VOLUME XLI MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 MARCH 3, 1978 NUMBER 15

It's a relief to hear that the coal miners' strike is settled and some millions of people can get back to normal living. This is good news not only to the jobless miners but also to workers in many other fields who faced plant shut-downs because power companies were not getting enough fuel to keep up with demand. Invariably lots of people have to suffer when a strike is called.

Settlement of this one seems to be great news for the miners. The package of raises and fringe benefits has been figured as an overall pay increase of 38 per cent. But it is good news for the national economy, or even for the miners themselves in the not too distant future?

The sad fact is that this not only prolongs inflation but increases its momentum. The wage hike plus all the extras are about to cause a substantial increase in the price of coal. Big coal customers like steel companies, power companies, and all the lesser users will find that they need to increase the cost of their services or products to make ends meet, so the prices of consumer goods and services will have to go up.

Little by little the pinch spreads farther and hurts more, so lots of other workers decide it's time for them to get relief from the strain. They strike and get raises, thereby adding their bit to the inflation spiral. And so on, and so on. Eventually everyone receives higher wages and pays higher prices. The economy operates at a higher plane, but people really are no better off. The weekly pay check buys no more than it used to.

That's all right for people who are in the regular economic stream. On the other hand there are many who have to pay the higher prices but do not have the increase of income. For instance, those with a fixed income or with savings. Their status definitely is not as good as before. The net result of all this is that savings accounts and fixed income have lost a part of their purchasing value and the people who have them are forced to curtail their buying. The next result is that production lags and fewer people can be employed.

Economists of Washington obviously are not inclined to this kind of thinking. For some four decades they have operated on the theory that a nation can spend itself rich. And debt was no problem because it was just what a nation owes itself. All the while we have had the horrible example of Britain gradually going broke on the same kind of system, but we have not had the good judgment to quit making the same mistakes.

President Carter deserves credit for hastening an agreement by the coal miners and the mine owners. Whether he applied conciliation or a threat to crack down, he did the country a big service in getting the wheels of production back in motion. Nevertheless this solution is disappointing. There's little satisfaction in knowing that nothing has really been solved, and the economic squeeze that brought on the strike will be back sooner than we expect. Nothing has been done to cure the economic ailment. It's been only a treatment of the symptoms.

Actually, it seems that the way out of the mess is to put our economic system in reverse and undo some of the boners that have been made. A way to gradually reduce both wages and prices would keep a pay check reaching as far as ever while increasing the buying power of savings and fixed income. That ought to increase buying. At the same time lower production cost would have a tendency to increase export and/or decrease import. Such increased production would justify increased wages without a corresponding increase of prices.

We have to admit this theory offers great possibility, but also a great problem. People are geared to operate at the present economic level. They need big income not only for current expense but to pay off big obligations, such as home, auto, appliances, insurance and what not. We're stuck with the system because of our obligations. However, maybe not. An (Continued on Page 10)

2 Contests Develop In Triple Election

Two contests have developed in the three local elections to be held on April 1. With arrival of the deadline for filing candidacies, the city ballot and the school district ballot each has a two-man race.

The city ballot represents several changes from the present council membership. Leonard Endres is the unopposed candidate for a 1 year term as mayor to complete the unexpired term of David Bright, who has resigned. Endres va-

Music Assembly Presents CCC Duo At Public School

Harold and Cecelia Kafer of the Cooke County College Music Department were presented in a lecture-demonstration program at Muenster Public School on February 22. Harold Kafer is chairman of the music department and Mrs. Kafer is a member of the music faculty. Both are natives of Arizona and had extensive musical training and a broad musical background before joining the instructional staff at CCC. Harold Kafer is an accomplished pianist, conductor, lecturer, composer, and teacher. Mrs. Kafer is also an accomplished pianist, though singing is her first love. She has been heard throughout the southwest on the opera stage, in oratorio, and as a recitalist.

The music assembly presentation was a new experience in music for many of the students. Vocal selections performed by Cecelia Kafer included arias from operas by Rossini and Bizet; "Goodnight" from the Broadway hit WESTSIDE STORY, and selections from the very popular contemporary composer, Barbara Streisand. Mr. Kafer accompanied his wife, and performed a piano solo by a 20th century Russian-American composer. Mr. Kafer also talked about the educational opportunities in music that are offered at CCC and the full fine arts scholarship that is available to a deserving applicant.

The Kafer program was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Organization of MPS and arrangements were made by the Cultural Activities Committee.

The next cultural programs scheduled will be presented March 15, The Gainesville High School Concert Band; and on March 29th, the Dance Repertory Theater from TWU.

Carroll Sullivan, 75, Dies

Carroll F. Sullivan, 75, a long time attorney and office holder of Cooke County, died Thursday night of last week in Baylor Hospital of Dallas. Funeral service was held Saturday at 2 in First Baptist Church of Gainesville with Dr. Harry Roark officiating, and burial in Fairview Cemetery was directed by Verie Keel Funeral Home. Bearers were John Atchison, L. V. Henry, Herbert Meurer, Richard Stark, Judge W. C. Boyd and Judge W. A. Hughes.

Another service honoring Sullivan's memory was a solemn tribute by other regents of North Texas State University at a meeting Friday morning. He was the senior member of the NTSU Board, first appointed in 1961 and re-appointed in 1973 for his third six-year term. A new visitors' center at NTSU was dedicated in his honor in August 1977.

His long time legal career included two terms in the Texas Legislature, chief administrative officer of the

Sales Lagging on License Stickers

Modern Floors and Fabrics, which has been authorized by the Cooke County Tax office to sell validation stickers for license plates, announced this week that sales are lagging and apparently leading up to a rush just before the April 1 deadline. Vehicle owners are reminded that they can avoid standing in line by coming soon.

The store can furnish stickers for cars, pickups, vans, motorcycles... almost everything except the heavy trucks. And its hours are 9 to 5:30, Monday through Saturday.

SH Thespians Will Present "Oliver!" March 10 and 12

A musical comedy entitled "Oliver!" by Lionel Bart, an adaptation of "Oliver Twist" by Charles Dickens, is this year's selection by the Thespian Society of Sacred Heart High School. It will be staged March 10 and 12 at the Community Center.

The story begins in a decrepit London orphanage. Oliver (Dan Walterscheid) is still hungry after a meager portion of gruel. Mr. Bumble, the operator of the orphanage (Gary Rohmer) sells him to Mr. and Mrs. Sowerberry (Wilfred Luttmer and Mary Margaret Rohmer), a London undertaker. After a fight with Noah Claypole (Gary Henschel), Oliver runs away and meets Jack Dawkins, the Artful Dodger (Bernie Pette).

Tired and Hungry, Oliver is told that a certain well-to-do gentleman (Joe Bartush), will care for him. This gentleman, Fagin, really runs a gang of juvenile pick-pockets. Oliver is heartily welcomed by the pick-pockets. Nancy and Bet (Carolyn Luke

Weather Better But Still Chilly

The feel of Winter lingers on even though welcome moderation has relieved the severity of weeks. A combination of wind and dampness produces a chill that has been generally out of harmony with temperature readings, especially during the past few days. The weekend, however was more pleasant.

Low-high thermometer readings of the week have been recorded as follows: by Steve Moser: February 24th, 38-74; 25th, 37-62; 26th, 32-58; 27th, 32-52; 28th, 43-52; March 1 36-42.

Light rainfall early Tuesday added .27 inch to the local moisture measure, bringing the February total to 3.52 inches and Thursday morning's reading was .12 bringing the year's total to 5.36.

I am 44 years of age, the daughter of Leta Belle Turner and the late Clem Turner. My parents were in the grocery business in Valley View for 30 years.

"I am a graduate of Valley View High School and attended Cooke County College. I was employed for a number of years in Gainesville. Currently, I have been employed as office manager of a firm in Denton, Texas.

"I have 4 years experience serving as a deputy clerk in the County Clerk's office and the District Clerk's office of Cooke County. If elected District Clerk, I will carry out the duties of the office to the best of my ability, drawing from my experience and knowledge of the operation of the office.

Bloodmobile Visit Is Set for Wednesday

The next collection for the Muenster blood bank will be held next Wednesday, March 8, when the Bloodmobile of the Red Cross blood center of Wichita Falls makes its semi-annual visit to town.

Personnel of the center will have their facilities set up in the K of C Hall from 2 to 7 p.m. and will be assisted by local hospital and auxiliary people.

The quota again is set at 100 pints, the quantity normally used in a half year by patients of Muenster Hospital and residents of the hospital district receiving transfusions in other hospitals.

County Group Named to Assist State Ag Program

The benefits available here are possible through the cooperation of 41 communities, recently expanded from 26, in North Texas and South Oklahoma. David Bright, local hospital administrator, is currently serving as chairman of the Regional Advisory Group.

All of those communities draw on the Wichita Falls center and each in its turn provides for the entire system. In this way all have a constant supply of fresh blood.

Orthopedic Patient of Arabia Chooses Muenster for Surgery

The fame of Dr. Marvin Knight and Muenster Memorial Hospital for orthopedic surgery, Everett reasoned that the obvious confidence of those men in Dr. Knight seemed like a recommendation to himself. The doctor he had been advised to see in Athens may be fine, but suddenly he seemed like a stranger whereas surgery in Muenster seemed like the better choice.

That's why Dr. Knight a few weeks ago received a phone call from Saudi Arabia asking for an appointment for knee surgery.

Everett had the operation, on his left knee, last week Thursday, and has been recovering on schedule. He's bubbling over with enthusiasm for Muenster, says his good feeling started when he decided against going to Athens and headed for the Cowboy doctor.

His companion in praise is his wife, who has been nearby all the while, living in a travel home on the parking lot south of the hospital. They talk in superlatives about their visit to Muenster. "Dr. Knight is tops. Also hospital facilities are fine, while care, accommodation and atmosphere are super. The over all arrangement compares favorably with the biggest and best."

Children's Activity Program

The Children's Activity Program will be held on Friday, March 10 at the Community Center, 10-11 a.m. The Easter theme will be used. Children will need their crayons and should be registered at the Library by Thursday, March 9. Mrs. Jim Gehrig is chairman of the March program.

Letter To the Editor
 Why didn't President Carter level with the American people in his recent "fireside chat" concerning the proposed Panama Canal treaties? The new pact does not guarantee United States naval vessels priority passage in times of necessity or an undeniable U. S. right to defend the waterway if it comes under Panama. He gave us his interpretation of some of the treaties' provisions, but Panamanian ideas differ markedly. With such ambiguous language, who is right? How can we trust General Torrijos? He makes no secret of his Communist sympathies. He established his iron-clad rule of Panama in a military coup more than 10 years ago. All opponents of his regime have been silenced. Panamanian citizens do not enjoy individual liberty and free speech. All opposing political parties are banned. Torrijos' poor management has bankrupt Panama and it owes the U. S. and other countries more than $3.5 billion. Forty percent of his annual budget alone goes to pay the interest on loans. Threats that we will no longer be able to operate the canal if the new treaties are not ratified seem to be the only motivation for the pacts. The best interests of this country, its security and future economic stability should be the main consideration. Most Americans oppose ratification. Hopefully, U. S. Senators will reflect the opinions of their constituents and vote "no".

While debating is still in progress citizens are urged to write their senators to show constantly increasing objection to the treaty.

Garden Club Hears Talk on Japanese Flower Arranging

A surprise treat for Muenster Garden Club was presented on February 6 in a called meeting in the home of Mrs. Paul Endres, when Father Wolfgang Mimms spoke to fourteen members on Japanese Flower Arranging.

Before exhibiting three very artistic arrangements, he discussed the strict rules of flower arranging in the Oriental manner. He also traced the relationship between artistic expression and religious and social traditions of the people and told how this is revealed in their love of flower arranging. So great is their veneration of such expression that a special area of meditation is reserved in homes for placement and display of artistic arrangements.

Three floral displays prepared by Father Wolfgang were given as door prizes.

The hostess, Mrs. Paul Endres was assisted in serving a dessert buffet and spiced tea by Mrs. Leonard Endres.

The regularly scheduled garden club meeting for February 13, in the home of Mrs. Ray Wilde, was canceled because of severe weather conditions when icing of the highway prevented the arrival of the guest speaker.

The next meeting will be on March 13.

Five members of Muenster Garden Club, Mmes. Arthur Endres, David Flusche, Ed Knauf, John Mosman and King Koch, attended a program at the Dallas Garden Center Tuesday.

What About Life Insurance?

This article, along with several others in the future, is for your enlightenment on facts you need to know about life insurance.

First of all let's explode a myth. Can you change life insurance policies without taking a loss? You certainly can. Since people usually don't shop around for life insurance, they almost never get the best deal. You normally buy from a friend, the first salesman that comes to the door, or from a company that you identify with in some way or another.

What about the policy you've had just 2 or 3 years, or the one you've been paying on for many years? Won't you lose all the cash you have accumulated in them? Absolutely not. Chances are you will lose the money if you keep paying on the policies. After all, who gets your cash value when you die? The company does of course.

For example. Let's say you bought a $10,000 whole life policy at age 20. Say the premium is $120 a year and lived to only age 65. By age 65 you would have accumulated over $6000 in your policy. This $6000 is your money; made up of your premiums. But if you died at this point (or earlier or later) you would not receive this money. Of course your beneficiary would receive the $10,000 upon your death. But $6,000 of that money was funded by YOU. Therefore the insurance company only had to pay $4,000. That accumulated could work for you. Invest it. That is how insurance companies make their money. But the companies and agents would rather have you pay forever on their policies. Agents will tell you your policies are valuable; they are, but only because YOU make them valuable. If you had canceled that $10,000 policy when you had accumulated let's say $5,000, you would have $5,000 in the bank earning enough interest to fund $5,000 more of insurance; no more money out of your pocket and still $10,000 of death benefit.

Does this all mean that you can get a better program by changing? Yes. Approximately 95% of the insurable people in Muenster could be helped in some way or another. How much can you save by putting your money to work? It's not hard to save thousands of dollars on even a small policy. Who has the best whole life policy on the market? According to A. M. Best Company, an investigating firm since 1899, the U. S. Life Companies have. Can this policy work for you? Yes it can and does. As a matter of fact the policy can work for itself after 14-18 years; sooner if you have cash in your existing policies. That is why it is number one.

Life insurance doesn't have to be an expense. It can be an asset, if you make it work for you. Their's no hassle in making it work either. Agents should work for YOU and not just a company. Thank you for your attention.

Honestly yours,

Mark Hess

John Hill Party Visits Muenster

Mike Perrin, son-in-law of Attorney General John Hill, was in Muenster last week Wednesday in behalf of Hill's candidacy for governor. His group was one of five then making a simultaneous whirlwind tour of the state.

Concerning agriculture problems he said that a change of the tax system, allowing farmland to be taxed on production instead of market value can be helpful. He also suggested removing the inheritance tax burden which is forcing many farmers off the land.

Risk of Disease Prompts Change in USDA Milk Import

The United States Department of Agriculture in the February 14 Federal Register announced withdrawal of its proposal to encourage expanded importation of milk and milk products from countries where foot-and-mouth disease or Rinderpest are present. Foot-and-mouth disease is a highly communicable livestock virus disease and is found in nearly all of Western Europe. Rinderpest is a similar virus.

The withdrawn USDA proposal contained safeguards requiring the exporting countries to certify the products had been heat treated and were free of disease. The Associated Milk Producers, Inc., a dairy cooperative, and others, vigorously opposed this action saying that the proposal did not address itself to the possibilities of human error and to other technical methods of being certain the products were disease free. The risk of devastating infection to beef, dairy, sheep, goats and swine would have been enormous. Consumers would suffer tremendous injury if domestic livestock became infected. The foot-and-mouth virus, if introduced, could be expected to spread to all parts of the nation within a few days, and could reduce meat and milk production by 25 percent or more.

In the patriotic hymn, "America," the word America does not appear.

Cottage Cheese Born in Desert

Legend has it that cottage cheese was discovered thousands of years ago by an Arab trader traveling through the desert on camel back. Stopping to eat, he found his animal skin bag of milk had turned to curds and a watery substance. And, it was tasty.

Modern cottage cheese is a far cry from the early desert discovery. Yet its manufacture still require heat, mixing and a small amount of rennet, all of which, by chance were combined in the Arab's discovery.

Today, skimmed or defatted pasteurized milk, controlled amounts of lactic acid, rennet, and heat combine to coagulate the protein, called casein, into a soft curd. This curd is then cut into quarter-inch cubes for small curd cheese — sometimes called country or farmers style — or half-inch cubes for large curd cheese. Next, the whey is drained off, and after a cold wash, salt is added. For creamed cottage cheese, fresh cream or a mixture of cream and milk is included.

Baker's pot or hoop cheese, commonly thought of as a form of cottage cheese, is curd, drained of whey without cooking, washing and sometimes not salting. Available only in some markets, this cheese is used chiefly in bakery products such as cheese cake, pie and pastries. It is also used for special diets.

An average serving of cottage cheese gives the body nearly the same amount of animal protein as a medium serving of meat, fish or poultry — and it's more economical!

Proteins are body builders making up the major part of muscle, blood, brain and body organs (not counting water). Without protein, the body cannot reproduce or repair itself.

Most of the protein in three quarts of defatted milk is used to make up each pound, or pint, of cottage cheese. Other nutrients present are Vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin and calcium.

Few foods are better than cottage cheese for providing necessary nutrients with such a low calorie count. A four-ounce serving of cottage cheese gives the body 15 grams of protein with only 120 calories. Uncreamed cottage cheese supplies the body with 19 grams of protein and only 98 calories.

Cottage cheese is one of the most frequently used dairy foods because of its adaptability to a wide variety of uses. It can be used for casseroles and main dishes, appetizers, cheesecakes, sandwich fillings, and all sorts of salads. Its high moisture content makes it a perishable food which must be kept refrigerated and consumed within a relatively short time.

Male ostriches take their turn setting on the eggs to hatch them.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

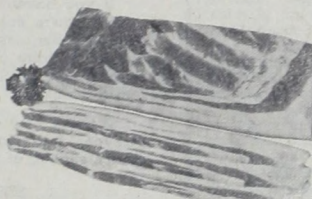

If inflation means you will face a tighter budget in 1978 than last year, try zero-based budgeting.

Start with deciding what you need to exist. Not a dollar more. Money for other things is added to the budget later. First, list expenses you need for basic necessities. Include such things as mortgage payments, food, clothing, transportation. This figure should be an absolute minimum for living expenses. Now list all other expenses on separate pages or on index cards. Be specific. Include such things as an educational fund and entertainment. Then arrange the cards with the most important expenses on top. Total all figures. If the total is greater than income, knock expenses off the bottom or trim the totals of several.

Your minimum survival budget should include regular savings . . . for those unforeseen emergencies. If you need help in establishing a savings account, ask any of our officers. When they advise you on financial matters . . . you can BANK on it!

Control of Fire Blight in Pears Starts in Winter

Pears can be grown in the home garden in most areas of Texas with good success. The one problem that plagues most home gardeners and commercial growers in Texas is a bacterial disease known as Fire Blight, characterized by rapid death of blooms, fruit, leaves and stems during the growing season. It is from this rapid death symptom, that the name Fire Blight is derived.

The bacteria overwinters in cankers formed on last year's diseased limbs. To control the spread of the disease, remove as much of last year's diseased wood as possible during the dormant season and follow with a spray program in the spring using a copper fungicide or streptomycin sulfate.

As we approach spring, one thing to remember is that excess levels of nitrogen or excessive pruning will cause an over abundance of tender succulent growth which is extremely susceptible to Fire Blight. In fertilizing pear trees, apply a balanced fertilizer (13-13-13) or (12-24-12) or (10-10-10). If the trees are in the yard where they will receive additional nitrogen from the lawn fertilization, then the use of a lower nitrogen-containing fertilizer should be considered. A ratio of 5-10-10 would be suggested.

Keiffer and Orient are the two varieties most often recommended as resistant to Fire Blight. Magness and Moonlight, although developed for their resistance to Fire Blight, have not proven resistant under Texas conditions and are not recommended for Texas planting. The French type pears such as Bartlett are extremely susceptible to Fire Blight and cannot be grown in Texas.

Pears represent an excellent back-yard fruit, but planning and care must be taken to insure success. Proper planning begins now in the winter months with variety selections, pruning and fertilizing.

Society Chooses Festival Project

At their meeting Sunday evening members of St. Anne's Society decided to sponsor the Sweet Shop at the Germanfest and appointed Mrs. Ronnie Hoagland, Mrs. Susie Wieler and Mrs. Susie Hoeng to the working committee. They emphasized that baked goods and home-made items of all kinds are always in demand.

Members were urged to volunteer as helpers at St. Richard's Villa during the weekly game parties.

Mrs. Denis Walterscheid read a letter from Mrs. Anlerie of San Antonio, president of the National Women's Union, Texas Branch, about the approaching convention on June 16-18.

Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid read a letter of thanks from Father Gregory for gifts sent to the Walls, Mississippi Mission.

Mention was made that Trust Fund dinner tickets are available and that the St. Joseph Society will sponsor the annual dinner on March 19.

Mrs. Denis Walterscheid presided for the business meeting. Minutes were presented by Lu Vogel, secretary and a treasurer's report for January and February was given by Mrs. Leo Henscheid.

Father Stephen Eckart led the opening and closing prayers, spoke briefly on Vocation Month in March and expressed thanks for many kindnesses while he was a surgical patient in Muenster Hospital.

ETSU German Club See Local Traces of German Heritage

Eighteen members of the German Club of East Texas State University were in Muenster last Saturday afternoon seeking traces of the community's German traditions and heritage in contemporary life. The Muenster Chamber of Commerce hosted their visit and Bertha Hamric was their guide.

From her and from persons seen at the several stops, the visitors received an outline of the origin of the community by people of German ancestry and its slow but solid progress in the years since, founded on the old German traits of thrift and hard work.

Arriving near noon the visitors were met by Mrs. Hamric, who transferred them to a school bus to keep them in a group for the tour. Their first stop was Rohmer's Restaurant where Emil was waiting with sauerbraten, sauerkraut, wurst, etc.

The next few hours were spent in a tour of the town and nearby area pointing out buildings and activities and stopping at four of them.

Those were the AMPI milk plant, where they learned about the modern, gleaming new operation and Muenster's pioneer role in North Texas dairying; the Jr. Elite dress factory, where they saw assembly line operation all the way and also spoke German to native Germans, Mmes. Wilfred Koelzer and Albert Rohmer; Fischer's Market, where they learned about slaughtering and processing; and Sacred Heart Church, where they had a view of the architecture and art plus reference to the early era when parish and community history were identical.

Jaycees Sponsor Annual Bull Ride March 16 thru 18

The Second Annual Red River Bull Ride sponsored by Muenster Jaycees will be held Thursday through Saturday, March 16-18 at the indoor arena of Twin Pine Farms.

A benefit event toward retiring the debt on the park pavilion, it is planned for up to 50 riders at each performance. According to Chuck Bartush Jr., that is the number of bucking animals to be made available by the producer, Adrian Parker of Saint Jo.

He added that more entries are expected than last year because the show is approved by the professional rodeo association as one in which winnings count toward total earnings of the year.

Because they will be inside, the performances will be held each night as scheduled, rain or shine. And added attractions will be clown and other acts, plus concessions of sandwiches, candies, drinks, etc.

Admission price will be $2.50 per adult and $1.00 for a child 12 or under. However a special offer awaits the kids Thursday when they will be admitted free if accompanied by a parent. Passes to them will be given out by the Jaycees at both local schools.

SH Seniors Spend Day Visiting SMU

Tuesday was "Muenster Day" on the campus of Midwestern State University in honor of the 28 seniors of Sacred Heart High who were there for an all day orientation and introduction to college life in general.

The class was the first of this year to visit MSU, and designation of "Muenster Day" is a result of the university's expanded recruitment program. While hoping that students will be induced to choose Midwestern, the faculty feels that the visit and sample of college life will be fruitful also to those who will go elsewhere.

The SH students started their day with general orientation at 9:30 then broke into groups for campus tours and classroom visits. They also saw residence halls and had lunch in the student center dining hall.

A report of the students' visit appeared on the 6 and 10 p.m. TV newscasts in Wichita Falls.

other way, it seems, is to get the cooperation of labor, industry, media and Washington in telling it like it is and ask for nation wide belt tightening. One never knows, people might be inclined to sacrifice after learning through all these years that greed has been only a trouble maker. The idea would work extra good if workers decided to give a little more production for their wage and sellers decided to give a little more goods or service for the price.

This means simply to give the other fellow a good deal, to apply the golden rule. It could be a highly successful economic system.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

The anniversary of the founding of Cub Scouts occurs in February. Therefore most of the month's activities revolved around this celebration.

The cubs meet twice monthly. Their first meeting was held in the Gene Hoeng home where the boys made invitations and placemats for the Blue and Gold Awards Banquet. At their second meeting each boy made a miniature cub scout to use as a table decoration. Their den mother, Mrs. Janet Hoeng made a silhouette poster of each boy to use as a wall decoration, also for the banquet. Greg Hoeng served refreshments at both meetings.

Blue & Gold Banquet
The annual Blue and Gold Banquet was held on Friday, February 24, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A covered dish meal was served by mothers of the cubs. Special guests were Larry Mahoney of Lewisville and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kaden of Gainesville.

Joe Pangel led the opening prayer and Ronnie Bayer, Mark Hoeng and Stephen Knabe participated in the Flag ceremony.

The Wolf Cub Scout award was presented to Stephen Knabe and Joe Pangel. Mikeal Fette presented an appreciation gift to Den Mother Janet Hoeng and Assistant Den Mother Jo Ann Pangel from all the cubs.

Stephen Knabe led the closing prayer. Cub Scouts and leaders thank parents and all others whose cooperation contributed to the success of the banquet.
