Telephones Out of Order

Repair men of the Southwestern States Telephone Company, operating the local exchange, were busy throughout the day repairing damaged lines and reconnecting the telephones of their subscribers. R. P. Canady, local manager, said at noon that between 250 and 300 telephones were out of order, principally because the wind had torn the drop wires loose from their moorings, while wet cables were responsible for some of the trouble. A dozen or more poles were blown down in the city. Several of the rural lines are out of commission.

Garage Demolished

A garage belonging to Jack Glasscock, of 1606 Avenue K, was demolished by the storm last night.

J. Oscar Brooks, about 50, operator of the filling station at the Brown-Coleman county line on Highway 7, died in a Santa Anna hospital late Monday afternoon as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident at 5 o'clock on the highway three miles east of Santa Anna. He lived about an hour after the accident.

Four Riding in Car

Brooks was riding with Bob Wood of Coleman in a new light model automobile. He had been to Santa Anna and was given a ride by Wood who was on his way to Brownwood. Two Brady youths, Earl Williams and Willie Priland, also were riding in the car, having been given a ride as they were hitch-hiking along the highway. None of the other occupants of the car were seriously injured, though Wood was taken to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

The car, according to information received by telephone from Santa Anna Monday night, was going at a high speed. The wheels on one side slipped off the pavement into loose dirt and as the driver swerved the car back onto the pavement he lost control. The automobile turned over and over five times and was practically demolished. People from Santa Anna went to the scene of the accident and carried the injured to the hospital. The two Brady boys caught a ride in another car and came to Brownwood.

Mr. Brooks was the son of Henry Brooks, pioneer citizen of the Bangs community. He had lived in and near Bangs almost all of his life and was well known in Brown and Coleman counties. Mrs. Day received several more or less severe bruises about the head, neck and shoulders. She was knocked unconscious and rushed to a hospital. Examinations revealed that her injuries were not serious and she was dismissed. Mrs. Bowen escaped injury.

Shipp Trial Begun Today at Comanche

COMANCHE, May 11.—(Sp)—The trial of W. R. (Bill) Shipp, prominent Priddy citizen, charged with failure to stop and render aid in connection with the death of Gus Dearson in an automobile accident several weeks ago, was begun in district court here today.

Selection of the jury was completed at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Five witnesses, including two brothers of Dearson, had been examined early this afternoon. About 35 other witnesses are to be called before the cases are closed. It is expected the case will be in the hands of the jury some time Friday.

Dearson suffered injuries which resulted in his death when his automobile was struck by a truck on the highway between Comanche and DeLeon. Shipp is said to have been the driver of the truck. Dearson was taken to Brownwood following the accident and died in a hospital there.

Family in Front Yard Watching the Clouds When Struck Down by Storm

Standing unaware of the impending tragedy, the Edgar P. Richardson family of Delaware community was struck down by the storm that swept the community early Wednesday night as members anxiously watched threatening storm clouds from the front yard. Two of the children were killed and the parents and four other children were injured.

As the clouds became more and more threatening after the family finished supper, members went to the front yard to watch. The twister struck—in a split second the bodies were strewn over a large area and the house was a mass of wreckage.

The little bodies of some of the children were almost buried in the deep mud and mire and rain-soaked as they were hurried great distances by the force of the wind.

Three hours the injured lay on the ground as a hard downpour of rain fell. The tragedy was not discovered until the morning of the 11th.

Phillip M. Seitz Claimed by Death

Phillip M. Seitz, 78, pioneer Brownwood business man, died at his home at 601 East Lee Street, at 3:40 o'clock Sunday morning.

Phillip M. Seitz, 78, pioneer Brownwood business man, died at his home at 601 East Lee Street, at 3:40 o'clock Sunday morning. He had been ill and confined to his bed for several months.

Funeral services were held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon from Austin Avenue Presbyterian Church with Rev. J. S. Floyd, pastor, officiating. Interment followed in Greenleaf cemetery with White & London Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were: E. M. Davis, T. H. Hart, T. E. Denman, E. B. Gehrk, R. M. Morgan, E. P. DeMarcus and Roy Boatwright.

Mr. Seitz was born in Cotawba county, North Carolina, September 21, 1854. He received his education at local grammar schools, at Newton High School and at Rutherford College. In 1875 he moved to Austin, Texas. From there he went to Dohyville, in Burnett county, where he taught in the public schools. He later taught at Shiloh and at Coppage Cove. Still later he moved to Sugden, where, for a year, he engaged in the buying and selling of yearlings. He then went to Belton and worked for a short time for a lumber company.

Deciding in the early eighties to go into the sheep business, Mr. Seitz and a business associate took a trip into Mexico, journeying as far as Monterey prospecting for sheep. Finding that they would have to pay an exorbitant duty on Mexican sheep, however, Mr. Seitz and his partner came back to Texas, bought their sheep and established a ranch in McMullen county.

Selling his share in the ranch, Mr. Seitz came to Brownwood in 1884. Brownwood at that time was a small town and the business district was around the court house square. Mr. Seitz opened a combined grocery, confectionary and bakery. The bakery was one of the first in this section of the state. Bread sold for ten cents a loaf and was delivered from house to house.

Mr. Seitz was one of the business pioneers of the city and helped other businessmen of the early days in building Brownwood as the center of this section of the state. During his later years he devoted his time as long as health permitted to attending to his properties here.

In 1893, Mr. Seitz was married to Miss Laura Dellinger. A short time after their marriage both joined the Austin Avenue Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Seitz died January 29, 1927.

Mr. Seitz was the last of a family of eight children, five boys and three girls. He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Water in Lake Rising Today

Water in Lake Brownwood was rising this afternoon, fed by rains over the watershed Wednesday night. The rise is expected to continue for several hours. The water had risen eight or ten feet during the morning and at the deepest point is forty or fifty feet deep.

The rain over the watershed was not as heavy as the rain that fell in the immediate Brownwood area. Rainfall here totaled 1.99 inches over a three-hour period.

The rain was so heavy in the immediate territory that Pecan Bayou from this side of the dam was filled in a short time and the water was out of banks in some places. The water was so high Wednesday night that the top of the lower city dam could not be seen. The stream soon ran down today.

Condition of Some Injured Is Grave; Big Property Loss

Late Hospital Report

Late bulletin from the bedside of the storm hurt showed the following injuries:

Edgar P. Richardson—brain injury; condition serious.

Mrs. Edgar P. Richardson—fractured collar bone and possibly other fractures, resting fairly well.

Herbert Richardson—fractured spine; serious.

Marjorie Richardson—brain concussion and broken right arm; condition considered serious.

Ruby Pearl Richardson—broken left arm, scalp wounds and many bruises; resting fairly well.

Death Toll of the Storm

Death toll of the storm which swept the Delaware and Jones Chapel communities three miles east of the city and did much property damage in Brownwood Wednesday was increased to three today with the death of Mrs. J. W. Arant at 8 o'clock this morning.

As preliminary check-ups were made on property damages by insurance companies the loss was running conservatively estimated at more than $100,000 in the city and county.

Mrs. Arant's death brought the total dead to three, Arthur Richardson, 11, and Virgie Richardson, 3, children of Edgar P. Richardson of the Delaware community, were also reported dead.

Funds of the Local Red Cross Chapter Have Been Practically Exhausted by Demand for Emergency Relief Incident to the Storm

W. A. Roussel, chairman, No campaign for funds is anticipated, but contributions will be appreciated by Mr. Roussel and his associates as the Red Cross work, and may be tendered direct to him or left to The Bulletin office.

Wrecked Home

Another home practically completely demolished on the Williams ranch road was owned by Mrs. M. E. Griffin 2004 Avenue B. Rev. H. L. Willis and family were living in the house. Mr. Willis was not at home when the storm struck, having gone to the Bayou, some distance away to fish. By crawling most of the way he finally reached home to find the house had blown away and no members of the family in sight. After a hurried search he found his wife and three children huddled in the storm cellar.

Wrecked Home

D. Well's home a good distance farther on the road also was completely destroyed but no one was injured.

Quince Wilson's home on highway 7, a mile or so south of Early High School, was blown over and is resting on its side. It is completely wrecked. Wilson, his wife and three children crouched in a crude storm cellar into which they were thrown during the heavy rain.

Wrecked Home

Two or three hundred yards north of the Wilson house, was partly uprooted, and the roof was damaged.

Other homes in the Delaware and Jones Chapel communities wholly demolished or partly damaged were the Frank Crane home, a house in which a Mr. Nation's lived, Slim Kilgore's house, a Mr. Beck's house and possibly others.

Worst Storm Here in Years

The storm is the worst that has hit Brown county in many years and can be compared only with the Zephyr cyclone of May, 1911, when 21 people were killed outright and large numbers were injured, several of whom died later. So far as is known this storm is the first that has claimed lives in Brown county since the Zephyr storm.

When news of the disaster was spread, Brownwood people quickly organized as searching and rescue parties. A hundred or two people took part in the search for victims. Facilities of the city were thrown open by Mayor W. A. Butler and the police department, fire department and other departments of the city aided. Members of the sheriff's department assisted. Many of the searchers worked through the night in the mud and water caused by the heavy rain.

Swift & Company Purchase Boettcher Produce Business

Swift & Company has purchased the produce business of R. K. Boettcher on East Baker Street, which will be operated under the name of Swift & Company, buying poultry, eggs, butter and some cream. R. D. Barles, formerly with Swift & Company at Yoakum, Texas, will be the local manager. This is one of the six branch houses maintained by Swift & Company of Texas, this being the sixth one to be established.

According to M. T. Smith, who is sales manager for all branch houses of Texas, Brownwood is a most ideal central location and a promising future is in store for Brown county. Swift & Company are making preparations and adding equipment for feeding, dressing and packing poultry to send from here direct to eastern markets.

Mr. Barles has removed from Yoakum to Brownwood, making his home at 2404 Austin Avenue. He will have active charge of the local branch house.

Injured in Rain and Hall

The injured were unconscious and remained where the storm deposited them for almost three hours while the rain and hail beat down. Their minds were heard by Charles King of Brownwood when he got out of an automobile in which he was riding to remove a tree from the roadway. King came on to Brownwood to spread the news and rescue parties were soon on the scene to bring the injured to the hospital. King's car stalled near the Richardson home and he stayed there for a few hours. He had been picked up by a passing car when he stopped to remove the tree from the road.

The wrecked house and out buildings present a desolate scene. Freaks of the storm are present. A blue blanket waves in the breeze hung to a limb of a tree near where the house stood. A large farm machine is twisted around a small tree. A telephone, torn into several pieces, is more than 100 yards from the house. A photograph was torn to pieces.

Practical Philanthropy.

William E. Esterwood, Jr., of Dallas, is somewhat spectacular, but usually is practical and therefore useful and commendable.

An illustration of the practical common sense of this man was provided the other day. During the past winter he has operated at his own expense a soup kitchen in Dallas, in which 220,000 free meals have been served.

Explains Marketing. There has been some misunderstanding, on the part of the growers, Mr. Lucas says, about the wool and mohair on which the government agencies, the R. A. C. and the Intermediate Credit Banks have loaned money.

Control 80 Per Cent. Growers and governmental agencies this year control 80 per cent of the wool. The marketing is to be orderly and the wool will not be dumped, he explains.

The "Red Menace".

If you're inclined to worry about the danger of Communism in this country, you might consider the following rather significant fact:

In Cleveland, a typical American manufacturing city which has suffered from the depression about as much as any place has, the Communists made big plans for a May Day celebration.

At the same hour in the same city there was an American League baseball game—just a run-of-mine game, one of the 154 of the regular season.

When an ordinary ball game can draw as well as a red May Day demonstration—in an industrial city hit by four years of depression—the country isn't in any very great danger of going Communist.

Our Debt Burden.

FIGURES of the national debt issued by the Twentieth Century Fund, which is headed by Edward A. Filene of Boston, show in a striking way the enormous burden which the nation is trying to carry out of the depression.

Long term indebtedness in the United States today, according to these figures, amounts to 40 per cent of the national wealth, requires 20 per cent of the national income and is one of the major obstacles to economic recovery.

Corporations, government agencies and individuals share in a long term indebtedness of $134,000,000,000, as compared with $75,000,000,000 in 1921.

Pure Food and Drugs. A DISPATCH from Washington says that revision of the federal food and drug law to provide a way of penalizing advertisers who mislead consumers is being seriously considered by administration leaders.

A number of people have pointed out that the existing law contains a number of loopholes. An unscrupulous manufacturer can take advantage of these to deceive the public very seriously.

And it is not only the public that needs protection; it is the reputable manufacturer and the reputable advertiser, as well. Most firms doing business under the food and drug law do not need to be restrained.

FINAL WOOL CHECKS TO BE ISSUED SOON

Good news for wool growers of the Brownwood section was received in a telegram to H. G. Lucas today from the Lone Star Wool & Mohair Cooperative Association at San Angelo.

Mr. Lucas is a director of the association from Brownwood and Chester Harrison is representative. The telegram to Mr. Lucas was as follows:

"Drafts will be released next week for 100 per cent of growers' equity in 1932 clip. Indications are that there will be a nice dividend over and above 100 per cent. This will be paid immediately after wool is fully marketed."

Explains Marketing. There has been some misunderstanding, on the part of the growers, Mr. Lucas says, about the wool and mohair on which the government agencies, the R. A. C. and the Intermediate Credit Banks have loaned money.

Control 80 Per Cent. Growers and governmental agencies this year control 80 per cent of the wool. The marketing is to be orderly and the wool will not be dumped, he explains.

Abney of this city, was referred to by a feature writer of The Chicago Daily Tribune as she described a few of the 51 girls who were recently chosen by that newspaper to take part in a pageant to be held at the opening of the Century of Progress Exposition this summer in Chicago.
