NUMBER 27

A subject one would normally expect to receive big attention from the metropolitan press and from national TV and radio networks is the 18 wheeler truck load of simulated gold bricks with a full length banner reading "Don't Pay 4 Billion Dollars to Give Away the Panama Canal." Less meaningful displays of the past have been featured to get all possible publicity out of them, but this one has been almost completely ignored. An exception, perhaps the only one, is Human Events which had a picture of the truck with its sign and also told its story.

An interesting sidelight which can be told with pride in this congressional district is our representative, Charles Stenholm, is one of eleven congressmen pictured beside the truck. Two other Texas congressmen, Kent Hance and Phil Gramm, are also in the group. It's satisfying to see that they are on our side of this issue.

The 18 wheel flatbed truck, loaded with 44,300 simulated gold bricks and bearing the anti-giveaway sign was promoted by Rep. George Hansen of Idaho, who is author of a bill (HR-1958) which he says will "completely and legally stop the giveaway of the Panama Canal."

The display truck was co-sponsored by Idaho taxpayers and the American Security Council, and its kickoff site was Salt Lake City with reference to Promontory Point, Utah, the scene of the historic driving of the golden spike in 1869 to symbolize completion of the link-up of the tracks in the transcontinental railroad. Alluding to that cross-continent transportation milestone, Hansen said: "The irony is that it is taking the equivalent of over 10 percent of the gold in Fort Knox to sever the sea lane that binds our coasts together."

Hansen refers to the canal deal as a gigantic "payaway." He thinks there is no reason why American taxpayers and consumers should pay the multi-billion dollar transfer costs on what is probably the largest real estate give away in history.

Legislation to implement the Administration's canal giveaway is expected to be acted on in the next few weeks. Two bills are under consideration (HR 1716 and HR 111), either amounting to a massive ripoff for Panama, but differing in how the payaway is to be divided for payment between taxpayers and tollpayers who use the canal. And there's also the Hansen sponsored bill, HR 1958, which would rule out any payments in the deal.

Phyllis Schlafly, commenting on the situation, says that the American custom of "buy now, pay later," has been converted into "give away now, pay later." She observes that it will cost every American family of four at least $472 to give away our $20 billion canal and canal zone property. The transfer costs alone could pay nearly all the federal gasoline taxes (4 cents per gallon) paid by Americans in an entire year. Or they could pay off all the outstanding loans of New York City, or most of a year's hospital and medical care for American veterans.

The first item to consider in the giveaway is that the canal itself, worth $20 billion, is being just handed over to Panama. And to complete the giveaway US is expected to pay transfer costs of some $4 billion, plus $2 billion more for treaty contingency costs, plus $200 million a year after the year 2000 for Panama treaty costs.

And that's not all. There's an estimate of $399 million as the cost of dismantling military bases; and the termination of $20 million a year interest payments now being made by the canal to the US Treasury, amounting to $400 million in 20 years. These figures, incidentally, come from the General Accounting Office, not from political opponents.

Other items to consider are that we can expect to pay $150 million to replace Navy equipment given to Panama, also that other equipment transferred to Panama last October has already cost $5 million.

Also there's the matter of $310 million owed by the canal to the US Treasury which will not be paid when Panama takes over, and a loss of untransferred surplus cash in the amount of $70 million in the canal operating fund. These two figures also are supplied by the GAO.

Still more expenses in the big deal are Panama Treaty contingency costs including $100 million in annual US foreign aid to Panama, plus Panama's demand to tax 180 American businesses in the canal zone as far back as 1903, and the demand that we restore Coco Solo Naval Base and France Field (unused for 20 years) to their original condition.

Besides all the costs we will have to pay in tax there will be more to pay in tolls. It's expected that the toll charge will go up, and that applies especially to the US, which is the principal user of the canal. Lots of the things we buy will cost more because our shippers are gauged by

Parish Joins Father Stephen In Anniversary Observance

Some 400 members of Sacred Heart parish along with many out of town visitors were in attendance Sunday in the church and community center to celebrate the 25th anniversary of Father Stephen Eckart's ordination to the priesthood.

Joined by Fathers Denis Soerries, Francis Zimmerer, Jerry Mosman and Lawrence Miller, Father Stephen was the head celebrant of his jubilee mass, relatives had parts in the liturgy and the Sacred Heart Choral Group sang. Father Placidus Eckart was the speaker.

He applied the occasion to the day's scriptural reading, noting that the original perfect harmony of creation was broken by the sin of Eden, then after an old testament dominated by hatred and discord Christ restored love as the principal aim of Christian life. He said that Jesus loved us as the Father loved Him, and a priest's mission in life is to pass on the love of Jesus. In that connection he quoted the Savior's words "It was not you who chose me, but I who chose you."

VFW and Auxiliary To Have 3 Events For Memorial Day

Members of the Muenster VFW Post and Auxiliary will observe Memorial Day next Sunday with three separate events.

The first, following the 7 o'clock mass at Sacred Heart will be a traditional memorial service with a procession to the cemetery, prayer, a memorial message and the rifle salute and taps.

Second event is the annual Memorial Day supper beginning at 7 p.m. for members of the VFW and Auxiliary. And the final event is a dance.

Commander Leo Becker and Auxiliary President Linda Knabe urge all members to participate.

In the opening procession Father Stephen was accompanied by visiting clergy and relatives, except his mother, who was seated before. Participants in the liturgy were a niece, Mrs. Alfons Koessler Jr., at the first reading and a niece, Mrs. Bill Black at the second reading; also nieces and nephews Mrs. Dale Hofbauer, Mrs. Bernard Hesse, Mrs. Robert Simmel of Pilot Point, Steve Eckart and Don Eckart at the offertory procession.

The reception at the Community Center featured a supper of covered dishes provided by members of the parish, and following it were vocal and skit selections by groups from the elementary grades and Tony Horsley's speech students, and the High School Chorus directed by Frank Luke. Accompanist were Mrs. Joe Felderhoff and Frank Luke. Also Tony Horsley, Wilfred Luttmer and Joe Bartush sang solos, and Luttmer, Bartush and Greg Gieb sang a trio.

A special display at the community center included a priest's mass vestments along with chalice, paten, and cruets beside a cake shaped like an open bible and an arrangement of red roses. The table was covered with lace and a wall banner above, handmade by Sister Lillian Marie Reiter, was inscribed "I Have Chosen You a Priest Forever."

Congressman Stenholm Commencement Speaker

Margaret Stormer Gets M.Ed. Degree

Margaret Kralicke Stormer was one of more than 900 students receiving degrees in commencement ceremonies last Saturday at Texas Women's University. She was awarded a Master of Education degree in Early Childhood Education. Her thesis was entitled "A Handbook for Developing Listening Skills for the Kindergarten."

Myra Judged In Regional

Myra Trubenbach as mayor and Rose Hudspeth as city secretary presented a skit, written by Bernice Sicking and Wanda Fleitman, outlining a report to the governor on achievements in the community program.

Also, the club had a miniature fair of homemaking and farming projects from the community at the IBI Factory. Operation of the factory was one feature of the tour.

Final event of the program was a buffet lunch for judges and visitors. Principal providers there were Fischer's, Hofbauer's, Muenster State Bank, IBI Cutting Department and the Myra Home Demonstration Club.

Prime considerations in the judging were organization of the Myra volunteer fire department and the home demonstration club, purchase of a fire truck and construction of the fire station. The latter two projects were funded by local fund raising projects and donations. Plumbing and electrical installations were made by the firemen.

The truck is a military surplus vehicle with equipment installations by the Texas Forest Service. It has a 320 gallon tank, CB, and radio communication with the Sheriff's Department. Air packs and first aid equipment are to be added soon.

Rain Measure is 5.72 Inches

Weather has been going from one extreme to another. The community was praying for rain last weekend just a few weeks after an exceptionally wet April, and suddenly they get more than they want. The series of showers starting Sunday night added to 5.72 inches before clearing weather arrived Wednesday. It brings the month's total to 6.18 inches and the year's total to 24.21, which is some 9 inches above normal for this time of the year.

Temperature has been pleasant, ranging from a low of 60 to a high of 88. Low-high readings were recorded as follows by Steve Mosier, May 17, 60 and 85; 18th, 61 and 86; 19th, 67 and 88; 20th, 69 and 88; 21st, 63 and 77; 22nd, 64 and 78; 23rd, 60 and 79.

Type Size Will Change

Beginning next week, The Enterprise will change to the next larger size of type in its news stories as is exhibited here. The decision follows a number of recent comments that the present type face is too small for comfortable reading.

The size will be the same as that used when we received our new typesetting machine.

We found that with the larger type we were crowded for space, so we reduced the size to make room for more reading content. The reaction convinces us that our readers prefer the more legible type face.

Kevin Pels Gets Pharmacy Degree

Kevin H. Pels has been awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree in Pharmacy by the University of Houston College of Pharmacy. In its own special commencement and graduation ceremony, the College of Pharmacy awarded degrees to 66 Spring graduates. Special recognition was given to the College for the outstanding results its graduates have achieved in the past on both State and National Boards of Pharmacy.

Attending the ceremony were Kevin's fiancée, Laura Kralicke and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Martin Kralicke. Kevin, who was recently employed by Eckerd's in Houston, now awaits the Texas Board of Pharmacy Exam in June. He is a son of Mrs. Ed Pels and a graduate of Sacred Heart High School.

Congressional Comment

In "Wealth of Nations," Adam Smith argued that profits are the legitimate return for risk and effort and that the "Invisible Hand" of market forces would convert private greed into public benefits.

The economic theories of Adam Smith are as applicable to the marketplace of today as they were 200 years ago. The free enterprise system works because it allows a person to reap the benefits of his labor. Profits are the invisible hand that motivates individuals to make a product or perform a service that will benefit the community as a whole. The better an entrepreneur is able to perform this service, the bigger the reward (profits) he receives.

Profits are called by many names these days — obscene, exorbitant, and excessive. Granted, profits can be improper if they are exploitative or the result of price-fixing schemes or monopolies. But we must remember that in a capitalist economy the promise of monetary reward is a prime motivator. Without hope of a reasonable rate of return, no one would start a business, introduce a new product or service, or even continue producing an old one. And without the reality of profits, no business in the long run can keep itself alive — except by government subsidies. Also we must remember that even if profits are excessive in the short run, the market will adjust and force prices downward. Pocket calculators are a good example. Today a good calculator can be bought for as little as $10 from a variety of companies. Just a few years ago only a limited number of firms made calculators at a price many times that of the present rate. The same will happen in our energy industry if only permitted. The profit incentive will attract new firms into the market and production of additional hydrocarbons and alternative sources of fuel will become more feasible. In the long run excess profits will disappear as competition increases and the public will benefit.

The basic principles of free market economics are understood by people everywhere whether they admit it or not. The Russian people understand free market economics. The state takes 90 percent of the production of collective farms in the Soviet Union, but lets workers keep what they earn by farming their backyards. Soviet state agriculture is perpetually in poor condition and a third of farm output is backyard production. The Soviet leaders have tried everything but increasing the size of backyards.

The hostility towards profits largely rests on the myth that dividends flow mainly to the pockets of wealthy individuals. In terms of dollar value, nearly half of the corporate shares these days are owned by institutions such as pension funds, college endowments, and even churches. The assurance of a retirement income and the availability of a college scholarship, all depend heavily upon the profitability of U.S. corporations. So the next time you hear that somebody's profits are up, remember the invisible hand might be working for you, and rest assured that the competition is looking for a way to cash in if government will only let them.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

While one conference committee was in the process of working out a state budget, another was trying to decide who will get what as far as tax relief goes, and yet another conference committee was about to begin negotiations over school finance.

Ironically, hardly anyone noticed. Not even the first House override of a gubernatorial veto since 1951, or tentative approval of initiative and referendum legislation, or passage by House members of changes to the consumer protection act, could hold the spotlight for long after the first of what would be two filibusters began in the Senate.

While conference committee members were quietly drawing up a compromise to pay state employees (except teachers) 5.1 percent more in 1980-81 and poor children an extra $100 a year, one-third of the senate was at odds with the other two-thirds over consumer issues and one purely political matter—a presidential primary.

Months ago, the whole question of a presidential primary appeared to be dead thanks to Sen. Ron Clower of Garland who rounded up the signatures of 13 of his colleagues who said they were against Sen. Jack Ogg's bill that would separate a presidential primary from state primaries. Thirteen senators is enough to block consideration of a bill in the senate.

But then Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby rolled out SB 1149, a bill Sen. Lloyd Doggett quickly tagged as a "Trojan Horse." Later though, Doggett, Sens. Babe Schwartz, Carl Parker, Clower and others, who combined in the first filibuster of the week against SB 1149, came to think of the bill more as a smokescreen.

What looked like a shrewd parliamentary maneuver by Hobby turned out to be even more. Simply stated, SB 1149 would have put the secretary of state (at the moment, a Republican, George Strake) in charge of funds for running primaries instead of the county party chairmen. The Democrats were a little nervous about that happening. But even more irritating for some Senators was the fact there was no guarantee SB 1149 would come back from the House unamended.

If the House sent back a substitute, it would take only a majority vote for the Senate to concur and that meant Clower's 13 votes wouldn't be enough to stop passage of a bill with some provision tacked on setting up a separate presidential primary.

That was the "Trojan Horse" Doggett described. But Hobby had more on his mind. A usury bill already passed by the House pegging interest rates to treasury bonds and proposed changes in the consumer protection law were coming up on the Senate calendar. Doggett and Sen. Bill Patman had already threatened to filibuster the measures.

Doggett, Patman, Schwartz and others had joined forces earlier in the session to filibuster a bill on the State Bar and proposed changes in the consumer protection law. Three filibusters had been mounted in the Legislature thus far until this week and all had little success. But with the final days of the session facing the legislature and major legislation still waiting to be finalized, a filibuster appeared to be a more effective tool than it had been earlier.

Any hope of that being true faded quickly as it became clear that Hobby had put SB 1149 on the line merely to tire and wear down the opposition. At first glance it would appear that Hobby's tactic failed because a group effort filibuster against SB 1149 did manage to all but kill the bill. But Hobby rolled out HB 409—interest rate legislation. Patman had bowed all along to fight such a bill and a fight meant a filibuster—the second of the week.

Earlier, in the first filibuster of the next to last week of the session, a team of senators had filibustered SB 1149 and won themselves the nickname "The Killer Bees" from Hobby, but Patman carried the load alone against HB 409 talking for 17 hours and 21 minutes — the longest filibuster this session.

When Patman could go no longer, the Senate quickly passed HB 409 raising the maximum interest rates that can be charged on home mortgages and senators also approved legislation (SB 357) weakening the consumer protection act. The usury bill headed back to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments and SB 357 was sent to the governor.

A second Filibuster by Doggett against changes in the consumer law was avoided after certain amendments the Austin senator had called for were added in the House.

The House reattached to the bill class action suits that had been removed in the Senate. And the House also eliminated the definition of "actual damages"—a clause in the senate version that would have prevented consumers from collecting for mental anguish. Both the House and Senate did away with triple damages in consumer suits but the House did provide for treble damages in some cases and left that decision to juries hearing consumer cases.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Sir,

In light of the confusion presently surrounding nuclear energy and its uses, I would like to try to clarify the situation somewhat. Three Mile Island is probably the most controversial of nuclear issues, and one about which exists the highest level of confusion. Since the incident on March 28, personnel involved have had time to analyze its causes and consequences thoroughly.

I realize that it is next to impossible for people outside the nuclear industry to understand exactly what happened because of the technical nature of the plant. Suffice it to say that the initial incident was caused by a combination of human error in operating the plant with valves on a backup cooling water system cooled, and the failure of a relief valve to reclose on the main reactor cooling loop. The initial problems were severely compounded by actions taken by the operators of the Three Mile Island unit. Records indicate that damage to the reactor would have been very small if the operators had not made these mistakes. Before all blame is placed on these people it should be said that they took some of their actions based upon established procedures that appear to be wrong.

Beyond the discussion of the causes of the incident we must get into its consequences. This is where the story reported by much of the media and many anti-nuclear groups, and the actual facts differ significantly. Several points should be made. Despite the failures of equipment and human errors, the reactor WAS successfully cooled with offsite consequences being minimal. According to studies completed by the federal government the average exposure to a person near Three Mile Island was about one millirem. To put this in perspective, a person receives from 50 to 150 millirem in a chest X-ray and, depending on where you live, between 100 and 150 millirem from natural radiation from the air, food, and the sun. The maximum any person would have received was estimated at less than 100 millirem, about like an X-ray.

Information made available as the incident progressed was inconsistent at best. With hindsight it is easy to determine that things were blown out of proportion. According to both internal reviews by Nuclear Regulatory Personnel and studies by external agencies, the much publicized danger of a hydrogen explosion never existed. The chemistry in the reactor was such that it could not happen. In addition, the low levels of radiation exposure involved strongly suggest that the calls for evacuation were unnecessary.

Despite these insignificant consequences, people are calling for a shutdown of nuclear power. The fact is if we stop nuclear power the country does not have energy resources to meet future needs, much less replace the 12-14 percent of electricity produced last year by nuclear. I venture to say the consequences of an energy shortage, with high unemployment and possible depression are much more severe than those from Three Mile Island.

The fact is nuclear power is a clean, economical, and as its record indicates, safe way to produce electricity. Those people who would have us turn away from this promising source are asking the country to pay a far greater price for a "totally safe" environment than we can afford. The message from Three Mile Island is to study what occurred, learn from it, and improve the design and operation of plants. It is not to shut down all nuclear power.

GERMANY'S CHOICE

In 1945 when World War II was over America sent Mr. Heller to Germany to try to persuade that nation to go Socialist with its industries in the hands of the government. Germany, for various reasons however, chose to go private enterprise instead. As a result, she came out of the poverty and distress and destruction of the war in a surprisingly short time and lifted the standard of living of her people in 40 years to the top place among all of the nations of Europe. She chose a her first priority the putting of here economic system in order and diffusing the standard of living of her people and she chose to do it through the private enterprise route. Her choices were right and her rapid climb to a place of influence and prestige dwarfed the whole world.

While in Germany I congratulated a German business man on the fact that they chose private enterprise for Germany instead of going Socialist at the end of the war. His reply was rather interesting. He said: "We do not deserve very much credit for it. We might very well have gone Socialist but America sent Mr. Heller over to persuade us to go Socialist."

"You will remember that Germany at that time was an occupied country. America had accepted supervision not only of her own area in Germany but also the area assigned to the French and the area assigned to the British. So, in reality, it was just America that was continuing to occupy West Germany. We very much disliked being an occupied country. We wanted the Americans to go home. We couldn't give the Americans any orders but we could create inconvenience for them so, since they were urging us to go Socialist, we decided we would aggravate them by going private enterprise. We hoped the more they were aggravated by us, the sooner they would pick-up and leave, taking out all of their occupation forces. "Consequently, with determination, we rejected all of Mr. Heller's recommendations for us to go Socialist. We wanted it to appear evident he was not needed in Germany and that his recommendations were not acceptable to the German people, hoping thereby to speedup the recall of the American occupation forces.

"But, after we got started with private enterprise, it worked so much better than we had known Socialism to work anywhere that we became infatuated with it. We struggled mightily to make it a success. At that time we had no thought that the day would come when we could compete with the mighty United States on the foreign markets of the world.

"Through private enterprise we not only developed remarkable productivity but we also absorbed the whole of our unemployed. In fact, within a few years we were actually importing labor from Italy and from other countries. We climbed on up and became the largest exporting nation in all Europe. Then we found areas in which we could actually compete with the United States very effectively. It was very fortunate for Germany that we chose private enterprise in spite of the fact that we did it to be stubborn."

I wish a million Americans who read this column would write their Congressmen and urge them to take the shackles off our major industries and allow them to prosper so that they could advance and regain the markets they have lost and absorb the unemployed and regain the prestige that she has lost during the last 15 years.

Carl M. Hahn, Crew Foreman, Mesquite

"TRUCKS LIKE THIS ARE ONE OF THE REASONS THE COST OF ELECTRICITY HAS GONE UP."

They also are one of the reasons your electric service is so dependable. TP&L's "hole-digger" trucks do a job in minutes which used to require long and often difficult hand labor. Skilled employees utilizing these trucks can rapidly extend power lines to new homes or businesses and restore storm-damaged lines. In 1975, a "hole-digger" truck cost $42,000... today, more than $75,000.

TP&L must spend hundreds of thousands of dollars each year to purchase, operate and maintain the many special-purpose vehicles which are essential to providing electric service. We're doing everything possible to hold the line on these costs. Texas Power & Light... dependable electric service throughout North, Central and East Texas for more than sixty-six years.

Forestburg News

by Myrt Denham

'Tis the time for family reunions and Homecomings—and the very first Homecoming we know about will take place the first Sunday, June 3rd to be exact—in the Dewey Community. It will be amongst the shade trees by the "Little Dewey Church." Everyone is invited to bring your dinner and come for a visit with friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bonner motored to Trinity on Friday May 11 to meet their daughters—Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Carr and Mrs. Becky Bryant. They all spent the weekend there.

Mrs. Alice Shears, who is Social Activity Director at the Yes-ter-Year Home in Saint Jo, recently completed an 80 hour course in "Continuing Education for Social Activity Directors at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls. Alice attended these classes at MSU for eight hours every Friday for 10 weeks. Sounds like a rather rough schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lanier, Mmes. Cleo Lanier, Jeanette Montgomery, Oma Dell Reed, Henry Don Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. H.K. Lund attended graduation exercises at MSU, Wichita Falls on May 12 for Charles and Phyllis Lanier.

Trying to have a "get-together" for just some good Christian fellowship and fun in this part of the world is almost next to impossible. This writer tried it recently and felt almost like the man we read about in Luke chapter 14:12-24. It is absolutely amazing the excuses folks can come up with as to why they can't take part, etc.

We have a few more adult birthday

"children" to report. Billy Bob Greenwood celebrated a birthday Saturday May 19. Mrs. Joe Hunt's birthday comes around Monday May 21. Mrs. Olita Lanier has one coming up Friday May 25. Harry B. Perryman's birthday comes on Sunday June 3.

Miss Jennifer Barclay of Sanger visited with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Barclay, from Tuesday p.m. May 15 to Thursday May 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Midland have arrived in Forestburg for a stay at their home here. They are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Willis and friends while here. Mrs. Willis and Mr. Wilson are brother and sister.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Ross Littell, Stoney Point, were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mattinly of Dallas, Henry Johnston of Mobeetie, and Ethel Moran of Amarillo.

Visiting in the area on Sunday May 13 were:

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gates and granddaughter Cindy Hamm, of Torrance, California, visited with Mrs. Gates parents Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dill of Era and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Freeman of the burg.

Bill Shults of Lewisville visited his mother Mrs. Louise Shults. Paul Brewer and Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Irving were visitors in the home of Mrs. Frances Brewer.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Payne of Arlington visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Holzberg of New Harp.

Miss Sherree Wylie of Gainesville visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Wylie, Jr.

Mrs. Vera Mae McGee reports that all her children except the Mayo McGee's of Amarillo were home for Mother's Day. Those home were: Mr. and Mrs. Bud Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilkerson of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hill and Matt of Bowie, Mr. and Mrs. Dale McGee and Mitch plus a friend Joan Ross of Kemp. Mr. and Mrs. Chris McGee and family of Midway, Mr. and Mrs. Jan McGee and Denise of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Harry Otto of Muenster. Mrs. Otto is the mother of Mrs. Jan McGee.

Doug Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Campbell, celebrated his 8th birthday in the school lunchroom Monday May 14. His mother served refreshments. Those enjoying the occasion with Doug were kindergarten thru 2nd grade students, Mmes. Mary Hays and Lucille Williams.

Mmes. Joe Denham and Myrt Denham were in Muenster Tuesday May 15 shopping and they visited with Mmes. Bess Orell and Eula Moore at St. Richard's Villa. They returned home via Saint J., Dymound and Stoney Point areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Ted) Jackson attended the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thurman of Nocona on Sunday May 13. Mrs. Thurman is the former Ola Fae Orell—aunt of Ray Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Freeman visited Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Foster and children of Fort Worth Sunday May 13.

Mrs. Mary DeGraffenreid returned home Friday May 18 from a stay in the Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls and then the Nocona Hospital. May reports she is doing okay.

Roe Sledge is a patient in the Nocona Hospital as of the later part of last week.

Mrs. D.D. Echols, of Mallard, came home Thursday May 17 from a stay in a Denton Hospital.

On Thursday May 17 the FHA Girls and Mrs. JoAnn Sicking went to Sandy Lake for a days outing. This was a day of fellowship before school turns out.

Then on Friday May 18 the 7th and 8th grade students along with Mr. and Mrs. Wessie Reynolds and bus driver Raymond Tipton spent the day at Sandy Lake.

Miss Paula Hudspeth and Lecia Lynch visited with Rayanne Lynch of Denton Saturday May 19 and Sunday May 20.

Baccalaureate Services were Sunday night May 20 at 8 p.m. in the school gym for the 1979 graduating seniors. Following the services a reception for the seniors, their parents and friends was held in the school library. This reception was sponsored by the Women of the Forestburg United Methodist Church.

A covered dish supper was the first event of the evening, this was followed with singing happy birthday to the "youngsters" while they were each presented with a personal birthday cake and cards which contained a small "greenback" token, then all enjoyed some of the birthday cakes. Afterwards there was just good fellowship visiting and several played 42. More of these parties are planned in the months to come. Those present were: Cleo Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hudspeth, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sockwell, Mmes Alice Shears, and Betty Reynolds, Ruth Smith, Paula Hudspeth and the host and hostesses.

IN THE COLONIAL HOME, FOOD WAS PREPARED IN THE FIREPLACE. SOMETIMES A "TURNSPIT DOG" WAS USED TO ROTATE MEAT ON A SPIT. THE DOGS WERE TRAINED TO WALK ON A TREADMILL WHICH WAS RIGGED TO TURN THE SPIT.

OUT IN THE OLD WEST SOME OF THE BEST MEALS CAME OUT OF A WAGON... THE "CHUCK WAGON." THIS TRAVELING KITCHEN OF CATTLE DRIVE FAME WAS NAMED FOR ITS INVENTOR, CHARLES GOODNIGHT.

Many Hearing Problems Can Be Helped.

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this model, put it on and wear it in the privacy of your own home. While many people with a hearing loss will not receive any significant benefit from any hearing aid, this free model will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It is not a real hearing aid, and it's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 0000, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Confetti

Panama. And certainly not to be overlooked is the $20 billion or more that the US is expected to pay to build the suggested replacement canal.

The cost estimate of this deal staggers the imagination. Initially we were shocked at the idea of giving away the canal, a vital commercial and military lifeline of our country and a matter of utmost strategic importance in global military considerations. And to make matters worse, it was given to the communists, our number one enemies. No matter how we looked at the deal, it seemed like a national tragedy and beyond doubt the most ill advised incident in history.

And now, in addition to the initial loss in this monster blunder we are told that we'll have to pay and pay by the billions to complete the deal.

As a parting thought, we can recall that political promises in this matter were no better than political judgment. President Carter assured us that no tax money would be used, that "any payments to Panama will come from tolls paid by ship which use the canal." Also Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher both stated that "the treaties will not require any appropriations from the American taxpayers." An ironic twist: the engineers of this rip-off include a lot of characters who pointed fingers in the Watergate case.

IT'S TIME TO GET SERIOUS ABOUT GASOHOL, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said recently, noting that recent increases in OPEC oil prices have narrowed the cost gap between the agriculturally-derived product and gasoline.

"The cost of ethyl alcohol is approaching within only a few cents of gasoline prices at the service station," he commented. "And some engineering firms have reported that new technologies could reduce the estimated $1-a-gallon price of gasohol by an additional 25 percent."

"One of the most important benefits of gasohol production is that it would provide an additional market outlet for many of our surplus agricultural products," Brown said. "It would not reduce food production or export capabilities because much of the alcohol production comes from the use of byproducts and crops not suitable for food."

10 Top Pecan Counties Told

AUSTIN—The top 10 pecan producing counties for 1978 have been announced by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The leading counties were Hood, El Paso, San Saba, Mills, Bell, Guadalupe, Gonzales, Comanche, Pecos, Bexar and Tarrant.

Ariculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said the total pecan crop was estimated at 22 million pounds, 31 percent below 1977's 32 million pounds. Texas was second nationwide in pecan production.

Brown said lack of moisture across the state was a severe problem during most of the growing season. Trees began shedding some nutlets soon after they were set. Insects and disease plagued the crop during the growing season, and some casebearer damage to developing buds and shoots was evident in central and eastern counties.

One Person in Six Has High Blood Pressure

By Evelyn Yeatts
Do you know how many Americans have High Blood Pressure? The National High Blood Pressure Education Program estimates that almost 35 million, which is one in every six persons, have definite high blood pressure, and as a result, face significant risks of heart attack, stroke, and kidney failure.

Efforts to achieve good health and a longer life reflect a current trend among Americans today. People are exercising more, improving their eating habits, and giving up smoking. As a result, they feel better and are helping themselves to a healthier life.

For some persons, one way to achieve a long and healthy life is to take medication regularly. That's one of the things a doctor might prescribe if a patient has high blood pressure. When high blood pressure is not detected and treated, it makes a person especially susceptible to a stroke, heart disease, kidney disease or other disabilities.

Treatment on a daily basis, often with medication, sometimes by diet—usually for the rest of their lives—is what's required for people with high blood pressure. There is usually no cure for the disease. But, medication is only effective each day it's taken. If patients do not understand this aspect of the treatment regimen, they may think that a lowered blood pressure means it's been cured. That's not true. If they stop taking medication, their blood pressure will probably go back up again. High blood pressure must be treated one day at a time, every day.

In addition to medication, physicians often advise patients with high blood pressure to stop smoking, lose weight, reduce salt in their diet, and exercise more. This is good advice because it helps the medication work more effectively. If medication has been prescribed, the other measures usually can't control blood pressure by themselves.

Sometimes patients make a mistake and choose to stop smoking or lose weight instead of taking their medication. That's a serious mistake—they should do all the things the doctor tells them, not just one or two.

Some diseases have obvious symptoms, such as a cough or a rash that can be treated. High blood pressure is not like that—it usually has no symptoms. But, some people think that they should "feel" something, such as a headache or dizziness before they take their medication. They're wrong. They should take it every day even though they don't have symptoms.

People often think that high blood pressure is related to being nervous or tense. They are probably confusing hypertension, the medical term for high blood pressure, with nervous tension. The fact is nervous people, as well as calm people, can have high blood pressure. The only way to know if someone's blood pressure is up is to measure it. No one can tell for sure by the way he or she feels.

People who are treating their high blood pressure every day, the way the doctor advises, have joined the trend to better health among Americans. They are avoiding potential disabilities and are leading normal, full lives, even though they are under daily treatment.

A $500 check for tornado relief from the Muenster KC Council to the Wichita Falls Council was presented by Grand Knight Wayne Klement to Grand Knight Roland Sigler during a regular meeting of the Wichita Falls council Monday night. Pictured with them are Eddie Fleitman, district deputy and J. W. Fisher, lecturer.

What does it take to feel secure?

1. A place to hang your hat.

Actually it's much more than a place to hang-up. Or hang-out. It's where the heart is, and whether a castle or a cottage, there's just no place like home.

2. A chicken in every pot.

In most cases, one chicken and one pot are sufficient. Unless, of course, you have a very large family. Then, a turkey in the pot is even better. Best of all — a brother in the grocery business.

3. First Texas Savings.

Security is more than peace of mind. It's a plan of action — designed to meet your needs today, and grow with your goals for tomorrow. And a savings plan at First Texas Savings can really help.

Our Regular Saving Accounts earn at the rate of 5.25% and keep your money readily available. Your account begins earning interest from the day of deposit. And, at First Texas, your interest also earns interest every day, to increase your annual yield.

For longer term investments at higher interest rates. Certificates of Deposit are ideal. Here too, First Texas gives you the benefit of earnings from day of deposit and daily compounding of accumulated interest. And you can choose from a variety of different terms and rates.

Certificates of Deposit*

Annual Rate	Minimum Term	Minimum Deposit	Annual Yield
5.75%	3-Months	$ 500	5.92%
6.50%	1-Year	$1,000	6.72%
6.75%	2½-Years	$1,000	6.98%
7.50%	4-Years	$1,000	7.79%
7.75%	6-Years	$1,000	8.06%
8.0%	8-Years	$1,000	8.33%

Certificates above are automatically renewable unless the Association gives written notice of cancellation at least 15 days prior to the maturity date. Earnings are compounded daily and paid quarterly.
*Federal regulations require a substantial penalty for early withdrawal.
Annual yield based on accumulated interest of one year.

Of course, your savings can be insured safe, up to $40,000 for single accounts, to $200,000 for couples, and to $560,000 for a family of four by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. And First Texas Savings makes it easy and convenient to save too. With services like postage-paid Save By Mail, direct deposit of Government Checks, Checkmatic money transfer to simplify loan payments, and Readi-Check, to put idle checking account funds to work, earning for you.

Why not get all the details from a First Texas Savings Counselor? It's the smart way to get your savings growing. And get the confidence that comes with real financial security.

June 17 Picnic Planned

Sponsors of the parish picnic on Sunday, June 17 are inviting everyone to include attendance at the event in their plans. They also have hopes of establishing the date as an annual Homecoming. Details will be announced as they are developed.

To date, plans are for a fried chicken dinner at noon in the Community Center; also for a Country Store that offers fresh garden vegetables; plants of all kinds; wicker baskets; baby items; home-made baked goods; handwork; etc. Donors if they wish, may leave suitable items at the home of Mr. Ronnie Hoagland.

Chairmen of the Country Store Booth also asked for materials needed for packaging vegetables when they are sold, i.e. clean boxes, clean paper bags or sacks, string, plastic bags, etc. Sponsors also pleaded with the donors of baked goods to have the items priced, to arrive at a fair price for value received by the purchaser.

The event will be a benefit for the debt payments on the Sacred Heart

Trio Attends KC State Convention

The 75th annual State Convention of the Knights of Columbus was held last week in Corpus Christi.

Attending from Muenster were District Deputy Eddie Fleitman of District No. 47 and Joe Fisher, voting delegate of Council 1459. They were accompanied by Mrs. Fleitman and Mrs. Fisher. Joining them Sunday was Father Denis Soerries, Chaplain, who flew to San Antonio as a guest of the local Council.

Father Denis participated in the Concelebrated Mass in Corpus Christi Cathedral on Monday and also at the Memorial Mass on Tuesday.

One evening the local members and Father Denis were joined for dinner by Abbot Alfred Hoening of Corpus Christi Abbey and Father William.

It's Disposal Time For ASCS Set Aside

Tim O. Gilbert, Executive Director of the Cooke County ASCS Office reminds producers who have signed up to participate in the 1979 farm program that small grain crops on set-aside acreages should be disposed of as soon as possible. Producers are also reminded that no crop can be harvested from set-aside acreage during 1979 or the farm will be ineligible for program benefits. Small grain crops on set-aside acreage must be clipped or plowed in a stubble mulch manner to avoid erosion.

Non-grazing dates on set-aside are May 1, 1979 to November 1, 1979.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

Most persons are careful in choosing associations of importance.

They may choose a doctor for life. They pick an attorney whose record they know. But most people stumble into a banking relationship.

Here at the bank, we believe you have the right to expect certain things from your banker. He ought to have a professional approach. Professional in the sense your doctor is professional because he has your interest foremost. He ought to be prompt. Your time is valuable, and your banker should respect it. And of course he should be a person of integrity. If he is not, you won't have to inquire of many persons before you find it out. Those things are not easily hidden.

We like close relationships with our clients and hope you do, too. We invite you to ask your friends and neighbors about our officers. When our clients tell you their banker is professional, prompt, and has integrity... You Can BANK On It!

4,456,137 Barrels of Oil Produced in County in '78

Cooke County, which has had recorded production since 1926, last year produced 4,456,137 barrels of crude oil at the rate of 12,209 barrels per day. Production in 1978 boosted Cooke County's production total through the end of the year to 315,656,657 barrels.

In 1978, 24 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil, a decrease of two counties from 1977; a decrease of three from 1976, and six from 1975.

The following chart shows 1978 production figures for the state's five top producing counties, all with production in excess of 47-million barrels. Yoakum retained its spot as the state's top producing county, while Gaines, moving from fourth to second, exchanged places with Scurry County. Ector remained in third place and Hockley in fifth place for the fourth consecutive year.

Yoakum 71,164,311 bbl.
Gaines 60,706,710 bbl.
Ector 59,227,760 bbl.
Scurry 58,074,266 bbl.
Hockley 47,426,886 bbl.

In addition to the top five, nine other counties topped 20-million barrels of crude oil produced last year. They included the following:
Greg 45,957,297 bbl.
Pecos 45,777,071 bbl.
Andrews 44,226,614 bbl.
Refugio 34,788,199 bbl.

Brazoria 29,290,811 bbl.
Harris 24,217,109 bbl.
Montgomery 22,076,016 bbl.
Greg County, the first Texas county to produce more than two-billion barrels of crude oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative total through 1978 of 2,642,750,960 barrels. Ector County, through the end of last year, had produced 2,195,128,255 barrels.

Other counties with cumulative production in excess of one-billion barrels include the following nine:

Distinguished Golfers

Ray Voth is the newest member of Muenster's golfing elite. He ceded the 150 yard par 3 No. 16 at the Gainesville Municipal Course last Sunday. Believe it or not, he called the shot.

Some folks think they are busy when they are only confused.

Doris Felderhoff Is Head Coach at

Doris Felderhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felderhoff and former member of the MHS girls basketball team, has been named head coach of girls basketball at Clear Creek High School, a Class AAAA school of the Houston area.

She advances to the top job after a year as assistant coach during which the team attained a record of 34-5, including three tournament championships and the district championship.

Doris is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University with bachelor and master degrees. While there she played with the Ladyjacks and was captain in her senior year when the team won state championship and finished the season with a 28-6 record. She was named on the Kodak All-American team during the last two years.

Before going to S.F. Austin she was a member of the famous Flying Queen Bees basketball team of Wayland Baptist College. During her high school career at Muenster she made the all district team each year and the all state team in her senior year. She continued at S.F. Austin a year after graduation as assistant coach while working on her master degree.

Other honors received by Doris include a place on the Hanes Underalls All America Collegiate women's team; Who's Who among American college and university students; and the first female athlete to receive the coveted Ralph Todd Memorial Award at S.F. Austin.

Texas Ag Fact

There were 16.7 million broiler chicks hatched in Texas in February, a slight increase over last year, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

"Texas poultrymen also hatched some 2.1 million egg-type chicks during the month, which represents a 2 percent jump over 1978, and is up 2 percent from January," he said.

February egg production in Texas, at 204 million, topped February 1978, by 1 percent, but was 8 percent below the preceding month.

Librarian Attends 3-Day Workshop

Mary Moser, Librarian of Muenster Public Library attended a series of three workshops presented by the Northeast Texas Library System on May 1, May 8 and May 15 in Mineola. The workshops were conducted as all-day events, emphasizing basic library skills. Tish Kralisz of the Northeast Texas Library System staff served as chairman and librarians from the larger fifty-one libraries in the system, as well as Elizabeth Crabb, NETLS Coordinator, Kippy Jago, also from the NETLS staff (collection development department) and Ruth Nichols, NTSU staff member, presented the programs.

Subjects covered were political structure of the community, setting goals and objectives, fiscal responsibility, materials selection, acquisition and weeding, cataloging of materials, reference skills, management, personnel, public relations and programming. Workshop activities began at 9 a.m. and closed at 4:30 p.m. More than 40 librarians were registered for the institute.

"Friends of the Library" of Mineola served coffee, cookies and snacks during the morning and afternoon breaks. On the last Tuesday, librarians were guests at an elegant meal in the main dining room of the Wilson House—a large, several-storied brick hotel that is being restored. Its owners are antique collectors. Furniture and pieces of art displayed were from France, Belgium, Ireland and other countries.

Susan Smith, librarian of the Whitesboro Public Library also attended the Institute.

Douglas Gossetts Return from Trip to Padre Island

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Milton Gossett have returned from a wedding trip to South Padre Island, and are at home in Gainesville.

The bride is the former MaQuita Elaine Schmitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schmitz of Gainesville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Gossett of Rt. 2, Gainesville. Both the bride and groom are graduates of Lindsay High School. She attended Cooke County College School of Cosmetology and is employed at the Golden Hairpin as a hairdresser. He attended Cisco Junior College and is employed by Valenite Corporation.

They were married in St. Mary's Church of Gainesville on Saturday, May 12 at 5 p.m. Father Placidus Eckart officiated for the Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony.

In a setting of white gladioli, frost rose mums, small candelabra with votive candles, tall candelabra entwined with English Ivy between the votive lights and an altar rail decorated with English Ivy and arrangements of frost rose mums, the bride was presented at the altar by her father, and was wearing her mother's wedding dress.

The formal white lace and tulle-over-taffeta was designed with bodice and long tapering sleeves of lace, a portrait neckline in which delicate folds of tulle were placed, and a full skirt made of rows of tulle ruffles. The bridal veil was Cathedral length English silk illusion edged with scalloped venice lace, and attached to a caplet of matching scalloped lace and seed pearls.

For sentiment, she carried her late grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Mages's prayerbook, a birthstone rosary, the groom's grandmother, Mrs. T.A. Gossett's gold wedding band and a birthdate penny.

She carried her bridal bouquet in a cascade of frost rose and white roses, white feathered carnations and, bridal wreath, with accents of pearl inlays.

Attendants

Mrs. Pam Coker of Irving was matron of honor; Carmen Schmitz, the bride's sister and Melinda Bezner of Lindsay were bridesmaids, identically gowned in frost rose formals designed with scoop neckline, butterfly sleeves, waist gathers, cummerbund and accordion pleated skirts. They wore pearl necklaces and earrings, gifts from the bride, and they carried arm bouquets of frost rose colored roses and bridal wreath.

Tom Hoberer of Lindsay was best man. Jeff Dieter and Guy Spencer, both of Gainesville were groomsmen. Steve Schmitz, bride's brother, was ring bearer.

Malisa Pate and Suzanne Goldsmith were flower girls, identically dressed in gowns of frost rose satin

Summer Registration At CCC Starts May 29

Summer school at Cooke County College will officially get underway with registration for the first summer term Tuesday (May 29) on campus.

Students may enroll during either the morning or evening with times set for 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Two days of late registration have been set aside on Wednesday (May 30) and Thursday (May 31).

Late registration, which carries a fee of $5, will be conducted from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and from 5 to 6:30 p.m. on both days.

Classes for the first summer term at CCC will officially begin on Wednesday (May 30). The term ends July 6.

According to registrar Eddie Hadlock, time permits for registration are not given out for summer classes, and enrollment will be conducted on a first-come-first-served basis.

"However, students must still make arrangements to see a counselor prior to registration," he stresses, "in order to complete their trial schedule forms. This form, signed by a counselor, must be presented in order to enter the registration area in the Activities Center."

Hadlock points out that new students, whether graduating high school seniors or college transfers, should make application for admission to CCC as soon as possible. Admission forms are available in the Registrar's Office on campus.

"The application form is the important thing right now," he says. "Other materials needed for enrollment, such as transcripts and immunization records, may be submitted after school starts as a convenience to students who are on a tight schedule."

Hadlock emphasizes, however, that all such materials must be on file in his office prior to the end of the first semester of enrollment.

"The whole point is," he says, "that any student who wants to attend classes at CCC this summer still has plenty of time to get enrolled."

CCC financial aid director Richard LaBarbera reports that all students expecting to receive an initial 1978-79 semester financial aid award for the first summer term should already have completed and processed application on file.

All other application, he says, will be processed as time permits after registration. Persons who submitted financial aid applications after May 1 should be prepared to pay cash at registration.

LaBarbera reports also that all veterans expecting to receive educational benefits must have their degree plan on file and the courses in which they plan to enroll approved by a counselor in advance of registration.

Class schedules for both the first and second summer terms at Cooke County College are available on campus. Persons wishing additional information may call the Registrar's Office at 668-7731, extension 42.

The second summer term at CCC will begin on July 9 and run through August 17.

One thing about the good old days — if you bought a horse you could be pretty sure that the model wouldn't change next year.

Ushers were John Schmitz, and Greg Gossett; Liturgical readers were Joe Schmitz, and John Gossett, all brothers of the couple. Jim Gossett presented the couple with their wedding candle. The bride's godparents, Mrs. Doug Reiter of Gainesville and Lee Roy Schmitz of Dallas presented Offertory gifts. Dave and Mark Reiter and Matt Pelzel, cousins of the bride were Mass servers.

Mrs. Patsy Henry, organist, accompanied vocalists Mrs. Mary Ann Jarvis and Matt Dudenhoefter who sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "Annie's Song," "My Cup Runneth Over," and "Love." The bride's mother sang "On This Day" as her daughter placed flowers on the Blessed Virgin's Altar. And the bride presented long stem yellow roses to her mother before the ceremony and to her mother-in-law following the ceremony.

Family Gathers for First Communion

Paul Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Phillips of Dallas and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Al Yosten of Muenster, received his First Holy Communion Saturday at 9 a.m. in a special Mass at St. Monica's Church in Dallas. He was a member of a class of 150 First Communicants.

A dinner at his home followed the Church service. Also attending were Paul's parents and grandparents, and other relatives including Mr. and Mrs. Homer Savage of Garland, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Jezek of Celina, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Yosten and family of Euless and a neighbor, Anna Lee. Paul's brother, Kary helped host the party.

Saturday night and Sunday the Al Yostens visited their son and family, the Bobby Yostens in Euless; and the same group of relatives gathered again for a noon dinner in the Bobby Yosten home.

Reception

A dinner dance followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville. Mmes. Beverly Snuggs and Rita Orsburn, groom's sisters, registered guests at a table covered with a white lace cloth made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Schmitz.

The bride's table held a candelabra and mum arrangement and white baskets of silk frost rose flowers. The bride's cake on another table, covered and skirted to the floor with white net. The table holding the groom's cake was covered with a long white satin cloth. The gift table was covered with a frost rose satin cloth, with a bride doll centerpiece made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Al Horn of Muenster.

When the couple left for their wedding trip the bride was wearing a three piece beige suit.

Rehearsal Dinner

The rehearsal dinner was held in the home of the groom's parents on May 11. Decoration emphasized the couple's chosen colors and gifts were presented to members of the wedding party. A recipe shower on May 6 in the home of Mrs. Marcia Schmitz was co-hosted by Mmes. Schmitz, Ann Bauer, Sally Arendt, Marge Dulock and Oleta Schmitz. Guests included classmates and aunts of the bride.

ANCIENT HISTORY LESSON: The Apian Way in Italy was begun about 312 B. C. Parts of it are still in use today. It included "modern" features such as controlled access lanes, frontage roads, load limits, and speed limits. The Italians may have the oldest roads, but the U.S. has the most. We have 3.8 million miles, of which 1.8 million are paved. Comparisons? Well, the Soviet Union, for example, has only 860,000 miles of road, of which 167,000 are paved.

Texas Department of Agriculture
 Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner

Rising Farm Income Figures Don't Tell Complete Story

EVEN THOUGH NET FARM INCOME improved substantially last year, Texas still lost over 3,000 farms and ranches, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has noted.

"Current estimates place 1978 U. S. net farm income about $8 billion higher than the depressed levels of 1977, and prospects for 1979 are even better," Brown said. "But, obviously, these figures can be misleading."

"Any farm price increases are welcome, and much-deserved," he said. "But there is another side to the coin." Brown noted that steadily rising equipment and fuel costs, higher interest rates, farm debt levels, labor problems and price weaknesses in some commodities have taken much of the shine off of the farm picture.

"Because of the cost, price squeeze and other factors, several thousand farms and ranches went out of business in Texas alone last year," he said. "Over three million farms have been lost nationwide since World War II, and this trend shows few signs of leveling off. There's no question that the continuing decline in family farms -- which most of these are -- is bad for the country. "The trend today is toward fewer, but larger farms," he said. "Let us not forget that the family-owned and operated farm has made the American agriculture industry what it is today. The family farm, when well-managed and adequately financed, has proven to be the most efficient method of producing food and fiber."

"I believe that our farmland and water resources are best taken care of by the people who depend on them for their livelihoods," he remarked. "It has been said that the best fertilizer one can put on farmland is the footprint of its owner, and I've seen plenty of evidence that this is true."

GROUND - BREAKING CEREMONIES were held in Austin recently by the Texas Department of Agriculture for a modern, new weights and measures testing laboratory.

The laboratory is not being constructed by the Department, but will be leased after completion. It will replace existing facilities.

The lab will act as base for the Department's extensive metrology activities, and will house the state's official standards of length, mass and volume. Completion is scheduled for August of this year.

55 M.P.H. Saves Lives And Fuel

A law that saves lives is a good one, most people would agree. The 55 mph speed limit law, however, has become one of the most controversial pieces of legislation passed by Congress in recent years. Presently, there is discussion in several states about abolishing the 55 mph speed limit; at the same time, arguments for maintaining the law are very strong. It saves fuel and even more important -- it saves lives.

Passed by Congress in 1974 as a temporary fuel conservation measure, during the Arab oil embargo, the 55 mph speed limit was made permanent in January, 1975. As a result of the legislation, the Federal Highway Administration estimates motor fuel savings at 3.6 billion gallons per year.

More significant, however, is that traffic fatalities dropped the first year after the law was enacted. Fatalities fell from 54,052 in 1973 to 45,196 in 1974. That saving of approximately 9,000 lives was maintained each subsequent year until 1977, when fatalities rose to 47,671, an increase of 2,148 over 1976, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. Traffic deaths are slowly rising but people are still driving at lower speeds than they did before the 55 mph maximum was imposed.

According to the National Safety Council (NSC), in 1973 the number of vehicles exceeding 65 mph was 31 percent. This figure was down to six percent in 1974 and 1975. "The motorist who drove 70 or 75 mph when speed limits were 55 mph may be traveling at 60 mph now. He is exceeding the speed limit as he was before -- but he has cut his speed 10 or 15 mph," says an NSC spokesman, "and that reduces accidents and saves lives."

To conserve gasoline, the 55 mph speed limit was selected by the federal government as the median energy efficient speed based upon its studies of wind resistance and engine efficiency factors. Studies by the Auto Information Council say there is a loss of one mile to the gallon for every increase of five mph over 50. Additional tests conducted by the Federal Highway Administration indicate that requiring vehicles to run at highway speeds under 50 mph would probably waste fuel because of gear ratios, timing settings and other mechanical factors. There are several sound safety reasons for support of the 55 mph speed limit, says Allstate Insurance Company. A driver has more room to compensate for errors at lower speeds. Higher speeds magnify the impairment effects of alcohol and fatigue, faults in tires and headlights, and the inadequacies in road design or driver behavior. The number of drivers who can maintain vehicle control decreases rapidly at speeds higher than 55 mph.

Allstate also points out that at speeds above 55 mph, stopping distance lengthsens dramatically. The probability of surviving a crash decreases as the vehicle speed increases. Friction, tire and parts wear, and nervous tension also increase with speed.

In addition to the life-saving benefit of the 55 mph speed limit, fuel conservation remains an important consideration. The U.S. is increasingly dependent on foreign oil supplies. Long range projections show that if the present consumption rates continue, domestic and world sources will be unable to meet the U.S. demand for petroleum. Driving at 55 mph is one way to contain automobile demand for fuel.

State Oil Production in 78 Was Over 1 Billion Barrels

With another year of production at the maximum efficient recovery rate in nearly all the state's fields, Texas' crude oil output last year again topped one-billion barrels. This is a level that has been achieved annually since 1965, although a downward trend in production continued for the sixth consecutive year. If this trend persists throughout 1979, it is unlikely the billion-barrel figure will be achieved this year.

The output of the nation's No. 1 oil producing state in 1978 was almost 1.1-billion barrels, thus pushing the state's cumulative production since 1889 to more than 43.7-billion barrels. However, last year's output was more than 61-million barrels below 1977 production and nearly 224-million barrels less than the all-time peak production year of 1972.

The following table indicates the amount and percentage of decline in Texas crude oil production annually in recent years:

Year	Production(Bbl)	Loss (Prev. Yr., Bbl)	%
1978	1,066,966,263	-61,321,190	(-5.4%)
1977	1,128,287,453	-50,933,639	(-4.3%)
1976	1,179,221,092	-31,958,079	(-2.6%)
1975	1,211,179,171	-40,605,785	(-3.2%)
1974	1,251,784,956	-32,448,893	(-2.5%)
1973	1,284,233,849	-6,281,104	(-0.5%)
1972	1,290,514,953	---	---
(Total)		-223,548,690	(-17.3%)
(Average)		-37,258,115	(-2.9%)

H. B. (Hank) Harkins of Alice, president of the Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, notes that the decline in production in 1978 corresponds to a drop of almost 777,500,000 barrels in Texas' reserves of crude oil. The decline from approximately 8.5-billion barrels to some 7.7-billion barrels amounts to a 9.2-percent drop. But, Harkins sees a brighter future for the Texas petroleum industry despite the recent drop in production and reserves.

"The improved prices for both old and new oil that we can expect as a result of a phasing out of federal price controls will help to stimulate increased efforts to recover oil in Texas, particularly through secondary and tertiary recovery projects," Harkins says.

"However, if the federal government adopts a policy that would take half of the revenue that the oil companies might realize from decontrol, then future enhanced recovery projects, as well as increased exploratory and developmental drilling, could be severely curtailed," warns Harkins, an independent producer and drilling company executive.

City of Lindsay Gets Fire Truck

The City of Lindsay is the proud owner of a new fire truck delivered by the Texas Forest Service under its program of providing military excess property vehicles which have been re-fitted by the Forest Service.

This arrangement, which dates back to the early years of the century, originated as a service to assist small communities in controlling forest fires, and grew into the present program only in recent years. In 1973 the TFS acquired its first military surplus truck and installed such essentials as tank, pump, hose and emergency equipment.

This kind of unit, with a 300 gallon tank and costing $3,500, was delivered to Lindsay early this month. Tim Wimmer is the fire chief at Lindsay.

City Recommends Isolation of Pets In Rabies Alert

The City of Muenster this week makes a plea for cooperation in connection with a recent report on rabid animals. Hoping to reduce the number of false alarms it asks pet owners to keep their animals at home, in the yard or on a leash, until the end of the rabies scare.

The problem has been that people were cautious about strays they did not recognize and called on the city to come and do what's necessary. Lots of dogs have been checked out and a few have been isolated for observation.

City Manager Steve Mosier urges vaccinations as a first precaution. And he also urges keeping the animals at home to eliminate false alarms.

5 Wheat Varieties On Test at Lindsay

A Wheat Variety Test was established on the Zimmerer and Son land at Lindsay and Highway 82 in December of 1978.

The Wheat Plot has five new varieties, and they are Vona, Coker 6815, Payne, Maverick, and TexRed.

A soil test was made, and the plots have been fertilized accordingly. Considering the fall weather, extremely low temperature and late growth, all varieties look very good in the test.
