The Bulldogs hold two victories each over Amarillo College and Wayland College and one over Panhandle A&M College. Wayland and Panhandle are both senior colleges.

Pete White, sophomore from Quitaque, has played in the number one singles spot all season and will continue to do so in the state meet. Buzz Bailey, sophomore from Silverton, will probably get the call for the number two singles position, however in all probability, Teddy Bedwell, freshman from Quitaque, will team with White for the number one doubles team. Bailey and Owen Johnson, freshman from Clarendon, will make up the number two doubles team.

Episcopalians Will Observe Rogation Day Services Sunday

Episcopalians from over the Panhandle will offer special prayers of thanksgiving for rains and ask blessings for crops in the traditional outdoor Rogation Day service Sunday, May 11th.

This service will be at the Thomas E. Bugbee ranch near Goodnight. The public is invited to join church communicants from Clarendon, Shamrock, Wellington, Childress and Amarillo. A caravan will leave St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church here at 10 a. m. for the 11 a. m. service.

The junior choir of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Amarillo will sing during the service. The Reverend Claude C. Canterbury will lead the worship.

This traditional service had its beginnings in the church of England from which the Episcopal Church in this country stems. Each spring priests and communicants would walk the boundaries of the parish repeating chants and offering prayers of blessing for the crops to be raised in the area.

The Clarendon church, oldest Episcopal church in the Panhandle is one of few in the United States which still celebrates the service outdoors.

Chuck wagon lunch will be served after the service. H. M. "Flip" Breedlove is in charge of its preparation.

Women communicants of St. John the Episcopal Church of Clarendon will present their United Thank Offering Sunday.

The church's auxiliary will hear Mrs. Claude C. Canterbury of Amarillo, wife of the archdeacon, at its Wednesday, May 14, meeting. This will be in the Mission Hall at 3 p. m.

Dusters Defeat Hedley 4 to 1

In their first full time practice game of the season Sunday afternoon, the Clarendon Dusters defeated the Hedley baseball team 4 to 1 behind the 3 hit pitching of Don Newman and the clutch hitting of Jerry Behrens.

The Dusters open the season in Caprock League play this coming Sunday against Nazareth at Nazareth. Manager Waylan Newman stated that he was well pleased with the showing the Dusters made in the Hedley game and believes they are in top shape to begin regular league play Sunday afternoon. He said that either Weldon Talley or Don Newman are slated to pitch the opening game.

Plans are already underway to make the Rodeo Queen contest for the Fourth of July Celebration a much bigger and more competitive contest this year. Other business acted upon at the meeting Monday night of the Outdoor Entertainment Association was the clarification of granting concessions for the event. The Boy Scouts will have all concessions at the Rodeo Grounds and will have a Sno-Cone concession at the court house on the fourth and other places downtown during the celebration. The Band Parents will have the cold drink concessions at the court house on the Fourth.

Spokesmen for the Volunteer Fire Dept. reported that the Firemen would assist in the policing of the Rodeo Grounds again this year. GOC Participates In National Alert

The Clarendon GOC post participated in the Nation wide Civil Defense Alert here Tuesday. Members manned their posts for 12 hours with more than 25 planes being reported in the first six hours.

This alert was part of a mock nuclear attack on several large cities throughout the state which included Amarillo and Wichita Falls in this area.

The enemy bomb, a paper bomb, targeted for the center of Amarillo, fell four miles south of the Palo Duro Airport. Should this have been a real bomb, the heaviest radiation fallout damage would have been centered in a strip extending southeast from the Palo Duro Airport at Amarillo, 90 miles in length and five and one-half miles wide. Blast damage from the paper bomb was in a radius of three miles.

Theoretically Washburn would have felt the blast's most disastrous effects with Conway and Groom also receiving heavy damage.

It was said that injuries would have depended on whether citizens in those communities were able to either find shelter or evacuate before the blast. Approximately 50 percent casualties would have resulted if all citizens were unprotected from the bomb's effects.

The local GOC will play a big part in any emergency such as the above. This volunteer organization could use more members to help man the post in extended emergency periods. Anyone interested in helping out should contact Basil Smith or Clyde I. Price Jr.

PENTAGON REORGANIZATION

The President's proposal to reorganize the Pentagon seems to become more controversial each day. Some are taking a position that it is being made into a political issue and that partisanship petticoats are beginning to show in the Armed Services Committee. The general agitation about the proposal was reflected by the sharp exchange that took place between Texas newspaper reporter and the President in his recent news conference. The papers here played the story big. The paper which is considered to be the most conservative of the three Washington newspapers carried a rather extended story about the incident and referred to three other questions that seemed to have raised the President's ire. The incident about the Pentagon reorganization arose when a newspaper reporter, who is a woman representing a Texas newspaper, asked the President a question concerning the possibility of a "Prussian" type organization being created if his plan was adopted. The President shot back an answer in the nature of a question. He asked the newspaper woman, "Have you read the law?" The reporter replied, "Yes Sir." The President is then quoted as having said, "No you haven't, I don't think." Another question put to the President by one reporter that was credited by the local newspapers as having raised his ire had to do with the President's recent suggestion that the people buy. The reporter, after getting the President to confirm that he had asked the people to buy, then asked the President if he would tell the reporters what he had bought. It was then that the President became obviously annoyed and said that he had not discussed the matter with his personal aide who took care of his buying needs. Another reporter, who asked some questions concerning the President's position on the unemployment benefits bills in the Congress, was cut off by a statement by the President that "he thought the reporter knew something about the matter."

All of this left many of the reporters wondering what the next news conference would produce and when it would be held.

WHEN IS A CHICKEN NOT A CHICKEN?

Hearings are now being held on a bill to amend the Interstate Commerce Act as it concerns the right to haul agricultural products without being subject to regulations. The battle as to what is an agricultural product and what is not an agricultural product has been going on for some time. In recent years the question arose as to whether or not a chicken that had been killed and cut up or frozen was still a chicken that could be hauled under the agricultural exemption, or if it became a manufactured produce and had to be hauled in accordance with certain ICC regulations.

A case went to the Supreme Court involving this question, and the Court held that the chickens retained their identity as chickens even after they were killed and could be shipped without the hauler complying with rules and regulations of the ICC. The Supreme Court in its decision said, "A chicken that has been killed and dressed is still a chicken."

All of this was brought out in the hearings before the Interstate Commerce Committee of which I am a member. When the language of the Supreme Court was quoted by one witness, it brought to my mind the fact that a very serious situation could arise on this subject in Texas. I recall that while serving as District Attorney, we were investigating a man who was charged with chicken stealing. Under Texas law he could be sent to the penitentiary for this. However, he argued that he was not guilty of chicken stealing, although he had stolen the carcass of several chickens. At that time dressed chickens were selling for about 75c each. He had stolen three of these dead chickens. If the chickens had ceased to be chickens because they had been killed, the largest penalty that could be put upon the thief would be a fine, because the value of what he stole was less than $5.00; but, if the chickens had continued to be chickens even though they had lost their lives, the theft of only one of them would have subjected the man to conviction of a felony for which he could have gone to the penitentiary for several years and would have lost his citizenship. It is my recollection that the Texas Courts have held that a dead chicken is no longer a chicken under the Chicken Law—the same as a cow is no longer a cow after it is slaughtered. This being the case, I am wondering what will happen in the future in view of the language of the Supreme Court in the frozen chicken case. If the Justice of the Supreme Court who wrote that opinion and used the language, "A chicken that has been killed and dressed is still a chicken", ever steals a dead chicken in Texas and gets caught, he might wish he had never used the language.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—If you drive a car, 1958 will be a good year to pay closer-than-ever attention to how you drive it.

Under Gov. Price Daniel's "Texas plan" to reduce highway tragedies, the spotlight will be on individual driving practices as never before.

Speeders and drunken drivers will be prime targets.

Governor Daniel is heading a drive to mobilize all the state's resources to combat "the threat of public disaster. Annual loss of life, health and property in traffic accidents," he said, "is greater than the loss sustained in all our natural disasters combined."

Five-point "Texas plan" involves (1) cooperation between all safety and enforcement officials, (2) formation of local traffic safety councils, (3) public education to the problem, (4) road improvements at hazardous spots and (5) more rigid enforcement and certainty of punishment for violations, especially drunken driving and speeding.

Last year 2,539 persons were killed in traffic and 122,000 were injured. Even so, 1957 ratio of fatalities to miles traveled was down—from 6.5 deaths per 100 million miles in 1956 to 6 deaths per 100 million miles in 1957.

Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. attributes the reduced rate to lower average speed. Texans saved 111 lives, he said, by slowing down average speed by 1.6 miles per hour.

Goal for 1958 is more ambitious—to save 254 lives or one for each Texas county.

"It's up to every Texan, said the governor, to "accept traffic safety as a do-it-yourself project."

TOWARD SAFER ROADS
An important arm of the anti-accident campaign is a $43,000,000 program to rebuild some hazardous spots in the highway system.

Governor Daniel and State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer formally launched this work by placing a "drive carefully" sign by a narrow bridge on a farm road near Austin. Scene of previous accidents, the bridge is to be widened.

State Highway Department allocated $25,000,000 to the emergency safety construction fund, and $18,000,000 will come from federal funds.

MONEY HUNT
Gloomy predictions abound as government and industry leaders look toward the state's 1959 financing problems.

A "conservative estimate" by Sen. William S. Fly, chairman of the Texas State Tax Study Commission, is that $45,000,000 per year in new revenue will be needed just to maintain present state services.

Latest report by the Tax Commission calls the situation "a fiscal crisis of major proportions" and "not a temporary condition."

State and local taxes have tripled since World War II, says the report, but not fast enough to keep pace with spending needs. This is attributed to a sharp upsurge in population, especially in the under 18 and over 65 brackets. These ages require expensive services (schooling, pensions) but net little in taxes.

Oil industry spokesmen served notice that oil, even if it pulls out of its present slump, cannot produce nearly enough revenue to save the day.

Charles W. Alcorn, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, predicted a need for as much as $65,000,000 a year in extra revenue. "Even if all imported crude oil were cut off from the U. S.," he said, "we would stand to gain only about $20,000,000 a year."

MORE NEEDED
Further complicating the fiscal picture are statements, such as that of the State Board of Corrections, that it will need more money from the Legislature next year.

Chairman H. H. (Pete) Coffield said the Board will ask for $8,000,000 in building funds and a $1,500,000 increase in its operating budget.

State prisons are overflowing, says Mgr. O. B. Ellis, with more to come. Prison population (10,400) has doubled in the past seven years while population as a whole increased 24 per cent.

ANCHORS AWEIGH
After 115 years, Texas again has a Navy.

Governor Daniel has reactivated the Texas Navy and called on the some 286,000 owners of powered craft to join up. Nucleus of the fleet will be the Texas Game and Fish Commission's 180 boats. Their purpose will be to defend, if necessary, the 10 1/2 miles of tidelands claimed by Texas and assist with civil defense in time of disaster.

A large early response by boat owners and previously commissioned admirals "convinces me we're going to have the largest Navy in the world," said the governor.

Texas had a vigorous, if small, navy in the days of the revolution and Republic. It thwarted Mexican efforts to blockade the Texas coast and boldly raided Mexico ports. It ended its last expedition in 1843 and after annexation was incorporated into the U. S. Navy.

June 30th Important Date For Many Disabled People

June 30, 1958 is a very important date for many disabled people, John R. Sanderson, District Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office said today.

Many people who are disabled have already filed for disability insurance benefits under the provisions of the Social Security Act Sanderson said. There may still be some who have not applied for benefits to which they may be entitled and if not applied for before the June 30, 1958 deadline will lose them.

Workers both men and women, who have been disabled for over a year have until June 30, 1958 to file application for the disability freeze or for disability benefits if they are 50 or older. Those who have been disabled for a prolong period and wait until after June 30th may forfeit their rights to disability benefits at age 50, to old-age benefits, and to benefits for their survivors.

Sanderson pointed out that there is no deadline for those who file for a freeze within a year from the time they become disabled. The June 30, 1958 deadline applies only to those who have been disabled for a prolonged period and who file for a freeze, not disability payments after age 50.

In addition to being "disabled," a worker must have worked under social security for some time in order to be eligible for disability insurance benefits or to have his social security record frozen. A worker must have social security credit for work in 5 out of the 10 years before he became disabled, including a year and a half out of the 3 years before the disability began.

Sanderson pointed out that there is no benefits for temporarily disabled workers under the provisions of the social security act.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

Some of the recent pictures screened are "Sayonara" by Michiner, and "No Time for Sergeants," "Rountree County" and several others. If you desire to read any of these we shall be glad to have you patronize the Library.

Sloan Wilson's new book, "A Summer Place" is ready for you if you have not read it as printed in a serial in one of the periodicals recently.

This week received a memorial book entitled, "American Water and Game Birds." The book was prepared with the cooperation of the Chicago Natural History Museum. There are 127 photographs in full color, 40 photographs in black and white, and 15 bird silhouettes. It is an entertaining volume to just turn thru without reading.

Don't miss reading the May issue of Cosmopolitan. You are reminded of some facts you probably will find surprising about our National Capital.

The S. Evening Post carried a recent article on the increase of patronage of our Libraries and their importance to the public. Sunday's Amarillo paper had an editorial that quoted from this article. We have an excellent Library when compared to other towns and counties of our population.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

It is not our policy to very often mix business with pleasure, or to write about anything connected with our work. However, it seemed that we should make an exception and share with all of you some of the experiences my wife and myself enjoyed on our recent trip to El Paso and vicinity to attend the Conference of county judges and commissioners. Many things about the trip helped us. I guess we just like to meet and know new people and as we visit with them to share each other's experiences. In this we learn many things that we can take to ourselves and use even in our daily lives.

In the first place we love trips. Even a good doctor and a drug store full of bitter medicine never seems to do us good like a trip; even just a week-end dash. In view of this I know you will all excuse me again if I seem to be overly excited as usual about the last place which we have visited. We left early so as to be sure and catch the long trip through Carlsbad Caverns on our way down. I suppose we were the last folks in this part of the country to visit the Caverns. It was so very wonderful and inspiring. I could look for hours at the beautiful sights that only God through His mysteries of nature could create. Acres on acres of statues and shapes of every vision or thought that could enter into the Mind of our Creator. As we walked, and walking up and down hill is plenty tough on a softie like us, we knew that we would never be able to describe it. One just couldn't. By all means visit this wonderful place again and again. No one could gaze upon this majestic Beauty and have ever a doubt left as to who created us, and keeps us, and blesses us all our days.

Then, to see and visit El Paso for the first time was so very interesting; not that we would trade our own climate or country for that part of the state, but it does have some outstanding and captivating things about the town. About it's neighbor Juarez, and the long colorful history of this important gateway between the United States and our friends to the south in Old Mexico. El Paso with its sunshine almost every day in the year. Eight to nine inches of rainfall, which by comparison is only about one half that we receive. All this sets the stage for some first class sand storms that make our own Panhandle Dusters ashamed of themselves. In El Paso you find a city of variety; the old side by side with the new. The dirty along with the spotless. The poor nearby to the rich. The colorful compared to the ugly.

One of our greatest surprises was to find the sleepy Rio Grande river just about as dry as the proverbial bone. We had heard of "Wet Backs" coming across the river there from Mexico; actually you could hardly get the back side of your feet wet. We drove around for hours wondering how to get that little creek in the direction of what we thought was the border; only to find out later that this creek was the much heard about Silvery Rio Grande. On the other side of this discussion we understand that the water does come down at times and that the dry bed is due mostly to the fact that miles and miles of hungry dry farmland has been watered from large dams the greatest of which is the Elephant Butte. The little ribbon of green that marks the banks of the river as it winds its way northwest to southwest is the product of this life giving water. More later.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Bushes and shrubbery, woody growth have infested many acres of rangeland in the Donley County SCD and have sufficiently lowered the income from these acres to make brush control an important practice in this area. Within the past five years large acreages of brush were controlled on the Johnson, Finch, and Warner ranches. Smaller acreages have been controlled on the ranches of F. L. Hill, Charles Taylor, Sawyer Estate, and Laura Taylor. Control of these competitive shrubs will permit the growth of desirable vegetation by reducing the competition with the native grasses.

Landowners should also consider the needs of wildlife before controlling brush since some brush species have value for wildlife food and shelter. Many species of woody vegetation occur naturally as a part of the vegetative cover. It is only when these species have materially increased or invaded that control measures are necessary.

The method of control to be used will depend upon the economic feasibility of the method and the type of woody vegetation to be controlled. Shin oak and sand sagebrush have been successfully controlled by both chemical and mechanical methods. Your local SCS technicians will be glad to assist you in selecting the proper control measure and in the management of the treated area.

10 CLUES TO CANCER

Clue No. 1, Leukemia
Of the many forms of cancer, leukemia probably is the most tragic. For this cancer of the blood and blood-forming tissues, there is no cure. It is one of the most common fatal diseases in children—the traditional cause of that sad celebration, the "early Christmas." But now there is hope. Scientists have found that they can "cure" leukemia in laboratory mice. They do this by spraying the animals with X-rays. This "cure," however, is as lethal as the leukemia itself. Now researchers have found a "cure for the cure" ... a way of overcoming the deadly effects of X-rays. They do this by injecting the irradiated animals with marrow from other animals' bones. Herein, too, lies a difficulty ... the animals, cured of leukemia and radiation poisoning, die of the effects of the infused bone marrow. Some scientists now are seeking a "cure for the cure" of leukemia ... a way of overcoming the effects of the infused marrow. Help science help you! Send your contribution to the American Cancer Society!

Annual Junior-Senior Banquet Held

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was held Friday evening, May 2, at J. S. Club Hall. The theme chosen by the Junior class was "Moonlight and Roses" and this was carried out in decoration and program.

The setting was festive with the walls covered with crepe paper to resemble a brick wall. Red roses were scattered over the covering. A large yellow moon at one end of the hall lighted the room and over head was a canopy of midnight blue provided by blue streamers studded with silver stars.

Guests were seated at one large table and quartet tables which were laid with white cloths and white lace place mats. A single blue candle lighted each table. Nut cups were crested with a silver moon, with the "Moonlight and Roses" theme also carried out in napkins, menu, and place cards.

The meal, prepared by the women who serve the Lions Club, consisted of Moonlight and Rose Special (fried chicken), Moonbeams (corn and green beans), Fleecy Clouds (cream potatoes), Rose Petal Salad (green salad), Crescent Moon and Star Dust (rolls and butter), Lover's Delight (cake), Buds and Seeds (nuts), and Rose Nectar (iced tea). The meal was served by sophomore girls who also checked hats and seated the guests. They were dressed in red dresses and white aprons.

The program, "Moonlight," was opened by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moore, singing as duets "Moonlight and Roses" and "Ivy Rose." Miss Dianne Moore accompanied them at the piano. John Richardson, president of the Junior class and master of ceremonies, presented "Remembrances in Roses," the Welcome and a tribute to the Senior class. "Orchids to the Juniors" was a "thank you" from members of the Senior class delivered by their class president, Don Taylor while "Smiles Make Life a Serenade" was the theme of the comments made by Ted Weatherly. W. W. Pinkerton, superintendent, pronounced the Invocation.

Following the meal, W. W. Cooper, Junior class sponsor, spoke of an "Enchanting Evening," a new dawn for tomorrow, and J. N. Weaver, Senior class sponsor, concluded with "Shadows in the Moonlight," a farewell to seniors. John Richardson then invited the group to the Legion Hall for the Prom.

Decoration at the Legion Hall carried out the same theme of Moonlight and Roses and again blue streamers with silver stars hung over head. Highlight of the prom was the bursting of the balloon bag at midnight. A mass of balloons in an array of colors floated to the floor. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served throughout the evening. Music was provided by the Corvettes of Clarendon Junior College.

Attending were members of the Junior and Senior classes, high school faculty members, their husband or wife, school board members, their wives, student teachers, and school administrators and their wives.

White Bass Run On Major Lakes Now Under Way

AUSTIN—The big white bass spawning run is on again in pretty nearly all the major lakes and streams of Texas, according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

The whites, or sand bass as they are called in some localities, have been hitting heavy in some places for several weeks. Mainly, however, fishing has been adversely affected by rain.

This year the Rio Grande has been added to the white bass streams subject to huge runs. White bass had been stocked in lakes on the Devil's River in Val Verde County. When these lakes were flooded about five years ago many of the whites escaped down stream, to be caught up behind the newly constructed Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande near Zapata.

Last year the spawn was very heavy. As a result this year the fish have moved upstream by the thousands. Fishermen all the way from Del Rio south along the river on both sides have been catching heavy strings. In some of the smaller towns along the river tackle shops were completely cleaned out of tackle when news of the run got around.

The whites, which got their original start in Texas at Caddo, were planted in Lake Dallas in 1930. Since that time they have been moved about to other major lakes until today most of the lakes are filled with this fighting fish. They are so plentiful the limit has been set at 25 per day.

They can be caught on minnows or artificial bait. Their habits are somewhat like those of black bass in all respects except spawning. They are terrific underwater fighters and are fine eating.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith were business visitors in Wellington and Childress Tuesday and Wednesday. They also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Millard P. Brown while in Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pruett of Duncan, Okla. visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith Monday. They were enroute to Aztec, N. M., where they plan to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mays of Pampa announce the arrival of a son, Lynn Alton, Friday, May 2. The young man, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Mays, weighed 6 lbs, 5 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis, Brenda and Billy Sullivan of Odessa were guests at a birthday dinner in the W. E. Hodges home Sunday. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Pickering.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Green of Amarillo visited Sunday afternoon in the Walter Green home. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spencer of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. George Reeves.

COLLECT SPECIMENS OF WILD DESERT PLANT LIFE LUBBOCK—Texas Tech student botanists have collected specimens of wild desert plant life in the Big Bend country that eventually will help add the missing chapters in knowledge about West Texas flora.

Chester Rowell, Tech taxonomist and assistant professor of biology, said examples of the plant specimens will be permanently preserved and placed in the Tevh biology department's herbarium—a reference "library" of plants—for future research.

"There's been little or no research on flora of the Panhandle or South Plains," he said.

The three-day field collection of flora took place in the Black Gap State Wildlife Management area of the Chihuahuan Desert.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

1958 ACREAGE RESERVE

All producers who have an Acreage Reserve Agreement have been mailed a copy of their agreement and letters outlining the responsibilities and regulations they must comply with. We are expecting to start making the Acreage Reserve payments sometime this month. Receiving the payment does not relieve the producer of his responsibilities to the Acreage Reserve Agreement. The land will be checked through December 31, 1958 to see that the requirements are met.

PERMITTED ACRES

All Soil Bank producers soon will be mailed a Form CSS-845. This form indicates the permitted acres of Soil Bank base crops that may be harvested without violation of the agreement. It is important that the permitted acreage not be exceeded.

ACP PRACTICES

There are still available funds in the county budget for ACP practices that should be carried out this time of the year. As soon as a practice is finished, producers should bring their approval form to the office and make a report of performance. All Emergency practices must be reported not later than June 30, 1958.

THE LIONS DEN or The Roar of the Lions

By the Liontamer

"You don't miss the water 'til the well runs dry." This proverb is very old, but the truth of its content was never more evident than at the Lion's Club luncheon meeting Tuesday noon. Due to the make believe atomic bomb attack on our area at noon Tuesday, tail twister Clyde I. Price Jr., a member of the Ground Observer Corps, was pressed into duty. This absented him from his post at the Club.

The writer is convinced that Lion George Benson and Lion John Gillham immediately became aware of the value of an active tail twister at the meetings. At any rate the thankless job has greater value as a result of the absence.

The Lion's Club was honored to be host to Rev. Berkeley SoRelle, the guest of Lion J. H. Spier Jr. Reverend SoRelle was installed last Sunday as minister of the local Presbyterian Church, and the city of Clarendon can well be proud of a new citizen and capable young minister to aid in the religious efforts of the community.

Rev. SoRelle's application for membership in the club would be an asset. A very interesting short program in the form of a movie was presented. The picture was the launching of the Explorer satellite by the U. S. Army.

The Lion Tamer wishes to urge regular attendance of all members who are not on vacations at each meeting. During the summer when so many do take their vacation the attendance can be bolstered by special effort on the part of those who are in the community each week.

To Serve In Region IV Salvation Army

DALLAS — Appointment of Charles Brannen of Abilene to be new field representative for the Service Unit Department of The Salvation Army in Region IV, which includes the greater part of West Texas, is announced by Dan Eddy, State director for the Service Unit Department. The Service Unit is the local organization in many cities and towns in Texas through which the relief work and other activities of The Salvation Army are carried on.

A native of West Texas, having been born in Aspermont, where his father, C. E. Brannen was an abstractor and later county judge, Charles attended public schools in Aspermont and was graduated from the Ralls High School. After one year as a student at Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, he entered the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville and was graduated at mid-term of 1958 with degree of Bachelor of Science.

As field representative for Region IV, Brannen will travel extensively to cover the territory from the northern part of the Texas Panhandle to the Rio Grande, working with and assisting the local Service Unit Committees in more than sixty towns and communities.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hodges and Jack Trichred were in Pampa Wednesday on business.
