6 Year Olds Will Register Sunday At Sacred Heart

A great soldier, has faded away. General Douglas MacArthur quietly passed away Sunday and in doing so gave a special meaning to his famous remark that "old soldiers never die — they just fade away." Though he is gone physically his spirit lives on to be cherished for many years as an inspiration to his nation and the world.

General MacArthur was one of the truly great men of our time — an outstanding military genius and a most successful military governor, a brilliant mind guided by unswerving dedication to the honor of his country, the rights of man and the laws of God.

His life is a success story from beginning to the unfortunate day when his own good judgment was frustrated by our official policy of appeasing the enemy. His amazing career started with a magnificent record at West Point and continued through brilliant service in Mexico and World War I and a variety of highly responsible assignments until World War II. During that conflict he earned the admiration of the world by directing the enormous campaign which eventually ended with the surrender of Japan aboard the Battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay. Very likely his military career will stand with the greatest in all history.

But the best evidence of his greatness was still to come. As military commander of the defeated Japanese Empire he administered with wisdom, justice and compassion, enabling the defeated nation to maintain its dignity and pride in rebuilding its government and economy. The fact that his helpful effort in just a few years converted a former bitter enemy to a cooperative ally is a great tribute to his ability and attitude.

A few years later MacArthur's military genius again served well in the Korean War. By a brilliant campaign he defeated the reds of North Korea. The war was practically over when Red China attacked under UN assurance that their country would be immune from attack. Then came one of the most disappointing and humiliating decisions of our nation's history. President Truman, yielding to UN pressure, relieved MacArthur of command because he insisted on fighting to win rather than just holding some ground.

Events of the following months, we proudly recall, indicated that the nation's thinking supported MacArthur. He came home as a national hero, not a discredited leader. The nation considered his dismissal as a blunder and calamity.

And events since then indicate the correctness of that opinion. Our country promptly agreed to the truce which actually amounts to the first defeat in its history. Communism promptly embarked on the expansion program by which it grabbed up the greater part of Asia, then spread to every other continent and even set up a satellite a few miles from our shore.

Thinking back, one can hardly avoid wondering what course American and world history would have taken if we had continued using the devoted talent of this great man. Suppose his advice had been followed in the Korean War. If allowed to attack Chinese Reds in the north and permit Nationalists to attack them in the south, as he advised, could he have defeated communism in Asia? He thought so. And his long record of success gave us plenty of reason to trust his military judgment. As for Russian threats of the time, he was probably correct also in judging that the Soviets could not risk a war.

Even after his return, we wonder whether another golden opportunity to use his talent was not bungled by the Republican party. Along with Eisenhower and Taft he was considered as a strong candidate for the presidential nomination. Suppose he had been selected. We can assume that he would have won as easily as Eisenhower did. And we can be sure that he would have had completely different methods of dealing with the growing communist menace wherever he encountered it around the world. His method was clearly spelled out in his message to Congress in 1951 when he said "There is no sub-

Sunday, April 12, is the date set for the spring registration for beginners who will enter Sacred Heart School in the fall. Any child who will be six years old by September 1, 1964, is eligible to enter First Year Primary at Sacred Heart School.

Parents who will have a child entering the primary program of Sacred Heart School in the fall are urged to be present in the High School Library, promptly at 2:00, on Sunday afternoon, for the orientation program and the registration. Sister Genevieve and Sister Henrietta will discuss the levels of learning and the grouping policies employed in the Ungraded Primary Program. Children baptised in Sacred Heart Church therefore already listed on parish records will not need birth certificates. However, a birth certificate must be produced if a child is not baptised in Sacred Heart Church.

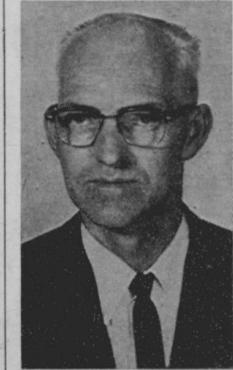

Children are not to attend this registration, parents only. The children who will begin school in the fall are cordially invited to attend the Round-Up Party which will be held in rooms 1 and 2 of the Elementary Building of Sacred Heart School on Monday afternoon, April 13, from 2:00 until 3:00.

Carl Wilson Makes Statement In Sheriff's Race

Carl Wilson has announced his candidacy for sheriff of Cooke County, and makes the following statement to the voters of the county:

I was born in Cooke County of parents who also were born and reared in this county. I have been here my entire life with exception of the time spent in the Army during World War II. I am a member of the First Baptist Church of Gainesville, am married and have three children. I am presently employed by Enderby Butane Gas Company.

Having been closely associated with my father who was sheriff of Cooke County at the time of his death, I feel that I am fully aware of the tremendous amount of work and responsibilities involved in the sheriff's office. I know that I am old enough to accept these responsibilities, yet at forty one years of age, I am young enough to work diligently.

As for the location of the sheriff's office, I was contacted by the Commissioner's Court and asked if I would work with the office in the jail if elected sheriff. Upon asking the reason for the move, I was informed that it was to eliminate one man and thus cut expenses for the taxpayers. My answer was that if the office was moved I would try to work with the office in the jail rather than have the taxpayers bear the expense of moving the office back and forth. After very carefully weighing and studying the issues involved, I feel that the office should be left in its present location.

I am running for this very important office on my own merits based on what I have done in Cooke County my whole life, and not on anyone else's demerits. I am supported by no groups or factions but rather by a wonderful lot of people I call friends. Please accept my sincere thanks for your vote and influence for sheriff of Cooke County. CARL WILSON

Council Expands Paving Project For This Summer

This year's paving project in Muenster has been more than doubled. The city council Monday night voted to add 9 blocks of new and improved paving plus six blocks of resurfacing. The original job was 10 blocks of new and improved street.

Monday's additions to the project are 2 blocks on First, Main to Walnut, 4 blocks on Fourth, Main to Hickory, 2 blocks on South Sycamore, Cross to Eddy, and 1 block on Cross, Maple to Sycamore. The resurfacing job is on Walnut to strengthen pavement built two years ago. It was completed curb to curb at that time, needs only a surface now.

Previously planned for this year were 6 blocks on Pecan and 4 blocks on Elm. All street work now consists of the necessary work to complete a full width curb to curb street. The amount of work for each property owner depends on how much has been done before.

John McCandless of Forestburg was admitted to Muenster Hospital last Thursday after being thrown from a horse. The fall caused neck and back injuries.

Miss Brenda Bridges of Marysville is recovering from an emergency operation for appendicitis performed at Muenster Hospital Friday.

The Rev. Edwin Sooter, pastor of the Methodist Church at Saint Jo, underwent surgery at Muenster Hospital last Thursday.

Herbert Fette, Muenster, and Burt Fuhrmann, Lindsay, patients at the Veterans Hospital in McKinney, had leave to spend the weekend at home with their families.

The Herman Eberharts took their son Larry to Fort Worth Wednesday for examination of his right leg by a bone specialist. The youngster has been complaining of his knee hurting. The doctor said there's a small growth but advised leaving it alone now and booked Larry for another checkup in three months.

Joe Lehnertz is in Methodist Hospital at Dallas where he underwent surgery Monday for removal of a growth from his throat. His daughter Mrs. Dolores Shively of Memphis, Tenn., was there and stayed to nurse him for a few days. Mrs. Lehnertz and son Jim Lehnertz were at his bedside Monday. Room 272 will be his address for about ten days.

Mrs. Fred Hoedebeck was dismissed from Muenster Hospital Sunday after three days of medical care.

Chris Yosten, full length cast still on, is resting comfortably at the home of his parents, the Werner Yostens, since Monday evening when he was dismissed from Muenster Hospital after being a patient since March 26. Chris, 11, had his right leg broken in three places and had to have surgery for a compound fracture after a bicycle accident.

Carmen Wimmer was dismissed from Gainesville Hospital Thursday to continue convalescence at home from an appendicitis operation.

Gary Rohmer, four-year-old son of the Urban Rohmers, was dismissed from Gaston Hospital in Dallas Friday afternoon and is on the mend at home after a tonsillectomy last week Tuesday.

A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gilbert Yosten of Hereford, was with her as nurse for a few days and other family members who were with her on the day of the operation have been taking turns at daily visits.

Westall Williams of Saint Jo is a patient at Nocona Hospital since Monday evening when he suffered a heart attack. The illness sent the 37-year-old candidate for mayor to the hospital on the eve of the election, but he won the contest.

Victor Hartman is staying in Arlington with his daughter and family, the Keith Tompkins, and is taking daily treatments for his leg in Dallas.

J. T. Pagel missed classes in the first grade at Sacred Heart School Tuesday but was back Wednesday, his foot all right after stepping on a nail Monday and getting a tetanus shot.

Ray Swirczynski's Drive In Grocery Opens Saturday

Ray's Drive-In Grocery, this community's newest business, will welcome its first customers Saturday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, the owners, say the store's stock at this time is far from complete, but there's enough to start doing business and the remainder will be added while the store is open. A formal opening date will be set when additions are complete.

The store will feature staple groceries, dairy products, drugs, picnic and fishing supplies and equipment. It is intended to accommodate people who need grocery items early or late or to stock up on foods and other needs for fishing and picnicking.

It will be open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. To begin it will be open every day, until the owners decide which will be the best day to close. Thereafter the store will be open six days a week.

Muenster Hi Wins 1st on 1-Act Play

Muenster High School won top honors in Interscholastic One-Act Play competition Friday night at Saint Jo, competing with Saint Jo High. And Muenster's Linda Fette was named outstanding actress.

Others in the cast were Margaret Lawson, Sandra Cain, Glenn Fleitman and Joe Hartman. Virgil Swirczynski and Robert Russell had charge of the sound effects. Miss Diane Henzler directed. Title of the presentation was "Mooncalf Mugford".

Strictly by coincidence, this happens to be the play presented by Muenster High in winning the county one act play contest 25 years ago. Another coincidence: Leo Lawson was in the cast then, his daughter Margaret this time.

The show will be presented in regional competition at Redub Auditorium Texas Woman's University, Denton, on Thursday, April 23. Dress rehearsal in MHS Auditorium is the 21st and the public is invited, no charge.

Straw Vote Shows Garbage Service Is Not Wanted

It was not the city council election but the straw vote on city garbage disposal service that brought Muenster people to the polls Tuesday.

The election was a mere formality with two unopposed candidates as the only seekers for the two open positions. 175 ballots supported Richard Grewing in his bid for reelection. 174 supported B. J. Swirczynski as council member to succeed William Walterscheid.

The proposed garbage disposal system was rejected by a count of 114 to 64, serving notice to the council that it can drop its considerations on the type and price of service most practical here.

The straw vote ballot called for a vote for or against "a mandatory garbage collection system if it can be provided at a price not to exceed $1.75 per month for a private residence and a graduated scale for commercial establishments based on volume and frequency."

Requests for garbage disposal had been before the city council for some time. Also circulating for some time were reports that many did not want the service. The council decided to sample public opinion before giving its answer. Now it can give the answer. It can drop the subject without bothering to inquire into the several factors and costs of setting up a system.

Approval in Tuesday's straw vote would not have authorized the service. It would have required first of all that the city determine whether the service is possible for the price suggested.

Opposition Tuesday generally was due to the fact that voters were not willing to pay $1.75 per month for the service.

THIRST FOR POWER
 In their endless drive for greater authority over the lives of the citizenry, federal bureaucrats resort to an almost ritualistic mode of operation to gain their objective — they thrust protection on people regardless of whether they need it or even want it.

This has never been more vividly demonstrated than in the current bureaucratic campaign for enactment of a complex of laws, virtuously labeled as requisite to "consumer protection," when in actual fact they would work to the disadvantage of the buying public by clamping a straitjacket on the operation of the market place.

In the armory of weapons rigged by the self-appointed protectors to enable them to force their intrusion into the processing and sale of goods, are legislative bills that would:

—Permit government dictation of the size, weight, content and labeling of packaged goods.

—Prohibit bargain sales through censorship of related advertising.

—Restrict the extension of credit.

As they beat the bushes — through local meetings and massive publicity — to gain support for the bills, the bureaucrats are spreading the completely false insinuation that consumers must be shielded from the merchants in their communities, from the sales people with whom they deal, from the advertisers in their local papers and from the manufacturers whose products they buy because they are all out to cheat them.

Completely ignored by the purveyors of this unfounded charge is the solid fact that the rights of consumers, in every possible respect, already are more than amply protected by existing federal, state and local laws.

It is our opinion that if the consumers need any additional protection at all, they need to be protected from the bureaucrats who are endeavoring, with every slick trick in the book, to sell them a package of laws that would prove detrimental to their, and the nation's best interest.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE COIN

Whatever the final result may be, the tax cut is law. It means if you work for a salary, and belong to the average class, you will have maybe a couple of dollars per week added to your take home pay. Of course, the aggregate for the nation will run into an estimated eleven billion dollars, and "that ain't hay." The average wageearner will have a little more coffee money.

Here is the other viewpoint. The government will be forced to print eleven billion in currency to fill the gap. These one dollar bills no longer bear the legend: "This certifies that there is on deposit in the Treasury of the United States of America, one dollar in silver payable to the bearer on demand." So they can become worth just the cost of the paper on which they are printed. As soon as this flood of new currency is turned loose in the channels of trade, the dollar will devalue below even the forty-cent level at which it now stands. Prices will go up and the government will be forced to sell interest-bearing bonds with which to redeem this money already in circulation.

The cold facts are that with $11 billion in new money floating around upon which we are paying interest, the devaluation of the dollar and the consequent higher prices the consumer will be paying, will more than offset any benefits which may be derived from a tax cut.

We need a tax cut, but we need worse, a deep cut in expenses to accompany it.

From here, the tax cut looks like a very effective campaign gimmick for the administration. And many of us are tired of being fooled with slick tricks to get our votes.

Don't get us wrong. We believe in the tax cut, but not without the accompaniment of a like cut in expenses. And there are plenty of expenses to be cut.

"SUPPORTING" THE UN

Here is what President Johnson said about the United Nations:

And more than ever we support the United Nations, as the best instrument to promote the peace of the world and the well-being of mankind."

He is right about the "more than ever" part. We pay the expenses, allowing Russia to renege on their part; we furnished the soldiers to fight the UN war in Korea, the money in Africa, and will probably yield to this Communist-dominated, atheistic organization, in its forthcoming demand that we give up the Panama Canal.

ILLINOIS FEPC LAW GIVES FORETASTE OF FLIGHT

A foretaste of what employers may expect if the "equal employment opportunity" provision of the federal civil rights bill becomes law has been provided here in Illinois under the state fair employment practices act. An agent for the commission enforcing the act has just told Motorola, Inc., that the state hereafter assumes to direct its hiring practices.

Motorola has been giving job applicants a general ability test devised by a professor at Illinois Institute of Technology and used by at least one other large Chicago employer.

A Negro applicant charged that he was denied employment because of his race. The corporation said he failed the test. The claimant said he passed it. He did pass it on re-examination in the FEPC office, and the company was ordered to hire him. But the question of fact concerning the results of the original test is less germane than the excursions of the examiner beyond that point.

This official, Robert E. Bryant, decreed that Motorola must abandon ability tests for job applicants for three reasons: (1) that the test was unfair to "culturally deprived and disadvantaged groups"; (2) that the questions did not take into account "inequalities and differences in environment"; and (3) that the standards for passing were based on those of "advantaged groups."

This may be reduced to the absurdity that any test acceptable to the FEPC would be one which brought out no distinctions whatsoever among competing applicants and would therefore be meaningless. How, then, is the employer to develop any basis for making a choice in hiring?

The examiner's further dicta were not of a sort to reassure bedeviled employers. He said that "current circumstances and objectives" impose the demand that hiring personnel develop "general convictions of economic need" among minority groups and that executives "move positively" to achieve an unspecified balance in their work force.

As merit and ability demonstrated by testing is out the window, this would seem to be a prescription for reverse discrimination — i.e., that race, color, religion, or something else be given priority over judgments of a job applicant's prospective usefulness to his employer.

So here the doctrine is enunciated that a political appointee is going to dictate to business what standards of selection are to govern its employment policy. A businessman is not to be allowed to decide the choice of workers or associates best fitted to advance his business interests. In the name of "rights," the employer's rights are canceled.

The federal commission is empowered to bring charges of unfair practice on its own motion, and without a complaint; to turn loose its agents and lawyers on a business, with power to examine books and papers and to question employees or executives; and to require that an employer keep records of who applies for a job, who gets it, who does not, and why.

All this is to be done under standards not prescribed, but vague and subjective in nature, according to what the agent thinks is discrimination and what he guesses may have been in an employer's mind. Under such ground rules, the harassment of business and industry could be unrestricted and unlimited.

HERBICIDE

Spray SESONE herbicide on peanuts planted on flat ground (Do not use in furrows). Provides long residual control of problem weeds and grasses. And without volatility hazard.

Eight years of continuous use prove SESONE can be an important management money-maker because it helps cut cultivation costs up to $6 or more per acre, reduce damage from close cultivation, speed harvesting and promote greater yields of peanuts that class higher at market. And that's possible because SESONE eliminates weed competition so plants can develop more buds and pods, mature faster, yield better. Harvesting is clean and easier without weed infestation.

With SESONE you can choose your time of application—at planting, at cracking time (in combination with dinitro) or at first cultivation. There's no volatility hazard with SESONE because it does not become an active herbicide until it comes in contact with moist soil. Follow label directions.

If you haven't tried SESONE, use it this year and compare the results. It's recommended by leading agricultural authorities in the South. You can get SESONE at your nearby farm supply store.

Highway Dept. Offers Advice on Bluebonnet Care

Each Spring as the Texas countryside becomes bathed in the beauty of Bluebonnets, Texas Highway Department mail grows heavy with requests for information. Hundreds of people in every section of the state want to know about the planting and care of the world famous Texas State Flower.

But, by then it is too late to plant bluebonnets for enjoyment during the current season. So the Texas Highway Department has compiled the following information which will assure the "green thumb" crowd the opportunity to include Bluebonnets in their gardening plans for 1965.

The Bluebonnet blooming date is influenced to some degree by the weather. In general, the first flowers open about March 15 in the southern part of the state, and in the more northern section the first flowers may not show before May 1. The length of the flowering period is about one month.

Seed mature about six weeks after the last flowers fade. These should be harvested before the seed pods explode and scatter the seed. Seed may be planted immediately after harvest or may be stored. However, seed should be planted prior to November 1, so that they may germinate and grow throughout the winter months. During this period a heavy root system and a sturdy plant is developed to produce an abundance of spring flowers.

Bluebonnet seed can be obtained from seed distributors if orders are placed well before the crop is ready for harvest. The Texas Highway Department harvests seed from time to time for its own use by mowing the plants when the seeds are mature, and immediately distributing them thinly over the area to be seeded. No seed is retained for the ensuing season by the Highway Department.

It is extremely important to inoculate Bluebonnet seed prior to planting. This procedure is necessary because Bluebonnets require the presence of certain bacteria in order for its root system to form the nodules (knots) on its roots and to carry on its nitrogen fixation process.

These bacteria cultures, called inoculants, may be purchased through commercial seed stores. Be sure that the seedsman is told that the inoculant is for Bluebonnets. Dampen the seed with a small amount of water and mix the inoculant by stirring it into the wet seed. Plant the seed soon after inoculation.

Bluebonnets grow best in soils that are sweet (contain lime), moderate in fertility and most important of all, well drained.

Largest dinosaur known from fossil remains was a 130,000-lb. brachiosaurus whose leg bone was recently found in Colorado.

YOUNG TEXAN FOR MARCH—Calvin Powitzky, all-state football tackle at Pasadena High School, has been chosen by the Texas Optimist Clubs to receive the Troy V. Post Award designating him Young Texan of the Month. Versatile Calvin is also a prize-winning portrait painter and all-regional tenor in the church choir. President of the senior class, he is also an honor student. Calvin is very active in South Main Baptist Church. The Pasadena youth will compete with other monthly winners for one of three valuable scholarships at the Young Texan of the Year banquet in early 1965. He was chosen Young Texan of the Month in competition with nominees throughout the state by a panel of state leaders headed by U.S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark.

Students Hear Talk About Careers in Automotive Field

A specially prepared motion picture illustrated a talk given by Ray Wilde, owner of Wilde Chevrolet Company, at both local schools recently. It concerned careers in the retail automotive business.

Mr. Wilde presented to graduates-to-be a broad picture of the opportunities they might hope to find in this field. He invited the groups to visit his place of business and see some of the job assignments.

"Our policy is to hire and train young people from this community," he said. "If we can create good jobs where we sell and service our cars, we're helping the community and our business."

The presentation was a part of General Motors Career Program effort to attract young men and women into the retail automotive business in their own communities. Students received booklets on the subject.

Mrs. Endres Hosts Get-Together Club

Members of the Get-Together Club enjoyed their April meeting with Mrs. Werner Endres as hostess in her new city home and made a tour of the place. Most of them were seeing the home for the first time.

In a progressive 42 series Mrs. Joe Kathman led the scoring and Miss Lena Herr, a guest, received the consolation award. Other guests were Mrs. Paul Endres and Mrs. Arthur Endres. Mrs. J. B. Wilde drew the door prize.

The hostess served oatmeal cake, ice cream and coffee to 12 at the conclusion of the afternoon.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thrifter in the long run. They're built for total performance.

Tigers Lick Devils For Count of 8-2

Adam Wolf's Sacred Heart Tigers marked up their third win out of four at Gainesville Monday afternoon with an 8-2 triumph over the Red Devils of Big G.

In the hitting department the teams were almost evenly matched as the Tigers got six and the Devils five. However Gainesville hits did not pay off as Francis Fuhrmann kept them scattered and his team mates gave nice support. Sacred Heart cashed in on good grouping of hits with timely walks and errors. Tigers took the lead with 2 in the first and extended it with 4 in the fourth and 2 in the sixth. The Devils scored 1 each in the second and fourth.

Tiger hitters were Melvin Koelzer and Dennis Hess with two each and Quintin Hess and Francis Fuhrmann.

IRS Lists Six Principal Errors On Tax Returns

The surest way to get special attention from the Internal Revenue Service is to file an "imperfect" return. However, this special attention has no benefits; just more delay and additional cost for everyone.

This tax advice from Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas is based on over 100 years of tax collecting experience by the agency.

He pointed out 6 common items that delay the processing of returns. They are: (1) failure to attach W-2 forms, (2) no signatures, (3) tax information not readable, (4) failure to list dependents and exemptions, (5) failure to total deductions, and (6) failure to list Social Security number.

What happens when the taxpayer forgets one of the above? Mr. Campbell said the return must be specially processed and any refund will be delayed. If the taxpayer calls or writes about his refund, this inquiry takes clerical help away from the processing of correctly prepared returns. Thus, all returns are slowed up.

Review your return very carefully when it is completed, Mr. Campbell advised. Put it aside overnight, then review it again the next day. After you are sure it is clear, complete, and correct, mail it to the District Director of Internal Revenue, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201.

DO IT BETTER Electrically!

COOK flamelessly!

"Really, Martha, the first time you cook with an electric range you'll wonder why you waited so long to see what it's like!"

This bit of conversation is typical of that you'll hear from the thousands of housewives who have made the change to flameless electric cooking. And, it's easy to understand when you consider that with electric cooking simple controls provide recipe-exact temperatures . . . top elements are in direct contact with utensils so that very little heat "spills" out into your kitchen . . . and, with no flame, pots and pans and your entire kitchen stay cleaner.

P.S. to Martha: Before you buy a new range, work up a "Dutch Dinner" evening with a friend or a member of your family who owns an electric range. Try for yourself cooking the flameless electric way. We know you'll like it.

Medical Magazine Lists Basic Tips On Care of Heart

What can I do to keep from having a heart attack? This is a question that almost all of us ask sometimes. Heart disease is a broad term that covers many different types of disorders. Heart and blood vessel ailments are the leading cause of death in the United States. Millions of people are walking around with some sort of heart or circulatory problem. No one can tell you positively that a given pattern of life will prevent a heart attack. There still are many unknowns. But there is enough evidence on the causes of heart attacks to suggest a few fundamentals. Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers some suggestions. Worry about "symptoms" that may or may not be heart disease is futile. Clear away the doubt by consulting your physician. A regular checkup will enable him to discover budding heart problems early. Regular, moderate exercise to keep physically fit is advised by most health experts. However, the term "moderate" is important, and plenty of rest to ease the work-load on the heart is equally vital. Keep your weight down. It isn't too difficult to devise a diet that will provide proper nourishment without adding surplus pounds. Ask your doctor what you should weigh and how to reduce if you're overweight. Tensions and anxieties often aren't easy to reduce or eliminate from your life. But it's wise to try. Adequate vacations each year are important. A relaxing change of pace on week ends helps. Research studies have analyzed the possible roles of tobacco, dietary fats and other elements in heart disorders. Extensive studies are still under way. If there are doubts in your mind regarding your personal habits, consult your doctor for suggestions on new patterns.

There are some encouraging developments. Most people who have heart attacks recover and can go back to work. High blood pressure usually can be controlled. Recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease, can be prevented. Strokes aren't necessarily hopeless and invalidism can often be reduced or prevented. Heart defects often can be repaired and sections of diseased arteries often can be replaced through surgery. Many patients with circulatory disorders affecting their legs and arms are helped by treatment.

President Lyndon Johnson and the Congress of the United States both have officially proclaimed February, 1964, as American Heart Month, with the President urging the people of the United States to "give heed to the nationwide problem of the heart and blood vessel diseases." You cannot be certain of preventing heart disease. But you can control or lessen some of the factors that often are associated with a tendency toward heart troubles. Your best course is to talk it over with your doctor and follow his counsel.

Long distance visiting with two daughters and their families were happy surprises for Mrs. John Felderhoff Sunday.

Emma and her family, the Monte Elliotts called from Bushnell, Ill., and the four little girls also talked with their grandmother. Anselma, Mrs. John Wright and family telephoned from Tulsa, Okla. Both calls inquired about a third sister, Rita, Mrs. Aubrey Jennings and her children of Wichita Falls, and how they fared during the tornado. Mrs. Jennings had reported to her mother that all was well. Their home was not in the storm area and while it raged they were together in a storm cellar.
