Football Lights Will Be Installed Here

Williams Tells By Fred L. Williams

Is That Nice! In comes Rev. W. E. Ferrell of the First Christian Church with a caustic remark about the appearance of the desks in a newspaper office.

Football Prospects The old football bug started biting pretty hard Tuesday afternoon, and we ambled out to the gridiron and watched Coach Kerby put the Bronchs through their paces.

The boys are rounding into shape, and are taking pretty stiff scrimmage workouts at present. We were particularly impressed with the vicious blocking of T. Nobles and the plain and fancy footwork of Cornell in a broken field.

We Got 'Em! Football fans of this section will witness night games at the local gridiron this season! Information was given out this week that, although sufficient funds for the completion of the project had not been raised, enough had been pledged that the athletic association was enabled to make arrangements to order the lights.

More than $1,000 has been subscribed, and those in charge of the financing of the project report that they are still working and additional funds are being subscribed daily. It is hoped that the full amount will be available when needed.

State Representative Eugene Worley, who was a visitor at the meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday, told a little yarn that we are going to repeat here.

It seems there was a man who had three sons of whom he was very proud. He wished to determine what his sons would be like when they grew up to be men, and so he devised a test.

Saturday Will Be Circus Day In Clarendon

HENRY BROWN IS JAILED HERE AFTER SERIES OF PETTY THEFTS

WRITES HOT CHECKS, STEALS CLOTHING, FAKES STORY OF HIJACKING.

Henry Brown, negro of Amarillo, found poverty not too exciting so he obtained a blank check book, wrote hot checks for two cars, stole five suits of clothes, drove off from a filling station without paying for a tank full of gasoline, all in Amarillo, headed his car for Clarendon Wednesday night and reported to Nightwatchman Lane that he had been hijacked, who in turn reported to the sheriff's department, according to reports.

Brown started his series of misdemeanors and escapades last week in Amarillo by writing a lot check for $365 for a car, it is alleged. But Brown, then an amateur, had trouble with his conscience so he left the car in Amarillo and wrote another like check for $195 for a Model A 1930 Ford coupe.

The world looked rosy for Brown as he headed the Model A toward Clarendon. But upon reaching this city, a tire blew out and poor Brown, by this time weary of writing hot checks, reported to Nightwatchman Lane that he had been hijacked on Highway 5 west of Clarendon.

Brown is now lodged in the Amarillo jail to await trial.

MARK TWAIN AND THE SPIDER

At the time when Mark Twain was editing a Western newspaper a merchant in the town wrote him asking whether a spider in his morning paper was an omen of good or ill fortune. The reply, one of the bits in "Mark Twain Wit and Wisdom," was characteristic:

"Finding a spider in your paper did not mean either good luck or bad for you. He was merely looking to see which merchants advertised, so that he could go to the store of one who did not do so, build his web over the door, and remain the rest of his days."

PREPAREDNESS FOR DEPRESSION

There have been many comments on the record of stability and safety made by the life insurance industry during depression.

What should be realized is that this was not the result of doing a good job during five years of stress—it was the result of doing a good job many years previous. It followed a long period of undeviatingly careful, wise and foresighted administration.

The condition of life insurance ledgers during recent years is indicative of the success achieved by management in investing funds. At the end of 1930, the assets of a group of companies representing over 90 per cent of the assets of all the companies in this country, had a value of $17,304,000,000. At the close of 1931, this had increased to $18,577,000,000. At the close of 1933, the figure was $19,246,000,000 and it has climbed since. Life insurance grew safer during the depression. These values are not fictitious—bonds must be reported at a book value which makes use of a process whereby the securities are adjusted yearly to bring the value to par at maturity. The small percentage of bonds which are in default or insecure must be reported, in accord with the regulations laid down by the Insurance Commissions of the states.

Long before the great depression arrived, most life insurance companies were preparing for just such an eventuality. They knew it must come some time. Safety was held to be superior to profit—stability to speculation. The results show how wise that policy is.

A "HIDDEN" CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

The more traffic experts study the accident toll, the more they become convinced that there is an important "hidden" cause of many automobile accidents. This lurking agent of death and injury is carbon monoxide poisoning.

Carbon monoxide gas develops when any fuel—coal, wood, gasoline, or illuminating gas—does not burn properly or completely. It cannot be seen, smelled or tasted. Its only warnings are headache and drowsiness. Yet it is in the air wherever there is motor traffic. The exhaust of a car, even one in good running condition, contains a concentration of fifteen per cent of it. As little as two per cent in the air will poison, and four per cent will kill.

Statistics show, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, that carbon monoxide from auto exhaust gasses is the direct cause given in at least 700 deaths annually. No one knows nor can guess how many lives are lost indirectly through its influence. For example, there is no telling how often that common driving occurrence, "sleep at the wheel," has been induced by carbon monoxide.

All motorists are familiar with the headache and lassitude which often come upon them while driving. These signs, coupled with the odors of exhaust fumes in a moving vehicle, are final warnings that carbon monoxide is present in lethal quantities. That should be more than sufficient notice to take the necessary measures against carbon monoxide poisoning. This means regular checking of the exhaust mechanism and the carburetor action, keeping the vehicle well ventilated when driving, eliminating any leaks or holes which allow seepage from the motor or exhaust to the body of the car.

Householders should also consider that carbon monoxide poisoning is a possibility whenever fuel is burned in the home. Coal, gas, stove, furnace and oil burner companies can give advice on precautions that will afford safety from this invisible death.

Many refuse to join public movements because they'd rather remain on the sidelines and criticize.

"Inherited economic power is as inconsistent with the ideals of this generation as inherited political power was inconsistent with the ideals of the generation which established our government."—President Roosevelt.

WILL ROGERS AND THE MOVIES

The fact that a new Will Rogers movie is shortly to be released calls to mind what Rogers himself said when Marie Dressler died. Her death, he pointed out, didn't have to mean that the movie public had quit loving her or enjoying her. A film is a fragile thing, but it is the means by which the screen favorites of one generation can live on, almost as if in the flesh, for years and years. Those who see the two Rogers films which had not been released when he died will gain a new and a poignant appreciation of him and his art.

His contribution to screen drama has been emphasized much less, since his death, than it deserved. With one exception, the productions in which he appeared were such that the whole family could see and enjoy without embarrassment. His own roles were always cleanly, wholesome ones. When Hollywood reluctantly decided to go decent, that decision involved no overhauling of the Rogers productions. He helped greatly to teach Hollywood that smut is not a necessary ingredient; he taught it by helping to make cleanly pictures that were, at the same time, outstanding as box office successes. In other words, as the St. Louis Dispatch points out, he proved that cleanliness could pay dividends. His contribution to greater wholesomeness in film productions was not the least valuable that he made to the culture of his day.—Wichita Daily Times.

KEEP THEM IN SCHOOL

In many families at this time of the year the question of further schooling for son or daughter is a compelling one. If the boy or girl is past the compulsory school age, and has developed some earning ability that lessens the strain on the family budget, the temptation may be strong to keep him or her out of school. It is a temptation which should be resisted earnestly. The economic way is already difficult for the untrained person. There is every reason to believe it will become still more difficult. The training which a high school diploma represents may make a very great difference. It provides a foundation on which earning power may be built up.

Every effort should be exerted to keep young men and women in school until the high school course is completed. In the days when there is still so much adult unemployment, the youth who is not in school is not only competing with heads of families for work, but he is putting himself under a handicap that will be harder and harder to overcome, with each year that passes.—Wichita Daily Times.

FHA AUGUST LOANS INCREASE OVER 2 MILLION FOR MONTH

GRAND TOTAL IS 359,466 MODERNIZATION AND REPAIRS; INSURED FOR $137,000,000.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—The volume of business done by financial institutions throughout the country in August, in modernization and repair notes insured and in home mortgages selected for appraisal totaled $56,313,984, according to Assistant Federal Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald. This is $2,516,650 larger than the total for July, the previous greatest monthly volume, this gain being registered in a month which usually shows the beginning of a seasonal decline.

The grand total up to and including August 31, is 359,466 modernization and repair notes insured for $137,311,677, and 39,397 mortgages valued at $154,592,560, selected with fees paid for appraisal. This makes the total volume of business since the beginning of operations $291,904,237.

Modernization and repair notes insured and reported in August totaled 71,297 for a face value of $24,240,035. This exceeded the previous largest total of July, by $3,155,470. This figure also includes notes in excess of $2,000 as authorized by the recent amendment to the National Housing Act.

A total of 8,376 home mortgages valued at $32,073,949 were selected with fees paid in August. This is $638,820 less than the dollar volume for the best previous month, July.

Already figures for insured modernization and repair notes for July and August are greater than those for any previous quarter, 134,713 notes having been insured for a total of $45,324,600 in July and August, as against a total of 105,913 notes for $41,870,214 during April, May and June.

A total of 16,981 mortgages for a face amount of $63,786,718 was selected with fees paid for appraisal in July and August, as compared with the previous quarter, showing the largest total produced for any two months since the start of operations.

Increase Shown In Employment

Austin, Texas, Sept. 11.—Reports from 1,475 Texas establishments gave a total of 70,644 employees during the week ended August 17, an increase of eight-tenths of one per cent over the corresponding period of the previous month and a decline of two-tenths of one per cent from that of the week in August, 1934, according to the University of Bureau of Business Research.

Payrolls during the week of the current month totaled $1,608,000, up 1.2 per cent from the previous month and 6.3 per cent over a year ago.

Cities showing an increase in the number of employees in comparison with August last year are: Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Denison, Galveston, Laredo, Port Arthur, San Angelo, San Antonio, and Wichita Falls.

BROWN ADVISES CARE OF TEETH

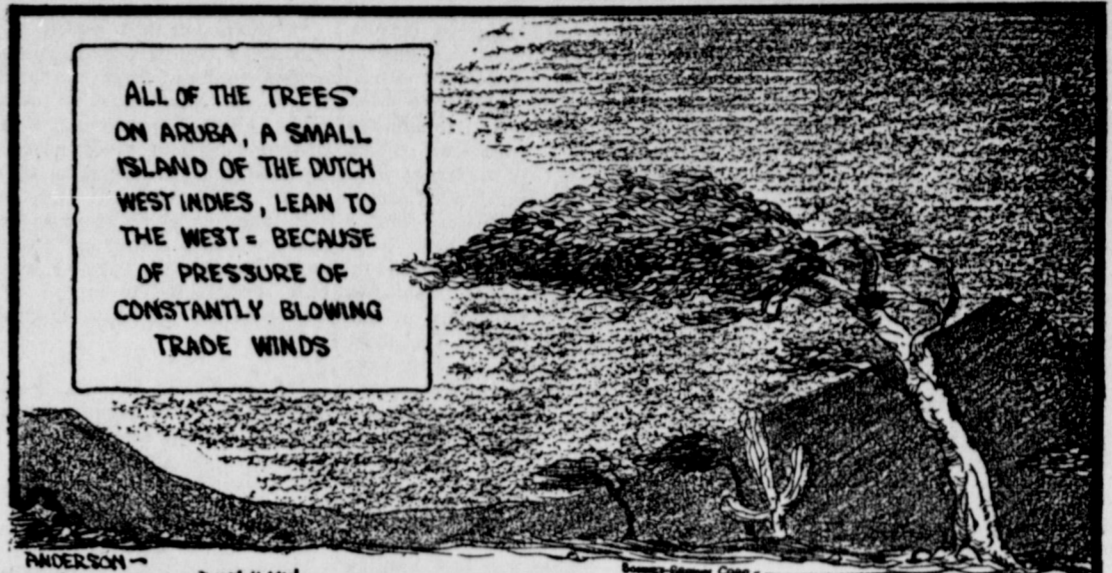

State Health Officer Says Eight Out of Ten Persons suffer from Dental Decay.
About nine out of every 10 persons in the United States have something wrong with their teeth. At least eight of each 10 have caries, or dental decay. A long list of other maladies, including the famous "pyorrhea," is to be discovered in even a casual examination of the teeth in any community.

Why do so many people suffer the misery of bad teeth? Dental research in recent years has revealed that the real trouble is the diet and other health habits of civilized folk, and not civilization itself. We may be both civilized and have good teeth.

The teeth are living organs, and must be nourished, like any other part of the body. They are composed principally of calcium, a mineral found in great abundance in milk. Hence the insistence of dental scientists on the use of greater amounts of milk in the diet.

It is also important to preserve the general bodily health, for dental decay often begins during periods of general ill health. Teeth of mothers are also particularly liable to decay during pregnancy, hence at this time particular attention should be paid to the diet, after consultation with a physician.

Another important time for teeth health is in infancy and early childhood. Children should have plenty of milk, should receive some vitamin D food, and should be permitted to play in the sunlight as often as possible. For dental decay is not a simple disease; it has many causes, and its treatment does not depend on the dentist alone, but on every person who wants to improve the health of his teeth.

Building Permits Show Increase

Austin, Texas, Sept. 11.—A sharp gain was recorded in Texas building permits during July as compared with the corresponding month last year and a moderate increase over June, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Cities showing gains over the two comparable periods were: Brownsville, Corsicana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Harlingen, Houston, Jacksonville Laredo, Marshall, Palestine, Pampa, Port Arthur, and San Antonio.

Welding
... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.
... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco ...

Chesterfield... the cigarette that's MILDER
Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish.
When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.
It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

Commercial displays are being arranged this week in the Merchants Building, which has been open day and night since Monday.

O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager, is urging all exhibitors to have their displays in place early.

Many exhibitors from distant states this year are being attracted to the Tri-State Fair. This is especially true of livestock exhibitors. Noted herds of the foremost breeders in America will be on exhibit.

Approximately $20,000 in cash premiums and prizes, including money awards for the largest visiting delegations, is guaranteed for full payment.

While the fair does not open until Saturday, September 14, the Tri-State Fair's race meet, in which entries from the major circuits will be seen, begins Friday, September 13. There will be seven or more races daily throughout the exposition.

Besides the races there will be a three-ring circus, featuring Jack Hoxie, movie star, in daily appearances, Bergmann and Gerety, the largest midway attraction in the United States, and other amusements.

First of the scores of bands expected at the exposition will arrive Monday, September 16. Shamrock will head this vanguard.

Two special days already have been designated. Monday will be Shamrock Day and Press Day. Wednesday will be dedicated to the Old-Timers and other visitors.

"HOW TO BE HAPPY"

"Happy is the man that findeth wisdom." Prov. 3:13.

The divine will is the law of life. We find our happiness in surrender and obedience to God's law and word. If we will let it direct our lives we will find happiness in this life and in the life to come.

I. Look to your health. God has made known certain laws concerning this. Everything must have a basis upon which to stand. The body is the lower floor upon which the whole building of life rests. Happiness begins with health. It's the overwrought nerve, brain or body that causes dependency. The gospel of health will always relate to the gospel of happiness.

II. Cultivate contentment. A discontented man is an unhappy man. One reason why people are not happy is this: "They spend their time looking across the street at other people and thinking how they would be if they were in their place. Learn how to be contented with God and man.

III. Be trustful. Every act of distrust is an act of dishonor to Christ. He who distrusts God has lost God. He is living as though God is not. All that I have seen compels me to trust in God for what I have not seen. If God can govern the affairs of the universe, He is equal to the supervision of my circumstances.

IV. Learn to forget. A certain Greek said to another: "I will teach thee the art of remembering." The other replied: "Teach me rather the art of forgetting." If you accept life, you must accept regret. Why not let the dead past bury its dead? If God can forgive and forget, why should we not have a forgiving spirit and forget something of the past. The only use of bygones is to

Right Out Of The Air

By R. F. SERVICE

Radio's highest salaried actress is not a film star and not one of the reigning stage favorites, either. She is Elsie Hitz, who, with Nick Dawson, is starred in "Dangerous Paradise," which is broadcast over the NBC blue network.

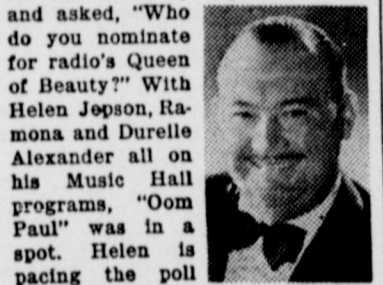

Miss Hitz has been paid consistently higher salaries than any of the fleeting film luminaries who have faced the microphone. She has been on the air steadily for almost seven years.

Ford Bond, noted NBC announcer, is taking it easy now because his doctor has told him he must do only a minimum amount of talking for several months. If you miss him, that's why.

Radio listeners who seldom attend Broadway plays are welcome to the opportunity of hearing the greatest stage successes of all time on the Monday evening Radio Theatre programs over CBS. That explains why the program is gaining an even larger following now than it had on Sunday afternoons.

Igor Gorin, youthful Viennese baritone, attracted only small amount of attention before he went to Hollywood. There he is being groomed for film stardom by M-G-M and is creating a sensation on "Hollywood Hotel" over CBS.

Paul Whiteman was greatly embarrassed when a fan magazine writer dropped into his rehearsal for his Thursday night broadcast and asked, "Who do you nominate for radio's Queen of Beauty?" With Helen Jepson, Ramona and Durelle Alexander all on his Music Hall programs, "Oom Paul" was in a spot. Helen is pacing the poll and Ramona and Paul Whiteman Durelle are well up in the running for network beauty honors. So Paul ducked the answer!

Although knees deep in the Broadway tradition which he has helped to build over the past 15 years as New York's foremost night club impresario, Nils T. Granlund spends every spare moment at his 100-acre farm in New Jersey. NTG is a real dirt farmer and takes as much interest in his prize winning crops and livestock as he does in his Tuesday evening NBC broadcasts in which Broadway chorines introduce their mike talents.

Peter Van Steeden, youthful maestro of those Wednesday night Town Hall programs, keeps in trim by cutting the grass, rowing a boat and amusing his trio of youngsters at a summer place at Stony Brook, L. I., from which he commutes.

Phillips Lord, most alert of the creators of radio ideas, has scored again with his sensational series on "G-Men," which are broadcast Saturday nights over the NBC red network. While others talked of putting on such a series, Lord got the Department of Justice co-operation, wrote and rehearsed his program and presented it to a sponsor. Phillips Lord is the noted creator of "Seth Parker" sets another "first".

David Brookman, ace of the Coast radio maestros, won the assignment to conduct two concerts from the San Diego exposition in August, waving the baton over 250 musicians. The programs will be broadcast.

Victor Young, the Chateau maestro, is authority for the fact that Al Jolson's Saturday evening guest star entertainment is the most talked of program among the flicker favorites. Twenty-five or thirty movie stars are in attendance at each of Jolson's broadcasts and of Ruby Keeler course Al's missus, lovely Ruby Keeler, is always front row center!

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History

For The Texas Centennial Celebration of 1936

"I cannot walk another step," the Mexican prisoner staggered in the roadway. "Shoot me if you must. I cannot go farther."

James A. Sylvester, sergeant in Wood's Company, looked at the prisoner in disgust.

"Put him back of you, Robinson," he said.

Joel W. Robinson helped the prisoner on his horse, then they all proceeded once more to the Texan camp. Robinson and Sylvester had been out scouting for Mexican prisoners. Toward Vince's Bridge, they had come upon this prisoner hiding in the grass. Dressed in common clothes, but wearing a fine linen shirt, the prisoner looked like one in disguise, but the two Texans were not sure of his identity. They made him walk toward the camp, until he became so weary that even prodding guns could not move him.

General Houston was lying under the trees in the big live oak clump. His ankle had been shattered by a ball in the battle the preceding day, and after a painful night, he had at last managed to get arranged in a comfortable position. General Rusk paused in his conversation with Houston as they noticed the men bringing the prisoner.

Mexican prisoners to the right of the Generals, with startled faces, saluted as the prisoner passed. "El Presidente," and "Santa Anna" rippled through the group. Sylvester heard the words and looked sharply at his prisoner. Did he have the powerful Santa Anna captured?

The prisoner dismounted when the party stopped before Rusk and Houston, and with great dignity and calm, announced that he was Santa Anna, leader of the Mexican army, and asked that he be treated as a prisoner of war. Moses Austin Bryan, a very young man, performed the most thrilling duty of his life when he

REGISTRATION AT TARLETON WILL BEGIN SEPTEMBER 16

Stephenville, Texas.—Registration at John Tarleton College will be Monday and Tuesday, September 16 and 17, according to information from J. Thomas Davis, dean. Classes will start Wednesday, and on Saturday, September 21, a formal opening program will be given in the college auditorium at 9 o'clock.

Receptions for all Tarleton students will be given by the college officials and by various Stephenville churches shortly after school opens.

acted as interpreter. General John A. Wharton and Vice President Zavala casually walked up to the group where the Mexican prisoner was standing. Then they recognized the man. Santa Anna! Captured! In his excitement Moses Bryan was faltering over the Spanish words; so Zavala began interpreting.

Almonte, Mexican leader, was sent for, and he continued the interpreting. After the first conversation, between Houston and Santa Anna, General Rusk was spokesman for the Texans. Santa Anna denied having had the Goliad prisoners put to death by his orders, but he said nothing of Urrea's agreement with Fannin. He had washed his hands of the matter.

Refusing to order all Mexicans to surrender, he (Santa Anna) did write an order to Filisola to take his army and retire to San Antonio; Gaona was to retreat to San Antonio, and Urrea was to go to Victoria. No more hostilities were to take place.

Santa Anna was given the opium he asked for. Perhaps it would quiet his nerves. The two hour conference had ended with the Texans, and he was placed with the other prisoners.

Thus was captured the man to whose intolerance largely was due the revolution resulting in the achievement of that independence, Texas will commemorate by its Centennial celebration of 1936.

Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Boston returned Friday from Roswell, New Mexico, where they took their son, Bob, and Paul Greene to New Mexico Military Institute where they will attend school.

While two people fight over a plum, a third person gets away with it. Better be an intelligent dog teach us to meet the bycomes.

V. Don't worry. Did you ever define worry? Worry is discounting future troubles so that you may have present misery. Worry will defeat happiness every time. If you can do better, do it; if not why worry?

VI. Be helpful. To be helpful is to be happy. To keep happiness, you will have to give it away. Whenever we lift another's load we lighten our own. Whenever we give a cup of cold water we slacken our own thirst. Let God's Word direct you in your dealings and you will find happiness.

The world owes you a living when you have earned it.

We can always get along without the things we can't get.

Don't mistreat a person because some other person has mistreated you.

Beware of him who speaks with authority on all subjects.

Changing the name of a thing leaves it what it was before.

Some are half wrong at twenty and always wrong at forty.

Clover Hay—"Let me like a soldier die!"

Tim—"Well, if my old gun would carry that far I'd accommodate him."

Lawyer—All Right. I'll take your case. I feel sure that I can get you justice.

Client—Why, you little nitwit, it ain't justice I want. You've got to get me off.

The same friction by which the Indian created a flame caused the easy ignition of the first Friction Match made by the Frenchman, Dr. Chas. Sauria, in 1831. . . . This was a basic discovery that we still use today. But how obsolete a smudging flame now seems in contrast with the convenience, safety and cleanliness of Electric Heat.

Mankind has an innate sense of cleanliness in relation to his food. Hence, the ever-increasing demand for such Electric Appliances as the Range, Electric Water Heater and the Electric Refrigerator. These modern electric appliances can be had on convenient terms, and you will be surprised at the moderate cost of such added superior service.

The big Baptist revival now in its third week and conducted by Rev. Joe Smith, will come to a close with the service next Sunday night. Forty-three accessions to the church have resulted up to date. While going home Wednesday morning, the jitney driven by John Allison and occupied by the family skidded on the wet road on the north edge of town and turned completely over, wrecking the car, and injuring the occupants of the car, though not seriously.

The beautiful new church building of the Church of Christ on East Third Street will be ready for the big revival that is to begin on Sunday, September 12, under the leadership of Elder Foy E. EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. The meeting was to discuss certain plans to be carried out this year, to elect new officers, and to decide the methods of initiation to be used this year.
The newly elected officers are president, George Wayne Estlack; vice president, Robert Nichols; secretary, Wilma Dee Smith; treasurer, Mary Frances Powell; reporter, Jack Hayes; sergeant-at-arms, Marvin Barker.
This year the office of secretary-treasurer was divided into two separate offices because of the increased duties that were added to each respective office.
Several committees were chosen to carry out the various duties of the society.
The ex-president, Homer Estlack, made a splendid, but brief talk concerning what the Alpha Delta Psi should mean to every student of C. M. J. LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

On his birthday in June King George bestowed honors on several literary people of England, including John Masefield, poet laureate, Charles G. D. Roberts, the Canadian novelist, and L. M. Montgomery, author of "Anne of Green Gables." Besides "Anne" we have the three other books which complete the series, "Anne of Avonlea," "Anne of the Island," and "Anne's House of Dreams," as well as several other L. M. Montgomery books. All of them are delightful.
The Atlantic $5,000 Non-Fiction Prize for 1935 was awarded to Mari Sandoz of Lincoln, Nebraska, for "Old Jules," a biography of her father. It will be published this fall, and is her first book.
Thomas Mann, German novelist and 1929 Nobel prize winner, came to the United States for a short visit in June. A few days after his arrival he was awarded an honorary LL. D. degree by Harvard.
William Butler Yeats celebrated his 70th birthday this summer. A dinner was given in his honor attended by more than two hundred guests representative of all aspects of Irish life. John Masefield, poet laureate hailed Yeats as the greatest living poet. He is well known as a dramatist as a poet, having received the Nobel prize in 1923.
Lawrence Whistler, 23-year-old English poet, won the gold medal presented by the King for the best volume of verse published in England in 1934. "Four Walls," the winning volume is his second book.
Thomas Wolfe, author of "Of Time and the River" has returned from a four month's tour of Europe. He has taken a small apartment in Manhattan and has one to work on another book which has a New York setting. He promises that it will be shorter than "Of Time and the River" which contains 450,000 words—after much pruning.

Daddy—Now, John Henry, don't forget that some day you may grow up to be president of the United States.
John Henry—Aw, dad, I don't want to. I'd have to ride in an auto and wear a silk hat. I'd rather be the drum major and wear a beautiful uniform and lead the procession.

ASTOUNDING "LIFT" IN SINCLAIR H-C, Local Motorists Tell Sinclair Dealers
When you buy gasoline you buy liquid power. And power is measured by engineers in terms of lifting. A single gallon of Sinclair H-C Gasoline has the potential energy to lift 99 million pounds one foot. Putting that into a power picture we say one gallon of H-C could lift a 40-ton Brontosaurus 1/4 mile.
In automobile road tests Sinclair H-C Gasoline gave 15% to 20% more smooth power and from 1 to 3 more miles per gallon—compared to 12 other well-known gasolines!
Your neighborhood Sinclair dealer will tell you what local motorists are saying about H-C's astounding "lift"—what it means in extra power for their cars. Ask him!
