

CONFETA
CON "FETTE"

If all went well on a final examination tonight this Field Artillery soldier's personnel record will show him as being a qualified map reader. Which actually means he has a sort of feeble knowledge of fundamentals, able to determine such basic facts as direction, distance, and obvious terrain features. The course we had, while it is adequate under normal campaign conditions, is a mere introduction to the expert proficiency that can be developed by long hard study. Naturally we'll be expected to brush up and improve from now on.

The reason why members of the Field Artillery School staff and faculty were required to take the course is no secret around here. From bitter experience our high command learned that many costly mistakes to date were caused by inability to read maps. Conversely, some of our most successful skirmishes resulted from a thorough interpretation of facts shown on maps. It became evident that maps are more useful than most people thought. Hence the decision that more men know more about using them.

In this respect as in so many others, warfare has changed tremendously since the first world war. Then maps were considered useful only to a few of the high ranking officers. Today they are found extensively among privates. Mobile warfare as compared with trench warfare accounts for the difference. And, of course, maps are more plentiful now. Modern methods make it possible to reproduce them in tremendous quantities, whether they are the conventional line maps based on survey years before or photomaps made only a few hours before.

The line maps are not quite the same as those we first encountered in our geographies and have often seen lately in magazines. Areas covered are only a few square miles so that details can be emphasized. And, to identify location, they have a grid system instead of the system of meridians and parallels shown on other maps. As might be expected, most nations have their own grid system and their own conventional signs in addition to their own language and their own linear measurements. That gives some idea of what our men encounter when they have to work with foreign maps.

Those maps nowadays are usually regarded as only supplements to our own photo maps, which reveal the location of enemy installations and other details not shown on the old surveyed maps. They may consist of several vertical photos taken at an angle, or stereoscopic pairs. It is amazing what a wealth of information can be detected by a keen eye and a knowledge of aerial photos. Defective camouflage, tracks, muzzle blast mark, all betray gun emplacements. Sometimes it is even possible to determine the caliber of the guns. Likewise trenches, barricades, blasted bridges, and hundreds of other bits of military information become evident.

If an area is to be more closely studied it is probable that stereoscopic pairs covering it will be available. This is a revival of the old parlor amusement in which pairs of pictures were placed in a special frame so that they could be seen as one three dimensional picture. Remember? The army stereos are the same except that a fellow has to do his own matching and usually has only a pair of cheap glasses or his naked eye for the study.

When done it without glasses a person is merely doing by muscular control what the old fashioned stereo frame forced him to do. He focuses his sight in the distance so as to see each picture with one eye. The result is a blend which appears as a clear three dimensional picture in the center and faint images of the real pictures on either side. The one in the middle is a beauty. Buildings, trees, etc., seem to rise up off the surface whereas holes or gullies seem to sink below the surface. Except for color the whole landscape looks exactly as it does to the eye.

Considering the progress made by our forces in photo interpretation and assuming that our enemies have done about as well, it is easy to understand why opposing forces are so well informed on one another's activities.

Wednesday night's class was sort of an adventure. It was a practical problem to apply a few of the fundamentals we were supposed to have absorbed in class. Four groups went out in as many trucks, each to a different station on the post. There we were paired off and given maps to show present location and the next station.

For three minutes we were per-

Flower Show And Pilgrimage Held By Garden Club

The Civic League and Garden Club held its annual pilgrimage and flower show Thursday afternoon, June 1st, from 3 to 6 o'clock. Seven homes and yards in the city were visited. Arrangements of gladiolus, roses, day lilies, snapdragons, sweet peas and other spring and summer flowers and wild flowers were on display. Victory Gardens were also admired. Attractive vegetable and fruit arrangements at the home of Mrs. Joe Luke drew much favorable comment.

The tour started at the home of Miss Olivia Stock, president, after which visitors proceeded to the yard of Mrs. August Friske, home and yard of Mrs. Lou Wolf, home and yard of Mrs. Joe Luke and the yards of Mrs. John Fette and Leo Henschel, and ended at the home and yard of Mrs. T.S. Myrick. Refreshments of iced drinks and dainty sandwiches were served at the Myrick home. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of red verbenas.

A feature of the show was a table arrangement at the Stock home identical to the one at which Miss Stock was seated at the dinner opening the state convention of Garden Clubs at Fort Worth on April 18. The centerpiece was composed of greenery and lemons massed around a white candle in a crystal holder. Favours were packages of flower seed. A special attraction at the Wolf home was a beautiful marigold blossom, displayed as a coffee table arrangement.

All yards were attractive with well kept lawns, summer flowers and shrubbery.

Sixty-two persons signed the guest register, including the following from out of town, Mrs. C. W. Ratliff, Lubbock; Mrs. P. W. Hellman, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Wm. O'Shea, Brenham; Mmes. Huzh Morgan, A.A. Davenport and G.M. Anderson, Gainesville, and Miss Ruth Scott and Mrs. L.W. Scott, Jr., Saint Jo.

Mrs. Frank Kaiser was flower show chairman.

June 20 Designated 'Muenster Day' For Blood Plasma Donors

More Donors From This Community Are Urged To Register

Citizens of Muenster will have an opportunity to "give a pint and save a life" when the mobile unit of the American Red Cross blood donor center at Fort Worth sets up for business at Gainesville June 19 to 25. June 20th has been set aside as "Muenster Day".

While a number of local citizens have registered to contribute, this community is still far short of its expected quota. All healthy adults, 21 to 69 years of age are eligible and are urged to make application now.

Registration may be made at the local clinic, and the hour most convenient for the donor may be listed. In addition, all persons contributing to the blood bank may list the name of the serviceman they are giving blood for, and the Red Cross will write such servicemen telling them that a unit of plasma has been made available for them, listing the name through whose courtesy it is given.

The goal for Cooke County is 999 pints, of which one half is already assured. Cooke is one of the few smaller counties of the nation that has the opportunity to obtain a mobile blood donor unit, according to P.C. Sparks, chairman of the Cooke County Red Cross unit. Because blood must be processed quickly into the dried plasma form in which it goes to the battlefronts, the mobile units operate only within a limited radius of the metropolitan blood donor centers, he explained. So far, people from large cities have, for the most part been the privileged donors.

While donating a pint of blood is a simple matter so far as the individual donor is concerned, it can be seen that the Red Cross army-navy program for blood plasma is of such magnitude that an assembly line type of production close to the processing laboratories must be maintained.

So far more than 5,000,000 pints have been donated, the rate now being 100,000 units a week. The total army-navy request has been for more than 5,300,000 pints by the end of 1943.

Canning Project For Gainesville, Muenster Likely Fifth War Loan Drive Starts On June Twelfth

A community canning project for Muenster and another for Gainesville will be sponsored this summer. If equipment for operation can be obtained. This was the decision of a committee that met recently at the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce. Attending from this city were Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. T.S. Myrick.

Some equipment is now available through the county, including a 55 can capacity retort, but smaller pressure cookers, sealers, knives, scales, ladels and large spoons are needed.

Pressure cookers of from 12 to 18 quart capacity are particularly needed. The committee will arrange to buy, lease or borrow cookers of this size until July 1, or thereafter, when additional cookers are supposed to be made available. Persons with cookers or sealers they do not need or wish to sell are requested to call the Chamber of Commerce to list their equipment.

If enough equipment can be obtained a project will be set up at Muenster, and if not, provisions will be made to have women of this community use facilities at the Gainesville center, it was stated. Supervision of training will be under direction of Mrs. Julia Kelly, home demonstration agent.

Under plans discussed equipment and a skilled director will be made available for use of house wives in their canning work. A nominal charge of perhaps 2 cents per can for paying overhead will probably be made to users.

Another meeting for final reports and a definite decision regarding the two canning centers is to be held in the near future.

Harvesting Is In Progress; Grain Is Above Average

Muenster is entering its annual harvest rush. Beginning last Friday farmers began cutting in earnest on fields that were ready for the binder before the last heavy rain. But work was delayed further Monday afternoon when a shower intervened and stopped activity for the rest of the day.

Tuesday found practically all machines operating and hundreds of acres are now in the shock. With favorable weather prevailing there will be little grain uncut by the end of next week.

According to general reports this year's grain crop is about 10 percent above the average yield and community farmers planted approximately 90 percent more grain this year than last.

In addition to the binders, some two dozen combines are working in this sector. Up to Wednesday noon, however, the season's first grain had not been marketed locally.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS MUST STOP, OR ELSE, SAYS CITY COUNCIL

Traffic violations in the city must immediately be stopped, the city council stated in its meeting Monday evening. This order refers particularly to racing on main street and running the signal light at the intersection of main and the highway.

The city dads were emphatic in their announcement and equipment opinion regarding the situation: arrests are going to be made and the full penalty of the law imposed.

Mention was also made regarding the many youthful drivers of automobiles in this city, and it is hoped that these youngsters, some of them only eleven and twelve years old, will be supervised by their parents before it becomes necessary for the city to take matters in hand.

Other business of the session consisted of discussion of means to improve city streets and dispose of several water holes now marred by the locks of the city and menacing health by breeding mosquitoes.

The recent city clean-up was also discussed and it was revealed that two and a half large truck loads of junk and rubbish were hauled to the dump grounds during the one-day project.

Visiting the Weinzapfel family last Sunday was Pvt. Walton Roberts of Camp Howze. The soldier's father and Mr. Weinzapfel are friends of long standing through connections with Knights of Columbus activity. His home is in Tyler.

John Sturm Succumbs Saturday

Funeral Services For Retired Lindsay Farmer Held Monday Morning

John Sturm, 85, retired farmer of Lindsay and for 40 years a resident of that community, died here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his son, Joe Sturm.

Funeral services were held at Lindsay on Monday at 10 a.m. from Saint Peter's church with pastor, Rev. Conrad Herda, officiating at the requiem high mass and at burial in the Lindsay cemetery. Pallbearers were five grandsons, John and David Sturm, Raymond Bruns, Ruben Sturm and Al Kleiss, and James Geray. Arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Nick Miller.

Mr. Sturm was born in Germany on May 16, 1859 and came to the United States when he was 25 years old, settling at Carroll, Iowa. He was married there to Theresa Nees in 1890, and five years later moved to Lindsay to reside. In 1924 the family went to Vinita, Okla., to spend six years, then returned to Lindsay. Mrs. Sturm died there in 1936. Two years ago Mr. Sturm came to Muenster to share the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sturm, northeast of the city.

While engaged in farming, Mr. Sturm took an active interest in church and parish work. His name appears with a substantial notation on the subscription list which resulted in the building of the present Lindsay church, and he relinquished his interest only when old age would no longer permit him to be active.

Surviving are four sons: Otto of Noble, Okla.; George, Wichita Falls; Albert, Gainesville, and Joe Muenster; two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Parker, Corpus Christi and Mrs. L.F. Bruns, Gainesville, and 19 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild.

HORSE SHOW DREW LARGE, ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE SUNDAY

A horse show Sunday afternoon the first of its kind ever held in Muenster, was enthusiastically received by an audience of several hundred persons who gathered at the ball park to witness the events.

Fifty horses and 25 colts were shown, there was some fancy riding and a number of races and contests.

Prizes for the best gaited colt were awarded to T. Miller, first; Ben Sicking, second; Charley Heilman, third and Barney Voth, fourth. Awards, in the order named were $5, a colt halter, $3 and $2.

Mrs. T.S. Myrick riding "Red" won first place on the best gaited saddle pony, and Mrs. R.L. McNeley's "Duchess" took top honors for being the all-round best looking pony. Prizes were bags of horse feed.

Considered as runner-ups in this contest were the ponies of Alfred Beyer, Ben Sicking, Al Walter, Dorothy Hartman, J. P. Flusche and Al Trubenbach.

R.L. McNeley did a bit of fancy riding on "Trixie" and Johnny Bayer stayed on his pony while he put her through a good bronco busting act. Comedy during the show was provided by Leonard Hartman and his tame mule.

Another feature was a 100-foot man-against-horse dash in which the entrants tried to reach the finish line on foot before their opponents on horseback — and sometimes did.

Little Herbert Miller narrowly escaped sustaining a broken leg when the pony he was riding was kicked by another horse. The blow struck him on the leg and except for the heavy boot he wore, which softened the blow, a fracture would have been sustained, according to reports.

$5 USE CAR TAX STAMPS TO GO ON SALE JUNE 10TH

The $5.00 automobile use tax stamps for the coming year will go on sale Saturday, June 10, at postoffices and internal revenue collectors' offices, it has been announced.

The new stamp will cover the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and must be displayed on windshields after that date.

Largest Amount Ever Asked From County; J.M. Weinzapfel Local Leader

The Fifth War Loan drive which will be launched throughout the county on Monday, June 12, will be under the direction locally, of Mayor J.M. Weinzapfel, who has successfully led this community through the first four campaigns, according to announcement made this week.

Heading the drive in the county as chairman is John Hardy. The county quota is $1,290,000, which is $190,000 more than the goal in the last drive. The E bond quota in this drive is $630,000 in the county.

Muenster's quota, while not officially announced, is estimated to be $85,000, figured on the usual basis of this community's pro-rated share in county drives. This is $15,000 more than the local quota in the Fourth War Loan drive, which this city not only met, but oversubscribed by a substantial figure.

This is the largest amount ever asked from Cooke county and from this community. The war now that the invasion is on, is in its most expensive stage and the faster the money is provided by the purchase of bonds, the sooner the boys will be through with their job and can come home. What is more important, more of them will come home in proportion to how fast help is given at this time with money.

It is well to remember, the chairman points out, that when a bond is bought nothing is being given away. It is an investment of money in the best and safest saving account in the world. A bond is just as good as currency — both are signed by the Secretary of the U.S. Treasury — and the bond pays interest.

The local chairman feels that it will not be necessary to exert high pressure methods or put on special rallies to reach Muenster's quota. The patriotism and spirit that has carried through in previous drives is expected to put this community over the top in this drive also.

Sellers Announces For Attorney General

Grover Sellers

Grover Sellers, Attorney General of Texas, has announced he will be a candidate for a second term in that office in the 1944 primary election.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Sellers declared: "I am grateful to Gov. Coke Stevenson for appointing me attorney general, following the resignation of Gerald C. Mann, with whom I had served four years as first assistant.

"To the people of Texas I now submit my candidacy. When elected my one effort will be fair and impartial administration of all laws and the constitution as written by the people. I shall continue to work in complete harmony with other officials and state departments in the efficient operation of our state government.

"All Texans have one common thought today—winning the war as quickly as possible. This department, as in the past, shall continue full cooperation with military authorities in prosecution of the war. During the absence of our men in uniform, their welfare always shall be my first concern. In fact, I am the first ever to hold that Texans in uniform can vote.

"I base my candidacy on a background of experience gained as your Attorney General, first assistant Attorney General, judge of the Eighth Judicial District and as an associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals."

Correct Digging And Storage Of Potatoes Important

It soon will be time to dig and store potatoes, says J. P. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Storage of food articles is going to be an important factor in the home economy this year. Railroad transportation and packaging materials, two vital links in marketing food, are congested and short. On that account he believes that people who produce and conserve their own stocks will be best served.

So to the potato patch with Rosborough who says that they can be dug before the tops die but that they should be mature if they are to keep properly. To determine this, press the thumbs against the skin of a few and if it does not break easily the crop may be harvested. In case of excessive rain shortly before digging, small elevated white spots or water blisters, may form on the skin. Delay harvesting until the spots have dried; otherwise excessive rotting may occur.

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burnstan

The autogiro differs from the airplane in that it is a type of aircraft that attains its lift by airfoils or blades rotating above the fuselage instead of a fixed wing as on the airplane. By rotating these blades or airfoils mechanically the autogiro can be lifted with a very short take-off. After the blades are rotating, the mechanical power is disengaged and the blades are kept whirling by the air stream from the forward velocity of the autogiro. Forward motion is obtained by a propeller, mechanically operated, as on the conventional airplane.

The advantage of the autogiro over the airplane is that it can take off and land in a limited space and can be controlled at a low forward speed while in flight.

Next week we will explain the helicopter illustrated above.

as an egg and place them in the shade as soon as dug. A turning plow or middle buster run eight to ten inches deep may be used for digging. Separate all skinned or bruised potatoes from the others and use them first.

A cool, well ventilated cellar is satisfactory for storage provided it has an overhead vent to allow escape for warm air and moisture. The door and vent should be opened at night and closed during the day. If out buildings or the area under the farm house are used for storage cross ventilation is essential. Avoid spreading potatoes directly on the ground or floor. Provide a slatted false floor with at least four inches of air space. Even spreading them on willow poles or hay will allow air to completely circulate each potato. Air keeps them dry and tends to reduce rot. Exposed to direct sunlight potatoes turn green and become undesirable for eating.

for next winter's gas heating equipment needs

Your gas company suggests this because OPA certificates for the purchase of gas room heaters are issued on a monthly quota basis to those who can qualify. There are fewer applications for these certificates during summer months. That's why you're more likely to secure one now. So attend to heating needs this summer when purchase certificates can be had and equipment is available.

The Fifth War Loan starts next week. It's going to take teamwork—a lot of it—to put this drive over the top. For we've got a job to do. As the tempo of invasion rises every one of us must mobilize for support of our fighting men. In every city, town and hamlet men and women like yourself have banded together as War Bond Volunteer Workers, giving their time to taking your subscriptions for Bonds. Support them. Give them the kind of teamwork our boys are giving to each other on the fighting fronts!

When your Volunteer Worker calls, double your War Bond subscription. It's their job to help raise $16 billions of money for victory during this Fifth drive, $6 billions from individuals like yourself.

Make up your mind to welcome your Victory Volunteer with a friendly smile and an open checkbook—remembering that it's teamwork that does it!

CATHOLIC INSURANCE UNION ENJOYS VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The year of 1943 was a very successful year for the Catholic Life Insurance union, according to John P. Pfeiffer, secretary of the union. Notwithstanding the war 1943 was by all odds, the most successful year enjoyed by the union in its 41 years of operation. Twelve hundred and fifty-eight new members were won, carrying a total of $345,500. The most remarkable thing, however, was the fact that there was a clear gain in insurance in force of $766,250, that only 145 members were lost through deaths, lapsation, and cash surrender, totaling $79,250 of insurance. There was also a clear gain in assets of approximately $80,000, and this notwithstanding the fact that the union paid back to its members $7,930.62 in dividends.

proud of the outstanding progress made and the exceptional condition of solvency enjoyed by the union," Mr. Pfeiffer declared. "One of the outstanding features is that the average age of our policyholders has been reduced to the abnormally low average of 26 years. Out of $4,018,285 insurance in force, only $363,000 is on the lives of persons more than 50 years old. Though we write the standard 20-year policy on children from birth; we have done so only since Jan. 1, 1942; in fact we did not start to write insurance on the lives of persons less than 16 years of age until Jan. 1, 1937. The result in this very favorable average age is that during the past year we have suffered the loss of only 20 members through death, which is 21 percent of the expected mortality."

Total membership in the union is now 5,947 of which more than 500 are in the armed forces. So far three have made the supreme sacrifice.

Spiritual benefits of members of the union are many. They include a monthly Mass for the intentions of all members in the armed forces; a Requiem Mass for the repose of each member following his death, and an annual solemn Requiem Mass for the repose of the souls of all deceased members. The latter is offered on the occasion of the annual meeting of the directors of the union, held in connection with the Catholic State league convention each summer.

CITRUS JUICES ARE ADDED TO LIST OF RATION-FREE FOODS

All meats now ration-free will continue so during the period through July 1, the OPA has announced, at the same time listing a number of changes effective Sunday on other commodities.

Canned carrots, orange juice, grapefruit juice and blended orange and grapefruit juice are now added to the long list of point-free processed foods.

All varieties of cheese and cheese products are reduced two points to a new value of 10 points. The ration cost of canned evaporated and condensed milk is halved, dropping from one point to a half point.

Only increase ordered are for pineapple juice, up three points to 15 for a No. 2 can, and grape-juice, boosted four points to ten for a pint container.

Butter stays at 12 points per pound and margarine at 2.

In making citrus juices available without ration stamps, OPA said the supply this season was larger than had been expected and the new pack was about a month ahead of schedule.

Pvt. A. J. Higgins, Jr. who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Higgins at Myra, left during the weekend for Atlantic City, N.J., for reassignment to duties. He was recently released from Ashburn General Hospital at McKinney, where he spent several weeks convalescing from injuries he suffered in India last year.

KRAFT ADVANCES TWO OFFICIALS

Two executives of the Kraft Cheese Company were elected to new positions at the annual meeting of stockholders and the board of directors, held recently in Chicago.

G. C. Pound, formerly vice-president in charge of sales, was elected executive vice-president, to fill the position left vacant when John H. Kraft became president of the company a year ago.

G. C. Pound

Arthur J. Riddle, manager of national bulk cheese production, was elected a vice-president and member of the board of directors, succeeding F. J. Bridges, who retired recently, on the board.

John H. Kraft was re-elected president and James L. Kraft, who founded the business, chairman of the board of directors. Oliver A. Blackburn was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

One of the best-known figures in the food field, Mr. Pound will continue to direct sales of Kraft products.

In addition to handling the duties of executive vice-president, he has always been identified with the sales department, having contributed greatly to the building of Kraft's sales organization and unique system of retail distribution by fleets of trucks.

Mr. Riddle, who was manager of Kraft's Southwestern Division for 13 years before coming to Chicago a year and a half ago as manager of national bulk cheese production, was largely responsible for the rapid development of the cheese industry in the southwest, and has been instrumental in the introduction of many new cheese-making techniques.

During his 24 years with Kraft, Mr. Riddle has been closely identified with both production and sales of cheese. He was successively manager of several sales territories from 1920 to 1929, when he went to Denison, Texas, as manager of the Southwestern Division.

The following members of the board of directors were re-elected: J. L. Kraft, John H. Kraft, C. H. Kraft, G. C. Pound, J. R. Moulder, Oliver A. Blackburn, J. I. Christopherson, C. M. Peterson, R. M. Page, John H. Platt, Norman Kraft and Fred Kraft.

"Bedroom Improvement"
Topic At 4-H Meeting

Members of the local 4-H Girls' Club met Monday afternoon at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel, for an interesting meeting on bedroom improvement, discussion of clothes closets and the storage of woollens during the summer. Margie Seyler gave a talk on the latter subject.

Members made an inspection tour at the Weinzapfel home, viewing closets and storage compartments and then went in a body to the home of Edna Margaret Hartman, demonstrator to give suggestions in the remodeling of her bedroom, which work she will begin soon.

Edna Margaret's mother, Mrs. Victor Hartman, served lemonade to members.

The next meeting on July 3 will be a cooking demonstration and will be held in the parish hall, beginning at 2 o'clock. Girls who will attend this meeting are requested to get in touch with their sponsor two or three days before the session so that they can be told what to bring for the demonstration.

mitted to study terrain features and determine the compass bearing and distance, then strike out for the next post with nothing but a compass and a rough mimeographed map as a guide. The procedure was repeated four times so that each team returned to its home station at the end of the problem.

The night was perfect for it. The moon, almost bright enough to permit reading our maps in the open, enabled us now and then to take advantage of a dim trail and often to avoid hard falls and collisions with trees. However, it did not help us locate our stations. In each case the truck was so effectively hidden in the trees that it could not be seen more than fifty yards away.

In a way it was just another hike, but the thought of four definite objectives all to be reached by our own judgment added spice to an otherwise drab event. Since then I've wondered why the army doesn't do this more often, why it doesn't arrange similar programs for the enlisted men. Unless because of the enormous undertaking to arrange such a problem for several thousand GIs, or maybe because of lack of confidence in the GIs to reach their destinations. That last difficulty is easy to understand in view of the fact that many officers, who are supposed to have a little more on the ball, fail to complete the tour. Before we started our instructors remarked that some of the men would get lost. They always do. And our class was no exception. After two and half hours several teams still had not reported home and Mrs. Frank Wendel, former residents of Lindsay and was born in that community on Oct. 27, 1919. The family moved to Kansas about 18 years ago. Memorial services were held at Wichita. Survivors are four sisters, two brothers and the grandfather.

SPUDS FOR FISH

Tuesday afternoon found Drilling Contractor Ralph Richards in his Victory Garden digging potatoes — to make good a promise of the preceding day. When he told Pop Menzie on Monday that he'd trade him a peck of new spuds for a peck of fresh fish he had no idea Pop took it seriously. But on Monday evening Pop brought the peck of fish and now Ralph has handed over the peck of potatoes.
