santa.

for God.

II. Every true Christian delights to declare the special blessings which God has conferred on him. 1. From gratitude to God for this goodness. 2. From a desire to do good for others. 3. From a regard to the gratification and improvement of his own soul. The true Christian is always ready to speak words of praise and gratitude, that he might lead others to God, that they too might enjoy the wonderful things that God has for them that love and obey Him. Above all the Christian is not selfish, because he knows that his God is able to bless all who will come to Him.

III. Every true Christian never ceases to declare the special blessings which God has conferred on him when he knows or is sure that those addressed have a kindred experience. 1. They are willing to listen to his declaration. 2. They are more qualified to appreciate it. 3. They are more likely to derive advantage from it. The invitation is given for all to "Come and Hear." God has blessed many in the past and is willing to bless all who will come to Him and hear His laws and commands.

Right Out Of The Air

Clark Gable, who owes as much of his "Romeo No. 1" ranking among filmfans to strong arm tactics as to his profile, joins the Radio Theatre bandwagon this month.

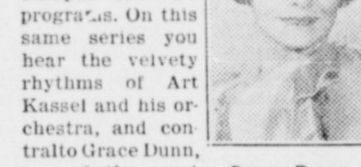

He will be heard Monday evening over CBS on the same full hour dramatic series which brings the biggest of the stage and screen stars to the microphone. This Radio Theatre series last year won the annual vote of the radio editors as "the best dramatic program on the air."

*** Nella Goodelle, the rising young radio star, who takes rank with Ramona as "tops" among singing pianists, uses an entirely different style from that used by the popular Whiteman favorite. Nella chants her songs "sweet and low" while Ramona specializes in the "hot seat" style which has made her famous.

*** While Harriet Hillard is in Hollywood, Billie Traak is substituting in her singing role with Ozie Nelson's orchestra on the Hob Ripley-Nelson programs Sunday evenings. Harriet will be back with Ozie in a month after she makes a picture as a costar with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

*** While John Mills, Jr., is recovering from illness in a New York hospital, his Dad, John, Sr., is slinging with his famed sons, the Mills Brothers, on the Friday evening 10:30 p.m., e.s.t. Campus Hitvue program. On this same series you hear the veivety rhythms of Art Kassel and his orchestra, and con traito Grace Dunn, one of the most newer singing stars.

*** One of the most catchy theme melodies on the air is that of Sigmund Romberg's Tuesday evening Studio Parties. It alternates a one step, a waltz, and a fox trot signifying the types of music Romberg features on his popular program.

*** Clyde Lucas and his orchestra have been "engaged" for the mythical night club program, "Musical Rendezvous," over the NBC blue network Wednesdays at 8 p.m., e.s.t. Just like a real night club, the program books attractions for a limited number of weeks instead of the usual 13.

*** Jessica Dragonette, star of that Friday night NBC show, takes top honors for gifts received from listeners. Among them will be found an electric organ, medals, handkerchiefs, table linen and framed poems dedicated to her, all of them are hand made and represent months of tireless effort on the part of her admirers. She reads every fan letter she gets, and they're all mounted in huge "memory" books.

*** After three guest star appearances in two weeks, Jane Froyman, radio's loveliest lark, dashed to Pittsburgh to headline a theatre there. She'll be back on the air soon.

*** James Melton is in great demand for movies as well as radio. His first movie isn't released until late November, but he's been signed for a second one, "The Desert Song," already.

*** Peter Van Steeden, youthful maestro of "Town Hall Tonight," doesn't hesitate to come right out in favor of studio audiences. He says that he's a the boys in the band have an audience, they work a lot harder than they might in a bare studio. He has tried both types of broadcasting but his experience shows him, he says that the boys sound a third better when they can "show their stuff."

*** Ray Noble, heard Wednesday at 9:30 p.m., e.s.t., over CBS, got in from London the same day his new series went on the air, due to the boat's delay.

Then too, there are night clubs where one may dine and dance. Excellent music and good meals are outstanding.

Williams Tells—

(Continued from Page One) come before him for decision, a man was being tried on a charge of murder. The defendant claimed self defense, stating that he had killed the other man in a fair fight by beating him to the draw. The judge arose after the arguments were completed and started one of his typical harangues. The defendant jumped to his feet and interrupted: "Your honor, are you giving me the death penalty?" "I certainly am!" was the reply.

"Well, you can save all that hot air for the next victim. I only killed one man, and that was in self defense. You have killed more men with that jawbone of yours than Samson killed with the jawbone of that other historic ass."

Yes, they grew tougher in those days!

Miss Dorrace Allensworth left Friday for an extended visit in Fort Worth.

12,000 Cars Visit—

(Continued from Page One) it the most attractive state park in the Southwest, with great possibilities for development. Under construction at the present time are El Coronado Lodge, 24 stone tourist cabins, tourist camp sites, 150 picnic units with tables and outdoor stoves, eight miles of scenic drives, 25 miles of bridal trails, six miles of water mains, and other improvements to make this the largest and most attractive recreation and picnic center in this section of the Southwest.

Those who have visited the park understand better why Col. Charles Goodnight followed this trail into the Palo Duro and established his first ranch headquarters there. The Palo Duro is beautiful during the fall months, with plenty of shelter for picnicking parties even in cool weather.

During the past four months 45 cars have visited the park from Clarendon. Among those making favorable comments regarding the beauties of the Palo Duro Park were Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Green, J. O. Vineyard, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brewitt, L. E. Thompson, E. H. Estlack, J. W. Martin, Mrs. R. L. Bigger, Willie Maude Pratt, Price Whitlock, Ardis Patman, Edith Burman, Y. A. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tice, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Taylor, whose comment was "It's the beauty spot of Texas."

The traditional banquet will be held at 6 p. m. and is free to the Nobility. The Chief Steward is looking for venison but may have to fall back upon a barbecued beef. At 7 p. m. the second section will be given the Nobles, and all are promised a good time.

Mesdames W. Wilson and N. W. Durham of Memphis spent Wednesday in Clarendon visiting with relatives.

Cyclone Wallops—

(Continued from Page One) 33-yard jaunt through right tackle. The other Memphis tally was scored by Adeock. The first score came in the first quarter when Powers skirted right end for nine yards. The second came in the second quarter when he made a 33-yard gallop, and the third was scored in the last quarter.

Powers also showed exceptional ability in the art of flipping forward passes. The Cyclone chalked up 18 first downs to two for Clarendon, and gained 352 yards from the line of scrimmage to 52 for the Irons. The locals' attack was almost completely stopped by the hard charging Memphis linemen, not a first down registered the entire first half.

The Ponies made their only threatening gesture in the early part of the third quarter, when they made a determined push from deep in their own territory to scoring position. However, the rally was stopped when Holtzclaw, on a wide reverse, ripped off 30 yards and had the play called back on an off side penalty.

Powell, who has been playing in the line all season, was in the backfield and turned in his usual steady game, and his long kicks were largely responsible for the score being kept down as much as it was. Cornell also did part of the kicking, and got off some pretty boots. One of them, a beautifully executed quick kick in the last quarter, went over Crump's head and was good for a net of 55 yards.

Cornell, Holtzclaw, Butler and Powell were outstanding for the locals. McAbee, Powers, Crump, Walker and Adeock were the chief driving factors in the Cyclone attack.

The starting line-ups: Memphis—Scott and Malone, ends; Sanders and Grimes, tackles; Bourland and McAbee, guards; Estes, center; Walker and Crump, halves; Adeock, full, and Powers, quarter.

Clarendon—Martin and Ralls, ends; Riley and Easterling, tackles; Butler and Jones, guards; Lane, center; Holtzclaw and Powell, halves; Strawn, full, and Cornell, quarter.

History Re-Lived At Gonzales Fete

As thousands of Texans gathered in this historic community to hear a stocky little cannon boom the opening of the Gonzales Centennial celebration just as its twin roared the beginning of the Texas revolution 100 years ago, a bystander murmured wistfully: "I wish I could fire that gun."

A neighbor, overhearing him, asked why; and he replied: "Well, my great grandfather was Colonel Moore, who commanded the Texans here at Gonzales and fired the first shot."

Whereupon his new acquaintance smiled and said: "And my grandfather was a guard placed over Santa Anna after his capture at San Jacinto. I guess we could say that our folks started and ended the Texas war for independence."

The descendant of Colonel Moore was John Faires of Platonita; his neighbor was Congressman Richard M. Kleberg of the Corpus Christi. Thus do the whims of destiny direct the course of the Texas Centennial.
