COACHES PICK FEBRUARY 5-6 FOR TOURNEY

Class B and C Schools to Contend for Volley and Cage Honors

At a special meeting of the Cooke County coaches last Saturday, January 23, it was decided that the Cooke County Interscholastic League Tournaments in volley ball and basketball will be held on Friday and Saturday, February 5 and 6, according to a statement received from Athletic Director Elton Burger Monday.

The tournament, probably the most ambitious two-day athletic schedule ever attempted in Cooke County, will consist of both boys' and girls' contests in Classes B and C. It will serve as the final test for county championship to winners of the Round Robin tournament that has been in progress since the last week before the Christmas holidays. Should the winner of the Round Robin in any division prove victorious in the tourney the team is automatically recognized as county champion for its division. But if that winner should not win the tournament a play-off match will be arranged later.

As far as Muenster's girls are concerned the arrangement means that they still have a shot at the county title provided they win the tournament. Championship then would depend on a play-off game with Valley View, the winner of the Round Robin.

As they stand now Muenster boys have a chance to take county honors in the tournament. At about the time this paper comes off the press the Sumacs are making final preparations for their play-off game

Robert Knabe Is Married at Windthorst

Relatives from Here Attend
Nuptial Ceremony and Celebration

To the strains of the "Entry Braid Chorus" from Lohengrin, Robert Knabe of Muenster and Elizabeth Schroeder of Windthorst marched up the middle aisle of St. Mary's Church of Windthorst Tuesday morning, January 26, at 8:30 o'clock. They were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Bonaventure, pastor of the Windthorst parish and celebrant of the Nuptial High Mass. Assisting at the Mass was the St. Mary's mixed choir, with Mrs. Catherine Lerner at the organ, singing the four-voice Guardian Angel Mass.

The bridesmaid was Dorothy Schroeder, sister of the bride, and best man Albert Knabe, the groom's brother.

Floral decorations for the occasion were carried out in yellow. The bride's arm bouquet consisted of gold tinted white lilies, her sister had a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, and the altar and kneeling bench in the sanctuary was decorated with yellow roses.

The bride was dressed in white satin with white wreath and veil and

Paul Clayton's Cousin Killed Instantly by Fall from Oil Derrick

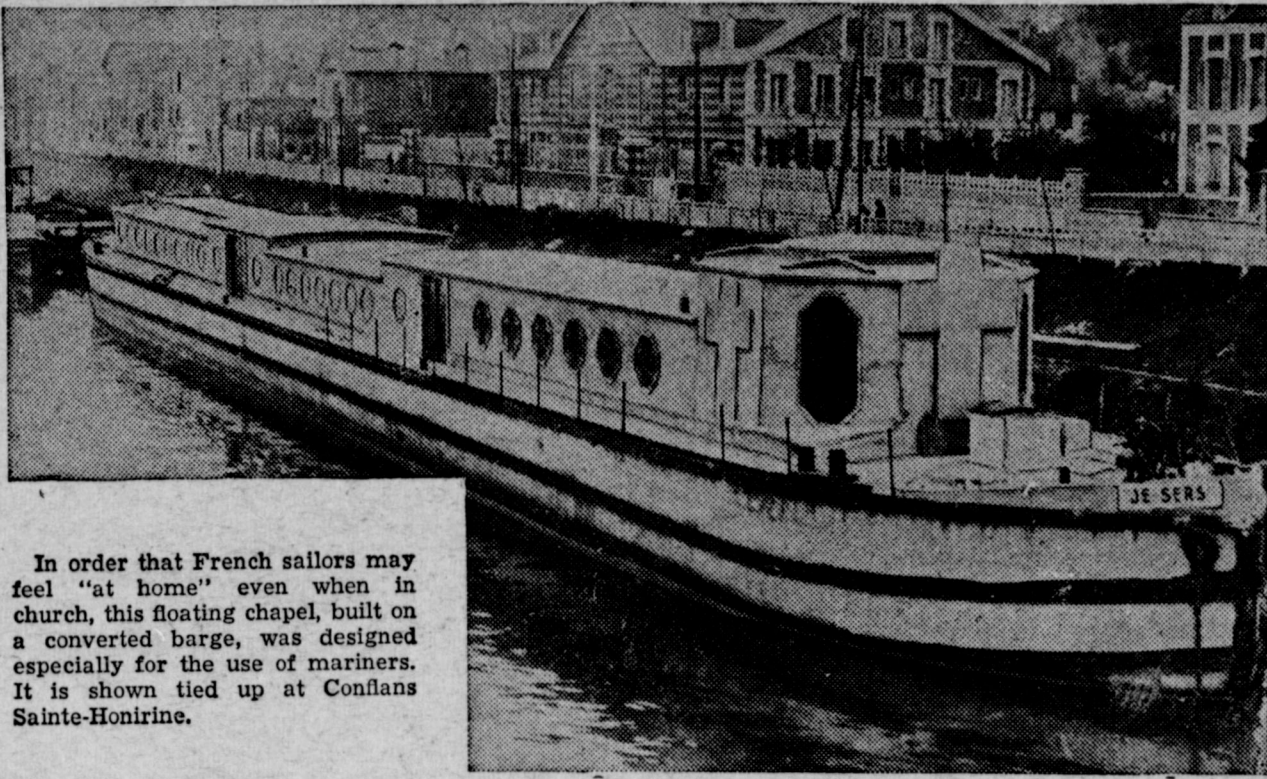

Virgil Mitchell, 30, a first cousin to Mrs. Paul Clayton, was instantly killed last Saturday at 3 p.m. when he fell out of an oil derrick on the Sears Farm lease in the Hays community.

The victim along with several others was in the act of tearing down the rig preparatory to moving it to a new location when his foot slipped and caused his fatal fall.

Paul Clayton, foreman of Ben Seyler's body repair department, left his regular duties to attend the funeral at Gamesville Monday afternoon. He was accompanied by his wife.

Mr. Mitchell is survived by his wife and one child.

In order that French sailors may feel "at home" even when in church, this floating chapel, built on a converted barge, was designed especially for the use of mariners. It is shown tied up at Conflans Sainte-Honrine.

Vincent Luke To Open New Electric Shop

Now Making Plans to Add Sales and Service in Radios

Early next week the doors of the Muenster Electrical Shop will be officially opened to the public unless unforeseen difficulties loom up to cause a delay. Vincent Luke, manager, advised Tuesday. In the new business Vincent will be assisted by his father, John Luke.

Vincent's plan provides for both sales and service. He will have on display an assortment of staple electrical appliances and in his repair room will have the tools and instruments necessary for thorough checking and rebuilding of electrical equipment.

As soon as definite arrangements can be made with some distributor

WEATHER HANDICAP DOES NOT PREVENT RECORD HATCH HERE

In spite of being handicapped by a lack of electrical current for more than 51 hours during the hatching period, the first set of baby chicks in the Muenster Hatchery came out with an average of about 88 per cent. Felix Becker, manager of the hatchery, advised Wednesday.

The chicks were due to come out of their shells Tuesday and at that time almost every one of the first birds was chirping merrily. Mr. Becker said that a few of the early birds were peeping their "come on's" to brood companions last Sunday. At noon Monday about half of the chicks were hatched.

The splendid turnout in this first attempt, especially since the weather co-operated so poorly, serves as a proof to doubting Thomases hereabouts that the hatchery can and will give unsurpassed hatching service. The percentage of a normal hatch is said to be between 80 and 85 per cent.

The Muenster Scouts at Camp Chapman

Editor's Note—Edward Endres was the lucky Scout proclaimed by the judges as the winner of Scoutmaster Nick Miller's $1.00 award for the best essay on the outing at Camp Chapman. The following is Edward's verbatim account of the experience.

The recent trip to Camp Chapman proved to be a novel and entertaining experience for the Boy Scouts. A number of people were at Nick Miller's shop to bid us farewell.

On the road many things attracted our attention. The first was the wheat fields and pastures filled with beautiful cattle and horses. There were unusually many patrol birds along the highway. The many trees along the creeks and the river were in beautiful shades of brown, gold and green. The Red River was extremely low and the red sand showed prominently.

To pass the time away we played zipp and counted the cars that we passed. Our car gave us some trouble but we reached Ardmore in an hour. Soon we were in the Arbuckle Mountains. Most of the trees were now frozen and the cedars which remained green made the mountains very beautiful.

Here we turned off the highway and traveled a road which wound around the mountains, sometimes over them and sometimes on the top of cliffs a hundred feet high. Here the scenery was so beautiful that it made us all look with opened mouths. The mountains were covered with cedars, sheer rocks rose high in the air and Price's Falls was at its best. Soon the road became only a mere trail between the mountains. After crossing the same creek about a dozen times we came to Camp Chapman.

Mr. Hobbs, the director of the camp, gave us our tents and cots

MONTHLY MEETING OF DEMONSTRATION CLUB HELD AT LINN

The Linn Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Wylie Corbin Tuesday afternoon, with Miss Nettie Schultz, home demonstration agent, in charge.

An interesting talk was given on "Bedroom Improvement." The correct shades of wall paper suitable for light and dark floors or furniture were discussed.

Miss Schultz also explained how braided and hooked rugs can help to beautify a room. Several rugs were shown to the members for inspection.

Those in attendance were Mesdames T. N. Fielder, Selby Fielder, Adolph Walterscheid, Ben Sicking, Wylie Corbin, Miss Nettie Schultz and Misses Irene and Rose Sicking.

Myra Girls Conduct Regular 4-H Meeting

Miss Nettie Schultz, home demonstration agent, met with Myra 4-H Club girls Tuesday at 1 o'clock in the school.

The meeting consisted chiefly of a discussion of hot beds and an inventory of clothes the girls have on hand preparatory to planning their spring wardrobes. During the meeting Miss Schultz gave each of the members a year book.

Scouts Raise Money For Flood Victims

To relieve distressed people in the flood swept district along the Ohio River, Muenster Boy Scouts have been on the trail since last Tuesday gathering donations that will be submitted to Red Cross relief headquarters.

According to Scoutmaster Nick Miller the boys have been meeting with fair success and should have a sizeable sum to offer as Muenster's donation early next week.

It is Mr. Miller's intention to deposit the total contributions in the Muenster State Bank early next week and forward to Red Cross headquarters the bank's certified check to cover the deposit.

Everyone who feels any sympathy for the sufferers of the flooded areas is urged to respond generously to the Boy Scouts' plea as they make their soliciting rounds.

SECOND CHILL IN TWO WEEKS STRIKES HERE

Report Fewer Damages and Injuries Than in
First Attack

Muenster had its second taste of chilly winter weather late last week when a downward plunge of the mercury accompanied by a heavy fall of sleet sent people scurrying for their extra wraps. The low temperature reported was 11 degrees.

In marked contrast with their experience of two weeks before, very few were inconvenienced by the return of cold weather. This time there was no rain or mist to accompany the attack and tear down telephone and power lines with tons of ice. In the previous cold spell hardly any rural telephone lines were left intact and electrical service was only periodic for several days after the lines had given way to their enormous burden.

Furthermore the sleet for the greater time lay loose on the surface so that there were considerably fewer spills. That condition was changed, however, by a light rain that froze as it fell Saturday night and left the most treacherous footing Muenster has seen this year, for Sunday morning.

By taking it easy cars seemed to navigate very well but pedestrians tripping along with their eight-inch steps frequently had forced landings.

Frank Herr, the genial master of ceremonies at the Farmers' Store and Market, suffered an injury to his back and ribs, that kept him off duty the following day, as a result of a fall in front of church. Frank is a younger brother of Mrs. Ben Luke, who injured her arm in

Knights Take First Step in Crusade Drive

Plans Outlined at Special Meeting Wednesday Night

In keeping with their resolution at a previous meeting to cooperate with the Supreme Council in its campaign against Communism, the Muenster Knights of Columbus took a definite step in the new Knights' crusade movement by planning a program to last through the season of Lent. Their plans were made at a special meeting on Wednesday, January 27.

As one of the outstanding attractions Grand Knight Henry Hennigan agreed to have State Deputy C. K. Walsh of Wichita Falls attend an early meeting as guest speaker. In the vent Mr. Walsh cannot accept he intends to have some other prominent speaker to explain to Muenster Knights the dangers that Christianity and civilization are being exposed to by the communistic menace.

To make the program more interesting and more effective Mr. Hennigan announced his appointment of several members as assistants. Herbert Meurer is chairman of the publicity program, R. R. Endres of entertainment, J. M. Weinzapfel of insurance, Edgar Fette of membership, and R. N. Fette of Catholic activities.

Active work in the Knights' crusade program will begin with the council's regular meeting next Wednesday, February 3. All Knights are urgently requested to be on hand for that meeting.

TAX INFORMATION

Beginning Saturday night and continuing all next week the office of Assessor-Collector will be open until 9 o'clock to accommodate those wishing to pay State and county taxes. January 31 is last day for paying taxes without penalty. If you secure voting poll tax you must secure same during January.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK'S NEWS OVER THE WORLD

Ohio Flood Dangers Spread to Mississippi Basin

Jan. 27.—One hundred twenty-five are reported dead, 550,000 are homeless and property damage is estimated at $300,000,000 as a result of the most disastrous flood in our nation's history, a news dispatch revealed Tuesday.

In the Lower Mississippi Valley the worst is yet to come as waters that have flooded dozens of towns and cities along the Ohio River roll seaward. Already great pressure is thrown on the great levee system of the Father of Rivers and with the arrival of the flood crest many are expected to give way.

Upwards of 1,000,000 acres are under water and thousands more will probably be submerged soon as the tide continues on its southward sweep.

Exposure, food shortage, and lack of power and light are responsible for rapid spread of diseases in the distressed areas. To relieve the misery as much as possible the Red Cross and Federal Government agencies are feverishly toiling night and day.

Donations by the millions are being sent from all sections of the United States through local Red Cross chapters. Special police forces and soldiers are assisting people and maintaining order. Government engineers are supervising the strengthening of some levees and destruction of others to give the water a more direct outlet to the sea.

Pope Enjoys Brief Relief from Pain

Vatican City, Jan. 26.—Pope Pius, rested by sleep and relieved of a great deal of the pain that affected his legs, enjoyed the sunshine of a specially built glass enclosed solarium.

He spent much of the day transacting church business in conference with several dignitaries.

Although his pain was considerably decreased Vatican reports emphasized that his condition is basically unchanged.

Pickets Attempting to Block Reopening of General Motors

Detroit, Jan. 26.—Five persons were injured in a clash with police as pickets attempted to prevent the re-entry of employes following General Motors' call for them to report for work.

Police ordered a special guard at the Cadillac plant after pickets said Tuesday that they would have a real picket line Wednesday and no one would get in.

No break appeared Tuesday in the deadlock blocking settlement of the dispute between officials of General Motors and the United Automobile Workers.

A Gymnasium for Muenster

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

IT WAS a dark and dreary night when Muenster and Valley View met for the second time in the Round Robin race. Still there were no less than 50 Muenster people there.

If that number is willing to drive 15 miles through fog and mud, what number could we estimate for a game at home? Answer that for yourself by trying to think of the people who would attend if it did not call for additional time and money and trouble for the trip.

Muenster sends to Gainesville almost as large crowds as some of the smaller communities draw to their gyms. Under those circumstances couldn't Muenster support a gym as well as they?

We know that a gym would be good for the town; we know that Muenster's fans can and will support it; we know that a satisfactory plan of financing can be worked out.

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

THE RUSSIAN COMMUNISTS ARE WARLIKE

IN THIS COUNTRY Communists are usually Pacifists. They always protest when Congress appropriates money for the army and navy.

But the Communists in Moscow have a different attitude. The Soviet Government has allotted $4,000,000,000 for building up its armed forces, which amounts to an increase of 35 per cent over the formed budget.

Perhaps the Communists in this country are not particularly anxious to see the United States prepare to defend itself. Their cousins in Moscow are willing to protect Russia from invasion.

Russia has a long frontier and it is more or less openly threatened by Japan and Germany. In view of this the Soviet Government cannot be blamed for developing its army. But is Russia concerned only for self-defense?

The world has seen how quickly the Russians have gone to the rescue of the Spanish Loyalist Government. If the Soviet were interested merely in defending itself and attending strictly to its own domestic business, it would hardly seem logical in giving assistance to the defenders of Madrid at the risk of involving all Europe in a war.—Dallas Times-Herald.

CHRISTIANITY'S COUNTER ATTACK

THE FOREGOING article taken from the Dallas Times-Herald is not just somebody's pipe dream. Communists here in America pose as peaceful citizens opposing any increase in armament. But why? Because Russia's Communists, who are known to be dictating communistic policies in America, want this country to be unprepared when they are ready to strike.

Does it not seem highly inconsistent that Communism in Russia should spend billions of dollars on increased armament, and at the same time its members in America should be clamoring for reduction of armament?

The time has come for Christian nations, and even Oriental nations—in short all the people who believe in the existence of a Supreme Being—to launch a counter attack on the movement that looms up as the greatest menace that civilization has faced to date.

As yet we can be thankful to Divine

Providence that we need not resort to an armed attack. Here in America we can still save ourselves from disaster if we will be as diligent in defending Christianity as Communists are in destroying it.

There are two kinds of persons who can fall prey to Communistic propaganda—intelligent people without a conscience who are heading for personal gain, and ignorant people who lack the intelligence or background to see through the fallacies of Communism.

Against each of these classes we have an effective method of attack. The unscrupulous group must be held at bay by constant vigilance. The ignorant group must be taught the fallacies and injustices of Communism, and at the same time convinced that there is a God and that a Communistic state is contrary to the rules of God.

GETTING THE BREAKS

SOME TIME AGO a man got his name in the headlines as a "lucky" fellow who scored a hole-in-one twice in the same round of golf.

People say he got the lucky breaks but few stopped to consider that his playing had to be unusually good before "luck" had an opportunity to lend her helping hand.

Have you ever seen a basketball player who makes a good percentage of long shots? He may seem lucky that a lot of them hit true but a close observer would notice that none of the shots missed by far. In other words the player was doing some accurate shooting and luck did not have to perform an unusual feat in giving him a break.

No matter what angle a person takes in life luck plays an important part. Anyone who will take an inventory of his good and bad luck will probably find that he has been generously endowed with both. The big question is, does the person take advantage of the good breaks? On the other hand, does he let the bad breaks take advantage of him?

A person may find year after year that bad breaks are keeping him from making a success of his farm or his business. But if he doesn't let misfortune whip him, if he continues plugging and holding his own, he will be in a position to take advantage of a good break when it shows up.

The man who fought his way through several crop failures isn't lucky because a bumper crop placed him on easy street. He had simply been playing the game well and was in a position to take advantage of a good break.

ANIMAL INTELLIGENCE

AN ARTICLE on Animal Intelligence by a Miss Pearl Gardner has brought forth a variety of opinions as to the comparative intelligence in horses, cows, pigs, and sheep.

All of which is a fair pastime for some people even though it doesn't get them anywhere. Before they try to decide which of those animals is most intelligent they should first find out whether any one of them has intelligence at all.

By intelligence we mean the ability to think, to form new and original ideas. Do animals show any ability in original thinking? Isn't it actually possible to explain the seeming intelligence of animals by the faculty known as memory?

If animals were intelligent, if they had the power of independent thinking, it seems we should be able to hold them responsible for their actions as we do men. But is there any nation whose laws hold animals responsible for their actions?

In recent years a theory which would have lower animals placed in a class with men, has been constantly gaining ground. It would have us believe that both men and animals are intelligent, but men are more intelligent.

That theory will not stand up under a test in the first place. In the second place it lays the foundation for a vicious attack on religious and moral principles handed down from the very beginning of civilization.

Imagine what the consequences would be if people began to consider themselves in the same class with lower animals.

Several times in life the average man faces the difficult problem of trying to decide which will cost less: To tell the truth, or hire a lawyer.—Washington Post.

HOELKER REPLACES MOSMAN AS POST MASTER IN LINDSAY

One of the most important changes to take place here during the past week was the transition of the Lindsay post office from the Henry Albers building to the C. Hoelker grocery store building adjoining.

Final changes were made last Monday, January 18, when Fred Mosman resigned his position as postmaster to be succeeded by Edward Hoelker, who took up his duties as active postmaster on Tuesday, January 19.

No one can say the Sumacs do not take their game seriously. Last Sunday they drove to Gainesville through mud and melting sleet for the chance to put in another good practice session before the crucial contest with Valley View's Eagles the following Thursday.

Another family is added to Muenster's population as Wylie Center, one of the employes of the Herr Motor Co., leaves Myra to make his home here. Wylie advised Tuesday that he intended to move Friday and Saturday of this week and will occupy some rooms in the Ed Clomp house.

Sunday. Quite prominent amongst the problems under discussion were such questions as these: Does the mortar between bricks hold them together or apart? Does a tub of water weigh more after a fish has been added? But here is the real brain teaser: If energy cannot be destroyed what becomes of it when a wound spring, that is not permitted to unwind, is eaten by an acid?

Baby's Improvement To Permit Removal From Hospital Soon

Robert, Jr., the two-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryle, is out of danger and getting along splendidly after his severe attack of pneumonia during the past two weeks. He has not, however, recovered to the extent that he can be moved safely from the hospital or get along without the attention of a special nurse.

Ever since the child was brought to the Myrick Hospital he has been under the supervision of a special nurse. Mrs. Joe Nichols of Gainesville was with him constantly for several days but lately has been here only for night duty.

Little Robert's temperature has been normal for several days, color is returning to his cheeks, and what few crying notions he has indicate that his little lungs are progressing well enough.

Muenster Man Collides Near Gainesville with Truck Without Lights

What could have been a fatal accident fortunately ended without a scratch to anyone, when Paul Bill Hellman, driving his Ford pickup truck, collided with another truck on Highway 5 about one-half mile west of Gainesville.

According to Paul's account of the accident he was traveling toward Gainesville in the vicinity of the Hutton filling station when an oncoming car cut in ahead of him, apparently driving into the station. Paul swerved sharply to the left and missed the car easily but discovered too late that he was headed for a collision with a truck being towed behind the other car. He states that the truck did not have lights and was not visible until he was out of the glare area of the first car.

No one was hurt but the right door was torn off Paul's car, fenders were crushed, and the entire body was knocked out of line. The car was driven to Gainesville under its own power but it is believed that it sustained more than body injuries in the wreck.

Iowa Visitors Depart After Farewell Party By Lindsay Relatives

The merry-go-round of visiting, sightseeing and entertaining which has kept Mrs. Adolph Fuhrmann, her son, Bobby, Miss Adeline Erpelding and Mrs. John Thill constantly on the move ever since their arrival nearly four weeks ago, has come to a close.

The group left early Wednesday morning for Gainesville where they took the 12:26 train for their homes in Iowa. Mrs. Fuhrmann and her son and Miss Erpelding are going to Bode and Mrs. Thill to Whitmore, Iowa.

A farewell party in the form of a family reunion which included approximately 20 families was given for them in the Lindsay hall last Sunday night, January 24.

The guests enjoyed dancing as a feature entertainment with musical selections given by Nick Mosman, Misses Zita Flusche and Regina Fuhrmann, Norbert Koessler, Valentine and William Fuhrmann.

Demonstration Agent Has Special Meeting For Club Reporters

"Eliminate overworked adjectives, beautiful, helpful, interesting, etc., when making reports for a newspaper because you as a reporter should not express your personal opinion," Miss Nette Schultz told reporters and sponsors of the Women's Club and the Girls' 4-H Clubs at a meeting held in the home demonstration agent's office in Gainesville on Saturday afternoon, January 23.

A report of a meeting or social event, as stated by Miss Schultz, should always tell in a very definite way something that was said or done in the meeting. In order that it does, a measuring rod—"Does this report carry a piece of information given at the meeting which will be useful to some one that was not there"—should be applied.

As a further guide to reporting, a pamphlet, "Get the Story," by Minnie Fisher Cunningham, was given to each one present.

Immediately after the nuptial ceremony the young couple had a wedding breakfast and later an old-fashioned wedding dinner in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schroeder. Guests of the day were immediate relatives and Father Bonaventure.

Muenster visitors who attended the ceremonies are the groom's mother, Mrs. August Knabe, his three sisters, Agnes and Christine Knabe and Mrs. Edward Fette, and his brothers, Bernard and Albert. Miss Irene Walterscheid, who is visiting with Sophia Munchrath, was present at the church services.

The young couple plan to spend several days at Windthorst and then return to Muenster where they will make their home.

arate brackets so that they are almost certain to meet in the final contest. That arrangement means to Muenster fans that the game most interesting to them is slated for Saturday night.

As an added attraction the tournament will again sponsor a queen contest. It is to be conducted on the same order as that of last year in which each school had its favorite and the favorite with the greatest number of votes was proclaimed Cooke County Queen.

Sports fans who enjoy clean hard played games will be considerably elated over the announcement that "Bogie" Bochart, the referee who made such a decided hit with spectators last year, will again be on hand to officiate the tournament.

and gave us a few instructions as where to put our tent and find fresh water. None of us had ever put up a tent before, so we had an exciting experience. Then we prepared a fireplace, gathered wood and did everything for making a camp. About 5 o'clock we had a supper of cheese, toast, fried potatoes and tea. After supper we washed dishes and cleaned up and then we went to the council ring which was held out under the stars.

Here we held contests and were told stories by Mr. Hobbs and another gentleman. About 7 o'clock the council broke up. The cots which we had prepared, proved to be very cold and uncomfortable and thus no one was able to sleep. About 12 o'clock some of the boys went out on a moonlight hike. They returned in about an hour but went on another hike at 4 o'clock.

Saturday morning at 5 o'clock we cooked breakfast. After we had our fill of bacon, eggs, flapjacks and hot cocoa we were ready for action. Some went over to the neighbor campers and woke them up. The rest of us washed dishes and cleaned the camp. Then we went hiking and climbed some of the highest mountains.

About 9 o'clock Mr. Hobbs gave us some lessons in forestry. We learned how to cut down trees, which trees to cut down, and what to do with them after they were cut down. After dinner we set out to find and explore the Torture Cave. After hunting for nearly two hours, nearly getting lost, and searching almost a square mile we found the cave a short distance from the camp. The cave was very dark and damp. It was rather large but full of big rocks. We could only go in it about 30 yards because it was filled with water.

We then carried leaves into our tent and covered them with a wagon sheet. This made a nice and comfortable bed. Then we cooked a supper of pork and beans, bacon, apricots and hot cocoa. After dishwashing we again went to the council ring. Here we put the Oklahomans to shame by singing the "Eyes of Texas." After more songs and contests the council broke up and we went to bed. We went to sleep right away and never woke up until 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

The first thing on Sunday was a hearty breakfast of bacon, eggs, flapjacks, toast and hot cocoa. Then we cleaned up and prepared for church. We had scarcely finished when Mr. Nick Miller and Mr. Paul Nieball came. Two of the boys remained at camp with Paul and the rest of us went to Ardmore for Mass with Nick. The mountains were now covered with fog and scarcely anything was visible. After Mass we looked for a meat market and finally found it. Here we bought steak, jelly and marshmallows. We returned to camp just in time to cook this for dinner together with some bacon and cocoa. Then we took down the tents and cleared the campsite completely. After this we took Nick into the cave and then went possum hunting. We walked through a drizzling rain for two hours with no luck. On the way home we took the wrong road and after many twists and turns ended in Davis. The trip home was full of plenty rain but otherwise was uneventful.

a similar fall two weeks before. At the time of this writing no other injuries were reported from tumbles on the ice.

Along with spills and chills the white blanket over the countryside provided a splendid opportunity for more and better fun.

Out in the Miller-McEntire-Lutkenhaus neighborhood the younger generation, including T. Miller, hooked a couple of home-made sleds behind automobiles for a merry ride over the country roads. With the exception of numerous spills, loss of passengers, and a few collisions with snow banks, everything went well. The only injuries on record are badly battered shins for "Arnie" Miller and general bruises for Bernice Miller.

Rabbit hunting was also fairly good, so good, in fact, that John Schilling and his two sons, Mike and Arnold, rushed to Celina Saturday to buy six greyhounds for running rabbits in the snow.

No reports have been received concerning the trophies of their chase but they must have been numerous if a kennel full of dogs gives the hunters any advantage. That mother nature gave hunters more than an even break was indicated by the fact that Earl, Gene, and "Bunny" Lehnertz emerged from the wilderness last Saturday with a total score of 38 rabbits.

Amateur photographers found in the snow covered landscape a dandy background for their snapshots. One party consisting of Norman Luke, Edward Endres, and Tommy Weinzapfel and several of their classmates shot poses by the dozens.

A melting temperature along with a great deal of sunshine Sunday, followed by another warm day Monday began restoring the landscape to its usual appearance.

scholastic League Round Robin by scoring victories over both the Calisburg and Era sextets last Tuesday night.

In the Calisburg match the girls nosed out with two successive hard fought games 15-12 and 15-12. Era games were easy—15-3 and 15-6.

Tuesday's two victories mark the Muenster girls as prominent contenders for the tournament title. Valley View, undefeated champion of the Round Robin race, is the favored team of the tournament.
