Santa letters due by December 16

The deadline for Santa letters is Thursday, December 16, at 5:00 p.m.

All letters must be received at this time in order to make the special Christmas edition of THE CLARENDON ENTERPRISE on December 23, 1999.

Be sure to include your name and age in your letter.

Letters may be dropped by THE ENTERPRISE office located at 105 S. Kearney in Clarendon or dropped in the special Santa's mailbox outside the office.

Merchants to spin for $250 jackpot

No one claimed the big jackpot last week, but someone might this week.

Three lucky people will get the chance to spin Santa's Wheel, and one of them could land on the $250 merchant bucks jackpot during Late Night Shopping this Thursday night.

Last week's winners were Laura Luttrell ($30), Mark Luttrell ($20), and Nancy Taylor ($35).

Santa Claus will also be downtown again this Thursday night. The jolly old elf will be set up in the Burton Memorial Library, and kids will have the opportunity to have their picture taken with him.

Toys for Tots sees shortage this year

Filing deadline nears to run for county offices

The deadline is drawing near to file for local elections.

In addition to federal and state races on next year's ballot, voters in Donley County will be deciding six local positions - Sheriff, County Attorney, Tax Assessor-Collector, Precinct 1 County Commissioner, Precinct 3 County Commissioner, and Precinct 3&4 Constable.

As of press time Tuesday morning, six people had signed up to run for office, according to the County Clerk's office.

Charles "Butch" Blackburn is running for Sheriff. Incumbent Wilma Lindley seeks another term as Tax Assessor-Collector. Mike Wallendorff and William Brent Hall have both signed up for the Constable's position. Ronald Glover is running for the Precinct 3 Commissioner's chair, and Ernest Johnston is going for the Precinct 1 Commissioner's job. Each position is a four-year term. Citizens wishing to run for these positions have until 6 p.m. on January 3, 2000, to file. For complete details on filing for these and other state races, contact the County Clerk's office.

Junior Livestock Show set for January 8

By Leon Church, County Agent

The 2000 Donley County Junior Livestock Show will be held on Saturday, January 8, at the Clarendon Community Building.

Over fifty young people from throughout Donley County will be exhibiting more than 90 head of livestock.

This Junior Livestock Show is the culmination of a year's worth of work for these young people, who cared for and fed their animals in preparation for the winter show season. Each year the show continues to have more exhibitors and more animals, a testament to the dedication of the young people and their parents. Young people involved in this activity have learned skills that will be of value to them as they become adults and productive members of our community

All animals are to be in place by 5:00 p.m. on Friday, January 7; weighing and class formation will take place that evening. The show will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday with the Sheep show, followed by the Swine show, and then followed by the Heifer and Steer show which begins at 7:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend this event and support the young people of Donley County

Setup day for the Donley County Junior Livestock Show will be Wednesday January 5. We begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Community Building. All parents, grandparents, and interested people are invited to come help set up the grounds for our annual stock show

Thornberry announces bid for re-election

AMARILLO - Mac Thornberry announced last week that he has filed for re-election to the US House of Representatives for the 13th Congressional District of Texas.

Thornberry noted that he still has 11 months remaining in the current congressional term, but Texas law requires that filing for the 2000 election be completed by January 3, 2000.

"While my first priority has to be the job I was hired to do in the last election," Thornberry said, "I look forward to the opportunity to visit about what we've accomplished and what more I'd like to see done.

"Representing this District in Congress is a tremendous honor but also a responsibility. We will continue to face challenges in agriculture, energy, health care, taxes, and regulations, and I will continue to do all I can to make sure that our voice is heard. We won't always win, but we'll give it everything we have."

Thornberry stated that he would be proud to run on his record and on the principles which led him to first run for Congress.

War on guns keeps going

A battle in the war on the Second Amendment has been won by the gun industry, but the fight continues. This week, a Florida judge dismissed Miami's suit against gun manufacturers saying the city and Dade County have no standing to sue the industry because they have not been injured by guns. The Florida suit is just one of about 30 around the nation where cities and counties are trying to sue gun manufacturers saying that guns are basically not safe. The suits generally allege that gun makers are negligent because they do not incorporate devices that would alert someone that there is a bullet in the chamber or that would prevent a child from firing the gun. The cities claim they want gun makers to reimburse them for police costs and medical costs associated with gun violence

Recently, the judge in Cincinnati's case went further than to say that city had no standing, calling the dangers of guns "obvious and matters of common knowledge."

That's true. You're an idiot if you don't know guns are dangerous

We are also idiots if we do not recognize these suits for what they are - gun control through litigation.

Just as suits brought on by several states against the tobacco industry were designed to punish and restrict the "evil" manufacturers of tobacco products, so too are these suits by cities and counties designed to regulate and punish the manufacturers of firearms.

Both types of lawsuits seek to institute restrictions that have not been able to be passed under our representative legislative process. This circumvents the separation of powers and is a blasphemy to our American system of government.

The impeached president got into the act last week, using his office to blackmail gun manufacturers.

'We want to do everything we can to keep guns out of the wrong hands," White House Domestic Policy Adviser Bruce Reed told CNN. "We want to press the industry to change the way it does business and to do evervthing it can to take responsibility for how guns are distributed, for how guns are marketed.'

Does that mean the administration intends to introduce legislation for more gun control? No. Does that mean the administration intends to actually enforce the thousands of gun laws already on the books? No.

It means, "Let's sue!"

The Clinton regime says they hope the gun manufactures will reach a settlement with the cities and counties already involved in litigation. But if no settlement is reached, then the federal government will simply have no choice but to file suit on behalf the nation's more than 3,000 local housing authorities.

Couple skips middle-age, becomes old folks

Somehow Ryan and I have gone from being youthful and energetic to old, lethargic folks. We just skipped middle age and became old - really, really old. This became very apparent as we tried to stay up last week and watch the National Finals Rodeo on television. Most nights the rodeo aired at 11 p.m., but somewhere between 8 and 9 o'clock, Ryan was snoozing in his recliner and I on the couch.

We even bought a videotape, so we could record the event in case we fell asleep. However, neither one of us even remembered to program the VCR, much less to even unwrap the new tapes. Our memory is slipping and in a hurry. Friends and family have noticed our changes, too. They know not to phone us after 9 p.m. because any later than that and we're fast asleep. As for meals, just call us

"Ryan, what's happened to us?" I asked my husband. "Look at us, we're turning into such old folks."

He simply replied, "If married people are supposed to live longer lives than single people, then we're in trouble. Because at this rate, we're all destined for early graves."

"I always like to go to Washington. It gives me a chance to visit my money.

Last summer Congress passed what I thought was a fair and balanced tax relief bill, a definite improvement for America's hard-working taxpayers.

It included some elements I view as critical. The first and most important of those was the elimination of the marriage

Congress had devoted 75 cents of each · surplus dollar to protect Social Security and Medicare, pay down the national debt and fund national defense and educational priorities. The remaining 25 cents of each surplus dollar would be returned to the taxpayers who sent it to Washington.

ease the burden on all Americans.

There are two other areas of tax relief priorities, as well: reducing the inheritance and capital gains taxes. The bill President Clinton vetoed would have phased out and finally repealed the inheritance tax. While it generates only one percent of all federal tax receipts, that revenue is offset by administrative costs and receipts lost from payroll and other taxes that disappear when small businesses are destroyed by the tax and jobs are lost after a death in the family. The capital gains tax is a bad idea as well. Americans pay taxes on their salaries and incomes. If they have anything left to save and invest, they are taxed at a rate as high as 20 percent on what their savings have earned. Capital gains taxes discourage the creation of new businesses and get in the way of the growth of existing enterprises. They are a drain on America's economic vitality. This has been a brief overview of my tax-cut priorities. I would like to know what Texans think should be changed or eliminated. Please write my office with your comments and suggestions.

- Bob Hope

Maybe the liberals ought to get their Hollywood pals to do a commercial:

"Have you been unjustly injured through nobody's fault but your own? Are you an idiot who thinks guns should be as safe as a Nerf football? Are you a moron who thinks smoking cigarettes is good for you? Can't get satisfaction through the legislative process? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then you should pick up the phone right now and call the law firm of Clinton, Gore, Rodham, & Reno, and they will take your case. Don't be a victim any longer. (All proceeds from any settlement will benefit the charitable actions of the United States Government.)"

Seriously, does anybody really believe that gun control or gun lawsuits are going to make society any safer?

Recently a boy shot up a school in Oklahoma, fueling the cry for more restrictions on guns. But about the same time a student in the Netherlands shot and injured three classmates and a teacher.

According to CNN.com, the Dutch have extremely strict gun laws - so strict that guns are only available on the black market and shootings are generally limited to underworld crime. Nevertheless, ABCnews.com reports that official Dutch statistics indicate 25 percent of their high school students sometimes carry a weapon with about 11 percent actually taking one to school. Usually these weapons are clubs and knives.

So does gun control work? Apparently not.

The problem of violence in our society lies not in our freedoms but in the lack of respect for the freedoms of other people. Sacrificing our liberties will not solve that problem.

Speaking of respect...

The Clarendon Board of Aldermen has its critics. Lord knows I've been one of them. But the aldermen have been trying to do something nice in the City Park.

Built from the same stone as the walls in the park, the old shed structure will make a very fine restroom facility. It's probably costing more than it would to build something new, but the result will be worth it.

Recently someone vandalized the new restroom, destroying a custom-made door worth more than $1,000.

This is an example of some elements in our society who have no respect for other people or for property. Whoever did this does not care that the taxpayers will have to foot the bill to repair their damage, and they have no concern for the hard work put in by the city to make something nice for our citizens.

Let us hope that there are good citizens out there who will see that whoever is responsible for this will be punished.

If you have any information on the losers that committed this act, please call the authorities.

tax penalty. Other significant tax-reduction provisions of the bill included: • Phasing out the death tax, which is critical to maintaining our family farms, ranches, and small businesses. • Allowing those over age 50 to make catch-up payments to pension plans, such as 401(k)s and Individual Retirement Accounts. This would benefit, in particular, women who return to the workforce after raising children.

• Increasing the maximum allowable contribution to Individual Retirement Accounts to $5,000 from $2,000.

 Providing additional personal exemptions to those giving long-term care to elderly family members.

These tax cuts were possible because the federal budget is expected to show a $3 trillion surplus over the next 10 years.

Sadly, the president vetoed this bill and insisted on maintaining the status quo. This means that next year we will resume the fight to do away with the tax on marriage and other counterproductive taxes once again.

In fact, lowering taxes will be the focus of even more strenuous efforts in 2000. And eliminating the marriage tax penalty will be at the top of my tax-relief agenda. Abolishing this tax alone would save Texans an estimated $1 billion over the next three years.

I also believe it is important for Congress to provide broad-based tax relief, so next on the agenda would come a 10 percent, across-the-board tax cut to

Be online not in line for your driver's license

By Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander

My goal is to see that Texans never again have to stand in line at the local office of the Department of Public Safety to renew their driver's license. I want Texans to stop wasting their time by allowing them to renew their driver's license over the Internet

The Internet will transform Texas government in ways that we can implement right now, in ways we can envision, and in ways we cannot even begin to imagine. From motor vehicle registration to drivers license renewal to voter registration to delivery of education, health care, and human services, the Internet will change how government conducts its business.

That is why I have formed e-Texas, a citizens commission charged with developing recommendations to help Texas state government meet the challenges of the Internet age e-Texas will be the cornerstone of my administration with the goal of transforming Texas government from its traditional bricks and mortar foundation to a national technological leader that uses the Internet to deliver services. On-line driver's license renewals is an excellent example of such a transformation.

Currently Texas drivers can renew their license by mail, every other time. In the year that drivers must renew in person. they take an eye exam. I envision that a Texas driver can renew his or her license on the Internet every other time it expires

- only going in when the law requires an eye exam, or better yet, simply e-mailing proof of an annual eye exam performed by the doctor of your choice.

In our increasingly mobile society, many Texans order more duplicate licenses because of name or address changes, than they do renewals. Thus, driver's license changes often end up on the list of dreaded things to accomplish. Of course, when you write a check imprinted with your new address and it's compared to you old driver's license address, you wish you had just gone ahead and taken off work to get it changed.

An employee's spouse recently decided to avoid the wait in a Travis County renewal office and went instead to a neighboring county. The lines were shorter, but when he finally did get to the front of the line, and took his eye test, and filled out his information, the clerk told him they didn't accept credit card payments. So, he had to go find a cash machine and return to stand in line again.

Technology gives us the opportunity to save time and tax dollars, but Texas is behind the curve. The state of Virginia will begin on-line driver's license renewal in December. Arkansas, New Jersey, Arizona, and Tennessee expect to be on-line with renewals in 2000. And Colorado, Florida, Indiana, Louisiana, and Maine are planning to do the same.

Arizona issues licenses for life for drivers between 18 and 65. They also store license photographs digitally, which makes it easier to order renewals via the Internet; drivers will take eye exams every dozen years. And in Arizona, an outside vendor conducts on-line renewals. Most importantly, it saves time for Arizonans.

At the Comptroller's office, we have implemented timesaving, Internet-based solutions, and are looking for more. Today, more than 20,000 taxpayers that must report that they owe no sales tax have done so online by using WebFile. I am committed to all 700,000 plus sales taxpayers being able to file online by 2001, saving enough paper to stretch from the bottom of the Capitol rotunda to its highest point in the dome.

Government must use the same technologies that are transforming the American economy to make government services more efficient and effective. A recent Dell poll showed that 90 percent of experienced PC/Internet users want to renew their car registrations and driver's licenses online, and 70 percent wanted to pay traffic tickets and vote online. It's pretty simple - folks don't want to have to wait in line and fill out a bunch of paper forms. And that will be the first order of business for e-Texas.

I will champion the reform developed by the citizens who work on e-Texas. And we can succeed by seeing that government stops wasting our time, starting with drivers license renewals over the Internet. In the not too distant future with e-Texas leading the way, e-government will be government Eddie and Linda Gable of Memphis visited at the Church of Christ Sunday morning. Eddie led the singing at the worship services.

Rhonda Shaw, LaRae, and Ben were at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. It was good to have the kids. We usually don't have any kids in church. Mostly its 'little old ladies' like me who attend. We enjoyed Rhonda, but kids are a treat.

I'm sure the farmers are glad to see the good weather. They couldn't get into the fields for almost a week after the snow last week.

I saw Bill Wiggins with Phillip recently. Phillip said he was here helping strip cotton. Bill told me he was retired and all he had to do was fish. I can't think of anything I'd rather not do than fish. I went fishing once and caught a fish about six inches long and a whole bunch of little ones!

I read the column by George C. Landrith in last week's CLARENDON ENTERPRISE about the court's finding against Microsoft. If you didn't' read it, you should have. Talk about something ridiculous! I don't know who confirmed that man Judge, but they should have their heads examined.

I also read Christi Ross' column. I don't like people who do their Christmas shopping in January. It takes all the fun out of it for everyone else. I can identify more with Cynthia Hall when it comes to shopping. Besides, if I did my shopping early, I'd probably forget what I bought or where I put it to keep it hidden. I've been known to put things in a 'nice safe place' and never see them again.

Newhouse-Denny plan to wedding

Bright and Theresa Newhouse of Clarendon, along with Kevin and Nancy Hull of Amarillo, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara, to Christopher Denny, son of Vern and Bobette Denny of Lubbock.

The couple will marry December 18, 1999, at the First Baptist Church in Wolfforth.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Pampa High School, attends Texas Tech and is employed by Outback Steakhouse.

The future bridegroom, a graduate of Friendship High School, also attends Texas Tech and is employed by University Medical Center.

Sgt. Moore earns Conduct Medal

Sgt. Aaron Shaun Moore has returned from a six-month tour of Japan and will come home on leave on December 23, arriving at the Amarillo International Airport.

Word has also been received that he has recently received the Marine Corps Good Conduct Medal, which recognizes the service member's honest and faithful service during a threeyear period. To earn this medal Moore achieved and maintained a satisfactory level of performance and an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

In addition, Moore just graduated from the Advanced Sgt. Leadership Course and made very high marks on this level. He is currently assigned to 3rd Battalion, 12th Marines, Camp family holidays are never like the people in the movies.

Christmas morning with a fervor equaled only by a group of women K-Mart during a "Blue Light Special." I was always up before the sun, runbrother.

"Get up! Get up! Let's see what Santa brought us," I would shout.

He would roll out of bed, get his bathrobe on, and ... throw up. I would then be restricted to my room until "he of the green face" could join us all around the tree. This wasn't just a one-time occurrence. It happened every year. We all assumed that when David grew up and went away to college, things would be different. Not so! Each Christmas vacation found all of us re-enacting the age-old play - brother comes home for Christmas - brother gets sick on Christmas morning - brother lies in bed all day.

When I married and had kids of my own, I hoped for the best. I planned my own "beautiful holiday tures I saw in magazines. I confidently invited the entire family to spend

As a child, I looked forward to on the oven. Have you ever tried to find a restaurant open on Christmas Day? You can, however, sculpt cute fighting over the last $5.99 sweater at little turkeys out of peanut butter and crackers

Every year, no matter how well ning down the hall to wake up my little laid my plans, there were small problems similar to the Andrea Doria. One year the four-year-old twins almost toppled the Christmas tree by plucking at every ornament. By Christmas Eve, our tree looked like it had been scavenged by birds of prey.

> The next year, we had a new puppy. We soon discovered she had burning need to chew - everything including presents, bows, and a few tree ornaments for good measure. I discovered that my nativity set had been pillaged. Baby Jesus was missing, the shepherds had been nibbled on, and the sheep had no legs.

Still, I didn't give up. Family nurse gatherings are a special time to spend with those you love - spread good cheer - count you blessings ...

beautiful - just like in the magazines. We were opening presents when somebody knocked over a large candle which singed the carpet and made a large red wax puddle on the floor. The smell of turkey was replaced by fumes from the gasoline I used to clean up the wax. It was sort of like eating Christmas dinner by the pumps at the corner Texaco station.

Another year I cam home from work. I got out of the car, carefully carrying a present - a beautiful glass lamp. There was snow on the ground, and you guessed it! I stepped on a slick spot, fell down, broke the lamp, and severely sprained my knee. At the emergency room I was given a pair of crutches and told to keep weight off my knee.

"Merry Christmas," chirped the was coming from me. My hair was catching fire.

"Thomas, my hair is on fire!" I shouted. Thomas leaped from his chair, ran to me, and began hitting me on top of the head.

"It's O.K. now, hon. You're fine. It just burned a little patch."

I'm easy to spot in the pictures taken that night. I'm the woman with red eyes, fat knees, crutches, and a bald spot.

The human brain is a wonderful organism, and with enough time, it can forget even the most traumatic events. I still look forward to Christmas. I love shopping for my family, but there is one stop I make that most people overlook - the local drugstore. I stock up on antibiotic ointment, bandages, aspirin, burn ointment, analgesic creams, Pepto Bismal, diarrhea medicine, ace bandages, slings, and rib belts. (I purchased a pair of crutches years ago - and always have a phone number of where I can rent a wheelchair!) I also throw in plenty of pet chew toys, stain removers, and frozen turkey dinners.

Setting aside time in '99 to organize your financial life

Submitted by Sue Church, County FCS Agent

"The last half of 1999 may be the best time in the century to organize your financial life," according to professor and Extension family economics specialist, Nancy Granovsky, CFP, of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Although the Y2K or Year 2000 bug is not likely to impact our financial lives in significant ways, it's still a good idea to know where your money is and how much you have," she adds.

So, where should you begin? Granovsky suggests that you inventory your personal and family financial records.

Start by accumulating records associated with all financial accounts, investments, insurance, credit cards, loans and mortgages. Write down the names of the accounts, account numbers, account balances and or values, and other pertinent information.

Pay particular attention to all financial transactions occurring during the last of 1999 and the first few months of 2000 to make sure that they are properly credited.

may have experienced decreased sales, reduced gross profit margins, increased accounts receivable, or difficulty in moving inventories at normal levels. To the extent these problems have caused the business difficulty in meeting its normal obligations, these loans may be of assistance. The loan can help a business meet installments on long-term debt, accounts payable, and overhead expenses that would have been met had the disaster not occurred. Refinancing of long-term debt, however, is not eligible under this program. The loan is designed for those businesses with substantial disaster-related needs and is intended to supplement monies the business owner can provide from other sources.

Loans may be approved for up to $1,500,000 for actual disaster-related financial needs of the business. Interest rates are four percent; and terms may extend to thirty years, depending upon the repayment ability of the individual applicant. To qualify, businesses must be small by SBA's size standard. Businesses which can meet their financial needs through other sources are not eligible.

Clarendon Lions Club held their regular Thursday noon meeting December 14 with Boss Lion Bobbie Thornberry conducting the meeting.

We had 15 members and three guests. Our guests were Greg Collins, guest of Lion Delbert Robertson, Dana Bell, guest of Lion Jimmy Garland, and Russell Estlack, guest of Lion Allen Estlack.

Our Christmas Basket program was discussed and will be given away next Tuesday.

We welcomed our newest member, Greg Collins.

The Lions Club voted to help financially with the Toys for Tots project.

There being no program, the meeting was adjourned.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO INCREASE RATES

Pursuant to Tex. Utilities Code § 104.103 (1999), TXU Lone Star Pipeline, a Division of TXU Gas Company ("Applicant") hereby gives notice of intent to change the city gate rate of TXU Lone Star Pipeline (formerly known as "Lone Star Pipeline Company") established by Order of the Railroad Commission of Texas in Gas Utilities Docket No. 8664 ("GUD 8664").

Applicant proposes a two-part transportation rate that consists of a demand charge per MMBtu based upon the contractual demand for city gate service and a volumetric charge per MMBtu based on actual delivered volumes. This transportation rate would result in a revenue increase to Applicant. Applicant also proposes to increase the storage rate applicable to city gate deliveries established in GUD 8664. The storage rate would consist of a monthly demand charge for capacity and a monthly demand charge for deliverability. The deliverability demand charge would only be charged during the months of November through March.

The proposed effective date of the change is December 20, 1999. The change is a major change, and will result in an increase in annual revenues of approximately $20.3 million or sixteen percent (16%). The change will affect 1.3 million residential and commercial customers. The rate change will affect transportation and storage rates at the city gate for TXU Lone Star Gas-Transmission, who in turn sells the gas to TXU Lone Star Gas which serves 1.3 million residential and commercial customers in Texas under the rates established by the local regulatory authorities in municipalities and the Railroad Commission in environs areas.

A Statement of Intent to make such a change has been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas in GUD 8976 and is available for inspection at the Commission's office at 1701 North Congress in Austin, Texas, and at the offices of Applicant at 301 South Harwood in Dallas, Texas. Copies of the Statement of Intent have also been sent to the appropriate city official of each incorporated city served by TXU Lone Star Gas. Any affected person may file in writing comments or a protest concerning the proposed change in the rates with the Docket Services Section of the Office of General Counsel, Railroad Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 12967, Austin, Texas 78711-2967, at any time on or before 4:00 p.m., Thursday, December 30, 1999. Any person or agency who has a justiciable or administratively cognizable interest who desires to be designated as a party may petition for leave to intervene and request to become a party to this proceeding. The final date for intervention in this case shall be 4:00 p.m., Thursday, December 30, 1999.

College men end semester with 7-5 record

Clarendon College Bulldog basketball finished play during the month of December with a 7-5 record. They are wrapping up pre-conference play with only one game remaining before the conference opener against New Mexico Junior College on January 10.

The Bulldogs faced Garden City Community College on December 1. The Bulldogs trailed by two points at half by a score of 36-38. The halftime score was a sign of what the final score would be. Garden City came out on top with a final score of 76-78.

"It was a great game," said CC Coach Joe Mondragon. "This was a barometer for our team and is indicative of what the play will be of the teams in our conference."

Byron Dixon led the Bulldogs in points, scoring 25, and Jorge Quintero added 18 points as the only other CC player scoring double digits.

CC came back strong against Lubbock Christian JV on December 6. The Bulldogs were one point shy of the century mark as they defeated Lubbock Christian by a score of 99-66.

Five Bulldog players scored in double digits. Dixon led with 17 points, Quintero and Jauron Moreland each had 13, and Roper Belew and Brandon Campbell finished with 11 points each.

The Bulldogs were on the road this past weekend at the Rose State Classic in Oklahoma City.

"It was not a good weekend," said Mondragon. "We got down double digit points early in the games. It's tough going on the road. The kids need to respond a little better by being more prepared."

CC was defeated by Rose State, 75-93, in the first game of the tournament. Dixon finished with 20 points followed by Omar Duran with 17.

The Bulldogs then faced Redlands College on Saturday, losing by a score of 79-91. Duran was the high scorer for the Bulldogs with 19 points, Dixon added another 14 points, and Nick Yates finished with 10 points.

The Bulldogs will play January 8 at 8:00 p.m. in Clarendon against Redlands College and then will begin

The Lady Broncos started their second week of road games on Tuesday against the Tulia Lady Hornets. Clarendon had their poorest defensive showing of the season and trailed the entire game. Tulia won the game, 48-58.

Scoring for the Lady Broncos on Tuesday were Geri Butler, 19; Janey Aduddell, 10; Kelley Lemley, 6; April Bryley, 6; Cat Chamberlain, 4; and Shannon Cooper, 3.

Clarendon was scheduled to start the I-27 tournament on Thursday afternoon, but a snowstorm delayed play until Friday. The sixteenteam tournament was then realigned to a twoday tournament, which meant the Lady Broncos had to play four games within 26 hours.

The Lady Broncos played 5-A El Paso Franklin at 2:30 on Friday. Clarendon struggled in the first half and trailed 10-22 at halftime.

The Lady Broncos gained new life in the second half and pulled to within four at the end of the third quarter. Junior Courtney Newhouse sparked the team in the fourth quarter scoring all eight of her points. Clarendon scored 40 points in the second half and went into the winner's bracket by defeating Franklin, 50-47.

Scoring for the Lady Broncos were Geri Butler, 16; Kelley Lemley, 10; Courtney Newhouse, 8; Cat Chamberlain, 6; Shannon Cooper, 3; Lindsey Shelton, 2; April Bryley, 2;

The Lady Broncos started their second Janey Aduddell, 2; and America Santos, 1. In Clarendon drew Wall as their opponent for their 8:30 p.m. second round game on Friday. The Lady Broncos put in a good defensive effort and shot the ball well for three quarters. Clarendon led 41-28 with the final quarter to play. Fatigue started to set in during the fourth quarter, and Wall staged a small comeback against the Lady Broncos. Clarendon was able to hold on for a 52-49 victory.

Scorers were Geri Butler, 17; Kelley Lemley, 14; Lindsey Shelton, 6; Courtney Newhouse, 4; April Bryley, 4; Janey Aduddell, 3; Kristen Glover, 3; and Cat Chamberlain, 1.

The Lady Broncos' victory meant that they had to play at 9 a.m. on Saturday morning against host team Abernathy on their home court. Clarendon struggled offensively throughout the game. CHS showed a good full court press at the end of the second quarter to pull with in one point of the Lady Lopes.

Clarendon's momentum did not hold out in the second half. Mental mistakes let Abernathy shoot 28 free throws to Clarendon's seven in the game, and the Lady Lopes advanced to the championship game with a 40-33 win over the Lady Broncos.

Scoring for Clarendon were Geri Butler, 11; Kelley Lemley, 8; Janey Aduddell, 7; Courtney Newhouse, 3; April Bryley, 2; and Cat Chamberlain, 2.

Clarendon's second loss of the season slated them against 3-A Lubbock Cooper for the third place game.

The game was a tough one as both teams were tired from the previous games. Clarendon held a one point lead at halftime and led by three at the end of the third quarter.

The Lady Pirates worked hard against Clarendon in the fourth quarter and took a one point lead with 10 seconds left in the ballgame. Sophomore Kelley Lemley hit a huge three point shot with five seconds left on the clock to put the Lady Broncos up by two.

Lubbock Cooper advanced the ball twice and called two different time-outs to try to set up a game winning play with three seconds left. But the Lady Bronco defense was too much for the Lady Pirates as they forced a five second call, which gave the ball back to Clarendon.

Cat Chamberlain inbounded the ball to Geri Butler who was immediately fouled with 1.7 seconds left. Butler calmly went to the charity stripe and put both shots in the bucket to seal the Lady Broncos' 59-55 third place win.

Scoring for Clarendon were Geri Butler, 29; Kelley Lemley, 17; Courtney Newhouse, 7; Kristen Glover, 4; and Janey Aduddell, 2. "We've had an exhausting week. We're hoping the tough times (sickness, injuries, travel, fatigue, etc.) we've experienced lately will help us to grow as a team." said Head Coach Steve Schmidt.

"Geri Butler had a tough week by losing half a tooth on Tuesday night and facing the dentist on Wednesday. But she played well and made the All-Tournament team at the I-27 tournament. Considering that only six individuals make it out of 16 teams, it's a real honor," said Coach Schmidt.

The Lady Broncos will host Stratford Friday, December 17, at 6:30 p.m. They will then travel to Floydada on Tuesday, December 28. Game time is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Lady Bulldogs head into Christmas break with even record

Clarendon College Lady Bulldogs head into Christmas break with a 6-6 record. With only one game left in pre-conference play, the Lady Dogs are looking to start strong in conference play.

The Lady Bulldogs recently won a close game against Garden City Community College on December 1. CC defeated Garden City by only two points in a last second shot to finish the game with a final score of 70-68.

Roni Henderson led the Lady Dogs scoring 16 points. She was followed closely by Sharla Odhams with 15 and Dana Davis with 12. Charbra Lee also finished strong with 12 rebounds and 8 points.

The Lady Bulldogs then defeated Lubbock Christian JV, 72-63, on December 6.

Coach Denise Reed credited her team with improved play.

"We improved at the free throw line and cut back our turnovers," said Reed. "Our half-court press looked good in spots, and we forced ten turnovers during the time we were in it."

Roni Hederson was the lead scores with 21 points, and Charbra Lee was the only other Lady Bulldog in double digits, scoring 14 points.

"Charbra Lee played well and Kristen Hohensee seems to be coming out of a slump after being sick," Reed said.

Hohensee finished with 7 points, 5 rebounds, and 4 steals and Lee added 4 rebounds.

The Lady Bulldogs take a break for the holidays and then are back in action on January 8 in Clarendon against Redlands College at 5:50 p.m. They kick-off conference play on the road on Monday, January 10, against New Mexico Junior College.
