Dr. Knight hangs up surgeon's hat... Cowboys' physician closes local office

by Jean Pagel

When Dr. Marvin Knight closed his orthopedic office in Muenster on Dec. 31, 1988, he entered retirement - for the second time.

"I didn't intend to open an office when I moved to Muenster," Knight said. "And I don't know how I'll make out on this one (retirement). I've been busy so far."

Knight, who left his practice at a Dallas clinic in 1972 to work with Hereford cattle on his ranch near Rosston, said he'll continue treating several patients he's been seeing. But his office adjoining Muenster Memorial Hospital was emptied last month, and now he's ready to devote time to his ranch and other activities.

"I've always enjoyed life, and doing what I was doing," Knight smiled. "It doesn't seem like I've been here that long at all."

Perhaps best known for his long association with the Dallas Cowboys, serving as a team orthopedic surgeon and physician since 1960, Knight, with his white western hat, has been a familiar sight on sidelines of games.

"I've always enjoyed life, and doing what I was doing."

But he shuns celebrity status. Knight doesn't let things like Super Bowl rings, being featured on a commercial for ritzy hotels, or probably being the first surgeon to have performed an artificial hip surgery, go to his head.

He simply shrugs. "I've been president of this and on that board. But I never take advantage of it," he said. "I've chewed out some of the best."

Knight, the second of seven children, was born in a tent in Halls Valley, Texas. His father was in the construction business, he said, and was helping build a railroad at the time. Knight started school when he was 8 years old, skipped a couple of grades as his family moved around following construction jobs; he managed to graduate in 1927 from Moran High School.

"Ever since I can remember I wanted to be a doctor. I had a great-uncle who was a doctor," he explained. "I knew all along that's what I wanted to do if I could."

Once out of high school, Knight was on his own. Jobs were hard to find, and he felt fortunate to help build a hotel.

But Knight did make it to college - Howard Payne University. There he studied in the pre-med program while supporting himself working two, sometimes three, jobs at one time. One of these jobs was an editor of the college's newspaper, The Yellow Jacket.

Out of Baylor Medical School in 1935, Knight served a one-year internship at Gallinger Hospital in Washington, D.C. He was paid $15 a month.

He started general practice in Kermit, Texas, where the oil boom was in full swing. There, amid "trailer houses, tents, honky tonks and no streets," Knight did everything from deliver babies to treat workers injured in oil field accidents. He was the county's health officer in 1937, before moving to the University of Iowa where he began to specialize in orthopedics.

"I thought I had a knack for it," he said simply. Orthopedics is the study and treatment of the skeletal system, muscles and joints.

Knight then worked at Charity Hospital in New Orleans, during the Huey Long era.

"Many a night the only sleep I got was on patient carriages, especially during Mardis Gras."

In 1941 came World War II, with Knight serving assignments at hospitals in Washington, D.C.; Cleveland and in the South Pacific. It was in Cleveland - where he administered to as many as 1,700 patients at one time - that he designed a hip prosthesis. He also performed what was probably the first artificial hip transplant in the country while he was there.

"Cleveland is an industrial city. You can have anything in the world made in Cleveland," Knight reflected. "But I never did patent any of that stuff. Never wanted to," he said of the orthopedic instruments he designed.

In Spring 1946, Knight opened an orthopedic office in Dallas. Later, he built a clinic that he eventually shared with four other surgeons.

Progress continues on adolescent center

by Jean Pagel

Construction of a new facility for Lakeview Adolescent Center is rapidly progressing, with its completion expected to hit the projected Feb. 1 date, an official of Beck Management Corp. said Friday.

Terry Madsen, Director of Community Services, said the center will begin operation in Muenster Memorial Hospital facilities on Feb. 15.

Lakeview Adolescent Center is the result of an agreement between Beck Management and Muenster's hospital; it is what Madsen termed one of the most progressive drug and alcohol treatment programs in the country.

"Our primary emphasis is to get people back home," he said. "We're progressive because we don't like to have the kids locked up and away from family and the pressures that precipitated their problems."

The center, which serves people ages 12 to 17, will offer treatments ranging from consultation and outpatient treatment to in-patient treatment in a controlled environment. The 2,500-square-foot building being built south of the hospital, Madsen said, will be used as a 20-bed in-patient unit.

The existing 13 rooms in the hospital's southwest wing also will be dedicated to the center. This wing will be separated and secured from the rest of the hospital, but will be joined to the new facility by a secured hallway.

The hospital will provide medical, laboratory, records, dietary and laundry services for the center.

Madsen said an inspection of the facility was scheduled for this week, and that personnel from Beck Management were scheduled to move temporarily into the office vacated last month by Dr. Marvin Knight.

Members of the treatment team include a physician, psychologist, drug and alcohol abuse counselor, a social worker and a family therapist. These professionals are coming from all over the North Texas area, Madsen said.

And the clientele, he said, will come from the area Beck Management serves - from Bonham, on the east, to Muenster, on the west; from the Oklahoma border to the Metroplex.

"It's a difficult situation," he said. "The prevalence of drug abuse is assumed to be about 10 to 20 percent of the population. But people have become more aware of the need to treat this problem."

Adolescents become clients of the center after scheduled interviews with members of the treatment team. In the interviews, Madsen said, it is decided whether treatment is appropriate for each young person, and what particular

Awards dinner recognizes volunteers

The Boy Scouts of America, Frontier Trails District Recognition Dinner was held in Muenster on Saturday, Jan. 14, at the VFW Hall, sponsor of Pack 664. Approximately 83 scouts from Denton and Cooke County were present. Ginny Schneider catered the dinner.

Muenster's Centennial King and Queen, David and Juanita Bright, were present and were introduced as parents of four Eagle Scouts, and as active volunteers in the troop in Muenster.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post was thanked for its assistance and sponsorship.

Pack 664 Cub Scouts presented and retired the colors. Volunteers were recognized for their involvement in District Activities. Individual Packs and Troops who were present and had qualified for the Quality Unit Award were presented flag banners. Frontier Trails provides the opportunity to experience scouting to 1,873 boys.

Kathy Scott of Denton and Lupe Evans of Muenster were recognized for their involvement in Cub Scout Day Camps.

The District Award of Merit is the highlight of the Recognition Banquet. This is the highest award presented by a district. Earning the honors this year were Shirley Knabe and Ernie Martin of Pack 664, Muenster; Don Dossey and Kathy Scott of Denton.

Announcement was made that Frontier Trails has qualified for the Quality District Award which will be presented at the Council Dinner in February. Frontier Trails District boasts the distinction of 708 Cub Scout advancements, 954 merit badges and 14 Eagle Scouts in 1988.

SHIRLEY KNABE receives Award of Merit from Bob Beck

Shirley Knabe is first a mother of six children, one of which is a "special" child, yet she finds time to do scouting. She joined scouting in 1981 as a pack committee member in charge of advancements. In 1986, she became a Den Leader and is presently a Webelos Leader.

She is also a troop committee member for Troop 664. She was on staff at Cooke County Cub Day Camp in 1986 and 1987.

In 1988, she was Day Camp Program Director. Along with Scouting, Shirley is active in getting youngsters involved in sports. She has been a coach for T-ball, Softball, and Soccer since 1983. She herself is active in Softball with the local ladies' team in Muenster.

Within the community, she shares her talent of calligraphy printing with every organization that requests her help. Shirley has proven herself a loyal scouter, always involving her pack and den in all District and Council activities. These are some of the reasons Shirley is deserving of the District Award of Merit.

Schroeder to retire after 30 years of service

Hermes chosen superintendent

Henry Schroeder, born Feb. 19, 1929, attended Subiaco Academy in Arkansas, graduating from Subiaco College and Seminary on May 26, 1950. He received his Master of Education degree from St. Louis University in St. Louis, Missouri on Feb. 5, 1956.

by Elaine Schad

Lindsay native Gilbert Hermes, longtime teacher, coach and principal for Lindsay schools, will become the new superintendent of the Lindsay Independent School District effective July 1, officials announced this week.

The school board made its selection from a host of applicants for the position. Hermes will replace longtime Lindsay educator Henry Schroeder, who plans to retire as superintendent at the end of this school year.

Hermes, 47, received his bachelor's and master's degree from North Texas State University in Denton. He'll be working on his administrator's certification at UNT beginning this spring.

"He's been in our system for a long time, and we'll have continuity," said Schroeder of the Hermes selection. "Continuity is what you need to maintain a good school district."

The first teaching assignment for Hermes was in the Lindsay school system back in 1964, and he has remained with the district ever since. He has been an eighth grade teacher, head football coach, assistant football coach, elementary coach, and social studies teacher. He served as elementary principal for one year, and became the principal over both the elementary and high school in 1986, a position he has held ever since. Hermes is a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay.

The district is seeking to hire a replacement for Hermes at the principal position, Schroeder said.

HENRY SCHROEDER

Following graduation, Schroeder taught in Missouri at St. Louis University High School from September 1955 to June 1957. In 1957, he taught for one year in Windthorst before beginning at Lindsay in 1958, where he has been employed for 30 years.

Schroeder was appointed Acting Superintendent in January 1986 after Glenn Hellman's sudden illness. He became Superintendent in July of 1986.

C of C celebrates city's 100th birthday

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce will host its own annual banquet on Jan. 21 at the Community Center. It is themed "Celebrating 100 years of Muenster history".

Janie Monday will be mistress of ceremonies. She is well qualified as a member of long-standing, and as publicity chairman of the Centennial Committee.

Ronnie Felderhoff will be the guest speaker. He is manager of Muenster Milling Co., Inc. and a former mayor of Muenster. He will speak on the past, present and future of Muenster.

David Fette, immediate past president of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, and publisher of The Muenster Enterprise will introduce the speaker.

A special presentation will be made by Urban Endres to Mayor Ted Henschel, of a U.S. Flag which flew over the U.S. Capitol Building on Dec. 8, 1988.

ERNIE MARTIN receives Award of Merit from Bob Beck

Ernest Martin joined scouting as a Den Leader in 1986. He was one of the first male den leaders for his pack. He is presently a Webelos Leader. Ernie has been a devoted scouter throughout his years in scouting. He was on staff at Cooke County Cub Day Camp in 1986 and 1987. He has helped with all District and Council events, getting his pack and den to participate. He has been to Den Leader Training, Webelos Training and has attended Pow Wows.

He has served as vice president and this year he is president of Sacred Heart Home-School Society.

Ernie is a self-employed carpenter and has contributed to the building of the City Park playground as well as the Young Children's Learning Center. He has proven himself to be a truly giving and caring person and therefore qualified to receive the District Award of Merit.

Duncan nominated for Air Force Academy

Robert Blake Duncan has been nominated to compete for entry into classes beginning in July 1989 in the U.S. Air Force Academy. His nomination is one of three area candidates among a number of other nominees in Texas, as announced by U.S. Representative Charles W. Stenholm for vacancies in U.S. Service Academies.

Robert Duncan, son of Russell and Margaret Duncan of Gainesville, is a senior at Lindsay High School where he is student body president, an honor roll student and a member of the varsity basketball team, for which he was named most valuable player at the recent Cooke County College Classic. He had the best score on the golf team that qualified for region and was district champion in tennis and fourth in regional competition last year. Duncan was also named to the Outstanding High School Students of America; was a youth delegate to the Texas War no Drugs Conference in 1986; a Youth For Understanding exchange student to Switzerland in the summer of 1987 and played basketball in Russia as a participant in the Sports For Understanding exchange program this past summer. The nominees will now be contacted by the academies with additional information and instructions, and will be scheduled for medical and physical examinations. Each of the Academies will select one individual as principal for admission and offer an appointment. The remaining individuals will then be ranked with nominees from across the country to compete for the remaining vacancies in each class.

Second in the series...

High speed rail for Texas?

by State Representative Richard Williamson

This is the second of three articles that will discuss highspeed train technology. The first article discussed the two most pressing reasons why Texas should at least consider this investment -- air pollution and an overcrowded air transportation system. This second article will focus on the cost of building such a system in Texas.

The initial cost of constructing a highspeed rail system in Texas is very expensive. To buy the basic technology, build terminals in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Austin and Fort Worth and lay tracks along existing state owned right-of-way will cost at least 8 billion dollars. A smaller first step would include building terminals in Dallas and Houston along with a connecting railway at a cost of 2.8 billion dollars.

On critical question that Texas taxpayers must answer is the issue of ownership. Do we buy into this system as taxpayers or do we license a private company to be the exclusive operator? There are positives and negatives to each alternative. If we decide to own and operate the system as a unit of state government, then we taxpayers will have to invest the entire amount of money out of tax revenues. Of course, we would also receive the revenues back from each ticket purchased. If we license a private company to own and operate the system, we will still have to invest tax money to give the private carrier the incentive to price train tickets at a competitive rate with the airlines. Why? Because airlines do not pay the 15 cents per gallon fuel tax that equals to the taxes we do collect from electrical generation that would be used to power the highspeed electric rail system.

The economic impact of building the entire system is

Lindsay ISD increases transfer fees

By Elaine Schad

Transfer fees will increase in the Lindsay school district, beginning with the 1989-1990 school year, following approval of new transfer policies this week by the Lindsay school board.

The policy approved by trustees will be in effect for the coming school year and is subject to change on an annual basis, said Superintendent Henry Schroeder. Transfer applications are due in the Lindsay school office during the month of April. Transfer requests will be subject to approval by the administration and school board, Schroeder said.

Two fee schedules have been set by the board, one for families of students already attending the Lindsay school district, and another fee schedule for those who wish to attend Lindsay schools for the first time.

The fee for families to transfer students already attending Lindsay will increase from the current $250 per family to $400 per family. The rate will be the same for any young children, presently below school age, within those families who may attend Lindsay in the future, Schroeder said.

The fee for new transfer students of families who do not presently attend Lindsay schools will be $400 per child, with a maximum fee of $1,000 per family.

The board also decided to admit free of charge transfer students of teachers in the district.

The transfer issue has been under discussion for several months. The main argument has come from parents whose families have been active members of the Lindsay community, even though they do not live within the boundaries of the school district. Many of these families feel they should get a break on transfer rates.

Schroeder said the board, after lengthy discussion, decided against formulating a policy at this time which included alumni, or parishioners, or some other defined group within or outside of the community. "The board just didn't think it was fair to discriminate in that way," Schroeder said. "They felt that the people made their choices of where they wanted to live, and that everybody should be treated equally."

School officials say a different fee structure was needed because it is costing the district more to educate students. The Lindsay district lost about $80,000 in state aid last year, and has built a new elementary facility to accommodate increasing enrollment. Schroeder said the district will be watching its class numbers very carefully, and may be forced to decline transfer requests because of class sizes. He said the district will make every effort, however, to accommodate those families who already have transfer students attending Lindsay.

In other business the school board:

- Delayed a decision concerning the district's facility lease agreement with the Diocese of Fort Worth. The diocese is requesting a significant increase, but a committee, consisting of the church board, Father Denis and school board representatives, is working on negotiations.

- Accepted appreciation from the Gainesville Boys and Girls Club for the donation of the old Lindsay gymnasium scoreboard to the club. Lindsay received a new scoreboard, with 90 percent of the costs donated by the First State Bank in Gainesville.

- Approved the purchase from Cooke County Appliance for $349 of a 25-inch Magnavox remote control, cable ready color television to be used with the video cassette machine in the elementary school.

- Reported tax collections to date at 66 percent complete through December.

Lakeview Adolescent Center also will offer 24-hour crisis intervention, parent education classes, "at risk"/status offenders programs and programs at local schools.

"We're looking forward to working with the Muenster community," he said. "We're going to be as much a consumer in the community as possible - boosterism through the Chamber of Commerce, we'll have to have vans to transport kids, and food, all sorts of things."

In an earlier Enterprise article, Hospital Administrator Herman Carroll hailed the new association as a boon to Muenster as well as the hospital, estimating a $60,000 monthly impact on the city and hospital combined, as a result.

This week Carroll repeated the high hopes and bright outlook for the future of Muenster Memorial Hospital expressed by the hospital board and staff, and the community in general, brought about by the association with Beck Management Corporation and the Lakeview Adolescent Center.

Refuting rumors that have surfaced occasionally, Carroll emphasized: "Yes! We're staying in business! For the time being, maternity cases and births will be handled on an emergency basis only. But we look ahead confidently to the future, when the demand for an obstetrician will have us accepting baby cases and deliveries, pre-natal and post-natal care regularly. We're not tearing out the nursery and labor suites, just using them for other purposes temporarily."

He then emphasized again "If no one uses the service, how can we maintain the service?"

Carroll related also that the whole hospital will be re-carpeted; and that rooms will be refurbished, one at a time, and that income from the rehabilitation center will help.

"We still have a 20-bed hospital, therefore, we can serve 20 patients - more if we add more beds to some rooms. Over a three-month period, we have averaged an eight-patient load per day."

"Surgery, outpatient, laboratory and acute care by Muenster Memorial Hospital remain the same and are always available."

Herman Carroll also offered the following important information, "Not one penny of tax money has been spent on the rehab center."

budget shapers nervous, since lawmakers must trim $1 billion this session.

Hobby, the top budget architect, went so far as to call Clements' veto threat "irresponsible." Like any smart businessman, the lieutenant governor doesn't give away options.

This spectre lingered for a couple of days until Bullock emerged with a way $1 billion could be had by shifting funds on a one-time-only basis.

Breath of Fresh Air

Bullock also advised that no new taxes would be a breath of fresh air to the Texas economy and help spur diversification.

Bullock's budget advice is always respected, and besides, it made the Big Four score two to two on taxes, if anyone cared to count.

Bullock is running for higher office. Bullock is smart. He just helped a lot of Democrats get re-elected in 1990.

Tax Issue Closed

While the comptroller was helping solve the tax issue, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said he wouldn't run against Sen. Phil Gramm next year, and Democrats, looking for a new challenger, thought of Bill Hobby.

Two years ago, Hobby declared himself out in 1990, but who else could take on Gramm? A new tax bill surely would remove that option.

Bullock has apparently found the $1 billion for lawmakers to spend. The tax issue, barring a catastrophe, is closed for now.

Rapid Growth Rate

The Texas Department of Commerce predicts the state's population growth rate will be more than double the nation's rate through 2025, with a projected population that year of 29.6 million.

The predicted Texas rate is 1.5 percent per year, compared to 0.6 percent per year for the nation.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texans heard a double-barrel blast of pleasing noise last week when crude oil pierced the $18 price range and lawmakers convened saying, "no new taxes."

The Big Four leadership—Gov. Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis and Comptroller Bob Bullock—all agreed new taxes were off the menu.

Lawmakers accepted it, since no faction between Austin and the White House can outmuscle that quartet, at least not on state capitol turf.

This unity against taxes is new and wasn't forged until just before the session began.

Credit Bullock with quietly drawing the line with his sword. And politics played a part. In December, Speaker Lewis hinted no new taxes, but hedged on a firm stand. After all, he still faced an opening-day vote on his fourth term, and there are many House members who will raise taxes in a heartbeat.

Statements by some of the speaker's lieutenants rode the grapevine all the way to the governor's office.

Spectre of Collision

Clements, the tax hater, vowed to veto any new taxes, period, and the spectre of a collision again raised its ugly head.

MISD approves plan to evaluate administrators

By Elaine Schad

The Muenster school board, at its regular January meeting approved a state-mandated program which will set up a system to evaluate and provide management training for district administrative personnel.

The program was mandated by the state legislature in 1984 as a part of education reforms, and is one of the last mandates to go into effect, said Muenster Superintendent Charles Coffey.

"It's all going to be new and different," Coffey said. "It's all along the line of providing continuing education for administrators."

A committee of three administrators, two classroom teachers, one representing each campus, and two citizens will make up a committee to determine what evaluation forms will be needed for the assessment. Administrators will be evaluated beginning in the 1989-1990 school year, and will be required to take instruction in leadership training as well as courses where they feel will help them make up any deficiencies which come across through the evaluation process.

The only other matter considered by the board was the planned attendance of most of the Muenster school board at a training workshop Feb. 15 at the University of North Texas.

Mini-Bus offers service

The Texoma Area Paratransit System, known locally as the Mini-Bus, has joined the "Greyhound Rural Connection." In doing so, the arrangement provides improved transportation for residents of Cooke, Grayson and Fannin Counties who are becoming more and more accustomed to relying on the Mini-Bus.

Greyhound Lines, Inc. also thereby enhances its nationwide program to reconnect urban and rural America, and encourages more long-range bus travel.

The Mini-Bus will now transport passengers and their luggage to and from the participating Greyhound Terminal in the Texoma System Service area. Passengers are eligible to purchase a one-way ticket on a Greyhound Bus and get the return trip free, until April 30, 1989.

It will be necessary for prospective passengers to call Greyhound and determine days and times when service to specific destinations are available. Then follow with a call to Mini-Bus to reserve a ride to the terminal, indicating the final destination aboard Greyhound. Those who are traveling round-trip and want a ride straight to their front doors, should call Mini-Bus 24 hours before returning.

Operator service no longer created equal "Know your telephone operator," cautions Alvin Fuhrman, president of Muenster Telephone Corporation. He reports that telephone operator service is no longer created equal. With deregulation, a new business has been founded. This is Alternative Operator Service (AOS) found in many cities. AOS is not a regulated business. The AOS companies enter into agreements with establishments such as hotels, motels, hospitals, universities and privately-owned pay telephone providers. Under the agreement, callers are automatically connected to the AOS provider when they make long distance calls as well as other services provided by the AOS.

In many cases, as an inducement for establishment to use the AOS, they are given a commission for each call made. This commission many times is added to the cost of the call. In the case of collect calls, the charge for the call may not be from the town where the call was placed, but rather from the location of the AOS provider which could be anywhere in the United States. This service has been generating numerous complaints to our business office.

There are no AOS providers operating from Muenster or Valley View. However, when you are away from home, Fuhrman highly recommends that you know your "operator" to avoid being surprised by additional charges. When placing a toll call from a telephone in one of the above establishments, ask if she is the local telephone company operator or an AT&T operator. If not, ask to be connected to the local telephone company operator. They must connect you if you request it. If at a payphone, it should be clearly marked as to whether it is a private payphone or a payphone provided by the local telephone company. Regulated charges will apply if a regulated telephone company operator completes your call.

If you have been surprised by a bill from an AOS provider recently and you would like to file a complaint, about the only recourse you have at the present time Fuhrman states is to write your Texas congressman and/or the Public Utility Commission in Austin, Texas. The PUC address is in the information pages of your telephone book.

Sergers have been used by ready-to-wear manufacturers since the early 1900's, however, not until recent years have they become available and popular for home sewers. Now nearly every sewing machine manufacturer has a model available for home use.

A special workshop is planned for Tuesday, Jan. 24, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Home Economics Committee. A day program will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the same program repeated at 7 p.m. for those homemakers who prefer a night meeting. Both will be in the Texas Utilities Electric Meeting Room in Gainesville. To register for the workshop, call the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

"I told these doctors, 'Don't pay attention to the bills. Worry about the people, and they'll take care of you.' And it's true," he said.

Knights reputation in orthopedics spread throughout the city, and in 1960 a man named Tex Schramm called to ask if he'd be interested in working as a physician for Dallas's new National Football League team. Knight accepted the offer and began what came to be an almost 30-year stint as the most well-recognized doctor of the Dallas Cowboys.

"I attended practices, traveled with the team," he said. "I didn't miss a game in Dallas for 15 or 20 years."

But in 1972, Knight left the big city for a ranch south of Muenster that he had bought 20 years earlier. "I came up here to retire. What happened?" he laughed, "I didn't retire."

Knights said he's not sure when he opened his Muenster office; "it just sort of happened" as he was frequently called on in emergencies. Pat Bell was his receptionist for about one year, and Loree Bruns took the job ever since.

And with his local office, Muenster Memorial Hospital came to be the city's claim to fame in professional football as injured Cowboy players were treated here.

"They liked Muenster and Muenster Memorial Hospital," Knight said. "It was an asset, rather than reporters coming in and worrying them. They liked the quiet. The nurses took care of them, and that's it."

Knights is still a medical consultant to the team, although he didn't attend many games this year.

"It makes me feel bad to see them lose," he said. "I've always tried to win myself - I don't care if it's playing checkers or what."

Knights recently was featured in a television commercial for Lincoln Hotels. But not awed by the film industry, he's ready to simply spend more time at his ranch and with family: wife, Josephine; sons, Dr. Marvin Knight Jr. of Gainesville and Dr. Walter Knight of Dallas; daughter, Mrs. Betty Pearl Taylor of Dallas; and four grandchildren.

It remains to be seen whether this country boy can stick to his retirement.

Thank You!

The stockholders, directors, officers and staff of Muenster State Bank joins the whole community in thanking Dr. Marvin Knight, Sr. for his service to our hospital and our community.

May your retirement be pleasant and peaceful.

We're Proud of You!

MR. and MRS. JOHN HACKER
... on their wedding day, Jan. 10, 1939 ...

John Hackers reach golden anniversary

John Hacker and Bertha (Walterscheid) Hacker were married fifty years ago on Jan. 10, 1939 in Sacred Heart Church during an 8 a.m. Mass, officiated by Father Frowin Koerd, OSB.

The fifty-year-bride recalls that it was a beautiful, spring-like morning, although the calendar indicated mid-winter. The wedding was an all-day celebration.

Bertha was wearing a lovely white satin gown which she designed and made. A lace tiara held her full-length net veil. She wore a gold cross and chain and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations, and green Queen Anne's lace fern, tied with a cluster of wide white illusion bows and ribbons.

Attendants at the wedding were her sister, Angeline Walterscheid Eckart, as maid of honor and his brother, Ed Hacker, as best man.

John Hacker is the son of the late Joe and Catherine Hacker. He is a retired carpenter, and in his youth, and maturity particularly, enjoyed a good game of dominoes. Bertha is the daughter of the late John and Catherine Walterscheid. She is a homemaker and enjoys sewing and quilting. She is known for her distinctive and original quilt designs and the high quality of her work. Her daughters and daughters-in-law all are recipients of one of her treasures.

The Hackers are parents of six children, Jo Ann Pelzel of Pilot Point; Giles, who died after birth; Helen Muller of Bedford; Joyce Strittmatter of Pilot Point; Maurus Hacker of Myra; and Shirley Wilson of Gainesville. They have 17 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

John Hacker is a resident of St. Richard's Villa since breaking his hip in August 1988.

Rosie Walterscheid honored Jan. 15

An all-day celebration was held in the VFW Hall on Sunday, Jan. 15, to honor the 86th birthday to Rosie Walterscheid. Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren came to help make the day especially happy. A covered dish noon meal and an evening supper were enjoyed by all.

Kim Felderhoff, a granddaughter, baked and presented a beautifully decorated birthday cake, which was served in the mid-afternoon.

The Happy Birthday song was sung to the accompaniment of the accordion played by Mildred Lawson. There were three honorees for the birthday song: Stacie Sandmann, a great-granddaughter, who celebrated her sixth birthday on Jan. 14; Linda Walterscheid, a daughter-in-law who was also celebrating her birthday on Sunday; and Rosie Walterscheid, whose birthday was Jan. 16.

Mrs. Walterscheid is the mother of nine children, six living, including Mildred Lawson, Donnie Walterscheid, Tommy Walterscheid, Bobby Mollenkopf, Dale Walterscheid and Conrad Walterscheid, Jr.

Earl, Ervin Richard and Herbie Walterscheid are deceased.

There are 27 grandchildren and 33 great-grandchildren.

Geography students get French lesson

On Tuesday, Jan. 17, the Sacred Heart Freshman World Geography class completed their month long study of Canada with a lesson in French given by Mrs. David Shauf. Mrs. Shauf has studied French for several years, and gave a spirited and practical lesson in French. Students learned basic greetings and leavetakings, as well as compliments, and put-downs of unwanted suitors. By the end of class students were conversant, and doubly eager for a visit to Quebec.

The World Geography class will have a chance to put their skills to practice in April when they will visit a French restaurant, on their field trip.

Six area students on Subiaco honor roll

Six area students, attending Subiaco Academy, a college preparatory school in Arkansas, were among the 25 scholars recognized on the Honor Roll at semester.

Those achieving Honor Roll status are Gus Felderhoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Felderhoff; Jason and Ryan Gehrig, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Gehrig; Helmuth Koelzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Koelzer; Stevan Nasche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Nasche; all of Muenster; and Steve Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitz of Gainesville.

A grade minimum of "B" is required for the Honor Roll. Responsible conduct and application to studies also determine membership.

CCC offers two new arts for spring

There are two new art courses back on the spring schedule at Cooke County College that students can really get "fired up" about.

The courses are in ceramics - pottery making to be exact, in which students will learn both basic and advanced techniques on the potter's wheel, as well as how to glaze and fire their creations in the kiln.

Ceramics is a must for art majors, says Dr. Ona Wright, head of the CCC Department of Communication & Fine Arts, but it's also a great choice for students looking for a good humanities elective.

"These are also wonderful courses for anyone who may just be looking for a new hobby, pastime or even therapy," Wright says. "This has been a popular course among older students when we've had it on the schedule."

Interest in the two ceramics courses on the schedule for the 1989 spring semester is expected to be high. The courses will be taught at the Arts Activity House (downstairs from Butterfield Stage Playhouse) and space will be limited.

The courses are listed in the class schedule as AR 2163 - Ceramics I - Pottery and AR 2263 - Ceramics II - Pottery. Both sections will meet at the same time - Mondays and Wednesdays from 5 to 7:55 p.m.

Instructor for the classes will be Sylvia Deaver, a familiar name to local and area art lovers and visitors to recent Cooke County Art Shows, from which an extraordinary vase captured "Best of Show" honors a couple of years ago. Deaver operates her own commercial ceramics shop in Gainesville.

In April, Deaver was invited to the spring show of the Abilene Museum of Art for showing and selling. She attended a seminar at Ghost Ranch in New Mexico on high-fire porcelain crystals, and she and her husband hosted a three-week seminar here with instructor Willard Spence, potter from Taos.

In October, Deaver exhibited her work at the Pampa Fine Arts Association show. She works with the North Texas Art League in Denton and joined in the display and sale there in November. The second weekend of December she was at the Will Rogers Exhibit Building in Fort Worth for another display.

For more information about these courses, contact Dr. Wright at 668-7731, Ext. 279.

You're invited to join Chorale

An invitation has been issued to all interested area residents to join the Cooke County Chorale. The enthusiastic, music-loving group would like to increase its membership. A performance will be held some time in the spring.

No special music education is required. In the past, the Chorale, under the talented leadership of its director Glenn Wilson, has performed a variety of selections ranging from classical to contemporary. Mr. Wilson is also music instructor at Cooke County College.

The Chorale meets Monday nights at 7 p.m. in the 1300 Building of Cooke County College. For more information, call 817-668-7731, and ask for Glenn Wilson of the CCC Music Department.

Dr. Knight feted by MMH staff

Doctors, nurses, staff and hospital employees of Muenster Memorial Hospital expressed their respect for Dr. M. B. Knight, long-time orthopedic surgeon and friend when he hosted a surprise salad luncheon in his honor at noon on Friday, Jan. 6. His wife, Mrs. Josephine Knight also attended.

Everyone had fun with "Remember Whens."

A commercial he made last year for television was shown as a surprise.

Informal discussion also led to the group reminding itself that the hospital's 25th anniversary will be honored on Feb. 4, 1989.

Couple united Dec. 30 in St. Peter's

The wedding of Stephanie Lynn Brazie and Stanley Anton Stoffels was held in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on Dec. 30, officiated by Father Stephen Eckart during a Nuptial Mass at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brazie of Phoenix, Arizona; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoffels of Rt. 2, Gainesville.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Texas Christian University and is employed in Denton as a dance instructor and a florist. The groom is a 1979 graduate of Lindsay High School and is a commercial and industrial insulator. Since returning from their wedding trip to San Antonio and Austin, the couple is residing in Denton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing the treasured, beautiful bridal gown borrowed from her aunt who wore it at her own wedding on Dec. 30, 1955, thirty-three years ago. It was designed with lace and tulle over white satin, with long lace sleeves and Peter Pan collar, and a brief train.

Her triple-tiered veil was attached to a tiara.

Her bridal bouquet consisted of yellow roses, white miniature carnations, white starburst poms, white daisies, white statice and ming fern.

ATTENDANTS

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Kathleen Brazie of Phoenix. Bridesmaids were Kathy Felderhoff of Myra, groom's sister; and Susan Shasteen and Renee Holder, friends from Denton. Stephanie Stoffels, groom's niece of Gainesville, was junior bridesmaid.

They were attired in tea-length dresses of teal moire taffeta, designed with three-quarter length sleeves, and boat neckline.

Their flowers were clusters of all-white, miniature carnations, daisies, starburst mums, statice and green ming fern and teal ribbon streamers.

The best man was Nick Schroeder of Lindsay, friend of the groom. Groomsman were Tim Stoffels of Denton, groom's brother; Andy Brazie of Avondale, Arizona, bride's brother; and Manley Taylor of Lindsay, a friend. Jeff Sicking of Lindsay was junior groomsman.

Ushers were Don Brazie, bride's brother of Phoenix; Bob Stoffels of Garland, groom's brother; Randy Stoffels of Gainesville, groom's brother.

Mass servers were Keith Zimmerer of Lindsay and Toby Wellborn of Denton, both cousins of the groom.

Wedding music was presented by Annetta Earle, organist, and Susan Shasteen, vocalist. Selections included "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," and "Ode to Joy" for the processional; and Mendelsohn's "Bridal March" for the recessional. Songs during Mass were "Wherever You Go," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria." Friends and relatives were participants in the special wedding liturgy.

Bryan Hellman and Danny Norman, lecturers and friends of the groom, gave the Readings and Petitions; Charlotte Sicking, groom's sister, Tony and Stella Hess, groom's baptismal sponsors, and Sister Elaine Bengfort, groom's aunt, presented Offertory gifts at the altar. Dorothy Bengfort, groom's aunt, and Kevin Block and Andy Bezner, groom's friends, were Eucharistic ministers.

Church decorations followed the Christmas theme, with lighted trees, arrangements of poinsettias on the altar and wreaths and green garlands on the pillars.

RECEPTION

A reception, catered dinner and dance followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville.

Presiding at the guest book were Kimberly Harmon, Shelah Dunagin and Frances Hennen, all of Denton.

Guests danced to music by Mike Ottos Disco.

The white, tiered bride's cake was made and cut by Betty Rose Walterscheid. The two-tiered German chocolate groom's cake was baked and decorated by Stella Hess and Dorothy Bengfort, aunts of the groom. It was decorated with a hunting scene.

Among wedding guests were Manford and Rose Ann Carpenter, bride's grandparents of Glendale, Arizona; Kathy Nanneman, bride's aunt of Norman, Okla.; Colleen and Roger Saade, bride's cousins of Oklahoma City; Ricky and Keith Nanneman, bride's cousins; Sister Elise Bengfort, groom's aunt of San Antonio; Bob, Pauline, Cheryl and Kellie Stoffels and Dick, Emma and Greg White of Garland; Leo and Belinda Cantrell of Richardson; Tim and Sabrina Stoffels and John, Jane, Toby and Joel Wellborn of Denton; Dr. and Mrs. Ronnie DeFrance of Dallas; and many more from Cooke and surrounding counties.

Garden Club meets in Mosman home

A program on "Cactus" was presented by Dolores Miller at the Jan. 13 meeting of the Muenster Garden Club. Marie Mosman was hostess to eight members, including Jim Roark, who was welcomed as a new member.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Daryl Ferber.

New officers were elected, with Eileen Luke becoming president for 1989-1990. A discussion was held for an Open House on March 10.

The secretary's report and correspondence were read by Marcy Wilde. Members voted to attempt to obtain two fig trees for planting as an Arbor Day observance on Jan. 20.

Next month's meeting will be held on Friday, Feb. 10, at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. R.N. Fette as hostess in her home. Marcy Wilde will present a program on "Flowers of Yesteryear," flowers nostalgic and reminiscent of another era.

Baptism

Bezner

Emily Laura Bezner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bezner of Temple, Texas, was baptized in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Wednesday, Dec. 28, at 4 p.m.

Father Victor Gillespie officiated for the Sacrament and an uncle, Phil Endres, and an aunt, Rhonda Hartman, assisted as baptismal sponsors.

The infant wore the same christening gown worn by her father and her two sisters, Julie and Leslie, and one brother, Jake, at their baptisms. She was wrapped in a blanket made by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ed Endres. All of her grandchildren have used this blanket.

Attending the baptism were Ed and Clara Endres and all of Emily Laura's local uncles, aunts and cousins. A dinner followed in the grandparents' home. Table centerpiece was a decorated christening cake made by Debbie Endres.

Darrell Dangelmayr leads the Tigers...

Tigerettes stop 2 district foes

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes continued on their winning ways as they swept two district wins in improving their record to 18-5. The Tigerettes knocked off first place leader Oakridge 73-35 in Arlington Saturday and returned to the pleasant surroundings of the Tiger Den Tuesday evening and stopped the Tyler Street Crusaders 69-17.

At Arlington the Tigerettes jumped all over Tyler Street in the opening canto for a 36-2 first period edge and a 50-8 halftime period while the underclassmen took the Tigerettes home for the 69-17 conference win.

Noelle Hess, 10 points, was the only Tigerette in double digits but received plenty of support as all Tigerettes scored. J.J. Dowd and LaBecah Hess each hit for 9, Debbie Schmitt scored 8 followed by a trio of seniors, Lisa Hamric, Vickie Schmitt, and Jennifer Fuhrmann with 6. Rounding out the scoring were Michelle Walter 4, Vickie Bayer 4, Amy Bayer 3, Amy Walterscheid and Jennifer Walter rounded out the scoring with 2 each.

The Tigerettes next action will be Saturday evening when they will host long time rival Notre Dame. The Tigerettes squeezed a

SH Lady Cubs remain in second place in league

The Sacred Heart Lady Cubs traveled to Montague Monday evening in hopes of gaining a share of first place in the North Texas Junior High School Basketball League but found the Montague Lady Eagles up to task of winning the title. The Lady Eagles doubled the Lady Cub score 56-28. "We played a pretty good game," said mentor LeBrasseur. "We just didn't put the ball in the basket and the score is what counts in the end." Leading the Lady Cubs was hard driving Julie Felderhoff with 8, Deann Bayer 7, April Truembach 4, Toni Reiter 4, Christy Yosten 3, and Allison Klement with 2. Leading Montague was Andrea Nobile with 23. The Cubs will continue league play Monday evening when they travel to Saint Jo to tangle with the Lady Panthers. Tip off is slated for 6 p.m.

The Sacred Heart Tigers visited the Oakridge Owls on Friday and came away with a 74-52 loss. The Tigers were led by Darrell Dangelmayr's 32 points and 11 rebounds. Glen Swirczynski chipped in 7 points in two quarters, but was injured and left the game in the third quarter. Shawn Dangelmayr hit for 5, as did Chad Fleitman who probably played his best game. Jason Endres scored 3 points. Randy Miller contributed 4 assists and 7 boards and Kelly Bell and David Rohmer helped with some good inside defense against the much taller Owls.

On Tuesday, Jan. 17 the Tigers hosted the defending state champs in TAPS Class AA, Tyler Street

Crusaders and lost 78-36. The Tigers suffered from a particularly cold first half and couldn't keep up with the extremely talented Crusaders. The Tigers probably played their best overall floor game, from their most formidable opponent this season. The Tigers effort was excellent led by Darrell Dangelmayr's 15 points and excellent board work and Glen Swirczynski's smart floor game and 14 points. Chad Fleitman put in 6 points, 3 assists and some good boards. Shawn Dangelmayr, Randy Miller, and Jason Endres all contributed to the Tiger effort on defense while David Rohmer hit 1 point and several rebounds. The Tigers begin a full weekend with a JV game at 4:00 Friday followed by the varsity boys against Lexington at Muenster. Saturday both the JV boys and varsity host the Notre Dame Knights.

Soccer Association holds meeting

by Loretta Felderhoff

A general meeting of the Cooke County Soccer Association was held Jan. 12, 1989 at the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce building. Sam Dawson, association president, extended a welcome to all those present.

Susan Metzler gave the treasurer's report.

Mark Krebs reported that a non-profit status is still pending upon notification from the Internal Revenue Service. The Association received $1.00 per package on pictures taken in the fall.

There were 292 players in the fall seasons of 1988 which was an increase of 41 over the fall of 1987. Over 500 players are expected to sign up for the spring 1989 season. Coaches and commissioners are needed for the spring, as well as referees. An equipment director is also needed. The job of equipment director entail taking care of the equipment including nets, balls and corner flags and seeing that all teams have equipment for the season to practice and for each game. Referees will bring the line flags for the linesmen to use during the game. It was requested that each coach be given a goalkeeper shirt as part of the uniform issue.

Attention, girls! In the spring season, it is possible that the Association will have girls-only teams in the U-14 and U-16 age brackets depending upon the number of girls registering. It is hoped to have at least one team from each town represented. The girls will play with six players on a field; i.e. five players and a goalkeeper. The U-14 players (those with birthdates in '75 and '76) will play on a U-8 field. The U-16 (birthdays in '73 and '74) will play on the U-10 field.

Registration for spring season play will begin on Feb. 13 with the deadline being March 13. Play will start April 1 with the last games being played on May 20. Returning players will pay $10.00 and new players will pay $20.00. Registration blanks will be sent to the area schools and notices will be in the newspapers. Prospective players in Muenster may pick up forms at Tops and Teams.

Tournaments are open for teams to register to play in between now and the time our season starts. Coaches should contact Sam Dawson about this.

The following individuals were recognized for their efforts in the Cooke County Soccer Association. Each received a soccer medallion.

Association officers - Mark Krebs, Vice President and Ways and Means Chairman; Susan Metzler, Treasurer; Loretta Felderhoff, Secretary; Kitty Howard, Registrar.

Coaches - U-6, Cynthia Murrell; U-8, Darren Kirchenbauer; U-10, Shirley Knabe; U-12, Larry Fever.

Referees - Clem Stuebing, David Hendry.

Commissioners are needed for the U-8 and U-6 age brackets. It was suggested to have an area representative in each town to contact coaches and player when necessary.

Coaches Clinic: An F level coaches clinic will be held in our area. A state level A licensed coach will teach the sessions for a fee of $25.00 per coach. Coaches may bring players for their team for these sessions. Please contact Sam Dawson if you are interested in this clinic.

Concessions: There will be a trailer near the restroom area for the spring playing season. The association will receive profits from this concession. There will be a reduced price on drinks for team purchases. The money will be used for coaches materials and bleachers or benches which we hope to erect on each side of each playing field.

Curt Bayer named Player of Week

Curt Bayer was notified this week that he was TAPS Class A player of the week for the Lexington game on Oct. 21, 1988. He was nominated for his outstanding game in which he ran 116 yards on 17 carries. This especially excelled because the Tigers played without Glen Swirczynski and Darrell Dangelmayr was hobbled with a foot injury and the entire team was depending on Curt's efforts. He responded with an excellent effort. The school was notified just this week.

Hornettes tie for second with Collinsville and Era

After the euphoria of a 34-31 win over first-half champion Valley View had simmered and the news of Collinsville's win over Lindsay, the Hornettes found themselves deadlocked in a 3-way tie for second with the Pirates and Lady Hornets. It was a big win on the road for the Hornettes.

"It was a great feeling to hand them their first loss at home," said Coach Heers. "We had tremendous effort. Being in a 3-way tie for second means we really need to get first or second this half to qualify. And this half we have three home games."

The Hornettes were coming off a poor performance at Collinsville Friday night where they were beaten 42-25. At Valley View, they led from start to finish. Jennifer Carroll paced Muenster with 15 points. Jenny Wimmer added 7 points and 10 rebounds. Denise Bayer got 5 points and 11 boards. Melissa Bayer had 5 points and 7 boards. Shonna Reiter scored 2. Carroll's baseline shot with 2:00 minutes left gave Muenster the cushion it needed.

"It was, without a doubt, one of our best rebounding efforts this year." The girls are 9-9 for the season.

Friday against the Pirates the girls were plagued with Murphy's Law. Trailing 25-8 at the half, the Hornettes couldn't close the gap. Denise Bayer led Muenster with 6 points.

"It was without a doubt one to forget."

The Hornettes meet Lindsay at 7 p.m. in Lindsay to begin second half play. Good luck to the Lady Hornets!

Hornette teams take second in tournaments

The Little Red and JV Hornette teams each lost close games in tournament championship Saturday to bring home second place trophies to MHS. In Muenster, the unbeaten Little Red Hornets squared off with unbeaten Montague (33 in a row) and with the score tied 39-39, the ladies of Montague reeled off 5 unanswered points for a 44-39 win. DaLana Walterscheid led all scores with 17. Muenster also got 6 points each from Chelby Schoppa, Lori Graham and Candice Abney. Theresa Kubis added 4. Andrea Nobille led Montague with 16.

To reach the championship game, the Little Red girls downed Sacred Heart 37-27 behind 16 Walterscheid points. Schoppa added 8, followed by Graham with 5, Abney 4, Kubis 2, and Amy Otto 2.

At Lindsay, the Hornette JV girls' team lost a heartbreaker in the final minutes 34-33 to the host Knightettes. Sophomore Kim Anderle scored 14 for Muenster. Julie Hess and Kristi Bierschenk hit 4 each. Jami Flusche added 3, Tina Klement 2, Cheryl Hacker 2, and Amy Dankesreiter 1.

In the morning contest, the girls beat Saint Jo 41-22 behind 12 points from Anderle and 11 from Bierschenk. Tina scored 4, Hacker 4 and Muenster got 2 each from Hess, Flusche, Dankesreiter and Leslie Klement. The girls are 4-6 for the season.

Soccer team honored

Members of the Muenster Soccer Team, sponsored by Tops and Teams, received a thrill of a lifetime on Jan. 7, 1989 when they were selected as one of the teams to play on the Dallas Sidekicks' homefield in Reunion Arena.

Members of the team are James Felderhoff, B.J. Brawner, Cody Perryman, Jon Knabe, Royce Knabe, Leslie Grewing, Dobe

Fleitman, Paul Swirczynski, Eric Miller, Corey Anderle and Jeff Wilde.

They enjoyed the experience of playing indoor soccer and are looking forward to begin the spring season of the Cooke County Soccer Association. The Tops and Teams group are members of the Under 10 Division in the league.

Play at Lindsay Friday night Hornets win first half title

The Muenster Hornets ran their season record to 16-2 and kept their district record unblemished (5-0) Tuesday night with a 75-48 win at Valley View. Last Friday evening, they pulled off their biggest win of the year when Mike Pagel converted a Keith Klement assist with 10 seconds to play for a 64-63 win at Collinsville. The two victories assured Muenster of a bi-district playoff appearance.

"We are proud of our record and of earning a playoff trip," said Coach Ted Heers, "but we know that when everyone wakes up Saturday morning, the only game that will be remembered is the game Friday night at Lindsay. We'd like to win district outright. One game at a time is our theory and this will be an exciting one."

At Collinsville the Hornets met a talented team led by John Green, who scored 27 points, and saw senior post man Pagel get three first quarter fouls with but 3:58 gone in the first quarter. Troy Pagel came in and played the remainder of the half as Muenster went to the locker room trailing 35-32.

"Troy hasn't received a lot of minutes," said Heers, "and neither has Brad (McDaniel). That's part of backing up the senior captains. But they can play and Troy held it down until Mike could get back in."

J. Shane Wimmer kept it close with 16 first half points and Pagel came back with 10 in the final half. With 18 seconds remaining, Collinsville's Green rebounded his own miss and put it in for a 63-62 Pirate lead. Pagel's heroic shot came after all five Hornets touched the ball. The Pirates' Randy Lawson took the final shot and tried a tip-in before Pagel grabbed the rebound and the win.

Wimmer led Muenster with 22 points. Pagel added 14, James Hennigan and Chris Klement 10 each, and Keith Klement 8. The Hornets were 27 of 48 from the field and 10 of 13 from the line.

"Our guys play together well. We were 1 basket from having 5 in double figures."

In Tuesday's game the Hornets overcame early hot shooting by Valley View to take charge by halftime 41-25. Wimmer and Pagel led Muenster with 19 and 18 points. Brian Reiter added 11 points, Keith Klement 8, Hennigan 8, Chris Klement 6, Steven Fisher 3 and Weldon Hermes 2.

In Tuesday's other matchups, Collinsville beat Lindsay 48-46 and Saint Jo beat Era 76-75. The first half standings ended as follows:

- Muenster 5-0
- Collinsville 3-2
- Lindsay 3-2
- Era 2-3
- Saint Jo 2-3
- Valley View 0-5

Friday's game at Lindsay will start second half action. Tip-off will be at approximately 8:30 p.m. Collinsville will host Saint Jo and Era will host Valley View. GO BIG RED!!

Add vegetables to your diet in 1989

If one of your New Year's Resolutions is to include more healthy foods in your diet, begin with vegetables. Vegetables include almost no fat or oil and provide as much as 52 percent of the Vitamin C and 41 percent of the Vitamin A consumed by the average American in one year.

Because of the growing interest in health and nutrition, the per capita consumption of fresh vegetables is over 150 pounds per year. The increase in demand for fresh vegetables has prompted most grocery stores to expand and highlight the produce section.

They are promoting traditional vegetables such as carrots as well as exotic vegetables such as Nappa Cabbage and Daihori radishes.

Vegetables are relatively low in calories, low in sodium and are cholesterol free. They provide natural dietary fiber and are important for digestion. Most important, they are economical, often the cost is just pennies per serving.

Carrot Raisin Salad is a delicious, colorful way to include vitamins, minerals and fiber in your diet. Carrots provide beta carotene, and because they contain one of the richest natural sugars, can satisfy even the worst sweet tooth. Pecans or peanuts provide protein and fiber and sour cream or yogurt adds calcium. Adding cabbage to the salad increases the calcium and adds Vitamin C.

Fresh Vegetables and Chicken Oriental is a quick, one-dish meal. Use of Nappa cabbage adds an exotic flare. Nappa cabbage has the characteristics of a romaine lettuce and cabbage mixture. As with any cabbage, cook a short period until crispy tender to preserve to Vitamin C.

For more information, please write to the Texas Department of Agriculture, 1801 N. Lamar, Suite 103, Dallas, Texas 75202.

CARROT RAISIN SALAD

- 4 large carrots
- 1/2 c. seedless raisins
- 1/2 c. chopped pecans or peanuts
- 2 tsp grated lemon peel
- 1 T. lemon juice

Salt and pepper to taste

1 c. sour cream or low-fat yogurt

Grate carrots into a bowl. Add and mix lightly the other ingredients. Pour sour cream over salad. Toss the salad if you wish.

FRESH VEGETABLE AND CHICKEN ORIENTAL

- 3 c. cooked white meat chicken
- 6 T. butter or margarine

- 1 c. green pepper cubes
- 1 c. onion rings
- 3 c. sliced mushrooms
- 4 head Nappa cabbage
- 2 c. cooked snap beans, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 3/4 tsp. ground ginger
- 1/2 c. soy sauce
- 1 T. cornstarch

Slice chicken in thin strips 1/4 to 3/8 inches wide, and 2 to 3 inches long. Melt butter or margarine in a 10-inch skillet. Add green pepper and saute until partially cooked, 4 to 5 minutes. Add onion rings and mushrooms, saute until limp, 2 to 3 minutes. Cut cabbage into strips 1/2-inch wide. Cook just until wilted about 5 minutes, stirring often. Add snap beans that have been cooked only until crisp-tender, salt, black pepper and ginger. Blend soy sauce with cornstarch and pour over all. Heat thoroughly to slightly thicken sauce. Makes 6 servings.

TWU student balanced academics with cheerleading

LESLIE HESS

"That's the neatest feeling. You know people are saying, 'Wow! The Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders!' And you know you're one of them. That's the best part of it all - running across the field at that moment," said Leslie Hess.

A full-time student at TWU, she balanced a hectic schedule of books and the Cowboys, academics and athletics. The TWU sophomore is majoring in dance and dental hygiene. She chose TWU "because it has the best dental hygiene and dance programs" in the state.

Although her schedule allows little time for hobbies and extracurricular activities, she has focused her studies and was named to the dean's list because of her efforts.

"I did not have any problems with classes and cheerleading practice," she said. "I attended college during the day and drove three or four nights a week to Valley Ranch in Irving to practice with the cheerleaders where the football team works out."

Leslie's major in dance is no accident; she began dancing when she was eight years old. The 20-year-old student has always wanted to be a Dallas Cowboys cheerleader.

"I didn't just wake up one morning and say, 'I think I'll try out today.' It's something I've always wanted to do. I love to perform, and I'm the biggest ham there is," she laughed.

Her studies and determination led her to try out for cheerleading several times; Hess progressed each year until she achieved her goal, finally joining the elite rank of the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders Show Group.

As a rookie, Leslie is excited about being a part of the Show Group.

"Fifteen to 20 of the 32 cheerleaders qualify for the Show Group, which travels internationally," she said. The routines are "more like Michael Jackson steps than drill team (steps)," she added.

"With an education from TWU and experience as a Dallas Cowboys Cheerleader, I know that my future will be as exciting and rewarding as it is now," said Leslie Hess.

Natural Fibers Contest planned for March 4

by Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent

The Natural Fibers Showcase will be held again this year during the Southwest Farm and Ranch Exposition on March 4.

Home sewers are urged to show their sewing skills by selecting natural fibers of cotton, wool or mohair to sew a fashion garment.

The Natural Fibers Showcase has five divisions allowing for all ages of home sewers to participate:

- Division I - Mother and Child (child's garment made by mother or grandmother)
- Division II - Custom Sewn Garments
- Division III - Knitted or Crocheted Garments
- Division IV - Youth - Juniors (ages 9-13)
- Division V - Youth - Seniors (ages 14-19)

Judging will be based on: Construction - suitability of fabric or yarn to design of garment, quality of workmanship, suitability of techniques used and the finished product's appearance.

Appearance - proper fit, suitability of style and color to contestant and proper pressing.

The Total Look - use of accessories, poise of model and fashionability of ensemble.

Garments must be constructed during the last 12 months since the 1988 Style Show and Contest.

The contest is open to any home sewer other than home economists or professionally employed seamstress and will be held at the Amon G. Carter Exhibit Hall Round Up Inn in Fort Worth.

Entry forms must be turned in by Feb. 6. The forms are available in the County Extension Office. To obtain one and to ask questions concerning the contest, call Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, at 668-5412 or stop by the office in the courthouse basement.

Winners will receive prizes of fabric, gift certificates, etc., donated by numerous donors.

Home sewers - join the fun, show your talents and come out a winner!

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a press release received from Texas Woman's University, Denton.

They wait in a tunnel, watching for their cue to hit the field running, greeted by the roar of cheering fans. Although the season has ended, the thrill of that moment still excites Leslie Hess, a Dallas Cowboy Cheerleader and student at Texas Woman's University in Denton, a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a native of Muenster.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Huddleston elected

Billie Ray Huddleston of Celina has been elected to the Board of Directors of Texas Farm Bureau, the largest state farm organization

Huddleston was nominated by delegates of his district, TFB District 4, and elected by the voting delegates to Texas Farm Bureau's 55th annual convention in Corpus Christi recently. He succeeds Royce Magness of Telephone who had served the six years permitted by TFB by-laws.

The new TFB Board member produces wheat, corn and grain sorghum on his 2,100-acre farm in Collin County.

Huddleston has served on the Collin County Farm Bureau Board of Directors, including two separate terms as president, 1971-72 and 1979-80. He has served on all board committees over the past 25 years and is presently the chairman of the National Affairs Committee and a member of the economic services committee.

Huddleston graduated from Celina High School in 1946 and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics from North Texas State University in 1950.

A member of the First Baptist Church, he has served as church deacon for 32 years, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Quarterback Club and served on the school board for 14 years. In 1971, he was chosen Collin County "Farmer of the Year" and Denton-Wise County "Outstanding Conservation Farmer" in 1977.

Huddleston and his wife, Jane, have two daughters and two sons. District 4 includes the following counties: Collin, Cooke, Dallas, Denton, Ellis, Fannin, Grayson, Hill, Hood-Sommerville, Hunt, Johnson, Kaufman, Navarro, Parker, Rockwall and Tarrant.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

If you are planning to plant trees or shrubs, it is near time to find good selections at nurseries. Garden centers and nurseries generally have shrubs and trees for sale in three forms. Some are balled and burlapped. A ball of soil, in proportion to the top growth of the plant, is wrapped in burlap and pinned. In handling this type of nursery stock, the plant should not be lifted by its stem or trunk. Rough handling can loosen the ball of soil and endanger the life of the plant.

Balled plants, or B & B as they are often called, are usually larger than container-grown plants of the same price. They are usually field-grown and may be better adjusted to conditions in your own landscape.

Container-grown plants are continuing to gain popularity. The most common sizes are one- and five-gallon containers, but other sizes are frequently found.

One distinct advantage of plants grown in containers is that there is usually less shock when transplanting takes place. Metal cans are usually cut with special shears by the nurseryman, allowing the plant to be lifted out of the container. Most plastic containers are designed to allow the ball of soil to slip out without cutting the sides. Plants should never be planted with the container left around the rootball. Plants grown in containers offer another advantage since there is less chance of damage due to rough handling.

The third form in which plants are commonly offered by nurseries is with bare roots. Many fruit and nut trees, as well as some shrubs and vines, are offered for sale with bare roots or with roots packaged in a bag of sawdust or similar material.

This method is most successful during the dormant periods of late fall and winter and is much more risky once the plant leafs out.

When setting out bare root plants, two things are important. First, never allow the root system to dry out or be completely submerged in water for long periods. Second, pruning at transplanting time is essential. The amount of pruning needed differs among species but generally a third to a half of the top growth should be removed. Any damaged roots should also be pruned back to healthy wood.

Plenty of humus material worked into the soil and a good mulch on the surface, along with adequate water, will ensure maximum growth during the establishment period. When watering, be sure to wet the soil thoroughly, then allow it to become almost dry before watering again.
