Bulldogs First In Tournament Over McMurry, Western Okla.

The Clarendon College Bulldogs swept both games of last weekend's Bulldog Classic placing first, and lost in overtime to Frank Phillips College 96-91 Monday in Borger.

The Bulldogs also outpaced Oklahoma Christian University's junior varsity Nov. 14 in Clarendon 88-64. Clarendon College's record is 3-6.

"We're a young team," Mondragon said of their 3-6 record. "The six games we've lost have been close. I've always said, 'Adversity builds character,' and I think it will help the second semester."

Clarendon led 49-40 at halftime Monday, but Frank Phillips put in a half-court trap and tied the game at 87-87 at the end of regulation.

"Our big men were in foul trouble," head coach Joe Mondragon said of the second half turnaround. "Free throws down the stretch for Frank Phillips pulled them ahead (in regulation)."

Eric Brown poured in 26 points, including six 3-pointers, and Randy Williams and Angel Gutierrez chipped in 19 points apiece. Josh Wright contributed 13.

Others scoring were Marty Hardy, 8; and Marlon Greene and Orlando Olivias with 4 points.

Frank Phillips converted on three of four of their free throws and tossed in two buckets for the overtime win.

Frank Phillips starter Danny McCampbell, a 1995 Clarendon High School product, scored 3 points in the winning effort.

Five Bulldogs scored in double figures, and every other Clarendon College player contributed points as Clarendon rolled over McMurray University 110-84 in the opening round of this weekend's Bulldog Classic in Clarendon.

McMurray is coached by former Clarendon High School Coach Ron Holmes.

The Bulldogs ran to early 55-34 halftime advantage and outscored McMurray 55-50 in the second half for the runaway victory.

Brown was high-point man with 17 points making good on three of his three trips to the free throw line. Randy Williams chipped in 15 points, missing only once from the charity stripe, and Wright contributed 15 points, including one 3-pointer.

Hardy scored 13, and letterman Gutierrez put in 11 points.

"As young as we are - we have 10 freshmen, we need to give everyone playing time," Mondragon said of the Clarendon scorefest.

Other Bulldogs scoring were Tony Clark, 7; Chuncey Williams, 5; Jamie Carter, 5; Cody Anderton, 4; Tracy Patterson, 4; Orlando Olivias, 4; Bryan Shed, 4; Rene Sierra, 3; Weston White, 2; and Marlon Greene, 1.

Clarendon roared to a 43-36 halftime lead against Western Oklahoma State College Saturday night in the final round of the Bulldog Classic.

Gutierrez was unconscious, scoring 15 points in the first half alone before chipping in four baskets and converting six out of eight free throws in the second half for 28 points.

"Angel's (Gutierrez) growing as a player. He's a very coachable player."

Chuncey Williams and Randy Williams each contributed 16 points.

Other Bulldogs scoring were Sierra, 13; Brown, 7; Wright, 3; and Hardy, 2.

Randy Williams led the Bulldogs with 18 points - 13 in the second half in the Nov. 14 home contest against Oklahoma Christian University Junior Varsity. Hardy was the only other player in double figures with 10 points in the 88-64 victory.

Clarendon held onto a sizeable 46-30 halftime lead and never relinquished it.

"We had been on the road for five straight games," Mondragon said of the home win. "The kids came home and really played well."

Other Bulldogs scoring were Greene, 9; Wright, 9; Gutierrez, 7; White, 6; Clark, 5; Shed, 4; Chuncey Williams, 4; Sierra, 4; Patterson, 4; Carter, 2; and Olivias, 1.

Next up for the Bulldogs is a run-in with Abilene Christian University Junior Varsity Monday in Abilene.

"The schedule doesn't get any easier at this point," Mondragon said. "We're hoping the Thanksgiving holidays will be good to us."

RANDY WILLIAMS goes in for two points, helping the Bulldogs defeat Okla. Christian University's junior varsity on Nov. 14.

Events Sign To Promote The College

A planned special events sign at Clarendon College has some citizens up in arms about two evergreen trees.

The Board of Regents of Clarendon College recently gave the go-ahead for the purchase of marquee sign to announce college events and news.

The sign, which has already been purchased and delivered, is six feet by 12 feet and will be elevated 14 feet in the air. It will be bricked to match the architecture of other campus structures and will be surrounded by landscaping.

The structure will be a two-sided, lighted sign and will be placed on the northeast corner of the college campus at the intersection of Hwy. 287 and Bugbee Avenue.

Regents and President Elliot selected the site after deliberating the matter for over two months and considered several possible locations.

Ultimately, the northeast corner was chosen because of its visibility for people traveling both directions on Hwy. 287, for people coming into town on Hwy. 70, and for locals using Bugbee Avenue.

The drawback to this location is that in order to place the sign there, two evergreen trees will have to be removed, and that has some local citizens upset.

Those concerned note that trees are especially rare in the Texas Panhandle and that we should not cut them down hastily. They are quick to point out that they have no problem with having the special events sign, but they wish the trees could be there also.

College officials say that this is exactly why the board took two months before approving the project. They were looking for ways to do it without losing the trees.

At presstime, President Elliott said he was still looking into the possibility of having the trees relocated.

The college plans to plant three or four new trees in the old ones' place as well as having a flower box beneath the sign.

In 20 or 30 years, citizens will benefit from a marquee sign that will be serving its purpose in addition to some nice-looking trees and flowers.

Charla Crump Earns Top Honors At WTA&MU

Charla Crump was one of eleven West Texas A&M University students who took top honors at the Second Annual Student Research Conference hosted by West Texas A&M University on November 3, 1995, in Canyon.

One hundred twenty-six undergraduate and graduate students representing 36 colleges/universities from four states competed for three places in each of the following 10 categories: agriculture; business; communications; computer science, mathematics and engineering technology; education; history; humanities and philosophy; literature; music and art; natural sciences; and social and behavioral sciences. Participants were selected to present 15-20 minute presentations at the conference based on the juried review of abstracts/proposals of 500 words or less.

Crump, a graduate student in speech communications from Clarendon, won second place in the education category for "Media Literacy: Fighting the Effect Television Has on Children." Runell Coons, instructor of mass communication, served as her faculty advisor.

Grand Jury Returns 8 Indictments

The 100th District Court Grand Jury returned eight indictments with Randall C. Sims representing the state.

Judge McCoy heard cause #2783, the State of Texas vs. Freddie Ervin Young, II. Young pled guilty to a DWI charge and received 10 years adult probation, $2,000 fine, 30 days in Donley County Jail, and two years drivers license suspension.

Judge McCoy heard cause #2785, the State of Texas vs. Danny Butcher. Butcher pled guilty to aggregated theft over $20,000.00 and received ten years deferred adjudication, $2,000 fine, and $34,421.11 restitution to Holton Oil Company.

Judge McCoy heard cause #2710, the State of Texas vs. David Ray Fricks. Fricks pled true to a motion to revoke probation; he received four years TDCJ-ID and two year drivers license suspension.

Judge John T. Forbis heard cause #2660, the State of Texas vs. Charlotte Smith. This case was set for a contested hearing, but the defendant decided to plead true to violating her probation. At that point a contested hearing was held regarding her punishment. District Attorney, Randall C. Sims called three witnesses: Buddy Ford, Deputy Sheriff McMurtine, and Chief Probation Officer Doug Wright. The defendant testified in her own behalf. Judge Forbis assessed her punishment at eight years in the Texas Department of Corrections, Institutional Division.

Jury trial was scheduled to begin on Tuesday, November 21.

The Grand Jury will meet again on January 22, 1996.

TxDOT Safety Tips

With winter quickly approaching, Texas Department of Transportation urges motorists to keep the following emergency items in their vehicle at all times: First Aid Kit, blanket, shovel, scraper, tire chains, flare/reflectors, coat/gloves/hat, chain/tow strap, booster cables, traction mat/sand, flashlight/spare batteries, sleeping bag, nonperishable food, and matches/lighter/candle.

Museum Party Chairman Vows To Make 1995 Celebration Something To Remember

Saints' Roost Museum Board Chairman and volunteer cook Helen Ann Parker, has vowed to make the 1995 Museum Christmas Dinner, Dance, and Drawing something special, and she is starting with dinner.

"This isn't going to be your average Mexican Pie On meal," she said at a recent planning session for the annual gala set for December 2. "We want this to be something people will remember for a long time."

Among the mouth watering delicacies which will soon be simmering in Madam President's kitchen are homemade tamales, Fajitas De Fiesta, Elote Con Crema (corn and chilies in a cream sauce), spinach casserole, hominy, Chilies Rices, black beans with garlic pods, sausage and peppers with onions, and plenty of hot tortillas. For pre-dinner snacking there will be a selection of Antojitos (appetizers) and for dessert there will be Chocolate Kahlua and Honey Tequila Cheesecakes with Mexican Coffee.

"I want everyone to remember the dinner longer that they remember the drawing for the money," Parker said.

Alarid's Strolling Mariachi Band from Amarillo will serenade during the meal followed by the band Rowdy Ace which will provide music for dancing following the meal.

Festivities will open Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Building near the rodeo grounds. Tickets are $50 per couple and are available at Henson's or from any Saints' Roost Museum Board member. Additional ticket information can be obtained by calling 874-3541.

Only 226 tickets will be sold, so chances of coming home with $5,000 in Christmas cash are a lot better than playing the lottery. The elimination drawing for the cash will conclude at the stroke of midnight. Dancing will go on until 1 a.m.

If you are not lucky enough to win the big bundle of bucks at the Witching Hour, the party will be punctuated by the awarding of numerous door prizes to holders of tickets who were just a "little" lucky.

This annual party is the major fund raiser for Saint's Roost Museum, which is in the midst of a revitalization process. Buying a ticket to "the" party of the year would be a great way to participate in an important community project, spend an enjoyable evening and maybe win enough Christmas cash to cover everything.

Sims Announces Formation Of South Plains Auto Theft Task Force

District Attorney Randall C. Sims announced this week the formation of the South Plains Auto Theft Task Force. The Task Force will be based out of Lubbock and will cover 26 counties.

"I am glad to have been able to get the 100th Judicial District included in this Task Force," Sims said. "While auto theft is not a big problem across this district, the theft of farm equipment does occur frequently."

The Task Force will give assistance to the local authorities in handling these types of cases should the local agency desire or need the assistance. These services will be provided at no expense to the local agency, county, or the district.

Another benefit of joining the task force will be the preventive effect. Repeatedly, when one of these task forces has been established, the chop shops and thieves pack up and move to locations not covered by a task force. "Hopefully, getting involved in this Task Force will keep this criminal element from setting up in the 100th Judicial District," Sims said.

The District Attorney discussed this Task Force with the head of each law enforcement agency prior to getting the District included in the Task Force. Now that the Task Force is a reality, each department head has been provided the territory covered as well as the information necessary to contact those on the Task Force.

New Outdoors Columnist Starts With This Issue

This week we are proud to announce the addition of a new column to the pages of The Clarendon News. Mel Phillips' "Southwest Outdoors" column is designed for the fisherman, hunter, or nature lover in all of us.

Phillips is an award winning outdoors writer and hosts a weekly talk show on Amarillo's KGNC TalkRadio 71. He has also hosted numerous fishing tournaments at Lake Greenbelt.

"Our region is a great place to live, work, and raise a family," Phillips says. "Having fun in the great outdoors is a key part of helping our kids resist the temptations to go down the wrong path of life."

We hope you will enjoy this new feature. Please let us know what you think of it and let us know if there are other features you would also like to see in these pages.

Tips For Safe Holiday Travel

When you are traveling this Thanksgiving weekend, Trooper L.B. Snider, Public Information Officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety, asks you to consider that we have some of the best roads in the country and motor vehicles today have much better safety features than vehicles most of us started driving in.

Trooper Snider advises that nearly all traffic accidents are caused by one or more driving errors, which often offset vehicle safety features. Common errors by drivers are: failing to yield right of way, following too closely, driving on the wrong side of road, speeding too fast for conditions, and cutting too close when passing, along with numerous other hazardous errors which too often result in traffic accidents. Many of these errors are a result of fatigue, alcohol, and other drugs (including prescription and over the counter), trying to "make" time, and inattention.

Precaution tips suggested by Snider are to:

Schedule adequate time for travel; be rested and alert, be clear of effects from medication; or if using medication or alcoholic beverage, have a designated drug free driver; and have all occupants use available safety belts.

New Features Throughout Paper

You may notice some new additions to the paper this week. We are experimenting with bringing some new features to these pages and would like for you, the reader, to let us know what you think of them.

This is also a good opportunity for those businesses and organizations out there that do not currently advertise. You may sponsor these features, and your business or club name will be attached to them. If you're interested, give us a call at 874-2259 to find out more about this unique way to get your name before the public.

Some of the new items we've put in this week are the "King Crossword Puzzle" on page 11, "Play Better Golf with Jack Nicklaus" on page 3, and "This Week in History" on page 4. We have many other features that could be included as well, such as an antiques column, some comic strips, and an auto care column.

Give us some feedback, so that we can bring you the columns and features that most interest you.

Have a Happy Thanksgiving

The staff of the News wishes everyone a safe and happy Thanksgiving, and we would also like to give our thanks to all of you who have supported us since we began publishing almost one month ago. It's our pleasure to serve you.

"Grandma's Pumpkin Pie"

Thanksgiving was always an extra special time when I was growing up.

Early on Thanksgiving morn, we'd load up the old Dodge station wagon and make the two-hour sojourn to Grandma's house. Just getting there proved an adventure, as my sisters and I would play word games, sing silly songs, and rattle my fast-graying father with annoying queries like, "Da-a-a-d, how much longer before we get there?"

About the time my father had endured his sixth or seventh chorus of This old man, he played one, he played knick-knack on my thumb, we'd arrive at Grandma's. I'd bolt for her door like a greyhound bounding out of the gate, and Grandma would greet me with a giant, sloppy hug. I was "her best boy."

Being special was special.

Thanksgiving dinner at Grandma's was a major production. You could smell the aroma of the big bird cookin' in the oven throughout Grandma's two-story frame house. My mom would help Grandma start putting the finishing touches on dinner as soon as we arrived, but Grandma didn't need or want much assistance in her bustling kitchen. After all, she had started preparing for the big day well in advance.

Turkey was naturally the main entree, but all the trimmings were there, too-mashed potatoes, gravy, rolls, dressing, cranberry sauce, various vegetables, and on and on and on.

Every year Grandma saved one of the huge drumsticks for me. It wasn't so much that I preferred dark meat. It was just that ever since I saw Errol Flynn play Robin Hood, I just had to have a drumstick. I always gnawed on that drumstick like it was a big leg of mutton, leaning back in my chair and pretending to be surrounded by the merry men of Sherwood Forest.

Kind of corny, huh? But, hey, I was only about seven years old.

Yeah, dinner was terrific, but it wasn't the highlight of my day. The grand finale was Grandma's homemade pumpkin pie. She made the flaky crust from scratch and topped the filling with a generous helping of whipped cream. Grandma always made at least two pumpkin pies because I could just about eat one by myself.

We would usually stay all Thanksgiving day, so, periodically, while my dad was watching football on TV, I'd sneak back into the kitchen and sheepishly ask, "Grandma, can I please have another piece of pumpkin pie?"

"Sure you can, Scotty," she'd say with a smile as big and bright as a rainbow. Then she'd give me another big hug and solicit, "You really like Grandma's pie, don't you?"

When I'd answer, "I sure do, Grandma!" she'd glow like a 75-watt light bulb.

Being special was special.

But that was a long, long time ago in a different part of the world. Things are different today.

The last time I visited Grandma was just before I moved to Clarendon. She's 93 years old now and residing in a nursing home. Grandma's mind is still sharp, but her body is a jail.

Without question, there are many fine nursing homes across the country that provide individuals and their families with invaluable care. Still, I must admit to feeling kind of depressed whenever I visit Grandma now.

I guess if you live long enough, coming full circle is the way of it. Everyone enters the world as a child, totally dependent on the good will and care of others. For some, it's sadly a part of the great plan to go out the same way.

Few and far between have been the times when I've played the Good Samaritan. But last year during the holidays, my family and I did something unselfish. We drove to Grandma's new "home" to be with her.

Death hangs around Grandma's home like a thief casing a convenience store. You can sense the suffocating pall when you open the door. It grabs you and shakes you out of the fantasy in which we all engage called immortality. The halls of Grandma's home are lined with souls trapped in a kind of anatomic purgatory - a cruel limbo between existence and hope.

In such circumstances, pride is a luxury afforded none.

For those like Grandma, almost immobile yet cognizant, seeing one's next door neighbor "leave" is as common as sending out the laundry. It has a kind of numbing effect.

Irrespective of the surroundings, we tried our best to celebrate the holiday. There was turkey, to be sure - the kind that comes out of a can, but surely better fare than most folks enjoyed around the world that day. There was even pumpkin pie, but a far cry from one of Grandma's masterpieces.

At the day's end, I cried when I hugged Grandma and babbled my good-byes. I suspect my tears were not so much a product of sadness, but of guilt - guilt for not having the wherewithal to improve Grandma's plight. Guilt for not really having the inclination to do so.

Despite it all, there was much for which to be thankful. We were together, for one thing. And we were thankful that the first 92 years of Grandma's life were pretty good ones. She loved and was loved. So many experiences so much less.

We could also be thankful for our memories, portraits of Thanksgivings past when we gathered around a big oak table, joined hands, prayed together and stayed together, if only in spirit.

So, this Thanksgiving I'll try not to be so sad. I'm 2,100 miles away from Grandma now, but I'll call her on the telephone. We'll no doubt reminisce about how things used to be, of days gone by when I scampered around her kitchen, waiting for another piece of her homemade pumpkin pie.

Once I hang up the phone, I'll try not to dwell on how things are for Grandma, but of how things were and how things will be.

And how things will be is that for which I can be most thankful of all.

Archaeological Society Met Recently

The Clarendon Archaeological Society held its November meeting on November 14, 1995, at the Burton Memorial Library. The speaker for the evening was Margaret Cushing Smith.

Margaret brought her collection of Indian artifacts found on the family ranch. Her mother, her sons, and she found the artifacts, usually along canyon washes where rains would uncover the items. Her father never found a piece. Members of the society helped her identify and name some of her findings.

Margaret also brought examples of her broom weed and wild plant arrangements and Christmas decorations. Rinda Bunson and Margaret have developed a successful business that keeps them working long hours, six days a week. Crews of men come to pick broomweed. The best broomweed is grown in the Clarendon - Turkey area. The ladies have a building in Silvertown and sell to florists and attend craft shows.

Members and guests present were: Sue Dunagan, Pat Thornberry, Bliss Knorpp, Ruby Jewel Hardin, Lucy Saye, Tom Saye, Lucille Eanes, Beryl Roper Hughes, Jack Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Otho Stubbs of Turkey, Walter Warner, Abbye Warner, Marge Lemley of Hedley, and Glenda Hawkins.

The next meeting is scheduled for December 12, 1995.

Trees

by Joyce Kilmer

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree

A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

To The Clarendon College Board of Regents and Administration:

We support your proposed Events Marquee, but we implore you not to cut down the decades-old evergreens to build it.

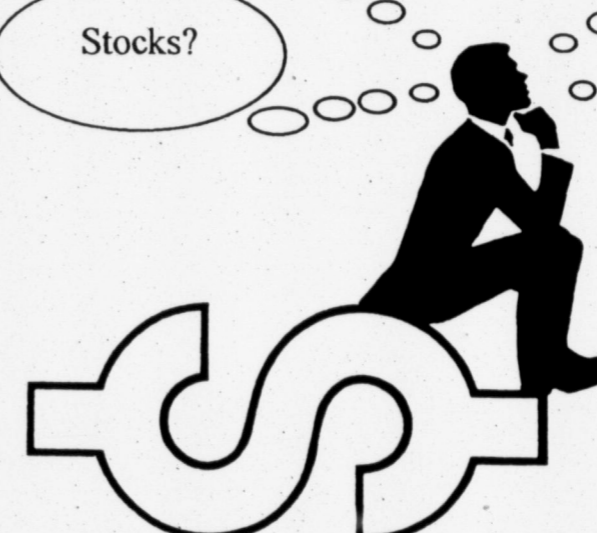

Trees are a rare commodity in West Texas, and the sign (which will be a nice addition to the campus) can easily be placed either beside, between, or in front of the beautiful evergreens.

Please consider this matter carefully before making any decisions.

November Is National Hospice Month

Hospice of the Panhandle is a member of the National Hospice Organizations and the Texas Hospice Organization. They provide hospice care to terminally ill patients in these counties: Gray, Hutchinson, Carson, Roberts, Donley, Hemphill, Wheeler, Lipscomb, and Collingsworth.

Hospice of the Panhandle is a non-profit corporation. They never bill a patient or family for any services.

Hospice of the Panhandle is reimbursed by Medicare, Medicaid, or private insurance. No appropriate patient is denied care.

Donations, memorials, and fund raisers enable Hospice of the Panhandle to provide services to all who need them.

Hospice of the Panhandle was founded in August 1988 by a group of Pampa citizens who believed patients and their families should have an active role in the decisions affecting their lives. They subscribed to the hospice philosophy that affirms life and neither hastens nor postpones death.

Hospice of the Panhandle is located at 800 North Sumner, Pampa, Texas 79066, or you can call (806) 665-6677 and 300 South McGee, Borger, Texas, (806) 274-9111.

Services include: Physician directed care, skilled nursing visits, Home Health aides, social services, counseling, bereavement care, trained volunteers, pastoral care, 24-hour on call viability, special therapies (if needed, home care (patients home or nursing home), in-patient care (when needed). They will also provide programs to clubs, organizations, churches, etc.

Several trained Hospice volunteers are located in the Clarendon area. They are: Bill Hodges, Jo Webb, Sandra Minatrea, Patricia Scroggins, Mattie Roberts, Thelma Shields, and Naoma Spann. Naoma Spann is the community chairperson.

For more information call Naoma at (806) 874-2803.

Lone Star Card Putting Squeeze on Drug Dealers

New system hailed by Texas Rangers

Austin - "The Lone Star card is putting the squeeze on drug dealers and their customers," State Comptroller John Sharp said today. "This card doesn't work on downtown street corners."

Texas Ranger Commander, Senior Captain Maurice Cook, agrees. In a letter to Sharp, Cook reported that the Lone Star card has had a chilling effect on the illegal use of benefits.

"As you know, the old paper food stamp coupons were easily used to purchase narcotics and other prohibited items," Cook wrote.

"This is just another example of the fraud fighting benefit of the Lone Star card, prompting the Texas Rangers to declare the new system an 'effective tool' in the fight against food stamp fraud," Sharp said.

A survey conducted by Affiliated Systems Corporation (ASC), a Houston-based organization specializing in drug studies, shows that the state's innovative new electronic benefits transfer system prevents using them for drugs and other illegal items.

"In the past, it had been difficult to get participants into our outreach centers at the beginning of the month because they had food stamps, and they sold them for cash, which they then used to buy drugs," ASC's project manager Cheryl Dayton said. "With the Lone Star card we saw a shift. Now we see these participants at the beginning of the month because they can't sell their coupons anymore."

The Lone Star card's success at limiting the purchase of illegal drugs is documented in a recently released report entitled A Snapshot view of Adult Drug Usage in Houston's Economically Disadvantaged North and Southside. The study was funded by the Texas Commission on Drug and Alcohol Abuse and the Center for Substance Abuse and Treatment.

"These results coincide with the $4.5 million rise in retail food stamp sales in the Houston area reported earlier this year," Sharp said. "Grocers large and small attribute this jump in food sales to a decrease in the trafficking of benefits. The increase has been repeated in the Dallas area, where retail food sales rose by more than $5.7 million from June to July."

In the Snapshot View study, clients reported that the Star card makes it extremely difficult to use the food stamp program for illegitimate purposes. No cash ever changes hands in a food stamp transaction using the Lone Star card, and less cash means fewer customers for crack dealers, according to the study's authors, Cheryl Dayton and Dr. William Elwood.

"The substance abusing clients even told the ASC interviewers that the dealers are so desperate for customers that they have recently resorted to offering two-for-one specials and other sales gimmicks," Sharp said. "The Lone Star card is clearly returning the taxpayer-funded food stamp program to its original purpose, giving corn flakes to hungry kids instead of crack cocaine to their parents."

ASC president Isaac Montoya agreed that a more broad-based study of the Lone Star card's effects among drug users could lead to further savings.

The Lone Star card is now accepted statewide by 16,000 retailers serving some 1.3 million households, making it the largest electronic benefit transfer program on earth. The innovative program went statewide on November 1.

Sharp first recommended the EBT program in his 1991 Breaking the Mold report as a way to combat the fraud and inefficiency associated with the old paper food stamp coupons. The Lone Star card is administered by the Texas Department of Human Services (TDHS) and Transactive Corporation, the system's Austin-based operator.

Revisions Made For Handling VS Affected Animals

Experience is the best teacher, and livestock health officials have learned a lot about Vesicular Stomatitis (VS), a livestock virus that has hit hard in Western states during the past six months. As of early November, Texas is free of infection, but Colorado has 28 cases, New Mexico and Utah each has three, and Wyoming has eight.

Rarely fatal, VS can strike nearly all livestock, causing blisters and sores on the tongue, mouth and around the nose, or on the hooves and teats. During the two-week course of infection, affected animals can drop weight and condition, as they can not eat or drink adequately until the sores begin to heal.

Nationally, the accepted way to handle VS has been to isolate affected animals, and quarantine their premise and surrounding premises in a 10-mile radius until at least 30 days after the infected animal healed. Last week, livestock health officials revised their protocol for VS cases.

"At the United States Animal Health Association (USAHA) meeting in Reno, Nevada, most of the regulatory officials agreed the quarantine would involve only the affected animal and its premise," said Dr. Terry Beals, head of the Texas Animal Health Commission, the state's livestock health regulatory agency. "After an investigation, more premises or areas may be quarantined, if exposure has occurred." (The quarantine still would last at least 30 days after the sick animal heals.)

"Under the new procedure, areas hit by VS should suffer fewer movement and trade restrictions," said Dr. Beals. "Individual states may still impose restrictions as they deem necessary."

Dr. Beals said most animal health officials are convinced the best way to contain VS is to control flies and insects, limit human and animal exposure to affected animals, and thoroughly disinfect livestock handling and hauling equipment. Good "biosecurity" measures also mean preventing fence line contact between animals on infected and "clean" premises.

"Controlling biting insects, practicing strict sanitation and keeping livestock from touching sick animals appear to be the effective means for stopping VS," said Dr. Beals.

"Our practical knowledge about VS is evolving, and regulatory agencies are tailoring restrictions that impose fewer burdens on the livestock industry," said Dr. Beals. "VS outbreaks occur every 10 to 15 years in the U.S. with the last in 1982-83. Because it's not an 'everyday' infection, we're still gaining ground on this disease."

Dr. Beals said scientists are not sure what starts an outbreak of VS. This year's episode was first diagnosed in May in New Mexico and has since spread into Arizona, Texas, Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming. Insects, such as flies, are suspected to play a role in the infection. Livestock with open VS sores can directly transmit the virus to other livestock and can contaminate feed, bedding, and equipment. Veterinarians or producers who neglect to wear gloves when handle infected stock are at risk of contracting flu-like symptoms from the animals.

Dr. Beals pointed out that VS symptoms are alarming, as its blisters and sores mimic several dangerous foreign animal diseases. A laboratory confirmed diagnosis is required to rule out deadly infections. Blood samples and tissue scrapings from symptomatic animals are sent to testing either to the National Veterinary Services Laboratory in Ames, Iowa, or to the Foreign Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Plum Island, New York.

Registration Deadline Nears For Agri-Marketers Shortcourse

Amarillo - The deadline for applying to train as a master agri-marketer is December 1. "Space is still available," says Dr. Steve Amosson, management economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and co-organizer of the program.

Producers and agriculture operators who may be interested in the shortcourse also can hear more about the program at the annual Panhandle Farm Management Symposium on November 20, during the Amarillo Farm and Ranch Show, the specialist said.

The shortcourse is one of the most intensive educational efforts benefitting producer marketing development ever undertaken by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which is scheduled for Amarillo this winter.

"We have assembled a prominent group of knowledgeable marketing professionals from around the country to teach this course," said Amosson.

The course offers 64 hours of in-depth training in marketing wheat, feed grains, and stocker cattle. Participants will learn to develop sound marketing plans, study basic and advanced marketing strategies, and progress from basic fundamental analysis to technical analysis, international marketing and value added marketing.

The program will be conducted in four two day sessions held two weeks apart starting in early January. Because the master marketer program is a pilot effort, registration will be limited to 52. Participants must be producers or agribusiness operators located in the top 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle.

Graduates of the master marketers program will be expected to help form and lead a marketing club in their county.

The registration fee for the master marketer program is $250 per participant with applications being accepted starting October 1 until December 1. This low registration fee is made possible through the sponsorship of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, the Texas Corn Growers Board, and the Chicago Board of Trade.

For more information contact your county Extension office or Dr. Steve Amosson at (806) 359-5401.

Southwest Outdoors

By Mel Phillips

Welcome to "Southwest Outdoors." Every week we will talk about fishing, hunting, camping, special weekend trips, or where to go for a great vacation. During my 30 years as an avid outdoorsman, I have met and continue to meet some terrific people who will share their expert knowledge with you. This column is dedicated to sharing information, so when you have a great trip, drop us a note and perhaps even a picture. Whether it is a question about the outdoors, a money saving idea, or a favorite recipe, we look forward to hearing from you. Write to "Southwest Outdoors," c/o The Clarendon News, P.O. Box 1110, Clarendon, Texas 79226.

We will cover the outdoor world. Fishing topics will include the following: walleyes in Meredith and Conchas; big bass trips to Lake Fork and O.H. Ivy; fishing in old Mexico; trout fishing in New Mexico and Colorado; striped fishing at Lake Possum Kingdom, Amistad, and Texoma; and lake conditions by local experts.

We will tell you where the slab crappie are biting, and how to catch catfish so the family can enjoy the fun of fresh fish prepared at the lake. Results from bass tournaments will reveal the hot spots on local lakes.

Information on camping trips will include where to go, what works, and what doesn't. (Never depend on an air mattress. They all leak and will ruin any trip unless you enjoy staying up all night wondering how the west was ever settled.)

Hunting advice will include quail, dove, pheasant, and duck trips that will be worth your time and money. Big game guides will share their expertise about aoudad, deer, and elk hunts.

Special emphasis will be placed on how and where to introduce the kids to the great fun of being outdoors. Every adult remembers his first fishing trip or that special hunting trip. We will do our best to help you make memories that parents and children will cherish forever.

Tip of the week — Kids fishing rods and reels

As parents we try to help our children, except when it comes to their first fishing rod and reel. In order to save $3 or $4, we buy a cheap reel. Big mistake. Those discount brand reels are junk. They don't work and quickly form a huge tangle that leaves the child frustrated and ready to quit fishing.

Solution — A Zebco 33 spinning reel at $12 will last for years. If you want to save a few bucks, buy a cheaper model fiberglass rod. By the way, I don't get paid for this endorsement, but a "33" was my first reel and it still works after 35 years. That figures out at about thirty cents per year and getting cheaper every year.

Our Kids — Get them hooked on fishing, not drugs.

Panhandle Farm Management Symposium Looks At '95 Farm Bill

Amarillo - In its eleventh year, the Panhandle Farm Management Symposium will be held Wednesday, November 29 in conjunction with Farm and Ranch Show Week activities at the Amarillo Civic Center.

Symposium registration begins at 8:45 a.m. with formal sessions scheduled to begin at 9:00 a.m. in the Grand Plaza. Two main themes, biological control of weeds and pests in commercial crops, and the federal farm legislation, separate the day's morning and afternoon programs.

Continuing education units (CEUs) are being offered during the morning session only, two in integrated pest management, one in laws and regulations. The CEUs apply toward certification requirements for both commercial and non-commercial applicators.

At 2:00 p.m., the conference will feature the hottest topic in agriculture this year, the farm program, according to Dr. Steve Amosson, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Management specialists with the Extension service will be analyzing provisions of the farm bill and the conservation reserve program. The experts will present the regional perspectives for each measure and assess future implications of both issues.

"In addition, we will feature in depth discussions on management of conservation reserve program grasses and the cost of converting CRP land back to cropland," Amosson said.

The symposium is sponsored by the Potter County Crops and Livestock committees and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For more information, contact the county agent in your area or Amosson at (806) 359-5401.

Today's Agriculture Career Opportunities

Agriculture today is much more than farming. It is an advanced, highly technical and highly specialized field. It involves everything from computers and combines to research and education. A career in agriculture could mean work in livestock production or soil conservation, from equipment repair to radio, or from nursery management and genetic engineering, to landscaping and law.

With the world's ever-increasing population, there is a growing need for new and better ways to feed and clothe people. Agricultural research and health sciences can point the way. Today, research is already at work creating stronger seed hybrids, new plants with built-in resistance to disease and pests, and growth hormones for more efficient production from farm animals.

As new technologies and new job opportunities emerge, there is a growing need for well-trained, highly skilled and educated people. The 30 Texas colleges and universities, including Clarendon College, with agriculture programs offer career courses in agricultural research and health science to meet the new needs of the agricultural industry.

Fort Worth Stock Show Centennial Features Variety In Entertainment

Fort Worth - An exciting Centennial Edition of the Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show is planned during the 17 days of a special celebration January 19 through February 4 to commemorate "100 Years of Heroes" at Will Rogers Memorial Center.

The spectacular program is packed with special entertainment features. "This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity you will not want to miss," said W.R. Watt, Jr., Stock Show president/manager.

Two additional matinee performances have been added the first weekend to the World's Original Indoor Rodeo, making a total of 30 action-packed performances, all scheduled in Will Rogers Coliseum.

A Centennial pageant will be interspersed with what is known as the best rodeo production in the United States. Featured flashbacks in music and verse of Stock Show and Rodeo history will reflect a successful past and enhance the Centennial theme that utilizes special effects never seen before in Fort Worth. Tad Griffith of Las Vegas, producer of the special, is the son of the late Dick Griffith, one of the "Heroes" of the Stock Show, having been a contestant in the early 1920s.

Returning to the rodeo will be the crowd-pleasing and exciting Canadian Chuck Wagon Races. This popular event is sponsored by the GMC Silver Star Truck Dealers, with the four individual wagons provided by Justin Boot Company, Winn-Dixie Texas, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Texas Commerce Bank.

Another rodeo feature will be the Coors Cowtown Cutting contest with both open and non-pro contestants seeking a share of a $23,800 purse. Three riders will go head-to-head with rough, range cattle at each performance.

The Fort Worth Calf Scramble, giving Texas high school boys and girls an opportunity to catch wildly running loose calves for a chance to snare $500 certificates to purchase heifers for show here next year, is sponsored by Mrs. Baird's Bakeries and Justin Boot Company.

Among new events in the W.R. Watt Arena of the new Charlie and Kit Moncrief Building will be a nightly presentation of a Centennial Western Roundup Show, free to Stock Show visitors. This program will revisit a bit of history and entertain from the past.

The Rodeo Ticket Office in the lobby of Will Rogers Coliseum will be open on Monday, December 4. Mail orders are being accepted now at P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101-0150. Tickets are priced at $16 for Friday night and all weekend performances, and $14 for Monday through Friday matinees and Monday through Thursday nights. Mail orders should include $3 extra per order for return postage.

Beef Improvement Information To Be Available Via Satellite

Any beef producer with access to a satellite dish can join the quality and consistency revolution without leaving home by tuning in a special interactive distance learning project on beef quality excellence from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on December 12. The program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Beef Council.

"Beef quality excellence in Texas is a reachable goal," says Terry Stokes, TBC interim executive vice president. "Texas can lead the nation's move toward a higher quality, more consistent beef product. Producers just need access to the information that allows them to make necessary changes. Technology presently available allows producers to receive that information via satellite so they never have to leave their home or place of business to attend a symposium."

Producers who own or lease a satellite dish can view the program on C-band by running in Telstar 303, Channel 10 (T3,10). Others can view the program at their county Farm Bureau office on the Ku-band (Telstar 401, Transponder 11) or at their district TAEX office. Producers should call their local county Farm Bureau office to inquire about seating availability. In addition, Superior Livestock Auction, Inc., will broadcast the program throughout the U.S., Canada, and Mexico on the C-band.

Speakers will discuss the findings of the National Beef Quality Audit, a nation-wide industry analysis that interviewed producers, packers, retailers, and restaurant operators. It found the industry was losing $280 per head because of misdirected production practices and selection of poor genetics that lead to overly fat fed animals.

The distance learning program will show producers how to amend those production practices, how to hit the target with quality and yield grades through genetic selection, and how to add value to calves destined for the auction or feedlot.

"This program has been repeated in various sites around Texas 25 times in the last two years," says Richard Wortham, TBC vice president of industry relations and a coordinator of the distance learning project. "We've reached more than 8,000 producers with this information. Yet this satellite transmission allows us to vastly expand those numbers."

The program will allow for interaction between cattlemen and feeders and industry experts. A toll-free 800 number will be flashed periodically across the television screen. Producers who have questions as they watch the program will be able to call the number and get answers from TAEX livestock specialists.

"The program will directly address inconsistencies, non-conformities, and the need to capture some of the $280 per head reported lost in the audit," Wortham says. "For this to happen, changes have to be made on a wide scale in Texas and the nation. But the decision to initiate change has to be made by each individual. Satellite technology allows the industry to get this information to more beef producers in a more rapid period of time. Each individual who hears that information can then make up his or her mind about what changes must be made on an individual herd basis."

Colts Teams Make Clean Sweep Of Whirlwinds

7th Grade Colts Whip Memphis, 45-10

The seventh grade Colts spanked the Memphis Whirlwinds 45-10 Thursday in the season-opener for the two district rivals in the Clarendon gym.

Junior High Coach Byron Bass suited up 17 Colts, providing the home team with plenty of fresh players.

The Colt starters blanked Memphis in the first quarter and led by a 9-0 advantage. While the Colts scored 10 points in the second quarter, their stifling pressure defense held Memphis to two, giving the Colts a 19-2 halftime advantage.

Colt Floyd led scorers in the third quarter with six of the team's 16 points, limiting Memphis to 6 points. G.J. Martindale chipped in two buckets in the final quarter as the Colts scored 10 points. Memphis was held to one bucket.

High-point man for Clarendon was Colt Floyd with 10 points. Dee Thompson contributed 9 points.

Others scoring were: Aaron Kidd, 6; Nathan Floyd, 6; G.J. Martindale, 6; Michael Lane, 2; Nicklass Devin, 2; Sam Holton, 2; Josh Williams, 2. Players also suiting up for the contest were Tyler Martin, Aron Mays, Jared Hartman, Tim Wortham, Greg Leeper, David Hall, Rhorry King and Dale Askew.

The seventh grade Colts travel to Panhandle Monday for a 5 p.m. game.

7th Grade Girls Zoom Past Memphis Jr. High Whirlwinds, 33-14

Geraldine Butler drained eight buckets scoring 16 points as the seventh grade Lady Colts cruised by the Memphis Lady Whirlwinds 33-14 Nov. 13 in the Memphis gymnasium.

The Lady Colts wasted no time in putting points on the board, contributing 13 points and using a strong defense to hold Memphis scoreless.

Memphis put its first points on the board in the second quarter, outscoring Clarendon 6-4; but the Lady Colts led at halftime 17-6.

Butler chipped in 4 of her 16 points, while Shannon Cooper scored 2 and Courtney Newhouse contributed a bucket, giving the Lady Colts a 25-10 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The Lady Colts scored 8 points in the fourth quarter, outpacing the Whirlwinds, who scored 4 points.

Those scoring for the seventh grade Lady Colts were Newhouse, 5; Mary Jaramillo, 4; Lindsey Shelton, 4; Cooper, 2; and Jamie Sawyer, 2. Other players suiting up were Jacki Grady, Sarah Kidd, Amanda Irving, Tosha Carter, Jamie Watson and Danielle Holden.

The seventh grade girls meet Panhandle at home beginning at 5 p.m. on Monday.

8th Grade Boys Crush Memphis Jr. High, 43-24

The eighth grade Memphis Whirlwinds outscored the Clarendon Colts by 10 points in the second quarter; and the visitors never looked back, beating the Colts 43-24.

Clarendon trailed by 1 point in the first quarter 6-5, but Memphis pushed that lead to 11 points propelled by a 12-point second quarter. The Whirlwinds led 18-7 at halftime.

Despite Carey Thornberry's 6 points in the third quarter, Memphis dropped in 13 points in the third quarter while Clarendon scored 8 points, pushing the advantage to 31-15.

Jeff Hearn drained a 3-pointer and a bucket in the fourth quarter contributing to the Colts 9 points in the fourth quarter. Memphis scored another 12 points.

The Colts were led by Thornberry's 10 points. Players scoring were: Hearn, 5; Garrett Bains, 4; Zack Butts, 3; and Chris Linquist, 2. Other players suiting up were Aaron Jeffers, Hunter Spier, Shane Morgan, Josh English and Seth Seale.

Next up for the eighth graders is a Monday match-up at Panhandle beginning around 6 p.m.

8th Grade Girls Edge Out Memphis Girls In Close Game, 39-34

Tonya Wilson and Niki Carter scored in double figures, leading the eighth grade Lady Colts past the Memphis Lady Whirlwinds 39-34 Nov. 13 in the Memphis gym.

The Lady Colts held onto a one-point lead, 8-7, at the end of the first quarter; but Memphis roared back before half leading 20-18. The Whirlwinds widened the gap in the third quarter with a 31-23 lead.

But Wilson and Carter took control in the fourth quarter, pouring in a combined 16 points for the narrow victory. The Lady Colts scored 16 points in the final quarter and held the Whirlwinds to 3 points.

Scoring for the Lady Colts were Carter with 15; Wilson, 14; America Santos, 4; Cat Chamberlain, 2; Lindy Helms, 2; and Kala Holland, 2. Those suiting up for the match-up were Noel Devin; Janiah Mondragon; Sammy Shelley; Camille Choate; Amanda Burns; Stacey Cenicerros; and Kara Barker.

The eighth graders will meet Panhandle in the Bronco gym immediately following the seventh grade game, which begins at 5 p.m.

MISS DUNCAN'S AND MRS. WHITE'S kindergarten class celebrated Thanksgiving by making and wearing paper Pilgrim and Indian costumes.

Elementary Students Celebrate Thanksgiving

The Clarendon kindergarten and first grade students celebrated Thanksgiving on Tuesday, November 21.

Mrs. White's and Miss Duncan's kindergarten classes have been studying about Pilgrims, Indians, and Thanksgiving all through the month of November. To reinforce their lesson on friendship and sharing they held a friendship stew for lunch. Each child brought one vegetable to share with their classmates for the lunch.

Miss Duncan's class made Pilgrim clothing to wear to the friendship stew, and Mrs. White's class made Indian clothing to wear.

The first graders also made Indian and Pilgrim clothing for their Thanksgiving Feast held at the First United Methodist Church.

The students sat at tables decorated with pumpkins, cloth Pilgrim people, and placemats that they had made. Students and their parents enjoyed the meal.

Jr. Hi. Title I Parents To Meet On Nov. 30

A Title I parent/teacher meeting will be held Nov. 30, 1995, at 3:40 p.m. in Room 105 of Clarendon Junior High.

Parents of Title I students are invited to come meet their children's teachers and teacher-aides.

Mrs. Chamberlain will discuss some of the activities her class is doing, while Ms. Mathiason and Mrs. Hall will discuss the new calculators being used in their classes.

JV Lady Bronchos Defeat San Jacinto; Boys Look To Groom For First Win

The junior varsity Lady Bronchos evened their record to 1-1 the first week of action, beating San Jacinto Christian Academy 45-8 on Friday and losing 32-27 to West Texas High Nov. 14.

West Texas outscored the Lady Bronchos 11-8 the first quarter and never looked back, taking a 17-14 halftime advantage. West Texas held onto a slim lead 21-20 at the end of the third quarter and outscored the Lady Bronchos 11-7 in the fourth quarter.

The Lady Bronchos used a balanced scoring attack in their opening contest. Those scoring were Stephanie Smith, Laura Finch and Jenny Roberts, 4 points; Jill Hicks, Pati Cenicerros, Paula Jackson, Lindsey Green and Marci Moore, 2; Kathy Bryley and Mandy Weather-ton, 1.

Hicks scored 12 points, and Cenicerros pumped in 9 as the Lady Bronchos raced past San Jacinto Friday night in the Broncho gym.

The scorefest began in the first quarter as the Lady Bronchos racked up 14 points and held San Jacinto to two free throws. The halftime lead was 20-5.

Those scoring for the Lady Bronchos were Jackson, 6; Roberts, 4; Weather-ton, 4; and Bryley, Smith, Moore, Finch and Green with 2 points apiece.

The junior varsity girls travel to Groom Tuesday for a 5 p.m. start, following the boys junior varsity game which is slated to begin at 4 p.m.

Parents Of Elementary Title I Students To Meet on Monday

The Clarendon Elementary Title I Parent Involvement Meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Nov. 27, 1995, at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting will be at JAMZ and is for parents of all of the Title I Reading and Mathematics students in the first through fifth grades.

The meeting will discuss the budget, how to better involve parents in our program, and will let parents know how the program is working. Another important aspect of this meeting will be to get parental input into helping the students meet the academic and performance goals set by TEA for the success of Title I students.

Please plan on attending the meeting and expressing your feelings on these important matters.

Bronchos Overpower San Jacinto After Falling to Amarillo Tascosa

The Bronchos evened their record at 1-1 the first week of basketball, running past San Jacinto Christian Academy 79-64 on Friday and losing 76-54 to 5A Amarillo Tascosa Nov. 14.

Lorenzo Moore scored 24 points, and Clemmie Smith contributed 18 points, six of which came in the first quarter in the San Jacinto contest.

The Bronchos outscored San Jacinto 20-14 in the first quarter and 22-14 in the second for a 42-28 halftime lead. San Jacinto rang up 20 points in the third, outpacing the Bronchos' 16 points.

But the Bronchos roared back with 21 points, seven by Moore, and never looked back as San Jacinto dropped in 16 points.

"We shot the ball real well, and I really liked how we were able to platoon," second-year head coach Jimmy Avery said. "We were able to keep our kids fresh by running five (players) in and five out."

"I think we just wore them out. (San Jacinto) shot the ball real well. I'm just glad we were able to contain them."

Scoring for the contest were Roy Williams and Ebony Butler with 10 apiece; Chris Brown, 5; Kareem Abdullah, 4; and Dean Stanzione, Theo Oliver, Mark Barefield and Drew Jeffers with 2 points apiece.

"I thought Lorenzo played real well and so did Clemmie. We're still a little rusty. We only had four practices (up to that point), but I think we'll continue to improve as the season progresses."

The Bronchos stayed in the ball game with 5A Tascosa for much of the first half, trailing 27-20 at halftime.

Poor shooting by Tascosa plagued the Rebels in the first half, but they came out roaring the second half, reeling off 24 points compared to the Bronchos' 4 in the third quarter.

Moore scored 7 points, and Jeffers chipped in 5 points in the fourth quarter, contributing to the 21-point quarter, but Tascosa threw in 25 points leading the home team to a 76-45 win.

Several new players suited up for the varsity's season-opener, and Avery said he was impressed with their effort after only two practices.

"I thought the guys really hustled. We only had two practices, and we mostly played that game to get in shape."

Scoring for the Bronchos were Moore, 13; Williams, 7; Brown and Barefield, 6; Jeffers and Smith, 5; and Stanzione, Oliver and Butler scored 1 point.

The Bronchos travel to Groom for an 8 p.m. tip-off against a team which gave them trouble last year.

"They have a different coach this year. I really don't know what to expect from him. But we'll be up for the game."

Clarendon Girls Win One, Lose One In Basketball Season Openers

West Texas High capitalized on fourth quarter turnovers in the Lady Bronchos season-opener Nov. 14, edging Clarendon 47-36. The Lady Bronchos had an easier time with San Jacinto Christian Academy Friday, coasting by the visitors 83-36.

Four Lady Broncho players scored in double figures Friday in a contest in which the Lady Bronchos never trailed.

Kasi Ashcraft sank two free throws and drained three buckets in the first quarter, pushing the Lady Bronchos to a 24-5 lead over San Jacinto.

"Seven out of the nine players scored in the first quarter," first-year head coach Steve Schmidt said. "The full court pressure hurt them (San Jacinto). That is going to be a big part of our game this year."

"We've been working on it since early in the school year."

Melisse Campbell scored 17 - 4 from the charity stripe, and Nettie Wilson contributed 14 points. Others scoring in double figures were junior Corey Knorrp with 11 and Ashcraft with 12.

Other players scoring were Lindsey Eads, 7; Cindy Hearn, 6; Kim Alexander, 6; Stephanie Floyd, 6; and Missie Butts, 4.

"All nine players scored, and that makes it a really neat team effort. Everyone is in on the scoring, and everyone's in on the game."

The Lady Bronchos shot 87 percent from the free throw line, which impressed Schmidt. "The biggest part of free throws is confidence."

On the strength of a bucket and a three-pointer by Corey Knorrp, the Lady Bronchos raced to an early 10-6 lead Nov. 14 with West Texas High and held onto a 24-19 halftime advantage.

West Texas outscored the Lady Bronchos 9-6 in the third quarter, but W.T. still trailed 30-28.

Eads chipped in two buckets, and Wilson scored one in the fourth quarter, but West Texas took control of the game, running off 19 points.

"We just ran out of gas," Schmidt said of the fourth quarter. "They were much deeper than we were. Our lack of stamina and plus the home-court advantage really helped them. There was a lot of noise in the gym."

"It kind of got to us. We need to play in close games like that. We didn't pass the test this time, but hopefully it will help when we get to district."

Scoring for the Lady Bronchos were Eads, 10; Campbell, 7; Knorrp, 5; Ashcraft, 5; Wilson, 3; and Hearn, Floyd and Butts with 2.

The Lady Bronchos travel to Groom Tuesday for a 6:30 p.m. contest.

Schmidt said he doesn't know much about Groom. "I just know they beat Memphis and played them fairly close. They lost a few fairly good players, but they've still got some size."

CHS Student Council Hosts 'SMILE' Week

During the week of Nov. 13 - 17, the Clarendon Student Council held a week full of activities to show students that there are ways to have fun without drugs and alcohol being involved.

This week was called SMILE week.

SMILE stands for Stimulants Mar Important Life Experiences.

The week was filled with dress-up days and daily contests. The winners of these contests were Dawn McAnear, Scott Bivens, Jennifer Parker, Marcy Moore, and Alesia Womack.

Each of the winners won a sock full of goodies.

During SMILE week, the students dressed up in clothing that pertained to the following theme days:

- Monday - Don't Let Drugs Give You The Blues
- Tuesday - Turn Your Back On Drugs
- Wednesday - Give Drugs The Boot
- Thursday - Say No To Drugs... No Sweat
- Friday - Shade Out Drugs

During the week full of fun and learning, the students learned that no matter what happens in their lives, they do not need to use drugs to have fun.

Lady Bulldogs Edge Out Hardin Simmons, 65-58

The Lady Bulldogs climbed out of a 17-3 first half hole Saturday against Hardin Simmons University eventually rolling over the visitors 65-58.

The Clarendon women had a rough week on the court, dropping a 85-58 contest with Frank Phillips College Monday and losing three games in a tough Gold Rush Classic Nov. 9-12 in Dodge City, Kan.

Clarendon's record falls to 2-5.

Hardin Simmons had Clarendon down 17-3 in the first half before the Lady Bulldogs turned things around.

"We just started playing smarter," head coach Joel Zehr said. "We didn't do anything different, and neither did they. We just started taking good passes and good shots."

Despite the Clarendon run, Hardin Simmons held onto a narrow 27-26 halftime advantage.

Paced by Thais Dunbar's 18 points, who was 73 percent from field goal range, and Tandra Edwards' 17 points, Clarendon outscored Hardin Simmons 39-31 in the second half.

"They started doing what I asked them to do," Zehr said. "I was really proud of them."

Those scoring for the Lady Bulldogs were Brandy Thomas, 14; Deborah York, 6; Angie Kelpy, 4; and Lori Hurst and Lori Neish with 2 points apiece.

Frank Phillips had a 10-point lead at halftime in Borger and then outscored the Lady Bulldogs by 17 points in the second half for a 85-58 loss for Clarendon.

Thomas had 19 points in the losing effort. Dunbar contributed 11 points and Kelpy scored 10.

"We just didn't execute," Zehr said. "We played decent defense the first half, but in the second half we couldn't get the rebounds."

The Lady Bulldogs dropped three contests in the Gold Rush Classic, losing to the host team Dodge City Nov. 9, 69-42, despite a 16-point performance by Thomas. Thomas scored in double figures again as they fell to Murray State, 66-52 Nov. 10.

Garden City roared past Clarendon 78-62 in the final game Nov. 12. Kelpy and Kristy Parada chipped in 13 apiece.

"It was a tough tournament," Zehr said. "We have an even tougher tournament over the Thanksgiving weekend."

The Lady Bulldogs travel to Coffeyville, Kan., for a round-robin tournament beginning Thanksgiving Day and running through Saturday. They open against the home team.

A Letter To My Patients

Dear Friends,

You may have noticed that I'm not available as much as in the past. Now that our facility is a rural health clinic of High Plains Baptist Health Care Systems, I travel more. I am also the supervising physician of the rural health clinic at Silverton. This makes for a lot of administrative paper-work so I am less available for your health care needs.

However, Clarendon is fortunate to have an excellent physician's assistant, Robert Powell, who has many years of experience. Robert can do ninety-five percent of everything that I can do. He can prescribe "dangerous drugs," but not "scheduled drugs" which can be habit forming. I think that you'll find Robert can solve most of your health care needs.

If you really need to consult with me, I will be here a few days each week for my appointments, but I think that Robert can take care of you most of the time. You will find that telephone calls will take second place to sick patients when I am in the office, so you may find my staff returning calls for me when I am short of time.

I know that this will be a change for those of you that I have treated for over thirty years, but I'll still be here some of the time. High Plains Baptist Health Care Systems has even agreed to help find a physician for Clarendon at such time as I may decide to retire, but I don't plan to do that anytime soon. I want to slow down a little. As you know change is inevitable but not always what we want.

We are trying to build the best health care system possible for the entire Texas Panhandle, so we may all experience some growing pains, but it should result in better health care for everyone. I'm sorry if it causes a personal inconvenience, but progress is sometimes painful.

Your friend,
R. L. Gilkey, M. D.

Owls Do Well In Ft. Elliot Tourney

Boys place second, girls place third

The Owls basketball teams played in the Fort Elliott Tournament on November 16-18. Johnny Hoggatt, Chris Solis, and Jennifer Carson received All Tourney honors at the tournament.

The boys beat Allison on Thursday, 57-53. Chris Solis carried his team to victory with 26 points. The Lady Owls flew by Fort Elliott J.V. 39-17. Lead scorer, Christina Woodard led the way to victory with 12 points.

The Owls played Higgins on Friday. Higgins squeezed by the Owl defense and won the game 48-47. James Potts led the team in scoring with 14 points. Chris Solis, Jason Gilbert, Johnny Hoggatt, and Cody Graves also helped put points on the scoreboard.

The Lady Owls lost to Allison 68-50.

Jennifer Carson and Christina Woodard put 15 and 12 points respectively up for the Owls. Gina Cannon, Penny Longan, Melody Gibbons, Christa Moore, and Jana Hill also scored several points each.

On the last day of the tournament, the Owls smashed Wheeler

Christian Academy, 80-73. Johnny Hoggatt powered his way through the Wheeler defense and scored 26 points. Chris Solis hooped up 23 points, Cody Graves scored 16 points, Jason Gilbert scored 11, and James Potts scored 4 points to lead the Owls to victory and sent them to play Fort Elliott.

The Owls easily beat Fort Elliott, 70-57 and took second place honors in the tournament. Johnny Hoggatt, Jason Gilbert, Chris Solis, James Potts, and Cody Graves all scored big points to lead the Owls to victory.

The Lady Owls also played Fort Elliott on Saturday. They won in a close match 45-44. Christina Woodard and Jana Hill led the team in scoring with 10 points each. Jennifer Carson, Cindy Lee, Christa Moore, Melody Gibbons, and Gina Cannon all helped lead the Owls to victory and third place in the tournament.

The Owls prepared for their first game at home against Channing on Tuesday, November 21 and will travel to McLean on Tuesday, November 28.

Lady Owls Defeat Miami; Owls Lose In Heart-breaker Game

The Hedley Owls basketball teams traveled to Miami on Tuesday, November 14. The Lady Owls upset Miami 56-52 and the Owls lost by one to Claude, 49-48.

The Lady Owls Cindy Lee, Jana Hill, and Christina Woodard each racked up 12 points to lead the team in scoring. Jennifer Carson helped with 10 points with Melody Gibbons, Penny Longan, and Gina Cannon also adding to the score board.

Miami's lead scorer was limited to only four points by the Lady Owls tremendous defense.

The Hedley boys lost by only one point to Claude during their match up in Miami.

Chris Solis lead the Owls in scoring with 16 points. David Ward and Johnny Hoggatt also put the points on the board with 11 and 10 points respectively. Cody Graves, James Potts, and Jason Gilbert helped the Owls offense come so close to shutting out Claude.

Believing that "every child deserves a little Christmas," the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and Parts Plus auto-store owners have joined together for the 1995 Toys for Tots promotion. Working together, they hope to be able to put smiles like these on the faces of thousands of needy children in their local communities.

SBA Disaster Loan Filing Deadline Approaches

Lubbock - Businesses in Childress, Collingsworth, Donley, and Hall Counties have until November 30, 1995, to file applications for low-interest disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

The SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loans are available for businesses dependent on farmers and ranchers sustaining crop losses from drought which occurred May 1 through September 10, 1994.

Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for these SBA loans. However, nurseries that are victims of drought disasters can apply.

Applications and further information can be obtained by calling the SBA toll-free at 1-800-366-6303 or TDD 817-267-4688 for the hearing impaired.

These loans are intended to assist businesses in offsetting working capital losses which they suffered as a result of the drought reducing the crop income of the area farmers and ranchers. Small businesses claiming to have been physically injured by the weather are not eligible.

THANK YOU

To all of our friends, we wish to say a heartfelt thank you. Thank you for all the prayers, cards, letters, telephone calls, words of comfort, and visits during the long stay in both the Albuquerque, New Mexico, and the Amarillo hospital.

We are back in Amarillo where Emory is having rehabilitation and physical therapy. It is our goal to have him home by Thanksgiving.

Thank you and God Bless you all.

Emory & Sally Stone
