Muenster welcomes 18th annual Germanfest visitors

THE "TANZ HALLE," or German dance hall tent, will soon be filled with polka music and polka dancers. This is the center of ethnic entertainment at the Germanfest. Jesse Rivas, left, and William Parker are installing the wooden dance floor for Abby Rental of Dallas.

"Roll out the barrels and we'll have a barrel of fun," invites the well known polka tune. This could easily be the theme song of the Muenster Germanfest as one studies the agenda of the 18th annual Germanfest. There is a wide variety of toe-tapping entertainment, several sports events, barrels of beer, German cuisine, sweets, games, crafts, and much more for the visitors' enjoyment.

The ambrosial aromas of cooking foods should whet appetites for any number of dishes available on the Germanfest grounds. Musicians will be playing tunes in polka, country, classic, contemporary, pop and rock. It's visitors' choice -- sit and enjoy or dance, bicycle, run or ride carnival rides till you're dizzy!

Blues and Rock group; Andy Serna and the Captive Hearts, a country band; Jim Stewart with contemporary music; Tucson, young, progressive country; Lori Earheart, country music vocalist; Willie Kickit, dance band playing country and old rock; Jeff Chance, concert band from Nashville country music; One Brick Shy, Texas rock n blues band; Brave Combo, electric and wacky Nuclear polka; Randy Rio musical vocalist; and Chris Hiatt & Cold Shot, "A Tribute to Stevie Ray Vaughan".

Young and young at heart will enjoy the fun created by Side Street Circus. There will again be carnival rides. Kids will enjoy jumping in the Lunar Landing as well as face painting and clown shows.

WILLKOMMEN!!!

Welcome to all our guests for the 18th annual Germanfest event! We hope you enjoy yourselves during your visit with us.

We are a small town of 1,500 people but we expect more than 30,000 guests this weekend just as we've had in previous years at Germanfest. Many hours of preparation have been invested by our local folks to make this party an enjoyable one for you.

Please be aware that much of the money made from Germanfest is used to fund our local non-profit and charitable organizations. Thus, for each dollar you spend here, you are helping these organizations, and, for this, we thank you.

Have a good time, thanks for coming to Muenster and please come again.

Classroom of the future demonstrated

Thursday, April 15, history was made in North Texas. Four classrooms in Muenster, Era, Forestburg and Sacred Heart, as much as 18 miles apart, conducted a class together as if they were in the one classroom. A fiber optic cable made this possible.

The potential of interactive distance learning was seen first hand by about 150 interested persons gathered at four schools. Portions of the program originated from each of the schools.

Steve Cooper, superintendent of Muenster ISD and president of the North Texas Educational Network, welcomed an impressive list of visitors to the area. This included from Washington, U.S. Representative Ralph Hall of Rockwall; Dr. Richard Sims of University of North Texas; Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, Dr. Doug Crawford and Dr. Artie Thrash of Cooke County College; Dr. Jim Rogers, executive director, and Anne Poplin, associate executive director - Instruction of Region IX Education Service Center from Wichita Falls; Flossie Schoppa, assistant to Rep. Ric Williamson of Weatherford; Peggy Shepherd, Rep. Charles Finnell's assistant from his office at Holliday, Texas. The Texas House of Representatives worked late Thursday on the DFW Airport Bill and legislators could not leave Austin as planned.

CONGRESSMAN RALPH HALL, center, addresses the North Texas Educational Network Open House concerning classroom technology of the future.

Students recited poems as follows: from Forestburg, introduced by Superintendent David Lindsey, was Leah Hudspeth; from Muenster, introduced by Supt. Steve Cooper, was Marlene Hess; and from Sacred Heart, introduced by Linda Ellender, Home Economics teacher in the absence of Principal Jack Murdock who could not be present, were Erica Schilling and Donetta Hess.

Following the students' presentations was an address by U.S. Congressman Ralph Hall who was introduced by Urban Endres. Congressman Hall praised the foresight of the schools and telephone company to bring this new technology to the area.

Era Superintendent Randel Beaver discussed uses for the technology. Previously, he was superintendent of a school in the Oklahoma Panhandle where a distant learning network has been in operation for a number of years. Besides, educational, Mr. Beaver explained various other uses of the system. This included Medilink between hospitals and nursing homes with doctors and hospitals, fireman training, adult education classes such as first aid training, in-service training of teachers, police training, city court and other uses. Even the planning for the NTEN open house took place over the system.

Alvin Fuhrman brought the group up to date on pending legislation in Austin. Rep. Finnell's bill, H.B. 1029, has been reported out of the Education Committee, and now has two sponsors in the Senate. Ashley Smith's bill, H.B. 653, has cleared the same committee and is waiting for action from the Senate. Both these bills provide for a special educational rate and make distance learning more affordable to the schools and hospitals. Today, telephone companies must charge the commercial rate to schools and hospitals for the fiber cable between towns.

Also discussed was the pending legislation to reform the Public Utility Commission. Large newspapers and cable systems, with Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock leading the way, have effectively blocked new fiber optic cable construction in Texas by telephone companies for at least two or more years. Without fiber optic cable,

New to the Germanfest scene will be a portable wax museum of Texas history. The idea for the museum was inspired by a visit to Germanfest. It has only recently been completed and has been on display just a few times.

Alpenfest is a Houston group that has entertained at festivals in Minnesota, Texas and Wisconsin. They have also toured Bavaria and Austria and have another tour of Austria planned for June 28 of this year. They are taking a group of people on the tour and a number of local people have already signed up for it. Alpenfest is playing in the Tanz Halle at different times on all three fest days.

The Polka Kings, Blue Stars, Young at Heart, Alpine Village Band, and Alpenmusikanten are other musical groups scheduled as Tanz Halle entertainment. Dancers will appreciate the wooden floor of the Tanz Halle.

Groups for the Texas Stage include Swine Cadillac, a Texas from Wyoming, a Pennsylvania Dutch bakery from the Colony offering hand-done, home-made baked goods with no preservatives, are tempting new food booths.

Smaller tents located on the north and south sides of the Muenster Park will house booths with a wide selection of crafted items. Latest additions are Country Kitchen furniture; an artist who does beautiful paintings on tree leaves; P.J.'s Crafts with stuffed animals and painted items; and a caricature artist who will frame his work. Other craft items include hand painted denim and clothing, jewelry, quilts, ceramics, stone wear, dog hats and scarves, coin jewelry, stained glass, and chicken hats, cups, and buttons popular with chicken dance fans.

Changes have again been made to the German Fun Run route. The course will go north this year, but instead of going west on Copper Switch Road, as the familiar route

U.S. Senate election offers many choices

by Elaine Schad

Voters casting ballots in the special U. S. Senate race on May 1 may have to be extra careful that they've marked the right box as they look for their candidate among the 24 listed on the ballot.

Early voting will continue through Tuesday, April 17, at the Cooke County Clerk's Office in the Courthouse for the senate race and for three proposed statewide constitutional amendments concerning education. As of Tuesday, 220 people had voted early at the Courthouse, officials said.

Democrat Bob Krueger holds the senate seat at present. He was appointed interim senator by Texas Governor Ann Richards after then Senator Lloyd Bentsen accepted President Bill Clinton's invitation to become United States Treasurer. With so many candidates on the ballot, it is virtually assured that there will be a runoff.

The race has generated some debate, but has been fairly calm. The main complaints of the election have come from candidates who are not top contenders in the polls, with some charging that the media hasn't given them equal opportunity to let their message be heard. While Krueger and Texas State Treasurer Kay Hutchison, a Republican, hold the lead in various polls taken to date, some polls indicate that as much as 40 percent of the voting public has not yet made a decision about their choice of candidate. Other top contenders listed by polls include Republicans Jack Fields, and Joe Barton, both of whom are U. S. Congressmen, and Democrat

Richard Fisher, a Dallas investment company president.

When it comes to major issues, information gleaned from a variety of media sources, the League of Women Voters and the candidates themselves indicate some major differences. According to Texans United For Life, Inc., Senator Krueger has a 100 percent pro-abortion voting record and has been endorsed by the National and Texas Abortion Rights Action leagues. Fisher has no voting record but supports abortion rights.

Congressman Fields and Congressman Barton both have 100 percent pro-life voting records in Congress. Fields, however, has added the qualifier of rape and incest to his exceptions of being pro-life. State Treasurer Hutchison supports abortion right up to the sixth month of pregnancy, according to the organization. She uses the word "viability" in her definition of when abortion rights should begin or end, but hasn't defined that term. She is against the Freedom of Choice Act now pending in Congress, mainly because she considers it a usurpation of states rights.

In his short few months as U. S. Senator, Krueger voted the Senate budget resolution, saying he cannot support any new taxes. He later voted in favor of the President's economic stimulus plan, calling it "real legislation that will help real people." Krueger has co-sponsored a bill to make "stalking" a federal crime, and he has introduced legislation to initiate a full-scale audit and performance review of the federal government.

Barton has been a Congressman since 1984 and Fields since 1980. They both have been working with Republicans in Congress for elimination of government waste, reducing the deficit and for budgetary restraints by the federal government.

In her campaign, Hutchison has been strong in advocating federal budget restraint like she has shown since becoming state treasurer. Hutchison said she was in favor of competitive education and would be in favor of vouchers for parents who send their children to non-public schools. She is against allowing gays in the military. On the health care issue, Hutchison favors reform that would stop frivolous lawsuits, retain the ability of people choosing their own doctors and using every free market way possible to bring costs down.

She wants to reduce federal spending and the deficit, have term limitations for members of Congress, which Krueger opposes, and would like to take some of the mandates off the backs of small business. She calls herself a Washington outsider who will bring new blood to Capital Hill.

Fisher said he opposed President Clinton's BTU-tax on energy and opposed increasing corporate tax rates. He is in favor, however, of raising and eliminating tax loopholes and subsidies for the very rich. He said he would not raise taxes until the Congress and the President have cut spending to its lowest practical level.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I would like to publicly thank Alvin Fuhrman and the Muenster Telephone Company for including EWTN, the Eternal Word Television Network, in the new cable channels being made available to local subscribers this month on the Value Service Tier. About six years ago, I began asking Alvin about the possibility of getting EWTN here in Muenster. It is a 24-hour Catholic cable system begun by Mother Angelica. I just felt that it would be very uplifting and informative in a community that was as Catholic as ours.

As Director of Religious Education at Sacred Heart Church, I see it as a wonderful tool for providing religious education and inspiration for all ages - the elderly, families and children. At the time I first contacted Alvin, he informed me that he did not have the necessary satellite equipment to broadcast EWTN. And then, this past year, I contacted him again. He assured me that we would be getting EWTN when additional channels were added. And so it has happened!

I really encourage as many people as possible to subscribe to EWTN. In these days when so much of what we see on TV is degrading and demoralizing, it is refreshing to find programs that encourage and inspire. And if you have a chance, do thank Alvin and the people at Muenster Telephone Company for providing this channel to our community.

Yours in Christ Jesus,
Barbara Fuhrmann

To the Editor:
On the May 1, 1993 School Finance Election, you will be faced with three constitutional amendments (not just one).

Proposition No. 1 as it will appear on the ballot: "The Constitutional Amendment allowing limited redistribution of ad valorem taxes for schools, authorizing the legislature or local districts to set a minimum tax rate in country education districts, and placing a cap on the ad valorem tax levied by county education districts." Vote NO on this amendment (Robin Hood Plan).

Proposition No. 2 as it will appear: "The Constitutional Amendment exempting a school from the obligation to comply with unfunded state education mandates." Vote YES on this amendment - it is long overdue.

Proposition No. 3 as it will appear: "The Constitutional Amendment authorizing the issuance of 750 million in state general obligation or revenue bonds to assist school districts in partially financing facilities authorizing the state to forgive payment of loans made to a school district for partially financing facilities and repealing the authorization for 750 million in state revenue bonds guaranteed by the permanent school fund." Vote NO on this amendment. They're trying to pass the buck from the Permanent School Fund to the taxpayers.

To the Editor:
In a recent edition of the Gainesville Daily Register, one of the headings in an article made my blood boil. The article stated that abortions overseas were to be paid for by U.S. taxpayers. I believe it is a vicious attack on the unborn to first of all allow an abortion to take place, but to force the overburdened taxpayers to pay for this heinous act would be criminal. It is time for the voting, working people to take action against the Clintons' disregard for human life.

We now have an opportunity to take positive action against the liberal agenda of the President. On May 1, 1993, the People of Texas will choose someone to fill the Senate seat vacated by Senator Lloyd Bentsen. This list of candidates include the following:

Bob Krueger: Supports abortion throughout the entire nine months of pregnancy, very likely to support spending your tax dollars to perform abortions.

Richard Fisher: Says he is against abortions but would not defend the unborn. I ask, Mr. Fisher, how can you oppose something and not defend it? Sounds like political jargon to me.

Kay Bailey Hutchison: Supports abortions up to the sixth month. How can you call it a baby at six months, but say it's nothing at five and one half months, Mrs. Hutchison? ALSO VOTED TWICE FOR AN AMENDMENT TO USE TAX DOLLARS TO FUND ABORTIONS!

Jack Fields: Has a 100% Pro Life voting record but now is waffling since throwing his hat into the Senate race. Makes his voting record on other issues uncertain.

Congressman Joe Barton: Has a 100% Pro Life voting record and will fight against government spending my tax dollars paying for abortions. Joe Barton is endorsed by every major Pro Life, Pro Family group and leader in Texas. Joe Barton is the opportunity we have to make our impact on Washington.

Dear Editor,
As a dairyman and farmer, I realize that man, animals and "mother nature" work hand-in-hand for God's plan on this earth. It may surprise people hearing me talk about God, because I'm not the "God speaking" type, but there's something going on in this country that really has me bothered.

I work with animals everyday - feeding them, caring for them, nurturing them, etc. I love animals and it hurts me to see any of them suffer. Yet, every day, hundreds of human babies are given a death sentence, through abortion, by another human that decided that baby's fate!

I've helped during the birth of baby calves when the cow was having trouble during delivery. I've swung the calves around, pounded on their chest searching for a heartbeat, given them mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and spent many dollars for veterinary services - anything to save a life. I believe they deserve at least one fighting chance! Yet, what chance do perfectly healthy human babies have when they are torn from their mothers through abortion? They, too, deserve a fighting chance!!

I've fed birds in the rough of winter and cared for stray kittens brought home by my children because I thought they deserved that one fighting chance. And I also believe that of the many human babies that won't see their birthdays!

I've placed fallen birds back in their homes in the trees, and farmed around nests in my fields, because I believe they deserve that one fighting chance! One chance is what every human baby is entitled to!

Animals are God's creatures created to serve man, but man is God's creatures created to serve Him. We must do something to make sure every human being has that one chance!

One hundred and thirty years ago we realized that slavery, mistreatment and abuse of another human being was unjust, and we did something about it!

When the Jews were being tortured during the Holocaust by the Germans, we went to battle, because we knew that it just wasn't right, and we did something about it!

One hundred years from now, people will look on this time in history as a period of bloody killing of our own children - I don't believe there has been such a chilling story since the beginning of mankind! We've got to do something about it!

On May 1, we will elect a new U.S. Senator. Congressman Joe Barton is the only, and I repeat only candidate who will help us in this fight against abortion! We can't win the war overnight, but we can win a battle at a time! As you know, we will not get any help from the White House during this presidential term. Let's get Joe Barton into office and our foot in the door! Let's elect Joe Barton for the ones who will never get to vote!!

Thank you,

To the Editor:
Our founding fathers had a strong desire to guarantee life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We are aware or should be aware and very concerned about the plans some of our leaders have in mind for our future and the future generations of our nation. The Presidency of Bill Clinton is putting these plans on fast forward. We need to know how these so-called New World Order plans will impact our freedom and what we can do about them.

Within hours of taking office, our new president quickly lifted the existing ban on abortions at military bases overseas, the ban on Federal funding of fetal tissue research and the ban on abortion referrals at the Title-X funded "family planning clinics." And there is more to come. The Clinton administration, along with the abortion rights advocates, are making a strong push for the passage of the Freedom of Choice Act (FOCA) which would allow abortion on demand and restrict states from passing laws against abortion.

The good news is that we can do something now by making our views known to our elected representatives. We need not be demoralized by the events of the past few months. Let's write a letter to our congressman and senators today.

Also, here in Texas, we have an election on May 1 to elect a senator to replace the seat vacated by Bentsen.

The special election has many candidates. Among the top five leading candidates, only Congressman Joe Barton has never changed his position on the pro-life issue. The other candidates are pro-abortion or have changed their positions to pro-choice (pro-abortion).

I believe that abortion is the most critical, single issue of our time, and I believe a candidate who has consistently taken the pro-life position will also make the right decisions on other critical issues facing our country. I endorse Joe Barton for the U.S. Senate.

Dear Editor:
On May 1, we have the opportunity to elect someone to fill the vacancy in the U.S. Senate created when Lloyd Bentsen left that position to become Secretary of the Treasury.

Governor Ann Richards took forever but she finally came up with Bob Krueger as her choice to temporarily fill the position of U.S. Senator for Texas.

In his short time as Senator, he has been overwhelmed with indecision caused by trying to be like Ann Richards and Bill Clinton.

We recommend a vote now for Joe Barton. We suggest that this is an excellent opportunity to elect a fine family man. One who supports a balanced budget, prayer in schools, an end to pornography and one who has a lifetime record of being 100% Pro Life. No other candidate has the support of all the major Pro Life groups in Texas. Bob Krueger has consistently voted pro-abortion.

Let's take this chance to elect our choice for U.S. Senate. Vote for Joe Barton for U.S. Senate.

A Letter to the Editor in the Dallas Morning News of April 18 informed me that the Homestead Exemption will be discontinued as part of the "Robin Hood" Amendment.

I further understand that the Homestead Exemption MAY BE re-allowed under "additional pending legislation."

WHY IS THE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION EVEN CONSIDERED AS PART OF ANY SCHOOL FINANCE BILL?

I believe that the State Legislature has done the homeowners of Texas a great disservice by not causing wide and visible dissemination of the "Robin Hood" current and original content.

Is it the policy of the Elected to keep their constituents in the dark when legislation affects their billfolds and their wellbeing?

Muenster ISD meets, awards bids

Muenster school trustees awarded more bids for the gymnasium project and took care of some routine matters during the board's regular April meeting.

Gainesville Glass had the low bid of $5,100 for the front entrance door and other glass work in the new gym. Flusche Enterprises was awarded the bid for basketball backboard structures at a cost of $9,500. Muenster Superintendent Steve Cooper said the project is about a month behind schedule due mainly to inclement weather. The building is expected to be in the dry within the next week, however, so work will accelerate. Target completion date is the first part of June.

The board reviewed a tentative school calendar for 1993-1994, but took no action. Cooper said there is

The Texas Telephone Companies Are Asking The Texas Legislature To Deregulate Their Industry.

A Presentation Of Their Claims And The Real Facts:

Telephone Claims: "We are not making enough money to really invest anything back into the Texas telephone infrastructure."

FACT: They made record profits last year. They say they can't afford to invest in Texas, yet they invested in Mexico's telephone system, bought an overseas cable company and are one of the brand-new owners of the San Antonio Spurs basketball team.

Telephone Claims: "We want deregulation so we can be competitive. It really has nothing to do with the rates we will charge customers."

FACT: The telephone companies under their proposal will be able to increase consumer rates as much as 10 percent a year (25 percent in some cases). Their bill is all about money - more for them, less for the consumer.

Howdy Folks,

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, Stuart Burns and his mother milked 350 Holsteins in less than 2 hours with his rotary milker. It is awesome stuff, the only way to fly. Fresh milk from the dairy, fresh eggs every morning from the chickens, fresh air in the plains just below the hill country of Victoria right outside of Warragul; it was hard to leave that host home. All of that stuff sounded good I'm sure, but what made it hard to leave was that the Burns family is so cool. I really enjoyed their company, and fit right in with them. It was definitely the best host home I've been in yet.

Warragul was quite good overall. I finally was able to have another music practice with my team musicians. That's 2 out of 4 which have been scheduled, not real bad. The diocesan coordinator of the charismatic renewal of the Sale Diocese invited the whole team to his house Sunday night. He has this awesome heated pool and spa which we had to try out. I also met his 8th-grade son, Jared, for whom I was to lead a retreat on Wednesday.

Retreatly speaking, I gave the talk on Monday for the 9th grade retreat there at Marist Sion College (a high school) in Warragul. The 10th-grade retreat was on Tuesday and, as I mentioned, 8th graders got theirs on Wednesday, and I led that retreat. My host sister, Sarah Burns, was also on that retreat. It was the best retreat I've led so far. The Warragul students really responded well and participated wholeheartedly in the retreats. Retreats like that are so easy, and they bring such great rewards at the end. If only everybody was open to such things...

So, then it was off to Candlebark Farm just south of Healesville. We had an overnight retreat of sophomores from Mary McKillop High School in Leongatha there. The farm was out in the boonies. We watched kangaroos coming out to feed in the meadow in the evenings and finishing up business in the mornings. My small group at this place was quite grand, as were the retreatants. Again, as in Warragul, it made our job lots easier. This was the most musically talented group of youngsters I've ever seen on retreat so far. They learned the songs really quickly and just sang and sang and sang their little hearts out - a musician's dream on retreat. We even had a campfire the night of the retreat. It was absolutely fantastic.

The next day, off we went to Leongatha to spend the night. Then off we went to Beaconsfield to get ready for the next round of retreats. Actually, I'm staying in a Muenster-sized town (1330 pop.) outside Beaconsfield called Koo Wee Rup. It reminds me a lot of Muenster because of its size, the overall atmosphere and the countryside around it. It's a pretty nice little town, actually.

Well, tomorrow is Palm Sunday and Easter will be over by the time you're reading this, but Easter season will still be going on, so Happy Easter everybody! God bless you all with the joy of the Resurrection!

Superintendent encourages everyone: VOTE!

by Steve Cooper,
MISD Superintendent

In the last article on school finance, I indicated that in the next article I would give reasons for my "no" vote on Amendment #1 on Saturday, May 1.

In the 4/15/93 issue of The Muenster Enterprise, there were two good articles (by Mr. Nasche and Mrs. Hess) about Amendment #1. Both articles expressed good perspectives and gave us some insight on the realities of the May 1 vote. Ric Williamson, our state representative, recently sent out a detailed explanation of why he opposed the amendment when it was originally voted on in the House and why he will vote "no" again May 1. The underlying theme of his letter was: 1. There are other alternatives and 2. We are not getting the leadership we need from our elected representatives. After all, that's what we elect them for - to lead. I appreciate Representative Williamson's understanding of the real problem and his boldness to say so.

Our main problem is not a school finance problem - it is a leadership crisis. Everyone wants to do what is politically expedient - not what is best for our schools and the children they serve.

In my opinion, the amendment doesn't address the main problem facing our legislators. The main problem is a shortage of funds to support promises made two years ago. The amendment will not provide the funds needed. (I've gone on record many times stating that more money is not the "cure all" for education but you have to have enough money to do the job). The amendment attempts to make equity (equal access to funds) a reality by taking from the richer districts and giving to the poorer districts. The amendment promotes a limited recapture which means the amount to be redistributed is limited by the dictates of the bill. The amount to be recaptured will not address the adequacy (amount of money needed) issue at all. The adequacy issue will be addressed in the enabling legislation (the finance bill itself) and our legislators don't seem to be in too much of a hurry to address that until after the vote. There have been some early projections on money available to school districts next year and those projections indicate there will be less state money the next two years than we had the past two years. Once again, the amendment has no impact at all on the adequacy issue, it simply provides a mechanism to disburse funds statewide. Next year, many districts will have less state money to operate on - if there is less state money, guess where the money comes from to make up the difference? You got it, the local taxpayer.

There are proponents and opponents for the amendment. There are some good arguments on both sides of the issue. However, we need to understand that passing the amendment does not solve the problem of less state money to put into education. As far as Muenster ISD is concerned, and I can state with some certainty, it makes absolutely no difference whether the amendment passes or not, it makes no difference if we consolidate or not (a veiled threat) it makes no difference what they do in Austin as far as our taxes are concerned - they will be going up! The only two questions we need to concern ourselves with are: How much are they going up and how much local control can we retain? It is absolutely imperative that we maintain as much local control as possible because that allows us to control cost and that is crucial to being able to restrain the local tax bite. The enabling legislation that eventually passes will address the quantitative questions raised above.

My vote on Amendment #1 on May 1 will be "no" and I do so on general principles. The state, the last few years at least, has not done what they said they would do. They ask us to vote on an amendment that could impact local control depending on how the enabling legislation is worded to disburse these recaptured funds. They will not address the finance issue before the vote. They threaten consolidation (I've been told this is purely a scare tactic - the votes are not there). They say there are no other alternatives - this is simply not true. I believe it's time for our politicians to "stand tall" and do what most of them know is "right." One thing for sure, without leadership, our educational dilemma will not be solved.

Proposition #2 is worthy of a "yes" vote - it will limit to a great extent the imposition of state mandates without state funding.

Proposition #3 has some merit but our district would be eliminated from using this funding mechanism for facilities because we do not meet the qualifying criteria. I am going to vote "no" on this amendment.

I've expressed my opinions and they are just that - each person needs to vote their conscience - whatever your opinion is, please vote!

Social shows community support for physicians

Approximately 225 to 250 people from Muenster and surrounding areas took time Sunday to meet the most recent physicians to join the staff of Muenster Memorial Hospital and to visit with the physicians who have dedicated many years of service in Muenster. The Sunday social was a joint effort by the Muenster Hospital Auxiliary and the hospital's board of directors. Pickup foods and punch were served to guests.

Auxiliary members Betty Rose Walterscheid, Peggy Grewing and Kathy Bauer were chairmen for the social. "We'd like to thank the community for showing their support," said Peggy Grewing, publicity chairman. "I'm glad to know that the community backs our hospital and grateful that so many people showed up to meet the doctors and show their appreciation for the dedicated staff of many years."

Group supports Joe Barton...

Pro-Life political group organized April 13

A new political group was born in Cooke County on Tuesday, April 13 when area citizens concerned about the abortion issue and government policies decided to unite to become a unified voice of support in promoting pro-life legislation and pro-life candidates and elected officials. Kenneth Bierschenk and Martha Sicking arranged the organizational meeting held in the Muenster Knights of Columbus Hall. There were 35 people present representing various areas of Cooke County. Cooke County Pro-Life Group was chosen as the organization's name. Kenneth Bierschenk was elected president. Other officers will be chosen at a future meeting. Committees will be formed then also.

"Since Clinton has been in office the unborn child is a target taking a beating," said Bierschenk. "We need to get more pro life candidates elected to office."

As its first task the new organization decided to work toward getting Joe Barton elected to the U.S. Senate. Barton is the only major candidate to sign the Republican National Coalition for Life Pledge. During his eight and a half years in Congress Barton's voting record has been 100 percent pro-life.

Group members were asked to write letters to the editor to both Cooke County newspapers endorsing Barton, distribute pro-life critique sheets, and to promote the Cooke County group.

Those present agreed that the main focus should be on organizing to more effectively work for an end to abortion through the political process and to promote the right to life on the local, state, and national levels. The group is to be of a political, not a religious, nature.

The next meeting will be held in the Gaineville Knights of Columbus Hall on Tuesday, May 4 at 7:30 p.m.

legislation pending in Austin which could reduce the number of school days from 180 to 175, so the board may wait until that is decided before setting the calendar. In a related calendar matter, Cooper reported that classes will be held May 14, which had initially been designated a holiday, due to a mistake in the 1992-1993 calendar.

Upon recommendation of the district's site-based management committee, the board approved a move for the sixth grade into the junior high under the auspices of the high school principal. That will place grades six through eight in the same area.

In other business, the board: --Approved two in-service days for May.

--Approved transfer requests for 1993-1994. About 36 requests were approved, which include mainly students who are already attending Muenster schools.

--Set 8 p.m. May 4 as the time the board will canvass results from the May 1 school trustee election.

--Accepted the resignation of the district's pre-school teacher.

--Hired all support staff for 1993-1994.

--Approved Joni Sturm as cheerleader sponsor for 1993-1994.

Fighting crime full-time in Cooke County

There is a tremendous support throughout Cooke County to return the District Attorney's office to placement under the Professional Prosecutors Act. With a current population of over 30,000 people, the expected influx of thousands of visitors when a new shopping mall is completed this summer, and the increase in the number of indictments related to drug trafficking along two major highways in the county, it is imperative that a full-time prosecutor is available to work the case load in the 235th Judicial District.

Senator Steve Carriker (D-Roby) is sponsoring legislation in the 73rd

Session of the Texas Legislature to return the Cooke County District Attorney's office to a full-time status. The 235th Judicial District was removed from the Professional Prosecutors Act in September of 1987 at the request of a former District Attorney so that he would be able to maintain a private practice of law in addition to serving as the 235th Judicial District Attorney.

Janelle Haverkamp, the current District Attorney, had requested the change sought by Senator Carriker.

Haverkamp says she believes Cooke County needs a full-time professional prosecutor who is able to devote all of his or her energy to the prosecution of crime in the county. The District Attorney is the sole prosecutor in the 235th District, with no assistant district attorneys. The entire staff consists of the District Attorney, one criminal investigator, one legal assistant, and one receptionist/legal secretary. Cooke County taxpayers paid $11,005 from October 1991 to September 1992 for special prosecutors to complete appellate briefs and argue cases on appeal. With a full-time D.A., there would no longer be a need for this expenditure.

Senate Bill 315 was passed by the Senate on a unanimous vote April 15, and has been referred to the House Judicial Affairs Committee for consideration in the lower chamber later this session.

Tax Talk

By: Duane Knabe, CPA

Duane Knabe will discuss a different topic each week. Any questions should be directed to him at 759-4010.

This week's topic is a decedent's return. The final return of a decedent for the part of a year up to and including the date of death is filed on Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ. A return is required if the decedent met the gross income filing test for the short period or if earnings from self-employment amounted to $400 or more.

The return for the decedent must be filed by his administrator, executor or any other person charged with responsibility for the decedent's affairs. Whoever files the return for the decedent may file a separate return or a joint return. All personal exemptions to which the decedent was entitled while he/she was alive may be claimed. The final return of the decedent is due by the date on which the return would have been due had death not occurred (generally April 15).

Sharing Is Caring

The families of Dr. Juarez express their sincere appreciation for all the kindness, cards, flowers, food, memorials, help, and consolation and encouragement during our father's illness and death.

Our father and mother truly loved the people of Muenster and the surrounding communities. Our memories are filled with stories from the neighborhood and town, office and hospital, church and school, of pig roasts and Garden Club dinners; with funny stories of language problems responded to generously; with warm stories of their friends whom they loved dearly.

After having their share of hard times earlier in life, we thank God that he brought them to such a wonderful community where they enjoyed years of happiness.

Thanks goes to so many who contributed their time to the funeral Mass and meal served. To Father Victor for his beautiful homily with such memorable and heartfelt thoughts; Father Camillus, Father Nicholas, Father Stephen, Deacon Bel De Varona who so generously helped with the Mass.

To the beloved 'neighborhood' altar boys Scott Poole and David Hesse, the honorary pallbearers who were all friends of 'Papi'. Also the beautiful and touching music provided by Ruth, Christy, Emily, Pam and David. To Juanita Bright and Dr. Kralicke who read the Scriptural readings with such God-given talent. Also to the Knights of Columbus for the use of the hall and the members of Catholic Daughters who served the wonderful meal. Thank you to McCoy Funeral Home for the comfort and support given to us during our sorrow. All your thoughtfulness made our loss a little easier.

Couple exchanges vows in Lubbock April 17

MRS. JOSEPH MARK MYRICK
...nee Amy Price...

Amy Price of Dallas became the bride of Joseph Myrick in a traditional double-ring ceremony in First United Methodist Church of Lubbock on April 17, 1993 at 7 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Jerrell and Wanda Price of Lubbock and the groom is the son of Jim and Jane Myrick of Lindsay.

Officiating were Rev. James Jackson, Methodist minister, and Father Eugene Driscoll, Catholic minister.

Presented by her father at the altar, the bride was wearing an elegant white Dolsee Satin gown by the designers of House of Bianchi Bridals. The gown featured a Sabrina neckline with short cap sleeves. Designed of imported Alencon lace over the Dolsee Satin, the bodice's delicate beadwork of pearls, Austrian crystals and white iridescent sequins were embellished with lace. A V-neckline in back was accented with a candybox bow of the Alencon lace. The fitted waistline allowed the ballgown skirt to float to the hemline and sweep into a mid-cathedral-length train.

The bride chose a cathedral-length illusion veiling held in place by a caplet of Alencon lace embellished with pearls and sequins. Delicate ribbon edging finished the illusion veil.

For sentiment, she wore a six-pence in her shoe, and borrowed a necklace from an aunt.

ATTENDANTS

Matrons of honor were the bride's sisters, Jouana Stavlo and Shawna Yarborough of Lubbock. Maid of honor was Dawn Watkins, a friend of the bride, of Dallas. Bridesmaids were Christi Clayton, Kristi Grawunder, Christine Hartman, Allison Holdorf, Amy Lewis and Amy Thormahlen, friends of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Ashley Spicer.

They wore matching two-piece formal suits designed by Bill Levkoff Fashions. The stylish cocktail suits, in a rich shade of teal, were created in a cotton jacquard fabric, featuring short jacket closed with pearl buttons. The open neckline was complemented with a shirred, off-the-shoulder portrait sleeve. A straight slim skirt added grace and style to the ensemble, complete with shoes tinted to match.

Emily Fuhrmann was flower girl and Jacob Fuhrmann was ring bearer.

The best man was the groom's brother, Jeff Myrick. Groomsmen were Adam Arendt, John Bell, Wayne Fleitman, Pat Fuhrmann, Jeff Herrell, Tom Johnston, Lane Pfeiffer and Steve Samples, all friends of the groom. Ushers were Kyle Grawunder, Tony Pannagl, and Guy Yarbrough, cousin and brother-in-law of the bride and friend of the groom, respectively. Junior groomsmen were Brandt Stravlo and Brennan Stravlo. Candlelighters were Kurt Grawunder and Tyson Yarbrough.

Altar decorations included fresh spring flowers, candelabras and greenery. Wedding music was presented by Gordon McMillian, organist, and Jeff McCreight and Mike McCreight, vocalists, who presented "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Only God Could Love You More," "Trumpet Voluntary," "O Perfect Love," "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte and "Trumpet Tune."

RECEPTION

A reception followed at "The 50 Yard Line" for 400 guests, hosted by parents of the bride and groom.

Presiding at the guest book were April Doyle, Lori Fetner and Jill Stavinoia.

Decorations in the reception area included fresh spring flowers and lighted candles. The three-tiered floral wedding cake held a top ornament of hearts and doves. The chocolate groom's cake was decorated with fruit on top. Reception assistants were friends of the bride.

Upon return from a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple will make their home in Dallas. The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High School and Texas Tech University. She is employed at "A Pea in a Pod" in Dallas. The groom is a graduate of Lindsay High School and Texas Tech University. He is employed at Simmons Sirvey in Dallas.

Three Cub Scouts participate in Arrow of Light ceremony

Cub Scouting's highest award, the Arrow of Light, has been earned by three members of Muenster's Pack 664. Eric Knabe, Jim Stoffels and Nicholas Silmon received the award at a special ceremony Monday at the VFW Hall.

The ceremony was conducted by four Order of the Arrow Boy Scouts who were named only by their official titles, Allowat Sakima - great chief, Mateu - medicine man, Nudiket - guard of the fire, and Kichkinet - guide. Dressed in full traditional costume of the Plains Indians, the team walked slowly into the quiet hall and explained the importance of the occasion, then addressed the awardees directly about the honor and responsibility of the Arrow of Light and the brotherhood.

Allowat Sakima presented the awards and patches. The patch consists of a golden arrow with a rising sun behind it. This patch is the only Cub Scout award which can be carried forward and worn on the Boy Scout uniform. Knabe, Stoffels and Silmon will join the local Boy Scout Troop at Bridge-Over ceremonies April 19.

The four Indians then walked slowly out of the hall and were not seen again. Cubmaster Shirley Knabe expressed thanks to the Nishkin Halupa A Pe Lachi Lodge of the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America for conduct of the ceremony.

Early childhood screening set for May 7 in Gainesville

An early childhood screening will be held from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Friday, May 7 at B.T. Washington school in Gainesville. It is to identify children who might have handicapping conditions or low potential for success in school.

A child who needs to be screened is one who does not appear to act, see, hear, speak, understand or learn as others of his age. The tests include vision, and hearing and motor ability procedures, as well as some learning tasks.

Children who are handicapped are eligible to attend school from age three, from birth if visually or hearing impaired. Anyone with a child they suspect of having a handicapping condition and is three years old is urged to call the special education office at 665-0773 for an appointment. Concerned parents with children younger than three should call Project Kind at 665-1464.

Before screening each child must have a permission slip, signed by a parent, giving consent for screening. Forms are available at the Special Education office, 1420 Rice Avenue or Booker T. Washington School, 701 Muller, both in Gainesville. The child may be brought to the screening by his or her baby-sitter, but the form signed by the parent is required.

Children enrolled in Headstart do not need to attend this screening. This is the last screening for this school year.

Public Utility Commission up for Review

Major Points About the Telephone Industry's Proposal

- The telecommunications industry proposal is not a deregulation bill. Regardless of how opponents portray it--the industry's initiative seeks only to change regulation to reflect the market realities of the 90's.
- The industry's initiative recognizes the need to have a Public Utility Commission that oversees price and quality of service for customers just like it does today. We think it can be done more efficiently.
- The industry is committed to ensuring universal service at affordable rates--so all residents can enjoy the benefits of high quality service. The industry's initiative includes consumer safeguards.
- The industry proposes to invest up to $1.4 billion in telephone infrastructure and new technologies if regulatory change occurs. This will provide Texas with improved education through video based Distance Learning and better health care through Telemedicine techniques.
- Other states have adopted new regulatory systems to help them attract investment. These states compete with Texas for new jobs and economic development. A recent study estimates that 65,000 new jobs for Texans would result from such an upgrade of the infrastructure.
- Current laws are outdated because they were written in 1975 when the industry was a monopoly and customers had only one choice. Today, many telecommunications services are offered by a host of unregulated vendors (payphones, operator services, long distance, equipment).
- Telephone companies have been contributing to the economic strength of the communities they serve for decades. To remain healthy, we ask to be allowed to compete equally in markets where our competitors face no regulation.
- Current regulatory law is cumbersome, bureaucratic and expensive. Small companies must spend thousands of dollars to participate in proceedings even if they want to lower rates. All companies have experienced lengthy delays lasting for months when attempting to get approval to offer a new product or service.
- Ask why our opponents are against us...and who they represent. The answer is large out-of-state corporations who have significant financial interest in cable tv and competitive access ventures. Although they want you to believe otherwise, their self-interest--rather than the public interest--is their priority.

Bishop Joseph P. Delaney conferred the Sacrament of Confirmation on 38 young adults of Sacred Heart Parish on Sunday, April 18, at a special 7 p.m. Mass. Concelebrating the Mass with Bishop Delaney were Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, and Father Camillus Cooney, OSB.

The confirmandi included Vivian Baxter, Jeremy Bayer, Kelly Bayer, Weldon Bayer, Aaron Berres, Kelly Dangelmayr, Jennifer Endres, Amy Fette, Amy Fisher, Jody Fleitman, Michael Gehrig, Brandi Grewing, Kay Grewing, Jay Hennigan, Darrin Hess, DeAnna Hess, Donetta Hess, Jason Hofbauer, Shelley Klement, Lori Klement, Cory Knabe, Misty Knabe, Theresa Kubis, Eddie Lamkin, Charles Luttmier, Martin McCoy, Amy Otto, Chris Pagel, Gina Pels, Jerry Reed Jr., Brian Rohmer, Erica Schilling, Kimberly Stewart, Amy Sturm, Larry Switzer, Tracey Vogel, Rodney Vogel and Brandon Walterscheid.

They have been preparing for reception of the Sacrament of Confirmation since last fall with special classes, the New Antioch Weekend and participating in a program of Scripture Meditation and service.

In the entrance procession Sunday evening, the confirmandi and their sponsors preceded the clergy, as the congregation sang "The Spirit Is A Movin," led by Pam and Dave Fette, Emily Klement, Bill Bivin and Ruth Felderhoff, vocalists, guitarists and organist, and Ronnie and Tina Weinzapfel on trumpets.

The Gloria was sung, followed by the First Reading by Erica Schilling and the Second Reading by Amy Fisher. Father Victor read the gospel and then presented each candidate to Bishop Delaney. In his homily, the Bishop reminded the young adults that the Sacrament of Confirmation would enable them to be witnesses of Jesus Christ regardless of career or vocation. He then led them in renewal of Baptismal promises. Each candidate was presented personally to the Bishop with the sponsor, and the actual sacrament was conferred with the laying on of hands, anointing with Holy Oils, the Sign of Peace and Prayer to the Holy Spirit for gifts of the Spirit.

During the anointing, the music ministers sang "By Name I Have Called You" and "Send Us Your Spirit."

General intercessions at Offertory were read by Brian Rohmer and Amy Fette. Offertory gifts were presented by Kelly Dangelmayr, Eddie Lamkin and Rodney Vogel. During this time, the congregation sang "You Are Near."

Communion songs included "Here I Am Lord," "Lord, You Are More Precious" and "I Exalt Thee." The closing song was "Send Us Out" while Bishop Delaney, the priests, the newly confirmed and their sponsors were in the recessional. A reception followed in the main hall of the Community Center.

Mass servers were Lucas Bayer, Glen Dangelmayr, Russell Fette, Lucien Gehrig and Brad Schilling. Eucharistic Ministers included Claude and Mary Bayer, Dale and Dolores Hofbauer and Clinton Endres. Ushers were Gilbert Kubis, Duwayne Schilling, David Vogel and Herman Grewing.

The Confirmation team helping to prepare the young adults for the Sacrament included Barbara Fuhrmann, Barbara Bayer, Mary Bayer, Mary Baxter, Jeannine Flusche, Peggy Grewing, Dolores Hofbauer, Mary Lin Knabe, David Nystrom, Viola Rohmer, Janie Taylor and Kathy Vogel. Their religion teachers are John Nasche, Clinton Endres and Phil Endres.

Baptism

The baptism of Michelle Elizabeth Henscheid, daughter of Rose and John Henscheid, was held in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, March 21, 1993. Father Camillus Cooney, OSB, officiated following the 10:30 a.m. Mass. Baptismal sponsors were Susie Bezner and Gary Henscheid.

Michelle Elizabeth wore a crocheted white gown. Also, a gift from her grandparents, Thomas and Barbara Felderhoff, was the Miraculous Medal and chain; and a gift from her paternal grandparents, Rufus and Betty Henscheid, was the white receiving blanket decorated with pink rosebuds. Michelle's great-grandmothers are Mmes. Anna Henscheid of Muenster and Mary Bierschenk of Valley View.

After the church service, the paternal grandparents hosted a fried chicken dinner in their home. The table centerpiece was a pink, three-tiered, heart-shaped cake decorated with a string of pearls and a keepsake statue, all made by the honoree's mother. Gifts were opened, followed by visiting.

Guests included Tommy, Emily and Danny Felderhoff; Margie, Ed, Christopher, Matthew and Alex York; Billy, Keri, Brad, Chelsea and Jena Felderhoff; Susie, Andy, Jessica and Nicholas Bezner; Ronnie, Janet, Stephanie, Jeff and Travis Hess; Lucille Hess; Sharon, Michael, Keith and Kelsie Hermes.

"Let's hike right back to sane government practices in which we realize that we cannot go on spending more than we are making - that we cannot borrow ourselves out of the poor house, that we cannot postpone a day of reckoning forever and ever, that the only way to prepare for the future is to meet and conquer the challenges of today."

Sexual Assault Awareness Month: April 1993

Sharing the secret, surviving the silence

by Alicia Woodard,
Cooke County Friends of the Family

Governor Ann W. Richards has proclaimed April 1993 as Sexual Assault Awareness Month in Texas. To increase public awareness about the problem of sexual assault and to encourage citizen involvement, the Texas Association Against Sexual Assault and the Texas Department of Health, Sexual Assault Prevention and Crisis Services Program have adopted the theme, "Sharing the Secret, Surviving the Silence."

The 1993 theme was chosen to reflect the efforts of Cooke County Friends of the Family and our work with survivors and their loved ones by allowing survivors the freedom to choose when, where and how their healing begins. Sexual assault has long been held a secret, in our families, in our churches, in our schools and in our community. "Sharing the Secret..." is one of the first steps in the healing process for it allows the survivor to face this crime committed against them.

"...Surviving the Silence" is what most survivors have learned to lie with. Friends of the Family is available to survivors, their significant others, friends and family members to begin to work through the sexual assault, whether it happened last night or 30 years ago; whether it was a stranger or someone known; whether it happened at home or in an unfamiliar place; whatever the circumstances, Friends of the Family is ready to assist.

"Sharing the Secret, Surviving the Silence" also applies to the community we live in. Until, and unless, we are able to address the issues surrounding sexual assault and all the variations on its theme, we will remain in silence and be unable to assist in the healing process for survivors. Perhaps even worse, we will be unable to continue to change the attitudes that have made these crimes so acceptable to so many today.

We must also be adamant about sharing the secret with offenders, 80% of whom were victims themselves who share their secret through assaulting others. It is time to take a strong stand in our community against sexual violence and the scars it has left on so many.

We encourage you to join us this month in our efforts to reach out to survivors to share the secrets and we encourage every member of our community to become educated about sexual assault and its effects on all of us.

4-H Clover Kids still recycling

by Annette Bayer

The Muenster 4H Clover Kids had fun showing their animals at the 4H Stock Show. On Saturday, Feb. 26 Michelle, Nicole, and Neil Bayer showed a two-year old white rabbit named Callie. Michelle and Neil were presented with participation ribbons while Nicole was struck with a little stage fright. On Sunday, Feb. 27 they showed Callie in the Pet Show portion of the Muenster Stock Show. Nicole overcame her shyness and all were awarded ribbons. Also receiving a ribbon was Joseph Dangelmayr for showing his pet dog, Sophie. Jerry Sicking provided Callie the rabbit.

On March 9 the Muenster Clover Kids held for their monthly meeting. After the pledge the group worked on projects for the 4H Project Fair to be held April 15. Each Clover Kid used a sour cream dish, construction paper, hot glue, and a little imagination and they had turtles. They learned that this was another way to recycle.

On April 13 the Clover Kids met again in the Sacred Heart Elementary Library. As has been the theme this year they recycled.

Since it is spring they made planters. Using two liter plastic bottles, potting soil, and a flat of plants they made nice additions to their home or yard.

Members of the group are Michelle, Nicole and Neil Bayer, Joseph Dangelmayr, and Joseph and Andy Davis. Adult leaders are Jerry Sicking and Annette Bayer. This year is about to come to a close, but anyone interested in joining or becoming a leader please call 759-2514. Any child age five to eight is welcome. They have a lot of fun and learn by doing.

Tigers are district champs 1 more time

For the second consecutive year, the Sacred Heart Tiger track team exploded and ran away with the district crown. "I am extremely pleased with our performance. Hard work, dedication and discipline have turned this track team into Cooke County's finest this year," commented Coach John Nasche. "We have beaten every Class A track team in the county during the course of the year and now we will turn our attention to the state meet. Nasche said the Tigers had two pre-season goals: to be the best track team in the area and to win state. They are half way there.

The Tiger track team amassed 223 points, 28 medals and 17 personal records at District last Saturday in Granbury. Happy Hill Farm Academy placed 2nd with 148 points and Meadowbrook Christian 3rd place with 76 points. Gospell Lighthouse followed with 38, Trinity Christian 22 and Southwest Christian 16.

The Tigers trailed Happy Hill 56-80 at the end of the field events. "I knew right then that we were going to win the meet because this team's strength is the running events," continued Nasche.

The Tigers will take almost their entire track team to the state meet in Waco this weekend. Almost everyone qualified, as the first four places in each event advance.

"The Tigers are on their way!" exclaimed Coach Nasche. "These guys have worked hard all year and are very deserving to be called district champs. Only one more goal - the state title!"

Hornet tennis teams compete in district

Muenster's tennis teams competed in the district 12A tournament last week Thursday in Wichita Falls.

The Lady Hornets played at Midwestern State University, while the boys took to the courts at Ryder High School.

In girls' singles, freshman Audrey Knabe lost her first round 8-0 to Adams of Petrolia.

Darlene Hess won her first match 8-3 over Kupper of Valley View, then lost the second round 8-2 to Helen Baxter of Era.

In doubles action, Candise Abney and Tracey Vogel defeated Saint Jo 8-3 in their first match, before losing 8-3 to Lindsay's Janel Fuhrmann and Suzanna Hellinger.

Number one seed team of Theresa Kubis and Danell Reiter got a bye on the first round, then defeated Alford 8-2. In the best 2 out of 3 semi-finals match, Kubis and Reiter lost 6-7, 4-6 to number two seed Windthorst team. For third place, the Lady Hornets fell 4-6, 5-7 to Lindsay's Hellinger and Fuhrmann.

"It was one of those days - a break here or there would have helped, but there weren't any," commented Coach Brian Strother. "Candise played Lindsay tight, but couldn't get anything going and Darlene just played someone that was quicker."

In boys' doubles, Jason Huchton and Cory Cain beat Alford's team 8-3 in first-round action. The second round matched them with Lindsay's Jeremy Owen and Shane Huchton, who handed the Hornets an 8-1 loss.

"The boys played a good first round, but Lindsay has improved over the year," concluded the coach.

The district match was rained out the first day, so competition was played in Pro Sets the first two rounds, then the best 2 of 3 in the final rounds.

Muenster failed to advance to the regional tournament.

Tigerettes finish 2nd at district, go to state

Sacred Heart's Tigerettes' track team brought home a second place district trophy last Saturday, collecting 207 points. Defending Class A state champions, Happy Hill, picked up 70 of their 240 in the jumping events. "We just couldn't catch up," said coach Jon LeBrasseur. "I was pleased with the girls' efforts. Hopefully, if things fall in place, we'll catch up with Happy Hill at the State Meet."

Knabe continues track career at UNT

Muenster High School senior Roxie Knabe signed a letter of intent for a track scholarship to the University of North Texas in Denton on April 14, 1993 at Muenster ISD.

Roxie Knabe

Roxie, at the completion of the district meet, holds the school record and leads the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's best area track performers list. Her toss of 41'11-1/2" beats all DFW area throwers. Roxie started throwing the shot in the 8th grade because no one else wanted to fill the position. "Before then, I did not know what a shot put was. Now UNT is going to pay me to throw a round metal ball," Roxie commented. "It's still a little unbelievable, but I'm not complaining. I really do appreciate the scholarship, it will help a lot." Knabe plans to major in Pharmacy to become a pharmacist.

During her high school career, Roxie took the gold medal all four years in district, advancing to regional where, for the past three years, she was a medalist, her junior year bringing home the gold.

As a state qualifier all her high school years, she continued to climb up the ladder. Her freshman year at state she didn't place; the next year, Roxie threw for a medal, and last year she brought home the gold state champion medal.

Last week at the district meet in Chico, Knabe won the gold medal with a throw of 40'2-1/2".

Roxie has also been active in FHA, cross country track and also competes in the discus throw. She was selected Kiwanis Student of the Month her junior year and selected for the PAL program. This is her second year to help out as an office aide at school.

Knabe wishes to thank Coach Grady Roller and her parents, JD and Betty Gibb, for their support.

Coach pitch is go!

Herbicides keep control

By REBECCA FURR

The job of a household cleaning agent, advertising commercials tell us, is to keep dirt and grime under control. Herbicides have much the same job in that they keep weeds under control.

Herbicides are used to control a wide spectrum of weed species in crops, said Dr. Wayne Keeling, a systems agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) in Lubbock. A single herbicide may not control all weeds, but a combination of herbicides or multiple treatments can provide more effective control, he said. Sometimes a herbicide is applied to individual weeds reducing the amount of total chemicals used as well as the cost per acre, Keeling said. Herbicides are generally used along with a non-chemical method, such as cultivation, as part of a weed management system, he said.

Herbicides are extremely valuable when considering the number of weeds controlled during a growing season, Keeling said. For example, one pint of soil-incorporated herbicide per acre may prevent establishment of several million weeds in one year. Since each weed can produce tens of thousands of seeds, the pint is actually preventing over a billion potential weeds, he said.

Each year at the experiment station a large research program is directed at the evaluation of new herbicides to control weed problems, Keeling said. Different uses of old herbicides for more effective control on problem weeds are also evaluated. Due to the increased interest in conservation tillage systems, a major research effort has been directed to weed control in these new cropping systems, he said. Cultivation was used largely as a means of controlling weeds prior to herbicides, Keeling said. To return to increased cultivation would cause not only an increase in soil erosion but also a stronger dependency on petroleum fuels, he said.

Labor is one area that improved with the use of herbicides, Keeling said. Before herbicides, labor needs were great. Today, the availability of a labor force to hand hoe the 3.2 million acres of High Plains cotton is nonexistent, he said. Also, other crops, such as corn and sorghum, would require the same attention as cotton at approximately the same time.

The reduced labor needs made possible by herbicides have even allowed some operations to expand and provide more abundant food and fiber at a lower cost to the consumer, Keeling said.

By preventing weeds in a field, herbicides help conserve scarce water resources, he said. Less irrigation is needed because the plants are not competing with numerous weeds for the moisture. Prevention of weeds also allows for a more efficient harvest, Keeling said. Fewer weeds are present to cause mechanical problems or reduce the quality of the crop.

An environmental movement in the last several years has placed all pesticides in a skeptical light, he said. Many environmentalists would have the public believe that herbicides are not necessary for clean fields. They argue that non-chemical means would keep the fields as clean as pesticides currently do. "Neither scientific evidence nor common sense support this," Keeling said.

The environmentalists also say that the herbicides can contaminate the ground water and leave residue on food products, he said. All herbicides are extensively tested before they can be used in crops, Keeling said.

Noble Foundation Bull Test Sale, Field Day set for May 1

Livestock producers from Oklahoma and North Texas are invited to a private treaty sale of up to 60 forage-tested bulls on Saturday, May 1, at the Noble Foundation's Red River Demonstration and Research Farm in Love County, Oklahoma.

Junior and senior bulls will be included in the sale. Breeds represented include Angus, Red Angus, Brangus, Red Brangus, Hereford, Limousin, Texas Longhorn, Salers, Simmental, Santa Gertrudis, Devon, Maine-Anjou, Texon and Hybridmaster.

The field day and sale will begin at 8 a.m. Bulls will be penned for inspection and performance data will be available.

Dr. Glenn Selk, OSU Extension Animal Reproduction Specialist, will provide information on managing young bull herds. The private treaty sale will begin at 11 a.m. and continue through 1 p.m. Sales will be one-on-one transactions involving the owners and prospective buyers. Bulls will not be auctioned.

The sale and field day site is three miles southeast of Burneyville, Oklahoma. To reach the site from Interstate 35, exit on State Highway 32 at Marietta and travel west approximately 8.5 miles to the intersection of State Highway 96. Turn south to Burneyville on Highway 96 and follow the signs to the Red River Demonstration and Research Farm.

For specific sale line-up information, or a video of the sale-eligible bulls, contact Clay Wright at the Noble Foundation in Ardmore, Oklahoma at (405) 223-5810.

Using Fertilizer in the Garden
What is fertilizer?

Plants require sunlight, water and nutrients in order to grow.

All plants obtain nutrients through their root system from the soil. Soil moisture must be present for these nutrients to move through the roots up into the plant.

Plant nutrients are called fertilizer. There are three major plant nutrients -- nitrogen, phosphorous, and potassium.

Nitrogen - The most important plant food for forming stems and leaves. Most soils do not have enough nitrogen for good plant growth. Nitrogen dissolves in water and moves with the water. Too much rainfall or irrigation moves the nitrogen out of the root area.

Phosphorous - This plant food is most important for formation of plant flowers which eventually form fruit such as tomatoes, squash and peppers. Phosphorous is also important in forming edible roots of vegetables such as beets, carrots and turnips. Phosphorous moves very little with water so it must be placed in the soil before planting.

Potassium - Necessary for flower and fruit growth and for seed development such as corn and beans. Also helps in developing quality fruit.

Those three major plant nutrients must be available to the plant along with water and sunshine in order to produce large, healthy plants.

There are other plant nutrients that are required in much smaller amounts. These are called minor elements. They include iron, zinc, magnesium, manganese, sulfur and boron. Most soils have enough of these minor elements already present.

Pre-plant Fertilizer - The best combination for fertilizing a garden is to apply part of it while preparing the soil. Mix the fertilizer thoroughly six to eight inches deep. Use a balanced fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium. On sandy soils, use three to four pounds per 100 square feet (10' x 10') of a fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or 12-12-12. On loam or clay-loam soils, use 12-12-12 or 12-24-12 at three to four pounds per 100 square feet.

When using compost, apply 1 1/2 to 2 bushels per 100 square feet. If barnyard manure is used, be sure it is aged two to three months. Fresh manure will heat up when water is added and may burn young plants. Chicken manure is the most likely to burn. Most gardeners would rather use cow or horse manure, but other animal manures may be used, too. Animal manures should be applied at one bushel per 100 square feet. Compost or manures are best applied before planting so that it can be mixed with soil six to eight inches deep.

Sid dressing fertilizer - Vegetable seed planted in a well prepared, pre-fertilized soil should do well for a month or six weeks. When the plants are four to six weeks old, they will usually need some more fertilizer. Applying fertilizer beside growing is called sid dressing. Apply one to two pounds of a balanced fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or 12-12-12 per 100 square feet. If compost or manure is used, apply about 1/2 bushel per 100 square feet. Lightly mix the fertilizer with the top inch of soil. Be careful not to damage plant roots. Always follow a sid dressing of fertilizer with a thorough watering.

Nitrogen fertilizer such as ammonium nitrate (33-0-0) or ammonium sulfate (21-0-0) may be used as a sid dressing. These fertilizers are stronger, therefore, less is required. Use one to two cups per 100 feet of row. Never allow fertilizer to remain on leaves as it will burn them.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

Feb. 28, 1993 was the beginning of a siege that ended tragically 51 days later with the deaths of approximately 85 people, including an estimated 17 children.

We have all been keeping up with events that have taken place near Waco during the last 51 days and, as I kept watch yesterday on the TV, expecting any minute to see the Davidians leave their building, I wondered if it would be a surrender, or a fight.

What did happen was totally unexpected. Being a father, I simply can't understand how anyone, religious fanatic or otherwise, could condemn their children to so cruel a fate. The adults had somewhat of a choice, but the kids had none. It was all over in less than one hour, and I think most of us are saddened by the final outcome, as well we were by the deaths of the four federal agents on the first day.

Now it's time for the second guessers. Already the commentators and their guests are giving us their views about how it should have been handled.

Even the cult's lawyers, who spent days face-to-face with members of the cult, came away without making any progress, but are now finding fault with the action of the federal agents that had to carry out the actions that were taken.

Personally, I believe the people in charge did what was deemed best at the time the decision to evict the Davidians was made, even though the outcome was totally other than they desired.

I'm sure there will be investigations made, and a lot of money spent the next few months, quite a lot just for some people to get their names in the news.

It will serve no useful purpose to try to put blame here or there, or to keep a bad thing in turmoil. It would be better to try and put it to rest, and move on.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Horse meat popular—theft increases

Approximately 38,000 metric tons of Texas horse meat is processed annually and shipped to Europe—Belgium, Germany and France—and Japan, where consumers consider the meat a health food because of its lean quality. As the demand for horse meat increases, horse theft in Texas has risen. In 1991, 488 horse thefts were reported to sheriffs' departments, but hundreds more are thought to be unreported. Most horses are in metropolitan areas and owners rarely brand the animals.

Lindsay candidates announced for May 1 election

by Elaine Schad

Voters in Lindsay will have several contested races at the local level as they go to the polls May 1 to vote in city council and school board elections. Lindsay will also join voters across Texas who will decide three statewide Constitutional Amendment proposals relating to education and elect a U. S. Senator in a special election.

Voters in Lindsay and the Lindsay school district may cast ballots from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for the city council and school board elections at the Old Parish Hall in Lindsay. For the statewide elections, voters living in North Lindsay Precinct 21 will also at the Old Parish Hall. There has been a change for voters in Precinct 16, the Lindsay box. They will vote at the Matt Bezner home, 130 South Willow Street, in Lindsay. The Ed Sandmann home had been the voting place for many years previously. Voters in South Lindsay Precinct No. 19 will vote at the Frank Sandmann home.

There will be contested races in both the city and school elections. There are five people running for three seats on the Lindsay ISD board of trustees for full three-year terms. They include incumbents Susan Metzler and Andy Bezner, Skipper Bezner, Earl Cunningham and Michael Bengfort.

Four places will be open on the Lindsay City Council for two-year terms. Mayor Robert Walterscheid will run unopposed for a one-year unexpired term for mayor. Walterscheid was appointed mayor when Gene Hermes resigned. Incumbent Andy Arendt has filed for re-election to his seat. Other candidates seeking a seat on the council are John Sandmann, Matt Bezner, Pat Bowman and Richard Alfrey.

Candidates for the Lindsay city council and Lindsay school board were asked to supply information to the Muenster Enterprise concerning their background and goals if elected. All candidates, with the exception of councilman John Sandmann, responded by the deadline.

LINDSAY CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATES:

--Mayor Robert Walterscheid, 47, is running unopposed. He was appointed to the position last year to replace Gene Hermes while serving as mayor pro tem. He was an inspector with the City of Gainesville and Cooke County in 1978 and has been Director of the Health Unit for the City of Gainesville since 1981. Walterscheid said the city will definitely be working on updating the water and sewer systems in the next few years. "Lindsay's been good to me, and if I can help, I will do it," is his reason for running.

--Incumbent Councilman Andy Arendt, 45, a lifelong Lindsay resident, has been a marketing associate with Sysco since 1986. He is seeking his second term on the council. "In making any decisions on city issues, I feel my feelings are the same as the people I represent," he said. "The only special interest group I will represent is the average citizen of Lindsay."

--Council Candidate Dick Alfrey, 53, is a two-year resident of Lindsay. He is an engineering support manager at Weber and has been a member of the Lindsay Planning and Zoning for almost one year. "I have lived in Lindsay for nearly two years. For most of that time, I have attended city council meetings, so I am familiar with the challenges that face the town," Alfrey said. "I have three sons in school. This gives me a personal interest in Lindsay. These reasons, along with my managerial skills, qualify me as a candidate for city council."

--Council Candidate Matt Bezner, 36, is a lifelong resident of Lindsay and works for Alan Ritchey, Inc., in Valley View. "I would appreciate your vote because I would do the best job possible to my ability in serving the city council."

--Council Candidate Patrick Bowman, 46, is a geologist for Felderhoff Brothers Drilling Company and has been a Lindsay resident for seven years. He is presently serving on the city's planning and zoning committee. "I believe Lindsay is a unique combination of faith, family and tradition. As communities are more frequently confronted with state and federal regulations and society's influence, it is important that Lindsay maintains the integrity gained through 100 years of faith in God, hard work and good people," Bowman said. "My goal is to keep Lindsay the fine town it is and will be into the future. I believe council members are most effective when they are accessible, knowledgeable and open-minded. These are traits I would strive for if elected to the Lindsay Town Council," Bowman said.

LINDSAY INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF TRUSTEE CANDIDATES:

--School board candidate Michael J. Bengfort, 38, is a lifelong Lindsay resident and is a carpenter and contractor. "My goals as a school board member are to work with the administration and other board members to keep up the high academic standards that Lindsay has had in the past. Also I would like to see to it that the taxpayers get the most and best education for their children from their tax dollars," Bengfort said. "People should vote for me because I am an honest, open-minded and concerned parent willing to consider all the facts and information before making decisions. Also, having children in both elementary and high school gives me some insight into everyday happenings and concerns of school," Bengfort said.

--School board candidate Skipper Bezner, 44, is a lifelong resident of Lindsay and has been with Bezner Insurance for 10 years. "Goals: To continue the high academic standards of the Lindsay ISD. To help and add support wherever needed," Bezner said. "With several good candidates to choose from, vote for the candidate of your choice. Just vote," he said.

--Incumbent school board member Susan Metzler was appointed to an unexpired term on

SENATE RACE

There's a candidate for almost every taste or philosophy that a voter may have. The oldest candidate is Billy Brown, 78, who is running for the People's Party. A member of several unions, Brown has no high school diploma and never attended college. At 31, Republican Stephen Hopkins is the youngest candidate. Hopkins is a pro-life activist and was a write-in candidate for Congress in 1992. Occupations of the 24 candidates are also extremely varied. Republican Charles Ben Howell, 67, is a senior judge. Libertarian Rick Draheim, 34, is an auditor. Republican James Vallaster is a construction worker, and Republican Herbert Spiro is a retired ambassador to Cameroon and Equatorial Guinea.

At the top of the ballot is Independent Roger Henson, of Richardson, an engineer. Other candidates include Independent the Lindsay school board in 1991 and was elected to serve the balance of the term in 1992. A resident of the Lindsay school district for 11 years, Metzler has been executive director of VISTO, a social service agency in Cooke County, for the past three years. "Lindsay ISD is a quality school district. The challenge is to maintain that quality in the face of state financial reforms," Metzler said. "I have the experience of serving on the school board. This experience enables me to make informed decisions to insure quality education for present students as well as for future generations of the school district," she said.

--School board candidate Earl Cunningham, 46, has been a Lindsay resident for 22 years and was a former city council member for 10 years. He is a special state adjuster and field representative for Germania Farm Mutual Insurance Association. "The greatest challenge is to keep the Lindsay ISD on top in academic achievement. Its strength is the support of school faculty and students by parents and the entire school district," Cunningham said. "I will listen to both sides of the issue and make a decision and vote for who or what I feel will maintain or improve standards of Lindsay ISD academically, financially and athletically," he said.

--Incumbent school board member Andy Bezner, 32, is a lifelong Lindsay resident and is coordinator of the fabrication shop at Peterbilt Motors in Denton. He is seeking a second term on the board and serves as board vice president. "Our greatest challenge is in our ability to communicate more effectively from the administration to the board, faculty and parents; and vice-versa. Our job is to represent the taxpayers, and I'm trying to help create an environment where the parents and faculty feel comfortable enough to attend board meetings, so we can have increased and improved communications to provide our students with the best in education," Bezner said. "Strengths: faculty, student participation and discipline. I feel I have the ability to listen, which enables me to communicate with faculty, parents, fellow board members and administration. Academic excellence is a priority for the Lindsay ISD, and as a board member, I will continue to strive to achieve this goal," Bezner said.

Maco Stewart, a former state representative and assistant attorney general; Republican Clymer Wright, an insurance broker who was Texas finance chairman of Ronald Reagan's 1980 campaign; Democrat Jose Angel Gutierrez, a lawyer and former county judge; Independent Don Richardson, a retired pilot who owned and operated a computer company for 23 years. Also on the ballot are Independent Lou Zaeske, a Bryan businessman; Republican Chuck Sibley, an economist from Dallas; Democrat C. "Sonny" Payne, who is in the restaurant business; Democrat Gene Kelly, a former military judge and retired Air Force colonel; Independent Louise C. Davis, a lawyer; Independent Lottie Bolling Hancock, retired; Socialist Worker Party Rose Floyd, a union activist; and Republican Thomas Spink, who is in the insurance business.

Other regular Germanfest events include the North Texas Championship Tug of War on Sunday at 4 p.m.; North Texas Championship Arm Wrestling Contest at 2 p.m. Saturday; and North Texas BBQ Cook-Off featuring chili judging at 2 p.m. Saturday, and on Sunday sausage judging at noon, ribs at 1:30 p.m. and brisket at 3 p.m.

Germanfest has become the major fund raiser for many local organizations with the money being used to fund projects such as Love Funds, summer baseball programs, special equipment purchases for the hospital, scholarships, volunteer fire equipment, and many others too numerous to name. It is the culmination of many hours of planning and dedicated volunteer work.

of two years ago, it is changed to east. According to chairman, Ben Bindel, this change will allow better traffic control, the course can again be changed to 5K and 15K and all but two miles are along paved roads.

Directions for the new route will be posted at the Knights of Columbus Hall during registration times. Early registration indicates that a good turn out is expected.

Germanfest Saturday brings the popular Metric Century Bicycle Rally for its 12th year. Deadline for early registration is April 19. small towns, schools and hospitals, especially rural areas, may never benefit from this new technology. The Texas Telephone Association and the 58 telephone companies in Texas have proposed legislation that will bring fiber optic cable to all the schools and hospitals in Texas without years of delay.

Fuhrman also explained the interactive classroom system to the group, followed by a question and answer session. All of those attending were very impressed with the demonstration.

What's happening at St. Richard's Villa

Three residents celebrated their birthdays in March: Phil Vogel, March 7; Alice Hellman, March 12; and Adolph Herr, March 13. They were honored with a party on March 9; entertainment was provided by Mildred Lawson and Friends. Refreshments were served by volunteers Bertha Hamric and Gene Vogel, with cakes provided by families and volunteers.

On March 17, St. Richard's hosted a St. Patrick's Day Party. Residents made cupcakes with green icing for the event and drank green punch.

In April, three residents celebrated their birthdays: Lee Puckett, April 2; Mattie Rosson, April 3; and Frances Reiter, April 18. They were also honored with a party on April 4, with entertainment provided by Sonny and Norma Jean. Volunteers Bertha Hamric and Gene Vogel again served refreshments. Joe Hoenig danced for everyone.

On April 9, the residents dyed eggs for the annual Easter Egg Hunt on April 10. Lots of children came out, and the residents really enjoyed watching them hunt for the eggs.

If anyone would like to volunteer at the nursing home - one hour a week or one day a week - please contact Billie Vandeventer at 759-2219. Any help would be greatly appreciated. Thank you - until next time...

Steven Fisher earns PFC rank

Herbie and Debra Fisher received this letter from their son, Steven's, Platoon Leader, informing them of his promotion. Steven is also the grandson of Paul and Dorothy Fisher.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Fisher:

"I am Steven's Platoon Leader. I am very proud to inform you that your son is getting promoted to the rank of Private First Class. Steven has demonstrated his outstanding skill and effort on the job and has received a well-deserved promotion.

"I do not know how much Steven has told you about how he contributes to the platoon. Well, let me brag a little about your son. His duty position is the driver of a M1A1 main battle tank. As the driver, Steven is responsible for the maintenance of the $2.5 million tank. Steven has taken ownership of his tank and he maintains it above standard. His tank passed every inspection with outstanding marks this past quarter.

"Steven demonstrates a 'can do' attitude every day at work and his positive nature rubs off on the entire platoon. He gives 110% all the time and I wish all my soldiers were as dedicated as he is to the success of the platoon.

"In closing, I wanted you to know the great job Steven is doing here at

PFC STEVEN FISHER

Vilseck. I am proud to award Steven his new rank and look forward to seeing him progress in the Army and in life.

Sincerely,
Gavin J. Gardner
2LT Armor
Platoon Leader

Youth activities organized to help parents plan for summer

Parents ask yourself, "Are you ready for the summer?" It's a good idea to start thinking now about how to keep your children busy and happy this summer. If you're looking for ideas, mark April 24, 1993 on your calendar. That's the date for the Youth Summer Activities Fair at Midway Mall in Sherman.

The Fair gives parents a chance to investigate what Texoma has to offer their children this summer, in one place at one time. "Families are busy today," said Bonnie Estes, one of the project committee members. "We believe this is an easy way for parents to learn about a variety of activities that could work for their families without extra running around." Participating organizations will have booths, exhibitions, and plenty of information to share. The Fair will last all day from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Call the Texoma Community Partnership at (903)786-2955 with any questions.
