RISING STAR'S FALL FAIR TO BE BEST EVER

RISING STAR, Sept. 15.—Walter Smith, general superintendent of Rising Star's annual Free Fall Fair, announced today that everything was in readiness for the grand opening Friday morning and that the success of the fair seemed assured. There has never been so much interest displayed before, said Mr. Smith, and all indications point to the fact that the exhibits will be larger and better than ever before. Excessive rain damaged a great many of the field crops, it was said, but the exhibits of canned foods, fruits, etc., was never better and will be here in plenty. The exhibit of livestock, including dairy cattle, hogs and horses are also showing up well. There will also be a large exhibit of poultry. Other exhibits include textiles, flowers, sewing, etc.

Entertainment Provided
Frank Robertson, chairman of the entertainment committee, has been successful in lining up some fine entertainment for fair visitors, most of which will be given on a large open air stage on the vacant lot in front of the fair buildings. On Friday night entertainment will consist of a program by the Rising Star high school brass band, an old-fashioned contest and a program of Indian dances put on by the local troop of Boy Scouts with Scoutmaster Othman in charge. The Goss String Band will furnish music inside the exhibit hall each afternoon and at night will play on the open air stage.

Tickle Band Coming
The feature entertainment Saturday night will be a program by the famous Tickle Band. This band is known all over Texas for its unique entertainment and has given many programs over radio. This program will be broadcast to the large crowd by a public address system.

Each afternoon there will be a parade of Shetland ponies and later, races by Shetland ponies and larger ponies in two classes.

Towns and communities all over this section are being invited to send delegations to the fair and no doubt there will be a crowd of from 5,000 to 5,000 people here on the last day.

BIG MAJORITY IN FAVOR CASH BONUS PAYMENT

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—The American Legion today adopted a resolution asking outright repeal of the national prohibition law and repeal of the 18th amendment.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—The American Legion convention today demanded full and immediate payment of the bonus by the overwhelming vote of 1168 to 109. Only states voting against the resolution were Connecticut, Hawaii, Nebraska and South Carolina. Some votes from Delaware, Florida, Missouri, New York, Vermont, and Wyoming, went into the no column on split state delegations.

Debate on the bonus question, led by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas for the bonus and handsome Sam Reynolds of Nebraska against the resolution, lasted little more than an hour. Temper of the delegates and the galleries as well, was so outstanding that several times Curley-haired, Henry L. Stevens, national commander, had to rap for order and twice had to ask the crowd to allow the anti-bonus speakers to proceed.

A tremendous "boo" was echoed when Nebraska, leader of the fight against the bonus, announced its "no" vote.

Consider Stevens subdued the enthusiastic crowd a few minutes after the bonus was adopted and the routine business of the session, which leaders were attempting to rush to conclusion, was resumed.

Hurley Voted for Bonus
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley voted for the bonus at the American Legion convention today, although he was thousands of miles from Portland.

P. P. Gilmer, chairman of the Oklahoma delegation, announced after the vote had been taken the delegation agreed while Hurley was here to vote unanimously in favor of the bonus resolution, and Hurley's vote was one of the thirty cast by the delegation in favor of the bonus today.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—In the face of President Hoover's unalterable opposition, the American Legion in national convention here today approved immediate cash payment of the bonus.

Only ten states voted in the "no" column. The unofficial tabulation showed only 108 votes out of 1,289, voted against the resolution asking for the bonus payment.

Wild cheers from the floor accompanied the following Land Bill. The legislative committee, by a vote of 21 to 9, previously had approved the payment.

The resolution adopted by the convention read: "Be it resolved, That the American Legion endorse and urges the full payment of adjusted service certificates and that the national officers be instructed to proceed before Congress toward enactment of this legislation."

The senator-elect from El Paso (K. M. Reagan) is sitting over there now lobbying for the bill. She pointed her finger at the southeast corner of the room.

"It's true it is a relief measure," she said, "but it is relief to the land owners. Who is going to raise the money for the schools if we let them have it?"

"This state is the richest of all in oil and minerals, yet the rich land owners are the ones that are benefiting, not the state. They have benefited by picking away at the legislature, asking just a little more and they will still ask for more."

Opening Exercises Hold by Colleges

Howard Payne and Daniel Baker colleges started classes this morning following formal opening programs held at Daniel Baker at 9:30 o'clock and at Howard Payne at 10 o'clock. The colleges opened Monday, but the first two days of this week have been given over to classification and matriculation.

Officials at each of the colleges are enthusiastic about prospects for the school term and are well pleased with enrollment. Students and faculty members at both colleges are looking forward to a successful year.

Daniel Baker Exercises
Welcome to new students at Daniel Baker was extended by Laurine Blades, president of the student body, who also was in charge of the program. He was assisted by Miss Lottie Easley, secretary of the student body.

Among the pastor who made short talks were Rev. P. T. Stanford, pastor of Central Methodist Church; Dr. W. H. Foster, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, and Dr. John Power, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Dr. S. E. Chandler, president, was introduced to the new students and made a short talk and announcements. He introduced James Oxford, former student of Daniel Baker and principal of Palmore Institute at Kobe, Japan, who is in the United States on furlough. Mr. Oxford made the principal talk on the program, speaking on "Visions."

Polly Wiley, captain of the 1932 Hill Billy squad, was introduced. Football prospects for Daniel Baker this year, he said, were bright. A musical number, "The Land," was given by Miss Novalyn Price, accompanied by the piano by Miss Mae Brannon. Three numbers were given by Miss Loraine Lockett who played the piano and Herman Trigg who played a saxophone.

Mrs. J. W. Trapp, head of the education department, made an inspiring talk on the history, name and spirit of Daniel Baker and complimented students on their good judgment, shown, she said, when they decided to attend college this year.

Announcements Made
Dean T. H. Hart made announcements concerning tryouts for Glee Club, which he said will be held Thursday afternoon. Announcement was made by Mr. Blades that upper classes will elect class officers on Thursday evening following chapel period and Freshmen will elect officers next Wednesday after the chapel program.

The annual reception at the college for students and faculty scheduled for Thursday night has been postponed. The Austin Avenue

Presbyterian Church will hold a reception for students that night at the church instead and the college reception will be held some time later. A reception for college students and young people was held at First Presbyterian Church Tuesday night.

Howard Payne Opening
President Thomas H. Taylor made Brownwood the promise that Howard Payne College will have a thousand students before the present term is completed, at the opening exercises held at the college auditorium, Monday evening.

After the invocation by Dr. G. C. Schurman, the program opened with a costume song, "The Indian Love Call," by Miss Louise and Daniel and Marguerite Wilson, followed by another vocal selection, "My Lindy Lou," by Mrs. Charlene B. Underwood, teacher of voice in Howard Payne. Mrs. W. D. McCulley, dean of the Howard Payne fine arts department, was accompanist for both numbers.

Pastors of most of the churches of Brownwood were present and extended greetings to the students and invited them to the churches of the city. Pastors who were introduced by Dr. Taylor and made brief talks were: A. E. Prince, First Baptist church; John N. Rentfro, First Methodist; G. C. Schurman, First Christian; K. K. Floyd, Austin Avenue Presbyterian; W. K. Foster, First Presbyterian; W. R. Hornburg, Coghlin Avenue Baptist; P. T. Stanford, Central Methodist; J. M. Parker, Calvary Baptist; J. M. Cooper, Melwood Avenue Baptist, and C. T. Aiy, Belle Plain Baptist.

Dr. Taylor called the names of the pastors of the other churches of the city, stating to the students that a welcome had been extended to the services at all churches.

Rev. Ben M. David, former Howard Payne student and former pastor of the First Baptist church at Royce City, occupied the rostrum with the pastors and led in prayer after the scripture reading by Dr. M. E. Davis.

Rev. C. V. Carroll and Rev. Z. E. Parker, pastor at Sonora, were introduced by President Taylor and spoke briefly to the student body.

Dr. Taylor introduced the faculty members, most of them making announcements at the time as to their classes.

A checking of the list of the students present who have never been in Howard Payne before shows 227 new ones enrolled. There are large numbers of the old ones back for this term but the exact number had not been ascertained this morning.

LAND BILL IS CALLED STEAL BY LEGISLATOR

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.—Rep. Sarah T. Hughes, 100-pound member of the state legislature from Dallas, swung the House of Representatives today into cheers as she denounced West Texas land bills as a "$20,000,000 steal."

"It's a constitutional steal," she said, "but it takes the money from the public schools."

The House applauded as she continued. The senator-elect from El Paso (K. M. Reagan) is sitting over there now lobbying for the bill. She pointed her finger at the southeast corner of the room.

"It's true it is a relief measure," she said, "but it is relief to the land owners. Who is going to raise the money for the schools if we let them have it?"

"This state is the richest of all in oil and minerals, yet the rich land owners are the ones that are benefiting, not the state. They have benefited by picking away at the legislature, asking just a little more and they will still ask for more."

The bill was the first of three, already passed by the Senate, to take the place of Senate bill 310 of the regular session, held invalid by the state supreme court. The court held that beside the royalty on oil lands that the state is entitled to half the bonus money and interest where the landholders is permitted to make the leases as agent both for himself and the state.

Proponents of the bills claim that they merely provide for the state carrying out in good faith the original agreement under which lands were sold.

CITY SCHOOLS ENROLL 2,201

There were 2,281 students enrolled in Brownwood city schools today, according to a report from Superintendent Woodward. The attendance is expected to increase as students who are working now, enroll from time to time.

Reports from all eight schools in the city system to Mr. Woodward today was that everything is running smoothly and the school year is about in full swing.

The enrollment by schools is as follows: Senior High, 497; Junior High, 410; Coghlin ward, 561; South ward, 256; Ford ward, 193; Brownwood Heights, 136; Looney ward, 143; colored school, about 80.

The enrollment in 1931 was 2,809. The enrollment is not much smaller than last year, and this year's enrollment will be increased some.

The seventh grade at Junior High School is the largest ever had there, numbering 212. C. F. Wesner, the principal, accounts for a decrease in enrollment in his school by the fact that no sixth grade students are being accepted in Junior High this year but are remaining in the ward schools.

Preliminary work had been completed at the schools and regular schedules of work have been started.

TWO PETITIONS PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL

City Council took no action either on the Sunday show question or the Volunteer Fire Department question in meeting Tuesday night. On the question of Sunday shows, there was no one present to present the matter arrived during the ordinance prohibiting Sunday shows, passed by the council Sept. 6, is repealed. At the time the proposal was read there was no one at the meeting to address the council on the question and aldermen postponed discussion. No one interested in the matter arrived during the meeting and no action was taken.

The proposal was signed by J. F. Rentfro, J. J. Timmins, J. W. Jennings, Mollie W. Armstrong, Lee Watson, B. A. Fain, B. E. Bell, C. L. McCartney and E. P. Phillips.

Fire Department Question
A proposed ordinance repealing parts of another ordinance, reinstating Brownwood Volunteer Fire Department as an auxiliary fire fighting body was read. Some of the volunteer firemen objected to parts of the proposed ordinance, stating they wanted the department reinstated just as it was before the paid department was created and the volunteers were excluded, with the exception that the volunteers will not vote on the paid chief as they did previously. Another ordinance was ordered drawn to be presented at next meeting. Four petitions, containing names of about 1,200 citizens, mostly business and professional men, were presented and asked that the volunteers be reinstated.

Contract to gather pecans on city land near city pump station was let to C. N. Davis, city water engineer. The pecans are to be gathered on the halves.

City Health Officer H. L. Locker reported that four cases of diphtheria and two cases of typhoid fever were being taken care of in the city at present.

Police Department Equipment
Chief of Police Bert Hise discussed with the council condition of police department equipment. The department, he said, does not have equipment with which to answer calls and is being criticized. One of the motorcycles of the department had been out of order for five months and the other is dangerous for his men to ride. Aldermen discussed buying an automobile, instead of two motorcycles. The question was referred to Aldermen Edward Henley, Jr. and Kay Roberts for investigation.

A market place where vegetable growers might sell their produce was discussed with A. I. Pabis, but no action was taken. The proposed market place is a lot back of the police station which is located at the intersection of Main and highway 10.

750 VISITORS FORD SHOW

More than 1,500 persons have visited the open-air automobile show sponsored by local Ford dealers at Howard Payne campus since its opening Tuesday night, it was announced today. The show, which is open each night until 10 o'clock, will continue through Saturday.

The opening of the show had been announced for 10 a. m. Wednesday, but Tuesday night while the managers were working to get things ready for this morning's opening, the lights were turned on and without warning a crowd began to gather. And thus the show was involuntarily opened ahead of time. Messrs. Jasgar and Reid, two of the Ford representatives here with this show, expressed appreciation this morning of the interest shown, though regretted that they did not have the exhibit in better shape for the first visitors.

The complete new line of new Ford cars as well as a representative showing of the new Ford trucks and commercial cars are being displayed. In addition, there are talking motion pictures showing the performance of the new cars and the new features of the trucks, and special mechanical displays, including a cutaway chassis.

Interest in New Cars
Visitors are displaying unusual interest in the graceful lines of the new Ford cars and their attractive interior appointments, including the comfortable seating arrangements, the various kinds of upholstery available, and the special fittings related just as it was before the paid department was created and the volunteers were excluded, with the exception that the volunteers will not vote on the paid chief as they did previously. Another ordinance was ordered drawn to be presented at next meeting. Four petitions, containing names of about 1,200 citizens, mostly business and professional men, were presented and asked that the volunteers be reinstated.

Visitors who have availed themselves of the free demonstration rides in the new cars have been impressed by their unusual riding comfort and their speed, reserve power, smoothness and ease of operation.

The exhibit of the new trucks is attracting local business men. Attendees explain the new features of their construction, the reasons for their unusual economy and reliability of performance, and point out the improved attractiveness of the new commercial units.

Special arrangements have been made to provide every facility for the comfort of visitors, including the parking and care of their automobiles while they are visiting the show.

Two Convicts Make Escape But Caught Within Few Hours

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 14.—Two convicts who fled from the Harlem state penal farm today and forced a youth to drive them to Houston were captured here shortly after their captive had been released and had given the alarm.

The convicts were Dee Hutton, of Stephens county, and Fred Fuller, of Harris county, both serving five-year terms.

Hutton was captured walking down a railroad track five minutes after Shannon drove to the police station and notified officers.

RECOVER BODY DROWNED MAN AFTER 9 HOURS

After a search of more than nine hours the body of Parvin Sawyer, 19, was removed from the water of Pecan Bayou at old city dam north of town at 9 o'clock Monday night by a crew of the searching parties that had been tirelessly dragged the stream since shortly after noon Monday.

The body was brought to the surface only a short distance from where Sawyer was last seen struggling in the water. He was swept over the dam by Monday afternoon before noon as he started to swim the Bayou, a short distance above the dam. Water below the dam was swirling and tumbling and Sawyer's efforts to swim out were in vain.

Witness on the banks were unable to give assistance. Several people fishing at the dam were witnesses. In the boat that located the body were two of the witnesses of the tragedy, Worth and Aden Arant. The party in the boat was dragging the stream with a long cane pole on which hooks were attached. Dudley McCarty was holding the drag. Others in the boat were Marshall and Robert Stevens.

Hundreds of volunteers workers had dragged the stream in an effort to locate the body since shortly after word of the drowning was received in town Monday about noon. The first whistle was blown and members of the volunteer fire department, members of Brownwood police department and fire department, other city employees and many volunteers quickly organized rescue crews.

Three or four boats were rushed to the scene and put into service. Many dragging devices were prepared and pressed into service. A number of volunteers swam and dived in the cold water to try to locate the body.

Flood gates at Brownwood dam, 8 miles north of town, were closed when officials were notified of the drowning. Water at the dam here, which had been very swift when Sawyer drowned, had run down and was not as deep and swift when the body was located, since the gates were closed and no more water was going into the stream from the lake.

The long hours of effort during the afternoon were in vain and as darkness fell the workers continued to search until about midnight. Three large spot lights connected to storage batteries.

Hundreds of people went to the scene during the afternoon and night, some to offer help and others to watch the activities. The large number of spectators lined both banks, watching the rescue crews drag the stream.

As soon as the body was brought to the top, it was carried to McKinley Funeral Home in an ambulance and prepared for burial. The hope of reviving Sawyer was given up after he was not located in thirty minutes after sinking in the water. First aid men say a drowned person cannot be resuscitated after thirty minutes in the water.

Louis Parvin Sawyer was born April 29, 1913, in Brown county and had made his home here all his life. He was well known here. Sawyer had fished a great deal on the Bayou, that being his chief sport, members of his family say.

His father, L. S. Sawyer, who was working near Ebony, was notified with lantern slides, by Dr. H. B. Alspaugh, Fort Worth; "Common Sense Management of Hypertension," by Dr. Will S. Sawyer, W. M. H. talk on "The Relation of Livestock Sanitation to Public Health," to have been given by Dr. W. R. Sanderson, veterinarian, was postponed.

The following members were present: Drs. D. R. Scott, J. M. Horn, H. B. Alspaugh, W. E. Paige, Earl Jones, O. N. Mayo, Ben M. Shelton, W. B. Anderson, J. W. Tottenham, C. W. Gray, C. W. Drake, H. L. Lobstein, all of Brownwood, and Dr. J. E. Brooking and wife of Goldthwaite and Dr. Sanderson, D.

Out of town doctors: Dr. Will S. Horn, H. B. Alspaugh and G. R. Enloe of Fort Worth, Drs. S. N. Aston and R. H. Cochran of Coleman and Dr. R. N. Smith of Commerce. Dr. Enloe is a former Brown county physician, having been reared in the Elkins community.

County Tax Rate Reduced 30 Cents

Brown County Commissioners Court adopted the budget for 1933 at Monday's weekly session of the court. A number of amendments and changes to the original budget as prepared by county officials were made and as a result County Judge Courtney Gray is preparing a revised and corrected form of the budget, this to include all amendments and changes made by the court.

According to the budget as adopted, the county tax rate for the year has been slashed from $1.30 on the $100 valuation to $1 on the same property valuation. This saving was effected chiefly through the proposed relief that is to be given the Texas Legislature by the expected passage of a road bond relief bill.

40 Cent Road Tax

The tentative tax assessed for road bonds is forty cents, which with the sixty cent levy for other operating expenses of the county government, brings the total county tax to the $1 figure. Last year the bonded tax was 65 cents on the hundred dollar valuation and if the Legislature fails to pass the expected road bond relief bills, the county road bond tax will have to be raised from forty cents to seventy cents or more, according to Judge Gray. This increase in rate would be due to the shrinkage in property valuations and to unpaid taxes.

According to the budget as adopted, the county tax rate is divided as follows: jury fund, five cents; road and bridge fund, fifteen cents; general fund, 25 cents; courthouse interest and sinking fund, ten cents; special road and bridge fund, five cents; road bond fund, forty cents.

In addition to adopting the budget for 1933, the court approved regular monthly bills, looked several estimates on highway and bridge work and transacted other business of less importance that came before the commissioners.

The Banner-Bulletin

Published Every Thursday by MAYES PRINTING CO., Brownwood, Texas

Entered at the Postoffice at Brownwood, Texas, as second-class mail matter.

A. D. MURPHY, Business Manager. Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Banner-Bulletin will be promptly corrected when brought to the attention of the publisher.

Free Speech Still Supreme

PRESIDENT HOOVER deserves commendation for the prompt manner in which he ordered the reinstatement of Ben H. Kerr, a World War veteran and clerk in the postoffice at Gary, Indiana, who had been fired by a politically-minded Postoffice Department for daring to express his personal approval of the soldiers' bonus in a manner contrary to the views of the administration.

Mr. Kerr, as you doubtless read, introduced a resolution in favor of the bonus at a meeting of his local American Legion post. All this happened after his day's work at the postoffice was done, and it is very clear that he acted merely in his capacity as a private citizen.

If Mr. Kerr's dismissal had been permitted to stand it would have set a precedent that would have muzzled the free speech of every employe in the government service. Unless he cared to risk losing his job, no government employe could have dared to express his personal opinion on the bonus, prohibition or any other national issue.

Nothing could have been more regrettable, or more unjust, in a land where freedom of speech is our oldest and most cherished tradition, the right of which is guaranteed by our Constitution.

The Campaign Begins

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT is now beginning an eight thousand mile journey into the western states, where he will discuss the issues of the campaign before an electorate whose support will be necessary if he and his running mate, John N. Garner of Texas, are to carry the Democratic standard to victory in November.

years in the areas he is to visit. The Republican campaign likewise is beginning in earnest. President Hoover, professing to be so busy with his duties in the White House that he can give little time to active campaigning, plans to have the support of the entire administration, every member of which is being used for speech-making purposes.

In addition to the activity in the national campaign, a number of states are now concluding their primary campaigns which have stimulated unprecedented interest. The situation in Texas today is somewhat uncertain, with the Democratic convention in session at Lubbock to act upon the official report of the recent run-off primary election and with court contests assured regardless of the convention action on the matter.

Two Weeks of Legislation. THE SPECIAL session which was called to work by Governor Sterling two weeks ago, has spent two weeks laboring on the three major subjects submitted to it, and has finally passed one of them.

The measure proposing to permit Texas building and loan and insurance companies to invest in the stock of the federal Home Loan Bank has not yet been considered on the floor of the House.

district bonds that have been used in purchase of rights-of-way as well as for construction, while the House would limit reimbursement to bonds used for construction purposes only. A free conference to iron out the differences of opinion should be productive of action on this important item within the next three or four days, and the session may be able to conclude all its work this week.

SUIT AGAINST FERGUSONS TO BE TRIED SOON

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.—Denouncement filed in the state Senate today of accusations made by Governor Ross S. Sterling in his election contest suit against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson on the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, filed in district court here yesterday.

Five Senators in whose districts irregularities were charged stated their resentment from the Senate floor. These were Senators Margie Neal of Carthage, Gus Rusek of Schulenburg, Pink Parrish of Lubbock, John Hinkley of Austin and W. M. Martin of Hillsboro.

Discussion Not Proper. The discussion ended when Senator Tomas Pollard of Tyler raised a point of order that the discussion of the matter was not proper and should be left to the court for determination.

Senator Walter Wooding of Houston attempted to ridicule the allegations by pointing out that they had insisted the matter be left to the courts when the Senate investigation resolution was being considered and "now that that has been done you are fussing because they have done so."

No Hearing Before Sept. 20. Five days after that would make Tuesday, Sept. 20, the earliest day on which a hearing could be forced. Nineteen days would be left for contesting the ballots in 128 counties, perfecting an appeal to the court of civil appeals and, after its action, taking an appeal to the supreme court.

Among the signers of the petition was M. M. Crane of Dallas, former attorney general, and prosecutor of the impeachment charges brought against former Governor James E. Ferguson. R. A. Stuart and Sam

RUSSIAN ASSASSIN'S HEAD IS CHOPPED OFF; WOMAN SEES "THE WIDOW" DO HER STUFF

NOTE: Miss Mary Knight, staff writer for the Texas Bureau of the United Press, dressed in boy's clothing today, slipped inside the police lines at Sante prison, and watched the guillotine decapitate the murderer of President Paul Doumer, Dr. Paul Gorgouloff. She is the first woman to witness such an execution in France.

BY MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright 1932 By United Press) PARIS, Sept. 14.—I stood beside the guillotine outside Sante prison at dawn today, the first woman to witness an execution in France from the enclosure reserved for officials and journalists, and watched as Dr. Paul Gorgouloff's head was chopped off for the murder of President Paul Doumer.

Half Angel, Half Devil. Suddenly we became quiet. The man was manacled into position. The door opened, and out stepped Gorgouloff, looking like a great monster in the light of early day. He had a peculiar, twisted smile on his face, half angel and half devil.

MISSING WOMAN IN BERN FAIR FOUND

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The body of the scantily-clad woman who was missing from the Sacramento river fair, today lent credence to the theory that the woman was the life of Paul Bern, the film producer.

The woman Bern had been regularly supplied with money by Sullivan, clerk of the court in San Francisco. Miss Bern was identified out of the body on September 7, when news was received that she had committed suicide.

Dave, a fisherman, found the body in the river, an arm of the Sacramento river, late yesterday. The woman was clad in a black silk dress and a black hose and expensive shoes. The skirt was found on the river steamer Delta, which Miss Millette van der Meer was on last Wednesday. Absence of slippers was found on the steamer.

James R. Garlick, attorney for the film producer, was expected to be called to identify the body at a hearing in Los Angeles to determine if the woman was Bern. The hearing is expected to be held to determine if the woman was Bern.

Depression Is on Seriously in Japan, Says James Oxford, Visiting Here

The depression is on seriously in Japan at this time and in addition to this the Japanese have on what is really a war in Manchuria and the bottom has fallen out of the silk market, the chief export of the country, says James S. Oxford, former Daniel Baker College student and principal of Palmore Institute at Kobe, Japan, for more than 20 years, who is in the United States on furlough.

Mr. Oxford came to Brownwood Saturday to visit relatives and friends and went to Crawford Wednesday to visit his father, who is ill at his home there. Mr. Oxford preached at First Methodist church Sunday night, spoke at a meeting at First Presbyterian church Tuesday night and at Daniel Baker College chapel program Wednesday morning. He and his wife and son will be in this country for some time, but plan to return to Japan in the spring. Mrs. Oxford and son were not here with him, but are visiting in New Mexico and will come to Texas later. They sailed from Japan July 30.

Foreign trade in Japan is practically at a standstill now and the currency of the country has depreciated about 50 per cent during this year, Mr. Oxford says. The Japanese are a fine people and the common people are not responsible for present conditions as the army and navy have control of the government, he declared. The common people are the ones who have to suffer.

School for Men

Palmore Institute is a school for men. Most of the class work is done at night and most of those who attend are business men. Mr. Oxford went to the institute in 1910 and became principal about a year and a half after he went there.

Mr. Oxford entered Daniel Baker College in Brownwood in 1899, studied a year in the preparatory department and graduated with the class of 1904. He taught in the commercial department of the college for three years, then went to Vanderbilt where he studied in the theological department for a year. Leaving there he went to Chile where he taught for two years. On

New Oil Proration Orders Effective In Gulf Coast Area

AUSTIN, Sept. 15.—What Commissioner E. O. Thompson estimated may be but the first of similar orders for all fields went into effect today in the gulf coast area where production of any well at the rate of more than 240 barrels a day was prohibited.

The order, issued late yesterday, supplemented a general order cutting production ten per cent with a few exceptions for pools and containing to receive special orders later.

Thompson pointed out that at the recent proration hearings conducted here he had elicited statements that a limit of around 200 barrels for any well would result in conservation. Such orders would cut the Texas daily production about 110,000 barrels, he estimated.

DANIEL BAKER COLLEGE NOTES

Seniors Elect Officers.
The class of '33 elected the following officers for the coming year immediately after chapel this morning:

President, Pete Weaver; Vice President, Donald Hunter; Secretary-Treasurer, Lottie Esley; Sergeant-at-arms, Charles B. Brinkley; reporter, E. B. Cole; faculty sponsor, Miss Janie Peavy.

Weaver is due to guide the class through the most successful season in its history. Pete hails from San Angelo and is as popular with the other classes as he is with the seniors.

Miss Janie Peavy was unanimously retained as sponsor of the class. She served in that capacity last year.

Up to the present time we have not received a report of the results of the other class elections which were also held this morning.

Billies Prep for Longhorns

The football men are working long and hard each evening at Hill Billy park in preparation for the opening game of the season with the Longhorns of the University of Texas. All the men realize that this opening clash will be one of the hardest games to be played this year, and Coach Blair states that the spirit of cooperation and willingness shown this season is better than it has been in the last several years. It is certain that the team that trots on the field at Memorial Stadium Saturday, the 24th, will be ready to give its best in one mighty effort to step the Longhorns.

Hospital Notes

Miss Eloise Fletcher, 1411 Vine Street, has returned home after a minor operation in Central Texas Hospital.

Mrs. J. B. Landers of Menard has been admitted to Central Texas Hospital for radium treatment.

Dorothy Nell Parker of Sonora has been dismissed from Central Texas Hospital after a minor operation.

BLEASE DEFEATED

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 14.—Former Senator Cole I. Blease suffered the most decisive defeat in his long political career as returns from yesterday's run-off primary indicated an overwhelming victory for the incumbent, Senator Egilson D. Smith.

COLEMAN FAIR IS ABANDONED

COLEMAN, Texas, Sept. 15.—If Coleman county people want to exhibit fine livestock, home demonstration products and the best farm crops the county has ever produced it will be necessary for them to visit fall and winter fairs in other counties. After two fairly successful fairs, one in 1930 and the other in 1931, the idea of building a permanent organization in the county has been abandoned and the fine property originally acquired on the Baird-Abilene highway has reverted to the man from whom it was acquired, together with buildings and improvements. The failure of the institution has served only to impress upon the people the fact that everything grown or produced in the county is better "show stuff" than has been produced in more than a decade.

Some west Texas county, not in the same fix, will profit by Coleman's failure, because both County Farm Agent C. V. Robinson and Miss Gertrude Brent, home demonstration agent, have their forces better organized than they have ever been.

Demonstration clubs, by their activities, have filled practically all rural pantries with canned fruits, vegetables and meats, and 4-H clubs are carrying out a well rounded program, and more calves will be fed and fattened for show and market this fall and winter than ever before. Calves will go into feed-pens from the ranges in prime condition and daily gains will be increased.

If the price continues to improve there will be an added incentive, because 4-H club boys who have or will have to buy their calves will get them at advantageous prices, something they have not done heretofore.

WATSON FILES APPEAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 15.—An appeal to the Indiana supreme court on a habeas corpus petition was planned today by Hunter B. Watson, self-styled "bad man" from Texas, in an attempt to forestall extradition. Judge R. Williams, in municipal court, had overruled Watson's plea.

20,000 PEOPLE HEAR DEMOCRAT LEADER SPEAK

BY FREDERICK STORM
United Press Staff Correspondent
STATE CAPITOL, Topeka, Sept. 14.—A crowd of 20,000 noisy Democrats thronged the grounds of the historic state capitol today to hear Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, offer to the farmers of the nation his panacea for their economic ills.

A blazing hot sun beat down on most of the audience who streamed into the park after lining the main street of the city to welcome the nominee and Speaker John N. Garner of Texas, his running mate.

Two bands alternated in blaring forth "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Anchors Aweigh," the official campaign tunes of the Democrats.

The music kept the crowd in good humor while Roosevelt discussed political problems with Governor Harry H. Woodring and state Democratic leaders.

They promised the New York Governor and Speaker Garner that Kansas would be found in their column in November. Earlier in the day, Garner visiting Roosevelt aboard his special train, told him "the west was safe for Democracy."

Great Demonstration
The demonstration for Roosevelt was the largest he has met so far on his trans-continental tour.

Roosevelt, accompanied by Garner, his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Dall, and his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt, were driven through the streets escorted by a squadron of cavalry of the Kansas National Guard.

Roosevelt, who came out on the platform with James Arthur Mullen, Democratic national committee man for Nebraska; Governor Woodring and United States Senator George McGill of Kansas, received a big cheer from the crowd which had increased to nearly 20,000.

"Hello, old sailor," someone shouted to the nominee. He acknowledged the greeting with wave of his hand.

The women members of the Roosevelt party followed the Governor shortly afterward and took their places on the platform.

Woodring, in a brief address, introduced Speaker Garner.

He got a laugh when he said "I neither wear horns or have hoofs, although I come from the Lone Star State of Texas."

Garner then introduced Roosevelt, but the Governor delayed for a few minutes because he was too early for the broadcast hookup.

A sea of upturned faces confronted Roosevelt when he began speaking.

"Yesterday we heard from the state of Maine," he said, "and in November we will hear a greater measure from the state of Kansas."

Then he launched into the text of his prepared address.

STATE CAPITOL, TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 14.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today offered the agricultural mid-west a relief plan to give farmers a tariff benefit equivalent to the benefits given industry.

The governor, making the first of four major speeches on his trans-continental tour, emphasized the important points in the plan providing for self-financing and prevention of retaliation by foreign countries. He also advocated more equitable distribution of taxes, the need for refinancing farm mortgages and extension of credit to holders of farm mortgages on certain conditions.

His Six Proposals
The governor summed up his plan in six proposals that provide:

- 1—A tariff benefit over world prices which is equivalent to the benefits given by the tariff to industrial products.
- 2—The plan must finance itself.
- 3—It must not make use of any mechanism which would cause European customers to retaliate on the ground of dumping.
- 4—It must make use of existing agencies and so far as possible be decentralized in its administration, thus placing responsibility for operation upon the locality rather than upon Washington.
- 5—It must operate as nearly as possible on a cooperative basis and its effect must be to enhance and strengthen the cooperative movement.

REORGANIZATION PROGRAM OF ROOSEVELT HIGHLY LAUDED

AUSTIN, Sept. 15.—"Governor Roosevelt's denunciation of speculative and impractical marketing operations, as conducted through government supported agencies, and his advocacy of a sound constructive agricultural plan will appeal to the agricultural people of America and greatly aid, if not insure, victory for the Democratic party in the November general election," said J. E. McDonald, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, here today.

"It evidences the fact that he is acquainted with agriculture from both the producing and marketing ends," said McDonald. "It will give those engaged in agricultural some hope, which has not been theirs during the past three years."

"It must be evident to all students of agriculture that tariff for industry alone is manifestly unfair and inequitable, and if continued, would do harm to not only agriculture but industry itself."

"Governor Roosevelt's idea to have the agricultural plan operate in such manner as will finance itself is sound and will meet with the approval of the farmers. Not only must any agricultural plan be self-sustaining, but any plan established must be controlled by those directly and actively engaged in agriculture. The farmer is intelligent and honest, and merely asks his government for an even break with industry."

"Co-operative marketing, when intelligently conducted, is generally accepted and approved as being the most practical method for agricultural products. Any co-operative marketing association must have its officials selected from its own farmer group, who have the welfare of the association at heart, who will serve with patriotism and for a reasonable salary and will conduct marketing without speculating in the various commodity exchanges."

Price Adjustment
Means of bringing about, through government effort, a substantial reduction in the difference between the prices of the things the farmer sells and the things he buys, was declared by the governor to be an immediate necessity.

"One way of attacking this disparity," he said, "is by restoring international trade through tariff reductions in support of a clear-comprehensive plan for solving, at least in part, some of the farmers' difficulties."

The governor recalled the efforts of various groups in the interest of marketing surplus farm crops.

"Support for the trial of some plan to put the tariff into effect seems to be found everywhere except in the administration at Washington," he said.

He charged that this attitude was more than a failure to assume leadership.

Depression Began in 1921
"It is an absolute repudiation of responsibility," he observed, "that Roosevelt then charged that the depression in agriculture began in 1921. Republican leaders first sought to belittle the plight of agriculture and later offered the Fordney-McCumber tariff as a remedy, he said."

Charging that the Fordney-McCumber tariff strangled the normal trade in farm surpluses, the governor said farm leaders in 1922 worked out a program for equality in agriculture.

"They moved in the direction of a Republican agricultural conference to consider it. The conference met. It took the amazing position that production should be reduced to the demands of the domestic market by the cheerful means, it appeared of starving out the farmers who had formerly exported to Europe."

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the president, then the secretary of commerce, was not without influence in the determination of this result," Roosevelt said.

The Tariff Fraud
Roosevelt went back to the Coolidge regime to seek material for his attack on the present administration.

"The claim that the Republican discriminatory tariff methods are a benefit to the farmer is a cynical and pitiless fraud," he declared.

He summed up the Republican farm program with the declaration that:

"The present administration asks farmers to put their interests in the hands of the bitterest opponents—men who will go to any and all lengths to safeguard and strengthen a protected few."

Then he closed with, "the time has come. The hour has struck."

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 15.—The tropical disturbance that hovered in the Gulf of Mexico for four days today was reported sweeping northeastward at a rapid rate across the northern edge of Florida and extreme southeastern Georgia to the Atlantic Ocean.

The report said the station agent at Carrabelle had closed his waterfront office because of bad weather and high tide waters. The same high waters drove residents in one Appalachicola waterfront section to second story rooms in their homes, but little damage was reported.

INVITATION TO JOIN IN VOTE PROBE ISSUED

DALLAS, Sept. 15.—The invitation to join in a request to the district court at Austin to recount the vote cast in the second primary for governor in every county and precinct, made by the Sterling election legal committee to Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and her followers, will be followed by a meeting of Sterling's legal forces here tomorrow, it became known today.

The demand to recount the entire vote was issued late yesterday by Sam McCorkle, district attorney of Mexico, in charge of gathering evidence of alleged illegal voting. Concurring with him were Gen. M. C. Crane, of Dallas, C. S. Bradley of Groesbeck and C. S. Slaton, San Antonio.

Tomorrow's meeting, it was presumed, will be for the purpose of preparing an amended petition in the election suit filed earlier in the week at Austin.

"We accept the challenge issued by a source reputed to be close to the Ferguson's and their friends asserting that an answer or counter-suit will be filed in the 126th district court at Austin setting up and charging alleged irregularities in counties other than those listed in the petition filed by Governor Sterling's attorneys in Travis county," the statement issued by McCorkle.

"We welcome an investigation and at this time stand ready to enter into an agreement with the opposition in this suit to request of the court a recount and investigation in court of every vote cast and counted in every voting precinct in every county in the state."

Meantime Sterling headquarters were setting up machinery to check voting records in more than 60 counties. C. B. Winstead, assistant to McCorkle, said local attorneys would do this work.

Luther Nichols, expected to serve as chief counsel for the Ferguson's, planned to leave for Austin tomorrow afternoon or evening for a conference with James E. Ferguson on the suit against his wife's certification as the democratic nominee for governor.
