Muenster's new industry gets final tax abatement approval

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County Commissioners have approved a 10-year tax abatement for a new Muenster business expected to open Sept. 1.

Renewed Materials Industries will receive a 100 percent abatement from payment of property taxes for five years, with a 50-percent abatement for the following five years.

The City of Muenster and the Muenster School District have also approved the abatement. The county, two weeks ago, delayed approval until the City of Muenster first gave its approval, officials said.

The company will open in the former Valenite facility on the west side of Muenster. Valenite shut the building due to a consolidation in the Gainesville area.

The Austin-based company will recycle used tires and other salvage products to make flooring for stock and other trailers and for parking lot roll stops, officials said. When in full operation, the factory is expected to employ between 30 to 40 employees.

In another matter, commissioners approved a resolution supporting the establishment of a centralized dispatching center for the county's 911 emergency response system that is expected to go on line within the next two years.

The county currently has separate dispatching units operating out of the sheriff's department, ambulance and Gainesville Police Department, said Commissioner Virgil Hess.

With Cooke County the lead entity in the 911 organization for the county, the resolution gives the county's view of how the dispatching system should be operated, he said. Commissioners feel a centralized dispatching center will save money and employees and provide for greater efficiency of operation, said Hess.

Cooke County's 911 system is being developed as part of the Texoma Council of Governments emergency system, which covers Cooke, Grayson and Fannin counties. Equipment for the system could be purchased as early as this fall, officials said. County residents are now paying a 50-cent per month 911 charge on their telephone bills to pay for the implementation of the 911 system.

County Education Board forms

by Elaine Schad

Gainesville School Board President John Morris will chair the newly-formed Cooke County Education District board of trustees.

The county education district board is composed of a school board member from each of the county's school districts and will be charged with tax collection and distribution of local property tax money to school districts as mandated by the state's new education funding law.

Larry Corbett of Callisburg ISD will serve as vice-chairman and Mark Krebs of the Lindsay ISD is secretary. Board members have no term limits, with new members appointed at the discretion of the individual boards, officials said.

At its organization meeting this month, the board called an Aug. 10 local election, covering three propositions that will determine the amount of exemptions that will be given to local property owners. The election will be held in conjunction with a statewide proposition when voters will decide if exemptions will be granted.

The board set an Aug. 6 meeting at the Gainesville ISD administration building when trustees are expected to discuss the administration of the education district, tax collection and distribution responsibilities and depository contracts.

Other members of the CCED board include G.C. Ellis from Era ISD, Leon Klement from Muenster ISD, Raymond Hogan of Sivelles Bend ISD, Jerry McKown of Valley View ISD and Bobby Clark of Walnut Bend ISD.

Jaycees to host Banquet July 13

Muenster Jaycees have scheduled their annual Installation Banquet for Saturday, July 13, in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Besides installing a new slate of officers, the Citizen of the Year Award will be presented. Tickets for the 29th Annual Banquet are $5 each. Happy Hour begins at 6 p.m. with the dinner and program planned for 7 to 9 p.m. A dance will follow with music provided by The Entertainer. Everyone is welcome to attend. No coolers will be allowed, but setups will be available.

400-plus benefit from Muenster's free annual Red Cross swim lessons

Muenster is again providing a wonderful service for youths from Muenster and the surrounding area with the Red Cross swim lessons that are taught free of charge in the city pool. Jeannine Flusche is the coordinator for the two-week event.

Red Cross swim lessons taught free of charge in Texas seems to be unique to Muenster. "To our knowledge Muenster is the only place in Texas that Red Cross swim lessons are free of charge," commented Jeannine Flusche. "Most charge a fee to offset the cost to the pool. It is very expensive for our city to put on (more chlorine, etc. are required) and the city doesn't charge us anything for using the pool."

Funding for the lessons comes from the Muenster Park Board from United Way Donations, the Muenster VFW, Muenster VFW Ladies Auxiliary, and a few personal donations. "These donations each year help us keep our feet above water," said Flusche. Also Coca Cola has been donating about 60 T-shirts each year which are worn by the teachers to make them easily identifiable.

Locally swim lessons are taught on five different levels, Beginners, Advanced Beginners, Intermediate Swimmers, Swimmers, and Adults. A lifeguarding course was taught earlier in the year. This is a very difficult course and is required before one can be a life guard or teach at a Scout Camp, etc. "We had 12 who passed the course and they are all excellent swimmers," Flusche said.

This was the first week of swim lessons for the summer and 252 students took part this week alone. The final total is expected to be around 425. The students are not all local, many come from Saint Jo, Forestburg, Lindsay, Era, Valley View, Myra, Rosston, Sanger, and Gainesville. There are even a few from out of state who spend a week with their grandparents and take advantage of the Muenster swim lessons. "We draw a lot of people," remarked Jeannine.

There are about 33 teachers assisting with lessons this year. "We have between 10 and 15 mothers and this makes for really good swim lessons because of the mixture of ages; we have a good balance," commented Flusche. After students passed the Swimmers course they are invited to help teach, she said.

JERRY MURLEY, top of tower, and Ronny Livingston, on ladder, assisted by Tommy Prosize (not shown) work to install a cellular telephone enhancer on the Muenster water tower. The men are employees of EL-COM and Associates, Inc. of Plano. The company has been contracted by Southwestern Bell Mobile Systems to install the tower. The antenna is 1150 feet above sea level (150 feet off the ground) and will pick up cellular phone signals in this area and re-transmit them to the Gainesville tower. The system should be operational this week and will greatly improve cellular phone service in Muenster as well as north and west of Muenster. Southwestern Bell Mobile Systems is renting the space from the city. Janie Hartman Photo

We'll miss you, Fr. Sebastian...

Community bids farewell

An open house was held on Sunday, June 30, from 2-4 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Community Center in honor of Fr. Sebastian Beshoner. The event was well attended as many parishioners came to bid the associate pastor farewell and wish him luck in his new position as pastor of Saint Joseph Parish in his hometown of Paris, Arkansas.

Punch and cookies were served, along with a special cake. The cake was iced in green and had a man with a shovel working in a flowerbed to represent Fr. Sebastian's hobby of gardening. It was a creation of The Farmer's Kitchen. A money tree was available for those who wished to give a farewell gift.

Fr. Sebastian will long be remembered for the many visits he made to the sick of the parish. The many plantings of trees, shrubs and new flowerbeds he lovingly labored over enhanced the entire parish grounds and are treasures that will remind parishioners of Fr. Sebastian for years to come. His landscape work won the parish grounds a Yard of the Month award in 1989.

Many people requested the address of Fr. Sebastian. It is as follows: Fr. Sebastian Beshoner, O.S.B., Saint Joseph Church, 15 South Spruce Street, Paris, Arkansas, 72855.

Fr. Victor Gillespie, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, and Fr. Camillus were seminary classmates. He was ordained on May 26, 1956.

FR. CAMILLUS COONEY

Fr. Camillus Cooney, O.S.B. began his duties as associate pastor of Sacred Heart Church on July 1, 1991. He is replacing Fr. Sebastian Beshoner, O.S.B. who had served as associate pastor since January 4, 1989. Fr. Sebastian was assigned to his hometown of Paris, Arkansas where he is now pastor of Saint Joseph Church.

This will be a new experience for Fr. Camillus who has never before been assigned to a parish. He spent 31 years teaching English. He retired from teaching at Subiaco Abbey about a year ago and has since spent time in various parishes helping out and learning about parish work.

Fr. Camillus is originally from Tyler and was born June 10, 1931. He has three brothers, Charles Thomas Cooney of Tyler, Rev. Gerald T. Cooney of the Church

Supt. Cooper explains school tax situation

The school tax question was the main issue at Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce meeting at The Center Restaurant. Muenster ISD Superintendent Steve Cooper gave an overview of the complex and controversial "solution" from Austin to the problem of inequity in funding between the state's richest and poorest school districts. The last three issues of the Muenster Enterprise have carried extensive and detailed reports by Cooper explaining the issues and proposals. All-in-all the situation will probably deliver a tax bill to Cooke County property owners from the newly formed county education district for about $1.00 per $100.00 valuation in the Muenster "Independent" School District. Last year the Muenster ISD charged a rate of only 73 cents.

Cooper was not optimistic about any quick help to improve the situation. He said the best thing to do now is "raise cain in Austin." He also recommended doing everything possible to keep up the average daily attendance.

Urban Endres introduced special guest, Tom Pinchback of Austin, President of Renewed Materials Industries, Inc.

Don't Forget...

Kiwanis Swim Night is Friday, July 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Muenster City Pool. Admission is free and everyone is invited to come and cool off.

Good News!

For I am the Lord, your God, who grasp your right hand; it is I who say to you, "Fear not, I will help you."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
Having taken the Census of Rosston over the past 20 years, we have fell short from last year by 3 for July 5, 1990.
The enthusiasm is great for our small town, we have two SLOW signs on our main street. We have the same number of flag poles, which is 7, all flying the American flag.
The population count, July 5, 1991, is 31.

Era seeks bids for expansion

by Elaine Schad
The Era School District will begin seeking bids this week for a $1 million expansion to the district's campus.
The school board this week approved final plans submitted by Bowie Architect Steve Hamilton for a new high school campus facility at the Era ISD. Bids will be open at 2 p.m. August 14 in the library.

The plans call for the construction of nine new classrooms as part of a 25,000 square-foot facility to be built on the existing football field. It will also include a new cafeteria, computer lab, one gymnasium, restrooms and a bookroom.

If bids come in above projected estimates, the board may opt to drop two of the planned classrooms, which were added after voters in March approved a $1.2 million bond package to fund the project, said Superintendent Dale Smiley.

A new football field is being constructed due north of the Agricultural Show Barn on land owned by the district. The board this week approved bids totalling an estimated $35,000 for construction of new home bleachers and for moving the existing bleachers to form the visitor's seating. The new seating will double capacity at the field, with visitor seating expanding from 123 to 400 and home seating from 400 to 640 capacity.

The low bidder on relocating the bleachers for the visitor side was given to Herbert Richardson Welding of Forestburg. Two bids were opened for construction of the new home bleachers, one for $29,495 by Sturdy Steel of Waco and another for $26,180 from Southern Bleachers of Graham. School officials are reviewing the two bids to see if they conformed to specifications.

Since 1983, enrollment at Era has doubled from 175 students to 350 at the end of this past school year.

Lindsay Council calls special election

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay City Council last week called a special election for Nov. 5 to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Doyle Cogburn, who died recently from an apparent heart attack.

Filing for the seat will open Aug. 22 and will close at 5 p.m. on Sept. 21. Those interested may file with City Secretary Wilbert Block.

Cogburn's term runs through May 1992. Mayor Pro Tem Don Metzler will be in charge of city affairs until the new mayor is seated, officials said.

In another matter, the council approved a planning and zoning recommendation that a specific use permit be granted to the Lindsay Independent School District to place a portable classroom on its campus for the 1991-92 school year.

There was no public opposition when property owners living adjacent to the school district were contacted, officials said. The permit will be for one year, and the permit fee is $50. The district plans to house a sixth-grade class in the classroom.

In other business during its regular July meeting, the council:

-Heard from Engineer Tim Morris who told the council he should be ready to begin advertising for bids for the city's next street project within a week. One project includes repair work to a 300-foot stretch of Elizabeth Street and another is between 700-800 feet of repair and reconstruction work to Circle Drive. The projects are expected to be completed by sometime this fall.

-Heard from City Attorney Belvin Harris about how best to approach residents who are in violation of the city's ordinances concerning tall grass and junked automobiles. After hearing its options, the council decided to first contact the people in person and ask for voluntary compliance.

-Approved the authorization of funds to place two billboards on Highway 82 at the eastern and western parts of town with information about the city's upcoming Centennial Celebration. The signs are expected to be installed within six weeks.

-Decided to advertise through municipal magazines to sell the city's police car.

-Is expected to wait until the city's wastewater permit is renewed until taking any further action on upgrading the sewer system. The city has sent in forms to the Texas Water Development Board to begin the process of applying for low-interest loans to fund any project that may be approved.

Report on 72nd Regular Legislative Session

by Ric Williamson
State Representative

This is the fourth and final article in a series on legislative activity during the recently concluded Regular Session of the Legislature. I will discuss Redistricting, Environmental Highlights and the Horse Racing Industry.

Every ten years, following the national census, the Legislature is necessary because federal law requires all districts to have roughly identical populations, and the state's population growth was not evenly distributed. The House and Senate adopted plans for new districts which will be in effect for the 1992 elections, unless a federal court orders alternative plans to be implemented. Because Texas' population growth exceeded the national average, the state will be given three new congressional seats. Lawmakers decided to postpone congressional redistricting until the summer because of the possibility of an adjustment in the state's census numbers.

The Legislature passed a comprehensive recycling bill that establishes a goal of recycling 40 percent of municipal trash by the beginning of 1994. To reach that goal, the bill contains the following requirements:

*The General Land Office must formulate a plan to develop markets for recycled products.

*Local governments and the state must give preference to recycled products.

*The Texas Department of Health must come up with a plan for composting 15 percent of municipal solid waste, which represents roughly half of all city yard waste.

*Beginning January 1 of next year, a $2 fee will be collected on each new tire sold in the state, with the money going into a fund to clean up unauthorized tire dumps. The old tires will be shredded and recycled into road material or put to other similar beneficial uses.

Early in the session, lawmakers OK'd a comprehensive oil spill response plan that includes a 2 cents per barrel tax on imported oil. The tax will finance a $25 million oil spill clean up fund. The legislation also makes the General Land Office responsible for coordinating prompt and effective responses to oil spills in the Gulf. Lawmakers approved a hazardous waste bill that makes the permitting process more accessible to concerned citizens and places strict limits on where hazardous waste sites may be located.

Lawmakers approved legislation designed to create financial incentives for development of large horse racing tracks like Churchill Downs in Texas' major urban areas. Currently, the state takes 5 percent of the total amount of money bet on horse racing. The new law has a sliding scale from 1 percent to 5 percent, depending on how much money is bet. The bill also permits for the first time "simulcasting" of horse and greyhound races originating in Texas or out of state. This change means Texans will be able to go to licensed race tracks and place bets on races occurring elsewhere, including horse racing's Triple Crown events.

JERRY LEMONS of Lemons Tree Service examines the ancient hackberry tree that shades the west side of Clara Wilde's residence on Main Street. One of the tree's three major limbs broke away Tuesday evening, splitting away from the trunk close to the ground. Measurements of the tree trunk showed it to be more than 12 feet around. It is estimated from older local residents' memories that the tree is between 90 and 100 years old. Mrs. Wilde has decided to sacrifice the ancient landmark, fearing that more of the huge limbs could fall and injure someone or their property.

Local students named to CCC Honor Roll

One hundred eighty-four students at Cooke County College have been cited for outstanding academic achievement during the recently concluded Spring 1991 semester.

They were named to either the Dean's Honor Roll or President's Honor Roll, both announced this week by Dr. Eddie Hadlock, Dean of Student Services at CCC.

To qualify for the Dean's Honor Roll, students must achieve at least a 3.5 grade average while carrying a minimum of 12 semester hours. A perfect 4.0 grade average is required for inclusion in the President's Honor Roll.

"The administration and faculty of Cooke County College recognize and appreciate the hard work and diligence behind the scholastic performance of these students," comments Dr. Hadlock. "We extend to them our sincerest congratulations."

Local students named to the President's List include: Jerry Brawner, Muenster; Donald Matthews and William Sicking, Myra; Marsha Griggs, Era.

Listed on the Dean's List are: Michael Bierschenk, Murlin Evans, Janel Flusche and Debbie Schmitt, Muenster; Rudy Hess and Jason Zimmerer, Lindsay; Julie Fuhrmann, Patsy Hellinger, Janel Lutkenhaus, Joel Metzler, Kevin Parsons, Rhonda Stewart and Kimberly Thorson, Gainesville.

Stingy rainfall recorded in first half of 1991

Lack of moisture is stressing local plants and grasses, causing cracks in the soil, and making anxious farmers and ranchers watch the weather reports daily for favorable weather patterns. The last measurable rain fell on June 23 and was a mere .25 inches. Officially, Mary Moster has recorded only 13.52 inches of moisture in Muenster for the first six months of 1991. At times, this area gets that amount in one month. Mrs. Moster averaged the moisture for a 10-year period, 1976-1985, in the months of April, May and June, and got the following averages, April 2.74 inches; May 5.29; and June 3.43.

	1991	1990	1989	1988
January	2.45	3.30	3.40	1.17

Lineman

I'm Clement Adams and I'm a lineman with TU Electric. I work with overhead power lines that bring electrical service to our homes. But unfortunately, every year some people come into contact with these high wires and are seriously injured or even killed. Often they may be simply trimming their own trees, installing a TV antenna or just cleaning a pool with a long handled pole.

Electrical safety is a priority.

These types of accidents can be easily avoided. If people would just look up. Keep all objects away from overhead power lines. At TU Electric, we care about your safety. So give yourself a little distance.

Sacred Heart Church is site of double ring ceremony June 28

Rhonda Jean Bayer, daughter of Tom and Joyce Bayer, and Curtis Lee Pagel, son of Harriet Scoggins and the late Charles Pagel, Jr. were married in a Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony on June 28, 1991 officiated by Father Victor Gillespie OSB in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m.

The bride is also a granddaughter of Tony and Sis Klement and Mrs. Louise Bayer and the late Martin Bayer. The groom is a grandson of Harry and Eva Jo Otto of Muenster and the late Carrie and Charles Pagel, Sr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white satin Jasmine designer wedding gown, accented with beaded re-embroidered Alencon lace. The fitted bodice featured a Victorian neckline and bishop sleeves. Cutouts of beaded lace highlighted the sleeves and yoke. A full skirt flowed into a semi-cathedral length train. Wide Alencon lace outlined the edge of the skirt and train. A large satin bow accented the back waistline.

Her two-tiered illusion veil with lightly gathered pouf was fingertip length and attached to a headpiece of pearlized flowers, sequins and delicate pearl sprays.

She carried a bridal bouquet of large white roses, miniature peach roses, white stephanotis, miniature teal lillies, fern and sprays of pearls, with a rosary entwined.

RECEPTION

A reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall, hosted by the bride's parents. A buffet of pick-up foods was prepared by family members and aunts of the bride.

Hesse, Felderhoff marry in Sacred Heart Church July 6

The wedding of Anne Marie Felderhoff and Neil Joseph Hesse was held in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, July 6, 1991. Father Stephen Eckart OSB, great-uncle of the groom, was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass and officiated for the double ring vows at 5 p.m.

The bride is a daughter of Joe and Ruth Felderhoff of Muenster. She is a 1984 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1988 graduate of Midwestern State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Health Fitness Management.

The groom is a son of Bernard and Agnes Hesse of Muenster. He is a 1984 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1988 graduate of the University of Texas at Arlington with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Finance. He is employed by Cooke County Electric Co-op as a Lineman Trainee.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride continued a treasured family tradition and wore the same bridal gown worn by her sisters, Christy and Jenny at their weddings. Designed by Alfred Angelo, the gown was enhanced with accents of Schiffli embroidery and Venise lace. The fitted bodice, heavily beaded with bridal jewels, featured a scooped neckline, short puffed ballroom sleeves with windowpane design, applied with lace and bridal pearls, and a basque waistline. The A-line skirt touched slipper length in front and flowed into a chapel train.

Her full-length illusion veil drifted over the train, with highlights of pearls and iridescents.

Her bridal flowers were arranged in a cascade of white roses, red rosebuds and trailing English ivy, entwined with a rosary, a gift from her godmother Girlie, Mrs. A.J. Felderhoff.

For sentiment, she borrowed her mother's pearl necklace.

ATTENDANTS

Rose Felderhoff of Dallas was her sister's maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Christy Hesse of Muenster and Jenny White of Clear Lake, both bride's sisters, Janet Hesse, groom's sister of Dallas, and Jill Davis of Austin, a friend of the bride.

They were attired in identical gowns of red taffeta, designed with scalloped, lace-trimmed neckline and V back, lace overlay on the fitted bodice, puffed sleeves accented with bows, basque waistline, and gathered skirt with graduated hemline. Each carried a bouquet of white tiger lilies.

Ken Hesse of Dallas, stood with his brother as best man.

Groomsmen were Mark Hesse of Denton, groom's cousin; Lonnie Henschel of Muenster, a friend; Greg Walterscheid of Lewisville, cousin of the bride; and Steve Eckart of Denton, groom's uncle.

Ushers were Bert Hesse, groom's cousin and bride's brother-in-law; Danny Walterscheid, bride's cousin; Jon LeBrasseur, bride's cousin; and Darren Walterscheid, friend of the groom.

Mass servers were David Hesse, groom's brother, and Stephen Hofbauer, groom's cousin.

Liturgical Readings were given by friends Susan Flusche and Bonnie Brawner. Jack White, bride's brother-in-law, sang the Psalm Responses. Jeanine Walterscheid, a friend, read Petitions and Prayers of the Faithful. Godmothers of the couple Ethel Hesse and Girlie Felderhoff carried Offertory gifts to the altar. Uncles and aunts of the couple assisted as Eucharistic ministers, including Charlie and Mary Felderhoff, Girlie Felderhoff, Joanie and Alvin Hartman, and Dolores and Dale Hofbauer.

Wedding music was presented by Annetta Earle, organist, and Jack White, bride's brother-in-law who was vocalist for "Just You and I;" "Wind Beneath My Wings;" "Doubly Good;" "Beginning Today;" "I Could Never Promise You;" "Wedding Song;" "In This Very Room." The bride's sister Christy Hesse sang "Ave Maria" when the couple knelt at the Blessed Mother's altar.

Altar decorations included arrangements of white gladioli and mixed white silk flowers on the high altar and the Unity candle on the front altar. The Unity candle continued another treasured family tradition. It was made by the bride's Grandmother Theresia Felderhoff.

RECEPTION

A reception hosted by parents of the bride and groom was held at the Sacred Heart Community Center, with dinner and dance.

Monica LeBrasseur, bride's cousin, and Sandra Walterscheid presided at the guest book.

Wedding cakes were made and cut by Betty Rose Walterscheid. The three-tiered all white bride's cake was placed over a lighted red fountain and enhanced at the base with a circle of red bows, candles and flowers. The keepsake layer held a crystal, heart-shaped ornament. The groom's double heart-shaped chocolate cake was decorated on the top layer with the couple's names.

Cake servers were Kristine Hartman, a friend and neighbor, David Hesse, groom's brother, and Donna and Jennifer Black, groom's cousins of Myra.

Guest tables were decorated with red double-heart lighted candleholders, red ribbon and ivy. The reception table and picture table were covered with hand-sewn lace cloths made by Grandma Felderhoff.

The couple will be at home in Muenster upon return from a wedding trip to Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening, July 5 in the meeting room of the Community Center, prepared and hosted by the Bernard Hesse family.

A bridal shower was given on June 9 in the Joe Felderhoff home and another on June 22 in the Bert Hesse home.

New York Life is large, conservative, and dull. Reassuring in times like these, isn't it?

Things are a bit shaky these days in the financial world. Investors are getting a lot less adventuresome. And words like "stability" and "security" are coming back into vogue.

To some, of course, this is just the current economic trend. But at New York Life, we've had a conservative investment policy for 146 years.

A policy that, over the years, has allowed New York Life to amass assets under management of more than $50 billion. And why 95 percent of the bonds in our portfolio are investment grade.

Does that make us large and conservative? We should say so. And as for dull, well, we look at it this way: If being exciting means investing heavily in junk bonds that end up in default, that's the kind of excitement we can all do without.

4-H'ers learn leadership on the ROPES program

by Barbara Morgan, 4-H Leader

Learning leadership qualities by successfully getting nine people across a log or learning communication skills by crossing a log suspended some 30 feet in the air may sound a bit unusual. However, when you have someone to show you the ropes it can be a very fun, challenging, and educational experience.

Several Cooke County 4-H leaders attended a ROPES Leadership Course June 29 at Twin Lakes Hospital in Denton. Twin Lakes provided the training at no charge to the 4-H leaders. The therapists conducting the course were Sam Hill and Will Taylor. The ROPES course teaches leadership, trust, and communication skills by presenting the participants with various physical objectives and allowing the group to arrive at a workable solution. The physical objectives are quite challenging and appear very dangerous. The danger has been minimized by supporting the participants with ropes. As Hill said, "You are many times safer participating in the ROPES course than you are driving a car."

Those in attendance were Mary Ellis of the Era 4-H Club; Sandra Champion of the Valley View 4-H Club; Paula Mobley of the Sivells Bend 4-H club; Laura Stiles of the Silver Cedar 4-H club; representing the Red River 4-H club was Donna Trice, Barbara Morgan, County record books judged

by Cassie Bullock
County Extension Agent

This past Tuesday, July 2, 4-H'ers from across the county turned in their 4-H Record Book. Just what is a record book?

For 4-H'ers it is a list of projects, activities, community services, leadership and experiences that they have been involved in during their 4-H careers. For a young one the list may be short, but for the older ones it's amazing to think they could accomplish so much.

Record Books help 4-H'ers learn how to and the importance of keeping accurate, well-organized records. Record keeping is an activity that they will be doing the rest of their lives, whether it's a check book, budgets, income taxes, mileage, or school work.

Yosten grandson marries in Dallas July 6

Cara Lee Fraser became the bride of Kary Jordan Phillips on July 6, 1991 in a double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. held in All Saints Episcopal Church of Dallas, with Father Patrick Douthitt, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Tulsa officiating. The couple selected this church, where the bride spent her childhood years, and the priest was from her grandmother's church in Tulsa.

The bride is a daughter of Beverly and Wayne Fraser of Dallas and a granddaughter of Marian Fritz of Tulsa and Marie Fraser of San Antonio. The groom is a son of Judy and Dan Phillips, also of Dallas. He is a grandson of Al and Dorothy Yosten of Muenster and visits in Muenster frequently.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a full-length white satin wedding gown designed with scalloped neckline. Long sleeves were puffed at the shoulders and fitted to the wrists with tiny pearl closures. The full satin skirt was overlaid with lace appliques, and a lace border trimmed the full length of the train. Her headpiece was covered with white roses and pearls and attached to a large clip, created by the bride and her mother. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of English ivy, white roses, white stephanotis, baby's breath and a touch of blue. All flowers were silk.

For sentiment, she wore her mother's pearl drop necklace, as "something old," and shoes as "something borrowed."

wedding cake, encircled with the bridesmaids' bouquets. The three-tiered white cake, with pineapple filling, held a top arrangement of fresh flowers. The groom's chocolate cake, with fudge icing, was decorated with the couple's monogram and was encircled with roses. Guest tables held silk arrangements in brass planters.

Reception assistants were Pam Richter, bride's cousin, and Susan Carman, a friend.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents and prepared by the bride's aunt, Betty Key. Three showers honored the bride: one hosted by Betty Key; one by co-workers; and one by the bridesmaids.

The couple is at home in Carrollton since returning from a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica.

The bride is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School and Henderson County Junior College in Athens. She is employed as receptionist/secretary for DMDA, Inc. of Carrollton. The groom is a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School and is employed as Customer Service Specialist by Central Pet and Garden Supply.

St. Richard's Villa News

by Frances Reiter

We celebrated the 4th of July in a traditional fashion with a cookout and a parade. Janie Morgan cooked hamburgers on the grill at noon, then she decorated all the wheelchairs and walkers.

At 2 p.m., we had a wheelchair parade down the halls with balloons and loud music. After the parade, we all went outside and let our balloons go. We had a real special Independence Day.

We have a new bingo game on Tuesday afternoon. It is called Residents Rights Bingo. Instead of numbers, each square has a Resident's Right, such as the right to privacy or the right to sufficient staff, etc. Janie explains each one to us as we play and we are really learning a lot. The game starts at 2 p.m. and you are welcome to come and play and learn with us.

Irma is still keeping us in vegetables. We had a large pan of okra to cut and a pan of cucumbers to peel and slice the other day. I think they taste better knowing that we helped prepare them. We are also beginning to get tomatoes from our "garden" now.

Our birthday party this month was a lot of fun. Mildred Lawson and Laura Fuhrmann brought their accordions and entertained. Birthdays this month are Mildred Fulton, Bessie Hutson and Elizabeth Moster. Lots of family and friends joined us for the party.

Monday morning, Bertha Pick and Lou Vogel played dominoes with us after Mass. Wednesday, bingo players were Margaret Schmitt, Marie Hundt, Martha Sicking and Agnes Klement.

We want to take this opportunity to thank all of you that volunteer your time and energies to helping us make this home. It is you who make this a special place to live. Thanks from all of us. Until next time, visit a friend - visit St. Richard's.

4-H'ers from across the district came to a three-day lab in Trinidad to learn, have fun and meet new people. This is an annual event held at the TU Electric Education Center. Cooke County 4-H'ers led a workshop on Voting Rights and Responsibilities, led the ceremonial Monday evening and presented awards on Wednesday afternoon, as their part in Leadership Lab.

Those leading the Voting Rights and Responsibilities workshop were: Silver Cedar 4-H Club members Melissa and Alissa Stiles, Sean Herbold, Greg Brooks and Chad Phillips. Sheryl Sicking from the Muenster 4-H Club led the closing ceremony Monday evening. Robert, Clifford and

by Mike Pagel
Dillon Sicking hit a first inning home run that cleared the bases and enabled the Red Hawks to take an early and permanent lead in their 24-15 victory over the Sky Sharks on Tuesday, July 2. Good hitting from standouts such as Holly Hartman, Ashley Sicking, Jacob Endres and the rest of the team kept the Sky Sharks from being put away early. Outstanding defensive play on the part of the Red Hawks prevented even more Sky Sharks from reaching first base. Brandy Gilbreath, Dillon Sicking, Mikey Bayer and centerfielder Mitch Felderhoff were all responsible for robbing various Sky Sharks of base hits. A long triple to right field by Shawn Hess and a three-run home run by Brandy Gilbreath were also highlights in the Red Hawks win.

Other scores from July 2:

Red survives Black scare, perfect season still intact

by Mike Pagel
There is an old saying in the game of basketball that says, "only good things happen to those who take the ball to the hoop." Steven Fisher of the black team would certainly agree to that phrase; to some extent. Fisher, in taking the ball straight to the heart of the red defense, scored at will. Unfortunately for Steven, though, his teammates failed to provide a supporting cast in what looked to be a big upset early in this game during week 5 action of the North Texas Summer Basketball League. With only five players available, the black team kept up with the undefeated red team and their fast-break pace to a first half score of 26-26. As a part of their strategy, the red team kept the second half pace as fast as the first half pace. Lack of substitutes, improper conditioning, and the 100+ temperature in the Muenster gymnasium, all inevitably led to the black's eventual 64-41 demise.

Era's Barry Gordon hit two 3-pointers and several other 2-point field goals to take some of the scoring burden off Fisher's back. Patrick Corcoran and Wylie Harris of Lindsay, Brandon Harrison of Gainesville and Mike Hacker were all productive on both ends of the court for the red team.

Other Week 5 NTSBL scores:

Teal 54, Yellow 43
Gray 1, Orange 0 (forfeit)

Softball tourney benefits kids with limb deficiencies

Texas Rangers pitcher Jeff Russell invites everyone to come out and enjoy his "Save A Dream" Softball Classic to be held July 20 and 21 in Arlington at Randol Mill Park.

The softball tournament will benefit the Limbs of Love Foundation, Inc. Jeff Russell is the Honorary Chairperson of the "Save A Dream" campaign, which also benefits the Limbs of Love.

The Limbs of Love Foundation, Inc. is based in Houston and provides technologically advanced prosthetic care, as well as emotional and financial support, for children and their families. The foundation is non-profit and is headed by a 12-member board of directors.

The Loving Limbs Foundation, Inc. strives to meet the needs of children and families that are faced with the shocking surprise of a missing limb. In the days which follow the birth of a child with a congenital amputation, or a traumatic amputation, parents need to learn what options are available for treatment of their children. Parents and family members do not know who to talk to, who can help them, or what the future holds for their child. This is where the foundation comes in - to offer assistance, whether it be financial or emotional.

The double-elimination slow-pitch tournament offers door prizes and trophies for winning teams. The winning team will be awarded its trophy in an on-field presentation before the July 21 Ranger game with Toronto Blue Jays. The winning team also will attend the game as guests of the Limbs of Love Foundation, Inc.

For more information, contact Karla or Louie Celaya (903) 564-6672 or call the Limbs of Love Foundation, Inc. 1-800-235-1090.

Week 6 of Summer Basketball:

Red rolls on!

by Mike Pagel
Through the first five weeks of the North Texas Summer Basketball League season, the boys' Red team has simply been unbeatable. If there was one team left on their schedule that was capable of handing the Red team their first loss, it was to be the Blue team. Tuesday night in Lindsay, the Blue and the Red teams squared off in what turned out to be quite an exciting game.

What was essential for the Blue team to win this game was for them to jump out to an early lead. They, or he, I should say, did exactly that. The Blue team's Matthew Thompson, a strong candidate for my post season NTSBL

MVP award, scored the first 9 points of the game. Matthew Thompson, instead of the Red team as a whole, seemed unstoppable. Thompson, a strong young man from Saint Jo, not only powered his way to 4 field goals in the first two minutes of the game, but took several trips to the free throw line to finish off his 3-point plays. Leading 9-0, things looked good for the Blue team; for only a short time. Within the next 10 clock minutes, the Red team had gone on a 20-3 run to turn the game completely around. The Blue team, however, refused to lie down and take a Red beating. Stevan Nasche, with help from Thompson, Kelly Bayer and Troy Slover of Valley View, fought his way back to only a 2-point halftime deficit.

This game of alternating streaks ended just as soon as the second half began. The Red team turned up their intensity level in the second half and slowly dealt the Blue team the lethal injection of another loss. By the time the final buzzer sounded, the Red team had increased their lead to 16, in a 63-47 win.

Patrick Corcoran of Lindsay who hit three 3-pointers, along with Darren Bindel and Kody Truebenbach, played consistent games for the Red. Nasche and Thompson were leaders for the Blue.

Other scores from Week 6:
Gray 91, Black 51
Orange 65, Yellow 54
Teal 80, Green 50

TAKE A TIP FROM A PRO

Using smokeless tobacco—chewing tobacco or snuff—isn't safer than smoking. The carcinogens caused by the mixture of tobacco and saliva can reach levels up to 1,000 times higher than the smoke from an unfiltered cigarette. Using smokeless tobacco can lead to oral cancer and nicotine dependence. Yet smokeless tobacco use by young Americans is on the increase. Be smart. Don't let them start. Help your children avoid smokeless tobacco addiction.

Timing is crucial in herd parasite control

by Galen D. Chandler, County Extension Agent-Ag

Internal parasites in cattle cost producers thousands of dollars each year in lost production and death. Parasites damage the animal in two ways. There is competition for nutrition between the parasite and the host animal and, in some cases, the parasite produces damage to the tissues of the host.

The timing of parasite control is one of the most important parts of management a producer can do. The traditional deworming times are spring and fall for most producers. A mid-summer treatment for internal parasite control could be the most cost effective.

Cattle are affected by three different populations of worms. The larval forms of the worms on the pasture, the immature worms in the stomach wall (inhibited) and the adult worms. Both the larval forms of the worm and the adult worms peak in populations in the spring and fall. Most dewormers are effective against adult worms and the hot, dry summer conditions kill the worms on the pasture. That's why, traditionally, we've always dewormed cattle in the spring and fall. However, the spring and fall treatments do nothing for the immature worms in the abomasum.

The population of immature worms, primarily the brown stomach worm, continues to increase until mid-July. Later, due to some unknown mechanism, these worms emerge from the stomach wall, develop into adults and lay eggs.

By killing these inhibited worms now, while the hot dry conditions of summer are killing worms on the pasture, a producer can prevent the normally high buildup of parasites on the fall pasture. Currently, three dewormers are labeled to be effective against the inhibited brown stomach worm. They are fenbendazole (Safe-Guard®, Pancur®), Ivermectin (Ivomec®), and Lavamisole (Levasole®, Tramisol®).

A mid-summer treatment, with a dewormer that kills inhibited larval forms of the worms, can be our effective tool in a total herd health management plan.

Check spray rigs before using them!

A thorough check-up and servicing are routine in preparing equipment for use. Attention should also be given to a spray rig before beginning the process of calibrating it for efficient operation.

Items recommended for attention include checking that all nozzles are the same size and not worn, checking for uniform nozzle output and pattern, and determining exact capacity of the spray tank. A pressure gauge can be installed on the boom to determine actual pressure at the nozzles.

The importance of servicing can't be overemphasized.

Also clean all lines and strainers, while making sure the strainers are in good condition and are the correct size and type for the chemical formulation that is to be applied.

Inspect all hoses for signs of aging, damage, corroded fittings or leaks. Check the pressure gauge on the rig to determine if it is working properly. Note especially if the pressure is holding constant and if it reads zero when the pump or boom valve is shut off.

Check for uniformity of nozzle output and that the spray angles, spacing and height are consistent. To check for uniform output, install the selected nozzle tips, check to be sure the tank is clean, then fill the tank partially with clean water and operate the sprayer at a pressure within the recommended range. Place a container - a quart jar or two-liter bottle, for example - under each nozzle and check to see whether all the jars fill in about the same time. Replace any nozzle tips that have output that varies more than five percent from the output of the rest of the tips or have an obviously different fan angle or non-uniform appearance in spray pattern.

An effective way to determine if a uniform pattern is being produced and if the boom is at the proper height is to spray some water on a warm dry surface such as a paved or gravel road and observe the drying pattern. If the pattern isn't uniform, some strips will dry slower than others.

Knowing the exact capacity of the spray tank is important. Checking the tank capacity may seem unnecessary, but unless the exact capacity is known, serious problems could arise.

Use of an inaccurate figure on tank capacity when determining application rates commonly contributes to under- or over- application. A tank thought to hold 200 gallons but which actually holds 250 gallons results in a built-in calibration error of 25 percent.

There are three ways to determine the exact tank capacity. The best way is using any convenient container for which an exact capacity is known. Another effective way is with an accurate flow meter.

Another method is to weigh the sprayer both empty and full. The difference between the two weights is the weight of the water in the tank. The capacity of the tank in gallons then can be determined by dividing the weight difference by 8.33 pounds, the weight of one gallon of water.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Failure to set fruit by tomatoes

Each year, gardeners report problems with tomato plants which do not bloom well or drop their blossoms without setting fruit. The following are several possible causes of these problems:

Variety - Large fruited varieties do not set fruit as well during summer heat as do medium and smaller fruited varieties. Fruiting is inhibited when day temperatures are in the 90s or above and/or night temperatures are higher than the low 70s. Also, less fruit will be set when day/night temperatures fluctuate more than about 25 degrees.

Cool temperatures - Many early flowers fail to set at temperatures under 55 degrees.

Watering techniques - Either excessive watering or under watering can cause blossom drop. When supplemental watering is needed, the soil should be watered slowly and deeply, and then the top inch or so allowed to dry out before watering again. Drip irrigation and mulching are the best solutions to problems due to improper watering. Prolonged spring rains can cause excessive foliage growth at the expense of flowering.

Fertilization - Excess nitrogen prior to first fruit set can result in reduced flower and fruit production. A high phosphorus granular fertilizer, such as 10-20-10, should be incorporated into the soil prior to planting and a high phosphorus liquid fertilizer or starter solution poured into the planting holes at the time transplants are set out. No additional fertilizer should be needed until the first fruit are about one inch in diameter. From this time on, the main nutrient needed is nitrogen. For maximum yields, apply 1 tablespoon of 15-5-10 or 16-4-8 or 2 teaspoons of 21-0-0 (ammonium sulphate) scattered around the drip-line of the plant and watered in thoroughly. Repeat weekly for vigorous hybrid varieties or every two weeks for standard varieties.

Nematodes - Nematodes are microscopic eel-like worms which feed upon the roots, causing knots on the roots and resulting in decreased growth, vigor and productivity. If nematodes are a problem, be sure to select only nematode resistant varieties. Such resistance is indicated by the capital letter "N" following the name of the variety on the seed packet or plant label, e.g., Big Set VFN ("V" indicates resistance to verticillium wilt and "F" to fusarium wilt).

Beef Breakfast Meeting July 18

A Breakfast Program is scheduled for Thursday, July 18, at 7:30 a.m. at the Ellis Longhorn Ranch near Rosston. At this time, strategic worming programs along with worming methods will be shown using live animal demonstrations. A special session on a new cattle immobilizer will also be conducted. The immobilizer uses a new technology to lessen stress on animals during periods of confinement and chute work.

Ranch. To get to the Ellis Ranch go west from Era on FM 922 approximately 4 miles to County Road 337, then south. The ranch is located across from the Shorty Freeman Oak Valley Ranch.

Breakfast sponsors include MSD AGVET and Terry Kirkpatrick along with Diamond G Agri Sales.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the County Extension Office at 668-5412.

Crop Acreage Reports

The final date to report crops is July 15. Failure to report your acreage, or 0 acreage (if you have a base) will result in the acreage and yield being considered zero.

Several of you were in earlier to sign up in the program and gave us your planting intentions for the crops, but you have not reported them after they were planted. If you are uncertain about this, please contact the ASCS office.

An accurate report on all crops is a must.

1992 Wheat Program
There is a required 5 percent acreage reduction program for the 1992 wheat crop. The established target price is $4 per bushel. Other provisions of the wheat price support program will be announced at a later date.

Sodbuster/Swampbuster Conservation Compliance

Several new farms had to get plans formulated by the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) this year. The SCS informs me that they have sent letters to these producers, but only a few have come back in to sign their plans. Payments from this office cannot be released until the plan is signed.

If you have bought, leased, rented, crop shared or are thinking about buying, leasing, renting, or share cropping a farm or ranch, you need to immediately check with the SCS office about the Conservation Plan on the farm or ranch in question.

Conservation Reserve Program

The sign-up period will be July 8 through 19. Acceptance of bids will be based on environmental benefits obtained on the farm, not only highly erodible land. You should not rely on bid amounts which have been approved in the past. Competition for entry into the program will be on a nationwide basis, rather than within local bidding pools.

Free booklet provides tips for tree care

You can add thousands of dollars to the value of your home, bring songbirds to your neighborhood, and cut your energy costs up to 25 percent by planting and caring for trees.

A free booklet from The National Arbor Day Foundation, Conservation Trees, will show you how.

Conservation Trees is a colorfully illustrated, easy-to-use guide. It will show you how to cut your fuel bills by properly locating shade trees so that they provide cooling summer shade, but don't block the warm winter sun. And it describes how to plan a windbreak for maximum winter protection and a minimum of upkeep.

You'll learn how to create a natural habitat to attract songbirds to your backyard - how to provide cover, create needed habitat variety, and grow trees for food ... even tips on maintaining a year-round water supply.

The design of the booklet makes it easy to browse through to pick up tips. You'll discover how to protect trees during construction projects ... correct tree planting steps ... the importance of shading your air conditioner ... how to prune shade trees ... and where to get local tree-care assistance.

To obtain your free copy of this valuable booklet, send your name and address to: Conservation Trees, The National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, NE 68410.
