Head-On Collision Claims Lives Of Hedley Couple Sunday Night

A head-on collision about 10:30 Sunday night just west of the caution light at the intersection of highway 287 - 70 claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Reeves, prominent Hedley couple, and left three others in critical condition.

Their son, Buddy Reeves, is in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo and had not regained consciousness at last report. He suffered a severe head injury. The fourth passenger in the Reeves car, Miss Sharon Harrison of Memphis, was not seriously hurt and was released from the hospital Tuesday. The driver of the other car, Orville McIlvanie, 16, of Fort Morgan, Colorado, and Mrs. Ella Corinne Hyatt, 22, of Brush, Colo., are in a very critical condition in the Amarillo hospital.

The Reeves car was traveling east and the other car was traveling west. According to officers, the car driven by McIlvanie pulled over into the south lane and met the Reeves car directly head-on. The Reeves were returning home after visiting their son, Don, who was a patient in an Amarillo hospital.

How To Vote On Referendum Propositions

Robert Cargill, Chairman of the Texas Referendum Committee, said Tuesday that Texans who oppose mixed schools, mixed marriages, and illegal Federal interference should vote "FOR" all three propositions on the July 28th referendum.

The Committee is now conducting a statewide educational campaign.

"There is no doubt in my mind that a vast majority of Texans agree with the thinking of our Committee in these matters," he said. "Our chief concern is in letting the people know how to vote properly so as to accurately reflect their feelings."

Cargill, oilman and civic leader of Longview, Texas, spearheaded the drive which secured signatures of more than 160,000 voters on petitions directing the State Democratic Executive Committee to place the referendum on the ballot. This number is well over the ten per cent required under the Texas Election Code as a mandate to the committee to have any question placed on the official ballot by petition. A majority of votes for the three questions would move them to a place in the official platform of the Democratic Party of Texas to be adopted in the September State Convention. From that point, action will be up to the State Legislature which would, of course, be expected to act favorably upon such an expression from the voters of Texas.

Specific wording of the propositions as they will appear on the ballot is as follows:

(NO. 1) FOR (or Against) specific legislation exempting any child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools attended by white persons and negroes.

(NO. 2) FOR (or Against) specific legislation perfecting State Laws against inter-marriage between white persons and negroes.

(NO. 3) FOR (or Against) the use of Interposition to halt illegal Federal encroachment.

Chairman Cargill in discussing the proposals pointed out that the one relating to schools is not in defiance of any existing court rulings, but would merely provide a free choice of schools for all school children of Texas. "Regardless of personal feelings on the part of anyone in the segregation issue, no fair-minded person could deny that the individuals of both races are entitled to free choice in the matter of school attendance," he said.

Commenting on the second question he said: "Because of recent rulings to outlaw segregation of the races in public schools, parks, playgrounds and on trains and buses, stronger state laws against intermarriage are necessary to protect the social customs so long accepted and observed."

The third question calling for Interposition is described by Cargill as "The legal means by which a state objects to Federal action in cases where people of the state feel the rights reserved to the states have been violated."

Governor Allan Shivers and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd have both advocated Interposition as a step toward bringing about constitutional amendments designed to restore states' rights.

"Apart from the segregation issue," Shepperd has said, "Interposition is the last line of defense that a state has. I am for Interposition down the line to head off Federal control of transportation, natural resources, and all other forms of illegal Federal interference."

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. A. G. Lane were Mrs. Roy Gammons and Elaine of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lane and family of Gruver, and Mrs. Dalton Ford of White Deer.

Are You Doing Your Part?

(an Editorial)

In a small town it takes a little more effort and solid support to do any job right. Here in Clarendon we lack that solid support as far as our Chamber of Commerce is concerned. It takes money to keep any organization going and doing the job it is designed to perform. Right now there is not enough money coming in from memberships to pay our manager's salary, so naturally this situation leaves no money for operation and promotion of projects to better our town and county.

For some petty reason you may not be a member, or the idea may be in your mind that the C. of C. is not getting anything done. Perhaps your lack of interest and support is the reason for that failing to a certain extent. It may be that you have not taken the time to actually find out what is being done. A manager can not do a job by himself and especially without sufficient funds.

Our manager is doing a good job and has devoted many hours in an effort to secure industry for Clarendon. To continue, he must have the support of everyone. When we let him down, we are also letting ourselves and our community down.

If you are not a member of the Chamber of Commerce, now is the time to sign up and keep up your membership. Those who are paying only a small amount should increase their payment so our Chamber can operate as it should.

Are you doing your part or just sitting back waiting for the other fellow to do it all!

First Democratic Primary Election Saturday, July 28th

Saturday is the day that many of you have been waiting for, as this will be your opportunity to scratch the names of the candidates you don't want and vote for the persons of your choice. If you are a qualified voter, the main thing is to go vote.

According to Bill Patman, the usual election party will be held at the Bob Moss Pharmacy with voting results being tabulated in the Mike McCully Insurance office. Results as they come in from the various voting boxes, will be posted on a big board. All election judges are asked to get their totals in just as soon as possible so the people can get the results at an early hour.

Indications at the present time point to a heavy vote here in Donley County as well as the entire state. When the absentee voting closed Tuesday, 166 ballots had been used. This is a pretty good indication of the type of vote that will be cast as this number is about three times the usual amount.

The three questions listed at

POLITICAL COMMENTS

(An Editorial)

Saturday is election day and we wish to urge everyone to go to the polls and vote.

Before you vote, we are presenting a few points to consider in reference to two offices, that of county attorney and State Representative, which we believe is of vital interest to the citizens of this county.

About two years ago the voters in the Clarendon School district and the Goodnight School district overwhelmingly voted to consolidate the respective districts. A few disgruntled losers in Armstrong county wanted to contest the consolidation of the two districts. Before they could bring such a suit they had to have a State's attorney sign the necessary papers and help represent them. The District Attorney refused to join such a suit, but the County Attorney of Donley County joined such a suit of the Armstrong County citizens and is still representing them as an elected official of Donley County. Named as defendants in the suit were the Clarendon School Trustees, Ashtola School Trustees, County school trustees, County Judge and County Commissioners. A county attorney is pledged and elected to represent the citizens of this county and the Commissioners Court - - - but in this case is representing the Citizens of Armstrong County; therefore our Commissioners Court had to employ other counsel to represent this County's interest for which the County Attorney had been elected. A county attorney is supposed to try criminal cases filed in County Court. We have several that have been filed for as long as two years but have never been tried. A County Attorney is supposed to write judgments in all criminal cases but no such judgments have been written in years. These facts have been found by checking the county records.

In the race for State Representative, we feel that Elbert Reeves has done more for our district than any Representative we have had in Austin in many years. For one thing, he authored House Bill 88 creating the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority which embraces the proposed Dam Project north of Hedley, giving the citizens of the towns affected an opportunity to work out their own water problems. He has helped secure 21 laws pertaining to agriculture alone and many others. We think a man should be elected to this office that has, and will go to Austin and devote full time to our interests instead of attending school and representing us with whatever time is left.

The next on the ballot is the County Attorney race. Bill Lowe is seeking his first political office and is opposing R. Y. King, present county attorney who is a veteran of around thirty years in the Donley County Court House. We have two county commissioner offices listed on the ballot but Hubert Rhoades, commissioner of Precinct No. 1 is the only one to draw an opponent. George Bulman is the opponent in this race and the balloting is expected to be quite close. Frank Murray is unopposed in Precinct No. 3.

There are three candidates listed for Constable, Precinct No. 2. C. Hufman and R. C. Hill are expected to lead the ticket over Erskine Butler, the third candidate.

Size up the qualifications of all the candidates listed and go to the polls Saturday and cast your vote for the man in each race you think best qualified to serve as a public official.

FIRE DEPT. HAS NEW FIRING EQUIPMENT
The local volunteer fire department has acquired two sets of emergency fishing equipment designed for use in drowning incidents, etc. The equipment consists of a bar four foot wide with 4 chains four foot long with swivels at all sections and No. 12 hooks on the ends. To go along with this equipment, Rob Hill has donated 100 ft. of No. 12 sash cord rope. Anyone needing this equipment at any time may contact the local fire department.

the bottom of the ballot are quite confusing and a better explanation may be found in a separate article on this page. You will notice also that the Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals is listed for all 11 districts. The only one voted on here is the 7th judicial district which carries the names of Alton B. Chapman and Herbert C. Martin.

In the Governor's race, Price Daniel seems to be the top candidate in Donley County. Other candidates listed are J. Evetts Haley, J. J. Holmes, W. Lee O'Daniel, Reuben Senterfitt and Ralph Yarborough.

In the Lieutenant Governor's race John Lee Smith, Ben Ramsey and A. M. Aikin, Jr. seem to split the vote here. The fourth candidate is C. T. Johnson.

Will Wilson seems to be the favorite candidate for Attorney General. Others in the race are Ross Carlton, Curtis E. Hill and Tom Moore.

For Associate Justice of Supreme Court (place 3) James R. Norvell has the nod with Robert G. Hughes as his opponent.

W. A. Morrison appears to be the top candidate over Jesse Owens in the race for Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals.

Earl Rudder and Ned Price are in a hot race for Commissioner of the General Land Office; John C. White is expected to lead the list in the race for Commissioner of Agriculture and Martin Dies will probably be the top man for Congressman-at-large.

Coming closer to home, we find a hotly contested race between Elbert Reeves of Matador and Will Earle of Childress. Reeves is slated to receive the top vote here in Donley County.

The District Attorney race has been a hot affair also and the outcome of this one is hard to predict. Paul Spillman of Wellington and Allen Harp of Childress will probably top the ballot. John T. Forbis, also of Childress is the third candidate.

We have some hotly contested county races with only one unopposed and that is for School Superintendent with Miss Ruth Richerson as the only candidate. The Sheriff's race is drawing lots of attention with three good men running for this office, Truett Behrens, Lonnie (Bill) Cornell and Lois Putman.

The next on the ballot is the County Attorney race. Bill Lowe is seeking his first political office and is opposing R. Y. King, present county attorney who is a veteran of around thirty years in the Donley County Court House.

We have two county commissioner offices listed on the ballot but Hubert Rhoades, commissioner of Precinct No. 1 is the only one to draw an opponent. George Bulman is the opponent in this race and the balloting is expected to be quite close. Frank Murray is unopposed in Precinct No. 3.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

On every farm in the Donley County SCD, there is a complex living community based on the soil. Depending on the soil are plants and animals that convert plants nutrients, moisture, and sunshine into food and fiber for man. It is a successful community, only if all the living things in it are working for the benefit of the whole community.

If there are not enough plants in the community, the soil loses its ability to take up and hold moisture. It may become eroded and lose its power to produce. If there are not enough songbirds, there may be too many destructive insects, resulting in a shortage of grain for beef cattle. But there must be useful insects to pollinate alfalfa and sweet clover, else these legumes will not produce seed.

Thus, we see that a successful farm community must have an abundance of useful wildlife and a low number of the harmful kinds. It must have what is called a favorable biologic balance.

A system of farming that supports a family well, without depleting basic resources, has a favorable biologic balance. Farming that depletes the soil and results in plagues of insects, and crop diseases has an unfavorable biologic balance.

You may be surprised at the wildlife population living on well managed farms and ranches in the Donley County SCD. Present on well managed farm and ranches a person may find one or more of the following adapted game birds and animals: quail, dove, wild turkey, squirrels, ducks and deer.

Large-mouth bass, bluegills and channel catfish supply fun and food for farm families, fortunate enough to have a farm pond. Many farm ponds produce from 150 to 250 pounds of fresh fish per acre each year. While not two kinds of wildlife have exactly the same requirements for living, it is safe to say that all kinds need food, cover and water. To be really useful, food must be plentiful and close to cover that will furnish protection from enemies and weather. It must be available in the seasons when it is usually scarce.

On most farm land in the Donley County SCD there is enough food from late spring to fall. Insects, wild fruits, weed seeds, waste grains, nuts, or green plants are available. The critical season is winter. There are no insects, many wild fruits are gone.

Planting perennial food producing plants close to good cover is the best way to be sure you have enough wildlife food throughout the year. Good management of cover can be boiled down to two essentials - unburned, ungrazed, unmowed grass for nesting; dense or thorny shrubs for protection from predators and for nesting. Both kinds of cover should be close together and close to available food supplies.

Wildlife obtains water from three sources: Surface water, food that contains lots of water, and dew. Surface water is a necessity for all wildlife in the Donley County SCD.

Every farm or ranch can afford you with the fun and food from wildlife by developing those odd acres, ponds, shelter belts and stream banks that are not used in farm and ranch operations. Wildlife can be and is a secondary crop.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

AIR SAFETY

The recent, tragic crash in the Grand Canyon of two of our largest commercial airliners has created a deafening demand for immediate action in the solution of air traffic problems. The long, smoldering debate as to what, if anything, should be done with reference to additional safety precautions in air travel, has now broken into a searing flame with a heat intensity comparable to that which engulfed these two giant airliners when they crashed in the Grand Canyon.

The many, many problems incident to present day air operations were forcibly brought to bear by the evidence and testimony presented to the investigating Congressional sub-committee of which I am a member. Las Vegas, Nevada, was chosen as the site of the preliminary hearings because it was believed to be more accessible to the officials, interested parties and witnesses. Our committee left Washington Friday afternoon about 2 o'clock Eastern Standard Time and arrived at Las Vegas at 10:45 p. m. Pacific Standard Time, which would have been 1:45 a. m. Eastern Standard Time. Our work started the next morning shortly after 8 o'clock in making arrangements for the hearing. The hearings officially started at 10 a. m. and continued without interruption, except for a short interlude for lunch, until 8 p. m. The next morning we arose at 4 a. m. and started for the Canyon in a 2-motored plane. As we arrived at the Grand Canyon Airport the last group of rubber bags containing the remains of the victims were arriving from the Canyon by helicopter. Shortly thereafter we departed for the Canyon by helicopter. About 4 hours later we departed for Washington and arrived at 1 a. m. Monday morning.

At the Saturday morning hearing we heard two witnesses in public session and then went into executive session. The witnesses were very cooperative. A great deal of very pertinent and important information was gathered, some of which I cannot reveal to you because it was taken in executive session and will be released at a subsequent date when the hearings are completed. However, there are some very interesting facts that I can tell you without violating the rules.

Facts developed included the following:

The two 4-motored planes left the same airport at Los Angeles within 3 minutes of each other. One plane was slightly faster than the other. This plane was the last to leave. Their original routes were in different directions on controlled airways. However, both planes were authorized to turn off of controlled airways shortly after leaving Los Angeles, and to strike out across the country for their destinations. After this turn off both planes would be flying parallel for some distance and then their courses would converge approximately over the Painted Desert. Both planes were cleared from Los Angeles to fly I.F.R. (Instrument Flight Rules). This means that the plane could be flown on instruments at the altitude authorized, in controlled areas. One plane was cleared to fly at 21 thousand feet, the other at 19 thousand feet. Shortly after departure the 19 thousand foot plane requested changes of altitude which finally resulted in his being authorized to fly V.F.R. at 1000 feet on top of the overcast. (V.F.R. means Visual Flight Rules). Shortly after this authority was granted a report from this plane indicated that he was flying at 21 thousand feet. At that time he was flying at the same altitude as the other plane and on a parallel course but was quite a number of miles north of the other plane.

These facts, however, would not indicate the definite conclusion that both planes continued to fly at the same altitude. The reason being that when they left the controlled airways they could fly at any altitude they might desire, so long as they maintained their authorized altitudes when crossing or traveling along controlled air areas and airways.

The evidence is about as conclusive as there could be that there was a collision so it must be concluded that the two airplanes did get at the same altitude at some point. It is, of course, impossible to tell at what altitude they were flying just prior to the collision. The point of wreckage was about 25 miles north of the route that one airliner would have been expected to fly. It was almost directly on the route that the other was flying. The wreckage was about 20 miles west of where the evidence would indicate that the planes would have been in the absence of a collision. This poses a rather difficult problem because if the planes had been flying at 21 thousand feet and had been 20 miles east of the point of the wreckage, it would be almost inconceivable to me for them to have fallen in the place where the wreckage was found. It would have meant that the planes falling downward 4 miles would have been blown or glided some 20 miles horizontally. I just do not believe that such could have happened. In addition, it would have been necessary for the planes after having been blown or glided horizontally 20 miles to have reached a certain point and then dropped straight down. It would be conceivable that such a situation could have existed with regard to one plane but for both planes to have followed such a course is difficult to believe. The wreckage of both planes was within a distance of a mile and a half. One was in the bottom of the Canyon about 4 thousand feet from the top. The other was on a shelf about half way up the precipice. This leaves in my mind the big question among many of "Where were the planes when they collided?" and "Why were they at such points?" If the answers to these questions can be found, we will know whether or not any present rules were being violated. If no present rules were being violated, then some of the present rules, must be changed and more added.

The above quote was taken from the July 16th issue of the Texas Spur, a newspaper in the town where Judge Chapman finished high school, where he served as County and District Attorney and for the last 19 years as District Judge.

A Vote For Elbert Reeves is A Vote For Good Government!

(CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION AS REPRESENTATIVE OF THE 88th DISTRICT)

Because of Elbert Reeves and other Representatives who share his honest, impartial views, West Texas is no longer a "colonial possession" of the Lone Star State. West Texas has a voice in Austin - - a voice that is heard with respect and dignity.

Check his record. Rep. Reeves has one of the most INDEPENDENT voting records in the House of Representatives because he has never been a member of any special interests, special group or faction. No member of the legislature has contributed more to the welfare of Texas during the period he has been in office than your PRESENT REPRESENTATIVE of the 88th District. ALL OF TEXAS KNOWS that Elbert Reeves stands for and defends the principles of honesty, fairness and integrity.

His work in the legislature is a symbol of good government. He has been fearless in defending right and in destroying the substance that sustains political parasites. Elbert Reeves' record is one of action, courage and brilliance; devoted to the welfare of his state in general and his district in particular.

Because of his SENIORITY in the House of Representatives, he is in line for other important committee appointments (he is now serving as chairman of the Agriculture Committee, and member of Education Committee, State Affairs Committee - - and of the big three committees - - and is on the School Districts Committee). It is in these committees that 90% of our legislation is developed. We have an investment in Elbert Reeves because of his experience and his influence. A vote for Elbert Reeves is a vote for good government; progress with dignity for the state of Texas.

THE WAY WE SEE IT

This article and information is being published without the consent of Bill Lowe, who is a candidate for County Attorney of Donley County. We feel that Bill Lowe has been too modest in his campaign and that people generally have not been advised of his qualifications. We admire Bill Lowe for the type of campaign that he has conducted - - in running on his own qualifications and not against anyone for the office. The dignity of Bill Lowe's campaign is a barometer of the dignity, wisdom, and integrity he will bring to the County Attorney's office.

The duties of a County Attorney are many and varied, and are not limited merely to the prosecution of criminal offenses in County Court. If the office is properly conducted about as many civil cases are tried as are criminal cases. These civil cases involve delinquent tax suits, numerous other claims owing to the State and County, road condemnations for State, Federal, and Farm-to-Market highways, and contractual matters in which the County is a party. A County Attorney is also a business advisor to the Commissioners' Court in helping and advising with them in the great volume of business conducted by them. One of the most important duties of a County Attorney is properly conducting investigations and advising with the courts and the parents on juvenile offenses.

Needless to say, the proper education, training, age, and experience is needed to properly perform the necessary duties. Bill Lowe was born and reared in Donley County. He received his high school education in Clarendon, and was graduated from Clarendon Jr. College. Bill Lowe then attended The University of Texas where he majored in accounting and taxation and was graduated with a degree in Business Administration. In May, 1949, he received his law degree from the Law School of The University of Texas, and since such time has practiced both civil and criminal law in this county.

Bill Lowe has been active in both civic and church affairs. He measures up to the finest traditions of a citizen - - faithful to every trust loyal to his friends, to his clients, and to his duty as a citizen; and true to his firm conviction that God governs in the affairs of men. As a Sunday School Superintendent, Sunday School teacher, and outstanding layman of the Baptist Church, he has demonstrated his faith in God and man.

We feel that Bill Lowe has made a sacrifice to the citizens of this county—both financially and in time—offering to help place in proper order the affairs of this county.

Too long we have elected officials out of sympathy or for financial need. We feel that it is time to elect and hire the most capable person offering himself for public service. We feel that it is time for a change in the office of County Attorney, and we recommend Bill Lowe for your consideration when you vote this Saturday.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN—Income and expense reports of candidates show Daniel, Aikin and Wilson leading in both receipts and expenditures, in their respective fields.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel was far out in front in financial support. He listed contributions totaling $112,849.

Other gubernatorial contenders' kitties stacked up thusly: Reuben Senterfitt, $31,772; Ralph Yarborough $23,865; W. Lee O'Daniel $1,770.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. led in the Lt. Governor's race with $19,657 in contributions, as compared with $3,125 for Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and $6,300 for John Lee Smith.

Will Wilson was far ahead of the pack in the attorney general's race, reporting financial support totaling $21,021.

On the expenditure side of the ledger the leaders held the same positions. In the Governor's race, Daniel spent $82,474; Senterfitt $32,081; Yarborough $25,826; and O'Daniel $20,589.

Among the candidates for Lt. Governor, Aikin reported expenses of $12,244.82; Ramsey $7,003; and Smith $8,583.05.

Wilson again outdistanced his competitors in the campaign for attorney general with a total expenditure of $10,962.

SHOTS CUT POLIO

State Health Department officials believe Salk Shots enabled Texans to avert a bad polio year.

Pre-season incidence of polio, they point out, was unusually high this year—224 cases as compared to 167 in 1955. But as the season progressed, immunization was stepped up. Since April 28 there have been only 269 cases compared to 375 in the same period last year.

"This would have been a major polio year," said one official. "Salk vaccine apparently is the answer to why it isn't."

FARM INCOME OFF 13 PER CENT

Texas farm income thus far in 1956 has slid 13 per cent from last year.

Inadequate moisture was the major cause.

Prices were off only three per cent. Therefore, most of the crop came from smaller marketings.

State officials took note of the farmers' worsening plight. Gov. Allan Shivers announced the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has approved extension of the emergency drought feed program for 64 counties.

A request for direct payments to enable drought-hit farmers to purchase hay on the open market was turned over to the state defense and disaster relief office. It came from the Texas Farm Bureau president who said the present federal program is inadequate.

John White, state agriculture commissioner, said the state's rural economy, in many areas, is in the final stages of collapse. Ghost towns are in the making in the heart of some of our richest agricultural lands, he said.

Last week's widely scattered rain brought only temporary relief to some Southwest Texas areas, reported the Agricultural Extension Service. In most sections, said the service, drought is spreading. Result: feed crops are being lost and livestock sold off in large numbers.

CREEK DAMMING COMPLAINTS

Continued complaints of creek damming were reported by the State Water Board last week as evidence of Texas' mounting water troubles.

One of the most critical areas now is at Llano, said the board. Irrigators were asked to limit their withdrawals from the nearby dry Llano River.

Communities along the river have priority, said the board. Some, such as Junction and Llano, have said they have only a 30 to 60-day supply.

Other areas from which complaints of damming were sent to the board included Wolf Creek and Groesbeck Creek on the Red River, Blanco River in Blanco County, Caney Creek near Bay City, and Elm Creek in Milam County.

Meanwhile, the Water Board had another problem. After a 12-school hours day recess, hearings were to resume Tuesday in the Canyon Dam controversy. San Antonio's request for water from the proposed dam is vigorously opposed by nearby rural communities.

DIPLOMAS MAY COME HARDER

If the State Board of Education adopts its study-committee's proposals, future diplomas will come a little harder for Texas high school students.

Suggestions included (1) two years, instead of one, of laboratory science, (2) a half unit more of government or history, (3) making physical education and health non-credit courses and (4) limiting athletic practice during

Wallek - Breedlove Vows Exchanged

Miss Virginia Rae Wallek became the bride of Wilbur Fate Breedlove recently in a ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Beeville, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wallek of the Olmos Community, Skidmore, Texas. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breedlove of Silvertown, Texas.

Rev. W. C. Binford performed the double-ring ceremony before an archway of greenery. To each side of the archway were baskets of gladioli. Wedding music was furnished by soloist Rev. Gene Blanton who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Lucille Kinkler, organist.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Edwin Wallek, Jr. of Olmos, niece of the bride, while Edith White was bridesmaid. They wore identically styled dresses of pale blue polished cotton with wide necklines and fitted bodices. The skirts were full. They wore white accessories and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Edwin Wallek of Olmos was best man, John Martin of Beeville, groomsmen and Bobby Pickens of Tyman and Raymond Lehmborg ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length wedding dress of white tulle and lace over satin. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and long sleeves terminating in points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with tiers of tulle and ruffles extending to the hemline. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, meline and satin streamers. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

A reception in the lower temple of the church followed the wedding ceremony. The refreshment table was laid with a linen cloth and centered with a reflector on which were placed the bouquets of the bride and her attendants. Mrs. Jim Wallek of Olmos served the tiered cake while Mrs. Delphine Wallek of Olmos served punch. Miss Judy Wallek, niece of the bride, presided at the bride's book.

After a wedding trip to West Texas, the couple will live in Silvertown and Amarillo. The bride is a graduate of Skidmore High School and attended Clarendon Junior College. The groom graduated from Arnett Oklahoma High School and Clarendon Junior College. He plans to continue his college work at Amarillo this fall.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Werner Range of Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sugarek of San Antonio; and Lado Mulstein of College Station.

Eugene Estlack and son, David, returned to their home in Austin Saturday after visiting with his father J. C. Estlack and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Pittman visited from Friday to Sunday in the homes of their sons, Brady and Luther Pittman in Amarillo. They also visited A. D. Hendrix who is a patient in Veterans Hospital.

Richburg - Bromley

The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas Jr. After a three weeks wedding trip to Colorado and other North-western states and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Bromley will be at home in Alpine.

The bride is a graduate of Alpine High School and attended Sul Ross College and San Angelo College.

Mr. Bromley is assistant coach at Alpine High School. He graduated from West Texas State College in Canyon where he played football. He served for two years in the Navy and has been in Alpine since 1954.

GARDEN CLUB

The Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank White, Jr. Thursday morning, July 19, with Mrs. Joe Goldston co-hostess. Meeting was opened with the club prayer by Mrs. J. H. Howze. Secretary's report and roll call was heard. Mrs. M. C. Rumpy, president, presided over the business session.

The program was interesting. Several brought containers with various flower arrangements. Each gave a discussion of the container and arrangement. Mrs. Lee Holland displayed an arrangement of gladioli in several different colors. Mrs. Lloyd Benson's container featured canna leaves and iris foliage with dahlias; Mrs. Carol Knorpp used a clever arrangement of drift wood with bird of paradise. An unusual bouquet of wild flowers, the Mariposa lilies, combined with purple aster and pine foliage was prepared by Mrs. Walter Taylor. Pinks, phlox, crepe myrtle and clematis foliage in a container was shown by Mrs. Pete Kunz.

A guest for the meeting, Mrs. Forrest Sawyer, prepared a bridal bouquet using meline and white satin streamers with aurilus lilies and Chinese evergreen. Two other arrangements were shown; one prepared by Mrs. Bill Greene using African violets in several colors and the other by Mrs. J. H. Howze showing zinnias with a foliage of lilac leaves. Refreshments of cake, donuts, a fruit plate of grapes and pineapple, and coffee were served to guests: Mesdames Mary Blanton of Amarillo, Mrs. Forrest Sawyer, and Mrs. George Benson; and to members Mesdames Ella McDowell, O. C. Watson, J. H. Howze, M. C. Rumpy, Walter Taylor, J. L. McMurtry, Bill Greene, Lloyd Benson, Lee Holland, Carrol Knorpp, and Pete Kunz, by the hostesses, Mrs. Frank White, Jr. and Mrs. Joe Goldston. —Reporter.

COTTONS GO TO PARTIES

Fresh as a rose with the dew still on it, and typical of this summer's cool, crisp fashion look, is this attractive and washable party cotton. A Jerry Farris design in sheer, opaque cotton, the heart-shaped neckline and Empire bodice are outlined in tiny white chalk beads and occasional rhinestones. Modern science helps keep this season's costumes bright and fresh as new with a minimum of care. A new chlorine dry bleach in bead form that is guaranteed not to harm fabrics will maintain the fresh prettiness of the pink and white shadow print for many seasons to come. Simply launder with detergent, plus the bleach-beads. Rinse thoroughly. When ironing around the neck and bodice, place a turkish towel under trimming and iron gently on wrong side.

THE DUTY of THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY is to prosecute all felony criminal cases (those cases for which a person may be sent to the penitentiary) and to assist the peace officers and grand juries in making investigations to determine whether or not a criminal offense has been committed.

The Duty of The County Attorney is to prosecute all misdemeanor criminal cases (those cases for which a person may be fined or confined in the county jail) and to assist peace officers and grand juries in making investigations to determine whether or not a criminal offense has been committed. In addition to this the County Attorney is charged with the duty of acting as legal adviser to the County Commissioners Court.

The Duty of The Grand Jury is to make investigations to determine whether or not there has been a violation of our criminal statutes and to further determine whether or not the facts justify an indictment. No man may be tried in Texas for a felony offense unless he is first indicted by a grand jury.

Theft Is A Felony or A Misdemeanor

according to the value of the property stolen. The theft of property of a value of $50.00 or more is a felony. The theft of property of a value of less than $50.00 is a misdemeanor and may be tried by the County Attorney upon a complaint without a grand jury indictment. Each theft is an offense and a number of misdemeanor thefts cannot be added together to make one felony offense.

During the Grand Jury Investigation of Donley County Affairs

last year, the County Attorney assisted me in presenting the facts to the Grand Jury. All facts that were available to me were presented and I feel sure that the County Attorney did not withhold any facts known to him. No person other than members of the grand jury are permitted to be present in the grand jury room while the grand jury deliberates and determines whether or not an indictment shall be returned. No indictments were returned but the grand jury did issue a statement which was published in the Donley County Leader. The District Attorney does not have the authority to suggest in any manner whether or not a grand jury shall return an indictment. I have adhered strictly to this rule as any grand juror will attest who has served with me. I like the grand jury system. So long as we have it, one person cannot exert dictatorship over the reputation, life and property of any citizen. I have faith and confidence in the citizenship of Donley County from whom our grand juries are selected. I believe that the citizens of Donley County who have been selected as grand jurors in the past have acted in good faith for what they thought was the best interest of law enforcement in Donley County. I believe that those who may be selected in the future will act in the same manner. A jury commission selects the grand jurors and I have nothing to do with the selection of the jury commissions. If the county attorney finds that a theft of county property of a value less than $50.00 has been committed surely he will not only tell the people but will prosecute the offender. Should he find that there has been a theft of $50.00 or more, surely he will cause a complaint to be filed on the examining docket of the grand jury and assist in presenting the facts to the grand jury for their consideration.

As Your District Attorney

I do not make the facts, I only present them. This I have done to friend and foe alike. A prosecuting attorney who would use the office to punish an enemy or to aid a friend is not only an undesirable official but an undesirable citizen. I have bowed before my Maker many times asking for the wisdom, strength and guidance necessary to so conduct myself in prosecuting cases. Since not all people are honest it necessarily follows that some public officials may be dishonest. However, under the law a person is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of competent jurisdiction. Even a public official should be accorded the same consideration.

Not Any One Person Holds a Corner on Honesty

Dishonesty raises its vile and ugly head in many forms. A person who maliciously misrepresents things and spreads erroneous rumors that reflect on the good name of another person is no more honest than a person who steals property belonging to another.

It is my sincere hope that the service rendered by me as your District Attorney will merit your vote for my re-election.

Respectfully submitted,

Allen Harp

ERSKINE BUTLER

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

Our Fred Gipson seems to have made himself more popular with this "Yeller Dog" that appeared as a serial in "Colliers" and is now in book form. I notice that he is in Amarillo frequently. Perhaps he is planning something western, but his work usually consists of the down trodden but happy characters of the cedar breaks and woods districts of east and south Texas.

Our new books are "Madam, Will You Talk" by Mary Stewart, and "The Tontine" by Thomas B. Costain. These are book club editions. "The Tontine" is in two volumes including the time from the battle of Waterloo until the end of the nineteenth century.

Our memorial editions are "The Smallest Puppy" by Margret and Helen Lossing Johnson in memory of little Scott Humphrey and "Off To Bed" by Maud and Mika Petersham, was also given in his memory. They are very attractive books for little people. "Hill of the Rooster" by Curry Holden is a memorial for Mr. Charles Bugbee. Tom Lea states "Holden's account of these savage people, (Mexicans) written with complete sympathy for them and for the primal world they finally lost, is a violent and picturesque story—a blend of scientific knowledge and romantic enthusiasm." From our memorial fund for Mrs. Cox we have replaced two Caroline Keene books to date and have others ordered. Our books are terribly worn from the summer usage. Two friends brought us about twenty current issues of popular magazines for which we are very grateful. Our transient and local readers enjoy them.

One of the transient friends of the Library gave us 35 of the various editions of needle work magazines that includes Vogue's, McCalls and every other printed magazine of fancy work. It is quite a valuable store of knowledge for work of that type. This woman reads both modern and classic editions and is interesting to contact. When school opens and this big rush ends we can clean house here and display some of our attractive material to a better advantage.

National Farm Safety Week

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration has asked that all FHA employees do everything they can to help promote farm safety and encourage greater effort in helping to reduce the tragedies and losses caused by needless accidents, James D. Gouddy, County Supervisor advised today.

The President has proclaimed the week beginning July 22, 1956, as National Farm Safety Week. In urging full participation in this campaign, Mr. McKay stated that in one year the farm accident toll was 14,500 people killed, 1,250,000 injured. In addition, the money loss represented by farm accidents and also by fires probably runs around a billion dollars a year—the human misery can't even be measured, McKay said.

"It is the policy of Farmers Home Administration to promote safety among its borrowers as part of its service to farm families," McKay stated. "We don't think of safety as separate and distinct but as an inseparable part of our entire program. Our three safety aims are:

"First, to improve the health and welfare of families by eliminating safety hazards on farms and in homes; second, to reduce families' financial losses caused by accidents and fires; and third, to make farm production more efficient by reducing or minimizing accidental injuries and illness."

In summary Mr. McKay advised that Farmers Home Administration is interested in every borrower making his farm a safe place to live and work, while he improves his family's economic condition. The two go together, and the lack of one can be the undoing of the other.

Dove Count Hint
Good 1956 Shoot
AUSTIN — Preliminary observations of mourning dove counts reports presage another good shoot in Texas this year, according to the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.
He said the data was obtained through sixty-five census lines established throughout Texas and that the analysis shortly will be available from the United States Fish & Wildlife Service which has final authority on hunting of doves since they are migratory birds.
Field reports likewise will be studied by the Commission at its July meeting in Austin, when recommendations for most favorable harvest regulations will be made. The Assistant Director said that, while population estimates are favorable, the final statistics might not permit the extra five days allowed last fall when Texas had an extraordinary mourning dove hunt. Ordinarily, a forty-day season is allowed, with the state divided into a north and south zone. The shooting period for years has begun on September 1st in the north zone which comprises about three-fourths of the state.
Last year the south zone season was experimentally delayed, running from October 15 through November 28. The established pattern calls for afternoon shooting only, with bag and possession limits both set at ten birds.
"The drought in Texas has hurt our population somewhat," said the Assistant Director, "but because of the tremendous carry over from the record numbers of last year, we still have plenty of doves. Reports from north states which provide many migrating birds later on also are favorable."

Troy Harrison To Attend Range Management School

Troy Harrison, Donley County 4-H Club boy will attend a week long range management school at Junction, Texas. H. M. Breedlove, county agent and in charge of 4-H Club work in the county, says that Troy is being sent by the Donley County Soil Conservation District. To be eligible to go to this school a boy must live on a ranch and be active in club work. The school will be held from the thirteenth to the eighteenth of August.

The American Society of Range Management and the Forestry department with headquarters at College Station, Texas is sponsoring the school for youth of the state. Specialist in different phases of range management from the Extension Service and the SCS will appear on the program in the different classes.

This is a wonderful opportunity for Troy who will learn a great deal about the management of ranges and the handling of cattle. Troy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harrison who live on a ranch about ten miles from Hedley on the Wellington highway.

from the County ASC Committee

National FARM SAFETY WEEK, July 22-28, 1956

Sunday—Have Reverence for Life:

Take Time To Take Care—banish fatigue and tension of routine living. Realize that haste makes waste. Plan to avoid an over-crowded schedule.

Monday—Home Safety:

Keep Your Farm In Order—Have a place for everything and keep everything in its place. Eliminate hazards as you find them. Always be a good housekeeper in your home and on your farm.

Tuesday—Livestock:

Be Open Minded To Safety Suggestions—A wise farmer listens to safety lessons his children bring home from school or farm group meetings. Keep small children away from animals and check and repair livestock equipment regularly.

Wednesday—Falls:

Plan Ahead—Good planning reduces the temptation to hurry, means better production and fewer accidents. Repair or discard broken, unsafe ladders. Place guards at hazardous places.

Thursday—Highway Traffic:

Be Courteous On The Highway—A courteous driver believes in living and letting live. Know and obey all traffic laws—follow safe driving practices. Remove trees and shrubs near farm driveway entrance.

Friday—Machinery:

Don't Depend On Luck—Make sure your equipment is in safe operating condition—make sure all guards and safety devices are in place. Stop machines before unclogging, oiling or adjusting them.

Saturday—Review Day:

Take Safety Seriously—Check up on any farm and farm home hazards that might have been overlooked. Find and eliminate at least two additional unsafe conditions around your farm.

SAFETY PAYS ALL WAYS

The purpose of the National Farm Safety Week is to drive home the need for farm accident prevention. Farm Safety Committee urges that during this period a check be made by every farm family of hazards existing on the farm and in the home, and that plans be made for eliminating these hazards.

The ultimate objective of the farm safety program is to make farm life a safer, happier, and more prosperous one.

We hope that farm people will take the time to locate these hazards and correct them not only during Farm Safety Week but also throughout the other weeks of the year.

WHEAT REFERENDUM

In Donley County the voting on the wheat Referendum on July 20 was 31 votes in favor of marketing quotas — 3 votes against.

RAINS BOOST CROP PROSPECTS

Crops and range land received a wonderful boost the past week as beneficial moisture was received over the entire county. The best moisture was received on the 19th and 20th with Ashtola receiving .90 on the 19th, .90 on the 20th and .14 on the 23rd. Lelia Lake received 1.50, .22 and .08 on these dates; the Country Club received 1.15, .35 and .12; Brice received 2 inches on the 19th and Hedley received 1.50 on the 19th and .25 on the 20th. The area southwest of town received between 3 and 4 inches during this same period of time.

Here in town, our total for the month so far is 2.87 as compared with 3.09 a year ago. From the 19th thru the 23rd we have received 1.55 inches. Our total rainfall for the year is 11.60 as compared with 18.31 thru July last year. Our total for the entire year of 1955 was 23.22, so we will have to receive several inches yet to equal that amount. We have received less moisture this year but the time between rains and the way it has fallen is what counts and is giving our crops a brighter outlook.

So far this month we have had 9 days that the mercury climbed over 100 degrees and there have been 15 days out of the month so far that some moisture has been received.

Mrs. W. D. Beall of San Angelo and Mrs. Russell Clark of Amarillo visited last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Johnson.

4-H Club Members To Make Trip To Red River, N. M.

Donley and Armstrong County 4-H Club members will team together and take a trip to Red River, New Mexico. The group will arrive at Red River on Monday, H. M. Breedlove, county agent for Donley County will cook for the entire group which will be about fifty-five from the two counties.

This trip is sort of a reward trip for the boys who carried out their 4-H Club demonstrations. It is estimated that the entire expense for each boy will not exceed twelve or fifteen dollars.

Breedlove and some of his group will leave on Saturday to get there ahead of the group and set up camp and have everything ready when the group arrives. They will return to Donley County about Thursday night of the second.

Foster Whaley, county agent from Claude will have charge of the recreation. Hershel Heath will take a load of 4-H clubbers from Donley County in his bus and will stay and assist in the camping operations.

The trip is purely for a big time and hiking, fishing and just being lazy and having a big time with all kinds of games planned for the camp. The cooking will be done ranch style with a regular chuck wagon and tent fly. W. J. Lewis Jr. loaned the group his ranch tent fly and the Donley County Farm Bureau gave Breedlove another tent fly to use so that groceries and supplies could be kept in the dry. A big time is being planned by the group.

Have You Inspected The Family Medicine Cabinet Lately?

When is the last time you took a look in the family medicine cabinet? Not just for your toothbrush or the aspirin bottle, but a real honest-to-goodness full dress inspection?

Chances are it's been quite awhile. And if this is the case, chances are equally good that you are in for quite a shock when you get around to examining it. It's an even money bet that you will find half-empty prescription bottles dating back several years which were prescribed for illnesses you can't remember, and a wide assortment of partially used—and now useless—beauty preparations and medical supplies.

In short, if your medicine cabinet is at all similar to countless thousands throughout the country, it will bear a closer resemblance to Fibber McGee's famous closet than it will appear as a monument to your otherwise meticulous care as a housekeeper. No one is exactly sure how this condition comes to pass, or why it is so universally true, but spokesmen for the Murine Company point out that a cluttered medicine chest not only is inefficient, it's downright dangerous. Labels have a way of becoming smeared or torn over a period of time which can reduce a person to dangerous guesswork when trying to determine what is in which bottle—the kind of guesswork where one bad one may be the last you'll ever make.

Most home safety experts agree that the medicine cabinet should be given a close scrutiny four times a year: spring, winter, summer and fall. Certainly, they all insist, this should be done every six months at the very least. It isn't a job that takes any great length of time, and it's not a backbreaking chore like scrubbing floors. But it can be fifteen or twenty minutes that you invest and receive better family health and safety as a dividend.

After the contents have been carefully screened—and be sure that you throw away anything that is remotely questionable—put things back in an orderly fashion. This means placing frequently used items such as toothpaste and brushes, eye drops, and bandages on the lower, easy-to-reach shelves. Or, for convenience, and to avoid a crowded cabinet, you might loop a string around every-day-use items like eye drops and vitamin pills and swing it from the toothbrush holder or towel rack. Razors and razor blades, although used every day, should be stored on an upper shelf to keep them away from curious children. And, of course, all medicines should be kept as high up as possible for the same reason.

Another point to consider in restocking your medicine cabinet is the advice that the number of items stocked should be held to a minimum. This makes storage that much simpler, helps to avoid confusion and makes it possible to find what you are after in the shortest possible time.

JUNIOR'S

Phone 81 FOOD MARKET We Deliver
CLARENDON, TEXAS

The following is a bit of an example of the faith of one of our good friends whom we have never seen, but whose courage and faith amid the many problems that confront a mother who although being badly crippled has won the victory and continued as a mother and wife down through the years by keeping her home and family problems all under control. She says: "When things around the house look impossible, I just say Lord, I can't do this alone—you'll have to help me—and do you know He has never failed." Bless you Mrs. Earl Porter of Silverton, Texas.

One of our friends gave us the following saying the other day. It was on the same order as the one about it: "Being better to be a live coward, than a dead hero." This one said: "Better to be going yonder, than to be lying here."

When we were in Oklahoma City a few months back we followed our usual habit in big cities, that of getting lost. We can always tell a city from a town because in the cities we always get lost. Anyhow, Oklahoma City and its people have their sights set on 600,000 by 1960. Someone in the Sooner state told us that Tulsa used to be Oklahoma's largest town, but not by a long shot now.

Some things we forgot to mention about Missouri. In addition to being the home state of The Man Called Harry this state has low taxes and no speed limit at all. Cigarettes for less than two bucks a carton. Don't get me wrong we didn't sneak a pack. We quit, remember. Speaking of the speed limit, the law says something like Safe and Proper; maybe those aren't the exact words. But folks tell me that should you be hauled into court the chances are that your speed would be very improper. The judge just sort of looks you over and says you is or you am.

Saw a book being sold in a book store in Eureka Springs, Ark. entitled "Never Tell A Stranger The Truth." No reflection on this town but sometimes it seems that it is hard for a tourist to get the truth when he is travelling. Probably the natives think we ask to many unimportant questions.

One of the most unusual characters that we talked with on the trip was a lady cafe owner in the little Oklahoma town of Erick. She was called Aunt Carrie and this was also the name of the place. She is a large six-footer and will weigh somewhere between two hundred and five pounds and four hundred and ten. Somewhere in between but for the life of me I can't guess a gal's weight. She is in her sixty some olds we'd say. If you pass that way drop in and eat with her and if she doesn't make you laugh your indignation away we'll buy you a coke. My brother-in-law drives several miles now and then for a fill of Aunt Carrie's fried chicken and a dose of her fun and humor. Speaking of humor, she's busted out with it. Someday we want to go back by there and write a story about Aunt Carrie. Even after you've visited with her you won't even believe what you see.

We read the following little prayer someplace:

"Heavenly Father, Fill me with Thy Holy Spirit, Fill me with Thy Love Divine, Help me to live so those around me Will know Thou art a Friend of mine."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Confused "Sit"-uation Been meaning all week to tell you about Curley Lawson's "baby-sitting" experience. From where I sit, jumping to conclusions like Curley did, doesn't always make for an amusing story. I'm reminded of the people who—without due consideration—have concluded that I'm wrong to like an occasional glass of beer. Well, to my way of thinking, that's not only intolerant... but, what's more, "minding" the other fellow's business is not the American way. HEALTH NOTES

Texas State Dept. of Health
AUSTIN—Hepatitis has recently become a public health problem, declared Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. It is an infectious disease that attacks the liver and is caused by a virus.

The name means inflammation of the liver, and the disease is usually spread by personal contact. Overcrowding, poor personal hygiene may be contributing factors. It can also be spread in water, milk and food. There are two types of hepatitis caused by a virus and only man is susceptible. Formerly this disease was referred to as yellow jaundice or catarrhal jaundice.

Now the most common variety is called infectious hepatitis and the other is serum hepatitis. Dr. J. E. Peavy, director Division of Communicable Disease Control, says that probably the actual occurrence of the disease is much greater than the number of cases reported because of the many mild cases and the outstanding complaint, yellowing of the skin, does not always occur. Infectious hepatitis has been known throughout the world for hundreds of years. Large numbers of troops in both world wars were infected. As a communicable disease among the general public, it has not until recently been considered a serious problem.

Infectious hepatitis was made a reportable disease in Texas in 1952 when 265 cases were reported. The number of cases reported have shown a steady increase. Last year 1316 cases were reported and so far this year 620 cases. The number of deaths has been only a small percentage of the reported cases. There have been 126 deaths reported from hepatitis in the past four years. Children are the most frequently attacked by this virus and usually have mild attacks. However, the illness can be severe in older persons. Infectious hepatitis is seldom fatal, but when death does occur, it is usually in persons over thirty years of age. Person hygiene and the sanitary disposal of sewage cannot be over-emphasized as preventive measures in the control of infectious hepatitis. Milk and water should be obtained from sources that are known to be tested frequently and careful attention should be paid to the storage of food.

Top o' Texas Rodeo August 6-11

The big Top o' Texas Rodeo scheduled for August 6-11 promises to be a "bell-ringer" this year. $1,000.00 has been added to the usual cash prizes, bringing the total money to more than $6,000.00.

Goat Mayo, veteran rodeo producer of Petrolia, Texas, will again furnish the stock and direct the arena for the show. All the regular rodeo events will be held including calf roping, double muggin, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, bulldoggin, cutting horse contest, and the cowgirls' sponsor contest. An added attraction this year will be the Cowgirls' Open Jackpot Barrel Race to be held Saturday afternoon, August 11, at 2:30 p. m.

The Amarillo Air Force Band will again be on hand to furnish music for all performances. Smiley Burnette, America's No. 1 Cowboy Comic and sidekick to Gene Autry of motion pictures and television, has been secured as the featured celebrity for the show. He will appear nightly at rodeo performances with his usual comedy and music presentations.

Both reserved seats and box seats will go on sale to the public on July 15th when the rodeo office will be open for business. The rodeo grounds are now undergoing a complete cleanup and fixup campaign in preparation for the show. 6,000 good seats will be available each night. In recent years all Top o' Texas rodeo shows have been complete sell-outs, and everyone is urged to make reservations for seats at the earliest possible date in order to receive the best accommodations, according to Bob Andis, president of the Association.

a crime against wildlife ensues since these animals cannot be permanently adjusted to domesticity. Therefore, we have instructed our warden force to discourage this unhappy practice by prosecution where advisable." The arrest report listed 124 persons prosecuted for fishing without proper licenses and nine others filed on for hunting game out of season.

Swindlers Sell Fabrics Marked "All Wool"

SALT LAKE CITY.—A smoothly operating band of door-to-door salesmen who sell cheap substitute fabrics as "all-wool" are cheating the nation's housewives out of hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, the American Wool Council has warned here.

The swiftly spreading racket, which local authorities in most communities, has reached as far West as Southern California and as far East as Hartford, Conn., according to the Better Business Bureau in New York. In most cases, victims are persons who can ill afford to be swindled.

Fast-talking and fast-moving members of the organization hit with greatest frequency in rural America. Here, in smaller towns with few stores, these slickly polished guys can reach the heart of the nation's budget-conscious, home-sewing market.

Telling a story of personal hard luck, the itinerant salesman offers what are described as luxury wool fabrics at sacrifice prices, victims of the racket report. Authentic-looking labels identifying the fabrics as "all-wool" play a big part in clinching most sales, they add.

Only after the salesman has sped away in his high powered car do both the salesman's story and fabric prove to be synthetic.

"These operations, which constitute a nationwide swindle of gigantic proportions, are cleverly devised to escape effective prosecution and are geographically planned to victimize widely scattered segments of the population," says W. H. Steiwer, the American Wool Council's president.

"For every one of the hundreds of local incidents reported each year," he adds, "thousands of sales unquestionably go unreported."

How to Be a Sucker in 3 Easy Lessons

LESSON ONE - Things to Avoid

1. Don't read stories like this clipping from the newspaper. To do so may undermine your confidence in hit-and-run salesmen to such an extent that you will never be able to achieve Grade A Suckership.
2. Keep away from your local, taxpaying, community-supporting stores. To shop them carefully may interfere with your free acceptance of the salesman's pitch about offering values that the stores can't beat.

LESSON TWO - Have Faith

1. Swallow whatever line the nice man hands you, because he and his company (which you probably never heard of) guarantees what he says.
2. Don't display your rudeness by asking him to further jeopardize his immortal soul by inquiring where he could be found by tomorrow if you had to try to collect on his guarantee.

LESSON THREE - Forget

1. Forget that you may want the people you do business with to help out with local money-raising projects. And where will the peddler be then?
2. Forget that about one-third of the money you spend with local business establishments finds its way into community upkeep and progress, while the peddler puts this part down in his sock.
