New county agent and commissioners announced

by Elaine Schad
DeeAnn Fisher will become the new assistant county home economics agent in Cooke County beginning Feb. 1 after Cooke County Commissioners approved the hiring this week during their regular meeting.

Fisher, 24, is a 1993 graduate of Eastern New Mexico University where she majored in home economics with an emphasis in communication. Fisher, a native of Carlsbad, New Mexico, was involved in a variety of activities at the university including student government and representing the university as a student ambassador. She worked with a public broadcasting system syndicated show which involved a variety of home economics projects while working at the local college radio station. Fisher will be working with 4-H and young homemaker groups throughout Cooke County, said

Evelyn Yeatts, county home economics agent.

Commissioners dealt with a light agenda which included the appointment of Monica Lamb as Precinct 1 election judge. The court approved a request by Southwestern Bell Telephone to bury telephone cable line along County Road 136 and 134A in Precinct 1. Commissioners authorized Precinct 2 Commissioner Kenneth Alexander to advertise for the sale of a 1982 Ford Dump Truck. Commissioners tabled a request to replat Lake Kiowa Subdivision Lot 630 and Lot 1109. Alexander said those involved can proceed with the request but must clearly state that the lots fall within the flood plane.

In an item brought up during an agenda item asking for questions from the audience, newly appointed Cooke County Republican Chair Pat Peale asked if paper ballots would be used for the Feb. 5 rollback election. County Clerk Frank Scoggins said earlier that paper ballots would be used because it would be less expensive than paying for programming costs and other costs involved to use the machine ballot since there was only a single item on the ballot.

Peale questioned the expense that will be involved to both the Republican and Democratic parties to use the machine ballots for the March 8 primary, saying she was shocked at the cost for programming and supplies. Peale estimated the Republican Party cost alone to use the machine ballots would be about $4,000, or about $1 per ballot, because the machine the county uses will take only a certain type of ballot that can only be purchased from one company. County Judge Ray Russell said the county made the decision to go with the machine counting because it did save time and employee expenses in the long run.

Early voting begins for Feb. 5 rollback election

by Elaine Schad
Voting for the Feb. 5 special rollback election has been brisk during the first week with 205 people already casting ballots as of Tuesday, according to information supplied by the Cooke County Clerk's Office.

Early voting began last Tuesday and will continue through Feb. 1 in the county clerk's office, located on the second floor of the county courthouse. Eligible Cooke County voters are being asked to cast ballots for or against reducing the tax rate of Cooke County for the current tax year from 48 cents to .4143556 per $100 valuation of property. Regular voting for the Feb. 5 election will be held in all precincts throughout Cooke County from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The county clerk's office is also getting ready for early voting for the March 8 primary elections. Early voting for both the Republican and Democratic primaries will begin Feb. 16 at the county clerk's office and will continue through March 4. The primary elections will feature candidates from the local level all the way to the governor's race.

Unemployment numbers released for Cooke Co.

by Elaine Schad
December employment statistics released this week by the Texas Employment Commission in Austin shows a continuing decline in the unemployment rate for Cooke County compared to totals for the preceding two months.

Cooke County's December unemployment rate is 5.3 percent compared to a 5.9 percent rate for November and 6.5 percent for October.

The county's December labor force was 13,166 with 12,473 employed and 693 unemployed for the 5.3 percent unemployment rate. That compares to November's totals of 13,166 in the county's labor force in which 12,395 were employed while 771 were unemployed for an unemployment rate of 5.9 percent.

Cooke County's unemployment rate dipped below all of its neighboring counties with the exception of Denton County which shows a December unemployment rate of 4.1 percent. Cooke County is well below the Texas unemployment rate of 6.3 percent, which is a drop from November's statewide rate of 6.9 percent.

Wise County's December unemployment rate is 6.2 percent, compared to 5.7 percent for November. Montague County has a 5.8 percent unemployment rate, down from November's 6.5 percent. Grayson County's rate is 5.6 percent, up from November's 4.8 percent. Denton County's December rate of 4.1 percent is a decrease from November's 4.7 percent.

The monthly employment figures calculated by the TEC in Austin, based on a 40-step analysis to determine the unemployment rates for the 254 Texas counties. A heavy emphasis is placed on the number of unemployment insurance claims that were filed during the month.

Muenster area host families needed for foreign teens

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Muenster area for homestays, and the sponsoring organization urgently needs a few more local host families for their upcoming second semester programs.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) Executive Director John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, have their own spending money, are fully insured and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

P.I.E. representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal income meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the "perfect match." As there are no "typical" host families, P.I.E. can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

Families who host for P.I.E. are also eligible to claim a $50.00 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, P.I.E. has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Italy, Argentina, Brazil, Columbia, Paraguay, Australia, New Zealand, Muenster area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting may call P.I.E., toll-free, at 1-800-631-1818. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
Our president, Bill Clinton, got his greatest applause on the campaign trail when he promised to completely change the welfare system as we now know it. Now is the time for us to hold him to his promise - write him and call him - I have and you should, too.
The government now penalizes the poor who marry and stay that way as is God's plan. The government makes it profitable to become an illegitimate mamma under the disguise of AFDC - a practice that should immediately become unprofitable. When AFDC ceases to be a profitable venture, the number of single parents will drop drastically.

We, as a nation, face two devastating problems: (1) that ever growing federal deficit; (2) that ever growing number of our future generations that are programmed for failure. Yes, 7 out of 10 black children and 2 out of 10 white children born in the USA today are born to unwed teenage mothers - irresponsible children having children and being paid to do it - AFDC at its best.
If we are to survive as a nation, we must immediately solve these two issues - easy no, possible yes.

CAPITOL COMMENT
U.S. SENATOR
KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

Let's cut federal spending as President Clinton promised

When Congress passed (without my vote) a $250 billion tax increase last August, the President promised that a plan for major spending cuts would follow shortly. The taxes are in effect. "Shortly" is here. But the spending cuts are not.
Earlier last month, Republican Leader Bob Dole and I announced a serious plan to reduce government overhead and streamline the federal bureaucracy. The plan puts forward 50 common-sense ideas that would slash government spending by $50 billion over five years. The proposal requires that all $50 billion saved would go towards reducing the deficit -- not for new spending in other areas.

Our plan is simply basic good-government ideas to save taxpayers' money. It starts with cutting Congressional and White House budgets by 7.5 percent. I know this can be done. My Senate staff serves the third most-populous state in the country on a budget 20 percent below its allocation.
The proposal also includes my federal government reduction plan, which cuts $3 billion per year in administrative overhead costs. These include travel, moving expenses, consultants, rent and office supplies. Virtually every business and household in Texas has cut 3-5 percent of discretionary spending when income failed to meet budget. That is exactly what $3 billion per year would be: 3-5 percent of government administrative costs.
Other cuts include $1 billion from unexpended foreign aid (after four years), $450 million from a one-year moratorium on new office or housing construction, and $292 million from a funding freeze for the Appalachian Regional Commission and reduction of the Tennessee Valley Authority.
Once these and other cuts are made, our job is to keep the federal deficit trending down. Under our bill, the President will have "line item veto" authority to cut wasteful spending. And instead of going on forever, all new programs will be terminated after five years unless Congress votes to continue them. Finally, the government would be forced to live with off-the-shelf supplies instead of custom-ordering everything. We cannot afford to subsidize custom-made pillows or oil pans any longer.
I supported the bipartisan effort in the U.S. House this fall to cut spending. In fact, several of the 50 ideas Sen. Dole and I proposed were part of the Penny-Kasich bill narrowly defeated by House Democrats last month. We've also adopted ideas from the Administration's National Performance Review.

President Clinton promised to support serious budget cuts while persuading Senators and Representatives to vote for his tax increases last August. But the Administration spent two weeks in November fighting to keep the House from cutting spending! Our bill would give the President another opportunity to deliver on his promises.
When a Senator stands up for budget cuts, adversaries frequently reply that anybody for spending cuts cannot ever vote for any spending. I'm sure we'll hear that same tune again. In anticipation, I want to make clear that responsible budgeting means prioritizing spending -- cutting in areas that will reduce the deficit, while preserving a strong military and promoting investment that will create new technologies, new industries and a growing job market.
There is plenty of fat to cut in nonessential spending. The deficit can be eradicated with responsible budget cuts. That is the policy underlying the Dole-Hutchison plan. But with a $250 billion deficit, we need deeds in Congress, and not words.

"Civic Outlook"

by Mayor Bill Miller
Last month I received a telephone call from the Governor's office asking me to serve on the Planning Commission at our Regional Office in Pottsboro, Texas. I accepted and am now a member of the board that decides which cities get the grants each year.
On Monday, Jan. 24, 1994, I attended this year's meeting to vote on the grants. An oral presentation and request were required by each city. Muenster's presentation was made by Council member Fran Voth. Others attending the meeting were Chris Yosten, Celine Dittfurth, Marianne Grant and Arthur Hennigan.
Our region includes Fannin, Grayson and Cooke Counties. Eighteen cities from our region applied for the Community Development grants. The final scores of the cities ranged from 214.63 to 267.44 out of a possible total of 350. Muenster's score was 246.76. Due to conflict of interest laws, I was not allowed to vote on my hometown application.
The next and final step in our grant application is the voting at Austin, Texas, where another possible 350 points can be added to our score. I was told that we have as good a chance as any in the top 25-point spread to receive a grant. The Austin Board makes the final decision. They will let us know their decision in about six weeks. Hopefully, we will come out a winner.
Since I became mayor, I have met many friendly and sincere people in our region. Everyone is interested in our town and what we represent. They ask about the German sausage. Every one of them has either visited Muenster or plan to visit soon after they talk to me. I am proud of Muenster and I can see where we have an ongoing tourist attraction just because of our German heritage.

State Bar recognizes laughable legal lingo

Maybe it will inspire a few New Year's resolutions by legal writers to get back to the "simpler" things (or language) of life. Then again ...
The 1993 State Bar of Texas Legaldegook Awards have been announced, and they're just as bad as they've ever been. The third annual celebration of the basdest of the bad honors a dozen or so examples of tongue-twisting verbiage gleaned from a variety of statutes and court filings across the nation.
Take the "Here! Here!" Award, For a Sentence That Knows Where It's At: "The Court may take judicial notice of such pleadings which are on file herein and such pleadings are incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof as if copied here in full."
Well, that ought to settle that.
If not, consider the "Here, There and Everywhere" Award, which honors the phrase, It all fully appears from the affidavit of the publisher thereof heretofore herein filed," for its "impressive succession of locatives."
The Bar's Legaldegook Awards were launched in 1991 as a pet project of the State Bar of Texas Plain Language Committee.
"We wanted to come up with a good-natured way of pointing out the obtuse and needless language found in many legal writings," said Bryan Garner, a Dallas attorney who chairs the committee.
An interesting concept in chronology found in Internal Revenue Code 3302: "For purposes of such sentence, Jan. 1, 1978 shall be deemed to be the first Jan. 1 occurring after Jan. 1, 1974," was appropriately awarded the "Time Out of Mind Award."
Oh well. The government giveth, and the government taketh away.
"We exempted the Internal Revenue Code last year, but couldn't bring ourselves to this year," said Garner. "It's too fertile a document to ignore." Evidently so - the code received two awards in the 1993 list of crippled clauses and garbled grammar.
Folks who tracked the federal health-care legislation might agree

Tax Talk
by: Duane Knabe, CPA

This week's topic is renting to parents. The following is a summary of the facts of Robert Kuge, 87-2 USTC ¶9449, in which the tax court overturned an IRS position.
A taxpayer borrowed money from his parents to buy a house, then rented the place to them. The IRS disallowed his deduction for rental losses, saying they were personal and family expenses. But the court allowed the deduction. The taxpayer kept good business records, paid a fair interest rate on the loan from his parents and charged them fair market rent. All this showed he had a profit motive, so his losses were deductible.

Haywood supports petroleum industry

Tom Haywood, Republican candidate for the 30th Senatorial District, has issued a statement in support of producers, royalty owners, service and supply workers and all others who are suffering hardships due to low worldwide crude oil prices.
Haywood said, "While most of the problems and ultimately the solutions are in the control of the federal government, there are steps that can be taken at the state level. These steps include controlling the militant environmental extremists, whether they are in private organizations or in the state government.
"Another step would be for the state of Texas to provide property tax relief to all property owners. This would include making an effort to restore funding of education to its historic level of at least 75% of the total expense by the state rather than passing the cost through to individual property tax owners," Haywood further stated.
Haywood added that anything which lowered production costs could be a significant aid to oil and gas producers. "Once again, we are calling on the Texas Railroad Commissioners to ease any regulations, on a temporary or permanent basis, where it is possible and makes sense to do so," Haywood said.

Changes undergone for motor vehicle inspections

A new law that went into effect Jan. 1, 1994, will eliminate the need for commercial vehicle operators to have their commercial vehicles undergo dual inspections. The new inspection program, to be overseen by the Texas Department of Public Safety, will combine the U.S. Department of Transportation inspection with the State of Texas safety inspection.
Beginning Jan. 1, inspections obtained at other than an official commercial Texas State Inspection Station will not be accepted.
Commercial motor vehicle means any self-propelled or towed vehicle except a farm vehicle with a gross weight, registered weight or gross weight rating of less than 48,000 pounds used on a public highway to transport passengers or property when the vehicle or combination of vehicle has a gross weight, registered or gross weight rating in excess of 26,000 pounds; or the vehicle is designed to transport more than 15 people including the driver; or the vehicle is used to transport an amount of hazardous materials requiring placarding under the federal Hazardous Materials Transportation Act.

Era ISD extends Beaver's contract

by Elaine Schad

Era school trustees extended Superintendent Randal Beaver's contract during the board's regular January meeting.

Beaver's has a three-year contract following the one-year extension granted by the board. The board renewed the contract after trustees conducted the annual evaluation of the superintendent.

Trustees considered a relatively light agenda during their monthly meeting. In other business, the board:

- Authorized the sale of a surplus school bus.
- Awarded a bid to A-Lert Co. of Kansas for $29,493 for roof repairs. The company will put a new roof on the old gym lobby, the middle school classroom complex that formerly housed the school library and will cover the west wall of the old gym.

--Reported that the district has $27,000 in outstanding delinquent taxes for years prior to 1993.

--Approved a $50 per month performance raise to the district's accountant.

--Reported enrollment is down slightly at 376 students.

--Tabled discussion of the septic system upgrade until more information could be obtained.

--Reported that the district will have Brazos Electric conduct an energy in conjunction with the district's energy grant application for $15,000.

--Reported that the district was well under the average administrative costs for district's Era's size.

--Decided against appealing district property values since they are mostly in line with state appraisals.

--Reported that the title for 10 acres of land being sold by the district has been forwarded to the Texas Education Agency for review.

--Reported the district is seeking someone to paint the school's mascot on the west side of the new gymnasium.

Garry Mauro files for re-election

Garry Mauro has filed for re-election as Texas land commissioner, subject to the Democratic primary. If re-elected, he said he will continue to work to create new jobs through developing environmentally "clean" industries in both the rural and urban areas of the state.

He said his efforts to convince fleet operators to convert their vehicles to run on natural gas or other alternative fuel, such as propane, which Texas produces in abundance, and to make recycling a consistently profitable business in Texas, would be among his top priorities in a new four-year term.

"We produce a lot of natural gas on state lands that are reserved for the Permanent School Fund (PSF) and I want to do everything I can to promote the increased production and sale of this environmentally-sound resource," Mauro said. "By creating new markets for natural gas we not only create additional jobs in the countryside and more money for public education, we reduce air pollution in our larger cities. Texans have only begun to realize the benefits of fueling vehicles such as buses on Texas products such as natural gas and propane, and I am asking the voters for another term so I can continue to work on it."

The 45-year-old Texas A&M graduate also said he would continue to foster the important

Texas tourist industry through the Adopt-A-Beach program which mobilizes the efforts of thousands of volunteers to keep Texas' beaches clean. Mauro initiated the program in 1986, and it has resulted in the removal of more than 2,000 tons of garbage from the public beaches. The program has furnished the underpinning for Mauro's successful drive to convince the U.S. Senate to ratify the international MARPOL (Marine Pollution) Treaty which outlaws the dumping of plastics in the oceans of the world, and approval by the International Maritime Organization to confer "special area" designation on the Gulf of Mexico and Wider Caribbean, which curbs ship-dumping of garbage in those waterways. Mauro pledged to continue working with the U.S. Coast Guard to enforce the anti-dumping regulations and convince shipping interests to comply.

Mauro contends he has fulfilled the two most important obligations of the office. Since he first assumed the job in 1986, the land office has deposited more than $2 billion in the PSF, primarily from oil and gas leases on state lands and has made more than $1 billion in low-interest and housing loans to Texas veterans. As land commissioner, he is chairman of the School Land Board, which oversees leasing, trades, purchases and sales of state acreage to help finance public education and the Veterans Land Board.

Lindsay ISD begins final preparations for new field

by Elaine Schad

Lindsay school trustees have approved an agreement with Sturdi-Steel of Waco for the installation of bleachers at the district's new athletic field.

Cost of the 200 bleacher seating area will be about $20,000. The bleachers will be placed on the home side to expand the existing seating area. The project should begin sometime in February, Lindsay Superintendent Gilbert Hermes said.

Trustees tabled a proposal to establish a Dead Week in preparation for semester examinations. The proposal would include scheduling no extra-curricular activities during the week and would set a time when afterschool practices must end. No action was taken.

In other business during the board's regular January meeting, trustees:

- Approved the purchase of a school bus for $36,000 to replace an existing one in the school's fleet.

--Heard a report on a visit to the Lindsay ISD campus by the Texas Department of Health. A health inspection is conducted every two years of the cafeteria and campus grounds. Minor recommendations were made, but the district did well on the inspection, Hermes said.

--Approved an incremental pay increase for step 11 of the teacher pay scale. Teachers who have been with the Lindsay ISD for 12 years and who have reached the top of the pay scale will receive an additional $1,140.

Raul A. Gonzalez

The first Hispanic Texan to hold an elected statewide office in the history of the state today officially filed for re-election as the senior Justice on the State Supreme Court.

Justice Raul A. Gonzalez, age 53 and a member of the state's highest court since 1984, filed in the Democratic primary for re-election to a six-year term in Place 1.

"Public service is a noble calling," Gonzalez said. "While there have been personal sacrifices during my time on the court, my family provides me the support and encouragement necessary to feel good about my decision to remain in the judiciary." Justice Gonzalez and his wife of 30 years, Dora, have four children.

A native of the Hidalgo County community of Weslaco in South Texas, Justice Gonzalez graduated in 1963 from the University of Texas in Austin with a B.A. in government. Gonzalez received his J. D. from the University of Houston in 1966, and eventually continued his legal scholarship by earning an LL.M. from the University of Virginia Law School in 1986.

Justice Gonzalez took his law license into public service from 1967 to 1973, as a Houston assistant city attorney and then as an assistant U.S. attorney in Brownsville. Gonzalez then entered private legal practice in Brownsville from 1973 until 1978.

The people of Cameron and Hidalgo counties elected Gonzalez to his first judicial position in 1978, when he was sworn in as State District Judge for the 103rd district court.

In 1981, Gonzalez was promoted by governor Bill Clements to the 13th State Court of Appeals in Corpus Christi.

"Coming up through the judicial ranks firmly grounded me with a personal familiarity in the practical application of the law, and how the law affects the daily lives of Texans," Gonzalez said.

In 1984, Governor Mark White took the historic act of appointing Gonzalez to a vacancy on the Texas Supreme Court.

Since that time, in the special election of 1986 for the remainder of the unexpired term, and in the 1988 election for a full term, Justice Gonzalez has successfully defeated nine election opponents in primary, runoff and general elections.

Margaret Mirabal

Justice Margaret G. Mirabal recently announced her candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the seat on the Texas Supreme Court that will be vacated by Justice Lloyd Doggett at the end of 1994.

A highly-respected Appellate Justice on the State's First Court of Appeals for the past five years, Mirabal will continue to focus her attention not only on impartial judicial review of cases but also on facilitating the expansion of alternative dispute resolution (ADR).

Justice Mirabal is a current board member and past President of A.A. White Dispute Resolution Institute, a nonprofit organization whose objectives include: providing assistance to the courts in encouraging the early settlement of pending litigation; fostering public awareness and understanding of conflict and conflict resolution and the impact on society of interpersonal disputes; providing assistance to educational institutions in the development and use of alternative dispute resolution concepts and procedures; etc.

Justice Mirabal will continue to work closely with other A.A. White Board Members from small business and large corporation, as well as from universities, medical associations and law firms, in developing programs for employee, client and vendor conflict management.

"There are many disputes being litigated in our court system which can be resolved through mediation. All conflicting parties can benefit if a dispute can be resolved by agreement prior to litigation, including the taxpayers of Texas," said Mirabal.

Most recently, Justice Mirabal has focused her personal attention on bringing alternative dispute resolution techniques to the education system. She is on the Houston Bar Association Task Force that teaches elementary school students peer mediation skills. "Teaching conflict resolution skills to children at an early age should be an integral part of the educational process and will facilitate resolution of conflict through later stages of life," said Mirabal.

STEVEN A. CARRIKER

Steven Carriker

Thirtieth District State Senator Steven A. Carriker has filed in the Democratic Primary for re-election to the office he has served in since 1988.

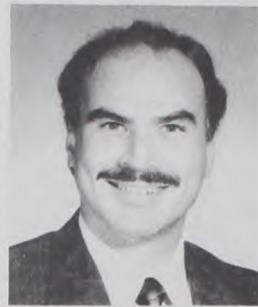

At the age of 43, Senator Carriker is among the youngest members of the Texas Senate and the only member of the Senate to make his living as a farmer. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and his wife Kathy, a Texas Tech graduate, is a public school teacher. They have three children: Jake, a student at Southwest Texas University, and Karen and Stephanie who attend elementary school in Roby.

Senator Carriker has been active in health care issues and was responsible for the 1989 law that has helped create over 170 rural health clinics in communities that had lost or were in danger of losing their health care facilities entirely. His work in health care has earned him awards from the Texas Association of Community Health Centers, the Joint Conference on Aging, and a special resolution honoring him by the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature.

Senator Carriker has passed six bills reducing taxes and protecting taxpayer rights. Among those are bills reducing the oil severance tax, abating property taxes and protecting retirees from illegitimate income taxes levied by other states.

Senator Carriker has also just completed a four-year term on the Texas Sunset Commission where his work resulted in the abolition or consolidation of 10 agencies and a savings to taxpayers of 54 million dollars.

"I am proud of the confidence the people of the Thirtieth District have placed in me and am glad to have the opportunity to continue to represent them," Senator Carriker said.

TIM McCORD

Tim McCord

Tim McCord has announced that he is again seeking the Republican nomination for U.S. Congressional District 4 in the March 8 primary. The seat is currently held by seven-term Democrat Ralph Hall.

McCord said his campaign would focus on three main issues: health care, controlling crime and controlling government spending.

McCord believes the largest problem with the federal government is the runaway spending. "If spending had increased only by the amount of inflation since 1970, the budget would have a $300 billion surplus rather than a $400 billion deficit," McCord said. McCord proposes combining numerous government agencies whose operations overlap, eliminating duplicate agencies, giving the states control over the administration of more of the federal programs, and removing burdensome federal mandates on the states that are not funded by the federal government.

McCord has lived in Texas for 24 years. Since moving to Collin County he has been elected to each of the Republican Party State Conventions. He previously ran for the same congressional seat in 1992. He is a member of the Republican National Committee and the Republican Party of Texas.

McCord earned both bachelor's and master's degrees in electrical engineering from Rice University. He is currently a software engineer.

"One of the main reasons I'm running is that I've always felt the handful of professions currently in Congress does not represent American society. Without more of a cross-section of society there will never be new or different solutions to problems," McCord said.

McCord is married and the father of two boys.

CCC hosts area women's clubs at dessert dinner

The song, "Getting To Know You," would have been appropriate background music for a recent by-invitation gathering of area women's organizations' representatives held on the Cooke County College campus and organized by the CCC Endowment Foundation.

Hostess for the special dessert dinner and program was Carol Glasscock, wife of CCC President Dr. Ronnie Glasscock. She said this was the first of what is expected to be an annual affair and pronounced it "a resounding success."

Some 40 guests, representing 14 different women's clubs and organizations from throughout Cooke County, attended.

"The memberships of your organizations represent such a wide cross-section of the women in our county," said Mrs. Glasscock, "and we know you can supply this college with invaluable insights into the special educational needs of women and many other issues and concerns facing women today."

Dr. Artie Thrash, executive director of the CCC Endowment Foundation, expressed gratitude to a number of the organizations represented for responding to the special needs of many women students at Cooke County College by establishing scholarships that are awarded each semester.

"In many cases, these scholarship programs make it possible for women students to get an education they simply could not have afforded otherwise," Dr. Thrash pointed out. "Every year, we hear inspirational stories about how these scholarships have literally turned students' lives around. Others, awarded scholarships for academic achievement or special competency, are encouraged to continue their pursuit of excellence."

Dr. Thrash reported also that the college has a number of programs in place which address the special needs of single mothers, displaced homemakers and women who may be considering a return to school after being away from the classroom for some time, even many years.

Guests also heard from Linda Mast, CCC dean of continuing education, who described the various kinds of non-credit programs of special interest to women, including short-term courses aimed at enhancing job skills such as computer courses, financial management and others.

Several area businesses donated door prizes for the event, and entertainment was provided by the CCC Singers under direction of Dr. Mike Linder.

Organizations represented were: Tuesday Book Club, Business & Professional Women's Club, Lady Lions Club, Church Women United, Maggie House Garden Club, Gainesville Soroptimist, Muenster Hospital Auxiliary, Beta Kappa Sorority of Muenster, Xi Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Lake Kiowa Women's Club, Muenster Garden Club, Widows' Support Group and Daughters of the American Revolution.

(Kids In Need of Development) Project KIND: helping parents believe in themselves

There is rarely a more painful experience for soon-to-be parents to discover than that something is wrong with their baby - from the heights of happiness, they can go to the depths of despair in a single leap.

After all, what parents don't dream that theirs is the ideal baby, perfect in every way? When a doctor suddenly relays the news - however gently - it's devastating to both new and experienced moms and dads.

However, this is not an ordeal to be endured alone. The Project KIND Early Childhood Intervention Program has been serving such Texomaland parents for 15 years. In that time, their experience has helped develop a holistic approach that reaches out to not only the children, but also the parents and other caregivers the child may have.

"We believe families are the best teachers of their children," explained Project KIND Program Coordinator Linda Horton from her office at the Sunshine Center in Denison, located at 406 W. Morgan. "Why? Because most parents know their children better than anyone else and are experts at identifying their children's need. If we can help them believe in themselves as the experts, then half the battle is won."

Continuing, Horton explained that the major impact on early childhood years comes from within the home, and that assistance is focused on the interaction of the whole family. Staff members begin by teaching parents how to adapt and minimize frustration.

"We look at ourselves as good listeners," she said. "First, we understand that these parents are going through a very real period of grief, and sometimes the best initial help is simply to let them vent their frustrations and fears. Once that period is over, we show parents ways to minimize the problems the child is having, and then try to steer them into attitudes that maximize the child's abilities. A positive, loving attitude is crucial, because a child always picks up on the parents' and other caregivers' emotions."

As a program of Mental Health Mental Retardation Service of Texoma and the Early Childhood Intervention Council of Texas,

Project KIND also provides counseling for parents, individualized instruction under/or treatment services by such professionals as staff nurse, child development specialists, social workers, special education and occupational, speech and physical therapists.

If you are a concerned parent seeking more information, contact the Project KIND office in your county for a confidential interview - they can help you with a screening and referral program. Services are provided at no cost to the families. These services are entirely voluntary and you may withdraw your child from any program at any time.

Here are the numbers to call: Denison, 903-463-5691; Gainesville, 817-665-1464; Bonham, 903-583-5851.

How exactly does Project KIND work? First, families are contacted upon receipt of referral; intake and assessment are completed, and a service plan is developed for the child and family. Everything is done in one of three settings: home visits (which would include working with children in a daycare setting), center-based appointments or a center-based group setting in one of three locations in Grayson, Cooke and Fannin Counties. In addition to Denison, other centers are located at 211 N. Commerce in Gainesville and at 311 W. Sam Rayburn in Bonham.

Muenster 4-H meeting review

Muenster 4-H meets monthly to plan upcoming projects and benefit from varied and interesting programs.

In November Dr. Margie York, local optometrist, presented a program on Eye Care and Safety.

December's program consisted of a visit to St. Richard's Villa where the members visited with residents and presented them small gifts. Christmas carols were sung with Gene Vogel leading the singing and Rosemary Dankekreiter accompanying on the piano.

Dr. Gordon Yeargan, Gainesville veterinarian, presented the January program on plants in Cooke County which are poisonous to animals.

Scouts hold productive weekend campout

by Scribe Russell Fette
Last week, Jan. 21-23, the Boy Scout Troop 664 camped out on Mr. Charles Bartush Sr.'s land by the Red River. The 16 Scouts arrived Friday evening, along with Scoutmaster Ernie Martin; David Fette and Chuck Bartush Jr., committee members; Gary Fisher and Ronnie Felderhoff, parents. Waylen Poole also arrived later.

The Scouts quickly set up camp and cooked dinner before darkness fell. Saturday morning, the Scouts awoke to a wet day. After breakfast some Scouts, along with Mr. Chuck Bartush, set off to look for arrowheads while others stayed in camp to work on advancements, clean tents or play games.

After lunch, when there was a break in the rain, David Fette gave a refresher course on first aid. He issued each patrol a card describing an accident. The patrols then had minutes to get the necessary supplies and treat the "victim." The Scouts generally did this well.

Afterward, some Scouts played in the creek while others hunted for fossils and arrowheads. By dinner time, most of the Scouts were solid mass of mud. Later that evening, a few Scouts finished requirements and earned advancements.

Sunday morning, the Scout broke camp and left. They arrived in Muenster at approximately 9:4 a.m. The Scouts cooked all the own meals, including meals for two adults. Despite the mudd conditions, all the Scouts had great time.

January proclaimed TB Awareness Month

Tuberculosis is a highly contagious and aggressive airborne disease which remains a leading cause of death and disease in the world today, affecting an estimated 3.5 million people each year worldwide.

The American Lung Association of Texas is responding to the serious tuberculosis problem by conducting a heightened comprehensive program in January that includes public awareness, education for patients and professionals, direct patient services, coalition development and evaluation of the Texas Department of Health and community tuberculosis control programs. Governor Ann Richards has proclaimed January 1994 as "Tuberculosis Prevention and Awareness Month."

During the week of Jan. 17-21, a team of experts from the Center for Disease Control, Texas Department of Health, The American Lung Association of Texas, and pulmonary doctors from across the United States made site visits in the Austin, Beaumont/Port Arthur, Dallas/Fort Worth, Houston, Huntsville, Laredo, Rio Grande Valley and San Antonio areas.

The purpose of the statewide review of the current TB program was to document an independent objective, outside evaluation of health department and other statewide community TB prevention and elimination endeavors; to assess the effectiveness of related public, private and voluntary activities; and to make recommendations for more effective and efficient TB prevention and elimination activities.

For more information about tuberculosis or the statewide review, contact the American Lung Association of Texas at (512) 343-0502 or (800) 252-5864.

TUBERCULOSIS FACT SHEET

WHAT is it?

Tuberculosis (TB) is an infectious, communicable disease caused by the organism Mycobacterium tuberculosis. It is usually treatable with traditional drug therapy when diagnosed promptly. General symptoms may include feeling tired or sick, a persistent cough, unexplained weight loss, fever, night sweats, chest pain, difficult breathing, or coughing up blood. The lungs are involved in about 85 percent of active cases, but other parts of the body may be the main site of the disease.

People with TB disease usually exhibit one or more symptoms. People with TB infection have the TB germ in their body but are not sick. They cannot spread it but are subject to develop TB disease in the future, especially if they are in one of the high risk groups. A simple test called the Tuberculin Skin Test (PPD) may be used to indicate possible infection.

HOW is it spread?

It is spread by airborne droplets expelled when a person with active TB talks, sings, coughs or sneezes. Individuals exposed to this contaminated air may breathe in TB bacteria. This is more likely to occur in poorly ventilated, closely confined spaces.

WHO is at risk?

Everyone. But some more than others including:

- people like family members, friends, co-workers and health care professionals who share the same breathing space with someone with active TB

- poor people
  - homeless people
  - foreign-born people from countries with a high prevalence of TB
  - nursing home residents and personnel
  - inmates and employees in correctional facilities
  - alcoholics and intravenous drug users
  - people with medical conditions such as diabetes, certain types of cancer, end-stage renal disease, 10% or below ideal body weight
  - people infected with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV)
- TB also affects racial and ethnic minorities disproportionately:
- Asians are 10 times more likely to develop TB than non-Hispanic whites
  - Blacks are eight times more likely to develop TB than whites
  - Hispanics, American Indians and Alaskan natives are five times more likely to develop TB than whites

The largest increase (52%) in number of TB cases from 1985-1991 occurred in 25-44 age group:

- 30 percent increase among non-Hispanic whites
- 60 percent increase among Blacks
- 96 percent increase among Hispanics
- 24 percent increase among Asians

WHAT is MDR-TB?

MDR-TB is TB that is resistant to two or more drugs, thus Multi-Drug Resistant. Persons at high risk for MDR-TB include:

- Persons who have recently been exposed to MDR-TB, especially if they are immuno-compromised
- TB patients who fail to take medications as prescribed
- TB patients who were prescribed an ineffective treatment regimen
- Persons previously treated for TB

WHERE is TB a problem?

Most everywhere. Eight million new TB cases occur each year in the world. Deaths from TB still occur in the U.S., and about 5 percent of all cases are first reported at death.

In 1992, 26,673 cases were reported, an 18 percent increase over the number of cases in 1985 and a jump of 1.5 percent over 1991. According to Centers for Disease Control & Prevention, TB has risen from 4 percent of U.S. population in 1989 to 9.4 percent in 1990.

There were 2,510 cases of TB in Texas in 1992 (14.3 cases per 100,000 population). Only New York, Hawaii, and California had a higher rate.

WHY is TB on the rise?

In the U.S., the number of reported cases steadily declined from 84,000 patients in 1953 to about 22,000 in 1984. Since 1984, the long term decline has stopped.

TB has been called an illness of stress, a barometer of social conditions. HIV/AIDS, larger populations of the poor, the homeless and immigrants, drug resistant strains of the disease and totally managed air systems in modern buildings of all kinds including health care facilities exacerbate the battle to control the spread of TB.

WHEN will something be done to correct the resurgence of TB?

NOW. On Oct. 8, 1993, after the release of the U.S. Office of Technology Assessment Study on TB, a number of national legislators including Rep. Ed Towns (D-NT), Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-Mass.), Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-Utah), and Rep. Henry Waxman (D-CA) said they would redouble efforts to pass legislation endorsed last month by the Senate Labor Committee that would boost federal spending on tuberculosis control to $302 million a year, about twice the present level.

The American Lung Association is lobbying the federal government to spend $470 million next year on tuberculosis grants and research.

Effective Sept. 1, 1993, Texas Senate Bill 57 established a TB screening and treatment program for employees, volunteers and inmates in county jails and other correctional institutions.

Lindsay Franciscans hold Christmas crib service

Members of the Secular Franciscans of St. Peter's Parish in Lindsay met on Dec. 26, 1993 in church after the 10 a.m. Mass. In a beautifully decorated church, members, led by Theresa Hermes, offered the devotional prayers to the Infant Jesus at the Crib, from the Franciscan Ritual Book. Following prayers, they sang "Here I Am, Lord" and everyone wished each other "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year" before departing.

The regular monthly meeting was held in the home of Joe and Martha Tepera on Jan. 11, with Ritual opening prayers and singing. Marie Zimmerman gave the Scripture reading. Notes of appreciation were read from the Lindsay Sisters for Christmas gifts; from Father Greg Joyright of Brazil for a donation toward the purchase of a car for mission work; from Sister Annie of Kerala, India; from Huntsville Prison authorities for rosaries and Catholic literature sent to prisoners.

A request was received from Father Tom Gardner, OFM, from the Franciscan Missionary Union requesting a donation for a priest, Father Gilberto Wood of Northern Brazil, who needs a boat to bring in supplies, soap and clothing, etc. to the native tribe of Indians across a treacherous river. Members voted to send him $100.00.

Members were urged to invite new members to join the Secular Franciscan Fraternity. No. 15 Pauline rule was read and explained.

Elizabeth Hoberer showed the embroidered quilt blocks she donated for a quilt top to be raffled after Easter.

After closing prayers and adjournment, the hostess, Martha Tepera, served sandwiches, apple pie cake with rum sauce and percolator punch.

Varsity Basketball

Lady Hornets 49, Knightettes 31
Muenster girls jumped to a big lead against Lindsay early. "The girls played good in transition scoring easy baskets," said Coach Brian Strother. "Overall shooting was down and our lead could have been bigger than 47 to 17."

Theresa Kubis was the leading scorer with 15 points. Amy Otto added 11, Carrie Hess and Danell Reiter 8 each, Audrey Knabe 4 and Candise Abney 2.

"It was a good win for the team and the seniors who played their last home game against their rival," concluded Strother.

"Muenster shut down my starters," commented Lindsay Coach Larry Spruiell. "Besides Keleigh, the others scored only a few."

Scoring for Lindsay was Keleigh O'Dell 10, Michelle Dennis, Christine Fuhrmann and Andrea Gieb 4 each, Mary Tepera 3, Brandy Bezner, Raschelle Sharp and Stephany Pearson 2 each.

Hornets 38, Knights 51
Jay Hennigan pumped in 25 points for Muenster, but his teammates couldn't put the ball in the basket. "The boys played hard," said Strother. "We executed the game plan but the same old story - we couldn't hit the basket."

Other Hornets scoring were Cory Knabe 5, with Eric Miller, Jason Huchton, Rodney Vogel and Darrell Charles each hitting 2.

"The team played good all the way around," said Knight Coach John Metzler. "We scored big in the 4th to get the win."

Scoring for Lindsay were Shane Huchton with 15 points, George Lutkenhaus and Jeremy Owen each had 13, Chris Brown 8 and Toby Eberhart 2.

Tigerettes 76, SW Christian 39
Tiffany Fisher again led the Sacred Heart girls to another district victory. Fisher controlled the boards both offensively and defensively with 27 points and 19 rebounds. Stephanie Grewing added 15 points. "Nicole Endres and Dobe Fleitman sparked us with outstanding defense. They really turned the game around," said Coach Jon LeBrasseur. The two combined 15 steals.

Also scoring for the Tigerettes were Deanna Hess with 9 points and 8 assists, Erica Schilling put in 8 points with Fleitman and Endres each getting 6, Kelly Dangelmayr and Donetta Hess each got 2 and Sarina Fuhrmann made a point.

Tigers 46, SW Christian 88
Sacred Heart started the game on fire, leading 19-3 at one time in the 1st quarter. But cold shooting set in as the Tigers couldn't net a basket in the 2nd quarter. "Southwest's height advantage had us shooting off-balance all night long," said Coach John Nasche.

Jason Hess was the Tigers' leading scorer with 12 points. Michael Gehrig and Kelly Bayer each added 7, and Aaron Berres 6. Other scorers were Neil Berres and Jason Hofbauer 4 each, John Klement 3, Paul Swirczynski 2 and Jake McCoy 1.

The loss put the Tigers in 2nd place with a 3-2 district record. Both losses were to Southwest, who are undefeated in district. "If we can repeat the 2nd half of this season, we will make the playoffs as the 2nd-place team in our district," concluded Nasche.

Lady Hornets 43, Ponder 42
What a game! Two teams fighting it out to the last second. "This game was everything it was supposed to be," said Coach Brian Strother. "It was two good defenses stopping each other. The whole team played well."

Amy Otto was the leading scorer with 18 points and Carrie Hess broke the school record with 17 rebounds. Practicing her free throws paid off for Hess, according to Strother, as she hit the biggest one so far. "This was a big win," Coach continued. "This takes a little pressure off and now we can relax."

Sacred Heart 52, Lindsay 54
"It's sure hard losing a close game like this," commented Coach Nasche. "The kids played hard. If we could have had one more healthy player, we would have won." Joey Martin and Michael Flusche were out with injuries. Michael Becker sustained a shoulder dislocation in the game and Scott Poole was playing with a virus.

Paul Swirczynski drove in for an apparent basket that would have tied the game with 8 seconds on the clock, but was called for charging and Lindsay took the win.

Michael Becker was high scorer with 12 points. Scott Poole added 11, Brandon Bezner 10, Doug Novak and Paul Swirczynski 8 each, Toby Hess 2 and Glen Dangelmayr 1.

Robert Sharp was the game's leading scorer with 17 points with Zack Bowman adding 15 for the Knights. Others adding points were Richard Haayen 6, Aaron Krebs, Hank Huchton, Garrett Hellinger 4 each with Zarhar Zaborov and Greg Vogelsong 2 each.

Fuhrmann was high scorer with 13 points, Grewing added 11, Yosten 8 and W. Hess 3.

Pirsue™ approved for treating mastitis

For the first time in more than a decade, dairy producers have a new, powerful antibiotic to help treat mastitis in lactating cows. Tradenamed Pirsue™ Aqueous Gel (pirimycin hydrochloride), this new antibiotic was developed by The Upjohn Company and has been cleared for marketing by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

According to Austin Belschner, DVM, technical services veterinarian for Upjohn, "Pirsue effectively treats clinical and subclinical mastitis caused by Staphylococcus aureus, Streptococcus agalactiae, Streptococcus dysgalactiae and Streptococcus uberis." Mastitis is the dairy industry's most costly disease with losses ranging up to $180 per cow every year. Included in these losses are decreased milk yield, discarded milk, cost of replacement animals and veterinary expenses. In the United States alone, this adds up to more than a $2 billion financial loss annually.

When used according to labeled dosages, Pirsue requires only a 36-hour milk discard. This allows dairy producers to put milk back into the bulk tank 12 hours to 48 hours sooner than when using most other lactation treatment antibiotics, resulting in real economic advantages.

Belschner adds, "Pirsue is the only antibiotic treatment on the market tested on actual clinical mastitis problems, and the only product whose dosage was determined based on its effectiveness against mastitis in the herd. Other mastitis products use dosages determined from tests against subclinical mastitis."

"Mastitis cows will have elevated milk pH levels," Belschner says. "Pirsue works well because its chemical composition is more basic, allowing it to penetrate the infected tissues and fight the bacteria. Other antibiotics on the market have a more acidic composition, which inhibits them from penetrating infected tissues and can lessen their effectiveness."

Ag program will help farmers sell, lease land

A new real estate listing service will help farmers and ranchers sell and lease farm land for a fraction of the fees commercial real estate brokers charge.

AgLands, set up by the Texas Farm Bureau Real Estate Corporation, will give property listings widespread exposure without charging huge fees.

Texas Farm Bureau Executive Director Vernie Glasson said that the program will benefit both the buyer and the seller.

"What our program is designed to do," he said, "is provide greater market exposure than traditional services, while reducing the costs of selling to the member."

The program, which was announced in November at the Texas Farm Bureau state convention in San Antonio, will reduce listing fees from five or six percent of the total sale charged by commercial brokers to one percent plus a listing fee.

This new program means increased profits for sellers. For example, AgLands State Manager Jamie Gipe explained that on a 1,000-acre plot of land selling for $500 per acre, normal brokerage fees could exceed $25,000. Using the new AgLands program, a maximum of $2,000 in commissions would be taken.

Gipe also said that statewide and regional listings will be offered through the Farm Bureau computer networks, as well as public listings in major city newspapers, major agricultural publications and statewide publications like "Texas Monthly."

As an introductory offer through April 1, 1994, $125 will be charged to Farm Bureau members for a 270-day listing. Normal listing fees are $250 for 180-day listings and $150 for leasing properties.

For more information, contact Gipe at 1-800-TFB-LAND.

MONEY-SAVING TIPS ON GARDENING

Garden centers, nurseries and feed stores across the country will soon be having sales on garden equipment and various gardening supplies. If your vegetable garden is going to be economical and enjoyable, you will have to make many important decisions in the next few weeks. Be a smart shopper and remember—so-called bargains may not really be a bargain at all.

Believe it or not, bargain seed is oftentimes not a good buy. Packets of seed which normally sell for 39 to 79 cents each may be offered for as little as three packages for $1. Whether or not this is a real bargain will depend on whether or not the seed is of high quality and will produce a good crop of vegetables.

Check the seed packet to see when it was processed. Most seed packets are dated and indicate the year seed was produced. Also, make sure that sale seed are varieties recommended for your county. Saving a little money by purchasing seed of the wrong variety will certainly be reflected by lower yields come harvest time.

If you have a large garden, consider buying bulk seed. Bulk seed can be purchased in small quantities and, in general, is higher quality and has a higher percent germination. Also, it's usually less expensive since the cost of packaging and the packet is not included in the price.

In buying plants, again buy recommended varieties. When selecting your plants, remember the biggest plant is not always the best buy. Ideally, transplants should be about as tall as they are wide. They should be dark green in color, vigorous looking and certainly without spots, lesions or damage to the foliage. Purchase only the exact number of plants you will need according to your garden plan.

When buying fertilizer, questions always come up as to what type to buy and how much. Garden fertilizer comes in different grades and sizes. In general, most garden fertilizers come in 50-pound bags.

If this is your first garden, it might be a good idea to have your soil tested to help you determine which fertilizer is best and how much you'll need to apply. Soil test kits are available from my office if you would like to stop by and pick one up. In the absence of a soil test or if insufficient time is the problem, the best fertilizer for a garden in Cooke County is 10-20-10 or other balanced blends.

With regard to saving money when buying fertilizers, it's easy to determine which is the best buy. Nitrogen, which is the first number in the analysis, is the most expensive item in the bag. These analysis numbers are percentages—in other words, a 50-pound bag of 10-20-10 contains 10 percent or 5 pounds of nitrogen in the bag to determine the price per pound of nitrogen. Use this price per pound of nitrogen in making your decision on which is the best buy for your garden.

When buying garden chemicals, remember that one or perhaps two general-purpose insecticide and fungicide materials are all that may be necessary. When buying chemicals, purchase only those that you feel will be needed for this year's garden. Many garden chemicals, when stored from one year to the next, lose their effectiveness. Thus, you may actually be better off buying small quantities of garden chemicals. Of course, with a large garden, larger quantities will be more economical.

Home gardening can be compared to fishing. You can have an expensive boat, fancy rod and reel, an electronic fish finder and all the other fancy equipment, or you can get by with a cane pole, piece of string and a fishhook. Fancy equipment doesn't necessarily mean you are gonna catch a lot of fish. The same is true of gardening. Basic tools include a spading fork, shovel, rake and garden hose. Any other tools like rototillers may be purchased or rented to make gardening easier but should not be considered absolutely necessary for successful gardening in Cooke County.

Prepare a Good Seedbed When Planting Grass

Spring grass planting time is just around the corner. A good, clean seedbed is critical to enhance plant emergence and improve the chances of stand survival. Producers should start seedbed preparation several months before planting in order to eliminate weedy competition and allow soils to store moisture for the planted grasses. Different types of soil conditions will require a different type of seedbed preparation. Where poor soil conditions exist and there are no brush problems, the soil should be plowed to a depth of seven to eight inches with a moldboard or disk-breaking plow. Several deep tillage operations may be required to eliminate existing weeds. Just prior to planting, a tandem disk or similar implement should be used to level and smooth the soil surface for the upcoming seeding or sprigging operation.

Soil Surveys Available Through SCS

Soil Surveys contain various forms of information useful in any land planning program. Of prime importance are the predictions of soil behavior for selected land uses. Many soil properties that affect land use are described in the Soil Survey. Broad areas of soil are shown on the general soils map. The location of each kind of individual soil is shown on detailed soil maps. Each type of soil in the survey area is described, and much information is explained about each soil and its potential use. Farmers, ranchers and others can utilize these surveys to determine the potential of the soil and the management practices required for agricultural production. Soil Surveys are available for each of the three counties within the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District. The publications are issued by the National Cooperative Soil Survey and are offered free of charge. Contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Gainesville,

Montague or Sherman for a copy of the Soil Survey of your county.

Winter Disking Promotes Quail Food for Summer

February is a good time to disk strips throughout pastures and along fence rows to improve quail habitat for next spring and summer. The purpose is to prepare a seedbed for increased germination of large seeded forbs such as crotons, sunflowers and ragweed, as the soils warm up next spring. Proper disking in February will destroy winter annuals that would compete next spring with germinating quail foods for moisture and sunlight.

Grassed Waterways - Abuse It and Lose It

The most common problem with a waterway is a lack of maintenance. All waterways will require a little maintenance now and again. Excessive silt deposits should be removed before grass begins to cover in the growing season. Large amounts of silt will reduce the water-carrying capacity and will result in waterways becoming higher than the field, then sometimes causing new water channels to form on either side of the waterway.

You can utilize your waterway in a manner which best suits your farming operation, as long as you keep the grass at a suggested height. Excessive traffic can weaken your grass stand and start new erosion. During wet periods, keep all traffic off the waterway. And promptly repair all eroded areas.

Avoid cropping the edges of the grassed waterway. Reducing the width will also reduce the water-carrying capacity.

Your equipment can be very damaging to the grassed waterway. All implements should be completely raised before crossing or turning around in a waterway. Just a small amount of preventive maintenance will save tons of soil, valuable time and costly repairs. It just makes good sense to manage your waterways just as you would any other part of your farm.

Perry says straw offers economic incentives

A technology that turns straw into building materials could be a boon to the agricultural economy and the environment, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said this week. Stramit International, a British company, wants to find investors to build a plant that turns straw into building materials.

"Straw is a waste product of grain production with limited use in the United States until now," Perry said. "This technology has been used in Great Britain and many other countries for several years. Turning agricultural waste into a usable product means farmers get more profit from their crop."

Stramit and several Texas wheat producers are working with the Perryton Economic Development Corporation to build a plant in Perryton that would be the first of its kind in the United States.

Straw board can be used in all aspects of building a house - doors, walls, roofing, ceiling - and is priced competitively with other building materials.

The Stramit technique was invented in Sweden in the early 1930s for converting straw into a building board using heat and pressure. The technique was further refined in England in the 1940s and 1950s, and plants were subsequently established in some 15 countries.

At the heart of the process lies the discovery that straw, when subjected to reasonably high temperature and pressure, releases its own internal resinous substances which make it possible to extrude a continuous board without adding resin. Most building boards, such as plywood, chipboard and blockboard, rely on resins to bond the material. Principal straws used in the Stramit Process are wheat, paddy rice, dry rice, barley and rye. Stramit panels have a high strength-to-weight ratio, good thermal and acoustic insulation and outstanding fire resistance. For nearly 50 years, Stramit panels have been used in a wide range of construction conditions worldwide.

When buying fertilizer, questions always come up as to what type to buy and how much. Garden fertilizer comes in different grades and sizes. In general, most garden fertilizers come in 50-pound bags.
