Legionnaires Will Take City Tonight

LOCAL LEGION DISTRICT HOST

R. W. Moore, Post Commander, assisted by Ralph Andis, have prepared the entertainment and selected Mrs. Guy Clay, president of the Eighteenth District Legion Auxiliary from Wellington, and L. L. Roberts, district committee-man from Borger, to speak.

FIRE DESTROYS ASHTOLA SCHOOL

LOSS ESTIMATED $13,000; INSURANCE TOTALS $9,000; WILL REBUILD SOON.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the two-story brick school building in the Ashtola community early Saturday morning causing an estimated loss of $13,000. The building was in solid flames when discovered at 6 a. m. and the Clarendon Fire Department was summoned too late to extinguish the blaze.

Books, equipment and files in the building were lost, with the exception of one piano which was brought from the blazing building. Through the ingenuity of the school faculty and trustees, the large student body at Ashtola resumed their studies this week in a makeshift manner in the school teacherage, vacated by the teachers in order that the students might finish the two remaining months of this school term.

The origin of the fire is debatable. No fire had been in the school stoves since early Tuesday morning. There was an electrical storm, but Ashtola citizens residing near the school stated they did not hear any crash, as if lightning had struck the school building.

A community meeting had been called this week and Ashtola citizens will be given the opportunity of expressing their wishes in rebuilding the school. A total of $9,000.00 in fire insurance was carried on the building.

Together with funds to be received from the insurance, the Ashtola Board of Trustees is working to secure a legislative appropriation to rebuild the school early in the summer months.

Aside from the loss of the building, teachers lost valuable papers. One teacher, who had spent eight years collecting teaching material, costly room equipment, and books, now retains only a small printing set, which she had at her home. Ashtola teachers are Eugene Estlack, Ralph Stewart and Mattie Rhodes.

Donley Included In Feed Loan Increase

PORTER EXPLAINS FARMING PROJECT

C. OF C. CAMPAIGNING FOR BETTER FARMING AND RURAL CONDITIONS.

J. R. Porter, head of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee, recently submitted a series of agricultural projects to the board of directors and met hearty approval on plans which will encourage long residence, soil conservation, and improvement on Donley County farm lands. ### MEMPHIS GROUP IS ON LIONS PROGRAM

SUPT. DAVIS OF MEMPHIS SCHOOLS DELIVERS ADDRESS—GLEE CLUB SINGS

A program of unusual merit was enjoyed Tuesday by the Clarendon Lions Club when a group from Memphis appeared, headed by Supt. W. C. Davis of the Memphis schools.

Supt. Davis, a well-known civic worker of the Panhandle, delivered a brief but pungent address on "Powerful Forces, Within and Without", showing in a changing world that strong forces elevate some communities while at the same time it reduces others; likewise in men's character and financial status, some grow great while others sink to low levels. His argument was that a group such as the Clarendon Lions Club, or any other civic body of like numbers and ability, may be the force within that will offset and conquer the forces without that might shut off the growth and development of the home town, and instead, build and progress to levels beyond what might appear possible.

Mr. Davis presented Mrs. McNeely, head of the public school music division at Memphis, who in turn presented a boys glee club, accompanying them in a group of Texas, Western and folk songs, much applauded by the Lions.

Program Chairman Drennan complimented Supt. Davis and his group for the high merit of the program and invited them to come again.

DR. BARCUS IS LEADING REVIVAL

PRE-EASTER SERVICES UNDER DIRECTION OF DR. BARCUS WELL ATTENDED.

The pre-Easter revival services opened Sunday at the First Methodist Church to continue until Easter Sunday morning. Doctor T. S. Barcus, presiding elder, has been bringing very splendid messages twice daily to the delight and inspiration of the congregations attending.

He has challenged the people of the church to live up to their Christian privileges and opportunities of this day, setting forth the idea that the Christian religion is not a cheap and meaningless thing, but the most glorious of man's opportunities for which he must be willing to pay the price of complete consecration.

It is evident that in these services the standard will not be lowered but that the gospel is to be presented to the people on the New Testament basis and according to the teachings of Jesus.

The pastor and his workers extend a cordial invitation to all the people of the community to take advantage of the services, which will be held at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. each day except Saturdays until Easter Sunday.

Mrs. J. W. Williamson and son, Gordon, former Clarendon residents, and now of Amarillo spent last week-end at Antro Hotel with her daughter, Mrs. B. C. Antrobus.

CROP OUTLOOK GOOD IN 1937

DONLEY RECEIVES MORE RAINFALL THIS YEAR THAN IN MANY PAST.

Prospects for a bumper crop this year have risen since recent rainfall totalled more than has been received at this time in several years. During the first half of March .65 of an inch of moisture with a small amount of snow in addition to the rainfall has been received.

Although several days have been blustery this month, wheat farmers report that the wheat has not blown out and soil erosion has been less than usual. Throughout the county, farmers have started listing land with their hopes high for the best crop year in seven years.

Last year rainfall totalled .18 inches during the entire month of March with .56 of an inch being received in January. January moisture measured .40 of an inch this year.

Unusual Beauty and Dramatic Appeal Adorns Easter Cantata

"THE KING ETHERNAL", TO BE PRESENTED HERE EASTER SUNDAY EVENING BY METHODIST CHOR—COUNTY-WIDE INVITATION WITH BALCONIES OPEN IF NEEDED.

Easter Sunday evening at 7:30, at the Methodist Church, the annual Easter Cantata will be presented by the Methodist Choir, augmented by several invited singers of Clarendon. Dr. Ira B. Wilson's immortal "The King Eternal" is the selected work to be presented this year, and the choir confidently expects the audience to thrill over its tuneful setting of the Easter story, even as they have fallen under its melodic spell.

The work begins with a bold pronouncement of "Thus saith the Lord, behold, I will do marvels"; by the bass section, followed by the moving chorus "Great and Marvelous" Then, picking up the events that led from Jesus' labors to Jerusalem for the betrayal, suffering, death and resurrection, the touching melodies of the "thorny path he knew" is followed by the insincere "Hosanna's" of the multitudes, the observance of the paschal feast, Gethsemane, Crucifixion, glorious Resurrection, and the triumphal Adoration of the finale.

Soloists for the work are: Messdames W. G. Word, Landreth, McMurtry, Howze and Wilkerson; Rev. E. D. Landreth. Those taking part in duets are Misses Alma Averitt, Louise Smith; Messrs. Clyde Hudson, Sam M. Braswell.

Two Jailed On Swindle Charges

Gordon Camper and Ernest Bales were arrested and brought to Clarendon, where they were charged with giving a hot check to the Palmer Motor Company on March 1 for a used car. Camper was arrested in Wichita Falls March 10 and Boles, his accomplice, was arrested March 11 in Childress.

It is alleged the men bought a used car from the local motor company for $100.00 and sold it in Pampa, where they bought another car and borrowed money on it in Childress. Bond for action was set at $1,000 pending each of the grand jury next week.

DONLEY COUNTY'S OPPORTUNITY

With 33 counties in Texas receiving all their general purpose ad valorem taxes remitted, and eight others getting a portion of theirs, it is time Donley County and the other 212 counties of the State aroused themselves to the situation. While the favored few are permitted to use their property taxes for local purposes, the balance of the counties carry eight million dollars of the State tax load.

The Mauritz tax remission measure, House Bill 158, passed by the House and ready to go to the Senate of the Texas Legislature, calls for remission of all general purpose ad valorem taxes to all counties, except where they are previously pledged to meet certain obligations of counties or districts. Here is our opportunity to get a just assignment of our own county money for county purposes, as have the favored counties of the state received in the past. It is heretofore as one of the most constructive pieces of legislation offered in Texas for some time.

This bill, enacted into law will increase the annual income of Donley County by approximately $14,542.65.

That amount will go a long way in taking up the slack in meeting obligations and making further improvements in this county, or may be applied to reduce the property tax rate.

The State of Texas owes but $30,000,000. If the Legislature has the courage to pass tax measures that will make all bear their proper proportions of the cost of government, they can get along without the other $8,000,000 in general purpose ad valorem revenues now receive from the 213 unfavored counties. The counties and other local political units of Texas owe some seven hundred million dollars, 23 times what the State owes.

The Mauritz bill is our opportunity to start using some black ink.

Every citizen of Donley County should this week sit down and write to State Senator Small and to Governor James Allred, and let them know in no uncertain terms that we expect and demand this relief in bearing our tax burdens. Let us have:

"Equal right to all—special privileges to none."

YOUR OWN NAME

Write your name on a piece of paper, and look at it for five minutes.

It is the most precious thing you have. It is connected with all you are and hope to be. Your name carries the life history of hundreds of men and women.

Your father gave it to you. He had in his youth many temptations to soil his name, but he wore it ever, like a white plume over his heart.

One day your father went and offered his name to a beautiful young woman. She blushed and hesitated. Then her father and mother inquired if the name he offered was a good name.

Finally your mother accepted your name, and she did not wear her engagement ring with half the pleasure that she did your name.

Then they gave that name to you. Your name was sung into your baby ears on the music of your mother's

Protection Against Corruption

Many members of Congress hold other offices in the government?

Colonial governors often appointed representatives of the legislature to administrative jobs. In this way, the Executive gained influence over the legislative body. This is contrary to a fundamental principle of our government which makes the different departments of our government separate and independent.

Furthermore our Constitution declares that "No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time." This prevents the Executive from handing out newly created patronage jobs to members of Congress and prevents them from taking positions the pay for which they, as members of Congress, voted to increase. In 1839, Congress increased the pay of the minister to Mexico and before the expiration of his term, one member of the Senate was appointed. But the Attorney General ruled that he was ineligible.

In 1906 Senator Philander C. Knox was asked to become Secretary of State, but as the salaries of Cabinet members had been increased while Knox was a Senator, he was ineligible. To overcome this, the Secretary's salary was reduced by law to the figure where it stood when Knox entered the Senate. This was construed as being within Constitutional regulation.

However, a member of Congress may be appointed to military or naval office but acceptance of such commission automatically vacates his seat in Congress.

In this way, our Constitution provides a safeguard against corruption and intrigue.

THE ANNUAL OPERATION

cradle songs. It was taken to the throne of God on the white prayers and hopes of your sweet mother. It is forever sacred.

Your father looked into your pudgy little face and breathed a sigh of pride as he thought, "Now I have given my name to a human soul."

More than all earthly possessions is an untarnished name. Yet how easily a good name is lost. It is harder to regain than it is to find again the lost gold in sunken ships.

How do you treat your name?

Is the local merchant glad when he sees your name on his account book?

How does the banker feel when you induce him to loan you some money? Will he have to discount your paper, because your name is not worth 100 per cent?

If your pastor of your little church ever wrote a line after the names on the church roll, what would he put after yours?

The Bible says, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."

If you and I in our poorest moments were given the choice of riches to anything else, we might take the riches. But every man who has gotten riches at the sacrifice of his good name has lived to regret it.

You are not done with your name. It will be given another. It may be your own child, or perhaps some man and woman will honor your life and name their child after you.

The Scriptures say that we shall have names in heaven, and talks about the Lamb's Book of Life.

Treat your name as you do soul and inner honor, for what soils one will blast the other.—Selected.

UNFORTUNATE, IF TRUE

There is a rumor from Washington that the word has gone out that no funds will be available for soil and water conservation work in the Panhandle and Dust Bowl, until the mooted Supreme Court enlargement proposal of the President is approved.

To the mind of the average layman of this section, there can be nothing but keen disappointment that so remote a question from the merits of our needs here should be made the pivot upon which action should rest.

Thousands upon thousands will hope that such a situation is not the true state of affairs—one that is most unfortunate, if true.

Broncho Pitches

Why can't the tennis players get together and find a convenient time to play off the eliminations? We understand that there has been a little trouble among some of the girls about when to do it? Why not compromise?

Probably the reason that Joe Phipps could not find the debates in Amarillo last Saturday was that they will not be held until this Saturday.

With whom was Sarah V. McGowen riding on the highway last Sunday on the wrong side of the road?

A mystery to us is why persons who cannot do it at any cost should be required to write lyric poetry. And even worse why anyone wants to be forced to read their struggles.

Why doesn't Helen Louise want to go to Dallas all by her lonesome?

What is the reason for Gerald getting rid of his moustache so soon?

A beauty parlor has been opened at the noon hour by Jeanice Porter and Dorothy Kerbow. No charges except a touseled head.

Broken record: Reba Nichols got to school on time on Monday morning.

If anyone can answer any of the above questions, please submit them for next weeks paper.

OUR BOOK SHELF

"Audubon", as the title suggests, is the biography of Jean Audubon, the bird artist and ornithologist. The book is probably the first but certainly the most interesting ever written about the really important work done by Audubon. The story, although by no means dull, is never very interesting yet it holds the reader's attention. Quite an amount of speculation is made as to who were the ancestors of Audubon. One theory presented is that he was really regent-prince son of Marie

Activities For College Week Are Forwarded; Committees Appointed

The executive committee for college week, March 29-April 4, met with Mr. Kerby last week, and committees were appointed. A schedule for the week was worked out as follows: Monday, rural school programs. Tuesday, exhibits in art, science and commercial departments; program at the Lion's Club. Wednesday, programs at Memphis and other towns; party. Thursday, programs in high school assembly and at junior high school; banquet. Friday, open house—one act play night, parade, crowning of queen. Sunday, programs at churches.

The committee consists of: Banquet, Dorothy Powell, Jeanette Watson, Anna Moors Swift. Party, Avis Lee McElvany, Beatrice Garmon, Mary Lois Hayter and Martha Thompson. Publicity, Wilfred Hott, Lowell LaFon, Allen Patman, Eugenia Noland. Publicity in Memphis, Red Gwill, Ed Smith, Marie McQueen. Church programs, Sarah Hendricks, Anna Moores Swift, Bobby Leathers. Rural programs, Sarah V. McGowen, Lu McClellan, Nell Cook. Election of college queen, Jimmy Bourland, Jack Baldwin, Troy Acord, Badges and programs, Dorothy McCormack, Eloise Hill. Art exhibit: Beatrice Hardin, Dora Lucille Piercy. Science exhibit, Lipwood Betts, J. W. Slover, Eloise Hill, Randall Acord. Parade, Wesley Powell.

Antoinette and King Louis XVI, who was smuggled to Africa before the revolution; another is that he was the son of a Florida adventurer.

The story concerns Audubon's journeys through the then vast and partly unexplored area of the United States to find strange birds and finally of his great struggle to publish his "plates". It is gratifying to know that he succeeded. The book, a beautiful blue edition, contains copies of some of these plates which are very lovely. Constance Bourke, the author, is famous for her knowledge of the early West and her biographies of Western characters. In "Audubon" she gives a clear picture of pioneer life in the eighteenth century.

I. Mellinger spent the week-end in Merkel visiting with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Huffman visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hefner in Amarillo Tuesday.

Sigma Delta Chi Has Meeting Thur.

Allen Patman presided at the Sigma Delta Chi meeting held Thursday night, March 11, at 7:30 o'clock.

After a report by the secretary, Mr. Stults discussed the State Academy of Science, which the club has been invited to join. The social committee gave a report. Linwood Betts explained, by diagram and discussion, the working of the geysers set used in the physics lecture room. "How Much Poison Can We Eat?" was the subject of a talk by Randall Acord.

The club members voted on an amendment reducing absence fines to ten cents in cases of illness. This amendment will be added to the constitution.

CO-ED CHATTER

Brrr and the north winds blow! after a nice warm holiday there's Virginia Cluck all huddled up in chemistry. And Miss Blair looking out of her igloo to see if it is snowing in the hall which reminds us of something we've wondered about. If an Eskimo had a philosophy, what would it be?

Wedding bells sound on the campus for Mary Frances Dewey. Best wishes and—have there been some wedding bells we haven't heard?

Billie Latson has the mumps and according to those who have seen him he's a pretty looking person.

The story told about Randall Acord is that if his head were cut open it would reveal hundreds of little chargers and Margaret. Cousin Troy dreamed the other night that Randall was about to be electrocuted. When seated in the chair, Randall was asked if there was anything he'd like to say. "Well," says Randall, "There's just one question I'd like to ask. Is this thing run by a wind charger?"

Billie Patman, who never has been kissed, carries a gun for defense against girls with ideas. Shoot 'em up, Bill, and save your honor.

Avis Lee McElvany just doesn't know her own strength. She was tenderly smoothing a favorite handkerchief the other day and tore it in half.

Among the smart spring clothes is Mrs. Powell's brown print splashed with gray green. Jimmy Lee Cole, getting excited over women's rights, swallowed her gum.

PRACTICAL HOME ECONOMICS COOKERY

Denton, Mar. 10.—A life that is ideally managed never has a cold. In order never to contract a cold, however, one must have a great deal of foresight, a great deal of determination and a great deal of time to give to one's self.

The best preventative measure known is to keep one's general health as good as possible. The common cold causes more illness, more days lost from work and school than any other disease. You can help avoid this by a few simple rules of hygiene. One must eat regularly and properly, drink sufficient water to flush the kidneys, sleep as much as one needs and at regular times, pay full attention to body elimination, work within the limits of one's strength, avoid people with a cold, harden the body by exercising daily, wearing proper clothes, and avoiding dry over-heated rooms. Colds thrive on poor ventilation, dust, and fatigue.

Colds oftentimes run through the family due to the use of a family towel, wash cloth, and improper disposal of handkerchiefs. The cold sufferer often eats heavily, thinking he must feed a cold. Overeating or eating beyond appetite is now considered more dangerous than starvation, and it necessarily upsets a sluggish digestion, retarded by a cold.

FIG AND GINGER PUDDING: ½ lb. crystallized ginger, 1½ lb. figs, 2 c. sugar, 5 c. water, ¼ t. cold water whipped cream. Dissolve the sugar in the water, cut the crystallized ginger and figs to tiny pieces. Combine and add powdered ginger. Place all in a double boiler and simmer slowly all day. The entire mass must form a soft pulp so that the ingredients will scarcely be recognized. Soften the gelatine in cold water and stir into the mixture while hot. Turn into molds, serve ice cold with whipped cream.

BRAN WAFFLES: 1 c. bran, ¾ c. flour, ½ t. salt, 3 t. baking powder, 1 c. milk, 2 eggs, 1 T.

Eliminations Are Held In C.H.S. For Interscholastic League Work

Most of the eliminations which will determine who shall represent Clarendon high school in the Interscholastic League meet on March 26-27 were held this week.

In spelling Miss Harris announces that only four remain in the run-off. The two winners will be selected from the four consisting of Inetha Collier, Rebecca Welch, Mary Katharine Hardin and Jane Williams.

Mrs. Goodner reports the outcome of the eliminations in essay writing. Out of the twenty entrants the following were winners: First, Jeanne McDonald; second, Jane Kerbow; third, Maxine Ellis; fourth, Phoebe Ann Burntin. The first place winner will represent C.H.S. in the county meet.

Miss Howran, who is in charge of declamations, submits the following as entrants in this literary event: Senior girls, Margaret Hill, Jessie Mae Lynch, Rebecca Eanes, Wilda Faye Gibbs, Marion McCormack, Ethelyn Drennan, and Juanita Estes; senior boys, Bill Peden. Eliminations in this event will be held along with the eliminations in the junior and sub-junior events which will be held at junior high the latter part of this week.

Mr. Kerby reports that the winners in typing will be determined by the speed tests being taken by those students entering this event. The two with the highest averages on these tests will be the winners. Those now typing are: Ruth Cornell, Vera Barker, Rebecca Welch, Inetha Collier, Imogene Indsley, Claudine Pearson, Pauline O'Neal, Royce Lummus, Lillie Jewel Barnes, Joan Thompson, Ruby Tucker, Jean Piercy, James Harry Welch, Madalyn Taylor, Marie Adams and Laura Bell Birchfield.

In the track and field events, boys now reporting under Coach Jones are Ralph Grady, Truett Holtclaw, Jessie Cornell, Jelley McGowen, Emmitt McClenry, Lead Jay, Otis Rolls, Jimmie Watters, Beaty Hillman, H. L. Lane and Brame.

At this writing, the tennis eliminations are not complete. Mr. Allison says the finals will be played by the end of the week; the winners will be announced in next week's Broncho Range.

shortening. Mix bran, flour, salt and baking powder. Add the milk gradually, then the eggs, beaten until very light, and the melted shortening. Be sure both sides of the waffle iron are hot.

RICE CROQUETTES: Wash rice and add it to water with salt, cover and steam until rice has absorbed water. Then add milk, stir lightly with a fork, cover, and steam until rice is soft. Remove from fire and add yolk and butter. Spread out to cool. Shape in balls; roll in crumbs, then dip in egg, and again in crumbs, fry in deep fat, and drain. This is a good way to use rice that has been left over from some other meal.

NUT AND SWEET POTATO CROQUETTES: 2 cups hot riced potatoes, ¼ c. cream or milk, ½ T. salt, ¼ T. salt, ¼ T. pepper, sprinkle of cayenne, yolk of one egg, 1-3 c. chopped nut-meats. Mix all ingredients until light. Shape as for croquettes. Roll in bread crumbs, then in egg that has been diluted with water, and in bread crumbs again. Fry in deep fat until brown. Drain on brown paper and serve hot.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bromley of Sweetwater, formerly of Clarendon, were here Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Bromley sold their home here in West Clarendon to Mr. and Mrs. McHenry Lane. Mr. Bromley is in the retail Phillips business in Sweetwater, where Henry Tombs, formerly of this city, is distributor for Phillips.

PERSONALITIES

The persons described last week were Letha Warren and Gene Butler. The names of the persons described this week will appear in this column next week.

The first person is a young lady who is a senior in high school. She has light brown hair and brown eyes. She has a friendly disposition and an interesting personality. She is very popular and liked by everyone. She was a member of the C.H.S. pep squad and basketball team. She is, also, an enthusiastic tennis fan. Your guess.....

The second is a senior boy. He is a very handsome brunette with an attractive "Ipana" smile of beauty. Because he is gifted with an attractive personality, he is very popular. He is five feet, nine inches in height and weighs 160 pounds. He was a member of the '34-'35 and '36-'37 football squad: Your guess.....

Band News

There were only fifteen members at band practice Monday as a result of the bad weather and the mumps epidemic. The trip to Amarillo, scheduled for Thursday, March 18, had to be postponed on this account.

Mr. Robbins announced the new uniforms ordered on March 7 would arrive on March 28. Several concerts will be played after the arrival of these new uniforms. The band is also to lead the parade during college week.

"Service Economy" books are still on sale. This is your last chance, however, to get a bargain for the books will be off sale in the very near future.

The band members will sell candy, gum, sandwiches, hamburgers, cold drinks, etc., at the Interscholastic League meet here on March 26 and 27. These items will also be sold at the indoor baseball tournament postponed to the Saturday following the track meet.

Chas. Parke Dies Monday In Wichita

Charles John Parke, 67, died Monday morning at 8:45 in a Wichita hospital, where he had been confined since leaving Clarendon in 1928. Parke came to Clarendon in 1889 from Roscommon, Ireland, to work on the JA ranch.

When the young Irishman started work on the JA, he was a cowboy and was later promoted to the office of general manager and bookkeeper for the ranch. Mr. Parke came from a distinguished Irish family. A brother, Dr. W. H. Parke was staff physician to the Stanley expedition into the interior of British Africa and a memorial shaft has been raised in Dublin commemorating another brother, Major T. H. Parke, who distinguished himself in World War service.

As a youth, Mr. Parke was lured to this country by magic lantern slides which depicted the wide, rolling plains of Texas and the large herds of cattle. Soon after coming to this country and beginning work on the JA, Mr. Parke wrote his family telling of the large tracts of land, the thousands of head of cattle owned by individuals, and according to the anecdote, his mother replied, "Charlie, you had better be careful in your statements or you will be as big a liar as your uncle".

Mr. Parke won the love and esteem of everyone during his years in Clarendon and before he became ill in 1928, he acquired ranch holdings of his own and at middle age was comparatively secure financially, only to lose his holdings shortly before he became ill. Mr. Parke loved Texas and the JA ranch and although he corresponded with his family and kept constantly in touch with them, never once did he return to his native Ireland.

The only legacy of Charles John Parke at the time of his death was a well-worn prayer book which he had given Jerome Stocking shortly before he was taken to Wichita. Mr. Parke requested that Jerome send the prayer book to his favorite sister, Mrs. Emily Malley in Dublin, after his death. "To My Dear Youngest Son, from Henrietta Park, Clogier House, Drumfield, Roscommon, Ireland," October 4, 1890, was written on the fly leaf of the book. Mr. Stocking dispatched the book to Mrs. Malley this week.

The body is being held in Wichita pending advice from local friends or relatives in Ireland as to burial plans. Mr. Stocking supplied a Wichita mortuary with the address of Mrs. Malley this morning by wire in order that a cable might be sent advising her of her brother's death. Mr. Parke had no relatives in the United States.

In March Fancy Turns To Cars

Webster defines a hobby as a "favorite pursuit or object" and under that classification buying license plates for automobiles seems to be the current hobby for Clarendonites.

Looking through the records at the office of Tax Collector Joe Bownds, a long list of "request numbers" may be found. Many, who have applied to Collector Bownds for a specific number have obtained this number for years, while Sheriff Guy Pierce thought it would be novel to obtain his telephone number on his license plate. Some attach special significance to the numbers, declaring certain numerals have been declared lucky in their horoscope. Others, however, have chosen numbers easy to remember, among which group appears the name of Glenn Allison, who being a professor, will never be so absent-minded as to forget his license number because he has spoken for 323,222. Much thought has been devoted to the choosing of these license numbers.

Glance through the list and see how many chose their telephone numbers, how many chose the last three numerals the same, and how many of the last two numerals on the license add up to give the total of the fourth number of vice versa: C. T. McMurtry, 242-111; Ben Andis, 323,131; Carl Pitman, 323,800; Glenn Allison, 323-222; Joe Bownds, 323,232; Jack Hayes, 323,233; Walker Lane, 323,234; Guy Wright, 323,235; Mrs. W. H. Cook, 323,286; Otto Beach, 323,300; P. B. Gentry, 323-323; R. Y. King, 323,325; W. C. Stewart, 323,333; H. C. Brumley, 323,444; Wesley Knorpp, 323,514; E. Bryson, 323,555; G. Heath, 323,666; Roy Jewell, 323,777; Lloyd Johnson, 323,936; F. L. Goldston, 323,888; W. A. Bailey, 323,999; J. C. Gerner, 324,000; P. B. Gentry, 324,324, and George Norwood, 323,606.

Former Hedley Citizen Is Dead

The body lay in state at Boxwell Bros. Chapel in Amarillo until one o'clock Tuesday afternoon and was brought to Hedley for burial by Buntin Funeral Home.

ERATH COUNTY PIONEER DIES IN STEPHENVILLE

Stephenville, Mar. 15.—John W. Frey, 59, president of the Farmers First National Bank of Stephenville, died at his home Saturday after several months illness. He was a pioneer of Erath County and had much to do with the growth of Stephenville. He was elected county clerk in 1916 serving two terms. Surviving are three sons, Joe B and Henry of Stephenville and Frank of Canyon. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon.

Trailer House Is Bought by Smith

Joining the unnumbered trailer house owners of the United States, Bert Smith last week purchased a covered wagon trailer house from Homer McElvany, local agent.

Mr. Smith, being district manager of the Smith Bros. properties will use the complete and modern house on wheels to spend his summer fishing and stated it might come in handy in traveling between Clarendon, McLean, Midland and near Waco, where Smith Bros. have gas, oil and gas wells and oil refineries.

One of the many to inspect the new trailer house this week was W. B. Haile, who gazed pensively at the modern covered wagon and remarked, "It's not at all like the one in which I came from Collingsworth County to Hutchinson County. It took us five days to travel that distance in February, 1900, and before we reached our sod shanty in Hutchinson County, a blizzard overtook us. The first day we got from Wellington to Clarendon, the second past Ashtola, the third to Claude, the fourth to Panhandle and the fifth to Hutchinson. Yes, sir believes Mr. Haile, styles have changed even in covered wagons."

Mrs. A. T. Cole is visiting this week in Tucumcari, New Mexico with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Cole.

Mrs. O. C. Watson, Jr., of Lubbock visited friends here yesterday.

Seated Tea At Club Rooms Wednesday Given by Methodist Missionary Circle

Ninety members of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church, and church members enjoyed a seated tea and program, "An Afternoon in Africa", yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club rooms. The tea was given after the missionary circle completed a study of the African mission book, "Congo Crosses."

The guests were received by Mrs. Sam M. Braswell, missionary society president, and circle chairmen, Mrs. Chas. Lowry, Mrs. Lester Schull and Mrs. Homer Bones.

Mrs. Thos. S. Barcus was in charge of the program which was opened with Mrs. E. D. Landreth leading the singing of four negro spirituals, following which Mrs. C. A. Burton told an African story, "Return of Our John", which came direct from Africa and has never been published in the United States. In the dialect of Belgian Congo, Mrs. Landreth and Mrs. Braswell sang the "Ham-mock Song". For the unusual rendition Mrs. Landreth and Mrs. Braswell wore their hair in the style worn by Congo maidens. The coiffure followed by Mrs. Braswell requires sixty hours to be completed in the Belgian Congo.

"Through the Dark" was the title of an interesting playlette directed by Mrs. Elba Ballew. The scene was erected to represent a native hut in the jungle. Outside a tent, ferns, branches and palms made the scene realistic and in the background tomtoms could be heard.

Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Barcus Antobus were blacked and dressed to represent a native woman and a native son of Africa. The role of the American physician was played by Mrs. Elba Ballew and Mrs. R. Y. King was the nurse.

During the social hour, guests were invited to inspect a large assortment of African curios, which are from the collection of Jerome Stocking.

"Banana Sweet", an African dish composed of bananas, oranges, coconut and grapejuice, was served together with stuffed dates and coffee. Plate favors were miniature green elephants and the St. Patrick's theme was used in other appointments.

Mrs. Rayburn Smith was in charge of the refreshment committee.

In addition to the large number of Clarendon women present, two out-of-town visitors, Mrs. C. A. Cryer, district secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society and Mrs. Rickey of McLean, were present.

The entertaining suite was lovely with floral decorations in keeping with the Easter color scheme. Large bouquets of violets and jonquils were used.

Mrs. Bagby, who opens the museum each Monday afternoon, gave interesting talk on the beginning and growth of the museum, outlining and discussing many of the valuable articles recently added to the collections.

Mrs. Walter Taylor supplemented Mrs. Bagby's talk with a brief history and discussion of other museums in Texas. A dainty salad course was served to Mesdames L. E. Thompson, Loyd Benson, George McClesky, J. M. Hill, Frank Heath, E. M. Ozier and Joe Cluck, guests and to Mesdames L. S. Bagby, T. S. Barcus, R. L. Bigger, U. J. Boston, J. W. Evans, Ralph Kerbow, W. ## At The First Baptist Church

THERE IS ALWAYS WORSHIP—FELLOWSHIP—SERVICE

We have looked forward to the coming of the district convention to our church as an epochal occasion. We will not only have some of the best Sunday School and B.T.U. talent in District 10, with us, we will have some of the best preachers and workers in the State leading and preaching in an effort to help us as well as the entire district which covers five associations.

I am expressing the hope that our church shall realize the opportunity that is ours in these two days, March 24 and 25, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, and take advantage of every hour of the sessions of this meeting. Surely you will not be too busy to come, nor will you be inclined to deprive yourself of the benefits derived from such gatherings.

Many of the visitors will remain over night. We greatly appreciate the response of the entire community, as well as the membership of the Baptist Church, in offering their homes to these messengers and workers. Bed and breakfast is to be given for only one night, dinner and supper being served at the hotels and cafes.

The public is cordially invited to all of the sessions of this convention. If you are interested in young people's work, in any of the grades and ages, the work of financing your church, or if you enjoy good preaching, we believe you will enjoy and be helped by attending these services.

District Missionary J. C. McKenzie will preach at the Baptist Church Sunday evening at 7:45. Otherwise the services will be as usual. J. Perry King, Pastor.

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD FOR PWC

FEDERAL FUNDS MAY BE GRANTED SOON FOR PWC; SAY DIRECTORS.

Judge J. R. Porter, one of the directors of the Panhandle Water Conservation program attended a directors' meeting in Amarillo Tuesday and reports that the prospects for federal aid are good.

Director of the Panhandle Water Conservation Association decided Tuesday to send Carl Hinton back to Washington and to continue their drive for federal funds for soil and water conservation in the Plains region.

A resolution authorizing Hinton to go to Austin this week to work in behalf of the proposed Panhandle authority bill introduced by Senator Clint C. Small was also approved. Hinton left for Austin Tuesday night.

The Panhandle Water Conservation Association wired Congressman Marvin Jones Tuesday night urging immediate appropriation of $2,000,000 for emergency listing work in the Southern Great Plains wind erosion area.

Jones has already introduced a bill asking for the appropriation. The appropriation was asked recently by the Southern Great Plains Advisory Committee on Land Use Practices, which met here.

Director of the association authorized the telegram Tuesday afternoon hoping that it would add impetus to the movement to secure the appropriation.

Hinton, John McCarty, County Judge E. C. Fisher of Canadian and Van Stewart of Perryton reported on progress of recent work in Washington on behalf of the association.

"At this stage of the game the outlook for help is the best this region has ever had," Hinton said.

He told of conferences with President Roosevelt in which the chief executive had evidenced much interest in the Plains problem and declared Congressman Marvin Jones "already had sold the program to the President."

President Roosevelt's plans for nationwide water and soil conservation program coincide with those of the association, he said, and the President has told Texas he realizes the Plains territory will have to have "separate attention," Hinton said.

"Continued plugging will get this program," he said "We want to stay at it until we not only get our program approved by Congress and the President but until we get the money definitely earmarked for us."

Judge Fisher urged members of the committee to go to Washington "when Hinton calls for you" to help secure approval of the program. Hinton said later he is going to call upon the Panhandle "at the right time, probably between June 1 and June 15, to 'help swing final approval' of the program."

Mr. Stewart praised work already done on behalf of the program and predicted "we are going to get what we're after."

"We're on the right track," said McCarty. "We've got the right kind of program and we have the sympathetic ear of the President."

The directorate authorized McCarty, president of the association, and Hinton to issue a call for the second quarterly payment from counties on the $10,000 budget. Hinton presented a statement showing approximately $1,100 of the $1,700 already collected has been spent.

Hinton was directed to contact counties which have not yet contributed to the budget to determine whether they are "in on the program."

With his clothes ablaze, he fled across the road into the Word ranch pasture where he was overtaken by Joe Woods of Brice, who managed to beat out the flames. Farm Cash Income From Milk Makes New Five-Year High

FARMERS' cash income from the nation's milk production totaled $1,417,000,000 for 1936, an increase of $128,000,000, or 9.9 per cent over the 1935 total, according to the Milk Industry Foundation.

Farm milk income has increased nearly 50 per cent since the depression low. Cash milk income for December 1936 of $113,000,000 was 91.5 per cent of the 1924-29 average compared with the 78.5 index figure for agriculture as a whole.

Since milk production in 1936 is estimated to have increased by 2 per cent to 3 per cent over 1935, the past year's larger cash payments to farmers are chiefly due to higher unit prices paid for milk. Increasing consumption of milk in fluid form, for which farmers receive their highest prices per quart, also helped to increase dairy farmers' milk checks.

While supply and demand are in fair adjustment for the nation as a whole, there has been an unusually high production of milk in some sections of the country.

Farmers are evidently feeding their herds well despite high feed prices. This, together with the high percentage of cows being milked, has caused a substantial increase in milk production in most markets.

To aid farm income this increase in production can best be marketed through stimulating consumption of milk in fluid form, as milk used for butter and other products brings the dairy farmer lower prices.

Use of Trench Silo to Save Feed Is Spreading Among Texas Farmers

COLLEGE STATION.—The number of trench silos in Texas increased from 12 in 1930 to more than 8,000 in 1936, Texas A. and M. College extension service announces.

The trench silo practice originated in Denmark, and the King ranch generally credited with the first Texas trench, built one in 1918.

For years the expensive machinery necessary to cut the feed and the belief that trench silos must be of a minimum depth and width out of proportion to the needs of the average farmer, retarded the spread of the trench silo.

Around 1929 McLennan County, under County Agricultural Agent R. S. Miller, was the trench silo center of the State. E. R. Eudaly, then a feed merchant in Waco, became interested and took his hobby with him when he joined the extension services as dairy specialist.

In 1931 Eudaly made a successful demonstration of whole bundles in a trench silo and showed farmers that elaborate machinery and power no longer necessary in filling a silo.

In 1931 an Upshur County 4-H Club boy, in cooperation with his county agricultural agent, dug and filled a trench silo three feet wide, three feet deep and 30 feet long.

The excellent silage from this "toy" trench proved that the trench silo could be made any depth and width desired, convinced farmers that the trench silo was adapted to farms with only a few head of cattle.

By the end of 1935 Eudaly was able to demonstrate that grain sorghum heads and whole ear corn could be kept in trench silos; that immature feed, frost killed feed, and dry feed could be saved through the trench method. During the summer of 1936, Dave Simmons, a dairyman near Waco, successfully preserved seven tons of flood damaged commercial feed through a trench silo.

In 1930 agricultural agents reported a total of 12 trench silos in the State; at the end of 1935 the total was in excess of 4,000.

Near the end of 1936, Eudaly said some 600,000 tons of feed, representing almost $3,000,000 were under ground in more than 8,000 trench silos on Texas farms.

The largest is believed to be a 16,000 ton affair near Eagle Pass; the smallest a one-ton demonstration on the fair ground at Graham, Young County.

Illustrations of the trench silo conserving feed which might otherwise have been wasted; have come to the extension service.

50 acre hogari crop on the farm of Billie Wood, farmer of Montgomery County, was in the field at the time of the first killing frost. Part of the practically worthless feed went into a 50 ton trench silo, and Wood's cattle will have fair feed during the winter.

A 25 acre field of sugar cane near Marshall yielded 3,500 gallons of syrup and the by-products—tops, crushed stalks and leaves—made up 225 tons of silage which R. H. still is feeding out to 197 head of four-year old steers.

A trench silo filled in 1934 with cornfodder by Albert Soefje of the Gruene community in Comal county recently was opened and the feed found in excellent condition. Soefje gives major credit for his dairy cows' excellent production to the high grade silage.

Silage will keep indefinitely in a trench silo. In 1934 drought caused a Jim Wells county farmer to open an eight year old trench and the feed was in prime condition. This factor is exerting a stabilizing effect on the operation of many Texas cattlemen.

Farmers of Donley County took advantage of trench silos in salvaging immature feed whose growth was arrested by last summer's drought. In 1934 this county had only six trenches, but this year it has 72.

Farmers in Kent county whose grain sorghum crop had been cut but not stacked found that it has not been lost during a period of heavy rains. A large number of trench silos, ranging in capacity from five to 1,200 tons, saved the feed for winter months.

New Farm House Is Being Built

Among the many improvements being made in farm homes in the Brice community, is the building of a five room house on the Boyd Dickson location. The Dickson home burned four months ago.

The house which burned was built for Mr. and Mrs. George Dickson thirty-five years ago. The new home is being built like one recently constructed on the Ben Hill farm. Lon Higgins of Amarillo is in charge of construction.

Fronts Of Four Stores Painted

Spring remodeling has started in earnest on the West block of South Main as four stores are repainting and redecorating.

The fronts of the Cagle, the Benson and the Kennedy buildings are being painted. These buildings are occupied by Norwood Pharmacy, Huffman's Home Bakery, Clarendon Radio & Electric Shop and Sanford's Grocery.

The Ben Hill home in East Clarendon has been recently repaired and remodeled.

A.A.A. Conservation Program Has Many Provisions For Drought

Increased protection against possible recurrence of drought this year is to be afforded farmers and consumers by operation of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, H. R. Talley, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, announced this week.

What the 1937 growing season will bring in the way of weather cannot now be determined, but while strips of farm land in the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys have suffered heavily from floods, much larger areas in the Western wheat producing regions of the Great Plains are still hampered by deficiency of subsoil moisture, Mr. Talley said. Serious dust storms have occurred in the "dust bowl" area of the Southwest in the past few days.

Mr. Talley said the farms and the AAA have tried to take advantage of experience in recent years with the two extremes of drought and surplus and have sought to shape up the 1937 program so it will be effective whatever turn the weather may take.

The AAA soil conservation program has one set of effects on production in drought years and an opposite set of effects in bumper years, Mr. Talley pointed out.

In drought years, the program tends to increase the production of total feed supplies because so large a part of these supplies consists of hay and forage whenever the weather is too dry to produce good yields of corn or small grain.

The AAA program therefore has important drought protection value because of the encouragement it gives to planting grass and legume crops. In a good many areas, where small grain or corn yields were close to zero in both the 1934 and 1936 droughts, hay or emergency forage crops yielded feed to help the farmers through.

In time of bumper crops, on the other hand, the program, by encouraging the planting of legumes and grasses instead of soil-depleting crops, tends to hold down to some extent the size of grain surpluses.

Hence the AAA program, Mr. Talley said, encourages diversified farming instead of one-crop farming. In most areas, this kind of farming acts as a stabilizer of supplies, and consequently to a considerable extent also as a stabilizer of prices.

The first fields to be hit hard ley pointed out, are those where when dry weather comes, Mr. Talley the soil is thin, eroded or exhausted by over-cropping. One of the best protections against drought is good rich soil, he said, and therefore its provisions for conserving and restoring the fertility of the soil have important drought protective value.

Mr. Talley said that the plan for a program that would prove workable in event of drought has been carried out in the shaping of detailed provisions. Following is a summary for the different regions which have been worked out to give farmers increased drought protection, and hence also to protect consumers' food supplies:

Southern Region

The Southern Region is made up of the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Texas.

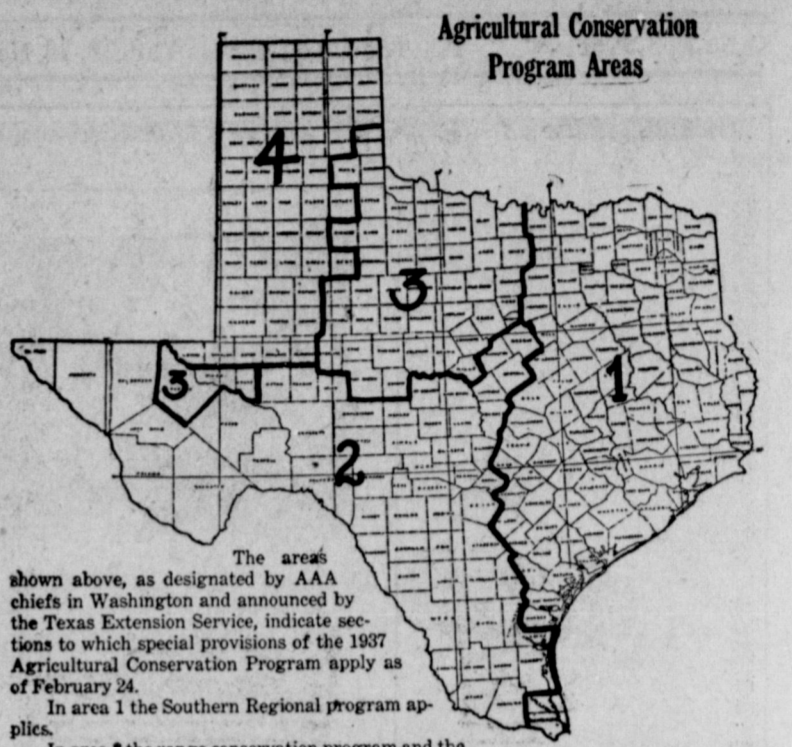

Among the principal commercial crops for which special bases are established in this region are cotton, tobacco and peanuts. Bases for individual farms are established from the normal acreage devoted to these crops. Class I diversion payments may be earned by diverting part of the base acreage.

If a producer co-operates in the 1937 program he is automatically insured against loss of income in the event of drought up to the total amount of his diversion payments.

In the wheat and grain sorghum area of Texas and Oklahoma payments are made for carrying out special practices designed to combat the effects of drought. These practices include contour listing, contour furrowing, strip cropping and re-establishment of native grasses by seeding or sodding. Likewise, in the range tour listing or furrowing, ridging range land, the construction of spreader dams and spreader terraces, the building of ponds and reservoirs are encouraged as a means of alleviating the full effect of drought.

LAVERNE LOTT ON TEXAS UNIVERSITY HONOR ROLL

Austin, Texas, March 17.—A total of 668 students in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Texas made grades during the fall semester entitling them to places on the honor roll of that college. Both quantity and quality of the work done by each student were considered in

The areas shown above, as designated by AAA chiefs in Washington and announced by the Texas Extension Service, indicate sections to which special provisions of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program apply as of February 24.

In area 1 the Southern Regional program applies. In area 2 the range conservation program and the Southern Regional program are both in effect. Area 3 is the wheat and grain sorghum section, and the range conservation program also applies here. Area 4 has been designed as the wind erosion section of the wheat and grain sorghum area and is also included in the range conservation program.

compiling the honor roll. The list just announced by Dean H. T. Parlin, included LaVerne Lott of Clarendon.

"The Big Daylight Store"

They're Glad They're Nuts

In a cuckoo cast from head to toes, in a musical riot where everything goes, ZaSu Pitts (left) James Melton and Patricia Ellis are coming to the Pastime Theatre Sunday and Monday, together with Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Walter Catlett, Nat Pendleton and a host of other film funsters in the Cosmopolitan production "Sing Me a Love Song."

"Sing Me a Love Song," Cosmopolitan's latest musical comedy, which First National will release at the Pastime Theatre Sunday and Monday, has James Melton, Patricia Ellis, Hugh Herbert, ZaSu Pitts, Allen Jenkins and Nat Pendleton in the stellar roles. It is a highly entertaining song and dance fest with three new catchy tunes by the famous Broadway and Hollywood songsmiths, Harry Warren and Al Dubin, one by Jacques Wolfe and two old favorites. But it is not all music by a long shot. There is one of the most entertaining stories the screen has produced, written by Harry Sauber. There are laughs by the car-load, some thrills, and a romance that will gladden every heart. The story concerns a wealthy young man who falls heir to a department store. Knowing nothing about the management of it, he leaves it in the hands of two other men. When he finds out, however, that they are crooked, he enters the store as a clerk to find out what it is all about. He falls in love with a pretty clerk, getting into one scrape after another through his devil-may-care attitude. When he and his girl finally land in jail, he makes his identity known. When his girl leaves him flat because of his flightiness, he wakes up to himself, and takes charge of the business in earnest, thwarting the crooks who are trying to take it away from him.

Melton sings all of the songs, mostly in solo, but one with a male chorus, and one with Miss Pitts, who bursts into melody for the first time in her career. Two numbers are staged and directed by Bobby Connolly, one on the roof of the department store and the other in a Honeymoon Cottage within the store.

Others in the cast include Ann Sheridan, Walter Catlett, Hobart Cavanaugh and Dennis Moore. Raymond Enright directed the picture from the screen play by Sig Herzig and Jerry Wald.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

A few more books on our shelves this week. They are "Oil for the Lamps of China" by Alice Tisdale Hobart; "Dawn of the Morning" by Grace Livingstone Hill; "Fair Tomorrow" by Emilie Loring; "One More Spring" by Robert Nathan; "The Scarab Murder Case" by S. S. Van Dine; "Lost Horizon" by James Hilton, who has immortalized "Mr. Chips" for the little people; "Little People, Little Philippe of Belgium" and "Little Tony of Italy" by Madeline Brandies; "The Bobbsey Twins at Cedar Camp" by Laura Lee Hope; and "Pollyanna of the Orange Blossoms" and "Pollyanna's Jewels" by Harriet Lummis Smith. The last three are replacements, other copies having worn out from much usage.

In addition to these is King Jasper" by Edwin Arlington Robinson. This is a narrative poem written only a short time before the author's death in 1935. It is the story of a king whose lust for gold and power brought his own destruction and of his son who sees his world crumbling about him, and of his love for Zee with her vision of the future. One realizes that the poem is Robinson's medium of expression of his own ideas of this puzzling world, and he never wrote with greater beauty or penetration. The New York Times had this to say of him: "With the death of Edwin Arlington Robinson, America lost not only one of the finest poets of our time, but one who ranked with the great poets of the past. There was nothing in him of the Byronic. So far from exploiting himself as a personality, he shrank from anything printed about him as a person and not for any inducement would he read a line of his verse in public. His first book of verse appeared in 1896, but recognition came to him slowly. When it came, it came in full measure. He was thrice awarded the Pulitzer prize. He was the most widely read serious American poet of our time. More than 75,000 copies were sold of his narrative poem "Tristram." Whatever road the poet may have taken—this man who stood on high and faced the sky—we treasure his l'envoi that after time and place are overthrown, 'God's touch will keep one chord quivering of the translucent music which he heard and sang to his world."

Alexander Woolcott says of James Hilton's "Lost Horizon," "I have gone quietly mad over it. It is one of the most enthralling tales spun in our time and I know few people on whom it would not cast a most potent spell". It is a strange, a different tale, full of adventure and a rare kind of beauty, tense and dramatic. Sinclair Lewis says of it, "It has all the charm of his 'Good bye, Mr. Chips', and considerably more excitement."

Of Robert Nathan's "One More Spring" Isabel Patterson says, "This is a book with a heart—a book for everyone", and Lewis Gannett says, "Quite the loveliest book that has come out of the depression."

Of "Emilie Loring's "Fair Tomorrow" it is said that this romance is as crisp and fragrant as its Maine pines and as intriguing as its incomparable Cape Cod sea and sky and silver sand dunes. At the book award luncheon of the American Booksellers' Association in New York a few days ago, Christopher Morley announced the following winners of the National Book Awards for 1936: The most distinguished biography, "An American Doctor's Odyssey," by Victor Heiser; most distinguished general non-fiction, "The Flowering of New England," by Van Wyck Brooks; the most distinguished novel, "Gone With the Wind," by Margaret Mitchell; the most original book, "The Country Kitchen," by Della T. Lutes; the forgotten book, "I Met a Gypsy" by Norah Lofts. We have only two of these, "Gone With the Wind," and "An American Doctor's Odyssey". Dr. Victor Heiser, author of the latter, is just now making his first trip to South Africa, the first time he has traveled as a private individual in thirty years. He will spend five months going from the Cape to Cairo and studying health problems.

Louis Odamic, whose "Return of the Native" was a best seller, writes from Guatemala that he has decided to stay for several months and finish his new book. He says you can live like a lord there on fifty cents a day!

Edward J. O'Brien visited Boston recently and left with his publishers the completed manuscript of his forthcoming "Best American Short Stories, 1937". The literary world has come to depend on Mr. O'Brien for his selection from year to year. We have a large number of his volumes on our shelves. Syracuse, New York, has placed a bronze tablet to "David Harum" in the public library. Thirty-eight years ago Edward Noyes Westcott wrote the story in Syracuse. The likeness of "David" which appears at the top of the tablet was made by a Syracuse sculptor from the likeness of William H. Crane in the role of David in Crane's most successful play. The plan was worked out by the David Harum committee of the Friends of Reading of Syracuse.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. When was the Grand Masonic Lodge of the Republic of Texas organized, at what place, what lodges constituted its membership and who were the first officers?

A. Representatives from the three lodges at Houston, Nacogdoches and San Augustine met at Houston, Dec. 20, 1837, to organize the Grand Lodge of the Republic, these lodges then belonging to the Louisiana Grand Lodge. Anson Jones, of Houston, was chosen Grand Master; Adolphus Sterne, of Nacogdoches, Deputy Grand Master; Jeff Wright of Houston, Senior Grand Warden; Christopher Dart, of San Augustine, Junior Grand Warden.

Q. When were charters granted by the Grand Masonic Lodge of Texas to the three Texas lodges, and under what names and numbers?

A. Nov. 18, 1838, final organization was completed by issuing charters to Holland Lodge, No. 1, Houston; Milame Lodge, No. 2, Nacogdoches, and McFarland Lodge No. 3 at San Augustine.

Q. When were the first trench silos built in Texas, and have they proved effective?

A. Twelve trench silos built in Texas in 1930, the first to be used. Their effectiveness is shown in the fact that 8,000 were built in 1936. Properly constructed and filled, they preserve silage effectively for about four years.

Q. Can floods be stopped solely by construction of dams and levees?

A. Not unless supplemented by soil conservation, according to opinions of leading engineers, who agree that there can be no satisfactory flood control so long as up-stream soils are left to wash down and fill the river channels, and that flood control must begin with the farms, small streams and rivulets that empty soils into the larger stream.

Q. Is electric power consumption increasing in Texas?

A. There was an increase of 12.6 per cent in 1936 over the previous year, as follows: Commercial production 14.3 per cent, industrial 13.2, residential 10.5, miscellaneous, 9.8. These figures are based on reports of 17 electric power companies that produce the bulk of such power in the state.

Q. Was Jean LaFitte a typical pirate?

A. LaFitte was well educated, spoke several languages, was immaculate in dress, polished in manners, and made many friends. He held letters of marque and reprisal from the government of Venezuela permitting him to prey upon the commerce and shipping of Spain with which Venezuela was at war. He sailed under the flag of Venezuela and by many historians was classed as a "privateer" under protection of that government.

Q. Who was Adolphus Sterne?

A. He was a German Jew, who settled at or near San Augustine in 1826 and was active in the Fredonian rebellion in 1827, at which time he was arrested by Mexican military forces, kept chained for two weeks and sentenced to be shot, but was later pardoned. He served Texas throughout the revolution and after annexation was a member of the Texas legislature. He died in New Orleans in 1852.

Q. How did the present-day, popular rodeo originate?

A. From necessary cattle roping, cowboys began having roping contests on cattle ranches, first between the men on the ranch and then in competition with neighboring ranches. With the advent of county fairs the roping contests became a feature presented by neighborhood cowboys and soon experts found it profitable to engage in various exhibitions showing their skill with cattle and horses, these known as "rodeos" to indicate the wider field of the exhibitions.

Know the songs that Texans sing—songs of the Texas ranches, the Texas trails, the Texas firesides, the state song, the University song, the song "Will You Come to the Bower?" that inspired the heroes of San Jacinto, negro spirituals. The TEXAS SONG BOOK contains 32 pages of specially selected songs for Texas people, Texas homes, Texas schools, all chosen by a committee of Texas musicians as popular songs of the state that all should know. Mailed postpaid for only 25 cents. Will H. Mayes, 2510 Salado Street, Austin, Texas. I enclose 25 cents in coin securely wrapped, for a copy of the "Centennial Song Book."

Thrill of a Lifetime—Cub Reporter Says After Interviewing First Lady

When Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt visited the Texas State College for Women (CIA) on her tour of the Southwest, Miss Amalese Gough, editor of the Lass-O, college newspaper, was on hand to extend her official welcome from the press. The young lady, who is a senior journalism student from Beaumont, interviewed the President's wife, and expressed enthusiasm over her gracious informality.

"Texas Uber Alles in Congress—Huh?"

Congressman Frey (Dem.) of Pennsylvania spoke interestingly in the debate in Congress on the RFC, January 22, concluding in this remarkable strain about Texas:

"The only reason that I can find that we want a continuation of the RFC is because, as I understand it, the chairman, Mr. Jesse Jones, wants to run for President in 1940, and if he has this organization, he can build up a machine that may help him get there. Remember that Jesse Jones comes from Texas. You know when those fellows down there in Texas want to put something across they generally do it. I heard a man from Texas say that he was 200 per cent for a certain fellow, and they just took a certain place, an important post in this House, away from New York and sent it down to Texas, and I am getting to be in the position of wanting to know whether the United States is going to be a part of Texas. That is the thing that is in my mind. A few years ago we had a colleague from Texas who sat in the House of Representatives, about 1930, and he was from Texas. He said: 'When the other fellow gets a ham, we will get a hog,' and it pretty well looks as if that is what is going on, because they have the Vice-President, and then I understand they want the President in 1940, so they can properly celebrate in 1941 the 100 years of Texas' admission to the Union. They want the President and the Vice-President, and, Mr. Speaker, I suggest that one ought not to be too sure that they will not have the speaker of the House of Representatives as well.

"Texas has the chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, the chairman of Elections No. 1 Committee, the chairman of Interstate and Foreign Commerce, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, the chairman of Public Buildings and Grounds Committee, the chairman of Rivers and Harbors Committee, the chairman of the Special Committee of Investigation of American Retail Federation and Trade Practices, the chairman of the Select Committee to Investigate the Executive Agencies of the Government.

"Mr. Speaker, the great question is: Are we going to build the capital of the United States in Texas, and if so, will Pennsylvania be a county of Texas, or will Texas still be a part of the United States?"

FORD-ENGINED PLANE CROSSES CONTINENT

Above — Arrow Plane with Ford V-8 engine soaring over New York City after completing transcontinental flight. Right—Pace Woods of the Arrow factory points out to David E. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corporation, the method of mounting the standard Ford V-8 powerplant in the plane.

THE first airplane powered by a standard automobile engine to fly from coast to coast is the Arrow Sport V-8 shown here equipped with a regular Ford V-8 automobile engine. This plane is the first standard automobile engine-powered unit to receive the Approved Type Certificate from the Department of Commerce.

The plane made the transcontinental flight in time for its completion just before the recent airplane show at New York.

The flight was made by Dale Myers, veteran pilot, and George Christison, co-pilot. The plane averaged 90 miles per hour and got better than 15 miles per gallon on the flight, using regular-priced automobile gasoline. The Arrow V-8 has a wingspread of about 37 feet and a length of 21 feet. It weighs less than 1200 pounds and retails for $1,500.

The manufacturer, Arrow Aircraft and Motors Corporation of Lincoln, Nebraska, has no connection with the Ford Motor Company although it is expected that Arrow owners will be able to take their ships to regular Ford dealers for engine repair and replacement service work.

Recently this plane was demonstrated in Detroit to officials of the Ford Motor Company and of the Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corporation whose company supplies many parts for the engine, including the Bohnalite cylinder heads, bearings, etc. It was brought to Detroit by Mark Woods, President of the Arrow Aircraft and Motors Corporation, his son Pace Woods and Pilot Jimmy Hurts who put it through all kinds of stunts to demonstrate its foolproof design. The plane is a marvel of stability, experts assert, and with regular gasoline climbs at 500 feet per minute. It has an absolute ceiling of 14,000 feet and a range of 350 miles on 20 gallons of gasoline. Top speed is 100 miles per hour and it cruises at 90. Landing speed is 45 miles an hour.

Unemployment Compensation in Texas

Editor's Note:—Following are questions and answers prepared by R. B. Anderson, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, which is an interpretation in simplified terms of the various provisions of the recently-enacted Texas Unemployment Compensation Act.

Further questions and answers in this series will appear in this paper from time to time.

What Makes a Man Ineligible For Benefits?

Question 11: "What must I guard against to keep from being ineligible for benefits under the law?"

Answer: The law provides minor penalties for minor violations of its rules. It also provides certain situations in which a worker can be unemployed and still not be able to draw any benefits.

(1) If you quit your job without any reason, the Commission may make you wait an extra three weeks before you can draw any benefits. Suppose you quit in the middle of the week. You draw no benefits that week; you are then forced to wait three weeks more because you quit your job without a reason, and then you must wait two more weeks—the regular waiting period. In other words, it will be six weeks before you can draw your first check.

(2) If you are fired for misconduct, the Commission may force you to wait as long as nine weeks plus the two weeks' waiting period.

(3) If you fail to sign up for work at the public employment office; or, if you refuse to accept work when the employment office finds it for you; or if you ordinarily have a private occupation such as farming or carpenter work, when you do not have regular work, and you refuse to follow it; then the Commission may make you wait five weeks—plus the two weeks waiting period—before you can draw your first check.

(4) Strikers are not eligible to draw benefits.

The last two penalties (3 and 4) will be discussed in detail later on.

(5) If your employer gives you a week's wages when he fires you, then you cannot draw any benefits for that week. That week also is not counted when your benefits and your eligibility for benefits is decided.

(6) If you are drawing Workmen's Compensation for a certain week, then you cannot get a benefit check for that week, nor can you count that week in establishing your eligibility for benefits.

(7) If you are getting an old age pension or any similar pension or grant, you cannot draw any benefit checks.

Do I Have To Take Any Job Offered Me?

Question 12: "One of the previous articles said that I must accept new work when it was offered to me, or I would become ineligible for benefits. Suppose I am not trained for the new job; or suppose the new job would make me—a union worker—violate the obligations of my union membership. Must I still take the job?"

Answer: The aim of these employment offices is to get you, as nearly as possible, into work that is suitable for you. Of course, the Commission wants to keep as many men working as possible; but all the facts are to be considered when a man is offered a new job.

In deciding whether the new job is suitable for you, the Commission can consider the following: The degree of risk involved to your health, safety and morals; your physical condition and your previous earnings.

The Commission will also consider the chances for getting local work at your customary job, the length of time you have been without a job, and the distance of this new work from your home.

However, the Commission will not make any man a new job when it is vacant due to a strike; or if the wages and conditions of work are less favorable than the wages and conditions in similar jobs in that locality; or if taking the job would force you, against your will, to join a company union or would keep you from joining a recognized union.

Are Strikers Eligible For Benefits?

Question 13: "A previous article said that strikers cannot draw benefits under this Act. Suppose I lose my job as a result of a strike at my factory, although I personally had nothing to do with the strike. Will I be ineligible for benefits?"

Answer: No. But you must be able to prove to authorities that you had no part in the labor dispute.

You must show that you were taking part in, or helping to finance, or directly interested in the labor dispute which stopped the work.

If you belong to a labor union or group, and other members of that union are interested in the dispute, then you will be considered to have direct interest in it. In other words, if any particular union in any one factory or mine or office becomes involved in a labor dispute, then all members of that plant are involved and none of them can draw unemployment benefits.

But the law is very fair. If two businesses are conducted on the same premises and the workers in one group go on strike, the workers in the other group are not considered to be directly interested, although they belong to the same union.

Cancer Is Hazard To Civilization

Austin, Texas.—"While the span of human life has been lengthened fifteen years during the last decade, thanks to science, the disturbing fact remains that there has been a marked rise in death from cancer during the same period", declared Dr. Geo. G. Cox, State Health Officer, and urged that the public be on the alert to detect this disease.

"Cancer is not a hopeless disease. It is not contagious or in itself hereditary. There are thousands of men and women in this country who have been successfully treated for cancer. The great hope of cancer patients lies in their having treatment during the first stages of the disease. Cancer announces itself by symptoms that are frequently painless and apparently trivial, thus giving the disease an unseemly advantage. Early diagnosis is the one powerful antagonist.

"The danger signals can be classified as follows: Any lump in the breast or other part of the body; any persistent sore, particularly on the face or mouth; any unusual discharge or bleeding from the bowels, or unusual bleeding of any bodily passage, especially after middle-age. These symptoms may be from some other cause but should be diagnosed by a physician.

"Two main rules should be followed in cancer treatment. First, have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient cancerous conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can be conquered. The second rule is to mistrust high promising statements of 'amazing new discoveries'."

That much energy, or efficiency, gone up in smoke. It's to your advantage to insist that your new building be equipped with adequate wiring to accommodate the maximum load demand or power requirements.
