MMH celebrates "30 years of caring"

The Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary would like to invite the public to join in the celebration of the Muenster Memorial Hospital's 30th anniversary.

The celebration begins with an Open House on Sunday, March 6, in the lobby of the Hospital from 9 to 11 a.m. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited to come and meet the doctors on staff. The Hospital would especially like to invite the public to meet Director Linda Grewing of the newly-established Muenster Memorial Home Care and her staff.

Following the Open House, the Auxiliary would like to invite the public to join the doctors in a golf tournament, along with the Muenster Golf Association's regular monthly tournament at Turtle Hill Golf Course. The tournament fee is $4.00, along with the regular cart and green fees, and will begin at 1:00 in the afternoon. Mary Endres asks that interested golfers please call Turtle Hill Golf Course, 759-4896, to reserve your spot in the tournament.

To help celebrate the 30th anniversary, the Auxiliary has sponsored a poster contest. All posters will be displayed in the hospital. Prizes will be awarded at 9:30 a.m. Forms have been given to students K-12 at Muenster Public School and Sacred Heart School. However, the contest is open to all area students who wish to participate. Any student who did not receive a form may pick one up at the Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Please join in our celebration of "30 Years of Caring."

Early voting light for March 8 Primary despite interest

by Elaine Schad

Early voting for the March 8 Republican and Democratic primaries will continue through 5 p.m. Friday, March 4, at the county clerk's office, located on the second floor of the Courthouse. The last day that the county clerk's office will receive a ballot by mail will be on the day of the election.

After a week of early voting, only 161 people have cast ballots, according to Evelyn Walterscheid, assistant county clerk. Of that total, 18 cast ballots in the Republican Primary and 143 cast ballots in the Democratic primary election. Walterscheid said the total of votes cast so far is very low, despite the fact that the number of registered voters has increased. Voting on March 8 will be held at various locations throughout the county.

Interest is high in the Democratic Primary, where a large number of local races are being contested. Incumbent Bobbie Calhoun is being challenged by Doris Bryant for District Clerk; incumbent Janet Johnson is being opposed by Rae Freeman for County Treasurer; J. W. "Dub" Caraway is challenging incumbent Kenneth Alexander for Precinct 2 County Commissioners. A host of challengers are vying for the Precinct 1, Place 2 Justice of the Peace seat where there is no incumbent. The list includes Richard "Rick" Timmis, Mary Pickle, Billie Ferrell, Samuel Mason Winters, George Erwin and Connie Mazingo Welch. Democratic candidates without challengers in the primary include incumbent County Judge Ray Russell, incumbent Precinct 4 Commissioner

Virgil J. Hess, Justice of the Peace Precinct 4 Royce D. Martin, Democratic Chairman Bill Sullivant, and County Surveyor Delbert West.

There will be no contested races on the local level for the March 8 Republican Primary, where Paul F. Hesse is running for County Judge; Patricia Ann Payne for District Clerk; Richard Brown for County Commissioner Precinct 2; Dorothy Lewis for Justice of the Peace, precinct 1, place 2; Pat Peale for Republican County Chairman; and Robin Hacker for Justice of the Peace, precinct 4.

Among statewide races, voters will pick candidates for governor, the U. S. Senate, state treasurer, attorney general, comptroller, land commissioner, agriculture commissioner, and a host of U. S. Representative seats as well as judgeships and members to the state board of education.

Forestburg VFD hosts BBQ Dinner Feb. 26

The Forestburg Volunteer Fire/EMS Department is holding their annual Barbecue Dinner fundraiser Saturday, Feb. 26, at the Forestburg Community Center. Dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. The menu will include barbecue brisket, cole slaw, potato salad, beans, bread and drinks. Cost for the meal will be $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for kids 12 and under. Tickets for door prize drawings will be given with each paid admission.

After the dinner, Forestburg EMS ECA Ran Greenead will host a Pie Auction. Everyone who attends the dinner is asked to bring a dessert (pie, cake, cookies, etc.), which will be auctioned to the highest bidder. Last year's Pie Auction was a great success, and helped the FVFD raise over $5,000. Communications equipment and bunker gear were purchased with a portion of these funds.

It's been a busy year for the Forestburg Volunteer Fire/EMS Department, with personnel responding to numerous emergency calls in the southeast quadrant of Montague County. The First Responder Ambulance has been activated, and is now responding to EMS calls. Two new ECAs, Nancy Trayler and Debbie Cates, and EMT Amy Hatcher have joined the staff.

Plans for the coming year include the installation of warning sirens at the Fire Station to alert area citizens of weather and other emergencies. Fire Department personnel also plan to begin upgrading their firefighting equipment, and hope to purchase an additional tank truck. Two of the tank trucks currently in operation are over 30 years old. In addition to these improvement goals, funds raised at the Barbecue Dinner will be used to cover the Fire/EMS Department's operating, supply and training expenses.

Each member of the Forestburg Volunteer Fire/EMS Department appreciates the support and words of encouragement they've received over the past year, and looks forward to serving a big crowd at this year's annual fundraiser.

New way to watch TV introduced

This spring, the face of satellite television will change forever. That's when North Texas Communications and DirecTV start bringing entertainment, cable and specialty programming directly to consumer homes over an 18-inch dish antenna.

Beginning in April 1994, the Hughes Communications HS601 satellite, dubbed DBS-1, will beam approximately 70 channels of digital television into homes across the country using an 18-inch satellite dish being manufactured by Thomson Consumer Electronics, makers of RCA-brand products. The service, known as DirecTV, will expand to approximately 150 channels when DBS-1 is joined by a sister satellite, currently scheduled to be launched in the summer of 1994.

Gene Fuhrman, Assistant Manager of North Texas Communications, says, "DirecTV will assure low-cost access, but also deliver Super-VHS quality video and compact disc quality audio to consumers." "Other companies may provide 18-inch digital dish service in the future," he adds, "but none is on the horizon and none appears to offer the substantial benefits of DirecTV."

Through the DirecTV service being offered through North Texas Communications, you will be able to watch 24-hour news, sports, music videos, movies - everything you would find on cable or other satellite programming, but with an amazing twist. DirecTV will allow you to choose from a broad selection of programming through an on-screen menu. Just point the state-of-the-art remote control at the screen, make your selection and - presto! - sharp, clear, high-quality TV from a fixed 18-inch satellite dish.

Time magazine recently referred to these exciting developments as a "communicopia" of entertainment, information and interactive services that will funnel into our homes. What better place than yours to have a satellite system that takes up only 18 inches of your patio or window sill instead of 10 feet of your back yard?

More than 16 major cable programmers have signed on to provide the first of as many as 150 entertainment channels through DirecTV. They include The Disney Channel, Cable News Network, CNN Headline News, TNT, Superstation TBS, TNN; The Nashville Network, CMT; Country Music Television, USA Network, The Discovery Channel, The Family Channel, The Cartoon Network, C-SPAN, C-SPAN 2, The Learning Channel, The Sci-Fi Channel, E! Entertainment Television, and many more. In addition, DirecTV will offer more than 50 channels of pay-per-view programming - including hit movies, sporting events and specials from companies such as Sony Pictures, Paramount Pictures, Universal Pictures and the Turner/MGM Library - all at the touch of a button.

Mr. Fuhrman cautions that some consumers might be led to believe that the 18-inch dish and receiving system are distant realities by some large dish, door-to-door or direct sales vendors. Consumers should look closely before signing contracts or buying so-called "small dish" systems. Mr. Fuhrman offers the following points:

* If the service is already transmitting programming, it is not DirecTV. DirecTV is set to begin service in the spring of 1994.

* If the dish is larger than 18 inches, it is not true direct broadcast television, or DirecTV.

* If the dish and signal receiver (including the remote control and box that connects to your television set) cost more than $1,000, the system is probably the larger C-Band service. Anything more costly is not DirecTV.

* If the dish must be moved or adjusted after the initial installation, it is not a digital receiving dish or DirecTV. The special Digital Satellite System (DSS) to be manufactured by RCA/Thomson Consumer Electronics, is designed for the dish to be aimed at the southern sky and never moved again. This is a big improvement over current big and small dish systems which require constant turning and readjustment. "While not all consumers will want to install the DSS system themselves, many will and can, because of the consumer friendly nature of DirecTV," says Mr. Fuhrman. Other types of systems require professional installation.

The digital receiving system, 18-inch dish, decoder box and remote control are expected to be priced attractively, with costs starting at $700. Once installed, the dish will never have to be moved or adjusted. Monthly subscription fees for DirecTV will be very competitive with cable TV.

DirecTV is being offered by North Texas Communications, 205 N. Walnut, Muenster, 817-736-2255 and also in Gainesville at 2200 E. Hwy. 82, 817-665-3347.

DirecTV is a revolutionary new service that will dramatically change the way you watch television.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
On March 8, the voters of Muenster will have the opportunity to vote for a man that will truly make a positive difference in our community, Cooke County and the State of Texas. His name is Doyle High and he is running as a Republican for the State Senate District 30.

Doyle is a pharmacist by profession and has successfully operated his own pharmacy in Haskell since 1970. However, Doyle's deeper roots are in the land, having grown up on a family farm in Walters, Oklahoma.

From the time he was a boy growing up on that farm, Doyle has believed in the American dream and has worked hard to achieve it. Over the years, Doyle has begun giving back, first to his community and profession and now, with your vote, to the broader community, District 30.

Nancy and I have known Doyle and his wife, Roberta, for a number of years and firmly believe that their experience, dedication and integrity will serve the voters of Muenster and Cooke County well. We wholeheartedly endorse the candidacy of Doyle High to the Texas Senate District 30.

Thank you,
Claude and Nancy Walter

Dear Editor:

Allowing criminals back on the streets after being convicted of a crime is cause for alarm by all law-abiding citizens. While there are reasons that justify the release for some, there are those in the appellate system who extend interpretation of the law to rather far-reaching dimensions.

To prevent abuse to the criminal justice system, we must keep emphasis on the election of Texas Court of Criminal Appeals judges who maintain a high profile of justice for all.

Judge Mike McCormick is the only candidate for Presiding Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals who brings 13 years of proven leadership and administrative experience to the Court. He has been presiding judge for six of those years, carrying a full case load in addition to handling all the administrative duties necessary to operate under tight budget restraints in a businesslike, efficient manner.

He is a recognized leader in the fight for "victim's rights," and his decisions are based on facts of the law, not on interpretations that give way to possibilities and "ifs." Add to that experience, integrity, leadership and independence. The bottom line shows Judge McCormick as the only choice for Presiding Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

As an executive for a large statewide trade association, I understand the need for voters to know more about candidates; and, as a citizen who is concerned about the proliferation of crime, I must recommend Judge Mike McCormick be re-elected on March 8, enabling him to continue his dedicated judicial service on behalf of all law-abiding citizens.

Respectfully,
E. Kenneth Tooley

Tax Talk

by: Duane Knabe, CPA

This week's topic is elections permitted by tax laws. The federal income tax laws contain many provisions that provide individual taxpayers with the opportunity to elect a particular tax benefit or result. These elections allow taxpayers the option of treating a transaction in one of two ways and often afford a means of reducing personal income taxes. Generally, these elections must be made on or before the due date of the income tax return for the year in which a particular transaction occurs and are irrevocable after this date. Most elections are made by attaching a statement or form to the return.

"Civic Outlook"

by Mayor Bill Miller

Most of us will never become notorious or do great things, but all of us can do small things in a great way.

Life is full of little problems to solve and things to accomplish each day of our life. There is no exception, even at City Hall. It is time to look into a problem that the city has with the 100,000-gallon water storage tank on North Main Street. It is rusted through in some places due to being left empty for a number of years.

It has been suggested that we cut it up and salvage it for scrap iron. As a last resort before taking it down, City Administrator Chris Yosten and myself decided to meet with a fiberglass technician to determine if a suitable liner could be added to save the tank. We will know the answer next month.

This tank was taken out of service when the water from Well No. 2 turned to hard water containing a high content of iron. Well No. 3 was drilled nearby to replace Well No. 2. The water from Well No. 3 soon turned to hard water also and often pumped sand during times of peak usage. The water from this well is now being purchased solely for watering the public school athletic fields.

All of the city's wells for fresh water supply are drilled into the Trinity Sand formation. The Trinity Sand formation channel runs southeasterly through Muenster. From experience, we know that any future wells will need to be drilled to the south and east of town, to obtain the best supply of fresh water for the volume that we need to pump each day.

We have four other wells in service at the present time.

The well behind the bank, the one by the lake gardens, and the last well drilled, No. 6, located southeast of town, are excellent wells.

If the storage tank can be restored, we will re-route the main line to bypass hard water Well No. 3. The added storage of this tank would give a little boost to the water pressure on the north side of town.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the public schools are an important and integral part of our society; and WHEREAS, the concept of a free and equal education is and American tradition and this country's strength; and WHEREAS, the students of today are the leaders of tomorrow; and WHEREAS, all citizens have a responsibility to support the public schools;

I, Steve Cooper, Superintendent of Muenster Public School, do hereby proclaim February 28 - March 4, 1994, as Texas Public Schools Week and urge all citizens to make a commitment to public education and to the future of Muenster, Texas, children by visiting their local public schools and by donating their time and talents to help make public schools even better.

Williamson endorsed by Law Enforcement Assn.

State Representative Ric Williamson (R - Weatherford) has received the endorsement of the 16,000-plus members of the Combined Law Enforcement Association of Texas (CLEAT). In making the endorsement, the State President Ronald G. DeLord stated, "The association takes great pride in the types of candidates that it endorses for state office. The commitment of Representative Williamson to the goals of working police officers and deputies made Representative Williamson the clear choice of our membership."

Upon being notified of the endorsement, Representative Williamson said, "I have always felt that I represented law enforcement and those individuals involved in protecting the citizens of District 61 and the State of Texas. Their contributions are many and often overlooked. I am pleased to accept this endorsement and will continue to support the goals and objectives of the law enforcement community."

Representative Williamson has been a member of the Texas Legislature since 1985. During that time he has received numerous recognitions including 1987 The Dallas Morning News "Seven Best Legislators" and 1989 Dallas Morning News "Ten Most Effective Legislators". In 1989 and again in 1991, Texas Monthly Magazine recognized Representative Williamson as one "Ten Best Texas Legislators." In 1989 the Representative was recognized by the Texas Youth Commission as "Outstanding State Representative." In 1992 the Texas Chamber of Commerce presented the Representative with the "1992 Leadership Award".

Memories of 1941-44
50 Years Ago in WWII

Muenster residents, not unlike other Americans in 1941-1944, experienced the same fears, loneliness and crushing losses, overshadowed by the blessings of pride and patriotism.

Pride, patriotism and prayer came as healing graces to uplift and guide families and their young men.

In respectful memory, and in observance of the 50th anniversary, 1944-1994, we are requesting stories from relatives to be included in a special feature to be printed in The Muenster Enterprise. This week, we are privileged to have an article submitted by the youngest sister of Robert Weinzapfel, Muenster's and Cooke County's first casualty in WWII. We appeal for more responses in succeeding weeks, from parents or brothers or sister or friends, to honor the young men who served.

Elfreda Fette

by Mary E. (Weinzapfel) Birden

December 9, 1941: Somewhere in the Pacific Ocean near the Midway Islands, Lieutenant Robert J. Weinzapfel, US Navy, went down with his plane off the Carrier US Lexington.

Sunday, December 23, 1941, Muenster, Texas: The Weinzapfel family stops at the Post Office after church to see if there is a letter from Robert, their oldest son and brother.

Papa hurries back to the car waving the familiar envelope. Eagerly, the family waits while he opens the letter to read: "Dear Mr. and Mrs. Weinzapfel, By now you have heard of the death of your son ..." The family sat in stunned silence - in shock. Robert was the first casualty from Cooke County in the war.

Two years old and the youngest of eight children, the family spoiled and protected me from the horrors of the war. One of the few recollections I have of World War II is the families of servicemen from nearby Camp Howze who lived with us. Of course, I don't remember Robert at all. Mother and Dad pulled their lives back together using their fortitude and strong faith. They had seven other children from age two to twenty-two. The family proudly displayed Robert's portrait and spoke of him only with great love and tremendous pride. Growing up, the stories the family told about this brave young pilot totally fascinated me.

Later, I learned that Robert's shipmates packed and sent home his personal things. These included his diary, motion picture film, camera, and his precious cowboy boots. The crew had tucked the undeveloped film into the toes of his boots, hidden by his socks, so that it would not be confiscated.

During the years following the war, the pain of loss eased for my family. Mother once told me that someday she would let me read Robert's diaries. However, life went on. I went away to school, married, had a family, started a career and hid the diaries away in my mind.

Mother died in 1980 at the age of 87. Dad, now almost blind, still lived in the old family home. In the summer of 1988, I needed to find my college diploma. Papa helped me look for it, when we came across the many letters Robert had written to the family after he went away to boarding school, then college, and later to flight school. (Mama and Papa saved everything from all of the children when we wrote home.) Together we sat down to share these mementos. I read while Papa listened. This was my first real introduction to the brother I never knew. He composed intriguing letters. Robert told of his hopes and fears, his friends, activities, school, teachers and his tremendous faith in God. It was then that I became completely absorbed with the need to become acquainted with this timeless young man who never grew old.

The next year, as a project, I gathered all of the old motion picture films stored in the cellar under the house. After many hours of watching and editing these home movies, I had them put on video. They began with the film Robert had made before his death. Papa, and all of us through the years, continued to use the camera until 1968. Each of my brothers and sisters now possess a copy of this family history no longer stored away in the cellar.

About 1990, I finally came across Robert's diaries. Curious, I sat down on the floor in a corner of Papa's study to read them. However, I felt like an intruder into Robert's reflections. I found it difficult to read such personal thoughts and soon found myself compelled to turn to the last few days of his life. He wrote how anxious he was to fly scouting missions. He told of the ship receiving news about the attack on Pearl Harbor. Even though the men thought it was only a small skirmish, they worried about the safety of their families back at Pearl. He spoke of a friend whose plane did not return to the carrier from a scouting mission. The men knew the crew of the plane was in a life raft floating somewhere in the Pacific and the ship could not go to help them.

In the entry that struck me as most significant, he wrote his thoughts about having to shoot down Japanese pilots. Although they were the enemy, they were young men like himself doing their duty. He wrote of his prayers to the Blessed Virgin Mary, hoping he was doing the right thing and would do it well.

That same day, I also came across his flight log. I made copies of his last two entries of his diary and his log that told that he would fly a scouting mission on December 9. This material I shared with my brothers and sisters and made copies for my three sons.

In the summer of 1992, in going through Papa's accumulated treasures, we found Robert's baby book and a special letter he had written to my parents when he graduated from college. My oldest sister gratefully accepted the baby book. She still considers Robert her best friend in their growing-up years.

On December 9, 1991, the family gathered at Papa's home to remember Robert on the fiftieth anniversary of his death. At this memorable occasion, my older brothers and sisters shared many anecdotes about Robert and all the family. No one shed tears as Robert left only a joyous legacy for all of us.

Now at last, some fifty years later, I have finally become acquainted with the brother who had unknowingly influenced my life. I feel that we, too, would have been the best of friends.

This next was noted in the Centennial History of Muenster, page 237, by Juanita (Weinzapfel) Bright: "In the early morning hours of Dec. 9, 1941, my mother awoke with a start. Frantically, shaking my dad, she said, 'Papa, Papa, something's happened to Robert!' Still in a sleepy fog, Papa tried to soothe her, saying, 'Robert's all right. You're just in a state of war hysteria. Now go back to sleep and stop worrying!' But she insisted: 'No, I know something has happened to him! I saw his plane crash in the ocean and he called out to me. I know something has happened!' A little annoyed, but sympathetic, Papa asked, 'Well, what time is it? We probably ought to be getting ready to go to Mass anyway.' They looked at the clock and noted it was a little after 6:30 a.m.

On Dec. 23, 1941, a letter arrived from one of Robert's friends. It began: "Dear Mr. and Mrs. Weinzapfel, By now you have heard of the death of your son ..."

Months later, official notification of death arrived: Ensign Robert John Henry Weinzapfel crashed in the Pacific near Johnston Island on Dec. 9, 1941 at 12:36 p.m., the exact time Mama heard his call.

JANET JOHNSON

Cooke County Treasurer Janet Johnson was awarded the Texas Association of Counties (TAC) County Investment Officer Level I Certification on January 20.

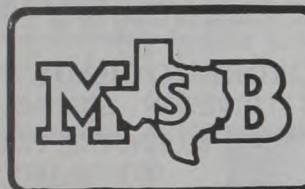

Johnson was honored for passing a comprehensive exam covering management of county investments after attending six monthly investment classes.

The course incorporates home study, classroom lecture (including computer training if needed) and field trips to various financial institutions such as commercial banks, the Federal Reserve Bank and broker/dealer firms. Level I concentrates on the provisions of the law relating to investment of public funds.

TAC first offered this program in 1992 in response to requests from county treasurers wanting to learn how to increase their counties' rates of return. Participants are concerned that declining interest rates will translate into higher taxes for their constituents -- something they hope to avoid by learning more about capital markets. The goal is to make the most of the taxpayers' dollars to avoid cutting services or raising taxes.

Johnson is one of only 41 people to complete the objectives for the CIO certification in 1993. The graduates are now eligible to begin the Level II course, where curriculum will include information about investment and operational techniques.

Paul F. Hesse

Paul F. Hesse has filed as a Republican candidate in the March 8 Primary for election to the office of County Judge. The seat is currently held by Democrat Ray Russell.

Hesse has a strong desire to participate in Cooke County government and believes that his wide and varied experience as an employee in both business and government together with his common sense and education qualify him to be County Judge.

A native of Muenster, Hesse has maintained his roots in Cooke County while serving four years in the U.S. Navy and while employed for over 30 years in the operation and development of Computer Application Systems for Business and Government. During his military service and his employment, he gained valuable experience in personnel supervision, budgeting and project management. Hesse earned a Bachelor's degree in Commerce from the University of Maryland in 1973 while employed with the Army and Air Force Exchange Service in Germany. Since 1991, he has been self-employed in ranching, rental property management and computer contract work.

Hesse said he is entering the campaign to give the voters of Cooke County a choice and to provide professional service to the taxpayers in cost control, balancing the budget and holding down taxes. "We need to preserve and protect the two-party system in order to provide healthy competition and to present a wider view of the political spectrum to the voters," Hesse said.

"When in office, my main theme of concentration will be the welfare of the people of Cooke County with the twin goals of economic development and social development in mind. I am sure that we can make great progress in these areas. I will make every effort to balance the county's budget," Hesse said. To accomplish this, he plans to work closely with the commissioners and other elected officials together with the business leaders and officials of the cities and communities in the county. "The objectives will be: to broaden the tax base, to hold down spending, to cut waste and to hold the line on the tax rate. I believe we can put some money back into the economy of Cooke County. Instead of maintaining the status quo, we must invest in the future," Hesse said.

Hesse and his wife Dorothy reside on their property west of Muenster. They are members of Sacred Heart Parish and are actively involved in parish and other local organizations. Hesse is Commander of the Muenster Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6205 and is Secretary-Treasurer of the Cooke County Pro-Life Group.

Doris Bryant

I, Doris Bryant, have filed for the office of District Clerk of Cooke County. The election will be held on March 8, 1994.

I have been married for seven years to Roy E. Bryant. Roy is employed by Santa Fe Railroad. I have one son, Jeff, who is a Deputy for the Fannin County Sheriff's Department.

I have attended East Texas State University, Grayson County College and Cooke County College.

I worked seven years for the Department of Public Welfare, now known as Human Services. Three of those years were with the Investigation Division in Dallas. I have been a legal secretary/paralegal for 17 years, starting my career in Grayson County in 1977. I have worked with all types of cases, such as Family Law, Child Support, Criminal Law, Civil Litigation, Wills and Probate.

DORIS BRYANT

I have also, worked with all offices located in the Courthouse, being the County and District Clerks; County and District Judges; J.P.s and tax offices. I have also worked with City and County law enforcement agencies.

I am a past President of the North Texas Paralegal Association for two years and finished out a term as Secretary-Treasurer.

I believe I am duly qualified for the office of District Clerk based on my past working experience. I believe now is the time for a change in the office of District Clerk. I will be dedicated, efficient and expedient in the operation of the office of District Clerk, if I am elected.

Elect Doris Bryant as District Clerk of Cooke County

DORIS BRYANT

- Qualified
- Dedicated
- Leadership Abilities
- Willing to Work for the People of Cooke County

Voters of Cooke County, now is your chance to be heard. This is the first time since 1978 you have had a choice for your District Clerk.

Lindsay ISD sets May 7 election date

by Elaine Schad

Lindsay school trustees set a May 7 election date during their regular February meeting this week.

The three-year terms of board members Joe Odell and Carol Fuhrmann will expire. Those interested in filing may contact the administration office. The board appointed Evelyn Fuhrmann as election judge. Early voting clerks will be Tom Fluker and Marilyn Cox. The board also set a May 21 runoff date if needed.

About 40 people attended the meeting requesting that changes be made in the cheerleading program. The board approved the expansion of the program from six to eight cheerleaders, the addition of a mascot, and authorized letters for those who have been eligible members of the pep club for at least three years.

Trustees heard a report from Troy Edes on revising the district's technology plan. The plan calls for placing at least one computer in every classroom, computerizing the library, and purchasing new computers for the high school computer lab.

In other business, the board: --Reported that March 31 and April 4 will be used as regular class days to make up for the bad weather days in February.

--Heard a report from the site-based management committee.

--Authorized bids for the purchase of a new bus. --Reported on the district's football and basketball UIL realignments.

February is Dental Health Month

Texas health officials remind us that only a few years ago, most people thought of dental checkups in terms of misery and expense. Times have changed.

"The questions 50 years ago seldom was whether a dental patient had tooth decay, but which childhood problems would lead to adult tooth loss oral disease. Dentures were considered almost inevitable as people aged," according to Dr. David R. Smith, Texas Commissioner of Health.

During February, the 45th National Dental Health Month, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) urges Texans to benefit from modern dentistry, to catch up on checkups and correct dental problems early for better health throughout life.

To prevent and treat dental disease in communities throughout Texas, TDH offers fluoridation assistance to communities, dental sealants for children's permanent teeth, dental care instruction for both children and adults, and emergency dental care for low-income clients. These services are available in public health clinics, mobile and portable clinics, and at private dentists' offices by contract with TDH.

Dr. Smith said, "Modern dental health programs, especially fluoridation of drinking water, and new dental technologies have made better dental health possible for more than a generation of Texans. And although that is good news, it also may be leading some to take less care of their dental health."

Therefore, Dr. Smith offers the following reminders:

* Next to the common cold, tooth decay remains the most prevalent disease in the U.S., although one-third of all children between 5 and 17 years old are cavity-free.

* Bleeding gums can be a sign of gum disease and should be treated by a dentist.

* Dental problems are NOT inevitable with aging, but usually are the results of neglect. Also, people who already have dentures should be mindful that the mouth is constantly changing, and denture treatment is not a one-time transaction. Denture wearers should continue daily oral care and regular checkups.

* Largely because of dental sealants - hard plastic coatings applied to teeth by dentists - it is possible for many children to reach adulthood without tooth decay. A recent study found that 15 years after just one application of sealants, children had 50 percent less tooth decay and fewer fillings than did children without sealants.

* Fluoridated water is the most efficient and effective public source of fluoride. Seventy-five percent of Texans drink fluoridated water.

* Some 30,000 cases of oral cancer, including more than 8,000 deaths from the disease, are diagnosed annually in the U.S. Early detection during routine dental checkups is vital to treating cancer or precancerous conditions.

Leah Rigler triumphs in Sacred Heart Spelling Bee

Forty students, 10 from each class, 5th through 8th grades, had the opportunity to become champion of the Sacred Heart Spelling Bee on Feb. 17. Seventh grade student, Leah Rigler, outspelled all of the other students and will represent Sacred Heart in the Cooke County Spelling Bee. She was presented a trophy by Principal Jack Murdock. Leah is the daughter of Michael and Michaele Ann Rigler of Gainesville.

Jessamy Sicking, sixth grade, was the runner up and will represent Sacred Heart in the event that Leah is unable to do so. Courtney Grewing, seventh grade, was in third place.

Other competitors were eighth graders: Valerie Bartush, Jessamy Sicking, Sherie Bonner, Matthew Fuhrmann, David Hesse, Laura Klement, Crystal Klement, Aaron Sicking, Jon Grewing, and Aaron Hess; seventh graders Joe Becker, Patrick Miller, Deann Felderhoff, Janet Fetsch, Lucien Gehrig, Betty

Trevino, Russell Fette, and Stephen Bartush; sixth graders Joanna Gehrig, Adam Klement, Gina Yosten, Sarah Hess, Kristen Knauf, Kayla Felderhoff, Matthew Nasche, Matt Bayer, John Flusche, and Debra Dangelmayr; fifth graders Charlie Moser, Dana Miller, Diane Becker, Nicholas Taylor, Jackie Bartush, Melanie Bartush, Holly Hartman, Grace Cochran, Johnathan Yosten, and Jessica Koessler.

Mrs. Linda Sepanski was the announcer for the Spelling Bee. Judges were Student Council and National Honor Society members Jennie Endres, Donnetta Hess, and Erica Schilling.

The eighth grade organized the bee. Eighth graders Becky Endres and Tammie Hennigan were recorders; Shawna Endres, Waylon Hess, Jeff Yosten and Elizabeth Fuhrmann were in charge of the definitions; Amanda Wimmer, Trisha Endres and Yvonne Martin were statisticians.

IN RECOGNITION of the thirtieth anniversary of the opening of the Muenster Memorial Hospital, a table-top photographic exhibit, "Muenster Memorial - The Beginning," has been set up at the Muenster Public Library. Sponsored by the Morton Museum of Cooke County, the exhibit displays photographs from the grand opening thirty years ago. Those photographs will transport you back to the beginning of the hospital and will allow observers to reminisce about some of the early staff members and the changes that have occurred over the last three decades. A second table-top photographic exhibit, also sponsored by the Morton Museum of Cooke County, which shows scenes from the Muenster Public School and Sacred Heart School in 1964, also has been installed at the Muenster Public Library. For more information, please call the Morton Museum of Cooke County at 668-8900 or the Muenster Public Library at 759-4291.

4-H'ers learn origami at Jan. 11 meeting

Yvonne Martin, vice-president, conducted the Jan. 11 regular meeting of the Muenster 4-H. Major topics discussed included the upcoming stock show and concession stand, clothing projects, and public speaking projects.

Linda Becker, Club manager, showed a video on method demonstrations and illustrated talks. Christopher York introduced Sister Mary John Seyler, seventh grade teacher at Sacred Heart School. She presented a program on Origami, the art of Chinese paper folding. Everyone made a heart and a boat.

The next meeting will be March 8. This meeting was reported by Dany Felderhoff.

Arts and Crafts Show planned for MISD

In observance of Public Schools Week, Feb. 28 to March 4, the Muenster PTO is sponsoring the annual Arts and Crafts Show for Muenster ISD students, teachers and staff. The public is invited to attend Open House on Tuesday, March 1 from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. and view the show entries.

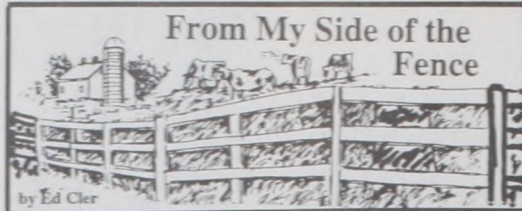

Crafts will be on display for viewing in the old gymnasium. A UIL Reading and One-Act Play will be presented in the school auditorium.

Entries for the Arts and Crafts Show must be brought to the old gym by Monday, Feb. 28 between 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Judging will be on March 1.

First place, second place and Best of Show ribbons will be presented to winners from each grade, preschool through 12, in the Arts and Crafts categories. Other categories receiving ribbons for first place, second place and Best of Show are: Wood Work - Mechanical Drawing, Computer Drawing, Computer Aided Drafting; Homemaking - Interior Design, Foods; Newton's Apple (grades 9-12) - Math Drawing, Math Charts; Teachers and Staff; Landscaping - Plant Collection; Shop Projects - Gas Welding, Arc Welding, Wire Welding, Braising, and Jr. High Practice Welding.

Bumper stickers will be on sale by the PTO for $3 each. Proceeds from these sales will fund PTO projects for the school.

During WWII, while working at an aircraft plant in Garland, Texas, I was in charge of hand forming and finish fabrication. My crew of approximately 45, in the mid-40s, consisted of five or six men, the rest being girls and housewives who had come to replace a lot of the men, as they were drafted into the service. I must say, these ladies did a bang-up job.

Several of the few men I had left were class 4-F in the draft, and I could depend on keeping them, but one young man, an outstanding worker who was always in a good humor and willing to take on the toughest jobs, was a constant worry to me. Not because he didn't perform his work well, but because of the fact that I could lose him to the draft and he would be hard to replace. Also, I would have to train a woman, or two, to take his place. One day, I brought a special small job to this man, Carl Nall by name, and, after going over the problem with him, he said he was going to the rest room and would be back in a minute and take care of the job.

After running an errand in another part of the plant, for just a minute or two, I returned to my department to find Carl packing his tools into his kit and, as I approached, he said, "Ed, I just got fired." I couldn't believe this; I thought he was joking, but the look on his face told me he was telling the truth. He went on to tell me he had gone to the rest room and, just as he was leaving, another employee with a pair of dice, said, "Shoot you once, for a quarter." Well, he made the mistake of throwing the dice and they were still spinning when a security guard walked in. Needless to say, both Carl and the other man were marched to the office and immediately dismissed.

I was stunned by this turn of events and promptly went to the personnel manager to plead Carl's case, but to no avail. Time passed, and I often thought of Carl and wondered where he was and how he was faring in the service.

Sometime in late 1945, while walking past the drugstore in Garland, I heard my name called and looked up to see Carl in civilian clothes and looking well. I hurried over, as I was really glad to see him. After exchanging greetings, handshakes and a bit of back slapping, Carl asked if I knew what one throw of the dice cost him. I said, "Plenty, I guess, but I'm glad to see you're home and all in one piece." "Yeah," he replied, "I didn't get a scratch, but I spent 120 days in the front line, fighting the Germans."

Cooke County College Dean's Honor List

Vickie Bayer received congratulation from Douglas N. Crawford, Dean of Instruction at Cooke County College, for being among the top students at CCC in academic performance. Vickie achieved the "Dean's Honor List" by attaining a grade point average of 3.50 or higher for the Fall Semester 1993 at Cooke County College. Vickie is a 1992 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is the daughter of Claude and Mary Bayer of Muenster.

Youth invited to register for '94 Theatre classes

Registration will begin Monday, Feb. 21 and will continue until the first day of class for Butterfield Stage's Spring '94 Youth Theatre Classes. The semester sessions which began in the Spring of '93 are conducted by BSP veterans Sue Victor and Shannon Lunsford and are offered to children five to 13 years of age.

"I feel our area is very fortunate to have these classes for our youth," Viktor commented. "I truly wish this kind of artistic opportunity would have been available for me at an early age."

The theatre classes will be held for a 10 week period beginning March 1 and ending May 21 with a performance at Depot Days. Classes are divided into three sections: Creative Dramatics (for children ages five to eight); Theatre Basics (for youth ages nine to 13); and Youth Theatre (for ages nine to 13 who will be enrolling in their third semester). Each class meets one day a week with Creative Dramatics held on Wednesdays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.; Theatre Basics on Tuesdays from 4:30 to 6:00 p.m.; and Youth Theatre on Thursdays for 4:30 to 6:00 p.m.

Tuition for the class is $45 per student. Butterfield Stage also offers a limited number of scholarships for youngsters who wish to participate but are unable to do so due to monetary constraints. Scholarship applications may be acquired during the class registration period. A youngster must be registered by a parent between the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday at the theatre, 201 S. Denton, Gainesville. For more information concerning the youth classes, call the theatre at 665-8152.

Joe Bright promoted to Lieutenant Colonel

Joseph A. Bright of Muenster was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Air Force effective Feb. 1, 1994. The change in his insignia from gold to silver oak leaves was made on Feb. 2, 1994 by Colonel Dennis Kullander and Lieutenant Colonel Allen Pennington in his office at the Pentagon. Other staff members and office personnel witnessed the pinning ceremony. Coffee and cake were then served to all those present in celebration of the occasion.

Engineering from Virginia Military Institute and a Master degree in Business Administration from West Florida State University. A pilot of both rotary and fixed-wing aircraft, Col. Bright flew C-130 transports involved in troop and material deployments during Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm in the Arabian Gulf. He is currently assigned to the Pentagon as a staff officer in Headquarters, U.S. Air Force and resides in Alexandria, Virginia.

Col. Bright is the son of Juanita and David Bright of Muenster.

Secular Franciscans meet in Krahl home

Members of the Lindsay Lay Franciscan Fraternity met on Feb. 8 in the home of David and Judy Krahl. Ritual opening followed traditional lines with the St. Francis song, Holy Spirit prayer and Franciscan prayers. Scripture reading was given by Marie Zimmerer.

Members made plans to host a dinner for Father John Ostidick, OFM, of St. Francis Village of Crowley, Texas, in the home of Bill and Elvira Flusche on Sunday, March 20. Father John will be a guest in Lindsay on March 19 and 20.

Communications included a letter from Bishop Peter Chenaporampil of India, letters from the fraternity's adopted seminarians, Brother Fernandes, Brother Thomas - the former will be ordained to the priesthood on March 6, 1996 and the latter is in his second year of Sociology and Philosophy. The Lindsay Fraternity will send a package of rosaries to Bishop Peter.

Cooke County College offers real estate course, to begin March 5

"Keeping Current with Texas Real Estate" will meet on three Saturdays -- March 5, 12 and 26 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The cost of the course is $85 and this will include refreshments.

This course has been approved by the Texas Real Estate Commission for 15 hours of mandatory continuing education credits, six hours of which is in legal topics. Other topics will include law, mortgage, money sources and licensing updates.

Ed Wright, Gainesville real estate agent, and Rusty Duncan, Gainesville attorney, will be the instructors for the course. Mast added that both instructors are fully qualified in all the areas of real estate and the legalities involved.

"Don't let this opportunity pass you up," said Mast. For more information call Continuing Education at (817)668-4272.

Baptisms

Caldwell

Chelsey Kaye Caldwell was baptized on Sunday, Feb. 13, 1994, by Father John Lambert during the 11 a.m. Mass in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Gainesville. Chelsey Kaye is the daughter of Jeff and Tammie Caldwell of Gainesville. Her baptismal sponsors are Francine Walterscheid of Muenster and Danny Caldwell of Gainesville.

Chelsey wore a white christening gown that her mother wore when she was baptized. Her white satin booties were new.

Attending were her parents; her brother, Kyle; and her sister, Brooklyn, of Gainesville; grandparents, Allen and Shirley Reiter; great-grandparents, John and Olivia Wimmer; Janet and Courtney Reiter; and Francine Walterscheid, all of Muenster; grandmother, Lana Caldwell; Danny, Daniel and Elizabeth Caldwell, and Raydene Patterson of Gainesville. The paternal great-grandmother, Hilda Reiter, was unable to attend.

Following the church service, a buffet of pick-up foods was served in the Caldwell home.

The table centerpiece was a decorated pink and white christening cake. Gifts for Chelsey Kaye were opened and displayed.

Miller

Austin Joseph Miller, son of Glenn and Stacie Miller, was baptized by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, Feb. 13, 1994 at 11:45 a.m. Austin wore a baptismal gown made by his grandmother, Dolores Miller. Godparents were Aunt Kathy Berres and Uncle Dave Berres.

A dinner was hosted by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, in their home following the ceremony. A cross-shaped cake made by his mother decorated the table.

Joining his parents in this celebration were his sisters, Dana, Kristen and Lisa; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Walterscheid and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller; great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schilling; Dave, Kathy, Aaron, Neil and Jessica Berres; Troy Berres and Lori Graham; Gayle, Sean and Amelia Burke; Darell, Aaron and Kevin Walterscheid; Jesse Walterscheid; Wade Walterscheid and Rhonda Jones; Elaine and Dale Schilling; Kyle Walterscheid. Gifts were opened and pictures and videotapes were made of the event.

Knabe

Baptismal ceremony for Amanda Leigh Knabe was held Sunday, Feb. 20, 1994, after the 8 a.m. Mass with Father Frowin Schoech, OSB, officiating. Amanda is the infant daughter of Duane and Mary Lin Knabe. Godparents were Uncle Max Koesler and Aunt Barbara Koesler.

Amanda wore the christening robe worn by her mother and all family members, as well as her maternal grandmother. She also wore a cross and chain which was a gift from her parents. Gifts of rosaries were blessed by Father Frowin.

Attending the ceremony were great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Voth; grandparents, Alfons and Mary Ann Koesler and Harold and Bertha Knabe; aunts, uncles and cousins, James and Sue Yosten and children Nicholas, Jonathan, Kristen and Debra; Joe and Christi Koesler; Carol Lin Koesler; Greg, Renate and Jessica Koesler.

Following the baptism, breakfast was served at the home of Duane and Mary Lin Knabe. Amanda's baptismal cake served as the centerpiece. The cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, bore the message, "Welcome to God's Family, Amanda Leigh." Pictures were made and gifts were opened to complete the celebration.

Davis

Michael William Davis, infant son of Kelly and Karen Davis, was baptized Sunday, Feb. 20, 1994, after the 10:30 a.m. Mass at Sacred Heart Church. Father Victor Gillespie administered the sacrament. Martha and Allen Sicking served as godparents.

Michael wore the gown that was previously worn by his brothers. Attending the baptism were Michael's brothers, Joseph, Andy, Stephen and Isaac Davis; and his cousin, Quinn Sicking.

Others attending included Michael's grandparents, Erwin and Clara Fuhrmann; and several aunts, uncles and cousins, the John Hermes family, the Arnold Fuhrmann family, Jack and Denise Dangelmayr, Betty and Phillip Baker; Barbara, Joan, Ted and Laura Fuhrmann; and James Neusch.

After the baptism, the family gathered at The Center for lunch. Gifts for Michael were received and opened by the parents.

Eye screening to be held March 1 in Muenster

Seniors 55 and older are invited to the Sacred Heart Community Center at 730 N. Main, Tuesday, March 1, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. for free vision, cataract and glaucoma screening provided by Key Eye Surgery Center.

These screenings, as well as information on eye health care, are a part of Dr. Key's outreach program. This program is especially designed to help seniors become aware of problems that may occur without any symptoms and emphasizes how important it is to get that annual eye exam. Early detection of certain eye conditions can prevent blindness. Dr. Key's trained technicians will discuss any problems you may have with your eyes.

Dr. Key is a Medicare/Medicaid provider and offers free transportation to the office for eye exams and surgery to those who need this service. You will have the utmost confidence with Key Eye Surgery Center's highest standards.

The most current techniques, surgical procedures and treatments are utilized by Dr. Key and his professional staff.

Seniors, we hope to see you there! For more information, please call 214-754-0000.

Take Area honors 55-38... Muenster gentles Lady Monarchs in playoffs

Muenster's Lady Hornets will make a return trip to the Regional Basketball Tournament this season after taming the Bland Lady Tigers 55-38 in Area Playoff action Tuesday night in Denton.

The game started tight, with Muenster missing a few easy shots, but Candise Abney came through with 8 of the 12 1st quarter Muenster points. A shot at the buzzer gave Bland a 13-12 lead going into the 2nd quarter.

Muenster took a quick 4-point lead, but 3 minutes into the period the Lady Tigers took the lead. Two assists by Abney to Amy Otto and Carrie Hess and the Hornets again led by 2. Danell Reiter added 2 free shots and Bland scored to time ticked off the clock for a 23-21 score in Muenster's favor.

"Bland's press bothered us for some turnovers," commented Coach Brian Strother. "But, with Candise and Carrie alternating a lot of shots down low and grabbing a lot of rebounds, we were able to stay in the game."

The Lady Hornets settled down in the 2nd half with the defense shutting down Bland. The big play in the game was when Amy Otto, on the break, hit the lay-up and was intentionally fouled. Both free throws went in and Muenster brought in the ball. Then, Danell Reiter made a lay-up which was fouled and added another point. Seven points and Bland never touched the ball.

Muenster spread the floor, running down the clock in the fourth quarter, and found quite a few easy shots. Theresa Kubis put the icing on the cake with a quick lay-up right before time ticked away for a 55-38 Area Championship win.

"The girls played well down the stretch when Bland made a run," continued Strother. "I was really proud of our girls because they kept their composure and just played Muenster ball the second half."

Kubis was Muenster's leading scorer with 14, with Danell Reiter and Candise Abney each hitting 12. Amy Otto added 11 and Carrie Hess 6. Hess was the leading rebounder with 14 boards, while Abney grabbed 12.

The Lady Hornets will continue their playoff action this Friday and Saturday in the Regional Tournament at Kilgore Junior College. Their first opponent will be Sulphur Bluff Friday at 7 p.m. Muenster must then win two more games Saturday to advance to the State's Final Four.

Hornets claim 34-A runner-up with 49-41 win over Valley View

The Muenster Hornets play good defense and great hustling to clinch the 2nd place position in the district and advance to the playoffs against the Slidell Greyhounds. The Saturday night 49-41 victory over the Valley View Eagles at Era evened the Hornets' season record to 15-15.

Both teams started slow, with Muenster jumping out to an 18-11 lead. Valley View fought back, holding the Hornets from scoring until Eric Miller hit an acrobatic one-hander before the halftime buzzer for a 20-18 Muenster lead.

The second half started with the Eagles coming out and scoring 8 points. "We were lacking confidence, so we called a time out and decided to get after it," told Muenster Coach Brian Strother. "We went on a 15-0 run." A.J. Knabe was hustling all over the floor and played a great game, according to Strother.

Jay Hennigan hit some big 3-pointers when Muenster needed them and led the team in scoring with 15 points. Jason Huchton added 9 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. Knabe also hit in 9 which included 6 of 8 free throws in the fourth quarter - including 6 in a row. Cory Knabe hit some early 3's, got 9 rebounds and 8 points while Darrell Charles added 3. Eric Miller and Rodney Vogel both scored 2 points.

"This was a very good win for these boys. We are playing good basketball at the right time of the year," commented Strother. "I am very proud of these players because they decided to give their best as a team with everyone contributing to our success."

Tigerettes bow to Trinity Christian

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes were out-hustled, out-rebounded and, most importantly, outscored as Trinity Christian of Lubbock walked away with a 49-37 Regional Championship last Saturday morning in Fort Worth.

The Lady Tigers played a low-scoring, cold-shooting first half. After being ahead 7-2 in the first period, their opponents took an 18-3 advantage in the second quarter for a 20-10 halftime score.

Trinity gained another 6 points going into the final stanza and Sacred Heart couldn't catch up.

"The huge crowd we had helped bring us back as the girls went out swinging," commented Coach Jon LeBrasseur. "The girls played very hard and that is all I can ask. Trinity's pressure defense gave us some problems."

Tiffany Fisher once again led the Tigerettes on the scoreboard with 16 points and 10 rebounds. "Tiffany is a fine team leader with excellent size and speed," said Coach Jon.

Dobe Fleitman put in 7 with Erica Schilling and Jennie Endres each getting 6 points. Stephanie Grewing added 2. Deanna Hess and Kelly Dangelmayr assisted on defense.

THE SEASON

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes finished their regional qualifiers season with a 25-8 record.

On the year, the girls scored 1,783 points, an average of 58 points a game, while allowing their opponents 1,021 points.

"The five seniors had a great run and we will miss them," Coach Jon commented. "They are a group of young ladies who leave us with many great memories." Senior members include Jennie Endres, Kelly Dangelmayr, Donetta Hess, Deanna Hess and Erica Schilling.

Schilling led the senior group with 272 points, also 144 rebounds, 133 steals and 10 blocked shots. Deanna scored 166 points for the season, grabbed 150 rebounds and took 118 steals. Endres put in 157 points, led with 198 rebounds and 13 blocked shots. Donetta Hess added 66 points, got 81 rebounds, 38 steals and 2 blocked shots.

High scorer for the Tigerettes was Tiffany Fisher with 351 points. Fisher also led the team in rebounds - 278. Stephanie Grewing scored 245 season points and grabbed 197 rebounds and led the team with 14 blocked baskets. Dobe Fleitman was Sacred Heart's 4th highest scorer with 197 points and is credited for taking 98 balls.

"Tiffany and Dobe really turned into two fine players and, when Stephanie is healthy, she can play with anybody. I am excited about our opportunities for next season," concluded LeBrasseur.

Rounding out the varsity team is Nicole Endres, Sarina Fuhrmann, Jennifer Fuhrmann and Karri Endres.

Lady Hornets swarm over Poolville 85-59

The Muenster Lady Hornets took another giant step toward the State Final Four Basketball Tournament last Friday night, swarming over Poolville in an 85-59 Bi-district victory.

The Lady Monarchs started with a full court game keeping the score close before Muenster went on a 22-4 run to blow out Poolville 31-11 at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter, Poolville decided on a half-court press, but the Lady Hornets ripped it for 22 points and a 53-29 halftime lead. The second half scoring was evenly matched after Muenster slowed down and allowed the bench to see lots of action.

Theresa Kubis led Muenster offensively with 29 points. Candise Abney had her best game of her career, putting in 19 points, pulling down 16 rebounds and knocking down 4 attempted shots. "Candise dominated the inside on both ends of the court," commented Coach Brian Strother. "The girls played well as a team in an up-tempo game." Amy Otto also scored 19 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Also scoring were Danell Reiter with 8 points, Andrea Klement 4 and Hollie Fuhrmann, Sabrina Truebenbach and Brandi Lutkenhaus 2 points each.

"I feel as a team we can play any style of basketball," continued Strother. "Our crowd was great and the girls really appreciate the following our town gives them."

Finnell announces new budget program for area state parks

State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday recently announced the implementation of a unique new management system for state parks. The Entrepreneurial Budgeting System (EBS), instituted to radically increase self-sufficiency in the state park system, will place more management control and responsibility on local park managers. The goal of the program is to enhance services through additional revenue.

Rep. Finnell served as Vice Chairman of the 73rd Legislature's Agriculture and Wildlife Committee, the oversight committee for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "Having worked closely with TPWD throughout the legislative session, I am excited about the new budget program and the savings opportunities it will create for the state and for our local parks," Finnell commented. "By utilizing private sector efficiency techniques, we have given local park managers both control and responsibility over park financial decision, enabled them to develop their own revenue raising projects, and provided them with incentives to save money for future investment," Finnell explained.

Statewide, 42 parks are participating in the EBS System changes, 3 are located in Rep. Finnell's Northwest Texas District.

Services for Mrs. Oma Beatrice Harz Brinkley, 72, of Decatur and Hardy were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 16, in the Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home Chapel in Gainesville. Rev. Harold Tucker of Bowick officiated. Interment was in Hardy Cemetery, under the direction of Geo. J. Carroll & Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. Brinkley passed away Saturday morning, Feb. 12, at the Muenster Memorial Hospital after a brief illness at her home in Hardy. She was born Jan. 22, 1922 in the Freemound Community in Cooke County. She was the daughter of the late Charles W. (Sog) Martin and the late Gladys O. Lemons Martin.

She is survived by her husband, Harry Brinkley of Decatur and Hardy; one daughter, Edith Hartz of Bellevue; a half-sister, Mary Lou Edwards; and three grandsons, James Hacker of the Freemound Community, Charles Hacker of Muenster and Steven of Missouri; the Brinkleys' stepchildren, Bill and Wayne Wilson; several nieces and nephews; and a host of friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents and stepmother, Mrs. Lillie Martin; brother, Deward; two half-brothers; her first husband, Wylie Wilson; and second husband, Earl Hartz.

Oma Martin Brinkley was born at Freemound and attended school there. She was a housewife and worked at various jobs and was well known.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lynch are proud to announce the arrival of their new grandson, Walker Lee. He was born Feb. 14, 1994 at 5 a.m. in Wilson N. Jones Hospital in Sherman. He weighed 7 lb. 11 oz. His parents are Rayanne and Jody Mayo of Tioga and he has a brother, Billy Glen. His great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hudspeth.

It is reported that Rev. Marshall Stewart is showing improvement. We hope they can come home soon.

Mrs. Della Maberry underwent tests last Tuesday in Gainesville Memorial Hospital, then she had tests this last Wednesday in GMH.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jackson had as their guests Sunday for lunch Jewel and Carroll Dill. Carroll is recovering nicely from the accident.

Fred Christian of Stephenville spent Monday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Christian. He came for Valentine's Day and to help his mother, Ruth, celebrate her birthday that was Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Berry had lunch Monday with Jerry and Marilyn McKown at Valley View. Henry Fortenberry of Henrietta visited the Jack Berrys Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Louise Shults and Mrs. Dorothy Penton of Gainesville were in Bowie Wednesday. Bill and Ginny Shults of Denton visited Louise Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Shults joined Mrs. Oma Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wakeman of Wichita Falls for supper Saturday evening at Rohmer's Restaurant in Muenster. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wood of Wichita Falls spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hudspeth. Mrs. Gladys Balthrop, Mrs. Anna Kirk and Becky attended the Singing at Myra Saturday evening. Byron Berry and Colton of Denton visited Mrs. Josephine Berry Sunday evening. Mrs. Brenda Haverkamp of Gainesville visited Mrs. Berry Sunday evening also. Byron Berry treated his grandmother, Mrs. Berry, to dinner at Rohmer's in Muenster for Valentine's Day, Feb. 14.

4-H Livestock Show Saturday

The 4-H Livestock Show will be held Sat., Feb. 26, at the Cooke County Fairgrounds located on Highway 82, approximately one mile west of Interstate 35. The activities at the Show will begin at 9 a.m.

4-H members from clubs throughout the county will be exhibiting various livestock projects that they have raised during the year. These projects include Beef, Dairy Goat, Dairy Cattle, Swine, Rabbit, Poultry, and Sheep. During the lunch break at approximately 1 p.m., young 4-H members in the Clover Kids Clubs will be introduced with their projects.

Showmanship contests and other activities will be conducted during the day for Cooke County 4-H Club members.

You are invited to view the judging at the Show.

Corn growers...

Bumper crop of achievements

Corn growers can be proud. A year of hard work by National Corn Growers Association (NCGA) and its more than 28,600 members paid off in a bumper crop of accomplishments during 1993.

Three of the most important victories — ratification of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), ethanol's inclusion in the Clean Air Act's Reformulated Gasoline Program (RFG) and the successfully concluded Uruguay Round of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)—came in the final seven weeks, only after a solid year of hard work.

For corn growers, ratification of NAFTA signifies an end to Mexico's highly restrictive system of quotas, tariffs and import licensing. U.S. corn exports are projected to increase to 6 million tons (240 million bushels). NCGA led more than 170 agricultural groups in a pro-NAFTA coalition that pushed for NAFTA's ratification.

Corn growers also gained significant ground for ethanol. Grower letters and telephone calls were instrumental in getting the attention of the Clinton Administration to include ethanol in reformulated gasoline. A proposed side rule will require 30 percent of the oxygenates used in reformulated gasoline be derived from renewable resources. NCGA is still evaluating the proposed rule. New demand created for ethanol will provide jobs for America, improve energy security and contribute to rural economic development.

The successfully concluded Uruguay Round of GATT also marks new opportunities for corn. New language on cereal substitutes will protect the duty-free status of corn gluten feed shipments to the European Community. U.S. farmers will continue to ship corn to Spain and Portugal. And more market access for meats and other value-added products is also good news.

Corn growers also gained significant ground in other areas. It's been a great year for corn!

Manure Pit Fatalities

Between 1980 and 1989, at least 22 persons died of asphyxiation in manure pits or similar waste tanks according to recent NIOSH investigations published in May 1993.

Asphyxiation is a common danger in manure pits. The pits are confined spaces in which toxic or oxygen-displacing gases (hydrogen sulfide, methane, carbon dioxide and ammonia) can be produced by the decomposition and fermentation of waste materials. Although manure pit gasses are potentially present at all times, farm workers should be particularly aware of the hazards of entering manure pits during summer months. During the summer, conditions are optimal for the microbial activity that can result in increased gas generation. Therefore, manure pits that had been entered without incident in the past can quickly become toxic and/or oxygen deficient. This change can not be detected without testing the atmosphere of the pit prior to entry.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

DON'T SWEAT THE NUMBERS ON THE FERTILIZER BAG: SOIL TEST INSTEAD

Confused about all the different lawn fertilizers on the market? What do all those numbers mean? From all the choices, which one is best for your lawn? Hard to tell? Who knows? To find out, take advantage of Texas Agricultural Extension Service's new SOIL TEST program.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has launched a new SOIL TEST program that helps homeowners determine the best fertilizer and the correct amount for their lawns based on individual soil tests, rather than general recommendations for geographic areas.

Every lawn needs 15 or 16 different nutrients to grow well. These nutrients naturally come from air, water and the soil. But, chances are it will need some nutrients that the environment can't supply.

But if a lawn receives more nutrients (fertilizer) than it can use, the excess may run off and contaminate groundwater. Just as too much water creates problems for a lawn, too much fertilizer also can be damaging. We're more and more concerned about the environmental effects of using too much fertilizer.

"SOIL TEST now and end your confusion," said Soil Chemist Dr. Michael Hickey who directs the Plains Soil Testing Laboratory in Lubbock. "Odds are that you'll need some fertilizer, but probably less than you think. Find out for sure with a SOIL TEST."

The Extension Service is encouraging homeowners to pick up a SOIL TEST kit in Gainesville at the County Extension Office, Courthouse Basement, Room 12 (hours 8 a.m.-12 noon and 1 p.m.-5 p.m.); in Muenster at the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, 123 West Division Street (hours 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.); or at Lake Kiowa in the Property Owners Association Office near the Pro Shop.

The kit contains simple directions, a plastic bag for the soil sample, an information card and prepaid mailer.
