TRADES DAY TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Williams Tells By Fred L. Williams

Cold Spell— Although unreported by Joe Goldston, local weather man, a heavy frost blew into Clarendon Friday morning on the heels of the rain which fell Thursday morning. Yes, sir! Old Jack Frost himself paid us a personal visit—in August!

Fourth Down, Five to Go— Those in charge of promoting funds for the purpose of constructing a lighting system for the local high school football field reported Wednesday night that $819 had been subscribed, only slightly over half of the necessary amount.

This money must be subscribed not later than Sunday if the lights are to be installed this season. Clarendon is the only school in the district with home games scheduled that does not have a lighted field.

'Round Town— The town philosopher states that the City of Happiness is located in the State of Mind. * * * The worst crack heard on the streets this week—Doc Hicks inspecting a new suit of clothes Allen Bryan, local clothing dealer, is wearing, remarks: "S'funny these guys won't trade at home. Look at that Sears and Roebuck suit of clothes." * * * The skipper of this department accepts an invitation extended by Jimmy Cornelius, star milkshake "shaker upper" of the Douglas & Goldston Drug Store, to indulge in a round of cowpasture pool (golf, to you) . . . Nollie Simmons busily engaged next day replacing the turf. * * * "Pinky" Price, J. L. Kerby, et al, hard at it . . . working on football lights, new football field, etc. * * * Doc Hicks, about to become a benedict—Jo Ella Stewart, star reporter for The News, bragging about the fact that she has an invite to the "doings" . . . Good luck, Doc—and may there be many decayed teeth in Clarendon in the future. * * * Farmers in town with beaming countenances after the fine rains Thursday and Sunday—business men a bit perked up, too . . . Looks like there's going to be some shekels in the country this fall, after all—and 'most everybody's agreed it's about time! * * * Merchants busy preparing stocks and specials for Clarendon's first trades day. * * * School kids on their way to and from school . . . Some with contented expressions—others not so happy about it. * * * Cool weather past few days brings a hint of fall . . . Many new fall suits and hats in evidence . . . Football addicts already making plans to attend the big games. * * * Big news for the kids . . . Circus is coming to town—Harley Sadler-Bailey Bros. will be here Saturday, Sept. 14 . . . Horses, bareback riders, elephants, peanuts, 'n'everything. * * * Doc McDonnell, the "Oklahoma Rain Man," claims he brought the rain . . . (Continued on Page Eight)

The Old Timers of the Alanreed, Texas, community held their second annual get-together at LeFors, Texas, Sunday, August 18. The original idea was to get the old classmates together who attended the Alanreed school between the years of 1905 to 1909. Eighteen of these present were of that class. Other old timers were invited and present and were welcomed with that old time feeling of Western friendship and hospitality.

The first meeting was held at the home of Miss Miriam Wilson in LeFors on August 10, 1935, at which time she was elected president, Mrs. Nettie Reed, nee Nettie Davis, secretary. The meeting was held in a grove of large trees just west of the town where a basket dinner was spread after which a short business session was held, followed by talks and speeches and readings by those who volunteered to do so. Walter D. Hardin acted as chairman. Miss Wilson and Mrs. Reed were re-elected and Mrs. Alice Prock, nee Alice Hardin, (Continued on Page Four)

Quick work by the Donley and Hall counties sheriffs' departments Friday afternoon apprehended 2 car thieves, recovered the stolen car, and had the culprits in jail before the crime was two hours old. Sheriff Guy Pierce and Deputy Marion Quisenberry received a call Friday afternoon near three o'clock from Hall County Deputy Wilson stating a machine, owned by Henderson Smith of Memphis, had been stolen while parked here in the Memphis post office. Within fifteen minutes after receiving the call, Sheriff Pierce sighted the car heading west on east Highway No. 5 and floor-boarding his car overtook the stolen machine and youthful occupants, who were lodged in the Donley County jail within fifteen minutes after the call was received by Sheriff Pierce. An application for a $9,600 WPA project for improvements on the Clarendon school buildings and grounds has been approved by the district project planning director at Amarillo, according to J. L. Kerby, who returned from Amarillo with O. W. Latson, H. T. Burton and Odos Caraway Wednesday night, where they had spent the day conferring with district Works Progress Administration officials on the project. The project calls for the remodeling of the old dormitory building which, under the plans submitted, will contain a study hall with a seating capacity of 350, a library, present home economics and vocational agriculture departments, 10 class rooms and dressing room for boys' and girls' physical education classes. The application has been forwarded to the state office in San Antonio, and from there will be sent to Washington for final approval. Plans for the project were drawn by Latson and Kerby.

COUNTY GETS RAIN SUNDAY

COOLER WEATHER FOLLOWS: 58 DEGREES REGISTERED MONDAY MORNING. Rain amounting to 1 1-4 inches fell in Clarendon Sunday afternoon, and reports from outlying sections indicate that approximately the same amount fell generally over the county. This precipitation, following closely upon the heels of the 1-inch rainfall of last Wednesday night and Thursday morning, assures the county of good cotton and feed crops this fall, and farmers and business men are in a very optimistic frame of mind over the prospects. Considerably cooler weather has also followed the rains, 58 degrees being reported by Weatherman Joe Goldston Monday morning. Typical fall weather has continued so far this week, and although more warm weather will probably be experienced later on, it is believed that the heat wave from which the section had been suffering during the past few weeks has definitely been broken.

'FINGERS' SHOWN TO LARGE CROWD

A large crowd was present at the college auditorium Thursday and Friday nights to witness the performance of "Fingers," a four-act play staged by the Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps under the direction of Miss Lorraine Patrick together with specialties by the dancing class of Miss Mary Cooke. The cast, composed of the entire corps, presented an unusually good performance in the play concerning a boy crook, "Fingers," competently played by Junior (Continued on Page Eight)

DONLEY TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Arrangements are being made by County Agent H. M. Breedlove and the farmers of Donley County to have the most outstanding exhibit for Donley County in many years at the Tri-State Fair to be held in Amarillo September 14-21. Breedlove stated to make the exhibit one worthy of the county he would need the cooperation of all farm people. Thursday, September 12, was set by Breedlove as the deadline for farm products to be brought into the office to be placed on exhibition at the fair. Kaffir, milo, millet, pumpkins, melons and all farm products are needed by Breedlove to complete the exhibit. Although he will tour the county to collect material, he has requested that all farmers having outstanding species of farm products bring such to the county agent's office in this city before September 12.

BIG CIRCUS TO BE HERE ON SEPT. 14

Harley Sadler-Bailey Bros. Circus will be in Clarendon September 14, under the auspices of the Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps. Featured in the circus will be Jack Hoxie, famous movie star; his leading lady, Dixie Starr, and his horse, Scout. Elephants, ponies, and many other animals will perform in the circus. Aside from Hoxie, probably the star of the show is Titu Morimati, queen of the air. Every circus has its queen of the air, most of them being American girls, but the Harley Sadler-Bailey Bros. Circus has traveled across oceans to get their queen, direct from Japan, officials of the circus state. The beautiful little Japanese girl weighs less than 100 pounds and keeps her audience spell-bound at her endurance, grace and skill. Quick as lightning, she does over 100 muscle turns on a silver bar high up in the circus tent.

Relief Office Moved Into Blair Building

According to H. G. Tatum, case worker in charge of the local relief office, the office was removed this week to a new location in the Harry Blair Building, formerly occupied by the Tims Grocery. The relief office vacated the Ross Building Tuesday of this week. The interior of the new office is similar to the previous arrangement in the Ross Building.

SUICIDE VERDICT IS RENDERED IN DEATH OF LOCAL WOMAN

Mrs. Charles Trent, 39, was found dead at her home in this city Saturday night at 10:10 o'clock as a result of a self-inflicted bullet wound in her head from a small calibre pistol, according to Justice W. A. Davis, coroner, who made an examination of the body immediately after the tragedy. Death was instantaneous. Charles B. Trent, husband of the deceased, captain in the National Guard and serving as superintendent of construction of the new CCC Camp being erected 18 miles north of Amarillo, was summoned by telephone but it was stated he was on his way to this city to spend the week-end. In April, 1919, she was married to Charles B. Trent of this city. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Saint John Baptist Episcopal Church of this city. At the present time, Hanna-Pope is conducting a big consolidation sale, offering quality merchandise from both the Clarendon and Memphis stores at reduced prices.

Bugle Corps Leaves For Amarillo Today

The Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps left this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Amarillo, where they will participate in the parade tomorrow at the 45th Annual Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans. The corps, 24 strong, were invited to participate in the parade and entertainment of the veterans by Amarillo Chamber of Commerce officials. New uniforms were furnished the corps to wear during the convention. Several of the fathers of the youths, together with sponsors for the corps from the local American Legion post, accompanied them to Amarillo. Miss Jane Kerbow, drum major, will lead the group.

LARGE CROWD IS EXPECTED TO ATTEND EVENT

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE OFFERING MANY SPECIALS AND PRIZES.

Tentative plans for a trades day campaign have been formulated by Chamber of Commerce officials and the date for the first trades day has been set for Saturday, September 7. The program will be continued until Saturday, December 28, with trades days being held each Saturday during this period. Merchants have added new stocks, and are offering special prices on many of their items for these special events. Valuable prizes and other inducements are being offered to patrons of Clarendon stores during this period, and every effort will be made to make the campaign beneficial to the customer as well as to the merchant, those in charge of arrangements state. Citizens of the Clarendon trade territory are invited to call at Clarendon stores and obtain information regarding the details of the campaign. Sons of the American Legion are sponsoring an additional attraction on the second trades day, September 14. The local organization is bringing the Harley Sadler-Bailey Bros. Circus to Clarendon on that date, and it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand as a result of the combined attractions offered by the trades day program and the circus.

Certificate Pool Ready To Receive 1935 Certificates

Effective September 4, the national Bankhead tax exemption certificate pool will be ready to receive 1935 certificates eligible under the regulations for entry therein, according to information received by County Agent H. M. Breedlove from the cotton division of the AAA in Washington this week. "This pool is not to be confused with the special pool," Breedlove stated. "It is the regular pool, and no closing date has been set. All producers will be notified prior to the closing date of the pool. It is highly probable that the pool will remain open all through the cotton ginning season."

LIGHT FOR NOTHING!

An industrial publication recently printed a letter from a man who had been thinking about his electric bill—long a burning topic where the politicians gather.

This man had run across one of his old statements. He found that, seventeen years before, he had paid a monthly bill of $6.58 for 92 kilowatt hours—while now he pays only 27 cents for more than 180 kilowatt hours.

Doing some further figuring, he discovered that he was getting current for his lights, vacuum cleaner, radio and refrigerator for what he had formerly paid for light alone.

He then estimated that he was getting the current for all these appliances for what he had formerly paid for ice alone—so in effect, his lighting was costing him nothing!

Throughout the nation this experience has been duplicated to a greater or lesser degree. While the politicians have been crying about the high cost of power (instead of about rapidly increasing taxes for which they are responsible), the private electric industry has been steadily cutting the bill. It has increased economies in operation, and passed them on to the consumer. It has stimulated use of electric appliances—thus increasing the load, and again making a dent in the rate level.

The politicians talk while private enterprise does things. That always seems to be the case. Politics provides non-productive rhetorical fireworks, while ordinary, ambitious citizens pave the way for real achievement.

A VIVID LESSON IN CRIME

Finding of the body of John Hamilton in a gravel pit grave near a small town in Illinois seems to write "finis" to the story of the Dillinger gang; and if there ever was a story which ought to dispel the glamour which is supposed to invest the lives of outlaws, this surely is the one.

It is hard to recall any outlaw gang which was as completely and ruthlessly crushed as the Dillinger mob. Dillinger was shot down in an alley, Pierpont was electrocuted, Nelson and Makley and Van Meter and heaven knows who else were killed by officers . . . and now, at the end, we get this picture of Hamilton, dying from gunshot wounds as the gang fled frantically from the law, buried hastily in a gravel pit by the wayside as Nemesis closed in on the survivors.

It's a dark picture. Any impressionable youth who can study it and still feel that there is something gay and dashing about an outlaw's life ought to have his head examined.—Wichita Falls Record-News.

THE LEGISLATURE'S ARITHMETIC LESSON

The arithmetic lesson which the Texas legislature failed to do when it submitted the old age pension amendment looms large and difficult as the time for the special session draws near. No provision was made, in submitting that amendment, for the raising of the funds which will be needed when the time comes to pay the pensions. The task of raising such funds confronts the legislature.

First, it must establish the restrictions under which pensions may be paid. Perhaps by the time that has been done, the arithmetic lesson will be much easier of solution. There are enough Texans above the age of 65 years to necessitate an annual pension bill of $43,000,000 if all were to be pensioned. Opponents of the amendments made much use of that figure, in their futile effort to develop sentiment against the proposal. It goes without saying that the cost of pensions at the start will not be much more than 10 per cent of $43,000,000. That is to say, that pension payments will be hedged about with so many restrictions as to income, property ownership, existence of relatives able to provide support, ability to work, and so on, that comparatively few 65 year olds will find themselves eligible.

The legislators would prefer not to be too strict, but they find that they have to be, at the start. They dare not open the door very wide until the problem of financing the pensions has been worked out. They cannot hope to establish a pension system that will be satisfactory in the beginning. They must proceed by the trial and error plan.

Even if the annual pension bill is less than $5,000,000, however, it will offer a difficult problem in a state that is already deep in red ink so far as its general fund is concerned. Legislators already are studying the few remaining untapped sources of revenue. Inevitably, the possibilities of general sales tax are being considered in connection with pension financing. There is no ready solution available and the answer isn't given in the back of the book.—Wichita Daily Times.

BIG MEN GROW IN SMALL TOWNS

Big men grow in small towns—and frequently move to the city. The small town person develops character and personality because in the smaller groups there is time for close personal contact, for meditation and for the seasoning of the finer things inside one's self. There is not the frenzied bustle that leaves little time for turning one's thoughts in on one's self. City life tends to make all men alike—mill-run, standardized automatons, who know how to catch cars, talk shop, race to and from work, to live and die in a hurry.

In a city a man may live pretty much as he pleases and a few may know of his goings and comings. In a small town everybody knows everybody's business. A small town person must be a real man or a real woman, or be classified otherwise by that untiring and most observant small town public opinion. A man in a small town must live his life for all his little world to see. He must be himself. That is a rare privilege in modern city life. In being himself he grows big—as big as his God-given talents and his own cultivation will permit. He is an individual. And then the call of opportunity—more money, success, fame—comes from the large centers; the men who stand out above the crowd in the smaller places hear and frequently answer the call.

Neighborliness is submerged and almost lost in the city. It is a precious asset of the small town. Henry Grady, a brilliant small town man from Georgia, visiting with his wife in New York, saw a coffin being taken from an apartment house and no one in the building knew or cared who the dead man was. Grady said to his wife, "Let's go back home, where somebody knows when you are sick, and cares when you die."—Kerrville Sun.

CONGRESS PASSES AAA AMENDMENTS

WILL PERMIT INCREASED ADJUSTMENT OF PRODUCTION, WALLACE SAYS.

College Station.—A special release from Washington, D. C., outlines the amendments to the Agriculture Adjustment Act which have met the approval of both houses of congress and have the signature of President Roosevelt.

On the cost controversial point, the section barring suits by processors to recover processing taxes in event the levies are held unconstitutional, a compromise was reached.

The amendments also permit the secretary of agriculture to draft marketing agreements with the consent of the majority of producers or processors for the following: milk, fruits, tobacco, vegetables, soy beans, pecans, walnuts and naval stores.

The recent act of congress also extends the Bankhead cotton control and Kerr-Smith tobacco control act and authorizes a similar program for potatoes. It also permits start of the "ever normal" granary plan under which the government could make loans to producers to induce them to hold surplus crops on farms.

Other provisions in the amendments authorize use of 30 per cent of customs receipts to finance export of crop surpluses, except cotton, under the export debenture plan; and authorize use of part of the $4,000,000 works fund to buy up sub-marginal farm land.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Dorothy Scarborough's name to a story means that Texans will read it at once because she herself is a Texan. It will be remembered that she was a student in Baylor University, later a teacher there, and that now she teaches short story writing in Columbia University.

Her fame was won by "The Wind" which created such a favor of approval and disapproval, mainly the latter. The fact that it appeared anonymously only added to the interest which the story itself aroused and speculation was rife for some months until Dorothy Scarborough finally acknowledged its authorship.

Besides "The Wind" she has written "In the Land of Cotton," "Can't Get a Red Bird," and "The Stretchberry Smile," all of which are on our shelves. All are stories of the extreme South—really Texas stories.

Miss Scarborough has recently given the public a new book, "Selected Short Stories of Today." It is a collection of forty-one short stories by widely varied authors, characterized as "artistic strangers" in a review by Arthur Coleman, a former Clarendon boy, and himself a writer of much promise.

He says that in making this collection Miss Scarborough has claimed a liking for "the experimental story," but he insists that only a very few of them are really experimental—"not more than a dozen of the titles are really comfortable in vanguard company, and of these only a few stand out."

Bunio's "Sunstroke," Sbsinger's "Jobs in the Sky," Janet Curren Owen's "Cocktail Party," and Erskine Caldwell's "Rachel"—but "even so then is much of vital stuff and real quality in many of them.

Erskine Caldwell has recently deserted fiction for a try at non-fiction in a book called "Some American People" which will be published this month. It is Mr. Caldwell's impressions and findings on a recent survey of the drouth area of the South, and of Detroit.

John L. McCarty of the Dalhart Texan has recently conducted a Panhandle Poetry contest, and he will use the winning poems in a second anthology of Panhandle poetry to be called "Wind in the Cottonwoods." One of our neighbors at Hedley, Miss Peggy Caldwell, was one of the winners.

Aldous Huxley is completing the writing of a new novel at his villa at Sanory on the Riviera. He will be rembered by his "Point Counter Point" which is on our shelves.

Planting Time Here For Fall Gardens

College Station.—Most of the success of the fall garden depends on preparing the soil correctly, according to J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist.

"All weeds and vegetation must be removed before planting," Rosborough said, "or the soil will dry out quickly and possibly carry diseases."

The extension horticulturist recommended a heavy application of summer manure before plowing is started. He explained that summer manure, which has no acids or burning ingredients, is used to increase the water holding capacity and to prevent the soil from becoming hard and crusted following the fall rains.

He recommended that as soon as the soil is plowed, it should be pulverized. "Select vegetables that are resistant to heat to plant in the fall garden from the last of August to the first half of September," Rosborough continued, "such as onion sets, Swiss chard, tender green, Irish potatoes, carrots, beets and collards. Later plant such vegetables as lettuce, radishes, mustard, spinach, and cabbage which will withstand cold weather. Bush beans will grow unless the weather turns too cold."

He went on to say that in many gardens, hardy vegetables such as pepper, egg plant,okra and tomatoes, which have survived the summer heat and are ready to produce a fall crop, should be fertilized. In sandy soils, the addition of one to two tablespoonfuls per plant of 6-12-6 commercial fertilizer will be beneficial.

"Wise gardeners do not stake all in a fall garden by just planting a turnip patch," he said, "but they plant other vegetables such tions to the theatres of Dallas the statement is made that Jack London's "Call of the Wild" has been one of the most popular pictures of the summer, and is returning for a winter engagement; that the film version of Clarence E. Mulford's "Hop-Along Cassidy" is also popular. Bertrand Russell will have published this fall a new book, "In Praise of Idleness."

Joseph Jastrow, a recognized leader among psychologists, has lately published a new book, "Wish and Wisdom." It is an attempt to show how irrational many of man's beliefs about the nature of the world and of himself have been, and to account for those beliefs. He shows that what one wants to think too often determines what he does think.

Dr. Jastrow was trained under G. Stanley Hall, went to the University of Wisconsin in 1888, founded the psychological laboratory there, and remained in his position till his retirement in 1927. "Wish and Wisdom" comes as a worthy successor to a notable group of psychological writings by Dr. Jastrow.

HERE IS ALWAYS WORSHIP—FELLOWSHIP—SERVICE

In the fourth chapter of James the brother of our Lord asks a serious question, "For what is your life?" Will you answer that question personally today? Won't you stop long enough to analyze yourself and see just what your life amounts to? How are you using the most precious gift that God ever bestowed upon the earth, your life? What are the returns from your investment? You are the trustee of your life. You are personally responsible to God for the dividends resulting therefrom.

You are your brother's keeper, but not his bookkeeper, nor his life keeper. You are not responsible for what he does nor how he acts, nor for the way he invests his life, but you are responsible for yourself and for your life. Joshua said, "as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

I had rather be poor in this life and rich in the next, than to be rich in this life and a pauper in eternity. For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. You saving your life or wasting it in riotous living? You know better than anybody else. Your account to God will be just and final.

Regular services Sunday at the Baptist Church. A cordial welcome awaits you there.

BIT OF PHILOSOPHY by DEAN E. V. WHITE TEXAS STATE COLLEGE for WOMEN (CIN)

The poorest boss is he who exhibits the greatest authority. Truth, stretched too much, breaks and becomes a full-grown lie.

A person may be in the greatest danger when he thinks he is secure. Weak mindedness results from giving pieces of it to others.

Years make you gray, worries make you old.

Though it pays to look well, most of us remain poor.

If people profited by their mistakes, some paupers would be millionaires.

If boisterous laughter were brains, fools would be wise. A real man is not lonesome when left alone with his thoughts.

To want friends is to realize that you are poor. One does not learn anything by hearing himself speak.

A car without gas is only a place to sit down. Don't let your head be a sepulcher for dead brains.

In the game of give and take, some people take more than they give. He is a gentleman who is courteous to his enemies. Romance is not worth the price of starvation. Nothing bores a fool like sensible conversation. A big fool thinks a little fool is wise.

CHURCH CHATS

"TRUE EDUCATION"

"And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians and was mighty in words and deeds." Acts 7:22.

School days are here again. In thousands of cities, towns and villages, the great army of school children are marching to and from the great schools and institutions of learning. Leaders of the nation are being prepared to take hold of the reigns of state, nation and community.

Moses was one of the most learned men of his time. His education embraced the whole range of Greek, Chaldee, Assyrian and Egyptian literature. There is much in his experience to commend the subject of education to all classes. In his training we see several important things.

I. God's testimony is in favor of education. By God's providence Moses was placed where he could enjoy all the advantages of a good secular education. He was being trained for a great service and task. God's favor of education is also shown in the Bible, see especially the book of Proverbs. The capacity and cravings of the human mind also show that God is interested in the education of our children is a sacred duty.

II. The great value of education. Think of the cost of Moses' education. The suffering of the Israelites and the dangers of the heathen court. Think of the increased power that it gave him. By education, mental diamonds are cut and polished and nuggets of gold are converted into current coin.

III. Secular education is not enough, in itself it is not sufficient. We have a two-fold nature—mental and moral. We should educate both. Moses began his religious education at the hands of his mother in early childhood and late in life he was under the direct personal touch of God in the desert.

IV. Eminence in secular education may be combined with eminence in religious education. Moses was distinguished for both. Also Paul, Milton, Ruskin and others have proven beyond all doubt that education and intelligent piety is the best piety. The church of today should use its influence and seek the education of the masses. All educated minds should be consecrated to Christ. All should work together to educate our children both for time and eternity.

W. E. Ferrell, Minister, First Christian Church, Clarendon, Texas.

JO ELLA STEWART, Editor

Ada B. Bates Reviews Book at Club Opening

The 1926 Book Club opened its year of study Tuesday afternoon at the club rooms with members of the Pathfinder Club, out-of-town and local women as guests.

The table was centered with a large bouquet of yellow marigolds, giving a hint of the autumn season and carrying out the chosen color scheme of gold and green.

Mrs. Ada B. Bates, professional book reviewer of Dallas, presented the program, a review of Beritita Harding's "Phantom Crown."

Mrs. Mary Thornberry, outgoing president of the Book Club, charmingly introduced Mrs. Bates. The guests were received by Mesdames Luma Smith, Hazel Dillard, Edith Ballew, Virginia Bryan, and Mary Thornberry, hostesses.

Mrs. Bates, a personal friend of the author, prefaced the review by an intimate discussion of the author's life, followed by a brief history of the Hapsburg family of Austria around whom the book centered.

"Important is the book," stated Mrs. Bates, "as a biography, a history, a love story, and most of all as a play."

The first part of the book gave amusing, sympathetic, and intimate views of the Hapsburg family in Vienna. Continuing in the same pleasing intonation which won the attention of the audience, Mrs. Bates discussed Part II, the story of Maximilian and his wife Charlotte and their life and efforts connected with the would-be "Empire of Mexico."

The hostesses served a delicious ice course accentuating the color note of gold and green to members of the Pathfinder Club, members of the Book Club and out-of-town guests, Mesdames Herbert Gunter, Leo Patterson, B. C. Waulridge, and D. Wilson of Clarendon.

Mrs. O. L. Fink spent the week-end in Childress visiting her son, Kenneth Fink.

Dr. A. W. Hicks To Wed Memphis Girl

Mrs. E. N. Hudgins of Memphis, Texas, entertained at bridge Thursday afternoon at her home in that city announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Anna Louise, to Dr. Ward Hicks of Clarendon.

A color scheme of blue and white was carried out in the refreshments and decorations. The rooms were attractive with a profusion of garden flowers.

The announcement was made on hand-painted cards, on which the names Anna Louise and Ward, and the date, September 8, were painted. These were concealed in corsages of tube roses and baby breath and presented to each guest.

A dainty refreshment course was served by the hostess to twenty guests, all of Memphis.

Church of Christ Honors Couple

Members of the Church of Christ honored Mr. and Mrs. James L. Standridge with a reception last Thursday evening at the Clarendon Hotel. Standridge has been minister of the church for the past 10 months, and the couple and their little daughter, Carolyn Ruth, left Friday for Plainview, where they will reside.

The hostess, Mrs. G. E. Allen, was attired in a lovely pink roush crepe dress and was assisted in the receiving line by her daughters, Mrs. H. A. Hitt and Miss Mildred Allen.

Two beautiful punch bowls flanked by a tall vase of colorful dahlias, occupied a corner table, and throughout the evening California punch and cakes were served the guests by attractively dressed young ladies.

From time to time a group consisting of Mrs. J. F. Heath, Mr. R. E. Duncan, and Mr. E. G. Hayes sang appropriate songs. A trio of Mrs. Heath and Misses Wilma Dee Smith and Louise Smith presented a medley of popular tunes. An entertaining skit picturing the Standridge family fifteen years in the future featured Mrs. D. T. Heath, Miss Wanda Mayfield, and J. F. Heath.

A talk expressing the appreciation of the church for the work of Mr. and Mrs. Standridge was given by W. B. Mayfield. As a token of their gratitude, Mr. E. G. Hayes presented the young couple with a surprise shower of gifts from the members.

The Broncho Range

C. J. C.

VOL. 6

Devoted to the Students of Clarendon High School, Junior College and Junior High School

No. 1

THE BRONCHO RANGE
Published exclusively each week in The Clarendon News by students of the Junior College, High School and Junior High School.

STAFF

Arthur Chase — Editor-in-Chief
Miss Ineva Hendrick — Sponsor

With the beginning of another school year, the Broncho Range is once again making its appearance in The Clarendon News. For the past five years, Mr. Braswell has been publishing this page in his paper, and now since the paper has changed hands, Mr. Williams has kindly consented to continue this service to the school and community during the coming year. The school is very appreciative of the generosity of Mr. Williams, for a paper can be one of the most interesting extra-curricular activities that a school may have.

The editor of the Broncho Range wishes to extend his thanks to Miss Wanda Mayfield who is being so kind to help with this first edition of the school paper. She was one of the most active writers that the paper had during the last year, and the staff of the Broncho Range and the entire school will be sorry to lose her during the coming year. We all join in wishing her the best of luck in Abilene Christian College where she will continue her studies.

The members of the student body who have attended school here previously should do all within their power to make the many new students who are coming in on the buses feel at home. It is an unusual experience for these students, and they may feel a little out of place during the first few days, but if everyone will try to break the ice, we believe the new students will soon become familiar with these surroundings.

TEACHERS TELL OF VACATIONS

The teachers of Clarendon High School and Junior College have all reported that they had very enjoyable, instructive and above all, restful vacations.

Miss Howren spent a month visiting relatives and seeing the sights in Southern California. She visited the San Diego Exposition and says that the fair grounds were beautiful beyond words. Miss Parten, school librarian thoroughly enjoyed a week in New Orleans, exploring the romantic old French sections of the city. Mr. Allison enjoyed a quiet summer at home, which was broken by an enjoyable tour through New Mexico and Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Drennan took a trip to Yellowstone Park the latter part of the summer. Miss Thornton traveled in Colorado and Miss Hendrick spent a very restful summer at her home.

Perhaps Miss Hall, language instructor, had the most enjoyable and at the same time instructive vacation of any of the teachers. She spent two months in Mexico City, studying at the University of Mexico's summer school for Americans. She reports an even better time than she had anticipated. Several of the other instructors also decided that nine months of teaching was not enough to satisfy them so they attended summer school. Mr. and Mrs. Kerby studied at the teachers college in Denton, and Mr. Kerby also attended a ten day's course for football coaches in Dallas. Miss Harris said she had "a lot of fun fooling around at the University" in Austin. Miss Berry worked on her Master's Degree in Home Economics at C. I. A. in Denton, and stated that during the remainder of the summer she had so much company that she was unable to go anywhere.

As usual, Mr. Burton spent a large percentage of his vacation days fishing at the Country Club and any place else that could boast of a few fish.

Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society

The Alpha Delta Psi Literary Society convened for a brief opening meeting on Monday afternoon, electing officers and making tentative plans for the coming season.

George Wayne Estlack was chosen president, with Robert Nichols to be his assistant in the office of vice president. Wilma Dee Smith will be in charge of secretarial duties, and she will likewise handle the funds for the society. Jack Hayes was elected reporter.

The nature of the first social event of the society was debated (Continued on Page Eight)

Parents, Board Members Attend Opening Exercises

The entire student body of high school and college students met Tuesday morning in the college auditorium for the official opening exercises of school. A number of visitors, including parents and school board members, were present.

The assembly sang "America," and an invocation was pronounced by Rev. Robert S. McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. Perry King, Baptist pastor, began his address to the students and faculty by recalling events of his school life in his typically humorous manner. Every student, Rev. King pointed out, makes a place in the world for himself by setting a definite purpose in mind and concentrating on its fulfillment.

Mr. O. C. Watson, vice president of the school board, extended a welcome to all students, mentioning especially those new rural students who are in Clarendon High School for the first time. Mr. Odos Caraway, another prominent board member, spoke to the audience concerning the favorable prospects of the school system.

Superintendent H. T. Burton introduced each of the speakers, and Dean R. E. Drennan concluded the program with one of his own original talks and with selecting his favorite song, "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginy," as the last number. Rev. Landreth gave the benediction.

WHAT THE EXES ARE DOING

What are last year's students doing? Well, most of those who didn't graduate from college are here as freshmen and sophomore college students, and some of those graduates are still around such as Callie Walters, and Ardis Patman, who are taking post-graduate courses.

Others are working or going off to school. For instance, Bonnie Hardin is bookkeeping in LeFors, Geraldine Pratt is planning to go to the University of Texas after summer schooling in Canyon; Bob McKee is getting ready to enter Rice Institute; James Hendrick has gone on a Gulf cruise; Bill and Charles Walker and J. R. Cox are going to State; Wanda Mayfield and Sam King will enter A. C. C. September 10th; Bill Greene is going to Seattle, Washington, to study forestry; Joyce Link is going to A. C. C.

Two qualified girls were lucky; Adaline Smith was recently elected to teach at the JA Ranch school, and Virginia Wisdom had signed a contract with the Goldston trustees.

School romances which culminated in marriage include those of Dorothy Faye Scoggins and Heavy Whitlock, Rose Ada Reid and J. B. Duckett, both of whom were high school graduates, and Virginia Butler and Charlie Word. These couples were married during the summer.

PEEK-A-BOO

By PEEK
About three months ago last Tuesday I thought I was writing absolutely the last impressions of Peek from the old administration building in Clarendon College hill group. But after getting a nice green diploma and sleeping on during the summer, I find that the other colleges we find scattered around over the state do not open their doors as soon as C. J. C., that they don't allow two weeks Christmas vacation, and that they don't allow three cuts from any class.

At the opening exercises Tuesday morning, I saw—Mildred Self in a green fall dress—Virginia Williams of Lelia Lake, a new college student who appeared on the local platform the past two springs and helped win the two debates she appeared in—Billy Howard of Lelia Lake with a salmon tie—Wilma Dee Smith getting an 18th birthday present; yes, she's that old.

The most exciting thing happening is talk about "Mr. X," or in other words, what will the new chemistry teacher be like, when he gets here? Fact is, Mr. Drennan with his job of being dean and education teacher besides its too busy to teach chemistry, so an instructor for that subject is being obtained.

Beatrice Garmon is helping Miss Parten in the library. Beatrice has always wanted a title to her name, and now she has it, "Beatrice Garmon, L. A."

This is really "toodle-oo," I guess, but don't forget that the copyright on this column is for sale, and if there are any bidders, apply to the editor right away.

Improvements Are Made In Building

During the vacation months so many changes have been made in the school building that it does not seem to be the same place to many of the old students.

The most important change is the removal of the library from the basement to the southeast room on the main floor. A partition has been torn out between the old book room and the new reading room giving the library adequate proportions. Wilson Kutch, Earl Eady, Lowell Lafon, and Colvin Lane have been helping Miss Parten move the books, tables and other library equipment to the new location. The library has already received several new books, a list of which will be given in next week's paper, and a number of old books have been rebound. The librarian is also very proud of the newly bound Literary Digests, which will give the students handy information about world events from 1925 up to the present date. Miss Parten also announced that two more newspapers will be placed in the library regularly this year. The Dallas Morning News, and the Sunday edition of the New York Times. Beatrice Garmon is serving as assistant Librarian for the present and will probably hold that position throughout the entire year.

Among the other improvements in the building is the location of a new classroom in the old Palo Duro room in the basement. The book room will also be located in the basement, probably in the old library room. The new study hall in the northwest room on the main floor has been equipped with one of the large gas stoves that has been used in the basement, and it will help immeasurably during the winter blizzards.

PALO DURANS HAVE DANCE

Ardis Patman entertained the members of the Palo Duro Society and their guests with a dance and party Tuesday night at his home. Dancing was thoroughly enjoyed to radio and phonograph music and those who did not dance spent the evening playing dominoes and cards. Punch and vanilla wafers were served throughout the evening.

A great deal toward quieting everyone's nerves is the installation of little rubber cushioned casters on all of the chairs in the building to put an end to the ceaseless scrapping of chairs which has disturbed so many during the past.

PALO DURO

The first meeting of the year for the Palo Duro Society was held Monday evening in the Palo Duro room in the girl's dormitory. Most of the old members and several new members were present. The chief business of the evening was the election of officers. Arthur Chase was elected president, Sam Barrow, vice president, and Avis Lee McElvany, secretary-treasurer. Plans were then discussed for obtaining more new members. A combination party and dance at the home of Ardis Patman was decided upon as a most effective way to attract new members. The meeting was then adjourned until Wednesday of next week, when the first program of the school year will be presented.

Present at this initial social function of the year were Misses Helen Louise Green, Anna Moores Swift, Frances Sanford, Avis Lee McElvany, Sarah Virginia McGowan, Dorothy Powell, Jean Bourland, Geraldine Pratt, La Verne McMurtry, Tillie Pratt, and the society's sponsors, Miss Hall and Miss Parten.

Messrs. Norris Doney, Keith Swinburne, Wilson Kutch, Hubert Reavis, Lowell Lafon, Arthur Chase, Harold McDaniel, Sam Barrow, Charley Murphy, Mike Stricklin, Willard Skelton, and the host, Ardis Patman.

Sponsors for the Palo Duro this year will be Miss Bita May Hall and Miss Willie Glenn Parten.

The school will only be what the community makes it, regardless of how much knowledge and efforts the teachers put forth, if they do not receive the help and cooperation of the patrons, the entire program will fall through.

Let's all work together with harmony and understanding and we can and will have one of the most progressive schools in the county.

Our teachers can not do it by themselves; our school trustees cannot; neither can the pupils. So it is up to the entire community to shoulder the program of a larger and more worthwhile school. Those of you who do not have children in school, do not fail in your support. Every child's welfare is your responsibility. The youth of tomorrow, so give them the education and ability to resume these responsibilities that will be theirs.

Auto Thieves—

to Clarendon after the two, identified them as Fred Greathouse, aged 18 of Lubbock. Greathouse stated he had been working for an uncle at Tell and was heading for Amarillo with the stolen car. Both are lodging in the county jail at Memphis to await the action of the grand jury.

A brother of Greathouse was hitch-hiking to Amarillo Friday afternoon and hailed his brother as he passed him in the stolen car, but the latter did not stop. This fact saved him, no doubt, from being implicated in the crime.

Williams Tells—

Guess we'll have to challenge him, as we're quite certain that we brought it about... Had the old Chevy washed and greased when we saw it just wasn't going to rain, and sure 'nuff, about three days later here it came. We've driven that carriage three years and umpteen jillion miles, and we've never had it washed and greased yet that it failed to rain within a week... You might have been a "contributing cause", Doc, but we maintain that the credit is largely ours—Of course, the Lord might have had something to do with it, too. * * * Ira Merchant cops the invitation golf tournament, wins for himself the first prize, a golf bag, and is proclaimed King of the Golfers in these here parts... The golf tournament was a big success in spite of the rain. * * * The mother-in-law, who has been visiting with us for the past few weeks, has gone home—and believe it or not, we're really sorry! She's a "regular fellow", not one of the kind all the mother-in-law wisecracks are written about, and we're really going to miss her... She's ONE mother-in-law who's always welcome! * * * Oh, yes! * * * This is the first week in the month and we see a bill collector coming... Better chop this off and try to dodge him. * * * Finis.

All-Panhandle Square Dance Will Be Held In Pampa On Sept. 17

Pampa, September 4, 1935.—Old-timers of the Panhandle who used to travel from 40 to 100 miles or more to a square dance will get an opportunity to do it again September 17 when an all-Panhandle square dance will be held in the high school gymnasium here.

About the only difference in the coming affair and in the dances of the latter part of the last century will be that the participants will travel in cars over paved roads instead of by horseback and in wagons over cow trails as they did then. For the old-time music will be played again. Costumes of the '70s, '80s, '90s and in the next decade will be worn, although this feature will not be compulsory. J. A. Poole and B. G. Harris of Pampa who were in charge of musicians and callers during the Pre-Centennial square dances at the gym, will serve in those capacities again.

In fact, it was the tremendous popularity of the square dances during the Pre-Centennial celebrations that caused the Pampa music club to sponsor the September 17 event. Last June 6 and 7 a total of more than 2,000 attended the dances in the gym.

Dancers from all over the Panhandle are invited—particularly those who attended the Pre-Centennial square dances. Hereabouts, local dancers are practicing up on the healtie polka, the schottische and the various square dances. Prizes will be given to the best and most original callers, the best fiddlers and the best performers of the various dances. Archer Fullingim, chairman of the 1934 and 1935 Pre-Centennial celebrations, is in charge of the dance and this week is sending invitations to square dancers of the Panhandle.

Part of County—

Ranch, includes the Chamberlain community, extends almost to the city of Clarendon, includes the Midway community and makes an angle out of the county five miles north of the river into Collingsworth County.

Four counties, Hall Childress, Collingsworth, and Donley are served by this camp with the same radius of 25 miles allotted to each county. The radius in each county was allotted by the regional director.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove stated that soil conservation would not be confined, however, to this 25 mile radius but areas in Donley County not included in the radius would be given special attention by the county agent's office. All work in terracing will not be concentrated to this radius, according to Breedlove, who stated that a satisfactory project would be worked out for those out of the area served by the camp.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove has called a meeting this week in each community included in the radius and farmers, who have projects to present for soil erosion and water conservation on their land have been asked to attend.

Superintendent Hull and Engineer Nelson from the Citizens Conservation Corps Camp, together with County Agent Breedlove have attended each meeting and will be present at those to be held tomorrow.

The schedule for the meetings has been made out as follows: Lelia Lake school house, Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock; Hedley school house, Wednesday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock; Giles school house, Wednesday night, 8:30 o'clock; Naylor school house Thursday morning, 10 o'clock; Bray school house, this afternoon, 2:30 o'clock; McKnight school house, tonight, 8:30 o'clock; Chamberlain school house, Friday morning, 10 o'clock; Windy Valley school house, Friday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock.

Grocer—Not these prunes. These are less than seven years old.

Daughter—Maw, I wish you would stop bossing pa around so much.

Maw—What's the matter now? Daughter—Well, every time I get some boy interested in me he grows serious and asks me if I take after you.

Rayburn Smith, Jr., as the president of the boys' club gave an unusually good performance and Jerry Kerbow as Skeeter and Harry Kerbow as Snowball, the colored boy, capably filled their roles.

Rrennan, Jerome Stocking, Cap Morris, Robert McKee, Coley Huffman, Jimmie Lumpkin, Jimmy Thompson, Walton Tucker, Billy Ralph Andis, Leroy Antrobous, Jack Stephenson, Clarence Pipes, Jr., Victor Smith, Cletus Eason, Harold Eason, George Reeves, G. Little Manly Bryan, the tiny tot crooner and dancer, drew a storm of applause from the audience as he sang "What's the Reason," a la Old Maestro and followed the selection a la Astaire.

Miss Geraldine Clayton, accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clayton, danced "Where Has My Little Dog Been," clad in an effective costume of black satin shorts and white blouse. Little Miss Clayton displayed much talent as she delighted the audience with a tap dance which summoned much ability from the dancer.

The first dance of the evening, "Coming Through the Rye," was given by two of the local four-year-olds, Jimmy Dean Howze and little Miss Alma Louise Murphy, who were costumed in powdered wigs, tight leg trousers and ruffled pantaloons.

Completing the tiny-tot dancing was the "Yankee Doodle" routine, which was given by Bobby Brown, Corkey Parsons, Manley Bryan, Marilyn Merchant, Carl Marcellus Bennett, Marilyn Maher, and Calvin Merchant, dressed in snappy costumes of red, white, and blue.

Billy Cooke, in a bowery scene, displayed the greatest talent with his advanced rhythm tap to "The Sidewalks of New York."

The concluding number on the program was given by Misses June McMurtry, Jean Teat, Eugenia Noland, Maxine Ellis, Vera Noland, Dorothy Kerbow, Phoebe Ann Buntin, and Jane Kerbow, wearing silver stove pipe hats, white flannels, and red frock tails. These older members of the dancing class of Miss Cooke concluded the entertainment with fast and advanced tap dancing to "Turkey in the Straw."

Revival Is Success At Baptist Church

A two weeks' revival closed Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church with a total of 35 conversions and 51 additions to the church.

The Reverend J. Perry King reported that of the 51 additions to the church, 30 were united by baptism and 21 joined by letter. Baptismal services were held last night at the church.

The Reverend C. Y. Dossey, state evangelist for the Texas Baptist Convention, conducted the services, preaching to an exceptionally large crowd at both morning and evening services. Burl King of Abilene was in charge of the song service.

According to Rev. King the largest congregation of the year, 365, was present Sunday morning at Sunday school.

Tenderfoot—Did you have to have a lot of practice before you could shoot the ashes from the cigar in the mouth of a man standing 50 feet away, as you do in your Wild West act?

Two-Gun Bill—Practice? I should remark. I guess I spied a couple dozen Chinamen while I was larnin' that there little trick.
