OPENING CEREMONIES at noon on Saturday drew a crowd into the Tanz Halle of Germanfest. They came to dance, tap their toes to rousing songs by the Dallas Frohsinn (Singing Society), shown above, or sing along to their gentler melodies, which were preceded by old-time favorites by Pam and Eric and polka music on accordions by Norma Jean and Sonny. Crowds continued to swell throughout the weekend as they responded to outstanding weather, perfect temperatures, a vastly greater variety of entertainment and activities, traditional bountiful food and a splendid spirit of camaraderie. With big smiles, sponsors reported that gate receipts were up from 1991. Completed stories will follow next week, as committees are able to submit their reports.

Local polls open Saturday

Voting for local elections will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday, May 2 in the front lobby of Muenster High School. Elections are being held for the Muenster City Council, Muenster Hospital Board of Directors and Muenster School Board.

Three places are up for election on the city council. Incumbent Arthur Hennigan is unopposed for Place 4. In Place 1 voters must choose from incumbent Joe Koesler and Fran Voth. Filing for Place 2 are incumbent Aubry Tuggle and Pat Dennis. Dennis has since announced that she will be moving out of state. She has stated that if elected, she will resign the position. By law, the City Council must then appoint a qualified individual to serve until the next regular election or call a special election and let the voters have the choice. Mary Endres will serve as the city election judge.

Five terms are expiring on the Muenster Hospital Board. Eight candidates have filed for this election. They are incumbents David Bright, Debbie Hess, Werner Becker Jr., and Dr. Enrique Juarez. Also Lora Hennigan, Roger Taylor, Gerald Walterscheid and Don Flusche. Lisa Walterscheid will not seek re-election this term. Views of these candidates were printed in the April 17 edition of the Muenster Enterprise with the exception of Dr. Juarez who was out of town that week and decided to decline the option of having his printed at a later time and Don Flusche who chose to make a paid political statement instead.

Dennis Hess and Jerry Bynum hold expiring terms on the Muenster School Board. Hess is seeking another term and Clifford Sicking has filed for the other seat. Bynum is not running.

Edgar Dyer will serve as election judge for the hospital and school board elections.

Voters are required to bring their voter registration cards or file a statement as to why they don't have them.

Hess, Sicking run unopposed for school board

Two terms on the Muenster ISD School Board are expiring this year. Those terms are now filled by Dennis Hess and Jerry Bynum. Hess has filed for another term and Clifford Sicking is seeking the seat that will be vacated by Jerry Bynum. Both are unopposed.

Clifford Sicking is a graduate of Cooke County College with 20 years of experience with AT&T where he is a service consultant who coordinates the installation, programming and training of phone systems. He is presently serving as the president of the Muenster Quarterback Club and is a member of the Site-based management team for Muenster Public School. Mr. Sicking remarked that he has thought off and on of running for the School Board and he now has the time and there is an opening, so he decided to run. He likes to be involved.

Dennis Hess has nine consecutive years of experience on the School Board. He served as School Board President this last year. Hess is a graduate of NTSU and owns and operates Hess Furniture in Muenster. Hess stated that he is interested in education, likes the community of Muenster and wants to make a contribution to the community, so he is running for the School Board.

The two candidates responded to several questions as follows: What do you see as Muenster Public School's major concern at the present time?

Hess - No major concerns. Our TAAS and SAT scores are very good, but I would like to see more involvement in UIL Academic competition. In fairness to our administration, I must say that we will be moving in that direction next year.

Sicking - Probably financing the school system with the uncertainty due to government regulations. How do you feel about year-round school?

Hess - I'm not opposed to it. Personally, I feel that other countries are spending more time in school. Education is the key to our country being successful. Although year-round school will not necessarily add more school days. One advantage would be not having such a long layoff. For example, there might be four breaks instead of one long one, but this being a farm community, that might be more difficult to implement. I'm not necessarily promoting it, just saying it might be an academic advantage.

Sicking - It is not going to happen in Muenster for a while. Kids like to take summer jobs here.

Give your opinion of the proposed consolidation of schools in Texas.

Hess - I'm totally against it because I believe that seldom is bigger better. Any large school district has difficulty getting a handle on anything because they are too large to manage day-to-day things. Some schools in the state should probably be consolidated but not most in our area. Schools like Muenster and Lindsay would suffer academically if they were consolidated with the rest of the county.

Sicking - I favor keeping Muenster ISD as it is.

YUM! YUM! YUM! Don Hess spent the whole weekend dishing up mouthwatering sausage, and crowds stood in line to be served.

CCAD purchases computerized mapping system

by Elaine Schad

The Cooke County Appraisal District Board of Directors has awarded a $39,800 bid to Intergraph of Dallas to purchase a computerized mapping system that should greatly improve the efficiency of the district's land appraisals.

The system is expected to be installed within 60 days and includes training for two present CCAD employees to operate the system, said CCAD appraiser Ross Fry. The system will be paid for with surplus funds remaining from the 1992 budget, he said.

"It will give us a lot more credibility with the taxpayers," said Fry of the new mapping system. "It's hard to appraise something when you don't know where it is."

The system is the same as one purchased by the Wise County Tax Appraisal District two years ago when Fry was chief appraiser there, Fry said. The WCTAD has almost completed mapping for Wise County, he said. Cooke County may be mapped within three years, he said.

The computerized system will allow the CCAD to track and identify unknown tracts of land now on the tax rolls, and school district boundaries will be properly identified, Fry said. Some people are now paying taxes to one school district for property located in another school district, he said.

The district has been able to complete only a small portion of mapping for the county due to a lack of personnel and because manual mapping is very time-consuming and tedious, Fry said. The computerized system will allow the district to achieve the same amount of mapping that would take seven employees to complete manually, he said.

Once county mapping is completed, it should be very easy to keep up with deed changes and appraisals through the computerized maps that will be available, Fry said.

In other business, the CCAD Board voted to restrict use of the CCAD parking lot to staff and customers doing tax business. Other people, including downtown employees of other businesses, have been parking in the CCAD lot just west of the tax office on California Street. Fry said at present there is not enough room for staff and tax office customers because others are using it.

The board also:

-Purchased a micro-fiche and micro-film reader and printer at a cost of $4,100.

-Reappointed Wendell Proffer and Edwin Knight to two-year terms and J.C. Skinner to a one-year term on the Appraisal District Agriculture Advisory Board.

U.S. Attorney promises strong enforcement of campus laws

U.S. Attorney Bob Wortham promised strong enforcement of federal laws designed to create drug-free and gun-free zones around schools during an April 27 visit to Muenster.

Mr. Wortham joined Muenster Principal Jerry Metzler in highlighting Muenster High School's designation as a Drug-Free/Gun-Free School Zone. A sign is currently posted which designates the 1,000-foot zone around the campus.

Mr. Wortham's appearance was part of a daylong effort by the U.S. attorney to inform educators and law enforcement officials about the new law, which took effect last year.

He was accompanied by Kevin Brannon, director of U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm's regional office in Dallas, who read a letter from the senator highlighting the virtues of the legislation.

"Congress has basically said we want to make islands of safety at schools," said Wortham, who credited Senator Gramm for his understanding of the drug problem and hard work on Capitol Hill to put the Drug-Free/Gun-Free effort into motion.

"Phil Gramm has devoted a significant portion of his 13 years in Congress to visiting school campuses to educate students, faculty and parents about the dangers of drugs. He is convinced that America will win the drug war through the efforts of our young people who commit to make the drug-free lifestyle popular.

"I support that reasoning and am fully committed to providing these young people with an environment conducive to learning," the U.S. attorney added.

Passed by Congress in 1990, the law makes it a federal offense to knowingly possess drugs or firearms on a school campus or within 1,000 feet of the school.

The drug conviction carries a mandatory one-year jail term if the criminal activity is committed at the school, plus any sentence the person receives could be doubled. People convicted of carrying guns on or near a campus face a five-year term and a possible $5,000 fine.

"We will enforce the statute," Mr. Wortham said. "We will vigorously prosecute violators in federal court, and those caught with drugs and guns within the zone will serve their sentences in federal prison where there is no early parole. We take this statute very seriously."

Senator Gramm said his goal is to have a sign at every junior high and high school in Texas by the end of 1992.

Commissioners join conservation program

by Elaine Schad

Cooke County Commissioners have voted to join a proposed 11-county soil conservation development area which could assist counties in garnering grant money for rural conservation projects.

Commissioners approved a resolution joining the month-old program and voted to pay the $50 annual dues to join the program, called the Chisholm Trail Resource Conservation and Development Area. The counties will work with the United States Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in coordinating projects that will improve the environment in the 11-county rural area through better utilization of natural resources in those areas, officials said.

Counties which have been asked to form the development area include Cooke, Montague, Grayson, Clay, Wichita, Archer, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton and Collin. Commissioner courts and soil conservation's districts within those counties are being asked to pass similar resolutions and join the program.

A steering committee has been appointed to draft guidelines for the area. They include James K. "Rooter" Brite of Bowie, chairman; Brice Jackson of Clay County, vice chairman; Carolyn Dosier of McKinney is secretary; and Lou Bridges of Paradise is treasurer.

In another matter, Cooke County Judge Ray Russell and Commissioner Jerry Lewis will serve on a local task force to study parking in downtown Gainesville.

County commissioners this week approved the formation of the task force and approved the appointments. The two will serve with two Gainesville city council members, two business people and a member of the city's revitalization committee in formulation proposals for improving parking conditions in the downtown area.

Seventy-eight downtown business people signed a list of recommendations presented to the commissioners this week that they feel are essential to helping the downtown area grow. A key to the eight recommendations would be funding a city public service officer to enforce the two-hour parking limit in the downtown area, said Bob Archer, downtown businessman and spokesman for the group. Archer said the cost of the officer would be funded through increased revenue from parking tickets and increased sales tax realized by allowing more people to access and do business downtown.

A study presented to the council estimated downtown Gainesville businesses could increase sales by almost $2 million annually if just 100 parking spaces now being taken by downtown employees were left free for people who had business downtown. That could generate an additional $29,250 in sales tax for the city, according to the study. Among other recommendations made to commissioners include increasing parking ticket fees from $10 to $15, installing signs in strategic locations downtown to direct the public to long-term free parking off the square. Color code short-term and long-term parking areas, eliminating one-way streets on Commerce and Dixon for easier access to off square parking, and designating courthouse parking and setting 15-minute time limits on the west side and one-hour limits on the east side of the courthouse.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We would like to publicly THANK the 100-plus community members who volunteered their valuable time to work at the admission gates for the Hospital Auxiliary this Germanfest weekend.

Only through your cooperative efforts were we able to successfully undertake such an enormous project. The willingness to serve in this endeavor only reaffirms to us your commitment and dedication to our local hospital and staff.

In gratitude to these loyal supporters, the hospital administration has extended an invitation to their staff appreciation "Pig Roast Party" Saturday, May 2, at the Herman and Gwen Carroll home (see ad elsewhere in this issue).

Once again, thank you so much for your enthusiasm and help!

Three advance to State competition

by Robert Wayne McDaniel

Three students, Marlene Hess, Rex Huchton and Leslie Klement, will represent Muenster High School at the state meet in Austin on May 8 and 9. Marlene Hess won a gold medal in Informative Speaking event speaking on the topic of "Why is the threat of tuberculosis on the rise in the United States? Marlene had to compete against five state qualifiers from 1991, including last year's state champion, in the finals. Marlene also had to speak following this 1991 state champion, which made it even more difficult. Rex Huchton earned a silver medal speaking on the topic of reducing prison overcrowding in Texas. His second place finish was rewarding considering that he also had to compete against returning state qualifiers from last year. Leslie Klement won a bronze medal in spelling, finishing one point ahead of fourth place.

Daniel de la Mata placed fourth in the Mathematics contest. If Daniel had answered one more problem correctly, then he would have tied for third in this contest. Joy Tisdale placed fifth in Keyboarding and Allison Klement also placed fifth in Editorial Writing. Allison earned her fifth place writing on the topic of censorship. Allison also competed in Ready Writing and wrote her essay on "The Great Coming of Age." Dianne Pagel entered the Newswriting contest and wrote her article on adult literacy. Ashley Hartman competed in the Poetry contest, but did not make the finals.

The administration and sponsors are well pleased with the performance of those competing at Regional in Abilene. Considering there are 90 schools in Region II, Muenster placed fourth overall with 57 points behind first place Lindsay, second place Sterling City, and third place Henrietta-Midway. Competition is more difficult in the West Region than in the East Region. Six of Muenster's contestants placed at the regional level and three of these six will advance to the State meet held in Austin.

Continued support of valuable Muenster hospital is essential

by Don Flusche

In the '50s, Muenster was fortunate to have a community leader, namely Mr. J.M. Weinzapfel. Joe, as known to most of us, led with many conscientious followers who could envision the results of a superior hospital in a small local environment. The hospital was funded as follows: Local personal contributions of $200,000 assisted by a Hill-Burton Federal Grant of $300,000 and a supplementary Bond Issue of $300,000 with scheduled repayment amortized over a 30-year period, which would be retired in 1991.

Troubled times with the hospital were continuous and the bond payment was burdensome, so a vote and approval of the community to make a change from the Muenster Hospital Authority (a subsidiary of the City of Muenster) to the existing Muenster Hospital District, with a tax base rather than a revenue base, was formed in 1965. The Directors, with foresight, chose to increase the tax, allowing payment on the bonds for early retirement, saving much interest by paying off the bond in May 1978, 13 years ahead of schedule. Since that time, no tax money has been collected by the Muenster Hospital District. Today, we can be thankful that our Hospital is debt free.

Our hurdle now is to allow the hospital to operate on a break-even or profitable budget. At present, it is losing at a rate of $25,000 to $35,000 per month, and has done so several years.

How can our hospital operate on a break-even or profitable business manner?

- 1) Customers. We must have a constant patient load.
- 2) Doctors. We must have competent doctors to provide the service required of the customer patients.
- 3) Equipment. Modern, state-of-the-art equipment is mandatory.

Today, you and I are not satisfied with an opinion from a General Practitioner. No, we want a GP to give us some idea of what we have wrong or ailing us, then we hop in the car and drive to a specialist for corrective surgery or treatment, leaving our hospital vacant.

In the last few years, our Hospital Directors have gone out to find doctors to practice here in our facility. Good doctors demand modern, sophisticated, state-of-the-art equipment which can cost thousands of dollars, and they expect the hospital to provide the equipment. We, in turn, expect to be examined with this type of equipment when paying for a professional visit to a hospital.

The Hospital Directors have to evaluate the expense versus pay back to the hospital and the community it serves. Recent decisions were made to invest in new technical equipment and new doctors have been secured.

To continue this process is very important to our community. We must credit the founders of our hospital by advancing with the times. If we let the hospital falter now, it would be a disgrace to what we all believe in and worked so hard for all these years. We must take the initiative to support our local physicians and facilities first and foremost.

The hospital district has the power to levy a tax to keep the hospital open. What good is it to keep a building open and ready with tools and equipment, if we have no doctors to make it functional?

I am convinced by having good doctors available, we can have a hospital and staff envious to many much larger communities. The patients will come from great distances to enjoy the relaxed surroundings we possess here in Muenster. Those of us who have experienced going to doctors and hospitals a distance from home can relate to "There is no place like Home" for convenience, expense and an environment of healing with the comforts we are accustomed to.

I want to be a part of the continued effort to expand health care in our community. I am semi-retired now, with time available to devote to helping with any project needing attention. As many of you already know, I sold my auction business to Mr. Billy Caraway, a young man from Denton who has worked with me for the last six years. I am still active with Billy, but only to a limited extent.

I am very active as a Director with Poly Pipe Industries, Inc., a multimillion dollar manufacturing industry that I was instrumental in founding 15 years ago, presently with manufacturing plants located in Kimball, Nebraska; Erwin, Tennessee; and a new plant soon to be built in Reno, Nevada. The company continues to be headquartered in Gainesville, our original facility. I attend two meetings each month, one as Secretary of the Board of Directors and the other as part of the Executive Board, each making all business decisions. My first position with Poly Pipe was as Chairman of the Board and President in the organizational year in business. My other obligations to the business world are in the Real Estate business, as a Broker and Investor.

I am in my second term for the Muenster Industrial Board. With this position, I assisted in securing one new business for our community. The hospital is an important part of a decision for new industry to settle here.

I am asking for your vote to place me on the Board of Directors so I may serve you and the community. Careful analysis will be eminent in every business decision on my part with your interest in mind.

There are 8 candidates on this at-large ballot. Please carefully select only 5. The person with the most votes gets a seat. I certainly want your support and vote.

Thank you for your kind consideration in this most important matter.

Gheorghe Anghel fulfills a dream

by Janet Felderhoff

It has been a dream of Gheorghe Anghel to visit America. He has been enjoying the fulfillment of that dream for the last several weeks as he visited with friends in the United States. Most of his time has been divided between the Angelo Nasches in Muenster and friends in Arlington.

Gheorghe lives in Bucharest, Romania with his wife, Mihaela, and son, Stefan, and is an officer in the Romanian Air Force. He flies helicopters.

LaVerna and Angelo Nasche became acquainted with Mr. Anghel when they traveled to Romania last summer to adopt a Romanian orphan. They stayed with the Anghel family part of the time during the five weeks that they were there. He became acquainted with the people in Arlington in the same manner. The Nasches did make an adoption. They brought home a seven-year-old girl, Liliana.

Many Americans have wondered how Romanians feel about the people from our country who adopt the Romanian orphans. The Romanian visitor responded that most of the Romanians don't care. "They don't want to be involved because they can't do anything for or against," he said. "Most of the rest consider this a noble gesture because these children (adopted by American families) will have a future, good parents and a good education here (in the USA). In Romanian orphanages, the conditions are very poor and the children are not able to find a way to integrate into society, to be normal people with a normal family."

Romania is almost totally different from the United States, except for the people, according to Anghel who finds that people are the same wherever you go. He was surprised to find that Americans are very friendly.

In the U.S., Gheorghe observed that if you have a job you seem to have almost all of the facilities to have a good and easy life. "I did not see the lines for food and every kind of stuff," he remarked. "We have lines and we have to stay in many different lines for almost every kind of stuff we want to buy and here it is different. Our lines are not so long like they were before, but we waste a lot of time to go shopping. I like the schedule of your stores here because you can go and buy almost anything that you want after 8 p.m. and it is not like that in Romania."

Also in Romania, most people

don't live in houses. Most of them live in a block of flats. In America, the average or over-average people live in the periphery of towns and cities while in Romania, the average or high society live downtown where they work. Gheorghe admits that he probably saw only the good and beautiful part of America but it seemed that everywhere he was, there were only beautiful houses.

It appeared to Gheorghe that most Americans can afford to buy a lot of things at a time. "In my country, before 1989, we had money to buy but we had not what to buy and now we don't have money enough to buy but we have what to buy," he remarked. "In a way, it is the same, we cannot have all we need. We have different kinds of stuff where prices are over 10 times more expensive and our salaries are not 10 times bigger. It's inflation."

Something that Gheorghe especially wanted people to know is that even when they were Communists, they kept religious holidays, like Easter and Christmas, but they weren't allowed to call them religious holidays. They called them traditions. Even when they were obliged to work on those days, they gathered friends and family in a home and celebrated that religious holiday. He stated that whether you are Catholic or Orthodox, we believe in the same God. "I read the Bible," he said. "I really believe." Under Communism, there weren't so many who practiced, but now many more are coming back to church.

Romania is a free country now. They had a change in their government last September and will soon have general elections. "It is hard to change our mentality, but we are free to change if it is wanted - it is up to us," said Gheorghe. "You have to live in a country like Romania for a few years to appreciate what you have in the United States. I know that nothing is perfect and that your system has a few bad parts, but it is up to you to fix them."

Gheorghe was not surprised to see how Americans were. "I saw many people surprised here that I was a Communist but I am normal," he said. "I was prepared in my heart to see people like you here because even when we were Communists, we knew that what they used to tell us was not true. They told us that your system is bad; that you have a lot of people without jobs; that violence is very high here; corruption is everywhere; black market is everywhere; your culture is not so good - to make us consider you real bad people. But we didn't believe that."

Romanians were obliged to learn foreign languages to find out what was happening abroad. Besides his native language, Anghel speaks French, Russian and English. This enables them to pick up different magazines and newspapers to learn what is happening in the world. Romania had only two hours of television each day.

At one time, Romania was considered to be the bread basket of Eastern Europe. "When we were Communists, we had a program to industrialize our country, but what Ceausescu succeeded in doing was to destroy a real good agriculture and make a weak industry," commented Anghel. "Now both agriculture and industry are weak. People have decided to rebuild both, but this will take a lot of time."

Gheorghe enjoyed his month-long visit to the United States very much. He said he kept a very busy schedule trying to see and do everything. He was proud of the photos that he would be bringing home. "I have over 200 pictures of different places," he announced. "I had to be in every one to prove that I was there and that it was not just a picture taken by someone else!"

"I am really grateful to the Nasche family and to all of your town," said Gheorghe. "I would like to come back with my family some day. They'll be very impressed. I have a deal with my son that he will get to come to America when he can speak English."

Eric Gray going down under

Eric Gray has been selected to be on the National Evangelization Teams (N.E.T.) of Australia. From Jan. 6, 1993 to Nov. 30, 1993, he will be given intense training and practice as a youth minister. His duties on NET Australia will be exactly as those of Ricky Walterscheid on NET America: assist in organizing, leading, and putting on youth retreats and rallies for junior high, high school and young college students. NET does this through music, drama, small group discussion, brief presentations and talks, games, personal prayer and the Sacraments of Eucharist and Reconciliation.

NET (America and Australia) is a Catholic non-profit organization dedicated to presenting the Catholic faith to youths in a way which is meaningful to them, without sacrificing church doctrine or dogma along the way. It operates on donations only, which are tax-deductible, as they are applied toward a non-profit religious institution.

Eric Gray currently teaches Math, German and Religion at Sacred Heart High School. He is co-leader, along with Jeanmine Flusche, of the Sacred Heart Junior High youth ministry (J.E.L.L.Y.). He has served on the Sacred Heart Liturgical Commission for four years and has been in charge of altar servers for that time as well. He serves Sacred Heart Parish also as lector, music minister and Eucharistic minister.

When asked why he was leaving Muenster, Gray gave the following reply. "This is just a temporary leave of absence. My time on NET will be a time for me to grow, to better understand youth and youth ministry and how I fit into it. These 11 months away will make me better able to serve Sacred Heart Parish upon my return. Life situations probably won't be so easy these next two years because of this lopsided time of NET Australia (Jan.-Nov. 1993), but I think it will be worth it in the long run."

Final touches being added to Chorale's Spring Concert

When the Cooke County Chorale presents its spring concert on Tuesday, May 12 in Sacred Heart Church at 7:30 p.m., the program will be the culmination of five months of diligent practice for this classical presentation to delight its audience and to fulfill a great sense of pride.

The Chorale endeavors to uphold the importance of classical music and to enhance appreciation of its beauty, discipline and music education. As the century draws toward the year 2000, the move towards the classics becomes more evident throughout the country.

Along with Butterfield Stage, the Cooke County Chorale is part of the Arts Council.

The chorus will sing the Coronation Mass in C Major by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, composed in 1779 for the annual coronation of the Statue of the Virgin Mary at the Shrine of Maria Plain near Salzburg, Austria. They will also perform two anthems by George Frederick Handel, composed for the coronation of King George II in 1727, entitled "Zadok, the Priest" and "Let Thy Hand Be Strengthened."

Dr. Michael Linder, music department head at Cooke County College is director of Cooke County Chorale. He is also director of Choral Music at First Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls and has served on music faculties of three universities, also holding degrees from several universities.

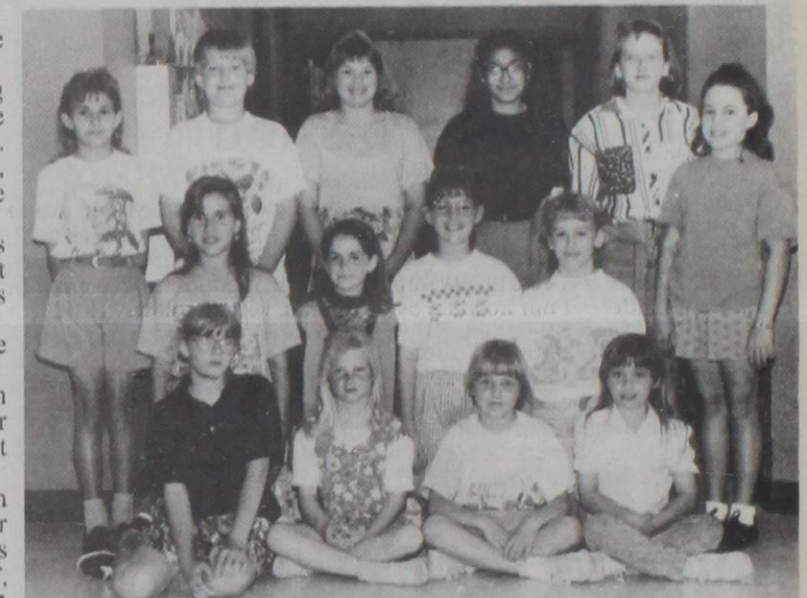

Dr. Martin Kralicke, Muenster physician and surgeon is president of the Chorale and has been a member for more than 10 years.

The special organ for the concert will be on loan from Organ Associates of Carrollton, and will be played by John Dill, organist/choir master at St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Gainesville, and an organ student at the University of North Texas.

There are more than 40 members in the Chorale, coming from Muenster, Lake Kiowa, Gainesville, Nocona and Woodbine. Muenster members are Dr. Martin Kralicke, Tony Luke, Gene Gieb, James Walterscheid, David Fette, Pam Fette, Juanita Bright, Ruth Felderhoff, Christy Hesse, and Ann Poole.

Good News!

Let no one delude himself. If any of you thinks he is wise in a worldly way, he had better become a fool. In that way he will really be wise, for the wisdom of this world is absurdity with God. Scripture says, 'He catches the wise in their craftiness,' and again, 'The Lord knows how empty are the thoughts of the wise.' Let there be no boasting about men. 1 CORINTHIANS 4:18-22

Then consider CMOs, the investment that offers a 8.35% *yield and AAA quality.

Collateralized Mortgage Obligations (CMOs) let you enjoy the highly sought-after advantages of competitive yields ... regular income (although amounts may vary) ... high credit quality ... plus liquidity subject to prevailing market conditions. Most CMOs are secured by U.S. government agency certificates. And that's why most are AAA-quality.

Remember — CMO availability may be limited. Call A.G. Edwards today to find out more about this attractive investment.

*The above bond equivalent yield represents a coupon rate of 7.95% at a price of 97 on 4-20-92 and assumes a prepayment rate of 20.31 years. Yield will vary with changes in the mortgage prepayment rate and market conditions. Subject to change and availability. Anticipated yields are based on analysis of pools' past performance, using standard bond yield tables. In our opinion, while not guaranteed, offered pools have attractive potential yield. While most CMOs are fully collateralized by certificates issued by U.S. government agencies, they are not guaranteed by the U.S. government or any agency thereof.

Candlelight ceremony unites couple March 7

MR. and MRS. GRANT LOUIS WEITZEL
...nee Glenda Michelle Richardson...

In a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, March 7, 1992, Glenda Michelle Richardson and Grant Louis Weitzel were married at Woods Chapel Baptist Church in Arlington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richardson, former Muenster residents, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Richardson, all of Whitney.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Jacqueline N. Weitzel of Ellicott City, Maryland and the late Dr. Raymond A. Weitzel.

The Rev. Wayne Shuffield of Granbury, a friend of the bride's family, performed the formal double-ring ceremony.

Wedding music was furnished by Lucia McGregor of Arlington, who also sang "Through the Eyes of Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight bridal satin which featured a sweetheart neckline and wrist-length lace sleeves, puffed at the shoulder. The bodice was lavishly adorned with pearls and sequins. The full skirt flowed into a lace-trimmed cathedral-length train, accented with lace appliques. The bride wore a blusher veil of imported English illusion trimmed with spot pearls, which fell from a headpiece covered with pearls, crystals and sequins. She carried a bouquet containing four dozen American Beauty roses.

In keeping with tradition, for "something old," the bride wore her maternal grandmother's wedding ring; her dress was new; she borrowed a pearl ring from her matron of honor; and wore a garter trimmed in blue. The garter was a gift from Mrs. LaVern Homsley of Lake Worth, a dear friend of the bride's family. Before the ceremony, the bride's father placed an authentic English sixpence in her shoe for luck.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of honor was Gretchen Seairight of Houston and bridesmaid was Nella McCain of Irving, both friends of the bride. They were identically gowned in black velvet mini dresses with wrist length fitted sleeves and galleria-length overskirts of emerald green iridescent taffeta. Each carried a cascade of red roses.

Memorial to Nick Miller sent to foreign mission

It is the custom of the Muenster Knights of Columbus to present a chalice and paten in memory of a member who passed away within the year, leaving the beneficiary to be selected by the family.

Nick Miller, a longtime 4th degree Knight of Columbus, died on April 25, 1991. Family members chose to send the chalice and paten to one of the Brazilian Missions of the Franciscan Sisters of the Atonement, through Sister Barbara Bernauer, one of "Uncle Nick's" nieces.

Since it is impossible to insure packages for safe delivery in Brazil, the Mother Superior of the Franciscan Graymoor Convent in Garrison, New York will carry the chalice and paten with her, when she travels to Brazil this summer, and will deliver it personally to a mission of her Order in the Archdiocese of Sao Paulo. The golden chalice carries an engraving with Nick Miller's name and membership in the Knights of Columbus.

Jr. Girl Scouts plant redbud

by Becky Endres

The Muenster Junior Girl Scout Troop 770 is made up of nine sixth grade girls: Valerie Bartush, Becky Endres, Shauna Endres, Trisha Endres, Crystal Klement, Laura Klement, Yvonne Martin, Angel Sicking and Amanda Wimmer. Their leaders are Emily Klement and Karen Endres. On April 1, the girls bought and planted a redbud tree at the roadside park east of Muenster on Highway 82. The girls plan to water the tree during the summer as there is no water available at the park.

Other activities during the year included craft sessions, a trip to Casa Manana to see the musical, "Here's Love," and completion of their own first aid kit. They also enjoyed visiting the Gainesville Hospital laboratory for a presentation on Microbiology and a tour of the surgery department. This completed the many requirements for their first aid badge. They are presently working with the Brownie Troop, helping them to "cross-over" into Junior Girl Scouts.

MAY CROWNING

by Bernice Bartel

May is a very special month for Sacred Heart Parish. May is the dedicated month for Mary, the Queen of Peace and Victory. On Wednesday, May 6, there will be a rosary, Mass and the Crowning of Mary ceremony. All students are lined up by grades in front of Sacred Heart High School at 7:40 p.m. All of the First Communicants should wear their First Communion clothes without the veils. They are asked to gather in front of the church and have a flower for the ceremony to place by the statue of Mary.

May is not only important to Sacred Heart, it is an important month for many others. In France, May has a religious importance. The French consider the month of May sacred to the Virgin Mary. They enshrined young girls as May queens in their churches. The May queens led processions in honor of the Virgin Mary. The month of May is special to people such as in Germany, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia.

May is the perfect month to be dedicated to Mary because it is the month when flowers bloom and blossom and new birth is given, just as Mary gave us new birth with her son, Jesus!

Heritage Society opens new exhibit

The Cooke County Heritage Society wishes to announce the opening of a new exhibit at the Morton Museum of Cooke County. Entitled "If I Had a Hammer: Architecture in Cooke County" it pounded its way into existence on April 14. "If I Had a Hammer" examines popular architectural styles - all the way from log cabins to Queen Anne mansions - found in Cooke County. The new exhibit also showcases those distinctive structures which have survived over the years in the county and will lament the passing of those that were not so fortunate. The exhibit will be on display through the end of May. For more information please call the Morton Museum of Cooke County at 668-8900.

News of the Sick

Raymond (Handsone) Walterscheid returned home last week Wednesday, April 22, after being a patient for 10 days in Presbyterian Hospital of Oklahoma City for surgery. He is making normal recovery.

Doris was a medical patient for nine days at Denton Regional Medical Center and is convalescing at home. Bill was a recent surgical patient at Scott and White in Temple and is well on the road to recovery. Get-well cards will reach both of them addressed to P.O. Box 476, Muenster, TX 76252.

Kindergarten registration is set for May 6 at Forestburg

The children are invited to attend the registration so they can become familiar with the building, the teacher and the classroom.

A Vote for Pat Dennis for City Council is a vote for change.

We feel that the City Council decision to buy a more expensive lawn mower made in Japan and sold in Denton rather than an American-made machine sold in Muenster was wrong.

VOTE FOR A CHANGE

We disagree with the City Council decision to maintain the city parks with city employees who may have to work up to 60 hours per week during peak season. We disagree with their decision to spend $4,300.00 on a lawn mower. All this to avoid a mowing contract which cost only $69.23 per week last year.

VOTE FOR A CHANGE

We disagree with the Council decision to spend $2,400.00 on a welder that might save the city only $200.00 to $300.00 a year. We believe their reason did not justify the expense.

VOTE FOR A CHANGE

We believe that the controversy surrounding the Muenster Telephone Corporation communications tower should have, and could have, been settled out of court. But the City Council pursued a lawsuit costing the citizens thousands of dollars when a settlement was available.

VOTE FOR A CHANGE

Aubry Tuggle has been instrumental in the above City Council votes and actions.

Pat Dennis did not know when she signed up for the City Council election that she would be moving to accept another job. But even though she cannot accept the Council position if elected, a vote for her is a vote for change. If she is elected, the City Council has the option of appointing someone to fill her position for one year or holding another election. In either case, the voters still have the opportunity for a choice.

SH Kindergarteners take field trip to the zoo

by Stevan Nasche
The kindergarten class of Sacred Heart went on their yearly field trip to Casa Manana where they enjoyed watching the play, "The Velveteen Rabbit." After the play was over, they proceeded to Pizza Hut to eat lunch. They also went to the Log Cabin Village where they watched candle making, saw a wishing well, a fish pond, watched the men grind corn, saw old shoes and toys that the children used to play with in the "Olden Days," got to go up in a loft, saw a bed warmer, enjoyed watching the butter makers, and saw quilt makers. There were six log cabins in all. They then went home after a fun-filled day.

They are also learning about Texas and, when they have their moving-on ceremony, it will be in a Texas theme and they will square dance. Their next field trip will be to the Fort Worth Zoo where they will see the different animals, get to see many rides and enjoy many various games.

SH golf team qualifies

by Stevan Nasche
 The Sacred Heart golf team qualified for state competition on Tuesday, April 21, when they shot a combined total of 348. To qualify for state, the team needed to shoot a 360. Joseph Bedowitz led the way shooting an 82. Stevan Nasche followed him with an 88, and Chris Hess rounded out the scoring with a 92.

The team would have done better, but the first eight holes were played in the rain. By hole 9 and 10, the rain stopped and, by hole 13, the sun was out and the sky was clear. The team looks forward to state competition, as long as it does not rain!

Mark Flusche will also compete in state, but in competition only the four lowest scores are taken. Other members trying out for the team were: Neil Berres, Darrin Hess, Kelly Bayer, Jason Frost and Trent Truebenbach.

Lady Cubs finish 2nd in conference

Five first place finishes by the Lady Cubs failed to hold off the Montague Eagles in the NTIJHC Track Championships held last Thursday in Muenster. The Montague squad finished with 157 points for the title and Sacred Heart's Lady Cubs finished second with 143. Prairie Valley finished third with 60, Gold-Burg fourth with 36 and Forestburg fifth with 23.

"We have some outstanding runners in our grade school program," said Coach LeBrasseur. "Karri and Nicole Endres will step into the Tigerette program next year and have an immediate impact and in the Lady Cub program things look bright for years to come."

Men's softball tourney set for May 8 and 9

A men's softball tournament will be played at Muenster Baseball Park on Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9. First, second and third place T-shirts will be awarded. Balls will be furnished.

The deadline for entry is Wednesday, May 6. Entry fee is $115 per team. For registration or more information, call Nick Walterscheid 759-4308, Brian Herr 759-4911 or Tops & Teams 759-2540.

Muenster soccer team 3-2 for season

March 28

Muenster Hurricanes started the spring season out with a win over NALC, 5-0. Keith Felderhoff started the scoring with the first goal. Then newcomer Justin Brawner ended the first half with the second goal. The second half had Mitch Endres, Lance Sparkman and Keith Felderhoff scoring, for a 5-0 score. Kayla Felderhoff, Travis Bayer, Chisam Cain, Steven Boaz and Misty Barnhill all played an outstanding defensive and offensive game to help the team to victory.

April 14

The second game was a little tougher for the Hurricanes. This was a tough-fought game all the way to the finish. The Muenster team was out-scored 5-0 by Plano Machine. The whole team played their hearts out. Mitch Endres, Travis Bayer, Keith and Kayla Felderhoff, Lance Sparkman, Chisam Cain, Justin Brawner, Misty Barnhill, Steven Boaz and Willie Scoggins all played well. Willie was ill and unable to play the first week.

April 18

Another hard-fought game for the Hurricanes against First State Bank of Gainesville was played Saturday. The Hurricanes were down 4-0 with about 10 minutes left in the game. Lance Sparkman, Keith Felderhoff and Mitch Endres came alive and scored three goals to close the gap to one. Willie Scoggins, Justin Brawner, Misty Barnhill, Kayla Felderhoff, and Steven Boaz kept the ball in Muenster's advantage until the final whistle. The team gave it a great charge at the end and was on the offensive when time ran out. This was a well played game.

April 21

The Hurricanes found themselves down 1-0 early in the first half. Keith Felderhoff scored one and with a great assist from Kayla Felderhoff he scored again. A short time later Lance Sparkman scored to take the team to a 3-1 advantage into the second half. NALC came out hard the second half. But with great defense by Willie Scoggins, Misty Barnhill and Lance Sparkman the ball was kept in Muenster's control and Mitch Endres scored three goals and Chisam Cain scored two. Kayla and Keith Felderhoff each scored another. Muenster came away with a 10[1] win over NALC.

April 25

Muenster went into this game short-handed. Travis Bayer was under the doctor's care. The team fought hard in the first half to a 0-0 tie going into the second half. Then the scoring started when Mitch Endres, Keith Felderhoff and Kayla Felderhoff each scored in the half. Justin Brawner, Misty Barnhill, Chisam Cain, Willie Scoggins, Steven Boaz all played great ball control and defense. Lance Sparkman was the stand out at goalie. He saved a game-tying goal. Muenster came away with a 3-2 win over Kale Oil Company.

'Our Treasured Trees' is theme of Soil Stewardship Week

Featuring the vital role that trees and forests play in conserving soil and water resources, the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District is encouraging local schools, camps, churches, organizations and individuals to join the nationwide observance of Soil and Water Stewardship Week, April 26-May 3.

The local conservation district, which works throughout the year on soil and water conservation measures, is providing literature, educational materials and speakers that describe how people are dependent and interact with trees. The local district is one of nearly 3,000 conservation districts nationwide that works with the National Association of Conservation Districts to encourage the wise use of natural resources through the annual week-long observance.

Clyde Hale, chairman of the Upper Elm-Red SWCD, said he hopes Stewardship Week will encourage individuals to think about their relationship with trees and establish and care for trees in urban and rural areas. "Every citizen has the opportunity to plant a tree, care for a newly planted seedling, look after mature trees or send financial support to someone who will do those tasks," said Hale.

Materials designed with the 1992 theme, "Our Treasured Trees," are being distributed by the Upper Elm Red SWCD and may be obtained by calling or visiting the district office during business hours at 406B West Lamar, Sherman, Texas 75090, telephone (903) 892-6013.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Soybean Weed Control

This year producers planted quite a few acres of early group 4 soybeans. These beans were planted narrow row, ranging from 7 to 21 inches. Soybeans have a wide variety of herbicides available for various weed and grass control problems.

Many producers used either Dual or Treflan as a preplant incorporation method of weed and grass problems. However, if producers failed to use a PPI herbicide, there are many over the top herbicides available.

Questions arise on how tall soybeans can be and tolerate spray rigs and tractors. Information from Iowa State indicates that you can run over soybeans up to the second trifoliate leaf without much damage to the bean crop. A young soybean plant should have a single leaf as its first true leaf out of the growth, then there should be two sets of trifoliate leaves. These plants will probably be 6 inches tall when they are in this second trifoliate stage of growth. The younger the soybean plant, the more resilience it will have following tire tracks.

Many agricultural chemical companies have products available for weed and grass control in soybeans. Recently I visited with Travis Miller, Extension Soybean Specialist at Texas A&M, and he offered the following suggestions for chemical control. To control broadleaves such as cocklebur, sunflowers, pigweed, and morning glory, products like Septer, Pursuit, Classic, and Basagram are available. If using Septer or Pursuit, be sure and use a sticker and not crop oil. Read your label because with some products you will have to use a crop oil or sticker. Also, producers should note recropping intervals on the label. These recropping intervals can range from 4 to 18 months.

Annual grasses can be controlled with Poast Plus, Assure, or Bugle and if Johnsongrass is the problem, producers can use Fusilade 2000, Select, or Assure.

It is important that producers identify the grass or weed problem that they have and select the correct herbicide to be used at the recommended rate and application time. Soybeans are off and growing well and with the addition of spring and summer rains, we hope to see a good crop develop for an August harvest.

Additional information concerning soybean herbicides can be obtained from the County Extension Office.

References to commercial products or trade names are made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is implied.

County Small Grain Tour

A County Small Grain Tour will be held on Wednesday, May 6. This year's tour will view Small Grain Seed Treatments; Wheat Varieties, Foliar fungicide Demonstration, Oat Varieties, and the State Breeding Nursery. A variety of topics will be covered and include the following speakers: Jim Blalock, Extension Agronomist; Alan Knutson, Extension Entomologist; Chemical Company Representatives; and David Marshal and Russell Sutton, Plant Breeders with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The following is a schedule of tour stops: 8:00 a.m., Wheat Variety and Fungicide Plots, Rudy Zimmerer Farm, County Road 438 South of Lindsay; 9:00 a.m., Wheat Foliar Fungicide Plots, Robert Klement Farm near Hood on County Road 337; 10:00 a.m., State Breeding Nursery, Ash Street, Muenster; 11:30 a.m., Oat and Wheat Variety Plots and Lunch, Cooke County Electric Coop, Muenster.

This year much data is available for viewing because of the extreme weather conditions, disease pressure, and other environmental factors that have plagued the various small grains throughout the county. An Ag Industry sponsored Hamburger Lunch will be provided at the last location. All producers and interest individuals are invited to attend the tour.

Ag Marketing Club

Ag Marketing Club will be held Tuesday, May 5 at 9 a.m. The Ag Marketing Club is held each month at the North Texas Bank and Trust Building in Gainesville on Highway 82. Ken Stokes, Extension Economist, will be on hand this month to discuss Small Grain and Wheat Outlook along with Marketing Trends. The Marketing Club offers an opportunity for producers to meet in a forum and look at current agricultural pricing scenarios. Producers interested in attending are invited to the monthly meetings.

Southwest Dairy Field Day

Dairy producers will find the latest methods in Feed Handling, especially Total Mixed Rations, and Solid Waste disposal at the Southwest Dairy Field Day May 14 near Stephenville, Texas. The demonstrations will begin at 10 a.m. and other programs will be held during the day until 4 p.m.

The demonstrations and exhibits of Waste Management and Feed Handling Equipment will be at the George DeVries Dairy. The dairy is located five miles west of Stephenville on Sanitary Landfill Road. Producers will be able to follow signs from Highway 377 at Stephenville. Additional information can be obtained by calling Joe Pope at 817-965-1460 or Bob Whitney at 915-356-2539.

Cattle feeding returns prove to follow seasonal patterns

By KATHLEEN W. WARD

Cattle and feedgrain prices tend to follow seasonal patterns.

Logic suggests cattle feeders' returns may therefore follow seasonal trends, as well. So, "finishing" cattle only when returns are likely to peak could be more profitable than operating year-round.

To test this idea, Kansas State University economist Michael Langemeier recently analyzed western Kansas cattle feedlot data for 1981 through 1991.

"There's a definite pattern," he said. "But producers should use the study's results with caution. Due in part to the cattle price cycle, returns for a particular month or quarter can really vary from year to year."

Langemeier, who is the livestock production analyst for KSU's Cooperative Extension Service, said the annual average return for the study period was about $13 per head for steers weighing 700 to 800 pounds when placed on feed.

Fed cattle marketed in spring beat that annual average, however, with seasonal average returns of $22 per head for March, $36 for April and $35 for May.

Fed cattle marketed before March or after June did not come up to the overall average. Those sold in July, August and September brought the lowest returns, averaging from $2 in the hole to $3 per head.

"Even so, spring quarter returns were negative in four of the 11 years. In 1985, second quarter losses were more than $50 a head, Langemeier said. Third quarter returns also were negative in just four years. In fact, they were above $50 in 1982, 1987 and 1990. But summer returns in 1985 were a negative $105 and in 1991 were a negative $85 per head.

"So, we can say returns have a tendency to be stronger in spring and weakest in summer. Still, that's just something to keep in mind. It would be a mistake to base all feeding plans on average price trends."

The economist said three factors are most important to determining cattle finishing profits: feeder prices, feedgrain costs and fed cattle prices.

Prices for feeder cattle headed for an April or May feedlot closeout tend to be about 1 percent above the annual average. Feedgrain costs for April and May closeout are about 2 percent less than annual feedgrain prices. And the season price peak for fed cattle also occurs in April and May.

"Fed cattle prices are relatively more important than feedgrain costs in explaining the seasonality of returns," Langemeier said. "That's why spring tends to bring stronger returns."

"But cattle prices tend to drop over the summer, while feedgrain prices often rise until harvest. And that combination contributes to summer's seasonal weakness in feeding returns."

For his study, the economist included:

- Price and interest rate data from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Federal Reserve.

- Data on all other specific costs, placement weights and sale weights from western Kansas closeout records. To calculate monthly average returns for 700- to 800-pound steers, Langemeier subtracted the following from gross returns: feeder costs, feed costs, interest costs, processing costs, medication costs and yardage.

Regulations add burdens to households

Since 1954 the number of federal regulations has increased from 16,500 to 200,000. Estimates indicate that current federal regulations cost the average American household $4,300 per year.

Compliance with only the environmental regulations proposed this year is estimated to cost $70.5 billion, or approximately $300 per person. An estimate based on Environmental Protection Agency figures indicates that over the next decade Americans will spend nearly $1.6 trillion on environmental programs, or $25,000 per family of four.

Survey: ag recovery continues

Agriculture in the United States continued to recover from financial problems of the early and mid-1980s in 1990, according to the most recent Farm Costs and Returns Survey by USDA.

"For the majority of U.S. farms and ranches, the period of 1987 through 1990 can be characterized as a sustained recovery from the hard times of several years ago," reported economist Mitchell Morehart of USDA's Economic Research Service. "In 1989 and 1990, farm income reached record highs — 1989 was a particularly successful year."

In 1989 total assets for all farms surveyed averaged $375,470 and increased to $410,600 in 1990, according to the survey. Total average debt rose from $51,522 in 1989 to $54,053 in 1990.

The proportion of farms with a positive net farm income was 61.5 percent in 1990, down from 62.4 percent the year before.

Farms in Appalachia and the Corn Belt were the best overall financial condition, with the highest percentage of favorable operations and the lowest share of vulnerable operations. The Mountain and Pacific regions had the highest proportion of vulnerable operations.

The survey has been a means of assessing the financial health of farm businesses for seven years. Enumerators are currently gathering data for the eighth survey, which covers 1991.

USDA announces more dairy initiatives

Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan last week announced he is taking four additional administrative steps to bolster farm milk prices.

"The administration shares the dairy industry's goal of avoiding unnecessary price instability," Madigan said. The new administrative actions will supplement the six steps announced on March 11, he added.

"These new initiatives should help balance supply and demand for milk and dairy products this year, and therefore stabilize farm milk prices," he said.

Madigan said the U.S. Department of Agriculture will immediately add Mexico as an eligible destination under the dairy export incentive program (DEIP) for 25,000 metric tons of milk powder and will continue to inform DEIP countries that they may exchange export credit guarantees for the dairy export program. In addition, Madigan said USDA would revise the current dairy export program invitation for cheese to include additional varieties of cheese for those countries currently eligible to purchase cheddar cheese under the program. The varieties to be included are mozzarella, gouda, feta and cream cheeses.

Another step taken to assist dairy farmers, Madigan said, is that USDA will adjust the Commodity Credit Corp. purchase price of barrel cheese by reducing the differential between cheese in 40-pound blocks and 500-pound barrels from 4 cents to 3 cents per pound.

Tractor, combine sales to decrease

Tractor sales decreased 12 percent in 1991. Combine sales were down 7 percent.

Both tractor and combine sales are forecast to decrease another 7 percent in 1992.

Expenditures on tractors and other farm machinery fell from $8.2 billion in 1990 to an estimated $7.6 billion in 1991 and will likely continue to decrease in 1992 according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture forecast.
