BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1938

NUMBER 24

HEREFORD BREEDERS WILL INSPECT HERDS IN THIS COUNTY FRI.

Brown county's famed registered Hereford herds will be inspected by more than 150 cattlemen from throughout Texas and other south-western states Friday on the second of a series of state-wide tours. Brown County Hereford Association will be host to the visitors.

The cattlemen will leave Brownwood at 8 o'clock Friday morning to visit herds of Largent & Stevens, J. H. Fry, John T. Yantis, M. E. Fry, Largent & Harkrider, and Cox & McLanis. The local association will be hosts at a barbecue in District Park, Lake Brownwood, at noon. John Yantis is president of the Brown county association. The tour will disband following the barbecue.

The project is a part of a nationwide movement being made by Hereford associations designed for the promotion of greater co-operation and more complete information concerning activities among producers. The first Texas tour was made in May. R. J. Kinzer, secretary of the American Hereford Association, will be present on the tour here.

The tour began Tuesday at Beeville. Itinerary included San Antonio, Blanco, Lampasas and Brady.

More Than 16,000 Students Aided by NYA in Past Year

More than 16,000 high school and college students were enabled to continue their school work during the academic year now ending through part-time employment on NYA Student Aid jobs. J. C. Kellam, State Director of the National Youth Administration, announced.

Of this number, about 9,500 were students of high school grade, and 5,900 were college and university students, he said. The students worked under supervision of members of the school staff, performing useful and practical work for the benefit of the institution they were attending. High school students earned as much as $6 a month, while college students were enabled to earn an average wage not greater than $15 a month.

"These sums are small, but to a youth trying to get an education, this sum each month is often the difference between going on and dropping out of school entirely," Mr. Kellam said.

An analysis of 13,918 applications filed by students showed that 95 per cent of the students selected for NYA Student Aid jobs came from low income families. Among the 5,326 students assigned to School Aid jobs, only 221 were from families which had an annual income of $1,250 or more, and more than half the total number were from families which had an annual income of less than $500. The analysis also showed that only 561 college students selected for a College Aid job, out of 5,392 whose applications were tabulated, were from families having an annual income of $2,000 or more, while two-thirds of these college students were from families having incomes lower than $1,250 and 870 were from families having incomes below $500 a year.

Davis Campaign Offices

Headquarters for the "E. M. Davis for Senator Club" were opened Thursday morning in the lobby of the Southern Hotel. Bob Havins, publicity manager for the organization, will be in charge of the offices. Jno. A. Collins is chairman of a Davis-for-Senator Club.

Saturday Davis will speak at Mullin and Goldthwaite. Next week he will be in the southern part of the district, speaking in Menard, Kimble and Gillespie counties.

In Harmony With a Swing Leader

Socialite June Audrey Kuhn, above, will become the autumn bride of George (Bob) Crosby, noted "swing" band leader and brother of Bing Crosby. The engagement of the crooner's brother and the Chicago girl was announced nine days after Crosby obtained a divorce from his first wife on a desertion charge.

TOL G. BECKMAN CASE AGAIN REVERSED AND REMANDED BY COURT

Case of Tol G. Beckham, 65, Zephyr, under 18 years sentence was reversed and remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin this week for the second time within a year. On February 11 Beckham was found guilty and sentenced in 35th district court for the murder of Raymond Thompson, 23 year old Zephyr man.

Beckham's attorneys stated they do not know as yet on what grounds the case was reversed and remanded. He first was tried here December 18, 1936, found guilty, and given 20 years, but the case was reversed and remanded by the state court June 16, 1937. Gib Callaway represented Beckham in both trials. In the latter trial, District Attorney A. O. Newman and Special Prosecutors J. C. Darroch and E. M. Davis spoke for the state.

On June 30, 1936, Thompson was shot and killed on a Zephyr street. Beckham was confined in county jail for almost a year while his first case was on appeal, but then was at liberty until he was sentenced again in February. Following the new sentence he was returned to jail and has been confined there since that time.

Children's Clinic

With a view to establishing a Kiwanis Clinic for underprivileged children of the city, a committee from the local club will investigate a similar clinic in Denton on June 21. Committee members are J. Edward Johnson, L. V. Ford, Dr. H. L. Lobstein, Dr. J. L. Morris, Neil Shaw and Rufus Stanley.

Recently 25 members of Troop 32 with Scoutmaster R. W. Lawrence hiked to the bayou where all engaged in boating, swimming, test passing. Another hike is being planned which is to be seven miles to the campsite and the same back to town. All Scouts who wish to do so may pass their 14 mile hike test during this time.

SIX NEW WELLS TO BE DRILLED IN COUNTY WITHIN FEW WEEKS

Oil play in Brown county, which underwent somewhat of a lull the past few weeks, took a swing upward this week with the announcement of six new locations by the Eastland district office of the Texas Railroad Commission, oil and gas division.

R. R. Byrd will drill the No. 1 S. O. Looper, Jose Padilo survey, 322 feet from the east line and 416 feet from the south line, to an unannounced depth.

Owby Drilling Co. has announced location for No. 1 J. L. Horton, W. K. Dalton survey, as being 660 feet from the north line and 525 feet from the west line.

Hightower Oil & Refining Co. will drill No. 1 I. C. Mullins 2 1/2 miles northwest of Thrifty on the Allen and Mullin survey, 160 feet from the west line and 300 feet from the No. 3 I. C. Mullins. Drilling will be to 1,500 feet unless gas or oil is found at a lesser depth. The No. 3 I. C. Mullins was drilled by the company recently and is now producing 50 barrels daily on the pump from a sand at 1,111-1,215 feet.

The Delmarva Oil Corp. will drill two new locations. A 1,110 foot test will be drilled on the C. A. Thomson land, two miles northeast of Thrifty. The well will be 1,200 feet from the east line and 3,250 feet from the north line of the lease located in the J. J. Clelland survey, block 64. The No. 1 G. P. Hall, located 3 1/2 miles southwest of Brownwood on the Kerr county school lands, 450 feet from the east line and 150 feet from the north line of the 81 acre lease, is the company's other site. It is believed the well will be drilled to 425 feet.

Dan Hartzell will drill the No. 1 Nesbit Rice, abstract 627, Charles Nesser survey 127, four miles southwest of Brooksmith, to 1,000 feet. The well will be 150 feet from the south and 150 feet from the east line of subdivision 1.

R. C. McCarter has reported a completion for 6 barrels daily from a depth of 1,220 feet on his No. 1 E. A. Allen, block 7, Juan Delgado survey, located seven miles southwest from Rising Star.

Three pluggings have been announced as follows: H. P. Evans No. 1 T. J. Hall, section 25, HT&RR survey, 1,565 feet total depth; Venum Oil Co. No. 7 G. T. Butler, block 782, Thomas Benson survey, eight miles southwest of Rising Star, 1,291 feet; and Roy Oil Co. No. 1 W. J. Fomby, W. E. Smith survey, 1,160 feet.

The Moore and Byrd Jack Smith well located one mile north of Brownwood has been closed down in preparation for resetting casing and acidizing after drilling into the Ranger lime at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Drilling continued for about two hours after the oil sand was struck. The well will be given an acid treatment soon.

NEW TRAFFIC SAFETY BODY ORGANIZED AT FORT WORTH MEETING

First annual statewide traffic safety convention held Wednesday in Fort Worth saw the formation of the Texas Traffic Safety Council, election of officers, and passage of resolutions urging revision of the state highway laws to meet modern conditions.

Representing Brownwood at the convention were Aldermen A. P. Sprinkle and E. B. Henley, Jr., Police Chief J. L. Sandlin, and T. P. Fields, head of the city traffic patrol.

Governor James V. Allred was elected honorary president of the Council, and Carl J. Rutland, Dallas, chairman of the Governor's traffic safety committee, was elected active president. Name of the organization was changed from the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee to the Texas Traffic Safety Council.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Lew Wallace, Des Moines, traffic commissioner for the state of Iowa.

Church of Christ Revival

Evangelist Foy E. Wallace is conducting a revival sponsored by Austin Avenue Church of Christ at Coggin Park. Morning services are held in the church at 10 o'clock. Evening services are held at the park at 8:15. Each service is preceded by singing, and the public is cordially invited. The revival began Sunday night.

Claiming the Spoils of Victory

While Japanese infantrymen line the sides of the narrow road in a protective fence, a Japanese tank is pictured above as it enters the shell-shattered gate of Mongchen in Anhui province. The ancient Chinese pagoda on the gate's top has surrendered to modern death-dealing machines. Here is typified the spoils of victory. The Chinese defenders routed after a fierce battle, the victorious soldiers occupy the captured city to plunder and pillage in reward for their triumph.

TEXAS FARMERS WILL CONVERGE IN COLLEGE STATION ON JULY 13-15 FOR ANNUAL SHORT COURSE; NATIONAL EXTENSION HEAD TO SPEAK

Farmers' Short Course visitors to A. and M. College, July 13-15, will have their first headline program feature in the Tuesday evening meeting in the stadium with C. W. Warburton, Washington, D. C., Director of Extension Service, for the whole country, as speaker and H. H. Williamson, Director of Texas Extension Service, presiding. The motion picture truck used by LSU Extension Service has been loaned by Louisiana for demonstration purposes and will present pictures and music as part of the evening's entertainment. Donald Lindoe, of the University of Louisiana, will have charge of the machine.

Hon. Harry Brown, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, will be the speaker at the formal opening of the Short Course Wednesday morning with President T. O. Walton making the address of welcome. Group singing at this and other meetings will be led by Walter Jenkins, Rotary International Song Leader, who has twice before led the rural crowds at A. and M. College to great enjoyment in music.

Thursday, with Extension Vice Director Mildred Horton presiding, Mrs. Mattie Lloyd Wooten, Dean of Women, Texas State College for Women, will be the speaker of the morning general assembly. Thursday night, President Walton presents M. M. Harris, editor of the San Antonio Express to speak in the stadium on the People's Library Movement.

Friday, Congressman Richard Kieberg will be the speaker of the morning at the general assembly with Vice Director Jack Shelton presiding over the meeting. Friday night the crowds will be entertained in the stadium with a picture show.

Sectional meetings for farmers and ranchmen and rural homemakers will fill the hours after the general assembly until noon each day. Afternoons will be filled with meetings, tours and demonstrations for various groups.

Farmers and ranchmen who attend the Farmers' Short Course will be offered a real agricultural program. Farmers, ranchmen, county judges and county commissioners will headline the three day session with talks about their experiences in agriculture.

The morning session of Wednesday, July 13, will be devoted to a discussion of soil conservation. Members of commissioners' courts will be present to explain their system of terracing with county owned equipment, according to C. E. Bowles, cooperative marketing specialist of the Extension Service and chairman of the committee that arranged the program.

In 1937, 139 counties made county equipment available to farmers.

MURDER CHARGE IS FILED FOLLOWING SHOOTING TUESDAY

In Brown county jail this week awaiting action of the grand jury is Theodore R. Capps, 27, ranch employe, who was charged with murder Tuesday night following the fatal shooting late Tuesday afternoon of W. A. Gunn, 34-year-old oil field worker.

The shooting occurred at the Capps house on the Steve Boyesen ranch four miles west of Brownwood. Capps was taken into custody by Sheriff Jack Hallmark and Deputy Chester Avinger. He made no attempt to escape or resist arrest.

During approximately the past month Mrs. Docia Gunn, wife of the slain man, and her 12-year-old foster son have resided at the Capps house, where Mr. Gunn was employed as housekeeper. For the past several weeks her husband had been employed in oil fields of West Texas. Capps entered his home Tuesday to find Gunn moving a trunk across a room. According to Capps' story, Gunn said:

"I've come to get these things, and you too." Gunn started walking toward him, Capps continued. Capps then reached behind a door for a shotgun and fired at Gunn, who was killed instantly.

Funeral services for the slain man were held Wednesday in Eastland with the Rev. Gerald Cartledge, pastor of the First Baptist church of Eastland, officiating. Gunn was born in Brownwood June 1, 1905, and had maintained his residence here all his life. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Docia Parton Gunn; his father, Amuel Gunn of Cross Cut; his mother, Mrs. Celia Gunn of Eastland, and a sister, Mrs. Jack Smith, McCamey.

BROWN COUNTY OIL RECORDS RELEASED

Board of Water Engineers and the Geological Survey, United States Department of the Interior, announce the release in mimeographed form of the records of wells obtained by the Works Progress Administration ground-water survey in Brown County, Texas. Copies of these records are available at the offices of the Board of Water Engineers at Austin, and of the Geological Survey, United States Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

Copies may be consulted at the Chambers of Commerce at Comanche, Coleman and San Saba, and at McCulloch County Public Library, Brady; Carnegie Library, Brownwood; at the libraries of Randolph College, Cisco; Ranger Junior College, Ranger; Daniel Baker College, Brownwood; Howard Payne College, Brownwood; and at the high school libraries of Baird, Eastland, Comanche, Goldthwaite, San Saba and Coleman.

This Brown County release contains 26 pages, giving records of 96 wells, drillers' logs of 13 wells, logs of 36 test wells, records and partial chemical analyses of 7 water samples taken from streams, records of 4 earthen tanks, analyses of 86 water samples taken from wells, and analyses of 4 water samples taken from earthen tanks. The locations of all wells, test holes, places where streams were sampled, and tanks are shown on a map in the back of the release.

Funds for this project were allocated by the San Angelo office of the Works Progress Administration. The field work in Brown county was started November 22, 1937, and completed March 6, 1938. Dan A. Davis, a geologist, was project superintendent.

The chemical work was directed by Dr. E. P. Schoch of the Bureau of Industrial Chemistry of the University of Texas. Samuel F. Turner of the Geological Survey was Technical Director and W. O. George of the Board of Water Engineers was Assistant Director.

This project is part of a statewide inventory of water wells started in 1935 being conducted to obtain information concerning existing wells, to ascertain the quantity and quality of water they yield, to put down test holes in areas where no wells or few wells exist, and to compile and publish the information thus obtained.

The inventory is only a preliminary survey and all of the information obtained can be used later in connection with a more thorough ground-water investigation by the State Board of Water Engineers assisted by the Geological Survey.

Stowaway Kisses Blarney Pebble

Back in New York after a round trip on the S. S. Normandie, Helen Borsos, 19-year-old Pascaic, N. J., stenographer stowaway, declared that desperation over unemployment had led her to the New York waterfront, where she drank some beer, then remembered nothing more until she was found asleep in the ship's chapel en route to Europe. She is pictured above kissing a chip off the Blarney Stone, given her by a passenger.

4-H GIRLS TO ENTER CONTESTS THIS WEEK

Four-H club girls throughout the county this week were busy with preparations for entering the annual clothing and judging contests to be held at Daniel Baker college Saturday. All arrangements for the events have been completed, according to Miss Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent.

Only the members who compete and show their projects in the contests will be eligible to attend the annual encampment to be held at Lake Brownwood State Park August 18 and 19. Prizes in the contests have been donated by the Chamber of Commerce and Austin Mill & Grain Co.

The clothing contest will be held in the Fine Arts building at Daniel Baker at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Canned goods will be displayed and judged in the home demonstration office in the courthouse at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Examinations Announced

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations for the following positions:

Public health nurse; graduate nurse, nurse-technician, Indian Field Service. Applicants must not have passed their fortieth birthday. Closing date for receipt of applications from states east of Colorado is July 18; from Colorado and states westward, July 21.

Other available positions through Civil Service follow: assistant gardener (greenhouse), Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture. Competitors will be rated on the subject of practical questions pertinent to the duties of the position. Two years of full-time paid experience in the care of trees, shrubbery, lawns, flowerbeds and greenhouse plants, including or supplemented by at least 6 months of greenhouse experience, are required. Applicants must not have passed their fiftieth birthday. Closing date for receipt of applications from states east of Colorado is July 11, and from Colorado and states westward, July 14.

COUNCIL WILL SUBMIT PROPOSED CHANGES IN CHARTER TO CITIZENS

Brownwood City Council will vote an ordinance calling a special city-wide election on five proposed amendments to the city charter within the next three weeks, following a discussion at the regular meeting of the body Monday night. Proposal of the election was advanced by Brownwood Civic Advisory Council.

Alderman T. H. Hart was mayor pro tem in the absence of Mayor Wendell Mayes, who is convalescing from a recent operation.

Proposed amendment provisions: That the offices of mayor and city manager be separate, and that the city manager be paid a salary not to exceed $300 per month; that each of the four aldermen be elected by city-wide vote rather than ward vote; that to be eligible for alderman, the candidate must have been a resident of his ward six months preceding the election, (the present provision is for 30 days residence); and that run-off primaries shall be held for city officers when one candidate does not receive a majority of votes in the first election; that each alderman shall receive $420 annually and the mayor shall receive $900 annually, (present salary for both mayor and aldermen is $240 annually); that three commissioners be appointed by the Council to serve as a board of equalization for the city, and none of whom "shall be indebted to the city for delinquent taxes or otherwise." The commissioners would receive compensation not to exceed $5 per day.

At the Monday meeting, the Council passed a resolution authorizing the release of city bonds worth $25,000, being held by Republic National Bank in Dallas.

Partial departmental reports for the month of May follow:

Total receipts, $5,774.02. Collected on paving, $724.27. Total expenditures, $15,215.23.

The water office reported 300 feet of two-inch pipe lowered, 36 service lines renewed, 80 meters repaired. 39,580,000 gallons were pumped during the month, compared with 58,000,000 in May, 1937. The fire department answered twelve alarms, six of them silent. There was only one loss, and it was covered by insurance.

City health office reported one case of diphtheria and one case of scarlet fever quarantined and released during the month.

Fifty-one arrests were made by city police. $109.65 fines were collected, and $14.20 in old fines. Local police radio patrolmen answered 103 calls during the month.

The soaking rains of last week delayed reapers and combines but was very beneficial to growing crops.

As I look out upon the well-groomed fields and pastures my thoughts roam back to the rainy year of 1919. When feed ruined in the shock and cotton was gathered between showers, while the price soared around thirty-five cents a pound.

Due to the prevailing price less acreage has been planted to fleecy staple and some have bid farewell to the product that once helped keep the wolf from the door.

Farmers here still register as Democrats yet the majority of them complied with the farm program trusting to a more efficient supervisor for success, which usually comes by close observers, listening and learning.

News from the Farm Clubs

Pineapple Canning Hints Given

Due to cheapness in price and the high quality of pineapple this season, Miss Maryselle Malone, county home demonstration agent, in answer to many inquiries, has prepared the following rules to be observed in successfully canning and preserving the fruit:

Cut off the stem end and twist out the top. Wash well. Place the pineapple on its side on a table and slice crosswise. Peel each slice. Cut out the core and shape each slice with a sharp round cutter or cut in pieces of any desired shape or grind.

Juice or syrup for canning the fruit is best made from cooking the outer trimmings of the meat of the fruit, which really contains the best flavor. Add cores and enough water to cover. Simmer until the fruit is clear, then strain the juice. Make a syrup with one measure of sugar to one measure of the fruit juice. Can juice if there is a surplus.

To pre-cook: Cook slices or pieces of fruit in medium syrup eight to ten minutes or exhaust five minutes in the can after the hot syrup has been added at 150 degrees F before sealing. Pineapple like apples, contains an extra amount of air in its cells which must be removed before sealing to prevent the loss of flavor, discoloring and spoiling.

To process: Seal and process in water bath for 15 minutes for No. 2 cans; 25 minutes for No. 3 cans and pint glass jars, and 30 minutes for quart jars. Use plain tin cans. Cool quickly to prevent overheating, as this affects the flavor and color. Clean and label containers before storing in a cool place.

Pineapple is one of the most delicious and popular fruits. A few suggestions on buying and selection for canning are worth considering. Fruit that has been ripened before being gathered not only has the best flavor but also contains more fruit sugar. Ripe fruit is orange in color and the spines may be pulled out very readily. In soft over-ripe fruit, there is more water, therefore the cost of the canned product is increased. Under-ripe fruit should be wrapped in thick paper and kept a few days to ripen at an even temperature of between 65 and 70 degrees F.

Pineapple is credited with being an aid to digestion and a better source of protective food than most fruits. Raw pineapple contains digestive enzymes that are somewhat irritating to the mouth, and the immature fruits are even more irritating.

We should be careful that the

The MARCH OF TIME

A BANNER Feature by the Editors of TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine

Summer Schedule . . .

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's summer plans, revealed last week at the White House, consist of a mixture of politics and ceremony, faithfully and fun. The President was this week scheduled to attend the wedding of his son John at Nahant, Mass., then successively to help celebrate the 300th anniversary of the first landing of Swedes in America at Wilmington, Del., lay the cornerstone of the Federal building at the New York World's Fair, visit Gettysburg for the Battle's 75th anniversary; go to Marietta, Ohio, for the 150th anniversary of the opening of the Northwest Territory; go calling in seven other States where his presence may help political friends up for election this autumn.

Money vs. Slums . . .

WASHINGTON—The President last week approved $57,577,000 in U. S. Housing Authority loan contracts for slum clearance projects in Buffalo, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus (Ohio), Allentown (Pa.), Birmingham (Ala.), Detroit. Beneficiaries: 44,950 slum dwellers. Rentals: $3.75 to $4.25 per room per month. This batch of contracts brought USHA slum clearance loans up to a total of $111,070,000 to provide for 20,833 families. Meanwhile, into its Lend-Lease bill the Senate last week wrote a new appropriation of $300,000,000 for Housing Administrator Nathan Straus.

Bigger Depression . . .

WASHINGTON—Although the House thought $1,154,425,000 would be enough ammunition for the Federal lending-and-spending war on the current Depression, the Senate last week passed (60-to-10) a bill rating the Depression as a $3,722,905,000 matter, g a s e Franklin Roosevelt almost as free a hand in spending this money as he had asked.

Because WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins had indiscreetly made pointed comments on the Iowa primary election, the bill was dubbed a "poll-priming" device. But leader Albert Barkley nevertheless succeeded in marshaling Administration supporters to defeat every effort to attach penalties to political use of relief funds.

Vain were the efforts of Senators Hale and Maloney to forbid the use of PWA money to build plants competing with private industry, and equally vain were attempts by other Senators to earmark money for rivers and harbors, flood control, or PWA projects already approved. In a letter to Colorado's Senator Adams, the President said that the money must be spent quickly to bridge the summer gap before private industry can begin adding to its payrolls in the winter. But this reasoning also defeated a provision to spread the spending over a full eight months, and no one could foretell what moneys would be most needed for what ends if conditions did not improve by next winter.

The Senate granted the President a free hand, as his lieutenants urged; but when Leader Barkley proposed that all of the $1,425,000,000 provided to make WPA jobs be made available to the President for direct relief, the Senate balked. Raising the direct relief appropriation from $50,000,000 to $125,000,000, the Senate finally produced a finished bill that provided $212,000,000 for parity price payments to farmers growing cotton, tobacco, corn, wheat and rice. $300,000,000 for Housing, and authority for USHA to borrow on its bonds; $33,905,000 for administration expenses; a $40-per-month minimum wage for WPA workers regardless of their locality; $1,425,000,000 for WPA; $1,365,000,000 for PWA; $101,000,000 for Rural Electrification; $175,000,000 for Farm Security Administration; $75,000,000 for National Youth Administration; $25,000,000 for Federal Public Buildings, with $5,000,000 more to be appropriated later; $6,000,000 for Puerto Rico Reconstruction.

As the bill went to conference in preparation for passage last week, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace prepared to resume purchasing surplus farm produce for the needy, WPA planned to increase its rolls from 2,679,856 to 3,000,000 and prepared to shoot $650,000,000 into 2,000 projects already approved.

Successful Year . . .

WASHINGTON—As the U. S. Supreme Court ended its 147th year last week, U. S. Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson reported to the Attorney General on the New Deal's success—in contrast to other years—in its first year under the "modernized" Court:

Table with 4 columns: Term, Won, Lost, % Won. Rows include 1933-34, 1934-35, 1935-36, 1936-37, 1937-38.

Since the constitutionality of no major New Deal law had this year been called in question, many an observer felt that the fundamental "liberality" of the present Court was yet to be tested, and that it may come next year on the wages and hours legislation. In 56 cases involving constitutionality of minor statutes or ordinances, or the actions of public officials, the Court had this year sustained the law or the officials in all but ten, and many a significant clue to the Court's future course lay in the record of its rulings this session. Only official answer of the Justices to the Administration's onslaughts during last year's Great Court Battle was a dignified letter to the Senate Judiciary Committee, signed by Chief Justice Hughes and approved by Liberal Brandeis and Conservative Van Devanter, pointing out that while Justices may be old they are not necessarily slow, always leave their docket in apple order. This year, when the Justices went off to pack for their vacations, they had disposed of 1,012 cases, leaving 78 on the docket (compared to 62 last year) unheard when they reconvene next October.

Precautions . . .

LONDON—Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare last week described to Members of Parliament the extensive preparations being made for air attacks on London, which is expected to be a main objective of enemy bombers. Trenches to provide shelter for 1,500,000 people will be dug in Van Doon's park, declared Sir Samuel, and a ring of hospital tents set up outside the city. Oxford and Cambridge universities will be turned into clearing stations for casualties. Some 30,000,000 sandbags, ready to be filled, have been stacked away in warehouses, and 275,000,000 more are in production. Railways operating out of London have worked out a plan to move almost half of Greater London's 8,000,000 population into the countryside within 72 hours. To assure the M. P.'s that they could carry on even while an air raid was in progress, Sir Samuel announced that bombproof refuges will be built in the House itself.

Fuss Swings . . .

LONDON—The stately white and gold ballroom of Buckingham Palace, accustomed to the stricter rhythms of military bands, last week reverberated to Bert Ambrose's Prince of Asturias Orchestra, one of Britain's best. King George and Queen Elizabeth were entertaining some 1,000 "personal friends" at the Royal Derby Night Ball. Among the guests were Queen Mary, the Queen Mother; the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, U. S. Ambassador Joseph P. and Mrs. Kennedy; Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

For the first time in palace history an American girl was allowed to "swing it" with the musicians. The swingstress was 20-year-old Evelyn Dall, a lissome ash-blond from New York. A one-time hooper in Billy Rose's Manhattan Music Hall, Miss Dall went abroad in 1935, was leading lady with the Monte Carlo Follies for a season, then joined the London swing band, London cafe-goers know her as "Ambrose's Bronx Bombshell." Miss Dall, whose real name is Evelyn Mildred Fuss, took her stage name from that of President Roosevelt's grandchildren.

Attired in a slithering backless blue satin evening gown, she sent the royal hosts and guests swinging last week with hot choruses of the latest U. S. numbers. Said the "Bronx Bombshell" after her performance "I was busy as a bee the whole evening looking at all the famous faces. This is an evening that I will remember all my life."

Said her father, a Manhattan postal clerk: "Evelyn's a good kid. She swings and sways like nobody's business. I hope she pleases the King and Queen."

Anniversary . . .

MARSEILLES, France — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor celebrated their first wedding anniversary quietly last week at a Riviera hotel, near the Chateau de la Croix, which they have leased for three years and in which they are now making extensive alterations. The Duke gave the Duchess a bouquet of three orchids—all that could be found in a strict search of the neighborhood. Then they went on a picnic.

"Amazon" . . .

LOS ANGELES—To the delight of jurors in a Los Angeles court, tempestuous, low-lipped Cinemas actress Constance Bennett last week gigged, made faces, testified that she refused to pay $3,500 for Artist William Andrew Pogany's portrait of her because he had made her round shouldered, reheaded and thick-thighed; had made her red finger-nails; had made her look 'like a droopy sack of cement with a rope tied around it.' She in model for the artist had been Mrs. Pogany. Snapped Miss Bennett: "Why that woman is an Amazon!" Snorted 55-year-old Willy Pogany: "She wanted me to compromise with my artistic honesty." The jury, so instructed by the judge, found that Actress Bennett owed Artist Pogany nothing.

Old French Custom . . .

NEW YORK—Lawrence Augustus Wilkins, director of foreign language study in New York City's public high schools, last week announced that 6,000 New York school boys and school girls soon would begin to exchange letters with an equal number of French youngsters. The U. S. children will write in French, the French in English, each will correct the other. But the French correspondence, Societe Internationale, sponsor of this friendly and educational gesture insisted on one restriction which Mr. Wilkins could explain only as an old French custom: French boys may write to U. S. girls, but U. S. boys may not write to French girls.

Helper . . .

DETROIT—Sailing in his glider near Detroit last week, Elmer Zook chose to come down on a law rather than a lake. The owner of the plane hurried up to rebuke Elmer Zook, instead helped him to dismount his glider, offered to store it in his garage, sent him home by automobile. On the way home Elmer Zook inquired: "Say, who was that guy?" Replied the chauffeur: "Edezel Ford."

Women on War . . .

NEW YORK—A nationwide survey of women conducted by the "Ladies Home Journal" last week revealed that more than one-third (36%) of the women in the U. S. would rather see their sons go to jail than to war; that among women under 30, this is the preference of 42 percent. While 88 percent feel that no overseas war is justified, 64 percent feel that war is justifiable on occasion, and 87 percent regard invasion of the U. S. or its possessions as such an occasion. Seventy percent think the U. S. should never have entered the World War, 64 percent believe that Wall Street bankers were chiefly responsible for getting the nation in, 91 percent do not think it made the world safe for democracy; 84 percent oppose fighting for our commercial interests abroad; 87 percent oppose lending money, sending munitions or supplies to nations at war; 56 percent do not think we will be involved in war soon; but if we are, 81 percent favor limiting profits, 59 percent favor limiting wages.

PEEP SHOW —For Ladies Only— BY MIGNON

I didn't get to the roundup I didn't get to the lunch For papa's reaping wild oats He musta sowed a bunch!!!!

Was I heart sick not to get off to the Folk Festival at Edmund where old timers squatted on their haunches and remember back when? I even soaked my corns at night so I could throw a mean left foot in all those "Skip-to-malous" and play party games of early Oklahoma. But they probably got along without me in the three thousand folks who did go to the revel. Me???? I was ricked herd on a wild horse who bucked all over the range for two solid weeks trying to unmount a posse of boils. Anyway I bet I could write a western now that would lay "Black Devil of Wild Horse Mesa" in the shade.

"Expectant fatheritis" Is what Dick Powell's got I sponse his newest theme song Is "Rock-a-bye wee tot."

When a mad dog runs riot in a village he is hunted down and put out of his misery before he does any more damage than can possibly be averted. . . . When a kidnapper takes an innocent little boy from his bed, kills it, throws it in the bushes, and then walks the streets for ten days talking about how smart the fellow must have been to have planned such a clever crime . . . what do you think? With J. Edgar Hoover on the job, folks knew it would only be a question of hours until the perverted criminal mind would be found but now what? Will they drag the case along in court . . . have his sanity proven and then spend a few more thousands before he is finally punished? Nothing can restore the dead child to his mother's arms, nothing can bring back the happy laughter, nor the clatter of little footfalls on the stair. Nothing can be said nor done to bring ease to the mother's heart so torn by this fiendish crime.

But something can be done and quickly to protect other small sons. After all a mad dog is a mad dog whether he travels on four feet or two. . . . It is impossible to lose a true friend, for friendship, like gold does not change its quality. A stained nugget is no less valuable from some unfortunate association, with contaminating influences; its glittering brilliance returns for the polishing.—Doug Meador.

The wisest thing I've read this week is this, by W. S. Gilbert: On fire that glows with heat intense, I turn the hose of common sense, And out it goes at small expense' . . .

A small magazine or verse "Silver Star" containing sixteen pages is on my desk this week. Volume 1, Number 2. A lusty young infant published by Emory C. Pharr, at 1607 Eye St., N. W. Washington, D. C. It is purely poetry without any prose whatever. There are no addresses either, so you just take the poetry at its face value and conjure up for yourself how the poet looks, whether he or she is from the north, east, south or west. The verse has a singing quality that a real poet loves. No theme seems to be barred and there is variety enough to please any one who reads poetry at all and most folks do. Such lines as, "Yours is the quiet of a wooded path, the sureness of the shade that will not tire," and "Flickering in the darkness a thin candle of flame, Giving light in darkness: Hope is the name," are purest poetry. A poem by the editor, called "After the Drought" is presented:

"God is in the rain Devil in the drought. Rose is in the rain Life is in the grain. Daisy has come out. God is in the rain. Devil in the drought."

Teresa Druley Black has launched her "Silver Ships" and I hope to take you on a voyage of liveliness in the next Peep Show you read. For Teresa is a poet who writes for the love of writing and because of the urge from within.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS. WILL H. HAYES, AUSTIN, TEXAS.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Hayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Where was General Cos at the time of the Battle of Gonzalez? A. General Cos reached Goliad on October 1, that being a supply base for the Mexican army. Ignoring the Gonzalez encounter as of little consequence, Cos left twenty-seven men at Goliad to guard the military stores in the old mission and left October 5 for San Antonio, reaching there October 9.

Q. What was Ben Milam's record? A. Ben Milam was a Kentuckian who had fought in the war of 1812, was a Texas Indian trader, fought with Mexican republicans in the war with Spain, opposed Iturbide by whom he was imprisoned for a year, helped establish a colony on Red River, denounced Santa Anna and was imprisoned at Monterrey, escaped from prison to Texas, joined Collingsworth in capture of Goliad, and was killed, December 7, 1835, while leading Texans in storming Cos at San Antonio.

Q. What provisional governmental departments were created by the San Felipe constitution of November, 1835? A. The executive department, with Henry Smith as governor and James W. Robinson as Lieutenant governor; the military, with Sam Houston unanimously chosen commander in chief; the legislative, composed of the general council of one member from each of the thirteen municipalities, increased later to twenty-four, of which the lieutenant governor was chairman.

Q. What early disagreement arose between Governor Smith and the council? A. Governor Smith strongly favored immediate preparations leading toward independence. Some members of the council, but not a majority, supported his views, some favored delay in taking any action, and others opposed any efforts looking to separation from Mexico.

Q. How were the commissioners received who were sent by the council to the United States to solicit assistance? A. The commissioners, Stephen F. Austin, William H. Wharton and Branch T. Archer, were not given official recognition by the United States Government, but received assurances of support from the people, on condition that Texas would take a positive stand for independence from Mexico.

Q. What conflicting orders were given as to moving the volunteers to Matagorda? A. General Houston ordered the volunteers to Velasco and to remain there for his further orders. Lieutenant Governor Robinson ordered Fannin to take command of the volunteers and proceed to attack Matamoros. Fannin went to Refugio with about 250 men and, instead of advancing toward Matamoros, withdrew some twenty-five miles north to La Bahita Mission (Goliad), where he was joined by about 250 more volunteers, mostly from Georgia and Louisiana. He remained there about six weeks awaiting promised reinforcements and supplies from the council, which did not come.

Q. What separate military divisions were created by the general council of 1835? A. The council on November 24 submitted to Governor Smith ordinances for the organization of a regular army and a ranger force, and on December 7 and 8 named field officers of the regular army, disregarding the authority of the commander in chief. In addition to these branches of the militia there was a volunteer army, upon which the council seemed to place its greatest reliance. This elected its own officers.

Q. What break occurred between Governor Smith and the council over the volunteer branch of the Texas army? A. Over Governor Smith's veto the council authorized for outfitting General Jose Antonio Mexia and his volunteer command "to carry the war into the enemy's country." General Mexia had been a Mexican revolutionist who came with troops to the mouth of the Brazos in 1832 to punish the colonists. Lately he had led an expedition to Tampico against Santa Anna, had deserted his forces, and twenty eight American recruits among them had been captured and shot. After receiving the Texas funds, Mexia left without a "good-bye."

The American dairy farmer can claim, without exaggeration, that he provides the world's cleanest milk, according to an article in the Dairyman's League News.

The World's Cleanest Milk

For more than 20 years, a national war has been waged against bovine tuberculosis. Today that war is drawing to a close, with the "enemy" almost completely routed. Bovine tuberculosis exists on a substantial scale in only two of the 48 states, and the curative work is progressing rapidly in both of them.

Dairymen are now turning their attention to two other bovine diseases—mastitis and Bang's disease. While these ailments are of little consequence to the consumer of milk, they are of considerable moment to the farmer. It is believed that the diseases will be almost completely eradicated in a relatively brief time.

The war against bovine plagues, especially tuberculosis, has been conducted by government bureaus, farm organizations and other groups. Agricultural cooperative associations—which work to improve production methods as well as to obtain a fairer price for farm products—have also been a telling factor. The American consumer can be assured that nowhere else in the world could he obtain dairy products of a more sanitary nature than in this country.

Congressman Samuel B. Pettengill, a leading congressional authority on transportation affairs, offers an 11-point program for solving the railroad problem. It is a sensible, practical and clear-cut approach to this vexing question.

Set The Green Signal

Mr. Pettengill's program includes: Stop government competition with private carriers and sell the Federal Barge Line; stop taxing the railroads to aid their competitors; repeal the long-and-short-haul clause of the Transportation Act, in order to make it possible for the railroads to offer rates as low as those offered by their competitors; stop subsidizing intercoastal shipping; restore to railroad managements the right to really manage the properties; give rate-making authority over all forms of transport to one non-political agency next in dignity, independence and importance to the Supreme Court; let railway management work out fair consolidation programs, subject to the veto of the Interstate Commerce Commission; stop frightening investors with nonsensical talk of repudiation of contracts by solvent roads. Who can object to such common sense relief?

This briefs the main points of the program. It asks nothing for the railroads that is not in the public interest, and that is not justified by the most elementary principles of fairness and reason. And what would it accomplish? To quote Mr. Pettengill directly, "The mere adoption of this old-fashioned program of equal rights for all, special privileges to none in my judgment, . . . would do more than any possible pump-priming, court-packing or government reorganization to rebuild our lost prosperity. If we clear the track for the Iron Horse we set the signal for America."

Fire is always dangerous. It's doubly dangerous in summer.

The Fire Season Is Coming

vacant lots and fields if left uncut, are ready to burst into flame at the touch of a match. Woodlands are drying out—and when this dehydrating process reaches a certain stage, trees will literally explode when attacked by fire, and start conflagrations that may extend over tens of thousands of acres. Crown fires, running with hurricane speed and force along the tops of great trees, will extinguish all life, human or animal, in the area they cover.

These holocausts can be prevented—and easily prevented—if only we'll all help. Keep fire in mind, and act accordingly. If you own property, see to it that it is kept clean and unlit, and free from dry grass. When traveling about, never throw matches outdoors, never build fires near trees or other inflammables—and never leave a fire until it has been thoroughly extinguished, preferably with both water and dirt. Obey the fire laws—they were made for your protection, not to annoy you.

As a matter of fact, the greatest tragedy of fire is that it is almost always unnecessary. Every year we burn up resources and property valued at hundreds of millions of dollars. We destroy thousands of lives. The indirect fire loss runs into the billions, and is reflected in unemployment, less business, reduced spending power. This toll is the result of carelessness, ignorance or just plain laziness. It may be that the unpreventable fire exists—but it is a very rare exception indeed. Human failure underlies at least nine fires out of ten.

A little care and thought on your part may save your home or someone else's from destruction. It may save a life. Don't forget that.

The road builder has the largest share in the job of making the nation's motor traffic safe, said Harold Hammond, of the National Conservation Bureau in a recent address.

Scientific Roads Prevent Accidents

He pointed out that in the golden era of road building that followed 1925, the highways that emerged were regarded as masterpieces of the builder's art and science. Disillusion came fast. No sooner had the pavement hardened, than these roads became scenes of death and destruction on an unprecedented scale, and of maddening congestion as traffic density grew and movement slowed.

The modern, safe road is very different from the old highways. Mr. Hammond defines it in these words: "More roads mean more arteries on which to move people and goods efficiently. Better roads mean roads that will perform this basic job of transportation with less waste and less hazard than anything we have known in the past. In the language of the man in the street, we want roads that will give more mileage for our money, in terms of operating and maintenance cost, and we want roads that to the greatest possible degree will discount or eliminate the human factor as a cause of accidents."

Such roads have been built—and they work. They make it impossible for the driver to get out of his proper lane; there is no cross traffic; intersections are eliminated. Cars moving in opposed directions cannot meet. Here, in better roads, is the indispensable step toward the logical solution of the traffic accident problem.

They're only truly great who are truly good.—George Chapman.

BROWNWOOD TEXAS

EMPLOYMENT SCHEDULE ON IRRIGATION PLAN EXPLAINED BY C.C.

To stop "rumors" that Brown county labor is not being used in construction work on the irrigation project here, the Chamber of Commerce has written the following detailed explanation of how the men are hired. The statement follows:

"Rumors have been current on the streets and several people have brought these reports to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce to the effect that Brown county citizens were not being employed on the irrigation project now under construction and that instead many transients had been given work notwithstanding we have a large number of unemployed men in Brownwood and Brown county.

"As usual, it was suggested that the Chamber of Commerce do something about it quickly. If this situation did obtain, the Chamber of Commerce would be the first to attempt to correct it. With that end in view a thorough investigation has been made within the last three days. Last week's figures show that 193 men were on the payroll of the Briggs-Darby Construction Company. Of these, 90 were residents of Brownwood and Brown county, 13 were brought here from other places by the contractors, being technical and trained men, which is permitted under the PWA regulations. Even these 12 men were given clearance by the Texas State Employment Service to come into Brown county to work on this particular project. Of the 90 men, 41 are residents of Brownwood and their names appear in the city directory, the information for which was compiled in December and January. The other 49 live at various points in the county and they are personally known to one or another of the county commissioners.

"Before anyone can be employed by the Briggs-Darby Construction Company, that person must have a card from the local Texas Employment Service authorizing the contractor to give him employment. This card is issued in triplicate, one being retained in the contractor's office, another going to the local inspector of the PWA and the other into the files of the Texas Employment Service. Even in case of emergency or temporary employment the employe must present an identification card to be followed later by a work card from the Texas Employment Service. If employes are needed by the contractor, he or his foreman must file a written requisition with the Texas Employment Service office stating how many men are needed and what qualifications they must have. If it happens that a technical man is needed and none is registered with the local employment office, then the contractor may ask to have such technical man cleared here from some other employment service office.

"In fact, people wanting work cannot obtain it by making application at the contractor's office. On the front door of the Briggs-Darby Construction Company office is this sign: 'ALL MEN EMPLOYED THROUGH TEXAS STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE. DO NOT APPLY HERE.'

"Registration Requirements: 'Unemployed persons who register for work with the Texas Employment Service are required to give their name, age, place of residence, years lived in city or county, number in family, whether they rent or own their home or live with relatives. If the officials in charge of the Texas Employment Service have any reason to suspect that the person applying for registration is not a bonafide citizen, that person is required to sign a certificate of residence and give two references, the making of a false statement in this certificate is a violation of the United States Criminal Code punishable by fine or imprisonment or both.

"Anyone moving into Brownwood to reside may register for employment although that person may not have lived here longer than a few days. However, when such a person does register he or she is informed that preference is given to the long-time residents and there is little chance of employment unless the first registrants shall have all been given work. In fact it is the practice of the local office to give preference to the citizen who has resided here the longest where his qualifications meet the need of the contractor.

"Both the Texas Employment Service and the PWA are very strict about the registrations, six different cards containing every sort of information must be completely filled out before the applicant is eligible for work. Transients are not registered at all. During the month of May more than 500 men from other counties applied at the Brownwood office for the Texas Employment Service for registration and were told that they were not eligible.

"While 13 technical men have been cleared here from other places $1.00 Water Bags now 85c at McLeods.

Last Week's Figures

"These are the facts which can be verified by anyone interested. Last week 193 men were on the payroll of the Briggs-Darby Construction Company. Of these, 90 were residents of Brownwood and Brown county, 13 were brought here from other places by the contractors, being technical and trained men, which is permitted under the PWA regulations. "In fact, people wanting work cannot obtain it by making application at the contractor's office. On the front door of the Briggs-Darby Construction Company office is this sign: 'ALL MEN EMPLOYED THROUGH TEXAS STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE. DO NOT APPLY HERE.'

"Registration Requirements: 'Unemployed persons who register for work with the Texas Employment Service are required to give their name, age, place of residence, years lived in city or county, number in family, whether they rent or own their home or live with relatives. If the officials in charge of the Texas Employment Service have any reason to suspect that the person applying for registration is not a bonafide citizen, that person is required to sign a certificate of residence and give two references, the making of a false statement in this certificate is a violation of the United States Criminal Code punishable by fine or imprisonment or both.

"Anyone moving into Brownwood to reside may register for employment although that person may not have lived here longer than a few days. However, when such a person does register he or she is informed that preference is given to the long-time residents and there is little chance of employment unless the first registrants shall have all been given work. In fact it is the practice of the local office to give preference to the citizen who has resided here the longest where his qualifications meet the need of the contractor.

"Both the Texas Employment Service and the PWA are very strict about the registrations, six different cards containing every sort of information must be completely filled out before the applicant is eligible for work. Transients are not registered at all. During the month of May more than 500 men from other counties applied at the Brownwood office for the Texas Employment Service for registration and were told that they were not eligible.

"While 13 technical men have been cleared here from other places $1.00 Water Bags now 85c at McLeods.

TEXAS FAIR IN FIRST-QUARTER BUSINESS TABLE

Showing neither spectacular gains nor relatively severe losses, the Texas table in the state-by-state business record for the first quarter of 1938 compared to the same period of 1937 reveals four "plus" and four "minus" ratings in the eight key business indices covered by the tabulation, says a report of the All-South Development Council.

On the whole, compared to the national figures on "percentage of gain or loss," the Texas showing was favorable, since only in the "heavy construction" table did the nation as a whole show a gain, and the Texas declines were less severe than the national averages.

Bolstered by gains of more than a hundred per cent by several states, "heavy construction" advanced in the nation-wide picture by 27 per cent, with Texas up 32

Louisiana, whose intensive drive for new industries helped to make it the nation's leader in this field in 1937, carried on with a 265 per cent gain in 1938's first quarter. Oklahoma was up 155 per cent.

Electric power output was up 10 per cent while dropping 14 per cent nationally, and life insurance sales gained 5 per cent, against a national drop of 18.

On the minus side, Texas dropped 16 per cent in passenger car and 12 in commercial car sales, the nation-wide declines being 48 and 35, respectively. In household refrigerator sales, a good standard-of-living gauge, the Texas drop was 18 per cent, more than Louisiana's (-7), but well under the national score of -45. In "value of checks drawn" the Lone Star state slumped 4 per cent against the national drop of 22 per cent.

Business activity in Texas showed a slight decline from March to April, continuing the trend observed in recent months. Dr. F. A. Burchel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, pointed out in his monthly analysis of economic conditions in Texas and other parts of the country. The rate of activity is still only moderately below what it was during April last year, however, he said.

U. S. FARM EXPORTS GAIN AND IMPORTS FAIL

The United States is now exporting over 300 times as much corn and over 8,000 times as much wheat as it is importing, according to figures just received from Washington by W. E. Morgan, economist of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

In April alone corn exports were more than 20 million bushels; imports of corn during the same month were 55,000 bushels.

April wheat exports were above 8 million bushels while 1,000 bushels were imported. Wheat exports from July 1, 1937 to April 30, 1938, were in excess of 75 million bushels and imports during the same period were 695,000 bushels, Morgan said.

Only 529,000 bushels of corn were imported during the six month period prior to April 30, 1938, while almost 65 million bushels were exported. Corn exports for this period were higher than those for any year since 1923.

"We normally export and import very little corn," Morgan pointed out, "for corn is usually exported in the form of pork. From July 1, 1937, to April 30, 1938, we exported more than 214 million pounds of pork, including lard. Imports during the same period were less than 56 million pounds.

"As hog production expands in this country after the effects of the two droughts, exports of pork can be expected to increase and imports to decrease."

The United States resumed its normal position as an exporter of wheat and increased exports of corn above normal because Argentine farmers had only half a crop.

COCCIDIOSIS THREATENS TEXAS POULTRY FLOCKS

During June and July coccidiosis will threaten baby chicks between the ages of 4 to 12 weeks, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultryman of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Coccidiosis, caused by microscopic parasites which multiply rapidly in the intestinal tract, is easily recognized by such symptoms as ruffled feathers, loss of color, rapid emaciation and bloody droppings.

The disease is spread by contamination of the feed, water and soil with droppings of the fowls and may be carried by water, or on shoes, grain sacks and other objects. It is also spread by birds and insects which fly from one poultry yard to another.

It is almost impossible to eradicate the disease, but poultry demonstrators and county agricultural and home demonstration agents have found that rigid sanitation may keep it from getting a start in a flock.

Dry floors, especially around the water fountains, and the use of deep, dry litter that is stirred frequently will help keep down the disease.

"A mild soda flush made of one tablespoon of soda to each gallon of drinking water, when given to the chicks once each week, seems to be a very effective control practice," McCarthy said. "The milk flush is also very popular and should be given instead of water for a day as soon as blood is noticed in the droppings."

"After the first day, the water may be replaced, and both milk and water offered to the chicks for a 10 day period. Skim milk may be used."

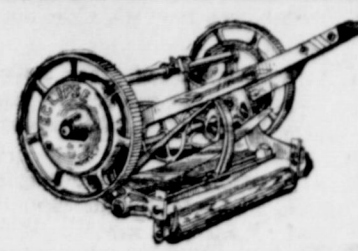

DAIRY DAY PLAN IS POPULAR WITH BREEDERS

A series of "Dairy Days," held at 15 dairying centers of Texas during the past six weeks, attracted 9,162 visitors and the entry of 1,945 dairy animals, according to E. R. Eudaly and G. G. Gibson, dairyman of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

The dairy day plan is a new development, and differs from the livestock fair idea in that the animals are classed on a non-competitive basis. Animals compete with the score card, not with each other.

Under the plan, dairymen are given an opportunity to have their cows rated under the classification system. D. T. Simons of the American Jersey Cattle Club was present at all the meetings and assisted in the classing.

"We found the plan to be very popular with the 392 breeders who

Electrical Gifts

The very finest sort of gift to get is to give. There is such a wide choice, and every single one is practical and useful, and in most cases beautiful, too, as the new I. E. S. lamps, and electric clocks for every room.

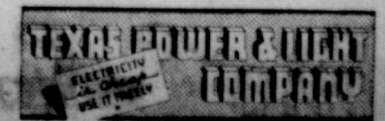

Then there are the grandest appliances for the preparation and serving of food. The electric mixer, for example. The Toaster tray is something every couple likes, and they'll need an electric iron.

For little suppers for two, or snacks for the gang, send the bride and groom a waffle iron, an electric coffee maker, and the double toaster that does two crisp brown slices at once. There are lots of other good ideas in the show rooms of local dealers.

Daniel Baker Year-Book Is Released

"The Trail" yearbook of Daniel Baker College, recently was issued to students. Editor of the volume this year was John Arthur Thomason. The books are bound in gray and white imitation leather covers with the raised dark blue initials "D" and "B." separated by a white billy goat against a blue background in the center of the front cover.

Sections in the book include introduction, administration, classes favorites, organizations, athletics snapshots, and advertising and publications. This year's edition is dedicated to Mrs. Virginia Taber Early, who was sponsor of the senior class. One page is in memory of Dr. John Power, who served as an instructor in the college for a number of years. One of his poems is reprinted on the page.

The favorites section contains photographs of Miss Patia Jean Moore, football sponsor; Miss Mary Elizabeth Wilson, campus sweetheart; Miss Margaret Cole, most beautiful girl; Miss Dorothy Nell Baker, most popular girl; J. M. Payne, favorite athlete; and Kara Newton, most popular boy. Also in the section are photographs of seven students chosen to represent Daniel Baker in the 1938 volume of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Kara Newton, Mary Elizabeth Wilson, Glenn Wagon, Dorothy Couch, John T. Williamson, R. E. Wells and Patia Jean Moore.

In the organizations section are panels and group pictures of the following clubs: The Billy Coeds, band, dramatic club, library club S. O. S., Corgan Society, Christian Students Association, Beta Epsilon, Skull & Bones, Spanish, "B" Association and the Racquetiers.

The athletics section contains pictures of outstanding players on the college's teams and a number of action pictures taken at various games during the year. Pictures of all instructors in the college are contained in the administration section.

Members of the staff included J. A. Thomason, editor; Sue McClelland, associate editor; Pete Barnes, business manager; George Allcorn, sports, Peggy Charnquist, society; Kara Newton, sports; Martha Weljer, art; Dorothy Nell Griffin, assistant business manager; John T. Williamson, Jr., copy editor; Mae Michael, secretary; Nelda McIntroe, assistant business manager; Jack McClendon, photography; and Margaret Cole, assistant editor.

Six Rules for Safer Vacations Are Listed

Six rules to aid safe motor vacations were issued this week by the Texas state police. They are:

- 1. Get plenty of sleep and travel only reasonable distances each day.
2. Check your car for mechanical defects and use tires that are in good condition.
3. Never park on highways where your car will interfere with traffic movements.
4. Drive slowly enough that your car is always under control, as speed increases the severity of accidents. Pass other vehicles only when there is plenty of clearance and when not passing, keep to the right.
5. Keep your driver's license with you.
6. Do not pick up hitchhikers.

DBC Trustees Name Officials for Year

Daniel Baker College board of trustees at a recent meeting elected T. S. Wilkinson, Sr., as president. Mr. Wilkinson succeeds W. P. Logan. W. W. McCullough was elected vice president and Brooke Smith was reelected secretary.

Judge Wilkinson and Mr. Smith have been members of the board for 49 years. L. G. Porter of Brownwood and John McEntis and C. M. Kilgore of Brownwood were elected trustees to fill vacancies occurring during the past year.

Plans for the golden jubilee celebration of the college are in charge of a committee composed of E. E. Kirkpatrick, four trustees, and four members of the college faculty. Daniel Baker will open its fiftieth annual session in September.

Gilbert, Gause; and Harry Gilbert, Brownwood; her brothers, Ed Gilbert, Three Rivers; George Gilbert, Oklahoma City; Jesse Gilbert, Robinson; Dick Gilbert, Winnie Wood, Oklahoma; her sister, Annie Chocoma, Cameron.

Palbearers were Otis Nichols, Potter Nichols, Raymond Springman and Mr. Simmons.

DEARMAN—Mrs. Sara Catherine DeArman, 78, died in her home at Bangs June 9. Funeral services were held in Bangs June 10 with the Rev. R. M. Greer, Church of Christ minister, conducting.

Mrs. DeArman was for 31 years a member of the Church of Christ at Concord. She was born April 12, 1859, in Fayette county, Texas.

Survivors include her daughters, Mrs. Rilla Carter, Pasadena, Calif.; Mrs. Ettie Calyer, Bangs; Mrs. Nora Yates, Aquilla; Mrs. Edna Welch and Mrs. Ethel Waters, both of Spur; Mrs. Belva Burton, Bangs; her sons, John DeArman, Rising Star; and Tommie DeArman, Rifle, Colo.; 35 grandchildren; 26 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were her grandsons.

MOORE—Charles Alfred Moore, 52, died Thursday morning, June 9, at the home of his brother, W. F. Moore of Blanket. Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at Blanket by the Rev. C. A. Wilkerson of the Blanket Methodist church. Burial was in Blanket cemetery.

Mr. Moore had been a member of the Church of Christ since childhood. He was born March 25, 1886, in Blanco, Texas. Surviving him are his brother, W. F. Moore, and a number of nieces and nephews. Palbearers were selected from his friends in Blanket.

PEEVY—Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for Benjamin F. Peavy, 69, who died at his home in Cross Plains at 1:30 a. m. Monday. Funeral services were held from the Peavy residence. Burial was in Cottonwood cemetery.

Mr. Peavy was a member of the Christian church. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. B. F. Peavy; four children, H. H. Peavy of DeLeon, Mrs. Rette Jones of Haskell, Mrs. Winnie Shaw of Bridgeport, and Leo Peavy of Arizona, and one brother, W. O. Peavy of Cottonwood.

FRIETH—Betty Lou Frieth, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frieth, died Monday at 6 p. m. at the residence of her parents, 500 South Greenleaf. The child was born at 4:10 a. m. June 13. Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10:30 in Greenleaf cemetery with Rev. J. M. Cooper officiating. Both the father and mother survive the infant.

Texas—

(Continued from Page 1) at nominal rental figures, and 375,000 acres of land were terraced by this method, M. R. Bentley, extension agricultural engineer, said.

Sectional meetings on various phases of livestock and crops will take up the afternoon of the first day of the Short Course. Cotton will be the topic during the entire second day. July 14, Bowles said. Farmers will again take the front with reports of the success of one-variety cotton communities, while P. K. Norris, Washington, D. C., of the U.S.D.A. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, will discuss American cotton in foreign markets. Another speaker will be Burriss Jackson, chairman of the Texas Cotton Improvement Committee.

The forenoon of the third day will be devoted to the economic situation facing Texas agriculture. Featured speakers will be Dean E. J. Kyle of Texas A. and M. College and J. R. McCrary, president of the Cooperative Council.

Sectional meetings, similar to those of the first day, will be held on the afternoon of June 15, the last day of the Short Course. "We have been assured that facilities are available to house any number of men during the Short Course, and there will be no re-

BOY SCOUT NEWS

(Intended for last week) Camp Billy Gibbons

Archery—So long as the moon returns in heaven a beautiful bow, so long will the fascination of archery keep hold of the hearts of men. Scout Bobbie Joe Priddison, San Saba, will have charge of Archery in camp this year. He was Archery instructor of the camp last year, and more interest was shown in all phases of this work at that time than in any previous camp. All of us will be glad to have Bobbie Joe with us again.

Waterfront—Swimming, canoeing life saving. Every boy will find joy and satisfaction in his experience of being trained in these hardy outdoor sports. Scoutmaster Hilton Gilliam of Brownwood will have charge of all waterfront activities. He is Red Cross Life Saving Examiner for Brown County Chapter, and at present is a member of the staff of the Red Cross School, being held in Hunt, Texas, as instructor in boating and canoeing. Besides being well qualified for the work, Mr. Gilliam is a most popular Scouter with all Scouts.

Breackridge—The Sea Scout Ship Texan with a full crew of nine Scouts left Breackridge Friday afternoon to participate in the 3rd Annual North Texas Sea Scout Regatta from June 4th through June 19th. Russell B. Jones, Skipper of the Texan, is in command of the crew. For the last two years Breackridge has returned with the prizes for the most outstanding ship, camp and personal inspection, and places in the signaling, first aid and swimming.

Boy Scouts of Brownwood assisted members of the Lions Club in putting on a program at Lake Brownwood in the 4-H Club Encampment Monday night. The History of Firemaking was the subject for the program.

Restrictions on attendance. Bowles said. Solution of consumer problems will feature the women's Short Course program. In the field of electricity in the home, wiring, lighting the home, and choosing electrical equipment will be taken up in a series of meetings when principles, precautions and illustrations will be presented.

Getting your money's worth in textiles, as household buyers, in drugs and cosmetics, in kitchen equipment, meat, nutrition, and housing will all be discussed and good buying standards illustrated by outstanding men and women in these fields.

Wild flowers and their legends, book reviews and plans for beautifying neighborhoods will be presented by another group of speakers. Home sanitation will be discussed under the title "Safe Water—In and Out." There will be a youth panel to give the elders a better insight into the problems of young people of this generation. And there will be times for new games and songs to be learned and played.

Food will have its place on the program both the production and the nutrition angles. On production are listed fruits, dairy products and poultry, which will be a joint program with the men.

Outstanding speakers on the homemaking program are Miss Jane Alden, stylist, from Chicago, Ill., Miss Mary Ann Grimes, specialist in textiles for the Texas Experiment Station, A. and M. College, Mrs. Virginia Sharborough, of the University of Texas and Barbara Van Heulen, Washington, D. C., of the Farm Credit Administration, as well as extension specialists in various homemaking problems.

HIGH MOUNTAIN "LADYBIRDS" CHECK FRUIT APHIS MENACE

In the endless battle against the aphid infesting many fruit trees, bushes and vines in large producing areas, the ladybird beetle is adding to its reputation as an "insect policeman," according to officials of the Railway Express Agency in the West. They have recently noted a remarkable rise in the volume of shipments of these beneficial insects by express to various fruit-growing regions throughout the country.

This situation has, in addition, provided a practically new and profitable occupation for mountaineers who roam around the high plateaus of the Sierra and Cascade mountains, to obtain supplies of "ladybirds" for several dealers in Los Angeles, who have found a growing demand for them.

The beetle, scientifically known as "hippodamia convergens," is pink-orange in color, with small black spots and resembles a potato bug, although half the size. It is harmless to plant life, but because of its ravenous appetite for plant lice, it is sometimes called the "aphid lion." These insects cannot be propagated in confinement but when once released in an orchard or field become accustomed to the climate and start feeding on aphids, of which there are said to be forty-one species.

The beetles are captured in high altitudes during hibernation, when they swarm like bees and can be shaken from mountain bushes in bunches the size of a man's head. The searchers place wet moss in their bags to keep the temperature down in sending them to the dealers' plants.

There, after sorting by hand to eliminate undesirable species, the beetles are held in cold storage at 42 degrees, to await orders. They are shipped in gauze sacks filled with water-soaked moss, to make the package tight and yet give the beetles air and room to move around.

The sack is then placed in wooden boxes with wire screens on two sides, a shipping case similar to that used for bees. When forwarded by express, the boxes carry instructions for sprinkling with water daily, to prevent the insects from being overheated in transit. The average box, equivalent to a quart, contains 30,000 beetles or 1,200,000 to a gallon. It is estimated that gardens and orchards can be patrolled by these beetles at between 15 to 20 cents per acre. Almost every order received by Los Angeles dealers calls for at least a million beetles at a time. Use of ladybirds to meet the threat of aphid causing hundreds of dollars damage to vegetable and garden crops is being experimented with by Midwestern and Eastern farmers to an increasing degree.

Dairying Industry in Texas Is Increasing

Increased interest in the manufacture of dairy products in Texas has been evidenced by the large number of dairy shows held during the last month at various points in the State, according to Mrs. Clara H. Lewis, editorial assistant in the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation opened a cheese plant at Grapeland the latter part of 1937 which is proving successful, and the cheese plant under construction at Sulphur Springs by the same company is expected to begin operation sometime this month, she said. The Spring Valley Butter Company of Houston has also been added to the list of dairy manufacturers in the State.

Other food processing plants include the egg drying plant of the Cudahy Packing Company at Cuero, employing approximately 125 workers, the Freezer Food, Inc., of Houston which has opened a plant at Port Lavaca for freezing fruit juices, and the canning plant at Jacksonville of the Ozark Mountain Canning Company and the Ogburn Canning Company factory at Lindale, which have opened for the season canning fruits and vegetables.

Formerly license numbers have been painted on boats at Lake Brownwood each year, but a plan of cards bearing different numbers for each year will be put in use this season. Each boat on the lake is required to have one of the licenses placed inside the boat in a conspicuous place. Those who have already paid licenses and have received their receipts for this year may receive the cards by calling at the Water District office.

Insulating Machine Here

Mr. R. F. Currin, sales manager for the Modern Home Insulators, Inc., Dallas and Fort Worth, arrived in Brownwood Monday, bringing with him their large pneumatic insulating machine. This company has the contracts to insulate the homes of nine of Brownwood's property owners. A carload of rock wool was unloaded Tuesday in the Johnson Storage Company warehouse. Mr. Currin is very enthusiastic when talking about the merits of Eagle Insulation. It makes your home cooler in summer by sealing out the heat and warmer in the winter by sealing the heat in the house. It is reasonably priced and sold on monthly terms if desired. Rock wool insulation is taking the day and it is a good time for our home owners to take advantage of this opportunity to have this work done by persons who know how to do it. cost of insulating your home or If you want an estimate on the building you can get it by calling Mr. Currin at the Brownwood Hotel from Monday till Friday each week. No charge is made for survey, and you are under no obligation to buy when an estimate is made. (Adv.)
