Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Veterans land sale scandals overshadowed lawmaking in both branches of the Legislature for another week.

Investigations spread still wider. Involved were three departments of the state, both chambers of the Legislature, grand juries of Travis, Bexar and DeWitt counties, and probably others.

More of the approximately 80 "block deals" were brought before investigators.

Mike Rowan, a former executive secretary of the Veterans Land Board, testified that several legislators had exerted "unusual influence" to push veterans' applications through.

He named Senators Doyle Willis of Fort Worth and Warren McDonald of Tyler and Representative Douglas Bergman of Dallas. Rowan said it was "unfair" but he couldn't remember names of the others.

Dennis Wallace, longtime chief clerk of the Land Office, reported that his name had been "signed" by someone else, to minutes of the Veterans' Land Board.

So far Atty. Gen. Shepperd has filed nine suits for forfeiture of block sales and recovery of a total of $1,539,505 to the state.

Tax Slow Down

With land sales taking legislative precedence, taxes, the Legislature's big problem, have taken a back seat.

Rep. Jerry Sadler sharply reminded the House revenue and taxation committee that the session was one-third over and no revenue bills had been reviewed or acted upon. He demanded an "immediate" hearing on his bill for a $3.30 per barrel hike on beer tax.

Rep. Charles J. Kirkham of Cleburne offered a new tax plan—a "road use" tax, as a substitute for the administration's two-cent gasoline tax hike proposal. So far the gas tax hasn't been heard by committee.

Kirkham's plan would levy a $5 fee on commercial motor vehicles, plus a graduated tax scale based on gross weight, ranging from six mills to 22 mills, all estimated revenue to go to highway purposes.

Insurance Clean-up

Final passage of the first major bill to "clean up the insurance mess" was voted by the House. Control of the stock and securities of insurance companies, under the bill, will go to the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

This bill is in for a fight in the Senate where a counter measure would give insurance stock supervision to the securities division of the Secretary of State's office. The Senate bill has been heard and parked in sub-committee.

Water Bills, Too

Favorable report has been given by a Senate committee to the administration's $100 million state bond issue plan for aid to water districts. Rival measures for the same amount of bonds have been put in House sub-committee.

Passed by the Senate were two of the water bills, regulating pollution from oil wells, and requiring reports to the state by water districts.

Advertising and Newspapers

Representative Vernon E. Smith of Ft. Worth introduced a bill specifically prohibiting the Board of Examiners in Optometry from making any regulations restricting optometrists' advertising.

Attorney General Shepperd had previously ruled void, such an order made by the board but rescinded.

Rep. E. "Kike" de la Garza of Mission introduced a bill to prohibit any court, grand jury or legislative committee from attempting to compel a newspaper or press service employee from revealing the source of his information.

Auto Dealers' Fight

Authorized car dealers won the first round of a bitter fight with the "independents" or used car dealers. A Senate committee voted a favorable report on Sen. Gus Strauss' bill to license all dealers. The bill also would prohibit sale of new cars by dealers not having agreements with manufacturers or distributors.

PATHFINDER

When the Pathfinder Club met at the College auditorium Friday afternoon, Feb. 25th, we had more than a glance at Spring Fashions. There was a veritable eye-fest. The merchants went all out in selecting beautiful models to display the innumerable smart numbers of everything from shorty shorts to lacy formals. Those modeling for Parker-Perkins were Ruth Ann King, Jackie Estlack, Genella Mooring, Lucy Richardson and pretty little sister Pam, Harlene Smith, Louise Short, Mrs. Carlie Bennett and winsome little Helen Fay, Mrs. Bill Land and small sons Monte and Steve who modeled the only male apparel shown. Saye's models were Beth Lamberth, Marilyn Ayers, Wanda Kennard, Carol Phillips and Linda Lamberth. Mrs. Pat Slavin and Mrs. Sybil Hafer represented Skelton's. Greene Dry Goods Co. presented Mrs. William J. Lewis Jr., Mrs. Maurice Hart, Mrs. Johnny Blocker, Donna Lee Blocker, Mable Dean Brock, Tookie McClellan, Janice Benson, Jeanie McAnear, Margaret Cushing and little Miss Darba Moss — wasn't she cute?

Dana Boston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Boston of Amarillo, delighted the audience with two dance numbers. The first was a ballet entitled "Liebesleid." The second a tap number—"The Samba." Dana was all smiles for the two grandmothers sitting down front.

Mrs. I. E. Biggs and Mrs. Heckle Stark had charge of the program and were assisted by Mrs. George Benson and Miss June Christian. Mrs. Frank Phelan Jr. was the commentator. Special credit goes to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Forest Sawyer for the beautiful stage setting; Mrs. Johnnie Blocker for preparing the interesting commentary; Harlan's Flowers for the greenery and corsages; Mrs. Bill Williams and Mrs. Marilyn Hill for appropriate background music.

During the past week the Texas State Society had one of the outstanding social events of the year—an old-fashioned chili supper. Held at the National Press Club, it was well attended by most of the Texans in Washington.

The Mexican dishes were furnished by Mr. Fred Catterall of Austin. As you can imagine Mexican food is one of the favorites of Texans here, and there are not many places where it is prepared to the style and taste of the Mexican restaurants at home.

Texas State Society
The Texas State Society has 902 members. Anyone who has been a resident of Texas but who now works or resides in Washington is eligible for membership. It is the largest State society in Washington and the only one in which President and Mrs. Eisenhower have membership and have actually attended.

Robert B. Anderson
Each week this column will refer to one of the many outstanding Texans serving in Washington. This week we compliment the job being done by Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson of Vernon.

Bob Anderson was appointed in 1953 as Secretary of the Navy. In that position and in his present assignment he has made a great impression upon Washington officialdom, especially upon the President himself. President Eisenhower rates Anderson as one of the top men in his administration. We have heard the President say that Anderson has the ability to serve well in any office in the land, including that of the Presidency itself. On the Democratic side, we have heard Speaker Sam Rayburn pay similar tribute to Anderson. Do not be surprised if the name of Bob Anderson should become prominent in speculation about a successor to President Eisenhower.

Wool Growers Meet
R. W. Hodge of Del Rio, President of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, and former State Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, attended two meetings here this past week in behalf of wool growers.

Joining other representatives of wool growers from other States, at one meeting they urged that the Defense Department use the present wool stockpile for manufacture of uniforms and blankets. At the other they appeared at a Department of Agriculture hearing on assignment of wool incentive payments.

Cotton Allotments
The Agriculture Committee in the House of Representatives has reported a bill to help alleviate the cotton acreage allotment situation. It provides for a 3% increase in each State, first to be used in each State, first to assist the smaller farmers by bringing them up to 5 acres, and then in hardship cases where the allotments were reduced by more than 40% of the 1954 acreage. This will mean, if passed in its present form, an additional 228,000 acres in Texas. The Senate Committee should act soon on several bills having a similar purpose, including our own bill on this subject.

The Fight Against Communists
Ridding the country of Communists, fellow travelers and other subversives who would destroy our system of government is a problem which has occupied the time of many people in Washington.

In Congress last year, we co-authored a bill which for the first time outlawed the Communist Party. This year we introduced a resolution which made sure that the investigations of Communism and subversion would continue with vigor and diligence, including full disclosure of all facts about the Communist dentist, Peress, who was promoted and honorably discharged by the Army. This passed the Senate by a vote of 84 to 0.
This year, too, we were assigned to the Internal Security Committee, which has the job of investigating the subversive influences in our country. The final paragraph of this week's column is being written in the Internal Security Committee room where we are hearing evidence on the case of the confessed Communist, Harvey M. Mattusow who, after testifying against other Communists, has now said he was lying in his testimony. It happens that this man testified twice in Texas—once in El Paso, in a case against a Communist union leader, and once in Austin, during an investigation of unions by the Texas Industrial Commission. We fully intend to find out who is responsible for his change in testimony and his attempt now to embarrass those who have been fighting Communism in this country. More about this later.

It is very seldom that we try to editorialize. It always seems to sound to us like we are trying to give out advice, a thing that we never feel qualified to do. Actually we had always rather just sort of give our own selves a talking to, hoping that you will benefit from our own experience. On top of all that the only person that really gives me any trouble is myself. However, this time we want to make an exception because of a special request. One of our regular readers asked that we give whatever emphasis we could to Public Schools Week.

This fifth observance of this comparatively new undertaking takes place March 6-12. When you read this article that will mean next week.

Public Schools Week has for its purpose that of carrying the message of education from the schools to the community. Sort of "Take the schools to town," and also to take the town to school. By every means available to sell the whole community on the importance of the public schools. Few of us realized that each year 10 billion dollars is spent on public school education. Few of us stop to think of the tremendous influence that the school life has upon our children; that each child spends as much or more of his or her waking hours either in the school or on the way back and forth. That, in many cases the impressions made on our children by their teachers are of greater weight than we as parents are able to make. Every parent can remember the time when he came face to face with a problem or a question that he couldn't answer which placed him to be sort of out of date and placed the teacher right up front in the child's eye. We mention these things just to stress a bit the importance of our schools. If we concede that they are this important then we need to take more seriously our responsibility to them. We need to find out what we can do to help make this part of our children's life the very best we can.

Well then let's ask ourselves what we can do to help?

1. We can take an interest in the election. Most of us can remember when only about one out of every fifty citizens voted on any school election, unless it was on the matter of taxation. This is discouraging to the ones elected.
2. We can take a sincere interest in our schools with the sole idea of being helpful. Not to find fault, not to promote Junior's grade, but honestly and sincerely to be the most help we can. I remember back when we served on the school board that one of the favorite expressions was: "Get a man to serve a hitch on the school board and you will have a faithful booster for the school from there on". And this was true. Perhaps he fussed and fumed and wondered where his tax dollar was spent, but after a year on the school board raking and scraping to pay the bills and compete with other communities for teachers he could well understand.
3. We can take a sincere interest in the children of our school. We can go to all the programs put on by the students and give our encouragement. We can provide for their comfort in a way that will insure better health. We can see that they have good libraries and equipment to help them keep up with our ever changing times.
4. We can take an interest in our teachers. We can encourage the hiring of the very best qualified. We can expect that their morals will be on a very high level realizing that as we said before the teacher's influence in many cases is greater than that of the parent; especially at certain ages. But most of all we can stand with them and behind them in the mutual work of growing up and developing OUR CHILDREN. We can help them and encourage them without adding to their problems with our help. We heard of the teacher who prayed as follows: Lord give me strength to make the day; And enough left over for the PTA. We can make our PTA's or our Mother's Clubs helpful and constructive, or we can make them a thing of horror to the teacher. We can make it a "Gripe Society", or a "Booster Club". From our experience as a board member for nearly 10 years, and by being married into a family of teachers or by just looking on from the sidelines we are convinced that there are some things wrong with OUR SCHOOLS on the top level, but we also believe that our main problems; the hard to solve kind stem from the following more or less everyday things:

1. Lack of a sincere interest in the school by a majority of its citizens.
2. Lack of understanding and cooperation by the parents at the school level.
3. Lack of cooperation with the teacher from the home level and discipline toward the child in the home.

When a teacher, and we of course mean the honest conscientious one, meets with a serious discipline problem in the classroom she is almost sure of one thing and that would be that this same child is in all probability a real discipline problem at home. Immediately the teacher has two problems instead of one;

1. Solving the discipline problem toward the child.
2. Selling the parent on the idea and getting their cooperation.

Anyway, it all boils down to the fact that any problem can be solved if we have the sincere interest and help of both the school and the parent. The first step in that direction can be had through a better understanding by all parties. A good way to have a better understanding would be to share information and experiences with each other. A good step toward this last goal can be made during our PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK. Let's all attend this next week March 7 through 12 inclusive. If we do OUR PART toward OUR SCHOOLS during this week we will be more willing to do OUR PART from NOW on out toward our boys and girls. If we do our best toward our boys and girls they will always continue to be the very best boys and girls of the best schools from the best country in the world.

Notice!

To The Public

It has been brought to our attention that a lot of people are not familiar with some of the laws governing taxation. Some people are under the impression that they are to list only the items suggested by the assessor. The assessor merely makes these suggestions as an aid in making your rendition. It is the duty of the taxpayer to list all of his or her real and personal property. Personal property consists of goods and merchandise of every description, shop equipment, cafe equipment, office equipment, automobiles, trucks, jeeps, or any other motor vehicle, trailers, refrigeration pumps, tractors, and all other farming equipment, horses, cattle, sheep, and hogs. Persons owning only an automobile are required to list same for taxation.

The law requires the taxpayer to render his property for taxation by listing the same, making oath thereto, and delivering the same to the assessor, whose duty it is to enter the said property on the tax rolls. If a property owner fails to render property to the assessor, the assessor has the authority to assess the property at what he considers to be the true and full value and place the same on the unrendered roll.

Back assessments of property which has not been assessed or rendered for taxation may be made for any previous year. Therefore, we feel that it is to the advantage of the taxpayer to know his or her duty in regard to rendering property for tax-

For Your Car

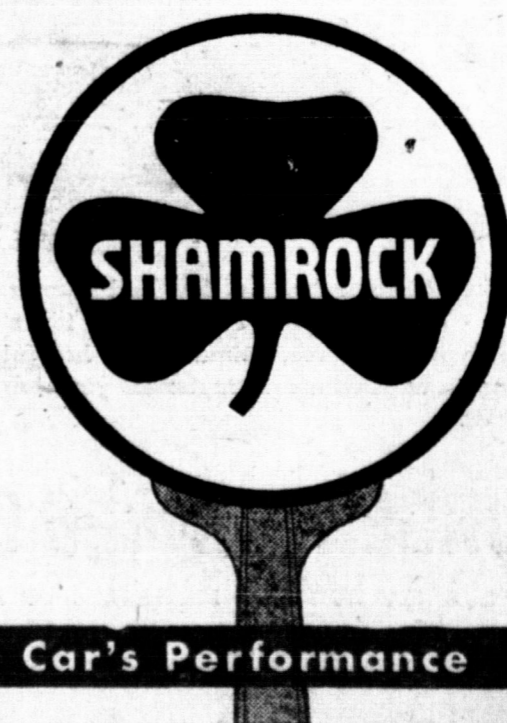

With New Cloud Master For 1955

Now, one of the chief ingredients of the extremely high octane aviation fuel, used by powerful commercial and military aircraft, is used to raise the octane of Shamrock's new Cloud Master gasoline. This means you can now have a high octane gasoline that is clean burning. From your car you can expect new speed, new power, all around top performance with new Cloud Master gasoline. Because, no matter what car you drive, Shamrock's new Cloud Master exceeds the Octane Requirements.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

THE GAS QUESTION

Much has been said and written about the gas question since the Supreme Court held in effect that you could produce and gather all the natural gas you wanted, but if you sold it to a company engaged in transmission of gas from one state to another subject to regulation by the Federal Power Commission under the Natural Gas Act, then you, by virtue of the sale, subjected yourself to federal jurisdiction and regulation of rates by the Federal Power Commission. This holding was another good example of the language construction strain that has been going on lately to centralize this government. The decision was a five-to-three decision. The three who voted against the decision were Justice Douglas, Justice Clark and Justice Burton. The latest addition to the Supreme Court, the Chief Justice from California, Mr. Warren, voted for the decision and therefore for federal control of all these small companies engaged in the production and gathering of natural gas. When this decision was announced, I immediately introduced legislation to correct the grievous wrongs that would follow from it. However, it was so late in the session last year that there was little chance to get anything done. Soon after this session began, I introduced legislation to correct this situation and to preserve in the States those rights guaranteed them under the Constitution and to preserve the status of the individual within the state. I shall press for passage of this legislation, because it involves a fundamental principle, not concerned primarily with the gas business nor any other single type of endeavor, but concerned with every segment of the economy of this nation. We have reached the crossroads and must decide whether or not we are ready to move into centralized government centered in Washington and thereby change the type of government, if not the same thereof, which we inherited from the founding fathers of this nation. I sincerely hope that we can count on a united front of those who love America and constitutional government. There are certain elements in this country who pay lip service to free enterprise, to constitutional government, and to the integrity of the individual, but whose greed prompts them to refuse to support or to contest any proposed legislation unless they can gain some selfish concession. Let us hope that it will not be necessary to come to grips with such a policy in our attempt to correct an invasion of individual rights.

Water Is Always Important To The People In The Panhandle

We have been holding hearings recently on the progress that has been made in the projects designed to bring about the removal of salt from sea water. As I pointed out last year, this program has not yet developed a method that is economically feasible, but work continues and we hope and pray for success. Four scientists appeared before the committee and gave a most interesting discussion on the several methods being pursued. Dr. Hickman briefly, concisely and clearly stated the object of the program when he said that what man was trying to do was to construct a giant kidney. He pointed out that the function of the kidney of the human body is to separate the salt from the fluid. Nature has a method of lifting water from the sea, desalting it, and placing it on earth in the form of rain and snow. When man learns to do this with the degree of efficiency that will make it economically sound, it could well be the answer to wars and the beginning of the perpetual peace which we have all sought.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Almost everyone who gets his mail on a rural or star route will receive sometime during February a small booklet on social security for farm families. This booklet is published jointly by the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service. John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo District Social Security Office, states that this booklet tells briefly how social security works and what farmers need to do.

A special feature of the booklet is an application form which employers of farm workers may send to District Directors of Internal Revenue in order to obtain further instructions, the tax return forms, and an employer's identification number. If a farm operator has a worker to whom he expects to pay at least $100 in cash wages during 1955, he needs to keep a record of the name, social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to the worker. Social security reports will be made on all wages of such employees along with the payment of the total of 4% tax, 2% of which may be deducted from the employee's wages.

Sanderson said that any farmers who do not receive a copy of this booklet through the mail by March 1st may obtain one from the District Director of Internal Revenue or the Amarillo Social Security Office.

1955 Official Texas Travel Map Now Available

AUSTIN—A special accordion wrap-around fold has been developed and is one of the features of the 1955 Official Texas Travel Map which is being published today, it was announced in Austin by D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer. The old wheeze about needing another map as a guide for refolding an opened travel map is not true of the Texas map, he pointed out. In addition to the simpler folding used, the map is also easier to read than ever before. The rapid growth of the Texas Highway System has presented more of a problem each year in preparing the map. The system has been growing at the rate of about 3,000 miles a year, he said, and space must be found somehow for this additional mileage. Most of the topographical relief has been taken off this year, so that more essential information may be read easily and quickly.

"The map can also be truly considered a Texas production," Greer went on to say, "since the paper is made in East Texas from Texas trees, and the map is printed right here in Texas too." The colored pictorial side of the map this year features events and state scenes of general interest, and emphasizes the fact that regardless of what you want to see, its in Texas, Greer stated.

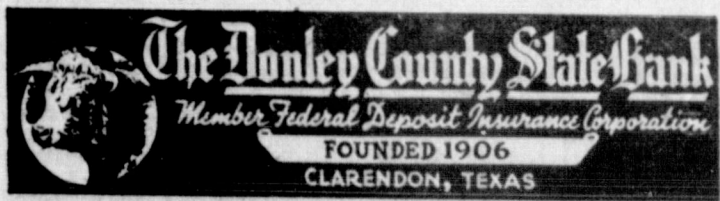

One-half million copies of the 1954 map were distributed to travelers last year. Requests were almost equally divided between out-of-state tourists and Texans, Greer said.

In addition to being distributed by the Austin Office and the Highway Department's 25 district offices, the maps are distributed through the seven Highway Travel Information Bureaus on the state's borders, and are sent to those who return a special map card which they can obtain when purchasing license plates.

HOT NEWS

ABOUT THE HOT CAR

Buick production hits new highs to handle the orders pouring in!

GOOD thing the Buick factories stepped up production of the 1955 cars when they did — because customer orders are pouring in.

It seems that just about everybody wants a 1955 Buick — the "hot" car that's getting hotter by the hour.

So hot, in fact, that it's topping the huge popularity which moved Buick into the "Big Three" of the nation's best sellers last year.

Know why? Plenty reasons.

Bold new styling, of course. And brilliant new V8 power. And room and comfort and luxury interiors — and an even finer, softer, steadier ride.

But the big reason is a new magic from the field of aviation — Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Twenty propellers inside this wondrous automatic drive do what the modern airplane propeller does — they switch their pitch.

One way, you get a lot more miles per gallon in normal driving and cruising.

You switch the pitch to another angle just by pressing down on the gas pedal — and you get a new kind of instantaneous response for getaway or safety-surge accelerating power.

It's an experience you've never had before in an earth-bound vehicle — and it's thrilling beyond words.

So you can see why we're writing up orders and selling Buicks at a record rate.

And you can see more of the reason why when you look into the low pricing schedule that makes Buick the buy of the year, hands down.

Buick Sales Are Soaring!

Proof? Buick is outselling all other cars in America except two of the best-known ones in the smaller-car field. And for two good reasons: (1) popular prices low enough for any new-car buyer to reach; and (2) a line of cars to fit any budget, from the low-priced SPECIAL, to the high-powered CENTURY, to the extra-spacious SUPER, to the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Come in and check things for yourself. Once you do — and press that gas pedal — we believe you won't be happy till you're bossing your very own Buick.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

YOUR 1954 Income Tax

How To Claim Your Exemptions

You are allowed a deduction of $600.00 for each exemption for which you qualify.

For You—

You, as the taxpayer, are always entitled to at least one exemption. If at the end of your taxable year, you were blind or were 65 or over, you get two exemptions. If you were both blind and 65 or over, you get three exemptions.

For Your Wife—

You get an exemption for your wife (or husband) if you are, or she is, filing a joint return. If you file a separate return, you may claim her exemption only if she had no income and did not receive more than half her support from another taxpayer. Otherwise, your wife's exemptions are like your own—one, if she was neither blind nor 65; two, if she was either blind or 65 or over; three, if she was both blind and 65 or over. In case of death, if wife or husband died during 1954, the number of his or her exemptions is determined as of the date of death.

Exemption for Children—

You are entitled to one exemption for each child, including a stepchild or legally adopted child, if during the taxable year that child:

1. Received more than one-half of his or her support from you (or from your husband or wife if a joint return), and

2. Had not attained the age of 19 or was a student (if the child is 19 or over and not a student, he must have received less than $600.00 gross income), and
3. Did not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife), and

4. Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone. For the exemption in the case of children who are residents of the Republic of the Philippines and were born to, or were legally adopted by, servicemen in the Philippine Islands before July 5, 1946, consult your Internal Revenue Service office.

Student Defined—

The law defines a student as an individual who, during each of five calendar months of the year, was a full-time student at an educational institution or was pursuing a full-time course of on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of a State or political sub-division of a State. Primary and secondary schools, preparatory schools, normal schools, colleges, universities, technical and mechanical schools are among those considered to be educational institutions. However, correspondence schools and on-the-job training are excluded. Attending night school while working daytime is considered "part-time attendance" and will not qualify the child as a student.

Amounts received as scholarships for study at an educational institution need not be taken into account in determining whether a child who qualifies under the above definition of a "student" received more than one-half of his or her support from you.

Exemptions for Dependents Other than Your Children—

You are entitled to one exemption for each other dependent who meets all the following requirements for the year:

1. Received less than $600 gross income, and
2. Received more than one-half of his or her support from you (or from husband or wife if this is a joint return), and
3. Did not file a joint return with her husband (or his wife), and
4. Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, and

5. (a) Was related to you (or to husband or wife if this is a joint return) in one of the following ways: mother, father, grandmother, grandfather, brother, sister, grandson, granddaughter, stepbrother, stepsister, stepmother, stepfather, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law. The following if related by blood: uncle, aunt, nephew, niece.

- or,
- (b) An individual who—

1. During the taxpayer's taxable year, used the taxpayer's home as his principal place of abode and was a member of the taxpayer's household, or
2. Is a descendant of a brother or sister of the taxpayer's parents and during the taxpayer's taxable year, received institutional care for a physical and mental deficiency but prior to such institutional care was a member of taxpayer's household.

"Brother" and "Sister" include brother or sister by the half-blood. A legally adopted child is considered a child by blood.

Exemptions for Individuals Supported by More Than One Taxpayer—

If several persons contributed toward the support of an individual during the taxable year, but none contributed over half of the support, they may designate one of their number to claim the exemption, if

- (a) They as a group have provided over half of the support of the individual; and
- (b) Each of them, had he contributed over half of the support, would have been able to claim the individual as a dependent; and

- (c) The person claiming the exemption for the individual contributed over 10 percent of the support; and
- (d) Each person described in (b) above (other than the person claiming the exemption) who contributed over 10 percent of the individual's support files a declaration that he will not claim the individual as a dependent for the year. Consult your Internal Revenue Service office for information regarding the filing of these declarations.

Cotton Burrs Released For Farm Land Use

John White, Commissioner Texas Dept. of Agriculture

An easier method of cotton ginning trash treatment against the Pink Bollworm has been approved by the Texas Department of Agriculture, making cotton burrs more readily available for return to the farm for use as fertilizer and feed.

Many gins in Texas previously have been forced to burn burrs because treatment methods were too slow or necessary equipment too expensive. This prevented farmers from being able to use burrs on the land where they are aids in preventing soil blowing, or erosion during heavy rains. In addition, it deprived the farmer of an element which adds valuable organic matter to the land.

Untreated cotton burrs have their disadvantages, however. They provide the ideal hibernating place for the Pink Bollworm. Just a few hundred of these worms carried to a farm in gin trash could infest and ruin hundreds of acres of cotton in one season.

Recent experiments show that gins equipped with a single "chopper" fan could achieve an effective kill of bollworms in the waste burrs. The fan is installed near the outlet where trash is blown from the gin. Burrs treated in this manner are "safe" for return to the farm in any area of Texas.

A number of devices were tried but many of them proved to be inadequate or impractical. The single-fan installation will be a boon to gins which cannot afford the more expensive devices and methods.

Gin trash which is blown from the gin untreated still must be burned or given other approved methods of treatment before it can leave the yard.

It would be to the farmer's advantage to make certain any trash he carries away from the gin yard has received proper treatment. This normal precaution could save an untold amount of cotton.

Approximately one out of every 157 men, women, and children in this country served as a volunteer with the American Red Cross during 1953-54, contributing a total of 19,000,000 man-hours to helping others.

Life goes better for people who take things as they come.

Give the man who offers you something for nothing a wide berth.

West Texas Utilities Company

his day usually begins, or in the wee hours of the morning, keeping his eyes open with a cup of black coffee after beating the roads in the area for a few hundred miles locating some obscure folks in some out of the way place to get their views on some phase of farming or ranching.

In addition to helping do six shows daily on KGNC Radio, and working on Cotton John's (that's his boss) half-an-hour Farm and Home TV Show every Saturday evening on Channel 4 from 6:30 to 7:00, Red beats the territory KGNC blankets all the time talking to people. And, he loves it. "I spend about 40 per cent of my time on the road," he says, estimating that he puts well over a 1,000 miles a month on that new Ford of his and most of it on bumpy country roads.

"I figure I do better'n 50 tape recordings a month," he says in his slow West Texas drawl, "and that means talkin' to at least half a dozen people on each one." By simple arithmetic, that adds up to Red talking to some 300 people a month.

"I beat the bushes from Liberal, Kan., to Lubbock and from Sayre, Okla., to Santa Rosa, New Mexico," is the way he puts it.

"The daggonest things happen to me on some of those trips. Like, for instance, a trip I made out into New Mexico last Friday looking for Mrs. Thelma Faye Earle, the New Mexico state winner of the Pancake race. Cotton wanted to get her in as a guest on the TV show and we couldn't reach her by telephone.

"Man, it was snowin' so hard I couldn't see my hand in front of my face and drifts were piled up four or five feet high lots of places. I'll tell you I was really frettin' and there wasn't a darned thing in that country. Just the snow and me and the snow was sure gettin' all the best of it.

"I was just about to give up when I pull into a place called Amistad. Yeah, that's right Amistad, New Mexico. The whole town is just the one store. You know, one of those combination filling stations, general stores and postoffices.

"Well, I pull my hat down, my collar up and climb out of that warm little Ford and fly for the door. The winds out of the North like crazy and it blows me and the door and the snow inside.

"And, there's three old timers sittin' there around a pot-bellied stove that's as red as fire—you know I was expectin' that stove to blow up all the time I was there—playin' dominos.

"Well, mercy sakes, how'd you get here, son?" an old timer who was 70 if he was a day says to me. And, before I could say anything, he goes ahead, "We been a sittin' here ah playin' dominos for three days now. Heard on the radio that they was expectin' a Norther hereabouts but we got so daggone interested in this here game that we haven't got around to lookin' outside? Is it a snowin', boy?"

"You just as well pull up that box over there and set in for a game or two."

"Finally I got a chance to get in a word," Red relates, and I asked him, "How many people live in this town anyway?"

"There's two 'sides us,' another one of them told me.

"But you should ah been here in the good ole days," the original ole timer added. "When this town was really boomin'. Why we had our own university here—the University of Amistad—and there was nigh on to a hundred people here."

"It was getting late, so I told him that I was looking for Mrs. Earle and asked if he knew where she lived," Red says.

"Little Thelma—why I reckon I do," he tells me, "why I've known her since she was in three cornered pants. She lives over round Hayden (population 12). That's 'bout 40 miles from here."

"Can you tell me how to get there?" Red asked him.

"Sure can, boy, you just go out the door there and turn left and foller the -"

"Why, I wouldn't even send my wife over that road," another one of them offered. "No sirree, son, you go like this here."

"I finally got the directions and almost three hours and five cattle guards later I pulled up in front of this house out in the middle of nowhere and it's just getting dark.

"I knock on the door—expecting them to be real puzzled about what a feller's doin' out on a day like this—a man comes to the door and says to me, "Why, come in, son, you're from KGNC over there in Amarillo, aren'tcha?"

"That one really floored me." I said, "Yes, sir, that's right but how did you know?"

"We heard on the radio that you were lookin' for Thelma and we figured since there's no phones in 40 miles and we only get the mail twice a week, that you'd come wanderin' in bye and bye," was his answer.

"But that's the biggest kick I get out of this job," Red says quite frankly. "Meeting people—my kind of people—and lots of them. I grew up in ranching country around Clarendon and it's farm and ranch people that I know the best."

Red joined KGNC on June 7, 1954 and finished work toward his degree in agriculture at West Texas State College the same year.

On August 15, 1953, he married his college sweetheart, the former LaVerne Fowler of Floydada. She was a home-ec major. They have no children.

Red is a pretty husky guy and in passing, you ask him if he played any football or basketball in college or high school.

"No, sir, never did. Did do a little 'boxin' in high school though."

Since it's Golden Gloves time and it jumps into your mind, you ask him if he fought in any of the Gloves tournaments.

"Goodness no. I never did fight anybody I didn't know real well—in fact, who wasn't a real good friend of mine. That fightin's dangerous!"

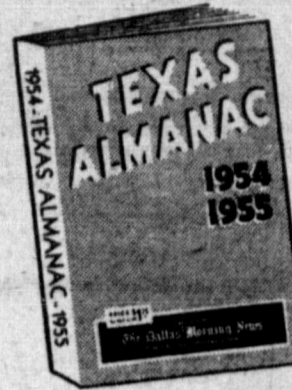

And, that's Red Muse, KGNC's likeable 22-year-old assistant farm and ranch editor.

(Editor's Note—Red is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Muse of Clarendon. Local folks are backing Red to get the job done, and will be tuning in their TV's and radios).

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Foster will receive free tickets to the Mulkey Theatre by picking them up at the Donley County Leader office.

STOP MOTOR OIL KNOCK WITH HUMBLE UNIFLO

Humble Esso Extra gasoline for '55 will give you the best anti-knock performance you've ever had.

But motor oil can also cause knock. Some oils form combustion chamber deposits that raise compression ratios even higher, increase a high compression engine's tendency to knock. These deposits also cause pre-ignition ping.

Humble Uniflo motor oil does not form knock-causing deposits. Thus, in effect it raises the anti-knock performance of your gasoline.

Uniflo also saves gasoline, lengthens battery life, gives you superior lubrication and cooling. You use the same grade the whole year around.

When you use both Esso Extra gasoline and Uniflo motor oil, you're using the best performance combination ever.

The entirely new gasoline with the highest performance rating ever offered Texas motorists.

When your car knocks, you're losing power, burning too much gasoline, dirtying your engine. Knock—even ping—is more than a noisy inconvenience—it's expensive, too.

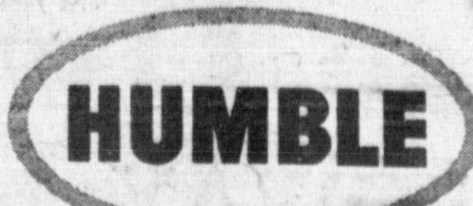

But you can stop knock with Humble's Esso Extra for '55. This entirely new gasoline has the highest octane rating (anti-knock quality) offered Texas motorists.

It's an absolute must for the new high compression 1955 engines.

And it assures the improved performance of any car, any make, any model.

Get the Esso Extra habit! . . . Your car will give you performance you never dreamed it had!

No. 1 in Texas
Now, more Texans than ever before prefer Esso Extra to any other premium gasoline.
