

People who ridiculed the Republican convention for its dullness apparently will get their fill of excitement when the Democratic convention settles down to blood and guts politicking. The view from two weeks away suggests that the lopsided lead built up by Carter in the primaries is less than an assurance that he has the nomination in the bag. The embarrassing behavior of the President in relation to the behavior of his maverick brother, Billy, has the party in a frenzied scramble to restore an image of integrity before the campaign gets under way.

This predicament has the looks of ironic justice. The vengeful holier-than-thous who were so eager to point the accusing finger at Nixon are finding themselves on the defensive. And it seems their man is no less at fault. In fact, he may even be more at fault. It's a matter of comparing hanky panky relations with a foreign government and the Watergate burglary to filch the other party's political secrets. As regards Nixon and Carter personally, this has developed into about equal guilt. Both have tried to cover up, as politicians have done successfully so many times before. Well, Nixon failed and had to resign in disgrace. And now Carter may be in the awkward position of being deprived of office.

Disclosures already made along with plummeting ratings in the opinion polls have marked the President as a poor prospect in the November election. Party faithful are wondering whether to dump him at the convention or face a strong possibility that the voters will dump him later.

So, now the pre-convention speculation is on how many delegates will stand by their primary commitments to Carter. Kennedy is specially involved, hoping that delegate loyalty will not be required and defectors will swing to his side. However, he too has problems, one dating back to Chappaquiddick. The convention may decide that his old tarnish is as bad as Carter's new tarnish, and abandon both of them. Mondale and Muskie are mentioned as prime prospects if Carter and Kennedy are rejected.

Commentators have enjoyed a field day airing and speculating on the final events of the GOP Convention. There can be no doubt that it was a disappointment to the country's conservatives who waited so long to find their favorite leading the ticket and their policies featuring the platform, but their favorite rejected for the vice-presidential nomination.

They must have been irritated early in the convention when the media people referred to the similar situation when Goldwater conservatives ruled the convention but made their big mistake in refusing to count liberals into the campaign. Frequent reminders implied that a similar choice this time would likely bring on a result similar to that of 1964. The same theme predominated throughout the convention. Kemp was acknowledged as the conservative choice but persistent comment emphasized preference for a moderate for party harmony and greater voter appeal. Needless to say, the propaganda pressure on the convention and the nation was directed also to Reagan. Besides, immense political pressure was applied on Reagan.

To that extent the Republican convention was disappointing. Conservatism, which made a comeback after being snubbed many years by the party, deserved its full representation in this year's campaign. Liberals, who have run the show these

Senate Approves Relief On Windfall Tax

The Senate late Wednesday approved legislation cosponsored by Senator Lloyd Bentsen that will provide some relief to small royalty owners hit hard by the so-called "windfall profit" tax.

Bentsen, who recently presided over a hearing in Austin attended by 3,500 Texas royalty owners who protested the tax, said the Senate-approved bill "is a step in the right direction, offering limited relief to royalty owners." The amendment to the Crude Oil Windfall Profit Tax Act of 1980 permits royalty owners, when they file their annual income tax returns, to apply for a "windfall profit" tax refund of up to $1,000.

"The relief in this amendment will be especially welcome to smaller royalty owners, those who can least afford the reductions in their income caused by imposition of the so-called 'windfall profit' tax, which is in reality an excise tax on oil production," Bentsen said following the Senate action.

The "windfall" tax amendment was included in a bill which makes several changes in the U.S. Tax Code. The bill was approved by voice vote by the Senate on July 23.

Additional eye appeal for Muenster has just been added by a pair of handsome murals on the walls of Muenster Milling Co. Both scenes were painted by Frederick I. Lovret of Gainesville. Featured are two animals, representing the Mill's A-1 customers, a Holstein and a Hereford, for equal appeal to dairy and beef farmers. The Holstein is on the 20 x 40 front wall; the Hereford on the 8 x 60 warehouse wall at the loading dock. Background for the mural was improved by an over-all paint job. Staff Photo.

SCS Appoints Conservationist

Gary Rainwater, now located at New Braunfels, is the new district conservationist in charge of the Soil Conservation Service office in Muenster. His appointment becomes effective on August 25.

A technician of SCS for almost six years, he has been at New Braunfels for 4½ years. He is a native of Ballinger, a graduate of Southwest Texas State University of San Marcos. He succeeds Ronnie Herring who was transferred recently to Weatherford.

Rainwater's wife, Teresa, is a native of Menard and is also a graduate of SW Texas State University. She has a BS degree in elementary education. They have two children a son 4, and a daughter 2. They were here Monday getting acquainted and inquiring about living quarters.

Mrs. Clinton Endres has the undivided attention of this group of kiddies at the vacation bible school.

Election on Lake Set August 16

Members of the Muenster Water Board in a special meeting Monday night ordered an election on Saturday, August 16, on a bond issue in the amount of $1,780,000 to finance its share of constructing a lake along with water treatment facilities and transmission lines to furnish water to the city.

The board also set Monday, August 11, as the date for a general meeting at which the project will be explained and questions can be answered. Details on the surface water system as well as problems related to the present well water system will be explained by the city engineer, Don Fleming, and the financing plan will be explained by a representative of the bonding company, Don Almon.

The meeting will be in the court room of the city hall and the election in the office of the city hall with John Pagel as the presiding judge and Dorothy Hartman as the alternate presiding judge. Absentee ballots may be cast with the city secretary, Celine Dittfurth, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. starting Monday, Aug. 4.

It was pointed out that bonds to be authorized by the election will be sold as the funds are needed, thereby delaying payment of interest until the money is actually used. First bond sales would be used to fund the purchase of land and the next for construction of the lake. Sales to raise funds for the treatment plant and pumps and pipes can wait until the lake is finished.

The purpose of the election is to determine whether city residents are willing to take on the financial obligation of providing an assured water supply far into the future. The alternative is to continue with the present well system pumping from the Trinity formation. The problem with this source is its continuous drop of water level in the wells, along with other conditions that intensify the problem. The log of local wells show that the average decline of water level is more than 3 feet a year. One of the wells occasionally breaks suction now.

A more serious difficulty, according to geologists, is that the formation is also being tapped by many cities and towns to the south and east, and the formation's depth in those areas is hundreds of feet below the local level. The dropping level leaves no doubt that wells eventually will go dry, and the high level of the local formation indicates that wells here will be among the first to go out of water.

Actually the entire lake project depends upon one big question. Will the wells keep producing? If they do, Muenster does not need to take on the big debt. But if they fail the city could be in serious trouble. The purpose of this project is to be prepared when the crisis comes. While wondering how Muenster can afford the big expense, people have to wonder whether it can afford to risk not taking on the load. Figures revealed at the board meeting show that Muenster's total expense, as currently estimated, is $1,780,000. This includes $1,257,000 as its total share for construction of the reservoir and water treatment plant plus $523,000 for land purchase, administration, legal and engineering fees, etc.

However Soil Conservation Service will share in the project, adding its features of flood control and recreation. Like other detention dams of the area, this structure will impound excessive water in heavy rains and release it under control until the permanent pool level is reached. The permanent pool will contain 999 acre feet of water, from which the city is authorized to use 500 acre feet a year.

SCS estimates that its cost in providing the flood control is $1,592,380. Combining the city's share and the SCS share, the project total is estimated at $3,372,380.

Jaycee Visitation

The Muenster Jaycees will host a district visitation this Friday, August 1, at 7:00 p.m. in the pavilion of the city park.

The pool will be open for anyone interested and fried chicken and beer will be served. All Jaycees and their wives are urged to attend.

Water Level Drops Annually In Muenster Wells

The number 1 reason behind Muenster's interest in a proposed municipal lake is a decline averaging more than 3 feet per year in the water levels of its city wells.

At the request of the water board, Steve Moster has referred to the city water department's logs on well service and provided records of the rate of decline in each well. On that basis he projects estimates of the expected levels 20 years from now. At this time the level is some 60 feet lower than it was in 1960 and the projection shows that it can be expected to drop 60 feet more by the year 2000.

At Well No. 1, depth 605 feet, the level dropped from 272 below surface in 1960 to 333 in 1980 and is projected to 393 in 2000.

Well No. 3, 672 feet deep, dropped from 325 to 382 feet in the past 20 years and is projected to drop to 439 the next 20 years.

Well No. 4, 683 feet deep, dropped from 220 feet to 311 in 20 years and is projected to drop to 400 the next 20 years.

Also Well No. 5, 655 feet deep, dropped from 338 to 380 since 1967 and is expected to drop to 540 the next 20 years.

However those figures do not tell all of the story.

While water is less available, the use of it continues to increase. For instance, consumption was 11 million gallons in June of 1979 and 16.5 million in June 1980. At the same time production of wells is declining because of the current high demand. Total output of the four wells, rated at 620,000 during the winter, is down to about 500,000 during the current heat wave.

The vital problem, however, is that while the

Public School Students Will Enroll August 20

Students of Muenster Public School still have almost three weeks of vacation ahead of them, after which they will report on Wednesday, August 20, for registration and on Monday, the 25th, for first classes.

Faculty members, however, have less free time remaining. They will spend the previous week at five in-service duty days to get themselves organized for the year.

Superintendent Charles Coffey announced the opening this week along with the year's total of 175 teaching days in six periods.

The first six weeks includes Labor Day as a holiday and 29 class days ending on Oct. 3.

The next six weeks ends on November 14 after 29 class days and 1 in-service day.

The third six weeks includes 30 school days along with two holidays for Thanksgiving, two weeks for Christmas and one in-service day.

The fourth six weeks, starting February 20, also starts the second term. The six weeks has 29 days. The fifth six weeks, with 30 class days, begins on April 5.

The last six weeks includes 28 school days, an in-service day and the Easter recess. If days were lost because of bad weather the make up dates will be taken from graduation on May 22.

Hearing on Feed Problems Scheduled For Stockmen

Drought relief for Cooke County farmers, ranchers and dairymen is the goal of a special meeting to be held at Cooke County College next Thursday, August 7, 10 a.m.

The gathering concerns the request made Monday by Governor Clements to the Small Business Administration to have 49 Texas counties, including Cooke County, declared as disaster areas. SBA can make long term low interest loans available in counties affected by the drought.

As announced Tuesday the purpose of the meeting is to

CCC Announces Scheduling Changes For Fall Term

In the face of mounting fuel costs, Cooke County College has announced a major overhaul of class scheduling aimed at giving students "more education per gallon".

The revised schedule will go into effect with the beginning of the 1980 fall term.

Basically, the new schedule provides for classes arranged on either a Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday basis, eliminating the traditional Monday-Wednesday-Friday (MWF) schedule and allowing students to get in all their classes within a maximum of four days. Students taking light course loads of no more than nine hours, in fact, conceivably could work out a schedule requiring them to come to class no more than two days per week.

Despite the elimination of MWF classes, CCC classrooms will by no means be idle on Fridays, college officials stress.

An extensive array of classes meeting only on Friday are being scheduled to meet specialized student needs. For the most part, these classes would meet on an extended time basis similar to that of once-a-week classes currently being offered at night.

In addition, Fridays will be utilized for offering certain courses on an "accelerated" basis.

Accelerated courses, begun at CCC during the past spring semester, enable students to attend longer class sessions which meet daily, thereby making it possible to complete a regular 16-week semester's work in as little as one month.

The accelerated course program is designed primarily for students who want or need to take only one or two courses but who don't want to tie themselves down for an entire long semester to earn only three to six hours of credit.

"We feel that the new schedule, featuring regular classes Monday through Thursday and specialized classes on Fridays, will also offer students a much wider flexibility than is presently available to them," says CCC president Dr. Alton Laird.

This illustrates, he adds that although the college's primary purpose in revising the schedule was to give students relief in regard to

Cattle Truck Spills Cargo

A truck and trailer load of cattle turned over in the median in front of the Muenster Livestock Auction barn last Thursday July 24, but neither driver nor cargo sustained any injuries.

According to DPS Officer Dudley Ivie, a pickup towing a horse trailer was traveling westbound and slowed down to enter the crossover in front of the sale barn. The semi, traveling at about 50 mph was behind the pickup.

As the pickup slowed, it made a left turn signal but there were no lights on the trailer for the driver of the semi to see. As a result of the semi swerving to miss the pickup, the semi ran up on the median and rolled over on its right side.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $35,000.

ECONOMIC DECAY
 When the political fiber of a nation decays it will not be long until economic decay will set in. This is because freedom is a total concept. For man to be truly free he must have economic freedom as well as political freedom. The two freedoms are like the two sides of a coin; one cannot coexist without the other.

Although political decay has reached an advanced state in America, economic decay has gone much further. The signs are all about us, and unless we reverse the trends, very hard times indeed are ahead of us. In his recent book, A Time For Truth, former Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon discusses the outlook.

"I genuinely do not know whether we will or will not ultimately survive the desperate damage our government has done to our economy. The potential power of the economy is immense, and its regenerative power in freedom is incalculably great. I am prepared to say, however, that a financial collapse is not only possible but probable unless we reverse almost a half century of irrational and unrealistic policies. And I am also certain that should such a collapse occur, we will simultaneously turn to economic dictatorship. Many, perhaps most, of our citizens have been trained by now to see the state as economically omniscient and omnipotent and to blame all economic evils on 'business.' Should a great economic disaster come, such people will demand a takeover of the major means of production by the state. Given our immense number of legal precedents for intervention and an ideology which morally justifies it, it would not take much to accomplish such a transition. It would be legal. And just as in Britain, it would occur simultaneously with a thunderous proclamation from the left that we were still a 'free' society."

All right; what are the signs of economic decay? Exploding rates of taxation; an escalating general price level; decreasing rates of productivity; low, stagnant or actually decreasing annual Gross National Product.

What are the causes of such economic decay? Exploding growth in government programs requiring huge increases in government spending; "printing press money" issued by the government to cover the costs of programs not met by taxes; obsolete plant and equipment brought about by unrealistic depreciation allowances for businesses in the light of current excessive rates of inflation; and over-regulation of business and industry.

As a consequence, many products can be imported and sold for less than we can produce them at home; such imports are often of higher quality than U. S.-manufactured goods; business flees overseas to escape the unrealistic regulations, labor problems, and increases in production costs and taxes.

In the words of economist Henry Hazlitt: "What is threatened, in fact, is no less than our present civilization itself, for it is capitalism that has made possible the enormous advances not only in providing the necessities and amenities of life, but in science, technology, and knowledge of all kinds, upon which that civilization rests."

The hour is late — and the future of America depends on what you do about the moral, political and economic decay which exists in our beloved land!

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTIN — The political stars fell on Texas last week. President Jimmy Carter attended two Dallas fundraisers and Republican presidential ticket team Ronald Reagan and George Bush stopped in Houston on their way home from the Detroit convention.

In Dallas, Carter asked U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen what he could do for Texas (a new anecdote goes) and Bentsen replied all Texas needed was rain to end the drought. Carter reportedly lifted his arms to the sky in silent plea. When rain drops fell on Dallas shortly afterwards, the President was heralded as a rainmaker.

Carter visited a drought-plagued farm with Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan, who is predicting that farmers here may lose up to $2 billion in crops and livestock losses. Reagan is expected to seek federal funds for Texas farmers suffering losses.

Windfall Burden

Over 4,000 angry Texas royalty owners appeared at Sen. Bentsen's hearing in Austin on the windfall profits tax... and they want the law changed.

The new tax causes some royalty owners to suffer 25 to 30 percent cuts in royalty income. The panel presented a survey showing most royalty owners receive modest amounts of income from their leases, and Bentsen commented the tax hits hardest on the elderly royalty owners.

Bentsen has reintroduced a bill to exempt royalty owners from the tax and to exempt the first 1,000 barrels per day of production from small independent producers.

Advice to Carter

Besides taking the royalty owners' message back to Washington, Bentsen last week also released some advice for Carter: enact a tax cut before 1981.

"It's important to have a tax cut before 1981 to increase productivity," he said.

Bentsen also said the President's re-election campaign is dragging and the administration should make a firm commitment before the election for a tax cut next year.

Auto Insurance Hike

Texas motorists may face an auto insurance premium increase as high as 28 percent in November, if last week's witnesses before the State Insurance Board get their wishes.

Spokesmen for the auto insurance industry said increases ranging from $56 to $81 per year were necessary to combat inflation.

Summer Camp Rule

A Houston federal court overturned a University Interscholastic League rule that prohibits high school athletes from attending summer sports camp without losing a year's eligibility. Officials from UIL argued the rule was to prevent some schools from sending its entire team to summer camp and to protect poor athletes from unfairness. The UIL will appeal.

Brilab Postponed Again

The Brilab trial of Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton and three others has been postponed again until Sept. 8, one week after the Labor Day deadline which Clayton had set for either being cleared or stepping down. Clayton said he expects to be cleared in a quick trial and still intends to seek an unprecedented fourth term as House Speaker.

Schooling Illegal Aliens

A federal judge has ruled that it is unconstitutional for Texas to deny a free public education to illegal alien children, but Texas Attorney General Mark White will appeal.

White is also considering a lawsuit against the federal government for failing to enforce immigration laws.

"Texas is being told to pay for the failures of the U.S. Justice Department. They're calling upon the taxpayers of this state to pay for undocumented workers' children who are unlawfully in the country," White told reporters.

U.S. District Judge Woodrow Sears ruled a 1975 Texas statute is unconstitutional because it denies a distinct group of children the fundamental right to an education.

BUSINESS VIEWPOINT

SHOULD CONGRESSMAN BE DOCKED FOR SHOWING UP OR STAYING AWAY?

It was in 1843 that Thomas Carlyle wrote, "A fair day's wages for a fair day's work: it is as just a demand as governed men ever made of governing. It is the everlasting right of man."

Thirteen years later, in 1856, the Congress turned that thought around passing one of the few laws which are applicable to that body. It docked Senators and Congressmen who failed to deliver a day's work for a day's wages.

An amendment to a bill raising congressional salaries, it reads, "The Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant at Arms of the House respectively shall deduct from the monthly payments of each member or delegate the amount of his salary for each day that he has been absent from the Senate or House respectively. . . . Illness of the legislator or a member of his family is an exception to the rule.

The law is still on the books but has been "forgotten". The Foundation for the Study of Presidential and Congressional Terms recently released information showing that no such deductions have been made in years and that a whopping $1,679,854 could have been withheld from the paychecks of Senators and Congressmen absent a day or more during the First Session of 95th Congress.

In 1914, the House decided it was too cumbersome to take attendance every day, and they have ignored the rule ever since. The Senate hasn't said much of anything. But then, the Congress has exempted itself from Social Security, OSHA, EEOC, etc.; so what's one more rule.

Come to think of it, this quote, attributed to another leader of that same mid-nineteenth century era goes, "No man's liberty or property is safe while the legislature is in session. . . ." The question may come down to this, should the Congress be docked for showing up or staying away!

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It is difficult to conceive of a situation when the U.S. could be served by a Democratic President and a Republican Vice President, but just such a possibility — albeit a slim one — exists during this election year.

Such a stunning scenario centers around the candidacy of independent presidential candidate John Anderson and whether or not he might be able to carry enough states to prevent a majority of electoral votes from going to either the Democratic or Republican candidate.

Should no one person win a majority of the electoral votes, the House of Representatives would be called upon by the Constitution to elect the president among the three highest electoral vote recipients in the general election. On the other side of the Hill, the Senate would then select the Vice President. Therefore, if one political party controlled the House and another party the Senate, we could wind up with a President and Vice President of different parties. Highly unlikely, but possible.

The constitution is rather hazy and does not spell out all of the actual procedures involved, but each state's delegation in the House is given one vote in such an election. No mention is made of what happens if a state's House delegation divides evenly. While unlikely in Texas' delegation, with 20 Democrats and four Republicans, there are eight states having an equal number of congressmen from each party.

In the case of tie votes within a state's House delegation, no one would receive that state's one vote until the tie was broken. This could prevent any candidate from receiving the necessary 26 votes for a majority in the House.

A number of unresolved matters would have to be decided by the House Rules Committee before the House would ever vote, including whether the election would be open to the press and the public or be conducted behind closed doors. The 1825 rules, the last time such a situation occurred, provided that the election was conducted in a closed session of Congress.

Decisions would also have to be made on: Whether Members would vote by secret ballot or have their votes made public; whether the vote of each state would be by secret ballot or be made public; and whether a plurality or a majority is required within a state caucus to determine that state's one vote. A majority is more than half, whereas a plurality simply means the vote would be determined by whoever receives the most votes, even if he received less than a majority.

In all likelihood, these speculations will remain just that — speculations, although interesting ones. Any such situation would rely on the success of an independent candidate and independents have rarely done well in our history.

The complicated electoral system has been questioned in the past, as many feel that the presidency should be by majority vote, period. If the presidential election should be left to the House this year, we would almost surely be forced to face this issue squarely, to prevent the possibility of a President of the United States being elected who was not the choice of the majority of the voters in this country.

Letter To The Editor

Elderly people express pleasure and happy surprise when visitors come as volunteers to ease their lives and help them to a happier outlook.

They need social clubs or church groups to help with card parties, smokers, checker tournaments, hobby groups or news discussion classes.

Many residents have had few or no visitors for months, even years. They feel forgotten and isolated. Will you help restore their faith in you and their confidence in themselves?

transportation costs, the new arrangement promises to be of benefit in other areas as well.

Among these also is that many working students will, in effect, have an extra full day available to them at the end of the week. A "three-day weekend" also will allow other students more time for non-school related activities and personal business.

CCC dean of instruction Whitten Williams points out that the flexibility of the new schedule in fact allows students a wide variety of options.

"For example," he explains, "a student could enroll in two or three classes meeting on either Monday-Wednesday (MW) or Tuesday-Thursday (TTH) and also sign up for one or two classes meeting on Friday only."

"This would enable the student to take a full course load and still require his or her attending class only three days per week."

Under the present scheduling arrangement featuring both MWF and TTH classes, few students enrolled in as many as four separate courses are able to work out a schedule which requires them to come to class fewer than five days per week.

Heat Drought Records Continue

The heat wave remains unbroken and the drought was only slightly broken last week, but new records are being made every day.

The unbroken succession of over-100 temperatures now has reached 38 days. Prior to this year's heat wave the longest streak of over-100 readings was 22 (in 1978) hence a new record has been set 16 times, and weather reporters predict that more can be expected.

Likewise the present record for the most days over 100 in all of the summers (44 in 1978) is rapidly being approached. Up to now these are 41 - the unbroken streak of 38 plus 3 early in June - and more are very likely with all of August still ahead.

The rainfall was a disappointing .26 inch, especially coming from such blustery weather. Muenster was definitely short changed, areas east and south receiving up to 1.5 inch. It was the first of the month and ups the year's total to a skimpy total of only 9.63, about half of normal for 7 months. The last previous rainfall was .07 on June 22.

The drought is also setting another kind of record. There are no dates of more than 1 inch rainfall since January 1. Best rains were 1.42 inch spread over 2 days in June, .90 over 2 days in May and more than 1 inch over 2 days in February.

Low and high temperatures of the past week were recorded as follows by Steve Moster. July 24, 75, and 100; July 25, 80 and 103; July 26, 75 and 105; July 27, 70 and 100; July 28, 74 and 103; July 29, 74 and 104; July 30, 74 and 105.

Dallas Paper Sings Praises of Muenster Sausage

The overall picture of Muenster and particularly the sausage tradition here were given favorable coverage in a recent issue of the Dallas Times-Herald.

Nanette DeCreny, a staff writer, described Muenster as a tightly-knit, family-oriented community, and went on to discuss in detail the tradition of sausage making at Fischer's, Hofbauer's and H&W Meat Co.

She commented that if an outsider stopped in Muenster it was either for one of the traffic lights or to stock up on German delicacies. These outsiders, she said, can keep three sausage makers in business in a town of only 2000 population.

Muenster's Germanfest was described as the best place to sample these foods and production of Muenster Cheese was cited as another one of this town's "claims to fame."

Trinity formation is yielding less at Muenster, the demands on it are increasing in cities south and east of here, and the formation in their areas is located some hundreds of feet lower than here. The inevitable conclusion is that as millions of gallons are taken from the enormous underground container, the emptiness, however small, will be at the top, where Muenster gets its water. If and when the Trinity fails, Muenster will be among the first areas to go dry.

A timely retirement plan for your old office typewriter

If it clatters, groans and threatens to quit, we'll retire it gracefully and give you at least $50 toward this new Smith-Corona Model 8000. Some people love cranky old typewriters. Maybe you do too, but there's a time to say, "enough."

So if your machine is groaning and your secretary is too, call (817-665-5594) for details. If your old typewriter works at all, we will start with a flat $50 offer. If it's rebuildable or repairable—we might do better. And that is a lot better than listening to that clicking and clanking and moaning and groaning, isn't it?

Herewith is a letter from Father A. John Williams of St. Joseph's Church, Podanur, India, who is well known in Muenster following previous visits with the J.M. Weinzapfels, who have been his benefactor for many years.

His 25 years as a priest has been a constant struggle in behalf of the poverty stricken people in his parish and diocese. His present mission, while on leave to the United States, is to raise a fund of $50,000 among friends of this country toward a goal of $63,000 for construction of a school for the 1400 children of his parish. At this time the children have to attend classes outside. He respectfully solicits the help of Muenster friends.

Though well known here, Father Williams presents a letter from his superior, Bishop Ambrose of Coimbatore, certifying his authorization to solicit funds for the school. The letter reads as follows.

To whom it May Concern: This is to certify that Rev. Fr. A. John Williams is a priest of this diocese and that he is now in the United States for a short visit.

He is now planning to build a high school in his parish. As a high school is a long felt need in this backward area, his plans have my blessing and approval. His appeals for funds to realize this project may therefore be favourably considered. (signed) M. Ambrose, Bishop of Coimbatore.

These are some of the 1400 children in Father William's parish in Podanur, India, who have their classes outside because the parish has no school. To remedy the situation Father Williams is currently on a fund raising mission, hoping to raise $50,000 toward the goal of $63,000 needed for his building project.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP TO BUILD A HIGH SCHOOL INST. JOSEPH'S PARISH PODANUR INDIA.

Dear Friends,
It is with feelings of hope and trust in your spirit of Christian Charity I wish to forward this humble appeal to you for favour of your sympathy and good-will.

About myself. Introducing myself as a missionary working in the Diocese of Coimbatore in India, I feel happy to inform you that since my ordination to priest-hood in the year 1947, I have been serving God and my Diocese in various capacities as assistant in the Cathedral church of Coimbatore, as manager of St. Michale's Orphanage as missionary ad Paganos involved in conversion movement of the poor downtrodden and untouchable people in three missions (Savadi-Kodumudi-Tiruppur) as the Rector of the Cathedral Church at Coimbatore and as administrator of the landed properties of the Diocese (in Sorapparai-Kerala State). Where ever I had been placed, I had tried to fulfill the will of God and the order of my Bishop by building new churches, establishing new schools, running orphanages and maintaining hospitals, in all my undertakings and New-projects I had relied on the cooperation of the local people, generosity of some Indian philanthropists and help of some foreign funding agencies. In the present parish of St. Joseph - Podanur I am running a hospital with 50 beds with the help of the Reverend Sisters of the Diocesan Congregation where poor patients are freely treated, old and disabled are cared for, and the medical needs of the poor are looked after. I have also a Parochial school staffed by the same Rev. Sisters for 1400 children studying up to 8th grade. Realising full well the poor and backward condition of the people of my parish my Bishop Most Rev. Dr. M. Ambrose D.D., D.C.L.; while granting me vacation holidays of four months in the United States of America has given me a special mandate with his letter of approval and recommendation to raise substantial financial aid from the generous and charitable people of U.S.A. to build a High school to accommodate 1400 students who are huddled up in a very small building originally built for only 100 students.

About the Parish. Podanur - the parish where I am at present working - is a little town situated about 8 Kilometers (5 miles) to the south of the industrial and metropolitan city of Coimbatore. This parish was started in the year 1900 with a flourishing community of Anglo Indians (a mixed race of Europeans and natives) who were employed as Engine Drivers, Station superintendents, Railway Guards, technicians and clerks in the Indian Railways. Most of the native Christians were converted from the down-trodden untouchable castes and were consigned to work as butlers, cooks gardeners and menials. In the year 1900 the French missionaries had built a small building and had started a school for the native Christian Children. With a view to upgrade the school they had also purchased a land to put up a bigger building to accommodate the ever increasing strength of the students. After the independence of my country most of the Anglo-Indians of my parish migrated to England and Australia and other Countries in search of better jobs and prospects. During the course of 80 years the Native Catholic community in Podanur increased to over 5000 souls necessitating bifurcation of the parish into two parishes. While 1500 souls were taken over by the Rev. Fathers of the Carmelite Order I was given charge over 3500 souls.

Present condition of the school. The school building which was originally intended to accommodate 100 children studying upto 5th Grade has to accommodate NOW 1400 children studying upto 8th Grade. Hence for want of space we have been constrained to conduct classes outside the building under shades of trees, under the porch of the church and in every available space within the church-yard and rectory. For the past five years I had been served with a SHOW CAUSE NOTICE by the Government demanding "Why the school should not be closed, recognition and Grant-in-aid withdrawn by the Government for want of proper accommodation to the students."

Though we had a land purchased by the French Missionaries for constructing a school building we could not encroach on that land which in course of time had been occupied by tenants. Under the present rules of the Government no tenant can be evicted from the land which is supposed to be under his cultivation. Hence my predecessors could not recover the land and do the needful to extend the school building.

As my school was under the threat of closure by the Government I recovered the land by paying a compensation of Rs 10,000/- (equivalent to $ 1250/00) and have put up a notice board "SITE FOR SCHOOL" and thus assuring the Government that a building would be soon put up to satisfy the requirements of the Government.

Need for a Parochial school. Indeed there are two high schools within a distance of two mile from my church run by Non Christian Private agencies. As these schools are communal it is very hard to secure a place for any of our Catholic child. Even if by persuasion and recommendation catholic children are admitted in those schools their religious instruction and even their religious life are in jeopardy.

Moreover, since the Catholic parents are too poor to send their children to Catholic schools in Coimbatore 5 miles away by spending money on train fare and bus-fare for their children a Catholic High school to serve the educational needs of my poor down trodden people is a necessity. As per educational rules of my state a building with a school place of 12,600 sq-feet to accommodate 1400 students is absolutely necessary. Calculating an expenditure of Rs 40/- equivalent to $5/00 per sq-foot (which of course includes roofing, windows and doors) we need Rs 5,04,000/- equivalent to $ 63,000. I feel confident that I will be able to raise 1,00,000 Rupees equivalent to $ 13,000/00 in my country by conducting benefit performances, raffles, and advertising the names of donors in our school souvenir.

If I can put up the necessary building then it will be easy for me to arrange library and laboratory with local assistance and government grant. hence I hopefully look forward to you Dear friends to realise an amount of $ 50,000/00 to put up a High school building for the poor and down trodden people of my parish of Podanur.

I am herewith enclosing a copy of the letter of recommendation by my Bishop. Any little help towards this missionary effort will find a place not only in the hearts of my grateful people but also find a place in the Golden book in Heaven.

May God bless and abundantly reward you,
Ever gratefully yours in Christ,

What of Muenster with He interesting week's E previous business

What a difference! Here's an up-to-date aerial view of Muenster taken a few weeks ago by Arthur Endres, with Henry Weinzapfel assisting as pilot, for an interesting comparison with the 40-year-old photo in last week's Enterprise. It will be noted that most of the previously vacant areas are occupied by homes and business structures and most buildings are obscured by trees. Among more easily identified objects are the hospital and adjoining lake, the public school buildings and athletic field, Sacred Heart's Church, community center, high school, athletic field and cemetery, the Baptist church, the AMPI plant, two grain elevators and three feed plants. Conspicuous by their absence are the overpass, the railroad and the depot.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Herbie Walterscheid, Mrs. Johnny Reiter, Mrs. Jimmy Kupper, Mrs. Billie Bierschenk, Mrs. Danny Gilbreath and Carol Grewing. Cake and punch were served to 30 guests, who were registered by Kay Grewing, and wedding gifts were displayed.

New Homemakers Club To Be Organized Here

By Evelyn Yeatts
Homemakers in the Muenster area will have the opportunity to join a new Extension Homemaker Club on Tuesday, August 5. An organizational meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. at the Texas Power and Light Meeting room in Muenster. This will provide a different meeting time opportunity since the Muenster Extension Homemaker Club meets in the afternoon and the Bluebonnet Club meets at night.

Extension Homemaker Clubs offer educational programs in all phases of home and family living. They also offer fellowship with other women of similar interests, plus providing opportunity for leadership development and personal growth.

Some of the club programs during the past year were: Managing Your Time, Cheese Please, Silk Flowers, Style and Design of Clothes, Let's Eat Seafood, Family First Aid and Physical Fitness.

Extension Homemaker Clubs are under the direction of the County Extension Service. Mrs. Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent will be meeting with the group on Tuesday.

Extension Homemaker Clubs are open to people of all ages, regardless of social, economic level, race, color, religion, or national origin.

If homemakers in the Muenster area have questions about the club, or if they are interested in a club but cannot attend, call Mrs. Yeatts at 665-1966. Homemakers may also contact Mrs. Sharon Walterscheid at 759-4229. Mrs. Walterscheid is currently serving as President of the Bluebonnet Club.

Time To Spray For Grub Worms

By Neil Tibbets

May or June beetles are emerging from the soil and starting to swarm late in the evening. Females are laying eggs and white grub worms that hatch will soon be feeding on roots of bermudagrass and St. Augustine grass in home lawns. Once grubs begin feeding, control measures should be taken, says Neil Tibbets, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Treatment time varies with the particular area of the state and ranges from early July in South Texas to Mid-August in the Panhandle. Homeowners in Cooke County should check for grubs from the present time through August 15.

White grubs in excessive numbers can heavily damage lawns, notes Tibbets. Check for white grubs by cutting a square foot section of sod with a shovel and examining the roots and soil to depth of 4 inches. Examine at least one square foot of sod for 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Chemical treatment is needed if there are more than four grubs per square foot of sod.

Diazinon provides adequate control and should be used at recommended rates given on the chemical container label. The granular form is easier to apply and to wash into the soil than liquid or spray formulations. After using granules, drag the grass with a tow sack or water hose to knock them down to the soil. Then apply enough water to soak the granules into the soil.

Apply diazinon sprays at the rate of 25 gallons of water, including the insecticide, per 1,000 square feet to wash the insecticide into the soil. Wetting the lawn before spraying also helps. Always keep children and pets off the treated lawn until the grass is dry.

The key to white grub control in home lawns is proper timing of chemical applications and getting the insecticide through the grass to the root zone where grubs are feeding.

Further information is provided in the publication, "White Grubs in Texas Turfgrass," available at the county Extension office.

First Texas Savings Offers Alternate Mortgage Instrument

On August 4, First Texas Savings will offer one of the first alternate mortgage instruments in Texas. Called a Rollover Mortgage, this new loan is designed to make available more mortgage loan money for Texans and to make it possible for more people to qualify for loans. The Rollover Mortgage is essentially a home mortgage with a short term note and a long term amortization. Payments of principal and interest are amortized over a long term - for example, 30 years. However, the interest rate is set for only a 3 year term. The borrower is guaranteed refinancing for the remainder of the amortization period. In practice, the Rollover Mortgage works quite simply. The prospective homeowner borrows mortgage funds with payments figured over a 30 year period. He makes regular monthly payments for the first 35 months. At the end of 35th month, the balance of the mortgage becomes due in a "balloon" payment. The customer then has a choice of renewing the note or paying off the "balloon" balance. If he wishes to renew, he makes one more regular payment and then renews the remaining balance at the current interest rate which may be more, less, or the same as in the previous note. James O. Rivers, North Texas Region Manager of First Texas, explained the reasons for the new type loan. "Savings associations, in the past two years, have had to pay substantially more for deposits over shorter term periods because the public demanded rates and terms more in line with those for other investments. As a financial intermediary, we borrow the funds which we lend. So in order to pay higher savings rates over shorter periods and still have funds available for home loans, we must match our lending with our borrowing terms and rates more closely. The Rollover Mortgage will accomplish this. In fact, if funds for home financing are going to be available in the future, mortgage instruments like the Rollover are a real necessity." According to Rivers, the initial interest rate of the short term (currently 36 month) note will be a market rate determined by First Texas. Currently this rate is lower than the rate for comparable fixed rate mortgages. At renewal time, the short term note interest rate will be the lower of a FNMA (Federal National Mortgage Agency) index or the current First Texas market rate. The real advantage of the Rollover Mortgage is that it will make more funds available in Texas for home loans, thus alleviating one of the causes of the current real estate slump. Then too, the rate will be lower than the comparable fixed rate mortgage, qualifying more people for home ownership. For example, the current fixed term rate for an 80% loan is 11.78% plus 2 points or 12% plus 1 point. The August 4 Rollover Mortgage Rate will be 10 7/8% plus 4 points or 11% plus 3 points. For a $75,000 loan, these translate to principal and interest payments of $771.46 for the 12% fixed rate and $707.17 for 10 7/8% the Rollover Mortgage. The loan has other advantages, too. It is assumable at the short term rate, so a seller has a more attractive product to offer the prospective home buyer. Also, the mortgagee has more options than under a fixed rate instrument. He may renew and extend the note, pay off the note with no penalty, or sell the property with no interest adjustment for the note period. The only charges for the note renewal will be county filing fees and title insurance. These are estimated to be under $100. First Texas makes no additional charges. While mortgage interest rates have reached historic highs in the past year, they have also dropped. When rates drop, the borrower gains the advantage of the lower rate at renewal time. The Rollover Mortgage, or variations of it, has been common in other countries for years. It appears to be a very viable solution to the current housing doldrums in the U.S.

Watering Tips For Summer

By Neil Tibbets

Keeping the yard and garden in good shape during the hot summer weather while at the same time keeping the water bill in check can be a challenge for any homeowner. Using proper watering techniques helps though, says Neil Tibbets, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

While watering depends on many factors, such as weather, soil condition, plant type and rate of growth, and the method of application, the key is to get water to plant roots and to keep it there.

To begin, don't try to follow a set schedule for watering, such as every two days or three times a week. Instead, learn to recognize soil and plant conditions which indicate dryness and the need for water.

Also, when you do water, water thoroughly. Water until the ground is wet several inches deep. This promotes deep rooting and increases drought tolerance. Sprinkling the garden every evening is usually not adequate since most people don't have the patience to stand in one spot long enough to water for good penetration.

Generally, the best time to water is in the morning, Tibbets says. Watering in the afternoon under direct sunlight can cause leaf burn when the sun hits drops of water on new leaves. Late evening watering invites disease problems since most diseases develop rapidly in cool, moist conditions.

Keep water off plants which do not need watering at the time. Also, be careful with plants that are easily troubled by leaf diseases which spread on wet surfaces, such as crape myrtle and roses.

If runoff is a problem, use a mulch or manure or other organic matter such as peat moss into the soil. A mulch can also help hold moisture in the soil by reducing evaporation, and it makes weed pulling easier.

Tibbets advises watering immediately after applying inorganic fertilizer to soak it into the soil. Although fertilizer is good for plants, it can pull moisture from plant tissue and cause burn spots if left on leaves.

Rural Co-ops Convention

Leaders of 80 Texas rural electric systems which serve more than 770,000 farms, ranches, and other rural enterprises are rallied 'round a "Power for the People" banner in Houston Wednesday through Friday noon (July 30-August 1). The occasion is the 40th annual membership meeting of the Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives, which is headquartered in Austin.

Guest speaker at the opening general session Thursday morning was Texas' attorney general, Mark White. Dual certification of service areas by the Public Utility Commission of Texas were reviewed in detail at this session by the association's government relations staff.

Association officers reported during the Thursday afternoon session. They include Wilton J. Payne of Tahoka, president; Carl Morgan of Kirbyville, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Morriss of Austin, general manager.

The concluding session Friday morning calls for voting delegates' action on resolutions and election of directors -- four to serve on the seven-member statewide board and one on the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association board of directors.

My husband and I are planning to build a home and we would like to make use of ceiling fans as much as possible. How do you determine the size of ceiling fan blades as they relate to the square footage of area that the fan will service? L.T., Waco.

It is somewhat difficult to estimate the size of ceiling fan blades without square footage and the dimensions of individual rooms where the fans would be placed. The typical three of four bedroom home will require enough power (total capacity of all fans) to exhaust 10,000 CFM (cubic feet of air per minute). The fan blades for such a home could range in size from 36 inches to 42 inches.

In selecting ceiling fans choose the type with a 2-speed motor for added control and flexibility.

These are very general guidelines. Other factors governing the amenities such as the noise and comfort levels may also determine sizing. Also the entire house may not need to be cooled at once so that all fans may not necessarily operate at the same time.

I have heard a lot about ceiling fans as an effective means of cooling the house. How effective are they in reducing electricity consumption? R.O., San Antonio.

The use of a ceiling fan allows the occupants to raise the thermostat two to three degrees and still maintain the same level of comfort. Raising the thermostat two or three degrees can reduce cooling costs by five to ten percent (although you should consider the minimal additional cost of running the ceiling fan). But the real value of the ceiling fan lies in the fact that it enables you to postpone the cooling season for several weeks by using the fan in the interim.

With central air conditioning, can I block off unused rooms by closing the louvers and directing the cold air to my other rooms? G.C., Bastrop.

Contrary to what most people think, blocking off the

Motorcycle Accident Record High

More than five million motorcycles are now registered in the United States and each year more than 2 percent of these cycles are involved in crashes.

While the number of registered motorcycles increased less than one percent in the United States between 1976 and 1979, the number of accident fatalities on motorcycles increased 46 percent. It was during that same period that 28 states either did away with or seriously weakened their motorcycle helmet laws.

It is estimated that over 1000 American motorcyclists will die this year as a result of those law changes. Already the fatality rate of motorcycle riders involved in accidents is over seven times that of persons riding in automobiles.

According to Texas Department of Public Safety statistics, those between the ages of 19 and 24 have the highest injury and fatality rates on motorcycles.

In Texas during 1979 in the 19-24 age group: 3238 motorcycle operators were injured. Of those, 2019 were not wearing helmets. 550 motorcycle passengers were injured. Of those 446 were not wearing helmets.

114 motorcycle operators were killed, of those 82 were not wearing helmets.

24 motorcycle passengers were killed, of those 17 were not wearing helmets.

In Muenster last year there were three motorcycle accidents. In two of them there were injuries and helmets were worn in only two of the accidents.

Numbers such as these can only begin to tell the story here. Statistics cannot describe the anguish felt by family and friends in the event of a motorcycle injury or fatality. Not to mention the financial burden of medical treatment following the accident.

Although some organizations have fought hard for repeal of helmet laws, most motorcyclists were found in polls to favor helmet laws.

Contrary to the arguments by some riders that helmets impair vision, tests have shown that full-face helmets allow 180 degrees of side to side vision which is more than the vision required to drive a car.

When choosing a helmet, the buyer should make sure it has a Department of Transportation certification sticker. Still further protection can be added by using a pair of shatter-proof goggles to protect the eyes.

Bullock Says State Should Educate Illegal Alien Children

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said a federal judge's ruling that Texas public schools must educate the children of illegal aliens won't bankrupt the state.

Bullock said the state pays local school districts about $2.8 billion annually to supplement the cost of education.

There are about 2.6 million children attending Texas public schools and while nobody knows the exact number of school-aged illegal aliens it's probably not more than 20,000 to 50,000. That's somewhere between 1 to 2 percent, he said.

"Illegal aliens have been paying sales tax, motor vehicle tax and gasoline tax just like Texas residents. Some may treat them as second-class citizens, but they are first-class taxpayers," Bullock said.

"Frankly, it's time we quit worrying about where some kid was born and start worrying about what kind of education all our kids are getting," Bullock said.

Fifty Two Attend Family Reunion

New Arrivals!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Michaels are parents of their first child, a son, Christopher Daniel, born in Muenster Memorial Hospital on Wednesday, July 23, 1980 at 12:40 a.m. weighing 6 lb. 11 oz. He is a first grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Michaels of Bradford, Pennsylvania and the fourth grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Mase of Spring, Texas. The great-grandparents are Mrs. Walter Michaels of Bradford, Pa. and Mrs. Ernest Roehrich of Cincinnati, Ohio and Russell Mase of Canton, Ohio. Mrs. Robert M. Michaels is the former Sharon Mase.

Family Reunion

Children and grandchildren of Mrs. Alphon Walterscheid were together for a family reunion on Saturday July 19 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Walterscheid. Fifty two were present for the fish fry and covered dish supper, including Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Walterscheid and Scott, Dana and Gina of College Station, who vacationed with his mother July 19 to 23.

Also attending were John and Jeanette Reiter and family, Jim and Fran Voth and family, Giles and Marlene Walterscheid and family, James and Nita Fleitman and family, all of Muenster. Also Bonny and Florence Prescher and family of Justin, John Walterscheid and Amy of Gainesville, Melvin and Margie Voth and family of Lindsay, Lisa, Andy, Dan and Pat Bezner of Lindsay, Kerry and Connie Garner of Gainesville, Mrs. Alphon Walterscheid and Leon, and the Dave Walterscheid family.

The Wilmer Walterscheid family returned to College Station Wednesday.

Wright Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. David Fette and her sisters Amy and Molly Gosney and his brother Bernie Fette attended a weekend reunion of the Wright families held annually for the past 13 years in Menard and at a nearby ranch.

About 75 relatives representing five generations, began arriving Friday and a few remained through Monday. They enjoyed a phone call during the reunion from Col. and Mrs. Robert Gosney, on duty in Africa.

In addition to visiting and reminiscing there were games, a horse shoe tournament and a dance contest. Continuing a family tradition, awards were presented for a number of reasons. Also in keeping with tradition, the award plaques were made of inch thick cross-sections of a large log with names and legends of winners.

Awards were given for distance, competitive games, dancing, cooking, age, youth and various nostalgic awards.

The reunion dinner was held on Sunday and featured barbecued brisket, chicken, sausages and goat cooked over an open grill.

many years, were out of line in fenagling themselves into an undeserved share of the action.

The media's attitude was revealed by its obvious glee when Ford was announced as the VP selection, and almost equal glee when Bush was named. All of which seems to indicate that the Eastern Establishment has clout in the media as well as politics.

Regardless of how this affair looks from a conservative standpoint, one still wonders and hopes, on the basis that everything turns out for the best. Even though a special strategy is hardly needed to defeat the party which has loused up in so many ways, the harmony can pay dividends later. Perhaps this effort at party unity will help the next administration establish a more efficient operation.

Local Teams To Begin 1980 Grid Season

Sacred Heart's Tigers, following the calendar adopted by UIL, will start their football season on Monday, August 11, when the boys report for four days of conditioning in shorts before going into contact work on the 15th. To avoid the heat they will be on a 2-a-day schedule, early morning and evening until school starts.

As regards condition, most of the players have a head start, having been faithful to road work and weight room work outs on their own through most of the summer, according to Jon LeBrasseur, athletic director. They will be coached by Father Stephen Eckart and Virgil Henscheid.

After a week of practice in full gear the Tigers expect to hold their first scrimmage session on Friday, the 22nd, but the date still is not firm. Plans for the Two scrimmages will be told when they are definitely known.

Their Schedule:
 Sept 5, Petrolia, there
 Sept 12, Lindsay, here
 Sept 19, Valley View, here

Sept 26, F.W. Christian, here
 Oct 4, Alvord, there
 Oct 11, F.W. Country Day, there
 Oct 17, Abilene Christian, here

 Nov 1, Tyler Gorman, here

 Nov 15, Notre Dame, there

1980 football for the Muenster High Hornets is less than a week away. They will report next Wednesday evening at 6 to check out shorts and T-shirts, as allowed by UIL regulations, for a few days of conditioning before they settle down to real practice on Monday, the 11, the starting date designated by UIL.

Unofficially, most of the boys have been working at it for weeks, according to Coach Jerry Stinson. They have had lots of road work plus regular workouts in the field house. And some have kept themselves in good condition with farm work.

Stinson said that practice at the start will be determined by the heat wave. Instead of 2-a-day the boys will have a morning session of about three hours, while they can practice with more comfort and less chance of over heating. After four days in shorts they will put on the pads for contact practice on the 15th.

A week later, on the 22nd, they will have their first action, a scrimmage with Boyd, here, at 6 p.m. Next scrimmage will be at Southlake Carroll on the 29th.

Bob Lilly To Be Enshrined In Football Hall Of Fame

Bob Lilly, the pride of Throckmorton, Texas, All-American from TCU, known as "The Purple Cloud," who was the number one draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys in 1961, will be enshrined in the Football Hall of Fame this Saturday. Selected "Rookie of the Year" in the NFL in 1961, he was the instrumental element in the Dallas Doomsday Defense and the best defensive tackle in the National Football League. Quick, strong, durable, he was a destroyer on the field, a gentleman off the field. Lilly is the most decorated Dallas Cowboy of all time. He was selected "All Pro" 8 times, and 11 times for the "ProBowl." He also played 14 years without missing a game until his retirement in 1974 after 196 consecutive games.

Head Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, a great influence in Lilly's life, said, "A man like this comes along just once in a generation. There won't be another Bob Lilly in our time. He's something more than great. Nobody is better than Bob Lilly. He's a man who'll become a legend."

Over and above his football accomplishments, Bob is active in business in Waco where he lives with his family.

Alumni To Sponsor Golf Tourney August 23 and 24

The Sacred Heart Alumni will sponsor its 2nd annual 36 hole partnership scramble gold tournament on August 23 and 24.

Contestants are to sign up in the pro shop of the Gainesville Municipal Golf Course and play their qualifying round between August 18 and 23. The entry deadline is August 23. Entrants are urged to have a partner ready to play before they come to the tournament rather than wait until the last minute to choose one.

Green fees are included in the $36 per team entry fee. There will be four flights and prizes for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in each flight. There will also be 2 long drive holes and 2 nearest to the pin holes.

Golf balls and other merchandise are included in the prizes to be given away. Last year, more than $500 worth of prizes were given away.

The qualifying round which must be attested, will determine what flight the contestant plays in. The final round on August 24 will begin at 8:30 a.m.

Interested golfers can call Mark Hess at 817-759-4393 (Res. 817-759-4245) for more information.
