At the Chamber lunch meeting...

Factory Shops marketing manager addresses Chamber

"Our whole idea is to work together," said Jenice Dunayer, Marketing Director of the new Gainesville Factory Shops. Dunayer was the guest speaker at last week's well-attended noon meeting of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce. She described how the marketing efforts of the Shops will capitalize on the strengths and attractions of this area. "You may be excited about the Shops but you're probably wondering how it will affect you," she said. "We want to share your information with our shoppers."

The Factory Shops will soon establish an area information center in a prime location in the Food Court. Dunayer asked that everyone send their prepared brochures and information to her as soon as it's ready. "Even before the information center is ready, we will distribute materials out of our office to interested people like tour group directors," she said.

Dunayer emphasized the need to spread the word about your store or event or town and how increased traffic through the area could be attracted. The Factory Shops currently have 15 billboards on Interstate Highway 35 and Highway 82 and are working on more. A new brochure is in the works and they are studying increased local advertising to encourage more weekday volume when shoppers off the highways are not as numerous. Dunayer thought the design for the new Muenster billboard on I-35 to be funded by the City of Muenster was great.

The marketing director recommended in-store surveys to find out where out-of-town shoppers are coming from. That helps to direct marketing efforts in the right directions.

The Chamber members offered Jenice their thanks and promised mutual efforts to attract shoppers to the Cooke County area.

Other meeting items included:
- Gary Fisher and Margie Starke announced a raffle promotion to start immediately with the drawing to be held on Germanfest Sunday, April 24, 1994. Prizes include a 1994 Ford Ranger Pickup, a trip for two to Las Vegas, a Ruger Rifle with scope and hard case, a Log Cabin Quilt and a Hummel Figurine. Tickets are $5.00 each or 5 for $20.00.

- Jewel Otto and Louise Fisher are leading efforts to print a new Muenster brochure.

- The City of Muenster was applauded for their decision to fund the $3,000.00 cost of a Muenster billboard on I-35 just south of Valley View.

- Cooke County Judge Ray Russell encouraged Chamber officials and other interested parties to attend the county government bi-monthly idea exchange and update meetings at the CCC conference room. The current meeting was held Thursday, Sept. 23, at 7:30 a.m. He hopes for more participation from Muenster in the future.

- New Chamber member, John Pollard of Bayer's Kolonialwaren, was welcomed.

CCAD approves 1993 budget

by Elaine Schad

The Cooke County Appraisal District board of directors this week approved the appraisal and collections budgets for fiscal 1994 during the board's regular September meeting and following a public hearing held on the budget.

The overall CCAD budget for 1994 will show a slight decrease from $636,242 for 1993 to $633,264 mainly due to the elimination of the administrative and tax collection costs of the Cooke County Education District. It cost $22,030 last year for the CCAD to administer the CED, but the 1994 budget reflects 0 expenditures for the CED. All but $3,000 of that, however, will go toward increases in other areas of the budget.

The 1994 appraisal budget is $495,403, which is a 2.6 percent increase from the current year's budget of $482,792. The 1994 collections budget is $137,861, a 4.9 percent increase from the current year's budget of $131,420.

Both the appraisal and collections budgets include a proposed 4 percent cost of living salary increase for all staff, except the Chief Appraiser. In addition, those earning $25,000 or above will receive an additional $25 per month and those earning $20,000 or below will receive an additional $50 per month. The proposed budgets also provide for a 10 percent increase in Group Health Insurance premiums for employees only.

CCAD Chief Appraiser Ross Fry said the salary increases and incentives are needed to prevent staff turnover. He hopes this will prevent staff people from going to nearby counties for higher pay after they have been trained and certified by the CCAD. Fry said the proposed increases will help the CCAD to be competitive in 1994.

The appraisal budget includes a $1,500 request for the purchase of mapping supplies and $12,000 to purchase microfilm copies of all deed records back to 1981. The CCAD would also like to microfilm deteriorating abstract books, some of which are more than 100 years old with part of the $12,000.

The CCAD budgets are funded by the taxing entities around Cooke County, which include most cities, school districts, the Gainesville

Memorial Hospital District and the Cooke County College District. Taxing entities will have 30 days if they wish to reject the budget, which will take effect on Jan. 1. The Muenster ISD rejected the CCAD preliminary budget, which is identical to the budget approved this week.

In another matter, Fry reported that tax statements can be mailed to taxpayers as soon as the tax rates have been approved by all the area school districts and other entities. The CCAD can prepare the statements within seven to 10 days of receiving the final approved tax rate. Due to the delay in school districts approving their tax rates as they await the impact of new state funding laws, it could be well into October before those statements are mailed.

The CCAD board also approved the appraisal firm of Pritchett and Abbott to conduct appraisals for oil and gas properties, industrial property and utilities for the next two years at a cost of $41,000 annually, the same price as in the last contract.

CHRISTY and PAT SMITH and LYNN and TONY MELENDEZ

Melendez captivates local audience with inspirational outlook

Laughter, joy, tears, respect, and awe were seen on the faces of the audience who attended the Tony Melendez Concert in Sacred Heart Church in Muenster last Sunday. Melendez conveyed his love of the Lord through his music and sincere inspirational stories of his life. Born without arms, Melendez overcame his handicap and learned how to play several musical instruments, including the guitar, with his feet. He gained world-wide recognition after playing for the Pope in Los Angeles in September of 1987. Tony Melendez has appeared on many television programs.

Performing with the Toejam musician were his wife, Lynn, and their friends, Pat and Christy, from St. Phillip's Church in Lewisville. Doug Weisbruch of Weisbruch Ministries in Irving kicked off Sunday's performance with his guitar music and Christian songs. Several songs involved audience participation.

During the concert Melendez thanked the Lord for his life and noted that every child that is born is a miracle. "I see 500 to 600 miracles in the audience today," he said as he spoke to the large crowd in attendance.

After the concert the performers remained in church to meet the people and answer questions. Melendez's cassettes and autobiography were offered for sale at that time also.

Lindsay Oktoberfest offers fun, food and frolic

The 21st annual Lindsay Jaycees Oktoberfest will be held in the Lindsay Park on Sunday, Oct. 3 from 11 a.m. to midnight. This year, the Jaycees are once again joining forces with the Cooke County Fair Board to make the event bigger and better.

Half of all the Oktoberfest proceeds will be contributed to the Fair Board to support their activities. The Jaycees are longtime supporters of the countywide 4-H and FFA livestock shows and the development of agricultural programs for local youth.

Fair Board members have been busy soliciting donations for the auction. It will be one of the feature attractions at the celebration. Auctioning begins around 4 p.m.

Other activities include live polka music during the afternoon by the Henry Racek Band and in the evening Adam Arendt Disco. These will be under the main pavilion. A meal catered by the Hermes Sisters of Lindsay will kick-off the day's events. Serving is from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. under the pavilion. Plenty of delicious German food and drink will be available all afternoon and evening.

A 25-inch color television will provide football enthusiasts with the opportunity to watch their favorite teams.

Many other booths, including Bingo, home-made goods, and high-hand cards, will be sponsored by various Lindsay civic, parochial and school organizations.

Lindsay ISD sets tax rate

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay School Board has voted unanimously to adopt a tax rate of 99.5 cents per $100 valuation of property, the same rate as last year.

The proposed rate is expected to generate less revenue than last year since the district's property values dropped by about $1 million, from $49.1 million to $48.4 million for 1993. The new tax rate will provide local funding for a $1.84 million budget for 1993-1994, about 1.3 percent lower than last year's budget.

The board adopted the tax rate during a special meeting preceding the board's regular September meeting. Trustees hired the accounting firm of Rigler and Murrell to conduct the district's audit for the 1992-1993 school year. Trustees discussed a land purchase, but took no action. The land, which is nearby the school campus, is not yet for sale, but the board heard that the school district is expected to have first option to purchase the property when it is available.

In other business, trustees:

--Discussed a pregnancy leave policy for teachers, but took no action. A policy may be presented to the board for approval at a future meeting.

--Discussed delinquent tuition payments, but took no action on a proposed payment schedule. Trustees are expected to discuss and possibly take action at the board's October meeting on a proposal that all tuition payments by transfer students be paid prior to the first day of school.

--Reported on air conditioning problems in the west wing of the high school building. Repairs are being made to the system.

--Declared the week of Oct. 23 through Oct. 31 as Red Ribbon Week for Drug Awareness in the school district. The week is a

County reaches out to aid people of Cotija, Mexico

Two Muenster Memorial Hospital employees, Herman Carroll and Judy Flusche, joined a medical team on a mission of mercy to Cotija, Mexico. This is the third year for Carroll who is an anesthesiologist at MMH, and the second year for Flusche, an RN. Before the two departed they collected donations of clothing, toys, stuffed animals and cash from area people.

There was $2,105.00 donated from Muenster with another 40 large boxes of clothing and toys. Large cash donations were made by the Muenster Jaycees and Muenster Kiwanis; many stuffed animals not sold at the Lindsay Volunteer Fire Dept. rummage sale were washed and made to look new by Kathy Lutkenhaus. Boxes of shorts were donated by Tops and Teams in Muenster. These were also popular items. One little girl didn't want to give hers up even long enough to have her surgery.

Dr. Antonetti, IV brought hundreds of pairs of shoes that were donated by three shoe stores. Most of the children go barefoot so having a pair of shoes to wear is very special. "One little girl put on her pair of shoes and polished them if she got any dust on them," laughed Herman.

The medical team consisted of specialists, a plastic surgeon Dr. Alfred R. Antonetti, IV; an OB/GYN Dr. Vagayes; Dr. George Berry; ophthalmologist Dr. Mike Harris and general surgeon Dr. Jerry Hinnant and several nurses and anesthesiologists.

This year the team performed around 150 surgeries working 14 to 15 hours each day. This is about twice as many surgeries as last year. "It is difficult to put into words," reflected Carroll. "One has to be there to see the appreciation of the Mexican people after they have surgery. We saw some of the people that we did surgery on last year. They brought us flowers."

Seeing the conditions that the people of Mexico must live with made the American visitors appreciate what we have in the United States. "A lot of the problems in Mexico are caused by the horrendous inflation," Carroll said. An example of this was a tablecloth that he bought two years ago while in Mexico. It cost $12 then and now it is priced at $60
Please See COTIJA, Page 8

New bridge complete, but not open

by Elaine Schad

A new bridge that will span the Red River with hopes of bringing increased economic growth to Cooke and Montague counties is now completed, but the bridge is not expected to be opened until at least next summer, officials said this week.

The final concrete was poured last week for the railing on the bridge. The concrete now needs time to cure out before it can be used.

About 17 miles of roadway in Texas and Oklahoma are still under construction that will provide pathways to the bridge, so the new section will not be open until those roadways are completed, said John Barton assistant resident engineer for the Texas Department of Highways and Transportation. Those roadways are about 70 percent complete, but project contractors will be prohibited from placing base material on the roadways from Oct. 1 to May 1 due

Sacred Heart Church is site of Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Walterscheid are on a wedding trip to Jamaica and Sandal Resorts, following their marriage in Sacred Heart Church on Sept. 18, 1993 at 3 p.m. Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, officiated their Nuptial Mass and double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Rhonda Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stewart of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. George Gould of Harahan, Louisiana. She is a 1989 graduate of Muenster High School and a 1992 graduate of Cooke County College with a Secretarial degree and is employed at Fischer's.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dale Walterscheid of Muenster. He is a 1984 graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Lone Star Gas in Senior Construction and Maintenance.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents, and escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding, she chose a formal Mari Lee ivory satin gown re-embroidered with Alencon lace and a high neckline. Strands of pearls were draped across the deep V back neckline. Long tapered sleeves were accented with a small pouf at the shoulders. The full skirt was heavily trimmed with pearls and lace and swept into a cathedral train ornately decorated with lace cut-outs and bows.

The bride wore a V-shaped headpiece of lace and tear-drop pearls. A shimmering cluster of pearls hung to shoulder length at one side.

She carried a bridal bouquet of ivory tulips, pink roses, alstromeria, ivory roses, ivory freesia, pink sweetheart roses and pearl sprays.

For tradition and sentiment, she carried a rosary belonging to her grandmother, Evelyn Koesler that was a wedding gift from her late husband, Tony Koesler. She borrowed pearl earrings belonging to the groom's mother, Linda Walterscheid.

ATTENDANTS
Kim Stewart of Muenster, bride's sister, was maid of honor. Julie Bartel, bride's cousin; Sabrina Truebenbach, bride's sister; Kim Hess, bride's best friend; Kim Felderhoff, groom's sister; and Kayla Felderhoff, groom's niece, were bridesmaids. All are of Muenster.

They were attired in teal shantung suits designed with off-shoulder necklines and slim tea-length skirts. Each carried a cascade of pink roses, blush alstromeria, pink mini carnations, pink sweetheart roses and ivory tulips.

Flower girls were Kara Felderhoff and Kristina Koesler. The ring bearer was Tony Koesler.

Mike Walterscheid stood with his brother as best man, Nick Hess, groom's friend; Kody Truebenbach, bride's brother; Raymond Stewart, bride's brother; and Kenny Felderhoff, groom's brother-in-law, all of Muenster, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Jay Mollenkopf of Muenster, Jeff Dudley of Gainesville, Kenneth Walterscheid of Muenster, Chuck Koesler of Muenster and George and Chris Gould of Harahan, Louisiana.

Mass servers were Keith Felderhoff, groom's nephew, and Christopher Grewing, groom's cousin.

Wedding music was presented by Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and Diane Grewing, Christi Klement, Denise Bayer, Doug Yosten, Jim Endres, Mildred Lawson and Jimmy Lawson, vocalists, who offered "The Rose," "I Cross My Heart," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Turn Around," "Peace, Joy and Happiness," "Wherever You Go," and "Mother, At Your Feet We're Kneeling." Organ solos were Pachelbel's "Canon in D," Clarke's "Trumpet Voluntary" and the traditional wedding marches.

Taking part in the special wedding liturgy were Carla Truebenbach, bride's aunt, with Readings selected by the couple; James and Bernice Mollenkopf, groom's godparents, and Andy Truebenbach, bride's godfather, who took Offertory gifts to the altar.

Eucharistic Ministers were Ryan and Tara Bayer, Rosina Kubis, Chuck and Doris Koesler, Connie Grewing and Kyla Henscheid.

Special guests at the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Evelyn Koesler, Margaret Truebenbach and Florence and Johnny Rohmer; and the groom's grandmothers, Rosie Walterscheid and Opal Cooper.

RECEPTION
A reception, dinner and dance followed at the Sacred Heart Community Center, hosted by the couple and their parents for more than 500 guests.

Lorene Dudley, bride's cousin.

MRS. DUANE WALTERScheid

and Doris Koesler, bride's aunt, presided at the guest book, at a table draped in pink tulle and holding baskets of satin rosettes filled with bird seed.

The Hermes Sisters of Lindsay catered the dinner. Guests danced to music by Dakota.

The bride's table was covered in white, with white skirting draped with pink tulle. Bridesmaids' bouquets and table top candelabra, pink napkins and fluted champagne glasses decorated the table. A wall hanging was decorated with mauve double hearts and tulle.

Guest tables were covered in white, with hurricane candles and globes and mauve satin bows. From the ceiling, a centerpiece was suspended, decorated with ivory and mauve flowers, pearl strands, satin wedding bells and ivy. The cheese table, covered in white, was draped with pink tulle and teal shantung.

The four-tiered petal-shaped white wedding cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, was decorated between tiers with mauve flowers and doves. The square chocolate groom's cake carried a Lone Star Gas emblem on top.

Cake servers were Amy and Jana Truebenbach, Adrienne Bartel and Jessica Koesler.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the home of Kenny and Kim Felderhoff on Sept. 16.

When the couple returns from their wedding trip, they will be at home in Muenster.

Plans for Country Fair on the Square Quilt Show wrapping up

by Evelyn Yeatts,
County Extension Agent-H.E.
Country Fair on the Square
Quilt Show

If you love and appreciate beautiful quilts, you'll want to participate in the Quilt Show to be held again this year during the Country Fair on the Square activities on Oct. 2 and 3. The Quilt Show is being sponsored by Community Revitalization and will be in the Cooke County Courthouse.

This year, there will be two divisions: 1) New Quilts, completed within the last three years and entered for judging; and 2) For Display Only, this includes any older quilt you may have or any quilt you want to share with viewers but not have judged. These, of course, do not have to be made by the one entering the quilt. In the New Quilt division, quilts may be entered in one of eight categories. These include: applique, pictorial, embroidered, patchwork, combination, first quilt, baby quilt, or quilted wall hanging. A blue (1st), red (2nd) and white (3rd) place ribbon will be awarded in each category. A Best of Show will also be picked by the judges from the first place winners.

An added feature this year will be a "Viewer's Choice," selected by those attending the Quilt Show.

The Quilt Show will be open for public viewing on Saturday, Oct. 2, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday, from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Entry forms have been delivered to area quilting groups but are also available in the County Extension Office. Interested participants may call 668-5412 or stop by the County Extension office in the Courthouse basement.

If you are a quilter, please share your talents with others by entering the Quilt Show. If you have a family heirloom or older quilt, consider sharing it with others also.

Shannon celebrates with Trolls on sixth birthday

Shannon Hartman celebrated her sixth birthday on Sept. 15 at home with family and relatives. The birthday was themed "Trolls." A cake was decorated by her mother in a troll theme, which was served with ice cream and Kool-Aid. Gifts were opened, photos and home movies were made.

Attending were Shannon's great-grandmother, Mrs. Victor Hartman; grandparents, Joanie and Alvin Hartman; godfather, Danny Walterscheid; godmother, Marlene Endres, and children, Lacy, Ricky, Kelly and Sandy; Monica and Kristin LeBrasseur; Renate, J.T., Derek and Kelsey Pagel; Rhonda, Holly, Courtney and Nolan Hartman; Glenda, Lisa and Amanda Russell; Denise and Nicole Pagel; and Shannon's parents, Sharlene and Bobby Hartman; her sister, Dainah; and Chris Pagel.

Shannon also celebrated with her Kindergarten class at school with chocolate M&M cupcakes. Shannon felt very special this week at school with the showing of a poster filled with photos of early and present times of herself.

Home Hospice offers volunteer training - sign-up deadline is Sept. 30

Do you enjoy helping others? Do you derive satisfaction from making a real difference in the lives of hurting persons? If so, Home Hospice needs you.

Home Hospice is a non-profit agency dedicated to the care and treatment of terminally ill patients and their families. One very special way Hospice cares for these persons is through the use of volunteers. The organization will be conducting a volunteer training in October. The dates for this training will be Oct. 7, 9, 21 and 28. The Thursday sessions will be held in the evening. The Saturday session will be a full-day session held in Sherman.

If you are interested in the training, please call the Home Hospice office at 665-9891. Deadline for registration is Sept. 30. Sharing yourself will help to "...make the way less lonely."

St. Mary's Fall Festival offers day-long activities

by Elaine Schad

A brisket dinner, games, an auction and a variety of other features will highlight the 25th annual St. Mary's Fall Festival Sunday at the St. Mary's Parish Hall and the school grounds, located at 931 North Weaver Street.

A smoked brisket dinner with vegetables, salads, homemade desserts and all the trimmings will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the parish hall. A variety of booths will provide games for all ages throughout the afternoon. A mini-auction will be held inside the parish hall, while a cake walk and other games will take place in the school building. New to the festival this year will be Texas Jump and an ice cream booth. One of the most popular features of the festival is the Country Store, where a variety of handmade items and baked goods donated by parishioners and friends are for sale. There will be a snack bar and other concessions on sale throughout the afternoon.

One of the highlights of the festival will begin at 5 p.m. with the start of the annual auction. More than 100 items donated by area individuals and businesses will be sold. Included in this year's auction will be handmade quilts, a handcrafted rollout desk, an antique organ as well as a variety of merchandise, trips and gift certificates.

TWU Alumnae Assoc. holds meeting Sept. 28

The Red River Chapter of the Texas Woman's University Alumnae Association will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 28, in the Parish House of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 415 E. California at Jefferson in Gainesville.

Bonnie Slack will present the program, sharing part of the "I Can" series that Mamie McCullough wrote as a project for Zig Zigler. Bonnie is the wife of Bennie Slack, pastor of First Baptist Church in Gainesville.

All alumnae of Texas Woman's University are welcome to attend the meeting. Please RSVP to Jeanette Balentine in Gainesville, 817-665-6980; to Nadine Pitzinger in Valley View, 817-637-2361; or to Mary Rives in Whitesboro, 903-564-6782.

St. Jerome's serves up barbecue dinner Oct. 3

St. Jerome Catholic Church, 1206 Matthews Street, Bowie has planned their annual Fall Barbecue Dinner for Sunday, Oct. 3 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The dinner is their largest fund-raising effort to help pay their building debt and operating expenses.

The menu features barbecue brisket, chicken, sausage, potato salad, beans, coleslaw, relishes, home-made bread, home-made desserts, and coffee or tea.

Prices are adults, $6; children 12 and under, $3; and senior citizens 60 and over, $5.

The event includes entertainment for all ages; a special Kids Korner; displays of artwork; and booths with hand-crafted items for sale and a smorgasbord of culinary delights.

Program offered to deal with youths' grief

A child is a miniature adult with the same feeling of grief and despair for a loss as an adult, but with less life experience to help them deal with their feelings of grief. Sacred Heart Parish is pleased to announce that it will sponsor a program, Rainbows For All God's Children, which is designed to help provide the emotional stability that a child needs to verbalize his or her own feelings and begin to deal with them.

The program is open to all area children, kindergarten through eighth grade, who are living in single-parent families, step-families, or families that are going through painful transitions, such as death or divorce. It consists of six sessions, the six-week semester is concluded with a wrap-up session that includes the parents and children.

During the weekly sessions, the children are divided into groups of three to five according to age and each group will be facilitated by a sensitive, caring adult. The facilitators are trained and provided with materials needed to help these children put their feelings into words, work through their grief, build a strong sense of self-esteem and begin to accept what has taken place in the family.

The weekly support groups will begin Monday, Oct. 11, at 3:45 p.m. and will be held for six consecutive sessions. Each session will last approximately 45 minutes.

Both parent and child must register to participate and deadline for registration is Monday, Oct. 4. For further information, call Barbara Fuhrmann, 759-2511, ext. 37. The application below can be completed and returned to the church office in the convent or mailed to Sacred Heart Church.

This Christian program will help children share their feelings through workbook activities, sharing and discussions. "I think many children in our community could benefit from this program. If they are helped to go through the grieving process now, they will be happier and healthier as teenagers and adults," commented Barbara Fuhrmann, director of religious education in Sacred Heart Parish.

Everything will be completely confidential. The children are required to sign an agreement that they will not discuss what they hear outside of the discussion groups.

1st birthday celebrated

Aaron John Grewing, son of Jim and Diane Grewing, became one year old on Monday, Sept. 13, 1993. He celebrated his first birthday with a party at McDonald's in Gainesville on Sunday, Sept. 12. Attending with him were his mother, his brothers Michael, Randy and Craig; his sister Shannon; cousins Christopher, Megan and Carrie Grewing; and friends Holly and Katie Hobbs; and Jon Knabe.

They were later joined in Aaron's home by friend Judy Hobbs for cake and ice cream and opening of presents. Sending special greetings were Aaron's godmother, Connie Grewing; his grandparents Frances and Spike Yosten and Judy and Steve Grewing; and his aunts Susie Bullion and Debbie Bradford and their families of Austin.

On Sept. 13, his actual birthday, he was honored at Tender Loving Care Day Care Center and brought cupcakes for his caregivers and friends.

Trenton teen making a difference

Matt Stufflebeme is a young man with a dream - a dream of helping teens see how expensive irresponsible mistakes can be for them and the people who love them. Matt hopes to accomplish this dream by serving on the first Community Anti-Drug Coalition of America (CADCA) Youth Advisory Committee. The 16-year-old high school student from Trenton, Texas is one of nine young people selected from across the country. CADCA wanted input from the nation's youth on substance abuse and, as in Matt's case, representation from rural areas. Applicants were sponsored by an agency in their area and asked to submit an essay and recommendation. The agency that sponsored Matt was Texoma Community Partnership of Denison. Members were selected on their record of volunteer service and their personal commitment to the issue of substance abuse prevention. Care was also taken to make sure the group was representative of the geographical, cultural and racial diversity of the nation's youth.

Matt decided to become involved in substance abuse prevention after the death of his best friend, Brian Ball, in 1991 from severe alcohol poisoning. Matt and Brian were best friends since Brian moved to Trenton when he was 4 and Matt was 3. Matt feels that small town problems with alcohol and drugs are not the same as those of the big cities. In a small town, everyone knows everyone else. When something tragic happens in a small town, everyone is affected. Everyone knew the person involved, had personal contact with the individual, and had special memories of events that made that person special. That was the case with Matt and Brian and why Matt felt so compelled to try to make a difference.

Since Brian's death, Matt has worked as his school's Students Against Drunk Driving representative and is interested in working to develop a Texoma Community Partnership Youth Involvement Team.

The main reason Stufflebeme decided to be a part of the Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) was that within two weeks of Brian's death, teens were again on the square in Trenton drinking beer. Matt said, "I would like to serve on the YAC in order to spread Brian's story and it's impact on his friends and family. I would like to spare another community, another family and another best friend the pain we have gone through. I would like to find an effective way to reach those who are still drinking on my town square."

As a member of the CADCA Youth Advisory Committee, Matt will attend numerous meetings each year in Alexandria, Virginia. The group will help CADCA develop initiatives that focus on the substance abuse problems of young people. The committee will also be asked to explore ways to attract more youth involvement in CADCA's National Leadership Forum, to be held Nov. 11-13 in Washington, D. C. Recommendations have been made to have workshops on leadership, peer pressure, availability of alcohol to minors and gang/teen violence. The first meeting of the Youth Advisory Committee was held May 10, 1993 at the United Way Building in Alexandria, Virginia. Jim Copple, National Director of CADCA, defined his expectations of the members. Nelson Cooney, associate director, served as facilitator. The day was spent establishing policy issues that would govern the way the YAC would run in the future. Each member will serve a maximum of three years or one term. Two seats on the National CADCA Board have been awarded to this Youth Committee and will be occupied by the chairperson and a rotating member of the CADCA Youth Committee. Matt Stufflebeme was elected as secretary-treasurer of YAC.

The Youth Committee attended the Texas War on Drugs Youth Leadership Conference July 28-31, 1993 in Fort Worth. Jan and Brian Ball of Trenton, who spoke to both Muenster schools last October and who are the parents of Matt's friend Brian Ball, addressed the Adult Institute at the Texas War on Drugs.

For the members of the YAC to represent the country fairly, the United States was divided into nine regions. Matt's region includes Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Nevada, Texas, Utah and Wyoming.

When asked what has been his most memorable event since being named to the YAC, Matt told of meeting a Retired Lt. Colonel from the U.S. Air Force who now runs a homeless shelter, the Good Samaritan Inn, in McKinney. Matt was very impressed with the man's compassion and deep convictions for helping his fellow man. He met this man during a program in which Rockwell International presented checks to the man for his shelter and to Matt on behalf of a substance abuse prevention organization of Plano. In correspondence to other YAC members, Matt wrote, "I met a minister who ran a homeless shelter recently. He gave me a realistic thought that I would like to share: 'Kids are not wanting to take drugs or abuse alcohol. They are only looking for companionship and a place to belong. It is unfortunate that most groups that attract kids are into drugs and alcohol.' Doesn't this simply state one of the messages we are trying to convey?"

That is one of Matt's sincere beliefs - that kids don't really want to abuse drugs and alcohol. As in Brian Ball's case, Matt stated, "Brian didn't mean to die, he was curious. His ideas about alcohol came from his peers, from television and from the movies. Everybody always woke up the next morning, and it didn't even seem like a crime because his peers never suffered any harsh penalties even when they did get caught. Brian's mindset is still shared by many teens. Within two weeks of Brian's death, some teens in our town were back on the square drinking. That is when I decided to get involved. I have to change this mindset or my peers will continue to die and I don't want to lose another friend."

"Substance abuse among youth in small towns, big towns, or large metropolitan areas is a larger problem than most people realize. Succumbing to peer pressure, which is what I feel happened to Brian, is an even bigger problem. Something must be done to educate teens. I resent alcohol advertisements. They give the impression that in order to be a jock or have a good time, you have to drink. The Youth Advisory Committee might try to develop TV spots that counteract this type of advertising."

Matthew Stufflebeme is a junior at Trenton High School, where he is an honor student, runs cross country, plays baseball and is involved with S.T.A.R.S. (Students Taking A Real Stand), as well as other school activities. Outside of school, Matt tinkers with a Ford truck which he rebuilt and an MG sports car. He and his family are members of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Bonham, where he is a member of the youth group. Matt is the son of Bill and Clare Stufflebeme and he has three sisters.

Muenster 4-H leaders attend conference

Jerry and Evelyn Sicking, adult leaders of the Muenster 4-H Club in District IV, along with leaders from across the state met at the Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood from Friday, Sept. 17, through Sunday, Sept. 19. They were there to attend the 4-H Strategic Planning Conference and Volunteer Leaders Association Meeting. Evelyn is currently serving as 2nd vice-president of the organization.

Besides the strategic planning, workshops were held. David Harper, Club Manager of the Valley View 4-H Club, presented a workshop on food garnishing. The group had hands-on experience in his workshop making serrated fruit from grapefruit and oranges, pigs out of lemons, marshmallows and raisins, and cars out of carrots. Roses and tulips were created using lemons and red and green tinted instant potatoes.

A Cooke County native, Delores Sandmann, County Extension Agent for Comanche County, presented a program on clothing accessories. Other workshops were Fundraising by Dr. Lanny Bullard, Director, Texas 4-H Foundation from College Station, and Training Volunteers To Be Judges presented by Penny Alexander, adult leader. Jerry and Evelyn enjoyed sharing their first-time experience of judging State Record Books in College Station recently. They were excited to bring home news that two Cooke County 4-H'ers will advance to national competition and have won trips to National 4-H Congress to be held in Chicago, Illinois. They are Sean Herbold of the Silver Cedar 4-H and Charlene Lutkenhaus of the Lindsay Sr. 4-H Club.

Gladys Balthrop and Anna Kirk joined Sybil Smith of Texarkana and grandson, Jeremany Smith, on a recent trip to South Dakota, stopping briefly in Rapid City, South Dakota, to take Jeremany home at Ellsworth Air Force Base. Earlier, they had stopped in Gothenburg, Nebraska to visit the Pony Express Station and to buy post cards, attaching special Pony Express stamps. They also visited a Sod House Museum and replica of pioneer homes. On display was a barbed wire buffalo and Indian mounted on a horse. The barbed wire buffalo weighed 1,400 pounds, using 4-1/2 miles of barbed wire; the horse and Indian were sculpted with three miles of old barbed wire.

In North Platte, Nebraska, they toured the Col. William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody Ranch, his home and barn that became a state historical park in 1965.

An extensive tour in the Black Hills of South Dakota included Mt. Rushmore and the famous memorial to the presidents. In Keystone, they enjoyed souvenirs and gift shops. That same day, they helped Sybil Smith celebrate her birthday. In Spearfish, South Dakota, they attended the Black Hills Passion Play, in the rain all through the play. They had hoped to drive into Wyoming but the heavy downpour helped to change those plans.

One day, David Ray Smith led them on a tour through Custer State Park and Wildlife Refuge. A big surprise was the wild mountain burros who are definitely not wild. Exiting the park on Iron Mountain Road through a tunnel, they came upon a scenic view of the Memorial of the Presidents in the Black Hills that was surprising, spectacular and very beautiful.

Another day, they drove to Badlands, South Dakota, seeing a typical western town street at Wall Drug Mall. The street is made of Cheyenne River rock. The group had lunch at Wall Drug Store where one of their relatives was employed. On the lunch menu was "Buffalo Burgers" - Sybil Smith summoned courage to have one for lunch. The store also has a well with ice water. They estimate serving 5,000 glasses of icy cold water daily throughout the summer. The town got its name because it was built on the edge of the northern extension of the Badlands Wall.

A drive through the Badlands National Park, an area that covers a million acres, was found by the group to be almost beyond description. They saw formations like fortresses, castles and temple spires that gave a sense of mystery - almost a feeling of witnessing an ancient architecture. Although it is called the "Graveyard of the Centuries," the park was actually established as a national monument in 1939. Hundreds of buffalo roam in the park's 45,000 acres of rolling grasslands.

The group began the long drive home on Aug. 23, arriving late the next day.

ADAM BAYER

Adam Bayer celebrates 10th with his "team"

Adam Bayer, son of Tom and Joyce Bayer, was honored by his parents with a party in Muenster City Park on Saturday evening, Sept. 18, in observance of his 10th birthday which occurred Sept. 16. Theme of the party was "Football." Hamburgers, hot dogs and trimmings were served, followed by birthday cake and ice cream.

Guests included Adam's classmates Cloy Baldwin, Eric Bayer, Chisam Cain, Brad Felderhoff, Grant Hartman, Kevin Hermes, Nathan Hess, Tracy Hess, Daniel Rohmer, Jason Vogel and Chris York.

Special guests were grandmothers Louise Bayer and Sis Klement; and the honoree's sister, Rhonda Pagel and Tyler, Jessica and Michelle; his sister, Jennifer Bayer; Josh McCoy and Frank Klement.

Muenster 4-H Club meets, discuss projects

The Muenster 4-H Club held its organizational meeting for this school year on Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. in Sacred Heart High School. Emily Felderhoff, president, conducted the business meeting.

Twenty-four 4-H'ers attended, six of them were new members. Seventeen adults were present. Discussions involved summer events of 1993; also the Poster Contest for National 4-H Week Oct. 3-9; and the Achievement Banquet Oct. 4. Invitations have been sent to all eligible members.

Linda Becker and Becky Felderhoff presented the program, "4-H Projects." They related that the club offers projects in Beef, Clothing and Textiles, Consumer Life Skills, Dairy Cattle and Goats, Food and Nutrition, Sheep and Goats, Shooting Sports, Swine, Ceramics, Woodworking and "Share the Fun."

The next meeting for the Muenster 4-H Club will be on Oct. 11 at 7 p.m. in Sacred Heart High School. Club reporter is Danny Felderhoff.

Tax Talk
 by: Duane Knabe, CPA

This week's topic is health insurance. If you itemize deductions, medical expenses over a certain limit, including health insurance, may be deducted. However, self-employed people are allowed to deduct 25% of amounts paid for health insurance for themselves, spouses, and dependents, regardless of whether you itemize. This deduction has been extended through 12-31-93 by the '93 tax act.

The deduction is limited to the taxpayer's earned income derived from the trade or business for which the insurance plan was established. This 25% deduction applies to partners and to more-than-2% shareholders in S-Corporations.

Farm & Ranch

Texas farmers and ranchers may be due $5 refunds on farm vehicle license fees

"Refunds are now available for agricultural producers who, since Jan. 1, 1992, have been required to pay a special $5 vehicle license fee on farm and ranch vehicles to fund a state program to help young farmers get started into business," State Comptroller John Sharp has announced.

"County Tax Assessor-Collectors were required to collect the fees between Jan. 1, 1992 and Aug. 30, 1993, but because vehicle registration fees are constitutionally dedicated to Texas highways, the money collected for the Young Farmer Endowment Program could not be used for its intended purpose."

The Texas Legislature has now authorized the refunds on fees for the Young Farmer Endowment Program. Refunds can be obtained from the Comptroller's Office through Nov. 1, 1993. Refund claim forms are available from the Comptroller of Public Accounts by calling 1-800-252-1382. Claim forms are also available from county Tax Assessor-Collectors.

Effective Sept. 1, 1993, as amended, the law continues a $5 "voluntary assessment" on farm vehicle registration fees, but makes provisions for refunds to be obtained from county tax assessor-collectors.

1993 crop insurance sign up deadline is Sept. 30

by Tim O. Gilbert, County Executive Director
Producers who suffered 1993 crop losses due to damaging weather conditions could be eligible for disaster payments. To be eligible you must have suffered a loss of more than 40% for crops not insured with FCIC, or a loss of more than 35% for crops insured with FCIC. If you received a loss payment from FCIC, we will need to know the amount of the payment. Please bring this information in to us.

If you have a loss of 65% or more on a farm, you will be required to purchase Federal Crop Insurance on the crop for all farms that you have an interest in for 1994.

The last day to buy crop insurance for wheat, oats and barley is Sept. 30, 1993. As of this time, we have not received any word of an extension due to the disaster program.

At the present time, there is no one in Cooke County who sells this insurance; we will have a list of agents who sell in our area. There will also be a representative of Federal Crop Insurance at the Red River Co-Op in Gainesville on the mornings of Sept. 27 and 29. Any past yield data you have for FCIC will help.

Also at the present time, we do not have the yield data for soybeans and other non-program crops. So the best thing you can do is check back with us later on these crops. The main thing we are interested in are small grains, due to the deadline for purchasing crop insurance. Your ASCS yields will be used for program crops.

If you earn a disaster payment, there is a possibility that you will lose some of your deficiency payment under the regular program. We do not know at this time if it will be subtracted from your final payment or if you will have to refund it.

If you are filing a loss on non-program crops, you will be required to bring in receipts on seed, fertilizer, insecticides, herbicides, etc. You will also be required to report accurate acreage figures.

The sign-up period will end March 4, 1994.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Ryegrass for Pastures
Ryegrass provides an excellent forage opportunity during the cool season in the North Texas area. Pastures throughout the area contain ryegrass. However, this native ryegrass has little forage potential except for the spring growing season. Newer varieties are available to producers. Some of these that are grown in our area include Marshall, TAM 90 and Gulf. This past year we had a ryegrass variety demonstration on the Thurman Ward Ranch at Sivells Bend. All varieties produced well with the Gulf and TAM 90 showing a little extra production in the cooler months. The Marshall seemed to last a little longer into the spring. But all produced well and had about the same total overall forage production.

Planting
Ryegrass can be planted in several ways. One of the older methods is to simply broadcast the seed on top of existing turf. This works fairly well but the denseness of this year's turf will prevent the ryegrass seed from getting in contact with the soil. Drilling ryegrass with a conventional grain drill works the best. This allows producers to accurately seed with a known seeding rate and the seed comes in contact with the soil. Ryegrass is a very small seed and, therefore, does not need to be drilled deeply. Contact with the soil, a good rain and cool temperatures is all that is needed. When drilling, 20 pounds of seed is sufficient to get a good stand in a pasture. If you plan to broadcast the seed, then increase your seeding rate by 5 to 10 pounds. Ryegrass also works well in a planted prepared seed bed. Remember, if you plant ryegrass in a field, plan to have it for years to come. Do not plant it in fields that you expect to plant in wheat or other small grains in the future.

Fertility
Like most cool season annuals, ryegrass will need nitrogen fertilizer. To avoid fertilizing competition from cool season pasture grasses, producers should wait until after the last killing frost in November to fertilize sodded seed ryegrass. A November application of 50 pounds of actual nitrogen will help grazing. Most of the forage produced will be produced in the spring. Therefore, an additional 50 pounds of actual nitrogen can be applied in February.

Considerations
The growth characteristics of ryegrass cause it to produce a tremendous amount of forage in the spring and on into June. If you have a bermudagrass meadow that you harvest hay from, you may want to avoid ryegrass plantings. The ryegrass will compete for nutrients and hold back the bermuda growth somewhat. Again, don't plant ryegrass in fields that you plan to use for wheat, oats or other small grains. Ryegrass offers an inexpensive alternative to producers wanting a cool season annual.

Entry Deadlines and Validation Dates

Steers - Validation, Tagging and Entry of Steers - Saturday, Oct. 2, 10 a.m. to 12 noon, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds.

Special Note: Steers that have been validated in the State of Texas for major shows are exempt from County validation and tagging. They must, however, turn in an official entry card, an eligibility and drug awareness card, and entry fee on Saturday, Oct. 2, 1993, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

All other Market Animals and all Breeding Animals entries due - Friday, Dec. 3, 1993.

Validation and Tagging of Market Swine, Market Lambs and Meat Goats - Saturday, Dec. 11, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. (Schedule and place to be announced at a later date.)
