

Council smells a problem... MHS Vo-Ag swine pen plans are put on hold

Muenster ISD presented complete plans for, and request to build, livestock pens on school property to the City Council Monday night at the regular council meeting. The proposal is to build a covered livestock complex on a concrete base to accommodate 30 swine or other animals for vocational agriculture projects. The location is intended to be north of the football stadium. The Zoning Board held a public hearing prior to the council meeting, notifying property owners within 200 feet of the location, then recommended approval on the condition that any complaints received concerning the cleanliness or smell of the complex would cause its shutdown.

After discussion at the council meeting with Glenn Debnam and Herkey Biffle, it became evident that a city ordinance concerning livestock supersedes the zoning rules and forbids livestock operations within 1,500 feet of any residence. Debnam and Biffle subsequently agreed to reapproach the Zoning Board and seek an exemption with the approval of residents within the larger radius.

A second major item at the meeting was the exemption of personal vehicles and certain other personal items from taxation in 1992. The Cooke County Appraisal District has informed the City of Muenster that Muenster is the only remaining county entity continuing to tax personal vehicles. Although the city may certainly continue the practice, doing so would mean that Muenster must bear the entire cost of appraising the property instead of sharing the cost countywide. CCTAD added that collecting personal property taxes was much more expensive and inefficient compared with collecting real property tax. For every $5.00 collected in car tax, $1.00 was taken up in cost. Evidence the fact that all other taxing entities in surrounding counties have dropped it, too.

The proposal raised an objection from Ronnie Felderhoff who said that this is just another move to shift more tax load to property owners and allow those who don't own property to escape taxation and still receive county, city and school services.

CCTAD encouraged Muenster to drop the tax, saying that automobile registration will return to the county instead of going out of county. The City Council voted to follow suit. Personal vehicles and boats, etc., will not be taxed in 1992.

Other City Council discussion and action included:

-Negotiations continue on the MISD request to buy water from Muenster's north water well.

-Garbage collection days will change in the near future to Wednesday and Saturday. The exact date is not set.

-Beginning in November, the City will allow a small increase in garbage collection rates caused by state surcharge increases on Waste Management, Inc. Residences will pay 10 cents more per month. Businesses will pay 9 cents more per cubic yard.

-Dwayne Rohmer was appointed to serve on the Muenster Water District Board of Directors.

-Bernard Hesse and Henry Starke were appointed to serve on the Muenster Zoning Board.

-After long discussion, the Zoning Board's recommendation on the configuration of R.E. Grewing Drive was tabled for further study.

-Funding for the new first response fire truck was clarified. The city is committed to help the volunteer fire department with $15,000.00 financing, maybe a little more if needed, to finish the construction soon. The fund impact will be spread over three fiscal years by taking out a loan if the budget won't handle it.

-Purchase of a medium-sized Christmas ham for each city employee was approved.

-Monthly bills totaling $97,709.28 were approved for payment. The total included a $24,910.88 bill for a year's supply of garbage sacks.

Close scrutiny was given to many of the bills at the meeting.

Mayor Henscheid said the $25.00 a month rent for a phone pager for the city administrator was not justified since he carries a hand-held radio. Fenton said that citizens wishing to reach him after hours had phones, not radios. Henscheid said they could do what he does: call the County Sheriff's dispatcher, transfer through to local police the request for the administrator to call the citizen. "We pay for the service," said the mayor.

In addition, the city will no

Ray B. Russell voted in as new Cooke County judge

by Elaine Schad

Former longtime Dallas Fire Department Captain Ray B. Russell is the new Cooke County Judge following action by the commissioners' court.

In a 4-0 unanimous vote, the court selected Russell, an Era resident, from five candidates for the position following two hours of interviews in closed session.

Also applying for the position were Precinct 1 Justice of the Peace Bill Freeman, Gainesville Attorney Ed Zielinski, Cooke County Probation Officer Sam Winters and Flossie Schoppa, aide to District 63 State Representative Ric Williamson.

Russell will replace County Judge Jim Robertson who resigned last week to open a private law practice.

Russell will serve until the seat is filled by the November 1992 election. Those filing will run for a two-year unexpired term. Russell said he plans to run for the office at that time.

"I think we were fortunate to have five well qualified candidates," said Precinct 1 Commissioner Danny Knight. "I think Russell impressed me with his background. He's going to be a full-time judge and he's well thought of in the community," he said.

"He'll be an asset to the county, and we can work with him," said Precinct 4 Commissioner Virgil Hess. "He plans on promoting the county."

Russell, 54, said he was pleasantly surprised with the selection. "It came up rather quickly," he said. "Frankly, I decided that I retired too soon and I've been interested in a law-related position. This just seems ideal for my training and education," he said.

Russell said he has no complaints and doesn't think there's anything wrong with Cooke County government. While he expects to make some changes as he gains experience in his new job, Russell said he thinks things are running smoothly.

Russell spent 20 years with the Dallas Fire Department. He was responsible for management of various fire stations within the city, supervising and directing emergency and training operations involving up to 50 firefighters. While with the department, he earned his economics degree from the University of North Texas in 1970. He received his law degree from Southern Methodist University School of Law in Dallas in 1970. He became a licensed attorney in 1973.

Russell operated a general law practice in Lewisville from 1973 to 1984, both as a sole practitioner and, for two years, with the law firm of Russell & Vanzura. He was a partner and managed the North Mill Mobile in Lewisville from 1959 to 1979.

Russell moved to Era in southwestern Cooke County in 1985, where he operated a limited law practice and has done some ranching. He taught local and state government at Cooke County College during the spring semester.

Russell is a member of the Era Baptist Church. He and his wife, Glenda, have two daughters and three grandchildren. Russell is also a member of the Cooke County Appraisal District Appraisal Review Board.

Nets thief 10 years...

Confession clears several theft cases

The Texas Southwest Cattle Raisers Association's latest monthly publication has announced the conviction of Chris Allen Greenead, 26, of Forestburg, for livestock theft in Montague County, and a sentence of 10 years in the Texas prison system, plus an order to pay $5,642 in restitution. His sentence runs concurrent with two other offenses, felony theft in Cooke County and livestock theft in Wise County.

Greenead has confessed to a string of thefts. He admitted selling some cattle he was being paid to look after. He said he stole three cows near Muenster; he took 30 cows and a red Limousin bull from his neighbor, J.C. Donnell. Greenead said he sold calves off the branded cows at livestock auctions in Decatur and Gainesville. He then stole cattle from Brian Walden in Wise County and moved them to the pasture where officers approached him in December, 1990.

He took officers to where he had hidden a New Holland swather stolen from Montague County. He also told them of his theft of a 16-foot flatbed trailer and a portable butane tank in Montague County, a John Deere round baler from Kenneth Alexander in Cooke County, and a hay rake and grain drill from a Wise County dairy.

After giving officers consent to search his premises, Greenead provided a written, voluntary statement to all of the thefts of equipment and cattle. All have been returned to their rightful owners.

Officers began to suspect Greenead after deer hunters told them of finding the hay baler hidden in brush in a pasture on property owned by a Midland woman who had retained Greenead to look after her cattle. The hunters knew Kenneth Alexander had lost a baler like the one in the pasture.

The Texas Southwest Cattle Raisers Association Field Inspector Larry Gray identified the Donnell and Walden cattle from brand information provided in the original TSCRA theft reports.

Other investigators involved in one of more theft cases include Field Inspector Gray, Cooke County Chief Deputy Sheriff Jim Westfall, Cooke County Investigator Larry Dennison, Montague County Sheriff Department Sergeant Barney Henson and Montague County Deputy Cleve Steed.

This information was obtained from the "TSCRA News Update."

Fire Dept. busy: Pranksters caught

Muenster Volunteer Firemen were kept busy for about two hours last Thursday night as they were called on several times to extinguish blazes caused by Halloween pranksters.

Their first call was to the Wilde Chevrolet building where a large pile of tires was burning. Over 70 tires had been stacked and were to be cut up the next day.

The most serious fires were started around midnight in dumpsters located near the Frybrant factory and behind M&W Oilfield Supply and the Miller Exxon Station. A total of $492 in damage was done to the two dumpsters. The fire burned the lids off and scorched the sides.

The three perpetrators of the dumpster fires were caught. They are minors and are making restitution. "It has been dealt with very seriously," remarked Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins.

"These could have been very serious," warned Herbie Knabe, Muenster Volunteer Department fire chief. "To deliberately start property on fire is arson and arson is a felony. There could have been a lot of damage done if smoke had gotten into the building with all of the materials inside."

Helen Tompkins noted that the prompt action of someone in reporting the fire is what saved Frybrant from damage. "The dumpster was near a fan that could have pulled smoke and sparks into the building," she said. Arson can be punished with a prison sentence.

Other calls were to put out square hay bales along Maple Street, Highway 82 and Muenster elevator. Local police officers put out several of these with fire extinguishers. The hay bale pranksters have not been caught at this time.

The fire alarm was sounded Saturday night for a structure fire. Muenster's Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call from a mobile home in Sylvan Walterscheid's trailer park, but found it had already been extinguished when they arrived.

Herbie Knabe reported that the fire was caused by a central heating system that got too hot causing radiant heat to burn a hole in a nearby wall.

How Texans voted Nov. 5

Results are mostly complete in the Nov. 5 election in which Texans were asked to go to the polls to determine if 13 proposed amendments would be added to the Lone Star State's constitution. Ten of the 13 were definitely passed, including the one creating a state lottery. Proposition 2, which would allow the state to lend money to the Texas Turnpike Authority to build toll roads, is still undecided. Propositions 5, dealing with freport exemptions, and 7, to allow teachers and state employee retirement plans to invest in real estate, failed to pass. Locally, 93 voters in Precinct 17 and 386 voters in Precinct 18 made the effort to come to the polls and cast their votes. Precinct 17 and 18 voters didn't seem to agree with the majority of the state's voters and would have passed only the lottery and the Home-Rule Amendment.

Sen. Gramm urges, 'Thank a veteran!'

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm is urging all Americans to "thank a veteran" on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, for the service that millions of vets have rendered to America.

"On Veterans Day, we honor the brave men and women who have answered the nation's call, who have gone all over the world to defend our freedom," Gramm said.

"I hope you will join me in remembering the 600,000 Americans who died for our freedom in this century and to join me in thanking the tens of millions who have served," he said.

"Like all of us, they had their individual lives which they left to stand up for America. They left their families, their schools, their jobs and went far away and served with distinction. Many faced combat and they fought with courage and pride.

"From Operation Desert Storm to the Revolutionary War, millions of Americans put on the uniform of our nation and pledged their lives to the ideal that is America," Gramm noted.

The senator said that "all of us can remember and honor those who have served and all of us can commit ourselves to the highest ideals for which they fought by working to make America the greatest country in the world."

Carriker is recipient of '91 Sierra Club Award

AUSTIN - The Lone Star Chapter of the Sierra Club has announced the recipients of the club's 1991 Legislative Service Awards. These awards honor members of the Texas Legislature who made special contributions to environmental protection and wise management of natural resources through their work in the 72nd Texas Legislature.

This year's awards are being presented to legislators who helped push their respective environmental issues in an aggressive way. "There are others who are deserving of recognition because of their sponsorship of significant environmental bills, but our award winners are legislators who were on the cutting edge of environmental protection in the Texas Legislature this year," said Ken Kramer, state director for the Sierra Club.

Hazardous Waste Management - Sen. Steve Carriker (Roby) - Sen.

Carriker, a member of the Senate Natural Resources Committee and the chairman of its Subcommittee on Agriculture, has become a major legislative leader on environmental and natural resources issues. This year one of his major legislative accomplishments in environmental protection was his successful effort to spearhead the passage of the Governor's hazardous waste management and reduction legislation in the Texas Legislature. Some of the important initiatives in that bill, S.B. 1099, which Sen. Carriker personally undertook were provisions to prevent persons or companies with bad environmental compliance records from receiving permits for hazardous waste capabilities in those communities where waste management facilities are permitted. Thanks to Sen. Carriker the State of Texas has progressed significantly in the management of hazardous wastes.

Families Burdened By Taxes

by Edwin Feulner

The under-30 generation may be the first in American history that fails to do better than its parents.

According to a recent article in Business Week magazine, the median income of families headed by someone under 30 is now 13 percent lower than it was in 1973, and is falling fast. And while family income is plummeting, family taxes are rising.

Consider: In 1948, the average family of four paid 2 percent of its income in federal taxes. Today, this same family pays 24 percent. That translates into an income loss of about $8,200 in 1991 dollars — enough to pay the typical mortgage on an average family home.

Meanwhile, the value of the personal exemption for children has failed to keep pace with inflation. In 1948, a median-income family of four received a $600 tax exemption per person, or about 20 percent of its total income. In 1989, the personal exemption was $2,150, or only about 6 percent of its income.

Even Congress is recognizing the growing crisis. Lawmakers from both sides of the aisle have introduced bills to give tax relief to the besieged middle class.

Whichever plan is approved, there is much damage to undo: When federal, state and local taxes are considered, government now swallows more than one-third of the income of a two-parent family. Indeed, families with children are the lowest income group in the United States, with an average after-tax income below that of the elderly, single people, and couples without children.

Caught between falling incomes and rising taxes, families have less money to buy the goods that feed our economy. Many have had to abandon the dream of owning their own homes, fueling the crisis in the housing industry. And the two-income family — once a rarity — now is a near-necessity for survival.

This has created another set of problems.

Many liberals view the pinch as a sign that families need more government help. And so Washington responds to today's economic problems by creating more government programs, and then raises taxes to pay for them. The result? Families find themselves on an economic treadmill.

There are better ways to help the family. Let's start by creating a $1,000 tax credit — that means a check from the U.S. Treasury for $1,000 — for each child.

One advantage of tax credits is that they grant each family the same amount of tax relief, while tax exemptions favor higher-income families. For example, families in the 18 percent tax bracket receive only 18 percent of the $2,150 exemption — or $387 — in tax relief. But a family in the 28 percent bracket receives $602.

In addition, tax credits can be used by families to offset their Social Security taxes, as well as income tax. This would mean greater relief for low-income families, most of whom pay heavy Social Security taxes.

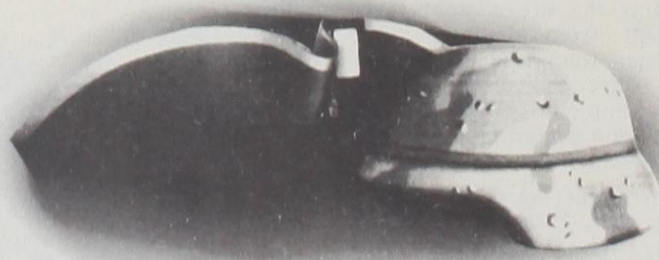

We can't afford to allow government to tax the family out of existence. America's most valuable resource — the family — is the means by which each generation passes on to the next the values that have helped this nation to endure and thrive.

Once the family has been targeted by the tax assassins in Washington, the nation itself is at risk.

Note: Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington, D.C.-based public policy research institute.

Transfer program used in sales tax allocation

AUSTIN - "Roughly 81 percent of this month's local sales tax rebate to Texas cities and counties was sent through an electronic funds transfer program," State Comptroller John Sharp said recently announcing total rebates of approximately $100 million for the month.

"Electronic funds transfer provides local governments instant access to their money and the state saves on the cost of paper, envelopes and postage," Sharp said.

Era ISD sets new tax rate

by Elaine Schad

Era school trustees set the district tax rate at .34 per $100 of assessed property value during its regular October meeting.

The rate represents 29.5 cents for the general operating fund and 4.5 cents for debt service. When combined with the county education tax rate of 93 cents, the total school levy in Era will be $1.27 this year. Last year's tax rate was $1.16.

Despite the increase, the new rate will generate about $4,000 less in local property tax revenue for the district, from $377,253 from last year to $373,269 for 1991, said Superintendent Dale Smiley. That is due to increased homestead and elderly exemptions. Also, the district will no longer tax personal property, such as automobiles, which will remove about $3 million of value from the tax rolls.

This is the first year the district will make payments on a $1.2 million bond approved by voters this spring to fund the construction of a new high school. The district's debt payment will be $231,157, with $108,000 going toward the new bond, said Smiley.

Cities in Cooke County received a total of $99,913.94. This is an increase of 4.37 percent over last October's total rebate of $95,732.55. All local cities' October rebate checks were up over last year.

Muenster received $8,905.76, a 21.64 percent increase. Other amounts and increases were Gainesville, $80,803.88, (0.79 percent); Lindsay $4,095.19, (13.68 percent); Oak Ridge $2,975.80 (4.05 percent); and Valley View $3,133.31 (76.32 percent).

Cooke County's October rebate check was $50,565.37 which was down 1.85 percent. The 1991 payments to date total $565,142.48 which is up 42.28 percent over 1990's payments to this date.

Student Council Helps Needy

by Lisa Schilling

The Sacred Heart Student Council has been very busy in the last few weeks. On Saturday, Nov. 2, the Student Council attended a TASC (Texas Association of Student Councils) district meet held at Arlington High School. Each year, the councils were asked to clothe a four year old. Donations of clothes were collected by Student Council and brought to the meet.

Vows exchanged in Nov. 1 ceremony

MRS. MARK CHRISTIAN RIGSBY
...nee Karri Lynn Ramsey...

Karri Lynn Ramsey, daughter of Eddie and Sherry Ramsey of Muenster, became the bride of Mark Christian Rigsby, son of Phil and Brenda Rigsby of Muenster, on Friday, Nov. 1, 1991. The couple chose that day because it was the 22nd anniversary of the bride's parents' wedding.

The bride is the granddaughter of Melvin and Nita Ramsey of Whitesboro. The groom is the grandson of Raymond and Margaret Henson of Bowie and Walter and Jane Rigsby of Mesquite.

Rev. Andy Cherry, pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony in Muenster First Baptist Church at 7 p.m. A western theme was developed throughout the wedding.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was wearing a white western dress, designed with fringe on the yoke, silver lace overlays and silver tips on the collar. Her shoes were silver and her hairpiece was made of white silk flowers with burgundy rosebuds and pearl sprays. She carried an arm bouquet of burgundy roses and white baby's breath, tied with burgundy ribbon.

The groom's cake was a chocolate horseshoe creation, covered in chocolate icing and decorated with silver ceramic boots and hats and a lariat. Punch was served from an elegant crystal punch bowl. Both cakes were created by Betty Rose Walterscheid of Muenster.

Reception assistants were Jennifer Chenault of Carrollton, Sandy Tempel, sister of the bride, and Amy Hoenig, both of Muenster.

The gift table was covered with white bandanas, and held burgundy and silver candles in burgundy floral candleholders created by the groom's mother, which she trimmed with white baby's breath, burgundy berries and silver sparkles.

A special banner, created by Dianne Walterscheid of Muenster, was displayed on the wall behind the bride's table. It read "Mark and Karri, Nov. 1, 1991," in burgundy paint and was trimmed in silver.

Rice bags, created by the bride's mother, simulated tiny boots of bandana fabric, set in a large silver western hat lined with a burgundy bandana.

Pictures and a video were made by Gregory Pennington of Mesquite, bride's uncle, and Gary Cummons, also of Mesquite and a friend of the groom's family.

The rehearsal dinner was held on Thursday evening at The Center Restaurant and was highlighted by the Halloween costumes of the waitresses.

Following the western theme of the ceremony, the bride and groom left from the Fellowship Hall to spend the weekend at the historic Fort Worth Stockyards. Since returning, they are at home in Muenster.

The bride is a 1991 graduate of Muenster High School, where she belonged to the FHA, the Yearbook Club and the Spanish Club. She is currently attending Cooke County College.

The groom attended school in Bowie and graduated from Muenster High School in 1989, where he was a member of the FFA. He also attended Texas State Technical Institute in Waco. He is employed at Tony's Seed and Feed in Muenster.

Among out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mark Breeding and Angelia Clark of Krum; Delores Sutton and Lucian Clark of Waco; Gary, Patrick and Blake Cummons of Mesquite; Walter and Jane Rigsby of Mesquite; Carole and Greg Pennington of Mesquite; Joy and Steve Robinson of Denton; Patti Mauldin of Denton; Shanda Clark and Shara Brewer of Saint Jo; Brenda and Roy Ramsey of Lake Kiowa; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Smith Jr. of Thackerville, OK; Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Pennington Jr. of Dell City, OK; David Ellington of Dell City, OK; Bruce and Phyllis Taylor and Sarah Bane of Irving; Jennifer Chenault of Carrollton; Dolores Waggoner and Larissa of Whitesboro; John Ramsey and family of Whitesboro; Tracy and Lisa Ramsey of Whitesboro; Raymond and Margaret Henson of Bowie.

ATTENDANTS

Amy Hoenig of Muenster, bride's best friend, was her maid of honor. She wore a burgundy two-piece suit, accented with floral print. Her flowers matched the bride's bouquet.

Cindy Tempel, niece of the bride, and Paige Rigsby, groom's sister, were flower girls. They carried white wicker baskets filled with burgundy and white flowers with burgundy and iridescent streamers. Chad Tempel, nephew of the bride, carried the ring pillow with the couple's rings tied amidst the lace and satin. Cindy and Chad are children of Jeff and Sandy Tempel of Muenster.

Patrick Cummons of Mesquite, the groom's best friend, was his best man. Blake Cummons of Mesquite, a friend of the groom, ushered guests to their seats.

Candlelighters were Robin Ramsey of Whitesboro, bride's cousin, and Sarah Bane of Irving, groom's cousin.

Wedding music included love songs, instrumentals and taped country/western melodies.

Decorations in the church continued the western theme. Pew markers were burgundy bandanas centered with ceramic silver boots. A pair of tall candelabra stands held vantage spots, with each white candleholder topped with a small ceramic burgundy cowboy hat that held a lighted white candle. A burgundy bow and silver streamers were tied to the center of each candelabra, centered with a ceramic black boot initialed in silver. All ceramics were created and produced by the bride's mother.

As the mothers of the couple entered, each lit a burgundy candle flanking the Unity candle, which was decorated with white lace and stood in a white silk flower ring, accented with burgundy rosebuds, on a table covered with a lace cloth and a burgundy bandana.

A floral arrangement of burgundy roses, white carnations and silver ribbons in a crystal bowl decorated the altar.

As the bride entered the church, approaching the altar, she paused to present her mother a burgundy longstem rose with baby's breath. Upon leaving, she gave the groom's mother an identical rose. All flowers for the bridal party were created by Bouquets and Gifts.

RECEPTION

A reception followed the church service, and was held in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church, hosted by parents of the couple.

The registry table was covered with a floor-length white skirt with lace overlay and held burgundy flowers creating swags on the overskirt, a pair of burgundy and silver ceramic coyotes, burgundy and silver candles, a plumed pen, the guest book, a silver fan trimmed with lace, burgundy ribbon, flowers and pearl sprays.

The bride's table was covered with a burgundy cloth with a crocheted overskirt. Burgundy bandanas formed a diamond pattern, with a burgundy and silver ceramic boot containing burgundy roses complimenting the refreshments.

The white, three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with a curving spray of burgundy roses, cascading down the side of the three tiers. The top keepsake layer held a bridal couple figurine, with the groom wearing a black western hat and the bride carrying burgundy flowers. A horseshoe carrying the message "Congratulations" provided the backdrop for the porcelain bridal couple.

To My Sister

Remember the times...

- ... of dolls and sand pies
- ... of our first day of school
- ... of our hairbrush fights
- ... of sharing our clothes
- ... of listening to the Beatles
- ... of milking the cows
- ... of putting up with our brothers
- ... of our first heartbreak
- ... of Mom and Dad waiting up for us
- ... of losing our grandparents
- ... of our wedding days
- ... of having babies
- ... of changing diapers
- ... of raising teenagers

Memories that make life complete as you have made mine!

Your sister and friend forever,

Happy 40th!

Love, Charlotte

Baptisms

Stoffels

Emily Ann Stoffels, daughter of Craig and Connie Stoffels, was baptized Sunday, Sept. 29, 1991 at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Denton. Serving as celebrant for the Mass was Father Sergio.

For her baptism, Emily wore the same dress that was worn by her mother for her baptism. Representing Emily as godparents were Bubba and Melinda Klement of Muenster and Connie and Ken Rheams of Tucson, Arizona. Following the baptism ceremony, Emily's parents hosted a special dinner and an afternoon of fun at their home in Denton. Attending the dinner as special guests were Emily's grandparents Robert and Laujuana Klement and Herman and Alma Stoffels, and great-grandparents Tony and Sis Klement, all of Muenster. Other guests included many family members and friends.

Unable to attend but sending blessings were great-grandparents Betty and Jimmy Montgomery of Gainesville. Following the dinner, guests were served a "special" baptismal cake created by Emily's aunt, Pam Dangelmayr.

Felderhoff

Chelsea Anne Felderhoff was baptized into God's family on Oct. 13, 1991. She is the infant daughter of Floyd and Marceline Felderhoff of Midland. Father Fred Norwarakas was the officiating minister for the afternoon ceremony in St. Ann's Church in Midland. Godparents are Bernice Bartel and Kevin Felderhoff. Terry Bartel was proxy for Kevin Felderhoff of Birmingham, Alabama.

Attending the church service were her parents, Floyd and Marceline Felderhoff, and her brother Justin, all of Midland; her grandparents, Henry and Betty Felderhoff and Walter and Celine Bartel; also aunts, Bernice, Adrienne and Jessica Bartel, and uncle, Terry Bartel, all of Muenster.

Chelsea Anne wore the same christening gown worn by her father for his baptism, made by her great-grandmother, Millie Fleitman, thus continuing a tradition in the family.

An afternoon lunch was served, hosted by Chelsea's parents. A special christening cake was beautifully decorated, welcoming the infant into God's family. Gifts were opened with the help of big brother, Justin. Pictures were made; also a video was made of the baptism.

Family members spent the weekend visiting and enjoying the new baby. On Saturday, Oct. 13, Floyd, Justin, Henry, Betty, Walter and Terry attended the first Air Show of the Confederate Air Force held at Midland International Airport. Afterwards, all the family was together for a hamburger supper.

Unable to attend, but sending greetings, were aunts and uncles, Lorene and Jeff Dudley of Gainesville and Juline Bartel and Tim Bartel of Muenster.

Radiology Dept. saluted

November 4-10 is National Radiology Technicians Week and the Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has joined the nation by paying tribute to the local radiology department and the two staff members who operate the equipment.

Kay Bynum is supervisor of the Radiology Department. She has been with the Muenster Memorial Hospital since January of 1981. Tom Hesse also works in the department. He has been an employee of MMH since it opened in February of 1964.

The hospital does diagnostic radiology which includes sonography, fluoroscopy, and mammography. Kay has been specially trained in mammograms. The mammography suite is separate from the radiology department.

"Muenster Memorial Hospital is dedicated to fighting breast cancer through early detection," remarked Kay. "In our personalized, private and convenient suite, we offer a mammogram to meet a patient's specific needs. Our suite includes the latest state of the art equipment technology. In addition, breast self-examination, and breast health education are provided."

Personal notes of appreciation are being sent from the Auxiliary to each member of the radiology staff.

District Champion Muenster fumbles by Era

The Muenster defense held their opponents, the other Hornet team, to a total of 10 yards Friday night in Era. Era gained 2 yards in 35 carries and 8 yards in the air, while Muenster ran up 136 yards on the ground and 120 on the air waves.

The extremely cold weather was to blame for the numerous fumbled balls. Though most were recovered by their carriers, each team did lose 3 turnovers each. "The field was wet, spongy and cold," said Coach Grady Roller. "Both teams had a hard time moving the ball on the ground. Warmer weather, that's what I want."

Muenster took the opening kick, starting their drive near mid-field. Short runs by Kenneth Walterscheid, Jay Hennigan and Rodney Vogel picked up the first 10 yards. A fumbled ball set the Red Hornets back 11 yards, though the next play, Ryan Sicking picked up 16 yards on a reverse play. An incomplete pass on 4th and 5 gave Era's offense possession on their 40-yard line. Two plays later, Doug Hennigan picked off a pass and Muenster regained the ball on the Era 45. Walterscheid and J. Hennigan carried the ball to the 24. A pass to Sicking picked up 7, but the Red Hornets came up a yard short on fourth down and Era took the ball on the 14. Three runs gained only Gobble ran out the remaining seconds as the teams went to the lockers at halftime with a 6-0 score.

Era's offense took to the field to begin the second half. Three runs forced the team to punt on 4th and 12. It took only two plays for Gobble to find D. Hennigan, who ran for a 73-yard touchdown play. A pass to Darren Bindel gave Muenster a 14-point lead.

Penalties and Muenster's defense forced Era to a 4th and 17 at midfield. Muenster struggled on their next drive, gaining only 4 yards in three plays, punting on fourth down. Era fumbled the next play, on the defense side of the line of scrimmage, and Ryan Sicking picked up the ball for a 62-yard touchdown. Sicking ran in the PAT and Muenster extended their lead 22-0.

The Gold Hornets were assisted in their next drive by a 5-yard penalty, but the Red team held them for a 10-yard loss, making them punt on 4th and 15. Sicking, Hennigan and Vogel took Muenster into the final quarter. Vogel led the rushing as the drive continued to the 8-yard line. Again, Gobble found Doug Hennigan in the end zone. The PAT failed and, with 9 minutes remaining in the game, the score read 28-0.

Penalties gave Era a first down on their next drive, but penalties

DOUG HENNIGAN stretches out ahead of his Era Hornet defender to bring in a pass that turned into a 73-yard touchdown.

Sacred Heart changes district

For the 1992-93 and '93-94 school years, Sacred Heart School has been assigned to a new district in TAPPS (Texas Association of Private and Parochial Schools). They will go into Class A Division 1 in football and Division 5 in basketball and track.

The next two years will see the Sacred Heart football team playing some new teams. The schools which are included in Class A Division 1 are Tyler Street Christian and Lakehill Preparatory of Dallas, Masonic Home of Fort Worth and Pantego Christian Academy of Arlington.

The basketball and track teams will both be faced with new competitors. The schools which are included in Class A Division 5 are Evangel Temple of Grand Prairie, the Selwyn School of Denton, Happy Hills Farm of Granbury, Harmony Christian, Masonic Home, Southwest Christian, Meadowbrook Christian and Truth Christian, all of Fort Worth.

Coach Jon LeBrasseur is currently serving as the temporary district chairman. The change will give Sacred Heart some advantages, mainly the teams will not have to travel long distances. All of the teams in Class A divisions are located in or around the Dallas/Fort Worth area.

CROSS COUNTRY DISTRICT CHAMPIONS, the Muenster Hornettes, will compete in the Regional Meet Saturday, Nov. 9, at Vandergriff Park in Arlington. ## Weldon wins Contest!

Week 9 of the Football Contest again had some easy picks, but also some upsets. Every one of the 46 entries picked the correct winners of Muenster, Nocona and Pilot Point - only one missed TCU over SMU and one missed the Longhorns' game because he forgot to pick a winner. The same contestant didn't pick a winner for the A&M game and missed that game with another entry. Two also incorrectly guessed the outcome of Henrietta's 47-0 win over Paradise. Only four picked the Cowboys to lose.

The most missed game was Thackerville's loss to Mountain View in Oklahoma. Forty incorrectly chose Thackerville; 34 picked Gainesville to lose and 29 missed Callisburg's loss to S&S. Only 10 correctly picked Collinsville to defeat Lindsay, while 16 went wrong with Valley View and 15 missed Lubbock Christian's win.

In the tiebreaker game, 29 entries correctly chose Sacred Heart with Edna Hermes and Weldon Hermes guessing the correct score.

This week's winner was Weldon Hermes. He correctly picked the winners of 22 of the 25 games. Chris Stoffels earned second place with 21 correct and a 16-point difference on the tiebreaker. Nick Walterscheid finished third with 21 correct and a 17-point spread on the tiebreaker, while Barbie Barnhill settled for fourth also with 21 correct games, but missed the tiebreaker game.

Following closely with 20 games were J.B. Gray, Joe Pagel, Benny Haverkamp, Mike Stoffels, Wayne Klement, Eric Miller and John Bartush.

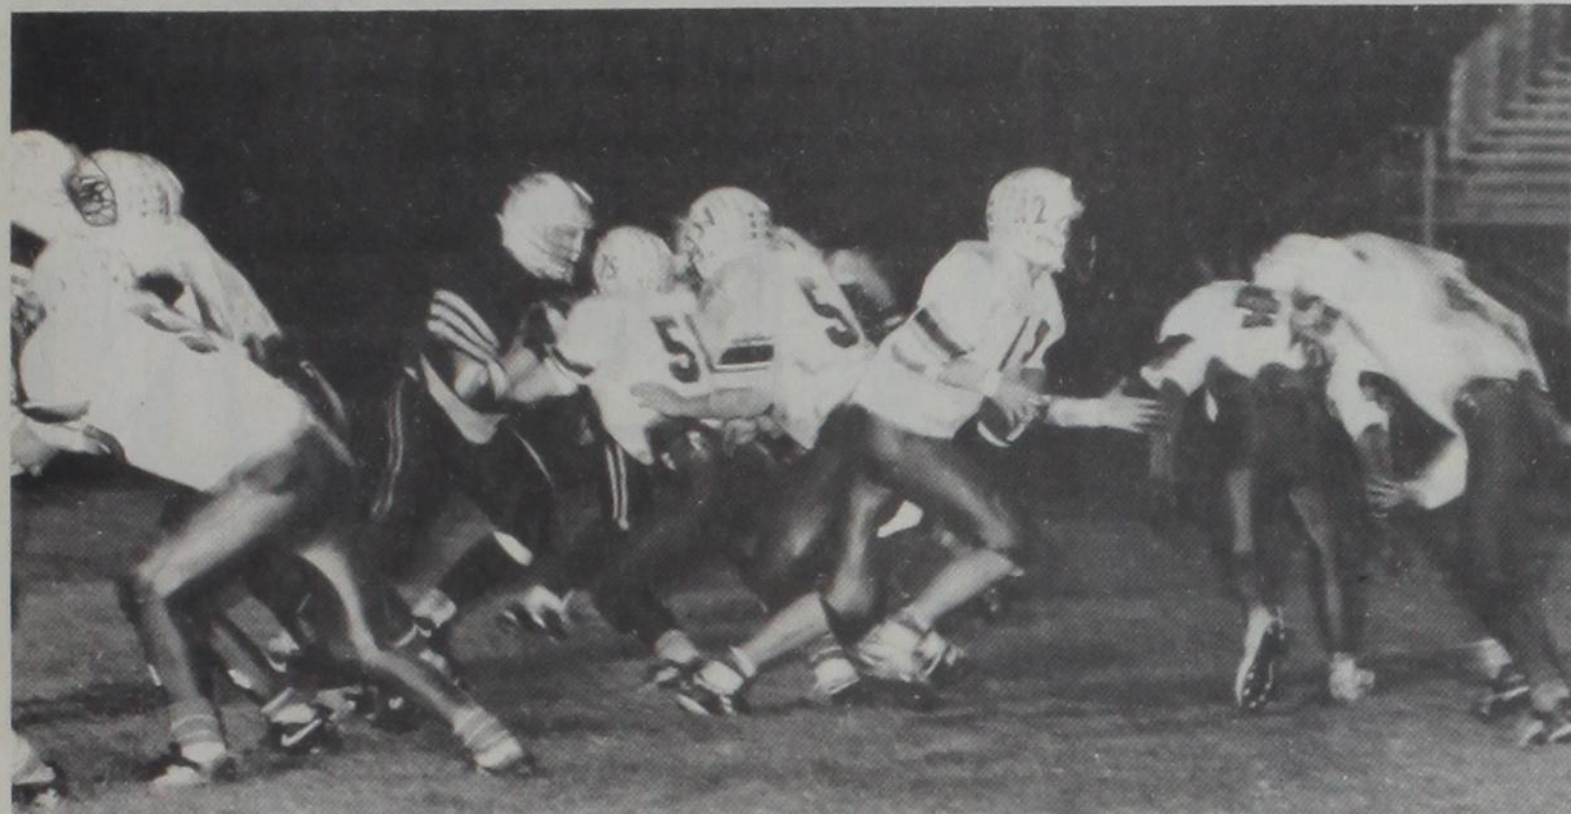

Last week's tiebreaker sponsor was the Muenster Beer Distributors.

3 yards; Era punted and Muenster again had the ball on the 45.

Kenneth Walterscheid took the ball inside the 20 on a 21-yard scamper to end the first quarter. The drive was complete when Mike Gobble found D. Hennigan in the end zone for 6 points two plays later. The attempted extra point failed and the scoreboard read 6-0 with 10:35 on the clock.

Era ran three plays and punted, but regained possession when Daniel Proffer covered a fumbled ball two plays later. Nathan Potts carried the ball for five consecutive plays, but Era was forced to punt on 4th and 8. Muenster again dropped and ball and Daniel McCage covered for Era on Muenster's 16-yard line. The next play, Steven Fisher recovered the ball and Muenster's attempt to move out into open field was stopped when the punter, on 4th and 7, was called down on the 1-yard line. An offside call and two defensive stops pushed Era back to the 8-yard line. Potts regained the 7 yards to the 1, but on 4th and goal, Muenster's defense held.

halted their attempt, coming up short. On 4th and 13, Harvey Hubbard covered a loose ball on Muenster's 48-yard line. The Red Hornets got in two plays and fumbled the ball back to Era. Three plays pushed Era back 8 yards, but a penalty assisted, giving the Gold team a 3rd and 13. A fumbled ball was covered by Kenneth Walterscheid and set the ball on the Muenster 32-yard line.

Two incomplete passes and a 15-yard flag put Muenster deep on their 17-yard line. A 19-yard gain took the ball to a 4th and 6 play. Taking the chance, Gobble completed a pass to Hennigan for a 15-yard gain. Muenster ran the clock out in the next two plays.

"The last four weeks, the defense played really good football with our offense struggling," said Coach Roller, crediting Mike Hacker and Tony Perryman for playing their best games. "Our rushing game was not that good, but our passing was superb," continued the coach. "Mike threw well with the blockers keeping pressure away." Gobble sat out

Chad Cheaney was injured in the fourth quarter, but should be back full strength for the playoff game in two weeks.

Coach Roller's attempts to schedule a game Friday night failed, so Muenster varsity will be idle this week. The junior varsity will travel to Whitesboro Thursday for a 6 p.m. game. Freshmen and sophomores only will play.

UIL passes changes

The University Interscholastic League Legislative Council met last week and approved several high school rulings. The Council instructed the UIL staff to release the Conference A basketball realignments in late January with all the other conferences rather than delaying the release until the summer.

In other action dealing with Class A athletics, the Legislative Council passed: delay issuing football shoes and socks by one day in August 1992; prohibit coaches from organizing non-school ball teams during the school year; limit tennis and golf invitational tournament to a maximum of one school day per tournament; permit a student to return money and other valuable considerations to regain eligibility.

The UIL staff was also instructed by the Council to study and survey charging admission for all scrimmages, permit (but not require) schools to charge admission for scrimmages and a central site for the football championships.

If approved by the State Board of Education in November, the new proposals could go into effect next school year.

Tigers win, advance to playoffs

After seven consecutive losses the Sacred Heart Tigers brought home a district victory Friday night, 12-6, over the Notre Dame Knights of Wichita Falls. "I was very pleased with the win; we still tried hard to let it slip away," said Tiger Coach John Nasche, "but when Notre Dame threatened we came up and stopped them." Sacred Heart held the Knights for three goal line stands. "When you play nine close games, sooner or later you win one," said Coach Nasche.

Stevan Nasche took the opening kick 15 yards to the Tigers' 35-yard line. Nasche carried the ball twice for 16 yards and a Sacred Heart first down. A combination of runs by Chris Hess, Nasche and Trent Trubenbach gained another ten yards. Three unsuccessful plays, including a 12-yard quarterback sack forced the Tigers to punt on 4th and 22. A roughing-the-kicker penalty gave Sacred Heart a first down after officials straightened out a confused chain gain. The Tigers' continued attempt failed on the needed yardage, and Notre Dame began their first drive on their 15-yard line.

Gary Paschall took the Knights to the 36 on Notre Dame's first play, but Sacred Heart's defense of Gary Hess, Werner Becker and Chris Hess forced the Knights to punt. From midfield runs by Nasche and Hess carried the ball to the 28. Nasche connected with Mark Flusche for another ten yards, but a fumbled play gave the ball to the Knights on their 15-yard line. Notre Dame carried the ball into the second quarter, punting on fourth down.

The Tigers' next drive was topped by a pass from Nasche to Kelly Bell for a 28-yard gain. Nasche, on a keeper around the left guard, picked up another 11 to the 15-yard line. Runs by Trubenbach and Nasche left the Tigers with a 4th and 5 on the 10-yard line. The attempt failed and the Knights took over on their 14-yard line.

Notre Dame moved to midfield in ten plays before losing the ball on downs. Sacred Heart's next three plays failed to pick up 10 yards and they punted the ball back to the Knights. The Knights had three very successful plays, moving to the Tigers' 16-yard line.

Kelly Bayer, Nasche, Barry Hess, Gary Hess, and Chris Hess halted the Knights, giving possession to Sacred Heart on their 10-yard line with 2:25 remaining in the first half. Chris Hess picked up 31 yards in four carries before the siren blew to end the quarter.

Nasche took the kick to begin the 3rd quarter on the 15-yard line, carrying it to the 34. Runs by Chris Hess and Trent Trubenbach took the ball into Knight territory, but two penalties and a 7-yard loss gave the Tigers the decision to quick kick the ball away on 3rd and 26.

From their 26, Notre Dame moved to the Tigers' 1-yard line in five plays. Sacred Heart's defense again held at the goal line. Mark Flusche, Kelly Bell, Gary Hess, and Scott Hennigan held for three plays, but on 4th down a 5-yard pass took the Knights in for six points. The extra kick was wide and Notre Dame took a 6-0 lead with 5:11 on the clock.

The Tigers started their next drive on the 25, but were forced to kick after failing to pick up the needed 10 yards. On the Knights' first play, Werner Becker covered a loose ball on the Knights' 30-yard line. Two plays later Chris Hess broke several tackles and ran 31 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick was blocked and with 2:17 remaining on the 3rd quarter clock the game was tied 6-6.

After a good kick return, a completed pass for 49 yards placed Notre Dame on the Tigers' 21-yard line. Three incomplete passes gave Sacred Heart the ball on downs.

The Tigers began their next possession on their 16-yard line as the final quarter began. Moving 84 yards in 13 plays, the drive was highlighted with Chris Hess picking up 37 yards in 6 plays, assisted with a 12-yard keeper by Nasche, a 16-yard pass play to Jason Frost, and 20 yards in penalties. From the 13-yard line Chris Hess took the ball into the end zone on a run wide to the left for six points. The extra point run didn't go and the Tigers took a 12-6 lead with 6:56 remaining in the game.

Notre Dame bounced right back when the kick was returned 83 yards to the 7-yard line. Kelly Bell stopped the runner. An attempted pass play into the end zone gave the official the opportunity to pull the flag from his pocket, calling an interference on the Tigers. The ball was moved to the 1-yard line. Two attempted runs pushed the Knights back three yards, followed by two incomplete passes. The Tigers took over on their 4-yard line.

Hess and Trubenbach took the ball out to the 23 on two runs, but the Tigers failed to pick up a second first down in the drive, booting the ball to their 39-yard line. The Knights moved to the 21, but the scoring threat was stopped when Stevan Nasche picked off a pass in the end zone. With 1:28 remaining in the game the Tigers' offense took to the field.

Stevan Nasche picked up three yards up the middle, but a motion flag took the ball back to the 22. Chris Hess gained six yards on second down, but on third and 16 was caught for a 9-yard loss. As time ticked off the clock, the Tigers stepped up to the line of scrimmage. A Notre Dame player, in disgust, kicked the downed ball into the side lines. Flags flew, stopping the clock. A 5-yard delay of game infraction was stepped off and the clock was started again as the last seconds cleared the scoreboard.

"Our offensive 'Hogs' won the game for us," said Nasche. "Chris' rushing was due to the 'Hogs.' We controlled the game on the line of scrimmage." The offensive line includes Scott Hennigan, Gary Hess, Kelly Bayer, Greg Hess and Werner Becker.

Chris Hess was the game's leading rusher, gaining 130 yards in 27 carries. Gary Paschall picked up 100 yards in 18 attempts. Stevan Nasche completed 3 of 7 passes for a total of 51 yards.

Defensive standouts were Gary Hess, Greg Hess, Kelly Bayer, Kelly Bell, Stevan Nasche, Scott Hennigan and Chris Hess.

"We've got to continue to improve to win down the road in the playoffs," continued the coach. Sacred Heart will host Lubbock

Christian, the third district member, Friday night. "We have to stop Shawn McClain and Will Watts; if so, we should be able to win," stated Nasche. "McClain, a 205 lb. sophomore, is faster than our team except for Chris, and Watts is faster yet." Size-wise, both teams match up. Nasche is looking for a real close and competitive game, with whoever gets the breaks to win. The game will decide the District Championship and which team the Tigers will match up against in play off competition. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Junior High Football

Muenster vs. Era

The Muenster junior high Hornets played the Era Hornets Saturday afternoon in a rescheduled match. Era outscored Muenster 36-12 in a cold, windy game. "Era was bigger, faster, stronger and older," said Coach Kyle Baker. "We scored our touchdowns on trick plays."

Muenster's first score was made on a belly bomb, delayed reverse play. Cody Sicking took that play 55 yards for six points.

An on-side kick was successful, but the young Reds couldn't hang onto the ball to score again in the first half. The halftime score was 20-6.

Era took a 36-6 score before Muenster came back the fourth quarter. After Era's last touchdown, Cody Sicking picked up the bouncing kicked ball and ran 99½ yards for another touchdown.

"We're the only team that scored more than once on Era," concluded Baker. The junior high boys finished the season 2-4.

SH vs. Notre Dame

"We moved the ball up and down the field, but the big boys would stop our little guys," said

Cub Coach Danny Walterscheid. "And a few miscues because we weren't ready for the cold weather didn't help."

The game ended in a scoreless 0-0 tie, but the Cubs did manage to get inside the 20-yard line several times, but couldn't score. The Cubs played 6-minute quarters. "We didn't have time to score, we're a ground control offense," said the coach.

The offensive line of Toby Hess, Scott Poole, Greg Flusche, Joel Schilling and Jacob Luke were credited for doing a good job, considering their opponents outweighed them 30 pounds per man. John Klement, Joseph McCoy and Brandon Bayer did a good job running as Paul Swirczynski did as quarterback.

Walterscheid also credits the defense for an outstanding game. "They stopped the big boys; except for one play, we dominated the game." Defensive players included Brandon Bayer, John Klement, Jake McCoy, Doug Novack and John Bartush.

The Cubs rescheduled their game with St. Mary's. It is to be played Friday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. on the Tiger Field.

New boat, motor tax is in effect

AUSTIN - Texans who buy a taxable boat or motor must pay a 6.25 percent sales or use tax. This new law went into effect Oct. 1.

Part of House Bill 11, passed during the second special session of the Texas Legislature, imposes the sales tax on all sales of taxable boats and motors. Also, new residents who bring a boat registered in another state to Texas must pay $15 for the boat and $15 for the motor.

A taxable boat is a boat other than a canoe, kayak, rowboat, raft, punt or other vessel designed to be propelled by paddle, oar or pole. A taxable motor is an outboard motor with an internal combustion engine.

The taxes may be paid to the TPWD or the county tax assessor collector. If they're not paid within 20 working days of the date of sale or the date of entrance into the state, 5 percent of the tax due will be assessed as a penalty. If they're not paid in 30 days after the due date, another 5 percent penalty is added, he said. It is a criminal offense to knowingly operate a taxable boat or motor in Texas and the person knows the tax imposed has not been paid and is delinquent. For information about a boat or outboard title and registration call the TPWD at 1-800-262-8755 or (512) 389-4828.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Make the Most of Winter Pasture

After getting off to a slow start, winter pastures should begin to improve in the next few weeks due to favorable weather conditions, including badly needed rains that came last week.

Winter pastures are high quality forage and represent considerable investment. Therefore, it's important that forage and livestock producers make the most of their winter pastures.

First, use forage sparingly. This means limiting grazing until forage is growing faster than animals are consuming it. Wait until pastures are fully tilled and you have a good secondary root system. This usually happens about six weeks after emergence if growing conditions are favorable.

For stocker calves, grazing twice a day at 45-minute to one-hour intervals usually is adequate to supply their needs. For cows with calves, once-a-day grazing from one to two hours is satisfactory. Also, a "creepgate" can be effective for controlling grazing by cows while permitting full use by young calves. Dairy cattle usually can attain their needs by grazing twice-a-day for one to one and one-half hours.

Cattle train easily to come out of the winter pasture to an adjoining area of dry grass and soil. Protected areas of brush or trees are beneficial for shelter from wind and rain.

You can provide high quality hay and small amounts of grain to help train cattle to come out of the winter pasture. Many growers realize that keeping cattle from lying on winter pasture or from excess trampling results in more efficient use of forage.

By using forage sparingly, good quality hay or ample grain can be harvested from excess growth in late spring.

Second, be sure adequate amounts of fertilizer are applied for additional growth. Winter pastures can use up fertilizer applied at planting. Soil tests and plant analyses are helpful for determining if forage is obtaining adequate amounts of plant nutrients and for deciding on additional fertilizers needed. Apply topdress fertilizer while soil is firm enough to support application equipment.

Winter pastures are more expensive than summer pastures but can return greater dividends year in and year out.

Regardless of what they say in the EEC...

Hormones in beef are safe ... really!

By DONALD STOTTS

Recently, Dutch authorities conducted raids on 45 businesses as part of an investigation into suspected illegal trade in banned animal growth hormones. This, in turn, is causing some Americans to draw false conclusions about the use of growth hormones approved for use in the U.S.

Three years ago, the European Economic Community decided to ban use of growth hormones in cattle. The main reason for this decision was not scientific, but political, explains David Henneberry, Oklahoma State University international marketing specialist.

"The EC was having to subsidize its beef industry heavily," says Henneberry. "By making growth hormones illegal, they were able to remove competing imports from the U.S. and other nations that utilized growth hormones to a large extent."

But since protectionist trade policies draw the ire of other trading nations, the ban was presented as a health issue originally. It was not until months later that EC authorities admitted their real concern was in maintaining the viability of European cattlemen.

Unfortunately, the original reason for the ban was highly publicized in sensationalistic newspaper headlines and television newscasts. This made the original EC claim more memorable than the truth, a condition which continues to mar perceptions today.

The Food and Drug Administration and the United States Department of Agriculture have examined growth hormones extensively, and found there are no health risks from utilizing compounds approved for use in the U.S., according to Keith Lusby, OSU Extension beef cattle specialist.

"Growth hormones approved for use in the U.S. basically are compounds that either occur naturally in an animal's body or mimic naturally occurring compounds," says Lusby. "Generally, we're talking about estrogen, testosterone or some similar natural compound."

Compounds approved for use in the U.S. increase pre-existing compounds already in the animal's body only by a very slight degree. For example, the levels found in pregnant cows and cycling heifers are much higher than in an implanted steer.

In fact, there is enough natural variation among estrogen levels in animals that it is impossible to determine if a carcass is from an animal that received an implant or is from an animal that did not. Nor is the level of estrogen present in beef carcasses dangerous to consumers.

"There is 400 times the amount of estrogen in a human mother's milk than in cattle subjected to growth hormones," says Lusby. "Strangely, you do not hear anyone protesting for a ban on breast feeding."

There has been extensive use of animal growth hormones in the U.S. since 1960. Historically, the beef industry's safety record is unparalleled. Lusby suggests much of the safety success can be attributed to the skill of American cattlemen.

"American cattle operations tend to be more extensive than the smaller European farms, and generally are run more like a business than operations overseas," says Lusby. "This business orientation generally has spurred U.S. cattlemen to take greater efforts to learn how to utilize growth compounds properly and to develop herd management programs that promote a safe end-product."

One major factor in the growth hormone controversy is that public perception of a problem and the problem itself often are two different things. As such, Lusby advises consumers to remember the history of food safety concerns as presented in newspapers and on television the past few years.

"There always is a big splash that grabs everybody's attention. The story usually is full of conflict, and everyone's reading the newspaper or watching the television for more information," he says. "Then, two to three weeks later, both sides of the story are presented and people see the truth often is very different from the initial sensationalism."

The problems currently faced by Europe do not exist in the U.S., explains Lusby. In Europe, the ban on hormones has resulted in widespread illegal use of growth compounds. Furthermore, the compounds being utilized are not only those approved for use in the U.S., but also unsafe compounds that are not approved for use anywhere.

"The ban has caused Europe to go from a largely controlled, safe situation to an uncontrolled, illegal problem," says Lusby. "Even in cases where hormone residues were found prior to the EC ban, it was a situation of some European cattle producers using approved compounds improperly or utilizing other compounds that never should have been used in the first place."

One of the safeguards to prevent misuse of such compounds in the U.S. is the large-scale feedlot industry, according to Lusby. Cattle go into feedlots four to six months prior to the time they are slaughtered. Feedlots do not use illegal drugs or implants, have intricate herd health management programs under the guidance of veterinarians and animal nutrition programs managed by professional animal nutritionists.

"Feedlot operators realize the roles consumer perception and consumer demand play on their livelihood," says Lusby. "If people stop eating beef because of some perceived threat, they are out of business. Thus, they take food safety very seriously."

While the U.S. has not had a history of drug residue problems, it does occur in rare cases.

"Nobody is perfect all of the time," says Lusby. "However, such rare cases usually can be traced to small operations selling culled cows on which extra-label use of an antibiotic or similar health-oriented drug was utilized."

Cheat in wheat is pesky, costly

By BOB KEATING

A cheat infestation in a wheat field is a pesky and costly problem that can't be controlled adequately with just one approach. Combinations of various control methods normally will be most effective in ridding a wheat stand of its competition with cheat.

The approaches used should be the ones that fit in best with a grower's production practices, his individual fields and the level of cheat infestation, advises Howard Greer, Oklahoma State University Extension weed control specialist.

Crop rotation remains one of the best weed control practices available. For cheat control, if a field is rotated out of wheat, cheat can be killed with either tillage or herbicides before it produces seed. Significant stand reductions then can be seen the first year back in wheat.

Deep plowing also can reduce cheat stands significantly if the furrow is turned over completely so the cheat seeds are on the bottom. Disking the field first or plowing too shallow and not turning the furrow adequately won't be very effective and can serve to plant cheat seeds, Greer explains.

Other spring or early summer control practices that can help are burning, which can destroy many cheat seeds if there is enough fuel for an adequate fire, or grazing out a wheat stand. But the field then should be disked, clipped or sprayed with Landmaster before cheat seeds develop.

Practices that can be used this fall include revising planting specifications and making a timely herbicide application.

Increasing the wheat seeding rate is one option. Planting two bushels of seed per acre on wheat that will be grazed appears to increase the wheat plants' competitiveness with cheat, Greer points out. Cheat becomes less competitive as the number of wheat plants are increased, and the more evenly the wheat is spaced, the less foothold cheat can gain. So closer row spacing also helps crowd out cheat.

Late planting can be another useful practice if fields aren't going to be grazed. But it's important to get field preparation done early so only a light tillage operation can be used to kill the cheat after it germinates. Deeper tillage will bring new cheat seeds up toward the soil surface where they are more likely to germinate after the tillage.

As for herbicides, there are only two options and each has some limitations. But the herbicides can be very effective if applied timely and used according to label directions.

Finesse is approved for suppression of cheat in a pre-emergence application after wheat planting. If adequate rainfall occurs to activate the herbicide, it can kill 50 to 80 percent of the cheat and stunt and delay other cheat, which means competition can be controlled enough to increase wheat yields.

Greer notes that Finesse is suggested for light to moderate stands of cheat, but not for heavy stands where enough uncontrolled cheat would remain to provide strong competition with the wheat.

Metribuzin is sold under two names, Sencor and Lexone, for postemergence application on cheat. It should be applied after wheat has three tillers and four secondary roots at least two inches in length. That normally is before cheat tillers much. So at that time, wheat plants have become less susceptible to damage while cheat still is most susceptible.

However, at that stage, metribuzin still can cause damage to some varieties of wheat, so the label recommendations for cleared varieties should be followed carefully. Also, metribuzin shouldn't be used on soils that are sandy, have high pH or are extremely low in organic matter.

Finesse and metribuzin both can provide control of many broadleaf weeds in the fall in addition to killing cheat, Greer says.

He adds that relying on a herbicide program alone to control cheat can be frustrating, and that integrating recommended cultural and tillage practices is needed to solve persistent cheat problems.
