BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1932

NUMBER 45

BELEVES SESSION NECESSARY

Davis legislator from Coleman county, does not believe a call for special session of the legislature is necessary. He probably unduly disturbed the unduly disturbed Sherman recently.

Reasons, Davis is of special session.

Nov. 8 would work out a compromise. It would be a lot of amendments, and would not be best. It is placed on Nov. 8, either or not of membership until January 1.

He contends that the term of the institutions ends Nov. 8, and that the term of a year continues until Jan. 1, and that a law passed by the legislature on Nov. 8 would be at- tached to the year.

REASON BEHIND

Reason behind the bill is that any session of the legislature already has a deficit of approximately $12 million, according to the report, he points out.

He never did think the bill had adequate reason for its passage under the constitution, the principle of law still obtains and he has authority to control the bill. He will bring the bill to the floor of the legislature should be left to the legislature when plenty of time is available.

He-judge decision does not mean the bill is not a good bill until the last court decision on the question, we should make and make new oil connection.

He said the bill is a good bill, and he will support it.

THIS YEAR HAS POLITICAL DATES

Political calendar for November includes the general election on November 8, and the primary election on November 15. The legislature will convene on November 8, and the session will continue until January 1, 1933.

November 8—General election. Polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. The election is for the legislature and for the office of governor.

November 15—Primary election. Polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. The election is for the legislature and for the office of governor.

Schools of The County in Session

The opening of five schools in the county are now in session. The schools that began their sessions were Indian Creek, Holder, Mikeswater and Cho. The school had been announced to open a week earlier but the opening was postponed for a week.

GOP CANDIDATE'S HEAD HERE

"The people of Texas have the choice this year of voting for me or nothing," Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor, told an audience in the district court room Monday morning. A crowd that almost filled the room was present to hear the tall, young looking, candidate who has made an extensive campaign over the state, delivering as many as seven and eight speeches in a day. The opening of the 35th district court, scheduled for 9 o'clock, was postponed until Mr. Bullington could speak.

Dr. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of Coggin Avenue Baptist Church, introduced Mr. Bullington, saying he was pinch-hitting for Dr. John Power, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, who could not be present. Dr. Hornburg said he was not representing himself or the members of his church, but the citizenship of Brownwood, noted for its hospitality.

Bullington paid tribute to the colleges here, Howard Payne and Daniel Baker. They were the outpost of education in West Texas for years and the work of the institutions can never be estimated, he said.

"I am here to talk fundamental things, and not to speak of the things that divide the parties nationally. The question is whether or not the principles that are taught by the church are to prevail in November. If the good people of Texas will unite we will swamp Jim Ferguson," he said.

Would Keep Democratic Employees He repeated the promise he has made in previous talks that he would keep the efficient Democratic employees at Austin if he is elected Governor. There has been, he said, a whispering campaign that he would turn the state over to the Republicans.

"If I wanted to I couldn't do that because my appointments must be approved by the Senate. Another reason I wouldn't do it is because I don't want to be an ingrate. If I did I said when I entered the campaign that all I wanted to do was to save Texas from Fergusonism. The Democrats are going to elect me," he said, "there are not enough Republicans."

Appealing to bolters, Bullington said a voter is not obligated to party, but the party is obligated to its members. The duty of the party, he declared, is to give its members honest and competent nominees. If the party does not do that, then the voter who loves his party will vote for candidates of other parties. A public enemy, whether he knows it or not, Bullington declared.

Bullington said there can be no fair distribution of taxes as long as the ad valorem system is used. He proposes to find the burden of taxes on the home owners and "put it on some of those interests that have paid Jim Ferguson to lobby for them." He said if elected Governor he would consolidate bureaus, give home rule to counties and reform courts to cut the cost in half in interest of economy.

Pardons and Paroles Taking up the question of pardons and paroles, Bullington said he would stop the peddling of those if it was the only thing he did as Governor, saying he would pardon and parole those who have been in the state penitentiary and Bullington said he proposes to find the burden of taxes on the home owners and "put it on some of those interests that have paid Jim Ferguson to lobby for them."

Sterilization of Criminals Will Be Proposed in Texas HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 2.—A law providing for sterilization of the criminally insane and all persons having chronic constitutional diseases was introduced before the next Texas legislature by J. W. Mills, chief probation officer of Harris county.

Mills said today that 15 years of social welfare work had convinced him such a bill should be adopted. He said he would call it on to the legislature and that California's recently was upheld by the United States supreme court as constitutional.

Mills was elected to the office of chief probation officer in the democratic primary and will maintain his active interest in social welfare work, he said.

When New York Works Late

New Yorkers are keeping late hours—in their offices—these days, this remarkable night picture of Manhattan discloses. Taken from the lofty top of the central building in Rockefeller Center, looking south down 50th street, the photo shows that not all the bright lights are on Broadway. The Empire State building, surmounted by its brilliantly lighted tower, is seen in the center of the picture.

BROWN COUNTY ABOUT MIDWAY BETWEEN EXTREME TAX RATES

Brown county is about in the middle class as far as tax rates are concerned as shown in a table of tax rates for most of the counties of Texas Tax Journal. The table shows tax rates for all purposes for 1930, 1931 and 1932, including the tax rate on county-wide road bond issues. Some county tax rates have been reduced for 1932 by reason of the passage of the road bond redemption law, while others remain practically the same.

Brown county's 1932 tax rate is $1.19. In 1931 the rate was $1.30 and in 1930 was $1.15.

High and Low Counties Counties reported in the table range from a low of 29 cents in Reeves county to a high of $2.40 in Franklin county. The Reeves county rate for 1930 was $1.66 and for 1931 was 44 cents. The Franklin rate was $2.05 cents for both 1930 and 1931.

Some of the other counties with low rates are: Ellis with a 35 cent rate for 1931 and 1932, Kennedy with a 36 cent rate for 1932 and for 1931 and 40 cents for 1930, Val Verde with 31 cents for 1932, reduced from 35 in 1931 and from 80 in 1930, and Wichita with a 35 cent rate for 1932, reduced from 85 in 1931 and with a 75 cent rate for 1930.

Annual Sale of Poppies Planned by Legion Auxiliary November 7 to 13 Is Designated As Education Week

Friday, November 11, will be "Poppy Day" in Brownwood. On that day every person in the city will be asked to wear a bright red poppy in honor of the men who gave their lives in the World War. Mrs. Allen D. Forsythe, president of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced. The poppies will be sold throughout the city by Auxiliary women, assisted by members of other women's organizations, and the entire proceeds will go to the relief and rehabilitation funds of the Auxiliary.

The local poppy sale will be part of a nation-wide observance of "Poppy Day." More than ten million paper replicas of the poppy of Flanders Fields will be offered by Auxiliary women who will distribute the flowers on the streets of practically every city and town in the country. Thousands of disabled veterans have been working for many weeks making the flowers for the sale.

Poppy Day will have a two-fold message to the people of Brownwood. First, it will call attention to the memory of those men who gave their lives for America in the World War, and second, it will appeal to them to help lighten the burden for those who are paying the price of America's victory in suffering and hardships, the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead. Every penny which the people of the city contribute for their poppies will go to the relief of the living victims of the war, the bulk of the money remaining here in Brownwood to finance the Auxiliary's relief activities among needy veterans and their families here.

SMASH OCCURS ON INDIAN CREEK ROAD OF BROWNWOOD

Charles Shropshire of Brownwood and Harold Gibbons and Bob Hairston, both of Richland Springs, escaped without serious injury when the airplane in which they were riding crashed about eight miles south of Brownwood at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The plane, a cabin Commandaire owned by Shropshire, developed engine trouble and crashed from a height of two hundred feet on the Indian Creek road and was practically demolished.

Although all three occupants of the plane sustained severe bruises and a number of cuts, reports from Dr. Med. Snyder's office was that none were seriously injured. Hairston suffered a number of severe bruises on his face and a slight injury to one of his legs. Shropshire had two gashes on his face. Several stitches were required to close the wounds. Gibbons was the least seriously injured of the three, suffering only one deep scratch on his left cheek and a few minor bruises.

Shropshire, who is manager of Brownwood Municipal Airport, had gone to Richland Springs, picked up Gibbons and Hairston and was taking them to Fort Worth, by way of Brownwood. A miss was detected in the motor several miles south of Brownwood, but no attempt was made to land at the time because the plane was flying with the wind. Shropshire explained while his injuries were being dressed in the doctor's office.

Plane Was Being Landed The engine trouble became so bad that a landing was necessary and the plane was being brought to a lower altitude and the pilot was attempting to turn around to land into the wind. The engine stopped dead as the plane was about three-quarters around and the ship crashed.

Stranger Gives Assistance Some one from Indian Creek took the three into an automobile and rushed them to Brownwood for treatment. Hairston was unconscious for a time. He and Shropshire both lost a considerable amount of blood from the wounds in their faces.

Gibbons, a son-in-law of Judge E. J. Miller of Brownwood and a grandson of the late "Uncle Billy" Gibbons, pioneer rancher of San Saba county, in the plane of Charles Day continued his trip to Fort Worth. Hairston is in the Hairston Drug Company of Richland Springs.

Those set for trial and the date fixed follow: Guy Richardson, theft, Monday, Nov. 7; Owen Sellers, burglary, Wednesday, Nov. 9; Bob Scoggin, et al, Wednesday, November 9.

The following cases were dismissed: Noah W. Hall, bigamy; Julia Lamar, possession of liquor for purpose of sale; W. E. Thompson, receiving and concealing stolen property; Bill Neville, receiving and concealing stolen property; Richard Woodruff, possession of liquor for sale; John Freeman, possession of liquor for purpose of sale; May Danaher, possession of liquor for purpose of sale; Leonard Reasoner, et al, "The marriage of Harve A. Allgood and Gertrude Allgood was annulled by Judge Miller Tuesday morning.

In the suit of Ben F. Stone, executor, against Arch Ratliff, et al, judgment was taken by default.

Other non-jury civil cases have been set for hearing during the current week. Cases on the appearance docket will also be heard by the court during the week.

WHITE APPEALS FOR BUREAU AID

An appeal to the citizenship of Brownwood to cooperate with Brownwood Employment Bureau for Relief in completing its drive for $2,000 to aid in relief work this winter was made by James L. White, president of the bureau, today. The campaign was started last week and twelve committees are working. They are calling on people of the city to subscribe.

Reports today were that about half the amount needed has been raised thus far. Some of the committees have not reported, and others have not seen all the people in the district assigned to them. Mr. White urges the committees to complete their work as soon as possible and the citizenship to help the committees in their work by subscribing. The drive will be continued through today and Wednesday and bureau officials hope the goal will be reached by that time.

Anyone who has not been seen by one of the committees and who wishes to contribute to the bureau is asked to call by bureau headquarters in the Elks building on East Lee street and make his contribution.

To Supplement R. F. C. Funds The $2,000 the bureau is trying to raise locally will supplement $5,000 expected to be received from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The city had made application for $5,000 to be used in charity and the request has been approved and sent to Washington along with similar requests from many other Texas towns and cities.

Word regarding the application should be received some time this week, officers of the bureau believe. The understanding here is that the money received from the government will not have to be paid back, but will be taken from Texas' allotment from the federal government for highways, beginning in 1935.

The bureau is not open for extending help to persons at this time and will not be opened until after the cotton picking season. The money received from the government can not be given to any one unless labor is done in return for it. The bureau will secure labor for people who call for help and pay them for the clothing as was the policy last year.

People who make contributions this year will receive fifty per cent of the contribution back in work. The whole amount of the subscription is to be paid into the bureau, all one time or in installments, and the bureau will do work for the contributions to the extent of fifty per cent of the amount subscribed.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS CENTENNIAL PROGRAM AT THRIFTY SUNDAY

A large crowd of citizens of the Thrifty community gathered at the church Sunday afternoon to hear a program on the Texas Centennial. People of that community, according to reports from the meeting, received the program enthusiastically. Several people from other communities attended, including a number from Brownwood.

Religious services on the first part of the program were conducted by Rev. Luther Nelson. Several hymns were sung by the choir, led by I. C. Mullins, with Mrs. Ike Mullins, Jr., at the piano. A program by students of Thrifty school, directed by Mrs. Rucker, teacher, followed. Songs, including "America" and "The Eyes of Texas," were sung by the students. A reading, "Texas Heroes," was given by Iva Lee Morris. A solo, "I'm Coming Back to You, Texas," was given by Georgia Belle Cason.

Mrs. J. L. Cross of Brownwood made the talk in interest of the Centennial, urging the carrying of the amendment November 8 authorizing the Legislature of Texas to provide for the celebration in 1936.

Essay and poster contests, in charge of Mrs. Rucker, on the Centennial will be conducted in the school.

Friday night County Superintendent F. D. Pierce spoke in interest of the Centennial at Zephyr school where a school carnival was being held and where a large crowd was present. The Centennial essay and poster contests will be conducted in the school under the direction of Miss Kate Field, English teacher, and teachers in the lower grades.

SECRETARY C. G. PROPOSES NEW STATE HIGHWAY

A new state highway, to be designated and built by the state, that would connect with the Bankhead Highway either at Baird or Abilene and go on an Airline to Austin, is being proposed by Hilton Burks, secretary Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

Connecting the Bankhead at either Baird or Abilene, the proposed highway would go in almost a straight line through Cross Plains, Brownwood, San Saba and Burnet into Austin. There is at present a hard surfaced highway from Austin to Burnet and the road, if designated and taken over by the state would have to be constructed from its connection with the Bankhead to Burnet, an entirely new highway.

Direct Panhandle-Austin Route. It would be the most direct route from the South Plains and the Panhandle to Austin. A ruler placed on the map of Texas with one end at either Abilene or Baird and the other at Austin shows that the above named towns are almost on an air line.

A hard-surfaced road out of Burnet connects with the Airline Highway from San Antonio to Wichita Falls and another highway at San Saba connects with the Pecos East Highway from San Antonio to Comanche, by way of Llano and Fredricksburg.

Brown county has enough unaided bonds to purchase right of way in the county for the proposed road. The road through part of the county would be along the route of the Brownwood-Cross Plains road, construction on which has been partially completed and on which are two large bridges across the Jun Ned and Bayou. The road has been built according to state specifications. The highway commission recently designated a highway from Baird or Abilene to Brownwood as its last meeting. The commission declined to give designation because the highway would be too short, but with connection worked out to Austin, the road would be of great value to the state, Mr. Burks says.

The Canadian line to Brownwood, which has been designated by the federal government from the Canadian line to Brownwood, has no been designated south of Brownwood. Mr. Burks points out. If the new highway could be worked out plans for designation of this trans-continental highway on highway 1, south from Brownwood could be changed and the federal highway could be designated over the new highway. The proposed new route would cut down the distance across the state by many miles.

Mr. Burks is now conferring with other towns along the proposed route and believes all cities will be enthusiastically in favor of the road. He says delegations from all the towns probably will go before the highway commission at its next meeting to ask designation of the new highway.

The Great Lakes Highway would be a good name for the road, Mr. Burks believes. This name would be appropriate since the highway would pass by, or near, lakes at Abilene, Brownwood, Marble Falls and Austin. It would be a route through some of the most beautiful country in the state. It would pass near the newly discovered cavern near Burnet where thousands of people will go to see this natural wonder when the cave is developed, he further points out. The highway would not only shorten the distance across the state, giving the South Plains and Panhandle section a direct route to Austin, but it would be one of the major scenic highways in the state.

Big Liquor Still Is Seized Tuesday West of Glen Rose

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 2.—Foot-sore and with the muscles of their legs shooting every time they took a step, four federal prohibition agents of the Dallas office claimed membership in mountaineer clubs today and lauded the homing instincts of a burro which led to discovery of a giant liquor still in the cedar thickets of Bachelor canyon.

The agents followed the burro from its grazing ground to the thicket about 25 miles northwest of Cleburne yesterday. The plant consisted of a 200 gallon still, fermenting vats and other supplies. A large quantity of sugar was seized.

The burro, according to the agents, was one of several used by bootleggers in bringing in supplies and in transportation of the manufactured product to market.

Twenty-three gallons of freshly run liquor, a 750 gallon cooling vat with liquor and more or less 2,500 gallons in fermenting vats was dumped.

Charges of manufacture and possession of liquor and liquor making equipment were filed before United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith today naming John P. Herring and Raymond Molder, both of Kristinstad, and Sonley West of Glen Rose as operators of the establishment.

conest telling what our Bible has. The prize being a stick of candy. A very delicious refreshment plate was passed to each guest. Firemen, city council, business men and ministers of Bangs, were guests of Mayor C. B. Palmer at a banquet given October the 31, at the Cottage hotel. Halloween decorations were in evidence in the dining room and lobby. Orange and black caps with numbers corresponding to place cards added to the merriment. The table was gay in candles, yellow chrysanthemums, and seasonal favors. Mayor Palmer spoke in glowing terms of the services rendered to the town by the firemen. He mentioned how they had to fight their battles alone, often ruining good clothes and receiving only the appreciation of a very few families while many enjoyed the protection afforded by the fire department. J. K. Davis responded in a very fitting way thanking the mayor for these courtesies. The menu was: Turkey, cranberry sauce, dressing, giblet gravy, Perfection salad, potatoes and peas, candies, celery, rolls coffee, ice cream, cake. The guests praised Mrs. Jackson for arranging the banquet in such a perfect manner. The Parent-Teacher association will meet Wednesday, November 9 at school in the Home Economics cottage. INDICTMENT RETURNED JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 31—The Duval county grand jury today returned 24 indictments against nine men charged with conducting a night-riding reign of terror, allegedly flogging their victims, some of whom were women.

FARMERS REQUESTED TO BE AT DEMONSTRATION RAT KILLING CAMPAIGN

Though it is safe to guess that the rat mortality in Brown county was sharply increased last week, owing to the rat poisonings demonstrations that were held in the county, it is still quite certain that the rodents, unmindful of their impending doom in a campaign that is to be made against them the latter part of this month, are going serenely on their way eating and making merry with whatsoever they can devour—and what they devour seems to be a plenty.

The general rat extermination campaign in this county, as formerly announced, is to be made during the week beginning November 21.

Of the two pre-campaign poisonings, the first was at the Nesbit Rice farm in the Brooksmith community in the early part of last week. The second was at Bangs in the latter part of the week. Some pre-baiting was done in the latter demonstrations and some observations were made that made some interesting additions to the knowledge of ratology.

For instance, as some of the citizens learned who hid themselves near the scene and watched the rats when they arrived at their party after the bait had been put out, there are different tastes and appetites among rats, just as among people. The bait consisted of hamburger meat and salmon, served separately. One rat would come along, sniff the hamburger meat and immediately move over to the salmon. Perhaps the very next rat would indicate that his choice was the hamburger. Pre-baiting, without the poison, was done for two nights, and the poison was used on the third night. County Agent Griffin says that heavy feeding in the pre-baiting is not recommended.

There were more rats out for the first on the second night than on the first, which appears to prove that the series of pre-baiting is a good policy in the anti-rat campaign.

The poison used, and which will be used in the campaign the latter part of this month is "red squill," which is recommended by the Bureau of Biology Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This poison, it is said, causes nausea and vomiting in any animals except rats, and thus is not likely to prove fatal if any other animal should happen to eat of it. To the rats it brings slow death. This is preferable to the quick death since it gives the rats time to get out of the buildings where they have eaten the bait and they die in their own dens.

Mr. Griffin states that a supply of "red squill" will be obtained for the use of those desiring to poison rats on their farms. A number of demonstrations will be given in different parts of the county during the campaign week. All farmers interested are requested to attend some of these demonstrations. Mr. Griffin states, as it will be impossible for him to aid in the rat poisoning work on individual farms.

Arrest in Coca Cola And Nehi Burglaries Of Over a Year Ago

Clint McFarland, wanted in Brownwood on charges of burglary in connection with the burglaries of the Coca-Cola and Nehi Bottling Companies here more than a year ago, was arrested in Temple Sunday by peace officers there working with the Brownwood police department. A grand jury indictment against McFarland was returned here several months ago but he had never been apprehended.

Chester Avinger of the sheriff's department went to Temple and returned him to county jail here this morning. It is thought his case will be heard this term of district court.

Big Brown County Sweet Potato Crop

"It looks like everybody in Brown county ought to live on sweet potatoes, as there are so many potatoes and the growers can get nothing for them," says County Agent O. P. Griffin.

Brown county has a larger acreage of sweet potatoes this year and probably a larger yield per acre than ever before, Mr. Griffin states. Not only in the sandy lands of the northern part of the county, which have long been noted for growing fine potatoes, but all over the county the potatoes are plentiful and of fine quality, it is said.

Cox has been in jail at Laredo since his deportation from Mexico about two weeks ago.

GIVEN 25-YEAR TERM. FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 31.—Willie De Leon, 37, today was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment on his plea of guilty to the slaying of James M. Wood here April 15. NEFF DECLINES TO DISCUSS POLITICS BUT GIVES HEARTY SUPPORT TO CENTENNIAL MOVE

Former Governor Rat M. Neff declined to discuss state politics or make a statement regarding the governor's race when questioned by a Bulletin representative while Mr. Neff, now president of Baylor University, was in Brownwood Sunday to address the state meeting of Baptist Student Unions.

Saying "This is Sunday," Mr. Neff waved away the questions of the reporter and maintained a silence regarding state politics that he has kept all during the present campaign. Several days ago a reporter at Waco, according to state press dispatches, told Neff he wanted to ask him one question about politics and Neff told him not to ask it.

The former governor, however, did tell the reporter he is much in favor of a Texas Centennial and is working for it and speaking in interest of the celebration at every opportunity.

Reiterating former utterances made by him on this subject, Mr. Neff gave The Bulletin representative the following statement appealing for the voters of Texas to support the proposed State constitutional amendment to be voted on Nov. 8 providing for a centennial celebration in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Texas' independence.

"Centennials are the punctuations of history. They are the periods when man properly pauses in his onward march to take a backward glance on the panorama of his achievements. This mark of civilization's march is age-old and earth-wide. Nowhere, however, has it been observed with more uniformity than in America.

Former Expositions "Philadelphia, to glorify the 100th birthday of the Nation, opened to the plaudits of an admiring world our first exposition. Chicago, to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, gave to all humanity the World's Columbian Exposition. St. Louis, in recognition of the achievements of 100 years from the date of the Louisiana Purchase, held the grandest and most wonderful fair. Virginia celebrated her 300th birthday with the Jamestown Exposition. California commemorated the passing of a century mark from the discovery of the Pacific Ocean when, on the completion of the Panama Canal, she added to the American life with her Panama-Pacific Exposition. Chicago is now making extensive preparations to celebrate next year 100 years of accomplishment since its pioneers laid out the Michigan shores the foundation stone of their expanding city.

"The people, where these expositions have been held, have always given enthusiastically to their maintenance. The citizens of Illinois by legislative enactment made liberal appropriations for the support of the World's Columbian Exposition. The voters of Missouri amended their State Constitution in order to give sanction and make a suitable contribution for the support of the St. Louis Fair. The people of California amended their Constitution in order that the State might give support to the Panama-Pacific Centennial. What other States have done Texas can and ought to do.

As a World Attraction "These centennials are educational institutions and it has been this view that caused the respective States to approve by legislative enactment the holding of these historical centennials. A Texas Centennial will show the people at home and abroad what Texas is as a country, historically, commercially and industrially. A Texas Centennial will attract the attention of the world.

"Surely, the 100th anniversary of Texas' independence should be celebrated in a manner becoming the dignity of our forefathers in keeping with the magnitude of the Government they established and befitting the mighty influence our Government has had for 100 years upon the destinies of mankind. Not to do so would be to prove ourselves the unworthy sons of illustrious sires.

"The people of Texas, therefore, at the November election should amend their Constitution as other States have gladly done in order that the Legislature in its wisdom may give its endorsement and its support to a Texas Centennial in 1936. Texas will have no great tomorrows unless it holds in reverence and devotion its great yesterdays."

Waterfowl Season For Hunters Opened At Noon Tuesday

The season on waterfowl opened at noon Tuesday and closes at sundown Dec. 31. Reports are that waterfowl, especially duck, will be fairly plentiful in this section before the season closes, but not many are to be seen at this time. Large numbers of Brownwood hunters, however, will be at the waterholes after noon today looking for the birds.

Among the new rules is one relating to ducks. The bag limit is left at 15 in any one day, providing that a bag of ducks in one day may contain not more than 10 canvas backs, redheads, greater scaup, lesser scaup, bluebill, blewing teal, shoveler, spoonbill and Gadwalls or not more than 10 of all these varieties. A person may possess ten of the above mentioned varieties of ducks or of any one of them and possess five ducks of other varieties to make up the bag limit of 15. Of all those varieties of ducks restricted to ten in one day a person may possess not to exceed 20 of any one of these species. The possession limit of all varieties of ducks is not more than 30 at one time.

Geese and brant: Not more than four of all kinds may be taken in any one day and not more than eight geese and one brant may be possessed at one time.

Means of taking: Waterfowl may be taken during the open season by means of any one of the devices fired from the shoulder and the use of not more than 25 live duck decoys. There is no restriction on the number of artificial decoys that may be used. The use of an airplane, powerboat, sailboat or other floating device for taking ducks or geese is prohibited by both state and federal law.

The provision in reference to use of guns is controlled by both state and federal law. This means a gun and not a rifle. Under the state law a person using a rifle in hunting or killing any wild ducks or geese would be in violation of article 868, penal code 1925, which is section 18 on page 23 of the game, fish and oyster laws. Hunters are warned that gun, as used in the law, intends to restrict to a shotgun not to exceed 10 gauge.

There is no open season for wood duck, ruddy duck and buff-necked ducks.

AGED MAN IS BURNED. FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 2.—A desperate desire to retrieve his belongings from his burning farm home near here was blamed today for the death of J. R. Bryant, 72. His body was found before a closet door which he had tried vainly to open. Twice the aged man broke from the arms of the firemen. After his third dash into the house, friends were prevented from searching for him by intense heat.

Justice to the Soldiers

ONE OF THE NINE Constitutional amendments submitted to the electorate in the November election should have been submitted and adopted years ago, and ought to be given the unanimous approval of the people now. It is a proposal that constitutional provisions barring "soldiers, marines and seamen in the service of the United States Army or Navy" from the privilege of voting be eliminated and making "officers and enlisted men of the National Guard and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the United States Organized Reserves, retired officers of the United States Army or Navy or Marine Corps," and other retired officers and enlisted men eligible to hold public office in this state.

At the present time those enumerated above can not hold any public office in Texas because they are receiving compensation or salary from the state or the United States, and are also barred from office because of their official connection with the national government. Such restrictions are manifestly unfair, and ought to be removed as a matter of justice to a large number of tax paying citizens of the state.

The restrictions placed upon the franchise of officers and enlisted men of the military forces of the state and nation were written fifty-odd years ago, and were designed to protect Texas against the horde of Yankee soldiers maintained in this state under Republican carpetbag government. They were necessary then, but such regulations are not only unnecessary now but operate in discrimination against a large group of citizens whose rights they unjustly abrogate and deny. This amendment, therefore, should be adopted, as a measure of justice to our own citizens who have devoted or are devoting a part of their lives to the service of their country in some branch of the military establishment.

"Yaller Dog" Voting

MOST OF US, at some time or other, have heard our friends say they would readily vote for a "yaller dog" rather than for some candidate for public office who at the moment is particularly distasteful to them; and most of us, if the truth must be admitted, sometimes have shared the sentiment with them.

But "yaller dog" voting is a very poor way of discharging one's duty as a citizen. It is an admission that prejudice, hate or some similar emotion is in control of the franchise rather than conservative and reasonable thought. It is a confession that, regardless of consequence, the voter is determined to have vengeance upon some person who has incurred his displeasure, and that he is willing to do anything possible to secure it.

There will be a great deal of "yaller dog" voting in the general election in Texas. There are thousands of Texas Democrats who repeatedly have said they would vote for a "yaller dog" rather than for anybody remotely associated by kinship or otherwise with James E. Ferguson. They have been casting "yaller dog" votes for several years, and as a result an outstanding spokesman for their clan is authority for the statement that Texas has a "system of misgovernment and a vigorous demand for reform." The Dallas News, ostensibly a Democratic newspaper, also declares that at the present time, which it is to be remembered is under the administration of a man elected by "yaller dog" votes as the Governor of Texas, "Rural living conditions and education in Texas are outrageous; taxation is a chaos; county government is a farce, being both cumbersome and fearfully expensive."

The "yaller dog" of the moment—the reference is figurative—is the Republican nominee for the Governorship. Democrats who are willing to vote for a "yaller dog" rather than to support the Democratic nominee are going to cast their ballots for him; and what do they hope to gain by it? They haven't the slightest idea, except that they will "keep the Ferguson's out." They are not thinking of the destructive system of which The Dallas News complains. They are not thinking of the insidious influence of Republican bosses that is back of the Bullington candidacy. They are not thinking of the welfare of the Democratic party, or of their state. They are thinking only of another opportunity to let their prejudices guide them in a vicious blow at Fergusonism.

This newspaper has fought Fergusonism as long and as vigorously as any newspaper or any citizen of Texas; but it is not guided by a "yaller dog" policy. If the obligation to support Mrs. Ferguson because she is the Democratic nominee did not exist, it still would favor her instead of the Republican nominee because the latter is in bad company; company that is as bad as the worst that could possibly be said about Fergusonism. But the obligation to support the Democratic nominee does exist, and "yaller dog" voting ought not to destroy it. Such voting has never been productive of any good, and to the contrary is largely responsible for the distressing condition of the government, both state and national, at this very moment.

Some Good, Some Bad

WE HAVE recently discussed some of the amendments to be considered by voters in next Tuesday's election, including those appearing as numbers two, four, seven and nine as they will appear on the ballots. The other five are of relatively less importance, and as this newspaper understands their purposes each should be adopted.

Amendment number one provides that the permanent funds of the University of Texas, now amounting to several million dollars, be invested in federal, state, county, municipal or school bonds or federal farm act obligations. This amendment would clear the way for the safe investment of the funds in question, and would simplify the task of the University regents.

Amendment number three would bar the collection of delinquent taxes more than ten years past due. It would clear the tax records of carry-over delinquents and would simplify the checking of tax records in connection with property titles. Taxes more than ten years in arrears are seldom collected, but tax claims are serious clouds upon titles.

Amendment number five would authorize counties bordering on the Texas coast to issue, by a two-thirds majority vote, special bonds for the purpose of building seawalls or similar protective structures. This, it is thought, would check the tendency of the Legislature to make tax exemptions for such counties; and if it should have that effect it would be a wholesome amendment to the Constitution.

The sixth amendment provides that only qualified voters holding taxable property which has been rendered for taxation shall participate in elections involving the authorization of bonds or similar securities having a bearing upon the tax rate. The amendment seems to be self-explanatory, and is a meritorious one.

Amendment number eight would combine the offices of tax collector and tax assessor. This is an economy measure which would also promote efficiency in both the assessment and collection of taxes.

Every voter should think as carefully about these amendments as he does about his choice for governor or president, and should vote according to his best judgment. Amendments to the state Constitution sometimes are necessary, but they should never be approved except when they are necessary.

SOCIALIST NOMINEE ATTACKS SALES TAX AS BURDEN ON POOR

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, took his campaign to Syracuse and Rochester today after charging that both major parties were pledged to the sales tax, which he said puts the "burden of a staggering deficit on the shoulders of the workers."

"Even the unemployed, so long as they can purchase anything at all, are victims of this tax," Thomas asserted in a speech here last night. "It is, in other words, a tax deliberately designed to permit the property-owning classes to unload their share of the tax burden onto the backs of the workers."

Thomas favored income taxes, assessed at the British rate on earnings between $70,000 and $250,000 annually. "I solemnly warn you," Thomas told his hearers, "that immediately after too many of you have thrown away your votes on the two old parties in this election, there will be launched in the press, over the radio, and in the halls of congress an overwhelming campaign for the sales tax. The only way to stop this new infamy is to vote Socialist."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The White House today announced the appointment of P. L. Bellin of Pennsylvania as ambassador to Poland. Bellin, who has served more than 10 years in the diplomatic service, succeeded John W. Willis, Toledo automobile manufacturer who resigned some time ago.

MORTUARY

MRS. SENA ANNA RATLIFF Mrs. Sena Anna Ratliff, 71, wife of H. G. Ratliff, 1907 Avenue D, passed away at the family home in 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Oct. 30, after being ill for some time.

Mrs. Ratliff had been a resident of Brown county and Brownwood for almost sixty years and was one of the pioneers of this section. She had many friends throughout the county who join the family in their bereavement.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Central Methodist Church with Rev. P. T. Stanford, pastor, officiating, assisted by L. A. Clark. Interment was made in Greenleaf Cemetery with McInnis Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Ratliff was born January 26, 1861, in Red River county, Texas, and came to Brownwood in 1875 as a young woman. On August 4, 1876, she was married to H. G. Ratliff in this county, who had moved to this section in 1874. For some years the family resided on a ranch in what was then Brown county. When Mills county was organized the county line passed through his ranch, making it in Brown county and part in Mills county. The family has lived in Brownwood for a number of years. Mrs. Ratliff was a member of the Methodist church for fifty years and was a faithful, devoted Christian woman.

She is survived by her husband and the following children: Oscar Ratliff, Sterling City; Ira Ratliff, Plainview; Homer Ratliff, Indian Creek; Noel Ratliff, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Norman Howlett, Coprus, Okla.; active pallbearers were: W. A. Butler, J. B. Gross, J. H. Montgomery, Lee Meek, Cos Martin and Eugene Posey. Honorary pallbearers included all the old friends and acquaintances of the family during their many years as citizens of Brown county.

MRS. SARAH V. JENNINGS Mrs. Sarah V. Jennings, 72, of Bartlett, Texas, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. I. C. Tinsley, 908 Irma Street, where she had been visiting for the past week, Monday morning, Oct. 30, at 11 o'clock. She was buried in Bartlett cemetery beside her husband who died several years ago. McInnis Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Jennings is survived by the following children: J. Jennings, Bartlett; Mrs. Jessie Hearne, San Francisco, and Mrs. I. C. Tinsley, Brownwood.

HENRY DAVID MOORE Funeral services for Henry David Moore, 64, of Winchell were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Winchell Methodist Church with Rev. C. A. Wilkerson officiating. Interment was made in Winchell cemetery with White & Lendon Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Moore died suddenly Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock at the home of a son, Byron Moore, near Winchell. He had been working at a thrasher during the day and apparently was in good health. He was driving a wagon from the Hallowsen party Saturday night about 5 o'clock when his granddaughter at the house saw him fall in the wagon. She called for help, but when relatives reached the wagon they found that Mr. Moore was dead.

He was born in Madison county, Alabama, May 14, 1868. He came to Texas at the age of seven with his parents and located in Hill county, near Hillsboro. After living there for fifteen years they moved to Coryell county and it was there that Mr. Moore was married to Miss Hattie Lee Coffman, January 12, 1907. They moved to Brown county and located on a farm near Winchell. Mr. Moore died June 30, 1930, and was buried in Winchell cemetery. Mr. Moore had been a member of the Methodist Church at Winchell since 1912 and was active in church work. He was married to Mrs. Grace Dyer, October 28, 1931, and the couple were making their home on the Moore ranch.

Besides his wife, Mr. Moore is survived by his son, Byron Moore, Winchell; three grandchildren, Duane, Marvin and Hattie Lee Moore, and two brothers, C. A. Moore, Hillsboro, and E. P. Moore, Corsicana.

AD CLUB PRESIDENT ADVOCATES ELECTION OF GOV. ROOSEVELT

HOUSTON, Nov. 1.—Election of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency was advocated here today by Edgar Kobac, New York, president of the Advertising Federation of America.

"Roosevelt's election," said Kobac in an interview, "might result in some American industrial leaders going to work and doing some of the things they should have done two years ago."

"The thing that gets my nunny is that a portion of our business executives, regardless of their politics, say that things are going to hell if their man is not elected."

"Most of those men are using the election as an excuse for their own lack of ability to rebuild their own businesses."

"If Roosevelt is elected, some of these fellows now hollering 'we'll have to close up shop unless our candidate is elected' will be so scared they will wake up, go to work and do some of the things they should have done two years ago."

W.T.C.C. Beautification Contest
Lion Leo Ehlinger told the club of plans of the Chamber of Commerce civic committee, of which he is chairman, in the West Texas Beautification contest. Brownwood has entered and should work to be one of the leading cities of the state in the contest, he said. The Garden Club is co-operating in the phase of the contest for beautification of homes and yards in the city and Mr. Ehlinger asked the Lions Club to co-operate in seeing that streets and parks and vacant lots are put in good condition and kept that way for an inspection at any time. The matter was referred to the major activities committee of the club.

G. L. South, district attorney, member of the Coleman Lions Club, and Allen Davis of Brownwood were guests.

Members agreed that the meeting was one of the best held by the club in some time.

JUDGMENT FOR CITY GIVEN IN D. E. SMITH SUIT

Judgment for the City of Brownwood in its suit in 35th district court against D. E. Smith, former Houston real estate man, for cancellation of an extension agreement has been given by Judge E. J. Miller. The city holds liens on more than 70 lots in Houston which Smith owned and on which a five years extension was given in 1921. The suit was for cancellation of this agreement so that the city could file suits for collection from people who purchased the lots from Smith.

The suit claimed fraud on the part of Smith in securing the extension agreement, alleging he had sold several lots and had not paid the city its part when the agreement was entered into in 1921. Smith was charged in the suit with selling the lots and "using the money in riotous living." The suit also claimed Smith is insolvent and unable to further handle the property.

$28,000 Due the City

About $28,000 is due the City of Brownwood on the property. As long as the extension agreement was in force the city could not collect from people who purchased the lots from Smith without knowing that Brownwood held liens on the property.

The suit was filed by the city through City Attorney R. E. Lee several months ago. The judgment in favor of the city was rendered today by Judge Miller.

Mr. Lee said this afternoon the judgment and cancellation makes it possible for the city to start steps for collection. Attorneys will be engaged at Houston and foreclosure suits will be filed against people who have purchased the lots on which the city has liens, he said.

NEW PROCESSES FOR MANUFACTURE HELIUM ARE BEING PERFECTED

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 3.—A new cryogenic laboratory for manufacture of helium gas for dirigibles will be in operation shortly at the California Institute of Technology, aerodynamics research center, it was learned today.

It will be the fifth plant in North America able to turn out the non-inflammable lifting gas that supplies the U. S. navy's lighter-than-air craft.

Liquid hydrogen, from which helium is compounded, can be made in the new Caltech laboratory at the rate of five liters per hour.

The laboratory, which is nearing completion, is equipped with the latest safety devices to prevent mishaps in the highly dangerous process of liquefying hydrogen. Corners have been eliminated in the interior to prevent accumulation of gaseous fumes. Miners' lamps have been installed to lessen fire hazards.

The laboratory will be directed by Dr. Alexander Goetz, young German scientist, who came to Caltech five years ago as a research fellow of the international education board. He is an associate professor of physics.

Caltech has achieved international prominence by its research work in aerodynamics. Its faculty staff numbers some of the world's outstanding engineering experts.

Allan Hoover, son of President Hoover, is in charge of the school's radio development research department.

With Caltech's entrance into the field of manufacturing helium, California will have two laboratories devoted to the enterprise. The other is located at the University of California at Berkeley, The U. S. Bureau of Standards at Washington, John Hopkins University at Baltimore and a Toronto laboratory are the other North American helium plants.

NO RULING YET ON BOETTCHER PRIVILEGE PLEA

With all testimony and attorneys' arguments completed in the plea of privilege hearing in connection with the $50,000 damage suit brought by Norned Philen against East Bernard school teacher, against R. B. Boettcher, chairman of the East Bernard school board, Judge E. J. Miller, in whose court the plea of privilege was argued, has held up the court's ruling on the case pending the presenting or filing of court decisions upholding or denying the contentions of the attorneys for the plaintiff and defendant in the Philen vs. Boettcher suit.

Legal Residence Issue

"The only issue in the case to be decided by the court is the legal residence of the plaintiff at the time of the alleged slanderous statements by Mr. Boettcher," Judge Miller stated this morning. "If the plaintiff can definitely establish Brownwood as her legal residence at the time the defendant is claimed to have made slanderous statements about her, the damage suit must be tried in Brownwood, but if the defendant can prove that Miss Philen's legal residence was in Wharton county at the time she claims he slandered her, the defendant can demand that the suit be tried in Wharton county," stated Judge Miller.

The defendant claims that Miss Philen, who is more than 21 years of age, lived in East Bernard six months or more prior to the time of the alleged offense against her good name, that she earned her own living, that she kept house there and that East Bernard was her legal residence at the time. On the other hand the plaintiff claims "that Brownwood has been her home for many years and that she has always made her permanent home with her mother in Brownwood."

Attorneys for both the plaintiff and defendant have been instructed to present additional court decisions upholding their contentions. And until these are presented to the court, no decision will be handed down by Judge Miller.

MAN KILLED IN LEAP OFF SKYSCRAPER

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—An unidentified man today leaped from the topmost pinnacle of the Empire State Building, world's tallest building, and fell to his death on the observation floor, 17 stories below.

The man was seen at the base of the dirigible mooring mast at the 103rd floor. Before he could be stopped he leaped. The observation floor, a parapet going entirely around the building, is on the 86th floor.

He was the first man to use the towering heights of the building for suicide since its completion. He also was the first man to die of a fall 86 stories above the street.

The upper floors of the building and especially the tower are guarded against would-be suicides, attendants standing close to persons who appear to be acting strangely.

The 102nd floor is the highest to which visitors are admitted. It is glass enclosed. A small stairway leads to the floor above which is open and is at the foot of the mooring mast. A guard stands at the stairway.

Today the guard was absent from his post for a moment. The man went up the stairs unnoticed and a moment later leaped out into space. He was about 50 years old, neatly dressed.

LONE BANDIT LOOTS TRAIN

SPIRO, Okla., Nov. 3.—In the manner of outlaws of frontier days, a bandit swung aboard a Kansas City Southern train here, looted mail bags and escaped, firing his pistol into the air.

No trace of the robber had been found today, several hours after the sensational holdup. Federal marshals and possemen aided officers in a search of the rough, mountainous country.

The amount of loot was not known, pending a check of postoffice records.

As the train, No. 116, drew away from a water tower last night, a masked man swung aboard the mail car. Surprising Messenger W. L. Rogers, he forced him to lie down on the floor.

"I'll blow you up if you move," the bandit commanded.

He then ripped open several mail sacks, looted them and jerked the air signal for the train to stop. Without knowledge of the holdup, the engineer halted. The bandit balanced himself in the doorway of the car for a moment, fired two shots, apparently signals to confederates, and leaped out.

He disappeared into the darkness.

Earthquake Rocks San Francisco At 10:55 A. M. Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—A heavy, slow earthquake shook San Francisco at 10:55 a. m. today.

The tremor lasted approximately fifteen seconds.

Apparently no damage was done to the downtown section of the city. The quake lasted long enough to develop sluggish, rocking motion.

"Wealth," says a social critic, "is only a disease." Unfortunately, it seems to be the hardest disease to contract.—Boston Transcript.

Glasgow Ancient City

The city of Glasgow, Scotland, traces its beginnings in tradition to the little wooden church which Kentigerna, apostle to the Scots, built on the banks of the Molendinar about 590 A. D. Nothing is known of the town for more than 500 years until David, prince of Cumbria, the future King David I, in 1116, re-established the see of Glasgow and rebuilt its church.

OVER HALF INCH OF RAIN HERE

Rain totaling .60 inch fell in Brownwood Tuesday night. It was the first rain received in this section for several weeks. A light shower also fell this afternoon.

The rain, while delaying cotton picking, will be of benefit to farmers in putting ground in condition for plowing. It will also help small grain which has been sown.

Report received by the Southwestern States Telephone Company showed light rains at the following places:

Bangs, Brooksmith, Blanket, Brady, Comanche, Cisco, Coleman, Fort Worth, Dallas, Dublin, May, Lampasas, Mercury, Mullin, Richland Springs, Rising Star, San Angelo, Santa Anna, Winchell, Waco, Fry, Zephyr, Burkett, Cross out and Cross Plains.

Ferguson Claims Easy Victory For Party's Nominee

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 3.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson today predicted an easy victory for his wife, democratic nominee for governor, in next Tuesday's general election "if the Democrats of Texas get out and vote in full strength."

Ferguson and his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, will speak here tonight at a rally which will conclude their south Texas campaign.

"I don't expect we will lose more than six counties," said Ferguson in an interview. "Tarrant, Dallas, McLennan, Potter, El Paso and Taylor counties may go against us. However, the situation is more than offset by our gains in Bexar county."

Search for Editors Of Publication At Texas University

AUSTIN, Nov. 3.—Austin police today had been unable to make an arrest in their investigation of the circulation of the "Sexan," sexy take-off on the Daily Texan, student publication at the University of Texas. Copies were seized when newsboys offered them for sale yesterday.

Dean V. I. Moore said the University contemplates no action unless it is found students issued the paper. If so, they are liable to expulsion.

It was indicated the University would ignore as anonymous statements in the publication regarding unnamed professors. Unless four are dismissed the "Sexan" promised a later edition with their names.

HEARING RECESSED

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 3.—The hearing called by the State Railroad Commission for today to consider a new oil order for the East Texas field was recessed indefinitely today. Notice when it will be resumed will be issued through the press, Commission Chairman C. V. Terrell notified the assembled oil men.
