Williams Tells

By Fred L. Williams

An Assignment—

When Carl Taylor, magazine writer, was given the assignment of writing a magazine story about the strange practices of a cult near Albuquerque, N. M. he told his boss, editor of Today magazine it was going to be a dangerous assignment, so newspaper stories inform the public after Taylor's body was found in his New Mexico mountain cabin. Modesto Trujillo, 16-year-old member of the strange cult has been charged with the murder of Taylor—supposedly for $2,000 which Taylor was believed to have had on his person—and not because Taylor was delving into the treasured secrets of this strange society of which all members are near full-blood Indians.

Chances—

Magazine and newspaper reporters take chances when gathering information for the always interested public. A feature article on the practices of the strange cult in New Mexico would be interesting reading for the general public; yet would be a revelation of secrets which have heretofore been unknown outside of the cult membership. However a reporter must take many chances in gathering news. Taylor apparently knew the assignment was a dangerous one but went relentlessly about the performance of his duty.

Two Below—

The helmsman of this department was out of town when the cold wave "hit town" Saturday morning and drove the mercury down to 1.99 degrees below ZERO. I'll give you one one-hundredth of a degree and call it an even 2 below. The previous "cold spells" were frigid enough to this former inhabitant of warmer climes, and I know that 2 below would have been "awful cold." Kinda glad I missed it.

Male Society Editors—

My right-hand man and help-mate, the Madam Society Editor, is spending a couple or three weeks with her mother in South Texas. So the lot of gathering and writing the social news of the community for the next two or three issues has fallen upon the shoulders of the male members of The News force. So please, if the society page is not quite up to par during this time, just remember that mere male was never intended to do this type of work.

If there are any particularly glaring mistakes, just hop on Dick Cooke—if you want to say something nice, see me!

Subscribe—

If you are not already a subscriber to The Clarendon News, we would be pleased to add your name to our family of readers. Eight pages of live news matter every week at a slight cost of more than two cents per week. And when ten or more pages are printed you get the "gravy" of additional news matter.

Thanks—

We have had many compliments during the past week on the improvements recently made in The News. We thank every one of you. A few words of praise will make us continue to work harder for a better paper.

Congratulations—

The Stephenville Empire-Tribune recently celebrated its sixty-sixth anniversary with a special edition of nine sections, containing 72 pages. This edition will stand out as a real achievement, and Messrs. Clements and Higgs, publishers, are to be congratulated for this splendid edition and for the wonderful co-operation they received from their live merchants and business men.

Political Ambitions—

The Happy Herald prints: "About the worst thing that can happen to a man is to get a bad case of political ambitions. The only thing that is really worse than a man getting an aggravated case of political ambitions is to have his wife get them for him."

Indians Said Devil Lived Here

"The Devil's Tombstone," shown above, is in Palo Duro Canyon, near Canyon City, Texas, 18 miles south of Amarillo. The canyon is one of the beauty spots of Texas that will lure tourists in their 1936 visits to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas and other celebrations throughout the state. The rock drew its name from an Indian belief that it was the burial marker of an evil spirit.

ANGRY CITIZENS THREATEN TO "MOB" COLORED ATTACKER.

Prompt action by the sheriff's department averted a near riot Saturday afternoon when a crowd of angry citizens had chased Hezekiah Jones, colored boy, to earth near the Fort Worth & Denver station after Jones had allegedly struck a white man, following an argument in a grocery store here. Witnesses stated that Jones entered the store and was roughly pushing his way through the crowd when the white man halted him. An argument ensued and the two men went outside, whereupon the negro struck the white man, knocking him down. The black then ran and the mob gave chase, catching Jones near the station, just as the sheriff's department arrived, Pierce said. Jones was tried in justice G. K. Davis' court on a charge of fighting and was committed to jail for 20 days by the sheriff in default of the fine.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN NEXT

There is a deep interest in the question often asked now, "What is to become of the unemployed when government aid quits or what is to become of the future generations with science and invention increasing the lessening need of labor?"

Looking back over the history of ages in comparison to our present situation it is evident there is not and never has been any need of a world depression. They have come and gone in irregular succession of years measured always by the relentless indiscretion of the people of the age in which the depression occurred.

There is an abundance of labor needed now and there always has been. The law that governs necessary production is shortened only by the people of the age who have wasted or wrongly used surpluses in better times. If every improvement, repair or construction needed or desired now could be taken care of, that is, if the people who desired to have work done could afford to have it done and pay for it, there would be little unemployment especially if people worked on a more equal basis of hours and wages. Education, training and apprenticeship has had a great deal to do in creating this change. When times were good it was difficult to get apprentices to work up in many lines of endeavor. It is surprising how many laborers there are now who do not know how to do ordinary work as it should be done or they are too careless to try.

When we are willing to admit it we find that debt, interest, taxes and competition, social as well as industrial, has had more to do with creating our present state of affairs than over production of foodstuff or machinery. The creating of unequal opportunity through too great profits and accumulations, however, may be the result of indiscret spending and investment by the producing classes, when there is no curb on industrial power.

Intellectual development and inventive progress should be to our advantage in civilization and it will always be if rightly used, and if not we will pay the price of our unrighteousness, judgment and manner of dealing with each other. The most unfortunate thing about the whole matter is that there are those who are not guilty who must of a consequence suffer along with the guilty. The future generation will either suffer or change conditions of social service.—Advertiser, Eldon, Mo.

The year 1936 may be a break for the girls, but to the pedestrian it is just another leap year.

Nature can be improved a little, but not radically changed.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

No Relief, While the Lubricants Lasted

By IRVIN S. COBB

DOWN below Macon lived a highly respected old colored woman. Of her belongings, a bull, next to her two pickaninnies, was easily first in Aunt M'iss' affection. In her hands "Old Buck" was docile enough but he had one bad habit. He had an innate dislike for freight trains. Every time he saw a freight train Old Buck went rampaging. The proximity of the tracks of the Georgia Central Railroad to his little pasture meant the daily upsetting of the bull's disposition. Finally there came a day when he reached the limit of his patience.

With the first blast from the whistle, Old Buck had burst through the rail of his enclosure and with head down and tail upcurled was posted between the rails, ready for the battle which was to cure all of his troubles regarding freight trains. It did.

All that was left to be salvaged was his hide and his grease and a certain cherished memory. The inevitable lawsuit for damages followed, with Aunt M'iss as the plaintiff. But the railroad won and the case was thrown out of court.

The old woman determined upon reprisal. Her revenge took the form of a daily surreptitious lubricating of the tracks where Old Buck had passed from this life; a spot which happened also to be at the beginning of a rather steep upgrade. For several weeks the locomotives had an exceedingly hard time of it to make any headway at all at this point. Investigation showed that the rails had been heavily anointed with beef fat, and the finger of suspicion aimed at the old woman.

On a certain day a detective for the road, a large, square-built man, with a formidable moustache, appeared at the door of Aunt M'iss' cabin.

"I represent the Georgia Central Railroad," he announced impressively.

"Yassuh," replied M'iss. "Won't you come in and tek a cheer?"

"No," stated the caller, bristling with authority. "I came here to find out just how long you expect to keep up your practice of greasing our rails and impeding traffic on our line?"

"Well, suh," said Aunt M'iss, with due deliberation, "I don't know jest whut you means by 'pedin' traffic. But I 'spects dem rails'll be kep' greased jes' ez long as Old Buck's tallow holds out."

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"Who Ya Nudgin'?"

At The First Baptist Church

THERE IS ALWAYS WORSHIP—FELLOWSHIP—SERVICE

Church membership is not an elevator into Heaven, but it is a stabilizer in the life of the individual that has no substitute. The church is the state's hope of stability. The church is the Christian's hope of a great Christian life. One never heard of a great Christian who was not identified with some church. If you are seeking a church home, end that search next Lord's Day by identifying yourself with the church where you can feel at home and worship God according to the dictates of your own conscience. Every place of worship should be a house of friendship. Here friends of the Master meet him whom they love and others who love him. True friendship is expressed in service. Service is the yard-stick by which Christ himself measured true greatness. He came not to be ministered unto but to minister. He said that the greatest in the kingdom of heaven should be servant of all. He also said, forsake not the assembling of yourselves together, as the manner of some is. So if you would be obedient to Christ who is the head of the church you will be in your place at your church next Sunday for her services.

The First Baptist Church always feels honored with the presence of visitors in her services. If you sorrow and need comfort, if you are sin sick and seek a savior, if you feel friendless and long for fellowship, we bid you come and worship with us.

J. Perry King, Pastor.

WORK IS PROVIDED FOR 8,371 TEXAS YOUTHS BY NYA

WORKING ON 467 PROJECTS SCATTERED OVER STATE.

Though the National Youth Administration 8,371 young Texans have been given part-time employment in the last thirty days.

The figures were announced by Lyndon B. Johnson, state NYA director, after a check-up with representatives in 20 Texas districts.

In addition, 1,312 have been assigned to work, and jobs have been made available for 7,642 others. The grand total of part-time jobs provided by the National Youth Administration in the 30-day period is 17,325.

The boys and girls are working on 467 projects scattered throughout the state. A total of $417,378 is being expended by the NYA and co-operating sponsors are contributing approximately 40 per cent of the entire cost of the projects. The remaining funds of the $459,000 allocated to Texas are being used in projects being approved daily.

The youngsters are working on various projects which will be useful memorials to their efforts. Chief among these are 150 "pocket-size" parks, so called because of their tiny size. The small pleasure-grounds are a pipe dream of Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer. The highway department is the sponsor of the construction of the parks and also of school bus stops and gravel school walks.

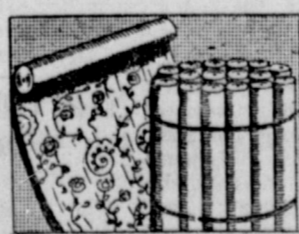

Other work includes the beautification of school grounds and the improvement of recreational facilities. Youths are also assisting in the organization and leading of recreational and community activities.

Girls, too, have an active part in the NYA program. In several districts, sewing room projects are under way. Many are working in libraries, repairing and cataloguing books. Some are employed in school cafeterias and others are doing secretarial work.

Mrs. O. C. Watson, Jr., was in Goodnight Sunday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. N. M. Lawler.

Rev. T. S. Barcus, presiding elder of the Clarendon Methodist District, was the principal speaker of the evening at the monthly social held by the Memphis Methodist Church last Wednesday evening.

Gene Stratton-Porter's Best-Seller "Freckles" To Be Shown At Pastime

ROMANCE OF ORPHAN LAD AND OUT-OF-DOOR GIRL HERE SUNDAY-MONDAY.

Preserving all the beauty and charm of Gene Stratton-Porter's famous novel, "Freckles" comes to the screen with Tom Brown and Carol Stone in the romantic leads, and with eight-year-old Virginia Weilder of "Laddie" fame in the part of the delightful Laurie Lou.

In a dramatic but simple manner the picture unfolds the love story of a lonely orphan boy and a girl of the out-of-doors, and paints the stark drama of the historic Indiana lumber swamps with vigorous strokes.

First published in 1904, "Freckles" has achieved a phenomenal sale since that date. The total number of copies in circulation is about 2,000,000, and it has been read by more than fifty million persons. According to the New York Times Book Review estimate of the best-selling books since 1875, "Freckles" is second in popularity, outsold only by a religious tract.

The story of "Freckles" belongs to the more familiar tales in American literature. "Freckles," an orphan, finds his way to the Limberlost, the timber country of Indiana. Laurie Lou, a bright and sprightly youngster, befriends lonely Freckles, and, with Mary Arden, the beautiful country schoolma'am, gets him a job as guard with the McLean Lumber Company.

Unversed in the ways of the woods, Freckles is terrified by outlaws and the unseen wild life about him, but his courage steels him to the requirements of the job. He proves his mettle in rescuing Laurie Lou from a tragic death beneath a falling monarch of the forest, and then undertakes the greater job of capturing a band of lumber thieves. His latter task is more difficult, Freckles risking his life to save Laurie Lou from the bandits.

With the exception of a few interior scenes, "Freckles" was filmed in the famous Mother Lode country of California, near Sonora. Not in recent years has a picture had such magnificent scenery as a background for its dramatic action. Virgin forests, rushing streams and fertile valleys are seen in all their picturesque splendor during the action.

A complete lumber camp, including a school house, living quarters for workers and recreation and mess halls were constructed on the location. No expense or trouble was spared to preserve the atmosphere Gene Stratton-Porter injected into the novel.

Tom Brown, playing the title role, is ideally cast. He is a typical American boy of the type immortalized by the author in her story and has the youthful appeal and charm so necessary to the character.

Carol Stone, who is making her screen debut in the picture, is the daughter of the internationally famous comedian, Fred Stone. She was trained for the stage and made her official debut in 1933 in "Mr. Prohack," a play by the late Arnold Daly.

Virginia Weilder who Plays Laurie Lou has been a screen sensation in the last year as a result of her work in "Laddie" and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

Eddie Killy and William Hamilton directed the picture. Killy was formerly assistant director on all Katharine Hepburn pictures; and prior to becoming a director, Hamilton was one of the ace film cutters at the RKO Radio Studios.

Dorothy Yost, who recently adapted "She" and "The Last Days of Pompeii," scenarized "Freckles," which was produced under the supervision of Pandro S. Berman, noted for "Roberta," "Little Women," "Alice Adams," and others.

NEW SAFETY FOR BABIES

Mother, most hospitals now protect their babies against germs and skin-infection by rubbing Mennen Antiseptic Oil all over the baby's body—every day. This keeps the baby's skin smoother, softer, lovelier and SAFER. So, mother, do as hospitals do, as doctors recommend. Give your baby a safety-rub with Mennen Antiseptic Oil daily throughout his diaper-days. See your druggist.

Old Age Pension Requirements are Given by Official

Austin.—Because $7,500 worth of property for a married and $5,000 for a single person are listed as legal disqualifications under the old-age assistance law, applicants necessarily should be able to give adequate description of all real property owned, as well as personal property if the latter is valued at $1,000 or more, Orville S. Carpenter, who will be Executive Director of the Old Age Assistance Commission, said today concerning the new law.

"Each applicant should be able to describe all personal property, including jewelry, furniture, and live stock, in addition to his or her real property," Mr. Carpenter explained.

All applicants should have the following information available:

- (1) Original purchase price and date of purchase of all property. (2) Description of property from the county tax assessor telling block number, etc. (3) Amount property rendered for on tax rolls.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Returns are required of every single person who for the year 1935 had a gross income of $5,000 or more or a net income of $1,000 or more and of every husband and wife living together who for the year 1935 had an aggregate gross income of $5,000 or more or an aggregate net income of $2,500 or more. Widowers, widows, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons. The personal exemptions are $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families.

Husband and wife living together may make separate returns of the income of each or their income may be included in a single joint return. If separate returns are filed, one may not report income which belongs to the other but must report only the income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a taxable unit, and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax.

Husband and wife may elect each year whether to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint and separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may after the due date of the return file an amended return or returns in a different basis for that year.

"I have tried to make a close study of school law, and the different duties of the county superintendent's office. I consider that with my experience and knowledge of the school laws of state aid that I can be of greater service to the schools of Donley County, should you see fit to re-elect me for a second term.

"I attribute my success in the office to the splendid co-operation that I have received from the county board, school district trustees, patrons, and the school teachers of the county. We have all worked together to raise the standards of Donley County schools.

The clergyman, who was deaf, supposing that the clerk was giving out the hymn book notice, immediately arose and said: "And I want to say for the benefit of those

SPORT SHOTS

It seems that the high school boys just can't quite make the ripple against the rip roaring basketballers from Hedley, as they lost two more games last week. Only one point behind at half time, the boys trailed 29-33 as the game ended.

The C. H. S. girls, however, broke their losing streak last week in the last of the series of games with the Hedley girls. In each game played they lost by only a small margin, and in this game they finally came out on top with a 15-18 count.

The University of Arkansas forged ahead last week in the Southwest basketball loop. Arkansas and the University of Texas had formerly been in a tie, but Arkansas won two games from S. M. U. while Texas, having only one game scheduled with T. C. U., consequently won only one game. Therefore, Texas fell into second place, and the remaining places are now held by Rice, Baylor, S. M. U., T. C. U., and Texas A. & M., respectively.

The C. J. C. track team is coming out for training daily now. Several more boys have started training since the first meeting.

Notice the old tennis courts are crowded on some of the warmer days. It seems to me that we should have a good tennis team by county meet time.

Centennial Stamps To Be On Sale At Gonzales March 2

Stamp collectors of Clarendon who want first day covers of the new Texas Centennial stamp to go on sale at Gonzales March 2 may send orders for them now, according to Charles H. Bugbee, postmaster.

Those desiring stamps may send self-addressed, stamped envelopes to the postmaster at Gonzales, enclosing money, or a money order for not more than ten of the Centennial stamps. The postmaster will send the stamps March 2, the day they go on sale officially. Absolutely no stamps will be sent unless the directions are followed as requested.

The Centennial stamps will be most attractive. The size of a special delivery stamp, two oval panels at the top will show pictures of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston, and below will be a picture of the Alamo. A Texas Lone Star, in white, will have written above it, "Texas Centennial, 1836-1936." Color will be the usual purple.

Stamps will go on sale at post-offices in Texas, with the exception of Gonzales, March 3.

Favorable Report on Local Schools Made by Supervisor

Superintendent H. T. Burton has just received from Director J. W. O'Banion of the State Department of Education the official report of the supervisor, Mr. J. D. Wilson, who recently visited the local schools. The following are recommendations made by Mr. Wilson:

1. The buildings and equipment are in good condition.
2. There is every indication of excellent organization and administration.
3. The course of study is extensive and well balanced. The school has a good music program.
4. Teachers are well prepared and are working under most favorable conditions. The school is in need of new maps. The supervisor found the atmosphere of the school to be conducive to a high type of work.
5. This school system has a satisfactory set-up, and it is recommended for credit as an individual school, all subject offerings being approved.
6. The school authorities are to be commended for the development of an excellent school system.

Director O'Banion states that the department of education is very anxious to give constructive service to high schools and that any requests or suggestions from teachers or school officials will receive careful consideration.

DEBATING GROUP HOLDS PRACTICE MEET THURSDAY

The debating group held a practice debate Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 20. Two high school seniors, John Lott and Jimmy Bourland, argued the affirmative of the league question, "Resolved, That the Government Should Control the Production of Cotton," and two college students, Sam Barrow and Robert Nichols, argued the negative. Although the debate was not judged, it was lively and instructive. All members of the group participated in criticism at the conclusion of the debate.

Another practice debate is being held this afternoon. M. L. Baker and Earl Eudy, affirmative; John Lott and Jimmie Bourland, negative. The club plans to have at least one weekly debate.

The following are new members of the debating group: Nell Cook, Jimmy Thompson, Jack Reeves, and Homer Tucker.

Junior - Senior Banquet Feb. 27

Plans are being made for the Junior-Senior Banquet to be held on February 27. At a meeting last week a committee was appointed for the purpose of securing bids from any clubs that would like to prepare and serve the meal on this occasion. A program committee was also appointed; these committees will start work soon so as to make the banquet a most successful one.

The banquet will be quite unusual and different in that a new idea will be carried out. The name, "Super-Flivver," is given to this type of banquet. First, there will be a speaker who will represent the differential of the flivver, then another will represent the steering wheel, and possibly another will be a flat tire. With the introduction of this new idea, a most enjoyable evening is expected.

A TO Z

The college boys beat the high school boys the other night and it seems that the high school boys aren't in too good a humor over the whole deal; well, that's the way things go. And while we are speaking of games, the high school girls at last beat the Hedley Owlets Friday night and that's sumpin. Keep up the good work, and, oh yes, I forgot, the score was 15 to 18 and the high point girl was Letha Warren.

M. Francis Dewey says that her hair is not two tone, strictly not, but I am inclined to think that it is.

Yesterday I saw Juanita Estes talking to an ole college boy. She asked him how to go about writing a play as if he would know. Anyway he told me that he was honest enough to tell her he didn't know any more about writing plays than he did flying submarines.

Wonder what Ralph Stewart was talking to Beatrice Gorman about in the back of the library? Didn't look to me as though he was hunting books.

Mary Smith (the red haired girl in the library) is having an erasing good time these days; oh, yes, she is erasing pencil marks out of books.

"CROOKS FOR A MONTH"

The College Curtain Club presentation, "Crooks for a Month," which was presented Thursday, February 6, was one of the most unusual plays to be seen here in many years. It was well received, although the audience was considerably smaller than it should have been.

The plot pertained to three boys, who being faced with the necessity of securing money, turned to the rather dubious profession of fortune telling. The stage properties and costumes during the second act, whose scene was laid in the office of the great Ramjah, Sam Barrow, were especially appropriate. The entire play was filled with humorous lines and hilarious episodes. The efforts of Winfield, Ardis Patman, to sell his stock of "Cream of the Orient" soap brought much laughter from the audience. All of the actors were well suited to their parts, and the skillful direction of Miss Sarah Virginia McGowan helped make the presentation very delightful. Mr. Kerby announced that plans are already under way for the next Curtain Club presentation, "The Black Ace," a modern murder mystery which will be presented during March.

I noticed Gene Baxter wearing his football sweater now. Where has it been, Gene?

Say, didn't I hear something about the first boy who let a girl wear his f. b. sweater was to be galloped down the belt line? Oh, I just wondered.

I see that some of the high school boys have started tracking now; I'll tell you who and what they are going to try to do next week if I think of it.

Who is she? Where is she from, and does she date O lot of the boys have been saying this: Well, she is from Hedley, her name is Sarah Hendricks, and as to her dating, well you will have to ask her. I just don't know.

The other night at the college play while the musicians were playing a very dreamy number, I heard a girl say, "Oh, that makes me want to just rise and fly," and did I snigger?

Guess I had better say "Cherio" until next week before the editor decides to play "Major Bowes" and give me the gong.

LIBRARY NOTES

The fifty-first edition of the World Almanac, which is the 1936 edition, is now ready. It is edited by Robert Hunt Lyman and published by the New York World-Telegram. It is a wonderful summary in brief form of the world's progress during the past year.

The prize awards in Texas poetry have recently been announced in the Yearbook of the Poetry Society as follows: The Old South Prize for the best poem of any form or nature was won by Udy Jones Wheeler with her poem "Heritage." The Alamo Prize for the best sonnet or group of sonnets, was shared by Sidie Joe Johnson and Naiaid Cressap Key. The Texas Prize for the best poem on a Texas theme was won by Grace Noll Crowell with her poem, "Black Hands."

The Book Club of Texas has announced the publication of a new J. Frank Dobie book, "Tales of the Mustang." It is illustrated by Jerry Bywater and was supposed to be ready by February 1st.

Houghton Mifflin will publish this spring "The Great Plains" by Walter Prescott Webb of the University of Texas in the first library edition. It was brought out as a textbook by Ginn and Co., in 1931. The new edition will be similar to the edition of Webb's "Texas Rangers."

A new publication this month is "Out of the Night. A Biologist's View of the Future" by another University of Texas professor, H. J. Muller, who is on leave of absence and is serving as senior geneticist at the Institute of Genetics, Academy of Science, in Europe.

The Readers' Digest for February contains an article, "Music

Is My Hobby" by Charles W. Ferguson, in which he calls attention to a weekly radio program of music presented by non-professionals. Charles W. Ferguson is an associate editor of Readers' Digest. Many of our readers will remember him since he spent some years of his childhood in Clarendon while his father was pastor of the Methodist Church here, and later Charles attended Clarendon College. He is author of several books, only one of which we have in the library, "Confusion of Tongues."

The club women of Clarendon who enjoyed the book review of "Phantom Crown" by Beritta Bates of Dallas will be interested in an item in the Dallas News stating that Mrs. Bates is to review "Royal Purple" at Corsicana this week. This is another story by Bertita Harding, in which she portrays the fall of a royal house of Europe. This seems her chosen theme. "Phantom Crown" is the story of the downfall of Europe which Carlotta and Maximilian attempted to found in Mexico. The same edition of the News announces a revival of Bess Streeter Aldrich's "Spring Came On Forever," and states that Shi Beck whose book of verse "I Ain't a Carin'" has created quite a sensation, is to appear as guest speaker at the Dallas Artist's League when she will talk on "Art and Ain't." Her book of verse was written in hill-billy vernacular and has gained widespread recognition as an example of indigenous literature—which personally, I doubt.

A gift of $2,500 has recently been made by an anonymous donor to the Mary Reed Library at the University of Denver for the purpose of opening the Renaissance Room, planned when the building was rected, especially for a leisure time reading room. The money is to be used to buy books and to pay a trained librarian who will act as readers' advisor. H. G. Wells has returned to England after five weeks in Hollywood as the guest of Charlie Chaplin and writer of short scenarios for the screen. George Bernard Shaw, who has been getting a good deal of publicity during his recent visit to our country because of his earnest insistence that we "scrap" over constitution has a new play "The Millionairess" which recently had its world premiere in Vienna. His theme is the belief held by a girl that money can buy anything and who proves it to her own satisfaction by marrying a succession of husbands.

WPA WORKERS WHO LOAF TO BE FIRED SAYS CHIEF

Washington.—Suspension or even dismissal is promised by Harry L. Hopkins for WPA workers who loaf on the job and bosses who allow them to do it.

The administrator said a small portion of workers have been shirking.

He added the warning was aimed not at the general condition but at the few workers "who haven't shown the right attitude."

Tuberculosis Common Criminal Says Doctor

Austin, Texas.—Tuberculosis, in common with the other major killers, is a criminal whose work is effectively carried on under cover of ignorance, stated Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

Carelessness is its greatest ally. How otherwise explain the conduct of persons who, despite poor appetite, faulty digestion, loss of weight, loss of strength

Stickers Advertise Texas Celebrations

Austin, Texas.—All Texans who buy motor car licenses in 228 of 254 Texas counties this year will receive Centennial windshield stickers. The stickers are being furnished to the tax collectors in 228 counties by the department of information for Centennial celebrations and will be distributed by the tax collectors or deputies to all who want them.

A request from the department to tax collectors, asking their co-operation, brought replies from 228 of them.

The stickers are small, square in size, printed in red, white, and blue colors and contain the words, "1836-Texas-1936. Centennial Celebrations."

FARM PLANNING IN TEXAS WILL BE CONTINUED

SURVEY TO BE CONDUCTED IN 200 COUNTIES.

The state-wide launching of the agricultural program planning project which was discontinued following the supreme court decision, will be continued and is expected to be under way in Texas by February 17, according to George E. Adams, assistant state agent of the extension service. The work, directed by district agents, should be completed by April 1, he said.

Mr. Adams, who has charge in Texas of this agricultural planning work, will select a number of counties in each extension service district where district agents will meet with county agents and farm and home demonstration or a sensation of tiredness in the afternoons refuse to admit that their condition requires professional investigation? Personal co-operation is necessary if we would cut down the ravages of this preventable disease. Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons; no one is immune to tuberculosis infection. Children who are in repeated contact with tuberculous persons almost invariably contract the infection. All children, therefore, should be protected at all times from protracted exposure to infection from persons known or suspected of having the disease. Removal of the contact cases, protection of the infant and very young, and prompt professional advise when symptoms suggestive of tuberculosis arise, will do much to reduce the tuberculosis death rate.

SHORT COURSE IS MOVED UP

ANNUAL FARM GATHERING AT A. & M. IS TO BE HELD WEEK EARLIER THIS YEAR

The 1936 Farmers' Short Course will be held at A. and M. College a week earlier this year starting Monday, July 20, and carrying through Friday, July 24, it was announced recently by H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service.

Preparations for this annual farmers' affair in Texas are being pushed stronger this year than ever in view of better living standards and live-at-home programs which are being advocated by the Texas Extension Service and other agricultural agencies in the state.

Looking backward, a brief glance at the 1935 Annual Farmers' Short Course shows a record of all times with the attendance totaling 7,000.

The Broncho Range—INTERESTING TALK—

The Reverend Mr. E. D. Landreth, speaker of the afternoon, had charge of the last part of the period. Mr. Landreth made an interesting talk on words. He brought out points not frequently thought about with reference to words; for instance, the difficulty of a foreigner's learning to speak or understand our language. Mr. Landreth said that we do not often stop to think of the importance of words. A kind one, he said, costs nothing and may mean a great deal. After several announcements had been made, the students adjourned to their classes.

councils to start the activity. First step in the project is in effect a survey which will be conducted in 200 counties by council members who will undertake to reach a large percentage of the rural population to be queried on the following topics. "What is the probable production in 1936 assuming normal weather conditions, present farm practices and prospective prices?" "Give probable production of various farm products in 1936, assuming normal weather conditions and present prospective prices, but without either production or marketing control, and if farm practices had been adjusted to maintain soil fertility and to control erosion?"

Another question, asking these questions in regard to, gardens and home processed commodities for home consumption, will be added to this schedule, Mr. Adams said.

H. GUY KERBOW IS ENUMERATOR

TO TAKE CENSUS OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL ESTABLISHMENTS.

Roy D. Chase, supervisor of the census of business, with headquarters in Amarillo, last Saturday announced the appointment of H. Guy Kerbow as enumerator for Donley County to present the census forms to business houses and assist in filling out the forms with necessary information.

Mr. Chase stressed the fact that information given enumerators will be held in strict confidence. All enumerators and other persons connected with the census work are under a drastic census oath not to disclose or discuss any information submitted for census purposes.

Williams Tells—

(Continued from Page One) shoes and everything. I'm going to blossom out in it some evening and go down to a hamburger emporium and dine and then take my wife to the theater and be the talk of the town for a week afterwards.

Might Be Cheaper—

If your wife surprisingly asks you some cold morning what to do with a man who won't get up in the morning, you might apprise her of that fact that it might be a good idea to let him alone as he isn't spending any money in bed.

Poor Eyesight—

Local citizen: "So your son left college on account of poor eyesight?" Second local citizen: "Yes, he mistook the dean of women for a co-ed."

Fancy Milk Cow—

Earthworms—

The following was clipped from one of our weekly exchanges: "A scientist declares that earthworms have a memory and can be trained. We'd like to have one trained so that he would entice fish to bite him."

Lucky Me—

February has five Saturday pay days, Oh, Me! First time for this occurrence since 1908, and it won't occur again until 1964. Won't that be lucky for Saturday paymasters?

SPEND TOO LITTLE FOR ADVERTISING

Hardware and Implement dealers who attended the last day of the two-day convention in Amarillo recently heard Glendon E. Hackney, Indianapolis, tell the dealers that the craft as a whole spends too little for advertising.

A chart which he exhibited at the convention to make an itemized comparison of operating costs of hardware dealers and those of other dealers showed that the hardware trade spent an average of only 1.10 per cent on sales for advertising as against 4.5 per cent by department stores.

May Be Paying Penalty

"It may well be," said Mr. Hackney, "that the hardware craft is paying a real penalty for its failure to utilize advertising more effectively. Higher selling costs in the form of wages may be direct consequence. Slower turnover, with resultant additional expense for insurance, taxes and interest may be another result."

Deaver Announces—

(Continued from Page One) was born, as one of the officers charged with the enforcement of the law. I wish to thank the citizens who have served on the petit and grand juries, the officers and the clerks all for the splendid co-operation at all times rendered.

"In asking for the privilege of serving you, I can only offer a continuation of the record made, with my working tools possibly sharpened by such additional knowledge as experience has given me. I have given my best efforts at all times, to discharge the duties of the office in an honest, efficient, fair and economical manner.

"Splendid co-operation of the citizens of Clarendon has enabled us to make these reductions and improvements, and if you approve our efforts and re-elect us, we will continue to give you our very best service."
