STUBBLE MULCH

-VS-

INSECTS

By Myles A. Kelly
 Area Conservationist
 SCS - Pampa, Texas

During the past few months there has been some discussion concerning the possible increase in grasshopper infestation brought about through the use of stubble mulch tillage.

Stubble mulch tillage does not increase grasshoppers. Stubble mulching is one of the most important conservation practices for use in combating both wind and water erosion.

Mr. Norris E. Daniels, Asst. Entomologist, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, Bushland, Texas, advises that "there is little danger of causing infestation" through the use of stubble mulch tillage.

Since 1951 studies on insects at the Bushland Station indicate that for greenbugs there is no apparent difference between mulched and clean land and so far as is known, "residue does not cause Greenbug infestations." Likewise, there are no apparent differences for cutworms. In regards to grasshoppers, "some species, lay eggs in trashy places but most species deposit their eggs in solid surfaces such as fence rows or even the hard road." Mr. Daniels states that "false wireworms might deposit more eggs in a trashy field but the moisture conserved by the mulch would compensate for this as these larvae like dry soil and would not do as much damage or stay long in moist soil." He further advises that although brown wheat mites are usually more numerous on wheat that is planted in trashy ground, "falling would tend to keep their population low because their overwintering eggs hatch from the wheat straw and the young die if there is no wheat or green plants for them to live on. Brown mites do little damage anyway if there is available moisture. They are, as a rule, found heavier in continuous wheat. I would not worry too much about mites."

In general, Mr. Daniels states "All in all, I would say stubble mulch is best as it would compensate in moisture for what little infestation it might cause."

The stubble mulch plots have been going on at the Station since 1941 and I do not believe anyone has noticed more pests on one plot than another."

It is felt that stubble mulch tillage should be practiced by all farmers and ranchers in this area. Any possible undesirable effects will be greatly overcome by the numerous advantages to the soil through the use of this practice. Remember, cover, in any form, helps to prevent erosion and conserve moisture.

Fishermen are getting smarter all the time: They may not be catching any more fish, but at least they're making sure the long hours in the boat will be physically comfortable by adding such items as sun-tan lotion, bandages, eye drops, iodine and salt tablets to their tackle boxes. Also it's wise to take along a comfortable kapok cushion that can double as a life preserver.

Here's something that we sure wanted to call to the attention of all our readers. Next Sunday is Shut-Ins Day. This day was started and is being promoted nationwide by Clarence E. Power, 301 Cherokee St., Marietta, Georgia. Clarence has been bedridden since 1926 with the same disease that conquered the powerful Lou Gehrig. At first his case was seemingly hopeless but from his bedside Clarence has continued to write and cheer up others who were shut in. God has blessed him and his work. Drop him a card that you are helping to establish this day, and more than that find someone to do something for on next Sunday — the first Sunday in June. Help make it a more joyful day for someone less fortunate than you THIS NEXT SUNDAY, and you will find that you are more fortunate than you think. Don't forget!!

SOCIAL SECURITY INFORMATION

Arrival of spring brings thoughts of vacation plans to millions of high school and college students. "Students planning to work should get social security cards now," advises John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security District Office.

"Having his social security card with him to show prospective employers may help a student get the job," continued Sanderson, "because most employers now insist on copying the name and number directly from the card for their records. This prevents mistakes in the name and number on the wage reports the employer has to file. As earnings can be credited only when the name and number are correct, and as benefits payable in old-age or to dependent survivors in case of death are based on earnings credited, it is very important that the reports be correct."

Sanderson added that students who had had a social security card before and lost it should apply for a duplicate and not another original card. He explained that having earnings credited to two or more social security numbers could result in earnings credited to one number not being used for benefits purposes. An application for social security card, including duplicates, can be obtained from the Amarillo Social Security Office or any post office.

Nearly all kinds of work a student might do during vacation is now covered by social security, according to Sanderson, including work on farms and ranches when he receives at least $100 in cash wages from one employer during the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ritter returned home Saturday from a ten day vacation trip to Louisiana. They visited friends at Jackson and Baton Rouge.

Experts Give Tips On Menu Planning

Winners of the American Kitchens Menu Planning Awards at the Mrs. America Contest get together to discuss tricks for keeping families hale and hearty the year 'round. Left to right: Mrs. Ruth Shapiro, Tennessee; Mrs. Cleo Maletis of Oregon, "Mrs. America of 1957" and Mrs. Gloria Butch of Ohio.

Economy, nutrition and suitability to the typical American family are the three points on which the American Kitchens Menu Planning Award winners were judged recently at the Mrs. America finals in Florida.

All agreed that a hearty breakfast is necessary for good health, and that variety of foods is important for balance and for keeping appetites keen.

To solve the "what-to-serve" problem, Mrs. Cleo Maletis, "Mrs. America of 1957," suggests setting up a basic menu pattern for each meal, then fitting different foods into the pattern for variety. Mrs. Maletis plans carefully to make sure all basic foods appear in each day's meal.

Variety in color, flavor and texture are stressed for perfection in meal planning by Mrs. Ruth Shapiro of Tennessee.

Mrs. Gloria Butch of Ohio believes in balancing meals, not only for nutrition, but dish for dish, as well. For example, she teams a rich pork entree with a light dessert—or serves hot soup for an appetizer when the main dish is a cold salad.

The winning menus follow the established rules of the accepted basic foods for keeping family health above par and maintaining variety in everyday meals.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sullivan of Claude announce the arrival of a daughter May 26th. The young lady weighed 10 lbs. and has been named Deborah Kay. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sullivan of Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Oxley of Hornbeck, La.

Improved methods of detection, such as the Papanicolaou smear, have played an important part in reducing the uterine cancer death rate among women by 40 per cent in the years from 1930 to 1952, the American Cancer Society reports.

F.F.A. Banquet
The FFA held their annual Father and Son Banquet Friday in school cafeteria with a large crowd attending. The FFA officers performed their opening ceremonies. Bobby Couch gave the invocation. Richard Stotts welcomed the guests. The highlight of the evening was fried chicken, gravy, creamed potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, hot rolls, ice tea and strawberry short cake. A girls chorus furnished entertainment. Bill Scales introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Leon Hill of Amarillo who kept the crowd laughing from start to finish. The Adviser presented awards to Carl Morris, Berle Owens, Donald Youree, Bobby Couch, Chas. Darnell and John Stephens. The fine meal was prepared by the FFA mothers.

Seniors Entertained

The PTA entertained the Senior class, their teachers, room parents with their annual Senior Breakfast Sunday morning in school cafeteria (preceding the Baccalaureate service). The center piece for the table was a replica of Hedley High School with figures of Seniors standing in front and backed by white carnations. Place favors were miniature figures of graduates, each one bearing a guest's name. Supt. Hinds gave the invocation. PTA president Mrs. A. E. Ranson welcomed the guests. Sandra Youree gave the response. Mrs. Ben Wilson, Senior sponsor, paid a high tribute to the seniors. A high school girls chorus sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Best Things in Life Are Free," accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Shields. Orange juice, Canadian bacon, scrambled eggs, hot biscuits and jelly and coffee were served.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

We have tried desperately to discover something amusing that could be used as a book review. The suggestions or sketches of the books seem encouraging but when I read them they are quite undesirable. Some have been returned to the book stores, but others couldn't be returned.

We are releasing John Gunther's "Inside Africa" this week. It is a book we have been eager to secure for the Library, and this copy was given in memory of Mrs. Knorpp by Mr. and Mrs. Kunz.

We received several used books and a copy of "Brie" Guady Hour", novel of Anne Boleyn by Margaret Campbell Barnes. This is a 1949 Book Club edition, but we did not possess a copy, and it can be enjoyed by our patrons.

Mr. Walter Taylor gave us an attractive picture from the First National Bank. It is "The Devil's Tombstone" in Paloduro Canyon State Park. It is quite attractive, but it was difficult to discover a vacant spot where it could be seen to advantage.

We have a donation for two books in memory of Tom Goodner. The shelf in his memory has some excellent books on science for Juniors, and biographies, horse and dog books, and several references on literature.

Mrs. Mears and Mrs. Ballew gave their room children Library cards to be used for three summer months. It is astonishing to know how delighted these children are to read books from the Library during the summer months. They greatly appreciate the gift.

VACATION TIPS Here's a tip for vacationing motorists: Put that glove compartment to work by turning it into a well-stocked first aid kit which should include such standard items as bandages, iodine, eye drops, aspirin and salt tablets. Each of these will play an important part in making the long drive to vacationland an enjoyable experience instead of a nightmare.

In 1948, the WAVES, originally intended as "for the duration" only, became a permanent part of the Regular Navy of the United States. They earned this honored position in our armed forces by a combination of hard work, tact, and ability.

An Early Season Glance At Cotton

John White, Commissioner Texas Department of Agriculture

Cotton prospects are very much in doubt in some areas of Texas this spring where farmers are plagued with either too much or too little rain.

"Too much rain" is only a temporary condition of course, but it occurred in one area where extreme drouth prevailed only a few miles away. It was in the "hardship zone" between San Antonio, Laredo and Corpus Christi—a 17-county region that has been subnormal in moisture for nearly seven years.

Bee, Live Oak and McMullen counties are examples where drouth has made the cotton outlook negative this year. Bee County has a cotton allotment of 15,000 acres and, until a few days ago only 9,000 had been seeded. Many of these were planted on a "risk" basis and about 3,000 may never come up unless rain is received immediately.

In Live Oak County, only about 2,500 of the 20,000 cotton acres allotted had been planted the first of May and many of these allotments were returned for redistribution over the state. McMullen County has had less than one inch of rain since January 1st. One 15.1 acre plot of the 1,500 allotment was sown by May 1st.

Around Nueces County with Corpus Christi as the county seat, much of the cotton already planted was washed out by recent heavy rains. Counties to the north and northeast had the same problem.

These counties are not typical of the state, but each area has its own problems. Moisture is badly needed in the dry-land farming sections of the Panhandle and West Texas where farmers soon will be planting.

Estimates of the cotton crop traditionally are released about the first week in August. A revised version of the 1955 crop was released this week which placed Texas production at 4,039,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. Value of the 1955 lint production amounted to $611,388,000 based on the average price of 30.3 cents per pound for the season.

Cottonseed from the 1955 crop amounted to 1,687,000 tons or 2 percent above the 1,647,000 tons of 1954. The increased production was more than offset however by lower prices with value of cottonseed last year amounting to $77,433,000 or about three-fourths that of the year before.

Weather Control By Cloud Seeding?

John C. White, Commissioner Texas Department of Agriculture

This is the season of the triple-threat to crops — hail, lightning and tornadoes—in Texas.

Can their potential dangers be minimized? A number of weather control studies are being made to find out.

All three of these natural disasters cause tremendous damage in Texas each year. Hail is a deadly destroyer of crops and can churn the year's work and income of a thousand farm families into mush in a half-hour. Lightning is particularly dangerous in starting forest-fires in the wooded sections of East Texas.

Back in 1946, when cloudseeding became prominent in the news a young General Electric scientist, Vincent Schaefer, became interested in the possibility of suppressing hail and lightning by this method.

Lightning and hail occur in the same general type of storm which may grow into a tornado. These storms come from the immense blue-black thunderclouds that tower far above the freezing line into the atmosphere for as much as nine miles or even more.

When water-vapor condenses into a cloud, it gives back to the atmosphere the heat-energy that turned it into vapor in the first place. Such energy is enormous. Even any small thunderstorm represents the energy of several atomic bombs. This energy is discharged in lightning, or in rain.

If such a cloud "cannot rain," but builds up in bellowing anguish to great heights, it may result in destructive hail or lightning, tornadoes—or all three.

Experiments have shown that cloud seeding induces rain or snow more quickly than under natural conditions. Thus seeding may cut down cloud growth, and the menace of the bellowing clouds.

This, and other possibilities, are being studied by the U. S. Committee on Weather Control. We are still a long way from "ready-made weather," but the reduction of natural disasters may not be too far in the future.

It's Time To Vaccinate

School officials are reminding all parents of youngsters who will be starting school for the first time this fall, to have these young folks vaccinated for small pox now so they will have plenty of time to get over it before school starts. It is mandatory that all youngsters be vaccinated before they may be enrolled in the local schools. By having your youngster vaccinated now you can avoid possible extra soreness and complications that might be brought about after school is started as youngsters are always scuffling around after they get together at school.

Dusters To Play At Hedley Sunday

The Clarendon Dusters will journey to Hedley next Sunday afternoon (weather permitting) to play their next game on the Caprock League schedule. When Hedley and Clarendon get together you can always expect a very good game as both teams play just a little bit harder than usual and there is no other team in the district that either would rather defeat.

The Dusters game at Turkey last Sunday was called off due to wet weather. We understand that the Turkey boys called up and told the locals to come on down if they could use oars for bats and boats to run the bases.

HEALTH NOTES

Texas State Dept. of Health

AUSTIN—Many inquiries are received each day by the Texas State Department of Health regarding Salk polio vaccine. One injection is of some value but should be followed in four weeks with the second shot and the third seven months to a year later.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, says the second shot is important and definitely increases the immunity. Even though the second cannot be given for several months, the delay does not lessen the value of the first. Maximum immunity does not develop until after the third shot.

It is advisable to immunize children who have had poliomyelitis because an attack confers immunity only against the one virus type involved and gives no protection against the other two types.

The Salk vaccine is of no value in treating the disease. It should not be used for prophylaxis in family contacts of diagnosed cases, the reason for this being that the remaining members of the family usually are infected with the virus by the time the original case develops symptoms of the disease. The vaccine should not be given to individuals during a major illness or to those with symptoms that may represent early polio, such as fever, sore throat or stomach upset.

Dr. Holle says that immunizations should be given before the peak of the season if possible but can be given throughout the summer. Second injections can be given even when the incidence is rising with very little risk. The risk, if any, is less than the risk of acquiring the disease in unvaccinated children.

The Commissioner of Health reports that only about one third of those eligible to receive the vaccine have received one or more injections. He urges all those below the age of twenty and pregnant women who have not had at least the first immunization "shot" to do so at once.

Mrs. Eula Lowe of Lelia Lake attended graduation exercises at Texas Tech Monday evening where her son, John Nanney was a member of the graduating class.

Napoleon of France crowned himself because he considered that no one was great enough to do it.

I TELL THE TRUTH.
The above is the actual truth and no wet propaganda can prove otherwise.

The following little story is a good illustration of what could happen if we should listen to the Communist Sweet Talk. It is called;

THE POLITICAL EGG

Once upon a time there were two farmers. Each had a hen that laid twenty eggs a month. Both farmers liked eggs, so one ate his. But the other did without, and instead put his in an incubator, which he bought by borrowing money. In due time he had 200 chickens from his one. A shocking profit, (before taxes)

He sold some to pay off the loan on his incubator; he ate some as a reward for all his labor in raising the brood. And he sold a good many to pay his income tax. But he still had some left.

So the farmer who had eaten all his eggs got a law passed. The neighbors divided up the chicken raising farmer's "Profits" and ate them. After all, they said, he had more than he needed (Russian Marxism) and they were hungry. Naturally the farmer wasn't going to raise any more chickens just to have them taken away from him, so he ate his eggs too. In due time both the farmers original hens died of old age, and there weren't any eggs for anybody. No chickens either. The neighbors were quite sure it was the chicken raiser's fault.

The political egg eaters will likely realize some day that the chicken raisers will get tired of being saps all the time.—Copied.

We got quite a kick out of the above. It even proves that you can't legislate perfection out of any business. The only real wealth is that which is created or grown.

Veterans Asked To Cash Leave Bonds; Buy E's

DALLAS—Thousands of World War II veterans in Texas are holding Armed Forces Leave Bonds that have drawn no interest for five years or longer, and Uncle Sam would like to pay up—an average of $200 apiece.

Jesse L. Adams, Jr., state sales director of the U. S. Treasury's Savings Bonds Division, has an idea for these ex-G.O.'s who apparently don't need the money right now. He suggests they redeem those Leave Bonds and put the money in Series E Savings Bonds, which pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually when held to maturity of nine years and eight months.

In the country as a whole, 130,000 veterans hold Leave Bonds worth $26 million. It's all that's left of more than two billion dollars paid to members of the Armed Forces discharged between April 1943 and October 1, 1946. The five-year bonds, carrying an interest rate of 2½ per cent a year, were used to reimburse veterans for unused leave.

A special act of Congress in 1947 made the bonds redeemable after September 1 of that year. Some $1.5 billion were cashed within the next few months; others were held to draw additional interest. However, the last of these matured on October 1, 1951, and have drawn no interest since that date.

"Now the Treasury would like to clear its books of this bond issue," Mr. Adams said, "and is calling on all veterans' organizations to help locate the 130,000 bond owners. Then when these bonds are cashed, I can think of no better place to put the money than in safe, sure, indestructible United States Savings Bonds. "And," Mr. Adams added, "if you don't have any Leave Bonds, Savings Bonds are still a good buy."

Farm Housing Program Reactivated

Walter T. McKay, State Director of Farmers Home Administration announced today that eligible farmers in Texas may obtain farm housing loans from the Agency. Funds for the loans were recently made available by a supplemental appropriation.

Applications for these loans may be made at the Farmers Home Administration office in Clarendon. Farm housing loans may be made for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm building, including farmstead water supplies. Interest on the loans will be 4 percent per year on the unpaid principal. Repayments may be scheduled over periods up to 33 years. The loans will be secured by a mortgage on the borrower's farm.

Building plans and specifications for the improvements to be financed with the farm housing loan will be obtained by the applicant. Farmers Home Administration will review the plans and inspect construction as it progresses to assist the borrower in obtaining construction that meets generally accepted standards of soundness.

The local county FHA committee determines the eligibility of applicants for farm housing loans. To be eligible, Mr. McKay explained, an applicant must be the owner of a farm, be unable to obtain suitable credit for dwellings and other buildings from other lenders, and have enough farm income or income from the farm and other sources to meet family living and farm operating expenses and repay his debts.

The farm housing loans are made under the authority of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended. In Texas 1,165 farm housing loans have been made for a total of $6,726,135; $1,996,299 of this amount has been repaid. In addition, interest collected thru December 31, 1955 totalled $864,030.

The supplemental appropriation Act which was signed by President Eisenhower May 19 made $5,000,000 available for farm housing loans. At present no additional funds are authorized after June 30, 1956. Mr. McKay stated that the Farmers Home Administration also extends credit for farm housing under the convention delegate. Yoakum and Harrison County conventions recommended preferential primaries for presidential nominees.

A number of resolutions were aimed at forcing conservative Democrats into becoming Republicans. Two counties, Swisher and Wilson, resolved that voters be required to register party preferences when they pay poll taxes.

Gray County Democrats also took a dim view of present procedures. Something is wrong they said, when admitted Republicans are so scarce they can hold "precinct conventions in a telephone booth," yet carry the state in a general election.

AMERICAN GUARANTY CLEARED

Two Austin corporations, American Guaranty Underwriters and the Karisch Co., have been cleared of charges of violating the state securities act.

On an agreed judgment, the firms were absolved of any wrongdoing.

The judgment directed American Guaranty to refrain from reselling its own stock. It also was directed to call in, and require payment within 60 days, loans made to Aviation Finance Co. and Metropolitan Finance Co., both of San Antonio.

There was no allegation of insolvency involved.

Calvin C. Huffman, Austin attorney, is president of American Guaranty. He is a former newspaper publisher from Eagle Pass.

Civil recovery suits may yet be filed against the salesmen of the Certified Drafts of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty Co.

INSURANCE DEADLINE NEARS

Some 120 insurance companies have yet to meet the legal requirements for annual permits to do business in Texas.

The Insurance Commission has indicated that it will take prompt action toward closing the firms that fail to make the June 1 deadline. The firms include 20 stock life insurance companies and 100 mutuals of various sorts. Most are small concerns.

DEFENS U. S. SUPREME COURT

The U. S. Supreme Court, a frequent target of criticism, has a defender in Austin Attorney Everett Looney, immediate past president of the State Bar of Texas.

Looney declared, in a speech before the Dallas Criminal Bar Association, that such attacks by politicians are "heresy without equal in our history." He said "the number one scapegoat of American politics, the one safe target of the vilifiers, the rabble-rousers, the washed and the unwashed mongers of hate, is the federal judiciary."

Looney accused critics of the court of creating a "climate of frenzy" and "hysteria" which threatens to destroy the American system of justice. He charged that political agitators who preach disobedience will reign supreme if the court is dislodged from its supremacy as the arbiter of law and order.

ANTI-TB WAR LAUNCHED

A 10-year "total war" against tuberculosis is under way in Texas. There are 20,000 active cases in the state, not including an estimated three per cent of the wet-backs who enter the state illegally.

Strategy was mapped in Austin by some 300 health experts and laymen. They met under auspices of the Texas Tuberculosis Assn.

Out of discussions came 20 recommendations for "killing the killer." Included were (1) intensified efforts to find and treat tuberculars, (2) increased aid to dependents of TB victims and (3) more incentive to medical personnel to work in TB hospitals.

MORE VACCINATIONS URGED

Widespread inoculation to prevent a major polio epidemic is being urged by the State Department of Health. Polio cases for 1956 already total 257. This is an increase of 62 over this time last year. Peak outbreak usually hits Texas in July and August. Only one-third of those eligible for Salk shots have received them.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

VETERANS BENEFITS
You have been reading quite a bit lately concerning some proposals of the Hoover Commission and related committees having to do with certain limitations on veterans benefits.

There are a number of people on the political scene in this country who seem to feel that they are very courageous when they attack veterans benefit programs. They base this conclusion on the theory that it is political suicide for anyone to oppose veterans organizations on a benefit issue. They, therefore, conclude that they are entitled to some type of political martyrdom if they can muster the courage to criticize a veterans program.

Actually, nothing could be further from the truth. My experience has been that the veterans organizations do their best to work out a sound approach to the problems with which they are confronted. They bring these matters to the Congress as suggestions and not as demands. If they have made a mistake in some of their suggestions, they welcome constructive criticism and correction. It was my honor to serve on the Veterans Committee during my first term of office. Frankly, I have never found a group that was more dedicated to a logical approach than the Veterans who appeared before that Committee and the representatives of veterans organizations. It is true that there is an occasional situation arising where some individual undertakes to cheat the government through some of the veterans programs. However, it must be remembered that there are crooks in all walks of life. Because a few try to cheat the government through the Veterans Administration, is no justification for proposals that would destroy the entire veterans programs.

What is needed is not a destruction of the veterans programs, but a plowing up and turning under of the Veterans Administration. If everyone is running into the types of situations that have been coming into my office in the nature of complaints against the Veterans Administration, it would be my conclusion that a bad case of bureaucratitis has set in down there, and something should be done to cure it, quickly.

For instance, veterans who have been collecting benefits under a service connected disability rating for periods of as long as 10 years have suddenly had their cases reviewed and their service connection rating discontinued. The Veterans Administration has advised some of these that they had been given a service connection rating in error, and that although the same had been reviewed and continued on several occasions, it would now be discontinued. Some of these are pitiful cases. The re-evaluation of the discontinuance of the service connection by the Veterans Administration could properly be called an "agonizing reappraisal". Agonizing, certainly, to the veteran who is being arbitrarily wronged under the circumstances. This is only one of the several arbitrary actions that have been practiced by the Veterans Administration, recently. I sincerely hope that those responsible for this unconscionable action get some satisfaction by thinking that they are following a courageous course. It is my opinion that the arbitrary exercise of such powers is a flagrant violation of the rules of decency and good conduct and that such violation is doubly aggravated when the victim is a veteran of this country. I expect to pursue a proper correction of these abuses until they are stopped.

NEWS ITEMS TO WATCH FOR

There will, no doubt, be continued attempts to squelch much publicity on some tidbits of news concerning some government officials. It developed the other day in a Senate hearing, that it is quite possible that some of the high officials in the Immigration Division of the Justice Department might be using some of their powers for their personal convenience. The development was that one high Immigration official had a Mexican maid, who was a Mexican National, and who was imported into this country from Mexico for the specific purpose of going to work for this official. The justification seemed to be that house maids were hard to get in the Washington area. Although the story did not break wide open on the front pages of the Washington Post (it barely cracked the shell — inside the paper at first, and then to the front page), this writer does not believe that the excuse given by the official will be entirely acceptable to the Congress or the country. Unless some political action is taken to stop the whole story, you may expect to hear a great deal more about it.

What Does God's Law Say— "BETWEEN The Lines?"

Few Christians will deny that the Ten Commandments are God's design for human conduct. Some so-called Christians think they are out-moded.

But how many know what they really mean?

"Thou shalt not steal," for example, obviously forbids robbery, burglary and embezzlement. What many evidently do not realize is that this Commandment also forbids evasion of just debts, bribery to gain political and business advantages, lending money at usurious rates, and other sharp practices which are often dishonestly excused as "smart business."

The Commandments speak only in broad, general terms. Their full meaning can be understood only in the light of the teaching of the New Testament. "I am the Lord, thy God; thou shalt not have strange gods before me," is taken by some to mean only that they must believe in a Supreme Being. Actually, it obliges us to prayer, gratitude, hope and worship, even though these words are not mentioned.

Most Christians agree that the Lord's Day must be kept holy. Yet there is a wide difference of opinion as to how this should be done . . . indeed, there is even some disagreement as to when the Lord's Day should be observed.

When God said "Thou shalt not kill," He was not warning mankind merely against murder due to greed, lust or vengeance. He was telling us plainly that He, Who alone had the power to create human life, was reserving for Himself the right to take it away. And He made no exceptions for deliberate abortion and the so-called "mercy killings" which some Christians seek to justify today.

A wide variance of opinion also prevails as to the meaning of the Commandment: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." Some apparently think this is a prohibition only against perjury in a courtroom. Actually, it is a warning against lies of all descriptions and all acts of commission and omission which injure the good name and reputation of another.

You hear people say, with smug assurance: "I keep the Commandments—that's enough." And it would indeed be enough if they truly understood what the Commandments require. But we must read "between the lines" if we are rightly to understand God's instructions and to live according to His design. If you want to be sure . . . if you want to refresh your mind on the true and full meaning of God's rules of life . . . write today for our free Pamphlet No. KC-12. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper, and nobody will call on you.

The City-Shopping Habit

... a disease which, if let to gain too much headway, can short-change him on schools, churches, friends, neighbors, and his old man's pay check.

And he's helpless to do anything about it - until, when he grows up, he has to take off and try to find opportunity somewhere else ... in the far places where his neighbors have scattered the community substance which Providence entrusted to their care.

We often hear folks around here complaining that our young people nearly always have to hunt their fortunes in other places because we don't have opportunities for them.

Home-spent dollars create those opportunities ... help to keep our sons and daughters content and prosperous in our own midst.

Let's Give Our Junior Citizens a Better Break

Small communities ... like this one of ours ... are the finest places in the world for youngsters to grow up. They are the strongholds of the real American way of life and our country's greatest source of leadership.

Away from the regimented bee-hive life of the cities, a child has a better chance to develop the broad and independent viewpoint that makes useful leaders.

But ... if we keep our small communities intact, with good schools and churches and comfortable living standards, we're going to have to slow down on the Great Give-Away ... small town people giving away their community assets to Big-City business.
