Huge factory outlet open in Gainesville

Friday was a big day for Gainesville and all of Cooke County as the new Gainesville Factory Shops celebrated their Grand Opening and welcomed Texas Governor Ann Richards. The governor was the honored speaker and the honored shopper. William H. Carpenter Jr., executive vice-president of The Prime Group asked and Richards admitted she was going to keep on shopping at The Prime Group's other Texas outlet mall in San Marcos.

Several officials, politicians and other local dignitaries joined Governor Richards on the stage to address the large crowd Friday morning. Included were: William H. Carpenter Jr., executive vice-president of The Prime Group, Inc.;

James C. Castillo, vice-president/development, The Prime Group; Michael Weisel, Kemper Investors Life Ins. Co.; Jim J. Hatcher, mayor of Gainesville; Judge Ray Russell, Cooke County judge; State Senator Steven Carriker; and State Representative Curtis Seidlits.

The opening ceremonies included official presentations of the national and state flags, music by the Gainesville High School Band and, finally, volleys of shots from confetti "cannons."

Factory Shops General Manager Bob Egert said Wednesday that they were all thrilled and a little amazed at the crowds and response over the weekend. "We are estimating about $1,000,000.00 in sales for the weekend. Our parking lots were filled by noon Friday and our parking directors were busy working in the grassy overflow areas." Egert said that after all the regional publicity, many came just to see the complex. "We have created a beautiful and pleasant environment here with the buildings and quality landscaping and several features are yet to be added like the fountain," he said. "The store managers I spoke with are elated, some set sales records for grand openings."

Phase I of Gainesville Factory Shops include 67 factory outlet stores open Monday-Saturday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m. Phase II is currently being planned and leased.

Outdoor burning banned

A memorandum from Cooke County Judge Ray Russell to Muenster Volunteer Fire Chief Herbie Knabe advised that on August 9, 1993, the Commissioners' Court of Cooke County passed an order prohibiting outdoor burning in unincorporated areas of the county. The order is effective until rescinded by the Commissioners' Court.

Outdoor burning has been prohibited due to the extreme potential for large and destructive wildfires, posing risks to lives and property. Even with some rainfall recorded in parts of the county recently, conditions are still dry and dangerous.

The ordinance prohibits any open burning in the unincorporated areas of Cooke County except the burning of combustible material in approved enclosures, such as trash barrels and charcoal grills which are designed to contain all flames and embers.

Repeated or flagrant violations of the order shall constitute a misdemeanor. Any peace officer of the State of Texas may enforce the order in the venue of the Cooke County Court.

City survey starts soon

Residents of the city of Muenster are being asked to cooperate in a city-wide survey. The survey is being conducted as part of the work necessary to apply for a grant that will allow Muenster to drill a new water well and erect an elevated water storage tank.

City council member Fran Voth is in charge of the project and will be seeking volunteers to help with the survey. Anyone interested in helping should contact Mrs. Voth to volunteer.

The survey is simple and short according to Celine Dittfurth, city secretary. Questions include: street address, telephone number, number of people in unit, male or female, and a question on whether your income is above or below a certain amount which has been determined by the number of people in the household. Example income questions: A one person household - Is your income above or below $18,000?; For a four member household: Is your income above or below $27,500?.

It is hoped that everyone will cooperate to expedite the application process.

Muenster ISD ranks in top 2% of state

by Steve Cooper, MISD Superintendent
Muenster ISD was honored by the Texas Education Agency, in late August, for academic excellence. TEA recently evaluated each campus in the state. Since there are over 6,000 campuses, this process was quite extensive and thorough. The end result was a ranking of each school district and campus, according to performance, using the newly-developed state standards for accreditation.

The new standards emphasize test scores, and other criteria found in the state's Academic Excellence Indicator System. Each of MISD's campuses (high school, junior high and elementary) received a recognized rating. The district also received a recognized rating, a designation that only 24 out of 1,048 districts received.

This put Muenster in the top 4% of the campuses in the entire state and the district in the top 2% of all districts in the state. This is a very significant honor and very prestigious to be identified with the top districts in the whole state.

The state has been moving, the past three years, to a performance-based standard. This differs significantly from other accreditation/evaluation processes, as most accreditation reports are based on meeting a "paper standard," whereas a performance-based standard is grounded in outcome-based results. A performance-based evaluation means each campus/district puts their wares on display, each grade's test scores on TAAS, NAPT (the state's achievement test), SAT/ACT, attendance percentage, drop-out rate, the district's financial data, and other criteria all become part of the public record. This is the way it should be.

In this particular area, I believe the state is definitely moving in the right direction. In the name of accountability, all schools should be required to make a full accounting as part of the public record their exact test scores and all data pertaining to the functioning of their schools. Performance-based results allow the public to finally determine, for themselves, the facts behind school performance. Schools can no longer hide behind nebulous rhetoric like "we did an outstanding job this year on our test scores" or "we did much better this year than last year" or "we did much better than the schools down the road." All those statements were used in the past to hide the reality of the performance. Now, schools have to make public the numbers instead of the verbiage; it will prove to be quite eye-opening.

We are extremely proud of our teachers, students, parents and supporters for their contribution to our campus rankings that are in the top 4% of campuses statewide and our district ranking in the top 2% of districts statewide. That is a tremendous honor and excellent recognition and something we are to be very proud of. We will not be satisfied until we reach the top ranking (that of exemplary). There was only one district in the entire state that was accredited exemplary. When we reach that level, that will put us at the top in statewide achievement. Stay tuned!

Two-way TV pioneers watch Governor sign Rep. Finnell's school fiberoptics legislation

Two modern northwest Texas pioneers, Alvin and Gracie Fuhrman of the Muenster Telephone Co. were present as Texas Governor Ann Richards signed a Rep. Charles Finnell bill that would use technology to make good schools better.

The signing took place on the day most northwest Texas public school opened their doors to students for the autumn semester.

Finnell's measure, which establishes a way for the state to award federal and private foundation grant money to public school districts for two-way television, is effective Sept. 1.

Mr. Fuhrman noted the technology already was in use linking schools in his home county of Cooke and schools in Montague County, part of Finnell's 13-county Northwest Texas House District. The precedent-setting project, Fuhrman said, began on Monday

An estimated $292,000 in remaining county property tax revenues collected over 1991 and 1992 are expected to be disbursed to Cooke County school districts next week under the new state education funding formula derived from Senate Bill 7.

The Cooke County Appraisal District will distribute the funds as the successor-in-interest for the Cooke County Education District. The education district is being dissolved under the new senate bill along with all CED's across Texas. The appraisal district will be taking over the education district functions for at least this year while the courts continue to battle over school funding equalization, according to CCAD Chief Appraiser Ross Fry. The CCAD Board of Directors approved the transfer of education district assets, records and interest to the appraisal district during the board's regular August meeting this week. As the successor to the education district, the CCAD will again distribute local property tax monies to the school districts. The school districts, however, will be setting individual tax rates rather than having a separate education district rate like the last two years, Fry said.

The Era and Valley View school districts will be the recipients of the largest amount of monies according to the state funding formula. The Valley View ISD will receive about $98,000, representing 33.7 percent of the $292,369 left over from property taxes collected during 1991 and 1992. The money was left over because the Texas Education Agency allowed only a certain amount to be distributed to each school district under the old funding formula, Fry said. The percentages of distribution of the local funds are determined by the amount of state aid each district will receive for 1993-1994, he said.

The Era ISD will receive just over $60,000, or 20.7 percent. The Gainesville ISD will receive 19.1 percent or about $56,000. The Lindsay ISD will receive 15.75 percent or about $46,000. The Sivel Bend ISD will get 8.5 percent or about $25,000. The Muenster ISD will receive only 2.3 percent of the money, or about $6,600. The Walnut Bend and Callisburg school districts will receive no money, according to the formula.

Still to be determined is the distribution of an estimated $500,000 in uncollected local property taxes for 1991 and 1992, Fry said. That money could be distributed according to a separate formula depending upon information yet to be received by the state, he said.

Literacy skills improve through LIFT program

Texoma Council of Governments has received a grant from the Meadows Foundation of Dallas to implement a family literacy project. The LIFT (Learning Is Fun Together) Program will begin on September 1, 1993, at the Education PLUS Centers in Bonham, Gainesville and Sherman.

Parents and children who need to improve literacy skills will be recruited from each county. Education PLUS will work with the local school districts and other social service agencies to identify participants. Eligible participants include parents who have less than high school literacy skills and K-6th grade children who have below grade level literacy skills. Parents must attend classes with their children.

Alger H. Meadows, with his wife Virginia, created the Meadows Foundation in 1948 to benefit the people of Texas. Born in a small town in Georgia, Meadows built General American Oil Company of Texas into one of the nation's most successful independent oil and gas production companies. This success enabled him to accumulate significant personal wealth which he generously shared with many charitable causes.

Al Meadows often stated that his own life had been greatly enriched by giving, and he established the Meadows Foundation so that his philanthropy would continue after his death, under the guidance and direction of family members and trusted advisors.

For more information about LIFT, call Tom Ellis at (903) 893-4257 or Janie Bates at (903) 786-2955. Outside of Grayson County call toll free 1-800-688-JTPA. Project hours are 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Season memberships available for Butterfield Stage Players

The Butterfield Stage Players (BSP) invite you "To come and listen to the lullaby of Broadway" as they announce that membership sales for their '93-'94 season are now underway. "We are very fortunate to obtain the rights to produce our season selections," BSP Executive Director Lisa Carson comments. "Many have toured through the Metroplex recently, and we're extremely pleased to be able to bring them to our community."

Butterfield Stage will open their season on October 1 with the musical comedy, "Nonsense II." This sequel follows the very successful BSP production of "Nonsense" which opened the theater's '92-'93 season. This time the Little Sisters of Hoboken are back to say thank you with more of their zany "Nonsense".

Also planned for the upcoming season: "Inspection Carol", a delightful comedy where modern politics meet Charles Dickens's timeless Christmas classic with hilarious results; "Lend Me a Tenor", a madcap farce about mistaken identities, missing persons, and musical ambition in 1930's Cleveland; "Lettice and Lovage", a charming tale of an eccentric English spinster full of enchantment, imagination and delight; and "Guys and Dolls", the classic musical fable of Broadway, filled with great songs and even bigger laughs.

"Although a season membership is not required to attend productions, it is perhaps the best way," Carson says. "Membership entitles you to attend to advanced reservations for preferred seating and a great savings over box office prices."

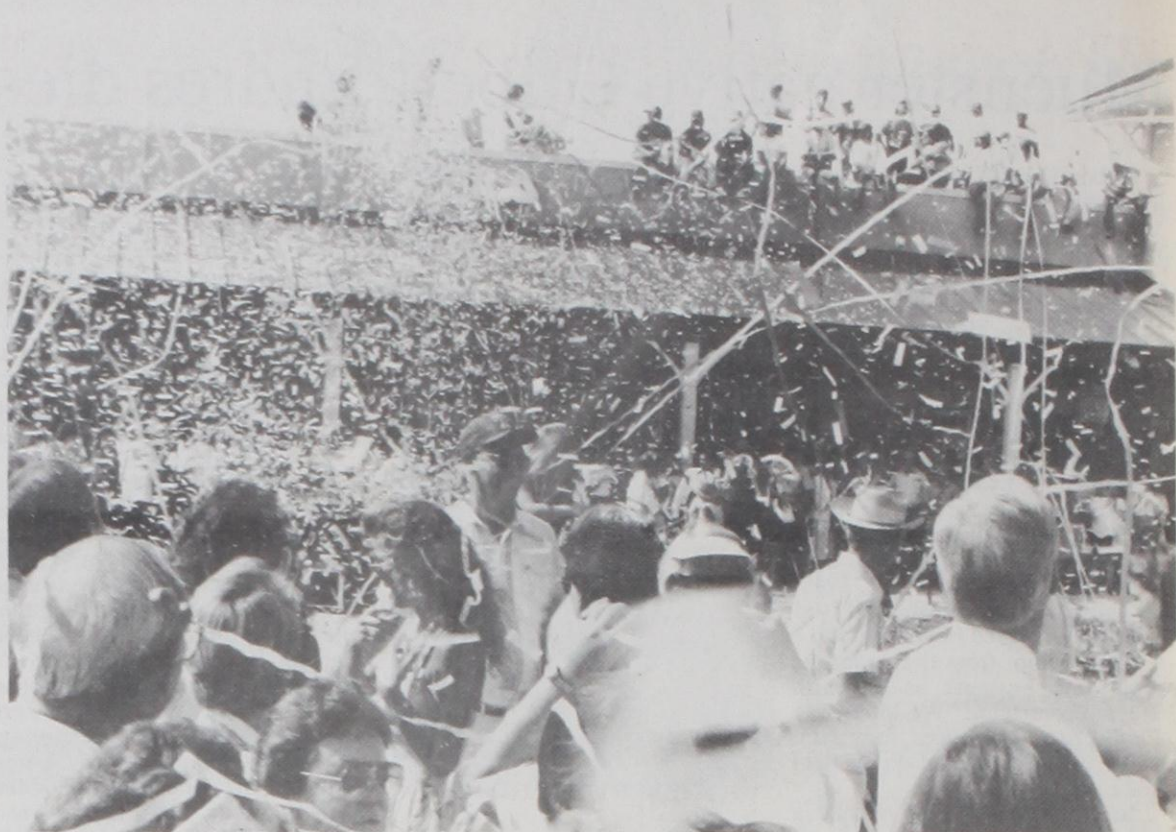

Season brochures will be mailed out during the last week of August, but if you have not been a member before and don't receive one Carson encourages you to call the theatre at (817) 665-8152 and request one. "We're looking forward to welcoming our past patrons back for the new season, as well as, greeting those new members who join us this year," he said.

The theatre box office will begin accepting reservations from season members on September 13 for "Nonsense II", so don't delay purchasing your membership. The laughter and Broadway lullabies await you at Butterfield Stage!

More firsts for Kristin

Monica and Jon LeBrasseur and daughter, Kristin, spent five wonderful days in Escanaba, Michigan from Aug. 14 to Aug. 18, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.J. LeBrasseur. They also spent time with Kristin's great-grandmother, Irene LeBrasseur, and other relatives.

Kristin's special treats were her first Happy Meal at McDonald's, hosted by her Grandfather LeBrasseur, and playing that day in McDonald's Playland, and a special shopping trip with her Grandmother LeBrasseur.

Cooke County College will be able to fund a significant budget increase for 1993-1994 with no tax increase for local taxpayers.
CCC trustees, during their regular August meeting held this week, approved a $10.8 million budget and set the tax rate at 12.9 cents per $100 valuation of property. The budget and tax rate were approved following a public hearing.

The $10.8 million budget is a $1.36 million increase, or 14.5 percent, over the 1992-1993 budget of $9.4 million. Much of the increase has come from the need to add additional teaching positions, open additional new classes, purchase equipment and supplies in order to deal with a dramatic enrollment growth which has taken place in recent years, CCC President Dr. Ronnie Glasscock said.

The 12.9 cent tax rate is divided with 10.7 cents used for maintenance and operation and 2.2 cents for bonded indebtedness. The college will be able to maintain the rate, which is the same as last year, because the college has received additional state funding because of its increase in students enrollment. The college also expects to collect about $36,000 in delinquent taxes to help make up for any shortfall, Glasscock said.

CCC Trustee Alan Ritchey cast a dissenting vote on the budget. Ritchey felt the college should continue to build more reserve funds in order to plan for future growth and any building projects that may be needed. Dr. Glasscock said Ritchey has a valid point, but his personal feeling was that the college was anticipating accumulating reserves totalling $1.1 million by the end of the 1993-1994 budget year, which should keep the college in good shape where reserve funds are concerned for the coming school year.

The new budget will have significant increases in virtually every area due to a 32 percent growth in enrollment. CCC enrollment on all campuses for 1990-1991 was 8,065, an enrollment which grew to 10,684 students for 1992-1993. Because the enrollment growth also contributed to a 34 percent increase in student contact hours, the college will receive a 24.7 percent increase in state revenues amounting to $1.12 million, Glasscock said.

Most of the budget increase will go toward instruction, which constitutes 48.3 percent of the total budget. CCC will add several new faculty positions to accommodate the additional enrollment as well as support and development positions, which will include a counselling position. Also included in the proposed budget is a 2 percent cost-of-living increase for CCC employees, which will cost an estimated $191,900. Glasscock said the CCC average faculty salary is $28,728, compared to a statewide average of $34,896.

In other business, CCC trustees awarded a $15,900 bid to Midwest Bioserve Company for the purchase of 15 microscopes for the biology department. Glasscock said the new microscopes will replace some that are about 20 years old.

In another matter, trustees approved a flurry of hirings and accepted several resignations in getting ready for the new school year. Trustees:
--Accepted the resignations of Linda Dalton and Donna Sauls, both instructors in the associate nursing degree faculty. Also resigning was longtime CCC instructor Joe Ware. Ware, who has spent 28 years in education, is retiring from CCC where he taught machine trades and welding for the past 24 years.
--Approved hiring Glenn Whatley as an instructor in the criminal justice program. Whatley recently resigned as Montague County Sheriff for health reasons and has formerly taught at CCC. Whatley has a criminal justice degree from West Texas State University.
--Hired Teresa Harlow as a paraprofessional instructor in the micro-computer program. Harlow has an accounting degree from Georgia State University and has taught at the University of Alaska.
--Hired George Marques as an instructor in the paramedicine program. Marques has a degree in health care management from Southern Illinois University.

--Hired William Franklin Jr. as an English instructor. Franklin has a masters degree in English from the University of North Texas.
--Hired Patrick Maguire as a speech instructor. Maguire has a masters degree from Southern Illinois University.
--Hired Ronnie L. Cowart as a computer science instructor. Cowart has a masters degree in management information systems from Claremont Graduate School in California.
--Hired Rhett Davy as a sociology instructor. Davy, a native of Australia, has a masters degree in sociology from the University of North Texas.
--Hired Ruth Ellis as an instructor for college preparatory courses. Ellis has a reading degree from Texas Woman's University.
--Hired Kay Moody as a paraprofessional in the Continuing Education Department. Moody has served as secretary to the president at CCC and will resign that position.

Lindsay ISD approves budget

by Elaine Schad

Lindsay school trustees have approved a $1.841 million budget for 1993-1994, about 1.3 percent lower than last year's budget. The budget comes in $24,000 below last year's total budget of $1.865 million. The new budget was approved during the board's regular August meeting this week. This year's budget is somewhat lower because of the added cost to last year's budget for construction projects. The district built a new athletic field, fieldhouse and expanded the seating in the gymnasium last year.

This year's budget will include a state-mandated $1,140 raise for faculty members. The district also included local funds for raises for those faculty members who had already reached the top of their salary scale. The budget includes a 5 percent raise for auxiliary personnel and additional funding for computers that will probably be added at the high school level.

The board hopes to adopt a tax rate of 99.5 cents per $100 valuation of property, the same rate as last year. The proposed rate is expected to generate less revenue than last year since the district's property values dropped by about $1 million, from $49.1 million to $48.4 million for 1993. Trustees are expected to set the tax rate sometime in September.

In other business, the board: -- Heard a report that enrollment for the beginning of the school year was 489 students, with 127 in the high school and 362 at the elementary level.

--Approved early dismissal dates to be used for staff development.

School will be dismissed at 12:09 p.m. on Aug. 27, Sept. 3, Nov. 23, March 11 and April 22.

--Rejected a request from Janie Wilson that the dress code be changed to allow middle school students to wear shorts.

--Approved Sysco Foods to provide cafeteria items for 1993-1994.

--Approved an amended budget for 1992-1993.

--Approved teacher appraisal periods for 1993-94 between Aug. 30 and Dec. 3 and a second period between Jan. 17 and May 12. Principal Jim Anderson will be the main appraiser and Superintendent Gilbert Hermes will be second appraiser.

Toejam musician draws interest for Sept. 19 concert in Sacred Heart Church

Tickets are now on sale for the Tony Melendez Concert on Sunday, Sept. 19 in Sacred Heart Church. Many are buying their tickets early to be assured that they will have a seat at the concert as tickets' sales are limited to 600.

Talented Tony Melendez of Toejam Music holds great interest to many. He overcame the handicap of being born without arms and has taught himself to play a number of musical instruments. These include push button organ, guitar, and harmonica.

Melendez has now performed for the Pope on four separate occasions. The most recent performance for the Pope was at the National Youth Rally in Denver, Colorado.

Also performing at the Sept. 19 concert will be Doug Weisbruch of Weisbruch Ministries. He enjoys fun sing-along type songs, humorous stories of life experiences and songs of personal spiritual growth, struggle, or joy.

Sponsors for the event are Sacred Heart Youth Department, Muenster Knights of Columbus and Muenster

FWF Post #6205. Tickets can be bought at the Muenster Enterprise or at the Sacred Heart Parish business office in the west side of the convent. They are only $2 each and families are encouraged to attend together.

Grandkids/grandparents have "before school starts" vacation

A brief "before school starts" vacation for five grandkids was provided by Alvin and Joanie Hartman for Shannon and Dainah Hartman, children of Bobby and Sharlene Hartman; and Holly, Courtney and Nolan Hartman, children of Ken and Rhonda Hartman, when they were guests of other relatives. On Thursday evening, August 19, they visited the Charles Felderhoffs of Waco and enjoyed swimming in the family's pool.

On Friday they were house guests of Carolyn Hartman in Killeen, joined there by Madonna Hartman Ram6s and her four children, Jordan, Joey, Olivia and Jessica. Swimming in the Ram6s family pool was another special treat.

At noon on Saturday they met Shannon and Dainah's parents at DFW to tell their dad good-bye as he departed on a business trip to Pennsylvania. They all returned Saturday evening.

DID YOU KNOW

The Yearbook staff has announced that the 1992-93 Muenster High Yearbooks have been shipped and are now on the way. Please call Muenster High School for information concerning availability.

Muenster High is proud to announce its participation in the NTEN Program sponsored by Muenster Telephone Company. At this time, Muenster High is delivering a Physics class to nine students of Muenster High, eight students in Era, and two in Forestburg. The students in all three classrooms are connected by use of cameras and microphones. The teacher is able to teach and answer questions from students in all three schools. It is very exciting to be a part of such an innovative educational delivery system, said a Muenster ISD spokesman. They are looking forward to parents visiting the teaching station during the upcoming open house.

Muenster High is also a receiving station for a reading class for junior high students.

Schedule of Meeting

MMH Auxiliary
The Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will meet Thursday, Aug. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the administrator's office.

Love Fund established for Barnhill and Walterscheid

The Social Concerns Committee has opened a Love Fund for the Jimmy Barnhill family. Donations may be added at the Muenster State Bank.

A Love Fund has been established at Muenster State Bank for Carl (Boobie) Walterscheid.

News of the Sick

Earl Fanning is home again, recuperating from triple bypass heart surgery in Presbyterian Hospital of Oklahoma City on July 28. After returning to Muenster and becoming ill again, his cardiologist sent him to Memorial Hospital of Southern Oklahoma in Ardmore on Aug. 12. He was released on Aug. 19. Visitors and phone calls will help the long hours pass more quickly.

Maxine Morris is recuperating at home after a recent surgery. She is a former Muenster resident and the sister of Polly Haverkamp. Polly and Chalky Haverkamp spent time visiting with Maxine this past week. Cards and letters will reach her at 2525 New Orleans Place #147, Dallas, TX 75235.

News from the Public Library

Because of new legislation, the Muenster Public Library is making changes in the circulation procedure. Beginning Sept. 1, each patron will be required to have a borrower's identification card. This card must be presented each time books are checked out. A patron will be identified by an assigned number. Please come in and pick up your card or cards for your family. We ask for your cooperation and patience during the transition.

If you would like to make a donation to cover the cost of the cards and other expenses, you may do so when you pick up your cards.

Tigers dominate Knights in Tue. night scrimmage

Since the Alvord scrimmage last Friday, the Tigers only had one short practice before Tuesday's practice with Notre Dame. "We (Coaches John Nasche and Danny Walterscheid) challenged the players before the scrimmage to execute their minds and play better," said Coach Nasche, "and that's exactly what happened."

Sacred Heart outscored the Knights 3 to 0 touchdowns. "The boys were communicating, playing more as a team and executing their individual jobs as well," continued Nasche.

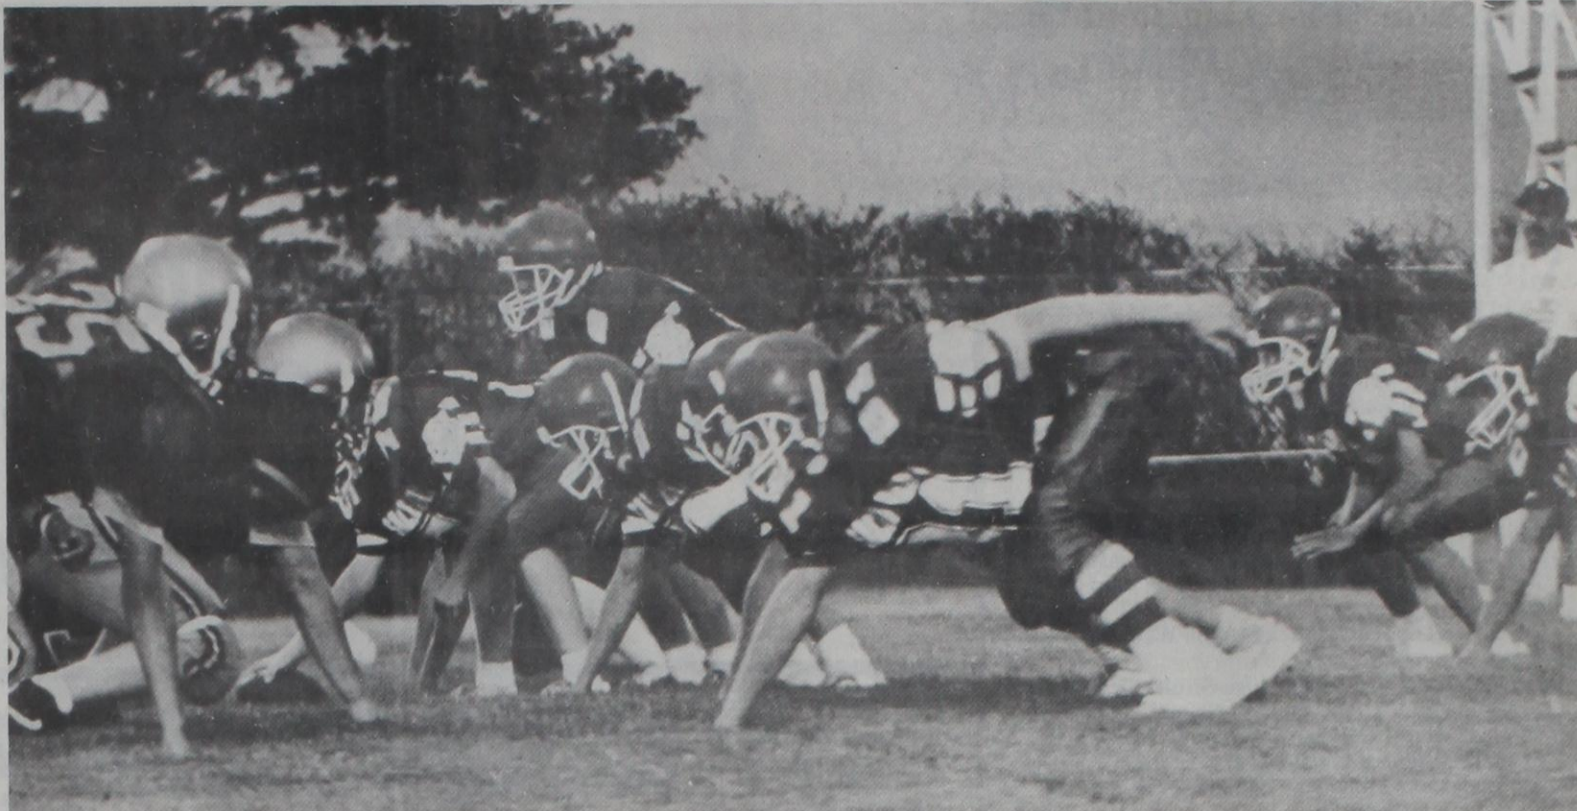

The defense was the Tigers' strength, with improvement from the linebackers and the interior defensive line. The backs also played their best and the defensive pass coverage was excellent, according to Coach Nasche. "Besides two big Notre Dame plays, we pretty well shut them down."

Offensively, the Tigers moved the ball almost at ease. The offensive line had a good performance as did fullbacks Scott Frost and Chris Pagel. The offense was led by quarterback Jason Hess.

"It looks like we're on track for an opening night victory over Era. If we continue to improve, we will have a very successful season with a good shot at a potential state championship," concluded Nasche.

The Tigers host the Era Hornets Friday, Sept. 3, for their season opener. Game time is 8 p.m.

Tigers' first scrimmage proves to be a good test

The Sacred Heart Tigers had their first test of the season at Alvord last Friday night. The tough state-ranked Bulldogs outscored the Tigers 7 touchdowns to none. "All in all, the contest could be considered a success," commented Coach John Nasche. Alvord scored 4 offensive TDs, 2 by the defense and 1 on the junior varsity. "We should have stopped 3, but missed our tackles."

Nasche believes the Tiger defense is starting off better than last year due to 7 returning defensive starters and 4 years under his leadership.

Defensive standouts in the scrimmage were Jason Hess, Toby Hess, Scott Frost and Jeremy Bayer.

On offense, the Tigers missed a lot of opportunities, dropping several passes. "Alvord's speed and luck of the draw kept us out at bay," said Nasche. "We're a little concerned, but it's early and we're confident." Sacred Heart's young offensive line averaged out which is encouraging, considering Alvord's speed and size.

The offensive line of Aaron Berres, Jeremy Bayer, Toby Hess, Mike Schilling and Weldon Bayer continue to improve. Coach Nasche also credited Neil Berres with a good running game.

Football Contest gets underway soon

The Muenster Enterprise will begin its seventh successful season next week, already awarding close to $2,000 in cash prizes.

Beginning in 1987, Craig and Chris Stoffels were the season winners. In '88, Chris Stoffels and Mickey Haverkamp won the contest, with Mickey Haverkamp and Bonnie Stoffels taking top awards in 1989. Terry Walterscheid and Neil Huchton collected the cash in 1990 with Bonnie and Nick Stoffels winning the season in '91. Last year, Peachie Huchton and Mike Stoffels tied for the top awards.

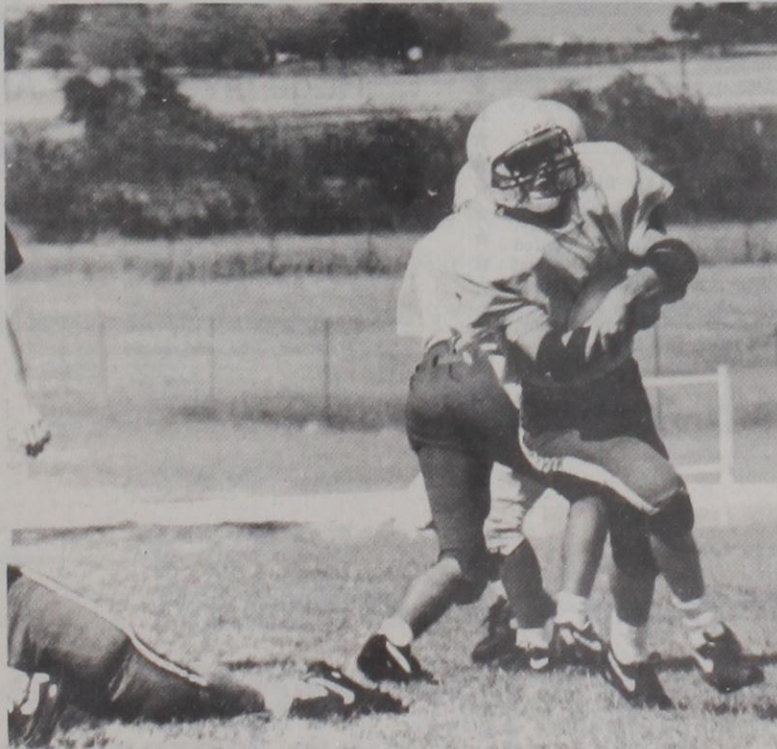

Fifty entries were turned in several different weeks last season, after a slow start in 1987. This year's contest is predicted to be our best and most challenging.

The rules remain the same. Only one entry per person, 12 years or older, must be turned in before 5 p.m. Friday, the week of the publication or postmarked by 5 p.m. Friday. The contest page should be submitted with your predicted winner of a scheduled high school, college or pro game circled on each ad. The tiebreaker game should have the predicted final score written in.

The contest continues as long as either Muenster team remains in play. The grand prize winner will be determined by the best winning percentage throughout the contest after the lowest score is thrown out.

Weekly prizes of $5 and $10 will be awarded, along with the season grand prizes of $100 and $50.

So, be ready to join the fun and win!

TDOT begins program to reduce fire hazards

This week, Governor Ann Richards has received a letter from Acting Regional Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Joe Winkle that firebreaks constructed to protect agricultural lands would not require an EPA permit.

Gov. Richards hailed the decision stating, "The Environmental Protection Agency understands that Texas is facing extreme danger from fires that calls for immediate action. The protection of our land from fires is of great importance."

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry recently urged the Texas Department of Transportation to begin a program of mowing right-of-ways and blading fireguards in response to the current dry conditions in Texas that have turned many areas of the state into fire hazards.

In a letter addressed to Arnold Oliver, executive director of the Texas Department of Transportation, Perry acknowledged TDOT's willingness to reblade existing fireguards. However, under a ruling by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, TDOT has been unable to blade new fireguards, since this would be a violation of federal storm water regulations.

Fire blading removes combustible materials such as dried brush and grasses from an area to create a cleared space.

"I encourage the Texas Department of Transportation to contact the EPA immediately and request relief for an exemption from these rules because of the emergency nature and potentially dangerous situation of the continued dry conditions," Perry said. "The immediate threat to public safety does not give the Department of Transportation the time required to seek the required federal permits."

TDOT's executive director, Arnold Oliver, stated, "We will do everything we can to work to reduce fire hazards in order to prevent dangerous fires from destroying valuable Texas land."

"Rural Texas and agriculture are the backbone of this state. The potential for loss of crops, livestock, homes and human life make it imperative that everyone respond quickly to this situation," Perry said.

Governor Richards praised the efforts of Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry, Senator Bill Sims and the Texas Department of Transportation in helping resolve this threat to Texas agriculture.

Antique Machinery Show provides history lesson

by Elaine Schad

Farm life from the turn of the century will bring back memories for many old-timers while providing a historical perspective to farming for visitors to the 8th annual Antique Machinery Show set for two days of activities Saturday and Sunday (Aug. 28 and 29) at the Tractor Pull Arena in Lindsay.

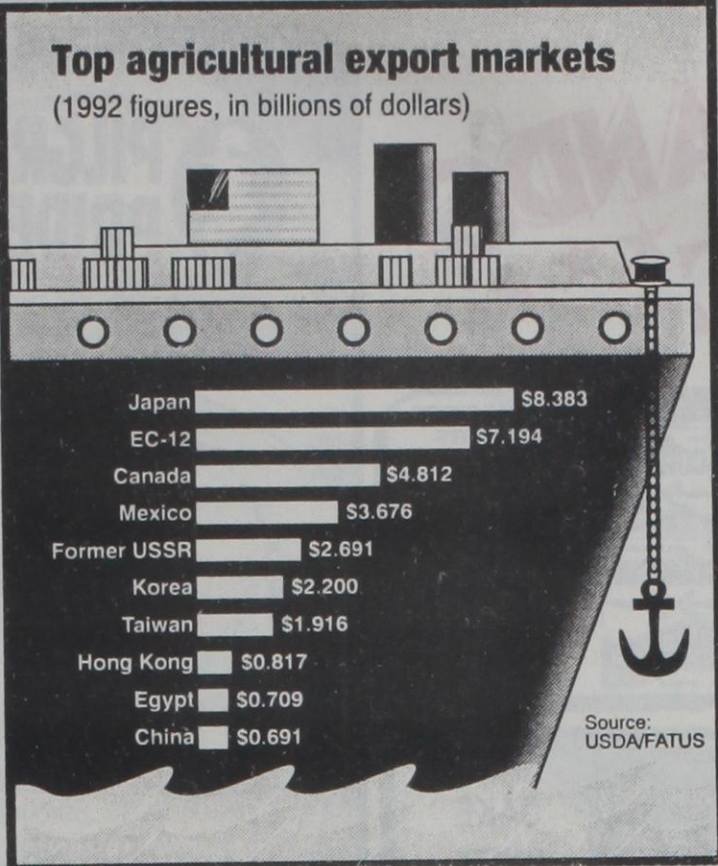

The show will start at 11 a.m. each day. A parade featuring more than 100 antique pieces of farm machinery from the early 1900's through the 1940's will begin at 2 p.m. each day. The tractor pull arena is located four miles west of Gainesville on U. S. 82, then north three miles on Farm-to-Market 1199 north of Lindsay.

Threshing machine demonstrations will be held on both days. The threshing of the wheat was one of the high points of the harvest year during the early 1900's.

Other antique machinery demonstrations are also set during the show, including mule-drawn hay baling, small engine displays, corn grinding in a grist mill and old-time plowing. There will also be horse-drawn equipment, a draft horse demonstration, antique tool display and steam tractors. For those with a competitive spirit, some of those owning and displaying their antique pieces will participate in tractor races. There will be a kiddie pedal pull for the younger in spirit, said organizers. Lunch and refreshments will be available and there will be arts and crafts.

Show admission is $3 for adults with children under 12 admitted free. Barbecue sandwiches and other concessions will be available. For more information, call (817) 665-6806 or (817) 668-7861.

TSCRA News Briefs...

- President Clinton wants to help farm families and other operators, according to Knight-Ridder Financial News. The administration is reviewing ways to encourage more farming in the United States by families and other small operators. Although Clinton did not provide any details, he says the issue could be considered in the 1995 Farm Bill.
- The fire ant quarantine has been extended to include Brown, Maverick, Midland, Jones, Kimble, LaSalle, Palo Pinto, Stephens, Val Verde and all parts of Ector and Montague counties, effective August 9, 1993. Any load capable of containing ants (mainly soil, but including hay stored on the ground) must be inspected and certified as fire ant free by a Texas Department of Agriculture inspector before leaving the 147-county quarantine area. For more information, call TDA at (512) 463-7583.
- Farm real estate value in the United States rose slightly more than 2% per acre during 1992. This marks the sixth consecutive increase since declines ended in 1987, the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service says. The value of farmland and buildings in the nation averaged $700 per acre as of Jan. 1, 1993, 17% more than the 1980's low of $599 in 1987, but 15% less than the record of $823 in 1982. Average value per acre in Oklahoma as of Jan. 1, 1993 was $512, 4% more than the 1992 average of $494.

- Beef is compatible with a diet designed to reduce high blood cholesterol, according to a recent report by the National Cholesterol Cattleman's Association said. Compiled by an expert panel on detection, evaluation and treatment of high blood cholesterol in adults, the report suggests including beef as a "rich source of protein, zinc, and absorbable iron."

USDA planning to charge border inspection fees

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is planning to charge border inspection fees on animals, animal products and plants entering or leaving the United States, according to Knight-Ridder Financial News.

Under the new proposal, USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service will be able to charge for such activities as inspections carried out on animals and plants at points of entry to the United States from Mexico and Canada, and on arrival at US ports from elsewhere.

It will also be entitled to charge fees to inspect the premises of companies importing animals, animal products, or biological materials, as well as charge for approving slaughter houses.

USDA says the proposal was published July 22 in the Federal Register.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Shortly producers will be starting control measures for pecan weevils. In managing pecan weevils there are two important points: 1) monitoring kernel development and 2) monitoring adult emergence from the soil.

Pecan weevil damage comes from the feeding of the larvae inside the nut. Female adult pecan weevils lay their eggs on pecans that are in the gel stage or later. The egg hatches within the nut and the larvae develop and feed on the pecan meat. At maturity they bore a hole in the shell and drop to the ground where they remain in the soil for two years. Good management that produces a good pecan crop each year favors pecan weevil development. A female pecan weevil can lay eggs and infest about 20 pecans per tree.

In pecan weevil control we have a goal to prevent egg laying. Adult emergence usually begins about August 18-22 and continues through mid September. A rain will help the emergence of the pecan weevil. Hard soils due to drought generally will delay the weevil emerging. Following a rain toward the end of August or first of September, weevils usually emerge and begin to migrate to the trunks of pecan trees in about three days.

To begin a spray schedule, remember the two conditions we earlier stated, these being kernel development and adult emergence. Check your pecans to be sure they are in the gel stage or later. This is easily done by just cutting into the pecan and observing the stage of kernel development. If water is present, the weevil eggs will not develop. Traps are a good method to check for weevils emerging from the soil. Other methods also can be used and include: observing and shaking the tree to dislodge weevils onto a tarp.

Two methods of control include: 1) assume weevils are present and in the gel stage and spray with an approved insecticide every eight to 11 days for three applications or 2) monitor your weevils with traps, limb shaking or other method and use a knock down spray when weevils are present. The trapping method is the best in that it tells you if adults have emerged and when they are present.

Always be sure to follow label instructions when applying any approved insecticide. For a list of insecticides for pecan weevil control, contact the County Extension office.

Audubon Society attacks property rights in film

A National Audubon Society film focusing on the impact of Wise Use movement on the environment and the effects of county ordinances restricting the enforcement of federal environmental laws was aired on WTBS, Atlanta, Aug. 8, according to the National Cattleman's Association.

"Backlash in the Wild" was produced by Audubon staff member Chris Palmer who also produced "New Range Wars" which criticized grazing on federal lands.

At a premier showing of the film, Audubon President Peter A. A. Berle said, "We reject the idea of property rights." Putting People First reports.

Funding for previous Audubon specials had been supplied by General Electric; however the company's $3 million grant has been removed. Ted Turner, WTBS owner, is now funding the film.

A pro-cattle business film, "Western Ranching: Culture in Crisis," is available to show to civic groups, schools, or at fairs. For a copy, send $19.95 to: Summit Films, Box 420, Gypsum, CO., 81637.
