BRONCHOS DEFEAT WHITE DEER IN CLOSING GAME OF SEASON

The Broncos came back in grand style last Friday afternoon to defeat the White Deer Bucks 32-7 in their last game of the season. The game was moved up a few hours and played Friday afternoon due to the anticipated cold wave that was forecast but never arrived. It was a beautiful afternoon and the Broncos dedicated the game to Coaches Ray Moore and Tom Jinks and the three seniors, Kenneth Evans, Allen Hoper Estlack and Billy Mac Hicks.

The game was marred by two injuries. Estlack, who was playing his last high school game, received a dislocation of his left elbow and a leg injury when he was clipped by a White Deer player about mid-way of the fourth quarter. Richard Vallance, sophomore halfback, who had seen action with the Broncos in the place of Mills the last two games, received a kidney injury which has confined him to bed this week but he was reported much improved yesterday. For his experience with the A squad, he made a mighty fine showing and probably will be heard from quite a bit next year. Another senior, Kenneth Evans, who was injured in the McLean game, saw limited action in his final game but did a fine job in spite of a bad ankle.

At this point the Broncos are in 3rd place in district play but this could be changed by the outcome of the Panhandle-Canadian game Friday night. The Broncos have a 7-3 record for the season, having lost 3 out of 8 conference games. This is a good record for any team that has played the type of competition found in 1-A.

In the B-Game with White Deer Thursday afternoon the Bronco B squad took a victory also with the final score 8-7. Jerry Chandler went over for the lone Bronco tally. Clarendon had added a safety earlier in the game. The Buck B-squad squeezed out their one tally late in the fourth period.

Plainview "B" Team Outlasts Bulldogs 113 to 105

The Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs suffered their second defeat of the season Monday night as they were outscored 113 to 105 by the Wayland College "B" team in a game played at Silverton.

The high-scoring game was close all the way with the young Pioneers pulling away late in the game after the Bulldogs lost both Bob Garten and Gary Kunka on fouls. Garten carried the attack to the Pioneers by pumping in 28 points before going out with eight minutes to go. The Bulldogs were leading by one point when Garten left the floor.

CJC Girls Win First Game

The Clarendon Junior College girls basketball team took first win of the season by defeating the Cactus All-Stars by a score of 87 to 19. This fast-moving game was played last Thursday evening at Cactus. High point girl for Clarendon was Louise Short with 20 points. Barbara Holub and Joan Crawford tied for second place with 15 each, followed by Claudette Green who scored 14 points. All of the girls played a good defensive game as is seen by their opponents low score.

The girls next game will be played Saturday night when they go to Plainview for the Wayland College homecoming. Let's all go over to Plainview and support the team.

Bulldogs Defeat Cactus All-Stars 90 to 22

The Clarendon College Bulldogs played their second game of the season at Cactus last Thursday night and easily defeated the Cactus All-Stars by a score of 90 to 22. The Bulldog attack was sparked by Billy White who made 24 points and Gary Kunka, speedy little guard, who sank 22 points.

The Bulldogs jumped ahead early in the first quarter and were never in any danger. They rolled up a 25 to 2 score at the end of the first quarter, and with reserves playing the second quarter, piled up a 38 to 4, halftime advantage.

Other players seeing action and their points were: Boyd White 10; Bob Garten and Jay Wilson, 6 each; Fate Breedlove, Jack Williamson and Kenneth Newman, 4 each; Gene Harris, 3; Robert Pickrel and Carol Favors, two each; Don Landers and Sherman Cosper, one each. Don Reeves and Carol Stepp saw action but did not dent the score column.

How To Be At Home With The World
 By WILLIAM PARKER McFADDEN
 Prominent Interior Decorator and World Traveler

"Souvenir hunting" can be one of the most rewarding—or one of the most wasteful—features of any trip, whether it's 100 or 10,000 miles from home.

The ultimate value of any souvenir you acquire depends on "selective buying"—the purchase of good items which can be worked into your everyday pattern of living.

One of the chief objections to souvenirs—which can mean any object acquired as a reminder or memento—is that people store them in boxes in the backs of drawers. Consequently, they are never reminded of anything, unless it's the presence of a lot of "junk" when they start cleaning out those drawers.

"Selective souvenir hunting" was the objective on a three-month trip around the world to acquire furnishings and art objects for a series of model homes being decorated by McFadden Associates at the 1955 State Fair of Texas.

Articles were brought back to Dallas from Japan, India, Finland, Mexico, Denmark, Hong Kong, Siam, Burma, Spain, Morocco, Java, Bali, Lebanon, Syria and Italy. The various items as used in the State Fair rooms will illustrate how you can be "at home with the world" in Dallas, Texas.

One very inexpensive thing used very effectively was a collection of coins from all of these countries. Instead of burying the coins in a closet, we have had them embedded in black plastic trays which form the top of a long coffee table. In this way the trays and coins are in constant use—thus fitting them into a daily living pattern. The same thing could be done with tiles, or with any number of items people usually buy when they are traveling.

Another example is a ceremonial wash basin from Japan. Something like this makes a wonderful conversation piece when used as a salad bowl or centerpiece filled with colorful fruits. Everyone can enjoy it in use, whereas no one would enjoy it as a "museum display piece."

This is just as true of items you can purchase on a trip to El Paso or Galveston as to Japan or Africa.

The model rooms at the State Fair will be in connection with the new International Center, devoted to exhibits by nine foreign countries. The Center is located in the General Exhibits Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Boner Howard and daughters of Amarillo visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams and children of Harlingen and Miss Mary Williams of New York City have arrived to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams.

Mrs. John Gerner of Amarillo visited relatives and friends here last weekend.

Watch Pedestrians While Driving, Warns Safety Official

"Be a good sport. Give pedestrians a break!"

This advice was given to motorists recently by Mr. E. C. McFadden, Vice President Employers' Casualty Company, Dallas, Texas and President, Texas Safety Association, Inc. His plea for a sportsmanlike attitude in traffic was made as part of the pedestrian safety program the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council are conducting during November.

"Remember, a pedestrian is no match for a car, so even when you have the right of way, give it up to avoid an accident," Mr. McFadden said. "As a matter of fact, most vehicle codes and ordinances require the driver of a vehicle to yield the right of way to a pedestrian at all times."

Army H19 Sikorsky helicopters take the burden off the soldier's back by flying in 75mm pack howitzers during training maneuvers at the Army Aviation Center, Camp Rucker, Ala. This helicopter is used also to carry soldiers into simulated battle areas.

Mr. McFadden yarned drivers to be constantly on the alert for unsafe behavior on the part of pedestrians. He also advised them to be sure their cars are in perfect mechanical condition, saying that good brakes or a horn may

AUSTIN—One thousand education-minded Texans, meeting in Austin, selected "No federal aid, no federal control" as the theme they will take to the White House Conference on Education November 28 - Dec. 1st.

Texas is one of five states that refuses federal funds for staging state and local education conferences.

Gov. Allan Shivers told the delegates to the conference that Texas did not seek federal aid to education. Further aid to the school system, he said, should come from the state, but without strings of control from the state level upon the local districts.

Rather than federal aid, one leader suggested "relief from the stupendous federal tax burden" to allow states more latitude for school financing. A re-examining of the state's total tax structure in search of additional school revenue was proposed.

Other problems on which the Texas Conference on Education exchanged ideas were: 12-months-a-year or six-days-a-week use of buildings; attracting and holding good teachers; keeping curricula up-to-date.

A consensus of their findings will be compiled into a report to be taken to the White House Conference.

Court Re-Considers
 Texas Court of Criminal Appeals is, for the second time, pondering the legality of the Duval Co. grand jury which returned 104 indictments against county officials.

This time it also is considering charges by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd that it "misrepresented facts" on its Oct. 5 decision nullifying the grand jury's action.

In a vigorous argument for reversal, Shepperd contended the majority opinion reflected on the "propriety and motives" of himself and Judge A. S. Broadfoot. He referred specifically to statements concerning alleged collusion between himself and Broadfoot.

Judge Broadfoot dismissed one grand jury in Duval County and made arrangements for a new one, which the high court held illegal. Shepperd's office assisted with the South Texas investigations.

Land Sales Reopened
 Requests from over 3,000 veterans were included in a drawing which officially reopened the Texas land program last week.

The first 300 drawn were to receive application forms immediately. The remainder will receive notices of where they stand in line and will receive their application forms at a later date.

Land Officer Commissioner J. Earl Rudder looked on as Charles L. Downey, department commander of the American Legion, drew the name of Olin R. Talley of Buffalo Gap as the first on the application list.

Rudder said careful measures are being taken to prevent favoritism. This was one of the factors revealed in the investigations which caused the program to be shut down last November.

Skelton Elected
 In electing him chairman of the Texas Democratic Advisory Committee, Byron Skelton of Temple told the DAC they had, in effect, made him chairman of the Democratic Party in Texas.

A resolution at the DAC meeting in Waco, to leave the national committeeman post vacant until the May convention was rejected. In its place, the committee adopted a resolution setting forth "prime qualifications" for a national committeeman and committee woman.

No direct reference was made to the choice of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, recently named committeeman. Ramsey's appointment had the approval of Speaker Sam Rayburn, who organized the DAC to fill the place of national committeeman after Wright Morrow was ousted from the post.

Johnson Dinner Planned
 If plans materialize, a testimonial dinner for U. S. Sen. Yndon B. Johnson will be given in Austin in December.

Meantime, there have been suggestions to name Johnson Texas' "favorite son" candidate for president. Johnson said he had no intention of being proposed as a candidate. He said he had every hope of forming a legislative program in Congress which can be carried to the people. "If we do our job in Congress right, the election will take care of itself."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Seen Monk's "Better Half"?

Monk McCarthy's latest creation has the town talking again. You can see it parked in front of Monk's auto repair shop on Maple.

Remember last year Monk cut two cars in half, and put their front ends together? You couldn't tell if the thing was coming or going. Sure attracted attention.

Now Monk's taken Tog Morgan's old sedan and completely restored one half of it. One side is as good as new, the other looks like—well, Tog's old car. "Sort of a before-and-after demonstration," Monk told me, "shows folks the kind of work I do."

From where I sit, some of Monk's ideas may look a little wild sometimes... but I wouldn't want to tell him how to run his business any more than I'd like him to tell me what beverage to enjoy. He always keeps a hot pot of tea in his garage—I'd rather have a cold glass of beer—but respect for each other's opinion is "auto"-matic with us both.

BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN

It would be most difficult to express in words the feeling one has as he gets on an airplane in Helsinki, Finland, for conveyance to a point behind the Iron Curtain. It can certainly be said that the entire operation is surrounded by the deepest mystery and this passenger felt somewhat like he was taking part in a foreign intrigue episode. In any event you are in a state of suspended animation not knowing what will happen next.

The airport at Helsinki is an excellent installation and is served by several airlines connecting with the Western countries. Its only connection with Russia and the Eastern countries is by the airline owned by the USSR and named Aeroflot. The Finnish Airlines are not allowed to go into Russia nor are any other airlines from the Western countries. You may fly any of the several airlines serving Helsinki from many points to Helsinki, but when you reach this destination you must change over to Aeroflot if you are authorized to go behind the Curtain. We were scheduled to depart Helsinki at 3:15 p. m. for Leningrad. We were all waiting for the arrival of the Russian planes hoping to get some pictures. I had a movie camera and was all prepared to take pictures. Instead of one plane, there were three, all the same type. They all carried the Russian emblem and came in almost simultaneously. I began shooting pictures and discovered my camera wouldn't operate. I took a quick glance inside and discovered that I had done something wrong and the entire roll of film was a twisted mass and the camera had jammed. I began to hunt for a dark room where I could take the film out and save as much as possible. The only place I could find that was not brilliantly lighted was the men's room. I can testify without fear of successful contradiction that trying to remove twisted film from a jammed camera in a Finnish men's room is no pleasant task. I had the door locked and almost got in trouble with some of the other passengers. I finally got some of the other film out and tried to insert another roll but the camera had definitely jammed and I missed getting any pictures of the first Russian plane that I had seen. So I put the camera in the case and tried to forget it.

After approval of our papers we were admitted to a room from which we were later to depart for the airplane. This room was filled with many types of people who were travelling to or returning to the Soviet Union. After another round of processing we were led to the plane by a Russian hostess. One member of the party started around the front of the plane and the hostess with the speed of a quarterhorse herded him back into the fold and left no doubt in his mind that he was to proceed where she led. The plane was very similar to a DC-3 type of plane, that is two motored and about the same size. Some of these planes have tricycle landing gear and others have a tail wheel exactly like the DC-3. The furnishings inside of the plane were typically Russian in design, color and texture. Much different from the furnishings in our planes. There were no seat belts which disturbed us to some extent. As soon as we were aboard, the motors were started and we took off without any further ado. There were no announcements or instructions of any kind, in fact we did not see anyone nor did we hear from anyone. We were quickly airborne and climbed to about 3 thousand feet. The trip in was uneventful except that we undertook to determine exactly when we passed behind the Iron Curtain. We watched for the border but were unable to discern it due to a haze. However, we were able to approximate our crossing by time. There was nothing unusual about the countryside except that there were no cities or towns in sight and we did not see any for a long time.

As we approached Leningrad we noted many railroad tracks and many trains. Where they were going I do not know, but most of them appeared to be freight trains. We landed in Leningrad in due order where we were met by some Russian officials both men and women. The airport building is about 200 yards from the landing field. The two are connected by a wide flower bordered concrete strip. We were escorted into the building and into a special room where our baggage was examined by customs officials and we were required to sign certain declarations as to what we were carrying. One of the officials spoke English very well and I asked him a number of questions. One was, "Where and how do you buy any articles that you might desire?" His answer was, "You buy anything you want anywhere at any time." As an afterthought he added the following question, "Not so in the United States?" to which I replied, "Oh, yes. There are so many things to buy and so many places to buy them in the United States that all you need is money". He grinned as though he thoroughly understood the problem.

This was our introduction to the mysteries behind the Iron Curtain and from that point many interesting events took place which I will try to outline in detail in subsequent newsletters.

Why Are Farm Prices Falling?

John White, Commissioner
Texas Dept. of Agriculture

The marked decline of farm income in our nation within the past few years in spite of a business and financial boom is a cause for concern of every citizen of Texas and the nation. Explanations ranging from rising farm costs and burdensome surpluses to downright poor management have been offered by those who must defend their positions as farm policy-makers. Actual reasons for farm decline revolve not around an increase in our farmers' operation costs, but in lower prices paid for their commodities, directly induced by the "sliding scale" price support system.

An astounding drop in the nation's farm operator's net family income from $14.3 billion in 1952 to $11 billion annual rate in the second quarter of 1955 has occurred in spite of, and not because of, changes in farmers' costs of production. Farm production costs actually dropped from $23.4 billion in 1952 to an annual rate of $22.5 billion in the same second quarter of 1955. This was probably because falling gross income made it impossible for farmers to replace worn-out equipment and machinery.

A most unrealistic answer to the economic distress of farmers has been offered by high-ranking officials who say the trouble lies in increased costs for farm equipment. In the first place, the farm "parity" program as set up in the Agricultural Act of 1948 is disposed to set farm income up on a "par" with the income of other segments of the population.

This being the case, the rise of farm machinery costs should be accounted for, since the parity price is calculated by a formula that takes into account all changes in the prices of things the farmers buy.

Furthermore, farm equipment costs have increased by only about 3 to 5 per cent since 1952. This contrasts with 25, 30 and 35 per cent drops in prices in a majority of commodities the farmers sell. So the problem can't be just explained away that simply.

The obvious conclusion is that which is most evident to the farmer himself: lower prices received for the commodities he produces and sells. These price drops were allowed because governmental policy and weakened farm legislation has removed effective and adequate support.

If this trend is not soon reversed, all other phases of our national economy are sure to realize its damning effects.

New Vigor For Sweet Potato Industry

John White, Commissioner Texas Dept. of Agriculture
The Texas sweet potato industry is having growing pains. Although it was far from puny—grossing some $10 million in good years—recent developments show promise of making the "yam" a really robust commodity in state farm economy.
The Texas Sweet Potato Law has been in effect just over a month. And already, some changes have had to be made to help move the crop to market this year.
The law calls for grading, inspection and proper shipping of potatoes under certification of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Originally, U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2's, along with unclassified grades, had to be boxed in standard approved cases to prevent damage and assure uniform quality. But the law failed to reckon with Texas' production capacity.
Standard packing cases, approved by law, fell short of the demand. As a result, a change in regulations was made to allow unclassified grades to be shipped in bulk. This is a temporary measure good only until Nov. 15. After that date, unclassified potatoes must be crated according to original specifications the same as No. 1's and 2's.
Sweet potatoes are grown widely in East Texas, with a new development on the High Plains area and in South Texas in recent years. Upshur, Titus, Cass, Smith, Morris, Van Zandt, Wood, Robertson and Leon counties are the traditional leaders until now.
Texas grows some of the finest sweet potatoes found anywhere. However, lack of consistent grading was the principal deterrent in outside markets until this year. The new law was designed specifically to correct this lack.
The new grading standards are essentially the same as those of the United States Department of Agriculture. As a matter of fact, in some ways they are a little better—which should give Texas a slight edge on out-of-state markets when the facts become generally known.
Some difficulties will be encountered from time to time. But the first hurdles have been taken successfully. Inquiries or problems should be addressed to John White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin 14, Texas.
Thomas Alva Edison patented more than 11,000 inventions.

Lice on Poultry Cause Plenty of Trouble Says County Agent

Lice on poultry cause a great deal of trouble for the poultry raiser says county agent H. M. Breedlove. Lice also cause poultry to grow at a slower rate and the chickens are not as thrifty and produce less eggs. The louse spends its entire life on the chicken and spreads through the flock most rapidly during cool weather. The eggs attach themselves to the feathers and hatch in two weeks or less and then in another two weeks they are full grown lice. One pair of lice can produce offspring of around 120,000 within the life span of a few months, hence, the need for fast control of all lice in the chicken flock.

A good treatment is fumigation by using a roost paint. Breedlove says that an effective paint is one percent lindane in an oil solution. It should be applied at the rate of about one pint to each 200 square feet of roost and just before the birds go to roost. A second application should be made within about a ten day period. Dips and sprays and dusts are good also but requires the individual handling of each bird. Sanitation is also a big factor and will help to keep the flock healthy and also to hold down lice.

Breedlove urges any one needing additional information to call by his office.

Greenbelt Dist. FFA Leadership Contests Set For Nov. 19th

Representatives of the thirteen schools comprising the Greenbelt F.F.A. District will meet at Memphis, Saturday, Nov. 19th, at 9 A. M. for their annual Leadership contests, according to J. R. Gillham, District publicity chairman. Contests in junior and senior chapter conducting, junior and senior farm demonstration contest, junior F.F.A. quiz, and senior radio broadcasting will be conducted between teams from Childress, Paducah, Carey, Wellington, Quail, Samnorwood, Turkey, Estelline, Lakeview, Memphis, Hedley, Lelia Lake and Clarendon.

Herschell Potts, Memphis High School Vocational Agriculture Instructor, will be in charge of the contests. Potts has arranged a schedule for the contests that will take up the entire day due to the heavy entry list in the events. Banners will be awarded the first, second, and third place winners in each contest.

Winners in the district contests will compete in the Area I Contests to be held at Plainview the first Saturday in November. In the 1954 Area Contests, representatives of the Greenbelt District made a creditable showing and a number of the teams qualified for the state contests.

Antlerless Deer Shoot About Set

AUSTIN—Harvest of between three and five thousand antlerless deer in six Hill Country counties may be authorized on the basis of plans now underway, said the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. Slightly more than three thousand head of antlerless deer were taken last fall when this method of reducing deer overpopulation was given emergency status in Mason, Llano and Gillespie counties.

This year the special harvest has been approved in those three counties. Commission action has paved the way for the antlerless hunts in Medina, Kerr, and Blanco counties, subject to final approval of county commissioners' courts.

"These special harvests are dictated by sound game management policies in the face of overpopulation of deer on drought-stricken, overgrazed ranges," said the Executive Secretary. "Removing surplus deer in these counties this fall will be another step toward balancing the herds and will mean a higher survival rate next winter. We know that this action improves the vigor of individual animals and generally improves deer hunting in the long run."

Hunters will get the special permits from landowners. The limit will be two antlerless deer or one buck deer and one antlerless deer. Hunting lease cost is expected to range from $10 to $25, depending on prices set by landowners for hunting privileges. Dates for the special hunts in all counties affected will be from December 2 to 11 inclusive.

"Our reports indicate the deer generally are in good condition up to this time," said the Executive Secretary. "Feed temporarily is adequate and the venison made available under these special harvests should be choice."

Captain Matthew Webb was the first person to swim the English Channel from Dover to Calais in August 1875.

When a fellow is single he runs around and gets into a lot of trouble. After he is married he doesn't have to run around.

Uncle John McGehee was by the other day and he thought we ought to have more to say on the liquor question. We appreciated this because we have had a few of sort of hint that we might be saying too much on one subject some times. Anyway, Uncle John says there is just no good in the stuff at all. That if it is making our highways unsafe; making our problem of juvenile delinquency much worse then it is time that the government, which is the people, did something about it.

Uncle John says that the United States government put up $30,000.00 of the taxpayers money as our part of the "Drinks" for the United Nations Assembly. He also says that Washington, D. C. consumes three times as much hard liquor as any comparable town in the United States. I agree with this old-timer that this is terrible; that if there are two places that the people ought to have clear minds it would be in these spots; places besides our highways, that is.

Uncle John says that folks often ask him when he came to this place. He tells them that he never came; that they brought it to him, meaning that he was here when all that is here happened. Pretty clever way of putting it, I'd say.

Uncle John says that he has no objection to my boosting Boys Ranch and its problems but for me not to forget his favorite which is Girls Town down near White Face, Texas. We didn't mean to neglect anyone, especially this very deserving undertaking. We marvel every time we think of the courage and the vision of the founder of this wonderful place for Girls. Alright, we're for both, and we are ready to start our honor roll for all of you who want to send something through this column. We will give special mention to any that want to have a part in the Christmas present from our readers. If you had rather just send it direct, just do that. Already several clubs have quitted a quilt or done something; now the Business & Professional Womens Club of Claude plan a 42 party. See one of them if you would like a part. This is for Boys Ranch. Congratulations we can always count on the ladies.

Today, just about everywhere one looks we see an oil well. We had always heard of the spacing of wells on every so many acres. Here the towers are built on to each other and stand side by side pumping out the black gold. Even the school district has a covey of wells on scarcely more than a city block of their property. We can only guess that the wells were here when the spacing order was invented and they are still going.

Speaking of this trip in less than a week we will have made a circle within the state that will make 2000 miles on the speedometer look like a $20.00 bill after a day at the Convention. In this circle within the great state of Texas thru Abilene, Austin, Galveston, Houston, Sherman, Wichita Falls and many other towns as we are made to realize the vastness of our great state. Some state, by any odds.

Speaking of Texas and the things that we as Texans brag about we were amused by a card that seems to be a best seller around Galveston. It pictured the Tall Texan in all his trimmings approaching the Pearly Gates with little long whiskered St. Peter coming out to meet him and the quote was supposed to be from St. Peter:

"Yes, you can come in, but I warn you, you won't like it here." While in Austin, the Convention City, our stay was made all the more pleasant due to our many visits in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pittman. Mrs. Pittman, Vivian to us, is a sister to our daughter-in-law and has always been one of our favorite people. Bill is the son of the man who has made Meads bread famous around Clarendon and nearby towns. Vivian is teaching English and speech in one of the Capitol's high schools and Bill is putting the finishing touches on his degree in pharmacy. They are a swell young couple and treated us like we were somebody come. I think they were glad to see just about anyone from the Panhandle. Anyhow, they told us and showed us about Austin.

As to our having to break a $20.00 bill each day perhaps that isn't so bad and we really didn't mean to complain. That reminds us of a statement made by our state comptroller Mr. Calvert in his talk to the convention. He suggested that we have a good time and if we saw anything we wanted to buy to just go ahead and shell out the money and buy it. He suggested that we not let the people of Austin say about us what the people of Atlanta had to say about the Baptists after their convention in that city. He said that they said that, "The Baptists come into town with a ten dollar bill in one pocket and a copy of the ten commandments in the other, and that when they left that they had not broken either one." Bless their hearts, especially on the ten commandments; pretty unusual to keep those around a convention, so we were told.

There are actually three poles in Antarctica: the geographic South Pole; the magnetic South Pole; and the "pole of inaccessibility," at the center of Aurora Australis.

How to be sure you are making the best buy in a new truck

- A new truck is an important investment. If you want to be sure you're getting the best buy, you've got to consider a lot of things: price, power, operating economy, good appearance—to mention only a few.
- Take price, for instance. Wouldn't it help you to know that you can buy a Dodge for surprisingly little money? Could be you didn't know Dodge trucks cost less than most other makes.
- Wouldn't it help you, too, to get the whole picture on truck power? The fact that Dodge Power-Dome V-8's outpower every other leading truck in the low- and medium-tonnage fields surely is important to your decision.
- And there are other Dodge advantages you'll want to think about—like the business-building beauty of Forward Look styling, and the long life that spreads low initial cost over years of dependable service.

➤ It all adds up to this: To be sure of your best truck buy, take a few minutes to talk to your Dodge dealer. Just a phone call will put the wheels in motion.

Reserve Forces Act of 1955

Reserve Training Obligation

The Reserve Forces Act of 1955 which became effective August 9, 1955 contains provisions to increase participation in Reserve training.

The Act imposes on all young men under 26 who enter the Armed Forces after its enactment the obligation to take part in Reserve training, and provides effective measures for insuring compliance with that obligation.

Extent of Army Reserve Training

The Act established a requirement to participate in not less than 48 scheduled drills or training periods and not more than 17 days' active duty for training each year or, in lieu thereof, to perform annually not more than 30 days of active duty for training.

The Secretary of Defense is authorized to make exceptions to this general rule. The Act provides specifically that Reservists who become divinity students may at their request be relieved of the training obligation.

The Act does not affect the obligation of members of the National Guard to attend all drills and periods of active duty for training scheduled for their units. They cannot elect to serve 30 days on active duty for training as a substitute for scheduled unit training.

Compliance Measure

Members of the Ready Reserve, except members of the National Guard who are subject to separate State codes, who fail or refuse to perform the prescribed annual training may be ordered without their consent and required to perform annual active duty for training for 45 days. Failure to comply with such active duty orders could result in appropriate disciplinary action under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

This compliance measure is necessary since experience has demonstrated that volunteer and assigned obligors must obtain the experience and training necessary to meet minimum defense requirements.

The compliance measure applies to individuals who voluntarily enter directly into Army Reserve. It makes no difference whether initial entry into the Armed Forces is into the Active Forces or into the Army Reserve.

ROTC Graduates

Qualified ROTC graduates are guaranteed commissions under the Act. If the services of a ROTC graduate are not required on active duty at the time he receives his commission, he will be ordered to active duty training for six months, to train in the grade in which he was commissioned. At the conclusion of this training he will be assigned to a Reserve unit until the eighth anniversary of his commissioning. As long as he performs satisfactorily in Reserve training, he will be deferred from the draft. If he fails to perform satisfactorily, his commission may be revoked. If called for two years' active duty after receiving his commission, he will be required to complete this, actively participate in a Reserve unit for three years, and may then transfer to the Standby Reserve for his remaining year. 30 Days' Active Duty For Training

A member of the Army Reserve who is precluded by distance, geography, or occupation from a 48-hour drill program may apply for 30 days' active duty for training each year.

Training Programs

Reserve training programs will be conducted in facilities such as Reserve training centers and armories, located throughout the country.

Reserve Pay

A member of the Ready Reserve will be paid a full day's pay in the grade in which he is serving for each week's two-hour training period and a full day's pay for each day of his summer camp duty. In this way he will be earning money while executing his obligation of citizenship. For the under-18½ group who volunteer for eight years with six months' active duty training, pay to the individual during the six-months period will be at the rate of $50.00 per month.

By participating in Reserve activities, a man can build up retirement credits with each drill and summer camp attended, and for each 30 days of duty for training. If an individual desires, he can obtain retirement in the Army Reserve after 20 years. Retirement pay starts at age 50. (To be Continued)

HEALTH NOTES

Texas State Dept. of Health

AUSTIN — If the death rate which prevailed in the United States in 1935 still continued, 24,000 American mothers would have died in child birth this year. Of that number, 1700 would have been Texas mothers.

But instead, because of advances in medical care during pregnancy, the 1955 death toll of women during child birth probably won't exceed 2000 for the U. S. as a whole and 135 for Texas.

If this were 1935, some 230,000 infants would meet death before their first birthday. More than 17,000 of them would be Texas babies.

But instead, due to better medical and nursing care, the death rate among infants has been reduced to 100,000 for the nation and 7,300 for the state.

The figures are based on statistics maintained by the Texas State Department of Health. Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle said they emphasize the "great strides the United States—and Texas—has made in improving the prospect of life and health for mothers and children over the past 20 years."

Dr. Holle credited the Social Security Act, passed 20 years ago, as a contributing factor toward the reduction of infant and maternal death rates. Under terms of the Act, the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, makes annual grants to state health departments to finance programs of preventing deaths, diseases and disabilities in pregnancy and childhood.

The program is administered in Texas by the State Department of Health through its Division of Maternal and Child Health.

"Physicians, medical schools, nurses, research workers, health agencies, and parents all have played a vital role in the health achievements of the past two decades," the health commissioner commented.

Highlighted among these advances are drops in maternal mortality of 90 percent for the nation, and 92 percent for Texas in the period between 1935 and 1954.

In the same interval, national infant mortality dropped 50 percent, while the rate in Texas declined by 57 percent.

Most of the major inland areas of the Antarctica continent are named for females, while most mountain ranges and peaks, glaciers, bays and islands are named for males.

December 1st Designated As S-D Day

December 1st has been designated as S-D Day (Safety Driving Day), nationally, by President Eisenhower in an effort to increase public awareness of the possibility of making reductions in traffic accidents.

In support of the program, Governor Shivers has issued a similar state-wide proclamation and has called upon the citizens of Texas to join in a cooperative effort for greater traffic safety both on December 1st and throughout each day of the year.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, joined in the Governor's appeal and emphasized that S-D Day, of itself, "is not an end, but a means to an end."

"If every individual motorist and pedestrian in Texas will drive and walk with strict obedience to the traffic laws on December 1st," Garrison said, "we will be assured of a death-free, accident-free period in so far as traffic is concerned."

"And," he added, "if we can do it on this one specific day we will have proven that it can be done during the other 364 days of the year. S-D Day is not an end, but a means to an end of the death and destruction on our streets and highways."

The special emphasis program aimed at marking a 24-hour period without traffic accidents will begin on November 20 and culminate in S-D Day on Dec. 1st.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES
By May L. Prewitt

The books we have listed this week are a few Tell-A-Tales: "Howdy Doody's Clarabell Clown," "The Lone Ranger & The Ghost Horse," "Fuzzy Wuzzy Puppy," "Hide Away Henry," "The Three Bears," and "Little Lulu." The little people will discover that these small books are very amusing.

There are some memorial books to announce. Mrs. John Goldston gave "Beyond This Place" by A. J. Cronin, in memory of Mrs. Thomas. She gave "The Wake of the Red Witch," a novel by Garland Roark in memory of Mrs. Naylor. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bartlett gave "The Way the Truth and the Life" by Glenn Clark, in memory of Mrs. Otis Naylor. This little book is a devotional copy that is quite inspirational reading. Any reader will appreciate it.

We have several books of fiction that were gifts. These are: "The Objector" by Jeb Stuart, "My True Love Lies" by Lenore Offord—a mystery, "By His Own Hand," by Henry W. Clune, "Of Mice and Men" by Steinbeck. For Boys' shelf there are: "Vandals of the Void" by Jack Vance, "Rookie, Coach" by Reed Fulton, "Phantom Backfield" by Howard M. Brier. All the boys seem to enjoy science fiction—a "far fetched" group of books. Then sports appeal to them.

We had some small donations this week, a few fines and memberships, so we are breathing more freely again. Books are an exorbitant price.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Donley County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors November 10 the following business was transacted:

1. Routine business such as reading of the minutes of previous meeting, payment of bills, etc.
2. Purchase of a row seeder with fertilizer attachment from the Swisher Soil Conservation District which has three surplus pieces of equipment of this type. The Donley District has two row seeders, but they will not put down fertilizer. These seeders are usually in heavy demand in the fall during that period when cover crops can be seeded in the cotton middles without damaging the cotton. C. B. Morris, Secretary of the Board, volunteered to check into the condition of the row seeders and the feasibility of the Donley District purchasing one of them for use in this District.

3. Discussion of Anhydrous ammonia and other cheaper forms of fertilizer and obtaining District equipment to apply it.
4. The 1956 terracing program and other District work planned for 1956.

5. Organized the Board for 1956. J. R. Porter was re-elected Chairman; W. P. Doherty, Vice Chairman; and C. B. Morris, Secretary. Mr. T. C. D'Spain and J. A. Tollett are the other members of the Board of Supervisors.

Agency representatives present at the meeting were: Flip Breed-love, County Agent, and Jay Gould, Soil Conservation Service Technician. Jack Gray, who is bookkeeper for the Board, was also present.

Pushbuttons Replace Teacher's Pet

The classroom "window monitor" has gone the way of the hickory stick as pushbutton heating control moves into a Texas school system this fall.

The new high school, cafeteria-auditorium and elementary school building at Riesel, Texas is using a new temperature control system which links special classroom thermostats with a master pushbutton panel in the principal's office. The new system, designed by Minneapolis - Honeywell, eliminates the need for the old teacher's-pet job of adjusting windows to lower overheated room temperatures. It substitutes a thermostat which permits each teacher to adjust her individual classroom temperature — while the principal does the "monitoring" from the master panel in his office. The control system also doubles as a fire alarm.
