LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

Literature, as well as everything else, is going through the throes of readjustment. Howard Fast, in a recent pronouncement before the National Council of Teachers of English, expressed the idea that American literature, "now in a slough of drugstore romances, will soon enter a period of rebirth and greatness." He feels that the notable works in the literature of tomorrow will come from the young writers who participated in the war.

A. J. Cronin has returned to the United States after a year in Europe with a gloomy view of social injustice observed there. This feeling will be reflected in his new book, which will expose "the malady that is infecting the world today." It will be remembered that Cronin's last book, "The Green Years," was long a best seller.

The $10,000 Scribner Prize in American History, offered under the auspices of the Society of American Historians, has been awarded to Allan Nevins, history professor at Columbia University and twice winner of the Pulitzer Prize in biography, for his 300,000 word manuscript on the Civil War period, "Ordeal of the Union." Scribner's, who gave the prize in commemoration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the firm, will publish the work some time in 1947.

Grace Tutley, who was Roosevelt's Secretary and who has been working on his papers is completing the job, and soon will begin work for the Roosevelt Memorial Committee.

Frances Parkinson Keyes, author of "The River Road," "Crescent Carnival" and other novels of distinction has received another honor. She was awarded the Sierra Medal as the outstanding Catholic woman in America. Only two other writers, Ann O'Hare McCormick and Agnes Ripplier have received this award. Mrs. Keyes is in France at this time.

Jewel Gibson, author of "Joshua Beene and God" has sold the right to this best selling novel to an English firm for a British edition. She is writing another novel, "Rainbows in the Mud," a story of the Texas oil fields.

The Literary Guild has released some interesting figures in its history. The Guild began in March, 1927, distributing to its 5,732 members "Anthony Comstock" by Heywood Brown and Margaret Leech. In 1947 the Guild has 1,250,000 members. During the first three years, the Guild's sales of best sellers did not reach more than 100,000, but in 1946 the choice ran over 600,000 while a few ran over the million mark, such as Daphne du Maurier's "The King's General," and Taylor Caldwell's "This Side of Innocence," both of which are on our shelves. Since the Guild inaugurated its plan, fifty-seven other clubs have come into being, chief of which is the Book-of-the-Month Club.

1,243,000 copies of "The Egg and I" have been sold, and it will soon be on the screen.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apocrypha

ADAGE.
Achievements are like a pair of pants—they become threadbare if you rest upon them.

THE BRUTE!
A man's watch may be slow, but his appetite is always an hour ahead for the noonday meal. We continue to call it dinner where I stay. Durn these new-fangled ideas.

CHANGING WORLD.
A man may make a better mouse trap today, but the pickets will stop the flow of people to his door.

POOR HEATHENS! (?)
When the Indians were running this country there were no taxes, no debts, and the women did all the work. White men were dumb enough to think they could improve on that system.

INDUSTRY.
The good Lord freezes the water, but you have to cut your own ice.

SUGGESTION.
Would it be better for the country if as many people were looking for jobs right now as are looking for unemployment compensation? I ask you.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wood and Mrs. Arlie Wood and children visited in Quanah in the home of B. B. Harris Tuesday.

concede that Mr. Dewey has accomplished some great things in his life. In fact, his greatest accomplishment is that he married a Texas girl, which is not an easy thing to do for the average Republican." End quote. You just can't make anything out of a Texan, but a Texan, and by Heck, you can't make anything off of them either.

Heard on the radio, in the words of the "Grave Digger", There is only one time, And only one place, Where its right to throw dirt, in the other mans face.

Noticed in the paper that Secretary Anderson wanted us to cut down on our 1947 wheat crop, and plant more flax. The only thing is, I have already sown my wheat, and the only flax seed in town, are the kind that you put in your eye. Wish I could introduce a bill to give each Farmer a Crystal Ball, so he would know what they wanted him to do, ahead of time.

While they are talking about repealing the war Luxury Tax, think about this. If some old lady in your town needed a wheel chair, and you and your club decided to put on a show and charge admission to buy it, the Government would take out the same "Cut", that they would if Tommy Manville decided to buy his "Humpteenth" bride a diamond ring. If you want to see your Home Team play the "Punkin Center Bears" and the proceeds went to buy a jumping rope for the first grade, they would take the same 20% that would come out of Henry Ford, the Second, admission to see Jack Benny play high C on his violin. Just don't seem like the same thing to me.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood has promised to try to help West Texas get its fair share of the school money from the State. If he succeeds he will have to have your help. To get your share under the present law you need three things: lots of large families, low tax valuation, and a dishonest school board and administration. If you live in West Texas and can qualify on two of those counts you may be getting some help, but unless you qualify on all three you can't expect your fair share.

Famous Restaurant Owner Advising Army Cooks

George Mardikian, owner of the world famous Omar Kay-yam's restaurant in San Francisco, is now in Germany at the request of General Joseph T. Mc-Narney to lend his genius to Army cooks throughout the American occupied zone, the War Department announced today.

Before his departure, Mardikian, a recently appointed Food Consultant to the Secretary of War, paid a visit to Quartermaster General of the Army, T. B.
 Larkin, who expressed his pleasure at the appointment, feeling assured that Mardikian's tour of inspection would aid in carrying out the high standards set forth in the Quartermaster Corps Training Program.

Mardikian, an Armenian who,
 at fifteen, joined the Armenian guerrillas to help resist the invasion of his homeland, escaped from prison camp, and, in 1922 made his way to America to start life anew as a dishwasher in a San Francisco cafeteria.

Like the Gilbert and Sullivan Admiral who became ruler of the Queen's Navy by so carefully polishing the handles of the big front door, Mardikian became a world famous restaurateur, except that his rise to fame was via polishing platters instead of door knobs.

LOCAL RED CROSS NEEDS CLOTHING

The Leader has been asked to announce that the local Red Cross is in need of usable clothing. Many calls are made every week to the Red Cross for used clothing for families of unfortunate circumstances. If you have garments that are still usable with only minor mending to be done, please take them to Mrs. C. A. Burton at the Library located in the City Hall basement, west side.

Perhaps you have some used garments that have been pushed back in closets, boxed or sacked and you have forgotten about them. Take a good look and see if you don't have something in the way of usable clothing that will mean a lot to those needing them.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wright left Monday for Bentonville, Ark. after receiving word that Mrs. Wright's step-mother, Mrs. Perry Alden, had passed away early Monday morning.

Costliest Picture Ever Made

More than $7,000,000 was spent making and advertising David O. Selznick's super western movie "Duel in the Sun," which was selected by Louella O. Parsons as one of the three best pictures of the month in the January issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. A record total of $5,285,000 was spent in making the picture and to date more than $2,000,000 has been spent advertising it. Shown above are Jennifer Jones and Gregory Peck, torrid lovers of the picture.

Veterans' News

Mr. Veteran, are you planning on getting married any time soon? This may seem a bit personal, but if you are drawing subsistence for one-the-job-training or for going to school, it would definitely be to your advantage to send to Veterans administration regional office at Lubbock an invitation to your wedding.

The VA will not send you a lot of wedding presents, but if your subsistence allowance is to be increased from $65 to $90 per month, beginning with the day you are married, it is necessary that the VA have prior notice that you intend to take unto yourself a wife.

If you wait until after you are married to notify the VA, and to request an increase in your subsistence to that of a married veteran, the VA is governed by law to commence your $90 subsistence from receipt of notification and cannot make the increase retroactive to date of your marriage.

So, if you are receiving VA educational benefits and plan to get married, let the VA know in advance by card or letter over your signature and indirectly following marriage send in a certified copy of the public record of your marriage, thus your increased subsistence allowance will commence the date of your marriage.

Remember, when writing the VA on any subject, be sure to give full name, address, service serial number and claim number.

The all important VA subsistence check will reach a greater majority of veterans, taking on-the-job training or going to school under the GI Bill, right on the first day of each month, than heretofore possible, according to C. E. Piickens, Veterans administration regional finance officer at Lubbock.

A new system has been installed whereby more veterans will receive their subsistence checks the first of the month; however, receipt of a few checks, approximately 5% will necessarily be delayed until the 4th or 5th of the month.

As a result of the Treasury Department's installation of rapid mechanical equipment, it is now possible to move the "cut-off" date for submission of VA pay-rolls up to the 27th of the month, which enabled more veterans to be placed on the roll.

This means that more veteran-trainees will receive their checks from 10 to 30 days earlier than previously possible.

In this manner better service can be rendered the majority of veterans, while delaying only a small number for a few days. Furthermore, the same veteran's check will not be delayed each time under this system.

It is requested that veterans refrain from calling the regional finance office if a check is not received on the first day of the month. Give the check four or five days to show up. Hasty inquiries slow down the finance office and may actually be the cause of some delayed checks. Piickens pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Apple of Pueblo, Colo. were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leathers.
