Council axes new tax

The proposed hotel/motel tax was the first item to draw fire at Monday's regular City Council meeting. The tax is in wide use in bigger cities, including Gainesville which has a 4 percent tax rate on room rates. Chamber of Commerce President Charles Bayer was present again to request enactment of the tax in Munster. The Chamber was seeking a similar percentage which would be used to promote tourism. Mayor Henscheid and Councilman Aubrey Tuggle said they had received only negative reaction to the proposed tax. Bayer reminded the council that the money generated, while admittedly very small, would be a start to more tourism promotion and have the effect of increasing traffic for many businesses including motel.

Mr. Patel, owner of A-OK Motel, then spoke against the tax. He said his business is way down now and it is a bad time to tax even more. "They are workers, not tourists," he said. "Munster is a good city but tourists are not staying overnight. They are just day visitors." Patel commented, "If the Chamber wants to really help, they ought to put more effort into attracting industry to Munster, now is not a good time for this tax."

The council then voted against establishing the hotel/motel tax for tourism at this time.

On the second reading of the North Texas Communication Cable Television franchise, the council considered mainly the length of franchise requested, 50 years. Spokesman for the cable company, August Boto, said that time is necessary to amortize the debt needed. Mayor Henscheid said 50 years is a long time to lock future councils and the citizens into. Boto said the cable company would be subject to all related city ordinances throughout the franchise. Councilman Tuggle questioned the locked-in two percent franchise tax. Boto explained inflation may rise but fees usually remain constant and rise only as a part of the changing dollar. "This is simply a guarantee to do business with us," he said. "The citizens will be the ones to refuse to do business with us if we don't provide quality, economical service." The council okayed the second reading of the franchise and intends to compare notes with other cable companies and municipalities.

The council next re-opened discussion on municipal employee pay raises which were approved by council vote at the Sept. 25 meeting. The lengthy argument revolved generally around the question of whether or not the agreed-on raise included a huge, lump-sum, retroactive payment which would unfairly strain the budget now and in future years. Several supporters of the incentive program spoke, notably former mayor David Bright, who said if the program was to be used it certainly should recognize their years of service but should not be retroactive. Another former mayor, Ronnie Felderhoff, congratulated the council for

Itinerary finalized for Münster mayor's visit

Munster will roll out the red carpet for next week's visit by Dr. and Mrs. Jörg Twenhöven, Lord Mayor of Münster, Germany. Both the Chamber of Commerce and City Council are cooperating to honor the guests and show them what we're proud of in Munster.

Joachim Korth and his wife, also of Münster, Germany, have been invited and are expected to arrive for the event, along with the Twenhövens.

Korth is an industrialist in Germany and has been very interested in Munster, Texas. He was the first to offer assistance to officials here in locating and selecting a sister city. In a phone call to David and Juanita Bright Tuesday afternoon, Korth told them he and his wife are still planning their visit here, despite a heavy schedule of business activities in their home city.

Clean-up and fix-up of yards, businesses and streets are intensifying to make the town look its best.

The mayor's flight will arrive at Love Field in Dallas at 7:50 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12. Our mayor, Ted Henscheid, and his wife, Carol, will meet them and present a Stetson hat to Dr. Twenhöven and a bouquet of yellow roses to his wife. Henscheid hopes a large group of Muensterites will accompany him to Love Field for the welcome. The guests will stay with the Henscheids Thursday and Friday night.

The schedule for Friday follows:

- Guests of Charles and Carolyn Bayer for breakfast.
- 9 a.m., Chamber-sponsored bus tour around the Munster area, including ranching, oil field, dairy, feedlot and feed milling operations. (Contact Chamber if you'd like to go.)

- 1:15 p.m., Lunch at Rohmer's Restaurant. (Bus trip ends at Rohmer's.)

- After lunch, tour Sacred Heart Parish and other points of interest in Munster. (Includes Tiger Pep Rally at Sacred Heart High School.)

- 6 p.m., Guests of City Council for dinner at The Center Restaurant.

7:30 p.m., Football game, Munster Hornets vs. Valley View Eagles at Hornet Stadium.

What it takes to bring you the news

October 8-14 is National Newspaper Week. In acknowledgement of this week, it has occurred to The Enterprise staff that our subscribers might enjoy an inside view of what putting out a weekly newspaper entails.

Without subscribers and advertisers, there would not be a newspaper.

Advertising determines the number of pages in each week's paper. The more ads there are, the greater number of pages we can offer to accommodate the local news. Postage and handling account for approximately 35 percent of the cost of a year's subscription. This is somewhat higher than most newspapers of comparable size. Advertising in The Enterprise accounts for 45-50 percent of the total inches in each issue. According to the Texas Press Association, in comparable size papers, the total ad inches usually run 60-65 percent of the total inches, and in larger papers, paid inches of newsprint approach 75 percent. Basically, what this means is that although you pay more each year for The Munster Enterprise, you get 15-25 percent more space that consists of pictures and news articles.

Advertising is solicited on Monday and Tuesday by Alvin Hartman in the Gainesville and Lindsay area. David Fette, publisher, covers Munster.

Alvin began his career with The Enterprise in 1946. He ran a variety of printing presses through the years. Some of them are now antiques and the ability to run them is becoming a lost art. He also learned ad composition and was the paper's publisher from 1975-80. It was during this time that he started selling ads and how he got the job he has today. Alvin knows every business in Gainesville and he comments that he really enjoys meeting people.

When the ads are brought to The Enterprise, Dianne Walterscheid, composing room manager, takes all the information that will go in each ad. She marks up the ad layout (roughly a map of what the ad will look like), determining type size and style and selecting art work when it is appropriate.

Dianne gives the information to Brenda Rigbsy, the typesetter to set up the necessary words and prices for the ad layout.

With the use of border tape, art found in cut books or provided by the advertiser and the typeset words, Dianne builds the ads to their specifications.

The sooner notes are turned in after an event occurs, the more it is appreciated by readers. The Enterprise staff is very grateful to early birds who bring in stories or notes well ahead of the 5 p.m. deadline on Tuesday. We can begin writing as early as Thursday afternoon for next week's edition. Early stories allow ample time to follow up on any loose ends and to keep Enterprise employees out of last-minute crunches to get enough edited, written and typeset to fill the week's edition.

Elfreda Fette has returned recently after several months at home recuperating from a broken leg. She has been writing Lifestyle for The Enterprise since 1975 and takes pleasure in telling the story of memorable events in a manner pleasing to family and friends, and also recording other stories that refer to family histories, obituaries and milestones. Wedding stories are enjoyed most by readers when they are published the week of the wedding. This is why brides are advised to have their photos and wedding forms from The Enterprise as complete as possible and turned in the Friday before their wedding. A family member can report last-minute details on Monday. Elfreda takes great care to get all the details correct and usually this takes a good deal of time. Several readers have commented on how fortunate they felt to have large photos and detailed wedding stories without being charged. They told of being charged $75 for a small photo and short writeup in other newspapers.

After stories are written or edited, they are given to Brenda to typeset. She types the copy into the CompuGraphic MCS5 computer terminal. From here the information is transferred to the Comp 4 machine and imprinted on film. The film is placed in a developer and the product that comes out is a developed picture of the story and will be used to lay out on the pages that will eventually make the newspaper.

Brenda has been employed at The Enterprise for 4½ years. Before that, she worked at the Bowie News. Besides setting type, she helps layout ads, programs, etc. When asked what she likes best about working at The Enterprise, Brenda replied, "I like the contact with the public, the friendly people I work with, and the challenge of meeting 'another' deadline."

The copy is proofed and anything that needs a correction is returned to the typesetter. The copy is then placed in its designated boxes in the composing room where it will be trimmed and waxed to ready it for placement on the layout pages.

"Laying out the copy on the pages is sometimes like piecing together a crossword puzzle," commented Dianne Walterscheid. "The pages never seem to go together the same way and each week there is a new challenge."

Ads are placed on the page first and the articles are worked around them. Only a certain percentage of the inches on a newspaper can be ads.

Photos play a big portion making an interesting news edition and can often tell a story much better than any combination of words. Janie Hartman does the majority of photographs for The Enterprise with David filling in when Janie isn't able.

Black and white film is developed in the dark room at The Enterprise. Although color film cannot be developed in the dark room, color prints can be used for pictures to be published in the paper.

All photos must be recopied to correct size and undergo a screening process at the same time. The lighting on the picture is also adjusted at this time to make them work.

It is a challenge to find newsworthy photographs to take for each week's paper and Janie welcomes all tips that help her get photo scoops. Most of Janie's pictures are taken after hours and on weekends when she tries to cover sports events, banquets, picnics, etc. "It's not as easy now that I have kids to be free to attend events as it used to be," said Janie.

In 1979, The Enterprise changed from a hotlead printing process to the present offset printing process. Please See INSIDE LOOK, Page 2 cess. This allowed pictures to be used more often in the paper and Janie began freelancing for The Enterprise. She was hired fulltime in 1984.

One of Janie's most memorable days was when she attended a Farm Bureau convention in Dallas and got to photograph President Reagan. During that same convention, her press pass permitted her to get in on a personal interview with Red Skelton. She photographed him, got an autograph and spoke with him. The press also got front row center seats at his performance that night.

Besides taking pictures and developing them, Janie writes some of the sports stories, takes care of the football contest, and a variety of other things.

Wednesday is the big day at The Enterprise work week. All stories, pictures and ads must be finished. Everyone works until all pages are completed. Sometimes Wednesday doesn't end until 3 or 4 a.m. on Thursday, but usually the paper is completed between 9 p.m. and midnight.

Articles and PMT pictures are trimmed to fit the news columns and waxed so that they will adhere to the layout pages. News items are usually sorted into different classes: front page, editorial and inside are the first three pages and usually include things of a political nature, obituaries, important upcoming events, etc. David builds the first three pages. Lifestyle pages follow and consist of things like weddings, birthdays, meetings, etc. Dianne builds these pages. The farm page and sports are usually built by Janie.

When pages are being built, great care must be taken to balance the pictures with the articles, make sure headlines will work properly, find fillers for spaces where nothing else fits and generally just make everything work together. When everything is in place, a roller is used to make everything stick tightly to the page.

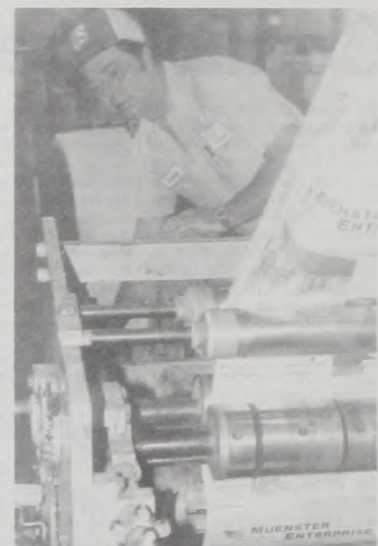

After a page is built, it's sent to Brenda for headlines and names and outlines under pictures. When these are finished everyone works together to place them where they belong. After all the pages are finished, they are placed in a box to be taken to Bowie by David for printing early the next morning.

David Fette took over the position as publisher of The Enterprise in 1979. "My main function is to see that all the pieces come together at the same time and get on the same sheet of paper to get distributed," said David.

As manager of a news paper and printing plant, he plays some part in each process that goes on in the business. Some things are setting rates and prices, making editorial decisions, selling ads, working on machinery, maintaining the building and grounds, writing stories, taking pictures and much more.

the paper are added at this time. After this is completed, papers are delivered to the local stores for sale.

Each Thursday morning, Brenda updates the mailing galley by adding new subscribers, changing addresses and updating subscription renewals. She then makes copies of the galley which are cut apart and glued into one long strip by David for use as mailing labels.

David labels each paper and sorts the sections which are handed to Janet Felderhoff for bundling. A sticker is placed on each out-of-county stack before it is bundled to tell postal employees if it contains one or more zip codes, etc. The bundles are placed in mail bags that are tagged according to the post office branch which will sort the bundles and continue the papers on their journey to a subscriber's mailbox. All the mailing must be completed and at the Muenster Post Office by 3:30 p.m. to catch the mail truck.

On Friday morning, David does the mail count and fills out a report from the post office. This report helps determine how much will be charged for mailing the week's paper.

Since the newspaper is a weekly and the number of people on staff are limited, each employee must be able to answer a variety of jobs. Everyone must be able to answer the phone, make copies on the copy machine, take money and all types of information.

Editorial decisions are made by all employees at one time or another and this seems to work well as we are few in number and work closely together. Our goal is to do our best to put out an interesting, informative paper that is well-rounded and holds something of interest for everyone.

Janet Felderhoff is the most recent addition to The Enterprise staff. Her main job is writing news stories and features. Good features are important to a weekly newspaper. The weekly allows more time to "dig in" to a story for several days without worrying about deadlines. That weekly nature, in turn, makes some of the news stories a bit old when they get printed. Either way one looks at it, more time is available to get the story. Janet is now adding typesetting and page composition to her job description which includes assisting the publisher with mailing on Thursday.

JANET FELDERHOFF does research for a story.

KOBEY developing the printing plate.

The Muenster Enterprise has a printing appointment at 8 a.m. each Thursday with BNJ Offset in Bowie. Each page is placed on a large camera and photographed. Metal plates are made from these negatives through a chemical process.

A large offset press is used to print the pages. Several pages are printed at once. The machine also cuts, creases and folds the pages. If an edition has more than 12 pages with one color, two sections are printed. The papers are bundled in easy-to-handle stacks for their trip back to Muenster.

Larry Kendall is the lead pressman for The Bowie News and BNJ Offset. He enjoys his work and always tries for a good quality printing. "The area farmers would be surprised to know that they play a part in the quality of print in the newspaper," commented Larry. "When there is a lot of runoff from a heavy rain, the chemical balance is messed up by the Bowie water used to mix them." Fertilizers and other chemicals used in fields and pastures cause this imbalance which is difficult to correct.

When the paper arrives in Muenster, the sections must be put together if there is more than one and any inserts which are to be mailed with finally doing what he tried to do for four years. Finally, through argument and some calculator work by Felderhoff, the council mostly agreed that:

- There would be no retroactive payments.
- There would be no lump sum payment.
- The years of service of current employees will be used to calculate the incentive portion of their pay.
- Using the simplest explanation this writer can conceive of and rounded-off numbers: the incentive portion of the city employee pay raise will add $8,000.00 to the 1989-90 budget (already included in the approved budget), $9,000.00 the next year, $10,000.00 the next year and so on. Almost everyone approves (at least those willing to come to the meetings and speak), and as of now, the raise stands accepted as proposed.

In other action, the council:

- Approved $2,000.00 library contribution and formally appointed Bobbie Jane Slater as librarian.
- Discussed staggered terms for the County Appraisal District Board of Directors.
- Approved payment of monthly bills totaling $21,495.29.
- Agreed in principle to use Herb Knabe's street sweeping service which now has a projected cost of $1,368.00 per quarter. The sweeping program should start soon and is planned to sweep each street in town at least four times per year.
- Discussed plans for the Oct. 12, 13, 14 visit of Dr. Jörg Twenhöven, Mayor of Münster, Germany, and German Day festivities at the Texas State Fair honoring Muenster's Centennial. (See related story in this issue.)

Following the hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," Rev. Ellis spoke of Debbie being the fine person she was, and quoted scriptures from the New Testament, also John 3:16. He spoke of the strength of God she had, and the courage she had. He also spoke of love and the love she had for her niece and nephew and her family. Then he spoke of hope and, though one dies, there is hope. He closed, saying "Not goodbye, for we shall meet again." A prayer closed the service.

English guests

Mr. and Mrs. W.B. English had as their guests during the weekend Peachie and Fred Ford, and Edna and Coy Ford, all of New Deal, Texas. Also Mrs. LeRoy "Allah" Ford and her family of Houston Andrea and Harmon Fine and children, Lindsey, Erica and David; Patricia and Lojza Bosta and children, Adam and Eva; Anita and Welcome Wilson Jr., all of Houston. They all came to also attend the Sutton reunion.

MUESTER FIRE DEPARTMENT responded to a grass fire last Tuesday evening at Lenny Vogel's south of town. Response time was less than 5 minutes. The fire was started by burning trash. Everyone is reminded to be especially cautious with burning, because high winds and tall, dry grass feed a fire.

Scott Felderhoffs honeymoon in Hawaii

MRS. SCOTT FELDERHOFF
...nee Sandy Voth...

Sandy Voth and Scott Felderhoff pledged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Sept. 30, celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie at 5 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Voth and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Felderhoff, all of Muenster.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Cooke County College. She is a registered nurse and is employed at Muenster Memorial Hospital.

The groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Cooke County College and the University of North Texas in Denton. He is employed by Felderhoff Production Co.

The bride was presented by her father before an altar decorated with lighted votive candles in tall candelabras entwined with English ivy, and floral arrangements of pink gladioli. Larger arrangements of mixed hues of white, pinks and blues were at either side of the high altar and containers of greenery were below the front altar.

For her wedding, the bride chose a designer gown of Candlelite silk-finish white satin and Alencon lace. The long-torso fitted bodice of satin was highlighted with beaded swirls at the waist. Long, tapered-to-the-wrist sleeves featured cutouts of lace motifs with pearls and sequins. The full satin skirt flowed into a semi-cathedral-length train. Alencon lace outlined the train and beaded motifs accented the front and back of the skirt.

Her fingertip veil of imported English illusion was held by a headpiece of pearls and crystal beads, with a profusion of delicate silk flowers and pearls framing the bride's face.

She carried a bridal bouquet of ivory magnolia blossoms, gardenias, greenery and pearl sprays.

Keith Felderhoff, nieces and nephew of the groom, carried Offertory gifts to the altar.

RECEPTION
A reception, catered dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Presiding at the guest book was Brenda Fuhrmann of Lindsay, cousin of the bride.

The bride's table held candelabras with lighted tapers, floral arrangements and greenery. Tablecloths of white lace over ruby were enhanced with garlands of greenery and pearls in front. Decorating the wall behind the table was a backdrop of white net, adorned with two hearts, entwined with a wedding ring and American Beauty roses.

The four-tiered ivory wedding cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, over a lighted fountain, was decorated with hearts and roses, with a heart-shaped crystal ornament accented with ivory rosettes and pearl sprays on the top keepsake layer. Two heart-shaped cakes were on both sides of the wedding cake. They held ivory satin bells.

The chocolate groom's cake was decorated with dipped strawberries on top and white chocolate curls on the sides. It was cut by Brenda Fuhrmann.

ATTENDANTS
Janelle Haverkamp of Gainesville, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Lynda Yosten of Muenster, a friend of the bride, Sharron Voth of Ponca City, Okla., a sister-in-law of the bride, and Nancy Hundt of Denison, a cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were attired in ruby, tea-length satin gowns, and carried long-stemmed ivory magnolia blossoms with ruby centers, greenery and ivory net.

Kevin Pels of Coppell, a friend of the groom, was his best man. Ross Felderhoff and Kenny Felderhoff of Muenster, brothers of the groom, and Tim Voth of Oklahoma City, bride's brother, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Gene Voth of Gainesville and Dave Voth of Ponca City, Okla., bride's brothers, and Tim Felderhoff and Troy Lutkenhaus of Muenster, cousins of the groom.

Jody Felderhoff, groom's nephew, and Matthew Fuhrmann, bride's cousin, were Mass servers.

Ruth Felderhoff was organist for the wedding service, presenting traditional professional and recessional, and accompanying vocalists Christy Hesse and Roger Dieter, who sang "Beginning Today," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Wherever You Go" and "Ave Maria."

Kim Felderhoff and Janet Felderhoff, groom's sisters-in-law, gave the Liturgical Readings, and Deann Felderhoff, and Kayla and Cake servers were Kayla and Deann Felderhoff of Muenster, Christie and Jennifer Stucky of Ponca City, Okla. and Tara and Gina Yosten of Muenster.

The rehearsal dinner was held at The Center Restaurant on Sept. 22.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Hawaii, they will be at home in Muenster.

Two showers honored the bride-elect. A kitchen shower on Sept. 10 was hosted by Janelle Haverkamp and Nancy Hundt. An around-the-clock shower on Sept. 12 was given by Lynda Yosten and Darlene Miller.

SH Preschool Parents discuss projects, dance

The Sacred Heart Pre-School Parent Group held their second monthly meeting of the 1989-90 school year on Monday, Sept. 25. President Donna Biffle presided.

Teachers Pam Dangelmayr and Kathy Berres demonstrated several of the exercises from the "Practical Life" area for those in attendance. These presentations are a regular highlight for the parents as they teach the parents the fundamentals of the children's learning processes that are ongoing at the school.

The business meeting followed. Secretary Shellie Hoedebeck read minutes, and Treasurer Annette Bayer reported on finances. It was reported that 20 children are presently enrolled with several more scheduled for later entrance.

The first project for discussion was construction of a fence surrounding the preschool's playground area. The local Catholic Life Insurance Branch has made a generous donation to this project and a cedar post-type fence was chosen to be most desirable.

The group then voted to oversee and fund several repair-type projects, including the washer/dryer, picnic table, the children's computer keyboard, and ground cover for the front flower beds. They also agreed to finance a new swing set for the playground.

Other items on the agenda: Wednesday, Oct. 4, was set aside for individual school portraits. Also, a Publicity Committee was established to increase public awareness of the school's existence.

But the main focus of the Auxiliary Bake Sale set for October 20

To alert all local readers to coming events, the VFW Auxiliary is announcing its annual benefit bake sale on Oct. 20 at Fischer's and Hofbauer's. Funds realized will be shared equally by the national organization's Cancer Aid and Research project, and by grants to local cancer patients. The usual variety of baked foods will be available: rolls, breads, cakes, pies, cookies, etc.

meeting centered on the group's annual New Year's Eve Dance.

Committees were formed to handle tickets, entertainment, bar and decorations.

The Johnny Reed Band has already been secured to provide the music. Five $100 cash prizes will be awarded at regular intervals during the evening. Tickets will be distributed to parents at the Oct. 23 meeting for early sales.

Individual tickets (as opposed to couples' tickets) will be used this year at $15.00 per person. This fee includes entertainment, a wide variety of pick-up foods, party favors and a chance to win one of the five $100 cash prizes.

The meeting concluded with snacks provided by parent members.

Membership drive kicks off

The SADD campaign for Texas membership drive has begun.

The goal is to achieve 100 percent placement of Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) chapters in every Texas middle school and high school.

Recently, Anheuser-Busch, Inc. announced that it would make available to every Texas middle school and senior high school SADD starter kits. On Sept. 13, a letter from SADD founder Bob Anastas and SADD's Texas State Coordinator John T. Rogers explaining the Texas membership drive was mailed to every middle school and high school principal throughout the state. The effort is also being supported by the Department of Public Safety.

The principals are being encouraged to send a reply regarding their interest in the program to SADD headquarters, located in Marlboro, Mass. A complimentary SADD start-up kit will then be forwarded to them.

SADD, founded in 1981 by Anastas, is the largest student activist organization whose goals are to eliminate illegal drug use, illegal drinking, drinking and driving, and death due to drinking and driving among our youth. According to SADD national headquarters, SADD now has chapters in 15,000 schools.

In conjunction with the kickoff of the SADD Texas membership drive, Anastas will attend SADD press conferences in several cities throughout the state. Details regarding the events will be announced soon.

"SADD encourages all members to work toward influencing their peers to follow a healthy lifestyle and to comply with the laws of their state involving drug and alcohol use," Anastas said. "We commend Anheuser-Busch for its extensive efforts in this area."

During the initial announcement regarding the membership drive, Stephen J. Burrows, vice president of Anheuser-Busch's department consumer education and awareness, said that "Anheuser-Busch intends to become part of the solution."

The SADD philosophy emphasizes the importance of open communications between parents and teenagers, and of positive peer pressure to discourage teenage drinking.

100 Years Ago Today

(From the Gainesville Daily Hesperian, Sunday morning, Oct. 6, 1889)

THE GERMAN COLONY

Mr. Emil Flusche, Dr. Carl Flusche and Mr. John Ruschenberg, representatives of the Cooke County German colony, returned last evening from Dallas, where they had been to see that great city, and while away a few hours as the guest of the genial Col. Jot Gunter. They were well pleased with Dallas but are better pleased with Gainesville. Mr. Emil Flusche informed the Hesperian reporter last night that he will put two corps of surveyors at work on the big ranch next week, surveying that body of land up into small tracts, which will be sold at once to colonists, a number of whom will arrive during the next 10 days, and will commence to fence and break them and to erect buildings on them. A number of those colonists will leave various points in the north on the 8th for this place.

Mr. Flusche will leave for Cincinnati and other cities in the north in a few days in the interest of this colony, for the purpose of inducing immigration to Cooke County and also to make arrangements for the establishing of and conducting a college in the new colony.

A fine large church will also be built at once, a town site of 640 acres located, which will be called Muenster, a beautiful park will be laid out and improved from time to time till it becomes one of the most handsome places of public resort in the county and that great body of land which so long had furnished only grass for meandering herds will be made the most attractive spot, by being overburdened with fields of golden grain, fleecy cotton, handsome buildings and fragrant orchards, in North Texas.

The people who settle upon this land will enrich the county tens of thousands of dollars each year by the products raised there on, and it will only be a short time till the entire county will be the most wonderfully enhanced in value by the acquisition of three industrious law-abiding German citizens. In fact, this will be the largest colony ever established in the southeast, and Cooke County may well congratulate herself upon her good luck in securing this colony, while at the same time these people have cause to rejoice over their good luck in getting possession of so much good land in one of the best counties in the grandest state in the Union. Gainesville will sell thousands of dollars worth of goods and wares to these people every year, and, in fact, this colony will be worth more to this city than a cotton factory or two new railroads, and will benefit the county at large more than half a dozen railroads.

(From the Daily Hesperian, Gainesville, Texas, Oct. 8, 1889)

PERSONAL

Capt. J.W. Childers, who has resided for some time on the Gunter-Childers Ranch, has moved his family to Gainesville, since that ranch was sold to German colonists.

COLONIST COMING

Cleaves & Fletcher received a telegram yesterday from John Koll, Panama, Ia., informing them that an excursion left that place yesterday composed of German colonists bound for Cooke County, Texas. Mr. Koll is the assessor of Shelby County, Iowa, and is one of the gentlemen who came here about two weeks ago with Mr. Emil Flusche, at which time negotiations were begun for the Gunter Ranch.

SEEDS meeting held Sept. 12

The first SEEDS meeting was held in the elementary school library at 7 p.m. on Sept. 12. "SEEDS" is the official name of a new organization at Muenster Public School: "Successful Elementary Education Demands Support."

Mrs. Trubench, principal of K-5, welcomed everyone present and spoke briefly about the new school year. Teachers (K-5) each took their turn to speak to the parents present. Each explained their class schedule, goals and expectations for the new school year. The importance of reading was stressed and the discipline plan was discussed briefly. Parents should have received the discipline plan for their child's class. All look forward to a great and rewarding school year.

Mrs. Trubench then turned the meeting over to Marlene Fisher, president of SEEDS. Marlene welcomed all present and encouraged anyone interested to come and participate as the new SEEDS organization is getting off the ground. She explained some of the projects which are currently underway such as Teacher of the Month and birthday cupcakes, and of some of the future goals of the organization.

The possibility of a Halloween Carnival was discussed, but due to lack of funds and short notice, the majority present agreed to wait until next year.

It was agreed upon to have a bake sale at the elementary school. Julie Felderhoff agreed to organize the sale and Mrs. Ahrens volunteered her class to conduct the sale. It is scheduled for Oct. 13.

Another fundraiser to take place is "A Mile of Pennies." This is an easy and profitable project. A jar will be put into each classroom to hold pennies which are brought. With 16 pennies per foot and 5,280 ft. in a mile, we can raise $844.80. This is an affordable project for all and lots of fun for the kids.

Funds raised during the year will be used specifically for the elementary school. Mrs. Trubench assures all that there are many uses for the funds. There is no doubt that each teacher could suggest something which could enhance the children's education. The possibility of purchasing a computer for the elementary school was brought up. Educational field trips is another possibility. It is certain that there will be more discussion on this subject and all input is encouraged.

The next SEEDS meeting will be held on Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. At this meeting, Mrs. Scott's class will present a program. "We hope to see you there," said Mrs. Fisher.

New members inducted into MPS National Honor Society

Muenster ISD's chapter of the National Honor Society met Thursday, Sept. 28, for a special ceremony to induct new members.

Counselor Vernon Austin awarded membership pins to incoming sophomores juniors and seniors after a candlelit presentation led by Jerry Brawner, president; Dana Wimmer, vice-president; and Dyann Vogel, secretary-treasurer.

Other members who participated were Kristen Klement, Lisa Robison, Sean Slater and Jenny Wimmer.

New members include Michael

Abney, Melissa Bayer, Michael Bierschen, Leslie Klement, Tina Klement and Tony Perryman. These outstanding students were selected by criteria including scholarship, leadership, character and service. Scholarship requires a year's cumulative average of 90 in all academic subjects. Teacher input is solicited in the assessment of each student's positive leadership role in the classroom and/or organization, exemplary character, and service to school or community. These rigid requirements reflect the high standards of excellence which National Honor Society members have met and are expected to maintain.

Mr. Austin also made special mention of the chapter's annual service projects. The group is continuing to sponsor book fairs and the Geography Bee and also donated a Muenster Centennial Book to the high school library.

Following the ceremony in the auditorium, all members and their parents were honored with a reception.

Tigers fall to Temple

The Tigers were handed their third defeat of the season last Friday night when the Temple Christian Blazers came to Muenster.

"They're the biggest and fastest team we'll play," said Coach John Sims. "I'm real pleased with the way the kids played ... they played hard and stayed with them (Temple)."

Randy Miller started the game kicking to the Blazers. Eight plays later, Temple put the first numbers on the board. The extra run failed and the score was 6-0 with 8:40 left on the clock.

The Tigers picked up only 8 yards on their first possession and booted the ball over to the Blazers. Two major penalties helped the Tigers regain possession on their own 38-yard line. Chris Hess and Ryan Hess picked up one first down, but the Blazers' defense stiffened and Temple took over, going into the 2nd quarter.

Temple moved to the Tigers' 15-yard line, but an offensive interference call and a QB sack by Chris Hess gave the Tigers the ball on their own 34-yard line. The next play, Temple picked off a Tiger pass and the Blazers again had control, moving to the 20-yard line. The touchdown threat was stopped when Gary Hess covered a loose ball. Again, the Tiger offense was stopped and the Blazers took over. In four plays, Temple scored again and extended their lead to 13-0 with 44 seconds remaining in the first half.

Sacred Heart took possession near midfield and moved the ball to the Blazers' 6-yard line, but was stopped by a tough defense and the visitors took over. Temple moved the ball over into Tiger territory. A quarterback sack by Chris Hess and an important tackle by Larry Switzer halted the Blazers and the Tigers took over at their 23-yard line. A bad snap on 4th and 8 turned into a safety and Temple took a 15-0 lead.

Shawn Dangelmayr covered a loose ball the first play and the Tigers took over near midfield. A 15-yard pass from Stevan Nasche to Dangelmayr took the Tigers to the 30. But there they were halted by the Big Blazer defense. On the first play of the series, Blazers' star player Ian ran 64 yards to add another 6 points to their score.

Sacred Heart took possession as the final quarter started. Ryan Hess picked up 13 yards on 2 car-downs to the Blazers' 15. Both teams lost 2 fumbles and the Tigers threw an intercepted pass.

Ryan Hess was top rusher, picking up 88 yards. Freshman Darren Klement gained 29 yards in two carries. Coach Sims noted Hess and Klement, along with lineman Darrell Mullins, as outstanding offensive players.

Tony Grewing and Chris Hess were noted defensive players.

Sacred Heart will host the Perrin Pirates this Friday. Perrin is 0-4, "but are dangerous," said ries and Darren Hess ran 2 plays for 33 yards before Temple covered a Tiger fumble.

The ball went to the Tigers when Temple failed to pick up 10 yards, then four plays later, Temple again had possession. The Tigers' defense held and the ball returned to the home team. But a fumbled Tiger ball put the Blazers on 4 yards for paydirt. A quarterback keeper made the score 27-0. The Tigers picked up two more first downs before time ran out.

Sacred Heart picked up 122 yards rushing and 20 in the air. Temple gained a total of 302 yards. The Tigers had 8 first

Coach Sims. "The Pirates have lost four players to broken bones this season," said Sims, "they've played big teams."

"We must play as well as we are capable," said the coach. "We must take advantage of our strength. If we don't come out and play our game, we'll get beat." Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Blazers blast the Cubs

The Sacred Heart Junior High football squad hosted the Temple Christian team last Friday evening and added a second loss to their record.

Sacred Heart booted the opening kickoff. With just 21 seconds ticked off the clock, the Blazers scored on the first play of the game, taking a very early 6-0 lead.

Sacred Heart picked up two first downs and 37 yards on runs by Chris Pagel and Neil Berres when a fumbled ball was covered by a Temple player.

The Blazers made another touchdown on their 2nd possession, but was called back on an offside penalty and the Cubs took over on their own 30-yard line, keeping possession going into the 2nd quarter. After losing the ball on downs, Mike Gehrig covered a loose Blazer ball and the Cubs took over at the Blazer 31-yard line. Again the Cubs couldn't pick up a first down and the visitors took over. In 3 plays, Temple scored again and took a 12-0 lead.

The Cubs' next drive picked up 33 yards before fumbling the ball over to Temple, near the end of the 1st half.

The Cubs took possession to start the 2nd half, but failed to pick up 10 yards. The Blazers scored again two plays later and the scoreboard read Home 0, Visitors 18.

Sacred Heart again couldn't move the ball and the visitors took over near midfield and, in 5 plays, scored again. The extra point was good and the Blazers led 26-0 as the 3rd quarter ended.

Chris Pagel and Neil Berres' running attack wasn't strong enough, so the Cubs again gave the ball back to the visitors.

Temple threatened to score, but two outstanding plays by Mike Gehrig stopped the Blazers, the second being a recovered fumble.

The Cubs took over on the 22-yard line, moving the ball only 9 yards from scoring, but a loose ball stopped them short.

The fired-up Blazers got in 3 good runs and scored one last touchdown as time ran out to end the game 32-0.

Sacred Heart will be at home against Saint Jo on Thursday, Oct. 5. Game time is 6 p.m.

MGA "He & She" set for Sunday at 9 a.m.

The Muenster Golf Association has scheduled its regular tournament for Oct. 8. A conflict at the golf course necessitated a change from the regular first Sunday of the month.

The October tournament will be a He and She Scramble set to begin at 9 a.m. at the Nocona Municipal Golf Course. The winners will be determined by handicap, so Co-Chairman Tom Flusche says not to worry about how bad or good your team may compare to another.

If a member can't find a partner of the opposite sex to complete a team, call Tom, Brian Herr, Dorothy Endres, or Dan Hamric and they will try to pair up teams. However, the committee is urging everyone to take the initiative and ask someone to play, and not wait to be asked!

As a bonus, the MGA will have free barbecue sandwiches and chips after the tournament is over, right there at the little covered pavilion at the course.

Once again, players are asked to register by 8:45 a.m. so we can tee off by 9 a.m. Players can pick their own foursomes and start from which hole they want in a first-come/first-pick order.

In case a member didn't pay his dues last month at the Club Championship, the dues are $5.00 per year payable any time. Tournament fees are $3.00 per player, with the entire purse to be paid in prizes. $5.00 bonus will be paid to closest to the pin on #5 and longest drive on #9. Men will play from the regular red tees and ladies will play from the regular white tees. All lies will be played "up" and may be moved to improve the lie, but not position.

Hornets are able to flag down Victory #4!

The Muenster Hornets were able to log their fourth victory of the season as they outlasted the Tigers of Gunter last Friday evening. The Hornets, hampered by numerous penalties, were still able to amass 366 yards of offense and 24 points to the Tigers' 227 yards and 10 points. It was a hard-hitting contest with both teams taking the upper hand at times.

On the Hornets' opening drive, they were able to move the ball deep, to the Tiger 12-yard line. The Tigers showed great determination in stopping the drive short of the end zone. The Tigers took over there. After an incomplete pass and a well-defended option play, Gunter went back to the air aiming for a first down. Instead, the Gunter quarterback found strong safety James Hennigan. James robbed the throw and scooted 21 yards down the left sideline for the score. Jerry Brawner booted the PAT, making it 7-0 early in the quarter.

With penalties and a stubborn Gunter defense, the Hornet offense experienced trouble moving the ball the remainder of the quarter. As the second quarter began, the Hornet offense was again on the attack. Behind a very good option game, the locals mounted another serious threat. "Our option game was the best it's been this year," said Coach Jump. "Jerry (Brawner) had some excellent reads and we had some good blocking out front by Yank (Culp), Brad (McDaniel), and Kelly (Colwell)." Again the Tiger defense stiffened and the drive bogged down around the 10-yard line. The Hornets chose to go for the field goal and, on his first attempt of the year, Brawner's kick was dead center for a 26-yard three-pointer and a 10-0 Muenster lead.

The Tigers of Gunter also used the field goal to get on the board. After an effective drive, the Tigers lined up for a 36-yard attempt. The kick was good for 3 Tiger points, bringing the mark to 10-3 in favor of Muenster.

Brawner continued to direct the fortunes of the Hornets as he intercepted a Tiger pass to set up the next offensive possession. With time running out in the half, the Hornets had to think pass. Brawner set up the Gunter secondarily with an 8-yard curl pass to Terry Felderhoff. With the Tigers thinking curl, the Hornets called on Yancy Culp to run the curl and go. Yancy was side open and Brawner lofted a perfect strike for a 50-yard TD. The half closed with the Hornets leading 16-3.

The second half was more of the same, with a lot of hard-hitting action. Both teams were held scoreless in the third, as it closed with the mark still 16-3. The Hornets did have one score called back when Brawner launched a 47-yarder to Marshall Smith, who with 140 yards on 27 carries," stated the coach. "He also had the big play on defense with the interception for a touchdown." Again, the defense was led by senior linebacker Scot Vogel, who had 17 tackles and 3 assists for his third 20-tackle game in a row. "Scot is definitely one of the best around at his position," stated the coach

"Knightmare" at Little Elm, 46-0!

The Lindsay Knights took the worst beating in several seasons last Friday night when a trip to Little Elm turned into a nightmare. The first five possessions for the Lobos ended in touchdowns.

Little Elm took the opening kickoff and, in 2 minutes and 14 seconds, scored their first touchdown. The kicked extra point counted and the home team was on the board.

The Knights were held on their Lindsay's offense couldn't move the ball and Little Elm kept possession until halftime. The scoreboard read 34-0.

Little Elm took first possession the second half and worked their way to the 7-yard line. A field goal was attempted but failed and the Knights took over at the 20.

Lindsay's offense couldn't move and, on 4th and 10, the Knights booted the ball to the Lobos. On their 3rd play, Chris Hanks picked off a Lobos' pass, made a juggling catch in the end zone, but it was erased by a questionable clipping call.

Fourth quarter action saw the best drive of the night by the "Big Red" offense. With James Hennigan carrying most of the load, the Hornets moved the ball steadily up the field. The drive was aided by solid lead blocks by fullback Mike Vogel and a couple of nifty runs by Scot Vogel. Hennigan capped the drive with a 4-yard dash over right tackle Jeff Hellman and end Donnie Boydston for the 6-pointer. Brawner ran the 2-point conversion to raise the tally to 24-3.

Following a Tiger punt, the Hornet offense went to work on their own 3-yard line. On the very first play, Marshall Smith was jarred from the ball which trickled back into the end zone. The alert Tiger defense swarmed it for their first TD of the contest. Following the PAT, the score was now 24-10.

There would be no more scoring and the game would end in a Hornet victory.

Jump praised senior tailback James Hennigan. "James carried proudly. Another receiving high mark was senior signal caller Jerry Brawner. "Jerry came up with the plays when we needed them."

"That is what the quarterback must do if you are to be successful." Ryan Sicking received the final Jump herald. "Ryan was in on about 8 tackles, two of them saved scores, he also had a couple of big hits," commented Coach Jump.

This week, the Hornets open district play with a 7:30 contest at Lindsay. "This will be, by far, our toughest opponent of the year," said Jump. "They have a couple of backs, namely Parsons and Metzler, that can go all the way at any time." The Hornet mentor expressed that his group will have to play their best football of the year to win this one. "You can forget records and everything else," said the coach, "this game will go to the team that wants it the most."

So, join the Hornets in their quest for victory number 5 at Lindsay. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. GO BIG RED!

Mickey makes comeback

As The Enterprise football contest enters its fifth week, Mickey Haverkamp makes a comeback, winning last week with 22 correct picks. Only 24 games were counted after Rice and Wake Forest tied and Evangel Temple forfeited its game with Oakridge.

Tim Felderhoff and Nick Stoffels also finished with just 2 misses. Mickey finished first with an 8-point tiebreaker difference. Tim followed for 2nd place with 12 points. Nick had a 27-point variation. All contestants picked Muenster to win. Jamie Hellman and Shirley Noonan of Nocona were only 3 points off on the tiebreaker. Janet Pagel and Mark Grewing missed the score by 4 points.

Steve Fuhrmann, Mark Grewing, Cory Knabe, Duane Knabe, Jon LeBrasseur, Mike Stoffels and Terry Walterscheid missed only 3 games. Nine entrants had 20 right.

Everyone gave up on the Cowboys, correctly picked Arkansas to win and Saint Jo to lose. Only one missed on the Era, A&M and Houston games. Five contestants picked Sacred Heart, five missed Valley View and 17 picked Lindsay to win.

Big misguesses included Lakehill, Texas and Gainesville losses.

For the big bucks, Mickey Haverkamp leads the pack with 85.33 percent correctly picked. Bonnie Stoffels follows with 81.08 percent, then Nick Stoffels in 3rd with 80.0 percent. Others in close running are Jon LeBrasseur with 78.67 percent, Steve Fuhrmann 78.38 percent, and Duane Knabe, Weldon Hermes, Benny Haverkamp and Terry Walterscheid with a percentage of 76 correct picks.

The weekly winners picked up their winnings at Gregg's Chevrolet, last week's tiebreaker sponsor.

first possession and booted the ball back to Little Elm. The Lobos started on their 34-yard line and, on the eighth play, scored again, taking a 14-0 lead. Again, the Knights failed to pick up 10 yards and the Lobos took over near mid-field. A 20-yard touchdown pass run gave the Lobos another 6 points. The PAT counted and Little Elm extended their lead 21-0.

The Knights fumbled the ball on the first play of their next possession, setting up Little Elm's fourth 1st quarter touchdown. With 23 seconds on the clock, the Lobos led 27-0.

Again, Lindsay punted the ball on 4th and 17 and, in two plays, the home team hit paydirt again with 11:06 on the clock, the score read 34-0.

The Knights took over on their own 39-yard line. Two 15-yard penalties helped Lindsay reach the Lobos' 10-yard line. But a 4th and 12 pass failed, giving the Lobos possession. Little Elm moved to the Knights' 18-yard line, but Lindsay's defense tightened up and forced the Lobos to turn over the ball.

but two plays later, Little Elm intercepted a Lindsay pass.

The home team moved the ball 33 yards before the Knights' defense took over on downs.

The Knights' lost yardage on their next drive and possession went back to Little Elm.

On the second play in the 4th quarter, the Lobos struck again and took a commanding 40-0 lead.

Lindsay picked up a first down before losing ground and the ball on downs. Two plays later, Patrick Schully recovered a loose ball for the Knights, then Little Elm returned the favor, and caught the ball back. A fast drive, topped by a 32-yard run gave Little Elm the final 46-0 winning score.

Little Elm outrushed and out-passed the visitors, picking up 330 yards rushing and 122 yards passing and 21 first downs. Lindsay picked up a total of 59 yards and 5 first downs. Each team lost a fumble with Lindsay losing 2 passes and gaining 1.

The Knights play host to the Muenster Hornets in the county clash district opener.

County Hay Show set for Oct. 24

The Cooke County Hay Show will be held Tuesday, Oct. 24, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds in Gainesville.

Producers will need to bring their hay samples to the Cooke

County College by Friday, Oct. 13, in order for hays to be tested before the show. To leave hay samples at the college, contact Doug Robison or T. J. Davidson at Cooke County College at 668-7731 or contact Craig Rosenbaum at the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

Additional information concerning the show will be forthcoming.

Wheat virus may accompany annual early fall crop planting

Wheat growers should avoid early planting to reduce the threat of devastating wheat streak mosaic virus in this season's crop, warns a plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Several counties on the South Plains and in the Texas Panhandle were hit hard by the virus in 1989, said Dr. Harold Kaufman, the Extension specialist. Potential losses from the virus were overshadowed in many counties by drought and freeze injury losses, he said.

The disease is spread by a wind-borne wheat curl mite which is most active in warm weather. Symptoms of the mosaic vary with wheat cultivars, time of infection and environmental conditions, the Extension Service specialist said. Infected plants are stunted, with yellow and green streaked leaves.

"Fall infection is common and most devastating," Kaufman said, "but symptoms rarely show until temperatures increase in the spring."

The wheat curl mite is the only vector of the virus. It thrives on the tender, young growth of wheat and many grasses. Other hosts include corn, barley, rye and oats.

"Mite numbers can increase rapidly in a short time, going from egg to adult in eight to 10 days," Kaufman said.

Distribution of the virus in a field is related to the dispersal of the mite. Margins of the field are the first areas affected.

"The mite is simply blown into fields by the wind," the plant pathologist said. "Since it is only active during warm weather, it is usually warm winds from the southwest that move it. Therefore, the virus usually moves across a field from southwest to northeast."

Control of wheat streak mosaic is achieved by destroying volunteer wheat, avoiding Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) land, planting later and planting resistant varieties, Kaufman said.

Some wheat varieties have shown tolerance to the virus, he said. Among these are Tam-200, Thunderbird, Tam-105 and Triumph 64. Resistance to the mite has been reported for Century, Thunderbird, Tam-107 and Tam-200. The most susceptible varieties are Mustang, Hawk and Century 78.

Risky early plantings, especially near sources of the mite, should be to tolerant varieties, the Extension specialist said. More susceptible varieties should be planted last and as far as possible from volunteer wheat or CRP acreage.

Mites survive the summer on volunteer wheat and various grasses, many of which are used as cover on CRP acreage. Volunteer wheat, the most important host, should be plowed two weeks before planting, Kaufman advised.

"Planting on the north or east side of CRP acres or volunteer wheat should be avoided, as winds from the southwest will blow the wheat curl mite into the planted wheat," he said. If such locations must be planted to wheat, they should be planted last, he said. Early planted wheat should be placed in safer areas, he said.

"The planting date is very important in controlling wheat streak mosaic virus," Kaufman stressed. "Volunteer wheat and CRP grasses provide the vector and virus, but early planted wheat provides the bridge to the entire new crop."

This jeopardizes not only the wheat on that land, but also the crop of downwind neighbors and the entire area, he cautioned.

Planting should be delayed to allow mite populations to decrease. "Ideally, it should be delayed until the first frost," Kaufman said.

Later planting allows the mite and the virus less time to damage the crop. "It is widely known," Kaufman said, "that the earlier the infection occurs in the fall, the more severe the impact on yield."

"Just a week's difference in the planting date can have a significant effect on the severity of wheat streak mosaic infection."

Forestburg FFA and 4-H teams win big at Fair contest

The Forestburg FFA and Forestburg 4-H entered six teams in the State Fair of Texas range plant identification contest with all six teams winning plaques or banners. They also won 12 of the 20 high individual trophies.

In the junior division, Jennifer Scott was high individual with a 244 score; Dale Lively, 2nd, 242; Keith Dill, 7th, 120; and Paul Morris, 8th, 114. In team scores, Jennifer, Dale and Keith won first with 606; Paul Morris, Jeff Sickling and Tyson Vann placed fifth with 184. Kaufman County 4-H placed 2nd, Richards FFA, 3rd, and Mildred FFA, 4th.

In the Senior division, Jamie Lively was high scoring individual with 365 followed by: David Morris, 357, 2nd; Jason Morris, 348, 3rd; J.J. Miller, Bowie FFA, 330, 4th; Vernon Forrester, 315, 5th; Billy Covington, 298, 6th; Toby Vann, 280, 7th; Dee Bell, 244, 8th; and Buck Moseley, 233, 9th.

Texas grain producers are reimbursed by TDA officials

Commissioner Hightower announced that Texas wheat producers have received nearly $1 million in reimbursements for grain once stored in now bankrupt grain elevator warehouses. Disbursements were made to 45 depositors after warehouses were unable to rectify shortages revealed by TDA inspections, Hightower said.

TDA staff periodically audit the 739 state licensed warehouses to protect Texas producers by ensuring that their grain is available to them when they need it. After reviewing grain position records, scale tickets, negotiable warehouse receipts and other documents used by the warehouse, inspectors take a physical inventory of deposits.

About 1 percent of the warehouses checked by TDA have problems with shortages. Most are able to reconcile differences and continue to operate. Those that are unable to cover shortages are placed in receivership.

"The protection afforded Texas grain farmers by TDA's grain warehouse program helps the industry avoid problems that have plagued the state's Savings and Loans Association," explained Kenneth Boatwright, director of the seed and grain warehouse program. "The rate of failure of grain warehouses is much lower than in the S&L industry because vigilant inspections by TDA specialists deter efforts to shortchange depositors."

In July, TDA made bond money disbursements totaling $270,000 to compensate depositors for grain they had deposited in Oles Grain Co., which had elevators in Amarillo, Bunker Hill, Exum Switch, Kress, Nazareth, Perryton, Spearman, Tulia, Vega and Vigo Park.

Trustees previously had paid out nearly $2 million to depositors in the 1984 bankruptcy case with claims that totaled $3 million.

The largest payment within the last year went to depositors in the now bankrupt Victoria Grain of Guadalupe. The $650,000 TDA distributed to the depositors affected by the 1986 bankruptcy included bond money and money from the sale of remaining grain. Total claims in the case were $1 million.

"TDA will continue to take an active role in protecting Texas depositors and ensuring that the grain they receive is of the same quality and amount that they deposited," said TDA assistant commissioner Shelia Jackson Lee, whose Producer and Consumer Protection Division is responsible for regulating the state's grain warehouses.

County Agent's Report

Some 20,000 acres of oats are grown in Cooke County each year. Producers in Cooke County have a good market for oats compared to other areas of the state for feed purposes. Our variety pool on oats is somewhat limited in comparison to other small grains like wheat.

Producers have several factors to look at in selecting oat varieties. First of all is cold tolerance. Oats are the least cold tolerant of any small grain that can be planted in the winter. In the varieties that we have available for North Texas, there is very little difference in any of them as far as their ability to withstand freeze. However, some are a little less cold tolerant than others. For example, the new TAM 0386 is a new variety developed by Texas A&M that looks very well for areas south of Dallas. In a mild winter they will survive our area. But, the majority of the time they will receive varying degrees of freeze damage.

The biggest problem we experience in oat varieties in Cooke County is the instance of Barley Yellow Dwarf Virus. BYDV is a disease transmitted to small grains by insects. This is usually done by greenbugs migrating into fields from field borders. The disease shows up most often in the spring during stem elongation. The virus can be identified by a stunted appearance of the plants and the typical purple and yellow leaves on the plants. Producers can eliminate BYDV difficulty through varietal selection.

One other problem that we experience in oats over the county is head smut. Unlike wheat, the head smut in oats is carried on the seed coat. This is beneficial in that a lot more fungicides are available for control of this disease. Head smut probably causes producers more loss than any other disease associated with oats. Producers must treat oats before planting for head smut control. Be sure and use approved fungicides and follow all label instructions.

Now, for some of the more popular oat varieties in Cooke County:

Nora is a large plump oat that does well in the county. Last year in the variety test, the Nora variety showed the most winter hardiness of the varieties grown. But, remember there was no great winter hardiness among any of the varieties. One of the problems with Nora oats is its susceptibility to BYDV.

Bob is another good oat variety grown in the county. Again, it is very susceptible to BYDV.

833 is a registered trademark variety that shows good winter hardiness and is fairly resistant to BYDV.

Blizzard is another registered trademark variety produced by Connally Seed Company that also shows good resistance to BYDV. These varieties have all produced well in the county and are probably the varieties that producers should consider in oat plantings this year.
