More Rain And Snow Adds Zest To Future Crop Picture

According to the "Old Timers" it's more like the good old days as far as the weather is concerned. This has been a wet winter so far and it looks like it may continue in that manner, or at least the weather forecast is for more moisture. When the ranchers begin to talk about the sod beginning to get boggy, we know that we have a good seasoning in the ground. Right now it looks like there will have to be quite a drying period before a number of our farmers can get their plowing done.

According to reports, the west side of the county has received the heaviest amount of moisture for the month so far. Ben Lovell reported 1.72 inches up until the snow Tuesday night which amounted to about 4 inches deep. This would give a total of over 2 inches. J. C. Ashcraft reported a total of 1.72 at Goldston also, which did not include the snow. This would give them a similar total with Ashtola. Willard Knox reported 1.08 up until the snow Tuesday night which measured around 4 inches deep. This would give them a total of around 1 1/2 inches. Here in town, our official weatherman had measured 1.67 for the month which included the snow Tuesday night. He measured the snow at 4 inches and it melted out .44 inch of moisture.

A lot of folks are wanting someone to push the sunshine button but there's plenty of time for the sun to shine and these folks will probably be desiring a reverse situation in June, July and August.

Sweet Potato Meeting Tonight at 7:30

Tonight, March 13th at 7:30 at the Court House, is the meeting of all persons interested in the production of sweet potatoes on a commercial basis, says County Agent H. M. Breedlove.

Farmers are looking for crops for more cash income on the farm and due to the past history on production of sweet potatoes in Donley County, this could be a crop that could bring more cash income for the farmer. Breedlove says that two specialists from the Texas A&M College Extension Service will be on hand to discuss sweet potato production from all angles, including marketing. Mr. Joe Cole and Jimmie Rosborough, both with a great deal of experience in sweet potato production and marketing will be the main speakers. Mr. Macyl Orman of the Fort Worth and Denver R.R. will also be present to discuss some of the marketing problems.

Breedlove is urging every one to be present and hear these men. You might decide that sweet potatoes could be a good cash crop for this county.

Services Held Tuesday For Crockett Taylor

Funeral services for Crockett W. Taylor, 79 years old, were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church with Rev. W. F. Vanderburg officiating.

Mr. Taylor had resided in Donley County 76 years. He would have been 80 in April. He was one of the earlier pioneers in the Panhandle having settled on the J.A. Ranch in 1882 after his parents made the covered wagon trip from Palo Pinto County to a dug-out camp on the old ranch.

Crockett Taylor was among the first citizens in Old Clarendon where his family resided after his father, the late H. W. Taylor, became manager of the Quarter Circle Hart ranch. As a youth in the old town Crockett with his two younger brothers made what is believed the most important historical discovery ever made in this region when he found a fifteen foot circle of old Spanish Sabres buried to the hilt. There were ten or twelve of the old swords with fancy handles just showing above the ground. The hilt was broken off and lost as the youths carried one 3-foot curved blade home. The blade inscribed in the Spanish language led to the belief that the circle of sabres marked the trail of early Spanish explorers who buried the leader there. The old blade is on display at the Plains-Historical Museum.

After moving to Clarendon Crockett worked with the H. W. Taylor & Sons Hardware Company which business was established by his father who was also a banker and who with the late Colonel Goodnight founded the old Clarendon Bank.

Crockett W. Taylor was married to Miss Willis Skinner, daughter of Rev. W. L. Skinner, pioneer Baptist minister, in 1902.

Survivors include his wife Willis, a son Bill Taylor of Pampa; two daughters, Mrs. Norma Eugene Stephenson of Houston, Mrs. Agatha Darnell of Borger; two brothers June and Walter Taylor of this city; two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Patman and Mrs. Anna Engel also of Clarendon.

Pallbearers were Bill Todd, Cap Morris, H. T. Burton, George Benson, J. H. Headrick and O. C. Watson.

Burial was in Citizens Cemetery with the Murphy Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Comets To Play In A.A.U. Basketball Tournament

The Clarendon Comets will journey to St. Jo, Missouri, next week to play in the Women's National A.A.U. Basketball Tournament which is held there each year. This will be the fourth year for the Clarendon team to enter the tournament and they have made a good showing each time. Last year they reached the quarter finals after winning several games, but they were beaten out by Wayland's Queens by 5 points. There are about 32 teams from all over the United States entered in the tournament, and the Comets hope to be seated among the top 8 teams. If they are, they will not meet the other top 7 teams until the quarter-finals.

The girls plan to leave early Saturday morning the 15th. The tournament will begin on the 16th and continue through the 24th. The beauty Queen contest and coronation will be held on Sunday night. Mary Mann will be Clarendon's entry for this.

The girls going on the trip will be Mary Mann, Kathryn Edwards, Myrna Carney, Linda Lindsay, Adine Martin, Nancy Chaloner, Myrlene Nichols, Martha Watson, Virginia Sellars, Ailene Gams, Pat Redin and Glenda Borden.

Light Milling Company Presents $410 In Special Awards To F. F. A. Members

Officials of the Light Grain and Milling Company of Liberal, Kansas, presented $410 in checks to sixteen Clarendon F.F.A. members at a special program at the Clarendon Lions Club meeting Tuesday. The checks represented special awards offered by the company to club members winning top honors at the Donley County, Amarillo, Fort Worth, El Paso and Houston Fat Stock Shows. The top award went to Carl Talley, a check for $145. The awards were made possible to the local youths through the local dealer for the Light Grain and Milling Company, the Simpson Mill and Feed Store.

The awards were based on premiums of $20 for grand champion calves at Amarillo, Donley County, and El Paso, $15 for reserve champion calves at any of these shows; $10 for champion lamb or champion pig and $7.50 for reserve champion lamb or pig at any one of these three shows. $12.50 awards for breed champions at Fort Worth and Houston, $5.00 for first place, $100 for grand champion and $37.50 for reserve grand champions at these two shows.

Harold Gillenwater, assistant sales manager for the Liberal firm made the presentations to the local youths.

GOC Director To Speak At PTA Meeting March 20th

Sgt. Mealy, Fredrick, Okla. Ground Observer Corps director for this area, will speak to members of the Parent Teachers Association at their meeting here March 20th at the Jr. High Gym.

The public in general is invited to hear Sgt. Mealy speak on this important subject.

In connection with the duties of the GOC, Clyde Price has supplied the following information regarding some of the procedure followed by the local GOC.

During an aircraft alert the filter center at Oklahoma City phones our chapter to notify their sequence list which includes Hedley, Memphis and Lakeview. The filter center is in return notified as to how many on the sequence list were contacted. The members of the local organization are now organized so that each member serves a three hour shift when on duty.

During a weather alert the filter center at Okla. City does not call unless our city is in the designated area of a storm center. Then a sequence list is called direct from the filter station. If our city were alerted the officers of our local chapter would notify the schools, Sheriff, hospital and old folks home. Shelter has been provided for both the hospital and home. Some members also help our city officers.

There are twenty five members of the local organization at present and at this time they are planning to offer a first aid class within the near future. Any interested persons are asked to contact Clyde Price, Basil Smith or Tommy Saye.

Remember, everyone interested in the above is invited to hear Sgt. Mealy speak Thursday, March 20th. —Reported.

The new structure is white brick and tile with metal entrance doors.

Heating and cooling system is of central heating type. The building is of Gothic design with acoustical tile ceiling placed on frame work supported by laminated beams that are made of Douglas Fir from Portland, Ore. The front and rear have awnings coating of California red wood furnished in natural color. The lighting effect is of antique bronze knave lanterns with white opal glass panels. A public address system is a built-in feature.

The pews were built by the Brandon Manufacture Co. of Keene, Texas. They rea solid Appalachian oak finished in lined oak color. All furniture was built especially for the building.

The annex has been completely redecorated after the fire and has been used for worship about six months.

Les Beaux Art Club

Les Beaux Art Club met at the Patching Memorial Club House on Friday afternoon with Mrs. M. R. Allensworth as hostess.

Mrs. W. G. Word and Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. were in charge of the program for the afternoon, which was "Women in the World of Fashion." Mrs. Word introduced Mrs. Fred Bourland, head of the Home Economics Dept., who gave a very interesting discussion on "America's Best Dressed Women", stressing how women could achieve that special style which makes a woman a candidate for the "best dressed" list. She also gave a few fashion tips from expert designers, Mainbocher, Claire McCardell, Jack Baker and John Robert Powers and Tony Perkins model agencies.

Mrs. Bourland then introduced Miss Beth Gillham, narrator, who in turn introduced the following models, showing the new, new styles and lines this Spring.

Yes, the "sack" or "Chemise" were very pretty on Misses Barbara Darnell in a pale blue one, belted in the back; Sharon Smith in a stunning white version and Connie McMurry in a two-piece red linen. Beth Lamberth looked like a picture in her full-skirted violet cotton print, trimmed in tiny rows of lace. Other models were Mrs. Lloyd Benson, modeling a red silk suit with a beautiful, large black straw hat (very becoming to Marjorie); Mrs. Maurice Hart, modeling a sheath dress with jacket in the new "Texas Orange" color with hat to match; Miss Sherry Montgomery, in a darling beige polka-dot shirt waist dress; Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. in a brown and white checked dacron and cotton dress with pleated skirt and the new blouse-on type jacket with brown Breton straw hat and last the fun or play clothes, modeled by the ideal play girls, Linda Hardin, Shirley Wiedman and Beth Lamberth.

Mrs. Bourland was also wearing one of the new two piece dresses with the new lines, which was very becoming and Beth was wearing a lovely navy silk with full skirt.

Miss Dianne Moore furnished very appropriate background music on the piano throughout the show.

These fashions were all shown through the courtesy of Greene Dry Goods Co., and the club wishes to express their sincere thanks to Mr. Greene and Miss Rhoda Wiedman for making this program a success.

After a short business session, Mrs. Allensworth served a lovely salad course to members and program guests. —Reporter.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE UNITED STATES TREASURY DEPARTMENT

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:
The Internal Revenue Service offices are having tax information days every Monday morning again this year in the North Texas offices between January 1 and April 15. Every year more taxpayers are learning that the best way to figure their tax is to spend time studying the tax instructions and figuring out for themselves just what they owe. Once upon a time a few taxpayers took all their checks and a tow sack full of receipts down to the Internal Revenue Service office and the tax people spent a lot of time adding up their income and deductions for them. The Revenue folks decided, however, that it was the taxpayer's job to do his own accounting and that the tax folks should spend their time answering questions and showing the taxpayer where to put the figures instead of doing a whole lot of simple accounting for a few taxpayers. If you have any questions or need help in getting your income on your tax return, the tax folks will be glad to have you come in. If you need help in doing your adding and subtracting, you probably need to find a good tax practitioner to help you.

Up-Dating Agriculture By Law

Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Agriculture in Texas and the nation is going through a dramatic evolution.

If the changes we are experiencing in farming and farm life were just a bit more physically violent—it could be properly called a "Revolution." No previous era in Agriculture has seen such an emphatic shift in emphasis and techniques as we have since World War II.

Old farm concepts have been outmoded by new and dynamic production and marketing. As a result, laws passed 20 and 30 years ago have, in some instances, not met the needs of this new period.

This is particularly true in Texas. Some of our old laws are impractical. And even some of our legislation that is less than 2 years old already need amending.

A goal of the Texas Department of Agriculture during the next legislative session will be to emphasize changes in the following fields:

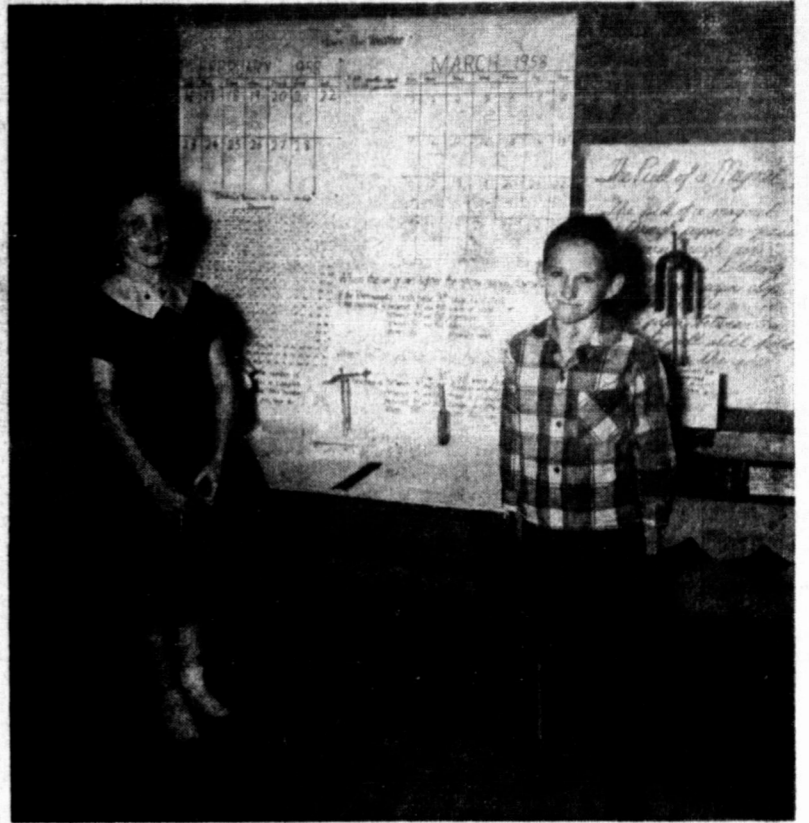

1. Revision of the nursery law.
2. A marketing enabling act.
3. A new general warehouse law.
4. Dressed poultry inspection law.
5. Amending the recently-enacted egg law.
6. Amendments to the weights and measures law.

A new nursery law is needed to set up some basis of standards and to control movement of inferior nursery stock into Texas.

The marketing enabling act is necessary because our selling and transportation methods have not kept up with the giant strides made in farm production. The state farm agency needs to enlarge its work to provide data to growers and handlers of volumes of commodity movement, planting, harvesting and grading services. At present, the TDA has no authority to participate in these types of programs except that which is rendered in the language of the current appropriation bill.

The present general warehouse law provides that all warehouse storage space for hire shall be bonded by the Agricultural Department. However, the penalty provision is weak and inadequate.

On poultry inspection, the fed-

Comets Defeated 39-60 By Flying Queens

The Clarendon Comets were defeated by the Wayland Flying Queens 39-60 at Plainview last Friday night, March 7th.

High scorer for the Comets was Myrlene Nichols who made 34 points. She was followed by Mary Mann who scored 8 points and Janice Martin with 5 points. Wayland's high point girls were Kay Garms and Carla Lowry who scored 14 and 16 points respectively.

The Comets maintained a better shooting per cent than the Queens for the first half although Wayland had a 10 point lead at the end of the first half. The Clarendon girls played hard and showed much improvement from their last game.

Mrs. Kenneth Sams and infant daughter Kendra Lee of Brownfield is visiting her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Estlack. The other Sams children, Dan, Kay and Gary have been here for the last three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Odis Naylor visited with the Thomas Clayton family at Memphis Sunday afternoon.

Avoid, over-weight. It puts a needless work load on your heart and blood vessels, says the Texas Heart Association, sponsor of the 1958 Heart Fund.

"Fallacy Of The Road"

Statistics are often dull but there is one traffic statistic that intrigues us. Stated simply it is: In 82 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents, one or more driver violations are reported.

In almost any issue of this paper you are likely to find an "accident" story. It might read something like this: "Two men were killed and another seriously injured in a two-car collision just south of the intersection of such and such highway last night . . ."

You read through looking for familiar names and then go to another story without further thought. These "accident" stories have become a standard part of the newspaper not unlike the financial pages, comic strips and sport results.

If you do give it a second thought, or if a friend is involved in a mishap, you feel helpless and humble as you wonder what unusual quirks of fate created the conditions which led to the "accident."

Perhaps you are wondering why the word "accidents" has been in quotation marks here. It's because the word is a misnomer for the terrifying smashes and collisions that occur every day on the highways.

Remember the statistics — in more than four out of five fatal traffic accidents a driver violation was reported. How many of these crashes would have occurred had there been no violations committed? No one can know. But one can certainly say that the number would have been far less than it is.

A fatalistic attitude about traffic accidents only serves to complicate the traffic problem. The Texas Safety Association and National Safety Council have been hammering at this fallacy for years. "Accidents do not happen," they say, "they are caused!"

We suspect that the "what will happen, will happen" attitude is really a rationalization by selfish and lazy people—lazy physically, intellectually and morally. It is easier to say "no one can prevent an accident if it is going to happen," and thus justify all unsafe and illegal driving practices than it is to bend every effort to prevent accidents.

Throughout our land religious and civic forces are organizing a "moral mobilization" for traffic safety. Its aim is to make the Bible as much a guide for motorists as the driver's rule book.

Unless the moral and intellectual climate of the road is strengthened we will go on wantonly killing innocents and kidding ourselves that we are without blame.

Fish." The result of your ingenuity, Brown adds, will be a flashy bait sure to whet the fish's appetite.

In his article, "Home-made Appeal," Brown gives the step-by-step instructions you can follow.

Simple tools are needed — a hacksaw to saw the shell into strips, and pliers to pinch off small pieces of the strip until the rough outline of your lure is shaped. Final finishing touches are made with a file and either fine emery or sandpaper. A fairly rough surface with many faces to catch the light is better than one which is too smooth. Brown says.

In each end of your lure, a hole must be drilled for the attachment of split rings. This is probably the hardest part of the job, and it takes a hard, high-speed drill bit to pierce the hard inner-layer of the mussel shell. Both drill bit and shell become very hot during this operation, so you must be careful not to get burned the author cautions.

One split ring is used at the front of the lure for attaching the line or snap swivel from the line. Another split ring is used to attach a treble hook to the rear of the lure. When all the work is over, your lures will prove their worth with a good-looking string of fish.

Fishing Lures Designed From Mussel Shells

AUSTIN—Making fishing lures from mussel shells can be easy and fun says William H. Brown, Aquatic Biologist, in the February issue of "Texas Game and

The Roar of the Lions

By the Liontamer

This week's Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Clarendon Lions Club not only was well attended by the local membership but hosted a large number of guests all of whom honored the Club. If at any time in the past anyone has scored Lion Drennan, the Program chairman, less than 100% on the programs he has arranged, they can well reappraise his efforts and balance his account. Not just one outstanding program, but two, with a third in attendance on a standby basis. If that effort doesn't offer redemption for any (if there be any) shortcomings in past programming, then we'll sympathize with the program chairman's tireless efforts at an impossible task.

The Club hosted Rev. Glen Norman, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church of Amarillo, presently serving the First Baptist Church of Clarendon as Evangelist in the current revival meeting; H. M. Skaggs, Educational Director of the Baptist Church, and Herschel Thompson, layman, as guests of Lion Vanderburg.

Additional guests of the Club were eleven musicians, under the direction of Ted Parker, from the Dodson Public Schools. They rendered three pre-meal musical numbers that was received with one of the longest and most enthusiastic rounds of applause accorded any program number in recent meetings. Bob Baker, Insurance Adjuster from Amarillo attended as a guest of Clyde I. Price Jr., and Gordon Mann, local transportation and shipping representative was a guest of Lion Redell Henson.

Last but not least, and the most profitable program yet presented by Lion Drennan was a program arranged by Lion Gillham, FFA Adviser, and Gordon Simpson, local feed dealer, to bring the sales manager, Mr. Bush, assistant sales manager, Mr. Gerald Gillenwater, and the Area representative, Mr. Ralph Crisler, of the Light Grain and Milling Company located at Liberal, Kansas.

These representatives brought checks ranging from $5 to $145, to more than a dozen of our Clarendon FFA livestock exhibitors, who had merited these premiums by cooperating in a planned feeding and exhibition program.

John Tom Morrow and Carl Talley were the recipients of the largest premium checks issued by the Company, and the Club was happy to have them as well as Gene Elmore, Bobby Longan, and Sammy Wells as their guests for the presentation ceremonies.

Mr. Bush, representing the Light Grain and Milling Company, stated to the Club without fear of challenge that the total amount of premium checks issued to the winning members of the Clarendon Chapter of F.F.A. was the largest amount ever to be issued to any one chapter in the nation. The F.F.A. boys, their adviser, John Gillham, the parents, and each citizen who has actively participated in the promotion of this program have brought honor and notoriety to the community and are to be richly commended.

The Lions Club attendance and enthusiasm is swelling as spring and a busy program are just around the corner. Watch for more detailed announcements in the near future which will kick off the spring programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Scott, Glenda and Connie and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Scott of Amarillo spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Scott.

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—"How's business?"
 Whenever two men stop to talk, this question is almost sure to pop up. With state and nationwide interest focused on the slackening of the economy, there's much searching for signs. It means trying to decipher the economic analysts' jargon about "downward plateaus" and "rolling adjustments." It also means watching whether the neighbors are buying new clothes or patching the old ones.

On the state level, the spotlight is on the Texas Employment Commission. Its weekly tabulations on the number of people making unemployment claims was for years regarded as the most routine of routine reports.

Today TEC's reports are looked to, almost breathlessly, for the first sign of betterment. The most recent brought no encouragement. It showed that 75,746 persons covered by unemployment benefits were out of work. It was an increase of 3,586 over the previous tabulation and 32,816 more than at the same time a year ago. February reports are of particular interest. Even in good years, mid-winter weather pushes employment down by keeping such job-making activities as farming, construction and retail trade at least partially "socked in." February's final week usually is the beginning of the recovery period.

This year, as at no time in the past decade, TEC's end-of-winter reports are being looked to as a weather vane.

NEW BUSINESS BEGUN

Along with the gloomy, TEC has good news—62 new businesses opened in Texas last month. They ranged from a cafe in Austin to a garment factory in Denton. Dallas got the lion's share—15 new firms.

Immediate effect: 910 new jobs for Texans.

IAB CALLED "MODEL T"

Texas had better streamline its industrial accident system before Washington steps in, warns H. C. Pittman.

"It's a 'Model-T' operation in a jet age," says Pittman, who is chairman of the Industrial Accident Board. Result is that Texas employers pay more and Texas employees get less than in almost any other state.

"I'm ashamed of it," said the board's chairman. He blamed the creaky operation on out-of-date laws (system was set up in 1913) and public indifference.

IAB is the state agency that processes, supervises and keeps records on payment of claims arising from industrial accidents. Its work has increased substantially in recent years.

Pittman spoke at the annual safety clinic of the Texas Highway-Heavy Branch, Associated General Contractors. Clinic is climax of year-long effort to reduce accidents in construction.

Gov. Price Daniel presented awards to companies with the best safety records for the past year.

MASS SIGN-UP BEGINS

Most state departments now have registration forms for those who come in asking for something for someone else.

Forms were put out as the new "representation before state agencies" law, passed in the first special session last fall, went into effect. Law was designed to keep a check on those paid to seek help or favor from state officials.

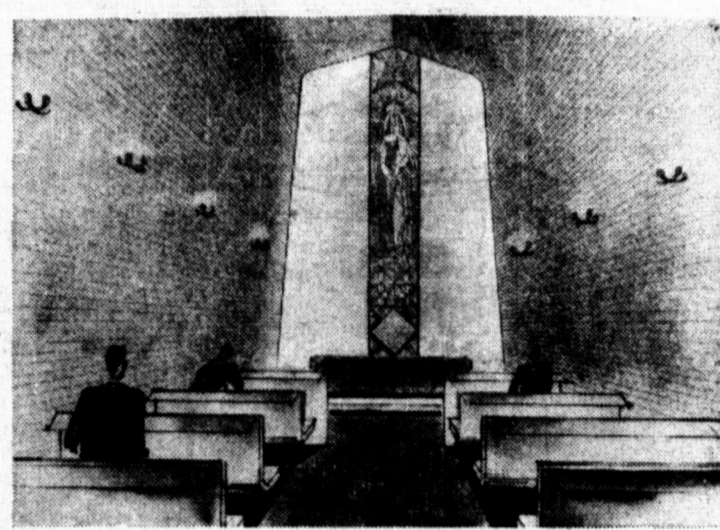

There are numerous exceptions—telephone calls, visits for a public hearing, visits for information only and contacts at some place other than the state office.

But businessmen are being advised, "when in doubt, register." Penalties are up to six months in jail, $500 fine.

NATUROPATHS' ILLS MOUNT

Texas Supreme Court pushed naturopathy outside the realm of legal practice and slammed shut the door.

High court upheld a lower court injunction which barred a naturopath in Midland from do-

Chapel to be Built
Atop Dallas Skyscraper

A sanctuary high above the city for individual prayer and meditation will be included in the public service facilities of the new Southland Center main tower, now under construction in Dallas.

"The Chapel in the Sky," as it will be called, will be approximately 500 feet above the ground on the 39th floor of the 42-story skyscraper, tallest building west of the Mississippi River.

"To the best of our information, this place of worship is the highest-located within a building in America," said Ben H. Carpenter, executive vice president of Southland Life Insurance Company. The company owns Southland Center which also includes the new 28-story Sheraton-Dallas luxury hotel.

Dan C. Williams, Southland Life's president and well known Southwestern religious leader, conceived the idea for a place of prayer in the building plans.

"The Chapel will, of course, be entirely non-denominational and available for anyone seeking a moment of peace in a busy day," said Mr. Williams. The Chapel will have stained leaded glass windows and a vaulted, timbered ceiling, large enough to accommodate 35 persons and complete with altar. It is planned for use principally by individuals rather than groups or meetings.

It can be reached either by express elevator from the ground floor level or by escalator from the 41st floor which is the public observation area. Southland Center will begin operations in early 1959.

tain qualifications and obtaining licenses. Naturopaths' licensing law was declared invalid some time ago, and no new one has been passed.

Effect of the ruling is to require a naturopath to qualify as a full-fledged medical doctor.

CLIMB IN CRIME

Newly-organized Law Enforcement Commission is beginning its work with a depressing array of statistics outlining its task.

Defining the problem are these facts that were dumped in the Commission's lap:

1. Major crimes in Texas are increasing faster than the national average—9.2 per cent here as compared to 7.2 per cent nationally.

2. Of some 154,000 major crimes committed in Texas last year, an estimated 50 per cent were by juveniles. Governor Daniel has asked the Commission to give top priority to study of juvenile crime.

3. State correctional schools for youths are not equipped to handle the swelling tide of offenders, according to the Texas Youth Council. Gatesville school, with capacity of 650, has population of 898.

The Trouble With Cotton

Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Although 1957 will be happily recalled by Texans as "the year the drouth was broken," it will also be remembered by everybody in the cotton industry as the "trouble year."

The trouble with cotton didn't miss anybody. It ranged from the farmer to the processor and on up to the government.

The farmer probably suffered more and lost more than anybody. His troubles started back in the spring at planting time, although he certainly didnt complain about rain at that time? But anyway, the rains came and washed out what had been planted or else delayed planting by precious weeks.

When the cotton finally got planted, the farmer thought he had it made. And it did look good for awhile, although it would have helped if some of that spring rain had waited until mid-summer to show up.

The rains did come back, though — at harvest time. And they are still ginning cotton in Texas as a result.

Texas farmers have lost millions of dollars from fallen, degraded or ruined cotton. And along with their losses have been equally serious losses throughout the cotton industry. Cottonseed crushers, for instance, felt sharp losses when normally heavy receipts in the fall failed to show up. Ginners have had a long, drawn-out season with the many processing difficulties that come with a wet harvest.

The Texas Department of Agriculture's important pink bollworm control program took a backseat to economic necessity in the matter of delayed harvesting when cotton stalk plow-up rules were extended, re-extended and finally left open in many areas. However, eventual plow-up of cotton stalks has been encouraging and it is hoped an effective kill of insect larvae can be accomplished even at this late date.

Perhaps the most encouraging outcome of this trouble year for cotton is that U. S. surpluses are expected to be shortened considerably, paving the way for a good market for Texas cotton to come back to in 1958.

Damaged Hides Mean Dollar Losses

Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner
About $200 million in profits are lost by the livestock hide industry each year which might be saved with just a "little extra care" by both producers and packers.

Animal hide is a sideline of livestock production that is not often thought of as a big profit factor by the average person. Yet a perfect hide can mean as much as a $10 'bonus' to the producer.

The hide has quite a few 'enemies', however, which must be guarded against. Grubs eat holes in them. Barbed wire, nails and jagged edges of carriers scratch them. Mange leaves a dark spot or unpleasant mottling and prod poles and rough herding tactics create unsightly blotches.

Still another damage factor are huge brand marks which frequently cause up to a quarter of the hide to be discarded. These four pre-tannery dollar-robbers can best be brought into control by cattlemen themselves while the packers can attempt to cut losses from skinner slashes and hide-cellar rot.

The biggest problem for the cattleman is elimination of cattle grubs which cause $100 million or 50% plus of the annual hide damage. Early treatment of mange, plus dehorning will help cut down blemishes and punctures. Feed lots, loading chutes, fences, and truck beds should be checked for sharp objects that will puncture, bruise or scratch.

It is always a good idea, also, to start the livestock to market with clean skins. Caked manure and other lot soil cause unsightly strains which may influence the buyer to cut the cattle price.

Proper care of the hide is especially important these days when leather products are losing

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—What will happen to Texas without a sure flow of oil money to grease the wheels of government and business?

March oil allowable was set at 2,517,249 barrels a day (a drop of 513,814 barrels a day from February) with only nine producing days. Railroad Commission said the cutback to lowest level since pre-World War II days was necessitated by excess stocks.

Over-supply developed this way, according to officials; Texas production was shoved to record highs a year ago to supply Europe while the Suez Canal was closed. Then Suez re-opened, Middle East Oil flowed to Europe again and Texas was left holding unwanted surplus. Further aggravating the situation was the gush of foreign oil into the U. S., taking part of the market from Texas production.

Digging into causes and effects is Governor Price Daniel's Oil Imports Study Commission. At first-round hearings in Austin these views were presented:

BY GOV. DANIEL:
Texas is facing its most serious economic threat in 25 years. "Mandatory federal controls" are apparently the only way to stop excessive importing.

BY STATE COMPTROLLER ROBERT S. CALVERT:

Continuation of the present oil production pattern for another 90 days would put the state $20-000,000 further in the red by the end of the current fiscal period. This would mean a $32,000,000 shortage rather than the $12,000,000 deficit estimated earlier.

BY MAURICE ACERS, TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION:

Employment in the Texas oil industry has declined 8,000 since last July. A drop of five per cent in oil employment takes $50,000,000 in wages from the Texas economy.

BY A. T. MULLINS, GENERAL LAND OFFICE:

One company has said it will stop seeking oil from state-owned lands, and others have said they will, unless the state reduces lease prices.

BY J. WARREN HITT, TEXAS EDUCATION AGENCY:

Approximately 51.3 per cent of state school money comes from the oil and gas industry.

BY MARSHALL FORMBY, TEXAS HIGHWAY COMMISSION CHAIRMAN:

Reduced oil production would eventually cut back construction of highways.

BY JOHN H. WINTERS, COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WELFARE:

Loss of oil revenue could reduce payments to the aged, the blind and dependent children.

BY REP. MAX SMITH, HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS CHAIRMAN:

Next Legislature faces the prospect of spending money it doesn't have or finding new sources of taxation.

DR. PHILIP E. COLDWELL, DALLAS FEDERAL RESERVE BANK:

Imports are only partly to blame for Texas oil troubles. Problem of oversupply is worldwide and likely will continue for some time.

French Robertson of Abilene is chairman of the Study Commission. Governor Daniel called hearings held today "very successful". Next meeting is to be March 18 in Abilene.

Meantime, the governor has wired governors of 20 other states asking them to join in the effort to get federal government action limiting imports.

SEARCH FOR NEW INDUSTRY

Long-dormant Texas Industrial Commission has new members and a new job.

Governor Daniel named E. B. Germany of Dallas chairman and gave the commission the task of enticing new industries to Texas to help relieve unemployment.

Originally designed to study labor-management troubles, the commission had been inactive for some years. Its new industry-attracting work is to be financed by private contributions and conducted cooperatively with chambers of commerce and other local groups.

Members are Houston Harte, San Angelo Standard-Times publisher; A. G. McNeese Jr., banker and lawyer, Houston; George T. Hinson, former state representative, Mineola; Chester C. Wine, power company employee, Laredo.

PRISON FARM COTTON CUT

Texas taxpayers face an extra burden unless the Prison System can get a more favorable cotton acreage allotment, says Gen. Mgr. O. B. Ellis.

Ellis protested to the U. S.

No chance for improvement is seen this year since U.S.D.A. refused to interfere with locally set quotas. Court action is planned, but could not bring help before the '58 planting season.

Planted Fish In Farm Ponds Grow Rapidly

AUSTIN—Farm ponds in Texas this year will produce some wonderful fishes, according to a report just issued by the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

For instance a fry bass planted in an unstocked pond during May, 1957 under proper conditions, may reach 9 inches in length by November, 1957. By the 1 1/2 pounds, according to the Director.

Not all the planted fish will do this, he points out, but such growth is possible where conditions are right.

There has been a great deal of farm pond study on the part of the Commission biologists. Thousands of small impoundments have been created by putting dams across small dry stream beds within the state during the last several years.

Invariably the Game and Fish Commission is called upon to stock these ponds through its hatchery program. Some 13 million fry have been produced by the Texas hatcheries for this year. Most of them have been bass.

Another favorite fish for restocking is the channel cat, ac-ording to the Director. Fingering cats will grow at the rate of one inch per month, again under favorable conditions.

"The history of the average farm pond is good growth from the initial stocking, with a decreased growth rate of subsequent spawns," he says. "When sunfish are stocked in a pond they usually will dominate the population composition of fishes present by the third year, presenting a stunted aspect and cause fishing to become poor."

The Director pointed out that hatchery restocking will not help such conditions because the survival of the restocked fish will be practically nil. They either will be eaten by other fish or they will starve.

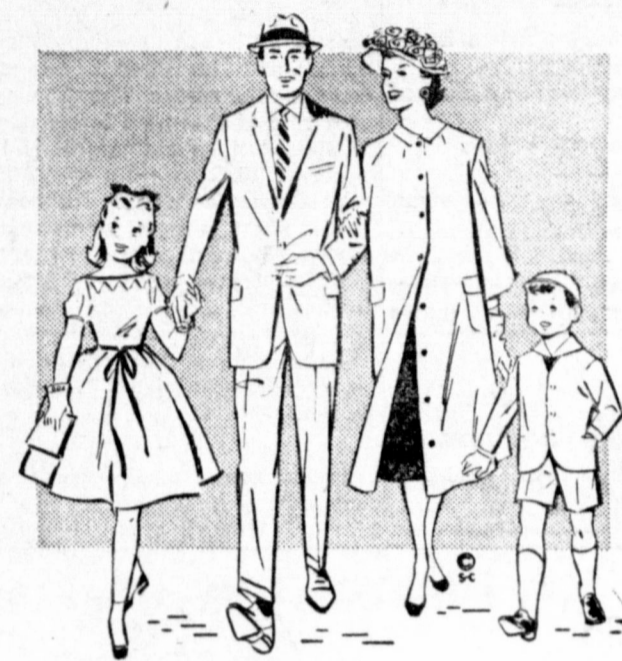

He warns that no matter how many fish are restocked by a hatchery they can only begin to approximate the number that will be produced by natural spawn. A pair of good brood bass will produce some 24,000 baby bass, many more than might be stocked from a hatchery in any given pond.

Catfish, however, do not spawn so well unless special conditions have been provided. For that reason the Commission advises the restocking of catfish ponds after several years. This depends, however, upon a survey of the pond fish population.

He recommends remedial measures when fishing becomes bad in farm ponds. This can be achieved either in drainage, selective pond treatment or by fertilization.

Additional information is contained in Bulletin No. 24, issued by the Commission in Austin. This booklet, on "Utilizing Farm Ponds for Fish", may be had without cost by any one interested. Information concerning the use of fish toxicants for selective pond treatment will be sent to pond owners on special request.

which they tell their children not to do?

If suddenly things should get back to normal we would all be wondering what had gone wrong. Grandpa used to tell his children to work like the dickens, live just as cheaply as possible, and save every penny possible for that start in life that everyone had been taught to work for. To buy the farm down the road or the little business next door. Nowadays we want our children to have a standard of living as good or better than the average. If this can't be done on the salary of one then they both work. If that is still not enough then credit and installment buying comes to the rescue. The old way or a part of that plan is the way to save, but should we all suddenly go back to the so-called normal way of doing business, then without a doubt we would have a real stinker of a depression almost over night. It is the tremendous turn-over of money and taxes that keeps our modern economy ticking. Most of us don't worry so much about whether its normal or not.

Every once in awhile we get a nice letter from Mrs. O. L. Brant of Rt. 1, Box 23 out of Sperry, Oklahoma. We always love these nice friendly letters because in addition to some nice poems, sayings, and what have you, Mrs. Brant always invites us up that way to see them. We are going to do just that and before too many moons pass over. Below are some of the things she sent us.

"Its not enough to have a good aim in life; you have to pull the trigger, too." Which reminds us that big shots are just small shots who kept on shooting.

MYSELF

One day I looked at myself, At the self Christ can see; I saw the person I am today And the one I ought to be. I saw how little I really pray, How little I really do; I saw the influence of my life— How little of it was true. I saw the bundle of faults and fears I ought to lay on the shelf; I had given a little bit to God; But I hadn't given myself. I came away from seeing myself, With my mind made up to be The sort of person Christ can use And a heart I would want Him to see.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

This week we are announcing "Spires of Spirits" by Fredric Brown Harris has been added to our memorial list by the Win One Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church in memory of Mother Bass of Memphis, Texas. It has been termed "Land Marks of Faith for Happier Living." This is a new writer, or one I'm not familiar with, but recommended to us.

"Prexy The Parakeet" is by Mrs. Eudora S. Braswell. You will find the story of "Prexy" quite captivating. The book is exceptionally well written, and if you have a parakeet you will appreciate the story all the more. This book was given to the Library by a friend, and quite a few of you know Mrs. Sam Braswell, so that will be an incentive to read it.

In memory of Lynn Leathers we have two memorials: "Best In Books" consists of two complete books and three Book Excerpts. These are all books we see as best sellers and frequently discussed books. The other copy is "A Hillside Harvest" by Lansing Christian. This is a collection of essays with nature themes. It is a charming collection if you appreciate nature.

"The White Witch" by Elizabeth Goudge was given in memory of Miss Annie Reeves. Readers of fiction are familiar with the authentic history woven in the novels of Elizabeth Goudge. This historical novel gives us "a rich, long panorama of England in the time of Charles I. when Cavalier and Puritan strove for the mastery of the realm." I had been eager for this best seller to be placed on our shelves, but it is in the $5.00 bracket, so I did not purchase it. Annie appreciated good fiction and history so she would have read it with appreciation.

Our small Library is in great demand by the students, but we can't always be of help to them as our material is quite limited for extensive research work.

Cokesbury sent us enough advertising material for National Library Week — March 16-22nd, to supply six towns the population of Clarendon. Procure some of this when in the Library.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

FOREIGN AID AND RECIPROCAL TRADE

Both foreign aid and reciprocal trade received a big push last week in the Nation's Capital. The President and most all of the members of the present Administration began to suspect several weeks ago that all was not well for foreign aid and reciprocal trade on Capitol Hill. A quick poll revealed that the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, which expires on June 30th this year, had a slim chance of slipping by this Congress. The poll also revealed that the support for foreign aid had dwindled considerably and that the Congress was in no mood to spend almost 4 billion dollars more of the taxpayers' money on this controversial program. This not only alarmed the President, but it caused some deeply furrowed brows among the big industrialists, manufacturers and business tycoons. The President was concerned because he has been thoroughly sold on the idea that the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act and a providing of 3.9 billions of dollars to further carry on the foreign aid program are essential to the welfare of this country. The industrialists, the manufacturers and the business tycoons were deeply concerned because if these two measures don't pass, they stand to lose a lot of money unless they can rearrange their business activities and start selling their goods without the American taxpayer having to foot a large part of the bill. Whether you like or dislike foreign aid, the cold, bare truth is that the foreign aid program is now, and always has been, a giant subsidy to big business. This is not to say that there has not been a great deal of good accomplished through this program. However, the act is the American taxpayer has had to pay the bill and has received very little credit or what he has done. In debate on this subject on the House Floor, it has been said many times that only one out of every four dollars in this program reaches foreign shores. The other three dollars are paid to business people, manufacturers and industrialists in this country for goods, wares and merchandise which is shipped to foreign countries as part of the aid program. This means that the American taxpayer has been required to buy goods, wares and merchandise from people in this country to give to people in foreign countries—in most instances also paying the freight and delivering such commodities to the foreign country. It is argued that this aid program is necessary for us to support our own economy. When I was a boy it was called, "holding yourself up by your own boot straps."

The Reciprocal Trade Act extension was originally intended to encourage two-way trade between this country and other countries. In many particulars, this purpose has been carried out. The difficulty seems to lie in the fact that many industries have been permitted to suffer measurably because of disagreement between the State Department and certain segments of the Department of Commerce. The President has authority under the Reciprocal Trade Act to step in and prevent an industry from being seriously injured by reason of unfair foreign competition. However, the State Department has been accused of interceding many times and actually sacrificing the best interests of some of our industries and businesses in order to avoid any disagreements between our government and the foreign government involved. Everyone realizes the need for world trade, and certainly it is to our interests to participate to our fullest ability in developing trade relations between all countries. However, our responsibility in this regard does not require our government to permit the destruction of segments of our economy which have been built up under our free enterprise system—destruction because of unfair competition in foreign countries where the standard of living is much lower and where the labor and material costs are far below those in this country. If we as a country are to be able to help others, we must see that our own economy remains strong.

You will be subjected to a tremendous propaganda campaign to sell you on both of these programs. You will be asked to write your Congressman and tell him to vote for both of them. I hope you will study all of the information you receive very carefully and weigh it with great care.

Then, write me your honest and sincere views on the subject matter and tell me exactly what you think. It is your money and your country, and you have the right to be heard.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Many farmers and ranchers in the Donley Soil Conservation District are planning to harvest grain seed this year. Some producers have already got their grass established while others plan to plant various grasses this spring.

Among those cooperators in the District that already have grasses established that will produce seed this fall are: Roy Clark, Blackwell Switchgrass; Cap Morris, Sand Lovegrass and Blackwell Switchgrass; and Jay Gould, Indiangrass.

The demand for grass seed will very likely be heavy for the next few years. Several grasses used locally such as Indiangrass and side oats grama are in unusually heavy demand.

Farmers and ranchers interested in the business of grass seed production may obtain additional information from the local Soil Conservation Service Office.
