CARE FLITE team Phillip O'Rear, pilot, and Kim Mallery, flight nurse, spent about an hour in Muenster with their helicopter last Friday. They answered questions asked by the dozens of school children and interested adults who came to view the air ambulance. Muenster Memorial Hospital personnel were on hand to distribute balloons and other goodies. Care Flites are used to transfer some critical patients from Muenster to Harris Methodist in Fort Worth. Students visiting were from Marjorie Alsop's 5th grade at Muenster ISD; Steve Kohler's 3rd grade and Anne Poole's 2nd grade at Sacred Heart.

100 years celebrated by Congregation of Divine Providence in Lindsay

by Elaine Schad

Residents of Lindsay were honored with the presence of more than 60 members of the Congregation of Divine Providence sisters, most former teachers and Lindsay natives who returned to the community this past weekend to celebrate a century of service to Lindsay.

A special celebration was held on Saturday and Sunday, which included a cluster meeting of the order representing North Central Texas counties. The Lindsay Young Homemakers and St. Anne's Society joined others in the Lindsay community in hosting luncheons, a breakfast and dinner for the group at the Parish Hall, while people around the community opened their homes to provide housing for the group of sisters, several of whom came from states surrounding Texas.

A special liturgy was celebrated during the Sunday 10 a.m. Mass in which Sister Lara Ann Quinonez, CDP general superior, delivered a message that related to the long-time connections between the Lindsay community and the congregation.

"One year after the people of Lindsay began their journey as a community, they called the Sisters of Divine Providence to become part of them," she told the Lindsay congregation. She read a letter received in August 1893 from then-Lindsay pastor Father Bonaventure, who wrote to then superior general Mother Florence:

"The new colony of Lindsay intends to open a parochial school next fall," the letter stated. "The congregation understands very well the importance of a good Catholic school, and thinks she cannot do better, but trust her children to teachers who sacrifice their life to the instruction of little ones for God's sake," the letter went on to read. Father Bonaventure then requested that Mother Florence send to sisters, a request which she granted, leading to the arrival of the sisters in October 1893.

One hundred years later, the Congregation of Divine Providence continues its presence in the Lindsay community through education and other ministries. The seeds sown in Lindsay have also proved fruitful for the CDP congregation, resulting in approximately 34 native Lindsay sisters joining the congregation over the years, 19 of whom are still living.

Mother Superior Quinonez thanked the people of Lindsay for their generous support of the recent capital campaign of the order, in which $27,000 was raised for the congregation. "So, people of Lindsay and people of Divine Providence," she said. "What God has given to each community has been shared. Like Paul, let us give thanks to God for every time we remember."

MORE THAN 60 MEMBERS of the Congregation of Divine Providence gathered Oct. 23 and 24 to celebrate the Centennial of the sisters' ministry in Lindsay. Among those were former teachers at Lindsay and those sisters are Lindsay natives. They are, 1 to r, front row - Sisters Henriann Fuhrmann, Marcella Hermes and Ayleson Maxwell; 2nd row - Sisters Anna Rose Bezner, Catherine Henry Fuhrmann, Herman Mary Zimmerer and Ferdinand Jenschke; 3rd row - Sisters Benedict Zimmerer, Mary Rose Zimmerer, Barbara James Zimmerer, Michael Marie Fuhrmann and Bernadette Bezner; back row - Sisters Ramona Bezner, Imelda Gonzalez, Marie Habetz, Aida Fleischmann, Mary Helen Fuhrmann, Mary Lin Koessler, Dorothy Theresa Zimmerer, Mary Elizabeth Jupe, Mary Andrew Wolf and Teresa Hereford.

Chorale prepares for Christmas season

The Cooke County Chorale will begin preparation for their annual Christmas concerts with the first rehearsal Tuesday, Nov. 9, at the Gainesville High School Choir room beginning at 7 p.m. The choir has just finished concerts in Nocona, Muenster and Gainesville and invites all interested singers to join them for the Christmas program.

Included in the program will be Robert Shaw's "Many Moods of Christmas," Suites I and II along with such pieces as "Still, Still, Still," "How Far to Bethlehem?," "Hodie," and several other short works. The concerts are to be presented around the middle of December. Director for the Chorale is Dr. Michael Linder, department head of music at Cooke County College.

Linder, in his third year as director of the Chorale, is a member of the American Choral Director's Association, Texas Director Association and Texas Music Educators Association.

Accompanist for the Chorale is Mr. John Dill. Dill will graduate in December with a Master of Music degree in Organ from UNT and is an organist/choir director at St. Paul's Episcopal Church and teaches piano at Cooke County College.

The Cooke County Chorale has just completed a series of three concerts in one week, featuring American music and three soloists - Kevin Beall, Brenda Marmaduke and Pam Fette. The 50-voice choir includes 13 members from Muenster: David Bayer, Patti Bayer, Juanita Bright, Marie Endres, Ruth Felderhoff, Rebecca Fenton, David Fette, Pam Fette, Christy Hesse, Dr. Martin Kralicke, Tony Luke, Anne Poole and James Walterscheid. Dr. Kralicke is president of Cooke County Chorale.

Goal for the Chorale this spring is a 10-day concert tour of Europe, with plans to perform in Germany and Austria. The local concerts are fundraising events. Choir members note that they will be happy to accept donations for this purpose, should anyone be willing. The Chorale is a member of the Cooke County Arts Council.

S.H. Thanksgiving Social will feature innovations Nov. 21

The Thanksgiving Social, hosted by Sacred Heart Parish on Nov. 21, will revolve around the banquet meal featuring turkey and dressing, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Other attractions of the day include a Sweets Shoppe with sales beginning at 8 a.m.; an expanded Arts and Crafts Booth with sales beginning as early as there are customers; a Gin Rummy Tournament and a 42 Tournament during the afternoon, beginning at approximately 1:30 p.m.

Charlotte Klement, 759-4222, is chairman of the Sweets Shoppe. She stressed that homemade candy, Christmas candies, fruitcakes, breads of all kinds (for instance white, pumpkin, banana nut, cranberry nut, fruit or nut breads), cookies, pies (pecan or pumpkin); sweet rolls are always in demand. She urged that those bringing baked goods should remember to wrap everything carefully and securely. Charlotte added that items at the Sweet Shoppe offer an opportunity to stock up for the holidays (in freezer storage).

When asked what she needed most, Charlotte answered, "Volunteers!" since the changes in the social will rely on the expanded familiar features on the schedule.

The enthusiasm of the co-chairmen of the Arts and Crafts Booth - Regina Pels, 759-2851, Aileen Knabe, 759-2583, Stacie Miller, 759-4932, and Charlotte Dangelmayr, 759-2960 - indicates the wide variety, high quality, original art and personal care given to dozens of items they have made, Christmas gifts and decorations, etc. They also appeal for more people to make items suitable for the Arts and Crafts Booth, including decorations for year-round use.

People who have attended the community dinners before are accustomed to a feast; those who have not been here before should anticipate a real treat. Co-chairmen are Virgilla Herr, 759-4146, and Carrie Walterscheid, 759-4246.

The Gin Rummy Tournament co-chairmen are Harold Flusche, 759-4497, Urban Endres, 759-2533, Dan Endres, 759-2777, and Gus Felderhoff, 759-4479. The Tournament will begin soon after dinner, approximately 1:30 p.m.

The 42 Tournament, chaired by Peggy Walterscheid, will follow suit, beginning at approximately 1:30 p.m. Prizes will be offered.

Everyone is invited for a day of reunioning, visiting, entertainment, bountiful dinner, hospitality, relaxation, a Sweets Shoppe, an expanded Arts and Crafts Booth, and two table game tournaments.

Local voter turnout better than average

Muenster voters in Precincts 17 and 18 and other county voters were in agreement with the majority of voters statewide who nixed Amendments 1 and 16. Local voters would have also voted down several other of the 16 proposed amendments in the Nov. 2 election. All other amendments passed.

Voter turnout in Muenster was better than expected. Precinct 17 Election Judge Janet Fisher reported 62 voters and Precinct 18 Election Judge Mary Lee Hennigan reported 244.

MMH Board hears fiscal financial report

Brandon Durbin of the auditing firm Durbin and Co. of Lubbock gave a complete report on the financial status of Muenster Memorial Hospital at the Oct. 27 regular board meeting. He offered several suggestions to help speed up the auditing process in the future. The firm confirmed the accuracy of statements generated in the 1992-93 fiscal year.

Administrator Jack Endres reported that the new computer modem was installed and fully operational. "It tremendously reduces filing claim time. Everybody is very happy," he said.

Equipment has been ordered for Dr. Thomas Currier's GYN surgeries. Dr. Currier's office should be open during the first two weeks of November.

Dr. Theresa Smith, who made a recruitment visit to Muenster several weeks ago, will be visiting with Mr. Endres on Friday, Nov. 5.

Dr. Michael Metzger who specializes in podiatry and foot surgery has been coming to the Muenster Hospital each Friday from 2 to 5 p.m. for the last several weeks. He will be doing surgeries here.

A budget amended to reflect tax revenues and expenses was introduced to the board. Sharon Felderhoff made a motion to adopt the new budget. David Bright seconded the motion and all members passed it unanimously.

The board closed the regular meeting and went into executive session at 9:35 p.m.

Shoppers invited to Sell-O-Rama

Holiday decorations, toys, clothing, home decorations, and gifts of all types are in store for those attending the Annual Arts and Crafts Sell-O-Rama sponsored by the Cooke County Extension Homemakers.

The sale to be held this year in Gainesville's Civic Center will open on Friday, Nov. 12 at 10 a.m. It will remain open for sales until 8 p.m. and reopen on Saturday morning, Nov. 13 at 10 a.m. Shoppers can take advantage of another full day until closing time at 6 p.m.

The Civic Center allows many area artisans to display their hand-crafted items. This year more than 120 tables will be filled with arts of all types.

Items to be sold by area artisans include a wide variety such as wood crafts, jewelry, toys, dolls, paintings, hand painted china and soft sculptures. There will also be needlework and Christmas ornaments, plus a variety of miscellaneous items.

The Sell-O-Rama will offer an excellent way for people to Christmas shop or buy those homemade items which they don't have the time or talent to make themselves.

Door prizes will be provided by each exhibitor with a drawing held every hour.

The Extension Homemakers Council and 4-H Clubs will also have a Bake Sale of homemade goodies just in time for your holiday entertaining. The club women will have a concession stand open so viewers will be able to shop over lunch or enjoy a snack break.

Extension Homemakers Council annually presents scholarships to graduating seniors. The Bake Sale is to benefit the 4-H Scholarship Fund.

For any questions concerning the crafts sale, call Mrs. Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, at (817)668-5412. The Civic Center in Gainesville is located at the corner of Fair Park Boulevard and South Weaver Street.

Everyone is invited to come to the Arts and Crafts Sell-O-Rama and join in the fun.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
 Throughout the nation on November 11, there will be parades, patriotic ceremonies, and memorial services honoring all America's veterans, both living and dead. These are tributes to the brave men and women who served our nation with honor when the "call to arms" was sounded on behalf of freedom's cause.
 I hope your readers will pause on Veterans Day to salute the gallantry of those who for more than 200 years have left their jobs, their schools and their families to risk disability and death in defense of America's freedoms. I ask you to join me in thanking a veteran: whether it's your Dad or Mother, a grandparent or a brother or sister, thank them for the freedom we all enjoy today.
 Yours respectfully, educated comrade with a very strong character picked for the job." Not to change the subject, but, I can't emphasize this enough. Newsman: "Uh, what's that, my friend?" Commie: "Well, I can't emphasize enough the fact that our chosen comrade has a strong character and all; and also that he has a psychological check-up twice a year. You see, friend, we want to make sure that we don't hurt anybody because of some foolish mistake. That's how good-hearted we are." Newsman: "I see, uh, now let us get back to the subject which has to do with how you are going to blow us up." Commie: "Of course," pointing at something on one of the missiles. "You see that little button down there with the red ink on it." Newsman: "Yes." Commie: "Well, when our chosen comrade gets the order to blow you up, he pushes that button." Newsman: "Very interesting." Commie, jumping up and down, laughing: "I know. I know."

To the Editor:
"To Be Ironic"
 Yesterday, I happened to watch an interesting program on television. The name of it was "60 Minutes." I didn't watch much of it, but I got the message anyway.
 Now, if you will, let me tell you how the program went. (Lights, camera, action.)
 Newsman in underground Soviet nuclear missile site, shaking hands with a Commie: "Hi, how are you?" Commie: "Fine, of course." Newsman: "Say, uh, would you find the time and show us how you are going to blow us up with one of these missiles you have here. In the event you get mad at us, of course." Commie: "I'd be delighted to. You see, uh, we have a very intelligent,

Letter to the Editor:
 Random thoughts. I am sure there are a many of them popping up in many minds around here. Why don't we share them in some way? Feed them out through the great local medium, The Muenster Enterprise. They don't have the time or personnel necessary to collect and write everything.
 So here are a few that I thought might be of interest locally?
 1. Where's that GM coupon? Owners of older General Motors pickup trucks are clamoring for details on how to get their promised rebates. To settle a number of class action suits brought by owners of 1973 to 1987 C/K full-size pickup, GM last week agreed to give each owner a certificate for $1,000.00 to be applied to the cost of a new GMC or Chevrolet truck. Truck owners who haven't heard from GM should call Chevrolet at 800-222-1020 or GMC Truck at 800-462-8782. Source US News and World Reports.

2. I have asked the following questions from bankers, etc. and have found few full answers.
 (a) Is the Federal Reserve owned by our government, or is it, as I understand a private corporation?
 (b) Who are the owners of the corporation? This is not public knowledge. It is the only U.S. corporation that has never been audited. A bill was introduced in Congress to make the Federal Reserve reveal who the owners are, but it ended up making it unlawful to do this.
 (c) Our U.S. (?) money is not backed by anything. It is a U.S. note or IOU, but when the U.S. government borrows this paper money, it has to pay interest to the Federal Reserve.
 (d) These questions show how little I know. How about you?

3. Do we need to question, investigate and review the workings of our government? Do we all need to be more involved, and not just say "Oh, we can't do anything about that!"
 Any answers? My phone number is 795-2535.
 God be with all of you and pray that He looks after Muenster.

Doris Hamer dies

A note of sadness was added to Wednesday evening, when announcement came of the death of Doris Hamer about 5 p.m. in Denton Regional Medical Center. Her funeral will be held on Friday at 2 p.m. in Broadway Church of Christ in Gainesville. Visitation was Thursday, Nov. 4, at Clement-Keel Funeral Home from 6 to 8 p.m. Other arrangements were incomplete at press time.

Tax Talk
 by: Duane Knabe, CPA

This week's topic is the right to minimize taxes. There are many situations in which a taxpayer has a choice of completing a taxable transaction by more than one method. However, one method may produce a lower tax liability than the others. The courts recognize that a taxpayer may exercise every prerogative that the law grants for minimizing taxes. As Judge Learned Hand said, "Over and over again the courts have said that there is nothing sinister in so arranging one's affairs as to keep taxes as low as possible. Everyone does so, rich or poor; and all do right, for nobody owes any public duty to pay more tax than the law demands, taxes are enforced exactions, not voluntary contributions.
 Although evading taxes through deceit, subterfuge, or concealment is illegal, shaping events to reduce taxes is not only legal, but the goal of every taxpayer. Frequently, what distinguishes tax avoidance from tax evasion is a finding of fraud.

Jody Fleitman enlists

Jody Paul Fleitman, a senior at Sacred Heart High School of Muenster, has joined the U.S. Army under its Delayed Entry Program. The Delayed Entry Program enables a student to delay reporting for training for up to a year so that he can finish his studies.
 Sergeant Steve Summers of the Army's Recruiting Station at 2219 South Loop 288, Suite 203, Denton, Texas, who recruited Fleitman, says he is scheduled to report July 7, 1994 to begin basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Fleitman has committed to five years' service and asked for advanced individual training as a Machinist in Mechanical Maintenance.

 Fleitman is the son of James W. and Nita Fleitman of Muenster.

Her video tape releases have also been used on "Good Morning, America" and CNN.

The University's "Blue & Gold" credits her with loyalty to her training; crisis management and crisis communications planning; groundbreakings; new products announcements; print, radio and TV and audio-visual support and brochures.

Meeting the public relations needs of so diverse a group requires that Mary Rohmer juggle many different projects with her staff, as well as understand the characteristics of the different businesses.

She related recently one of the more enjoyable public relations projects for a certain salsa manufacturing company in which she put the information in a humorous form. She set up the radio and TV programs for a Minnesota audience and two of her staff went to Minneapolis where the product was being introduced. "That's

In fact, Dublin-McCarter was the public relations firm that advised Luby's executives on how to handle the crisis arising from the mass shootings at the restaurant in Killeen, when more than 100 reporters descended on them. PR experts across the country regard that as a "textbook" example of responsible crisis management, ranking it up with how Johnson and Johnson handled the Tylenol tamperings several years ago (also a "textbook" case).

The firm's activity in economic development has led to consulting assignments in Eugene, Oregon and Denver, Colorado. It has worked with such major national media as Forbes; USA Today; Newsweek; Wall Street Journal; New York Times; CNN; CBS; and others in Houston, Dallas, Austin, Washington, D.C. and New York, in order to transmit these economic development stories. The firm's professionals are well known to reporters and editors throughout the region.

Mary Margaret Rohmer is role model for university and business

by Elfreda Fette

"Local Girl Makes Good!" could scarcely be more appropriate than in the case of Mary M. Rohmer. It could not have a truer ring than when applied to this young woman - the 32-year-old daughter of Arnold and Imelda Rohmer, graduate of Sacred Heart High School in Muenster in 1978 and of St. Mary's University in San Antonio in 1982, with a degree in English/Communication Arts.

If you let her, she will tell you there is nothing extraordinary about her career accomplishments. "I've been lucky," she'll say ... "a case of being in the right place at the right time." Perhaps.

Her mother said, "Mary was always willing to work for what she wanted. When she wanted a bicycle, she simply worked to earn enough money to buy her own 10-speed. She cleaned at Sacred Heart High School, she babysat, she worked summers at the dress factory to earn money for college, until she began working at USAA her sophomore year in college. She also did tutoring while a student at St. Mary's University.

Her mother continued, "Mary has always been a good manager, with a good sense of organization about her, with stick-to-it-tiveness, not afraid to try anything. She has always had a knack for being original, innovative in her approach to her clients' problems. She gets along well with other people and is considerate toward those who work for her; she uses her talents to help others."

One of her high school teachers, Joe Caserta, said, "I remember her as an excellent student. She concentrated on English and her writing ability. She responded well when we insisted: 'Polish Your English,' responding equally to the admonition, 'Do Your Best.' She looked for the best way to do things. It was a natural talent. You can't teach people to do their best."

Her brother-in-law, Bob Sepanski, said, "Mary Rohmer espouses a goal of fostering warm, trusting, long-term relationships. It is not difficult to believe her when she says that knowing she's 'in a position to help clients succeed is a reward unto itself.'"

A neighbor said, "One of my sons was a classmate from first grade through high school. It has been a joy to know her and her family."

At another time her mother told, "When she went off to college, she wasn't sure of her major. She didn't want a strictly English degree, not intending to teach; she didn't want a solely Journalism degree, not wanting a newspaper career. Her prayers and ours helped her make a choice of a combination major - English/Communication. Attracted to the English/Communication Arts major, she sought enrollment at St. Mary's University.

There, the faculty encouraged her critical and analytical thinking. Today, they consider her the ideal role model for English/Communication majors. One of her professors said, "She has the God-given ability to see and clearly understand the whole picture," according to the Alumni News magazine, "The Gold & Blue."

Mary M. Rohmer herself said, "Our teachers gave us the encouragement to take away our natural reticence. They would say, 'Give it a try. Don't be afraid of failure. Here, you can always try again.'"

Her teachers guided her to opportunities available for English/Communication majors. The Placement Office provided "the lucky break" for her first exposure to the field - an assignment as an intern in USAA's communications department. Mary remained with USAA (the United Services Automobile Association) spending three years editing employee communications.

There, she became acquainted with Judy McCarter, who later became a partner in Dublin-McCarter & Associates, Inc. in San Antonio. When Mary Rohmer left USAA several years later, she joined the public relations firm. In 1985, she was named senior account executive. She told her parents that this change was a good opportunity to see a different side of the communications field, a chance to broaden her skills. She found the job fast-paced, demanding and stimulating.

Mary Rohmer ascended through the ranks of Dublin-McCarter & Associates, Inc., where she was hired three years after her graduation from St. Mary's University. She is now Vice President of Account Services for Dublin-McCarter & Associates, Inc., one of Texas' largest independent public relations firms. As vice-president, she supervises a six-member staff of the company's 25-member staff, as well as working with clients in seeing their projects through to completion. Her rise to a

Muenster Elementary students learn about careers and hobbies

Muenster Elementary students and teachers enjoyed learning about Careers and Hobbies this week. It was wonderful to see so many parents, students and friends share interests.

Kindergarten students learned an appreciation of music when Andy Cherry brought his guitar and led a songfest. Billie F. Fleitman shared her knowledge of clowns and entertained the students with her antics.

Second graders enjoyed Norma Britain's button collection. Janie Hartman shared her coin collection. Andy Cherry led the students in a songfest. John Dangelmayr and Richard Dangelmayr shared pictures of cowboys at work, and some of the things that cowboys use. Later, second graders visited Leon Klement's dairy and noted differences and similarities in the care and use of dairy cattle and beef cattle.

Third grade students learned about the oil industry from Kim Walterscheid, restoring automobiles from Mitch Rains, stamp collecting from Jennifer Scott, basic figures in art from Dianne Walterscheid, butter making from Wayne and Tudor Klement.

Fourth grade students learned about many career opportunities and the various kinds of technology used in the news industry when they visited The Gainesville Daily Register and Radio Station KXGM. Chris Cain told the fourth grade about the skills needed to be an auctioneer. Fourth graders visited the Muenster Livestock Auction to see an auction and learn about many career opportunities in the sale of livestock.

Fifth graders learned about health careers when they toured the Muenster Memorial Hospital and the Care Flite helicopter. They were particularly interested in the duties of the Care Flite pilot.

K-5 students will complete career learning experiences with a variety of activities. Some will dress for their career choice, others are making posters, or writing reports about their career choice.

Sr. Amora's 98th birthday observed

A week spent in Arkansas was a mini-vacation for Joanie and Alvin Hartman, who arranged it to coincide with the 98th birthday of her aunt, Sister Amora Felderhoff of Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Nearing the century mark, Sister Amora is doing very well, still able to walk around and is okay after breaking a hip a year ago and a shoulder six months ago.

They also enjoyed a visit with Sister Theresina who feels quite well and is still her same bubbly self, but is sometimes limited part-time by a condition that requires use of her "Cadillac Wheels." The Hartmans also saw Sisters Aloysia Kleiss, Florentine Tempel, Anselma Haverkamp and many former teachers of Sacred Heart School, who sent their greetings to Muenster friends and relatives.

The Hartmans continued their trip into Branson, Missouri and a drive through areas famous for fall foliage tours.

FOUR GENERATIONS of the Angeline (Bengfort) Fleitman family, including children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren; brothers, sisters, neighbors and friends celebrated her 80th birthday on Oct. 17, 1993. ## Kraut Bowl goes sour for Lindsay

The Muenster Hornets turned the Lindsay Knights every which way but loose Friday night and thrilled the home crowd. The rival game won't soon be forgotten as the Hornets snatched a 22-3 victory from Lindsay at the annual Kraut Bowl. The Knights also played bad enough to give the coaches two full pages of ego-deflaters to avoid the big head this week. Approximately 300 fans sat out in the freezing, windy, snowy cold to watch their teams in battle.

"The kids got excited about playing in the snow," commented Muenster Coach Grady Roller. "We bundled everyone up real good and had a good time. We didn't feel the cold with the big victory."

"We were not mentally prepared to play," said Lindsay Coach Charlie Meurer. "The boys counted their chickens before they hatched which gave Muenster an emotional edge. They lined up to play us." Meurer also commented that Lindsay did not react well to the cold weather and were not concentrating on what they were doing.

Muenster took the opening kick, combining a run each by James brought the Hornet fans to their feet with a majestic 40-yard fumble return to the 31-yard line with 9 seconds on the clock. An incomplete pass turned into a 15-yard gain when Lindsay had too many men on the field. From the 16-yard line, Huchton looped a beautiful torch pass to A.J. Knabe for 6 points as the clock struck for halftime with the score 6-3.

"The offensive line did a tremendous job the 2nd half, dominating the line of scrimmage," said Roller. "I just can't say enough about the line. They helped us control the ball game, using the clock the 2nd half." The Hornets' offensive line includes Darrell Charles, Rodney Vogel, Brandon Walterscheid, Charlie Luttmier and Maurus Hacker.

As the 3rd quarter clock began running, the Hornets also started ticking. Lindsay's luck went from bad to worse as their offense sputtered on the 1st drive of the 3rd quarter, losing possession on downs.

Although it might have taken a little longer, the Hornets possessed the ball, scoring again with 1:49 left in the 3rd quarter. After 11 handoffs

THE ANNUAL RIVAL FOOTBALL GAME between Muenster and Lindsay was played on a snow-covered field last Friday night. Pictured, Hornet blockers A.J. Knabe, James Klement, Brandon Walterscheid and Rodney Vogel clear away Lindsay defenders, allowing Scott Debnam to get in a good run. Defenders for the Knights include Shane Huchton, Jeremy Owen, Matt Menzie and Toby Eberhart.

FRIDAY NIGHT: THE MATCH-UPS

Quote: "The annual war between these teams won't have that old look. Two words for Muenster: Stay home. Three for Lindsay: Enjoy the feast."

from Oct. 29, 1993 Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Klement, Jason Huchton, A.J. Knabe, Scott Debnam and Cody Sicking for 17 yards. Then the Huchton-to-Debnam combination clicked for 7 yards before Muenster punted on 4th and 8.

Early on, it looked like the game could be a defensive struggle. Both teams then traded possession, without either offense having much success.

The Knights experienced more success on their next drive which was capped by a field goal. After 2 unsuccessful passes, Shane Huchton and Jeff Hale carried the ball to the 18-yard line. On 4th down, Toby Eberhart popped a 37-yard field goal through the uprights with room to spare and Lindsay had a 3-0 lead with 2:11 remaining on the clock.

Muenster carried the ball into the 2nd quarter. Runs by Debnam, Sicking, Klement and Huchton were good for 39 yards to the Knights' 41-yard line. Lindsay's defense then refused to allow Muenster to do anything and the Hornets punted. Or at least attempted to. It looked like Lindsay's fortune would improve when Jeremy Owen blocked the punt. Brandon Walterscheid covered and Lindsay took over on the 44. The Knights couldn't get a 1st down in the needed plays and gave the ball back to Muenster on their 26-yard line.

After 2 unsuccessful plays, a Huchton-to-Jay Hennigan pass for a 14-yard gain gave Muenster a little more breathing room. But the next play, Jeremy Owen got his hands on a loose ball. The Knights took over on the 44.

Lindsay had a chance to score, with Huchton, Hale and Chris Brown mixing runs to the 18-yard line. But the Knights' opportunity was wasted when Cody Sicking and 3 keepers, Huchton found Jay Hennigan for a 3-yard touchdown play. The points after pass failed for a 12-3 score.

Shane Huchton got in 3 runs for 12 yards in the Knights' next drive. Lindsay tried a reverse play, but found Muenster defenders climbing all over Dan Zimmerer for a loss as the final quarter began. Huchton broke free for a 15-yard scramble but, on the next play, the Knights put a fumble on the ground and Cody Sicking recovered.

The Hornets had 4 plays and couldn't move the ball and were forced to punt back to the Knights after Lindsay's defense, led by Eberhart, Owen and Doug Hellingier, held.

From the 10-yard line, a bad snap from the center carried the ball into the end zone where Brandon Walterscheid is credited for a safety, adding insult to injury. Suddenly, the Hornets were up 14-3 and they weren't finished.

After the kick, Muenster's backs ran behind a better-than-it-says-on-paper offensive line. Hennigan sailed through the Lindsay defense for a 16-yard gain and Huchton turned on the juice for another 25-yard gain. Sicking and Debnam racked up more yardage. The Hornets drove down the field to ice the game. Cody Sicking put an exclamation point on the night when he scrambled to the promise land on a 2-yard run. Huchton slapped the frosting on the cake with his extra point run and a 22-3 score with 2:00 remaining in the game.

The Knights ran 6 more plays to the 15-yard line as the stadium clock ticked toward all zeroes. When it was all over, the Hornets had embarrassed the Knights 22-3 in the frosty annual Kraut Bowl.

"We knew we wanted to win and we had the win in the 4th quarter," Roller commented. "We struggled all year long and put an almost flawless game together last Friday night."

Game reported by Bridget Anderle and Nick Walterscheid

Muenster travels to Era for the Battle of the Hornets Friday night.

"I told the players you are only as good as the last game you played," Coach Roller noted. "We need this last win to end the year on a positive note."

Both Hornets teams are young teams and play the same type of ball. Both teams also want very much to win their last game. If anyone's interested, the Harris Rating System picks Muenster to win by 1 point.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Era.

The Knights will host Collinsville this Friday to determine the district championship. If Lindsay beats the Pirates, the Knights will earn 1st place but, if Lindsay loses, the outcome of the Muenster-Era game will determine the district runner-up. If Era wins, Lindsay will be in 2nd place but, if Muenster beats Era and Lindsay loses to Collinsville, Valley View will advance to the playoffs.

"The boys are down after the loss to Muenster," said Coach Meurer. "We'll have to bounce back. We have a shot. We must make tackles and can't allow any big plays." Action begins at 7:30 p.m.

 Muenster's next drive was led by a strong run by Jeremy Walterscheid. Chad Roller took the next handoff and scampered 50 yards for a Muenster touchdown. The points after, a Scott Hermes-to-Erik Walterscheid pass, tied the score 8-8.
 Strong defense by Bryan Hudspeth, Shane Sparkman, Aaron Sicking, Brian Fleitman and Chad Roller put pressure on the Squires, forcing a fumble that was covered by Michael Boydston. # Tigers to face Panthers in prelude to playoffs

Sacred Heart will finish off their regular season this Friday when they take on the Pantego Christian Academy Panthers of Arlington.

"They (Pantego) like to throw the ball," commented Coach John Nasche, who scouted the Panthers Saturday in their 40-0 loss to Tyler Street. "Saturday's game was not a fair test with the high winds."

Pantego's offense has 4 receivers set all the time with only a lone tailback. They like to run and shoot and run trips and twins, basing their offense around the pass.

Senior quarterback Darrin Beheler has thrown over 1,000 yards this season, pairing up mostly with classmate receiver Justin Parker.

"We have to shut down their passing game," continued Nasche. But the Tigers also have to watch out for Brandon Woodell, the Panthers' hard-nose running back, who's coming back stronger every week after a broken ankle he received in the first game.

The Tigers should come out full strength, except for Weldon Bayer who may be out one more week.

"Pantego couldn't stop Tyler Street, hopefully, they won't be able to stop us," concluded Nasche. Sacred Heart will face Pantego also in the first round in the playoffs next week.

DIRECTIONS TO PANTEGO GAME

Take I-35 West to Fort Worth 820 East to I-20; then take I-20 East to Collins Street. Exit Collins Street, go north, turn left to Workman Junior High. (It is a big complex which can be seen from I-20.) The football field is on the north end of the complex. Tigers will be visitors and will sit in the east bleachers.

Football Contest provides upsets, lowers scores

The ninth week of the Football Contest proved to be a little tougher, with upsets bringing down contestants' scores.

Thirty-two entries missed Tech over Texas, 28 picked wrong on the Jets' 10-6 win over the Giants, 25 didn't know who'd be the winner of the Maypearl vs. Venus game, while 23 picked Sherman over Grapevine.

On the other side, everyone correctly picked as winners: Jacksboro, Collinsville, Tyler Street and Texas A&M.

Locally, only 8 picked Muenster to win over Lindsay.

Terry Walterscheid took the top weekly honors, guessing 25 correct winners. There was a 3-way tie for 2nd and 3rd at 24 guesses. Mickey Haverkamp was awarded 2nd with a 31-point spread on the tiebreaker score. Bonnie Stoffels took home 3rd place, missing the score of the Kraut Bowl by 48 points. Wayne Klement settled for no cash and 4th place, missing the tiebreaker game by 51 points. The top 3 winners picked up their cash at Schilling Oil, Endres Motors and Community Lumber, respectively, the sponsors chosen to participate in delivering the weekly cash prizes.

In the season ratings, Bonnie Stoffels remains in the lead with .841%, followed by Wayne Klement with .820%. Benny Haverkamp follows close behind with a percentage of .800%.

Staying in close competition are Mike Felderhoff and Mike Stoffels at .795%, Terry Walterscheid .787% and Mike Hacker with .783%. Having a .775 score are Edna Hermes, Neil Huchton and Mickey Haverkamp. Also sitting at 70% or better are Edgar Dyer, Peachie Huchton, Charles Edwards, Sara Long, Nick Stoffels, Mark Fuhrmann, Steve Bevers, Mark Grewing, Darlene Otto, Cory Cain, Barbie Barnhill and Cory Knabe.

The contest will continue as long as the two local high school teams remain in play.

Lindsay Council debates expansion

by Elaine Schad

City Council members in Lindsay this week continued their discussion on the possible expansion of the city water system with added consideration on whether the sewer system should not take precedence in expansion plans.

Jerry Chapman, representing the Greater Texoma Utility Authority, told the council it would be very difficult for a city with Lindsay's demographics to qualify for a grant to fund the expansions. Generally, grants are awarded to cities which meet certain low-income requirements plus other criteria, such as having a city property tax.

Chapman said the city would probably have a better chance of obtaining a low-interest loan through the Texas Water Development Board at about 5.65 percent over a 20-year period. Chapman's report was for information purposes in case the city decides to proceed with a major expansion project, Lindsay Mayor Robert Walterscheid said.

The council received some additional information from representatives of Hawkins and Associates concerning a proposal to expand the water system. The engineering firm last month gave a report on a comprehensive study of the city's water system and future water needs. The engineers told council members that the city water system would run more efficiently if the system was looped properly. The city is also looking at the possibility of adding either underground or overhead water storage within the next couple of years.

Walterscheid told council members that they should consider whether the city's sewer system is more of a priority for upgrading and expansion than the water system at this point. "There could come a time when the city would be forced to improve the sewer system, and what if we're already involved with big expenses from a water system project when that happens?" Walterscheid said. The city's sewer system is in need of another aerator and probably will need an additional lagoon in the near future, he said.

In other business during the council's regular November meeting, members:

--Approved the purchase of additional uniforms for city policeman Jody Henry.

--Approved the issuance of specifications for the purchase of a new police car.

--Discussed water and sewer rates. The city will be doing a cost comparison of water and sewer rates of cities comparable to Lindsay, Walterscheid said. The council will discuss the possibility of raising the rates in anticipation of expenses that will be incurred due to the expansion of one or possibly both systems, he said.

--Held an executive session the evening following the regular meeting to conduct a six-month performance review of the city police officer. Walterscheid said the review was jointly agreed upon when Henry was hired and will give both the city and Henry an opportunity for input about how the police department is functioning after being in existence for six months.

Private property rights get a victory over NBS

In a giant victory for private property rights, the House voted 309-115 to attach a property-rights amendment, HR 1845, to the National Biological Survey bill.

The NBS bill is designed to inventory and monitor "the health, status and trends of all biological resources on private and public lands."

Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association (TSCRA) and the National Cattlemen's Association strongly supported the amendment which requires:

- * Written consent from the landowner before Biological Survey researchers can enter private property.
- * Prior notification to the landowner of the date researchers can enter private property.

- * Release of collected information to the landowner upon request.

The amendment also sets forth requirements to ensure compliance by all employees and agents of the NBS and regular reports to Congress on NBS activities on non-federal lands.

Supporters of the amendment called the wide margin in the House vote a signal that private property rights are going to be a consideration when lawmakers take up additional environmental issues. The Western Livestock Journal reports.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Texas Dairy Short Courses Set for Early November

Free Dairy Short Courses for producers have been set for early November in five different locations. Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the series begins on Nov. 8 in Nacogdoches, travels on successive days to Winnsboro, Decatur, and Stephenville, concluding in Brenham on Nov. 12.

Dr. Paul H. Risk, who directs the Center for Resource Interpretation at Stephen F. Austin University, will keynote each morning session on Surviving the Environmental Movement.

Registration and commercial exhibits begin at 9 a.m. Each one-day program runs from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Producers should check with their county extension agent for information on specific afternoon topics at each location.

No registration fee is required and lunch will be provided.

Grass Control in Wheat

Last week in the column we discussed the various broadleaf weed control chemicals for wheat. This week we plan to give you an update of grass control in wheat. Jim Blalock, Extension Agronomist, has prepared the following update for Cheat, Annual Ryegrass, and Wild Oats.

Material and Use Rate

Cheat: Finesse and Lexone are currently being marketed with a 24-C label by DuPont for Cheat suppression. Apply Finesse at 1/2 ounce PE. Apply Lexone EP at 3-4 ounces when wheat has reached the 4-5 leaf stage of growth. These materials can be tank mixed at .4 ounces plus 4 ounces of Finesse plus Lexone when wheat has reached the 4-5 leaf stage.

Annual Ryegrass: Glean has been phased out but Finesse has been positioned to take that market by DuPont. More recently, Ciba has introduced Amber to compete for the ryegrass market. Both materials give excellent control when applied PE at .5 to .56 ounces product per acre. Hoelon fits where PE treatments were missed and ryegrass control is desired in early spring. The one negative is that Hoelon does not control broadleaf weeds. Therefore, Hoelon should be tank mixed with a broadleaf material if weeds are anticipated. Also, you cannot graze Hoelon treated fields.

Wild Oats: Wild Oats seem to contaminate more wheat each year. Hoelon applied Early Post seems to do an acceptable control job at 2-2/3 pints per acre. American Cyanamid Company has registered Assert for the Western States.

Remember, these are only generalizations concerning the products mentioned. Before using any of them, always read and follow label instructions. Numerous materials are registered for use and some may have been omitted from the list.

If you have additional questions, give me a call at the Extension Office, 668-5412.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

After writing two articles in which I mentioned Chief Crazy Horse, it occurred to me that I had no idea just who Crazy Horse was. I did a bit of research, and found that Crazy Horse was the son of a Sioux chief named Crazy Horse, although as a boy he was called "Curly." It was not until after his first great war deed that his father gave him his own name.

Curly, or Crazy Horse, first became famous among his people when he led the Sioux and Cheyenne, who defeated Gen. George Crook in the battle of Rosebud Creek, in Wyoming.

Eight days later, he led the Indians in the battle of the Little Bighorn to defeat and wipe out the egotistic and brash Gen. George Armstrong Custer, and his command of approximately 200 men.

Crazy Horse had light skin and hair and had a quiet manner. He was not inclined to boast of his deeds, as was the custom among Indians.

The Sioux called him their "Strange One." He voluntarily surrendered to U.S. troops in 1877 when, it is estimated, he was 33 years of age. The jealousy of Sioux who were friendly to the whites led to his arrest and he was murdered by Indians who were trying to put him in prison at Fort Robinson, Nebraska that same year.

Agriculture in the News

The discovery of a gene from a bacterium found in cattle could be a monumental step forward in medicine's effort to detect colon cancer.

The gene was discovered by scientists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service, according to the National Cattlemen's Association.

The gene, which is cloned from the bacterium Streptococcus bovis, binds itself to cancer-causing bacteria, allowing easy detection and eradication.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has asked a federal judge to change his mind about blocking a rule requiring safe-handling labels for raw meat.

USDA officials told the Associated Press that the case will be appealed if U.S. District Judge James Nowlin of Austin refuses the motion to reverse his decision that the department didn't follow proper procedures in implementing the labeling requirements.

USDA originally set Oct. 14 as the deadline for labeling all raw meat products.

The department's action was prompted by fatal outbreaks of illness in mid-January linked to E. coli bacteria consumed in undercooked meat.

MHS FHA begins year

The Muenster Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its annual induction ceremony on Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Cindy Culp, last year's vice-president, acted as an installing officer and led the candle-lighting ceremony. Each officer took her turn lighting a candle and stating one of the eight purposes of the organization. The new officers were installed and explained their duties to the members. President Shelley Klement, assisted by Treasurer Candise Abney, presented them with a membership card.

The newly-installed officers were: Shelley Klement, president; Amy Fette, vice-president; Amy Sturm, secretary; Candise Abney, treasurer; Danell Reiter, reporter; Christin Cain, parliamentarian; Jennifer Keller, historian; and Kay Grewing and Amy Otto, recreation leaders.

The new members for the 1993-94 year are Melissa Biffle, Tara Chapman, Becky Fette, Hollie Fuhrmann, Laurel Green, Summer Jones, LeAnn Klement, Brandi Lutkenhaus, Holly Mullins, Christina Prego de Oliver, Jenny Schneider and Jennifer Sicking.

A brief meeting and refreshments followed the ceremony.

More rural land was sold in the Southwest during the first half of 1993 than in the first six months of last year.

The report cites low interest rates, income gains and fear of substantive shifts in federal fiscal and monetary policies as primary motivations for rural land buyers.
