Large Entry List In Donley County Fat Stock Show

The largest entry list in the Donley County Fat Stock Show since 1947 will be on display at the Annual Fat Stock Show Wednesday, January 26th. Donley County 4-H boys under the direction of County Agent H. M. Breedlove will exhibit 8 top baby weaves; the Clarendon F.F.A. under the direction of T. H. Seay will exhibit approximately 20 head of pigs; the Hedley F.F.A. under the direction of Doyle Messer will exhibit 5 lambs and six pigs, and the Lelia Lake F.F.A. under the direction of J. R. Gillham will exhibit 22 lambs and over 100 pigs.

The Lelia Lake F.F.A. Chapter has entered five Jersey Heifers, and 56 head of fat and breeding swine in the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show, and will take their stock directly from the Donley County Show to Ft. Worth.

The Clarendon F.F.A. Chapter has entered 12 head of pigs at the Houston Fat Stock Show, and will take their pigs from the local Show to Houston.

Both the Clarendon and Lelia Lake F.F.A. Chapters have members entered in the Houston Fat Stock Show Calf Scramble for the weekend of February 5th and 6th. The F.F.A. members accompanied by their advisers, J. R. Gillham, and T. H. Seay will attend the Houston Show on those dates.

Will You Be Included In The Stampede?

That's what may happen to a lot of folks around here if they keep putting off paying their poll tax. The deadline is January 31st which is only twelve days away and two of those are Sunday's. If the usual off-year number pay their poll tax, it means that approximately 70 tax receipts will have to be issued each work day left as only 563 have been issued to date.

It looks now like a big stampede during the final days unless we are able to report at least 3 to 4 hundred more to the total next week. The main thing is to pay your poll tax whether you have to weather out a stampede or not as many important issues may come up this year and all citizens of this county should be in a position to voice their opinion by being able to vote. Pay your poll tax now and avoid the rush.

Mrs. J. M. Ray is reported to be doing as well as could be expected following surgery last Thursday. She is a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo.

Has Your Child Been Missed In The School Census?

This is the question being asked by local school officials since only twenty prospective first graders have been counted to date. Supt. Trust is asking everyone who will have a child entering school for the first time next fall, to please report this information to his office, as each child counted means that much more money for the local school system through state aid. If you have already been contacted then it will not be necessary for you to make this report.

If you know of any new families in the district with children of school age you are asked to pass along this information to school officials also.

Included in the school census will be all children who will be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1955, and those who have not reached their 18th birthday by the same date.

Man Jailed Here On Burglary-Forgery Charge

Sheriff Truett Behrens reported yesterday that James Joseph Lewis of Ada, Okla. was picked up in Amarillo Saturday and was being held in the local jail charged with forgery and burglary.

Sheriff Behrens said Lewis was charged with burglary of the Risley-Cook Grain Co. and forging six checks in the amount of $419 which were made out on the Grain Company's checks taken in the burglary of the business.

Two of the checks were cashed here and the other four in Amarillo. D. F. Cook's signature was used on the checks and they were made payable to Clarence Bairfield. The use of Bairfield's name came about by Lewis staying at the same hotel while he was making the cotton harvest here. Car Safety Check Warning Issued

Only one out of ten autos in Donley County has had its annual safety check. H. E. Bryan, Department of Public Safety Inspector for this district, reported here last Thursday after completing a check of inspection points.

"That means a lot of Donley County car owners are apt to be mighty unhappy three months from now because they won't be allowed to operate on the streets and highways without the proper approved inspection sticker," Bryan stated. Failure to secure the inspection by April 15 will subject motorists to a fine if they drive.

Bryan said the longer motorists delay, the longer the waiting line will be at inspection stations. The three official inspection stations here are: Palmer Motor Co., Clarendon Motor Co. and Carpenter's Garage. Avoid the last minute rush by having your car inspected now.

Wednesday, January 26th is the date for the Donley County Fat Stock Show says County Agent H. M. Breedlove. 4-H and FFA boys from all over Donley County will be competing against each other for high honors in the show. Mr. J. P. Smith of Pantex farms of Amarillo will be the judge.

All livestock must be in the barns by nine o'clock in the morning of the show, and the judging will start at ten o'clock in the morning on the steer division.

The show this year will be held in the old fair grounds buildings on the Brice highway. Plans and work is now well underway on the new fair and livestock building and next year it is hoped the show will be in the new show barns.

Every one is urged to come out and give the club boys support in their spring livestock show.

The classes and premium money are as follows:

Heavy Steers—1st $25.00, 2nd $15.00, 3rd $10.00, 4th $5.00.
Light Steers—1st $25.00; 2nd $15.00, 3rd $5.00.
Grand Champion Steer—$25.00.
Reserve Champion—$10.00.

In the swine division there will be six breeds composed of Chester Whites, Hampshire, Poland Chinas, Durocs, Berkshire and other breeds.

Pen of Three, All breeds combined—1st $4.00, 2nd $3.00, 3rd $2.00, 4th $1.00 and one dollar for each other entry.

Grand champion Barrow—$5.00
Reserve Champion—$2.50.
Fine Wool Sheep—1st $4.00, 2nd $3.00, 3rd $2.00, 4th $1.00, all the rest one dollar.
Medium Wool Sheep—1st $4.00, 2nd $3.00, 3rd $2.00, 4th $1.00, all the rest one dollar.

Grand champion Lamb—$5.00
Reserve champion Lamb—$2.50
Premium money is for club boys only but any adults wishing to put livestock on display during the show are urged to do so and will be assigned space for the livestock. Remember the date of the show and make your plans to attend. The show is being held early this year because some of the swine will be shown at the Fort Worth show the latter part of this month. All steers will be shown at the Amarillo show the latter part of February in Amarillo.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

A shipment of books came this week and then a friend gave me thirteen new books from her "Crime Club" editions, so we have some winter reading that we shall announce as we file the books.

One book you will appreciate if you haven't read it is the Memorial "Love Is Eternal" by Irving Stone. You recall that this was given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. John Sims and Mr. Louie Merrill by Mrs. Fannie Florence Whitmore and her son, Clifford Sims Whitmore.

Fred Gipson has written a new book, "Recollection Creek," that will be as enjoyable as his other books. We shall get this soon.

Yesterday's paper announced the death of Mrs. Lewis Vieman at "Walter Reed Hospital." She gave birth to triplets and she and her babies died. She and her husband were stationed in Korea during World War II when we were doing no fighting there, and that is when she wrote "Korean Adventure" that was reviewed by Mrs. Clyde Hudson for the "Book Club" and the copy given by Mrs. Hudson to the Library. The book has been popular.

I have been absent from the Library with "Influenza" but shall return soon and get the new books ready to issue.

Need For Water Conservation Action

Texas Dept. of Agriculture

Water conservation is an acre-by-acre, farm-by-farm proposition.

No half-way measures are going to solve the water problem which now plagues Texas. The recent scourge of dust has been a nuisance over the eastern half of our state but it speaks of tragedy to our soil in West Texas.

These storms are just the beginning. Worse is yet to come unless we get water and soil saving projects underway on a state-wide basis immediately.

Dams will be useful in this program but they, alone, are not the final answer. Although we waste 85 percent of our annual water supply by downstream floods and field run-off, we need more than dams to hold back the tide.

The practice of every known water and soil conservation measure on the farm level is the first step. Then we need some practical laws which would help control underground and surface supplies in the critical areas of the state. This would help assure a fair distribution of what we have.

In building dams, three types may be necessary; small check dams in the upper tributaries, larger storage dams to furnish municipal water and irrigation, and huge dual-purpose storage and power dams on the major rivers.

All these steps should be considered in seeking a solution. But it would be futile to consider the steps separately. If only the large dams were built, they would soon be clogged with upstream silt due to the lack of other conservation methods.

Our future water supply will determine whether we continue our industrial development in Texas or succumb to economic stagnation.

At least one major industry locates in the Dallas-Fort Worth or Houston areas every day—and a minor industry every hour. But for every one industry we gain, two others turn down Texas as a possible site because of the lack of water.

We must take action on our water problem.

Eliminate Animal Losses

Texas Dept. of Agriculture

The number of chicks and pullets, calves and heifers, pigs and shoats, sheep and lambs that the average Texas farmer loses annually costs him the price of a new car.

In addition to these death losses, there is a staggering waste of feed and labor involved. Because of disease or inadequate feeding, thousands of eggs are never laid and tons of meat and milk is never produced.

Proper feeding and management are the most important factors in producing for a profit. Most Texas farmers realize we are just not getting out of poultry and livestock what is bred into them. Yet, many other farmers are content to be just average in their results.

Here is a graphic example of waste in hog breeding:

The average hog raiser breeds 12 sows. Only 11 farrow and of the 100 pigs farrowed, the farmer markets only 58, mostly because of premature deaths.

On a two litter a year system, each sow is marketing only 11 pigs a year at this rate. Actually, a hog raiser should expect to market 17-18 pigs per sow.

weighing 200-225 when 5 1/2 mos. old.

Similar losses occur in poultry and livestock. About 1 out of every 5 calves dropped, dies before it is six months old. Some 10 per cent of the chicks and 15 per cent of the pullets will not live for 56 days.

Eliminating loss is a key to badly needed profits. The farmer in Texas has been hard-hit by drouth and insects for four years. He cannot afford to suffer unnecessary livestock deaths in addition.

The knowledge and practice of good feeding and management programs will help reduce these deaths. High production per hen, per cow and per sow is no longer a goal in Texas—it is a necessity if you intend to make money farming.

J. A. Warren was in Amarillo last week on Income Tax business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Word of Amarillo were among the week end visitors in Clarendon.

Scandal is one thing that never gets shop worn by being continually passed around.

Fishing For Science

Scientists at the Hanford Atomic Products Operation spend a lot of time fishing the nearby Columbia River. Not for fun, however. They're sampling all marine life in the river to determine how much radioactivity seeps into the water, which is used for cooling nuclear reactors at the Hanford facilities, operated by General Electric for the Atomic Energy Commission. In a 30-foot power boat the men cruise along a section of the fast-moving river from Priest Rapids dam 100 miles to McNary dam, trawling for samples of river life to study at the new Aquatic Biology laboratory at Hanford.

Other fish, along with invertebrates and algae specimens, are collected from the shore line of the river by men wading in rubber boots. In the deepest parts of the river a dredge, operated from the stern of the boat, gathers samples of the river bottom so that scientists can measure any radioactivity in inert or living material.

So far these studies have shown that radioactivity levels in the water are so low they're not harmful to man or fish.

'Lungs' Meant Life or Death For 6,000 Stricken by Polio

Life or death for more than 6,000 of the 40,000 polio victims stricken in 1954 depended on iron lungs and other breathing aids, according to a preliminary report from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The report showed that approximately 15 per cent of all polio victims needed mechanical breathing aids to stay alive in 1954.

The National Foundation said it had been able to move almost 2,000 March of Dimes respirators into epidemic areas to save lives in 1954. In addition, over 600 rocking beds were supplied to patients.

Every effort is made to get patients out of their iron lungs as soon as possible, the National Foundation said. But about 900 of those stricken in 1954 still are in tank respirators all or part of the time. They have joined another 1,000 patients from previous years whose horizons still are limited to the mirrors at the head of their machines.

More Need Help Today

"The March of Dimes goal is to free as many as possible," declares Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation. "Recent increases in the percentage of patients with severe paralysis, who depend on breathing aids to stay alive, make it imperative that more facilities for weaning such patients from iron lungs be provided."

"Fortunately, improved treatment techniques have been developed—largely through March of Dimes grants to 13 regional respirator centers—that offer real hope of freeing the majority of such patients."

Patients Help Each Other

In 1950, the March of Dimes provided initial funds for two pioneer respirator centers to bring small groups of iron lung patients together for treatment. New equipment had to be devised and special personnel trained. Results began to be seen almost at once. A few patients freed from iron lungs and able to go home encouraged others. By the end of 1954, twelve of these centers were in operation, with a 13th about to open.

Total capacity of all centers is 100 respirator patients and 160 using no mechanical breathing aids. For the latter, improved physical and occupational therapy enable them to gain self respect and the chance to become self supporting.

Since the first center opened, over 1,000 respirator patients have been admitted, with almost 750 liberated from their regulation iron lungs.

"This is a program that pays off in human as well as economic values," said Dr. Van Riper, "but March of Dimes funds are vital for its operation."

The 1955 March of Dimes is now going on and will end Jan. 31.

"The Atom Goes To Sea"

A new G-E documentary film stars the "Sea Wolf", the atomic submarine for which General Electric is building the reactor.

How an atom sub works and why a submarine was chosen for the first application of atomic propulsion are explained in animation. Combined with this are live action scenes taken at the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory in Schenectady and the reactor test site at West Milton.

In production 18 months, the motion picture shows work at the test site from the time ground was broken for the giant sphere which houses the test reactor. Since the project is still under way, the film is actually a progress report, kept up to date by adding or substituting new footage as security restrictions permit.

Calendar Clock-Radio

An unusual model is making its appearance in the 1955 line of General Electric radios. It's a calendar clock-radio, showing the date and the day of the week on the face of the clock. The day indicator changes automatically at midnight; only on the first of each month must the calendar be adjusted manually.

The 1955 line has 39 radio models in all.

By LYN CONNELLY
POPULAR stuntmaster of "People Are Funny," Art Linkletter, boasts he hasn't lost a contestant on the show in all his 13 years as emcee. . . . However, recently during the filming for a show, Art's perfect record was tarnished . . . but not by a contestant . . . it seems a certain cow hired for one of the stunts was not too pleased with her role . . . Quite unexpectedly the temperamental cow climbed right off the stage, strutted by the amazed people behind the scenes and refused to return . . . Hurried last minute calls were made and an "extra" was brought in . . . Off the cuff Art smilingly explained they couldn't have a temperamental cow for this stunt . . . since the cow had to stand still while being wrapped by a contestant for a Christmas gift! It takes versatility to keep an actress busy in Hollywood these days . . . Take the case of Virginia Gregg who plays Mrs. Jack Barbour on Carlton E. Morse's "One Man's Family" . . . Miss Gregg portrays an ideal wife and a model mother, which she is off-stage . . . But when away from "One Man's Family" Miss Gregg plays everything from a hard-bitten female on the wrong end of the law in "Dragnet" to a confidence woman on another crime or detective show.
PLATTER CHATTER
CAPTROL—If you've joined the mambo-mad crowds these days, you'll find real enjoyment in Chuy Reyes two hi-fi-discs featuring this music . . . The first one includes "Llegaste Tarde," . . . "Mocambo Mambo," "Oink Oink Mambo" and "Dee Gee Mambo" . . . Part II carries "Concussion Mambo," "Hornpipe Mambo," "Genero Tumba a La Mula" and "Mambo Trombo" . . . Another fine hi-fi album-disc is Woody Herman's "Specials" which includes "Woodchopper's Mambo," "Masked Rambler," "Mexican Hat Trick" and "Sleepy Sorehead."

THE LION'S TALE

By Carl Allmond

The cold weather sure brought 'em out Tuesday. The ladies had to set an extra table.

Porter and Lowe came in late, and Lowe didn't get a seat; which incident goes to prove that Porter is "back in the groove." Ray Moore and Joe Spann were late also. It could have been due to a train on the tracks; that tie Ray had on would stop a train.

Attention Mrs. Morris—Cap's been getting to the meetings on time lately, but he forgets to go by and get his button. If he is not wearing his button, he is counted absent; he was counted absent Tuesday.

This week we were mobbed by Hedley. Something is cooking, but nothing leaked out, even though Carl Morris, C. L. Johnson, and J. B. Masterson were guests. Morris and Johnson came on their own, but Masterson "drummed" an invite. It will cost us yet — it could be they will take the court house moved to Hedley. Those birds just don't drop in for fun.

Ralph Andis was down from Amarillo. Other guests were J. C. Dickey, and Lynn Payne of Clarendon, and P. Acru from Hale Center. No wonder we had to set an extra table — seven guests!

Four young ladies appeared on our program Tuesday, presenting an assortment of vocal solos, duets, and piano solos. These talented girls were Floy Sutton, Lugenia Hubbard, Elizabeth Smith, and Doris Newberry.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

PREMEASUREMENT OF COTTON ACREAGE:

The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that cotton allotment acreages are to be premeasured for all farm operators requesting the service. The State Committee has approved a rate of charge of $7.00 per farm, plus $2.00 for each plot over one.

At the time the farm operator files his written request for the premeasurement service, he should understand that he or his representative must be at the farm at the time the premeasurement is made and that it will be his responsibility to have available stakes that may be needed in staking out the areas to be planted to cotton.

The premeasurement service is offered only to producers who request that their cotton acreage be measured in the field before time to plant.

1955 ACP PROGRAM:

Applications are now being taken in the County ASC Office for 1955 ACP practices to be carried out during the month of February with Federal Cost-Sharing on a conservation practice, contact the person who will do the work and know an approximate date on which the work can be started.

If you are interested in any conservation practices for 1955, contact the County ASC Office for full details on all practices.

BROTHER OF LOCAL LADIES HAS STROKE

Ansel Ross, brother of Mrs. J. W. Evans and Miss Katherine Ross, had a stroke Thursday and is in a Gainsville, Texas Hospital. His condition is critical. Miss Ross left Thursday night to be with her brother.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butler Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Butler and family and J. R. Cowan, Jeff and Katharine, all of Borger, also Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Baker and children of Pampa. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hudson of Lelia Lake visited in the afternoon.

Difference In Food Dollar And Farmer Profits

Texas Dept. of Agriculture

Few consumers ever stop to think that what they pay for food and other farm products does not all go to the farmer. Rather, a very large part of the money goes to pay for marketing and transportation services.

The part which the farmer doesn't get has been increasing. This is true mainly because consumers buy less and less of the farmer's product in the rough form and buy more and more in a finished form. To put that food in the form the people want means extra work—an extension of marketing services—for which the buyer, of course, has to pay.

Extra work for processing, for packaging, for handling, for many different services that go into present-day marketing all add to the food costs. An example of the way in which an extension of marketing services tends to increase the costs involved is found in the selling of wheat products. Most of the wheat sold by farmers used to be bought by consumers in the form of flour. Now most of it is sold to consumers in bread, cakes, pies and other bakery products.

The number of persons at work in preparing and marketing farm food products back in 1932 was estimated at over 3 million. Last year it had increased to nearly 5 million workers. Included were persons engaged in assembling, processing, wholesaling, retailing and transporting farm products.

In the past two years, we have seen farmer income gradually drop. Normally, the consumer would expect food costs drop accordingly.

However, in most cases, wages and costs of processing foods has increased and this higher cost has been passed on to the purchaser while the farmer actually got less for his raw product.

If the housewife were to abandon "specialty" foods and pre-packaged goods, and depend upon her own kitchen skill to convert "raw" farm products into family meals, then she would find her costs would be lowered correspondingly with the farmer's profit.

WTSC Geography Department Plans 26-Day Tour

CANYON — A 26-day tour of national parks, cities, and other points of interest of the West Coast, Canada, and the Rocky Mountain states has been planned for next summer, sponsored by the geography department of West Texas State College. Offered principally as an educational and recreational sightseeing tour, the course will not be given for college credit.

Dr. Murry B. Measamer, WTSC geography department head, who has conducted two previous chartered bus tours for geography field trip credit, will conduct the excursion which will take sightseers through eleven states and two provinces of western Canada.

About 35 persons may make reservations for the tour, slated to begin July 18, with the return to Canyon on Aug. 12. Since no college credit is offered, no tuition or fees are included in the cost of the tour, Dr. Measamer said, and the cost per person is expected to be reasonable. Travel and lodging are included in the cost of the tour.

Last year two chartered buses made a tour of the East Coast and Canada, and two years ago Dr. Measamer conducted the first WTSC geography tour to the West Coast. The projected tour would take sightseers on a similar route, but selected stops would include more of general interest. First two overnight stops would be in El Paso and Tucson, Arizona. About ten days will be spent in California, seeing such places as Hollywood, Los Angeles, San Francisco, the Redwood Highway, Fresno, Yosemite National Park, and San Diego, with the tour route covering California north to south.

After several days in Oregon and Washington, the tourists will make a boat cruise from Seattle to Victoria, British Columbia, see Mt. Rainier, the Grand Coulee Dam and irrigation project, will go into Alberta Canada, to see Lake Louise and the famed Columbia Ice Fields or Canadian Rockies glaciers. On the return trip, the group will visit Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Tetons, and other points of interest in Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado.

Persons interested in making the tour are asked to write to Dr. Murry B. Measamer, head of the geography department, at West Texas State College.

Small And Mighty

A tiny gnat strong enough to control a giant exists only in fairy tales. But something equally fantastic is going on at G.E.'s General Engineering Laboratory. Here engineers are experimenting, not with gnats as such, but with gnat-sized amounts of energy in the form of force, light, movement and temperature. And the "giants" are giant machines whose operation can be precision-controlled by magnetic amplification of the tiny energies.

The electrical heartbeat—pulse current is the technical name for it, although the engineers have dubbed it the "mighty midjet"—has been used to amplify signals so feeble that, for example, the change in room temperature caused by a lighted cigarette could control an air conditioner. In engineering terms, the "mighty midjet" can control equipment from a signal level of 10 to the minus 16 watts. This means that if the energy were multiplied by a billion times, it would still be only a billionth of the power needed to light a 100-watt bulb.

The principal component of the pulse-type amplifier is a tiny reactor, consisting of two fine copper wires wound around a circular core of highly sensitive magnetic material. Several of the reactors are used together to boost a given signal in stages to the point where it can be picked up by a conventional magnetic amplifier. The latter is often a part of the control system in jet airplanes, rockets, and computers.

Temperature Governs Braking Distances On Snow And Ice

Believe it or not, it's twice as hard to stop your car on ice when the temperature is barely freezing than it is when the thermometer registers zero!

This information was given out by Mr. R. B. Roaper of Houston, Chief Safety Engineer, Humble Oil & Refining Company, and President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc. today as he discussed the winter hazards program which the Texas Safety Association, Inc. and the Texas Department of Public Safety is now conducting in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"Temperature plays an all important part in braking distances and possible traction on snow and ice", Mr. Roaper said. "As the temperature rises, ice (and, to a lesser degree, snow) becomes much more slippery. For example at 20 m.p.h. when the temperature is 32 degrees F., stopping distance without tire chains is 250 feet. When the temperature is 0 degrees F., stopping distance is 110 feet. This is a difference of 140 feet—a distance that might well cause a serious accident."

According to Mr. Roaper, this action of ice in response to temperature presents a real hazard to the unwary driver who doesn't appreciate the need for extra caution when ice is on the verge of thawing. He said that is why it's important for the driver to "get the feel of the road" by trying out his brakes while driving slowly and away from traffic.

"Take the driver who starts out on an icy road early in the morning while it's still quite cold", Mr. Roaper explained. "He finds his ability fairly good. But as the sun comes out and the temperature rises, he doesn't realize that the ice will become much more treacherous. When he finds he can't stop in time to avoid an accident, it's often too late to put on chains."

Mr. Roaper said that a driver's only safeguards in slippery weather are increased caution and decreased speed. He believes, "Slow up in a freeze up" is still the best rule of thumb for safety.

Colossal Can Opener

Opening a can of radioactive materials is a far cry from opening a can of beans. It takes an hour and a quarter, and a can opener that costs nearly two thousand dollars.

This extraordinary tool is used by scientists at the Hanford Atomic Products Plant. There the job of opening containers of radioactive materials is "so fantastically complicated," said one of the engineers, that a series of special tools had to be fashioned for it. The project required 2500 man-hours and many special materials.

When certain materials must be irradiated in an atomic pile they are placed in aluminum cans and the cans welded shut. After irradiation is complete, the "hot" materials must be removed from the cans and placed in shipping containers, all from behind 10 inches of lead shielding to protect the operator. The entire cycle of operations which must be performed to open one can with complete safety from radiation contamination takes about an hour and 15 minutes.

Factory Space-Saver

Building costs being what they are these days, anything that will conserve floor area is good news. That's why factory engineers, and others who must reckon floor area as part of manufacturing costs, will be glad to know that General Electric has introduced a new motor control center that saves up to 50 per cent in floor space.

Known as Type DA7093, the center permits the grouping of motor control and switching devices at one centralized location. Standardized vertical sections can be joined together to form a rigid, floor-mounted, enclosed assembly.

Gun Safety Plan Aided

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said plans already are being made to help along greater gun safety precautions in connection with hunting seasons.

He said game wardens "where possible" will be instructed to help set up actual gun safety courses on the local level.

The Executive Secretary said the need for greater attention to ordinary gun handling was emphasized during the last open seasons when a majority of the fatalities were attributed to youngsters.

The preliminary totals for the seasons indicate that the total gun deaths will approximate that of 19 for the preceding year. Seventeen gun fatalities already have been listed, with some returns unreceived. Another death resulted from a hunter falling from his blind in a tree.

"There were some arresting phases to the reports," said the Executive Secretary. "Adult hazards seem to have been reduced, presumably because of safety efforts. But the youngsters' accident rate seems to have increased."

"Ten of the seventeen hunting fatalities involved teen agers, all except one 14 or under, and nine youngsters actually died from shooting accidents associated with the hunting season. At least a score mere children were shot."

The Executive Secretary said the higher youth rate doubtless means that more youngsters are becoming interested in hunting. "If that is so," he added, "it is a mighty good sign, because hunting is a legitimate and a traditional right for any young person."

"We simply will have to get ready now and see that the young people have adequate advance safety training and also that those in the lower teen age bracket are not allowed privileges in the field beyond their own responsibility capacity. They have a definite limit when they have not yet gained full control of their faculties."

He said several game wardens already have distinguished themselves in local safety programs and that this trend will be encouraged in the face of ever-increasing demands on the time of the limited warden force.

Something To Cackle About!

LUBBOCK — An unidentified White Rock hen in the Texas Tech poultry yard had plenty to cackle about today—if she had the strength.

The hen early yesterday laid a five and one-half ounce egg, believed here to be a world record. It is the equivalent in weight to two "large" and one "medium-sized" egg as might be purchased at any grocery store.

Circumference of the egg's long axis was nine and one-half inches; short axis, seven and one-quarter inches.

The egg, still warm, was found at 10:30 a. m. yesterday (Tuesday) by T. T. Perry, manager of the Tech poultry farm.

"When I first saw it, my eyes practically bugged right out of their sockets," Perry exclaimed. "This is the biggest egg I've ever seen in my 35 years in the poultry business."

Upon seeing the egg, members of Tech's agriculture faculty quickly agreed that it was of record-breaking size, as far as they knew.

The tired mother is one of 235 hens that does her nesting in Hen House No. 1 in the Tech poultry yard. All are standard-sized hens.

Perry plans to preserve the egg by dehydrating it over a six-week's period.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

January 7, 1955

CONGRESS CONVENES

The First Session of the 84th Congress of the United States of America convened at 12:00 noon on the 5th day of January, 1955. The House was called to order by the Clerk, and the prayer was offered by the Reverend Bernard Braskamp, Chaplain. The Honorable Sam Rayburn, of Texas, was elected Speaker over the Honorable Joseph W. Martin, of Massachusetts, by a vote of 226 to 198, with two Members voting "present" (being the nominees, Rayburn and Martin). Other business was attended to, and the House then proceeded to eulogize the Honorable Dwight D. Rogers, a Member from Florida who passed away on December 1, 1954. Dwight was a wonderful fellow and although we were never able to work out a blood relationship, we were very good friends. His loss to the nation will be sorely felt.

On January 6th, the House convened in joint session with the Senate to receive the State of the Union message of the President of the United States. Shortly before the President entered the Chamber, Mrs. Eisenhower was escorted into the Presidential box, which is about midway in the west gallery. She was very gracious, as usual, and received a tremendous ovation. The President entered the Chamber at 12:30 and proceeded to the rostrum, immediately in front of the Speaker's desk, and delivered his State of the Union Message. It was almost a record breaker in length, and necessarily should have been. Before getting into the speech, the President took time to extend his best wishes to the Honorable Sam Rayburn on his 73rd birthday. This action received the applause of all, both in the gallery and on the floor. The State of the Union Message was not unusual, as State of the Union Messages go. Like the proverbial Mother Hubbard, it covered everything and touched nothing. We are all looking forward with great interest to the detailed proposals on the several items that are of primary concern to the entire world. The number one item is unquestionably the defense of this country. A close second, and probably an integral part of an overall defense program, is the position this country will take concerning world trade. The President referred to this at length in his State of the Union Message, and you will hear much of it later on. The proper handling of the trade problem could unquestionably go a long way in the prevention of hostilities in the world. It is something that is highly explosive and its delicate mechanism must be handled with the utmost caution. An impractical approach could very easily result in great unemployment, tragedy and hardship in this country. The standard of living that we have created could very easily be scuttled. An open-door policy would necessarily result in one of two things. Either the standard of living of the country with which we were engaged in free trade would be raised to that of ours, or, on the other hand, ours would be lowered to theirs.

of this country. Reference was also made to the plight of small business enterprises. Yet, an examination will reflect that the Small Business Administration has been able to do very little in assisting truly small business. The steady decrease in farm income has had a tragic effect on small business, and many small enterprises have been hanging on by their teeth, hoping to weather the storm. Whether or not they are successful will depend upon the availability of capital to tide them over or an increase in the purchasing power of their customers. Neither is present now. I feel that this Congress will provide both.

The lazy man takes out in wishful thinking what the ambitious man goes out and gets.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Pretty "Snappy" Menu

Cuff Taylor had a near riot in his hen yard last week. Seems the hens were scratching around the cold ground when they found a piece of rubber band frozen in the ice.
 "One hen pecked at it," says Cuff, "and it snapped right back. She backed off clucking while another hen tried it, and another. And the 'worm' kept right on snapping back. They all got their feathers ruffled. You never heard such a ruckus!"
 "I finally had to break up the ice with an ax before those hens would get back to business and start laying eggs again."
 From where I sit, some people raise a pretty big fuss over nothing, too. Take the fellow who would deny me a temperate glass of beer with my game of checkers. Maybe he'd rather have coffee! Well, that's all right. He has a right to his own preference. But so do I. And there's no point in his "snapping" at me just because his choice isn't the same as mine.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

Do YOU plant in the moon? Last week we listened in on a conversation on the above subject. We would like to know what more folks think about it. Send me what you think and we might put all the information together in an article for Southwestern Crop & Stock. My father didn't take much stock in this when I was growing up and I remember that he would always say; "I don't plant in the moon, I plant in the ground." But the other night several of these folks claimed that if you planted potatoes out of step with the moon all that you might get was a big top; no "Taters." Let us hear from you real soon about this. Somehow we never did think this argument for planting in the moon would "hold water," or even "Taters." Write us quick and educate us up on the subject.

A friend sends us the following recipe and asks that their name not be mentioned. Thanks for the contribution, thanks a whole lot. It is called:

A TESTED RECIPE
 "Take one reckless natural born fool, three drinks of whiskey and a fast high-powered automobile. Soak fool in liquor, place in car, and let him go for an hour. Remove from wreckage, place in a black, satin-lined box and garnish with flowers."
 —Wheeling.

Among our letters this was just about the cutest and cleverest card that we have received in a long time. It was from Uncle Bob's nephew, who lives way up in Canada. It was a Scotch Greeting card. On it you could just check off, with pencil mind you so it could be used again, all the dates during the year on which one would like to send a

THE HOPE:

This past summer 440,000 school children throughout America were inoculated with a trial polio vaccine, which offers great hope for the future. Now the results of this enormous trial operation are being evaluated by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. and his staff at the University of Michigan. The Francis Report will be issued some time this spring. Until then, no one will know whether the trial vaccine is the beginning of the end for polio.

THE GAMBLE:

While the Francis Report is being awaited, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is taking a $9,000,000 calculated risk on the success of the trial vaccine. Here's how: the National Foundation is purchasing enough of the vaccine right now to give three inoculations each to about 9,000,000 people. This is so it can be used immediately where most needed, if the Francis Report is favorable. The stakes are high but worth it.

THE OUTLOOK:

If the vaccine is licensed for use, it will mean that thousands of children, and adults too, will be spared the ordeal of Bobby Hill, youngest iron lung patient stricken in 1954. But for Bobby Hill himself, a proven vaccine can be of no help. His will be a long and difficult fight, just as it will be for thousands of other polio patients. And even with a successful vaccine it will not be possible to prevent many thousands of new cases during the next few years.

To pay for all this . . . vaccine, treatment of patients like Bobby Hill, new scientific research, training of treatment personnel and for special equipment such as iron lungs . . . your generous contribution to the March of Dimes is needed.

card. This way naturally saving money. Glad to hear from The Scotchman's nephew who is W. H. R. Hutchins, 500 Dunsmuir St., Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. I guess we could say. Like Scotchman, like nephew. Anyway, Best Wishes Canada.

You know, it's a funny thing about life anyhow; if we walk down the street smiling at everyone we meet, someone is sure to say; "Well, that fellow is a bit too carefree. He doesn't take life and its problems serious enough." Then, should we get up some morning with a gloomy look on our face; with a bunch of problems just sort of pushing us around, and would go about town with every little worry showing through on the outside; just reckon what folks would say then. I can just imagine someone commenting like this: "Just look at him; face a foot long, never time to sepak and smile at folks. Why, he's the Voice of Gloom itself." I guess the only thing to do is just for each of us to just be ourselves, but there is one thing that I sort of believe and that is that you can't always tell by looking on the outside what's going on down in a man's heart and in his mind.

We have known folks who were so unhappy that every thing about them spelled out envy and hate and resentment and gloom. Sometimes this was all caused by a fuss at the breakfast table over the taste of the coffee. We have known other folks that had made crop failures that year, owed the banker and couldn't pay off. But maybe there was something like a new grand baby that was growing up a bit and looking more like grandpa every day that had them just walking on air. Anyway, after this I've made up my mind to wait until I hear what's on the inside before we judge a man too seriously. Just because he's "Smiling like the cat that swallowed the canary" may not mean that he doesn't have the "Bellyache." It may mean that he just isn't letting it show. Anyhow, what do you think about this???

A man has to have courage not to pretend he has it.

The right kind of experience is always worth the cost.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Bascom Giles' quick resignation caught everyone by surprise.

He refused to take the oath of office for his new elective term as State Land Commissioner.

Giles was chairman of the Veterans Land Board, whose affairs continue under investigation by a Senate committee and three state agencies, in connection with block land sales.

Governor Allan Shivers was almost as quick in appointing Giles' successor. He named J. Earl Rudder, 44, of Brady, to the full two-year term.

Rudder resigned as a member of the State Board of Public Welfare to take the position. He was sworn in at the Governor's office.

Giles was immediately elected chairman of the Veterans Land Board, and joined the other members—Governor Shivers and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, in tightening veterans' land loan regulations.

Giles, who originated the veterans land program, said he stepped out because he thought someone else would have a better chance of getting needed changes in the veteran's land law.

Giles has been associated with the land office, in one position or another from the day he was graduated from the University. That was 34 years ago. He served 17 years as Commissioner.

Threatening Calls

State Rangers and Department of Public Safety officials are trying to locate a telephone caller who threatened the lives of Attorney General Shepperd and State Capitol Reporter Raymond Brooks.

"A bullet in the back of his head" was promised each man "if he didn't lay off the land business." Wives of both men received the calls at their homes.

Rep. Joe R. Pool of Dallas has prepared a bill having penalties up to five years imprisonment for such threats. Present law provides only a $200 fine.

Everyone Invited

Everyone is invited to attend the Inaugural Ceremonies here on January 18.

Governor Shivers wants one and all to know that "an invitation list to an event of this kind is very hard to compile." No invitation is needed and all Texans are invited, says the Governor.

Inauguration Ceremonies are expected to draw 30,000 visitors to Austin.

When Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was sworn in for his first term there was a record number of 55,000 onlookers.

To Governor Shivers, however, goes the record of having served as Governor of Texas longer than any other man. He will have been in office five and a half years on January 22.

Gov. Coke Stevenson, runner-up for the honors, served five years, five months and 13 days. Shivers beat that record on December 24.

More Pay Now

Beginning with this, the 54th regular session of the Legislature the lawmakers draw $25 per day. The old limit was $10.

Pay is now limited to 120 days, however. In the past they went on half-pay indefinitely after 120 days.

An amendment approved by the voters last November granted the pay increase. It also gave the Legislators authority to increase the salary of the Constitutional officers.

At present the Governor gets $12,000; the Attorney General $10,000; and the Treasurer, Comptroller, Secretary of State and the Land Commissioner $6,000 each.

It is expected that the Governor's pay will be increased by the Legislature to $25,000 a year; the Attorney General's to around $20,000; and the other officials to perhaps $15,000.

Optometry Ads

No decision was reached by the State Board of Examiners in Optometry on an application to reinstate its ban on advertising by optometrists.

Board members conducted an all-day hearing on a rule, twice adopted and twice cancelled, to limit the size of ads and to prohibit price, quality and credit ads by optometrists.

It was the old fight between advertising and the non-advertising optometrists.

Dr. N. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical gave the crowd of some 100 persons a chuckle when he told the board that too many optometrists are "blind" to the advantages of advertising.

"What the optometric association needs, instead of 31 more years of bickering, is an industry-wide advertising campaign telling the people of Texas about the advantages of wearing glasses, the proper care of eyes, etc.," said Dr. Rogers.

Heart Fund Drive Set For February

Governor Allan Shivers again this year will serve as honorary chairman of the annual February Heart Fund Campaign of the Texas Heart Association, it has been announced, and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd again will serve as co-chairman.

The Governor and the Attorney General join with Dr. William R. White, President of Baylor University, active campaign chairman, in soliciting the support of all Texans for the voluntary HEART FUND drive. Governor Shivers pointed out that latest national statistics show that 794,000 American lives are being taken annually by diseases of the heart system, and that "through Heart Fund contributions are following the democratic tradition of self-help." Donations to the Heart Fund are used to further medical and other scientific projects, which already have proved enormously effective in reducing heart deaths in the "under-fifty" age brackets, Governor Shivers explained.

The governor added a special appeal for voluntary workers, and urged that these workers be accorded a warm reception when they call upon their fellow Texans for contributions.

"This is a crusade of the highest character, and one that directly effects every level of life," he declared. "Today's business man realizes that his greatest asset is not his plant, but his own life. This is the most precious earthly thing to anyone, and this is what your Heart Fund is striving to protect."

Governor Shivers said he would make a number of statewide television and radio appeals in connection with the February-long Heart Fund campaign.

The Commission, by proposal of Commissioner Frank Wood of Wichita Falls, authorized an expenditure of up to $75,000 for the hatchery experiment.

The Assistant Executive Secretary said the site under consideration comprises slightly over eighty acres, and added that George Stodhill, A&M trained with long experience in the poultry hatchery business, has been retained to manage the undertaking.

Native birds will be used exclusively in the hatching program and present plans, according to the Assistant Executive Secretary, are to use quail from the different areas to restock birds in those areas. Thus, native birds from East Texas would be segregated for restocking East Texas. The birds when ready for release will be distributed at cost through sportsmen's groups, 4-H clubs, Future Farmer units and other such organizations.

One proposal has been made to make the state hatchery reared birds available to private hatcheries at cost as a means of expanding the program of propagating native quail.

The Commission hopes the hatchery project will generally stimulate habitat improvement as a means of restoring bobwhite quail.

AUSTIN—Experiments to determine whether a bobwhite quail hatchery can be successfully blended into wildlife restoration projects will begin next year, according to the Assistant Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said negotiations are underway to buy a hatchery site near Tyler in East Texas with indications now that actual nesting operations may begin by early spring.

Fore and Aft- and Curbside, too-

It's the style hit of the year!

YOU can take our word for it when we tell you this:

The first time we put eyes on the 1955 Buicks, we really raised a cheer. To top the looks of last year's Buick—the car that moved Buick into the top three of the nation's best sellers—that was something.

That gave us two hits in a row, we figured—and it seems we figured right. For with these stunning new 1955 Buicks, we're getting even more noses pressed against our showroom windows than last year—and more folks coming in to look and study and drive and buy.

But bold new styling, of course, is just one reason for the sensational success of these great cars.

New power is part of the picture—robust new V8 power in record might—236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER—188 hp in the low-priced SPECIAL.

New performance, too—from the dynamic action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives you far better gas mileage in all normal driving and cruising—and full-power getaway or safety-surge acceleration but instantly, and with infinite smoothness.

So you can see that just looking isn't enough.

You have to take that wheel, try that power, feel that Dynaflo take-hold surge, sample that Million Dollar Ride—and check the hard-to-pass-up prices we're quoting.

We'll gladly help you do all that. Why not come in this week?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Needed Protection

Texas Dept. of Agriculture

Recent amendments to the Social Security Act will bring federal old-age and survivors insurance to most Texas farm families.

Farm operators—people farming for themselves—have not previously been covered by the Social Security Law. Beginning January 1, all of them who make as much as $400 profit in a year will have old-age and survivors insurance.

Farm employees—people doing farm work for others—are already covered by the law if they work regularly for one farm operator. But the new law will bring insurance protection to all farm workers who earn as much as $100 cash pay in a year from any one farmer, whether the work is regular or not.

Both the farm operator or owner and his employees have long needed protection for themselves and their families against loss from death or old-age. Beginning January 1, they will have this protection. Benefits will be paid to the living worker and his dependents when he reaches age 65 and retires and to his survivors when he dies.

Farm employees will pay a social security tax of two percent of their pay—two cents on each dollar of their pay up to $4,200 a year. Their employer will pay another two percent and send the four percent total to the director of internal revenue.

The self employed operator will make a report once a year and report the tax on his net earnings. This report is part of the income tax return. The farm operator will pay three percent on his net earnings up to $4,200 a year.

Farm operators who report their income tax on a cash basis and whose income is $1,800 a year or less may report either their actual net earnings from farm self employment or 50 percent of their gross earnings for social security purposes. Operators whose gross income from self employment is more than $1,800 will have to compute their net income. But if his net is less than $900, the farmer can, if he wishes, report $900. He will report his actual income if it is $900 or more.
