NUMBER 16

You're spinning your wheels when you use the zip code in addressing your letters, says Senator Karl Mundt. All it amounts to now is a bit of practice in penmanship. Moreover, Mundt claims that use of the code still isn't even in sight. The machine which is supposed to sort mail by the Zip method has not been installed in a single post office. In fact, it has not been invented.

That's a mighty interesting statement, and a lot of people would like to know what's behind it. Mundt is not in the habit making irresponsible statements. On the other hand we can't imagine the postal department introducing the Zip code when it had no way to use it. What happened? Did the machine fail to perform according to promise and leave the postmaster general holding the bag? The answer could be interesting and amusing. As something to make Uncle Sam's face kinda red, it could also be withheld as classified matter.

The worst thing that ever happened to retail merchandising was the introduction of the trading stamp, which now has grown to billion dollar size. The store owner is the victim of this give-away. The trading stamp costs the consumer nothing. The store that sells as cheaply, and often cheaper, than the store which does not. It costs the store two percent of its sales. A tremendous amount of the stamps are never redeemed by the consumer, and the trading stamp companies benefit thereby. It is a racket that has a strangle hold on retail merchandising. It is outlawed in some states.

So says Glenn Doss of the Whitewright Sun, and this column is inclined to agree, including the consumer along with the merchant as one who deserves sympathy. There's a lot of bother in collecting and keeping the stamps, sticking them into redemption books and sending them to a district redemption center. Anyone who has been through it can vouch that he'd rather have the equivalent in cash than the trading stamps.

That brings up an interesting question. Why don't stores offer the customer a choice of trading stamps or a two percent discount on the sale? It would be a better deal for both the store and the customer — even for the kind of customer who thinks the premiums are something for nothing. If so desired the discounts also could be used to build a premium account, and the cash will likely buy more — because it can be used where you find the best deal, not where you have to accept the seller's deal.

As matters stand now the trading stamp companies are the big gainers. They sell the stamps for cash. Some of the stamps are lost, never redeemed, so they are all profit. Other stamps are redeemed at retail price on items that were bought wholesale, which also is quite profitable. Of course the customer gets some of the benefit — but after lots of bother and a high price. And the store foots the entire bill, unless it is able to get back some of its money by higher prices.

Seriously, now — why don't stores offer 2 per cent discount instead of trading stamps?

For the past two weeks working people of the nation have enjoyed fatter pay envelopes. They are getting their portion of the $11 billion tax cut by which the administration proposes to usher in a new era of prosperity.

We have been told that this additional money pumped into our economy will bring a big improvement in business, so that the total tax revenue for the year actually will not be much smaller than at the old rate. In other words, we do not need to worry about a big deficit.

That sounds encouraging until we think of some of the other factors involved. As more money goes into circulation we can expect price increases. With the prospect of more profits for industry, labor unions can be expected to demand more pay or less work, or both.

So the cost of living will go up some more. Or, putting it the correct way, the value of money will go down some (Continued on page 8)

Snow and Sleet Ups Abundance Of Area Moisture

A spurge of winter, possibly the last for this season, moved into the community Monday, but did not stay long. It was a combination of drizzle, sleet and snow measuring about 2 inches and adding 23 inch to the area's moisture total.

The sleet and snow came shortly before noon and caused a short period of hazardous driving while roads took on a glaze. But rising temperature melted much of the snow Monday afternoon and the rest of it on Tuesday. By Wednesday the community had dry, shirtsleeve weather.

Monday's bit of winter accounts for only a small part of the weekend moisture. Rain on Saturday measured .12 and Sunday measured .83. Along with 1.65 early in the month, that brings the March total to 2.83 inches.

Other moisture this year has also been very satisfactory. February had .91 and January 2.59. The 1964 measure to date is 6.33, which is comfortably ahead of the average for this time of the year.

Parish Observes St. Joseph's Day Thursday, March 19

Sacred Heart Parish will have its traditional observance of St. Joseph's feastday March 19. The custom of observing the day dates back to the early days of the community when pioneers set March 19 as a holy day in honor of St. Joseph if he would preserve the church and community from destructive storms. Two churches had been demolished by wind storms. There have been no serious storm losses since and the custom has continued.

The observance next Thursday will include evening mass at which members of Saint Joseph's Society will receive corporate Communion. After the service, members of St. Anne's Society will join the men for supper and a social evening. The program also includes the annual election of officers for St. Joseph's Society.

Richard Grewing, B. J. Swirczynski On City's Ballot

Richard Grewing and B. J. Swirczynski are uncontested candidates for the two positions on the ballot of Muenster's city election to be held on Tuesday April 7. As the announcement deadline arrived last Saturday they were the only persons who had filed as candidates with the city secretary, Mrs. Arnold Henscheid.

Grewing is seeking reelection. Swirczynski seeks the position being vacated by William Walterscheid, who declined to ask for reelection.

Oct. 6 Designated For State Fair's German Day in '64

German Day in Texas will be celebrated again this year in Dallas, Texas, in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas. October 6 has been designated as the date for the celebration, and Governor John Connally will issue the official proclamation. Officers of the Texas German Day Council have been elected, and plans are being made now for the all-state program.

The occasion commemorates annually the establishment of the first permanent colony of German settlers on American soil at Germantown, Pennsylvania, on October 6, 1683, but in Texas it honors especially the accomplishments of the early German settlers in the state and acclaims the contribution of all Texans of German ancestry. The 1963 celebration at the Dallas Memorial Auditorium and at the State Fair was highly successful and brought together thousands of people for the pioneer ball, the music programs, the soccer ball game, and the art exhibit. At the Fair last year Muenster and West were honored as featured German towns of Texas.

Joe Galloway has been appointed Muenster's representative on a large committee planning a program for German Day.

Do You Know Your Blood Type?

Do you know your blood type? Would you be willing to have your name on record at Muenster Memorial Hospital as a possible blood donor in case of emergency?

The hospital is anxious to have a record of prospective donors in each blood type so that it can avoid delay in case of emergency. Sister Mildred also pointed out that the record can be a service to the person tested. Perhaps he or she will need blood, and time can be saved if the type is on record.

Persons who wish to volunteer for the blood donor service, and those who want to know their blood types are invited to stop at the hospital and get a test — any week day, between the hours of 7 and 7.

Livestock Auction Changes Method Of Operation

A major change at the Muenster sale barn became effective this week. Dick Cain, owner, has discontinued operating as a livestock commission company and confines his activity to selling livestock through the sale ring.

The change became necessary because of Cain's recent heart attack. The need of slowing down eliminates the activity that was necessary to secure livestock consignments for the sale.

By the new arrangement there are three commission companies selling stock through the local sale barn, and a fourth company is expected to organize. Personnel of those companies will keep in contact with stock raisers to get consignments for the sale. They will charge the usual percentage for their services and they will pay the sale barn a fee for its service and the use of its facilities. The companies will take their turns at selling, at thirty minute intervals.

That arrangement does not apply to baby calves or hogs, Cain explained. Since the newly organized commission companies do not handle them the barn will continue as a commission company for that part of its sales. Cain said he is very pleased with the new set-up for two reasons. One is that it has been very successful in other areas because it puts more people on the job of bringing animals to the sale. The other reason is that it relieves him of a big job when his physical condition requires him to slow down.

One of the commission companies has three members: Dickie Cain, Gerald Lanier and D. W. Grigsby. Another is composed of Dick Porter and Sam Peyrot. The third has only one member, Meredith Houston.

SHH Junior-Senior Classes Rehearse Musical Comedy

For the first time in the history of Sacred Heart High the annual junior-senior play will be a musical. Tryout for the singing roles have been held, the cast is complete and rehearsals are underway. Sister Roberts and Sister Geraldine are directing the production.

Date for presentation has been set for March 31 at 8 p.m. "The Place of the Breaking Light" is a musical comedy written by Sister M. Margretta, O.S.B. The music is the work of Sister Mary Magdalen, O.S.B. of St. Scholastica Priory in Duluth, Minn.

It tells the romance of a soldier played by Cyril Yosten and an Indian maiden played by Eileen Knauf. Supporting characters are Nancy Klein, Claudia Endres, Tommy Fuhrmann, John Paul Endres, Earl Cunningham, Virginia Taylor, Patsy Streng, Rita Noggler, Jeannine Hofbauer, Frank Schilling, David Bayer, Francis Fuhrmann, Wayne Cler, Dennis Hess, Dale Bayer, James Fleitman and Clinton Endres.

Auto Inspection Deadline Is Near

With about five weeks left in which to have motor vehicles inspected, Captain Marvin Blount, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety, urged motorists to obtain their 1964 inspection stickers immediately.

In doing so, he advised that almost 70% of the registered vehicles in Cooke County have not been inspected for the current year. "At the present rate of inspection it looks as though the usual ten per cent who wait until the deadline for inspections will be waiting in line on April 15. With crowded inspection stations on this deadline date, immediate service cannot be rendered and car owners will suffer an unnecessary loss of time and inconvenience."

Nearly half of the vehicles already inspected have required some adjustments or repairs which require more time for both the owner and the inspection station. If car owners obtain their 1964 inspection stickers early, they will avoid unnecessary delays in inspection.

Area Volley Ball Teams Play in Local Tournament

That night's program begins at 7 o'clock with the final in the ladies' consolation bracket, and it presents the men's consolation final at 7:30. The winner of each of those contests will receive a consolation trophy.

House, Contents Destroyed in Fire At Felix Becker's

The Felix Beckers lost their home and all its contents in a fire of undetermined origin about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. By the time firemen could get to the blaze it was out of control, and the best they could do was stand guard to protect other buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker and son, Leo, were all gone when the fire broke out. Mrs. Becker discovered it as she returned home from a washeteria. The clothes she had with her plus that worn by the trio, were the only things saved from the fire.

She went into the house to phone an alarm but was turned back by the heat and dense smoke — and then had trouble finding her way out. She said it was a narrow escape.

Then she drove to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alphonse Hoenig, but an attempt to phone an alarm from there also failed. The party line serving both homes was burned down by then.

About that time Henry Luttmer saw the fire as he drove past and stopped at Ed Cler's. Ed phoned the alarm and the two went to the fire. When they arrived flames were rising about 20 feet over the house. Bits of burning debris were scattering around the area, threatening another fire if they drifted to the dry hay inside a barn door. Cler closed the door. Luttmer drove away a car from beside the house. Its paint was blistered, windows cracked.

When firemen arrived they soaked the burning door of a pump house nearby. Then just watched the other buildings. Firemen remained about 4 hours and left the fire to finish the debris. They returned about 6 o'clock to put out any lingering fire.

The loss was partly covered by insurance. Until they make other arrangements the Beckers will live with Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Hoenig.

MEDICARE COMES BACK

The Medicare proposal was dormant for a time, having found insufficient favor in Congress. But it was never dead. And now it is back in the headlines.

The program proposed by this Administration is almost precisely the same as that proposed by the late President Kennedy. It would provide a range of medical services to everyone drawing social security benefits. And the objections are as cogent as ever. It would give these benefits to a selected group of people whether they wanted them or not and whether they needed them or not.

As study after study has shown, the financial situation of the elder portion of the population is far better than seems to be generally realized. Great numbers of them have, in addition to social security, substantial pensions, savings, investments and property.

The dramatic expansion of voluntary medical insurance has reached the elder as well as the younger groups.

The medical profession has an extensive going program under which medical assistance and service is provided for all who need it, regardless of the ability to pay. Existing legislation, based on a federal-state cooperative principle, provides still another buttress for the needy.

1964 Carpetbagger

and it is working well. Additionally, there are all manner of welfare services offered by local governments. Most important of all, Medicare would inevitably lead to an increasing government domination of the medical arts. That is the road to retrogression. American medical standards have no superior. Let's keep them that way.

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

The national economy is sadly out-of-joint when it is illegal for one company to make all the automobiles (for example) and hunky-dory for one international union to control all the automobile workers in all the plants of the nation.

The same condition prevails, of course, in steel, in coal-mining and in many other major industries — the most flagrant example being that of Jimmy Hoffa's International Teamster's Union.

This labor "statesman," having concluded a one-date expiration contract with all the trucking concerns in the entire nation, now has the power to pull every union truck driver in the US out of his cab on a given day and throw up picket lines that would bring the nation's economy to a sudden and catastrophic halt!

To correct this intolerable situation, in which one man — Hoffa or the president of any of the other international unions can tie up the nation with a industry-wide strike, Rep. Dave Martin of Nebraska has introduced HR333. Mr. Martin's bill would amend the Sherman Antitrust Act, the Clayton Act, the Norris-LaGuardia and National Labor-Management Relations Acts to bring the international labor unions under their jurisdiction.

This bill would outlaw labor trusts — not labor unions. Rather, in cutting unions down to size, HR333 is definitely pro-labor — with a small "I". A union could be no larger than the number of employees of a particular company. Its members would have the same right to strike, to bargain for higher wages, fringe benefits, etc., that they have today, but only on a company union basis. They would thus be protected against being put out of work because of a dispute in some other company, and both labor and management — and the public as well — could profit for the first time by harmonious relations.

Public opinion polls have shown that Americans favor equal treatment before the law for both industry and labor. What is needed now is positive action by business leaders in every field to back up this sentiment and back up Congress in passing the Martin Bill to free both the economy and the worker from uninhibited domination by big-union bossism.

HR333, firmly grounded in law and equity, can do it!

THE FAR RIGHT

I was told by a friend not long ago that my position politically is to the far right. While I don't hold that there is such a category, I am glad for the "right" part of the designation. Today's politicians designate a certain position as the center and classify everybody as being to the left or right of that position. In my thinking, the middle of the road is the place to get run over. I notice, further, that it is the leftist who screams bloody murder when anyone takes a stand on the Constitution, or states rights and against centralization of the government. And they can't even state their criticism calmly but are addicted to excesses in speech and actions. If it were not for them there would be no necessity for the so-called far right.

In local circles I have heard the term the neurotic right. What is neurotic about objecting to the tactics of the leftist who wants to make this nation a socialist state? To me it is a sane position. It is the position of those who have built this great nation that is the envy of the world.

It is the predominant influence of the leftist that has brought us to the place where any little pip-squeak dictator can spit on the U. S. Flag and get by with it. It is the attitude created by the leftist that is losing us the so-called cold war. It is the leftist influence that is destroying the free enterprise system. Our government under control by the left has lost us prestige in the world where we should be commanding the respect to which we are entitled.

I am proud of the fact that my country by the vote of its citizens in the last few years has registered its disapproval of the socialist state. I do not care what my position is called just so it is right.

NEW AND WISE THINKING

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R) of Arizona opened his presidential primary drive in New Hampshire with a forecast that a voluntary system of social security would be instituted by 1970 to take the place of the present compulsory system.

The Arizona senator said that by 1970 the total take from employers and employees to support the present mandatory system will reach about 10 per cent of an employee's pay.

He insisted that under voluntary plans — better coverage can be bought through private insurance with the same money.

NOT QUITE

An American newsmen, in having a discussion with a Russian counterpart, asked if he was correct in his understanding that the basic idea of communism is to divide everything you have with your neighbor. "Not quite," said the Russian, "the basic idea of communism is to make your neighbor divide everything with you."

CLOSER THAN WE THINK

It has been said on several occasions by supporters of a president seeking re-election: "He kept us out of war."

Maintaining some semblance of the peace is good political business, but the day is not far away when America will say of some president: "He kept us out of war. They came and got us without firing a shot."

DO IT BETTER Electrically!

COOK flamelessly!

"Really, Martha, the first time you cook with an electric range you'll wonder why you waited so long to see what it's like!"

This bit of conversation is typical of that you'll hear from the thousands of housewives who have made the change to flameless electric cooking. And, it's easy to understand when you consider that with electric cooking simple controls provide recipe-exact temperatures . . . top elements are in direct contact with utensils so that very little heat "spills" out into your kitchen . . . and, with no flame, pots and pans and your entire kitchen stay cleaner.

Parents Learn How To Read to Help Children at Home

How to help improve their children's reading was one of the most frequently asked questions at the recent parent-teacher conferences at Sacred Heart School in the primary department.

As a result, Sister Genevieve, first grade primary teacher and a member of the Texas Association for Improvement of Reading, held a class for interested parents explaining and demonstrating how reading is taught so they can help their youngsters. About a dozen first graders assisted in the demonstration.

Some of the reading techniques demonstrated were: 1—Word Attack Skills including phonics, structural analysis, context clues, picture clues. 2—Comprehension. 3—Making Inferences, Drawing Conclusions. 4—Interpreting the Main Ideas.

Regular classroom visual aids were used in the demonstration. These included opaque projection, pocket chart, flash cards, and chalk board.

Sister Genevieve said the children helping demonstrate responded well and parents left with a better understanding and deeper appreciation of their children's efforts in the gigantic task of learning to read.

Grooming Pigs for Show Is Discussed

How to groom a pig for the livestock show was an interesting demonstration for junior 4-H club boys of Sacred Heart at their March meeting.

Robert Degner, assistant county agent, spoke and showed slides on training, washing, combing and clipping a pig for the show.

Bobby Bruns conducted the meeting and reported on the Share-the-Fun contest in which the club won a blue ribbon. Paul Bayer called roll and Terry Miller counted 48 members present.

Five from Muenster were among choir directors, organists and music teachers at the annual diocesan Musical Workshop in Fort Worth at Nolan High School.

Among the 231 registered were Leo Henscheid, choir director; Anthony Luke, organist; and Sisters Leonarda, Richard and Geraldine. It was the largest group attending since the first workshop in 1962. Guest conductor was Paul Salamunovich, choirmaster at St. Charles Church and music director at Blessed Sacrament Church, both in Hollywood.

In response to popular request, the Requiem Mass was the major work studied and a Pontifical Mass of Requiem climaxed the conclusion of the workshop. Bishop Thomas K. Gorman officiated.

Haverkamp Family Joins to Welcome Newcomers to Clan

Getting acquainted with a daughter-in-law and a new grandson are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp. Since Friday they have with them Mrs. Ferd Haverkamp and baby Leroy who came to Muenster ahead of her husband, Airman Ferd Haverkamp, from Spain. He will be returning to the states in about a month with other airmen of his outfit.

The air trip from Spain took 14 hours to Dallas where the J. J. Haverkamps and Mrs. Wally Luttmeyer of Lindsay, joined by the Willard Zimmerers of Dallas, were at the airport to meet Mrs. Haverkamp and the little boy.

She is a native of Spain, met and married her husband during the time he has been stationed there. She speaks English well.

Traveling with the two were Ferd's buddy's wife and daughter. Family members from Quanah and her mother from California were there to meet them and take them to Quanah.

Sunday the Haverkamp family was together for a welcome and a get-acquainted dinner for Mrs. Ferd Haverkamp, meeting her and the baby for the first time. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kupper were hosts in their home at Lindsay for the gathering and a covered dish meal. The group also greeted Leo J. Haverkamp who was observing his birthday Sunday.

Joining the relationship from Cooke County were Mr. and Mrs. Ramie Hesse and Donna, Darrell and Lloyd of Denison and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Zimmerer and children Alan, Karen and Brenda of Dallas.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Good grass management is the key to continued high production on pastures.

Cooperators with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District continue to plant grasses but often the abuse of the grasses after they begin to grow is alarming.

New plantings of Bermuda grass need all the help they can get to establish a good cover and root system. A good cultivation or two will do more to aid in establishing a good cover of Bermuda.

A farmer wouldn't think of planting a crop of corn or maize and then forgetting it. He couldn't expect much production. By the same token he can't expect Bermuda to produce if it is planted and left alone to compete with weeds and wide-mouthed cows.

Old stands of Bermuda should be fertilized annually with at least 30 pounds of nitrogen and 30 pounds of phosphate, and weeds mowed or sprayed. Most weeds require more moisture and plant food to produce a pound of forage than Bermuda grass does.

Stock Bermuda grass pastures so that a four to six inch growth is left at all times and the pasture will produce more beef annually. There will be a lot less weed problems too.

Now is the time to finalize grass plans for deferred grazing on native grass pastures. Where there are two or more native grass pastures a portion should be deferred from grazing at least three months during the growing season. New plantings of native grass should be deferred the entire growing season. However, deferred grazing is not the whole story. To obtain proper range use no more than 50 per cent of the annual growth of grass should be removed by grazing.

Elephants do not drink through their trunks, as people sometimes suppose. Actually they suck water up into their trunks then squirt it into their mouths.

KC State Council Invites Entries In Essay Contest

An essay contest to be judged by an inter-faith panel of judges on the topic of "Religious Freedom in a Democracy" is being conducted by the Texas State Council, Knights of Columbus.

"Texas high school students of all races, colors and creeds are invited to write essays on the announced topic," said Charles J. Kaler, Jr., of Corpus Christi, council state deputy. "Prizes will be a $100 and a $50 U. S. Savings Bond and 10 honorable mention awards. Walter Klement, grand knight of the Muenster K of C council said that students of both local high schools are participating.

Kaler said the essays would be judged by a panel composed of a Jewish rabbi, a Protestant minister and a Catholic priest or their designates and the names of the judges would be made public on conclusion of the contest.

"The contest rules are simple," Kaler continued, "in that the writers must be bona fide, full time students of a Texas high school and under 20 years old. The essay cannot exceed 300 words and should be signed by the student with his or her full name, age, school, class, home address, telephone number, city and state.

"Further, students should list their parents' full name, address and telephone number and give the same information on the principal of the school. The essay must be mailed before March 31 directly to the Essay Contest Committee, Texas Knights of Columbus, 1111 Majestic Building, San Antonio, Texas. Rhetorical struture will be left entirely to the student."

When the Area Redevelopment Administration was started there were 103 so-called depressed areas. Now, after the expenditure of hundreds of millions on uneconomic enterprises that often duplicate and unfairly compete with the same types of industries elsewhere, there are 1,000 eligible areas and more are being created all the while. Keep this up long enough and the whole country will become a depressed area. — Christian Economics

In Texas . . . after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Dinner Observes Eleventh Birthday

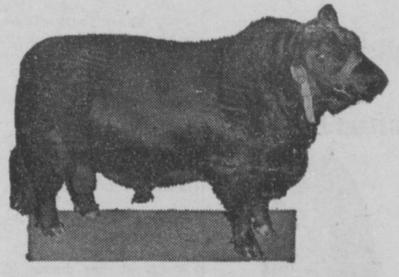

Kathleen Swirczynski thinks her finest birthday present is the new baby brother who was born on her birthday Sunday. She is the 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swirczynski.

The birthday observance was a dinner party with all the trimmings and gifts at the home of her uncle and aunt, the Ferd Luttmers. Mrs. Luttmers entertained also for her husband whose birthday was Friday. Kathleen's sisters and daddy joined the Luttmers family for the occasion.

'64 Chevy II Super Sport with V8 power

...and just the place to enjoy it

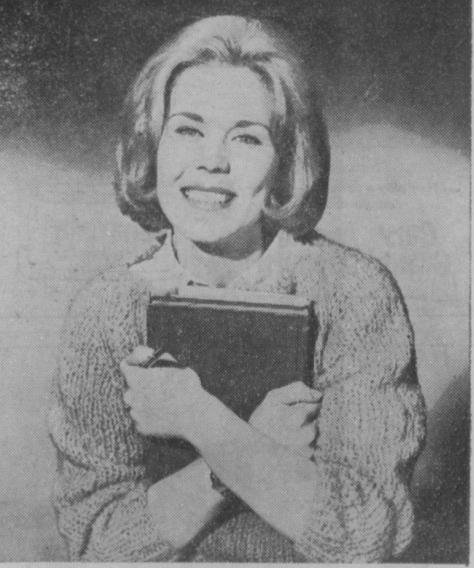

Find out for yourself what this Chevy II can really do. If there are hills nearby, let it give them a good going-over. Then see it give slow-moving trucks the run-around. With its new extra-cost V8 you need but give the accelerator an inch, and this Super Sport will take a mile. And this great highway performer looks the part it plays so well. A glance at its all-vinyl interior and door-to-door carpeting will tell you that. There's your choice of either the floor-mounted Powerglide or Four-Speed Synchro-Mesh transmission. Both are optional at extra cost, along with a Positraction rear axle, AM-FM radio, and many other accessories. And for all its new power, Chevy II rides so softly it seems to glide along the highway. That's because it has high-mounted independent coil springs in the front and Mono-Plate single-leaf springs in the rear. With everything Chevy II Super Sport has going for it, it's no surprise your Chevrolet dealer is anxious to show you its price tag. Because that's the only thing about it that isn't super.

Mutual Insurance Week is Observed First Time in '64

Mutual fire and casualty insurance companies of the nation will observe Mutual Insurance Week for the first time during 1964, Paul Schwenke, president of Germania Farm Mutual Aid Association announced today.

The Germania Farm Mutual Aid Association has its home office in Brenham and operates throughout the state of Texas. Mr. Schwenke is also serving as president of the Texas Association of Mutual Fire & Storm Insurance Companies.

Mr. Schwenke said, "The week of March 22-28 will be known as Mutual Insurance Week, proclaimed by members of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies, to observe the 212th anniversary of the establishment of the first fire insurance company on this continent."

"The illustrious Benjamin Franklin was founder of that company on March 25, 1752. It was organized under the mutual plan of operation and became known as the Philadelphia Contributionship for the Insurance of Houses from Loss by Fire. The company is highly successful today."

"From a modest start in Colonial America," Schwenke added, "the property-liability insurance industry has grown to a tremendous size with $33 billion in assets, $16 billion in annual premium and 1.2 million persons working in the business."

Mutual companies patterned after the number one company, now number 2,320, pay losses exceeding $2 billion a year. Also significant are mutual insurance dividends and cash savings of $223 million returned to the policyholder resulting from risk selection and loss prevention measure.

more. Meanwhile money borrowed to make up for the nation's deficit will cause more inflation. Benefits promised by the tax cut will have been wiped out.

This column hopes its guess is wrong. It hopes that the tax cut will be a big help, as promised. But as seen now the tax cut looks like a cruel hoax, bringing on inflation that will not only wipe out all gains of income but further reduce the value of all savings. Therein lies the real tragedy. If increase of income keeps up with inflation a person can stay even. But one on fixed income or saving doesn't have a chance. Allowing conditions which cause inflation is like stealing from those who saved. Only two types of mammals lay eggs: the duckbill and the spiny anteater.
