Agricultural Conservation Program Under Discussion In Donley

FARMERS ARE IN MEETINGS

NEW FARM AND RANGE PROGRAM FOR 1937 WILL BE REVEALED AT MEETINGS.

Meetings will be held over the county, starting today, for the discussion of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program and the program for ranchers which is a continuation of the Agricultural program. The meetings, which will be taken part in by practically every farmer in the county, will continue through Wednesday.

The program shows only a few major changes from the 1936 farm program, namely that there will be no minimum on the reduction of the cotton and general base. The maximum reduction is thirty-five percent on cotton and fifteen percent on general base, the same as outlined in the 1936 program.

In the new program, interplanted feed with peas will be considered one hundred percent soil depleting. There will be a soil conserving base which will be the difference between the total base acres and the measured cropland. The soil conserving base must be planted to a soil conserving crop or a soil conserving practice carried out.

Grain sorghum must be planted solid or broadcast on the rented acres.

The range building allowance, which any rancher can get for range building practice, is the range capacity of the ranch, multiplied by 150. The range capacity will be determined by the range inspector. After the range building allowance is established, the rancher can earn this by several methods.

The first method that the rancher may use is setting aside one fourth of the grazing land for six months during the growing season from May 1 to November 1. This will earn one third of the allowance. The other ways of earning this is by clearing mesquite from the land, killing out brush, or by spreading fertilizer on the range.

All farmers are urged to attend at least one meeting. The meetings will be held mornings, afternoons and nights. It is necessary to attend this meeting to obtain information on the farm and range program for 1937, those in charge said.

Meetings will be held at the following places at the designated time and dates: Giles, Thur., Feb. 11, 2:30 p.m. schoolhouse; Hedley, Thursday, 11, 7:30 p.m. schoolhouse; Ashtola, Friday, 12, 9:30 a.m. schoolhouse; Jericho, Friday, 12, 2:30 p.m. schoolhouse; Goldston, Friday, 12, 7:30 p.m. schoolhouse; Clarendon, Monday, 15, 9:30 a.m. court-house; McKnight, Monday, 2:30 p.m. schoolhouse; Lelia Lake, Monday, 7:30 p.m. schoolhouse; Naylor, Tuesday 4:00 o'clock p.m. schoolhouse; Hudgins, Tuesday, 16, 7:30 o'clock p.m. schoolhouse; Skillet, Wednesday, 17, 4 o'clock p.m. schoolhouse; Whitefish, Wednesday, 17, 7:30 o'clock p.m. schoolhouse.

REV. KING IS LIONS SPEAKER

LION MEMBERS HEAR INSPIRATIONAL ADDRESS AND TRANSACT BUSINESS.

Members of the Clarendon Lions Club enjoyed an interesting meeting Tuesday at their regular weekly luncheon at the Clarendon Hotel, when they ratified the action of the monthly meeting of the board of directors in several activities, heard late progress of the Boy Scout Troop sponsored by the Club, and enjoyed an inspirational address by Rev. J. Perry King, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clarendon.

A. C. Stultz, scoutmaster of the local troop was a visitor for the day, as was Lion Nelson Combest of Childress.

Lion Morris, chairman of the Boys Work committee made a report on the re-organization of the Boy Scout Troop earlier in the week and announced the weekly meetings of the troop at the Aggie Hall at the High School.

Rev. King's subject was "How We Are Judged," and enlarged on the thought that every man has a throne of opportunity which duty demands he shall occupy, and drew conclusions as to the dire results when a man "abdicates" that throne, insofar as his civic, moral and religious duties are concerned.

WOMAN JAILED ON DRUNK FINE

MABLE JACKSON PLEADS GUILTY TO DRUNKENNESS; DRAWS FINE OF $100.00.

Blonde Mable Jackson, warbling merry tunes and sometimes cursing between verses, is lodged in the County Jail this week "laying out" a fine of one hundred dollars for drunkenness and vagrancy. The woman, believed to have been dead, was found lying alongside the Fort Worth and Denver railway track near town yesterday morning.

Sheriff Guy Pierce received a call near sunrise Wednesday morning from John Watters, who had seen the woman and believing her dead, rushed to summons the sheriff. Calling an ambulance Sheriff Pierce found the woman lying in a heap approximately fifty feet from the track. Upon examination, the sheriff found Mable seemingly had indulged too freely in John Barleycorn and in her state called the place home where she lost her hat—by the railroad track.

With the assistance of four men, the Sheriff succeeded in getting the little two hundred and thirty-five pound blonde into the ambulance. She was conveyed to the Adair hospital for examination. A physician was summoned and in several hours, Mable regained consciousness and managed to break out of the hospital.

She was picked up enroute to town by local officers and appeared before Judge S. W. Lowe where she pled guilty to a drunk and vag charge. Judge Lowe read his verdict, a fine of $50.00 and costs of court, and Mable replied "I don't give a D— how much the fine is." The Judge raised it to $100.00 and costs. Mable remained silent. The woman has been in Clarendon about two months and is supposedly from Oklahoma.

"My papa's gone down below, where I'll go I do not know," chants Mable, but Sheriff Pierce believes she'll change her tune and learn "The Prisoners Song" before her term is completed.

MEN CHARGED WITH THEFT WEDNESDAY

Two men were assessed a $10.00 fine which they are "laying out" in jail after they were arrested yesterday morning on a charge of taking towels and soap from the Hawk rooming house.

The two, Jimmy Bear and Walter Williams, of Houston, appealed to the Sheriff Tuesday night for lodging and were sent to the Hawk Rooming house.

Clarendon Bronchos will play the decisive game Friday night for county title when they meet Hedley at the Hedley gymnasium. A large crowd of cage fans will accompany Coach Jones' team to the game.

Hedley and Clarendon beat Lelia Lake two games each and split the games with each other. Coach Jones urges support in this game as he believes the local cagers are set to play in the district.

The quintette to play Friday night will be Cornell and Rolls, guard; Grady, center; Cooke and Butler, forward. Holtzclaw, who has been out of the games for the past week from a finger infection, will probably be able to play some Friday night.

The game begins promptly at 8 o'clock and admission is twenty-five cents.

Tonight, the local teams play McLean at 7:30 o'clock at the local gymnasium.

In the game Friday night with Lelia Lake, Clarendon Bronchos won with a marginal victory of 16 to 14. Cornell and Cooke were high point men.

RED CROSS FUND HERE IS $442.59

HEDLEY RAISES $74.10, LELIA LAKE AND ASHTOLA ALSO GENEROUS DONORS.

Donley County proudly takes her place among the counties of the Panhandle and Texas in the matter of generosity to the recent flood relief call of the Red Cross. Local Red Cross officers said yesterday that the funds in hand from the county totaled $442.59, which is as large as a number of counties with much larger population.

Outside Clarendon Hedley was the chief donor, reporting the sum of $74.10, under the leadership of Rev. M. E. Wells and his helpers. Citizens of Lelia Lake were also generous, their contributions coming in the local list handled here in Clarendon. Up Ashtola way, Mrs. W. P. Holley headed up the work and turned in $24, although several later donations through local agencies increased that sum materially. All in all, there was a general response from over the county, and our people are to be commended for their ready and willing spirit.

This money was forwarded along in unit sums as it was collected, and Donley County people have the satisfaction that their contributions are already active in the relief of those who suffer.

HEDLEY WOMAN IS HIJACKED

STRANGE COUPLE FORCES HEDLEY WOMAN TO ENDORSE COLD CHECK.

Donley County officers are looking this week for a woman and man, who allegedly hijacked a Hedley woman January 28, from a fraudulent check. The woman forced the Hedley citizen to endorse a check drawn on a fictitious account from a Shreveport, La., bank.

The woman and man, coming last week to Hedley, applied for rooms and offered to pay in advance. A check was written out on the Continental-American Bank & Trust Company of Shreveport, to be paid to C. H. Riley, Jr., and was signed by C. H. Riley, Sr. The woman, who gave her name as Riley, shoved the Hedley woman into the corner of a room and by force made her endorse the check. The woman then ran from the house and cashed the check at the Hedley bank before the Hedley woman could get in touch with bank officials.

A typewritten notation on the check returned from Shreveport said, "The party signing this check is using a fictitious name and has been drawing numerous checks on us for over a year. He uses the same tactics in cashing checks and should be stopped."

The couple, accompanied by a small child about six years old, came to Hedley, where they told several they were going to put in a tourist camp.

The woman, five feet four inches in height, weighed approximately 140 pounds and is about 33 years of age. Her hair is light, her eyes are grey, and she wears a brown sealskin coat. Two rings, one wedding band and a diamond, are worn on her hand. The man is about five feet eight inches, dark complexioned and wears a dark hat. They are driving either a 1931 or 1932 Chevrolet sedan.

Officers of this county warn citizens to be on the lookout for this party. Check hijacking is not infrequent, but never before has such an incident occurred in Donley County.

Although it is believed the woman was armed when forcing the Hedley woman to place her endorsement on the check, she did not use a gun.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cox and family spent last Tuesday in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Verna Lusk and young son, Robert Gene, spent Monday afternoon visiting in Wellington.

THE GOOD OF THE WHOLE

The good of the whole people cannot be conserved by enlarging the supreme court according to the viewpoint of The News. When President Roosevelt asked for such enlargement, with retirement for those past an arbitrary age, he could not escape the charge that his motion came by reason of the failure of the court to rule according to his desires. Now The News has been in sympathy with many of the President's aims, but we sincerely believe he has made a moral and tactical error in his demand which fell like a bombshell in Washington last week, and one which is obviously decried by the great masses of Americans, regardless of political beliefs.

This government was organized under three great divisions—executive, legislative and judicial—for the express purpose of protecting the rights of the people through the checks and balances thus set up. For one hundred and fifty and more years it has right well served its purpose, and the average American knows enough about what has happened in Russia, Italy and Germany, to be thoroughly frightened at the very thought of weakening any one of the three great pillars of our government. We could vote to amend our constitution to hand over the duties of the court to congress or even the president, but we are not likely to do it, and there's going to be real resistance to any effort to accomplish a similar end by sly, round-about methods.

The people voted tremulously for Mr. Roosevelt's reelection last fall, and he is immensely popular today, but as loved as he is, as trusted as he is, Americans have no considerable minority intentions, even, to give over to him, or any other president such powers of control as his proposals contemplate.

The rights of the whole people, the good of the whole people, the stability of the nation cannot thus be served.

MORE POWER TO STRICTER TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

Every thoughtful citizen will applaud Governor Allred's recent demand for stricter regulations of highway traffic, and his proposal to replace our present loose driver's license law with something that stands for responsibility at the wheel in Texas.

How anybody can contemplate the terrible and growing annual toll of human life on our highways without bestirring himself in an effort to stop reckless and drunken driving in Texas, and to sponsor such regulations as will bring to a minimum the ordinary hazards of the road, is beyond our understanding.

Yes, we know every taxpayer is interested in the tax legislation down at Austin, and so they ought to be, but, from a humanitarian standpoint, from a Christian standpoint we all of us should be first and mightily interested in curbing those contributory evils that make our highways a shambles, giving support to the tightening up of the driver's license law and those new regulations that will increase the safety of human life and limb.

One-Man Rule

Does a 5 to 4 decision of the Supreme Court signify "one-man rule?" Because a switch of one vote would change the result, it sometimes is said that one man outvotes four.

In any case, one vote less than the required number would change the result; and the larger the required number, the more votes that one changed vote would outweigh. For example, suppose that the Supreme Court could declare a law unconstitutional by a vote of not less than 6 to 3. Then if one of the six switched, that one vote would outweigh the remaining five. There would be a 5 to 4 majority, but this would be insufficient.

If a 7 to 2 vote were required, a change by one of the seven would leave a 6 to 3 or insufficient majority and hence the one vote that changed would outweigh six. If an 8 to 1 vote were required, one vote would outweigh seven. And if a 9 to 0 vote were required, one change would outweigh the vote of eight.

The larger the majority required, the more nearly we approach one-man rule. If a 9 to 0 vote were required for the Supreme Court to declare a law unconstitutional, the vote of one man would outweigh the vote of all the rest. But in a 5 to 4 vote, not one man but five men make the decision.

Since the Court consists of nine members, the requirement for a 5 to 4 vote is not one-man rule but majority rule. As with votes in the House, the Senate and in our elections, so also with a 5 to 4 vote in the Supreme Court, the rule of the majority prevails.

BLOCKING THE ROAD

THEY DESERVE COMMENDATION

The News takes its hat off to Senator Tom Connally, Senator Clint Small, Senator Holbrook, and the majorities in both houses of the Texas legislature for their frank opposition to President Roosevelt's plan to pack the Supreme Court.

It isn't always easy for public men to stand by their convictions in the face of the popular power of a leader like our president, so much the more do these mentioned deserve the commendation we are happy to tender.

WE LEARN FROM DICTATORS

The world is learning from the dictators. It is discovering that by their very nature dictatorships must be a disturbing force. Quite apart from the good or evil they work in their own countries, the international system is too sensitive, too closely intergrated, to stand the shattering shocks of dictatorial methods. Dictators are too thunderous, their threat is too heavy, their voices are too thunderous, their manners too masterful, for this tremulous and aging planet we inhabit. The earth has no room for giants any more.

We are learning that even the virtues of dictators are too much for us. The internal order they enforce, for instance, only magnifies their capacity to provoke external disorder. Their decisiveness turns their every act into an ultimatum. Whatever they do, they do with an effect of violence. Whenever they move, they move suddenly and swiftly, in the manner of a supreme command springing surprises in war. The diplomacy they practice is not high-hat, not shirt sleeve, not even the iron hand in the velvet glove. It is the diplomacy of the mailed fist, of the naked force.

The dictators, in short, teach us to chalk up one more advantage for democratic government. In the horse-and-buggy age they might have functioned without upsetting the universe. In the radio era they crowd up on one another. They fill the air with noise and threat and turmoil. The world has become too small for rulers with limitless and unquestioned powers. If only to curb and slow down the drive of nations to the speed limit where international traffic is possible, we need the creaking brakes of democracy.—The New York Times.

Actual laboratory research, conducted by leading scientists and food experts, proves this interesting fact about Bread. Everyone should eat Bread at every meal because it helps you get and utilize iron for building rich, red blood.

SUNNY VIEW

(By Cymantha Hester)

Had you been at Sunnyview last Sunday night, you would have heard a bunch of good singers singing. Sunday night being singing night we want everyone to help make the singing ring. So come and all enter into singing, making the schoolhouse ring.

It's all in life friends, and it causes us to wonder why Dame Sandstorm always appears so early. Despite the sandstorm Sunday, we had 26 present.

Yes, we had some community visiting last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. White and family visited at McKnight during the week-end.

Misses Orene Riley and Ina Riley visited Miss Harrison Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cannon and family attended singing at Bray Sunday.

Mr. Glenn Riley, who is working at Dumas, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Riley.

Sad, but true! Alas! Sad but True! It has really happened. Valentine time is here again. So Friday afternoon at the schoolhouse we will have our school valentine box. We invite everyone to come and enjoy an afternoon with us.

How dull life would be in our school if:

Mary Ella Williams didn't give us her decided opinion once in awhile. Louise Hall shouldn't blush when she gets tangled up in "History." Frank Cannon did not talk at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Ivon Ellis didn't laugh about nothing. Cymantha Hester shouldn't be naturally funny.

We are all looking forward to the visit of Mr. Gunstream, the inspector. We have tried to meet all requirements and think we have a splendid school.

Listen closely this spring, but don't be afraid, as the majority of the people have tractors. We believe in being modern.

They say a hundred years ago today a wilderness was here; a man with powder in his gun went forth to kill a deer. But now times have changed somewhat—are on a different plan. A deer with powder on her nose goes forth to hunt a man.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Twaddell of Amarillo were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wallace.

Kennedy Davis is visiting his brother on the South Plains.

PINEAPPLE MARSHMALLOW ICE CREAM made with canned pineapple. (Serves 6.) Place 1/2 pound marshmallows and 2 tablespoons milk in saucepan and heat over a low flame folding over and over until marshmallows are about half melted. Remove from flame and continue folding until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Cool. Then gradually add 1 1/2 cups of crushed canned pineapple and blend. Whip 1/2 pint of whipping cream until stiff and fold into the pineapple marshmallow mixture. Pour into freezing container of still ice cream freezer. Cover and surround with a mixture of chipped ice and salt. Place in ice refrigerator. Freeze one hour, stirring once.

No longer do you need someone's outstretched arms to help wind into a ball yarn or thread that comes in skeins. Simply put the skein over a lamp shade and loosen the top screw of the lamp so that when winding, the shade will continue to go around as fast as you wind.

When children's arms outgrow the sleeves of their leather jackets, sew a knitted wristlet to the sleeve hinged at each cuff. This will keep out the winter winds and eliminate that Ichabod Crane effect.

To eliminate soggy bottom crusts in custard pies, bake the pastry shell and custard separately, but in the same size tins. Bake the custard in a well-oiled tin. After baking, place the custard in refrigerator, preferably in an air-conditioned ice refrigerator so that the custard will not absorb odors. Then, just before serving, slide the filling out of the pan into the pastry shell and serve at once.

A CHEESE BISCUIT mix that you can make yourself! Sift together 2 cups of general purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Cut in 1/2 cup shortening. Then add 1/2 cup grated cheese. Then store in a modern air-conditioned ice refrigerator until such time as you wish to have "inefficient" hot biscuits. The moist, clean-washed air of the modern ice refrigerator will protect the mix against rapid drying out and against absorbing the odors of other foods. When ready to bake the biscuits, remove the mix from the refrigerator. Then add 1/2 cup milk and 2 teaspoons prepared mustard. Mix together and blend lightly with a fork. Pat or roll out on a floured board and cut in small biscuits. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in hot oven (450°) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Unemployment Compensation in Texas

Editor's Note:—Following are questions and answers prepared by R. B. Anderson, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, which is an interpretative in simplified terms of the various provisions of the recently-enacted Texas Unemployment Compensation Act. Further questions and answers in this series will appear in this paper from time to time.

HOW TO FIGURE YOUR WEEKLY WAGE

Question 6: "My work is irregular or seasonal. Some weeks I work more hours, earn more pay, than in others. Previous articles have made it clear that to determine what benefits I can receive, I must know what my wage has been. Does the law say how the amount of my wages is to be determined?"

Answer: To determine your weekly wage, you must find out two things: (1) Your Full-Time Weekly Hours. To get this figure, add together all the hours you worked in all the weeks in the last 52 weeks in which you were employed 30 hours or more.

Example: In the last 52 weeks, you worked 25 hours a week for five weeks, 28 hours a week for 10 weeks, 29 hours a week for nine weeks, 30 hours a week for 21 weeks, 34 hours a week for five weeks, and 48 hours a week for two weeks.

Since you failed to work 30 hours a week during the first 24 of these weeks, disregard them. During the remaining 28 weeks you worked a total of 896 hours, or an average of 32 hours a week. Therefore, 32 is your full-time weekly hours.

(2) Your Hourly Rate of Earnings. To get this figure, you consider only the thirteen weeks just before you become unemployed. Out of these thirteen weeks, take those in which you worked full-time. Add together the total of hours worked in these weeks. In the example used above these 13 weeks should include: 2 weeks at 48 hours, five weeks at 34 hours, and six weeks at 30 hours.

So out of the 13 weeks, you would count only seven—the two at 48 hours and the five at 34 hours, because only in these weeks did you work your full-time weekly hours (32) as determined in (1).

Now, in these seven weeks, say you made a total of $106.40. Divide this amount by the number of hours you worked in those seven weeks, or 266. This will give you the figure of 40 cents an hour.

This is your Hourly Rate of Pay. After you have gotten (1) your full-time weekly hours, and (2) of the cold weather. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. W. E. James Monday afternoon of next week, with Mrs. W. H. Craig in charge of the program.

your hourly rate of pay, multiply the hours (1) by the rate (2). This will give you $12.80. This is your full-time weekly wage which will be used in determining the amount of compensation.

WHAT ABOUT IRREGULAR WORKERS?

Question 7: "Your last article told how I could determine my weekly wage for the purposes of the Unemployment Compensation Act; but this example does not fit me. My week's work seldom averages 30 hours a week. How am I to proceed?"

Answer: To try to be fair to every worker, the Commission has been given the power to vary from the above formula, either in determining the weekly hours, or in determining the hourly rate of earnings, or both.

Suppose your previous employment record is not long enough to fit this formula. What then? The Commission has the power to find out for itself what the customary pay is for your kind of job.

The aim of the law is to be fair to every worker. The formula was worked out carefully to fit the majority of cases. But there always are exceptions, and each exception will be treated fairly by the Commission itself.

If you have any questions concerning the operation of this law as it affects employers or workers, you can have your questions answered by writing R. B. Anderson, chairman, Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, Austin.

REFRIGERATOR YEAST ROLLS

(Makes 3 dozen Cloverleaf Rolls) 2 cups boiling water, 1-3 cup and 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons lard, 2 cakes compressed yeast, 1-4 cup lukewarm water, 2 eggs, 8 cups general purpose flour. Dissolve yeast and 1 teaspoon sugar in the lukewarm water and add to first mixture. Add eggs and one-half of the flour; beat thoroughly. Then add remaining flour. Mix well. Place in modern air-conditioned ice refrigerator. Here the dough will stay sweet and fresh; it will not dry out become unappetizing. When ready to use, cut off small uniform pieces of dough. Shape into balls and place three balls in each greased muffin tin. Let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk (about one hour). Then bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for approximately 20 minutes.

"After the Thin Man," with William Powell and Myrna Loy Again the Perfect "Mr. and Mrs.;" Funnier and More Mystifying Than Original Hit

The mixture of comedy and drama which W. S. Van Dyke unfailingly injects into a mystery picture is evident again in his latest effort, "After the Thin Man," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, which opened yesterday at the Pastime Theatre with William Powell and Myrna Loy in the starring roles.

Sequel to that memorable masterpiece of cinema mystery, "The Thin Man," this was written by the same author, Dashiell Hammett, and surrounds the inimitable stars with a sparkling cast of favorites, including James Stewart, Elissa

Landi, Joseph Calleia, Jessie Ralph and Asta, the remarkable wire-haired terrier of "The Thin Man."

Returning from their New York venture to their home in San Francisco, Nick and Nora, of the remembered original crash into mad excitement in San Francisco.

LUSCIOUS FRUIT SALAD

Here is a delightful salad that is substantial enough to make a grand main dish for a luncheon menu. It can be made the day before and stored in modern ice refrigerator.

- 1 egg (beaten)
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup white cherries (pitted)
1 cup pineapple (cut in pieces)
1 orange (cut in pieces)
1 cup marshmallows (cut in quarters)
1/2 cup whipping cream (whipped)

Break egg in saucepan and to it add the vinegar and sugar. Cook, beating constantly, until mixture is thick and smooth. Remove from flame, add butter and cool. When cold add cut fruits, marshmallows and whipped cream. Turn into mold, place in modern air-conditioned ice refrigerator and chill 24 hours. Serves 6 to 8.

You needn't worry about this delicate salad absorbing odors of other foods, the mingling of food flavors has been eliminated by the modern air-conditioned ice refrigerator.

William Powell, as the ace detective, Nick Charles, excels his performance in "The Thin Man," and Myrna Loy reaches a new high as his worried wife. The supporting cast is excellent throughout and the story is entirely up to the standard of Dashiell Hammett who ranks among America's foremost mystery writers.

Hunt Stromberg was the producer, with W. S. Van Dyke directing. Van Dyke is an enthusiast for mystery fiction and accordingly has handled the story with real feeling.

"The Thin Man" was one of the ranking box office pictures of its time.

THE 25-MILLIONTH FORD HAS JUST BEEN BUILT

IT HAS never occurred before in automobile history that 25 million cars of one make, bearing one name, have been manufactured under one management. The 25,000,000th Ford car rolled off the Ford Rouge Plant production line on January 18, 1937.

25 million cars since 1903... more than one-third of all the cars ever built... enough cars to transport the entire population of the United States.

The figures represent a remarkable contribution to the social welfare, the industrial stability and the general progress of our country.

People respect Ford efficiency. They know Ford uses fine materials, the best workmanship at good wages, the most exact precision measurements. They know these things are passed along to purchasers in the form of extra value. Naturally, they like to do business with such a company. That is the only reason it has been required to produce 25 million cars.

Naturally, too, they expect more of a Ford car, more this year than last year—more each year than the year before. They have every right to. The experience gained in building 25,000,000 cars enables Ford to produce today a really superb motor car at a really low price—with the Beauty, Comfort, Safety and Performance of much more expensive cars.

The 1937 Ford V-8 combines advanced design, all-steel construction, extra body room, and brilliant brakes with a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines—the most modern type of power-plant on land, sea, or in the air.

The 85-horsepower engine provides top performance with unusually good economy for its high power.

The 60-horsepower engine gives good performance with the greatest gasoline mileage ever built into a Ford car—and wears the lowest Ford price tag in years.

People expect more of a Ford car because it's a Ford—and they get more, for the same reason. It is undeniably the quality car in the low-price field.

KNOW TEXAS

Denton, Feb. 10.—An American balloon dizzily soars upward to a new altitude record; a foreign made dirigible carries a precious cargo of human freight across an uncharted body of water—and the chances are ten to one that both of these crafts are filled with helium which came from Amarillo and Potter County.

Most of the helium supply of the world comes from this modern Federal plant, giving Texas another of the largest industries of its kind in the world.

When lighter-than-air craft first drifted through the skyways, hydrogen was used in the huge gas bags. But hydrogen was inflammable, and many a ship was destroyed and many a life was lost when, for various reasons, the gas caught fire or exploded in mid-air.

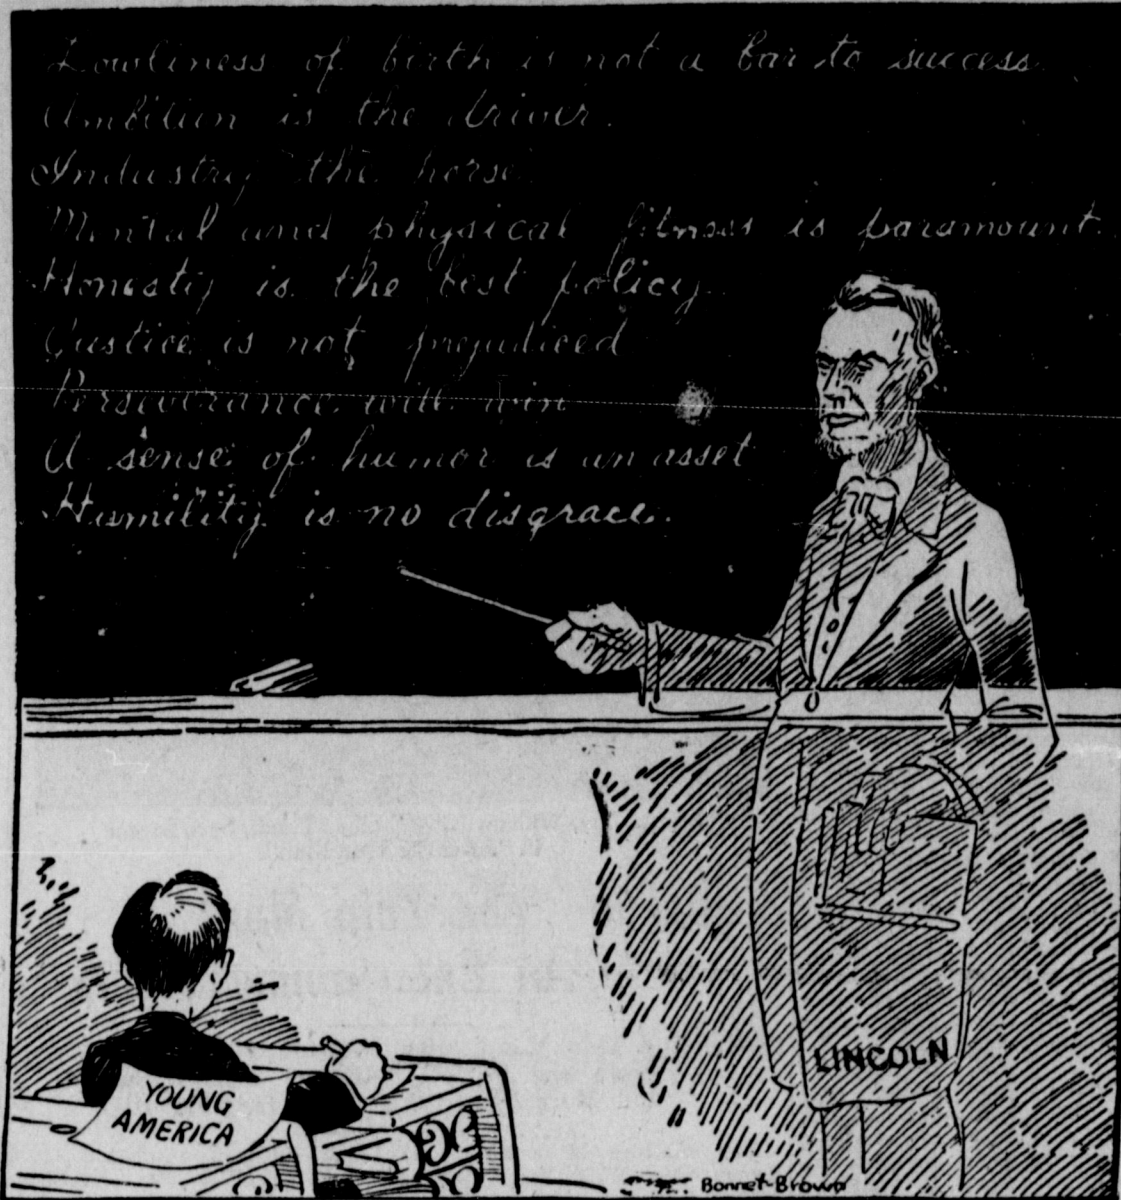

Helium is non-inflammable and was soon adopted as a safer gas. Although twice as heavy, it has a lifting power only seven per cent less than hydrogen.

It was discovered by J. Jannson in 1868 during an eclipse of the sun. Most of the known world's supply comes from the Panhandle gas field, where it is separated from other gases at the government plant, which is capable of producing 450 cubic feet per hour.

Mrs. O. L. Fink left Sunday for Denison, Iowa, where she was called to be at the bedside of her brother, Chas. Brogdon, who is seriously ill.

THE GREATEST TEACHER

T. S. BUGBEE ESTABLISHED FIRST RANCH SAYS PIONEER

(By Frank Collinson, in Amarillo News-Globe) I read an article in the November number of the Cattleman by C. L. Douglas, in which he says that the late T. S. Bugbee of Clarendon was the second man to drive cattle into the Texas Panhandle. I did not read his article on the first cattle that were brought into the Panhandle, but I suppose they were driven by Charles Goodnight, who is generally given first place.

I have been thinking of writing on the first cattle that were driven and ranched on the buffalo range after the buffalo were killed off, between the years 1874 and 1878. There are very few men left who took part in the destruction of the buffalo and helped to drive cattle into the country west of the one hundredth meridian. No magazine or paper seemed to take any interest in the history of either the hunt or the advent of cattle onto the vacant buffalo range, who put them there or where they came from. I do not think it makes much difference who they were or where they came from. The men are about all gone; a new kind of cattle are there; all the best grass plowed up.

I take issue with Mr. Douglas on who was the first to drive cattle to the Panhandle. I give T. S. Bugbee first place, although the storm that caught Mr. Bugbee on the North Palo Duro and drifted his cattle to near the Dobie Walls, on the Canadian, November 1876, also drifted the Goodnight cattle from the Canadian above Tascosa to the Palo Duro Canyon in Randall County.

I was camped, at that time, on the head of Duck Creek, Dickens County, close to the upper McKinzie crossing of Duck Creek and saw one of the severest blizzards that ever struck that part of the country. Buffalo drifted past our camp like an immense trail herd for two nights and one day, at times during the day, when one could see, there would be no more than two or three abreast and again so wide you could not see across them, but after it cleared off you could see the drift had been several miles across. This mighty herd never checked up until it reached the Salt Fork of the Brazos and from there to below Fort Concho was just a mass of buffalo.

But I am digressing from my story. I lived near Mr. Bugbee for over 20 years, and we often talked of this storm and how he was caught in it drifting his cattle from the Arkansas River to the Canadian. He had been ranching there several years at what was called the Aubrey Crossing, later Lskin. He left there in October, 1876, with his wife and two children and several wagons, one well fitted for Mrs. Bugbee, the others a mess wagon and supplies to last several months; his herd of cattle and horses.

He crossed the Cimarron at the point of Rocks, where the trail that had been used hauling buffalo hides from the Canadian to Granada, Colo., and other towns on the newly built A. T. & S. F. Railway, south on that trail to the Beaver in No Man's Land, Cold Water and Teepee Creek and to North Palo Duro Creek, just over the Texas line. He camped there the night this storm struck him. Cator Brothers had a camp they had occupied since 1872 while buffalo hunting. In Billie Dixon's account of the fight of Dobie Walls he says Jim and Bob Cator rode to the Dobie Walls the day after the fight and added two more guns for the defense. They were not in the fight, but Charlie Armitage and another man, I forget his name, who had gone to school with the Cator boys in England, were there. Their names are now on the monument, on the fight of the old Dobie Walls. Bob Cator died of blood poisoning in Washington. Jim never left the old buffalo camp, bought land and cattle, had the first post office in Hansford County, called Zulu, and died there a few years ago, undoubtedly the first settler in the Canadian country.

Billie Dixon said Charlie Armitage killed the negro who blew the trumpet during the fight. There is not the slightest doubt but those few men whose names now adorn the Dobie Wall marker killed more Comanche, Kiowa, and Cheyenne Indians than all the U. S. soldiers and Texas Rangers put together since the war of 1846 in Texas.

But I am getting away from the Bugbee drive to the Canadian and starting of the first cow ranch on that river. When the storm struck Mr. Bugbee, he, together with his cow hands, drifted all night ahead of the herd, keeping them checked up as well as they could. About daylight they got into the breaks of the Canadian, near Dobie Walls, where there was good shelter and grass. They drifted about 30 miles that night, and some of the horses were in the herd. Mr. Bugbee and part of the hands changed horses and rode back to the wagons, picked up the work mules and horses on the way. By then the storm had slackened up some and they managed to cook a little. Mrs. Bugbee and the children were all right, but too cold to stir out of the wagon.

They left next morning and made to where they had left the cattle. The men who stayed with the cattle had killed a calf. There was plenty of wood—they had a good fire behind a bluff and got along all right. Mr. Bugbee built a dugout on a creek near there. The creek is still called Bugbee Creek.

The buffalo had all gone south—not enough were left for beef, but deer, turkey and antelope were plentiful. The cattle wintered good. The next spring, 1877, was the last time buffalo ever migrated north. By the spring of 1878, according to the U. S. account 8,000,000 buffalo were dead and rotting from the Cimarron to the Llano, south of Fort Concho. Millions of acres of the finest cow country were ready for the first man that was looking for good free grass. I have seen it in print, that there was at one time 7,000,000 cattle on the country south of the Arkansas River and I believe they were there, I might say that in the spring of 1877. Lee

Reynolds and Wrath, who had put up a trading post for hunters on the Double Mountain fork of the Brazos had 1,100,000 hides piled up in their hide yard. A man by the name of George West was in charge of this trading post.

Mr. Bugbee sold this herd of cattle out in 1882, but bought ranches, raised and traded in cattle extensively in Texas up to the time of his death in 1925 at his home in Clarendon. He handled Texas cattle for 55 years. I still contend that Mr. Bugbee was ranching on the Canadian in the winter of 1876 when Mr. Goodnight was on the St. Charles River, Colo., waiting for spring when he could go to where his cattle had wintered in Palo Duro Canyon.

Lets Talk About Clothes

Denton—Padded robes have suffered from neglect the past few years, but this season they are going strong. They used to be strictly practical creations, straight of streamline and equally straight of long sleeve, but this year all of them go in for decorative qualities.

The silhouettes are nipped in neatly around the waistline. There's a snappy flare to the long skirt line, and the sleeves are flared at the wrists. Even the collars are varied, some tuxedo style, others double breasted, and the usual notched collar with wide lapels.

Pockets are patched on each hip and there is a small pocket high on the right side for a hanky. The belts are long, and you can indulge your weakness for military effects with a double row of frogs covering the chest.

Floral printed satin robes have white, shell pink, or pale blue backgrounds with tiny flowers sprinkled all over the pattern. Quilted velvet robes are the most luxurious looking to be found, and white, American beauty red, and Madonna blue are the favored and

He left there in October, 1876, with his wife and two children and several wagons, one well fitted for Mrs. Bugbee, the others a mess wagon and supplies to last several months; his herd of cattle and horses. He crossed the Cimarron at the point of Rocks, where the trail that had been used hauling buffalo hides from the Canadian to Granada, Colo., and other towns on the newly built A. T. & S. F. Railway, south on that trail to the Beaver in No Man's Land, Cold Water and Teepee Creek and to North Palo Duro Creek, just over the Texas line. He camped there the night this storm struck him. Cator Brothers had a camp they had occupied since 1872 while buffalo hunting. In Billie Dixon's account of the fight of Dobie Walls he says Jim and Bob Cator rode to the Dobie Walls the day after the fight and added two more guns for the defense. They were not in the fight, but Charlie Armitage and another man, I forget his name, who had gone to school with the Cator boys in England, were there. Their names are now on the monument, on the fight of the old Dobie Walls. Bob Cator died of blood poisoning in Washington. Jim never left the old buffalo camp, bought land and cattle, had the first post office in Hansford County, called Zulu, and died there a few years ago, undoubtedly the first settler in the Canadian country. Billie Dixon said Charlie Armitage killed the negro who blew the trumpet during the fight. There is not the slightest doubt but those few men whose names now adorn the Dobie Wall marker killed more Comanche, Kiowa, and Cheyenne Indians than all the U. S. soldiers and Texas Rangers put together since the war of 1846 in Texas. But I am getting away from the Bugbee drive to the Canadian and starting of the first cow ranch on that river. When the storm struck Mr. Bugbee, he, together with his cow hands, drifted all night ahead of the herd, keeping them checked up as well as they could. About daylight they got into the breaks of the Canadian, near Dobie Walls, where there was good shelter and grass. They drifted about 30 miles that night, and some of the horses were in the herd. Mr. Bugbee and part of the hands changed horses and rode back to the wagons, picked up the work mules and horses on the way. By then the storm had slackened up some and they managed to cook a little. Mrs. Bugbee and the children were all right, but too cold to stir out of the wagon. They left next morning and made to where they had left the cattle. The men who stayed with the cattle had killed a calf. There was plenty of wood—they had a good fire behind a bluff and got along all right. Mr. Bugbee built a dugout on a creek near there. The creek is still called Bugbee Creek. The buffalo had all gone south—not enough were left for beef, but deer, turkey and antelope were plentiful. The cattle wintered good. The next spring, 1877, was the last time buffalo ever migrated north. By the spring of 1878, according to the U. S. account 8,000,000 buffalo were dead and rotting from the Cimarron to the Llano, south of Fort Concho. Millions of acres of the finest cow country were ready for the first man that was looking for good free grass. I have seen it in print, that there was at one time 7,000,000 cattle on the country south of the Arkansas River and I believe they were there, I might say that in the spring of 1877. Lee

EDITOR'S CORNER

At a meeting of the college students on Monday of this week, the sophomores voted unanimously in favor of a trip in the future to the Carlsbad Caverns or to some distant point of interest. On finding everyone in favor of a trip of this kind, plans were immediately advanced for the financing of such a trip. No definite plans were arrived at, however.

The Box Supper and Amateur Contest held last Friday night for the benefit of the Clarendon high school band netted the sum of $51.85. This was hardly as much as was expected, but this, it seems after all, is quite good. Other plans for raising money will be advanced soon.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

Again let me remind you of our magazines for sale. We have two full length recent novels in magazines. In this way these late books as well as all the other contents of the magazines may be received for about one-fifth of the cost of the books.

"Gone With the Wind" continues to head the list of best sellers from all the leading bookstores. Lloyd C. Douglas' "White Barkers" is a close second. His new book has caused a renewal of interest in the two books of his which we have, "Forgive Us Our Trespasses" and "Magnificent Obsession." "Young and Yin" by Alice Tisdale Hobart is near the top of the list. She became widely known through her "Oil For the Lamps of China." Walter D. Edmond's "Drums Along the Mohawk" is also a prominent best seller in fiction. "Man the Unknown" by Alexis Carrel, "An American Doctor's Odyssey" by Victor Heiser, "Live Alone and Like It" by Marjorie Hillis seem to be the leaders in non-fiction. Another book of fiction which is given special mention in many lists is by the very popular author, Hugh Walpole—"A Prayer For My Son." We have quite a list of Walpole's books on our shelves.

Another book which we own which is not new but is always popular is "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" by Francis Yeats-Brown. Last year the author returned to India to revisit the scenes of his exploits fifteen years ago. He has written a very vivid and intimate account of this trip in his new book, "Lancer at Large."

Among the well known books which have been reproduced as plays are "Whiteoaks" which Mazo De La Roche has dramatized from her "Whiteoaks of Jalna," and which has had a long run in London, and "Jane Eyre" which has been dramatized by Helen Jerome who adapted Jane Austin's "Pride and Prejudice" so successfully.

Louis Bromfield reports from France that he will have his new novel "The Rains Came," ready for publication in May. Bromfield continues to hold an important place among present day fiction writers. We have several of his books.

Margaret Kennedy's new novel, "Together and Apart" was the English Book Club selection for January, and will be published in this country in March. She is author of several books, among them "The Constant Nymph" which is on our shelves.

Older readers will vividly recall the thrills produced in a former generation by the stories of H. Rider Haggard. His daughter, Lillias Rider Haggard, has recently had printed a book called "I Walked By Night"—A story of an old Norfolk preacher in which the homely philosophy and human qualities make a strong appeal.

Robert Briffault whose "Europa" was a best seller in 1935 has a new book, "Reasons For Anger" in which he abandons his one excursion into fiction in "Europa," and goes back to his former type of writing as an anthropologist and philosopher.

Don't forget to tune in on station KGNC, Amarillo, on Friday afternoon, Feb. 12 at 3:30 o'clock for a program to be presented by the Clarendon and Hedley P.-T. A.'s. Numbers on the program will include a short talk by Mr. Drennan about Clarendon Junior College and a number by the quartet, accompanied by Miss Howren.

Since the tennis courts have been laid off and limed, high school and college students are showing an active interest by playing even though it is quite cold at times. Three new nets have been ordered; everyone who plays will be required to pay (and please pay in the very near future) fifty cents in order to defray these and other expenses. All players are asked to wear tennis shoes.

Clarendon high school students will enter the one-act play division of the Interscholastic League this year. The play selected for presentation is entitled "The Winner" a comedy. The one-act plays this year must necessarily be comedies or farces. This play will be under the direction of Mr. Kerby, aided by Sarah McGowen.

Mr. A. C. Stults, Head of the Science Department in Clarendon Junior College and High School, has taken over the duties of scoutmaster of the newly organized scout troop in Clarendon. Extensive plans are being made to build an active troop here.

Future Teachers Are Quite Active

The Future Teachers Association met on Feb. 5. Before the association began the program, the Secretary gave every member a copy of the pledge that the club had adopted. The Teachers' Association is indebted to Mr. Kerby for having these pledges printed. As the president and the plan of arranging the program committee had adopted plans to deal with the practical problems encountered by a future teacher, Mr. Drennan explained how a teacher should fill out her register correctly. In a previous meeting, talks had been given upon the method of conducting school the first day.

Mr. Kavanaugh, the county superintendent of schools, gave an interesting talk, and answered a number of questions asked him by various members. Miss Beatrice Hardin invited the members of the club to meet at her home on the evening of the next meeting for a social. Everyone agreed to this proposal; so if possible, all the members will meet at Miss Hardin's home Friday evening, Feb. 19.

Vivian Taylor and Peggy Word celebrated Viv's 18th birthday by taking a long ride on horseback into the country Saturday. Sort of a sit-down strike against old age.

Josephine Lawrence was introduced to our readers some months ago through the very popular story "If I Have Four Apples"—a whimsical and yet rather psychological story of the depression, so true to human nature that each reader recognizes many friends among the characters. Now she has published another story "The Sound of Running Feet." This, too, is a cross section of the vicious circle of ordinary people trying to get along. It is a story of a small real estate firm and the three homes represented. The elder member of the firm dreams at least twenty times during the year: "Behind me I hear the sound of running feet. Always running. Sometimes it sounded as if as many as a thousand people were running, trying to catch up with me." Miss Lawrence has been for several years on the staff of the Newark Sunday Call, and in her work as household editor she has interviewed thousands of people on their domestic and personal problems. With the facts gleaned from these contacts she tells in "The Sound of Running Feet" as well as in "If I Have Four Apples" that she is sure of two things: that people want too much, and that they have not learned that two apples plus two apples do not make six apples.

OUR BOOK SHELF

A book that deals humanly and informatively of home and foreign affairs is "The Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens." In earning the title of "the world's greatest reporter" Mr. Steffens shows in his autobiography that he has comprehensively studied topics, and people of the day—not without coming to somewhat cynical conclusions in several instances.

Sidelights on contemporary people, including Gertrude Stein, communism and fascism, wall street, etc, show Mr. Steffens to have a keen insight into current topics.

From an entirely personal viewpoint, and without attempting to criticize Mr. Steffens style, I might say that I found the author's views on people and topics much more interesting than his style of presenting them to the reader. The chapter headings of the book are interesting, showing that Mr. Steffens has had much experience in devising headlines; however they lead the author to disillusioning prospects.

WITH THE JUNIORS

The plans are being made for the Annual Junior-Senior banquet. If the present plans do not go awry, it will be held Feb. 26.

Gene Teat has been giving the gang a regular style show on how "modish misses" should wear their hair. Durward McCracken has a book on "Queen Mary's Hair Styles" that he gallantly offered her. Let's hope she doesn't accept.

Kathleen Ryan is sporting a new and very chic blue dotted dress, smoked in red. We all envy her!

Frances Grady's new theme song is "Stars and Stripes Forever." We wonder why! Who's been putting soap on the north stairs? Everyday, the third period, at least four people fall down, namely Pat Slavin, Jesse Cornell, Truett Holtzclaw, and Ralph Grady. We think the reason must be their intent gaze into the Economics class. (My, but Mr. Jones is magnetic!)

Now that the new football sweaters and jackets have come, we notice that certain girls are wearing the '36 models, and state that they'll wait patiently for the '37's.

Somebody's written all over Ruezell's white leather jacket. Free advertising, eh what!

Wonder what book Jane Kerbow was so intensely pouring over Monday noon. We guess it was pretty heavy literature to make her look so interested.

Jimmy Gene Thompson, Phoebe Ann Buntin, and Jane Kerbow are debating entries from the Junior class this year. They've been working for several weeks already.

More Market Hogs Than First Expected

The inspected slaughter of hogs during the 1936-37 marketing season (October through September), probably will be from 12 to 16 per cent greater than in 1935-36, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today in its January summary of the hog situation. The extent of the increase in hog slaughter, however, will depend partly on the prospect for corn production in 1937 and partly on the proportion of hogs going into inspected slaughter from areas outside the corn belt.

This increase in slaughter supplies is somewhat larger than was estimated by the Bureau in November. Following the drought of 1934, the fall pig crop that year was sharply reduced and it was generally expected that a similar situation would occur in 1936, since a drought cut feed grain production almost as severely as in 1934. The December 1 pig crop report, however, disclosed that the 1936 fall pig crop was six percent larger than that of 1935. The combined spring and fall crop was 20 percent larger.

The slaughter of hogs was very large in the first three months of the present marketing season, October-December, because of the shortage and high price of corn. It is probable that a larger than usual proportion of the spring pig crop was marketed in those months, as has occurred in other drought years. Consequently it is expected that slaughter supplies of hogs during the first three months of 1937 will be reduced considerably from the December figures. Total slaughter supplies for the remainder of the marketing year, January through September 1937, probably will be somewhat smaller than those of a year earlier, with most of the reduction occurring in February and March and in the late summer.

The heavy run of hogs this fall was reflected in the January 1 storage report, which showed considerably larger supplies of hog products in storage than a year ago.

The December pig report also indicated that the number of sows to farrow in the spring of 1937 would be about five percent smaller than last spring. Nearly all of this indicated reduction is in the western corn belt.

Despite the large marketings of hogs and other livestock in December, hog prices advanced during that month and in early January reached a top at Chicago of $10.80, the highest since last September. As supplies of hogs are reduced from the December level in the next three months, it is probable that a further moderate advance in hog prices will occur.

Although slaughter supplies of hogs in the summer of 1937 will be larger than was expected earlier, the Bureau believes they probably will be somewhat smaller than those of last summer, when considerable drought liquidation occurred. In view of the prospective further improvement in consumer demand, it is expected that hog prices next summer will average higher than in the summer of 1936.

Always A Business Man

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE used to be a man in New York's East Side who had a friend who, back in the early part of 1915, arrived from Russia with a tale of having served as color-bearer in a Russian regiment in the campaign against the Germans in Eastern Prussia. When the newcomer reached the congenial atmosphere of a Yiddish cafe on Allen Street he wore a large medal on his breast, which he explained had been given to him by the express command of the Czar. Shortly after receiving the decoration he had been disabled by illness and was mustered out of service; hence his appearance in America. "What did you do to win the medal?" inquired one of his audience. "I brought in a German battle flag," said the ex-soldier with becoming honesty. "No wonder you got a medal!" said a resident East Sider. "How did you get the flag?" "Well," said the hero, "I was in the Russian trenches with my regiment, and in the trenches just in front of us was a German regiment; and I saw the man who was carrying their battle flag, and he looked like a good business man. So I waited that evening until everything was quiet and then I went over, all by myself, when nobody was looking—and we traded flags."

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin—Settling down to serious business for the first time the legislature this week attacked the ever-present tax-raising problem by plunging its taxation and revenue committee into a full schedule of hearings on taxation bills. Headed by Alf Roark, the committee of 21 members—by far the most influential in the house—includes a heavy majority of youthful members, many first-terms, and no representative from either Houston or Dallas, largest tax-paying communities in Texas. It is described as being overwhelmingly friendly to Gov. Allred, and favorable to many of his tax recommendations.

REVENUE SOURCES

Scheduled for early hearings were three groups of bills, representing the most probable sources of whatever additional revenue the 44th legislature will raise. First on the list is the franchise tax measure by Herman Jones of Wise County. Theoretically, this bill is a tax on corporations for the right to do business in Texas. Actually, it is a combined tax on corporate income and property. It levies a 5 per cent tax on the net income of corporations, or, alternately, a tax of one-tenth of one per cent of the gross assets, whichever yields the greater sum.

This is the application of the tax principle which Gov. Allred recommended in his first message, which he supported with glaring examples of how some large corporations are doing business in Texas at negligible cost for the privilege. Opponents claim the corporations, particularly some 15,000 small ones in Texas, cannot stand the tax, in view of the recent heavy levies by the federal government for social security purposes. Many protests have been received from owners of both large and small incorporated businesses by legislators, and it is regarded as likely the rates in the original bill will be slashed considerably if it is finally passed. Jones estimates his bill will raise $12,000,000 and lobbyist estimates range upward to $20,000,000.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Next most probable source of revenue is a series of bills increasing taxes on oil, sulphur and natural gas. Ten cents a barrel on oil, instead of the present 2 1/2 cents (or 2 1/2 per cent on oil over $1 a barrel), and $2 a ton instead of the present $1.03 on sulphur, are the maximum rates proposed. Few believe the oil levy will be

Q. How early were efforts made to colonize Germans in Texas and with what result? G. F.

A. About 1818, a Prussian military officer named Hecke, who had visited Texas, urged through the German press the purchase of Texas from Spain and the establishment of a German colony. While nothing came directly from this suggestion, a ship bearing German immigrants reached Texas in 1834, and one-tenth of those engaged in the war for independence were Germans. By 1840 there were some 10,000 Germans in Texas and the number had doubled in 1845.

Q. When did Prince Ferdinand von Solms Braunsfels come to Texas? G. F.

A. In 1844, bringing about 100 families, who had landed at Indianola and later founded the settlement of New Braunfels, which was named for him. Von Solms was succeeded by von Musebach, who located several thousand of his countrymen north of San Antonio and west of Austin in 1845 and 1846 and founded the town of Fredericksburg in 1846.

Q. What was the first Jewish settlement in Texas? M. C.

A. At Velasco, where Jacob Henry from England and Jacob Lyons from Charleston, located several years prior to 1831, ac-ording to a report then made by Abraham G. Labell.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin—Definite signs that the legislative honeymoon upon which the house of representatives embarked Jan. 12 is about at an end were seen as the regular session began its fifth week. Despite the fact the pension bloc forced thru a resolution committing the house to allocating the first $12,000,000 of new revenue it raises to augment the present $8,000,000 a year pension fund, and urging early consideration of pension liberalization measures, there were indications that the pension bloc was breaking its strength against the rock of leadership rivalry.

The pension issue, as forecast by this writer when the original pension bill was under consideration, has become Texas' leading political football. The governor was re-elected largely on his adroit defense of his old age pension "orphan baby"; most of the 73 new house members came to town aboard the pension handwagon; and a vast majority of the house so far has indicated a desire to build a record that will get the votes of the oldsters.

TOO MANY LEADERS

So hot is the issue that intense rivalry for the credit of being leader threatens to disrupt the house bloc. Farmer of Fort Worth, Leland Johnson of Waxahatchie, Jesse James of Crockett, Jasper Reed of Texarkana, and Lucas of Athens, and several others, aspire to lead the pension legion. It is every man for himself, and no organization or cooperation among the group. Farmer, the loudest and most vehement shouter in the house, seized the job of spokesman, and held it during the first four weeks thru sheer lung power and persistence. But this week he heard himself called a "publicity seeker," a rabble rouser, and "the worst enemy the old folks have in the legislature" by his fellow members of the pension bloc, who don't agree with his ideas and are jealous of his press clippings.

So, notwithstanding his loudest shouting of the session, Farmer saw members of the pension bloc help to beat overwhelmingly his hysterical resolution demanding the head of Pension Administrator Orville Carpenter, after Carpenter, with his naive penchant for sticking his neck out, advised a legislative committee to bar pension recipients from the privilege of voting. The house hastily adopted a substitute resolution, declaring it opposed taking away the voting privilege from the pensioners, but Carpenter's name was not mentioned, and members cheered reference to him during the debate as "an able administrator." Carpenter told the committee he thought pensioners could be kept to about 105,000 and urged against liberalizing the present law.

TAX REMISSION

Back to the state affairs committee, which previously had reported favorably without even holding a public hearing, the bill by Fred Mauritz of the Ganado farmer, to donate $3,000,000 a year for the next five years to the counties to spend on erosion control, reclamation and other similar work, by remitting general revenue ad valorem state taxes. The bill would impoverish the general revenue fund by $9,000,000 a year, at a time when it is already some 15 millions in the "red." It gathered a motley array of sales tax advocates, higher natural resource taxers, and soil erosion enthusiasts behind it on two favorable votes on the floor, but went back to the committee when the strong anti-sales tax group combined forces with some pensioners who would vote a sales tax, but only for pensions.

FRANCHISE TAX

Surprising nobody, the house revenue committee brought out the bill of Herman Jones of Decatur, proposing to increase franchise taxes on all incorporated business—large and small—in Texas by 700 percentum, by a vote of 11 to 7. Those voting for the bill were Baker of Rosenberg, Bell of Cuero, England of McKinney, Jones of Decatur, King of Garner, Langdon of Glen Rose, Morris of Greenville, Palmer of Normangee, Skaggs of Deport and Tarwater of Plainview. The vote came after two days of hearings at which representatives of ranching, public utilities, manufacturing, and other industrial lines testified the bill, if enacted, would increase franchise taxes paid by corporations from $1,500,000 to $12,000,000 annually.

EDITORS MEET

More than 100 Texas Editors came to Austin at the weekend for the midwinter session of the Texas Press association, heard legislative Chairman Sam Brasell of Clarendon urge support for bills requiring publication in newspapers of certain legal notices now posted on the courthouse door, and of periodic financial statements by governmental bodies. They heard Lowry Martin of Corsicana, report on the questionnaire sent out to ascertain sentiment on Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul's plan to appropriate $500,000 a year for advertising Texas, and listened to Woodul outline the plan which calls for constitutional authorization. The editors adopted a resolution opposing a pending house bill which would prohibit public utilities from selling electric and gas appliances. They were guests of Aus in Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon, and of President Benedict at Texas university at an evening banquet.

At The First Baptist Church

THERE IS ALWAYS WORSHIP—FELLOWSHIP—SERVICE

By what rule are you measuring the usefulness of your life? Behind what excuse are you hiding to justify your uselessness to your church? Would you consider a man who did not go home regularly the right sort of a husband or father? Would you believe that a business would prosper without regular and faithful attention? Would your child make the best grades and reach the highest degree of efficiency in school by attending classes only occasionally? Apply rigid rules regulating righteous living to your life and see if they would not require a little more regularity in the matter of worship. No church can accomplish its highest end in any community nor for the sake of humanity, nor for the glory of God whose members are not regular, loyal, faithful attendants upon the services. The great promise in God's Word is pronounced on those who "For-sake not the assembling of themselves together." Every Christian heart should leap with joy as did David's when he said, "I was glad when they said unto me, 'let us go into the house of the Lord.'" Delight yourself with the privilege of worshipping in your church next Lord's Day.

Regular services at the Baptist Church morning and evening. We are happy to believe that you will be blessed by coming. You are most heartily invited.

J. Parry King, pastor.

Clean Sportsman Say Pals Of S. S. Davis

S. S. "Shake" Davis, victim of a fatal highway accident here January 28, was a clean sport as ever played on any team, was the comment made recently by several men of this city who played baseball with Davis during his college days in Goodnight, and in Clarendon and war days in France.

T. M. Shaver, who played for many years on teams with Davis, remarked that Mr. Davis never forgot his idea of clean sportsmanship and fair play which he exercised in college, in his daily life and in business dealings. "Shake" was always ready to give in if controversy arose to settle a matter fairly and squarely; on every team he was the peacemaker and never allowed any discord on a team that he played with. There were no "after the game rows" on teams Shake played on," Mr. Shaver said.

Among those from Clarendon who played baseball, either college, town, or professional, with Davis were Fred Buntin, D. Baker,

Agent Assists In Killing 600 Birds

H. M. Breedlove with a crew of men last week killed six hundred crows on the Jenkins farm. Armed with shotguns, the crew went to the farm after nightfall and made the kill.

Although six hundred were killed the two nights Breedlove and the men hunted, it did not result in thinning out the birds. However, thousands are migrating daily from this territory where within little more than a month sizeable damage has been done to grain crops. Accompanying Mr. Breedlove on the crow killing were Olin Bain, Biol Taylor, Chas. Lowry, Judge S. W. Lowe, G. W. Kennedy, Bert Smith, C. C. Huffman, and Claude Moore.

Bill Cooke, Roger Woodard, Lowry Adams, Sam Byer, Earl Adams, and T. M. Shaver.

Mr. Davis played baseball throughout Texas, Oklahoma and parts of New Mexico.

FATHERS FORM P.-T. A. UNIT

PHILLIPS GENTRY HEADS NEW ORGANIZATION OF SCHOOL FATHERS.

Phillips Gentry was elected president of the father's unit of the Parent-Teacher Association at an organization meeting Thursday evening in the Women's Club rooms.

Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, president of the Sims Parent-Teacher Association, called together fathers of the school children Thursday to perfect an organization in keeping with a state-wide program.

Allen Bryan was chosen secretary and Rayburn Smith treasurer of the association, which was formed to create a more lasting interest of fathers in school affairs and develop a unit of understanding among the fathers of school children. The group will meet each night of the month's second Thursday.

A union singing was held and a group of men were selected to represent the Clarendon P.-T.A. in a half hour vocal broadcast over station KGNC at Amarillo, February 12. Mrs. Jenkins led the singing and accompaniment was played by Bobby Leathers.

Radio Contest Is Conducted At A.C.C.

A new wrinkle in American college forensics—a radio speech contest over a commercial station judged by designated radio listeners will be included in the fifth annual Abilene Christian College Speech Tournament Feb. 5 and 6 at Abilene.

Debate coach Don H. Morris of A. C. C. and Gene Heard, program director of station KRBC have announced that the radio feature of the tournament will be open to all teams in the event. Each school may have two contestants in the preliminaries, which will be heard over the public address system in Sewell auditorium, and the finals of the contest will be at the banquet for all contestants Friday evening Feb. 5. Speeches in this contest must be read from original manuscript and are limited to exactly four minutes—a variation of five seconds disqualifying the speaker.

One hundred schools in Texas and neighboring states have been invited to attend the tournament. Team trophies will be awarded to winners in debate, oratory, extempore speaking, radio-speaking, and men's and women's poetry reading, besides individual medals to first and second place winners in each final contest. The poetry-reading contests are new in this tournament also.

KENNETH KERBOW MOVING TO VEGA

Kenneth Kerbow, who has been superintendent of the local Highway office in the Goldston Building since Resident Engineer G. K. Reading was transferred to Vega, will leave Monday to work in the Vega Department.

Mr. Gross of Canadian will move to Clarendon to work in the local office.

Mrs. Kerbow and little daughter will accompany Mr. Kerbow to Vega to make their home.

County Officials Backing New Move

Sheriff Guy Pierce is in Austin today where together with sheriffs from every section of Texas, he is urging the passage of a bill asking a four year term of office for all state representatives, district, county and precinct officials.

The bill, being endorsed by the Sheriff's Association of Texas and various other county officials and their associations, if passed will step up the efficiency of officers twenty-five to fifty percent as officers can tend to their duties instead of running for office every other year, Donley County officials said. Too, they continued, a big tax saving would be netted tax payers.

All officials of Donley County signed a letter directed to Representative Eugene Worley and Clint Small urging passage of the bill. Sheriff Pierce went to Austin upon receipt of a telegram urging his attendance.

Sheriff Pat Allen of Wichita County is Chairman of the legislative committee representing the Sheriff's Association.

Sheriff Warns Boys Shooting .22 Rifles

Sheriff Guy Pierce issued a warning this week against using a .22 rifle within the city limits. Monday, a window pane in the Ben Andis home was broken when someone shot a .22 rifle within the city limits and the bullet passed through the window.

The danger in shooting these rifles in town, Sheriff Pierce said is that the bullets sometimes go as far as one-half or one mile, and thereby lives are endangered.

Unless parents prohibit the children using a rifle in town, an ordinance will have to be enacted, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett "Rusty" Clark and little daughter, Kay, of Vernon spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Lottie Lane.

PICKING UP OLD IRON COMES UNDER THEFT

People who pick up plow tools, and iron pieces for junk, unless they do so on their own property, are committing theft, Sheriff Pierce said. The price of junk has advanced and many cases have been reported to local officers.

If junk is wanted, ask the owner of the property, he instructed.
