

World's Largest Oil Reservoir

UPON DISCOVERY THAT THE CLAY at Amuay, Venezuela, was impermeable enough to hold oil without any appreciable loss from seepage, the U. S. owned Creole Petroleum Corporation, with the help of experts from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has drastically cut storage costs in the construction of this 8,800,000 barrel earthen storage reservoir—the largest in the world. Covering nearly 29 acres, it is 60 feet deep and has an earthen dam 275 feet wide at base around two sides. This type of storage, built at a cost of $2,800,000, cuts cost to about 35 cents a barrel compared with $1.65 to $2.00 for conventional tank storage.

Hunts Bare Vital Data

AUSTIN—Public hunts designed to harvest surplus deer from wildlife management areas are yielding an increasing amount of valuable information, reports the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said field data has a bearing on several major phases such as: Hunter success with relation to the cover, density; Statistics on age and weight; Condition of game with relation to food supply; Trends in reproduction. The Director said preliminary field reports indicate that hunter success this year may be somewhat higher than in past seasons because of refinements in posting gunners on the basis of previous experience.

He added that, while only tentative evaluations have been reached thus far, that it appears likely that the public hunt seasons may have to be lengthened in order to successfully remove the deer surpluses occurring on the different areas.

This year eleven deer hunting days in all were allowed on the Kerr area; ten days on the Engeling area and six days on the Black Gap area.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE UNITED STATES TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Early filing of your 1956 income tax return will help Uncle Sam and yourself, says Mr. James Z. Pearce of Internal Revenue Service. The tax returns should be accompanied by a check, for any tax due, payable to Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

"The vast bulk of this area's taxpayers will find no difficulty in making out their own returns,"

Mr. Pearce said. "But for those who have difficulty, our office stands ready to give help or advice."

"To obtain aid and avoid the last minute crowds, call or come in now while our personnel are better able to assist you.

"It's true that the filing deadline is April 15, but little or nothing is gained by waiting until the last minute to pay up. Taking care of your payments now will help your government to carry on its important defense and construction programs and many other activities, and will let you plan your budget for the rest of the year with assurance."

The IRS representative stressed that careful reading of the in-

from the County ASC Committee

1957 CONSERVATION RESERVE

March 15, 1957 is the last date you can sign a contract for 1957 Conservation Reserve. The funds allotted Donley County are not sufficient to include every contract already signed for 1957, but funds to cover all the contracts signed before March 15, 1957 will be requested. We cannot request funds before you sign a contract.

1957 COTTON ACREAGE RESERVE

The average payment for Donley County for 1957 Cotton Acreage Reserve is $25.00. The County and Community Committeemen met last Friday to set the payment rates for each individual farm. Work is still being done, and as soon as it is completed, this information will be available to you at the Donley County ASC Office. The maximum amount of acreage that can be put into the Acreage Reserve is 30% of your cotton allotment or 10.0 acres, whichever is larger. This is a correction, for we first told the producers the maximum was 50% of your cotton allotment or 10.0 acres whichever is larger. At the time you sign a 1957 Acreage Reserve contract you should tell the clerk if you would like to have more than 30% of your allotment included in the contract. If the Country's budget is not used up, money will be available for those who designate that they would like to have more acreage in the Acreage Reserve.

The final date for signing a 1957 Acreage Reserve contract for Cotton is March 1, 1957, but we have not received the forms in the office yet. As soon as we receive the forms we will let the producers know.

FORM MQ-31

If you have not signed a Form MQ-31, please come into the office and do so the next time you are in town. This form preserves the Acreage History for cotton and wheat for your farm, regardless of the percent planted.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Hi Uncle Zeb

Mama and myself had just about the most wonderful Christmas last time of any that we can remember. Our children around a lot of the time, even all of the brothers-in-law came by and the beauty part about that was that they had already had one or two Christmas Dinners and their appetite was on the bum. I seldom get a break like this with those guys. But we did so enjoy all the folks and then so many many friends came by and sent cards and letters. It was surely a wonderful time for us.

There always has to be "One fly in the ointment" so to speak. And this is what happened this time. I gained several pounds during the holidays and that I can't afford. Anyway, Mama has me on a diet now and she is really after my extra pounds and even a few that we had before the feast days. The other night she brought me my supper which we ate almost instantly as we sat there watching TV. After awhile I forgot and asked: "Mama, when do we eat?" Was I ever in the doghouse? But you would have done the same thing. Honest it was so little. But it is going to be good for me I know and my better judgment wants to cooperate but my middle section keeps on nagging for another helping.

Anyway, there is a so-called "Silver Lining to the cloud." I have already lost six pounds. My, my, I hardly make a shadow sideways already. Just take a good look at me next time you see me. In the mean time send us your own favorite diet for losing weight. Maybe we can find a better one.

Speaking of Mama; the other day we met a certain person for the first time, one that had been a reader of this column for a long time, and this person thought that we were a bachelor and lived with our Mother. No, No, Mama is my ever loving wife. She is the one that for lo, these many years has relieved my mother of the worry of Me. Perhaps some others have been mistaken likewise, as this reader.

Today we received a letter from a wonderful lady who belongs to the little Shut-In Club that we help with sometimes. She is such a fine person and we hated to see her with the blues. But, we all get them sometimes, so all of you sit right down and write a letter sort of cheering up our good friend Miss Dorothy Johnson, whose address is 307 N. East St., Oberlin, Kans. You will be glad that you did this good deed.

Anyway, Dorothy said she wanted to cry on someone's shoulder and we are glad that she chose our own. Many a time we have written to our friends with this same thought in mind, and afterward we did always feel much much better. Thanks Dorothy.

She mentioned the story of the little girl who upon going to bed begged her mother to stay with her awhile and hold her hand until she went to sleep.

"Honey," said the mother, "God is always with you."

"I know," said the little daughter, "but I want someone with skin on."

Do you know what? This little girl had something. We know that God is Real and that He keeps us and watches over us, and that He made us what we are and who we are. But sometimes we need another fellow creature; one that God also created to sort of make things seem real. God taught us this very lesson when He said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself." Also, when Jesus started His Church in the World, He just sort of reckoned in advance that we mortals needed each other. Dorothy also sent this wonderful thought in poem. I do not know the author.

God is in every tomorrow;
Therefore I live for today,
Certain of finding at sunrise,
Guidance and strength for the way;
Power for each moment of weakness;
Hope for each moment of pain,
Comfort for every sorrow,
Sunshine and joy after rain.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Interest in the Conservation Reserve phase of the Soil Bank has been high in this District. This is the part of the Soil Bank Bill which pays an annual lease on cropland for a period of 5 or 10 years while it is being established to grass. This is a wonderful opportunity for farmers with land which they know should never have been broken out, or which has ceased to produce a profitable return, to establish such land to a good grass cover and to receive an annual cash return from it during that period when the grass is becoming established. A farmer placing a part of his land in the Conservation Reserve should do some long time planning ahead of time to be sure that he is placing that part of his land in the program which he is most likely to leave in grass. Another thing to be considered is whether he plans to leave the land in grass just for the period of the contract—or permanently. This is important because it should determine to a large extent the kind of grass he will plant on the land and the kind of grass to be planted should determine the land preparation prior to seeding the grass. The Soil Conservation Service has soil maps on most of the cropland in the Donley Soil Conservation District, and will be glad to make available to any farmer the soils information on his farm, as well as advise with him on planning information.

Gayle Lemons Receives C. H.S. Homemaker Of Tomorrow Award

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in Clarendon High School is Gayle Lemons.

She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes, administered Dec. 4, to senior girls in the graduating class. Her examination paper will name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. For her achievement, she will receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

The national winner in the third annual Search conducted among 300,528 young women in 11,636 of the nation's public, private and parochial high schools will be named May 2nd at the American Table banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City.

General Mills is sponsor of the program designed to assist schools in education for home and family living and to emphasize through a sound scholarship award program the personal qualities and sense of values necessary to successful homemaking. A total of $106,000 in scholarships will be awarded.

Each state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school adviser to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the runner-up girls in each state. The school of the state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The scholarship of the young woman named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. This year for the first time girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships respectively.

Rep. Will Ehrle To Co-sponsor Proposed Commercial Feed Law

AUSTIN—Will Ehrle has announced that he will co-sponsor the proposed Texas Commercial Feed Law during the 55th session of the Texas Legislature.

In his release Ehrle said, "The State of Texas has long been negligent in failing to provide adequate and safe standards for commercial feed products in order to protect our Texas farmers and ranchers."

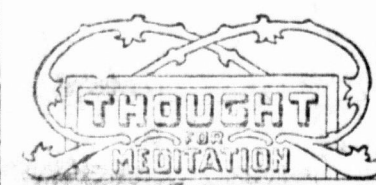

This legislation was introduced at the last session but failed to receive a majority vote and consequently did not pass the House of Representatives.

"I am hoping," Ehrle said, "that we will be able to secure early passage of this most important legislation. This law at the present time has the support and backing of every farm group, livestock organization, and grain and feed dealers association in the state."

"In these times of drought I feel that everything we can possibly do to assure our farmers and ranchers of getting value received for every penny spent should and must be done."

Best thing about portable irrigation is that you get water where and when you want it. Hilly terrain is no problem. Sandy soil that sucks water out of ordinary irrigation ditches is no problem.

Portable irrigation is as precise as watering each plant by hand. What does this freedom from dry spells and troublesome terrain cost? A lot less than you think. We know farmers, right in this county, who have paid for their systems in two years—three years. They did it with better crops. By getting to market first. By being independent of drought.

Call us or stop in today and let us show you how to engineer a portable irrigation system to your farm. We carry complete systems, parts and the very finest Alcoa Aluminum Pipe.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Texas' 55th Legislature is down to business with a "first things first" agenda.

House members agreed to Speaker Waggoner Carr's plea to give top priority to appropriations. A $2,000,000,000 appropriation bill is proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. It would require no new taxes. But it does include such strongly-backed items as the teacher pay raises.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee, headed by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, already have begun their dollar-by-dollar deliberations. Said Speaker Carr, as they began, "You are the key to the whole session."

A host of other controversial problems will be pushing for attention. Among them:

1. Long-range, state-wide water conservation. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Water Resources Committee, is asking for prompt action. Sixteen bills, two constitutional amendments were presented by the committee.

2. School integration. Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs circulated a Texas Manifesto which pledged signers to support legislation to help preserve school segregation.

3. Election code revisions. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas proposes a law requiring a run-off between top candidates in special elections for U. S. Senators and congressmen-at-large. He wants it passed on an emergency basis to apply to the upcoming race for Price Daniel's place. Republicans are protesting vigorously.

4. Lobby control and legislative ethics. Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Daisett says he will introduce a bill requiring lobbyists to file monthly financial reports.

KEY POSTS ASSIGNED

Though new faces abound—56 in the House, seven in the Senate—honors, as usual, went to old hands.

Sen. Otis E. Lock of Lufkin, veteran of nearly 20 years in the Legislature, was elected Senate president pro tempore. It is the top Senate honor, second in line to the governorship.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is a fourth-termer.

Rep. Max C. Smith of San Marcos, now in his seventh term, drew the important House appropriations committee chairmanship. Other key chairmen in the House are Frates S. Seeligson of San Antonio, revenue and taxation; W. S. (Bill) Heatly of Paducah, state affairs.

NEW ERA

Secretaries will be heard, but not seen, this session. This and a number of other innovations are being tried out by the 55th Legislators.

Formerly the lawmakers' secretaries, usually including many University coeds, were on and off the floor all during sessions. House members' secretaries had no desks of their own.

Now the house secretaries have basement offices. Their employers have new private telephones to call their secretaries, other lawmakers' desks and outside.

But banished secretaries can console themselves with pay raises—up from $9 to $10 a day in the House, from $12 to $14 in the Senate. Both are paid seven days a week.

Even so, many observers deplored the passing of the secretarial "beauty parade."

House members also voted to permit radio and television broadcasting of their sessions.

FOUR SEEK SPEAKERSHIP

Campaigning for Speaker of the House in 1959 already has begun.

Candidates are Reps. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, Ben A. Glusling of Kingsville, Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and Will Smith of Beaumont.

Decision will not be definite until after the 1958 elections.

CITIZEN SHIVERS

Gov. Allan Shivers steps out of the Capitol into multiple private business activities.

He will continue to live in Austin where he will serve as chairman of the board of Western Pipe-Lines, Inc. He also will oversee his farm and ranch property at Woodville and the Shary estate in the Valley.

His family moves from the mansion to a large rented home while remodeling of their next home, the 100-year-old Peace Mansion, is completed.

In his farewell address to the Legislature, Governor Shivers urged an unemotional approach to segregation problems. He gave his backing to a primary in the special senatorial election.

His departure closes a spectacular public career begun 22 years ago as a state senator from an East Texas district.

HISTORICAL SPECTACLES

The use of eyeglasses did not originate in the long-distant pre-Christian era as many persons believe, the researchers for Murine Company of Chicago state. While the first inventor of spectacles is not known, the first historical reference to the use of lenses as a means of aiding sight, points to Bacon. Bifocal spectacles were invented by America's many-sided genius, Benjamin Franklin.
