Bishop Delaney instructs 17 seniors, 'Go forth into new life!'

His Excellency Bishop Joseph P. Delaney was principal celebrant of the Mass on Friday, May 31, 1991, at 6 p.m. and Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, and Father Sebastian Beshoner, OSB, were concelebrants in Sacred Heart Church, preceding commencement exercises for 17 seniors.

Bishop Delaney delivered the homily and imparted the final blessing. In the graduation exercises, he awarded diplomas, assisted by Father Victor and Principal Jack Murdock.

In his homily, the Bishop paraphrased from lines of the First Reading, Ecclesiasticus third chapter; first to eleventh verses, and from the Gospel of St. Matthew fifth chapter, thirteenth to sixteenth verses. He told the seniors that there is a time set for everything. Now is the time for an end to these studies; a time to begin a new life. He offered his congratulations to the students and his thanks to the parents. He said, "A child is a treasure and a trust to whom you gave dedication and sacrifice."

From the Gospel, he quoted, "You are salt of the earth; you are light that shines, chosen by the Lord and filled with the light of the Holy Spirit; you are a sign of hope and joy for others. May you always know you are God's children. You are bound together in the body of God's church."

Participants in the Liturgy were Eucharistic Ministers Debbie Endres, Karen Endres, Leon Fuhrmann, Dale Hofbauer and Herbert Knabe. Mass servers were Brandon Bayer, Tommy Greathouse, Robin Hess, Jason Hofbauer and Michael Schilling. Song leaders were Patti Bayer, Christy Hesse, Emily Klement and Ruth Felderhoff.

The first Reading was by Kim Cler; the second Reading by J.J. Dowd.

General intercessions were by Dawn Knabe; and Offertory gifts were carried by Shawn Dangelmayr, Ryan Hess and Jon Schilling.

Mothers and fathers formed a Rose line, standing at the sides of center-aisle pews before Mass started, and as seniors passed, each was handed a red rose by the parent.

City Council welcomes chance of new industry

The Muenster City Council heard discussion on possible tax abatement and/or a utilities contract for a possible new industry in Muenster at the regular meeting Monday night. Chas Bayer, representing the Muenster Industrial Foundation, said the potential manufacturer deals with old tires and would use approximately 20 employees. He declined to release any more information at this time.

Mayor Ted Henscheid said they were certainly anxious to help attract industry and would await further news. No firm action was taken.

The City Park Board submitted recommendations to the council for approval, but not all were approved. Recommendations included: Raise daily admissions to the municipal swimming pool from $1.00 to $1.50. Raise pool rent for private parties from $20.00 to $25.00, plus pay hourly wage to all lifeguards. The council felt that these charges were too high even though in recent years the swimming pool always loses money. They felt the pool would lose more patrons if prices were higher and that the pool should be subsidized as a service to area citizens. Members of the park board had expressed frustration in the council not approving their recommendation, saying essentially, "Why ask us?" Council members expressed their need for input from the various boards, but said the boards were meant to be advisory in nature and the final decision must be by the council.

Daily pool admission will stay at $1.00 per person. Pool rent will be $25.00 with one lifeguard included.

The council did approve purchase of an umbrella for a lifeguard chair and approved park use for the Muenster Madness Bicycle Rally and Volunteer Fire Department Barbecue, pending the decision of who is the overall authority for that mutual park use.

Another park use item addressed was Germanfest. Administrator Joe Fenton said that the park was not completely cleaned and returned to proper condition after Germanfest by the Chamber of Commerce by the agreed-on deadline. The mayor said there are no exceptions to the rule. The policy will be enforced. The deposit will be forfeited.

Other council action and discussion included:

Traditional gathering set for Sunday, June 9

The annual benefit picnic, community dinner, bazaar and big auction traditionally held the Sunday preceding Father's Day in Sacred Heart Parish will be an event of June 9 at the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Following long-established schedules and features, the bountiful community dinner will begin at 11:30 a.m. Carry-out meals will be available at 11 a.m. The menu also is traditional plus a few variations. Included will be fried chicken, German sausage, new potatoes, spaghetti salad, squash casserole, pinto beans, relish plate, sauerkraut, assorted pies, iced tea and coffee.

Supplies still needed, as donations, says Virgilla Herr, are fresh garden squash, onions, eggs and 5 gallons milk. Pies and cakes are needed on Sunday.

Tommy Herr has suggested requests for table reservations for large family groups coming home for a reunion. He said reservations should be made for 11 a.m. sharp because it would not be feasible to hold reservations for an indefinite time. Dinner prices are $6.00 for adults and $3.00 for children under 12.

Barbecue sandwiches will be available after 2 p.m. and sausage sandwiches, hot dogs and nachos and pie will be available for supper.

Also opening at 11 a.m. will be the Country Store; the Sweet Shop; the Cake Walk; Arts and Crafts; chances on choice prizes; the main raffle; rifle raffle; quilt raffle; and the children's raffle.

A special feature of the Country Store is a section dedicated to the memory of Alvina Hellman. Her husband, Charlie Hellman, has donated her entire collection of Avon products, including collector's bottles, ladies', men's, children's products, and Avon jewelry and necklaces.

Children's games will be held under the pavilion throughout the afternoon.

The big Auction will begin at 6 p.m. Don Flusche will be auctioneer. Dale Schilling has submitted a partial list of items available at the auction, to give samples of the bargains available, as follows: cedar chest, fresh crappie, new riding lawn mower, baby calves, fed cattle, construction rods, round hay bales, square hay bales, new poker table, garbage disposal, dishwasher, handmade crochet pieces, bicycles, pickup bed mat, electric range, sewing machine, exerciser, AM/FM cassette radio, band saw, tools, wrenches, tool chest, and a great variety of additional items.

More information is available from chairmen of the various sections: Tom Herr, general co-chairman, 759-4146; Dale Schilling, auction chairman, 759-4995; Carrie Walterscheid, 759-4247, and Virgilla Herr, 759-4146, dinner co-chairmen; Jana Stoffels, 759-4895, Country Store chairman; Charlotte Klement, 759-4222, Sweet Shop chairman.

The pre-Father's Day picnic, bazaar, dinner and auction form one of the major fundraisers for the parish.

COOKE COUNTY EMS rescue workers, assisted by Muenster Volunteer Firemen, use a heavy-duty metal cutting shears to take the top off Rhonda Silmon's car to facilitate her exit. Paramedics feared she might have had a back injury and they wanted to remove all possible obstacles. Dave Fette Photo

Dog is responsible for accident

A 1987 Jeep Cherokee, driven by Rhonda Reiter Silmon of Muenster, was involved in a one-car accident Friday, May 31. Mrs. Silmon lost control of the vehicle when she swerved to miss a dog on Hwy. 82 east of Muenster.

The accident was investigated by DPS Trooper Michael Compton. Also responding were Cooke County EMS, the Muenster Police Dept., and Muenster Volunteer Fire Dept.

According to police reports, the vehicle swerved to the right side of the road, slid backwards and turned over in the bar ditch.

Silmon had possible back injuries, so the vehicle's top was cut off to remove her safely. She was transported to Muenster Memorial Hospital. The other occupant was Silmon's son, Nicholas, 8, who was uninjured.

Klement featured in national magazine

Owning a dealership that is approaching $100,000 in monthly body shop revenues has brought Karl Klement to the attention of Dealer World magazine. Klement was featured in the May 1991 issue of the national magazine and was also pictured on the front cover.

Karl Klement Ford Mercury in Decatur has recently built a 20,000 square foot body shop with 72 stalls. This expansion increased the size of the body shop ten-fold.

According to the magazine article Klement built the body shop last September to solve a debilitating space problem. The former body shop had only two technicians and 16 stalls and on any given day there were as many as 70 cars lined up waiting for service. The body shop is credited by Klement for keeping the business financially sound during the recession.

Klement opened his original dealership in 1983 and in 1988 built a new 35,000 square foot dealership next to it. That expansion included 16 more service bays in the service department and with that parts sales broke the $100,000 mark.

Advertising is something he definitely believes in. Their advertising budget for Fort Worth is $25,000 per month. "We probably have the lowest prices in the paper," he stated. "Once we get a customer up here we have a chance to keep him as a customer for life."

Trucks are provided to the Decatur rodeo and Fort Worth livestock shows. Klement considers this good exposure since 70 percent of his monthly new vehicle sales are F-Series trucks to cattle ranchers and farmers.

Although sales dropped to practically nothing when war was declared in the Persian Gulf, they are improving and Klement expects to achieve his goal of 200 units a month before the year's end.

Karl is the son of Martin and Edna Klement of Muenster. He graduated from Muenster Public School in 1972. Other business interests include cattle ranching and farming.

Good News!

He is a deliverer and savior, working signs and wonders in heaven and on earth, and he delivered Daniel from the lions' power.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
It will not be long before our State legislature is back in session. For the most part, they will be hoping their constituents are all on vacation while they find creative ways to cave-in to the special interests and despotic judges that are pressuring them to increase government spending and, albeit, taxes on the already over-taxed citizens of Texas.

How many more businesses do they want to see leave the State? How many more bank failures, small business bankruptcies, and stressed-out families who are pushed into impoverishment by more crippling taxes? How long do they think they can pile it on higher before the citizens of this great State will no longer tolerate it? Those of us in the private sector have to make do with what we have, why can't they? By they, I mean the special interests who keep clamoring for a free ride at the expense of the taxpayer and certain state and federal judges who think the constitution gives the right to enact law and revenue distribution (i.e. education funding controversy).

If the EPA can come in and shut down a community while hitting them with extravagant fines (paid for by the taxpayer) because they missed some obscure (and possible unnecessary) regulation, likewise the local school board can sue the State for allocating the local taxpayers' money in a way not authorized by the taxpayers. Instead school boards tend to cower and scramble to obey those for whom they have little, if any, accountability. Never mind us parents who pay the thousands each year in taxes for the intended benefit of our children's education! And, when those we elect into office do not have the courage and grit to stand up for our rights, then we, the taxpayers, must if we hope to stop this tax-and-spend, spend-and-tax spiral into which we are diving headlong with little end in sight!

The fact remains, if the federal government spends a tax dollar they spend almost $.75 doing so. If the State spends it, they spend approximately $.38 doing so. If the city or county spends that same tax dollar, the cost is less than $.08. Now, what sense does it make letting a state government that squanders, wastes and mismanages its own budget into the billions in deficits to tax us further when we can handle it very nicely on the local level? What's wrong with the State tightening their belt? If we can't afford it, they shouldn't have it, no matter how philosophically needful it seems.

I still say, "If they raise taxes, vote 'em out! If they lower taxes, slash spending, and balance the budget, keep 'em in!" You don't have to be a special interest to get your way. You just have to voice your opinion and enforce it at the ballot box! After all, there's more of us than there are of them.

Governor's award goes to 9 Texas cities

Dallas, Plano, Grand Prairie, Harlingen, Greenville, Burkburnett, Smithville, Huntington, Zavalla emerged as the top communities this year in reducing Texas' litter and solid waste handling problems, and are winners of the 1990-91 Governor's Community Achievement Awards, and annual awards program sponsored by Keep Texas Beautiful, Inc. (KTB) (the #1 statewide program in the nation) and the Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (TSDHPT). "These nine communities, which edged out 34 other finalists, are to be congratulated for having the very best behavior-based litter prevention and solid waste handling education programs in Texas for 1990-91," said Bill Yenne, Chairman of the Board of KTB.

During the first year (1985-86) that landscaping prizes were awarded, the Muenster community took first place and won $20,000. Recognition in Austin by Gov. Mark White at the "Keep Texas Beautiful" convention highlighted Muenster's achievements in this area.

Gary Fisher was the chairman of Operation Clean Sweep, the campaign that won the award.

Community achievements are judged in six different areas - public awareness that is targeted at changing attitudes and gaining public involvement (20 percent), educational programs taught in the schools (20 percent), stricter litter law enforcement (15 percent), implementation of recycling programs as a solution to solid waste issues (15 percent), how the program enhanced the overall quality of life in the community (10 percent), and finally, involvement of citizens in actual cleanup-related activities (20 percent).

source of pride in our communities and the quality of "hometown" living in Texas," said SueAnn Wade-Crouse, KTB president.

"This level of sustained commitment is helping to produce the cleanest, most beautiful state highway system in the nation. No other state is solving its litter problem as fast or as permanently as Texas," said Arnold W. Oliver, Engineer-Director, TSDHPT. "Clearly, our agency's partnership with Keep Texas Beautiful and its network of statewide community volunteers at the grassroots is working."

Era ISD trustees approve new high school plan

by Elaine Schad
Two additional classrooms are being added to a plan to build a new $1.2 million high school campus facility at Era ISD with bids expected to be let by the first part of August, officials said.

Era School Trustees have approved final plans for the project as presented by Architect Steve Hamilton of Bowie, the result of a bond issue approved in March.

The plans call for the construction of nine classrooms as a bid alternate to the seven originally proposed. The district is expected to stay within cost dictates of the bond by holding off on the completion of parking areas or other smaller projects which could be held until funds become available if necessary, said Era Superintendent Dale Smiley.

"Looking at our enrollment projections for next year, we're seeing that we'll only have a couple of vacant classrooms even with the new building," said Smiley. "We just didn't feel comfortable with that, and thought it would be short-sighted not to go ahead and build two more."

The district is expected to take possession of money this week from the bonds that have been sold. Specifications are expected to be ready by July 1, with the project to be let for bids at that time. The project is expected to be completed by the Fall of 1992, officials said.

The new 25,000 square-foot facility will be built on the existing football field. It will include seven regular classrooms, a new cafeteria, computer lab, one gymnasium, restrooms and a bookroom.

Sheriff Aston involved in two-vehicle accident

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County Sheriff John Aston said he's now sold on airbags after experiencing a close call in his patrol unit this week while he was en route to the scene of a shooting.

Aston was at home on Sunday when a call came about a disturbance in the Walnut Bend area in northeastern Cooke County. After authorizing the dispatch of units to the scene, Aston was pulling out of his driveway onto Farm-to-Market Road 2071 when his vehicle collided head-on with a grain truck, driven by an elderly man with a 5-year-old passenger.

Neither occupant of the grain truck was injured. Aston said that he was stiff and had some bumps and bruises, but credits the airbag installed in the unit for saving his life. "Had it not been for the airbag, I would have been seriously injured," he said. "I've always thought airbags were a good idea, but now I think everyone should have one."

The front end of the patrol unit was severely damaged and was towed to a local garage for a repair estimate, Aston said.

Seat belt prevents injury

Muenster Enterprise publisher David Fette credits his seat belt and God with saving him from serious injury during a head-on collision Tuesday in Gainesville. While turning left to enter a parking lot, Fette was delayed slightly by pedestrians in the lot. An oncoming Suburban struck Fette's small pickup just after a delivery van moved out of the lane. It had obstructed both drivers' views of each other.

Fette was uninjured except for seat belt bruises. His truck was a total loss. The driver of the Suburban was uninjured.

Thank You

More words can scarcely convey our gratitude to so many, who have helped us endure the sadness and pain of Kenny's death. We have drawn strength and healing from the prayers you offered so generously. We recognize the kindness and concern of relatives, neighbors and friends as God's love reaching out to us. It is not possible to thank everyone adequately, but we wish to thank the Don Abney family and all our brothers and sisters who have been always at our side throughout. In particular, we are grateful to Fr. Victor, Fr. Nicholas, Fr. Sebastian and Fr. Camillus; to the singers, Emily, Eric, Ruth, Pam and David; to the pallbearers; to the Boy Scouts, especially Waylen Poole and Ernie Martin; to the Catholic Daughters who prepared the family meal; and to McCoy Funeral Home. We offer our thanks to all who sent food, flowers, Mass offerings and donations to the Boy Scouts, cards, and showed their concern by offering love and support, and attended the funeral and said prayers for Kenny and for us.

Barbara Burks addresses discipline problem at Valley View ISD meeting

by Elaine Schad

A parent told Valley View trustees during the board's regular May meeting that she was concerned about what she felt was a growing lack of discipline and a decline of academic standards systemwide and presented a proposed discipline improvement plan for 1991-92.

Barbara Burks told school board members she felt recent acts of vandalism at the school and misbehavior within the classrooms, that she claimed goes unpunished, is leading to a decline of academic standards within the system. She proposed the district institute a defined and consistent reward and punishment system to help alleviate problems in the school.

The district has been hit in recent months with several incidents of vandalism where property was damaged, some of which authorities believe has been committed by students or former students, officials said.

"Thefts and vandalism have been occurring during school functions and at night," said Mrs. Burks. "Our kids see what is going on. They know, after watching and witnessing, that no suitable punishment will be handed out."

High School Principal Bennie West said the district has a discipline management plan in place, but individual circumstances sometimes dictate that students be treated differently. "I find it very difficult to always do something by the book with no respect to discipline because what works on one student may not work on another," he said.

Board President Cecil Neu said he feels that "12 to 15 students in the system are causing 90 percent of the problems." He felt the recent thefts were being committed by the same small group of students. He said the board will look into the problem.

"If we don't all do our part, we won't accomplish anything," said Neu. "I think part of it has to do with a need to put the moral and religious aspect back into our lives."

Mrs. Burks proposed the district devise a discipline program that is swift, equal and just. She said academic achievement can only be accomplished through self-discipline and high expectations on the part of the school system.

Respect for the system can only be brought about through a fair and just treatment of all students and by making a conscious effort to build honor and pride among students in the Valley View system, said Mrs. Burks.

She proposed to the board that academic achievement be rewarded by starting a walk of lights. She said a sidewalk could be started around the school compound with the names of students who have attained A's throughout the year written on the concrete slabs.

Cecil Neu is re-elected Era ISD president

by Elaine Schad

Cecil Neu was re-elected as the school board president during a reorganizational meeting of the Valley View Board of Trustees.

Jerry McKown is vice president and Ernie Brinkley will serve as board secretary. Newly-elected board members Neu and Grant Krahl took the oath of office. Neu was re-elected to the board, while Krahl is serving in his first term.

County Clerk's office is important

Researched by Ron Melugin

A true treasure house of Cooke County history has to be the county clerk's office in the courthouse. The very personal life experiences of birth, marriage, and death are recorded here. Life's successes and failures are also recorded here, respectively in the form of deeds to property and trustee sales as a result of foreclosure. More mundane affairs which the county clerk's office also records include stray livestock and time purchase agreements between creditor and debtor on personal items like appliances.

The soft-spoken gentleman who is the guardian of all of these documents and more is Cooke County Clerk Frank Scoggins. Of all the county elected officials, Scoggins has held the office the longest time. He was elected in 1970 to replace J.H. Riley who was retiring from this office. Frank Scoggins worked for a number of years for the U.S. Department of Agriculture prior to becoming county clerk. However, when he took public office, he only had to walk across the street to his new job since he had been an employee of Schad & Pulte.

A major responsibility of the county clerk is keeping minutes of the meetings of the county commissioners court, the governing body of Cooke County. Also, all of the proceedings of the county court, including criminal, civil and probate matters, are part of the archives of the county clerk's office. Not only are birth and death records maintained in this office, copies of these documents are also sent to the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Austin.

To facilitate the identification of stray cattle the county clerk maintains a registration book for all cattle brands used in Cooke County. These cattle brands have to be re-recorded every ten years, and a new registration period begins September 1. So, if you use the Bar M, the Circle M, the Double M, the Lazy M, the Rafter M, the Rocking M, the Rolling M, or the Running M, you need to visit the county clerk's office after that date.

Officers elected for Brazos Electric Cooperative Board recently

Three new officers were elected by the board of directors of Brazos Electric Cooperative at the organization's 50th annual meeting at the Waco Convention Center.

Sam Houston, general manager of Hill County Electric Cooperative in Itasca, was elected president of the board to succeed William G. Parker, general manager of Comanche County Electric Cooperative in Comanche. Parker chose not to seek re-election after 11 years as president of the board. Ron Golden, general manager of McLennan County Electric Cooperative in McGregor, was elected vice president to succeed Houston. Robert T. Lewis, Jr., a Gainesville rancher and president of Cooke County Electric Cooperative in Muenster, succeeds Joe Forman as secretary-treasurer. Forman, who retired as secretary-treasurer, was formerly general manager of Wise Electric Cooperative in Decatur.

Following the annual business meeting, service awards were presented to 57 Brazos Electric employees whose service totals 720 years. Richard E. McCaskill, executive vice president and general manager, made the presentations before a luncheon crowd of more than 375 people.

During the luncheon program, McCaskill also recapped some of the events of the 50-year history of the cooperative. Brazos Electric, organized in 1941 by eleven Central Texas electric cooperatives, was the first generation and transmission electric cooperative organized in Texas and today is the largest of the nine that exist. Today it provides wholesale electric power to 20 member cooperatives, six municipal electric systems and Texas A&M University. These customers serve 245,000 meters in 66 counties in central, north-central, and west Texas. Brazos Electric has facilities and personnel in Waco, Granbury, Weatherford, Palo Pinto, Ennis, Bowie, Belton and Hearne.

Kristi Pagel becomes bride of Jim Schneider

MRS. TIMOTHY WILLIAM SCHNEIDER
...nee Kristi Dell Pagel...

Kristi Dell Pagel became the bride of Timothy William Schneider on Saturday, June 1, 1991, in a Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony at 5 p.m., officiated by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, in Sacred Heart Church.

The bride is the daughter of Richard and Kay Pagel and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Pagel of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dolle of Littlefield, Texas.

The groom is the son of Edward and Virginia Schneider of Muenster and the grandson of the late William and Mary Schneider and the late Al and Catherine Walterscheid.

In a setting created by altar decorations of a pair of asymmetrical arrangements of bright Stargazer lilies surrounded by pink and white snapdragons, Fuji mums, pink carnations and daisies, with a pair of contemporary brass candelabra bedecked with flowers flanking the front altar, and family pews draped with daisies and pink miniature carnations tied naturally with soft white tulle, the bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding, she chose a designer Regency gown by Madeline Gardner in a full-length white satin sheath adorned with Alencon lace and myriad pearls and sequins. The dress featured a satin portrait neckline with a rosette-clustered back, and a satin peplum. The chapel-length train, with scalloped edge, was detachable.

The bride carried a bouquet of simple elegance, with a dozen fragrant white roses accented with variegated foliage and softened with plumosa fern. For sentiment, her mother's rosary was included.

Also for sentiment and for something borrowed, the bride wore sapphire and diamond earrings belonging to her paternal grandmother, Gertrude Pagel.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride as her maid of honor was her sister, Dolle Pagel of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Susan Cook, friend of the bride of Muenster, Wanda (Schneider) Cloud, groom's sister of Denton, and Melanie (Richey) Hesse, friend of the bride of Denton.

They were attired in gowns by Watters and Watters, designed as a two-piece cerise-colored suit with a full length silk de sheen skirt. The top featured a wrap around portrait neckline scattered with pearls. Multi-flora clutch bouquets of miniature carnations, marguerite daisies, snapdragons and splashes of purple statice were carried gracefully by the attendants.

Flower girls were Katy and Kristina Cloud, groom's nieces and daughters of Ricky and Wanda Cloud of Denton. They carried petite bouquets matching the bridesmaids.

All wedding and church flowers were designed and created by Lora Hennigan of Lora's Flowers and Gifts.

The ring bearer was Bret Walterscheid, groom's godchild and son of Kim and Lisa Walterscheid of Muenster. Trey McDonald, groom's nephew and son of James and Pam (Schneider) McDonald of Farmers Branch, carried the Unity Candle.

David Flusche Jr., a friend of the groom of Muenster, was best man. Groomsmen were Brian Herr, a friend of the groom of Muenster, Don Schneider, groom's brother of Rowlett, and John Schneider, groom's brother of Muenster.

Ushers were Michael Pagel, bride's cousin of Muenster, Ryan Klement, a friend of the couple of Denton, Dale Swirczynski, friend of the groom of Muenster, and Kim Walterscheid, groom's cousin of Muenster.

Mass servers were Aaron Klement, groom's nephew and son of Claude and Deb (Schneider) of Muenster, and Casey Walterscheid, groom's cousin and son of Terry and Dianne Walterscheid of Muenster.

Wedding music was presented by organists Ruth Felderhoff and Andrea Klement; by instrumentalists Denise Bayer and Diane Grewing, guitarists; and vocalists Christi Klement, Diane Grewing, Jim Endres, Melissa Bayer and Denise Bayer. Melissa Bayer played the flute.

Selections included "Because" by flute and organ; "The Rose" and "Wind Beneath My Wings," "To My Mother" by Diane Grewing and Mary Lou Fleitman; "We've Only Just Begun," Clarke's "Trumpet Voluntary" on the organ; "Greatest Gift," "Wedding Song" and "Only A Shadow;" "Analogy Between the Candle and Love" read by Jim Endres, for the lighting of the Unity Candle; "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman" and Purcell's "Trumpet Tune" on the organ.

Liturgical Readings were given by Karen Dangelmayr, a friend of the bride of Muenster, and Donna Ivers, bride's cousin of Fort Worth.

RECEPTION

A reception followed the ceremony in Sacred Heart Community Center, hosted by parents of the bride and groom. Dinner was catered by Ginny's Catering of Muenster. Guests were served a main course of chicken spaghetti, baked ham, green beans, salad and rolls. Drinks were served in the gazebo, and guests helped themselves to hors d'oeuvres. Small tables were set up around the gazebo.

After dinner, entertainment was provided by "Andy Serna and The Captive Hearts". Special entertainers were "Sweeter Than Honey," Jenny and Kelley Wimmer.

Guest book attendants were Terri Whitley, a friend of the bride of Muenster, Sylvia Herr, a friend of the couple of Muenster, and Theresa Ivers, bride's cousin of Fort Worth.

The bride's table was decorated with white lace over white, with cerise bows and a pair of silver candelabra holding spring bouquets.

Betty Rose Walterscheid made the contemporary wedding cake. It was a five-layer confection, each layer standing separately on graduated crystal pillars. The cake rested on a white, lace-skirted Hogarth-curved table. The four white layers of the cake were topped with fresh Stargazer lilies, alstromeria, pixie carnations and baby's breath. The fifth, or kepsake layer, was a fruit cake topped with a porcelain, or crystal, ornament. Fresh flowers and lighted votives decorated the base.

The groom's cake was a two-tier, diamond-shaped chocolate cake frosted in chocolate with whole pecans covering the sides. The top layer held an "S" monogram and the bottom layer was decorated with white chocolate curls.

Reception assistants were Ashley Klement, Jessica Pegg,

Jenni Lynn and Jonna Schneider, all nieces of the groom, and Dianne Pagel and Janet Ivers, cousins of the bride.

Decorations in the Community Center were designed by Bouquets and Gifts of Muenster, including varied shades of pink with spring colors. Tables were adorned with cerise ribbon, a bow and floral centerpiece and 10-inch candles on either side. A large white floral ball was suspended from the ceiling; also drifting were balloons and a myriad silver streamers. The back wall was decorated with an archway behind the main table, with English ivy and miniature white lights.

Following a wedding trip to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, the couple will reside in Denton.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Muenster High School and is currently attending the University of North Texas, majoring in Elementary Education. The groom is a 1982 graduate of Muenster High School and a 1988 graduate of DeVry Technical Institute. He is employed as a supervisor for United Parcel Service.

The rehearsal dinner was held on Friday, May 24, hosted by the groom's parents. A bridal shower on May 10 was given by bridesmaids Dolle Pagel, Susan Cook, Wanda Cloud and Melanie Hesse, and hosted by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome H. Pagel.

The bridal brunch on Sunday, May 26, was hosted by Della Hellman and Shirley Grewing at the Hellman residence. Attending were the bride's mother, the groom's mother, the bride's grandmother, the bridesmaids and friends of the bride's mother.

Tribute to Grandma

written by Nancy Endres Bezner on the 80th birthday of Dora Henscheid and read again at the Wake Service June 1, 1991

The world is full of many riches and treasures.
Looking around at all the things others have,
We might feel a little envious.
But there is no need -
For God has blessed us
With something better than material goods.
He has given us a big, warm family.
And at the heart of our family - Grandma!!

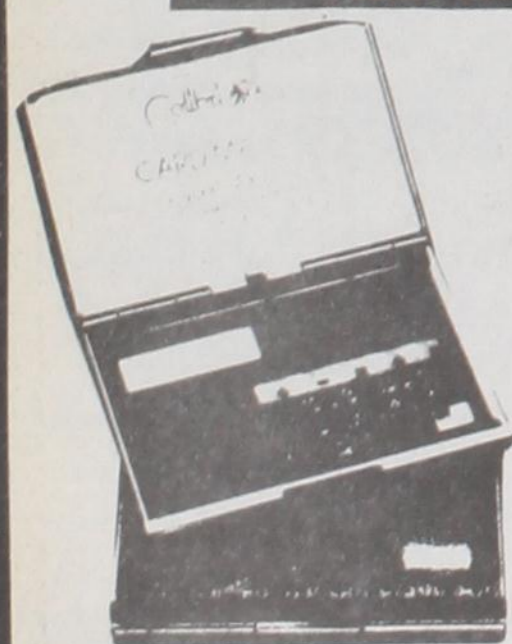

Grandma - loving, kind, thoughtful and generous.
Our pillar of strength.
If we had a problem, felt sad, or just Wanted someone to talk to -
She was there.
If we needed help sewing, cooking or cleaning -
She was there.
If we felt like laughing, talking about the olden Days, or just being with her -
She was there.
She was always there whenever we needed her.

Christmas was a favorite time with Grandma.
Every inch of her house was full.
Full of people, food, love, gifts and warmth.
Yet, there was always room for all of us.
Such was Grandma's heart.
Every inch was full.
Full of love, kindness and warmth.
And there was always room for all of us.

Yes, God has blessed us well.
We are so very fortunate.
For getting such a fantastic Grandma.
Always and forever, Grandma.
We love you!

The Executive Board of the Auxiliary to Home Hospice of Cooke County has elected officers and is planning projects for the fall season and beginning to solicit new memberships of $5.00. Also being planned for Home Hospice is a major fund-raising event of the year, the Light-Up-A-Life or "LUAL."

New Home Hospice Auxiliary officers are Jane Kilcrease, president; Mary Gill, vice president; Sharon McCormack, secretary; Angela Antonetti, treasurer; Una Holland, historian; and Virginia Melugin, staff support.

Auxiliary representatives are Kay Pagel of Muenster; Denise Martin of Valley View; Patsy Barthold of Era; Frances West of Callisburg; Sandra Young of Burns City and Mountain Springs; Josephine Berry of Rosston; and Carolyn Pierce of Lake Kiowa.

Home Hospice Auxiliary is composed of three levels of volunteer participation. All levels are part of the Auxiliary, but one

St. Richard's Villa News

Wednesday bingo players were Margaret Kupper, Mrs. Hermes, Julie Cunningham, Leona Eberhart. Blackout winner was Carl Smith. In the afternoon, we had manicures and had a real good time.

Thursday morning, after exercise, Joe Hoenig played the piano until the Sacred Heart 4th grade arrived. They held an early birthday party for Carl, complete with cake and presents. They brought Ruth Felderhoff to play the piano and they sang. We all had such a nice time. Then we played dominoes in the afternoon.

Friday morning, Janie played bingo with us. After the regular bingo, we had a new game called "Loser's Bingo." It was fun, even though we couldn't get it straight how a loser could win!!

Friday afternoon, we had our monthly wine and cheese party. We enjoy trying different wines and cheeses. We also enjoy socializing with each other. It was a pleasant end to a pleasant week.

Monday, Memorial Day, we had a cookout at noon. Janie cooked hamburgers on the grill and we had our first watermelon of the season. It was a nice Memorial Day with lots of company.

Our tomato plants are really growing with the loving care Andrew Fleitman gives them. He keeps the weeds down and loosens the dirt around them and it really helps them grow. Vena Settle says we are going to have so many tomatoes we might have to start our own produce stand. We enjoy watching them grow. Some of us have discovered how pleasant it is on the patio in the evening.

Most any day you visit, some of us are out enjoying the weather and pretty scenery.

We have a new resident, Mary Block, from Lindsay. I know she would enjoy your visits. We miss Elizabeth Krahl. She moved to Gainesville.

Our June birthday party was Sunday. Honorees were Ursula Herr, Theresa Vogel, Carl Smith Jr. and Joe Weinzapfel. Sonny and Norma Jean entertained us and we really had a good time. You should have seen Caroline Hess and Carl dancing to the music.

There will be a Father's Day party at 3 p.m. Father's Day, June 16.

Hope to see you there!

Well, we were blessed with a little more rain this weekend, which the farmers didn't need. I guess if it is too wet to work in the garden, you can always visit St. Richard's. Till next time, visit a friend!

MRS. ROBERT FRANCIS PHILLIPS III
...nee Jerri Lavonne "Sissy" Kelley ...

Couple weds in Dallas on June 2

The wedding of Jerri Lavonne "Sissy" Kelley of Forestburg and Robert Francis Phillips III of Dallas was held in Valley View United Methodist Church on June 2, 1991 at 3 p.m. Rev. Marshall Stewart, pastor of Prairie Point Church of the Nazarene, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Jerry and Gayle Kelley of Forestburg.

The groom is the son of Judy and Robert Phillips Sr. of Erlanger, Kentucky and Richard and Ann Gremillion of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Era High School, attended Cooke County College and Dallas Baptist University, and graduated from Texas Woman's University on May 11, 1991 Magna Cum Laude. She is a Sociologist. During her college years, she held various positions in the drama, publicity and music depts., the Baptist Student Union and the Student Government Association. An honor student, she was on the Dean's List and the President's List. At TWU, she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa; Phi Kappa Phi; Alpha Kappa Delta; was on the Honor Roll and won the Academic Award.

The groom graduated from the Louisiana School of Math, Science and the Arts in 1986 and will graduate from Southern Methodist University in December 1991. He is a Computer Programmer, employed by General Railway Signal.

Given in marriage by her father, Jerry Kelley, the bride was wearing a formal white wedding gown with sweetheart neckline, beaded bodice, short puffed sleeves with a flat bow. The low back neckline was held by three strings of pearls. A bow accented the back waistline. The skirt swept into a long ruffled train. Her triple-tiered illusion veil drifted to touch the train. The veil was attached to a headpiece of roses, netting and beads.

She carried a bridal bouquet of silk roses in shades of teal, fuschia and purple with white ribbons and pearls and greenery, designed in long cascade form.

In keeping with tradition, she wore pearl earrings belonging to her aunt, Sandy Kelley, as "something old;" a pearl necklace "borrowed" from Judy Phillips.

ATTENDANTS

Julie Strand of Denton was maid of honor. Monda Kelsey, bride's aunt of Krum, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Tobie Vice Nottingham of Era and Raetta Kelley, bride's cousin of Era. They wore satin dresses in teal-length, designed with V waistline and sweetheart neckline - Julie's and Monda's were purple; Raetta's was teal and Tobie's was fuschia. Each carried three silk roses resting on ribbon backing matching her dress, and flowers in complementary shades, with baby's breath.

Ron Glover of Dallas was best man. Groomsmen were Rodney Durr of Monroe, Louisiana and Robert Mazenic of Dallas. Ushers were Raymond Kelley, bride's brother of Forestburg, and Benjamin Phillips, groom's brother of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Wedding music included organ music played by Mary Hays and vocals by Jerri Kelley, including "Wind Beneath My Wings" and a tape played during the ceremony, "World To Me."

Church decorations included hurricane candles, bows and streamers of purple, teal and fuschia and pew markers of the separate colors.

RECEPTION

A reception followed the ceremony, in the Valley View United Methodist Church, hosted by the bride and groom. Rebecca Presley presided at the guest book.

Reception assistants were Renee Jones of Gainesville, Ginger Strand of Plano, Kathryn Carr of Dallas and Edwina Stewart of Forestburg. Tables in the reception area were decorated with purple table cloths, teal and fuschia bows caught to the corners and matching bows alternating throughout.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip, they will be at home in Dallas.

Following rehearsal at the church, the wedding party and family members were served meat and cheese trays, vegetable trays and a fruit bowl in a watermelon basket.

Showers were hosted by the Prairie Point Church in Rosston on May 5; another by Tobie Nottingham in Gainesville in April; and another in Plano in April, hosted by Julie Strand.

Why do Eskimos have a low heart attack rate? Norwegian researchers credit the monounsaturates in their high-fat diet (it includes blubber), as well as Omega-3 oils from fish.

New, shorter treatment gets patients with blood clots in leg veins out of the hospital faster. In a study in the US and Canada, five days of heparin worked as well as ten, when warfarin therapy was started right away.

Middle-aged women who burn 1,000 or more calories a week through exercise can lower their total cholesterol levels while raising levels of high-density lipoproteins, and lower blood pressure and insulin levels, too. Exercising away 2,000 calories is even better.

Clams, mussels, oysters and crabs may actually help lower cholesterol levels, especially the "bad" kind, according to research at the University of Washington in Seattle. Subjects ate various low-fat dishes made with shellfish.

Short review of new adult non-fiction books

Something More by Jean Grasso Fitzpatrick. How do parents nurture a sense of spirituality in a child? Here, Jean Grasso Fitzpatrick reminds us that spiritual nurturing is not something we "do" to our child, but it is a journey that parent and child take together. Fitzpatrick gives advice on how to answer children's questions on everything from death to religious holidays to homelessness. She also suggested books and videos that will help parents explore their children's spirituality.

Smart Speaking by Laurie Schloff and Marcia Yudkin. Would you like to have crisp, polished speech? Do firends always interrupt you? Are you worried you'll go blank before an audience? Smart Speaking covers all the angles, providing strategies for people who mumble, ramble, speak too loudly or sound too young, for those who are afraid to give presentations or start conversations at parties, for those who don't know how to give or take criticism or are unsure how to conduct a meeting. If you are seeking social or professional success, you will find quick answers to the speaking problems that trouble you most, without having to wade through pages and pages of text. Smart Speaking offers crystal-clear, easy-to-follow, practical advice for effectively and quickly resolving speech crises.

The Enigma of Suicide by George Howe Colt. This book combines powerful case histories with a fascinating synthesis of what we now know about suicide, drawing on diverse perspectives from the worlds of philosophy, among others. The Enigma of Suicide also probes the various motives and meanings that suicide may have for the person who kills himself. It discusses who commits suicide and why certain people and groups seem more susceptible to it than others. It examines a range of self-destructive behaviors including alcoholism; the role of the media and popular music in suicide; warning signs and the possibilities for prevention; and how suicide affects those left behind. Above all, The Enigma of Suicide makes the reader feel the author's intense drive to understand how and why it happens, and what we can do to help. It is a work not only of monumental research but also of deep compassion and humanity.

Straight Talk About Eating Disorders by Michael Maloney, M.D., and Rachel Kranz. Pick up a teen magazine or watch a television commercial and you are likely to see ads featuring thin glamorous models eating luscious, calorie-ridden food. Too often these ads succeed in selling more than a product. They send a powerful and sometimes contradictory message to the girls and young women who see them. At a very early age, girls learn that while they are expected to become good cooks and indulge in tempting foods as a social courtesy, they are also expected to be as thin as the models on television. Written in a lucid, straightforward style, Straight Talk About Eating Disorders is a valuable resource for any young person seeking clear, factual information about anorexia, bulimia and compulsive eating.

Host families sought for high school exchange students

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Thailand, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Brazil, Ecuador, Japan and Australia for the school year 1991-92 in a program sponsored by the American Inter-cultural Student Exchange (AISE) or International Student Exchange (ISE).

The students, age 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August, 1991, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June 1992. Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries, have spending money and medical insurance.

The placement of foreign students is accomplished by a careful screening and placement process based on applications submitted by both the prospective family and the foreign student. It is not necessary that there be children in the host family, and retired couples often welcome teens into their homes. Hosts actively participate in the selection of the student who will live with them, thus assuring that the family and the student are placed together on the basis of interests and compatibility.

To participate in this unique experience, contact: International Student Exchange, P.O. Box 840, Fort Jones, California 96032, or telephone 1-800-233-HOST nationwide, or 1-916-468-2264 in California, or AISE toll free, 1-800-SIBLING.

COOKE COUNTY APPRAISAL DISTRICT Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property;
- exemptions that may apply to you;
- cancellation of agricultural appraisal;
- whether your property is taxable;
- which local governments should be taxing your property; or
- you think the appraisal district has done something else that adversely affected you.

Informal Review: You should call CCAD (ph. # 817 665-7651) and tell the receptionist you would like to discuss the value of your property with an appraiser. Be prepared to tell the receptionist which school district your property is located in so she can refer you to the appraiser who appraised the property in your school district. Be sure and bring any comparable sale data, fee appraisals or any other information about your property that would influence its market value. The appraiser will review his/her information used to develop the value placed on your property, with you.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the Appraisal Review Board.

The Appraisal Review Board (ARB) is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. They have the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notification of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district at 200 W. California St., Gainesville.

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires you to sign an affidavit saying that you haven't done so before the ARB hears your case.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More Information: You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at 200 W. California St., Gainesville, 817-665-7651. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Property Tax Board, 4301 Westbank Drive, Building B, Suite 100, Austin, Texas 78746

Deadline for filing protests with the ARB
(The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday)

| Usual deadline: | On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraisal value was mailed to you, whichever is later) |
| Late protests (if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause) | Before the day the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact the appraisal district for more information |
| Special deadlines: | |
| Change of use (if the appraisal district has informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land) | Before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you |
| ARB changes (if the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed) | Before the 10th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you |
| If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will bear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you | |

Heers gets promotion

Mount Pleasant ISD has named Ted Heers as boys basketball coach. Heers coached at Sinton the past two years, where, in 1990, he led the Pirates to a regional semi-final berth and a 28-5 record in his first year there. It was also Sinton's first district championship in 30 years. This season, Sinton posted a record of 14-13.

Heers previously coached at Muenster before going to Sinton. He has a record of 108 wins, 36 losses as a boys varsity coach and four district championships in five years. His overall record, including junior varsity and junior high games, is 244-97.

At Muenster, he led the boys' teams not only to their first-ever district basketball championship in 1987, but to three consecutive district crowns with a loop record of 29-1 over that three-year span. His overall record at Muenster was 86-18.

The Hornettes also won two district championships and finished second one year and had a record of 52-26 in three years.

"I feel that at Muenster I got a chance to coach a lot of games and get some experience," said Heers. "Now I am very excited about going to Mount Pleasant."

His wife, Lou, will also be employed by Mount Pleasant ISD in the elementary grades. Ted, Lou and little daughter, Laura Ann, will be moving to Mount Pleasant in July.

Local wheat harvest halts, quality down

The last weeks of good weather had farmers in the area combining wheat at full speed, but last Sunday's down pour of a much needed rain halted the harvest for several days.

Wheat brought in to the local elevators, when combining began, was selling for $2.70 per bushel, but dropped as low as $2.60 as harvest continued.

The grain is said to be of good quality. "It's the best wheat harvested in the area in a number of years," said Ronnie Felderhoff of Muenster Milling Company. "The quality and yield are above average," said Dolphy Joe Hellman at Tony's Seed and Feed, "but the price is not so hot."

Earlier grain was clean, but when the harvest starts again, moisture from weeds will be a problem. Test rates will be down after the rain.

The best reported yield was 62 bushels per acre with some varieties producing below 30.

Muenster 4-H Club elects new officers

Reported by Sherilyn Sicking

The Muenster 4-H Club met on Sunday, May 19 at 4:00 p.m. at the Sacred Heart High School student lounge. The meeting was called to order, and the Pledge of Allegiance, 4-H Club motto and pledge were recited by all present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Tracey Vogel. Emily Felderhoff gave the treasurer's report. Reports were given by Bryan Hudspeth, Sherilyn Sicking, Michael Becker, Emily Felderhoff and Michael Drachenberg. All business in the 4-H Cooke County Connection was reported.

A discussion was held about the annual swim party and the date was set upon availability of the pool. Completion certificates were handed out.

Pictures were taken of the current year and the new officers. The meeting was adjourned and a covered dish supper was enjoyed by all members, parents and families at the Sacred Heart Parish pavilion.

- The council approved sending three firemen and one fire marshal to fire training school at Texas A&M. The city funds each person $625.00. Regular firemen training is a key ingredient in keeping Muenster's insurance rates down.

- No action was taken concerning the removal of Muenster's delinquent tax roll from the Cooke County Appraisal District computer. The roll was established when a countywide election placed all tax collection with the county tax collector. Muenster voted against the move at the time, but had to comply. County Agent's Report

Oxygen Shortage in Lakes May Cause Fish Kill

Fish are hooked on getting an adequate oxygen supply. If the supply becomes too short, the results are dramatic - sick or dead fish.

According to Dr. Ken Johnson, a Fish Disease Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a number of fish kills have been reported recently following periods of overcast days in much of Texas. The following information is provided by Dr. Johnson.

The major cause of occasional fish losses in Texas farm ponds and lakes is reduced oxygen levels of the water during cloudy days of warm, humid months.

Recent climatic events have increased oxygen shortages in many ponds. Two factors, frequent overcast days and rains that have washed in degradable material that also uses up oxygen, have resulted in fish losses. A pond may reach oxygen depletion one night, and the entire pond may be covered with dead or dying fish within a day or so.

Because pond waters tend toward oxygen shortage at greater water depths, events that cause a mixing of deeper water with the more oxygenated surface water also contribute to a condition of oxygen shortage. Mixing is triggered by strong winds, rain, human and animal disturbance.

And many fish ponds may be loaded with algae and aquatic weeds. If these die or use up more oxygen in darkness than they can produce in light, an overall oxygen loss results. Oxygen concentrations in such ponds of water is lowest at dawn, the end of the dark night hours. A downward trend in oxygen levels over several days will cause fish on prepared diets to cease feeding, and within a day or so dead fish will be seen.

As the water approaches a state of oxygen depletion, the fish will swim and gape at the surface, trying to force oxygenated water across their gills.

When losses occur, the larger fish generally die first because they have a greater oxygen need. Often, one may first observe several large dead fish, and a few days later see extensive losses of smaller fish.

Even if the oxygen does not become totally depleted, a shortage often will cause the stressed fish to lose resistance to disease.

Ponds with environmentally stressed fishes typically have a few individual fish that show reddish skin sores, produced by normally harmless water bacteria. While unsightly and damaging to the fish, such infections are not a human health threat.

People often produce oxygen shortages in ponds. Attempts of people to control dense pond plant growth with herbicides during warm months may cause excess oxygen removal as the plants decompose. Overstocking and overfeeding fish also cause oxygen shortages.

It is important to get a line on the oxygen shortage problem early. Early recognition is essential for solving the problem. If pond owners or fishermen see fish gaping at the water surface, refusing to eat pelleted food, observe a murky-green color in the water and see several large dead fish, the problem is well advanced.

Testing of the water for oxygen may be done with a chemical kit available from fish-farming suppliers.

In addition, checking the vitality of one fish can be useful. For testing in this manner, place the fish in a basket and suspend it at a three-foot depth from a pier to determine its vitality.

In small ponds, correction of the oxygen content can be achieved by methods that aerate the top two feet of water. A pump or other mechanism that exposes water to the air and causes a current at the water surface will aid in getting oxygen from the air. But a person should not pump up deep water, since this may even decrease the oxygen content.

One way to help oxygenate the water is with an outboard motor, but the motor boat should remain in a stationary position and not run all over the pond.

Larger ponds are more difficult to implement emergency aeration. A small area of the large pond, however, can be aerated to serve as refuge for some fish.
