OPEC's boost of 14.5 per cent in the price of oil may have been a blessing in disguise to this country. As Paul Harvey promptly commented, this could possibly spark a greater effort toward self sufficiency in our energy program. The additional financial burden imposed on American consumers could become an inducement to politicians to back away from the obstructionist attitude they have maintained for so many years.

For instance, it does not seem reasonable to restrain the oil industry on grounds that the fat cats are making too much money while the Arabs are making their fabulous profit. If one or the other is to get rich in the process, it seems smarter to favor our own people who will pass along a greater portion of the benefit to the US economy in jobs and investments.

Another powerful inducement, of course, is the comfort of knowing that the production is here in case world conditions separate us from foreign supply. As it is, we could be in serious trouble if a war broke out. Besides, our bargaining position in maintaining peace is substantially weakened while our security is dependent on hostile suppliers or vulnerable shipping.

With the new year about to start we could not imagine a better wish than a revival of our oil industry. And in case the politicians are still up tight about profiteering oil men, they ought to remember that IRS gets a generous share of their profit, but nothing from the fabulous Arab profit.

Another answer to the energy crunch is intensive development of the coal industry. In the form of shale and lignite in addition to the regular coal, it is by far the country's most abundant source of energy. For years it gave way to cheap and convenient gas and oil, but is staging a comeback in the crisis. Of course, it is rated as a dirty fuel, so the real success of its comeback will depend largely on the environmentalists.

The problem is what degree of pollution control they will demand. While the perfect condition is desirable, its price is also prohibitive. So the aim has to be a happy medium of a pollution level we can live with at a price the economy can afford. So, here again the rising price of foreign oil definitely ought to stimulate domestic development, if the official obstructionists can be persuaded to relax their demands.

Another sadly neglected energy potential is nuclear power, which, unfortunately, is more widely known for the devastation at Hiroshima and Nagasaki than for its beneficial use. Fear and prejudice are the big hindrances to its development even though the records show that nuclear plants are safer than those powered by fossil fuels.

As pointed out in a recent issue of Human Events, the nation's use of electricity will more than double by the year 2000. Along with this fact we have to be aware that gas and oil are expected to go up in price and down in supply, also that coal, though plentiful, is actually costly because of penalties for safety and health requirements. This leaves nuclear, the absolutely cleanest of all fuels, to assume the role of becoming a major, if not the primary, fuel for producing electricity.

Though the signs point that way, the fact remains that construction of the plants is being retarded by over cautious alarmists both in and out of government. It's big news when a nuclear plant shuts down even for routine servicing, whereas little is said when a conventionally fired plant shuts down even for safety reasons. One would think that the 20 year history of commercial nuclear plants without one injury or death from radiation or operation of the facility should convince even the more skeptical that nuclear is not the awful hazard that alarmists fear.

Even the radiation fears are proving to have been vastly exaggerated. Studies show that a person gets twice as much radiation from a dental X-ray as from a year of living near a nuclear plant.

Perhaps it is true that the oil producing countries did us a favor in getting hoggish about oil prices. Their decision hopefully will be an inducement to do things we should have done long ago. Happy New Year to U.S.

City Population Estimate Is 1800

According to the calculations of City Secretary Steve Mosler, the city's population continued its steady increase this year, and the present total is estimated at 1800.

Along with his water department connects and disconnects, Mosler keeps a record of how many people move away. Likewise he makes entries for births and deaths. All of that added to a net gain of 39.

Added to 1813, the estimate at the beginning of the year, the present count comes to 1852.

However Mosler has found from experience that the method does not account for all ins and outs, especially the outs. Frequently someone leaves or fails to return after college or military service, and the deduction is not made from the record. In 1970 the census count was 111 under the local estimate.

Since then Mosler thinks his accuracy has improved, and that his count has lost about half as many since the census of 1970. So the present guess is 1800, and he's sweating out the time until the official count is made in 1980.

County Is Tops in Oats Production

Cooke County was the leading oats producing county in Texas in 1978, according to a report recently released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The county produced 1,070,000 bushels, which amounts to 7.8 per cent of the state's total yield. The report further reveals that 28,000 acres of the grain were planted and 18,000 acres were harvested for an average yield of 59 bushels per acre.

Grayson County, with 450,000 bushels of oats amounting to 3.3 per cent of the state yield, ranked seventh in the state.

The report on wheat shows that Cooke County planted 32,000 acres and harvested 25,100 for a total crop of 725,000 bushels and an average yield of 28.9 bushels per acre.

In barley the county planted 1,400 acres and harvested 600 for 23,000 bushels, an average of 38.3 bushels per acre.

Other reports show that Texas ranks 10th in the US in production of wheat, 12th in oats, 14th in rye, 24th in barley and 4th in flax seed.

Social Security Deduction Rate Increases in '79

Workers may notice a higher deduction for social security when they get their paychecks in 1979, Gu Jones, Social Security District Manager in Sherman said recently.

This is because the social security tax rate for 1979 will be 6.13 percent, compared to 6.05 percent in 1978, Jones explained. The increase amounts to an additional 8 cents on every $100 in pay.

In addition to paying the higher rates, workers who earn more than $17,700 will pay the tax on a larger share of their income in 1979, Jones said. The maximum amount of earnings subject to social security taxes in 1979 is $22,900, compared to the $17,700 maximum in 1978.

People who earn $22,900 or more in 1979 will pay $1,403.77 in social security taxes, which is $32.92 more than the maximum payable in 1978, Jones said. But they also can count on higher social security benefits later on, he said. Monthly benefit amounts are based on average covered earnings so higher earnings generally mean higher benefit rates.

Employers match the social security taxes paid by employees on a dollar for dollar basis.

The increases in the tax rate and the amount of earnings taxable in 1979 were part of a new financing package enacted by Congress in 1977 to keep the social security system on a sound footing until well into the next century.

More information about social security taxes and benefits can be obtained at the Sherman Social Security Office, located at 810 North Travis in Sherman. The phone number is 665-0770. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday, except national holidays.

A representative may be contacted in Gainesville each Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 12:45 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. in the Federal Building.

Hornets Walloped 70-54 at Celina

A super rally by Celina's Bobcats was too much for Muenster's Hornets last Thursday and resulted in a one-sided 70-54 victory. The contest was one of alternate hot streaks after a close first quarter which ended 14-12 favoring Celina. For the second period the Cats went strong and gained to a 34-25 lead, then the Hornets came alive and moved to a 45-44 lead.

And then when Celina took charge, outscoring Muenster 26-9 in the final period. The big operator in the 70-54 triumph was Terry Chemine who poured in 34 of his team's points.

The loss drops MHS boys to a 1-3 standing in the 14-A race. They have a win over Callisburg and losses to Pilot Point, Celina and Aubrey. The Hornets are 2-2, wins over Callisburg and Aubrey and losses being to Pilot Point and Celina.

CCC Considers Bond Election for New Construction

A bond election to determine whether Cooke County College will have a proposed student center complex seems likely since Monday night's regular meeting of the board. The board authorized its architect to proceed with plans for the project as well as for a proposed new administration building.

The student center is being considered with a theater at an estimated cost of $2,385,760 or without a theater at the estimated cost of $1,623,740.

The proposal is to finance it through a bond issue requiring a tax that would range somewhere between 10 and 20 cents. It would re-instate and slightly enlarge the 10 cent tax which was eliminated earlier this year.

The new administration building is being considered as a separate project with an estimated cost of $359,500. Originally the plan was to finance it out of funds set aside for new construction. An alternate proposal is to apply the set aside money as part payment of the student center, thereby allowing a lower bonded debt and tax rate.

In that case the administration building would be financed by revenue bonds which are backed by student tuition. Since they do not involve a tax they would not require an election.

Guests enjoyed seeing the prize-winning outdoor display depicting the First Christmas planned and constructed by Bill and Therese Miller's son, Mark Miller. The outstanding exhibit attractive both in daylight and by nighttime illumination, won first prize in the KC-sponsored "Keeping Christ in Christmas" contest. Together for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Miller and Shawn and Chad of The Colony; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller and Julie and Melissa, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flusche all of Muenster and Mark Miller of the home.

T. Miller Clan

Members of the Theo Miller clan gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Miller and family on Christmas Day. Attending the covered dish dinner and all day reunion were the Stan Yostens, the Paul Yostens and Paulette, all of Fort Worth; the Billy Joe Millers, Tommy Felderhoffs, the Ervin Henscheids and the Herb Millers, all of Muenster, the Randy Bayers of Grapevine; and the Ted Millers of Sherman and their families.

THANKS

Friends, I would like to thank each and everyone of you good people personally, and I will someday, but until that time, Mrs. Homsley and I want to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks for the flowers, cards, prayers, phone calls and contributions. I have always said: "There's no other place like Muenster, Texas, because of the wonderful people who have made it that way." It's still home to us. Many thanks again. We love you.
 Prof and Mrs. Homsley

Words cannot express our appreciation for all the acts of kindness during the loss of our home. Special thanks to the Benedictine Sisters, Sister Mary John Seyler and the Muenster Enterprise and all who donated things to aid us in our loss. The prayers and kindnesses will always be appreciated.

— Mr. and Mrs. Howard Young and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Fleitman and family.

MHS JVs Win 2 Over Sacred Heart

Junior varsity teams of Muenster Public School were the winners in a pair of contests with Sacred Heart's JVs

Thursday of last week in the MHS gym. Scores were 25-15 in the girls game and 45-40 in the boys game.

The Tigers and Hornets were neck and neck through the first two periods in which

MHS led 12-9 and 23-21. In the third the Hornets went ice cold hitting only 2 points while the Tigers made 13 and soared to a 34-25 lead. But the last period was one sided the other way by a count of 20-6 and MHS regained the lead by 45-40.

Don Frazier of the Hornets and Brian Bednorz of the Tigers shared scoring honors with 22 each. Tim Schneider was next for MHS with 11 and Brian Bindel was next for SH with 7.

A bad third quarter, in which the Tigerettes were outscored 12-4 was the big factor in their 25-15 loss to the Hornets. For the balance of the game MHS led 6-4 at the end of the first and the teams broke even with 3 each in the second and 4 each in the fourth. Sacred Heart was handicapped by the absence of Karen Koch, a regular who was out with a sprained ankle.

Leading scorers for the Hornets were Charlotte Fleitman and Judy Walterscheid with 6 each. Tops for Tigerettes were Shelly Walterscheid 6 and Sharon Voth 4.

Mary Knabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Knabe celebrated being one year old, with the help of family and guests, during a party in family home on Friday, December 22 at 7 p.m.

Attending were Mary's brothers, Ronnie, Brian and Corey and their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoedebeck; also Fred Hoedebeck, Terri Gagle, Diane and Jeff Hoedebeck, and Peggy and Stephanie Grewing and Mr. and Mrs. David Vogel and Dyann and Laura.

A Holly Hobbie theme was carried out in decorations and birthday cake. Refreshments were cake, ice cream and cold drinks.

Pictures were made and the children received party favors and balloons.

Improvement Club Of Myra Meets

The Myra Improvement Club held a business meeting on November 28. Hostesses were Kathy Vogel and Bernice Sicking.

Pearl Rosson was chosen chairman of the Christmas float. Nell Powell accepted chairmanship of the Community Christmas Dinner planned for December 15. Mmes. Vogel and Sicking accepted chairmanship of the Community Children's Program.

The next meeting will be held on January 30. Mrs. Marcia Schmitz will present a program on "Conserving Energy."

Pilot Point Takes 3 from MHS Teams

Muenster High teams were losers in all of their three game program at Pilot Point last Friday. The Hornets went down 87-72, the Hornetses 45-39 and the junior varsity girls 40-22.

Free throws made the big difference in the Hornets' game. Like the Bearcats they hit 33 field goals for a total of 66 but they made only 6 of 21 free throws whereas the home team made a spectacular 21 of 23.

The game was decided in the first period in which Pilot Point led 21-7, but after that the Pointers gained only one point.

Despite the loss, Coach Herb Ellis is not down hearted. He feels that the boys did a good job in keeping pace for three periods with a good team. Also the team is improving, and Todd Richey, now out with a sprained ankle, is expected to be back after the holidays.

The Hornets now have a win over Callisburg and a loss to Pilot Point. They face a make-up game with Celina Thursday, missed while Celina was in the football state playoffs, and their fourth game with Aubrey Friday.

Scorers at Pilot Point were David Felderhoff 21, Don Grewing 20, Kevin Klement 14, Ricky Winn 9, Floyd Felderhoff 8.

Hornettes played it close the first two periods trailing by 12-10 and 25-20, then had a miserable third period, falling back to 37-26. They took up slack in the fourth, but not enough, and the final count was 45-39.

Robin Walterscheid led the scoring with 20. Lou Dyer and Kathie Fisher each added 7. Team standing now is 1-2, a win over Callisburg and losses to Celina and Pilot Point.

The junior varsity game was an easy one for the home team with a gain in each period for the score of 40-22. Renee Reiter made 5 for MHS, Charlotte Fleitman and Elaine Grewing each made 4.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

If you have a child who will be ready for college 15 years from now, will you be ready financially? How far up will inflation have taken the cost of education by then? How is it possible to set aside anything when wide swings in inflation destroy stability? That's what's happened in recent years. From less than 2% in the 1950's and early 1960's, inflation went to 12% five years ago and continues to swing up and then down some. It certainly complicates the handling of personal finances.

Even so, a savings plan is possible, and even more necessary. Money drawing 6% compounded interest will double in 12 years. Looking toward your child's education in 15 years, if you put aside as little as $16 a month at 6% this will mean an accumulation, 15 years from now of $5,000... a step in the right direction.

If you need help with a savings plan, ask any of our officers. When they advise you about savings... you can BANK on it!

90 Attend SNAP
Christmas Party

The Senior Citizens of Muenster attended the annual SNAP Christmas dinner and party on Tuesday, December 19 in the meeting room of the Community Center. Lunch at noon was served to about 90 participants.

Guests visited or played table games until 3:00, when birthday cake and coffee were served. Birthday honorees were John Kupper and Bertha Pick. Special honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Ike Fillion of Myra, who were celebrating their 62nd wedding anniversary and were presented a gift to mark the day.

The decorated Christmas tree stood on a table laden with gift packages for the gift exchange. Holiday decorations were used throughout the room.

A surprise for everyone was the program from 3 to 5, by Dale Madden of Gainesville, with his organ and "Magic Fingers". He played many requests, also carols and led a sing-a-long.

The party was planned by SNAP Manager Gladys Lutkenhaus and her husband Hugo Lutkenhaus, assisted by Mary Alice Bayer. They created all decorations and planned and directed the activity.

Gifts Exchanged
By Extension Club

A gift exchange, beautiful decorations throughout the house, Christmas legends and carols added to a delightful December meeting for members of the Muenster Home Extension Club. Mrs. Martin Bayer was hostess in her home on Wednesday, December 13.

The inspiration was given by Mrs. Tillie Schoech, who also presented a Christmas poem. Sharing in the program was Mrs. Dorothy Fisher who related the Legend of the Christmas Crib.

Each member answered roll call by stating how she planned to spend Christmas Day. And they reviewed a very enjoyable Christmas party they hosted for their husbands on December 9 at the Cooke County Electric Co-op Building.

After carols and the gift exchange, Mrs. Louise Bayer, the hostess, served refreshments to 18 members and one guest, Mrs. Sylvia Bayer.

Guests of the Leo Henscheids

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henscheid hosted children and grandchildren on Christmas Day. Joining them were Mr. and Mrs. Damian Hellman of Irving and their children Kevin, Linda, Donny and Joey, all students at Texas Tech. Also spending Christmas Day here were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Henscheid and sons Jeff of Midwestern U. and Greg of Irving High. Another son, Mark was on a skiing trip in Colorado with members of the senior class of Irving High. Mr. and Mrs. Lenton McClendon (Carol) of Dallas were in Devol, Okla., spending Christmas with his mother.

"MATERIALS LIKE THESE ARE ONE OF THE REASONS
THE COST OF ELECTRICITY HAS GONE UP."

They also are one of the reasons your electric service is so dependable. Generating plants, transmission and distribution lines and other facilities require thousands of items of "hardware" for routine maintenance and emergency repairs. A recent check of such "hardware" purchased by TP&L showed 16 items which have increased in cost from 22% to more than 228% since 1973.

TP&L must spend thousands of dollars each year to buy, maintain reserve supplies and install "hardware" which is essential to providing electric service. We're doing everything possible to hold the line on these costs.

Kindergarten

Christmas parties for the Kindergarten were held on Friday, December 22. Room mothers hosting the morning class included Mrs. Clinton Endres, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Frank Felderhoff, Mrs. James Hacker and Mrs. Leon Fuhrmann. Santa Claus visited during the party and gave each pupil a sack of candy. Special guests were Karri Endres and Jimmy Hoeker. Refreshments were decorated cup cakes and Dr. Peppers. The afternoon class was entertained by room mothers, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Glen Cler, Mrs. Sam Endres, Mrs. Tom Bayer and Mrs.

Special guests were Mrs. Paul Fisher, Mrs. Anthony Klement, Stacie Cler, Coy Fisher and Melissa Fisher.

Each pupil was given a red felt stocking decorated with appliques and sequins with a candy cane tucked inside. They were made by Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Tom Bayer and Mrs. Paul Fisher. Names were written on each.

Both classes were given sacks of candy and a personalized ceramic bear from their teacher. The bears were made by Mrs. William's daughter, Mrs. Charles Sponsel of Great Bend, Kansas.

Children in the afternoon class received a personalized Christmas tree ornament, made of wood, by The Hut.

Children of both classes, their teacher, Mrs. Florence Williams and the room mothers have expressed their appreciation to Claude Klement and Paul Bartush for their part in making both parties an exciting and happy occasion for the children.
