VOLUME VIII

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1944

NUMBER 28

If Democrats generally have as little success at striking a harmonious note as their Texas brethren had at Austin lately, this is due to be a sensational election year. Continued spread of the sentiment prevailing there might develop into serious party repercussions followed by disaster at the polls.

The high handed method of the New Deal faction in the incident is particularly worthy of note. After a majority of convention delegates had voted their preference for an unrestricted delegation to the national convention, that group bolted and set up its own delegation to support the nomination of Roosevelt for a fourth term. Typical of New Deal behavior in so many other cases, it was going to dominate the game or it wouldn't play at all. As a result Texas has two delegations. Which will be accepted?

Whatever the outcome, the incident is likely to prove a strain on party strength. Since it all boils down to a pro or anti-Roosevelt issue, the national convention will be challenged with the uncomfortable alternatives of nominating someone who has not had the benefit of previous balloting or of provoking a split. Either choice might play into the hands of the GOP.

One thing the Austin squabble brought out, providing the majority of delegates represented the majority of voters, is the fact that Texans are losing their enthusiasm for FDR and company. The resolutions indicated quite definitely that they are ready to consider another nominee. The vehemence of their insistence on the point, in spite of the scarcity of other prospects, suggests that they prefer not to consider him. What would be the reaction if he were nominated after all? Would popular resentment be strong enough to break the traditional solid vote of the South?

A powerful influence in drawing Southern voters around the party standard is the little paragraph printed on primary ballots: "I pledge myself to support the Democratic nominee." The person who takes it seriously is hooked. In order to have a voice in local political races he has to vote the ticket, because nine times out of ten it will determine who goes into office. After that he feels obligated.

Take the case of a Republican in a typical Southern election. When the general election comes he will want to support his party. But he knows that the Democratic primary is the deciding election as far as local politics is concerned. What is he to do? According to the pledge he has to forfeit the vote for his choice in one election or the other. Obviously there's something wrong in such a system.

We are likely to see the day not so far hence when that pledge is omitted from ballots. Until then we can expect more and more people to ignore it.

The terms Japan has drawn up for this country "when Japan wins the war" are most alarming. She's going to take over all our larger merchant vessels, and charge us ten times the value for every ship we scuttle, and destroy all our naval installations, arsenals and colleges, and make us reimburse her for every Jap ship lost. And so on. Maybe it's supposed to be a good line of propaganda for slipping Jap morale.

If the slant-eyed runts are pliable enough to believe that stuff they'd better start enjoying their pipe dream now. Cause the day may not be so far off when they will start coming out of their stupor with an awful headache.

Just to make their awakening a little more dismal our propagandists ought to shoot back an acceptance of the terms with a notice that they will be applied the other way "when we win." The idea has its merits. Some of the suggestions, those not impossible to carry out, would put the quietus on Jap ambitions for a long time to come.

Here's a little skirmish in the battle of Fort Sill that deserves mention in the list of school solutions. Had it happened in class instead of before a comparatively small group of military inconsequential some instructor could have pointed to it as a perfect demonstration.

On the sidewalk stood a defenseless little kitten, and bearing down on her at full speed was a bully mongrel pooch. It seemed as though the kitten was due for some rough treatment. Then, with perfect timing, the mother cat launched a flank attack from a nearby bush and annihilated the surprised pup before it knew what was happening. In less than three seconds the would be assailant was beating a hasty, noisy retreat. It was a perfect situation, the kind generals spend a life time

Ed Gossett Asks Reelection To Seat In Congress

Representative Ed Gossett has authorized this paper to make his formal announcement as a Democratic candidate for reelection to Congress.

Both in age and time of service Mr. Gossett is one of the youngest Members of the House of Representatives. He is a strong supporter of the administration's foreign policy and of the country's war program.

Gossett states: "The greatest problem in every honest heart is to get the war successfully over as quickly as possible with a minimum loss of human life, and then to get the boys back home and into profitable employment. Following this our greatest problem will be to win the peace." On this he thinks there should be no disagreement.

Long a serious student of international affairs, Gossett says: "We must abandon policies of isolation and appeasement. In morals and military might we must become and remain the world's greatest power. We must rely upon strength, fair dealings, and reasonable collaboration for the preservation of peace."

During his brief service in the Congress Mr. Gossett has distinguished himself for independent thinking and courageous action. He feels we should have three strong and independent branches of the government, each serving as a check against the other, but all working together for the common good.

Gossett has many times condemned profiteering out of the tears and tragedy of war as criminal and advocates the recovery of all excess war profits. Even before Pearl Harbor he advocated a longer work week and the outlaw

Hundreds Attend Funeral Services For Cadet Berend

Military Rites Held For Crash Victim At Lindsay Thursday

Hundreds of persons from Cooke County, joined by relatives and friends from more distant places, paid final tribute last Thursday morning to Cadet Raymond J. Berend, 23, son of Mrs. Mary Berend of Gainesville, victim of a plane accident at Aloe Air Field, Victoria, Texas, the preceding Monday.

Solemn high mass of requiem was held at Saint Peter's church, Lindsay, at 10 o'clock with Pastor Rev. Conrad Herda officiating. Rev. Herman Laux of Rhineland, cousin of the deceased, was deacon; Rev. John P. Brady of Gainesville was sub-deacon and Rev. Richard Eved of Muenster was master of ceremonies. Also present in the sanctuary were Rev. Paul Mosser of Seymour, Chaplains Capt. W. J. Crowley and Lt. W.C. Kleffman of Camp Howze, and Rev. Paul Charcut of Pilot Point, who delivered the sermon for the occasion.

In his address Father Charcut paid tribute to the young airman and used as the text of his sermon Christ's answer to Martha, when He said, "Thy brother is not dead, he has just begun to live."

Father Conrad officiated at the grave after which military rites were conducted by personnel from Camp Howze. Six men from the Gainesville air base served as casket bearers. The United States flag that draped the casket was presented to Cadet Berend's mother by the salutes of the band and the bugler blew taps.

Interment was in Saint Peter's cemetery in the special plot reserved for those who give their lives for their country.

Cadet Berend was killed when his plane collided in mid air during routine formation flying with a plane piloted by Cadet Robert W. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith of Akron, Ohio. Both young men lost their lives in the crash.

The body of Cadet Berend arrived by train on Wednesday morning and lay in state at the home of his mother until time for the funeral services. Rosary was recited at the home on Wednesday evening. Accompanying the body from Victoria a military escort was Cadet Leopoldo Antonio Cabaza de Baca, a close friend of the deceased since their early training days with the air corps.

Young Berend lacked less than a month of training to complete his course. He would have received his wings and commission on the 23rd of June. He was born in Muenster on Sept. 15, 1920, and began school here. In 1928 the family moved to Lindsay, and in 1939 to Gainesville, where Ray joined his brothers as a partner in the Berend Brothers Feed and Grain Store.

He was inducted in the service in November, 1942, and began training in January, 1943. During this period he was at Sheppard Field, A. & M. College, Kelly Field Corsicana, Majors Field, and was on the final phase of advanced training at Aloe Field, when he lost his life.

Possessed of a winning personality, a jovial nature and a rare sense of humor, Cadet Berend had hundreds of friends throughout a dozen states. Many lasting friendships were formed while he served as buyer for the feed store, this activity taking him over a large territory.

Survivors are the mother, two brothers and two sisters.

Chaplain J.O. Guillet Delivers Address At Sunday Exercises

Commencement exercises for Sacred Heart High school graduating class were held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Sacred Heart church with Chaplain Joseph O. Guillet of Camp Howze as the speaker for the occasion.

The graduates, three boys and nine girls, entered the church to the music of a processional played by Sister M. Leonarda on the pipe organ. Dressed in caps and gowns and attended by tiny pages, members of the class were seated together at the front of the church.

Rev. Father Thomas, pastor, led the rosary after which the class sang a hymn to the Blessed Virgin and then took their places in the sanctuary, in V formation, for the commencement address. The diplomas were presented by Father Thomas after renewal of the baptismal vows by the class, sacramental benediction was given and the graduates left the church to the recessional played by Sister Leonarda.

Addressing the graduates Chaplain Guillet urged the students to be ever mindful of their eternal destiny and to be good citizens of their country. He pointed out that they are commencing life in the world and that through the education they have received they are fortified to meet and conquer obstacles of both a spiritual and a natural nature. During their training, the speaker reminded, both the spiritual and the natural sides were developed and both mind and heart were trained. By building on a foundation such as this, based on the ideals and teachings set forth by Christ, they will have strength and endurance to build a better world, he said.

Before the diploma presentation Father Thomas directed a few words of congratulations to the students and exhorted them to remember gratefully their parents, teachers and pastors for the efforts and sacrifices they made for them during their school years, urging respect and obedience to the parents even though now, as young men and women they are embarking on a life of their own, reminding them of the wisdom of their elders and the advice they give will always prove beneficial.

Members of the class were: Leo Felderhoff, Alvin Fuhrmann, Harold Sicking, Della Rose Endres, Imelda Felderhoff, Geneva Gremminger, Mary Ann Reiter, Johann Seyler, Miriam Starke, Juanita Weinzapfel, Gladys Wilde and Alma Marie Luke.

The church was beautifully decorated carrying out a color scheme of purple and gold, the class colors. The tiny girl pages wore floor-length frocks and carried colonial bouquets and the little boys wore white suits. Hundreds of relatives and friends attended the services.

For this purpose the following two Fridays, June 9, and June 16, have been set aside. Those requiring only one shot may take it on either of the three days convenient. It was stated, and all citizens of this and neighboring communities are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity so that dreaded typhoid fever will not have an opportunity to break out.

MOSAICS

of Sacred Heart High

Farewell!
The time has come when we, the Senior class, must bid farewell to the school which has been our mother for the past four years. We will never again be students of Sacred Heart High, but there will always remain the pleasant memories of everything we did; everyone with whom we formed friendships. How quickly the time passed! And what regrets there are of many things we could have done better. When we entered Sacred Heart High we had many ambitions. We have now realized one of those ambitions — our graduation.

Now, when we bid farewell, joy and sorrow intermingle. There is sorrow in the parting but joy in the thought of a new beginning in life.

We wish to thank our pastors and teachers for their untiring efforts for us during our school days. We will ever think back of them and their work with pleasant memories and pray God to bless them.

Sacred Heart High bids farewell to the Senior class of 1944. We congratulate you for having reached your goal and we wish you success and happiness in the future.

We shall miss everyone of you — our Senior boys — Leo Felderhoff, Harold Sicking, and Alvin Fuhrman and our Senior girls — Della Rose Endres, Imelda Felderhoff, Geneva Gremminger, Mary Ann Reiter, Johann Seyler, Marian Starke, Juanita Weinzapfel, Gladys Wilde, and Alma Marie Luke.

CLASS NIGHT HELD FOR MEMBERS OF GRADUATING CLASS

Class night for the graduates of the 1944 senior class of Sacred Heart High school was held on May 25 in the parish hall at 8:30 o'clock. The program was presided over by Alvin Fuhrmann, who acted as master of ceremonies. The program was original and was well presented and received by the audience of parents and friends.

The first part of the program was of a more serious nature and was by the seniors only, while the latter part of the program was participated in by the juniors and leaned toward the humorous side.

Alma Marie Luke, salutatorian, gave the welcome address and Imelda Felderhoff, valedictorian, delivered the seniors' farewell message. A four-voiced selection by members of the glee club was beautifully rendered and the seniors sang their class song, "Happy Days", after which presentation of the class memorial gift was made by Johann Seyler, and the acceptance address was given by Robert Bayer.

The second part of the program opened with the singing of "Misty Lak a Rose" by Junior girls with Helen Ruth Otto as soloist. Other numbers following were reading of the class history by Dolly Endres; parading the seniors by Emily Fette and Helen Ruth Otto; strolling the juniors by Marian Starke; "Can You Imagine?" by Geneva Gremming; class prophecy by Juanita Weinzaefel; Last Will and Testament by Mary Ann Reiter; Class poem by Gladys Wilder; distribution of gifts by Harold Sicking and Leo Felderhoff and Dolly Lehnertz and Mildred Wiesman. The final number was the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the entire student body.

Awards of distinction were made by Pastor Father Thomas. Theresa Mae Pels and Margaret Zimmer received awards for excellent conduct and application to studies, while Marian Starke, Dolores Lehnertz, Thomas Otto, Theresa Mae Pels and Rose Marie Becker received awards for perfect attendance, not having missed a day of school during the entire term.

A scholarship to Mount St. Scholastica College, Atchison Kan was available to the girl student with the highest average and was presented to Alma Marie Luke, salutatorian, as Imelda Felderhoff, valedictorian, already employed at the Muenster State Bank, will not attend college next year. The two girls scored very close in their scholastic work, there being only two-tenths of a point difference in their final average.

SENIORS OF BOTH LOCAL SCHOOLS HAVE ANNUAL BANQUETS

Seniors of both Muenster schools held their annual banquets before the close of the current term and both were gay affairs.

Sacred Heart High's was a junior-senior party given in the parish hall and students, parents and pastors were guests. The hall was elaborately decorated carrying out the class colors of purple and gold. Place cards were nut cups topped with a miniature graduate and the menu was a miniature diploma tied with blue ribbon.

Father Thomas, pastor, served as toastmaster and led the invocation after which addresses were given by Robert Bayer, secretary of the junior-senior club, who extended welcome to the guests; Miss Johann Seyler, class president, and Miss Imelda Felderhoff, valedictorian of the class, who spoke as representative of the student body.

The girl graduates wore formal frocks and the meal was served by sophomore girls in white dresses. Mothers of the sophomore class prepared the banquet menu. Seventy-four persons enjoyed the evening.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Public school entertained for students of that school for their banquet. It was held in a class room especially arranged and decorated for the occasion. The patriotic theme of red, white and blue, was noted throughout in decorations and appointments.

The menu, planned by Mesdames Ray Evans, Herman Pierce, Jack Fletcher and Jack Robertson, was served in four courses.

Mrs. E.O. Teague, past president of the Parent-Teacher Association, welcomed the guests and Dorothy Nell Fletcher responded telling how the school has appreciated the work of the P-T A. A vocal selection was presented by Joan Roberg, LaVetta Martin and Billie Jean Pierce, and Superintendent Doyle Blodgett introduced Herbert Meurer, secretary of the school board as the principal speaker.

Mrs. Loyal Burchfiel served as toastmaster and introduced the high school students who made toasts to various parts of school life.

MAY FESTIVAL HERE SPLENDID SUCCESS

Although the weather offered no cooperation Monday, the May Festival sponsored by St. Anne's Society was a splendid success. Almost every family of the community was represented in the large attendance that grew steadily from a scattered few at 3 o'clock to a packed crowd at about 9:30.

As usual the home attendance was swelled considerably by a number of former residents and many other friends from neighboring communities.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS JUNE 1ST THRU 15 COAL BUYING WEEK

WHEREAS this country faces an over-all bituminous coal shortage of 20 million tons, and this shortage is expected to grow due to the manpower shortages at the mines, decreases in transportation facilities, and the unprecedented demands for coal for our armed forces, every man mining coal must be kept employed all summer long if next winter's fuel shortage is to be kept at a minimum; and

WHEREAS, your Government is faced with the tremendous task of attempting to meet the nation's coal requirements, and can be successful only to the extent that we, the coal users, cooperate, and the only protection afforded to the residential user, schools, public institutions, and business establishments is the opportunity to order and store now their coal requirements for the coming burning season;

NOW THEREFORE, I, J.M. Weinzaefel, Mayor of Muenster, Texas, do hereby proclaim June 1 through 15, 1944, as "Buy Your Coal Now Period", and I urge the citizens of this community to heed your Government's warning and to exert every effort to buy and permit delivery at your dealer's convenience, your next winter's coal requirements, as the coal cannot be stored at the mine. Your coal dealer is faced with manpower and equipment difficulties and can no longer take care of hurried last-minute requests for coal. Because certain coal are scarce, consumers are urged to protect themselves by taking the coal their dealers recommend instead of waiting for some particular kind which may never be available to them.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Muenster, Texas to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Muenster, Texas, this 18th day of May, in the year of our Lord, nineteen-hundred and forty-four.

J. M. Weinzaefel Mayor

Dairy Farmers Here Receive First Issue Of Kraft Magazine

Dairy farmers of the Muenster area have just received the first 1944 issue of the Producers' Edition of the Kraftman, a service magazine for dairy farmers issued by the Kraft Cheese Company. The issue is devoted to articles on problems of the dairy farmer, with a four page supplement on "Where and how to get critical items of farm supplies and equipment."

An article of timely interest to dairy farmers is "Let's Declare War on Insects", written by Professor Ed. M. Searls of the University of Wisconsin. A full page description of pests which attack cows and reduce milk production and how to control them is included.

Kraft has instituted a program throughout its procurement area aimed at helping farmers increase production of quality milk. A series of advertisements appearing in The Enterprise stresses things of immediate interest to the dairy farmer, based on recommendations of the extension service at the state college of agriculture.

The Kraftman magazine reaches 50,000 Kraft farmer patrons. It is edited by Walter Lloyd, former editor of the Ohio Farmer. It will be issued every two months in the future.

THIS ADVERTISEMENT, ONE OF A SERIES TO HELP ACQUAINT THE GENERAL PUBLIC WITH THE DAIRY FARMER'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT, appears in full-page size in The Saturday Evening Post June 3rd and in Collier's June 17th issue

...with the help of Providence

From millions of American homes prayers go up for the safety of boys away in the war. From farm homes other prayers, too...

For aid in the production of crops vital to Victory and the establishment of Peace. For rains to keep green the pastures where milking cows graze. For sunshine to ripen the grains and fodders needed in the winter's feeding.

Increased again this year are America's production goals for milk and transportable products of milk! The U.S. Government's own requirement of cheese is estimated at nearly 450 million pounds—for our fighting men and fighting allies. On top of that there should be made over 500 million more pounds of this nutritious food for civilians of our land.

More than twice as much cheese as the nation could produce when the last war ended is needed now!

We of Kraft who work with the dairy farmers of America know how earnestly they strive to meet these goals. Short of hands and equipment, they carry on as best they humanly can. And they'll succeed... with the help of Providence.

Because of the tremendous demand, both military and civilian, you may not be able to get as much Kraft Cheese as you would like, or get your favorite varieties—Kraft American, "Old English", Philadelphia Brand Cream Cheese, Velveta, and so on. But you may be sure, as always, that any cheese or cheese food which bears the Kraft name represents the very highest standard of quality.

Gossett----

line of strikes in time of war. He believes an overwhelming majority of the laboring men of our section feel as he does about this. Nevertheless, he has been black-balled by the radical, communistic Political Action Committee of the CIO, headed by Sidney Hillman.

Gossett contends that ever since the Civil War our section has suffered many kinds of economic and political discriminations. He has been a hard and constant worker for the removal of these discriminations. Several bills introduced by him for this purpose have been receiving more and more attention and support. Among these bills by our Congressman are one to provide equality under existing social security laws; another to equalize freight rates; still another would secure more equal representation on the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Gossett has been an enemy of trusts and monopolies. He has singled out the farm machinery trust for repeated attacks. He warns that farm machinery trusts have lost millions in foreign factories during the war and will charge this to the American farmer after the war.

Mr. Gossett makes no point of his personal history. However, he is proud of having been reared on a farm as the oldest of nine children. At 16 years of age he became entirely self-supporting, working all of his way through his last year of high school and through college, eventually earning both academic and law degrees. He is now 42 years old. In 1938 he married Mary Helen Moseley of Quannah. They have three children.

Mr. Gossett is Chairman of an Elections Committee of the House and is a member of the Census, Territories, Insular Affairs, Revision of the Laws, and Immigration and Naturalization Committees. As a member of the last named Committee the Congressman is sponsoring a bill to reduce all immigration by at least 50 percent for a period of ten years.

Mr. Gossett has supported all legislation for the benefit of veterans and believes we have a solemn and sacred duty to help returning soldiers in every way possible. He thinks the government's old age assistance and social security program should be substantially improved without delay. The government, says the Congressman, should labor constantly to improve the living standards of the people, never rewarding indolence nor penalizing diligence, but promoting the individual initiative, resourcefulness, and private enterprise of the people.

With further regard to our domestic problems, the Congressman thinks we can and should substantially reduce the size, cost, and regimentation of the federal government. He advocates fewer and better laws; fewer and more efficient bureaus; fewer and better officials; less and better government. Mr. Gossett expresses confidence in the future of American democracy, and believes we can and should improve the institutions for which our boys are now giving their lives.

Experience in Congress is now more important than ever before. Mr. Gossett's friends point to his increasing familiarity with the machinery of the federal government, to his experience, and to his known habit of hard work as making him a most valuable Representative for this District.

The Congressman is not going to neglect important official duties in Washington during these critical days, and will have little time for personal campaigning. He believes his election to be in the public interest. He thanks in advance the finest and most intelligent citizenship in the United States for an overwhelming vote of confidence for his continued service. (Pol. Adv.)

hoping for — provided they enjoy the cat's advantage.

"The Battle of Fort Sill" now that it has been mentioned, is worthy of a little more elaboration. Around here it's an expression we've been taking for granted as applying to practically every activity of the Field Artillery School.

Probably the most acceptable guess as to its origin is the hypothetical war fought so persistently in classroom and outdoor problems. In time the expression caught on and, like "GT", expanded far beyond its original usage. Today when the boys are firing howitzers at targets on the range they are fighting the Battle of Fort Sill. If they are attending class, fumbling with administrative red tape, taking a hike, playing a ball game or merely loafing, they're still fighting the Battle of Fort Sill.
