COMMUNISM A FAILURE? SO WHAT ELSE IS NEW?

The recently-released CIA report, declaring that the economic situation in the Soviet Union is steadily getting worse, should surprise no one. In fact, the larger a communist economy manages to survive — even with capitalistic assistance — the deeper it digs its own grave. Such aid, from wealthy free enterprise nations, merely prolongs the moment of truth when political meddling must cause economic collapse.

The important new fact is that an agency of the U. S. Government has at last called attention to the obvious communist deficiency. Now perhaps we can obtain a meaningful policy.

Since over 50 billion American dollars are diverted yearly into nonproductive military uses for the express purpose of protecting us against communism — since the administration annually pressures the Congress into appropriating over 3 billion American dollars for "federal aid" to "fight communism" — then the news that the communist system is about to collapse should be the number one interest of our government.

With this terrible threat about to disintegrate, we should expect our leaders to be taking all possible steps to hasten the Soviet downfall.

For example, we can justly expect an end to the Export-Import Bank's subsidizing of the Soviet wheat purchases. And we should expect an end to foreign aid to Poland and Yugoslavia.

And shouldn't we honestly anticipate an end to the granting of liberal credit terms to the Soviets for the purchase of critically-needed machine tools? And what about an end to the prestige-building acts of diplomatic relations, cultural exchange, government trade missions and similar programs?

The American people are anxious to divert the present high costs of government into more productive private enterprise channels that will raise their standard of living.

This is the opportunity. If we're really afraid of the communist threat; if we're really tired of high defense costs; if we're really anxious to bring real peace to the world — then we should leave no stone unturned in capitalizing on this chance to end the communist menace for good.

Our government should put an end — right now — to all aid and relations with the communist enemy.

Don't you agree?

THIS TOPS IT ALL

We thought we had seen every twist of interpretation given the Kennedy assassination in the effort to blame the crime on the right-wingers, but a syndicated cartoon just published hits a new high — or low.

The cartoon shows a woman passerby making a comment to two disruptive characters, one of whom carries a sign labeled "Hate Groups" and the other a sign labeled "Racists." (Anyone who follows this particular cartoon series regularly knows that the "Hate Groups" are the rightists.) This is what the woman says:

"Whatever Oswald's own reasons were, he figured you'd be blamed for the assassination if he got away with it. You encouraged him to pull the trigger!"

So because Oswald thought the "Hate Groups" and the "Racists" would be blamed for the assassination if he got away, they are to blame.

Under this astounding reasoning, if anybody commits a crime in the hope that someone else will be blamed and will suffer, the latter person is really guilty.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

Americans have learned you can't get something for nothing. But let a group of Russians come to America and see what valuable information they get for nothing. In November, eleven Russian scientists inspected our nuclear research facilities at the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, New York. The group's leader, A. M. Petrosyants was quoted as saying — "since we discussed with some of your specialists the design of a machine we now have in the early stages of construction we will be able to make some corrections in the design." One wonders why the Russians bother with the expense of having spies when they can get first-hand information like this free of charge.

The Most Important Consideration

NOT SO SURPRISING

From the Dallas, Texas Morning News: "A poll taken by the Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N. J., last year showed that 64 per cent of those who had heard of right-to-work laws approved of them while only 16 per cent opposed them and 20 per cent had no opinion. Another recent poll of college students — which revealed generally liberal sentiments — surprisingly demonstrated that an overwhelming majority favored right-to-work laws."

Actually, this expression of opinion shouldn't be considered surprising. For a right-to-work law is just about a perfect example of liberalism. It frees the individual from coercion by either the employer or the labor organization. It gives him freedom of choice. He is his own man — not a pawn in a game.

The recent Supreme Court decision affirming the right of the states to pass and to enforce right-to-work laws was epochal. It will, one hopes, encourage more states to adopt this kind of legislation. And every state which does so is striking a hard and telling blow in the cause of freedom of the individual.

Our nation was built and has been maintained on a strong spiritual base. Many of our forebearers came here for freedom to worship as they pleased. Now after nearly 200 years of that freedom, the Supreme Court apparently feels the right not to worship is more important. Encouraged by the Supreme Court, the American Civil Liberties Union now seeks to bar students from a mandatory Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag unless the phrase "Under God" is removed. . . . An attack has been made against the singing of the hymn "America" at school-opening exercises. Bills have been introduced in Congress to remove our motto from coins and currency. All these simply carry the Supreme Court's decision to its logical conclusions.

Publicity Racket

One of the long-standing little jokes in Washington has been the way senators and congressmen always are announcing big, fat contract awards by the Defense Dept.

An hour before it tells the press, the department sends Congressman Ignatz notice it has awarded an X-billion-dollar contract for Army underdrawers to a manufacturer in the congressman's district. The congressman speedily tells the press.

This makes everybody happy. The congressman, theoretically anyway, gets his name in the paper for an item he hadn't known anything about. And the department butters up the congressman, from whom all appropriations flow.

Since all states have senators, the department usually has had to tell them, too. This could get a little sticky if one senator, or congressman, got ahead of another in relaying this joyful news back home. So the Pentagon has been sending high-ranking officers, their watches synchronized to make sure there was no scoop by one of the politicians.

None of this amuses Senator John J. Williams of Delaware. He calls it a "political farce", which it is. But he told Defense Secretary McNamara the practice also builds up the idea that members of Congress have something to do with making these awards, that this leads to the notion that defense contractors have something to gain by contributing to the campaign expenses of the congressmen, and that it could help the administration in cracking the whip over a congressman when it needed his vote.

All of which we concede, since these are precisely the reasons the congressmen invented the practice. And besides we think it is a petty, and rather sneaky way, for a congressman to seek publicity.

Facts About Social Security

Are you planning to retire soon? If you are, one of your first questions will probably be, "What must I do to receive social security benefits?"

According to Gus Jones, district manager of social security in Sherman, an early inquiry can speed delivery of the first social security check. A worker can file a claim for benefits up to three months before his retirement date. This advance filing will allow you the time to get the information and the evidence necessary to establish entitlement before the first check is due.

If you are a wage earner or salaried person, you should bring a record of your 1963 earnings, such as the withholding tax statement, Form W-2, given you by your employer.

If you are a self-employed person, it will be necessary for you to submit a copy of your 1963 Federal Income Tax Return and evidence that the tax has been paid to the Internal Revenue Service.

You should also bring proof of age for yourself and for any dependents who are eligible for benefits. While a birth certificate or baptismal certificate made at or near the time of birth is preferable, many other types of evidence may be accepted. However, it is not necessary to delay filing a claim solely because evidence of age is not readily available.

Last, but not least! Bring your social security card with you! Jones stressed that, for prompt payment of your first social security check, you should inquire before you retire.

Your local social security office is located at 315 W. Mulberry, Sherman, Texas.

If you live in the Gainesville area you may contact Darrel Richards, field representative from the Sherman office. He is in the Federal Building in Gainesville each Tuesday and Thursday morning from 9:30 a.m. until noon.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU: Little Virginia Paige, 5, who was born with a birth defect, gets acquainted with Philip Dawson, 18, of Jamestown, N. Y., and Judy Meyers, also 18, of Aurora, Colo., who were appointed national co-chairmen for the 1964 Teen Age Program (TAP) of the March of Dimes. Thanks to the latest medical techniques, provided by March of Dimes funds, you'd never know that Virginia, who lives in New York with her parents, was born with a serious birth defect.

Parish Observance Of Holy Childhood Day Dates to 1895

Sunday, Feb. 2, is National Holy Childhood Day, a day observed in Sacred Heart Parish for 69 years.

Sister Genevieve who is in charge of Holy Childhood membership looked through parish records and found the first enrollment listed under date of Jan. 20, 1895.

Enrollment and blessing this year will not be on Sunday, she said, but on a weekday so as not to conflict with a crowded Sunday schedule. Enrollment will be for all beginning students. Formerly all children, from babies up, were enrolled locally. Children are eligible from birth to 12 years of age. The dues are 12 cents a year and the spiritual benefits are many, Sister Genevieve pointed out.

While dues are small, the work accomplished is tremendous. Reports sent to Sister Genevieve reveal that one nun in China with the aid of helpers baptized 3000 dying infants. Children saved and educated in pagan countries reach the 60,000 mark yearly. More good could be accomplished with more funds and the appeal goes out for all children to submit their 12 cents for annual dues this week or next week.

Diamond cutting dates back to the discovery in 1465 that diamonds could be polished by diamond dust.

H. Hellman; and Judy Trubenbach and Clarence Bayer, visiting their families the Al Trubenchs and George Bayer. They're from Arlington State College.

Theresa and JoAnn Fisher and Rosemary Fisher of NTSU, Denton, are vacationing with their parents, the Joe and John Fishers. Butch Fisher spent the first part of his holidays in Houston, came home Wednesday to spend two days.

Bobby Pels, a pharmacy student at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla., had an earlier mid-term recess. He returned last week after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pels.

After the group gathered at the Wilde home, the honoree's mother, and her grandmother Mrs. J. B. Wilde and her aunt, Mrs. Al Horn, took them to Gainesville for an afternoon session of skating. Afterwards, back at home, there were refreshments of birthday cake and pink lemonade and a session of opening birthday gifts. Mrs. Horn made the cake.

The guests included 21 classmates of Sacred Heart seventh grade, the honoree's sister Joanie Wilde, cousins Suzie Bezner and Carol Bezner and their weekend guest, Marian Arendt of Lindsay.

A series of games and quizzes entertained the guests and the honoree opened and displayed a shower of gifts. She also received a corsage of pink daisies and white roses from the hostesses.

Refreshments of finger foods, coffee and Cokes were served buffet style from a lace covered table. Three cornered nut cups were favors.

About 25 guests attended from Muenster and Saint Jo.

Meteorites as big as 60 tons are among the approximately 560 which hit the earth each year, says Dr. Harrison Brown of the California Institute of Technology, but most are too small to do any damage. Only about 10 per year are ever found. The rest presumably land in oceans and uninhabited places. These "falling Stars" come from belts of asteroids from pebble size to 480 miles in diameter that orbit between Mars and Jupiter. Collisions among them cause fragments to shoot out and enter earth's atmosphere at speeds of 360 to 650 miles per hour. The ones that burn up before reaching the earth are called meteors; the ones that get here are called meteorites.

Black Angus Added Red Angus Arrive At Colonial Acres

Colonial Acres Farm, heretofore the home of Black Angus, has added Red Angus. The first Reds arrived Jan. 23, along with more Black Angus, boosting the Ernest Medders herd to about one hundred. The additions include show cows and heifers and foundation stock.

In addition to the arrival of more cattle, other interesting notes from Colonial Acres are that an office and laboratory are being set up, grasses have been planted, and the first of several water wells dug for the irrigation system in connection with the experiment station.

The Medders plan to raise and maintain 300 head of Angus on their 187-acre ranch. They also have on hand steers for the children to raise and show in connection with their 4-H Club work. And each member of the family of eight has a horse.

Extensive experimentation with grasses and irrigation will be a major activity at the farm. Now only in the beginning stages, it will increase as the herd increases.

More Red Angus, which Mrs. Medders claims as "hers" are to be added in the near future. Next addition will be a bull. The farm now has two Black Angus bulls, one of them an imported Scotch bull. And for the first time since operations began young bulls are for sale.

Visitors are always welcome at Colonial Acres Farm.

Cooke-Montague Loans from FHA $393,850 in 1963

Cooke and Montague County farm and other families borrowed $393,850 from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration in 1963 to improve farming operations, buy and enlarge farms, build houses, install water systems, and for other development purposes, John D. Cunningham, local supervisor of the agency reported this week.

A total of 187 families in the counties used credit from the agency during the year, either as individual borrowers or members of associations with an FHA direct or insured loan. This represents a 200 percent increase over the number for 1962.

Loans are made by Farmers Home Administration only to qualified borrowers who cannot obtain credit from banks, Production Credit Associations and other conventional lenders. Under an Insured Program of the agency, these lenders also provide about 80 percent of the funds loaned by FHA and secured by real estate.

He singled out the farm operating, farm ownership, rural housing, water association loan program of his agency as being particularly important in the county last year. Rural Housing loans benefits more individual families providing them with new or remodeled homes. The Water Association loans to communities certainly assisted many families, about 100 in number, with a Sanitary Water System that meets State Health requirements and an unlimited supply of water as well as fire protection, etc.

Following is a summary of loans made by FHA in Cooke and Montague Counties during 1963:

A total of $83,600. went to 11 Cooke and Montague County farmers to pay for equipment, feed, seed, livestock, for other farm and home operating needs, and to refinance chattel debts.

Farm Ownership loans totaling $2500 were used by one farmer to improve his farm. Rural Housing loans estimated at $247,650. were made to 23 farmers and rural residents.

Water development and Soil Conservation loans totaled $60,100. Most of these funds were used to install rural community water systems.

Farm Facts

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that production of farm commodities in the U. S. S. R. during 1958 was about two-thirds of the U. S. level.

During 1958, the latest year for which comparisons are available, Soviet farm production made up 11% of the total world agricultural production and U. S. farm production comprised 16%.

On a per capita basis, Soviet output is about half that of the United States. The Soviet Union is placed in a favorable position by using the 1958 season (Russia's record year) to compare farm output with ours.

Although weather also was favorable in the United States during 1958, it was not as favorable as that in Russia. Soviet farm output during a year with more average weather is probably nearer 60% of U. S. farm output.

Despite a land mass 2 1/2 times the size of the United States, the U. S. S. R.'s area of cropland, including hay land, exceeds ours only by Russian farm output is about 1/2 that of the United States.

In terms of land suitable for tillage, the United States probably has more. In 1960, the Soviets sowed 501 million acres of crops as compared to 329 million acres sown by the United States.

Robin Hood may turn over in his grave, but modern science and engineering, says the Smithsonian Institution, have collaborated to make bows that shoot farther, straighter and faster than arrows ever flew before. Research and development has been stimulated by tremendous interest in archery. There are more archers in the U. S. today — six million or more — than among American Indians before Columbus.

Sunflowers — huge blossoms drooping from stalks as tall as 12 feet — are becoming a significant commercial crop on U.S. farms, reports North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering. Larger seeds from the flower, hulled, toasted and salted, are used in the confectionery trade for human consumption. The whole seed is used for wild bird feed. Sunflowers are a major oil crop in many foreign countries, including Russia, where the oil goes into shortening and margarine. Planting, fertilization and cultivation practices are the same as those for corn. Average conditions yield 1,500 to 2,000 pounds of seed per acre.

Farm Bureau Week Starts Statewide Membership Drive

"Farm Bureau Week" in Texas will mark the beginning of an intensive campaign to boost membership in the state's largest farm organization, according to Wayne Little, director of organization for the Texas Farm Bureau. Three area-wide membership rallies will be held Feb. 3 in Lubbock, Dallas, and San Antonio to kick off the organization's 1964 enrollment drive.

Gov. John Connally has designated the week of Feb. 3-8 as "Farm Bureau Week" to point up the importance of agriculture to the over-all economy and the necessity of having "an informed, prosperous, and organized agriculture in our state."

Little said that drive plans are aimed at hitting a new high membership record this year which will make the 12th consecutive year for the organization to gain members. Another goal, he said, is to regain the standing of being the largest state Farm Bureau in the South and fourth in the nation, a position that was lost to Alabama last year when that organization edged ahead.

Purpose of the three rallies is to provide the inspiration and information to accomplish the goals, he said. All county Farm Bureau leaders and volunteer membership workers are being encouraged to attend the meeting nearest them.

No Regrets After Losses to V'View Says Coach Polk

Coach James Polk was proud of his Muenster High basketball team Tuesday night even though they lost both of their games to Valley View. The boys looked fine running up a score of 60 against the loop leading Eagles. The only trouble was that the Eagles were stronger and scored 78. Valley View gained from the start and scores ending the four periods were 21-14, 40-27, 60-42, 78-60. Top scorers for the Hornets were Weldon Vogel 19, Roy Reiter 17, Tommy Flusche 15.

The girls hustled enough to win and were defeated by a jinx at the goal. For instance, they hit only 8 of 27 free throws, and their average on field goals was worse. Muenster led 9-7 in the first period. The visitors led after that by counts of 21-15, 26-19 and 41-24. Leading MHS scorers were Sandy Cain 14 and Cindy Cain 8.

Last Friday Muenster and Lindsay teams divided a pair of games. MHS girls won 39-30 and boys lost 48-39. Ball control under the goal accounts for the Lindsay boys' win. With their advantage in height they took practically all the rebounds. Muenster boys played a good floor game but could not overcome the handicap. The visitors led all the way by scores of 10-5, 19-17, 34-30, 48-39. Leading scorers were Reiter 15, Russell 8, Vogel 7 for Muenster; Sandmann 14, Schmitz 8, Zimmerer 8 for Lindsay.

The girls' game was a breeze for Muenster. Scores ending the first three quarters were 12-5, 28-5, 37-11. Then MHS reserves took over and Lindsay took up some of the slack. Final score, 39-30. Sandy and Cindy Cain hit 19 and 18 for MHS. Haverkamp made 18 for Lindsay.

Parochial Teams Break Even with Dallas Christian

The Tiger B team won two games and the A team lost two in a pair of double headers with Dallas Christian during the past week.

In both B contests the Sacred Heart boys won by top heavy scores: 55-20 Friday night on the local court and 43-10 Tuesday night at Dallas. Leading scorers were Willie Wimmer 22, and Larry Hess 15, in the first game; James Fleitman 14 and Willie Wimmer 10 in the second.

The first string game last Friday was a dandy until the final quarter. First period was an 8-8 tie and the visitors led 20-18 at the half and 35-34 at the third quarter. From there on the Tigers had troubles and Big D boys pulled away for their 49-37 win. Sacred Heart's best scorers were Virgil Hess 13 and Dennis Hess 12.

At Dallas the Christians gained all the way for their 50-27 win. Dennis Hess hit 10 for the Tigers. Next on schedule is a double header for boys and girls with Callisburg here Friday.

certain that such a plot fits perfectly in communist methods, also that the red cut-throats would have been most pleased if the possible consequence had developed.

As we know the case now, Officer Tippit deserves far more credit than he received to date. His martyrdom exposed a secret which might have caused a national catastrophe much greater than the president's death. He has earned immortality as a great national hero. Our entire country should thank God that he was there.

Incidentally, official Washington should also consider our narrow escape from disaster and resolve solemnly that reds should be neither trusted or tolerated — that, starting now, we're fighting to win in the global struggle.

"I have the human experience necessary to do the job with fairness, justice, compassion and honor. "All my life, I have believed in these basic principles of government.

- 1. Individual responsibility and liberty. 2. Limited government, responding on a local level to local needs. 3. Sound fiscal policies of thrift and solvency.

"Thru the years, the political party representing these principles has changed. The principles have not. "My conscience dictates that I must follow principle before party — thus I have filed as a candidate of the party that today represents the principles in which I believe.

"If you find my principles sound, my motives just, and my qualifications adequate, I respectfully ask for your support, your encouragement, and your vote to be your next Tax Assessor and Collector of Cooke County." James Whaley
