Commissioners postpone ambulance purchase

by Elaine Schad Cooke County's two hospitals will have to wait at least until fiscal 1994 for a possible solution to the continuing problem of transporting non-emergency patients to a hospital located outside of Cooke

Cooke County Commissioners voted this week to follow the recommendations of the interhospital transfer committee to continue to operate the ambulance service with no changes for fiscal 1993. Commissioners agreed to take a serious look at providing more service during budget hearings later this spring. Commissioners said there's not enough money in this year's budget to provide the estimated $150,000 needed to expand Cooke County's ambulance service to provide nonemergency transfer service.

Before the vote, Muenster Hospital Board member Werner Becker asked commissioners to lend support to providing an additional ambulance for the remainder of the current budget year. "I realize budget is a tough situation, and I know it's expensive," he said. "I do feel like money spent on the ambulance service is nothing but beneficial to

The county-owned ambulance service provides all emergency ambulance service for Cooke County and all transfers within Cooke County. Officials with the county's two hospitals have requested that an additional ambulance be added to provide for out-of-county non-emergency

In its report, the committee said the present ambulance situation is not large enough to house and fully staff another ambulance. County Judge Ray Russell said the county has already dipped into reserves to fund this year's budget and would be hesitant to commit more reserves for 1993 to fund an ambulance. Commissioner Jerry Lewis said the county may look at relocating the ambulance station from its present location on Chestnut Street if expansion is

The committee estimated it would cost $102,800 to purchase and equip an ambulance and expand the ambulance station to house the vehicle. There would be an additional cost of $66,321 to employ six people for six months to work a 24-hour shift. Total cost would be $169,121 with projected revenue of $20,000 for that sixmonth period.

into the sand. We recognize the need," said Commissioner Kenneth Alexander. "If we're going to move forward, we need to study this thing and move this ambulance in a positive direction," he said. Commissioner Virgil Hess said one answer could be the creation of an ambulance district. Judge Russell said an argument against establishing an ambulance district would be creating another layer of bureaucracy.

Representatives of Muenster county could provide non-Memorial and Gainesville emergency transfer service in a Memorial hospitals told commissioners last month that some of their patients face delays of several hours when seeking nonemergency transfer service to outof-county hospitals from private ambulance services in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. There have also been some problems with defining what constitutes a true emergency under the present policy.

Hospital officials think the emergency transfer service in a more timely manner and at a lower cost to patients. Now, the hospitals must rely on private ambulance services that come from Dallas or Lewisville and must wait up to two hours for an ambulance.

Gainesville Hospital Administrator Gerald Culwell told commissioners he hopes some groundwork for expansion could be laid by the time the fiscal 1994 budget is approved later this anyone who disagrees with the need," he said.

Becker told commissioners that some people are leery about using county hospitals because they are afraid they may not be transferred or have a waiting period. "In order to make the county hospitals work, you have to have a superb ambulance," he said. "There needs to be a partnership," he said.
"People will have more confidence and will use our local hospitals and generate more revenue.

Judge Russell said the need for ambulance service could increase once a new major mall opens in Cooke County later in 1993. The mall is expected to bring increased traffic through the area. Cost will continue to play a major role in talk of expanding the service, he said. "It's a question of whether we can afford it, and if the taxpayers can stand for it," Judge Russell said.

Red Steagall to star in Forestburg benefit Feb. 12

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

Anna Hermes recognized at Catholic Schools Education Banquet Feb. 6

Anna Hermes was selected as Teacher of the Year by the Sacred Heart School faculty. She was recognized at the sixth annual Catholic Schools Education Banquet held Saturday, Feb. 6 in the Worthington Hotel. The purpose of the banquet, sponsored by the Fort Worth Diocese, is to honor outstanding educators at Diocese schools in conjunction with Catholic Schools Week.

Anna is a master teacher who has taught at Sacred Heart School for more than 20 years," remarked S.H. Principal Jack Murdock. "Her loving gentle spirit has endeared her to hundreds of students, parents, and faculty. Students excel under her tutelage because they are inspired by her loving, caring

It was 22 years ago that Ms. Hermes came to teach at Sacred Heart. Prior to that she was employed by Southwestern Bell in Gainesville. "It's such a privilege teaching at a Catholic school and I feel this a great honor having been selected by my peers since they are all master teachers," said Anna.

Recognizing the individual school honorees was the Most Reverend Joseph P. Delaney, Bishop of Fort Worth. Brad Wright served as Master of Ceremonies. The Knights of Columbus were also given special recognition at the banquet for taking the lead in promoting the Catholic faith by supporting the need for formal Catholic education, encouraging spiritual formation in the family, and educating Catholics on moral and civic responsibilities.

Representing Sacred Heart at the Catholic Schools Education Banquet were Sr. Mary John Seyler, John and Lanie Bartush, Jack and Shirley Murdock, Gary Endres, Denis Waltersheid, Steve and Jane Kohler, Anna Hermes, Dorothy Bengfort, Louise Schad, Elfreda Hundt, and Alvin Hartman.

administrator, members of the Muenster Memorial Hospital Board of Directors learned of several items that would need to be purchased for the hospital in the near future. Some of the items were needed immediately and others would be included in the next year's budget.

Endres reviewed prices of various copiers and asked the board's opinion since the hospital would be purchasing one for use in Dr. Juarez's office. An immediate need is to purchase an ice-maker with ice dispenser to replace an unrepairable one used for patients. Estimated price range is between seven to eight thousand dollars.

Dr. Tompkins requested that the hospital buy a back-up EKG machine since the one that is abdominal surgeries would presently in use is old, out-of-date necessitate the purchase of this and is now down and would cost item more to repair than it is worth. There is a newer machine that is kept in the Stress Lab and that is being used throughout the hospital now. Dr. Tompkins preferred to not have the Stress Labs EKG machine moved about the hospital. A new machine would run between six and seven thousand dollars. Since the Stress Lab EKG isn't used on a daily basis at present it was decided to wait and take it under consideration.

Remodeling of patient rooms will have to be taken under consideration soon, said Endres. The rooms are too dark even to easily take a pulse at night. There had been separate overhead lamps on the patient beds which were recently removed because they did remodeling needs During a report by Jack Endres, not meet code. He suggested dropping the ceilings and putting in fluorescent lighting. This would cost around $800 or $900 per room. "Besides lighting, the rooms need an overall face lift," commented Endres. Don Flusche agreed with this noting that he had heard complaints on the condition of some

The board was questioned by those present as to the possibility of asking for memorial donations or contributions from local organizations to renovate the rooms. Plaques could be placed in the room noting who contributed to that room's remodeling.

Herman Carroll had placed a request for a blood warmer for his department An increase of item which would cost approximately $1500. Mr. Endres promised to have bids for a blood warmer ready by the next meeting.

An update on doctor recruitment efforts was given. Things seem to be favorable for the OB/GYN hoping to set up practice in Muenster. Mr. Endres is keeping in touch with Dr. Kuhmar, a physician presently in a family practice program who is seeking a hospital where he can set up a family practice with surgical privileges.

Gainesville Sears store still in retail business

Despite a recent announcement to the contrary the Sears store in Gainesville is still in business and has no plans to close unless they are eventually forced to do so by the Sears Roebuck Co. Sears catalogue stores became endangered species recently when the 97 year old mail order company decided to discontinue its catalogues. The Spring 1993 edition will be the last.

Gainesville was without a Sears store for a number of months when the long-time store located on California Street closed its doors. John and Denise Williams of Era then opened a Sears store at 1112 East California. "We are doing business as usual," commented John Williams. "We're here as we have always been to help with all of our customer's needs." Williams indicated that response at the new location had been overwhelming and that they would not want to close, but really did not have much say in the situation.

According to Williams' information Sears Roebuck Co. plans to evaluate each store on its market as a retail merchant to determine which stores will be closed and which will remain open for business. His latest information revealed that there were 500 stores on the evaluation list. It will be three to six months before the owners learn the fate of their business.

Letters to the Editor—

Dear Editor:

I have been misquoted in the City Council story reported in your paper dated Feb. 5, 1993.

But Councilwoman Fran Voth said that (park lease) agreement was illegal." It should read ... "That agreement is questionable, due to illegal procedure concerning conflict of interest with brothers Ted and Rufus Henscheid on either side of the deal. This is the advice I received from outside counsel."

Rufus Henscheid, who represented Southtown Partners, explained that he also sought advice concerning the agreement and that the city council of January 1991, did vote and unanimously approve the lease.

In this case, the city council directed the mayor, Ted Henscheid, to sign the agreement. It appears the conflict of interest may be questionable. Also, if the contract is drawn up in illegal procedure, it may or may not invalidate the lease agreement.

I brought this point of view to the attention of the council because this lease places the expense for any improvements to the park leased property on the city. The question brought up at the meeting was, "Who will pay for the curbing and paving on the north side of Cross Street along the grounds leased to the city.

We are in the process of gathering the facts pertinent to this decision. Soon we will vote on it.

After reviewing circumstances, it appears that there is no wrong-doing by Rufus and Ted Henscheid, since the park lease was solicited by the city and drawn up by an attorney for the mayor to

City of Lindsay could see rate increase

Customers in the City of Lindsay could soon be paying a 15 percent rate increase from TU Electric. A representative of TU Electric told council members during their regular February meeting that the rate increase has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission. The city has no say so in the mater as they have turned over any final decision on such rates to the PUC.

League to discuss alternative to paper ballots February 18

Mrs. Betty Buttolph, president of the Gainesville Chapter of the League of Women Voters, has announced that the organization will host a public meeting to discuss alternatives to paper ballots. The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce building at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 18.

Because of counting the votes in the presidential election, the League has contacted Hart Graphics of Austin, a manufacturer of Optical Scanners for tallying election results. The company will have a representative at the meeting to demonstrate the scanner and explain its capabilities.

County Commissioners and representatives of all the various taxing entities which hold elections in Cooke County have also been invited to attend the meeting.

For the 1993 fundraiser, the League of Women Voters is hosting their first Antique Appraisal Luncheon on Saturday, March 6, at the Civic Center. The cost of the luncheon is $10.00, which includes lunch and the appraisal of one item. Additional items may be appraised for $5.00. Photographs of large items will be accepted for appraisal. Just make sure that the photo shows all of the details. Tables can be reserved for groups of 10. Everyone is welcome. Tickets will be available at the meeting on Feb. 18 or contact any League member for tickets.

The League of Women Voters is nonpartisan and membership is open to both men and women. The organization is issue-oriented and is dedicated to promoting good citizenship through voter education. They are always interested in attracting new members.

Prospective members are encouraged to contact the Membership Chairman Martha Tudor at 665-0700

by: Duane Knabe, CPA Duane Knabe will discuss a different topic each week. Any questions should be directed to him at 759-4010.

This week's topic is the dependency exemption for the noncustodial parent. The noncustod ial parent may not claim depend ency exemptions for children unless the custodial parent waives his/her right to the exemption. This may be done on Form 8332, Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents, which must be attached to the noncustodial parent's return when the exemption is claimed. The release may cover one or more specified years or have a permanent effect.

A divorce instrument executed before 1985 that provides that the noncustodial spouse is entitled to the dependency exemption for a child is not subject to the foregoing rules. The noncustodial parent will continue to be entitled to the exemption in accordance with the instrument so long as he/she provides at least $600 of support in the year.

Muenster Cable system coming alive

the month of February, 1993, as:

North Texas Communications Company is proud to announce that Muenster's new cable system is coming alive. Technicians are now in phase two of a three phase reconstruction plan. Phase one, a whole new trunk system constructed underground, has been built to feed the neighborhood cables serving your homes. Phase two is now in progress, all neighborhood cables are being connected to the new trunk system. Finally, phase three, the channel line-ups will be changed to meet the 1992 Cable Act passed by Congress which requires all broadcast stations to be placed into a Basic Service, and will be carried on channels 2 through 13. Phase three will be completed on March 31st.

Cable technicians are now cutting the neighborhood cables into the new system. In the process, your television will be off while they make the change. The cable serving your home must be removed from the old system and connected to the new system. While doing this the line must be removed from service. All connections and signal levels are checked as each house is reconnected to the new system. These lines are being changed, a street or alley at a time to hold down the interruption of your cable television service. We will continue until all lines have been changed. We expect to have all lines changed by March 31st.

The Basic service charge will be reduced and the channel lineup will consist of all off-the-air channels available in this area. The Basic service will consist of the following off-the-air channels: Ch2-Local, Ch3-KRLD Fox 33, Ch4-KDFW Dallas, Ch5-KXAS Ft. Worth, Ch6-KTXA UHF21, Ch7-KDFI UHF27, Ch8-WFAA Dallas, Ch9-KXTX UHF39, Ch10-KTEN Ada,Ok, Ch11-KTVT Ft. Worth, Ch12-KXII Ardmore, Sherman, Denison and Ch13-KERA Dallas Educational Channel. The cost for Basic service will be reduced to $12.95 per month.

All satellite programming and long distance stations will be carried in an additional tier. The Tier service will consist of the following eleven (11) channels: Ch23-Eternal Word Network, Ch24-Country Music Television, Ch25-The Nashville Network, Ch26-WTBS Atlanta, Ch27-CNN Cable News Network, Ch28-ESPN Entertainment Sports, Ch29-Turner Network Television, Ch30-WGN Chicago, Ch31-The Family Channel, Ch32-USA Network, and Ch33-Arts & Entertainment. The Tiered Service will cost $5.45 a month. You must subscribe to Basic before you may subscribe to the Tier service.

There will be no change in the premium channels, they are: Ch17-HBO, Ch18-Cinemax and Ch21-Disney Channel. You may subscribe to a Premium channel without subscribing to the Tier service.

North Texas Communications Company is continuing its efforts to improve your cable service. Please watch for future enhancements.

Theresa (Streng) Moster dies at 95

THERESA MOSTER, pictured shortly before her marriage to Leo Moster in November 1914, was, at the time of her death, the oldest living citizen of Muenster who was born here on March 29, 1897.

Theresa (Streng) Moster died at 9:40 p.m. on Feb. 4, 1993 at St. Richard's Villa following a long

She was born on March 29, 1897 in Muenster to Pete Streng and Magdalena (Huff) Streng, Muenster pioneers, who were immigrants from Luxembourg. A lifelong member of Sacred Heart Church, she was baptized in the same church, where she received her First Holy Communion at age 13 as was the custom, received the Sacrament of Confirmation in June 1913 and was married in Sacred Heart Church to Leo Moster on Nov. 14, 1914 at 17 years of age.

Theresa Moster was a homemaker; a member of St. Anne's Society; of the Third Order of St. Francis; a loving wife, mother, grandmother and greatgrandmother whose life covered only a few years less than a century

Survivors include one daughter, Florence, Mrs. Richard Grewing of Muenster; and two sons, Joe Moster of Muenster and Brother Thomas Moster, OSB, of Subiaco Abbey, Arkansas; also one brother, John (Jim) Streng of Muenster; 12 grandchildren; and 28 greatgrandchildren.

Theresa and Leo Moster also adopted two sons, Steve and Frank Moster, orphans who arrived on the Orphan Train in 1920, both are now deceased. Steve died April 9, 1991, and Frank died in battle during World War II, on Dec. 9, 1943 in Salerno, Italy.

She was also preceded in death by her husband on Jan. 6, 1946 and their son, Charles, on Dec. 18, 1960 in an oil field accident; one granddaughter, Teresa Grewing; her only son-in-law, Richard Grewing; her parents and all her brothers and sisters, except one

Mass of Christian Burial was offered in Sacred Heart Church on Monday at 10 a.m. with Abbot Jerome Kodell, OSB, of Subiaco Abbey as celebrant, and assistants Father James Moster, OFM, Cap; a great-nephew of Lawrence Kansas and Father Jeremy Myers of Garland, Texas, a family friend, who also delivered the homily; Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, was narrator of services. Concelebrants were Father Eugene Luke, OSB, and Father Denis Soerries, OSB, of Subiaco Abbey; Father Stephen Eckart, OSB, of Lindsay; Father Nicholas Fuhrmann, OSB, of Gainesville; Father Harry Fisher of Valley View; and Father Camillus Cooney of Muenster. Also present in the sanctuary was Brother James Lindsay, OSB, of Subiaco Abbey, a friend of the family.

Participants in the funeral liturgy were introduced by Peggy Grewing, a granddaughter, for presentation of symbolic gifts in the entrance procession. They were Theresa Moster's greatgrandchildren, Melanie Bayer offering a white carnation; Courtney Grewing carrying a gold carnation; Loren Frost carrying a red rose; Melinda Fanning offering a loaf of bread; Aaron Sicking presenting the weekly Church Offering envelope; Leslie Grewing carrying Theresa's rosary; and Deann Bayer and Jeff and Justin Serna who would later present the bread, water and wine at the altar for the sacrifice of the Mass.

Susan Moster, granddaughter, gave the First Reading from the Old Testament. Stephanie Grewing, a greatgranddaughter, gave the Second Reading from the New Testament.

Prayers of the Faithful and Petitions were read by Carol (Grewing) Frost.

Mass servers were grandsons Scott Frost, Brandon Bayer and Matthew Bayer.

Music ministers were Ruth Felderhoff, Janice Bayer, Pam Fette relderhoff, Janice Bayer, Pam Fette and Christy Hesse. Sacred music included "Amazing Grace," "The Breath of God," "Spirit of the Loving God," "Father, I Adore You," the "Alleluia," "Faith of Our Fathers," "This Alone," "We Will Want No More," "Prayer of St. Francis," "Song of the Angels," and "LAm the Bread of Life." "I Am the Bread of Life."

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were four grandsons and two great-grandsons: Wayne Grewing, Jamie Moster, Frank Moster, Chris Moster, Ryan Bayer and Jason Frost.

The family requested that memoriais de directed to Abbey Fund or Sacred Heart School Trust Fund.

Services in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday included praying of the Rosary at 4 p.m. and Vigil at 7 p.m. Following the 4 p.m. Rosary, Eileen Fisher sang "Only a Shadow." During the Wake service at 7 p.m., Eileen Fisher and David Fette sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and the "Edelweiss Benediction." Father Eugene Luke gave a brief homily and several friends and relatives gave brief comments. Following the family rosary in the McCoy Chapel Monday morning, Brother Thomas Moster read a tribute to his mother that he said reflected her attitudes.

In Tribute to My Mother

When I quit this mortal shore And mosey 'round this earth no more, Don't weep, don't sigh, don't grieve, don't sob; I may have struck a better job.

Don't go and buy a large bouguet For which you'll find it hard to pay; Don't hang 'round me, looking blue --I may be better off than you!

Don't tell folks I was a saint Or anything you know I ain't --If you have stuff like that to spread, Please hand it out before I'm dead.

If you have roses, bless your soul Just pin one in my buttonhole . . . But do it while I'm at my best, Instead of when I'm safe at rest.

This was read by Brother Thomas Moster OSB to the family after the family rosary in the McCoy Chapel, Monday morning.

TOP PHOTO: A crane is used to add an additional tier to the "Christmas tree" or stack of this oil and gas well near Alvord. Fires have been burning at the site since Jan. 7 when an oil rig drilled through a strong gas zone and exploded. The work is being done to add more gas lines for purchasing companies. Upper left: All that remains of the substructure where the oil derrick sat and the burnt dog house. It took only 15-20 minutes for the intense heat to melt and crumble these structures. Lower left: "Christmas trees" placed over the drilling hole are used to add control lines which carry the fuel to storage tanks or pits. These will allow the fires to be shut off in a few days. Eight storage tanks were put in place to hold oil and gas as it is brought up from the ground. Flues and pits are used to burn fuel that cannot be stored. It is estimated by workers at the site that 400-500 barrels of oil are hauled away each day. Photos were taken this Tuesday. Gates were locked on Thursday for safety reasons.

School trustees in Valley View are hoping to complete their search for a new superintendent by the middle of April. The district has received about 30 applications for the position so far. The board is seeking a replacement for Superintendent Bert Glascock who has announced he will retire at the end of the current school year.

Deadline for applications is Monday, Feb. 15. The board will then meet to narrow the list of candidates that will be interviewed. Trustees then will conduct a series of interviews before naming the new superintendent.

Name omitted on honor roll

The name of Jennifer Hess, daughter of Tony and Stella Hess and a fifth grader at Sacred Heart School, was inadvertently missed in the list of students on the Honor Roll in last week's paper. She should have been included on the Principal's Honor Roll.

Our family would like to express our deepest thank you to all the people of Muenster for their sincere expressions of sympathy. Thanks to Father Victor, Camillus, Nicholas, Stephen and Father Harry for their spiritual help. Also a special thank you to the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Daughters for the wonderful meal and use of the hall. Many thanks from all of us for your kind deeds shown during our time of sorrow. Thanks for the food, flowers, prayers and caring words. We know that our dad is at rest now with his heavenly Father. May God bless all of you. We'll be forever grateful.

JELLY retreat explores satanism and cult activities

A very difficult subject, Satanism and cultic abuse, was the topic at the J.E.L.L.Y. Retreat held recently for junior high youth. The goal of the session was to help those present to understand better the reality of Satanism and cultic abuse and to provide some guidance. Statistically, the incidence of such activity is relatively low, but on the rise.

Mr. Ernie Martin coordinated the retreat and used posters contrasting Satanic and religious symbols Officer Bill Bivin gave examples of local Satanic activity; explained how mind-confusion is used; and the dangers of dabbling in the

THE MUENSTER ENTERPRISE - FEBRUARY 12, 1993 - PAGE 7

Ponder's roundballers came on strong Tuesday night in the Lions' Den, pounding the court to take two district final victories from Muenster.

The Lady Hornets' 69-62 loss ended their 27-game winning streak and added another game to their schedule. Muenster and Ponder girls will meet again Saturday, Feb. 13, at Era to break the district tie.

Game time is 7 p.m.
In Tuesday's match, the Lady Hornets played a strong quarter and a half before Ponder closed within 3 points at halftime.

"You have to give credit where credit is due," said Hornet Coach Brian Strother. "Ponder shot very well in their gym, but we never quit and played hard." Muenster went to fouling toward the game's end, but the Lady Lions hit 9 of 11 free but the mind has to be stronger than the body," Coach Strother concluded.

The Lady Hornets will also have a practice game Tuesday with the team and location still to be announced. Muenster and Ponder will take on either Alvord or Windthorst in Bi-District. The district champion will be decided Friday night.

The Hornets fell 75-50 to district champions Ponder Lions Tuesday. "I was pleased with the season, they gave me their best. There just wasn't any thing to shoot for Tuesday night," Coach Strother commented. "Our trademark was to play the best you can, and these boys did." points for the Lady Hornets. Theresa Kubis added 17 and DaLana Walterscheid 10. Danell Reiter sank in 4, Dianne Pagel 3 and Candise Abney 2.

'I'm relieved the streak is over now we'll be ready to play," concluded Strother.

In Saturday's championship game, Coach Strother may make a few adjustments on defense, but his offensive game plan will basically remain the same. "If our main 4

The Tigers will finish out their season on Friday in a game with Harmony Christian. "We'll try to bounce back from a 20-point earlier defeat, so expect a very physical, fast-paced ball game," concluded Nasche.

Knightettes win BIG over Saint Jo

The Lindsay varsity girls "got a good start" Tuesday night to defeat Saint Jo 73-37 in their season finale. "It was a good game to wind up the season," commented Lindsay Coach George Thomason. "We got off to a big start and got them shook." The Knightettes jumped into a 23-4 first quarter lead. The Lady Panthers attempted a comeback the second quarter when Lindsay played their second team, but they kept an even pace.

All 11 team members scored for Lindsay, led by Rachell Sharp. Sharp put in 19 points, 15 of those in the first quarter. Janel Hellinger followed with 18 and Suzanne Hellinger 9, Christi Secrest and Allison Walterscheid each scored 6. Christy Zimmerer added 4, Brandi Bezner 3, with Michelle Dennis, Keleigh O'Dell, Stephanie Sandmann and Janelle Fuhrmann each having 2 points.

This is also a good time for individual parents to give specific thought and make a commitment to see that the children in their family use appropriate safety precautions.

Motor vehicle accidents continue to be the number one cause of death and serious injury for children birth to age four. Studies show that under 50 percent of children actually abide by child passenger safety guidelines. With proper usage, less injury and death could occur.

You can protect your child - and yourself - by making sure everyone rides buckled up. Even if you are a safe driver, you never know when another driver or bad roads will cause you to have a crash. Even if you are never involved in a motor vehicle crash, your unrestrained child could be injured in a sudden stop.

Here are some practical points

three-bild safety: for parents regarding child safety: -Secure children in safety restraint device on the trip home from the hospital and every time thereafter that they ride in a motor vehicle.

-Follow the safety seat maker's directions for buckling the safety seat into your car or truck. Never misuse a safety seat

-Insist that children ride in a safety restraint on every trip, no matter how long or how short. -Do a quick safety restraint check every time you put the child in the car. -Set an example by wearing your safety belt every time you are driving or riding in a vehicle. -The safety seat must be the proper size for your child.

-Praise the child for appropriate -Provide soft, "car only" toys for the children. -Buckled up equals better behavior.

-When children are buckled up, they are held snugly and comfortably in place if you are forced to stop suddenly or to

-Most car safety seats lift children high enough to see out the

Cong. Stenholm announces service academy nominees

Congressman Charles W Stenholm (D-TX) is pleased to announce that 23 young men and women from the 17th District of Texas have been selected as nominees to the United States Service Academies. Their names have been submitted for consideration as members of the academy classes entering in July 1993

"I am always so impressed by the high caliber of candidates that apply to my office each year," said Stenholm. "But it certainly makes a selection decision all the more

Ten individuals per academy were nominated to compete for one appointment each at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colorado; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, New York. Twenty individuals were nominated to compete for two appointment slots at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland.

Local individuals and the academies to which they have been nominated are: Clayton Farmer of Gainesville, Naval and Military; and Marcus Chad Mitchell of Gainesville, Military.

The nominees will now be contacted by the academies with additional information and instructions, and will be scheduled for medical and physical examinations. The academies will make appointment announcements by late spring.

music of woodworkers - the sounds of routers, planers, table saws, drills and other machines - as The North Texas Woodworking Show begins its run Feb. 19, 20, 21 at the Fair Park Tower Building, 3809 Grand Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

More than 6,000 of the nearly 71,000 woodworkers in the North Texas area are expected to attend the Woodworking Show, to see and test the newest and best hand and power tools, machinery and supplies for woodworkers, homebuilders and do-it-yourselfers. The show will have exhibits representing more than 100 different manufacturers.

Local woodworkers will be featured in 14 FREE workshops on a variety of topics: "Hanging Doors," "Bird Carving," "Build a Chest," "Woodcrafted Gifts," "Caricature Carving," "Designing and Building with Wood" and "Sharpening."

Several area woodworking clubs will be represented with displays

The room will ring with the showcasing the wide range of talent in North Texas. The North Texas Woodcarvers Guild and Fort Worth Woodcarvers Club will display various types of carving, including birds and wildlife, caricatures, high and low relief, ornamental chip carving and sculpture in the round. The Woodturners of North Texas will show fine turned pieces including bowls, boxes and hollow vessels. Everything from napkin holders to full-size furniture will be shown by members of the North Texas Woodworker's Association.

All attendees will be eligible to enter a prize drawing for a new FOR ESCORT. Admission to the show is $6.00

Local students score high in dairy judging in Fort Worth

The Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show hosted the 1993 Texas Open Junior Dairy Judging Contest on Friday, Jan. 29. Twenty-six 4-H and FFA teams from across the state competed in placing classes of dairy cattle, according to the standards of the breed associations.

Scoring highest overall in the Senior Division was Cooke County 4-H Team #2, with Werner Becker III, Jennifer Kupper, Daryl Kupper and Todd Martindale. Jennifer Kupper took 1st Place Individual honors, while Martindale placed 3rd overall and Becker 5th. Second Place Senior Division team was Alvarado FFA.

The 97th edition of the Fort Worth Stock Show hosted over 17,000 head of livestock for judging events and special exhibits. It is estimated that over 800,000 persons passed through the gates, with visitors coming from across the nation and some 60 foreign

Sprayer Tune-Up Week, A Time For Action

This spring, the plant protection chemical industry will unite for the third consecutive year to promote awareness of sprayer safety and environmental stewardship during Sprayer Tune-Up Week. The observance, scheduled for Feb. 22-26, represents a nationwide educational effort to protect chemical applicators and the environment.

What can applicators do? Sprayer Tune-Up Week is an ideal opportunity to prepare equipment for the upcoming season. Applicators who take one hour to calibrate sprayers and check safety equipment this winter can avoid costly delays when the spraying season gets into full swing. The Sprayer Tune-Up Week reminds applicators to:
 *Check strainers, valves and pumps for cracks and leaks.

*Examine nozzles closely to be certain all nozzles on the boom are the same size and type.

*Check all hoses for kinks, wear or splitting.

*Check supplies to ensure extra replacement tips and other sprayer parts are on hand if needed.

*Be sure to have safety gear on hand prior to spray season; consider adding new equipment to increase protection. *Carry fresh rinse water on all spraying equipment.

Application accuracy involvesmore than just sprayer calibration. Applicators should carefully select nozzles based on individual application situations. For example: *Be sure droplet size and spray pattern match your chemical application needs. Pay special attention to nozzle wear if you use wettable powders or acid-based

*Use appropriate nozzle pressure. To make large changes in application rate, change the nozzle size instead of the pressure.

*Check each nozzle for proper flow rate. If two tips vary by more than 10 percent, replace all nozzles.

*Check nozzle orientation, height and spacing against manufacturer specifications to assure uniform coverage. For more information on nozzle selection, consult your spray products dealer. When using plant protection chemicals, responsible applicators follow these simple steps: *Store chemicals in a locked, self-contained, free-standing

*Mix and fill sprayer tanks at least 50 feet from wells or other water sources.

*Triple- or pressure-rinse empty containers and dispose according to state guidelines.

*Rinse tanks and sprayers before you leave the field, away from wells and other sensitive areas.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

Looking back over a span of quite a few years, I remember a story related to me by Martin Trubenbach, about an event that happened when we were both a lot more spry than we are today.

As I recollect, Martin had a small older tractor that he kept around, more for convenience than actual need, so it was used only occasionally. Consequently, it was not always in the mood to start, and he sometimes hitched his pickup to it with a long chain, and gave it a pull-start. This worked great, but there was not always a second person available to drive the Now Martin always seemed to be able to cope with most any situation, so it didn't take him long to come up with a solution. He would lock the brakes down on the tractor, do all the little things that he thought necessary to insure a quick start and, then, with the truck hitched to it and headed south into the pasture, he would set the throttle so the engine ran slow enough to allow the automatic transmission to slip while the tractor's brakes were locked, but still exert enough pull to move the tractor when the brakes were released. After all was made ready, he would get on the tractor, release the brakes, and after it attained the proper forward motion, he would let the clutch out, and most times the tractor started immediately. He then applied the brakes, stopping the tractor, which also stopped the forward movement of the truck.

All that was left to do was get to the pickup quickly, and set it in neutral.

Success is a wonderful thing and nothing encourages one more. One fine day, when Martin was all set to start his tractor, he released the brakes, and it started with a roar, jumped forward, causing the chain to go slack. The truck took up the slack a bit too fast and the chain snapped and broke. Martin reacted immediately, putting the tractor in neutral, and leaping over the fender to pursue the truck which was gaining speed.

Well, he gave it his all, but just as he touched the door handle, he tripped over one of several cow chips, strategically placed there by fate (and a bald-faced cow), just for this moment.

Martin got up just as the pickup shifted into second, and was headed straight for a small lake some distance south. He stood, with arms akimbo, watching, and then luck stepped in. The vehicle veered to the west away from the lake and, as Martin looked on, it dropped into a ditch, bounced hard a few times and came to a stop. When Martin got down to it, he found the rear bumper holding the rear wheels off the ground as they were suspended over a small ditch, and the motor still running. He fully expected some damage, especially to the steering and front end.

After walking back to the tractor, which was still running, he repaired the chain, then drove down and extricated the pickup, which he soon found had suffered no

So this is the story of what happened one day - when the chips were down.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

by Ray B. Russell, County Judge Cooke County, Gainesville, Texas

Greetings:

The Texas Farm Bureau, with more than 296,000 member families, is influential in both state and national affairs on behalf of agriculture.

Farm Bureau is a grass-roots organization. Its foundation is the county unit. There are 211 organized county Farm Bureaus in the state, including the Cooke County Farm Bureau, which has 2,600 member families.

Because agriculture is important to our county, state and nation, and because the Farm Bureau is an important voice of agriculture, I, Ray B. Russell, County Judge of Cooke County, do hereby designate February 8-12 as FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP WEEK in Cooke County, and urge our citizens to give due recognition to its worthy efforts.

In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 3rd day of February, 1993.

/s/ Ray B. Russell, Cooke County Judge

Do fish have more rights than humans? TFB president expresses disappointment with ruling

S.M. True, president of the Texas against the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"This is not just a Texas issue," ruling issued in Midland in the federal endangered species lawsuit, saying that Federal District Judge Lucius Bunton's ruling could have dire consequences for Texas agriculture.

Bunton ruled last Monday that, in order to protect endangered fish, spring flow at Comal and San Marcos must be maintained at all costs. Under the ruling, human use of the Edwards Aquifer could not exceed levels that would threaten spring flow at those two points.

True said the implications of the ruling are shocking. "We have a situation where a fish has more rights than a city of 1.5 million people, or an industry that provides abundant food and fiber for millions," True said.

The ruling is viewed as a victory for the Sierra Club in their suit

"This is not just a Texas issue," True said. "This will create problems for farmers and ranchers all over America."

True said the ruling will be closely evaluated by the Texas Farm Bureau and the American Farm Bureau, both of which were heavily involved in the suit.

The named defendant intervenor, Danny McFadin, is a Uvalde County farmer and president of his county Farm Bureau.

True said it is very likely the defendants in the case will pursue an appeal.

If the ruling is upheld on appeal, it would greatly extend the scope of the federal Endangered Species Act far beyond the current interpretation of the law.

The Endangered Species Act is tough to live with now, I can only imagine what's in store for us in the future," True said.
